Statement of: Leslie W. Dunbar, Executive Director of the Southern Regional Council, Atlanta, Georgia.

Before: The Subcommittee on Integration in Federally Assisted Education of the Committee on Education and Labor of the House of Representatives, March 6, 1962.

I would like at the beginning of my statement to say that I have not had my remarks reviewed by my Executive Committee. Consequently, recommendations which I shall make are my own, and not necessarily those of the Southern Regional Council.

The matter which prompts these public hearings is of concern to many of us in the South. You have confronted an issue which has four basic ingredients. One of these is the enormous expenditure of federal money for the support and strengthening of education. A second is the legitimate interest of the government, not only in how its money is spent, but in the grand aims of education.

The third basic ingredient of the issue is the known fact, of which any further documentation is almost superfluous, that in a great many areas of this country, including nearly all of those in the South, Negroes receive inferior educational treatment and opportunities. This is true in elementary, secondary, and higher education, public and private.

The final ingredient of your -- and our -- issue is this: it is in precisely those states of the country which, because of low economic status, there is the most need for federal assistance in order to provide good education that racial discrimination is most widely practiced. I refer, of course, to the southern states.

The Southern Regional Council is a non-profit, non-political, biracial, research and education organization. The board of the Council consists of 85 Southerners drawn from both races, the major religious faiths, and the 13 states of the southern region.

I understand that your parent committee has recently expressed its impatience over the lack of firm data as to just how great is the federal outlay for educational purposes. You will excuse me, therefore, if I do not know the exact figures. We all know that the expenditures are huge. I have seen estimates which run over $2 billion a year. Congress has a clear obligation to keep such a vast outlay under constant observation and evaluation. This sub-committee, therefore, is to be commended for studious attention to this issue of high national importance.

This large federal investment will be further and substantially increased when -- perhaps I should say "if" -- Congress passes the federal-aid-to-education program long before it.

The federal outlay takes many forms and serves many aims. I believe that as you consider the issue you will want to keep these various aspects distinct. They present, I believe, separate questions and problems Congress and the Executive should deliberate on as it decides how best the national interest in non-discriminatory education can be protected. As you consider whether or not federal funds should be withheld as long as discrimination exists, as you consider whether Congressional or Executive action is needed or appropriate, I believe you will see that there are several types of situations, each of which has different features and problems. I shall, therefore, confine my testimony to an attempt to define some, at least, of the problems.

1. Federal aid to compensate for federally caused burdens.

The prime example, of course, is the impacted areas program under P.L. 815 and P.L. 874. Under these acts, the government pays, according to statutory formulae, school districts whose enrollment is increased as a result of federal installations. In a sense, the government contributes to school support as would any taxpayer, though in fact, I am sure, the government has been a very generous taxpayer indeed.

I think the case for withholding of funds, by executive action, from segregated schools is weakest under this impacted area program, because the Congressional intent seems pretty clear the other way. Congress, of course, has power to condition the aid. Whether Congress would want to do so is another matter. The question is whether the government, possessed of the power of eminent domain, can rightfully locate installations in a state, add to the school burdens of that state, often at the same time remove property from the tax digest, and then set the terms under which its compensation will be given. At the best, this action would affect only some school districts. It strikes me as an erratic, back-door method of doing what Congress has not done directly; i.e., by broad legislation help implement the Constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court in 1954.

On the other hand, certain facts should be noted. The impacted areas program is presently the only direct federal aid to public schools for construction and operation. Moreover, I think you will find that a disproportionate share of the total P.L. 815 and P.L. 874 outlay has gone to the southern states; i.e., has gone to the support of segregated schools. I believe, therefore, that Congress should realize clearly that its only present program of direct aid to schools does greatly strengthen segregated systems; when it is also remembered that Congress has not yet done anything to help speed the integration of American schools, the real and the symbolic effects of the impacted areas program become even more sharply imprinted. Under point 4 of my presentation I shall, therefore, speak to this question further.

2. Non-educational, across the board, programs of federal subsidy.

The best example of what I have in mind is the school lunch program. Here, as I understand it, the end served is children's health, and federal assistance is extended on the basis of a statutory formula which takes account of both population and income.

I think that in this and any similar program the national interest is protected if there is adequate federal supervision to assure that benefits are fairly distributed among the children. This does not appear to be the case. I do not have later figures, but data for 1952-57 show in seven southern states* that only about half as many Negro children in Average Daily Attendance benefited, as did white children.

3. Federal aid for special training.

A good example is the vocational education program under the Smith-Hughes and later acts. Money is allocated to the states on application and on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis, according to statutory formulae largely based on population factors. Applicable Regulations require that there be no racial discrimination.

The purpose of the program is to help equip young people with skills which are needed by the country. Especially in view of our imminent shortage of technically trained persons there would seem to be no excuse for Executive laxity in enforcing the non-discrimination requirement. Nor would there seem to be any excuse for the Executive to, at this date, interpret that requirement to many anything other than non-segregated training.

There is complete segregation in the vocational schools of at least seven southern states and perhaps others. More than this. There is flagrant violation of even the separate but equal principle. Arkansas, for example, has a state vocational trade school for whites, none for Negroes. Georgia has two state vocational schools for whites, none for Negroes. Moreover, within such state or local vocational schools as do exist for Negroes, training is consistently confined to jobs considered appropriate for Negroes. For example, in Chattanooga, we recently reported as follows:

---

*Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina.

> Vocational training at all-white Kirkman High School encompasses a range of course. Here the white student may learn automotive mechanics, auto motors, commercial arts, cosmetology, drafting, electricity, industrial chemistry, industrial electricity, industrial instrumentation, machine drafting, basic and advanced machine shop procedures, printing, radio and television repair, refrigeration, air conditioning, sheet metal, welding, practical nursing, photography, pre-flight aeronautics, and assorted business subjects, including office machine operations, commercial arithmetic, and salesmanship. Of these courses, only automotive mechanics, automotive motors, commercial arts, cosmetology, practical nursing, and basic business courses are taught in the city's two Negro high schools. In addition, all-Negro Howard High offers tailoring, shoe repair, carpentry, commercial baking, and bricklaying, courses that are not available to white students.

In Houston we reported that:

> The only vocational high school in the city--San Jacinto High, an all-white institute--offers full, three-year courses in air conditioning and refrigeration mechanics, automotive mechanics, drafting, machine shop, photography, printing, radio, television, and welding. None of these courses is taught in the five Negro high schools.

Federal funds go to both Chattanooga's and Houston's vocational programs.

In order to receive federal aid, the states must submit satisfactory plans to the U. S. Office of Education. It is inconceivable that the Office of Education should continue to concur in plans which assume that only certain jobs are available to Negroes.

Let me add that I see no difference in principle between the Executive's responsibility in regard to vocational training and its responsibility in regard to such programs as the language and counseling institutes of the Office of Education or the institutes of the National Science Foundation. In each case, the aim is special training to serve a national interest. The schools are selected by the Executive. They should be schools which will permit the attendance of any person who has the requisite qualifications. It was a scandal that in at least four southern states, none of the counseling institutes offered in fiscal year 1960 were open to Negro teachers. We can all be glad that Secretary Ribicoff has said that this will not again be permitted.

4. Proposed federal-aid-to education for general purposes.

I suppose there is little one can add, after all the debate of recent years, to the question of whether federal aid, if and when passed, should be denied to segregated schools. Last year the Administration offered a bill which did not restrict aid and no attempt was made to attach the so-called Powell amendment. The bill, nevertheless, failed.

What seems to me important to note is that neither the question of federal aid nor the question of restrictions has ever had a fair test. The federal aid proposal becomes entangled with the segregation or religious issues. The principle of no aid to segregated institutions, because it has been urged mainly in relation to one area only - schools -, has never had a fair test because it has been opposed - and even sometimes tactically favored - by opponents of federal support for education.

Sometime, I think, Congress should give thought to separating these issues, by considering and voting on, without reference to any single program, a resolution to deny the use of any federal money for the support of any racially discriminatory institution or program, of any kind. I think, in short, that the issue is broad, and should not be confined to the one field of education. I think the strategy of limiting the issue to that one field has not worked. It is in this context that I would like for you to receive my earlier remarks on the impacted areas program.

5. Federal loans to colleges.

An example is the college housing program. Here the Housing and Home Finance Agency receives applications from schools, whose eligibility is defined by the statute, and makes loans at very favorable terms.

Although individual applications are reviewed on their merits, it is notable here again that the southern states receive a disproportionate share of the federal assistance. Up to 1959 approximately $1 out of every $4 of loans went to institutions in the eleven southern states. I do not have later figures.

The Commission on Civil Rights, in its special report on Public Higher Education, reviewed the question of the power of the Executive to withhold loans from segregated schools. Without commenting on the question, I do urge that Congress carefully study the law and the conditions it establishes for loan eligibility. I think one cannot too often urge that if Congress will not do anything positively to end educational segregation, it has thereby a double obligation not to strengthen or encourage segregation.

6. Federal aid for research.

The Southern Regional Council, in a study issued last year, said in reference to federal funds for higher education:

> Where the funds are given or loaned to any institution that applies and is eligible under the statute, it has been argued that the executive department should not, in the absence of legislation, make the award conditional upon a policy of non-discrimination. But with the huge funds distributed for research, the government has all discretion, and channels the money only to schools which it prefers. We think there can be no argument that it is incongruous to favor any institution which denies admission to Negro students.

Gentlemen, I could - and so could others - fill pages with figures and detail. I shall not do so, because the issue seems to me so clear. I am frankly puzzled that an Administration which has announced such high intentions in the civil rights field, and has in so many ways demonstrated its sincere interest, is insensitive to this matter. The Executive has full discretion under the various research programs to choose its beneficiaries. An estimated $750,000,000 was spent on university-centered research by the federal government in 1960. It is literally inconceivable that the same Administration which requires every government contractor, and his sub-contractors, to practice non-discrimination in employment spends money of this magnitude without thought for the racial practices of its recipients.

7. Federal aid under laws which explicitly permit segregation.

The best example here is the Morrill Act, which, in its terms, authorizes grants to segregated institutions. I can only suggest that an issue so unmistakably created by Congress is a matter which, I am sure, is of special concern to you.

8. Federal assistance to individuals for education.

Such assistance, conferred on the individual but paid to the school he enters, is provided under the National Defense Education Act, which contains a proviso against federal control of the administration and personnel of any institution. I do not presume to offer you a legal interpretation of this clause. The Commissioner of Education would seem to be required to do business with almost any accredited institution.

I would question whether this ought to be the case. I would recommend to you that you study both the legal question implicit in the present law, and the question of whether that law should be altered to restrict National Defense Fellows to non-discriminatory colleges. I am sure that I do not need to remind you that the Commission on Civil Rights found, in seven southern states, only one Negro and three desegregated public institutions which had Fellows in attendance, as against 10 white institutions. For these seven states, 65% of the fellowship funds going into public institutions when to all-white schools.

These are, then, eight areas in which the problems differ somewhat. It seemed to me that they each require your consideration.

In conclusion, I think the whole problem of federal aid and its relation to segregation is high-lighted by the evidence set forth by the Commission on Civil Rights when it found that for the years 1950-1958, federal aid to public higher education had in six southern states been distributed as follows:

Federal Aid Per Student
Public Higher Education

	White	Negro
Alabama	$118.49	$11.77
Florida	85.34	21.66
Georgia	205.61	18.35
Louisiana	88.83	10.10
Mississippi	208.85	29.35
South Carolina	157.67	35.78

Report L-37
October 15, 1962

Southern Regional Council
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

A STATEMENT ON THE "ECONOMIC COSTS OF RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT" PRESENTED TO THE JOINT ECONOMIC COMMITTEE OF CONGRESS IN SEPTEMBER 1962 BY THE COUNCIL OF ECONOMIC ADVISERS

The Council of Economic Advisers has prepared an estimate of the "economic loss to the United States resulting from racial discrimination in employment." This estimate is at best tentative and approximate. In the nature of the case, it is not possible to calculate with certainty what the full effects of non-discriminatory employment practices would be, since they would bring about a substantial reshuffling of jobs and occupations among non-whites and whites. But we believe that the order of magnitude of the figures presented here is roughly correct. It should be kept in mind that they are intended to measure only the economic cost of racial discrimination, and this is only a minor part of the damage done to the social fabric by a deplorable practice.

That there are economic losses resulting from discrimination is clear. These losses result from: (1) inefficiencies in the use of the labor force resulting from failure to utilize fully the existing skills of our population; (2) failure to develop potential skills fully. This memorandum attempts to provide rough quantitative estimates of the gains that might accrue if various types of racial discrimination were eliminated. All the estimates herein are based upon a definition of "economic loss" as "amount of national product that is foregone." Measurements, therefore, relate to how much greater Gross National Product (GNP) could be if discrimination were eliminated (or had been eliminated in the past). Because of the legacy of past discrimination affects today's occupational, geographic, and capital structure, and the skills, training, and education of the labor force, the gains would only accrue over time as the economy adjusts and the labor force is upgraded.

Part of the gain in output is attributable to increased employment of non-whites. The calculations assume that in the absence of discrimination, the unemployment rate among non-whites would be the same as among whites. Thus there would be a net reduction in unemployment, which could be achieved only if the level of demand in the economy were high enough to provide employment for whites and non-whites on the same basis.

One of the economic gains not measured here is the likelihood that the disappearance of discrimination in employment and education would mean a reduction in the volume of structural unemployment, and would therefore permit higher levels of output and employment without inflationary pressure.

In measuring the increase in output we have been concerned with two questions:

(1) By how much would GNP increase if the non-white were able to utilize his present potential (as measured by years of education) as fully as is the white?
(2) By how much would GNP increase if the non-white were able to develop his capacities as fully as is the white?

Our answers to these two questions do not permit treatment of those forms of discrimination, e.g., housing, which have little, if any, direct employment effects. To the extent that removal of such discrimination may affect the economic performance of whites as well as non-whites, it would have economic implications. The effect on economic performance does not, however, lend itself to measurement.

On the other hand, there exists a type of discrimination in employment which has little direct effect on output. This is the discriminatory practice in employment sometimes identified as "exploitation," i.e., paying the non-white less than the white is paid for equal work. This type of discrimination results in a redistribution of income favoring the white at the expense of the non-white, but with no necessary reduction in total output. The data do not permit separating out the loss to the non-white due to "exploitation" from the loss to the nation in the form of decreased output.

Gain from Full Utilization of Present
Educational Attainment of Non-whites

A measure of the contribution that an individual makes to production by his labor is given by his wage and salary income. The income of non-whites is lower than that of whites and this is the case for persons with the same number of years of education. In large part this is true because discrimination restricts the non-white to positions of lower productivity than he is qualified for. The elimination of such discrimination would make it possible for non-whites to move from lower-productivity to higher-productivity occupations, thus causing an expansion of total output.

If non-whites had the same labor force participation and employment rates as the whites and if they were distributed geographically and occupationally (and thus in terms of wage and salary income) as whites with the same educational attainments -- if, in other words, non-whites were able to make the same contribution to production, given their present educational attainment, GNP could be increased by about 1.8 percent.

There are several considerations that lead us to think that the gain would be somewhat higher. The shifting of non-whites to new work roles would probably lead to the creation of additional plant and equipment (for it is assumed that on the average white workers are equipped with more capital than non-whites). Simultaneously the creation of this new capital would be facilitated by the increased output and income of labor indicated by the 1.8 percent estimate. The income earned by this new capital should in principle be added to the gain.

Furthermore, the 1.8 percent estimate relates only to wage and salary income and does not attempt the difficult measurement of the change in the labor component of entrepreneurial income. Gains will occur in the labor productivity of the self-employed adding further to the 1.8 percent increase in GNP.

The above considerations suggest that the gain in Gross National Product might well be as much as 2.5 percent (about $13 billion at today's levels of GNP).

It is worth noting that today non-whites represent 11 percent of the labor force and 10 percent of the civilian population 14 and over. Thus, it is not surprising that the estimated GNP gain is not a larger percentage of present GNP. Nevertheless, the loss does mean that we are wasting about one-third of the potential contribution of the non-white workers. The shift to full utilization of the present capabilities of the non-white population (and the resultant GNP increase of about 2.5 percent) would assist significantly in meeting our economic growth objectives in the coming years.

Gains from Raising the Educational Level

The elimination of discrimination in employment opportunities can, however, be considered in a broader framework. Not only is the non-white discriminated against in seeking work which enables him to utilize fully his present education, but non-whites currently possess lower educational levels than do whites. This phenomenon -- in part the result of past and present discrimination -- limits the employment opportunities for the group as a whole. Furthermore, job discrimination itself contributes to lower educational attainment in a self-reenforcing manner. Thus it is relevant to ask not only how much higher GNP might be today if non-whites were able to be as productive as whites given their present productive capacities (as measured by education), but also, how much higher GNP would be if non-whites had been educated as fully as whites. Because we did not accomplish this educational task in the past, we can only do so in the future and the gains, therefore, can not be realized today but only over a future time span.

If non-whites had the same educational levels as whites and if the economy fully utilized their education, GNP today might be perhaps 3.2 percent higher (inclusive of the 2.5 percent estimate reported above). This amounts to about $17 billion at today's levels of GNP.

Qualitative Gains in National Welfare

Elimination of racial discrimination would yield gains that raise national welfare while not affecting the level of total output. It would permit, by reducing the level of social costs, a reallocation of output to more fruitful uses or permit more equitable sharing of community responsibilities. At present the social cost of crime and poor health is differentially associated with the non-white population. The reduction of these social costs would free resources for other uses. This is also true of the resources now allocated to the construction and operation of separate facilities -- the result of discriminatory practices.

The elimination of discrimination would have an impact on the distribution of income among whites. Wage and salary incomes of whites in the lower paid occupations (with higher proportions of non-whites) would tend to rise while the opposite would be true in the higher income occupations. Thus the low income white population would also benefit and a more equal income distribution among whites would result.

Finally, the community responsibilities of tax-paying and of military service could be more equitably shared among all the citizens of the nation. The essential characteristic of such gains is that they are related to allocation and distribution problems rather than to output considerations. But by improving allocation and distribution they do increase the total welfare of the society. While they cannot be added to the GNP gain measured above, they are significant and should not be ignored.

Appendix
on Derivation of Estimates

The key figures in the foregoing memo are the percentages by which wages and salaries are assumed to rise in the two cases of (a) no change in education, and (b) a change in education.

For (a) the following method was used, based on 1949 data for individuals. (The 1959 data will not be available for several months, and only decennial census data give the necessary breakdown of income by educational level by age and sex by color.) For each age-sex group the income of non-whites was changed to the income of whites having identical education. These changes amounted to a 3.1 percent rise in total money income. This 3.1 percent figure was applied to wages and salaries. Since wages and salaries are 58 percent of GNP, this would mean a 1.8 percent gain in GNP. This estimate was raised to 2.5 percent for the reasons given in the text.

For (b) the following method was used, based on 1960 data for families and unattached individuals. Total money income per consumer unit for first, non-white families, and second, non-white unattached individuals, was assumed to change to equal that of the appropriate white groups. Then wages and salaries were assumed to rise by the same percentage that total money income rose, namely, 4.0 percent. Since wages and salaries are 58 percent of GNP, the rise in GNP is 2.3. The final GNP increase was estimated to be perhaps 1 percent higher, or 3.2 percent, because of the additional gains, discussed earlier, due to increasing capital and entrepreneurial income.

The income data required for this study are available in terms of the standard census classification, "white," "non-white." The non-white classification includes, in addition to Negroes, American Indians, Japanese, Chinese, and others. The Census Bureau estimates that, of the 20.5 million persons in the non-white category in the 1960 census, 18.9 million persons (or 92 percent) were Negroes.

November 1, 1962

OUTLINE FOR A REPORT
ON VEP REGISTRATION PROGRAMS

This report should begin with a brief description of the community in which the registration program was conducted. The description should include proportion of Negro voting age population, number of Negroes registered to vote, and the total number of registered voters. The description should also include such items as the extent to which Negro residential areas are ghettoized, the general conditions of Negro employment (with especial reference to public employment - police officers, firemen, civil service workers, etc.) and whether Negroes occupied any public or party, elective or appointive, positions at the time the registration program was conducted. Since campaign and electoral activity seem to have a beneficial effect on registration efforts, the report should also indicate whether local elections were factors in the drive, and if so, whether Negroes were candidates for any party or public office.

Next should come a description of the activities which preceded the organization of the registration program. We would like to know whether there were difficulties among the leaders arising out of personal or organizational friction and jealousy. Some of the organizations conducting programs will be previously established political and civic action groups and others will be formed specifically for purposes of the program. It would be appropriate to discuss either the long-term goals and purposes of the permanent organizations, or the conditions which made a new organization expedient.

We would like to have the names of any individuals whose influence on activities in the registration program seemed out of proportion to the leadership positions they occupied previous to the program. What we are looking for here is whether an activity such as a registration program provides a context conducive to the rise of new leadership.

Then, we would like a description of the actual organization which conducted the drive. This should be a rather simple description of the structure of the organization identifying the decision-making and executive positions, and the responsibilities incumbent upon such positions.

The following outline suggests the kind of information we want about the actual conduct of the registration program:

4- Research design

I. What steps were taken to inform the Negro community that a registration drive was to be undertaken?

A. Use of organizations - i.e., social, political, professional, business, labor, etc. Did they cooperate? How - mailings to membership, announcements in meetings, etc.?

B. Advertisements in newspapers (find circulation figures and compute column lineage and number of insertions). Get text of insertions. Cost per column inch. Personal image part of message?

C. Advertisements on radio and TV (times and dates, number of ads, text of copy, cost, identification of speakers, was message taped or did staff announcer read copy? Was image of speaker part of the message?

D. Use of churches. How was cooperation of ministers solicited? Was meeting called or were they contacted individually? What degree of cooperation, if any, was received? Announcements, sermons, participation by minister?

II. How were prospective registrants contacted?

A. Door-to-door canvassing.

a. How were areas selected for canvassing?

b. How was canvassing machinery organized?

c. Was canvassing designed to inform, merely, or was it designed actually to enlist prospects, instruct them, and provide service such as baby-sitting, transportation, etc.

d. Were canvassers volunteer or paid? Were they from all walks of life or primarily students? What other types served as canvassers?

e. What provisions were made for follow-ups to initial canvass?

f. How were canvassers motivated and how did they attempt to motivate prospects - ideologically or practically?

B. Mass meetings.

a. Date, time and place held.

b. Number and identity of speakers. Were speakers selected for informative or image purposes, or both; i.e., were they celebrities or were they leaders whose knowledge of political affairs determined their selection?

c. Were those who attended followed up at the meetings or was initiative placed on them to seek participation; i.e., names taken for volunteer work, for registration, for instruction, at meeting. Degree of success of this kind of recruitment - how many participants garnered from meetings as compared to other modes of recruitment.

C. Were the organizations in I.A. above used in actual registration work? If so, how and to what extent?

D. Other? Maintenance of an office with full-time personnel?

III. Describe the process of registration.

A. Arrangements for transportation.

B. Was there a pool of helpers to actually go to the office with prospective registrants?

C. Was there machinery for enumerating successful registrants and for working with failures?

D. What was attitude of registrar's office - official attitude as well as attitude of personnel in the office?

E. If registrar hours were inconvenient was attempt made to secure extra office hours - successful?

F. What kinds of performance were required of registrants? Was attempt made to determine whether discrimination was practiced at office? Affidavits taken of all incidents of discrimination?

G. Explore the possibility of any organized opposition either official or unofficial to the drive and describe it as thoroughly as possible. Look for unorganized individual or group acts tending to harass, intimidate, etc.

H. Was public attention given by white newspapers, radio, TV, public addresses, etc., to the drive?

IV. An attempt should be made to describe the attitudes of public officials toward the drive. What were their perceptions of this activity among the Negroes - how accurately were they informed as to numbers participating - to what extent did they disapprove or approve - did they perceive this as qualitatively different from similar white activity? Interviews with registration officials are particularly valuable here.

V. What were the concrete results of the drive?

A. Number of persons involved in volunteer work?

B. Number of paid personnel?

C. Were incentives offered for increased registration either to prospects or to workers?

D. Number of persons registered according to the records kept by the drive? Your evaluation of the accuracy of these records.

E. Increase on official records during the time of the drive?

NEWS RELEASE

FOR RELEASE: ALL PAPERS
THURSDAY, A.M.
NOVEMBER 15, 1962

Southern Regional Council, Inc.
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia
Phone: JA 2-8764

In a report released today of racial controversy in Albany (Ga.), the Southern Regional Council warns that, while the country must be ready for other crises such as that of Oxford, "it needs to be prepared for the likelihood--almost the certainty--of other Albany's."

The Council's comment is contained in the Introduction to a 35-page report, Albany: A Study in National Responsibility. Written by Spelman College historian Howard Zinn, the report describes the Albany demonstrations, which began in November 1961 after the city defied the Interstate Commerce Commission's order against bus terminal segregation, and which are still unresolved.

In publishing the Zinn study, the Council says that the country "urgently requires an understanding" of Albany for two reasons:

> "First, as the civil rights movement penetrates the Deep South, and into smaller cities and rural areas, there will be other localities, and perhaps many, where a similar pattern of events will occur.
>
> "Second, ... Albany was a national responsibility. ...It is the price of eight years of inaction by Congress, of hesitancy by Presidents, of timidity by southern moderates in making good the promise of the decision of 1954. The Negro demonstrations in the streets of Albany ... are the direct result of disillusion over the good faith and intentions of national and regional leadership."

In his description of the Albany developments to date, Professor Zinn gives special attention to the nature of the Negro protest movement, the policies of the Albany police, and the role of the federal government.

He describes the "courage, passion, and sacrifice" of the Negro movement in Albany, saying that "it brought forth on American soil--too often hard and cold in recent years--some of the noblest qualities that human beings have shown anywhere." But he cautions also against "massive and undifferentiated assault " on community practices, rather than "singling out a particular goal and concentrating on it."

Discussing law enforcement in Albany, Zinn notes that the police there have received praise throughout the nation for preventing widespread violence. He adds that they have done this by "simply putting into prison every man, woman, or child who dared protest in any way the infringement of rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution." In its Introduction, the Southern Regional Council notes a new pattern of police methods in the South, and typified in Albany, where "sophisticated police work" does the "traditional--almost legendary--job of the mob, i.e., the suppression of Negro dissent."

In a chapter titled "Where Was the Federal Government?", Zinn states that the "national government has failed to protect the liberties of its citizens in the city of Albany." He lists seven suggested actions the federal government might take to cope with or help prevent Albany-type situations. He urges, for example, that the Department of Justice seek, or at least support, injunctive actions against police interference with peaceful assembly, picketing, and speech.

He also urges that the President refuse to appoint segregationist judges to the federal bench. "Judgeships left vacant are preferable to those filled for life by men who, on their public record, are opponents of racial equality."

The Council in its Introduction says that "There has been no acknowledgment of a federal duty to protect federal rights, the rights of speech and peaceable assembly and equal protection of the laws." The Council adds that, although primary responsibility to protect rights rests on the state governments, "when local and state governments fail, that is a federal obligation."

The Southern Regional Council is an organization of white and Negro Southerners formed in 1944 to advance "equal opportunity for all the South's people."

WB

VISIT TO SELMA, ALABAMA

October 7, 1963

Mrs. M. E. Tilly

Background

I was called from Mrs. Peterson's office (Department of Labor) in Washington, D. C. and asked to join Miss Shirley Smith, Miss Dorothy ~~Hite~~ Height, Mrs. Louis Cowan, Dr. Geraldine Wood, and Mrs. Inez Robb in a study trip to Selma, Alabama. I felt I must go, but considering conditions in Selma, -- such a large group should not go together.

On October 3rd Miss Smith, Miss ~~Hite~~ Height and Miss Cowan and I had breakfast together at Peachtree Manor Hotel, Atlanta. It was decided that they go on to Selma and I would go on Monday.

I called the Methodist minister at Selma and asked for an interview but he spoke so much about "outside interference" I canceled the engagement. I wrote to the Catholic Priest and he called me and told me he would meet me at the airport.

Before I left for the 1:18 plane Miss Smith gave me some insight into what the group found. She suggested that Mrs. Frank Cothran, Director of Christian Education for First Presbyterian Church, felt there must be communication across racial lines and had been asked to meet me at the airport. She did not meet me but Father Oulette did.

The Interview with Father Oulette--from my notes

Preface. For 37 years the Catholic Church has maintained a Mission for Negroes in Selma. (The house is beautifully furnished and is on a large lot with trees and flowers. All through the time I was there Negro children were coming in the building. He is a young man with pleasing manners. He is a native of Vermont.)

He told me -- In the fall of 1962 the Student Nonviolent coordinating Committee had gathered the best information about Selma than about any town.

The students at Selma College (Baptist) and the High School children became restless of inaction and began picketing and"sit-ins." The information gathered by SNCC was ignored.

The Dallas Improvement Association of Negro leaders (Father Oulette is the only white member) asked the students to wait and not fill the jail and the two Negro workcamps until legal help and bond money could be secured. The reply was, we have waited as long as we will. Father Oulette added, nothing can stop these children they are ready to die.

The Dallas Improvement Association had asked for voting privileges, the stopping of police brutality, a living wage and better jobs. (The association is not supposed to be working with SNCC but it evidently is from what I saw.

At first, ministers could visit the jail, only attorneys can now, so it was possible for Father Oulette to visit those in jail. He found they were fed on bread and water. When they were asked their parents names, if they added the prefix of "Mr. or Mrs." they were slapped and told "we do not call "Niggers" Mr. and Mrs." He said the county jail can hold 35 people--the others are sent to two Negro workcamps which are crude and usually full of Negro men and women as it is easy to get a Negro arrested.

Children are picked up on the streets--some as they are going home from school--and put in jail.

Those who are out on bail are threatened, if they break their peace bond they will automatically be sent to a Training School for a year or more. (300 deputies have been sworn in -- KKK and Citizens Council members.)

I called Mrs. Cothran from Father Oulette's office. She refused at first to talk to me and said she had been betrayed by us. Miss Smith, Mrs. Cowan, and Miss Dorothy Hite attended the mass meeting on Saturday evening when Dick Gregory spoke and Sunday's newspaper had an account of Mr. Gregory's speech and also said something about Miss Hite. So, Mrs. Cothran felt we were there to advance the cause of the Negroes, when we had said we were there to help make possible communication across the racial lines. I kept talking to her anyway until she quited down a bit.

Father Oulette took me to see Mrs. Boynton, a Negro leader. On the way we saw the line of Negroes awaiting to register.

Mrs. Boynton told me the line had been there since 10:30 A.M. and it was then 4:00 P.M. The deputies were all about the line. All were forced to keep their place, the Negro toilets were locked and the water in the fountains marked "colored" were turned off.

To help the Negroes know what they were facing, mimeographed copies of the long questionnaire they would have to fill in was being distributed up and down the line by young boys. The "posses" jerked them out of the hands of the boys, tore them up and "stomped" the pieces in the ground.

Mrs. Boynton, and others, prepared sandwiches and drinks to serve those waiting to register. They were stopped by the "posse" and told this could not be done as they would be "molesting" and they could be arrested.

Mrs. Boynton sent me to the Bus Station in her car. The Bus Station is the only integrated place in Selma--Negroes coming in were treated with courtesy.

The "Posse" is the 300 deputized K.K.K. and Citizens Council members

Printed in the Selma - Times Journal

--Father Oulette

Where are the voices of justice.

When will this community and others like it in Alabama realize that basic rights are not something that can be given or withheld from one citizen by another citizen playing God? These rights belong to all men, regardless of origin, creed or color. These are basic rights that cannot be allowed to some and denied to others.

The Negro community has turned to every possible group in this city and asked that they be allowed to speak concerning what they believe to be injustices against their race. Every group has turned its back on them. To whom can these people address themselves? Will no one listen? What recourse do they have? Who, then, has really caused the tension in our city during the past week? Those who ignore justice.

We have had the example of a chief executive, the Governor of the State of Alabama, posing under the guide of states' rights, operating under a false sense of importance and leading the people of the State down the road to chaos. While demanding states' rights for Alabama they completely ignore the violation of the basic rights of the citizens of that same state.

Not everyone in this city believes that the thinking of such demagogues represents the thinking of the decent citizens of this city. But because of a fear of social ostracism and economic pressure the sane people of this city are being railroaded toward a living hell. Has no one the courage to speak for justice? Will they continue to sit idly by and watch Mr. Wallace and his kind destroy us all? Are people well informed of this situation or is the radical thinking of some few being spoon fed to everyone in the city?

Where are the religious leaders of this city? They have failed miserably. Will they allow a crime such as the one recently seen in Birmingham to come to Selma and then belatedly utter pious prayers for the deceased to salve their own consciences? God help them when they stand before Him to explain how they stood quietly by. What a shameless crime they perpetrate by their failure to speak for what they know to be just?

No one can restore the dead children of Birmingham to their parents. Shall their deaths lead to more deaths or will the decent citizens of this community somehow find the courage to lash out against the few who threaten to endanger the rights and lives of us all?

How long can we bury our heads in the sand and ignore the social injustices that stare us in the face each day. For if blood should flow, it will remain forever on the unwashed hands of those people who would not speak.

I know that I seem to personally incur the wrath of many because I speak for what I believe to be correct principles. I declare that I have the right to speak against social injustice just as many claim for themselves the privilege to speaking for the continuance of present conditions.

Letter in Selma Paper

(Shown to be by Father Oullette)

Stop and Think

Editor. The Selma-Times Journal . In reply to the so called Rev. Oullette.

I want to say first that the whites and Negroes got along fine until the likes of him and his kind came to Alabama and Selma to start the damnable mess of integration.

God madeethe five rases of people to His liking and set them apart four times according to His word and told them to dwell in their own habitations, which they have not done and this includes you Mr. Oullette.

The people of the Great United States would do well in redding our nations of your kind by shipping them to Italy to carry on your race mixing.

Th The white Protestant Gentiles were the people who settled American to get away from the Roman ruler.

The Romans crucified my Christ and have been trouble makers from Geneses to Revelations in God's Word.

Man is a very pecular creature. He, like a dog will integrate with anything they can on God's green earth.

The old buzzard is black and has a bad carn odor, but he stays to himself with it. The blue birds and blue jays do not try to integrate so, why should man. The Negro and a few like Mr. Oullette is ashamed of his race and kind.

I don't think it is the race so much as it is the money they get out of it for demonstrating.

If Mr. Oullette and the Negro want to do so much good for their fellow-man, why don't they go to Africa, their native land and christianize and educate it, as there is 16 flesh eating Negro nations in Africa.

I am sure the white Protestant people would welcome their departure and would be glad to help them get there if they would stay.

Listen, white Protestant, we can stop this mess in 30 days. Fire your Negro--demonstrate against him, and boycott his business just as he does yours. Have him pay his accounts on due date and cut him off

--W. U. Headley

SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE

APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION, QUESTIONNAIRE AND OATH

I, _____, do hereby apply to the Board of Registrars of _____ County, State of Alabama, to register as an elector under the Constitution and laws of the State of Alabama, and do herewith submit answers to the interrogatories propounded to me by said Board.

_____
NAME OF APPLICANT

QUESTIONNAIRE

1. State your name, the date and place of your birth, and your present address: _____

_____

2. Have you previously applied for and been denied registration as a voter? _____ (a) If so, give the facts: _____

_____

3. Has your name been previously stricken from the list of persons registered? _____

4. Are you now or have you ever been a dope addict or an habitual drunkard? ____ (a) If you are or have been a dope addict or an habitual drunkard, explain as fully as you can. _____

_____

_____

5. Have you ever been legally declared insane? _____ (a) If so, give details: _____

_____

6. Give a brief statement of the extent of your education and business experience: _____

_____

_____

7. Have you ever been charged with or convicted of a felony or crime or offense involving moral turpitude? _____ (a) If so, give the facts:

_____

_____

8. Have you ever served in the Armed Forces of the United States Government? _____ (a) If so, state when and for approximately how long:

_____

_____

9. Have you ever been expelled or dishonorably discharged from any school or college or from any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States, or from any other Country? _____ (a) If so, give the facts: _____

_____

_____

10. Will you support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Alabama? _____

11. Are you now or have you ever been affiliated with any group or organization which advocated the overthrow of the United States Government or the government of any state of the United States by unlawful means?_____(a) If so, state the facts:_____

_____

12. Will you bear arms for your country when called upon by it to do so?_____(a) If you answer no, give reasons:_____

_____

13. Do you believe in free elections and rule by the majority?_____

14. Will you give aid and confort to the enemies of the United States Government or the government of the State of Alabama?_____

15. Name some of the duties and obligations of citizenship:_____

_____

_____

_____

(a) Do you regard those duties and obligations as having priority over the duties and obligations you owe to any other secular organization when they are in conflict?_____

16. Give the names and post office addresses of two persons who have present knowledge of your present bona-fide residence at the place as stated by you:_____

_____

17. Are you married or single?_____(a) If married, give name, residence and place of birth of your husband or wife, as the case may be._____

_____

18. Give the names of the places, respectively, where you have lived during the last five years; and the name or names by which you have been known during the last five years:_____

_____

_____

19. If you are self-employed, state the nature of your business:_____

_____

(a) If you have been employed by another during the last five years, state the nature of your employment and the name or names of such employer or employers and his or their addresses:_____

_____

_____

20. If you claim that you are a bona-fide resident of the State of Alabama, give the date on which you claim to have become such bona fide resident:_____(a) When did you become a bona fide resident of Jefferson County?_____(b) When did you become a bona fide resident of_____Ward or Precinct_____

_____.

21. If you intend to change your place of residence prior to the next general election, state the facts:_____

_____

_____

MY SECOND VISIT TO SELMA

Mrs. M. E. Tilly

Miss Shirley Smith and I went to Selma, October 31, 1963. Miss Smith is Executive Director of the National Women's Committee for Civil Rights which grew out of President Kennedy's Conference with the 300 women he called together in July. I have been appointed as Southern Advisor.

We flew to Montgomery, made reservations for our return, mine to Atlanta and hers to Birmingham.

We found our "U-Drive-It" car we had ordered awaiting us. We drove to Selma and registered at the Albert Hotel.

Miss Smith called Mrs. Ruby Hrobowsky (874-6561), 225 Lawrence St., who invited us to come to her house at eight o'clock. Mrs. Hrobowsky and husband are both teachers. She is very lovely and looks like a young edition of Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr. Her home is new and beautifully furnished.

Soon after we came, three other women came in--one at a time.
Mrs. M. E. Williams, 709 Philpot Avenue,(874-7322), a teacher in the Baptist College.
Mrs. Margaret Moore, 1414 Broad St.,(874-5228), a teacher in Hudson High School.
Miss Ruby Boyd, 1604 Mabry Street, (874-5988).

All four of these women are members of the National Delta Sorority. They knew me because they were at the National meeting in Washington when I was initiated as a Delta. Mrs. Hrobowsky served dinner to Miss Smith and me,--shrimp cocktail, tossed salad, a large, thick, tender steak, ice box pie.

Notes on what they said to us:

Mrs. M. E. Williams - I am a Northerner, teaching in the Baptist college here. Our president of the college urged the students to take no part in the demonstrations. The Alabama Southern Baptist Convention had made a pledge of financial support, and he did not want this much needed money jeopardized. (This did not deter the students, though. Some of them were arrested and spent weeks in the jail or workcamp and are out on bail now.) I suggested that she find out definitely if the money is withheld--it might be possible to get help from the American Baptist.

The most disturbing thing I heard while in Selma came from Mrs. Williams: "Hatred is growing among the children in our (Negro) elementary schools. I was surprised to hear our two and three year-olds in our nursery singing: "I aint gwing to let Jim Clark turn me round."

She gave these words the children sing on the streets:

"If you miss Hudson High (negro)
And you can't find me nowhere
Just come around over to Parish High (white
I'll be sitting over there.

"If you look for Governor Wallace
And you can't find him nowhere
Just come over to the Crazy
House, he'll be sitting there."

Mrs. Moore is the most aggressive one in the group.

She said she tried to talk over the problem with some white women she knew and was met with this -- "What are you doing letting your children go to jail. This is an awful thing. I would not let my child go to jail, etc."

There was, as yet, no getting over this barrier raised by the white women.

Only 35 are registered on any registration day. Mrs. Moore told of being second in line--a white woman was first and she received a No. 1 card--Mrs. Moore was given No. 37 -- no chance to register that day. She told the one who gave her the No. 37 card what she thought of it. He replied, my wife stood in line several times and has not been registered yet. She also reported on the oral examination after filling in the questionnaire, -- they yelled at you.

A phone call came to her from a man asking for an engagement with her. She recognized that it was a white man trying to talk like a Negro.

Her young daughter was disturbed by the advances of a white boy. Mrs. Moore went to his mother and said, "I want to talk to you about your boy, if he was mine I would appreciate someone telling me. Then she told of the approaches the boy was making to her daughter. The mother thanked her and told her it would not happen again.

Dr. Dunn who has a Rest Home, not only fired Mrs. Cecil Collins when he found she had registered but beat her severely. All the Negro employees left in a body and now can find no work. Gray Ladies came in and other Negroes needing work took their places. The pay is $18 per week with long hours.

Bennie Tucker was arrested October 7th when he drank water from a "white" fountain. All Colored rest rooms were locked and water cut off the Negro fountains. (He was released October 27.)

As the Negroes gathered at one of their churches for a rally a white man was there with a snake and he would slip up on people and put it on them. He was arrested but later released.

We asked why Mrs. Boynton had not been arrested, especially since Prathia Hall was arrested in Mrs. Boynton's home, (October 7.) The reply was, "They are afraid of her." (Prathia was released with Bennie Tucker on October 27.)

All in all it was a nice evening. Mrs. Boyd began to reminisce. Her father had a big farm, near them there was a tenant white family. The man and the children were friendly, the mother was not. The white man borrowed the surrey and horse from her father to take his wife to see her folks. As they passed by the house the man and children waved, the mother turned her head. Mrs. Boyd said although she was only four years-old when this happened she still remembered the look on that white women's face.

She told another story: a white boy late on evening asked to be taken in for the night and was told he would have to sleep with one of the boys of the family, which he did. The next morning though, he refused to eat at the table with the Negro family.

Mrs. Moore added, "I can cook the food but when I put it on the table it becomes holy." (This was evidently a quote.)

The next day, November 1.

Our first visit was to Dr. John Newton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. He was a pastor in Gainesville, Ga. when I was director of Georgia Committee on Human Relations--and he worked with us then.

He was writing, he said, to his children in Europe who had asked him about the racial situation in Selma--he told them there was "madness" in the town. Everyone was afraid, reprisals of different kinds were used against people. The Ford agency had been almost put out of business because the Ford Foundation had furnished money to aid the freedom groups.

He referred to the incident of the four Negro girls who visited the Church on Sunday morning, September 29, and said some people threatened to move their membership, among them the daughter of the Mayor--but there had been no loss of membership.

The Church has a Negro Mission Church and during the week women from First Church attended the Annual Meeting of the Mission and were thrilled with the reports given.

Dr. Newton assured us he spoke out-rightly to his congregation and over the radio.

Notes from Interview with Father Oulette, St. Elizabeth Parish.

I took Ralph McGill's book, "The South and The Southerner" and a packet of the program and material given out at the workshop of The Fellowship of the Concerned.

We talked of the beating given Mrs. Collins by Dr. Dunn. He told us that John Doar from the Justice Department had a picture of the bruises and broken skin on her shoulder. He wanted to push this case as it was a clear case of brutality but his partner Burke Marshall did not think it best to push the case.

John Doar gave him a copy of the restraining order issued to Victor B. Atkins, registrar of Dallas County, against the way regristration had been carried out--among other things the oral examination had to be recorded, etc. Also, Mr. Doar said there was being a study made of registration in other places in Alabama.

Tuskegee registered 125 on each registration day--why then only thirty-five in Selma?

Father Oulette is a lonely man and in a way he tells you about it. On my first visit he said he invited the ministers of the town to come to the Parish House to discuss the problem, etc. They refused to come to the Parish House, so they met at a Motel--but none would take a stand.

This time he said the bank president wanted to see him but canceled the invitation.

There is a Catholic Church for white people which ignores the Negro church. Father Oulette is making an issue of this and said he was sending Negro youth to the white church. (Miss Smith - "Boys and Girls"-- "No, only boys, for that's best.")

There is complaint from the white church - but he added, if necessary the Arch Bishop will ex-communicate any persons in the church who in any way refuse to accept integration.

He continued there are 30 Negro ministers in the County but only 5 have shown interest. Some have mortages on their churches and feel they cannot speak. Pressure is coming upon them though.

Mrs. Boynton said not a Negro church had a work in their bulletins about voting. Only 212 Negroes are registered. The Negro ministers, with the power they have over their congregations, could, if they would, bring an end to the problems. If the 100 Negro teachers would stand together they would be a great moral force.

We asked about the women and he said, "The educated Negro women have little or nothing to do with the Negroes less fortunate."

The Parish has educated 200 Negroes--some until they have received a Ph. D. degree. Very few came back to live in Dallas County. (Mrs. Moore has 2 children now in Howard University, Washington, under scholarships secured through the Catholic Parish.)

Father Oulette was disturbed that there was such weak leadership in the Student organizations, the Voters League, the Dalls County Improvement Association. He was to have a meeting with leaders of these groups and showed us a graph he had ready to present to them to help coordinate their efforts.

We asked him "what could women do?" Reply, "Come together, discuss together in bi-racial group; use influence." Suggested Mrs. Cothran, Mrs. Wilkerson, of Welfare Dept., 120 Church St., Mrs. Leo Twordy--a Catholic (not quite "convinced" - but said, "I do not want to offend God.")

He called May Varela of SNCC who is in Selma, not to join in demonstrations but to work on an adult literacy program among the Negroes. She is to work under H.R. Bill 5542. This Bill is now in committee. She urged us to get busy on this.

We saw on the corner opposite the Parish House, two police cars with two policemen in each. Shirley asked Father Oulette what it meant, he said, nothing.

When we left in our "U-Drive_It" car we realized we were being followed - and on they came into the parking lot back of the hotel and they asked to look at our drivers' licenses. They copied our names and addresses. We asked why this, they answered, "The judge has ordered this on all "U-Drive-It" cars." Reply, If it is ordered we will comply.

The Presbyterian women whom we were to meet, Mrs. Frank Cothran and Mrs. John Joyce came to our hotel in the afternoon. They,too, are afraid and spoke of reprisals. Said they could not dare to meet with Mrs. Boynton. Mrs. Joyce was very incensed over Dick Gregory's speech. She had the Selma paper which carried much of the speech.

Then we began to talk of contacts with Negro women. They spoke of the Presbyterian Negro Mission church and being at the annual meeting some days before. They had sent a girl from this mission to a Presbyterian Conference at Purdue and were delighted with her report.

We suggested they might talk with the women in the mission and it would help to let them know they sympathized with the struggle going on, and if they did it would help. They were not sure they could but said they would talk to the Negro pastor and see what he would say.

We brought up Dunn's Rest Home incident and were told, Dr. Dunn was in a safe position. He had the only Rest Home in the County and there was always a long waiting list,--otherwise the town would have taken action. The women who walked out of the place and had no jobs, --Mrs. Joyce said, they could if they would get jobs in our homes, we would pay $18 a week.

The League of Women Voters had disbanded in Selma but Mrs. Joyce had seen a sheet of proposals from the National League which she thought would help them. I assured her we would get it for her. As Mrs. Cothran left, she said she was a Georgia girl and her father, Rev. Grogan, had been a Methodist preacher. I told her I knew him and called the name of my father preacher and she knew of him. So we parted with somewhat of a tie.

We paid our hotel bill and asked the porter to come and get our bags. He heard me say something to Miss Smith about Father Oulette and in a whisper, said to me, "I am a Baptist, but I am with the Catholics one hundred percent. My children are in that school." His whispering verified to me what Father Oulette had said, "everything that is happening is attributed to the Catholics," so the porter was even afraid someone would hear him praise them.

We started to Montgomery--behind came the police car and the police--they followed us almost to Montgomery.

I unlocked my front door at one A.M. and entered a dark, cold house, still dazed about Selma. I remembered I told those at The Fellowship of the Concerned Workshop as they left I hoped they would not sleep that night. No sleep came to me this two nights later--Selma was too much for me. May God give us the wisdom needed for these days.

A letter to the Editor, The Times-Journal, Selma, Alabama

Editor, The Selma Times-Journal, Selma,Alabama

Since the four colored teen-age girls who visited the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday did not leave their names and addresses, I would like to take the opportunity of using your column to send this message.

Sincerely,

PAT BAYNE

Mrs. Lewis M. Bayne
RFD 4, Box 90
Selma, Alabama

October 2, 1963

Dear Girls:

You were visitors at The First Presbyterian Church last Sunday and probably were congratulated on having "integrated" it. Like you, I was late in getting to church and took a back seat and thus when I heard you come in during the morning prayer, your feet scraping over my head in the servants' balcony on unaccustomed high heels-- I knew we had been "integrated". You probably noticed that ninety-eight per cent of the well-bred ladies and gentlemen of our church did not look around, stir, or even slightly move a muscle, although all of them knew you were there. This does not include the little girl in the rear of the church who turned around and looked several times, as she has only recently come to us from the Baptist Church. She will learn in time, and I note that she is already learning to sit with a stiff spine, hold her shoulders back, lift her eyebrows and loer her lids in the approved Presbyterian manner.

If you had difficulty in singing with us you probably noticed that we do not sing very well. That first hymn from the one hundred and third Psalm was arranged in 1680 and we have been working on it for some time. Just to be broadminded the second one was a 1915 hymn but of course it's too new to have been learned well. Unfortunately, we are not a singing church.

Our minister was scolding us, if you didn't understand the sermon, about our lack of zeal in attending Sunday School. He is a learned gentleman, a highly educated scholar, and looks, in his long black robe the way a Presbyterian Minister ought to look. He has only been here about a year and a half and at first sought to instill in us fire, spirit, zeal, and evangelical fervor. "With the influence, education, brains and money in this church we could set this community on fire!" he tells us. Most of us however, feel that any congregation with as mar many matches as we have would be presumptious in starting fires. He has now has settled back to a holding action, only occasionally slapping his hand against the pulpit to emphasixe a point. Nobody jumps. We are not a nervous congregation.

You were seated in the servants' balcony in the rear of the church by the Deacons in accordance with orders from the Elders, the ruling body of the church. Elders meet, pray, make rules, and give orders to the Deacons who have to carry them out. This does not always make for harmonious relations and men have been known to discuss this, in polite, well-modulated tones, of course, without changing anything. Elders seldom change.

When you were allowed to leave the church by the side stairs after the congregation was safely on its way home, I noted that you did not wear hats. A little world of advice: If you intend integrating the First Presbyterian Church you should be properly gloved and hatted, and if you intend visiting us again you should take the money you receive from the NAACP and buy yourself the proper attire; however, why should young girls like you want to leave a Baptist church, especially a colored Baptist church, and spend your Sundays with us? I assure you that birds of a feather flock together, and we are of a feather here at the First Presbyterian. You not only have the wrong color feathers but you don't fly right.

You integrated the First Presbyterian Church of Selma, Alabama? Little girls, we don't even integrate with many white people. If you came to our church for a hundred years sat on the servants' balcony, or even with the congregation, ninety eight per cent of the ladies and gentlemen of this church would never look around, stir or even move a muscle. We would not reject you; we would not accept you; we would simply look around you, over you, through you and freeze you numb.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Lois M. (Pat) Bayne

Member, First Presbyterian Church
Selma, Alabama

EXCERPTS FROM A REPORT - September 26, 1963

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

SELMA, ALABAMA

FACT SHEET -- 57.7 % of the residents of Dallas County are Negroes. 0.9% are registered to vote. 64% of eligible whites are registered. Adjourning Wilcox County has never had a Negro voter - although 78% of the population is Negro.

In 1961 U. S. Commission on Civil Rights Report on Voting says:

Testimony at the Commission's Alabama hearing covered economic pressures and registrar's discriminatory practices which prevented Negroes from voting in this county (Dallas) ...In April, 1961 the Department of Justice filed suit to enjoin such practices. The suit has not yet come to trial. Two and one-half years have passed since the suit was filed. In the meantime, conditions have not changed.

CONTRABAND MILITIA INTIMIDATES PROTESTERS

The county Sheriff's Department, under the direction of Sheriff Jim Clark (who has attended every mass meeting held by SNCC, The Dallas County Improvement Association, with his gun on his hip and frequently an electric cattle prodder in hand) maintains a 300-man strong militia.

This specially deputized posse was used to hinder union activities in Dallas County (there is only one union there now) and has been used to intimidate Negroes at mass meetings. At least one hundred of these deputies wear old army fatigues and barets and boots. They are empowered to carry weapons and make arrests--one struck 23-year old Willie Robertson from behind on September 16 as he was leaving a sit-in at Carter-Walgreen Drug Store in SELMA: HE REQUIRED SEVEN STITCHES.

On September 23, the Selma Times Journal, reported that at least 50 state patrolmen, headed by Al Lingo of the state department of Public Safety, had come into their town at Sheriff Clark's request. For the past four days, at the time of this writing, the state patrol has kept the First Baptist Church--at which mass meetings have been held and from which some demonstrations have originated--surrounded. The Montgomery Advertiser reported today that 17 cars of state police aided in halting a picket of 28 students on September 25.

Prior to his arrest on Sept. 24 SNCC Staff Coordinator Worth Long stated,"Selma is in a state of seige." Everywhere you look you see state patrolmen or members of the special posse brandishing clubs and cattle prods."

To date, about 100 high school students and students at Selma University (Negro) have been arrested on charges of "truancy." Police have stopped students wherever they have gathered, or while they walked along the street, and arrested them for truancy.....

ORGANIZED RESISTANCE TO EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Trailways bus station is the only desegregated public facility in the county. There is no Greyhound line.

52% of Dalls County families have an income of less than $3,000 or less than $54 per week. 6% have an income of $10,000 or more
In 1959 - some 750 families possessed about $3,500,000 in income.

The president of one of the largest manufacturing companies in Selma is also the president of the county's White Citizen's Council. Reginal Robinson, a field secretary for SNCC reported in the ~~xxx~~ fall of 1962 that, businesses who do not support the White Citizens Council cannot make loans in the local bank. I said the members of the council are working in key positions in banks and city government.

With the white power structure connected to the Citizen's Council, and with the U. S. Armed Forces Defense Bases maintaining a supporting position in the racial status quo of this black belt county, the hope of fair employment for Negroes is dim indeed. The USO itself does not admit Negroes...

The Commander of Craig Air Force Base has thus far refused to direct his attention to the rigid segregation policies which affect both the citizens of Selma, and the men under his command.....

A dairy company, Clover Leaf Cream, which supplies products to Craig Air Force Base has a government contract -- it hires no Negroes.

"ONE MAN -- ONE VOTE"

The first demand of the Negro community in Selma is for "Voter Registration Without Intimidation." The Selma movement has adopted the SNCC slogan -- "ONE MAN - ONE VOTE."

--- The Negroes of Selma and Dallas County are politically impotent without the vote. They have no way of influencing the choice of those who hold public office, even though they are in the majority.

--- They have no channel for redress of grievances. It is not possible for them to appeal to the sensibilities of influencial whites to pressure city officials to relieve the suppression of First Amendment freedom for the Negro community. The leading businessmen placed a full page advertisement in the Selma-Times Journal on Sept. 22, 1963, which makes clear the connection between business interests and "Inherently unequal" system of segregation.

They cannot turn to the average white citizenry when between 200 to 500 male whites in the town are deputized in a special vigilante force.

They cannot go to local and county law enforcement officials, who have made it plain they are there, not to protect rights of protest and the vote, but to keep down any dissent or any concerted attempts to get to vote. On Sept. 24, billy clubs and electric cattle prodders were used on bystanders who were forced off Sylvan Street in front of First Baptist Church. They had not been demonstrating.

The Negroes cannot hope for the protection of the Federal Government which, at best, filed suit two-years ago merely to enjoin the registrar's practices.....

PRESENT DAY LYNCHING METHODS USED.

Between April, 1882 and January, 1913, there were 21 lynchings (reported) in Dallas County. All victims were Negroes....

The consequences of wrong-doing today take the form of beatings, shots in the night, and state-organized police brutality.
--- a brief chronology of harassment of voter registration and protest efforts during 1963:

April 17 - Voter Registration worker Lonnie Brown reported "persons unknown" fired two shotgun blast into his house.

June 12 - SNCC voter registration worker Bernard Lafayette, 22 was beaten by two white men in front of his house after he answered their plea to help push a stalled car. Lafayette had two stitches taken in his head after the beating.

June 17 - A young voter registration worker for SNCC was punched and shoved by a deputy sheriff here today. Bossie Reese was "literally thrown" into the sheriff's office while he watched Negroes take a registration test. He was arrested and charged with "failure to obey an officer" and resisting arrest."

July 12 -- Bossie Reese was tried and convicted of "conduct calculated to breach the peace."

July 23 - 16-year-old SNCC worker Alexander Brown was arrested here two days before he was scheduled to testify at a Justice Department hearing on discrimination against Negro voters in Dallas County. Brown, who was arrested by Sheriff Jim Clark, was charged with "false identity."

September 15 -- Five Negro students were arrested during a sit-in demonstration here. Two others were beaten by bystanders during sit-ins; one of them, Lula Brown, 15, was knocked off a lunch counter stool by the owner of the Carter-Walgreen Drug store. She was shocked by an electric cattle prodder by a man believed to be a member of the special posse. 63 other youths, including SNCC Staff Coordinator Worth Long and local SNCC worker Benny Tucker, were arrested during a march staged into downtown Selma. Long and Tucker were picked out of the crowd by sheriff Clark.

September 17 - SNCC worker, Worth Long, 27, reported he was beaten in the county jail by deputy sheriff W. T. Marvell in front of 22 arrested demonstrators who witnessed the beating on Sept. 16.
Long was released from jail this morning when charges were dropped because he was not in the demonstration but wathcing it.

September 18 - Demonstrations continued with picketing by young Negroes. SNCC worker Wilson Brown was arrested as he stood watching a picket at the Carter-Walgreen Drug Store. He was wearing a T-shirt with "don't buy downtown" printed on it.....

September 20 - Between 500 and 1,000 students boycotted classes protesting segregation in public schools--25 more Negro students made applications at the library.

September 21 - Air Force refused today to act on a request from SNCC to be delcared off-limits for personnel from Craig Air Force Base becsuse of discrimination in the city. ---Colonel Ault refused. SNCC Chairman John Lewis wired the Defense Department in Washington. The Department also refused.

September 23 - 50 state patrolmen headed by Al Lingo surrounded mass meeting at the Brown A.M.E. and Forest Baptist Churches as SNCC John Lewis spoke - SNCC Benny Tucker, 21, a clergyman, sought sanctuary in the Baptist Church when he learned of a warrant for his arrest.

September 24 - Worth Long and Rev. Benny Tucker arrested at First Baptist Church. Tucker was arrested while he was in the midst of a prayer -- charged with "contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile" (bond $2,500). Long was charged with "interfering with arrest"--bond $2,500.
A total of 122 young Negroes were arrested for "unlawful assembly" as they started walking toward downtown area. 85 others picked up earlier, charged with "truancy from school."

September 25 - John Lewis, chairman of SNCC was jailed with 27 Selma university students as they were carrying a sign as they picketed the court house--One Man--One Vote.

October 2 - Four Negroes arrested at the county courthouse as they walked with signs -- "Register to Vote". Three were arrested at the Federal Building, one as he stepped out of a car with a sign, two who walked with signs encouraging Negroes to vote.
Tom Brown and Terry Shaw, SNCC workers, were arrested as they got out of a car at First Baptist Church--Brown charged with "contribution to the delinquency of a minor"--Shaw with "unlawful assembly."
Rev. Lewis Anderson, minister at the Tabernacle Baptist Church arrested and charged with "contributing to the delinquency of a minor."

(John Lewis, Chairman of SNCC, and Mrs. Lillian Gregory, wife of Dick Gregory and Wold Lawson were arrested and found guilty of "unlawful assembly"--sentenced to 180 days and $300 fine--appeal bond set at $1,000 and $1,000 peace bond was lodged.

October 7 - Prathia Hall, arrested in Mrs. A. P. Boynton's home.

APPENDIX I

Sunday, September 22, 1963
SELMA TIMES-JOURNAL

APPENDIX I

(This full-page advertisement is reprinted here because we feel it is a clear statement of the power the myth of racism has when it is clothed in fine words and backed by financial and political power. Notes follow.)

A DECLARATION OF BASIC RIGHTS AND PRINCIPLES

The white and Negro races have lived together in Selma and Dallas County for many generations in a state of peace and tranquility; and Selma will continue to be the home of both races long after agitators have done their evil work of poisoning the minds of some of our Negro citizens

We have enjoyed mutual confidence and trust between the races, and this will again prevail regardless of current unrest. This trust and confidence has been attested by the record of financial institutions of the country, which, in both good years and bad, have furnished tens of millions of dollars to farmers, both white and Negro, to make the harvest crops. The Negro farmer has benefited immeasurably through improved and modernized methods, as shown and demonstrated to him by his white counterpart. Through the efforts of white leadership in the county, great strides have been made in the field of industrial development; and this has created thousands of jobs for Negro workers. Without such leadership there would never have been such opportunities for these Negroes.

The spirit of cooperation between the races has been further attested in recent years by the facts that more of our tax money, largely contributed by whites, has been spent on education for Negroes than for whites, and the fact that more Negro than white schools have been constructed.

To maintain such a society of mutual confidence, trust and respect between the races, there must be mutual recognition of and respect for certain basic rights and principles. These include:

1. The right to sell and rent property according to individual inclination and amenable to the written laws of the country.
2. The right to own and operate private business in such manner as is deemed sound and proper by the operators there-of, with unchallenged authority to select such personnel as the owner desires and to use such methods as have demonstrated themselves to be most conducive to sound and profitable management.
3. The right to select one's own associates, whatever the occasion.

These basic rights to be enjoyed by all people of both races, and the white citizens of Dallas County are firmly united in their determination to preserve them, because of their conviction that freedom as conceived by our Founding Fathers, does not grant any minority, be it white or Negro through threats or otherwise, the right to force its will upon the majority. Neither do we believe that the majority has the right ot impose its will upon a minority. We believe that freedom means equal and untrammelled opportunity for all citizens to better themselves through their own efforts - not by legislation and not by demonstrations backed by threats, which inevitable result in both force and reprisals.

We further believe it to be axiomatic that any action taken by any group whether by a minority or majority, if such action is either unlawful, or is lawful with unlawful intent, will bring reprisals which are frequaently more detrimental to the innocent than to the guilty. These guilty ones are usually agitators, who having done their evil work, will probably vanish from our community, leaving us to pick up the pieces and repair the damage.

Time is fast running out. It behooves our more intelligent and responsible Negro leadership to think well and seriously upon what has transpired in the past and what life in this community might become if a two-edged sword is unsheathed to shear apart the white and Negro races. Responsible Negro leaders should take immediate steps to put down agitation among their people. In this effort, they can count upon the full cooperation of our white citizens, the governmental bodies of our city and county and all of our law enforcement facilities.

We believe that through mutual understanding and efforts of the responsible citizens of our community, both white and Negro, confidence, trust and respect between the races in Selma can and will be restored and maintained.

The undersigned stand firmly united in their belief in, and adherence to, these basic rights and principles of people of both races.

SELMA RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSN.
Julius M. Lilienthal, President
DALLAS COUNTY FARM BUREAU
Walter C. Givhan, President
SELMA RETAIL CREDIT BUREAU
Frank Wilson, President
DALLAS COUNTY BAR ASSN.
Theodore L. Wade, President
SELMA AND DALLAS COUNTY CLEANING HOUSE ASSN.
THE PEOPLES BANK& TRUST CO.
Rex J. Morthland, President
THE SELMA NATIONAL BANK
Roger ap C. Jones, President
CITIZENS BANK AND TRUST CO.
J. Bruce Pardue, President
THE CITY NATIONAL BANK of selma William B. Craig, Pres.
MARION JUNCTION STATE BANK
James M. Gilmer, Ex. VP. & Cashier
SELMA AUTOMOBIL DEALERS ASSN.
W.F. Driggers, Pres.

DALLAS COUNTY DRUGGIST ASSN.
E. O. Ward, Pres.
SELMA BOARD OF REALTORS
William K. Hicks, Pres.
DALLAS COUNTY CATTLEMEN's ASSN.
W. R. Martin, Pres.
SELMA & DALLAS COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: R. E. Ellzey, Pres.
SELMA RESTAURANT ASSN.
William Speed, V.P.
DALLAS COUNTY DENTAL STUDY CLUB
E. A. Wilkinson, Pres.
ALL SERVICE STATION ASSN.
Nick Patterson, Pres.
1st FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSN.
Charles S. Frazer, Pres.
ACCOUNTANTS OF SELMA AND DALLAS COUNTY
SELMA JUNION CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Robert J. Robinson, Pres
COMMITTEE OF 100 PLUS
Otis G. Adams, President

* * * * * * *

These signatures, to one not aware of the patterns of Southern racism, would be convincing. And certainly they must be convincing to the residents of Selma, Alabama, most of whom have never known a Negro as an equal. This declaration is worth examing as a cogent statement of the mind of the white South, and may demonstrate the arguments that can be given to change that mind.

I. The "peace and tranquility" argument: "The white and Negro races have lived together in Selma and Dallas County for many generations in a state of peace and tranquility..." This argument is the most pervasive fallacy in Southern white thought. Perhaps the whites, who did not fear police brutality, reprisals and lynchings with no legal recourse, lived in peace; the Negroes have not.

II. The "paternalism" argument: (The fact that whites have helped Negroes proves that trust and confidence between the races exists) "Through the efforts of white leadership...great strides have been made in the field of industrial development; and this has created thousands of jobs for Negro workers. Without such leadership there would never have been such opportunities for these Negroes....In recent years...more of our tax money, largely contributed by whites, has been spent on education for Negroes..."

Nor could industry exist without the workers. It is well known that industry has come to the South because there is a low wage level and few unions. The jobs however, go to whites, who are afraid that if they demand higher wages Negroes will take over the jobs from which they will be fired. Further, the statistics on Negro wage levels reveal the lie of prosperity that this statement advances.

As for spending on education, numerous school districts in the South have increased expenditures for Negro schools in an effort to keep the Negro citizens from bringing suits for school integration. Negro school facilities remain far below the white schools.

Finally, justice cannot truly exist under despotism, no matter how benign.

III. The "property rights equal human rights" argument: "To maintain a society of mutual confidence...there must be recognition of certain basic rights...(1.) The right to sell and rent property according to individual inclination...(2.) The right to own and operate private business...with unchallenged authority to select such personnel as the owner desires... (3.) The right to select one's own associates, whatever the occasion."

First, it is worth noting that in this list of basic American rights there is no mention of the right to vote, the right to participate fully in the political life of the community and nation, the right to equal protection under the law.

Second, while one may hold the position that a man should have the rights listed above, it is not the case that the government of the United States agrees. Many states have fair housing and fair employment laws maintaining that the right of an individual to buy where he pleases must be balanced against the right of an owner to sell and that the right to employment is as important as the right to hire.

The third right, the right of association, is one which the civil rights movement advocates. To be in the same room with another does not mean that he is chosen as a friend. In fact, not until people are able to meet freely can they choose whether to associate with each other. The "right of free association" (used here incorrectly) reveals the fear which underlies so much of the segregationist rationale -- the fear of social equality and the racist base of that fear.

IV. The argument against "force": "Freedom as conceived by our Founding Fathers does not grant any minority, be it white or Negro, the right to force its will on the majority..."

The Selma movement has not used force, but only nonviolence. Rather, it is the police who have used force and the signers of the advertisement who for years have forced Negroes out of the normal human intercourse of the community. The argument is calculated to win adherents, but does not have any base in fact.

V. The "self-betterment" argument: "We believe that freedom means equal and untrammelled opportunity for all citizens to better themselves through their own efforts -- not by legislation and not by demonstrations backed by threats, which inevitably result in both force and reprisals."

The Selma movement would agree that freedom means equal opportunity, but the white power structure forgets that legislation is needed to secure and protect this freedom. This is what the equality movement means -- equal opportunities insured by law.

What avenues are left when Negroes do not have the right to demonstration or legislation, the traditional American means of calling attention to and correcting injustices in the system except "self-betterment," i.e., the status quo or segregation.

(It is ironic to note that the power structure feels that demonstrations, which are not backed by threats in Selma, lead inevitably to force and reprisals.)

VI. The "agitators" argument: "These guilty ones are usually the agitators, who having done their evil work, will probably vanish from our community, leaving us to pick up the pieces and repair the damage."

It is the agitator in the washing machine which removes the dirt. And the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee trusts that the local leadership has the ability to decide whether to cooperate with SNCC workers. Nor do we intend to leave and allow the "pieces" to be put back in the old pattern of racial segregation and discrimination.

We are not ashamed to be called agitators, for the response of the Negro community indicates their long desire for self-fulfillment and justice.

* * * * * * * * *

The unwritten message in this declaration should be an opening for people to see that those who support the White Citizens Councils of the South and their principles, are not just "white trash" and "riff-raff." But rather, businessmen and elected leaders, and often, as in the case of Birmingham, Northern money interests which condone and advocate the measures used to maintain segregation.

* * * * * * * * *

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE
8½ Raymond Street, N.W.
Atlanta 14, Georgia
688-0331

"ONE MAN - ONE VOTE"

NEWS RELEASE

FOR RELEASE TO ALL PAPERS

DATE: Thursday, APRIL 16, 1964

Southern Regional Council, Inc.
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta, Georgia
Telephone: JAckson 2-8764

"Beyond prudent doubt, the next six months will be packed with crisis and decision for the South and for the nation. Every indication points to protest activity of an extent and intensity without precedent, not only in the South but in the North as well. The Senate filibuster wears on. When it is finally over and defeated, and a law is passed, the issue in the South will be compliance. In both Summer and early Fall, some of the most recalcitrant school districts of the deep South will be under court order to desegregate. And in the background of all this, there will be the excitement of the Presidential campaign and many state races...

"...The lesson of Jacksonville is... that wherever the white civic leadership -- religious, business, and political -- allows a racial crisis to develop and spill into the streets (whether by indifference or inattentiveness to the justified impatience of Negroes with tokenism or less, or by rebuff of Negro efforts to effect change through discussion and joint planning, or by other failures), then it invites violence in."

These were conclusions of a short report on the Jacksonville (Fla.) riots of Easter week, released today by the Southern Regional Council.

The report suggested that Negro discontent in the city had its roots in resentment of lack of progress on desegregation of public accommodations and lack of official sanction which cut effectiveness of the city's biracial committee, combined with a flareup of resentment over a television statement by Mayor Haydon Burns invoking tight police powers against sit-ins and public assembly of Negroes. It also suggested that Negro violence and vandalism which rocked the city for two days had its roots in a precedent for this sort of thing which occurred under more severe physical provocation in 1960, in the hostility festering in Negro slum areas, with criminal elements taking advantage of a race crisis to express broader-gauge anger, and in youthful mob spirit not unlike that of a panty-raid.

The report pointed out that now as in 1960, "the breakdowns in law and order in the South are an outcome of public policy..."

It went on: "In the years following 1954, the South chose to violate the American tradition of obeying a Supreme Court reading of the Constitution.

"The question for 1964 is whether the spirit of lawfulness has returned to the Southern political leadership, to that leadership which drummed up the orgy of massive resistance and which had always, as it has now through the deep South, power to maintain order..."

Then the report raised these questions for any community to ask itself:

"What guarantees are there that a racial crisis might not set off the energies of mobs, whether of white or Negro students full of spring feverishness, or of white or Negro victims of impoverishment, sullen in their slums? What policies and tools (such as an honorable biracial committee) give responsible Negro leaders any hope that their just demands will be met, short of the creation of a race crisis?

"And, finally, what is the unspoken communication of community leadership toward violence? In Jacksonville, it seemed to be the message that violence works. The two days of rioting accomplished the creation of an apparently effective biracial committee, something that weeks of urging had not accomplished. They seemed on their way to accomplishing in the field of public accommodations desegregation and the meeting of civic responsibility what three years of patient negotiation had not been able to achieve. Is this the message that will come from other communities to shape the emotional climate and mood during the crucial, turning-point Spring and Summer coming upon the South?"

WR
BW
RTB
JD

Report L-47
April 16, 1964

Southern Regional Council
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia
Jackson 2-8764

THE QUESTION FROM JACKSONVILLE

The Easter Week outbreak in Jacksonville of racial violence, predominantly from Negro sources, raises this question: was it something peculiar to Jacksonville, scene of one of the few and worst instances of raw rioting during the 1960 sit-ins; or was it a portent of terrible things to come, symptomatic of a mood and emotional climate to be expected over the South this Spring and Summer, as the great turning point of federal civil rights legislation is reached?

* * * * *

The immediate build-up to Jacksonville's rioting began the week of March 16. Negro demonstrations seeking desegregation of restaurants and hotels were stepped up. Instead of placid picketing which had, with a new impetus from participation of Negro ministers, become since February a regular thing on downtown city sidewalks, there began sit-ins. At some, a hit and run tactic was used; at others, demonstrators remained to be arrested. By Thursday and Friday of that week, roving Negro teenagers were moving through the downtown and its fringes, some demonstrating, some, according to most accounts, merely making their presence felt -- walking slowly in front of traffic, acting boisterously. Part of this seemed to be in reaction against arrests, and against Negroes being barred from a hearing on the arrests. At one point on Friday, March 20, 100 or so of these youngsters gathered at Hemming Park in the center of the downtown, the center of the 1960 rioting.

Various observers said the activity Friday afternoon had led them to expect a confrontation with white racists at the park that night or Saturday, and possibly a riot. This did not materialize either time. But Mayor Haydon Burns had communicated to newspapermen before 1 a.m. Saturday his plans for a television speech Saturday night on the racial situation, based on a warning that a riot was immanent.

The mayor's statement Saturday night was later reproduced by him as a full page advertisement in the city's newspapers.

The Mayor asserted he had full responsibility for the city, and declared "I refuse to delegate or to relegate this responsibility to anyone or any bi-racial committee or any other groups, it is my responsibility and I will face it." (A week before, he had been approached by representatives of the Jacksonville Council on Human Relations and urged to form a bi-racial committee with official sanction, or to do something positive in the face of growing Negro restiveness. This same recommendation had been made by others previously.)

The mayor's statement also pointed out that publicly owned facilities were desegregated, and maintained that Negroes had no "civil rights" to seek service at private hotels and restaurants and other businesses. "...If such were not the law, then why is the Congress considering the Public Accommodations law at this time?"

The statement then went on to say that, under twelve city laws, "demonstrations like last week" (presumably sit-ins) and "gatherings other than by permit" (the collecting at Hemming Park) would be prohibited. The laws cited included one "against conspiracy." To supplement "508 colored and white police officers," including "45 specially trained members of the Emergency Corps that are capable of meeting any situation," the mayor said he was "right now going to give the oath and swear in as Special Police Officers 496 Firemen who at this moment are assembled at their respective stations under the direction of their senior officers."

Observers said that they stood back and waited for the lid to blow. It did not Sunday. But on Monday morning, March 23, a crowd of demonstrating Negro youths gathered at Hemming Park. They were dispersed, some arrested, some chased by police who had circled their gathering in motorcycles with sirens and motors roaring. After the rout, Jacksonville entered its two nights and two days of violence and vandalism.

Negroes threw rocks, bricks, and bottles at cars and store windows in the pie-wedge Negro section that points into the heart of downtown, and tossed fire bombs at white and Negro stores and businesses, perhaps half a dozen, including Mayor Burns's Negro gubernatorial campaign headquarters. Negroes were arrested in possession of fire bombs and other weapons. False alarms, as many as 17 in 25 minutes, kept up during the period. Something like 76 police cases of vandalism were reported between Monday night and Wednesday morning.

A Negro woman was shot to death along a road from a passing car, in a Negro area. Police at the time and since said they had no clues and no way to know whether the shooting was connected with racial strife. A car containing one white and two Negro sailors was fired into, apparently by Negroes. The white sailor and one of the Negroes were slightly injured. A tourist car was fired at, its occupant cut by glass. A man who claimed to have been tied up and cut with razor blades by Negroes turned out to be the same man who claimed the same thing happened to him during the 1960 rioting at the hands of the Ku Klux Klan. Police said his story was false.

At one point, police kicked in the door of the NAACP headquarters and arrested students there. The police said they were throwing bottles out the window. An NAACP spokesman denied it. He also charged that desk drawers in the office were rifled.

Virtually all of the vandalism was confined to the Negro section. It was sporadic and involved individuals or small groups. Something more nearly approaching mob violence occurred Tuesday at New Stanton High School, a Negro school which includes students from the "best" Negro homes. The school was emptied by a bomb threat. (Previously, bomb threats had provided school yards full of youngsters from which the hit and run demonstrators sought recruits.) Students vandalized (details are not clear) a bread truck driven by a white man. Police were called, and a small contingent arrived. A Negro officer arrested one youth. While one group of students engaged the police, razzing them, others freed the arrested youth. A Negro officer fired a pistol into the air. A help call went out, and re-enforcements arrived, including, according to the sheriff's office, about 15 cars of state troopers, 30 men, of a group which happened to be in a training session in Jacksonville. The pistol shot, and the sight of the troopers and their weapons, angered the already dangerous crowd of 1,500 students. Rocks and bottles were thrown at police and newspapermen, and at Negro teachers and other Negro adult on-lookers. The police pulled out. (They later said they thought it the best way to calm the crowd.) The crowd turned on the newsmen, overturning their car and setting it on fire, chasing three (while adult Negro on-lookers sat on their porches laughing.) They caught one, pummeled him, and, according to one of the three chased, robbed him. The man was rescued by Negro teachers who took him into the school for safety and treatment. Another reporter, arriving on the scene, was quickly pulled into a grocery store whose door was then guarded by Negro adults until he could get out of the area safely.

Similar -- though less violent-- mob scenes occurred at two other Negro schools emptied by bomb threats. At Matthew W. Gilbert Junior High School, police and fire vehicle windows were broken, and at Northwest High School rocks were thrown at two grocery stores.

In the midst of this, on Wednesday, Mayor Burns called for an "unofficial" bi-racial committee to regain "peace and harmony and understanding." (At a press conference, he said this was not inconsistent with his previous stand. The committee was "community action"; he was still responsible for law enforcement.) Friday afternoon pickets were walking peacefully downtown, and by Easter Morning, with sunshine bathing the Confederate monument in Hemming Park, the riot tension seemed over.

The bi-racial committee, headed by important members of the city's business elite, was understood to be ready and equipped to act; it could conceivably be the instrument for Jacksonville's peaceful acceptance of a fair deal in race relations. Backsliding, however, could mean more trouble.

Continued picketing and a boycott to keep pressure on the new committee was the policy the NAACP announced that Easter Sunday afternoon.

* * * * *

Which was it? A legacy of violence cropping up again in Jacksonville or a new phase in the South's struggle to be rid of segregation?

A comparison with the similar Negro vandalism that occurred in 1960 shows extreme differences in the degree of provocation. Then it had come from whites swinging axe handles at sit-in demonstrators.

This time, the Ku Klux Klan was quiescent, and a speech by a visiting U. S. Nazi Party nabob drew an audience of ten, six of whom were police. The provocation seemed to center around impatience with the lack of de-segregation progress, resentment of a gradually getting-tougher handling of demonstrators in Municipal Court, and an immediate flare-up of resentment over the mayor's speech. (Some said the speech was political; the mayor is one of six candidates for governor. He claimed the stepped-up Negro activity was inspired by his political enemies. (He might be right, to the extent that Negro leaders may have wanted to show the state that they were not happy with what his 15 year old administration had produced for them.)

A factor common to both riot situations was gangs of juvenile and older Negroes who, under such colorful names as the "High Hats," "Boomerangs," and "Untouchables," are in normal times "involved in other matters that keep the Negro crime rate high" (in the words of Chief Deputy Sheriff William F. Whitehead). He, city police sources, and the NAACP attributed most of this year's Negro violence -- as in 1960 -- to such elements in the Negro community taking advantage of the civil rights tension to let go some of their own broader guage hostility. As an indication of this kind of anger in operation, some of the rocks and some of the fire bombs were thrown at Negroes and Negro businesses.

At the schools, another element entered. George Harmon, Jacksonville Journal assistant city editor, was one of those chased, and he said that the majority of the crowd was in a mood of excited, almost gleeful excitement, while there was violence in the mood of a hard core group at the center of the crowd. It was panty-raid, spring feverishness degenerated into mob violence, he said. Furthermore, no physical provocation to compare with the Birmingham police dog and fire hose treatments of Spring, 1963, ever occurred.

To say all of this is still not to get at a real understanding of a situation such as Jacksonville's, or of the roots of violence in such a southern Negro community. To understand is to begin with the stench and dilapidation of the Negro slums, and to try to comprehend the hopelessness that is compounded out of the thudding impact upon the human consciousness of being poor, and being blocked by the very conditions of this poverty and by the weights of discrimination from any possible escape. This is hopelessness deepened by the new knowledge that the old dream of escape to the North is false -- that up there it's just more of the dreary old same. "Our young," say Negroes in Jacksonville and elsewhere over the South in 1964, "don't care any more whether they die, if they've got to go on living like we have to now."

To know this is to know the extreme: the already defeated, desperate young -- the fatherless or sons of men who have no jobs -- who have no model except within themseves, and who find their meaning in life in gangs, with their medieval and prehistoric overtones, their war councils, and their internecine battling. These gangs were there in 1960 as they have been at other southern racial crises, watching from the sidelines. They saw the non-violent demonstrators beat, and believed that the police failed to protect them, arresting them, and not their aggressors. This rankles, and is a part of what had been festering in the black ghettos of Jacksonville.

So, too, is the memory of what happened when the gangs ran violent after seeing the treatment of the non-violent in 1960, their own violence turned outward instead of upon self and one another. They recount to each other and to new initiates still the old war stories, of how for a few hours there they took over, controlled the expressways into town, and faced down cops, Negro and white. "And we came upon this white policeman, and man, he was so scared of us, that he gave us his gun, without our asking for it..."

Also, to understand is to know that a Negro community in a city like Jacksonville is not monolithic -- that while it is united in a drive to end segregation, it is fragmented in dispute over how best this might be achieved, whether by violence, or non-violent direct action, or peaceful, dignified negotiation. Such a community, just like its white counterpart, is torn, too, by the plain old human rivalries of class and age and personality: the scorn of the leader, who lives amid his people in the slums, for the "black bourgeoise," moved like the white man to a suburb that hides them from the harshness of the life of their people. The contempt of the professional man, who has fought his way up to a fine home with a swimming pool, for the upstart young militants who won't listen to the experience and skill and wisdom that got him where he is and was used in the long painful past of racial advancement that helped lead to the recent breakthroughs.

These are among the dynamic elements that are operating in such a situation as Jacksonville's, influencing actions, setting terms, in a context far more complex than the surface appearance of black against white, good against evil.

There had been some progress in the city. Now, there is a bi-racial committee, and more ground for hope.

"Yes," says the middle-class Negro leader, "there is hope -- because the white men know they've had two strikes. The third strike, and Jacksonville is out." In the background lurks the gang member, with a ring in his ear, a half articulated murmur in his brain. "Why not? There is no hope for me. Why should there be hope for anybody else? Boy this next one is going to be a BIG rumble..."

Rutledge Pearson, 34, Negro schoolteacher, is head of the Jacksonville and Florida NAACP branches, and the leader of the city's civil rights drive. He and other NAACP leaders worked all night Monday and Tuesday (including a television appeal) urging against the violence, telling the people that the effective thing to do was follow non-violent leadership. Mr. Pearson cites efforts by various groups to persuade the mayor to give official status to a bi-racial committee. He and others describe the long record of the previous bi-racial committee, established by the Chamber of Commerce after the 1960 riots. (Even in name, it tended not to admit being bi-racial; it was called the Community Advisory Committee and its Negro Counterpart.) It was hampered by lack of official recognition, and such things as a failure to keep minutes, according to Dr. W. W. Schell, who patiently and persistently worked as chairman of the "Negro counterpart." It was considered generally ineffective in the crucial, last-ditch efforts to desegregate public accommodations and jobs.

Like most southern cities, Jacksonville has desegregated most publicly owned facilities, including theoretically its beach. It closed its swimming pool. Thirteen Negro first graders entered five previously all-white schools in the Fall of 1963. A half dozen restaurants have desegregated; hotels accept Negro conventioners; theatres limit Negro customers to eight a night.

Thus, the wellsprings of Jacksonville Negro civil rights discontent seemed to be general dissatisfaction with tokenism -- a profound frustration growing out of a feeling that the city's civic leaders were not joining in good faith with those Negroes who were trying to find accommodation by peaceful means. The violence, which may have been diminished but could not be stopped by responsible Negro leaders, would seem to have sprung from youthful hysteria and mob spirit at the schools, and otherwise from criminal elements and others in the Negro community who sensed a ripe opportunity for expression of dangerous fury, out of a lifetime of deprivations.

And violence-proneness is not one-sided in the city. White racists may have been quiescent during the crisis, but they have in beatings and bombings (a recent case resulting in arrests) made their presence felt since 1960.

"...They were after anybody white," said a Negro mother sadly of the school rioters..Prince McIntosh, Jr., 21, public relations director of the Jacksonville NAACP (who was arrested while taking pictures of the demonstrations) said the local NAACP Youth Council does not at all condone violence, but -- "at the same time we feel just calling for the cease of violence will get nowhere... We need to try not so much to stop violence as to root out the evil that is the cause of the violence -- segregation."

* * * * *

Whether Jacksonville is a special case ultimately rests with the South, as new opportunities for good-faith dealing between white and Negro people loom ahead for each community in this year of national decision making. In 1960, in a special publication, Racial Violence and Law Enforcement, the Southern Regional Council stated:

> The South is not an anarchy. It is not a region where government is weak. It is not a region where the lines of political and economic power are loosely held. The breakdowns in law and order in the South are an outcome of public policy -- no less because it is sometimes oral and traditional rather than written in statutes and police manuals.

The words still apply, as each community in the South faces the decision of whether to obey the prospective federal law on public accommodations and other civil rights.

In the years following 1954, the South chose to violate the American tradition of obeying the Supreme Court's reading of the Constitution.

The question for 1964 is whether the spirit of lawfulness has returned to the Southern political leadership, to that leadership which drummed up the orgy of massive resistance and which had always, as it has now even throughout the Deep South, power to maintain order.

In great areas of the South today, that leadership has been overthrown and replaced.

In those states and cities where it still exists, it acts still as the real agent provocatuer of turbulence and violence.

But the lesson of Jacksonville is also that wherever the white civic leadership -- religious, business, and political -- allows a racial crisis to develop and spill into the streets (whether by indifference or inattentiveness to the justified impatience of Negroes with tokenism or less, or by rebuff of Negro efforts to effect change through discussion and joint planning, or by other failures), then it invites violence in.

Beyond prudent doubt, the next six months will be packed with crisis and decision for the South and for the nation. Every indication points to protest activity of an extent and an intensity without precedent, not only in the South but in the North as well. The Senate filibuster wears on. When it is finally over and defeated, and a law is passed, the issue in the South will be compliance. In both Summer and early Fall, some of the most recalcitrant school districts of the Deep South will be under court order to desegregate. And in the background of all this, there will be the excitement of the Presidential campaign and many state races.

With the lesson of Jacksonville in minc, the expectations for this Spring and Summer for every community of the South seem to hinge around such questions as the following:

- What guarantees are there that a racial crisis might not set off the energies of mobs, whether of white or Negro students full of spring feverishness, or of white or Negro victims of impoverishment, sullen in their slums?
- What policies and tools (such as an honorable biracial committee) give responsible Negro leaders any hope that their just demands will be met, short of the creation of a race crisis?
- And finally, what is the unspoken communication of community leadership toward violence? In Jacksonville, it seemed to be the message that violence works. The two days of rioting accomplished the creation of an apparently effective biracial committee, something that weeks of urging had not accomplished. They seemed on their way to accomplishing in the field of public accommodations desegregation and the meeting of civic responsibility what three years of patient negotiation had not been able to achieve. Is this the message that will come from other communities, to shape the emotional climate and mood during the crucial, turning-point Spring and Summer coming upon the South?

PINE BLUFF COMMERCIAL

Tuesday, April 21, 1964

(SRC)

NLR Board Integrates Two Grades

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The North Little Rock School Board voted unanimously last night to desegregate the first and second grades this fall.

The board did not set a schedule for any other levels. It said many factors would determine the progress of desegregation.

The board has been studying desegregation since last August 27, when it announced it would prepare a plan. Five Negroes were denied requests at that time to attend all-white schools during the current school year.

An integration plan for North Little Rock was set up in 1957 but abandoned when the Little Rock school crisis arose. From that time until August, 1963, the board did not receive any applications from Negroes to attend white schools.

The announcement to desegregate the first two grades came in a brief session of the board.

Enrollment forms were to be mailed today to the parents of pupils who will be in the first and second grades.

file under Statistics

REGISTRATION AND VOTING IN THE SOUTH

Wiley A. Branton

This paper is intended to serve solely as a background paper for discussion on proposed civil rights legislation at the Notre Dame Conference on Civil Rights Legislation to be held at Notre Dame, Indiana, February 8-11, 1963. It deals with problems of registration and voting. None of the material contained herein should be quoted or printed without the express consent of the author.

REGISTRATION AND VOTING IN THE SOUTH
Proposals for Congressional Action

Introduction

Shortly after the White Primary was outlawed in 1944,[1] voter registration by Negroes in the South rose rapidly from a few hundred thousand so that by 1947, there were 595,000 registered Negro voters in the eleven southern states.[2] By 1952, there were slightly over a million registered Negroes in the South, and by 1956, the number stood at 1,238,038. Prior to the White Primary case, there was little incentive for Negroes to register and vote in the South because the whole area was solidly Democratic, and Negroes could not vote in the Democratic Primary elections where nomination was tantamount to election. Prior to 1944, the few persons of color who were registered to vote could only participate in the general elections, and most times, the Republican party offered no candidates or only token opposition. Because of rejection by the Democrats, Negro political leaders in the South maintained their loyalty to the Republican party, and became Republican party leaders in most of the states, and even took control of party affairs in such states as Mississippi and Georgia.

Subsequent to the 1956 registration figures mentioned above, Congress adopted the first legislation dealing with civil rights since the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment. The Civil Rights Acts of 1957[3] and 1960[4] both have provisions designed to protect the right to register and vote. Even though several suits have been brought by the Department of Justice to protect the rights of Negroes to vote under the Civil Rights Acts, and there has been a continued increase in Negro registration, nevertheless, registration figures are much too low, and additional measures must be taken to remove the barriers from Negro registration.

Current Statistics

The Voter Education Project of the Southern Regional Council recently compared notes with other agencies and individuals interested in Negro registration, and the best estimates and official figures are listed below:

Negro Registration in the South in December, 1962

State	Negroes Registered	Percent of Total Registration*	Negroes Unregistered
Alabama	90,000	9%	418,731
Arkansas	75,000	13%	127,593
Florida	195,000	11%	300,420
Georgia	185,000	14%	471,047
Lousiana	152,000	14%	392,997
Mississippi	24,000	6%	425,296
North Carolina	211,000	11%	375,219
South Carolina	91,000	19%	305,848
Tennessee	185,000	11%	144,630
Texas	280,000	14%	369,512
Virginia	110,747	10%	349,334

*Represents percentage of Negro registration to total registration.
Unregistered Negroes of voting age.

Abstract of Present Federal Laws Protecting the Right to Vote

Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States

Section 1 - The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2 - The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Civil Rights Act of 1957

Title I. Created Commission on Civil Rights composed of six members who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, not more than three of whom shall be from the same political party.

Empowered the Commission to investigate allegations that certain citizens are being deprived of their right to vote and have that vote counted by reason of their color, race, religion, or national origin.

Title II. Authorized the appointment of one additional Assistant Attorney General in the Department of Justice.

Title III. Extended the jurisdiction of the federal district court to include any civil action begun to recover damages, or secure equitable relief under any Act of Congress providing for the protection of civil rights, including the right to vote.

Title IV. Prohibits attempts to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any person for the purpose of interfering with the right of such other person to vote in general or primary elections for federal officials.

Empowered the Attorney General to seek an injunction when any person is about to engage in any act or practice which would deprive another of his right to vote.

Gave district courts jurisdiction of above proceedings, and provided that administrative remedies need not be first exhausted.

Provided for right of counsel and production of witnesses for any person cited for contempt.

Title V. -

Provided punishment by fine or imprisonment upon conviction in criminal contempt cases arising from provisions of Civil Rights Act of 1957.

Set maximum fine for an individual under these provisions at $1,000 or six months in jail, or both.

Allowed the judge to decide whether defendent in a criminal case involving voting rights would be tried before the court, or with a jury.

Provided for trial de novo before a jury for any defendent found guilty in trial before the court, and given a sentence in excess of forty-five days, or fined in excess of $300.

Civil Rights Act of 1960

Title I.- Provided that anyone who attempts to prevent, obstruct, impede, or interfere with the due exercise of rights, or the performance of duties under any order of a court of the United States shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisioned not more than one year, or both. Such acts could be enjoined by private suits seeking court injunctions, even though acts may be criminal in nature.

Title III.

Required every election official to preserve for a period of twenty-two months following all federal elections, including primaries, all papers requisite to registration and voting for that election. Provides fine up to $1,000 or imprisonment up to one year, or both, for any person convicted for violation of requirement, or for anyone convicted for willfully stealing, destroying, concealing, mutilating, or altering the registration records.

Required that such records be turned over to Attorney General or his representative upon demand in writing for inspection, reproduction and copying at the office of records custodian.

Prohibits disclosure of information regarding records by Justice Department except to Congress, governmental agencies, or before a court or grand jury.

Vests district court in district where demand for records is made with jurisdiction to compel the production of such record or paper.

Title IV. Enpowered the members of the Civil Rights Commission to administer oaths and take sworn statements.

Title VI.

Provided that where the court finds that any person has been deprived of the right to register or vote in violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1957, Attorney General may then ask court to make a finding whether such deprivation was or is pursuant to a pattern or practice.

If court found such a "pattern or practice" of racial discrimination, then any person of such race (Negroes) living in the affected area could apply to the court for an order declaring him qualified to vote if he proved (1) he was qualified to vote under state law; (2) he had tried to register after the "pattern or practice" finding; and (3) he had not been allowed to register or had been found unqualified by the registrar.

The application for such an order shall be heard within ten days and any order for actual registration shall be effective for as long as applicant would have been qualified if registered under state law. Election officials would be furnished copies of order and disobedience of same would constitute contempt of court.

To carry out the provisions of the order, the court may appoint one or more voting referees, who must be qualified voters in the judicial district. Referees would receive the applications for registration and hear the applicants testimony ex parte, including answers to any literacy questions required by state law, and make a report to the court. A copy of the report of the referee shall be served upon the State Attorney General and on each party, any of whom must show cause within ten days, or shorter time as the court may fix, why an order of the court should not be entered in accordance with such report. If exceptions to the report are filed on issues of facts, then it must be supported by a verified copy of a public record, or by affidavits of persons having personal knowledge of such facts or matter contained in the report; those relating to matters of law shall be supported by a memorandum of law. Issues of fact and law shall be determined by the court (or by referee if court directs) and a hearing shall be held only if it appears that there is a genuine issue of material fact. If the exceptions are dismissed, then the court or referee could issue a certificate declaring the applicant qualified to vote.

If an applicant applies for such a certificate twenty or more days prior to an election which is undetermined by the time of such election, the court shall issue an order authorizing the applicant to vote provisionally, provided applicant shall be qualified to vote under state law. Such an order is discretionary with the court where application is filed within twenty days prior to an election.

Voting referees would have the powers conferred upon a master by Rule 53(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (right to subpoena records, administer oaths, hear testimony, etc.) Court may take any action necessary or appropriate to enforce its decrees and is not limited solely to the order allowing an applicant to vote.

In any action instituted under these provisions, the discriminatory acts or practices of state officials shall be deemed that of the state and the state may be joined as a party defendant. If official resigns or is relieved of office and no successor has assumed such office, the state itself could be sued.

Legislative Problems

Minority groups have depended principally on judicial decisions for implementing the basic guarantees of civil rights. These judicial decisions prior to the Civil Rights Act of 1957 resulted largely from slowly expanding liberal interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution. Congress passed a number of civil rights acts during the first ten years following the Civil War, but, unfortunately, most of these civil rights laws were nullified by other laws or narrowly constructed or struck down by the courts. It was only by a more liberal construction of the Fourteenth Amendment and its application to the point in question that many of the decisions favorable to civil rights came into being. Although Congress was empowered to enforce the provisions of the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments "by appropriate legislation," it was not able to get a single civil rights act passed until 1957. Anti-poll tax, anti-lynching, FEPC and other proposals had been introduced repeatedly, but all had failed to get the necessary votes to even kill the filibusters of southern Congressmen.

President Roosevelt set up a civil rights section in the Justice Department in 1939 by adminstrative action. All of the party platforms since 1944, of the Democrats and Republicans, have included fairly good civil rights planks. Many people feel that the ballot is the most powerful weapon which minorities can use and that if enough Negroes are given the right to vote that many civil rights problems will be settled at the ballot box.

Southerners are more unified in their fight against civil rights legislation than on any other proposal. The question of states' rights is invariably raised against any legislation dealing with civil rights by contending that such legislation interferes with rights reserved to the states under the Tenth Amendment.

When the 1957 Civil Rights Act was being considered, it originally included the now famous Title III which would have provided power for the Attorney General to bring injunctive actions against the deprivation of any civil right. Congress not only rejected Title III, but also restricted the courts in punishing those who violated the voting rights laws, by requiring jury trials under certain conditions. Senator Strom Thurmond (D., S.C.) established a record filibuster when he carried on a marathon speech against the 1957 act which lasted more than 24 hours.

The only real legislative problem, as this writer sees it, is the one involving the attitudes of all southern Congressmen regarding any civil rights legislation. The voting procedure in the House is such that favorable action can be taken on proposals before that body in a relatively short time. It is in the Senate where liberal legislation runs into all sorts of delaying tactics and the powerful filibuster.

HOUSE VOTING PROCEDURE

The House generally resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole when it is considering any major legislation and frequently does so on other bills upon acceptance of a motion by a member. The Speaker appoints a chairman and the rules of the House permit the Committee of the Whole to meet with any 100 members on the floor and to act on legislation or amendments with the quorum of 100 members present. An agreement is reached regarding the time to be spent in general debate on the bill and this time is equally divided between the proponents and opponents of the bill. When the time for general debate has expired the bill is then read section by section for amendments. Although debate on an amendment is limited to five minutes normally, it is fairly common for time to be extended by unanimous consent or by resort to the use of some dilatory motion in order for a member to get in extra debate.

Votes in the Committee of the Whole are not on record but are by voice vote or by teller vote. The teller vote is obtained by having members walk down the aisle past counters who have been appointed. The total number of yea and nay votes are recorded concerning the actions of the Committee and no record is kept of the way each member votes. It is only on the voting for or against final passage of a bill that a roll call vote is taken. After action by the Committee of the Whole, the chairman reports the action taken to the House and gives the Committee's recommendations. The House then votes on the bill as amended and cannot reconsider any proposals or amendments rejected by the Committee of the Whole; however, it may vote to recommit a bill to the Committee of the Whole with instructions that a rejected proposal be added to the bill.

SENATE DELAYING TACTICS

At least 51 senators must be present to form a quorum to do business, although in many instances the Senate assumes the presence of a quorum when there is no objection. In an effort to delay action on any civil rights bill which is pending it is a common practice for southerners constantly to suggest the absence of a quorum. This requires the Senate Clerk to call the name of each senator and this can take anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour or more. These quorum calls give opponents of civil rights legislation a chance to map strategy or rest from long filibusters. If a quorum is not present then the Senate must either adjourn or direct the Sergeant at Arms to request the attendance of absent members. If the Senate adjourns, then the Senate begins a new legislative day which requires the reading of the Journal of the preceding day's business, unless dispensed with by unanimous vote. Obviously, opponents to civil rights bills would argue for adjournment whenever possible.

On each new legislative day the Senate usually allows approximately an hour or longer for the introduction of bills, insertions in the Congressional Record, corrections in the Journal of Record and other matters.

Motions to table are frequently used as delaying tactics or to cut off debate. Rules of the Senate require an immediate vote without further debate once a motion to lay an amendment on the table has been made. All sorts of counter motions or motions of reconsideration are frequently tied in with motions to table.

CURRENT LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS

Anti-Poll Tax Bill. Congress proposed a Constitutional amendment in its closing daysin the summer of 1962, which would prohibit the requirement of the payment of a poll tax to vote in any elections, including primaries, where federal officials are to be voted upon. Only five states yet retain the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. They are, Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, and Virginia. It is generally felt that the necessary three-fourths of the state legislatures will soon ratify the proposed amendment. Although the proposed amendment would only apply to federal elections, it is generally felt that the five states now requring poll taxes would not adopt two standards of voting requirements, one for state elections and another for federal elections. An effort to make the proposed amendment applicable to state elections was rejected by Congress.

LITERACY TEST

The Civil Rights Commission proposed that Congress declare all persons with at least six grades of schooling literate for voting purposes. A bill designed to set these literacy standards was introduced in Congress early in 1962 but died under a prolonged southern filibuster. It created loud opposition from the South and even from some quarters in the North. Many opponents to such a bill argue strongly that it is unconstitutional, as being in violation of the rights of states guaranteed in Article 1, Section 2, and the 17th Amendment, of the Constitution. Even a liberal such as Representative Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.) Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, expressed serious doubts regarding the constitutionality of a literacy bill and favored the proposal of an amendment to the Constitution as a solution when the legislation was being considered last year.

According to an article in the Washington Post, January 14, 1963, Representative Celler announced that he will introduce and support the same measure as a simple bill needing only a majority vote in this session of Congress, a radical departure from his position in the last Congress.

The Atlanta Journal of February 4, 1963, carried a story regarding a proposal introduced in the Senate on that date by Senator John Sherman Cooper (R.,Ky.) and Senator Thomas J. Dodd (D.,Conn.).

Their bill would require all states using literacy tests to meet certain standards or do away with the tests. All tests would have to be given and rated in a uniform manner. In case of oral examination, a verbatim transcript would have to be made. The measure would also rule out insignificant errors in grammar and other minor mistakes as disqualifying voter applicants.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

The 1961 United States Commission on Civil Rights Report contained the following recommendations:

Qualification of voters

Recommendation 1. - That Congress, acting under section 2 of the 15th amendment and sections 2 and 5 of the 14th amendment, (a) declare that voter qualifications other than age, residence, confinement, and conviction of a crime are susceptible of use, and have been used, to deny the right to vote on grounds of race and color; and (b) enact legislation providing that all citizens of the United States shall have a right to vote in Federal or State elections which shall not be denied or in any way abridged or interfered with by the United States or by any State for any cause except for inability to meet reasonable age or length-of-residence requirements uniformly applied to all persons within a State, legal confinement at the time of registration or election, or conviction of a felony; such right to vote to include the right to register or otherwise qualify to vote, and to have one's vote counted.

Dissent to recommendation 1 by Vice Chairman Storey

As pointed out in the 1959 report of this Commission, I strongly believe in the right of every qualified citizen of the United States, irrespective of his color, race, religion, or national origin, to register, vote, and have his vote counted. Full protection of these rights of suffrage by both State and Federal Governments is necessary and proper. However, I cannot join in so sweeping a recommendation as this.

Proposals to alter longstanding Federal-State relationships such as that incorporated in the Federal Constitution, declaring that the qualifications of electors shall be left to the several States, should not be made unless there is no alternative method to correct an existing evil. Such is not the case today.

The Federal Government has sufficient authority under the Constitution and the existing framework of laws to enable it effectively to deal with denials of the right to vote by reason of race, color, religion, and national origin.

The Civil Rights Act of 1957 authorized the Attorney General to institute civil suit in the Federal courts to prevent the denial of voting rights. The Civil Rights Act of 1960 provides that if in any such suit the court makes a finding that the denial of voting rights is "pursuant to a pattern or practice," the court may appoint voting referees to register qualified persons denied this right by local election officials. The further denial of the right to vote to these persons so registered by the court-appointed voting referees constitutes contempt of court and is punishable accordingly. The vigor with which these Civil Rights Acts are applied will significantly affect the extent to which voting denial practices will be discontinued.

Many States have voting requirements more extensive than age or length of residence, incarceration, or felony convictions. These qualifications, having nothing to do with race, religion, or national origin, are an important element in preserving the sanctity of the ballot. They are specific disqualifications which are felt justifiable for the good of the State. Disqualifications of persons whose mental condition makes it impossible for them competently to exercise the discrimination necessary in voting has long been accepted. Many States disqualify paupers supported by municipal or county officials on the theory that these people are too easily exploitable by such officials for their own purposes. The security and purity of the ballot can be destroyed by permitting illiterates to vote. And as the English language is still the official language of the United States, there is good justification for States requiring that voters have at least a rudimentary knowledge of this language.

Dissent to Recommendation 1 by Commissioner Rankin

I join in the dissenting statement of Vice Chairman Storey but would add the following personal comment.

The 15th amendment has been a part of our Constitution for almost a century, and Congress has never interpreted it as a mandate to usurp the power of each State to determine the qualifications of electors.

In 1957 and again in 1960, Congress did enact legislation to provide protection of the right to register and vote without discrimination on grounds of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. It may be that further legislation will be required to reinforce the guarantees of the 15th amendment and of the 1957 and 1960 laws. But such measures should be kept within the well-recognized bounds of our Constitution and laws.

Our object must be compliance with the Constitution, not punishment, and for that reason I do not deem it wise to upset the balance of our Federal system to reach a result which can be achieved through less drastic means.

Recommendation 2. - That Congress enact legislation providing that in all elections in which, under State law, a "literacy" test, an "understanding" or "interpretation" test, or an "educational" test is administered to determine the qualifications of electors, it shall be sufficient for qualification that the elector have completed at least six grades of formal education.

Interference with the right to vote

Recommendation 3. - That Congress amend subsection (b) of 42 U.S.C. 1971 to prohibit any arbitrary action or (where there is a duty to act) arbitrary inaction, which deprives or threatens to deprive any person of the right to register, vote, and have that vote counted in any Federal election.

Dilution of the right to vote

Recommendation 4. - That Congress consider the advisability of enacting legislation (a) requiring that where voting districts are established within a State, for either Federal elections or State elections to any house of a State legislature which is elected on the basis of population, they shall be substantially equal in population; and (b) specifically granting the Federal courts jurisdiction of suits to enforce the requirements of the Constitution and of Federal law with regard to such electoral districts; but explicitly providing that such jurisdiction should not be deemed to preclude the jurisdiction of State courts to enforce rights provided under State law regarding such districts.

Statistical information

Recommendation 5.- That Congress direct the Bureau of the Census promptly to initiate a nationwide compilation of registration and voting statistics, to include a count of persons of voting age in every State and territory by race, color, and national origin, who are registered to vote, and a determination of the extent to which such persons have voted since January 1, 1960; and requiring that the Bureau of the Census compile such information in each next succeeding decennial census, and at such other time or times as the Congress may direct.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY AUTHOR

This writer concurs in each of the recommendations proposed by the Commission on Civil Rights and the proposals now pending in Congress which are designed to help remove the barriers to Negro registration, and proposes the following additional measures:

Author's Recommendation No. 1.
CREATION OF A COURT OF CIVIL RIGHTS

It is a well known fact that many federal judges in the South have contributed to the delay in the enforcement of civil rights legislation in many different ways. There are several cases involving civil rights which have been filed for more than a year and attorneys for the plaintiffs have been unable to get a hearing date set. When the cases are set for trial they are frequently passed at the last minute upon the flimsiest of excuses, all to the frustration of the plaintiffs. District judges have been known to hand down decisions which they surely must have known would be reversed on appeal, but they nevertheless ruled for the southern defendants and delay. Another tactic resorted to by judges cooperative to the South is to hear all of the testimony and evidence and then "take the matter under advisement." Many cases have been "under advisement" for several months, and in some instances for over a year, before an opinion was handed down. Although judges should not allow their personal feelings or fear of social ostracism from their neighbors and friends to interfere with their decisions in civil rights litigation, nevertheless, we must recognize the fact that such interferences do occur, and often.

To off-set such delaying tactics and speed up the administration of justice in civil rights cases, this author would recommend the creation of a Court of Civil Rights. We have previously recognized the need for special courts to handle litigation requiring special skills or which raise unusual problems. This is why we have our Customs Court, the Tax Court of the United States, United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, Court of Claims and the Court of Military Appeals.

A Court of Civil Rights should be created to hear all matters involving primarily the question of discrimination or a denial of some guarantee of Constitutional rights or federally protected right on account of race, creed or color. A sufficient number of Civil Rights Judges should be appointed in each Circuit to preside over Civil Rights Courts within the judicial circuit, regardless of district court boundary lines. Appeals could be taken from the Civil Rights Court to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the circuit in which the case arose, or, a special Court of Civil Rights Appeals could be created to hear such matters. This would relieve the federal district courts of all civil rights legislation and would serve also to help relieve the crowded district court dockets. A Court of Civil Rights might be created to take jurisdiction of civil rights litigation for a period of from ten to twenty years or such period of time as would be necessary to reduce the necessity for much civil rights litigation.

Author's Recommendation No.2

This writer recommends that necessary legislation be enacted to require that civil rights litigation take precedence over all other types of cases, in much the same manner as habeas corpus and mandamus actions. Such precedence should not take place as a matter of course but should be discretionary at the request of the plaintiff because there are situations where a delay in a hearing might work to the best interest of all parties concerned, including the plaintiff's.

Such a provision might also be incorporated into the rules of procedure for the Court of Civil Rights proposed in Author's Recommendation No. 1 above.

In the absence of a Court of Civil Rights, Recommendation No. 2 could be enacted so as to require federal district courts to both hear and decide civil rights litigation without unnecessary delay.

Conclusion:

I have not undertaken to burden the participants of this conference with stories and accounts of the harassment, intimidation and physical violence directed against persons active in voter registration in the South, as the news media carry many accounts every week regarding such difficulties. It is assumed that the parties are fully aware of the many problems and obstacles confronting the voter registration efforts in the South and this paper is intended to serve solely as background information to stimulate thinking and discussion on proposed legislation which might be offered to correct the problems which now exist.

Respectfully submitted,

WILEY A. BRANTON
Room 206, 5 Forsyth St., N.W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

WAB:jl

Footnotes:

(1) Smith V. Albright 321 U.S. 649
(2) The Negro and the Ballot in the South, Margaret Price, Southern Regional Council, 1959
(3) 71 Stat. 637
(4) 74 Stat. 90

INTRODUCING OUR NEWSLETTER

This is the first issue of the Voter Education Project's monthly report on voter registration work in eleven southern states, and VEP viewpoints on Negro voting. The purpose of this publication is to gather and disseminate news of the various vote drives under our auspices, for your information, and for practical political education.

We will report methods and styles developed by different local projects in persuading and helping citizens to register. We will present difficulties, successes, and failures of these drives as pioneer experience from which other community projects may learn. The newsletter will attempt also to tabulate results of these voter efforts and pass them on in this report, to be issued the 15th of each month. The newsletter also will offer comment and interpretation on experience of groups in the field over the South.

This newsletter, as the official organ of VEP, is of course, non-political and non-partisan. It will, adhering to VEP's purpose, confine its interest to methods and results of voter registration drives, and in no way concern itself with any political candidates, issues, or legislation. The aims of VEP are voter registration, and acquiring information about how voters are registered, and its program is limited to these aims. So the newsletter will report and occasionally comment on the project's findings, with no political interest or policy whatever, except registering voters.

VEP was begun in the spring of 1962 and is planned to continue at least through 1964. The agency operates on funds granted to the Southern Regional Council by foundations interested in a larged free southern electorate. Project work in the main is done by the five major civil rights organizations, NAACP, CORE, SNCC, SCLC, NUL. Frequently, however, VEP makes special grants to local groups with a record of success in registering voters, where local conditions show the need for voting assistance and promotion. The project also functions to provide advice, materials, information and other experienced help to local groups even when it cannot give funds.

The Project has assembled a large, and perhaps unique, store of information about ways and means of registering voters, and the obstacles and frustrations to be met. This information is available to any persons or groups who wish to benefit from this past and present experience in registration campaigns in their own communities.

Wiley A. Branton, civil rights lawyer from Pine Bluff, Arkansas, who was chief counsel for the plaintiffs in the school desegregation cases of Little Rock in 1957 and has practiced law for a decade in the South, is VEP director. Randolph Blackwell, law school graduate of Howard University, former political science and business law teacher in North Carolina and Alabama colleges, is director of field activities for VEP, and travels over the region to supervise, report on, and assist the local projects. Jack Minnis, a doctoral candidate in political science at Tulane University and author of magazine articles on civil rights and political topics, is director of research and consultant to workers in the field.

Mrs. Jean Levine is office manager and administrative secretary, assisted by Mrs. Janet Shott.

BLOWIN' IN THE WIND

SNCC FIELD MEN

Selma, Alabama: Bernard Lafayette, Bossie Reese, and their fellow workers continue to instruct and encourage Selma Negroes to register and vote in Dallas and Wilcox counties. In spite of the arrests, intimidations and beatings of their leaders, Dallas and Wilcox county Negroes find the courage to demand their rights as U. S. citizens at their county courthouses daily. Twenty or more appear at each courthouse on registration days - the first and third Mondays of each month.

Birmingham, Alabama: The young people of Birmingham and Jefferson County have been conducting a registration drive that grew out of the demonstrations which terminated on May 12. It was organized by Andy Young, James Bevel, and Dorothy Cotton, of SCLC. The community has supported the students wonderfully. Upwards of two thousand have attempted registration, and more than 1500 are known to have been registered. The cooperation of Orzell Billingsley, Jr., and Mrs. Bernice Johnson made possible the filing of the Justice Department suit in Birmingha, asking that more than 2,000 named Negroes be ordered registered because of discrimination at the registrar's office.

Mobile, Alabama: Mr. C. M. Montgomery and Atty. Vernon Crawford, assisted by the strategy planning of Mr. Freeman Pollard, are getting a registration program underway in Mobile under the name of the Mobile County Voter Education Project. Enough enthusiasm was generated at a March meeting between Mobile leaders and VEP staff that 400 persons were registered even before the details of the VEP sponsorship had been worked out. Mr. Bishop, who is blind, registered 28 persons, we are informed. Think what a one-eyed man would have done!

Montgomery, Alabama: Mr. Sim E. Williams, project doordinator for the Montgomery County Voter Education Project, is in the process of completing an up-to-date list of the registered voters of the county. The registration drive will get underway shortly after the 15th of August. The Barristers Club of Montgomery (all the Negro lawyers in town) initiated the project and helped form an executive committee composed of leadership from all the clubs in the county. The executive committee sets policy and makes available the facilities and resources of all the organizations.

Atlanta, Georgia: Jesse Hill, director of the Atlanta All Citizens Registration Committee reports more than 3,700 new registered voters in Fulton County since April. The program will continue for several months.

Mississippi: Bob Moses, COFO director, reports that between 500 and 700 persons voted by affadavit in the state-wide primary on August 7 in Greenwood. In Holmes, Sunflower, and Hinds counties, more than 600 persons attempted to vote under the Mississippi affadavit law, but were turned away from the polls.

SNCC men Charles McLaurin, Charles Cobb and Curtis Hayes were arrested by Ruleville city police when they led a group ~~of~~ 40 Ruleville citizens to the Ruleville Community Center to vote (some by affadavit and others by registration). The three were taken to the Sunflower County jail and tried that same evening in Mayor's court in Indianola. According to Sunflower County Chief Deputy Sheriff Bradley, the three were convicted of "tryin' to commit a crime".

U. S. Senator James O. Eastland makes his home in Sunflower County when he is not in Washington trying to prevent the passage of legislation guaranteeing the right to vote. Senator Eastland insists there is no need for such legislation, particularly in his native Sunflower County.

Several hundred new registered voters had the opportunity to vote for the first time in the Democratic primary. Those voting by affadavit had attempted to register, but had been turned down by the county registrars. They were convinced, despite the registrar's refusal to enter their names in the books, that they were as qualified as any person under the Mississippi laws". Local policemen guarding the polls disagreed with them. "The answer is blowin' in the wind".

John O'Neal and Carl Johnson, SNCC field men, have reactivated the COFO Hattiesburg project. The Fifth Circuit Court ordered registrar Theron Lynd to purge himself of contempt by registering 43 named Negroes and by applying the Mississippi literacy test without discrimination. John and Carl will keep an eye on Theron, lest he slip back into his old bad habits. Meanwhile, they'll organize a concentrated registration drive in the Hattiesburg community. Mississippi is on the move.

Greensboro, North Carolina: American Friends Service Committee began a registration drive early in August. Mr. Carlton Mabee is directing the project and the workers have been recruited from the ranks of Guilford College students. The emphasis of the program will be voter education, with registration a secondary benefit. The information gathered during this project should be of immense benefit to future registration efforts in Guilford County.

Kingstree, South Carolina: Williamsburg County leaders, Jonnie Dimery and Rev. S. A. Gadston, with the help of CORE men Frank Robinson and E. Brown, seem to have moved the county registrars into a more reasonable posture. Registration is confined to one day a month, the first Monday. Last March, more than one hundred persons lined up at the registrar's office - only 11 were admitted and only 9 accepted. In April, more than 200 persons lined up - again, only 11 were admitted, and again only 9 were accepted. In May, more than 100 again lined up, and again only 9 were registered. But in June, 96 were admitted and of these, 65 were accepted. It's difficult to say exactly what produced the change, but reports are that U. S. Justice Department representatives and the Attorney General of South Carolina found it advisable to consult with Williamsburg county officials.

the

Plaquemine, Louisiana: CORE man Ronnie Moore reports that the CORE task force summer project is conducting registration programs in Tangipahoa, St. Helena, East Baton Rouge, West Feliciana, East Feliciana and Pointe Coupe parishes. Through numerical results are expected to be small at first, the important fact is that Negroes are beginning to register in these hard-core segregation areas. This in itself is a radical departure from the past.

Mr. Moore and his co-workers were able to save more than 500 Negroes from a purge of the registration rolls in Oberville parish by informing the voters of what they must do to remain on the rolls.

Charleston, South Carolina: Mr. Esau Jenkins, President of the Citizens Committee of Charleston County, announced the beginning of a registration drive July 15 which will run thourgh November 15. Mr. Jenkins and his co-workers have the kind of reputation in voter registration which inspires confidence that the program in Charleston will produce a decided change for the better in the registration picture there. Future issues will report results.

Macon, Georgia: The Bibb County Coordinating Committee, under the leadership of Mr. William Randall, recently completed a registration drive during which more than 3,000 new voters were added to the registrar's books. Mr. Randall's organization plans another drive early in the fall.

Alabama: Mrs. Bernice Johnson, of the Alabama State Coordinating Association for Registration and Voting, reports that 675 new voters were registered in 9 Alabama counties during the registration days, July 1-5, 1963. This is only a partial total of the drive which extended to more than twenty counties. Future issues will report the total results of this drive.

The NAACP reports the following increases in registration since April of this year: Tampa, Fla., 331; Jackson, Miss., 488; Memphis, Tenn;; 4,226; Gainesville, Fla., 308; St. Petersburg, Fla.,902; Augusta, Ga., 195; Polk County, Fla., 626.

MEMORANDUM May 11, 1962

TO: Les Dunbar

FROM: Jean Levine

IN RE: Request for permission to compile an SRC style manual

After almost six months I am at last able to say that editing, typing, and proofing of manuscripts for SRC is a less shattering experience than it was in December. This is due, primarily, to the fact that it is now a routine to which I have become accustomed.

At the time "Albany" was being published I felt that what was needed most (to make the process less hectic) was a simple, concise style manual of our own. I am even more convinced of this need after having gone through this procedure several times since "Albany."

With this in mind, when free moments came along, I have been organizing materials and ideas for such a manual, keeping in mind the snags and problems that I noticed repeated in each of the publications I have worked on.

With your permission, I would like to set up such a manual to be mimeographed for those of us in the office involved in typing and proofing of manuscripts. This would not only set down clearly what style characterisics are preferred for SRC, but would give us a permanent record so that we wouldn't have the problem of trying to remember "what we did the last time."

Les, several people have talked to me, too, about the possibility of organizing SRC preferences in the matter of business letters, too. This kind of material could also be included in my proposed manual.

So, if you agree to this idea, would you kindly indicate your preferencesin the conflicting rules listed on the attached pages. I have drawn these rules from the following sources:

The University of Chicago Manual of Style The U.S. Government Printing Office Style Manual Webster's Dictionary (unabridged)	Publications
Business Theory for Secretaries (University of Michigan) Complete Secretary's Handbook - Doris and Miller	Business letters

Both of the secretarial manuals are books recommended by the National Secretaries Association and the Institute for Certifying Secretaries for use in preparing for the examination leading to the Certified Professional Secretary's rating.

STYLE MANUAL

SOUTHERN REGIONAL COUNCIL

Prepared June 1, 1962

With a few exceptions, the rules contained in this manual have been drawn from the Manual of Style (University of Chicago Press) which is the preferred authority for rules which have not been included herein.

The sources for the section on business letters are the Complete Secretary's Handbook (Doris and Miller) and Business Theory for Secretaries (University of Michigan). Secretaries may use this or any form acceptable to the person for whom they work. For others - typing their own correspondence - the form in this manual is mandatory.

The organization of the manual is such that additional material can be inserted as the occasion arises.

CAPITALIZATION

WORD:	RULE:
Board			the board of directors
Congress	Congress (U.S.) Congressional District	but	a congressman said congressional action
Constitution	the Constitution of the United States	but	New York's constitution the constitution of Mexico
Executive	the Chief Executive an Executive Order the Executive Mansion	but	executive agreement executive branch
Federal	Federal Reserve Bank Federal Security Agency	but	the federal government federal contracts
Legislature	General Assembly of Illinois	but	the state legislature
President	the President (U.S.)	but	the president of General Motors
Seasons of the year	the Autumn 1960 issue Spring, with her arms full of flowers	but	in the autumn this coming spring
South -also-	economy of the South Deep South a Southerner might say	but	walk one block south in the southern tradition

GRAMMAR

The noun "data" usually takes a plural verb, although an author may prefer the singular verb.

The following statement is an example of an involved sentence in which care must be taken to make sure that possessive pronouns correspond in number to the original subject:

> These procedures for change, however involved they may seem at first reading, will prove their (not its) value.

Similarly, some involved sentences call for care to make certain that the verb agrees in number with the subject:

> Either a legal suit, as in Atlanta and Augusta, or a prolonged boycott as in Albany, Macon, Tallahassee, and Montgomery, was (not were) necessary before desegregation could be effected.

PUNCTUATION

MARK:	RULE:
Comma	Put a comma before "and," "or," and "nor" connecting the last two elements in a sequence of three or more; always place a comma before "etc." and "viz." and a comma (or a semicolon) before "namely," "i.e.," and "e.g.":

Tom, Dick, and Harry are all here.
It may be made of copper, silver, or gold.
He saw neither the owner, the agent, nor the tenant.

Put a comma after digits indicating thousands:

1,276 115,000 10,419 4,285,995

Ellipsis

Ellipsis marks are used to indicate the omission from quoted matter of one or more words not essential to the immediate purpose, and also to indicate illegible words, mutilations, etc. Mark such ellipses by using three periods separated by one space. If such omission occurs after a complete sentence, do not consider the preceding period as part of the three ellipsis marks. The same spacing should be used before the ellipsis as between other sentences:

The point...is that the same forces... are still the undercurrents of every human life.... We may never unravel the methods of the physical forces;... but...

To mark the omission of a whole paragraph of prose or of a full line of poetry, insert a full line of periods according to the length of the line. In no case, however, should such marks extend beyond the longest type line:

I think it worth giving you these details, because it is a vague thing, though a perfectly true thing, to say that it was by his genius that Alexander conquered the Eastern world.
.....
His army, you know, was a small one. To carry a vast number of men would have been disastrous.

MARK:	RULE:
Ellipsis	An ellipsis is usually treated as a part of the citation and consequently should be inclosed in the quotation marks.
Hyphen	cross-country cross-purpose cross-question	but crosshatch crosswise fifth-grade reader	but in the fifth grade
	inter-racial	but biracial
	non-white non-Semitic	semiskilled
	over-rated over-ripe	but overall
	under-rated	but undertrained underused
	President-elect ex-President*	but Vice President Secretary General Attorney General two-week leave one-half	or two weeks' leave
	thirty one-hundredths	but thirty-one hundredths
Quotation Marks	Quote the particular or unusual word or phrase to which attention is directed, in order to make the meaning clear: I said "and," not "or." the term "lynch law" Do not quote in matter discussing terms where the meaning is clear: The definition of the word God. The comma and period are always placed inside the quotation marks. The question mark and exclamation point should be placed inside the quotation marks only when they are a part of the quoted matter.

*former President is preferred.

MARK:	RULE:
Semicolon	In sentences containing lists of cities and states put a semicolon after the state.

in Atlanta, Georgia; Selma, Alabama; Tampa, Florida; Jackson, Mississippi; Richmond, Virginia.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES

In both manuscripts and business letters abbreviations should be kept to a minimum.

Refer to Webster's Dictionary for correct division of words at the end of a typed line.

Always spell out per cent (not percent) - 2 per cent, not 2%.

NUMERALS:

Spell out numbers under eleven.
Spell out a numeral when it begins a sentence.
Spell out round numbers - five hundred (but 550).
Spell out reference to age - twelve-year-old child.
Spell out reference to decades - in the nineties.

Put a comma after digits indicating thousands:

1,276 115,000 10,419

In expressions of money use ciphers only with numbers under $100, unless in connection with fractional sums:

Articles bought for $6.00 were sold for $6.75
The committee raised the sum of $103.

BUSINESS LETTERS

Examples of trite and undesirable expressions:

Above mentioned
At the present writing
At your earliest convenience
Attached please find
Please be advised that
Regarding your communication
Take the liberty
This is to inform you that Trusting that we may look forward to
We wish to call your attention to the fact that

Some words often misused:

Advise	alternative is inform; tell
Apt	refers to an aptitude for something - alternative is likely.
Balance (a bookkeeping term)	remainder
Claim	maintain
Different than	different from
Directly	as soon as; (directly means in a straight line and should not be used for as soon as).
Due to the fact that	because; for that reason
Enclosed you will find . . .	(name the item) is enclosed
Enthused	enthusiastic
Etc.	give one or two examples and stop
Going over	letters and papers are generally not gone over; they are examined
Inasmuch	since

Misused words (cont'd)

In a position to	we can
Liable (a legal term). . . .	likely
Matter	refer to the item directly
Return mail	as soon as possible
State	tell; inform
Together with	This is a superfluous expression. Use either together or with; Your letter, with the voucher, is enclosed.
Via (a shipping term) . . .	by
Whether or not	whether

Some similar words are confused:

All right	always two words
Alright	there is no such word as this
All ready	all is prepared
Already	previously
All together	all gathered in one place
Altogether	completely or wholly
Aggravate	to increase; to intensify
Irritate	to annoy
Any one	any single person or thing; usually followed by a phrase starting with of
Anyone	any person, indiscriminately
Likely	probability
Liable	exposed to damage
Continuous	constantly; without interruption
Continual	often repeated but with interruption
Each other	used when speaking of two
One another	used when speaking of more than two
Farther	at a greater distance
Further	moreover; in addition

Confused words (cont'd)

Practicable . . . . . workable; usable
Practical . . . . . useful

Standpoint . . . . . not recommended for good usage
Viewpoint . . . . . not recommended for good usage
Point of view . . . . . preferred by grammarians

Therefor . . . . . In exchange for (used mostly in legal work)
Therefore . . . . . for that reason; consequently

Who . . . . . when speaking of person
Which . . . . . when referring to animals and things
That . . . . . when referring to persons, animals and things

Shall . . . . . indicates futurity ("I shall")
Will . . . . . indicates determination ("I will")

Unnecessary words and phrases (underscored words are totally unnecessary):

It came at a time when we were busy.
Leather depreciates in value slowly.
During the year of 1947.
It will cost the sum of one hundred dollars.
At a meeting held in Philadelphia.

Positive approach. Always use a positive approach in letters.

Negative - We cannot understand the last paragraph of your inquiry.

Positive - Everything in your inquiry is quite clear except the last paragraph.

Negative - Since we do not keep such records for more than two years, we cannot give you this information

Positive - Unfortunately, we keep such records for only two years; we believe, however, that Acme Information Service (Chicago 45, Illinois) could help you.

Avoid stilted or formal endings. Here are the last two paragraphs of a letter. The job was finished with the first paragraph, but the temptation to add a conventional sentence was not resisted.

> It costs nothing to be one of us. You simply pay $15 a year, and get twelve good meals for your money. There is nothing more to spend. So fill out the application blank, and return it with your check. Do this right away, so you can be with us next Wednesday.
>
> Thanking you for your kind consideration of the advantages of membership in our organization, and trusting you will see your way clear to acceptance of this invitation, we remain . . . .

PARTS OF A LETTER

The date line. The date of a business letter should be typed about a double space below the letterhead and not closer than four lines to the inside address. It may be centered, started at the center point of the page (which is the easiest and fastest style) or typed flush with the imaginary line a typist tries to keep as the right-hand margin of a letter. It should contain no abbreviations.

Wrong: March 31st, 1955
Right: March 31, 1955

Margins. Letter margins form the mat for the letter picture. They should be at least one and one-half inches wide.

Use the intuitive method for placing letters; that is, estimate whether a letter is short, medium, or long.

Short -	pica (40-space line) elite (50-space line)	begin inside address about four inches from the top edge
Medium -	pica (50-space line) elite (60-space line)	begin inside address about three inches from the top edge
Long -	pica (60-space line)	begin inside address about two and one-half inches from the top edge

Extra long letters should be continued to a second page. When this is done, the space left at the bottom of the first page should correspond to the vertical margins.

Parts of a Letter (cont'd)

The second page of a letter should contain at least three lines in the body. It should be written on plain white paper - not letterhead. The following heading is preferred:

Name of addressee
Date
Page 2

The address. Extra care should be taken against misspelling names or using wrong initials, of course. Some useful rules to be observed when typing addresses follow:

1. Unless an abbreviation appears in the printed name on a letterhead, none should be used in the address.

2. It is a modern trend in business letter writing not to use punctuation at the ends of lines in the address, since it is time consuming and adds nothing to the context.

3. Always give a name a title - Mr., Mrs., or Miss if none other is known. If no information is available about a woman's marital status, address her as Miss.

4. When a communication is addressed to several persons, use Messrs. If the addressees are women, use Mesdames or Mmes.

5. Leave a space after each initial of a name: Mr. J. C. Strong.

6. If a business title is long, it creates a balanced appearance to place it on the second line of the address, by itself.

7. If a letter contains confidential information and is addressed to the individual at his business address, it is desirable to type the word "Personal" on the envelope and at the top of the letter. The word "Confidential" may also be used.

Parts of a Letter (cont'd)

Attention and subject lines. The attention line is not a a part of the body of the letter. The communication should be addressed to the company, when an attention line is used, and not to the person designated in the attention line. Since it is considered part of the address, it should appear two spaces between the last line of the address and the salutation.

When a subject line is used it should appear between the salutation and the first line of the body of a letter, since it introduces the context of the message.

Do not underline either an attention line or a subject line. It is not necessary to use the word subject.

The salutation. In business letters the colon is preferred as the punctuation mark after the salutation. The comma is sometimes used after a salutation in personal correspondence.

NOTE: When a letter is addressed to a company but is for the attention of a particular person, the salutation is still Gentlemen (or Mesdames).

Sir is a formal salutation used primarily in government correspondence.

The body. Do not double space business letters. Double space between paragraphs. Proper centering of a very short letter will prevent its looking awkward.

The complimentary close. The complimentary close of a Southern Regional Council letter will consist of the following items: a closing statement, space for a pen-written signature, a typewritten signature, and the job title of the signer. The usual closing statements for business letters are Very truly yours and Yours very truly. Cordially yours or Sincerely yours are recommended when the addressee is known to the sender or when a friendly tone is desired.

The positioning of the closing lines horizontally should conform to the positioning of the date line.

Identification marks and enclosures. Identification marks consist of the initials of the dictator and the transcriber. They appear at the left margin, a few lines below the last line of the closing, if space permits. The dictator's initials or name always comes first.

Enclosures should always be indicated below the dictation symbols - single space. If the enclosure is important, it should be identified:

RSS:ag
Encs. Check, $473.18
Bond, $100.00

Letter formats. The following letter styles are recommended for business letters. The indented form is considered to be somewhat old-fashioned. It is time consuming to set up and is sometimes confusing to the eye.

FULL BLOCK

MODIFIED BLOCK

SEMI-BLOCK (Indented)

Envelopes. A two-line address should be avoided. Separate the city from the state and make a three-line address. When completed, the full address should be slightly to the left of the center point with the first line of typing midway between the top and bottom of the envelope.

Notations that affect the amount of postage - special delivery, air mail, registered mail - when typed on the envelope, should appear directly below the position at which the stamps are to be affixed.

Notations that affect the delivery of a letter after it has reached its destination should be typed in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope: Hold for Arrival, Personal, Attention of _____.

HOW TO ADDRESS

PERSONS HOLDING HONORARY OR OFFICIAL POSITIONS*

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Personage	Envelope and Inside Address	Formal Salutation	Informal Salutation	Formal Close	Informal Close
The President	The President The White House Washington 25, D.C.	Mr. President:	My dear Mr. President:	Respectfully yours,	Faithfully yours, (official) Very respectfully yours, (private individual)
Vice President of the United States	The Vice President United States Senate Washington, D.C. or The Honorable John R. Doe Vice President of the United States Washington, D.C.	Sir:	My dear Mr. Vice President:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Chief Justice of the United States	The Chief Justice The Supreme Court Washington, D.C.	Sir:	My dear Mr. Chief Justice:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Speaker of the House of Representatives	The Honorable John R.Blank Speaker of the House of Representatives Washington, D.C.	Sir:	My dear Mr. Speaker:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Cabinet Officer	Formal The Honorable the Secretary of State Washington, D.C. Informal The Honorable John R. Blank Secretary of State Washington, D.C.	Sir: Madam:	My dear Mr. Secretary: My dear Madam Secretary:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Under Secretary of A Department	The Honorable John R. Blank Under Secretary of the Treasury Washington, D.C.	My dear Mr. Blank:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,

Assistant Secretary of a Department	The Honorable John R. Blank Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Washington, D.C.	My dear Mr.Blank:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Director of an Office, Chief of a Division or Bureau	John R. Blank, Esquire Chief, Bureau of Labor Statistics Department of Labor Washington, D.C.	My dear Mr. Blank:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
United States Senator	The Honorable John R. Blank United States Senate Washington, D.C.	Sir: Madam:	My dear Senator Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
United States Representative	The Honorable John R. Blank House of Representatives Washington, D.C.	Sir: Madam:	My dear Mr. Blank: My dear Mrs. (Miss) Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Secretary to the President	The Honorable John R. Blank Secretary to the President The White House Washington 25, D.C.	Sir:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
High Officials of the United States, in general: Comptroller General, Director of Bureau of the Budget, Librarian of Congress	Formal The Comptroller General of the United States Washington, D.C. Informal The Honorable John R. Blank Comptroller General of the United States Washington, D.C.	Sir:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Heads of Independent Federal Agencies, Boards, Commissions, Etc.	Formal The Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System Washington, D.C. Informal - See above	Sir:	My dear Mr. Chairman (or Mr. Director): or My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,

STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Governor of State	Formal The Honorable the Governor of Iowa Des Moines Informal The Honorable John R. Blank Governor of Iowa Des Moines	Sir:	My dear Governor:	Respectfully yours,	Sincerely yours,
Lieutenant Governor	The Honorable John R. Blank Lieutenant Governor of Iowa Des Moines	Sir:	My dear Governor Blank:	Respectfully yours, or Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Secretary of State	The Honorable John R. Blank Secretary of State of Iowa Des Moines	Sir:	My dear Mr. Secretary:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Attorney General	The Honorable John R. Blank Attorney General of New York Albany, New York	Sir:	My dear Mr. Attorney General:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
State Representative or Assemblyman	The Honorable John R. Blank House of Representatives Nashville, Tennessee	Sir:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Mayor of a City	The Honorable John R. Blank Mayor of Memphis Tennessee	Sir:	My dear Mayor Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
		CATHOLIC FAITH
Cardinal in the United States	His Eminence, John Cardinal Blank Archbishop of New York New York, New York	Your Eminence:	My dear Cardinal Blank:	Respectfully yours,	Respectfully, or Sincerely yours, (permissible)

Archbishop in the United States	The Most Reverend John Blank, D.D. (S.T.D.) Archbishop of Boston	Most Reverend Sir: Your Excellency:	My dear Archbishop:	Respectfully yours,	Respectfully, or Sincerely yours, (permissible)
Bishop in the United States	The Most Reverend John R. Blank Bishop of New Orleans New Orleans, Louisiana	Your Excellency: Most Reverend Sir:	My dear Bishop:	Respectfully yours,	Respectfully, or Sincerely yours, (permissible)
Monsignor	The Right (or Very)* Reverend Msgr. John R. Blank Baltimore, Maryland	Monsignor:	Right (Very) Reverend and dear Monsignor Blank:	Respectfully yours,	Respectfully, or Sincerely yours,
Brother	Brother Albert Francis, F.S.C. 206 Elm Street Madison, Delaware	My dear Brother:	Dear Brother Francis:	Respectfully yours,	Respectfully, or Sincerely yours, (permissible)
Superior of a Brotherhood and Priest	The Very Reverend John R. Blank, M.M. Director Maryknoll, New York	Very Reverend Father Superior:	Dear Father Superior:	Respectfully,	Respectfully,
Priest	With Scholastic Degree: The Reverend John R. Blank, Ph.D. Notre Dame University Indiana	My dear Dr. Blank:	Dear Dr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
	Without Scholastic Degree: The Reverend John R. Blank St. Patrick's Church Mobile, Alabama	Reverend Sir:	Reverend and dear Father Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
		JEWISH FAITH
Rabbi	With scholastic degree: Rabbi John R. Blank, Ph.D. or Dr. John R. Blank	Sir:	My dear Dr. Blank: or My dear Rabbi Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
	Without scholastic degree: Rabbi John R. Blank	Sir:	My dear Rabbi Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,

PROTESTANT FAITH

Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America	The Most Reverend John R. Blank, D.D., LL.D. Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America Seabury House Greenwich, Conn.	Most Reverend Sir:	My dear Bishop Blank: or My dear Bishop:	Respectfully yours,	Sincerely yours,
Methodist Bishop	The Reverend Bishop Blank Methodist Bishop Memphis, Tennessee	Reverend Sir:	My dear Bishop Blank:	Respectfully yours,	Sincerely yours,
Protestant Episcopal Bishop	The Right Reverend the Bishop of Jacksonville or The Right Reverend John R. Blank, D.D., LL.D. Bishop of Jacksonville Jacksonville, Florida	Right Reverend Sir:	My dear Bishop: or My dear Bishop Blank:	Respectfully yours,	Sincerely yours,
Protestant Minister	With scholastic degree: The Reverend John R. Blank, D.D.,Litt.D. Starkville, Mississippi	My dear Dr. Blank:	My dear Dr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
	Without scholastic degree: The Reverend John R. Blank Brownsville, Texas	My dear Mr. Blank:	My dear Mr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Protestant Priest	With scholastic degree: The Reverend John R. Blank, D.D. St. Thomas' House Richmond, Virginia	My dear Dr. Blank:	My dear Dr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
	Without scholastic degree	My Dear Mr. Blank:	My dear Mr. Blank: or

	The Reverend John R. Blank Richmond, Virginia	or My dear Father Blank:	My dear Father Blank:
		COLLEGE OFFICIALS
President of a University	John R. Blank, LL.D., Ph.D. or Dr. John R. Blank President, Wells College Aurora, New York	Sir:	My dear Dr. Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
	Catholic Priest The Very Reverend John R. Blank, S.J., D.D., Ph.D. President, Fordham University New York 10, N.Y.	Sir:	My dear Father Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,
Professor	Professor John R. Blank or (If he holds a doctor's degree) John R. Blank, Ph.D. George Washington University Washington 10, D.C.	My dear Sir: or My dear Professor (Doctor) Blank: or My dear Dr. Blank: My dear Dr. Blank:	My dear Professor (Doctor) Blank:	Very truly yours,	Sincerely yours,

* For forms not listed here see Complete Secretary's Handbook (Doris and Miller)

 On the inside address it is permissible to omit "Washington 25, D.C."

 The form of addressing governors varies in the different states. The form given here is that used by the State Department of the United States.

*Dependent upon rank. See the Official (Roman) Catholic Directory.

COPY

Voter Education Project

A PROGRAM OF THE SOUTHERN REGIONAL COUNCIL

ROOM 206 / 5 FORSYTH STREET, N. W. / ATLANTA 3, GEORGIA / TELEPHONE 525-0595

Wiley A. Branton, Project Director

July 14, 1964

Dear Friend:

Since April, 1962, the Voter Education Project has promoted a South-wide voter registration program. In that time, we have added more than 600,000 new registrants to the rolls and Negro registration has now passed the 2,000,000 mark in eleven southern states.

The Project will end following the General Election in November and a book, describing our experiences and findings, will be published next spring or summer. We hope to assess, as thoroughly as possible, the effect of this increase in registration. To do this, we have elected to study representative communities where VEP has sponsored registration campaigns. Your community is among those selected. One of the areas of study will be analysis of selected election results, primary and general, prior and subsequent to the existence of VEP. In order to do this, we need registration figures, white and Negro, by ward and precinct, for your community. If these are further identified by party affiliation, we would appreciate that also. If you have information on the results of primary and general elections prior to April, 1962, we hope you would share this information with us.

Additionally, we hope you could supply answers to the following questions about the elections:

1. What were the general issues? Were they primarily local, state, or national?
2. Were the issues primarily racial, economic, or what?
3. Apart from the issues, what role did the personality and appeal of the candidates play?

4. Which Negro organizations were active, and what roles did they play in the elections?

If you do not have this information, we hope you could supply us with possible sources. Any assistance which you can give will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Barbara I. Whitaker

(Mrs.) Barbara I. Whitaker
Research Assistant

BIW:js

LIST OF SELECTED INDIVIDUALS FOR SUGGESTED CITIES FOR ELECTION ANALYSIS

(Letter mailed 7/14/64)

Alabama:

Mr. Orzell Billingsley
1630 No. 4th Ave., Rm 622
Birmingham, Alabama

Mr. C. H. Montgomery
1403 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Mr. William P. Mitchell
Tuskegee Civic Assn-Box 467
Tuskegee Inst., Alabama

Florida:

Mr. Elmer Ward
Roosevelt Federal Savings and Loan Assn.
6000 N. W. 7th Avenue
Miami, Florida

Mrs. Patricia Due
302 S. 10th Street
Quincy, Florida

Jacksonville - N/A

Georgia:

Mr. J. H. Calhoun
243 Auburn Avenue, NE
Atlanta, Georgia

Mr. Hosea Williams
458½ W. Broad Street
Savannah, Georgia

Mr. Slater King
P. O. Box 922
Albany, Georgia

Louisiana:

Mrs. Yvonne Minor
Coordinating Council of Gr. New Orleans
P. O. Box 5107
New Orleans 15, Louisiana

Mississippi:

-

Note file
Special Research Project:
Election Analysis

North Carolina:

Mrs. Louise G. Wilson
1924 E. 3rd Street
Winston-Salem, North Carolina

North Carolina (cont) :

Mr. C. E. Boulware
P. O. Box 321
Durham, North Carolina

Dr. R. A. Hawkins
1218 Beatties Ford Road
Charlotte, North Carolina

Mr. James H. Shepard
424 S. Bloodworth St.
Raleigh, North Carolina

Mr. Sam Harvey
610 Coliseum
Winston-Salem, N. C.

South Carolina:

Dr. C. H. Thomas
S. C. State College
Box 1778
Orangeburg, S. C.

Mr. Harrison Rearden
Suite 4 - 125½ Falls Street
Greenville, S. C.

Tennessee:

Mr. Avon N. Williams, Jr.
327 Charlotte Avenue
Nashville 3, Tenn.

Mr. G. T. Sutton
711 N. Pine Street
Knoxville, Tennessee

[redacted]
Mr. William Underwood
601 E. 9th Street
Chattanooga, Tennessee

Mr. Russell Sugarman
588 Vance Street
Memphis, Tennessee

Mrs. Ruth Griffin
1928 Bethel Avenue
Knoxville, Tennessee

Texas:

Mrs. Lenora Rolla
Tarrant Cty. Prec. Workers Coun.
1414 W. Humboldt St.
Fort Worth, Texas

Mr. B. T. Bonner
1007 Whittier Street
Austin, Texas

Mr. Francis Williams
3323 Palm Street
Houston, Texas

Ms. Barbara Jordan
4910 Campbell
Houston, Texas

Texas (cont):

Mr. Albert Price (for Beaumont, Tex) Dallas - N/A
Ten. A & I Un.
Nashville, Tenn.

Virginia:

Dr. Harry W. Roberts
Virginia State College
Petersburg, Virginia

Mr. Herbert Coulton
244 Halifax Street
Petersburg, Virginia

Mr. Moses Riddick, Jr.
2333 Norfolk Road
Suffolk, Virginia

Memo from WILEY A. BRANTON

4-25-63

JM
RB
JS
JL

TO THE VEP STAFF:

I would like for all VEP staff members to be present for a staff meeting in the VEP office at 3:00 P.M. today. At this staff meeting I would like for you to be prepared to discuss any problems or other matters which you feel should be taken up with the entire staff. We will also consider our budget for the second fiscal year and if you have any suggestions in this regard we would like this information at this meeting.

Wiley A. Branton

Wiley A. Branton

MINUTES
VEP STAFF MEETING
4/25/63

WAB cited the need for new project proposals having to be mapped out very soon. He reviewed briefly the status of the various agencies as far as our having taken care of their needs temporarily.

There was a brief discussion concerning need for additional office equipment and problems of office procedure which need working out.

There was a discussion of the possible need for additional personnelland in this connection JM spoke of his preliminary draft of the annual report which he felt was going to be disappointing in terms of quantity of persons registered. He suspects that this is due to the fact that reporting has not been adequately supervised. He felt that if it had been steps could have been taken to remedy inadequate progress reporting before it came to completion.

WAB spoke of the possible need for one additional field person.

There was brief discussion concerning a kpossible need for camera equipment and JM promised to give an estimate of possible cost at a later date.

WAB requested that the staff arrange, if possible, that their personal mail coming into the office be so designated since it is essential that JL open and dispense all incoming mail in order to follow up on administrative matters.

WAB spoke of the need of keeping track of long distance calls now that staff is larger and this expense is increasing.

JL was requested to make a "Post Travel Nag Sheet"in order to keep better records on travel expenses.

WAB spoke briefly on the care and use of the VEP automobile. He suggested the use of "regular" gasoline when buying Texaco and "Standard" with Esso, and "premium" with off brands. He asked staff members using car to write mileage on charge ticket when getting gas and sign it. He advised on need for using same kind of oil under all circumstances and suggested Havoline 10W30 or premium grade on Texaco. There was some discussion of auto servicing.

1 - vep staff meetings

RTB asked for further statement regarding sponsoring local drives. There was some brief discussion indicating that there would be more of this type of grant.

There then followed some discussion of function and set up of NAACP and local groups operating voter registration drives. There is general dissatisfaction among the staff members regarding the reporting and cooperation of the NAACP with VEP in VEP-sponsored and financed drives.

Jean Levine
Jean Levine
Administrative Secretary
Submitted 5/7/63

Minutes of VEP Staff Meeting
September 9, 1963

WAB announced that Vernon Jordan was joining the VEP staff as Acting Assistant Director, effective as of this date. Vernon will continue with his duties at SRC also.

In outlining VJ's duties and responsibilities, WAB pointed out that he (WAB) would continue to make the decisions concerning the making of initial grants to agencies. Further concerning new grants WAB requested JM to furnish the project with statistics necessary for decisions and RTB should consult with VJ ~~XXXWAB~~ giving them his recommendations. Finally, WAB would like the recommendations of all three staff members, VJ, JM, and RTB. WAB requested the setting up of a follow-up procedure for reporting to him on the progress of the various projects, both financially and program-wise.

There was some discussion as to the necessity of new clerical personnel, which is to be looked into.

jl

WAB
RTB
JM
JL
JS

November 27, 1963

Minutes of VEP Staff Meeting

WAB began by pointing out the the meeting would have to be brief because of the unavoidable delay in getting the meeting convened until so late in the day - but that a follow-up meeting would be held during the next week. WAB expressed concern about the operation of the office since it has grown in staff from two to seven. He requested the staff to give serious thought to various administrative problems and functions over the week end coming up. He requested that thought be given to the needfor clearly defined duties and responsibilities in the administrative function of the office. He stated that he felt that there was a need for a policy manual and procedure manual for the office.

WAB stated here that the person whom he would hold primarily responsible for office operations would be JL. He pointed out that it was impossible for him to keep up with all of the activities going on in the office, but that he expected JL to be able to give him information instantly. He pointed out also that since he cannot know what each person is working on at a given moment, JL would be expected to be responsible to him for this information, since the flow of work is part of her responsibility administratively.

WAB stressed the fact that while we will continue to strive toward a relaxed atmosphere some steps had to be taken in order to maintain efficiency and in order to be able to have an intelligently functioning office. He gave as an example here the matter of keeping some sort of track of where the various staff members are, but more importantly, how long they will be gone when they are out of the office.

There was some discussion at this point concerning our telephone answering system and the exact details are to be worked out later, but the need exists, for example, for the answering of the phones to be the responsibility of one person. He requested that calls for him be given initially to JL since she can handle many of them without his having to be disturbed. He requested the other professional members of the staff to give thought to the manner in which they want their calls handled in the future.

VEP Administration
Staff Meeting
Minutes

WAB suggested that the procedure on mail become an integral part of the policy and procedure manual. He requested the staff to make an effort to have incoming personal mail, if it is necessary to have it sent to the office, marked in such a way that it can be recognized as personal. He asked that all mail addressed to him, in any capacity, be given to JL. In her absence it should be given entirely to him.

He commended the staff for its courteous treatment of visitors to the office and encouraged continuation of this practice both in person and over the telephone. He reminded the staff that we are here to serve these people.

He requested the staff to jot down comments, ideas, and problems which they wish brought up for discussion at the next staff meeting. He reminded the staff that this held also for "gripes" they might have and that these could be brought up in staff or individually, as they wished.

jl

WB
BW
RTB
JS
JB
BB
File

Minutes of VEP Staff Meeting
March 3, 1964

WAB began by stating that although the Human Relations intern was to have begun his tour of duty on this date, we had not yet heard from him and it was assumed that fog and weather conditions had prevented his arrival as expected.

WAB spoke of the desirability of a regularly scheduled staff meeting set-up and there was consensus on this point - especially since the project is becoming larger and activity in the coming year will be accelerated to the point where inter-staff communication will become more difficult. It was agreed that a regularly scheduled staff meeting will now be set during the first week of each month.

It was recommended by the Director that the staff familiarize themselves with current proposals in civil rights bill, especially those concerned with voting. WAB spoke at some length concerning the two proposals concerning the three-judge federal district court, and the clause which would require registrars, in any application for registration involving a federal election, to apply any standards there might be without discrimination.

Then followed staff discussion concerning a new travel itinerary form which is to be worked up and used by all staff members making field trips. WAB asked that field reports be written more promptly.

The director appealed to the staff to be more prompt in keeping him informed of events in the field which he should know of. He suggested that traveling staff call him at home after trips if necessary.

There was discussion of the role the intern will play in the coming months of the project. WAB explained something of the Eleanor Roosevelt internship and its length of internships and, therefore, service to our staff. It was explained that the intern could be utilized in field trips, in research projects, etc., but that his responsibility was directly to the Director of the Project, although his services could be requested by others of the staff.

There then followed some questions and discussion regarding the involvement of VEP in areas and in matters where we are not financially supporting projects.

Staff meeting minutes
Blue

There was some discussion of VEP's financial picture for the remainder of the project and a reply to a question asked by RTB concerning the possibility of a projected forecast of expenditures by state. WAB explained that because of the questionable nature of our own financial status this would not be possible, at least at this time.

There was some discussion of setting up a research meeting to bring the research design into balance with trip reports of the staff.

Some discussion took place concerning expanded travel by the field staff, with a request from WAB that there be more travel activity.

The meeting concluded with some discussion concerning the termination date of the project as it affects the employees tenure and WAB explained that this was individual with each staff member dependent upon their own circumstances and their job activities.

It was agreed that temporary help be obtained to help with the overload of filing until a permanent clerk-typist or clerk-steno is obtained.

jl

March 11, 1964

WB
RTB
BW JD
JL

M E M O R A N D U M

Re: Conference Between Wiley A. Branton, Barbara I. Whitaker, Randolph T. Blackwell, and John Due on Field Trips

(This conference was called by WAB on 3-9-64 to discuss the most recent field trips made so that the highlights and most important aspects of these trips could be examined as soon as possible. This was done in order to keep everyone abreast of what is going on since the trips may not be put into written form immediately. At the time of this transcription, the only field trip reports completed are the ones by John Due to Macon, Georgia, and Orangeburg, South Carolina, dated 3-9-64.)

WAB went to Winston Salem, North Carolina, on Wednesday, March 4, and had a meeting with the leaders of the Voter Registration Project of Winston-Salem (NAACP-CORE), among them, Dr. Jackson and Mrs. Louise Wilson. WAB said that his visit there disclosed the fact to him that this project is an interracial one, and that after talking with the leaders, he is convinced that the work there promises to be even more successful with the coordination of the organized groups in the community.

WAB has extended this project to May 15, and a supplemental grant has already been sent in the amount of $500 on March 5, with two additional ones of $500 to follow on or about April 1 and May 1.

BW had asked WAB prior to his trip, to inquire about the reporting of the Winston-Salem group. In response to this, WAB was able to report that all reports through December 28 will be sent as requested. The reason for the gap in dates is because the books were closed during the first two weeks in January, and very little registering was done. Even though the office was closed, registration was permitted even though those registering at that time could not vote in the current election.

Also, some of the reports we have said are missing are supposed to be in our possession. We are to search our unfiled materials and if these reports are still missing, we are to request copies of the ones we do not have.

BW also brought up the question about the use of the word "apathy" in some reports, and she had wondered if a great deal of this seeming indifference on the part of the people was due instead to ignorance, and this was not being understood by the registration workers.

We are also to receive a cut of the mobile unit they have in operation.

With this extended grant, WAB feels that a realistic estimate for a 10 week period is 2,000, however, the committee thinks 2,500 will be registered in that period of time. He inquired if there is any work being done in the counties at present, and he found that it is limited. Plans are being made to step up the pace in the near future.

WAB also mentioned that there are two Negroes running for office. One for county commissioner, and one for the state legislature. He mentioned that he met Dr. Williams, President of the Winston-Salem College and his son, who is very active in the registration and integration efforts in that city. He also met the Negro alderman, _____.

RTB's Trip to Orangeburg, South Carolina:

(JD accompanied RTB on this trip.)

RTB said that this statewide meeting was supposed to be with the leaders of the six congressional district leaders, mainly for the purpose of submitting budgets and a history of their respective organizations. He says that we now have in hand three budgets out of these six districts, and three are in the mail. There seems to be some difficulty with the 3rd and 4th districts (the Spartanburg and Greenville areas), and Rev. Newman is checking to find out what this difficulty is.

Representation came from the 4th district in the form of a letter from Dr. Beck, followed by a call. Dr. Thomas' 2nd congressional district budget is here in the office.

WAB asked about CORE's involvement in this program. He wanted to know if the people in the 5th district are agreeable to having Frank Robinson and Ed Brown serve as the coordinators for the district. RTB replied that the question was not raised. He stated frankly that he thought they would want someone else to serve in this capacity, but that they were mainly interested in getting the job done. RTB also stated that as he has mentioned before in previous field trip reports, Robinson and Brown spend too much time talking about what people won't do and try to do the whole job themselves, which is too much of a task. They have little confidence that the people can be pulled together to work effectively.

WAB said that the people feel that they are working under the banner of CORE if Robinson and Brown are involved, and introduced the idea of getting the people together and suggest to them the idea of giving them money to assist them in their efforts, but say that we want a coordinator to work with them on a non-partisan, non-organizational program, and that we are willing to send help in the person of Robinson and Brown, and the salaries would be paid by us or by CORE. When asked if this could possibly be a palatable approach, RTB answered yes. WAB said that VEP needs to know, as soon as possible, what solution would be best, because it will affect the kind of grant given. Also, it was agreed that before a final decision is reached, a table should be prepared showing the amount spent on a quarterly basis to compare the results achieved.

RTB citec which districts are organized on the precinct level, and which ones needed strengthening. All of these points will be given in detail in his field report.

WAB wanted to know how long it would be before we have all the budgets, and RTB said it would be about the end of the week.

WAB mentioned that John McCray, political leader and newspaperman from South Carolina is going to join the staff of the Atlanta Daily World, and we should get together with him and compare notes.

WAB wanted to know how long the program needs to run. RTB said in the 3rd and 5th districts, from March though September, according to the request from the people in the field.

RTB's Trip to Texas:

RTB says he has brought back a new film on the Coalition from Texas that gives more consideration to the other organizations that the other film did not do.

WAB wanted to know the results of the free registration, and was disappointed when RTB reported that Larry Goodwyn announced the registration would only exceed 60,000. He says this is because of the way the announcement came out, and they only had 17 days to work. BW brought out the point that the term "free registration" made people feel as though they were accepting charity, and that people felt ashamed to want to vote in federal elections and not in the state elections. WAB said that a counter campaign should have been formed to rebut this attitude.

RTB cited the differences between the Texas Council of Voters and Larry Goodwyn. He said that the TCOV wanted to run the Council as it has always been run, while Larry Goodwyn wants to inject new ideas and new ways of doing things. Because of this difference of opinion, the Council feels that Larry wants to tell them what to do, and feels there are ulterior motives in his desires, when this is not so, RTB feels.

RTB discussed the Erma Leroy situation, and mentioned that Phil Weightman is unhappy because Mrs. Leroy is not getting the recognition she should get. He pointed out that all of Mrs. Leroy's contacts are elderly, when the leadership trend is now with the 35-and-under group.

WAB said that Phil is a very capable persons, but his loyalty is definitely with Labor, and strongly so. He said that Mrs. Leroy came up working with Labor, and her whole approach is going to be Labor-oriented. WAB also pointed out that Phil is not too much interested in working with Negro groups who are not pro-labor groups, and that he prefers a Labor group.

RTB says that he did not contact E. Bryce Cunningham because he was unavailable, and that the matter of taking Mrs. Leroy off the payroll came through him.

RTB did contact A. D. Thomas and Walker. They were very complimentary about the NAACP in Texas, but the people in Houston and Dallas had nothing to say about NAACP's operations.

BW Trip to Macon:

(BW was accompanied on this trip by JD.) His report on

The workshop was a departure from the previous workshops she has attended, BW said. The attendance, in general, was good. Young people were very much in evidence, with the average age being 21 and below. The youth in the group were very active, also. It seemed as though the older leaders were at a loss when it was time to work. Miss Hayes did not give instructions in regard to Georgia law, and this caused some confusion during the segment of the workshop that was called the "Demonstration Segment."

BW says she talked with Mrs. Lewis and workers. Horace Reed gave a report. So did a representative of the St. Augustine committee. The Jacksonville campaign workers did not attend.

John Edwards and John Brooks were absent from the meeting as far as BW could tell. Brooks or Alexander were supposed to come in the next day for a presentation.

In the course of discussion between WAB, RTB, BW, and JD, BW brought out the fact that it is very evident there is some dissention between Patton and Pearson. This led to a discussion about ways to handle the problems that arise from so many communities not realizing that their activities are actually supported by VEP and not solely NAACP. WAB asked the group if they thought a form-type letter congratulating the local people for working with the project would help. Something to let those local people know that they are a part of something big. For programs that have expired, he suggested we could have another form letter of thanks. It was readily agreed by all that it is important to let people know VEP made available to NAACP money for voter registration work in their communities. WAB suggested that we should run a few surveys where we would go in communities and ask people what services did Mr. Patton provide. Jacksonville was cited as a choice example.

It was agreed by WAB, RTB, and BW that they are all disturbed by the abruptness Mr. Patton uses not only with VEP personnel, but with people in the field as well. WAB stressed the point that when conditions exist with any of the projects that need straightening out, it is necessary to do this in the best way possible, as soon as possible. In handling different difficulties with various individuals or agencies, WAB said that if a harsh letter has to be sent out, and a person in the field, such as RTB, has to come in contact with these individuals and representatives of the various agencies, it should be diplomatically stressed that WAB does not have time for personal and organizational jealousies, etc., and that the important thing was getting the registration work done.

RTB said that the week of the 15th through the 21st, his plans included working in North Carolina in a concentrated fashion, and that it was his hope that Mr. Due would be able to spend the same period of time in South Carolina pulling together some important loose ends.

WAB referred RTB to his letter to Morsell in regard to NAACP work in North Carolina, wherein he suggested that NAACP submit a proposal to VEP for prior approval for work in North Carolina before any money is expended there.

The meeting was then closed.

js

WAB
RTB
~~JM~~ BW
JL
JS
BS
JDV
VJ

MINUTES OF VEP STAFF MEETING
April 3, 1964

A special staff meeting was called at approximately 4:00 p.m. All staff members were present.

WAB announced that this meeting was not in lieu of the staff meeting which is to be regularly scheduled during the first week of each month and that this meeting would take place late the following week.

WAB expressed serious concern over lack of cooperation which he has been experiencing from all the members of the VEP staff. He stated that he had been compelled to issue certain rules and regulations and expects the entire staff to comply with them.

He re-emphasized the contents of his recent memo on work-load distribution with particular attention to the job descriptions of the clerical and stenographic staff. He pointed out that while the Administrative Secretary does not function in a supervisory capacity insofar as the professional staff is concerned, he expects cooperation to be given her when she is acting under his instructions or seeks information and assistance for him.

He pointed out that certain events in the past had been done which were detrimental to the project and that this situation would not be allowed to arise again. He insisted that information which is come by because of positions with VEP shall not be used to the advantage of other organizations and the detriment of VEP.

He cautioned the intern regarding sending anything out of the VEP office that has not come over the director's desk first, and that all requests for clerical and secretarial assistance would come through the Administrative Secretary.

He demanded that there be no relationship between VEP and SCEF.

WAB pointed out that requests for leave should be given in ample time, reasonable time, for work and itinerary changes to be cleared and that if emergency leave were to be required that the nature of the emergency should be made known to him.

The staff meeting was adjourned with a statement from the Director that he was demanding loyalty and cooperation from the staff to VEP.

jl

x

WB

April 27, 1964

STAFF MEETING MINUTES
(Held April 20, 1964)

The meeting was opened with WAB discussing All Citizens Registration Committee and the current handbill that has been distributed to help stimulate registration. This handbill borders on partisan politics, and WAB does not like this implication.

BW said that Eric Kindberg had asked her previously about this, and she had advised against this type being distributed. (The handbill referred to says: ".....Judge Durwood T. Pye and Senator Richard Russell (Filibuster Leader) Are Coming Up For Re-Election.") BW also commented that this is consistent with the problems we are facing with this organization.

WAB mentioned that he had received a request for a grant from Huntsville, Alabama. RTB said we should hold off on this until Tuesday of next week because they have their eye on something big.

In regard to the CORE "Politics and Civil Rights" conference to be held in Durham, North Carolina, April 24-26, WAB asked RTB if he was going to attend. RTB answered that he had informed them he would come if it was possible. In the meantime, WAB had accepted an invitation to attend. It was agreed that one of them should go, but that it was not necessary for both of them to do so, and it should be clarified that only one would be in attendance. RTB said he would get a letter off saying that he would not attend.

The matter concerning Timmers Chevrolet Company was briefly discussed, and the mix-up of the previous Friday was cleared. RTB says that he had talked with a representative by telephone, and they had told him they were in the process of tallying the bill, and the car would be delivered as soon as this was completed. After much delay, and after contacting the company again by telephone, the car and the bill was delivered. It was confirmed by RTB that we do not have an account with this company, and WAB will clear this up so there will not be a recurrence of this type.

WAB requested that he be routed correspondence that might even remotely be of interest to him before it is filed, and all promised cooperation in this matter.

While the matter of mail was being discussed, BW mentioned that frequently initials have already been marked on correspondence for distribution and that some reports are addressed to RTB, but the reports are given to her and never given to him unless she marks it for his attention, and that she feels these reports should go to his desk, also. In fact, these reports, she said, should go to everyone in the office.

BW asked also that JS be given the responsibility of distributing the mail in the back office. WB agreed that the mail should be given to JS; and that if any mail is addressed to an individual, as in RTB's case, he should see it, and that reports directed to him should be routed around him when he is out of town.

WAB asked about the condition of the files, and he was assured that the news clips were being straightened out and readied for filing, and that the regular files were current and up-to-date.

JD told us about the Today show of April 20, 1964, in which a teacher was featured who had taught children four years of age to read in twenty weeks. He wanted to know if it would be permissable to write this show to inquire about this method so that illiterates that are being taught by citizenship schools could be helped. WAB said that he certainly could write to this show requesting information, and if it was obtained, it could be sent to the SCLC citizenship schools for their use. JD said that he would go ahead and get the letter off.

BW asked WAB how much printed material was available on SCLC's operations. WAB answered that he did not know exactly, but he did know that they have different amounts of brochures and that he had some material that he would make available to BW, especially an article written by Septima Clark on the citizenship schools.

BW asked RTB re the ASCARV activity in Birmingham. She says that she is getting disturbed about the reports on SCLC's campaign there. RTB said that SCLC is not really operating a campaign there, and that it has never been possible to distinguish who was doing the job there. The problem there now is as it has always been, he says. Miles College is now claiming credit for work being done, and he feels this is because they have to make some sort of claim because of the Field Foundation grant that was made to them to further voter registration in that area.

WAB asked RTB re Anniston, Selma, and Montgomery - his latest field trips. RTB says that in Selma, Mrs. Boynton's campaign is now going on, and in Montgomery, Rufus Lewls is the basic problem there. Lewis feels that the operations there are his alone. RTB says that he is inclined to believe Lewis is indifferent, and he also says that he is not sure if he has ulterior motives, but the people in the community are seemingly sure of this fact.

BW asked what we were going to do about the SCLC-ACRC problem, and wanted to know if WAB was aware that Weldon Rougeau was going to be asked to report to us on their activities. BW said emphatically that she could not agree to the plan of his reporting to us. WAB said that he has tried to place the problem into the hands of the cooperating committee heads, referring to Jesse Hill and Andy Young.

A general discussion of the program was made re handbill distribution, school contacts, convassing, etc. WAB said that if their problems could not be resolved in any way, it would leave us no choice but to start a program with any group we desire.

BW brought up the matter of the discourtesy of a young man named Nichols, who insisted on addressing individuals by their first names. This situation was deplored by BW, expecially since the last name is the first name encountered on the registration form. She said that it seemed that Nichols has consistently done this even though she has objected to it. She feels that a letter to Mr. Hay, the Chief Registrar, should be written to correct this situaton. It was felt that ACRC would be the cooperative source of this letter.

WAB asked if there was any further business to be discussed in regard to the current projects, and there was not.

The meeting was then adjourned.

js

Staff Meeting
5/7/64
Attended by: Randolph T. Blackwell, Barbara I. Whitaker, Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., and John Due, Jr.

The main purpose of this meeting was to find out about the latest field trips so there will be some understanding about what is going on between the staff.

VJ was asked by WB to tell of his visits to Jackson and Memphis, Tennessee, in connection with the voter registration project, and whatever he might have checked on in Memphis.

Memphis: VJ said that on Tuesday night, Maxine Smith took him to a debate in which Jessie Turner and a man named Hayward participated. Hayward is a young white lawyer, and he and Turner debated the president of the White Citizens Coincil and a surgeon.

VJ said that he visited Patton's office where everyone seemed to be working very hard. WAB aked VJ if Patton's office was in the same suite as the Memphis NAACP. VJ said no, but that it is located in the same building. VJ said that the girls in the office took the position that they "had to be right" because someone from the VEP office was present. They talked freely and were very cooperative.

VJ said that he visited with Kay Jones, of the Jackson-Madison County Voters League, and also with Joe Merritt, and Dick Bell. He said that Dick Bell said that 142 people were registered in the last campaign conducted in September, and that approximately 422 were registered in the most recent campaign.

Mrs. Mattie Darnell, the director of this campaign, Mattie Merritt and Mr. Merritt were contacted and talked to. Mr. Merritt talked with VJ in the VEP office. He (VJ) described Mrs. Merritt as a very interesting lady, and very much interested in working in voter registration, even without financial support.

WAB asked VJ if Dr. Bell and the others involved realized that the money for the program is coming from VEP. VJ answered yes. He asked VJ what kind of registration record did Love leave, and he said that Love was interested mainly in his reports looking good. VJ added that there is no problem with the registrars, but with the Negroes themselves.

(A full account of this trip can be seen in VJ's trip report).

Alabama - Selma Trips: WAB asked RTB if the Miles College program was accomplishing anything. WAB said that he was expecially interested now

Staff meeting minutes

because of a letter which was sent to him from one of the foundations in New York supporting us. Someone connected with Miles College had made a statement that was questioned by this foundation.

RTB said that he had made three efforts to see the Miles College people, to no avail.

Selma: RTB says that there are no SNCC people in Selma, and virtually nothing is being done there. People seem to feel that the program there is being sacrificed for the activities in Mississippi, and there is no indication that Negroes are being registered there. WAB said that we should have something in our files indicating when these people left Selma. RTB commented that Chestnut and Boynton were involved with the campaign of Mrs. Boynton, and registration was secondary. WAB said that we still need to find out how many people we e registered, if any.

BW said that it had been reported this year that all money had been spent, and no reports were owed us, but tht JL said that there were some unspent funds. WAB said that he felt that they have an obligation to give us a report since we did support their project.

Mrs. Boynton was up in Anniston, and the SNCC people wsse on their way to Mississippi, and there was no one to give us any information on the situation.

Montgomery: RTB said he visited with Bevel and his group and with Mr. Lewis. WAB wanted to know if Lewis is working with Bevel's grupp, and the answer was no. RTB said that Lewis had mentioned that he was sorry they were not working together, and the feeling is mutual on both sides. Rufus Lewis' program is, and always will be, highly partisan, RTB feels. WAB said, that Patton suggested/we talk wibh Idessa Williams, 1010 Bragg St., and with the chairman, Zecozy Williams, 2000 Hill St. RTB said that he had already talked with Idessa. She is one of Lewis' lieutenants, and is very close to him. RTB

Anniston: RTB said that he did not get to see the people in Anniston. Dr. Rogers and Rev. McCollum were out of town, and there was no report on that city forthcoming.

Huntsville: A grant of $10,000 was promised to the committee in Huntsville, RTB reported, but it was not accepted because of the attached conditions, and the committee felt it did not want this. Previously, R. C. Adams had promised $600, and now that the $10,000 is no longer forthcoming, he is back in the picture.

WAB feels that a trip to Mobile is needed to check on the success of the last program.

In the next few days, we will make our commitment to Florida, WAB said. He also mentioned that we need to see about the development of the programs in Tuscaloosa.

WAB mentioned that SCLC has some publicity out about voter registration in Alabama, but there is very little going on. RTB says that it appears that they are looking for a way to go into voter registration in a more direct way.

Louisiana: (See Due's Field Trip report for a complete accounting.) In New Orleans, Due said he say Richard Haley and Ronnie Moore. He said he visited Clinton and went back to Baton Rouge, and on to New Orleans to visit the Legal Defense Institute. Due was asked about activity in the 21 counties that were affected by the injunctive order. He said that he found that registration is still hard, even though there is a court order. The technical requirements make it difficult and what is correct is extremely subjective.

Georgia: WAB mentioned that the deadline for registration was last Saturday, and there was some speculation as to the probability of an extention being made. WAB said that in Atlanta, we need to make some plans involving a completely different kind of program, and this will be done after the extension is made.

In a brief discussion of the Georgia Statewide Committee, it was said that the program over in Augusta has not done as well as expected. The drive needs to get its registration down to the grass-roots level. WAB asked if there was much registrationgoing on in counties not supported by VEP, and BW answered yes, that by and large, there were small groups that have been carrying on some kind of effort for many years.

Columbus: A Mr. Jackson, BW said, was increasingly disenchanted with Vernon Mitchell. The congressional district people feel he is too ambitious, and they are trying to feel out who they are going to support for the congressional race, and are inclined toward Byrd. Mitchell says he added about 3,000 names to the rolls since February, and that the increase in registration there has numbered 9,000 up to the present time.

South Carolina: The budget request has come for the 4th Cong. Dist., and WAB has sent it to RTB's desk for his recommendations. The 3rd Cong. Dist. check is bieng mailed today.

Other comments on trips made by RTB into South Carolina can be seen in his Field Trip Report dated May 11, 1964 to North Augusta, Orangeburg, Manning, Sumter, Florence, Camden, Columbia, and Saluda.

js

WB
BW
RTB
JD
BS
JS

VOTER EDUCATION PROJECT
Minutes
May 18, 1964

The VEP Staff met on the above date in WAB's office in a special staff meeting.

WAB first expressed appreciation to the VEP Staff for its assistance and hospitality to persons attending the meeting of the Council for United Civil Rights Leadership on Friday, May 15.

The Staff was told about the recent visit of the Revenue representative, Mr. Force. WAB said the reporter told him that according to his investigation, he had compiled a clean report regarding VEP but that his report was not the final analysis or say-so. When going through the files, however, Mr. Force was concerned about a mixture of partisan politics records in the files. WAB explained that VEP collects information and statistics which may be partisan information but this does not imply that the activity was VEP supported. His findings were based on records from 1961, the inception of VEP. WAB was able to correct this type of finding with more recent records. As a result of this, it was suggested that in the future, we set up some kind of separate file, perhaps entitled "Partisan Politics - VEP Non-Supported," or the like. In this way, the Staff would still be informed of such activities, which it feels are things it should know and kept abreast of; yet at the same time, maintain our regular VEP file.

WAB expressed great concern about the accurate reporting on expense vouchers by VEP members. Persons making the expense reports and persons typing the reports were strongly urged to check and double check reports before submitting them to the Project Director.

WAB informed the Staff of a call from Rev. Bennett regarding a banquet honoring persons who had worked diligently in the voter registration drive. It calls for some financial support from VEP, and WAB felt that an affair of this sort would be good only if it has some meaning or incentive for more progress in future voter registration drives, and honors only those persons active in the previous campaign.

A letter was read by WAB from Andy Young of SCLC relative to a statewide registration program of which VEP Staff is asked to help propose. It was deeply felt that if VEP is to become involved to this extent, then VEP should just assume the role of sponsoring the program.

The Tidewater Project in Virginia requested continued support from VEP, and it was expressed that VEP should continue supporting the project.

Staff Meeting - Minutes

In Gadsden, Alabama, WAB questioned whether the registration program there was a one-man set up. RTB, having been there recently, stated that this was not the case, that several persons are involved and are working as well.

Concern over Charleston, South Carolina's slow registration pace was expressed. In accordance with monthly financial allottments in Charleston, South Carolina, registration figures should increase significantly. Field members were asked to look into this situation.

RTB indicated strongly that VEP needs to send a representative in the State of Virginia. We have not yet had a mass registration drive in Virginia. WAB stated that field trips are needed in Tennessee where registration programs are now being proposed and being set up. Also in Louisiana, BW saw the need of a field trip because VEP has received no correspondence at all regarding registration activities in that state.

In Charleston, S. C., a meeting of postmen from South Carolina, Florida, and Georgia is to be held June 8-10, 1964. Some phase of this meeting will be devoted to voter registration and WAB suggested that someone from VEP should attend. Postmen, because of their door-to-door traveling, could do much in regards to boosting voter registration activities.

Attention was called to the fact that trip itineraries be submitted earlier than previously by field members.

WAB asked if problems existed with any Staff members in the office,etc. There were none.

Meeting was adjourned.

/bs

W B
BW
RTB
JDC
VJL
JS

May 21, 1964

Staff Meeting Minutes
5/21/64
Attended by: Randolph T. Blackwell, Barbara I. Whitaker, Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., and John Due

This meeting was called by WAB to discuss a conversation held with Senator Leroy Johnson (See memo dated 5/21/64 entitled, "Registration Extension."), and several other current events he felt the staff should be informed of.

WAB, after discussing the Johnson conversation, said that Andy Young had called him in regard to a film made by Bob Newman, who has been in charge of a filming about voter registration in Savannah. Mr. Newman, who was commissioned by the National Council of Churches to make this film, is bringing it to the VEP office for a showing in the SRC conference room tomorrow, May 22. WAB said that the film will be viewed by some of the SCLC staff, and expressed the desire to have RTB present, since some of his ideas were supposed to have been incorporated into it. RTB was scheduled to go to Montgomery and Selma, Alabama, and it was suggested that he delay the trip until Monday, the 25th, and go on to Virginia the following week. RTB suggested that we wait and see what time the film will be over because he still might be able to arrange his trip to Montgomery since one of the people he wanted to see could only be seen in the evenings, anyway.

WAB asked that the staff members give this film a critical view, and although he had seen the film, he had not seen it in finished form, and he was not going to express any personal opinions as he wanted to give the staff the opportunity of seeing it for themselves and expressing their own honest opinions about it. WAB said that VEP had been asked to give them some financial assistance so they could make copies of this film and make free prints that could be utilized by organizations.

WAB said that he had received some reports from C. H. Thomas, and that he plans to write him in regard to the duplicating of reports, both progress and financial, but that he intends to do this in a very diplomatic way, so as not to discourage Mr. Thomas' efforts. WAB said that Mr. Thomas sends the names and addresses of all the persons that have been registered, and he asked BW if she needed this information for her files. BW answered that this was not needed, and that she and RTB had discussed this matter and decided that as long as he was sending in reports, not to stop him, and that she, too, did not want to discourage his efforts. RTB said to let them continue sending the information, because it gives us the comfort of knowing these are accurate records. WAB injected that the people working with them should be required to keep these records, and if one of the staff members asks to see these names and addresses while visiting in the area, that is all right, but it isn't necessary for this information to be forwarded to us, and his only concern was that Thomas and his co-workers were doing extra work that could be devoted to something more essential.

Staff Meeting Minutes

NASHVILLE: WAB said that he had received a letter from the Middle Tennessee group asking for a grant to support an eight-week drive. In response to this request, WAB had written to them asking three questions regarding: The dates they planned to conduct this program; when the registration books would be closed during their drive, and if it would be possible for registration in July after the deadline. WAB said that it would be possible to register only six weeks instead of eight, and that he was in favor of a supplemental grant to this group to carry them through July 8, although he does not plan to give them the full amount requested.

SUMPTER - SPARTANBURG: WAB asked BW about her concern over who was going to be responsible for these two areas. RTB said that Robinson will report on Sumpter, and Rearden would be responsible for the Spartanburg area. WAB said that we had not heard from Rearden in regard to the information we requested as to what bank his group was going to use, and neither had we received the check he promised to send "under separate cover." WAB said that the grant could not be made until this was received, and expressed concern over the fact that Rearden had been delinquent in his attention to this.

WAB asked BW if it was just these two areas she was concerned about, and she answered that she had received reports from Robinson and Brown, and she assumes they will be responsible for reporting, even though forms had been sent to Haile and Beck for this purpose. She says that since they are not using the forms she sent, she also assumes that either Haile and Beck have not given them the forms for their use, or that they prefer not to use them. She also feels that the forms they do send in are not adequate for that particular area.

In regard to some files whose loss BW had expressed concern over, WAB asked that we make a concerted effort to see if we can find any VEP 2- series progress report files that have not been seen since we moved to the new quarters. WAB feels that we may be looking for a voluminous amount of material that is non-existent, but at any rate, he is concerned about the possible loss of files, and asked cooperation from everyone in finding them.

js

WB
BW
RTB
JP
VJ
JS

May 22, 1964

Staff Meeting
5/7/64
Attended by: Randolph T. Blackwell, Barbara I. Whitaker, Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., and John Due, Jr.

The main purpose of this meeting was to find out about the latest field trips so there will be some understanding about what is going on between the staff.

VJ was asked by WB to tell of his visits to Jackson and Memphis, Tennessee, in connection with the voter registration project, and whatever he might have checked on in Memphis.

Memphis: VJ said that on Tuesday night, Maxine Smith took him to a debate in which Jessie Turner and a man named Hayward participated. Hayward is a young white lawyer, and he and Turner debated the president of the White Citizens Coincil and a surgeon.

VJ said that he visited Patton's office where everyone seemed to be working very hard. WAB aked VJ if Patton's office was in the same suite as the Memphis NAACP. VJ said no, but that it is located in the same building. VJ said that the girls in the office took the position that they "had to be right" because someone from the VEP office was present. They talked freely and were very cooperative.

VJ said that he visited with Kay Jones, of the Jackson-Madison County Voters League, and also with Joe Merritt, and Dick Bell. He said that Dick Bell said that 142 people were registered in the last campaign conducted in September, and that approximately 422 were registered in the most recent campaign.

Mrs. Mattie Darnell, the director of this campaign, Mattie Merritt and Mr. Merritt were contacted and talked to. Mr. Merritt talked with VJ in the VEP office. He (VJ) described Mrs. Merritt as a very interesting lady, and very much interested in working in voter registration, even without financial support.

WAB asked VJ if Dr. Bell and the others involved realized that the money for the program is coming from VEP. VJ answered yes. He asked VJ what kind of registration record did Love leave, and he said that Love was interested mainly in his reports looking good. VJ added that there is no problem with the registrars, but with the Negroes themselves.

(A full account of this trip can be seen in VJ's trip report).

Alabama - Selma Trips: WAB asked RTB if the Miles College program was accomplishing anything. WAB said that he was especially interested now because of a letter which was sent to him from one of the foundations in New York supporting us. Someone connected with Miles College had made a statement that was questioned by this foundation.

Staff Meeting Minutes

RTB said that he had made three efforts to see the Miles College people, to no avail.

Selma: RTB says that there are no SNCC people in Selma, and virtually nothing is being done there. People seem to feel that the program there is being sacrificed for the activities in Mississippi, and there is no indication that Negroes are being registered there. WAB said that we should have something in our files indicating when these people left Selma. RTB commented that Chestnut and Boynton were involved with the campaign of Mrs. Boynton, and registration was secondary. WAB said that we still need to find out how many people were registered, if any.

BW said that it had been reported this year that all money had been spent, and no reports were owed us, but that JL said that there were some unspent funds. WAB said that he felt that they have an obligation to give us a report since we did support their project.

Mrs. Boynton was up in Anniston, and the SNCC people were on their way to Mississippi, and there was no one to give us any information on the situation.

Montgomery: RTB said he visited with Bevel and his group and with Mr. Lewis. WAB wanted to know if Lewis is working with Bevel's group, and the answer was no. RTB said that Lewis had mentioned that he was sorry they were not working together, and the feeling is mutual on both sides. Rufus Lewis' program is, and always will be, highly partisan, RTB feels. WAB said, that Patton suggested/we talk with Idessa Williams, 1010 Bragg St., and with the chairman, Zecozy Williams, 2000 Hill St. RTB said that he had already talked with Idessa. She is one of Lewis' lieutenants, and is very close to him. RTB

Anniston: RTB said that he did not get to see the people in Anniston. Dr. Rogers and Rev. McCollum were out of town, and there was no report on that city forthcoming.

J.S. pull all corres. on this

Huntsville: A grant of $10,000 was promised to the committee in Huntsville, RTB reported, but it was not accepted because of the attached conditions, and the committee felt it did not want this. Previously, R. C. Adams had requested promised $600, and now that the $10,000 is no longer forthcoming, he is back in the picture.

WAB feels that a trip to Mobile is needed to check on the success of the last program.

In the next few days, we will make our commitment to Florida, WAB said. He also mentioned that we need to see about the development of the programs in Tuscaloosa.

WAB mentioned that SCLC has some publicity out about voter registration in Alabama, but there is very little going on. RTB says that it appears that they are looking for a way to go into voter registration in a more direct way.

Louisiana: (See Due's Field Trip report for a complete accounting.) In New Orleans, Due said he saw Richard Haley and Ronnie Moore. He said he visited Clinton and went back to Baton Rouge, and on to New Orleans to visit the Legal Defense Institute. Due was asked about activity in the 21 counties that were affected by the injunctive order. He said that he found that registration is still hard, even though there is a court order. The technical requirements make it difficult and what is correct is extremely subjective.

Georgia: WAB mentioned that the deadline for registration was last Saturday, and there was some speculation as to the probability of an extention being made. WAB said that in Atlanta, we need to make some plans involving a completely different kind of program, and this will be done after the extension is made.

In a brief discussion of the Georgia Statewide Committee, it was said that the program over in Augusta has not done as well as expected. The drive needs to get its registration down to the grass-roots level. WAB asked if there was much registrationgoing on in counties not supported by VEP, and BW answered yes, that by and large, there were small groups that have been carrying on some kind of effort for many years.

Columbus: A Mr. Jackson, BW said, was increasingly disenchanted with Vernon Mitchell. The congressional district people feel he is too ambitious, and they are trying to feel out who they are going to support for the congressional race, and are inclined toward Byrd. Mitchell says he added about 3,000 names to the rolls since February, and that the increase in registration there has numbered 9,000 up to the present time.

South Carolina: The budget request has come for the 4th Cong. Dist., and WAB has sent it to RTB's desk for his recommendations. The 3rd Cong. Dist. check is bieng mailed today.

Other comments on trips made by RTB into South Carolina can be seen in his Field Trip Report dated May 11, 1964 to North Augusta, Orangeburg, Manning, Sumter, Florence, Camden, Columbia, and Saluda.

js

WB
BW
JP
VJ
file VEP

June 30, 1964

STAFF MEETING MINUTES

(6/25/64)

Attended by: Wiley A. Branton, Randolph T. Blackwell, and Barbara I. Whitaker

WAB opened the meeting by stating that he had talked with Jesse Hill that morning, and he told him that there was going to be a program on the 30th honoring the people who had worked in the Atlanta registration campaign. Mr. Hill had called to find out if he was could prepare and make a speech for the occasion. He said that he would have a number of speakers to get up and say something at the gathering. No commitment has been made as yet.

WAB said that Mr. Hill mentioned that he/was going to try to get some neighborhood registration started, and he feels that VEP should support this effort.

NAACP Convention: WAB brought the staff up-to-date on his attendance at the NAACP convention held in Washington June 21-26. He said that this trip was very profitable because he got a chance to talk with many people working in voter registration, among them Hugh Love, some people from Memphis, Brown and Newman from South Carolina, and others. He said that he attended two workshops, one of which included Ruby Hurley's district. He also said that he met privately with people from Virginia who are interested in voter registration in the Eighth Congressional District. RTB asked WAB who it was he talked with from the Eighth District, and he answered that the individual was Dr. Harris. WAB mentioned that he had talked with Lester Banks, and with Johnny Brooks. Banks contributed very little to the conversation, he added.

The South Carolina Voter Projects: A discussion of the various reports we have received from the South Carolina districts then followed.

WAB said that we had received a report from Florence, S. C., from Dr. Beck, Sixth Congressional District, and asked BW re her notation on the report which said, "Let's discuss it." BW said that this notation was made because of the fact that Dr. Beck's and Robinson and Brown's reports do not coincide. She says that she has written to Robinson and Brown asking them to clarify the matter, but to date, has received no reply.

A discussion of Mr. McCain's district, the Third, followed. WAB asked RTB to put into a memo the fact that the two McCain's are not related, so that there will be no question from the Treasury Department. RTB made a brief report on the area in question. In regard to the questions about the vouchers, he says he found nothing out of order. It was just that the people in charge used a different terminology than we are accustomed to, to explain their expenditures.

Rearden, of the Fourth District, has reported to WAB that no money has been spent by his project as yet.

Haile,Fifth District, asked if he could hire a full-time secretary, in a letter written to WAB. He says that the work load has increased so that this is a necessity. RTB commented that the work in his district did not require such additional employment.

In further discussion, it was agreed among WAB, RTB, and BW, that Haile wants to be in the position to supervise Brown and Robinson's activities. WAB asked RTB and BW their opinions as to whether it should be stated again what was to be expected in the way of reporting. BW brought out the fact that the requirements of the program they are running have already been set out in the initial letters to Haile, and this should be unnecessary. It was agreed, however, that we should inform them that we need a narrative report giving information for the month, and that the statistical reporting should be left with one person, since it is obvious that Brown and Robinson have not been supplying us with reliable information, and we have instances to substantiate this. It was further decided that if we desire, these two are to stay on as field workers, but that we should be firm as to what we expect of them from here on out. RTB was asked by WAB to relate in a separate memo the progress or lack of same, of Robinson and Brown, in terms of the Fifth and Sixth districts. (See RTB's memo dated 6/26/64 re this.) WAB says that in view of these events, there is apparently no communication between Haile, Robinson, and Brown. RTB interjected that there is some communication between Beck, Robinson and Brown, however.

WAB said that he would call McCain concerning this problem tomorrow (6/26). WAB said that he feels the only solution to the problem is to give a supplemental grant to Haile's and Beck's programs to hire directors, and give CORE a nominal grant to carry Robinson and Brown to the end of the year.

WAB mentioned that Dr. Thomas (Dr. C. H.), of Orangeburg, S. C., sent in a fiscal report which included an item of payment to a Mr. Zimmerman for advertisement and another for secretarial help which included "honorarium." He says that he will take this matter up with Dr. Thomas himself.

WAB also brought up the matter of $1,688 being requested by the American Friends Service Committee for a program, which he rejected, and now Dr. Thomas has the Committee coming into that area. WAB said that he felt that after reviewing the matter entirely, he would still have to stick to his original decision. RTB agreed. This group had asked for $6,000 for a three-month program, when $6,000 was previously asked for from June to December.

Other Reports: WAB said that we had received reports from Eastern North Carolina, one of which he thought was very good on SCLC, but he said he wondered who prepared it. He asked BW to check into this.

In discussing Q. D. Adams of the Citizens Improvement League, he feels that he should have put the project on a $100 a month budget, in view of the activities of that group. They only registered 33 persons in June.

WAB said that the film, "Right Now" was ready, and that he would get a letter off telling Newman to send our copies here. It was understood that if we want a trailer, we will have to do it ourselves.

A discussion of the John Salter-A. Reed Johnson situation followed. The memo on RTB's reaction to this is dated 6/29/64, entitled, "Field Trips to South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia." His comments re his visits to these areas are also contained herein.

BW asked what we plan to do about the Georgia situation. WAB said that we will let the agencies know we are willing to renew projects, especially where we have had successful operations and cooperation.

RTB asked if we had heard from Idessa Williams and Recozy Williams in Montgomery. WAB said that he had had a letter from Andy Young, and that he didn't know whether Andy was suggesting that we give a direct grant to Tuscaloosa, or to SCLC, but that he(WAB) would rather give the money to SCLC so as to have financial reporting coming from Edwina, who keeps up with these matters pretty well.

Probable programs in Atlanta, Rome, Fort Valley, and surrounding areas came up in the discussion in a spot-check manner, and it was agreed that programs in most of these communities would get favorable consideration if outlines were submitted.

With all of the current business completed, the meeting was ended.

js

WA

July 23, 1964

STAFF MEETING MINUTES

Held ~~7/21/64~~

WAB called a staff conference which was attended by John Due, Barbara Stewart, Jane Moore, Joe Tucker, and Janet Shortt. This conference was called to discuss VEP and its future, both immediate and long-range.

WAB opened the meeting by saying that with the resignations of Randolph Blackwell, Field Director, and Barbara Whitaker, Research Assistant, he had concluded that we would not try to get people to replace them since VEP is in its final stage. He went on to say that VEP will continue to support active registration programs up to the deadline for registration for voting in the November general election. These programs will run up until sometime in October in most of the states, with the exception of Texas, where the deadline passed on January 31. We are terminating grants-in-aid to programs then. He said that there will possibly be some "get-out-the-vote" campaigns, provided they can be conducted on a non-partisan basis.

Special Research Analysis: WAB told the group that a tentative program had been worked out with Dr. Sam Cook to conduct a special research study on increased registration that is to determine the pattern of the Negro vote during the general election. In connection with this, we will be subscribing to a number of additional newspapers which will aid in collecting data.

In the Field: WAB says he will have to step up the field responsibilities, and is asking the participating agencies to help in this regard. Mr. W. C. Patton (NAACP) is one of the individuals being asked for assistance. Andy Young and Randolph Blackwell (SCLC) have also worked out an agreement re this. All field work will be terminated as of the November general election since there will be no more grants to agencies as things stand now.

Final VEP Report: The final VEP report will be ready sometime in 1965. LWD will probably take a leave of absence from SRC to write this final accounting from materials which have been compiled. It was at the last Executive Meeting of SRC that it was decided that all grants-in-aid would be terminated in November, and work would then be started on the final report. It will also be determined at this time whether a recommendation on continuing VEP will be made.

WAB explained to the group how VEP obtained its tax-exempt status. He said that we have this exemption because of the unique feature of research study, for the IRS would not have allowed it simply on the grounds of registering individuals to vote; however, the registration aspect of the project was important in compiling the materials necessary for the research study. It was also on this basis that it was decided to run the grants-in-aid program for two-and-one-half years in lieu of two years, as it had been originally planned. Cutting off aid in two years would have meant ending the project in the middle of a presidential election year, and in order to get the full benefit of the reasons for motivation, etc., it would be necessary to continue longer.

With this background information, WAB brought out the fact that if VEP is to continue, all the information needed to make a case for tax-exemption should be at hand and ready for presentation to IRS.

At the inception of VEP, WAB said, there were two or three members of the Board who were opposed to the idea of SRC sponsoring VEP, but as time progressed, those who first opposed the idea changed their opinions and are now VEP's staunch supporters. Also, as the time draws near, participating agencies have expressed their regret that VEP will end. Because of these factors, the idea of continuing VEP has been considered. It might be that the Executive Committee of SRC would continue to serve as the sponsoring agency, or it might be that VEP will continue under the auspices of another organization. At any rate, there could be some other method of operation, and VEP can possibly continue with the whole program revised. WAB brought out the fact that there will be a need for secretarial assistance until the final report is written, and he thought it could be worked out with the present staff so that no additional secretarial help would have to be brought in at this point.

WAB said that he is thinking of bringing to work on a temporary basis, Joe Tucker and Jane Moore. Although it has not been specifically determined what these two would do, WAB thought that Jane could take over the major portion of BW's duties, and Joe could take on some of BW's assignments, and also be available for field trips. John Due could be used for more field assignments to check on existing VEP programs.

WAB again mentioned, as he has done in previous staff conferences, that something needs to be done seriously in the area of filing, and it is hoped that we can work out something. He feels, because of the nature of our work, that our filing is an important responsibility, not to be taken lightly, and the fact that some material has been misplaced makes it a crucial matter.

Jane is going to make arrangements to join the staff about the 4th of August. The distribution of the office work load was briefly discussed, and the importance of everyone getting a better understanding of everyone else's duties was stressed.

After welcoming Jane and Joe to VEP, the meeting was dismissed.

js

WB
JM

August 6, 1964

STAFF MEETING MINUTES - August 4, 1964

Attended by: Wiley A. Branton, Jane Moore, Joe Tucker and Janet Shortt.

This meeting was called to welcome Jane Moore and Joe Tucker to the VEP staff, and to determine the responsibilities each would take. Jane Moore joined the staff 8/4/64, and Joe Tucker was expected to join us as soon as the transition could be worked out with SRC in a day or so.

WAB explained how the duties will be divided between the two newcomers in the research department, and outlined briefly the responsibilities of a field representative to JT. WAB outlined the things that were to be stressed in importance in regard to VEP, such as the research procedure, which included what is to be looked for in reports sent in by participating agencies, what to look for in the various newspapers subscribed to by VEP, and what information is to be gathered for the Election Analysis conducted by Dr. Sam Cook. WAB also explained the general office procedures such as mail routing, and what problems can be expected with different agencies.

A memorandum will be sent out notifying agencies of the resignations of Randolph Blackwell and Barbara Whitaker, and of the new additions to the staff.*

js

*This memorandum was sent out 8/5/64, along with the news release on VEP voter registration results.

WB
JM
JD
BS JT

September 10, 1964

STAFF MEETING MINUTES
9/10/64
Attended by: Joe Tucker, Jane Moore, John Due, Barbara Stewart, and Janet Shortt.

WAB called this staff meeting because of the project's stepped-up pace, and his desire to have everyone completely informed as to what is going on.

The meeting was opened by WAB asking the staff members if there was anything anyone wanted to discuss that would ordinarily be taken up in a regular staff conference. There was not, so he went on with the business at hand.

VIRGINIA: WAB says that things are moving rapidly in this state, and that we have previously conducted programs here, one of which was conducted under the supervision of Dr. Edwin B. Henderson (All Citizens Registration Committee of Northern Virginia, VEP 2-24). Dr. Henderson has been requested, by letter, to have his VEP project and final report closed out by September 30.

We have recently made a grant to the Northern Virginia CORE (VEP 4-39), and we have given money for work in Petersburg and vicinity. (VEP 4-33). WAB has asked SCLC to clarify their meaning of "vicinity" and JM is to check on this further by writing to Herbert Coulton.

We have made a supplemental grant in Newport News (Peninsula Coordinating Committee, VEP 3-9), one to Dr. Holley's group (Central Civic Voter Project, VEP 4-42), and one to Lynchburg, Virginia (Lynchburg Voters League-M. W. Thornhill, Jr., VEP 4-43).

A letter has been written to Moses Riddick because of delinquent reporting to us, and it was brought out that WAB is concerned about Riddick's possible interest at this point in partisan politics.

Because of problems we were having with the Tidewater Voter Registration Project (VEP 3-8), JT was sent to check on this program. Initially, we were dealing with the organization, and then they hired a director, Arthur Freeman, and we were having to deal with an individual rather than with the organization as a whole. These difficulties have been straightened out, and the Tidewater grant is going to be extended.

The Crusade for Voters, under the direction of Dr. W. S. Thornton (VEP 4-44): WAB pointed out that this organization is probably the best organized group in the whole state. We had received a proposal from a group in the Eighth Congressional District, who were bringing in a group of college students to assist in their registration efforts. This group abandoned their program and went to Richmond to help the Crusade for Voters. WAB was not in favor of the group paying such a high salary to canvassers ($70 per week), and expressed his feelings on this to Dr. Thornton. At this point, however, WAB has decided to "play it by ear" and wait to determine the effectiveness of the canvassers and see just what results will be obtained, along with how promptly the reporting requirements are met.

In the Third Congressional District, WAB disclosed that we are about to do something that is unique. We are making a grant to a predominantly white group. Heslip "Happy" Lee, director of the Virginia Council on Human Relations, and Dr. Picott (acting as treasurer), will be working with this group. This means we will have two programs going on in the same district at the same time. (Later on during the meeting, JD asked if we would have trouble with IRS by giving money to a white group. WAB answered him by saying that we certainly would not have any difficulty because the purpose of VEP is to increase registration in the southern states, and we have not made any grants of this kind mainly because there has been no request for assistance from such a group.)

WAB said that we finally received a proposal from the Virginia State Conference of the NAACP. In a letter received from Lester Banks in late August, he states that he had never received a reply to his letter to us of July 15 (which we never received.) WAB surmised that Banks was trying to make it appear that he has not been negligent in submitting a proposal, especially since the matter had been discussed between WAB and Roy Wilkins. A $10,000 grant has been made to this group. (VEP 4-46). JM has been instructed to write Banks to ask him to outline this program in detail, and let us know exactly how this program will be conducted.

With this grant, NAACP will be working in 21 separate areas in Virginia.

Byron Smith in Roanoke called to request a grant, but a tentative grant had already been made to NAACP, so Mr. Smith was referred to NAACP about coordinating his program with theirs.

WAB said that we are going to get a number of small requests for grants, so it has been decided to set up an account with CTC called the Southern Voter Project, and we will administer programs right from this office. This way, we can give faster service, and have vouchers here to support all bills paid. It will also eliminate having to wait for each new project to have checks printed.

GEORGIA: Grants have been given to the Bibb County Coordinating Committee (VEP 4-40), and the Peach County Political Action Committee (VEP 4-41), following JD's field trips into these areas.

SOUTH CAROLINA: Support of the Third and Fifth Congressional Districts have been terminated, and are now being run by the S. C. Voter Project

(Dr. C. H. Thomas, VEP 4-45). WAB said that this state will be discussed more in detail later.

NORTH CAROLINA: We are about to make a substantial grant to NAACP when the books open sometime in October.

With all the current projects and plans brought up-to-date, the meeting was adjourned.

js

issued June 2, 1962

CORRESPONDENCE REPORT OF THE INTER-CITIZENS COMMITTEE
APRIL 1960 THRU MAY 1962

CORRESPONDENCE	NO. OF LETTERS
Rev. Everett W. McNair	10
Rev. Andrew Schulze	10
Rev. Ray Gibbons	8
Rev. Carlos Fuller	8
Foreign	8
Rev. Paul Woolley	7
Att. Edward Woolley	7
Dr. Leslie Dunbar	5
Senator Jacob Javits	5
James Davis	5
Commission on Civil Rights (U.S.)	5
Rev. Galen Weaver	4
Burke Marshall	4
Per Laursen	4
Rev. Charles Gomillion	4
Mrs. Alfred Lincoln	3
Senator Sam Ervin	3
Rev. H. B. Sissel	3
Rev. Edward Brown	2
John T. Murphy (Justice Dept.)	2
J. Edgar Hoover	2
Internal Revenue Service	2
Senator Leverett Saltonstall	2
Rep. Emanuel Celler	2
United Nations Commission on Human Rights	2
James Dombrowski	2
Dr. Hans Speigel	2
Ruth Stresow	2
Joyce Bremer	2
LIFE Magazine	2
Louis Lautier	2
Rev. Albert S. Foley	1
Lawrence Rosen	1
NEW REPUBLIC Magazine	1
Tim Creery (Southam Newspapers)	1
Senator Lister Hill	1
Senator John Sparkman	1
Rep. George Huddleston	1
American Friends Service Committee	1
Dr. L. H. Foster	1
Rev. Glenn E. Smiley	1
Rev. L. I. Maddocks	1
Mrs. Catherine Fletcher	1
TIME Magazine	1
Copy of letter of Harold Tyler to Rep. A.C.Powell	1
Copy of letter of Joseph Ryan to Rep. A.C.Powell	1
Copy - A.H.Monk to Berl I. Bernhard	1
Copy - Berl I. Bernhard to Sen. Cilfford Case	1
Copy - Sen. Clifford Case to H. Alexander Smith	1
Copy - William Taylor to H. Alexander Smith	1
Copy - H. Alexander Smith to Irving Harris	1
Copy - Burke Marshall to Sen. Jacob Javits	1
Drew Pearson	1

David Nichols	1
H. Alexander Smith	1
Senator Vance Hartke	1
Conaly Bedell	1
Rev. John Morris	1
Other (includes personal letters)	59
TOTAL	214

Total number of personal letters sent by ICC 193

Number of cases compiled as of May 31, 1962	23
Number of documents printed	50,000
Number of documents distributed to senators, congressmen, governors, government agencies, national civic, social, and religious organizations, and locally	45,000 approx.

****

NEWS ARTICLES ON ICC DOCUMENTS

Bangor News (Maine) Document No. 4
Houlton Times (Maine) Document No. 4
Star News (National City, Calif.) Sun. May 15, 1962 editorial /Document No. 4
Cedar Grove Newspaper May 1960, Document No. 4
Afro-American April 1, 1961 , Document No. 10
The Ottawa Citizen , Series of 12 articles, June 13 thru June 27, 1961
Several news articles on the ICC have appeared in the Birmingham World Newspaper

The May 5, 1962 issue of THE NATION comments upon the work of the ICC. The recent report of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights includes four documents of the ICC. The Report published in late 1961 is entitled JUSTICE.

****

Of the 215 correspondents listed above,
The great majority are deeply concerned;
Some few simply wish to keep informed of what is going on;
A very few show no interest;
None have shown contempt for our efforts.

****

Of the 23 cases of rights violations reported by the Inter-Citizens Committee,
There have been no convictions of any of the violators.
One officer, police chief Roy Damron of Helena, was brought to trial in Federal court but was acquitted by an all white jury. The man whom he shot and paralyzed for life, Theotis Crymes, was later (16 months) exonerated by the Veterans Administration in Montgomery and is now receiving a pension from the government for life.
Some of the victims have left the state; others have served unjust sentences, while others still await the arrival of justice. One grave holds the secret of the untimely death of a 14 year old Negro lad. Five cases are presently being worked on.

J. L. Ware
President

C. Herbert Oliver
Secretary

D'Lane

INFORMATION AND WORKERS
SHEET NO. 1

BEYOND THE BALLOT BOX

The free ballot box is the symbol of democracy. It provides a key to a society of freedom, justice and security. At the ballot box, as before the bar of justice, every citizen is equal. Beyond the ballot box lies the Promised Land with opportunities for individual and group advancement.

Voting means that you are a free citizen with the same rights as other citizens. After you have registered and cast your vote for the persons you want elected to office, you know you are an American doing what other Americans do. You can be proud of yourself and of your country. It is not only your right, but your duty as an American citizen to vote.

1 - The American government is established on the principle that the people shall rule and not a dictator nor a class.

2 - Your vote is the only method of expressing approval or disapproval of who governs you.

3 - By registering and voting, you not only help yourself personally in so many ways but you make it easier to secure things that might be needed in your community such as better lighting, better and cleaner streets, better police protection, better schools, better fire protection, the kind of justice you get in courts, the kind of job your children can get with your city, state or country, how much taxes you have to pay and how your tax money is spent, etc.

4 - By registering and voting properly, you can help make Bessemer an example of true brotherhood in practice.

5 - IT IS TIME TO STOP BEGGING ON OUR KNEES FOR WHAT WE CAN SECURE IN THE VOTER'S BOOTH. Would you appear before the Board next month.

INFORMATION SHEET NO. 1

BESSEMER VOTER'S LEAGUE INFORMATION FORM

NAME

PRESENT ADDRESS

OLD ADDRESS

NAME OF CHURCH OR ORGANIZATION

PHONE NUMBER

Voter? Yes No

WHEN QUALIFIED

Did you re-identify? Yes No

Is Poll Tax Paid? Yes No

I will appear before Board_____

No. of Persons Over 21_____

NAME

PRESENT ADDRESS

OLD ADDRESS

NAME OF CHURCH OR ORGANIZATION

PHONE NUMBER

Voter? Yes No

WHEN QUALIFIED

Did you re-identify? Yes No

Is Poll Tax Paid? Yes No

I will appear before Board_____

No. of Persons Over 21*_____

NAME

PRESENT ADDRESS

OLD ADDRESS

NAME OF CHURCH OR ORGANIZATION

PHONE NUMBER

Voter? Yes No

WHEN QUALIFIED

Did you re-identify? Yes No

Is Poll Tax Paid? Yes No

I will appear before Board_____

No. of Persons Over 21_____

NAME

PRESENT ADDRESS

OLD ADDRESS

NAME OF CHURCH OR ORGANIZATION

PHONE NUMBER

Voter? Yes No

WHEN QUALIFIED

Did you re-identify? Yes No

Is Poll Tax Paid? Yes No

I will appear before Board_____

No. of Persons Over 21_____

INFORMATION AND WORKERS
SHEET NO. 2

INFORMATION FOR WORKERS

QUALIFICATIONS -

(a) Citizen of the United States
(b) 21 years of age or over
(c) Lived in State two years
(d) Lived in County one year
(e) Lived in your precinct three months
(f) Must be able to Read and Write

If you become 45 years of age before October 1, you do not owe Poll Tax.

Veterans are exempted from paying Poll Tax. ((Bring Discharge Paper with you.)

Poll Tax must be paid on or before February 1 of each year.

DUTIES FOR WORKERS

A few days before the last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of each month, call your Captain or Co-Captain, let them know how many persons promised you they would go before the Board of Registrars.

Have each person to promise that they will notify you as soon as they hear from the Board of Registrars. You then will notify your Captain.

Ask the teller of your Church to announce that these persons are now qualified Voters.

Encourage and seek new voters from your membership church.

Post a current list of qualified voters on the Bullentin Board or in a Conspicuous place in your church.

Add new voters names as they qualify.

Send names and address to the Secretary of the League.

BESSEMER VOTERS LEAGUE, a non-partisan organizatio

Birmingham World 12-7-63

Citizenship Project Makes Big Voter Registration Push

The Miles College Citizenship Porject, this week, urged all non-voters to turn out in large numbers on December 11 when the County Board of Registrars go back into session at the Courthouse.

The dedicated students who are working with the project are sparing no pains to stimulate voters registration among Negroes. They are doing grass-roots canvassing, organizing clinics, car-pools, and securing volunteer baby - sitters. Persons who could go to the Courthouse to register if they had a baby-sitter or transportation are urged to call the office of the Citizenship Project at 324-5214 and such assistance will be arranged.

Many of the members of the faculty of Miles are giving some help to the project in its efforts to increase voter registration.

Rev. A. L. Woods, Jr., the director of project, states that it has recently been revealed that of the total number of voters in Alabama Negro voters account for only 40 per cent. "It appears that in spite of socalled gains among Negro voters to the over-all total has changed very little'., he added.

"All churches, organizations, and individuals are expected to put forth special efforts to make sure that many hundreds of Negroes are at the Courthouse to register on December 11." Rev. Mr. Woods said.

Pink

Vot. Regist - Ala

Around the Town
Birm Wld. 2/8/64

BALLOT

There should be no let up in voter-registration stimulation by the organized promoters of a widen electorate. The Jefferson County Board of Registrars has extended the hours for registration on the first Monday of March and April. One of these two days will be able to register from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

[redacted] munity leaders. For all practical purposes the poll is dead in Alabama, although the law is still alive for state elections. The Montgomery Advertiser observed editorially in part, Feb. 3: "The registration process should never be made deliberately difficult. The old poll tax, levied on all voters alike, did not complicate the process. But a poll tax in the present circumstances would complicate matters by establishing a duel voting system and two classes of voters."

The editorial adds: "—Yet another collision may arise from that section of the U. S. Constitution which says that persons who vote in congressional elections must have the same qualifications as those who vote for members of the state legislature."

The other group seems to be taking advantage of the opportunity to become new voters without intense, well - financed, highly - publicized campaigns. Yet with all of this extra stimulation on a small flow of applicants are going down to the voter-registration office. The ballot is a civic tool by which one may be helped to better his lot, have a hand in the selection of those who will govern, and to register his view on public issues. Still the suffrage apathy seems to prevail among our group. The ballot is the crown of first-class citizenship.

-Register to Vote-

Ala. Poll Tax

~~APP. 2~~

AIDS TO THOSE IN NEED

FEDERAL

STATE

COUNTY

HELPS -
Compiled by
MRS. M. E. TILLY

WA
BW
RTB
JBL

JAMES JOHNSON, SR.,
CAMPAIGN MANAGER

MRS. AGNES STUDEMIRE,
ASSISTANT MANAGER

CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS, MASONIC TEMPLE BUILDING
Room 623
1630 Fourth Avenue, North
BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA
Phone 324-0424

MAY 15 1964

MRS. BERNICE C. JOHNSON

FOR

County Board of Education

"Cast a vote for Democratic Representation"

COPY

Dear Friend:

This letter is my humble way of expressing appreciation to you for the moral and financial support given me during my recent campaign for a seat on the Jefferson County Board of Education.

Altho we did not win the position we sought, I am happy because we ran a great race, one of the greatest in Negro political history in Jefferson County. 22,018 voters voted for me on May 5.

This was a great demonstration. It pointed out several things politically, but most of all, it emphasized the need for continued efforts on our part to increase our political strength. This can be done only at the precinct level by precinct leaders who are dedicated to the proposition that "We Shall Overcome," when we get the ballot.

Thanks again, we are not discouraged. We will continue to fight for freedom from political bondage.

Respectfully,

Bernice C. Johnson

(Mrs.) Bernice C. Johnson

Negro Cand

Subject to Democratic Primary, May 5, 1964

Pd. Pol. Adv. By Bernice C. Johnson's Campaign Committee - Birmingham, Alabama

This is a copy of the "Thank you Letter" I sent to my Campaign supporters. Enclosed is an official vote Count.

Bernice C. Johnson

OFFICIAL VOTE FIGURES HERE

BIRM. NEWS 5/7/64

Here are the official vote tabulations from Jefferson County in Tuesday's Democratic primary:

Congress — HUDDLESTON, 96,848; Vann 13,209.

Public Service Commission — CONNOR, 49,240; OWEN, 41,527; Folsom, 20,005.

(Connor carried Jefferson County but Owen is ahead statewide and apparently the two will be in a runoff June 2.)

Circuit judge No. 1—GILES, 73,006; Smiley, 8,445.

Circuit judge No. 2 — KING, 64,031; Grace, 16,949.

Circuit judge No. 7—BAILES, 69,843; Rice, 13,527.

Circuit judge No. 11—McELROY, 68,237; Conway, 12,898.

Circuit judge No. 12 (Precincts 33 and 53)—BALL, 13,822; Bridges, 8,085.

County treasurer — ABERCROMBIE, 33,951; BEARDEN, McDowell, 6,516; Rice, 19,519; Ward, 11,170.

Board of Education — GWIN, 70,980; ROGERS, 61,680; Ward, 22,940; Johnson, 22,018; Mitchell, 11,936; Hood, 9,094.

National committeeman—CONNOR, 55,412; Folsom, 19,001; Weeks, 15,817; Barker, 6,125.

Elector No. 1—ALLEN, 88,602; Langan, 18,627; Coe, 1,806; Crommelin, 1,328.

Elector No. 2—BLAIR, 83,947; Brantley, 21,780; Watts, 1,314; Price, 1,066.

Elector No. 3 — BREWER, 84,604; Shelton, 20,008; Kelley, 2,407.

Elector No. 4—EVANS, 80,835; Casey, 24,845.

Elector No. 5 — GALLION, 85,625; Haltom, 21,489.

Elector No. 6—GILES, 73,334; Ayers, 23,345.

Elector No. 7 — HANES, 84,021; Skidmore, 23,738.

Elector No. 8 — MATHEWS, 81,424; Allen, 25,736.

Elector No. 9—MIZELL, 81,306; Harrison, 24,075.

Elector No. 10 — SCOTT, 80,840; Hardwick, 24,665.

Alternate delegate No. 1 — HAWKINS, 33,400; Page, 28,801; Houseal, 24,078.

Delegate No. 2 — GAFFORD, 38,285; Collins, 35,462; Watts, 8,236.

Alternate Delegate No. 2 — INGRAM, 39,827; Gaines, 37,280; Moore, 5,183.

Delegate No. 3 — KILGORE, 43,153; Ethridge, 40,772.

Birmingham deaths

Dynamite Case Appeals Slated

BIRMINGHAM (AP) —The appeals of three Birmingham area men convicted of illegal possession of dynamite were set for today in Circuit Court.

Judge Elias C. Watson, and a jury, were to hear the case against Robert E. Chambliss, 59; John W. Hall, 35; and Charles Cagle, 22.

The three, all with Ku Klux Klan records, were convicted last October in recorders court by Judge Earl Langner. He sentenced them to six months in jail and fined them $100 apiece.

State Public Safety Director Al Lingo tried to link the case to Birmingham's church bombing, which killed four Negro girls. But the state was unable to prove any link.

Birmingham attorney Matt Murphy Jr. is defense attorney. When his clients' appeals trial was once postponed, he objected, stating that their lives are in danger 'as long as these cases are hanging fire."

Selma Times-Jour.
6-16-64

Ala.

JUL - 5 1962

Corr
Rec'

"Freedom belongs to those who earn it"

THE NON- PARTISANS VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE
AND MOBILE COUNTY
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

ROOM 5, FRANKLIN BUILDING
578 DAVIS AVENUE - HE 3-7927
Mailing Address: P. O. BOX 1091 - MOBILE, ALABAMA

July 3, 1962

Mr. Wiley Branton, Director
Political Education Committee
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Pursuant to our long distance telephone conversation of several days ago, I shall be in Atlanta, Friday, July 6, for the purpose of conferring with you about the matter we briefly discussed by phone.

I shall call you Friday after arrival in Atlanta, seeking an hour for an appointment.

Hoping to see you Friday, and with every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeFlore

J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Re: Interview 7/6/62 — ~~Nag~~ VEP Office
J. L. Lyglone a Dean of Mobile, Ala.
Non-partisan Voters League — Mobile County, Ala.
20 yrs old —
Raymond Scott, President
Conrad Deany, Chairman
11,088 Negro Voters in Mobile County

Clarence Montgomery head local chapter of Ala State Coordinating Comm.

JUL 30 1962

Make file
Mobile, Ala.

"Freedom belongs to those who earn it"

THE NON- PARTISANS VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE
AND MOBILE COUNTY
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

ROOM 5, FRANKLIN BUILDING
578 DAVIS AVENUE - HE 3-7927
Mailing Address: P. O. BOX 1091 - MOBILE, ALABAMA

July 27, 1962

Mr. Wiley Branton, Director
Political Education Committee
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

This is to thank you for the cordial reception accorded Mr. Perez Isom and me on the occasion of our visit to Atlanta on Friday, July 6.

Citizens here who are interested in the matter discussed by us with you at that time are also appreciative of the sober perspective projected by you with regard to the Mobile County voter registration situation.

We are pleased to advise at this time that the Non-Partisan Voters League has taken steps to extend the scope of its voter registration activity to several other counties in this section of the state. In another move to increase voter registration, the Rev. W. T. Smith, 1520 Lincoln Street, Mobile, Alabama, has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Church Committee on Voter Registration, a newly instituted project of the Non-Partisan Voters League.

This committee will have the responsibility of getting a maximum potential of voters from the more than 100 Negro churches in Mobile County. This phase of the work may also be extended to other counties, contingent upon the availability of funds from the Non-Partisan Voters League treasury.

Mr. Wiley Branton, Director
Political Education Committee

Additional voter registration literature by the Non-Partisan Voters League may be sent to you next week.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeFlore

J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

The Mobile County Coordinating Committee
For Registration And Voting
1403 Davis Avenue — Mobile, Alabama

October 17,1962

OCT 19 1962

Mr.Wiley Branton
Director of Voter Education Project
of the Southern Regional Conference
5 Forsyth Street N.W. Room 206
Atlanta,Georgia

Dear Mr.Branton:

This comes as a request for funds from our organization,the Mobile County Coordinating Committee For Voter Registration,to finance a drive for voter registration in Mobile County.

Inclosed is an itemized budget of what we feel is a minimum which we need to do the type of job that we have in mind.

The climate here in Mobile is conducive to such a drive and we feel that if the funds can be secured we can set the pace for the State and the South at large.

Thank you for whatever assistance you can give us.

If you would want a detailed explanation of any items in the proposed budget we shall be happy to submit such explanation.

With best wishes,

Very truly yours

Clarence H. Montgomery

C.H.Montgomery

CHM/lmt.
Enc.

Secretarial Help	----------	2,780.00
Postage	----------	300.00
Supplies	----------	500.00
Typewriter Rental (2)	---------	50.00
Adding Machine Rental	--------	20.00
Mimographing Machine	--------	150.00
Mis.Help (Other Help)	--------	2,500.00
Transportation	--------	1,500.00
Telephone	--------	100.00
Pole Tax (people not able to pay)		500.00
Printing and Advertising	-----	1,500.00
Rent	-----	250.00
		10,150. 00

October 22, 1962

Mr. C. H. Montgomery
The Mobile County Coordinating Committee
for Registration and Voting
1403 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Montgomery:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 19, in which you request assistance from the Voter Education Project in support of your registration efforts in Mobile County. We also acknowledge receipt of your itemized budget. I note that there is no indication as to the length of time that your registration drive will run, or as to the period of time that the proposed budget covers.

We have a limited amount of funds available for voter registration work and we will not be able to work in every place from which we receive requests, nor will we be able to work in all of the places which do select at the same time. Unless there is some special consideration which would cause us to change our present plans we have not selected Mobile County as a target area during our first fiscal year. This ends March 31, 1963. I am certain that we will give consideration to Mobile County during the second fiscal year.

We have previously received a request from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for funds to conduct a program in Mobile and we were visited last July by Mr. J. L. LeFlore and Mr. Leon of the Non-Partisans Voters League requesting consideration for Mobile and Mobile County.

It would help us in this office if you would outline for us something of the history of your organization and the coordination, if any, of your registration efforts and those of the Non-Partisans Voters League, or any other organizations in Mobile County. To what extend does your organization duplicate the efforts of other organizations with registration activity? What does your organization plan to do which has not been planned by some other agency? What are your thoughts about all organizations interested in registration in Mobile County working together under a coordinated program? Your answers to these questions and other comments will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

October 23, 1962

Mr. Frank P. Thomas, Publisher
Mobile Beacon
P.O. Box 1407
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Thomas:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 22, pertaining to Mr. C. H. Montgomery's letter of October 17 to me.

I am enclosing a copy of the letter which I wrote Mr. Montgomery and which is self-explanatory.

Thank you for your interest in voter registration. I would appreciate any thoughts which you might have regarding the questions which I have put to Mr. Montgomery.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

cc: Mr. J. L. LeFlore

MOBILE BEACON

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT

PHONE HE 3-3251 MOBILE, ALABAMA P. O. BOX 1407

October 22,1962

OCT 32 1962

OCT 23 1962

Mr.Wiley Branton
Director of Voter Education Project
of the Southern Regional Conference
5 Forsyth Street N.W. Room 206
Atlanta,Georgia

Dear Mr.Branton:

I have been handed a copy of a letter written to you on October 17,1962 by Mr.C.H. Montgomery,Chairman of the Mobile County Coordinating Committee For Voter Registration.In this letter Mr.Montgomery is seeking funds with which to finance a registration drive here in our county.

Mr.Montgomery and Mr.W.C.Patton of Birmingham requested me to write you and give you more information than what was contained in the letter sent to you.

This organization,Mobile County Coordinating Committee is a part of the Alabama Coordinating Committee which is headed by Mr.Patton.It has and is doing an excellent job with the limited resources. Mr.Montgomery and his associates are responsible for the greater portion of Mobile County Negroes registrants.This organization furnishes registrants; application forms and spend time in trying to help each prospective voter to learn to complete the application form properly.

The County Committee hold mass meetings weekly during the registration periods to inspire and encourage Voter Registration.Two weeks ago Atty,Elmer Henderson of Washington spoke at a mass meeting sponsored by the organization.

Phone HE 3-3251

P. O. Box 1407

MOBILE BEACON

Published Weekly At
415 South Cedar St
MOBILE, ALABAMA

An office with a secretary is being maintained with the limit amount of fund it has at it disposal.

I trust that this will give you a much broader and clearer picture of the activities of the Coordinating Committee so that you will be able to lend them what ever assistance you may.

Very truly yours

Frank P. Thomas

Frank P.Thomas,Publisher

FPT:lmt.

Mobile, Ala.

NOV 7 1962

JOHN L. LEFLORE
P. O. BOX 1091
MOBILE, ALA.

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS · THE PRESS

TELEPHONES:
RES. HE 2-7373 OFF. HE 3-7927

November 5, 1962

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project
Room 206, 5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

We appreciate immensely copies of letters to Messrs. Frank P. Thomas and C. H. Montgomery, mailed to us by Miss Jean Levine, administrative secretary of the Voter Education Project, at your suggestion.

Mr. Conrad Deane, chairman of the board of the Non-Partisan Voters League, and Mr. Joseph Malone, a member of the organization's executive committee, were instructed to talk with you Sunday, October 28, at the Montgomery meeting of the Alabama State Coordinating Committee relative to a vigorous voter registration drive in Mobile County and the First Congressional District area, to be sponsored jointly by the Mobile County Coordinating Committee for Registration and Voting and the Non-Partisan Voters League.

However, the two gentlemen said that they were not permitted to discuss this question with you after other Mobilians connected with the Mobile County Coordinating Committee group barred them from a meeting held with you behind closed doors.

Both the Non-Partisan Voters League and the Mobile County Coordinating Committee have very capable persons engaged in voter registration efforts. As an example, it is generally agreed in the community that Mr. Joseph Malone of the Non-Partisan Voters League is the top person engaged in this work, and Mrs. Robert Banks of the Mobile County Coordinating Committee, is looked upon as the person who has registered the next highest number of new voters. These two persons are presently available for full time service in this field.

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project

The two said organizations likewise have other enthusiastic and efficient workers who have impressive records in voter registration projects.

As a result of a survey conducted by the Non-Partisan Voters League some months ago at a cost of more than $800.00, a list of more than 2000 potential voters is available in our office.

We sincerely hope that the suggestion offered in this letter may be considered by your good office.

With every good wish and kindest personal regards, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeFlore

J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Same letter to all invitees (attached)

April 23, 1963

Mr. Cleveland Wolf
3 Washington Place
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Wolf:

A meeting has been planned for Tuesday, April 30, at 8:00 p.m. at the Mount Olive Baptist Church, 409 Lexington Avenue, for the purpose of discussing and organizing a voter registration drive in Mobile County.

Mr. Randolph T. Blackwell, Field Director for the Voter Education Project will lead this discussion through its initial phase.

The success of such a campaign will depend, in great measure, upon the cooperation of those persons who have demonstrated leadership qualities and a deep commitment to such a cause. For this reason we invite, and urge, your attendance at this meeting. A list of the invitees is attached for your information.

May we count on you?

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
enc.

Alabam
4- Mobile Project

INVITEES TO VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE PLANNING MEETING - 4/30/63

Rev. L. A. Chestang

Mr. Isom Clemon

Mr. Vernon Crawford

Mr. Frank E. Daffin

Mr. Henry Davenport

Mr. Conrad Dean

Dr. E. B. Goode

Mrs. E. B. Goode

Rev. George Harris

Mr. Alex Herman

Mr. Perez Ison

Mr. John LeFlore

Mr. C. H. Montgomery

Mr. C. E. Moses

Mr. Freeman Pallard

Mr. Booker S. Pinkney

The Rev. Bishop W. M. Smith

Rev. A. J. Stokes

Mr. F. P. Thomas

Mrs. Irne Washington

Mr. Cleveland Wolf

MR C. H. MONTGOMERY
MR. F. P. THOMAS

Mr. Cleveland Wolf - 3 Washington Pl

Isom Clemon - 204 S. Lawrence Street

Rev. George Harris - 2756 Old Shell Rd

Mr. Alex Herman - 257 North Ann Street

3 Mr. Frank E. Daffin - 1061 Congress Street

Mrs. Irne Washington - 752 New Jersey Setreet

Mrs. E. B. Goode - 1072 Davis Ave

Dr. E. B. Goode 1072 Davis Ave.

4 Mr. Henry Davenport - 1050½ Davis Ave

2 Atty Vernon Crowford 578 Davis Street

Atty C. E. Moses 1050½ Davis Ave

Rev. A. J. Stokes - 409 Lexington Street

Mr. Booker S. Pinkney - 1101 Sumerville Rd.

Mr. Freeman Pallard - 356 St. Charles St

Mr. Perez Ison - 1651 Belfast Street ?

Mr. John Le Flore - Chatague Street

5 Mr. Conrad Dean - 654 South Bayou Street

1 Rev. L. A. Chestang - 306 North Warren Street

The Rev.
Bishop W. M. Smith 1509 Basil Street
Bl Bishop "

TIME : Tuesday April 30, 1963 - 8:00 P. M .

Place : ##### Mt. Olive Baptist
409 Lexington AVE.

WAR's [illegible]

April 30

→ SRTB

C. [illegible]

The following letter sent also to:
Mr. Isom Clemon, Mr. Vernon Crawford, Dr. E. B. Goode, [illegible] Harris, Mr. Alex Herman, Mr. Perez Ison, Mr. John Leflore, Mr. C. H. Montgomery, Mr. Freeman Pallard, Mr. Booker S. Pinkney Rev. A. J. Stokes, Mr. F. P. Thomas, Mr. Cleveland Wolf.

May 3, 1963

The Rev. L. A. Chestang
306 North Warren Street
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Sir:

Just a note to express my appreciation for your presence at our voter registration planning meeting April 30th at the Mount Olive Baptist Church.

Mr. Blackwell has reported to me on this session, and I have the feeling that a registration drive of great magnitude will soon be starting in Mobile. We here in Atlanta stand ready to work with you when you have placed your plans before us. I understand that your group has planned to meet again Tuesday, May 6th. We shall expect to hear more from you regarding this meeting.

Thank you again, and encourage your abiding interest in this most important work.

Yours truly,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js

4-Alabama - Mobile Project

May 22, 1963

Mr. Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy
356 St. Charles Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Pollard:

Your letter of May 20th, along with the "Book of Strategy" is received here. May I express my appreciation and congratulations for the very thorough job that you have done. It is quite evident that a lot of hard work and serious thought has gone into the preparation of this outline.

We here at VEP are desirous of taking some action on this program. However, we are unable to do so for the reason that your budget is not before us. Will you please arrange to have a copy sent to us as soon as possible? This budget should indicate the amount of money that will be required and how it will be spent (in as much detail as possible), how much your organization will contribute, for what period of time you plan to operate, and when you plan to start. With this information, it will be possible for us to indicate something of what we are able to do.

Please express my congratulations to each member of your committee for what I feel is a very good job done.

Yours truly,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

RTB:

Do you have a copy of their budget? What do you think of their proposed program? —

WAB 296

RTB
WAB
JM

356 Saint Charles Ave.
Mobile, Alabama
May 20, 1963

Mr. Randolph T. Blackwell
5 Forsyth Street N. W.
Room 206
Atlanta 3, Georgia

MAY 22 1963

Dear Mr. Blackwell:

This is to acknowledge your letter of May 3. The suggestions and enclosed materials from the Huntsville, Alabama and Richmond, Virginia projects were most helpful in the formulation of the strategy for the VOTERS REGISTRATION BLITZ here in Mobile, County.

You will observe from the enclosed program, that we have worked out a method of attack that is designed to penetrate every home in Mobile, County from the river to the Mississippi state line and from Mobile Bay to the Washington, County line in the north. No street nor home is untouched.

Also, in conjunction with this this sweeping BLITZ, an intensive publicity program is designed to keep the project constantly in the minds and on the lips of the public.

I shall not discuss further details of the project because I think you will find them well defined in the enclosed Book of Strategy.

However, there is another suggestion mentioned in your letter of May 3 that I should like to explore a bit more. That is the matter of obtaining a well known band or personality to perform and give admittiance to newly qualified or all qualified voters. This is an idea that is sure to pay off in a handsome yield of newly registered voters, however, our budget now stands at $15,000 and it has been my observation that such drawing personalities as mentioned above demand high fees ranging from $5,000 to $8,000 for a night's performance. If there is any further help that you are able to give as regards this phase of the project, please inform me.

Respectfully submitted

yours sincerely

Freeman Pollard

Freeman Pollard,

Director of Strategy

Encl; copy of BOOK of STRATEGY

THE PRESS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS

JOHN L. LEFLORE
P. O. BOX 1091
MOBILE 6, ALABAMA

May 25, 1963

MAY 28 1963

MAY 28 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Project Director
Voter Education Project
Room 206, 5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Thank you for your letter of May 3, with regard to the proposed voter registration project for Mobile and Mobile County. Your Mr. Blackwell gave the movement the edification, enthusiasm and apparent determination which are vitally important factors toward the achievement of tangible goals in an effort of this kind.

I regret that in view of my absence from the city for periods of the past two weeks in connection with the University of Alabama and Mobile County public school desegregation cases, I was unable to attend the past two meetings of our voter registration committee here. However, barring unforeseen contingencies, I hope that I may be able to be present at the next meeting and learn what developments of importance have been projected by the group to aid the cause.

Correlated with an observation which I have made relative to our proposed Mobile voter registration project, the only bewildering question to many of us is why were so many persons of one of our two leading voter registration groups selected for the initial call and only two of the other? We certainly hope it is the intention of the Voter Education Project to maintain an impartial perspective in a matter like this with regard to its complexion and overall operation. Unless this committee is devoid of organizational entanglements or will equally recognize all movements which and all citizens who have merited consideration in voter registration work, the morale of certain influential sources may be lowered and the movement hurt accordingly. This would be unfortunate for all of us and what we stand for in this moment of political crisis.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeFlore/McA.

J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Rt T B.

Were the invitees mostly from one organization? I thought we had a good Cross-Section. This was what I wanted to avoid when I suggested that you see Hoflore on your first trip.

W. B.

W. B.

In making up our list of invitees we were guided by the degree of interest expressed in the poll in Voter registration.

Miss Fannie Neel took over the list and said that she felt that it represented a good cross section. The only consideration that we gave to organizations was to make sure that such groups as labor, Churches, youth and the like were included.

I would think that more individuals of Mr. Le Hone's organization were not included because they have been in interested mainly in court cases and not V.E. Drive. R. T. B.

May 28, 1963

Mr. John L. Leflore
P. O. Box 1091
Mobile 6, Alabama

Dear Mr. Leflore:

Thank you for your letter of May 25th regarding a planned registration project for Mobile County, Alabama.

You expressed serious concern as to how so many persons from one voter registration group were selected for the initial call, and only two from the other group. I think you should know that invitations were sent to individuals thought to be active or interested in non-partisan voter registration without regard for any organizational affiliation. The list was made up from names furnished us by our field director, an official of COPE, and from names in our own files. In our initial letter of April 23, 1963, we attached a list of the invitees to each letter, so that each personswould know who had been invited. One of the reasons for doing this was to let each invitee know what other persons had been invited, and we felt that if there were other key people who should have been invited, that someone would certainly let us know. Your letter of May 25th indicates that other people should have been invited.

We are trying to leave the actual operation of the project entirely to the discretion of local leadership, and I would certainly hope that every person who is seriously interested in voter registration would have an opportunity to participate in the program, and I feel certain that this local group would welcome the interest of any persons who really want to work. If you have additional people who ought to be included, then I would suggest that you communicate this information to the chairman of your coordinated program, Mr. C. H. Montgomery.

If you meet with any difficulty in this connection, then by all means let me know at once.

With kind personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js

cc: Mr. C. H. Montgomery
1403 Davis Ave.
Mobile, Alabama

May 29, 1963

Mr. Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy
356 St. Charles Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Pollard:

I am rushing this letter in the mail, hoping that the committee there has not gotten down to planning just how and when you will kick your drive off. I know that questions regarding finances and the degree of VEP sponsorship have not been fully worked out. These matters will be resolved in the near future, I am sure. Mr. Branton is communicating with Mr. Crawford in this regard. However, I don't think our planning need stand still until this is completed.

In the past, the great tendency has been for committees to begin registration drives with a big mass meeting. This has worked well, but the fact remains that mass meetings reach only certain kind of people in a community. The people that we agree must be reached are not the ones likely to be reached by such an approach. May I suggest that you give some thought to the possibility of a citizenship parade down Davis Street? Mobile is the ideal city, I think, for this kind of thing. I would like to suggest a parade of 50 or 75 groups pledging their support for voter registration. Cars, walking groups, a band if possible, etc. The committee could lead off with a truck bearing big signs, "Wanted - 25,000 New Voters", boy scouts with a banner, "We Are Too Young To Register - Will You Register and Vote For Us?" The Masonic ~~[illegible]~~ Cond in a car, "We Are Squarely Behind Voter Registration". I should think it would be possible to get many organizations to put in cars pledging support.

Now, this part of the idea, school kids would probably call "way out". But may I suggest that you consider the idea of getting 15 or 25 girls in bathing suits to hand out bills along with the moving parade? If we should do this, there would be some that would think it undignified, but I am sure that it would attract a lot of interest. This might be a good time for our "Jackass" with his sign, "This Friend is Not Registered Because He's a Jackass, What's Your Excuse?", to make his first appearance on the street. Remember, our first objective must be to get people talking about voter registration in every houshhold.

Now, regarding the "First Citizen" dance idea and your suggestion about the cost of a known personality, let me point out that it was my thinking that you should try to contact such a personality on a benefit basis. I don't think that you would want to try to pay. Many entertainers are now willing to do this kind of thing voluntarily. "Nat King Cole and many others personalities are natives of Alabama, and might be interested. Why don't you put a good man on the job of looking into this?

You will be interested in knowing that we are having some film trailers made to be run in commercial theaters. They will be available for use by your project. I will write you more on this later.

With every good wish, I am

Yours truly,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

Freedom belongs to those who earn it

THE NON-PARTISANS VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE AND MOBILE COUNTY
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

ROOM 5 FRANKLIN BUILDING
578 DAVIS AVENUE - HE 3-7927
Mailing Address P.O. BOX 1091 MOBILE, ALABAMA

May 31, 1963

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Crawford:

Those of us who are identified with the Non-Partisan Voters League are much concerned as to whether the functions of the proposed voter registration project will be on a non-organizational basis or otherwise.

We feel a moral responsibility to make this inquiry in view of existing reports relative to the planned allocation of funds requested in the budget recommendation. Information has reached us that these funds will be expended solely through the office of one of the recognized voter registration movements in the community while the already equipped office of the other such organization would be entirely ignored in this matter.

In view of the fact that we understand you were selected as chairman of the budget committee, we make this inquiry for a point of clarification as to how the proposed voter registration project will operate in this respect.

As you may already know, the Non-Partisan Voters League has spent more than $1,000.00 since 1961 in conducting voter registration surveys and in meeting other duties related to this important work.

We shall appreciate a reply at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

Raymond Scott

Raymond Scott, President

Conrad Deane, Chairman of the Board
NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE

PAGE PARTIALLY ILLEGIBLE

Mobile, Ala

J. L. LeFLORE
P. O. BOX 1091
MOBILE 6, ALABAMA

JUN 20 1963

WB ✓
JM ✓
RTB ✓

June 17, 1963

Mr. C. H. Montgomery
1403 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Montgomery:

It was called to my attention late tonight that you made an issue sometime earlier tonight over my reply of May 23 to a letter written several weeks before by Mr. Wiley Branton, director of the Voter Education Project, Atlanta, Georgia.

Unfortunately Mr. Conrad Deane apparently failed to pay close attention to the several discussions that have occurred in Non-Partisan Voters League meetings with regard to the above mentioned correspondence, or he would have been able to forthrightly explain the moral principle involved in the position assumed by us in this matter. I reaffirm that position and should like to advise with candor to this effect, that protest shall be made to all sources which might have provided the leadership in establishing the Voter Education Project unless the discriminatory situation prevailing here is corrected in a spirit of fairness and equitable justice to the Non-Partisan Voters League and the people associated with it who have been responsible for much of the civil rights work in this area, including a potent participation in voter registration throughout the years.

May I say with frankness that when information was made available to me listing the names of persons who had been called for the first meeting, I immediately suspected that the scheme had been planned in iniquity and wondered by what measurement of consideration had the Voter Education Project given its approval. This is not to attempt an unfavorable reflection on those selected for the said meeting, but it is to merely strengthen our contention that citizens representing one of the two important voter registration groups would wield an overwhelming influence in directing its affairs, despite equally as capable men in the other group who received no such recognition.

My letter to Mr. Branton was no secret and he certainly indicated he did not intend for his subsequent letter to me on the question involved to be that way.

Mr. C. H. Montgomery

In making an analogy in some instances and a camparison in others, of situations when you defended the right of yourselves or the organizations which you represent to fully participate in the administrative functionings of movements similar to the proposed voter registration committee, the attitude of yourself and those closely identified with the movements which with you are associated, in my opinion, reflects a most paradoxical position in this matter.

As an example, two organizations which you represent in official capacities were predominatly represented at the meeting several months ago to determine the demise of the defunct Mobile Citizens Council. While we felt your demands were not vased upon any premise of fairness, we acquiesced for the sake of harmony and community goodwill. However, with evaluations considered by us in the point of service to people as a criterion, to continue agreeing to what we regard as purely selfish and discriminatory tactics for the sake of pleasing a small segment of people.

There are several other instances of policy which we could list, if time permitted, to sustain the viewpoint about which we commented in the avobe paragraph.

May I assure you, sir, that after prayerful consideration of an issue, if I feel that our position is right, I hope to always be strong enough with courage to defend what I believe to be just, whether white or Negro people are involved. I vow this without malice toward anyone.

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeElore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

cc:
Mr. Wiley Branton

Voter Education Project

A PROGRAM OF THE SOUTHERN REGIONAL COUNCIL

ROOM 206 / 5 FORSYTH STREET, N. W. / ATLANTA 3, GEORGIA / TELEPHONE 525-0595

Wiley A. Branton, Project Director

June 18, 1963

M E M O R A N D U M

To: Special Committee for Mobile Voter Registration Drive

From: Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project

The Voter Education Project is interested in making a study of voter registration problems in the Mobile area. Ours is primarily a research program in which we make a study of the various techniques and methods which are being used to encourage people to register and vote. We do this by studying the actual program of participating agencies to whom we make financial grants in consideration of their agreement and cooperation in making certain reports to our office.

Our Field Director, Mr. Randolph T. Blackwell, went to Mobile last April to talk with people interested in voter registration and to discuss the possibility of setting up a special committee through which we might work in Mobile. Mr. Blackwell was cautioned to concern himself with individuals rather than with organizations.

Following Mr. Blackwell's visit to Mobile we called a special meeting for April 30, 1963, and invited several people. We included in each letter a list of the invitees. This should have afforded ample opportunity for the invitees to recommend or suggest other people, but we have received no communication as to the names of any people who should have been invited to that meeting, or to any subsequent meeting. Mr. Blackwell attended the April 30 meeting and reported to me his enthusiasm for a truly cooperative program in Mobile. The only thing that is holding the program up, at this point, is the matter of the approval of a budget.

Let me emphasize that we consider the special committee to be a well chosen one to work under VEP, and we do not consider that this program will be conducted under the name of either one of the two voter organizations in Mobile. We do hope, however, that any such program will have the unqualified support of both organizations as this will be an opportunity for you to help do something for the community, and at the same time get outside financial support. We can carry on a more effective job by working with a fairly small committee than we can with large numbers of people; but if there are people any of you feel should be added to the present committee, then you should submit these names to Mr. C. H. Montgomery who is chairman of the special committee, and I am certain that he will present these names to the committee for consideration.

VEP is satisfied with the program as we have helped to set it up, and we urge all of you to join with us in helping to get more registered voters without regard for partisan politics or organizational participation or credit. In short, we do not have time for organizational or personal jealousies.

May we count on your continued support?

BU = RTB

VERNON Z. CRAWFORD
ATTORNEY AT LAW
578 DAVIS AVENUE (FRANKLIN BLDG.)
MOBILE, ALABAMA

HEMLOCK 2-1691

JUN 22 1963

June 20, 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street NE
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Supplementing my letter to you of May 21, 1963, the drive is to be County wide: From the Mobile river on the east to the Mississippi State line on the West; from Mon Louis Island on the Southern most tip of the County to the County line at Calvert, Alabama.

Our budget is planned for one (1) year work. The Mobile County Board of Registrars' rules for registration are as follows:

(1) Regular registration period from October 1st to February 1st.
(2) Special registration period begins the first week in February and continues throughout the year with registration periods being held one (1) week in each month, beginning on the first Monday in February. Persons eligible for the special period of registration are;
    (a) Those who are exempt from paying poll taxes (veterans, persons over 45 years of age and those just reaching the age of 21).
    (b) Others may register during the special periods but cannot vote until the payment of poll taxes.
    (c) Poll taxes may be paid between October 1st and February 1st.

The Strategy Committee has designed its work with regards to the above and the drive will be active throughout the year with special emphasis between October 1st and February 1st.

We are now sponsoring a contest with the hope of raising $1,500 for voters registration.

Mr. LeFlore was elected to work on the Strategy Committee and the Budget Committee-he did not serve on either. Six (6) other persons from the Non-Partisans Voters League of Mobile and Mobile County and the Citizens Committee have worked with us from the start, all serving on committees. Mr. LeFlore has not presented any other names to Mr. Montgomery as you directed him in your letter of May, 1963.

Most sincerely,

Vernon Z. Crawford
Chairman, Budget Committee

VZC:mht

cc: Mr. C. H. Montgomery
Mr. Freeman W. Pollard

6-27-63

June 20, 1963

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Vernon:

I wish to remind you that I have not yet received an answer from my letter to you of May 27, a photocopy of which is enclosed.

We regard the $15,000 budget as being very excessive if this is to be for a four-month period and we also have to know how much of the budget you intend to raise from local sources.

Sincerely yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
enc.

JUN 7 1963

May 31, 1963

COPY

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Crawford:

Those of us who are identified with the Non-Partisan Voters League are much concerned as to whether the functions of the proposed voter registration project will be on a non-organizational basis or otherwise.

We feel a moral responsibility to make this inquiry in view of existing reports relative to the planned allocation of funds requested in the budget recommendation. Information has reached us that these funds will be expended solely through the office of one of the recognized voter registration movements in the community while the already equipped office of the other such organization would be entirely ignored in this matter.

In view of the fact that we understand you were selected as chairman of the budget committee, we make this inquiry for a point of clarification as to how the proposed voter registration project will operate in this respect.

As you may already know, the Non-Partisan Voters League has spent more than $1,000.00 since 1961 in conducting voter registration surveys and in meeting other duties related to this important work.

We shall appreciate a reply at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

Raymond Scott, President

Conrad Deane, Chairman of the Board
NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE

May 27, 1963

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Crawford:

This will acknowledge receipt of the proposed budget for a voter registration campaign in Mobile County, Alabama. I note that you plan to conduct one four-month drive during the year.

The budget which you submitted in the amount of $15,000 seems extremely excessive if I am interpreting this correctly to be a four-month period. Will you please explain this more in detail for me and also indicate how much of the budget your local community proposes to raise and how much assistance you are seeking from the Voter Education Project.

Kind personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

Mobile, Ala.

WBB

VERNON Z. CRAWFORD
ATTORNEY AT LAW
578 DAVIS AVENUE (FRANKLIN BLDG.)
MOBILE, ALABAMA

HEMLOCK 2-1691

MAY 23 1963

May 21, 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street NE
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Thank you for your letters of several days ago in reference to the Voter's Registration Program which is expected to be launched in Mobile shortly.

I have been elected to serve as chairman of the Budget Committee and Co-chairman of the Strategy Committee and was authorized to submit our budget to your office.

We propose to divide the County of Mobile (Negro Communities) into sections comprising approximately four (4) square blocks in area. Each section shall have a Captain who shall be responsible for each person of voting age in his respective section or designated area. The Captain shall obtain information as to number of voters or non-voters in each home. Such information shall be placed on an index card. The completed card shall be kept on file in the Voters Registration Office.

The Executive Secretary shall make periodic contact with the Captain for progess report. We propose to employ two full time Secretaries at a salary of approximately $48.00 per week for one (1) and $40.00 per week for the other. Part-time employees shall be paid at the rate of $.75 to $1.00 per hour. We shall have one (1) four month drive during the year. Before and after each drive time shall be spent in organizing, planning and checking progress.

We intend to advertise in our local daily and weekly papers; on radio and television; automobile stickers and placards; memographed materials and hand bills to be passed out on streets and all public places; and further, several pieces of literature shall be distributed to each home.

We shall await your advices with respect to the above.

Respectfully submitted,

Vernon Z. Crawford
Chairman of Budget Committee

Enc. Budget

Booker T. Pinkney, Co-chairman
Rev. L. A. Chestang
John LeFlore
Dr. E. B. Goode
Rev. Harris
Mr. Clemmons
C. H. Montgomery, General Chairman

PROPOSED BUDGET FOR VOTERS EDUCATION PROJECT

Submitted by

Budget Committee (Mobile, Alabama)

May 7, 1963

Atty. Vernon Z. Crawford, Chairman
Booker T. Pinkney, Co-chairman
Rev. L. A. Chestang
John LeFlore
Dr. E. B. Goode
Rev. Harris
Mr. Clemmons

Salaries	$ 8,000.00
Jingles and Books	3,000.00
Envelopes	80.00
Letterhead	80.00
Typewriter	80.00
Mimeograph Machine	350.00
Postage	250.00
Printing	80.00
Advertising (Radio, T.V. and newspapers)	1,900.00
Distribution of Handbills	50.00
Stationary (Memo pads, pencils, cards, stencils and etc	290.00
Miscellaneous (Office Furniture, etc.)	600.00
Maintenance	240.00

TOTAL $ 15,000.00

Mobile, Ala

JUN 24 1963

WB ✓
JM ✓
RTB ✓

356 Saint Charles Ave.
Mobile, Alabama
June 23, 1963

Mr. Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Blackwell:

First of all I shall not feel comfortable until I have explained the reason for this late reply. I happen to be, for better or for worse, one of those writers who has not "made it" yet. Being in such a class one finds that literary agents often make exacting demands and they must be met else the one chance of a life time might be lost. Such has been my situation for the past six weeks.

However, the above activity has not dampened my enthusiasm for our voter education project. As a matter of fact, your last letter uncorked some ideas that I have held back for years because there were no means to bring them into fruition. The idea that you advanced as regarding Lena Horne and Nat King Cole and other celebrities is well taken and we have started making contacts to secure one or more of the persons to spark "First Citizen Ball". (Note I took the liberty of calling the affair a "ball" instead of a dance. Everybody in Mobile wants to go to a ball, eventhough the music is furnished by a juke box. But very few are keen about going to a mere dance. Get it?)

In conjunction with this "Citizenship Week", the week that will begin our drive, we are making plans with the two local radio stations to sponsor a "Citizenship Marathon" that will begin on the Saturday night of that week at 6:00 o'clock and continue through until 6:oo o'clock Sunday Morning. We will need two celebrities to spark this affair, one for the first part to cater that facet of the public which appreciates jazz and popular music. Beginning at 12:01 A.M Sunday morning we will need a personality who will appeal to persons who appreciate spirituals and gospel singing. Both programs will be geared to excite competition among Churches, clubs, school faculties, business firms, Greek Letter organizations and any other groups. The enclosed form will be sent to the organization a week in advance along with a letter explaining the contest.

The master of ceremony of the program will employ the speaking talent of each celebrity to appeal to the organizations and announce the percentage rating of each reporting and non-reporting organization.

Doctor Gaines Thompson, who along with his club, The Strikers, has had a vast amount of experience in getting and working with talent of this sort. I am happy to say that he has gladly consented to assist us in getting the most out of this affair.

If there is anything else that you wish me to know as regards this overall project, please inform me.

Sincerely yours

Freeman Pollard

Freeman Pollard

PS. It would be useless for me to send you the form as mentioned above. It will border along the lines of the one that you sent me. "APPENDIX III" Huntsville, Alabama.

Please convey my very best wishes to Mr. Branton and I say bully!! for the stand taken in his memorandum of June 18, 1963. Without a doubt now, we here in Mobile can work at a dedicated and fervored pitch.

JUL 5 1963 WBC

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE

JUL 5 1963

July 3, 1963

COPY

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Franklin Building
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Crawford:

This is to rather belatedly acknowledge your letter of June 14, 1963, with regard to an unfortunate development in the Mobile voter registration committee matter. I unhesitatingly attribute the existing conditions to the unfair thinking as expressed by you and others, and the discriminatory decision of those who selected only persons of one group to arrange the initial meeting for the important task to be undertaken with a project of this kind.

When you talked with me a Sunday morning several weeks ago you said in effect that you sometimes make careless or loose remarks. While I have high regard for you as a fellow citizen, the context of your letter, in my opinion, bears out the truth of your confession about making loose or reckless statements.

We think you will admit, Mr. Crawford, that you had not shown any interest in voter registration until Mr. C. H. Montgomery's group selected you as a member of this committee which was set up with the approval of the Voter Registration Project. Therefore, we do not feel that you are qualified to determine the feeling of those of us who have unselfishly given years of our lives to the cause of freedom for Negroes and for the right of franchise for our people. We are rather amused that you would make the ridiculous statement that "it is quite obvious that the main concern of the Non-Partisan Voters League, as it relates to the Voters Registration drive, is the allocation of funds."

For your information the Non-Partisan Voters League spent more than $1000.00 for voter registration drives in the last two or three years while other groups, as far as we know, have spent little or no money in this regard with the exception of having facsimiles or voter registration forms printed. It may also be interesting to you to know that the people who were ignored by Mr. Wiley Branton relative to the selection of the original committee, include those who were responsible for breaking down the Democratic white primary in Alabama and who were, to a large degree, responsible for the present Negro voting strength in Mobile and Mobile County. If I may say with candor, these people are so disgusted with the way Mr. Branton permitted the original committee to be selected they are seriously considering conducting their own voter registration drive as they have done every year.

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford

This feeling is strongly manifested by these people because Mr. Branton had previous knowledge of the two leading voter registration organizations and it had been suggested to him that both be considered in any initial plans for work in this field.

Another statement of yours which seems to be absurd to us is that which indicates the Non-Partisan Voters League has so-called "diversified interests," as you expressed it, "as opposed to the exclusive work of Mr. Montgomery's organization." As we understand our Mr. LeFlore told you several days ago, you are apparently more interested in an organization's classification than you are in its ability to achieve a result. If the Non-Partisan Voters League is to be penalized for its interest and work in the overall civil rights field, our racial group is faced with a dismal future. May we also say that if your opinion should be accepted as a criterion, such movements as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the NAACP and even the Southern Regional Council would be barred from participating in projects on voter registration questions.

Finally, may we agree with you that every penny of any money which may be allocated for a voter registration drive in Mobile be used for that purpose only, and not for spurious attorney fees, trips for certain individuals, the buying of office furnishings and the paying of telephone bills, and the like.

Very truly yours,

Raymond Scott, President
NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE

cc: Mr. Wiley Branton

COPY

WB

July 5, 1963

MEMORANDUM

To: Wiley A. Branton

From: Randolph T. Blackwell

Subject: Mobile Project

I have re-examined the entire file relative to the proposed voter education project in Mobile with the following questions in mind:

1. When would it be desirable to start the proposed drive?
2. For what period of time should the drive be sponsored?
3. How much financial support should VEP give to the proposed drive?

With reference to the starting of the Mobile project, several factors would appear to be important. In the first place, there is a certain amount of interest existing in the community now about voter registration that must be taken advantage of, or we run the risk of that interest dying down. The question posed here is, "Would the project yield greater profits if delayed until the fall rather than during the present season?" There are advantages in conducting campaigns in the summer, such as: Students being available to work in such a program, the greater likelihood of favorable weather, a decrease in the amount of transportation that will be needed, and the suitability of presenting registration in several ways that are not possible under the fall and winter climatic conditions.

It is suggested in communications from Mr. Crawford that the Mobile committee intends to concentrate on the time between October 1st and February 1st for their major work, with some token work being done the rest of the year. I rather suspect that this suggestion is based on the fact that during the period suggested for concentration, there will be more days given by the Board of Registration. However, I am not sure that the committee has taken into consideration the advantages mentioned above that influences success, nor am I sure that the committee could take the full advantage of continuous registration if it did exist. The three week non-registration months might be just as satisfactory in view of the fact that they allow the committee time to study its approaches before it spends all of its money. So it is that: I recommend that we encourage the Mobile committee to start its drive as soon as possible - in late July or early August.

With reference to how long/the drive in Mobile should be conducted, it seems to me that we would want to point out to the committee that our own experience has been that those that are conducted for short periods of time are the most successful, and that people will willingly commit themselves to work for short periods, but will stand back if they think they are getting into something with permanence. And, then, it would seem that it should be remembered that four 90-day drives is the same as a one twelve months drive, with the added advantage of allowing the local committee and VEP the opportunity of considering the advisability of continuing the program. If the 90-day idea is accepted, there would also be the added advantage of more individuals having an opportunity to participate in leadership.

With reference to financial support for the Mobile project - I would recommend that VEP assume sponsorship of the project for a 90-day period at the rate of 60% of the budget as proposed in Mr. Crawford's letter of May 21, 1963, the amount being $2,250. ($750 per month).

Randolph T. Blackwell

RTB:js

July 8, 1963

Mr. Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy
356 Saint Charles Avenue
Mobile 17, Alabama

Dear Mr. Pollard:

Your letters of June 23rd and July 5th are received here. I am embarrassed by my not having responded before now. Please be assured that we look with favor upon your registration plans, particularly the "Citizenship Marathon", which is a new technique with us. I look forward to having the opportunity to observe the entire operation at close range in the near future. Please keep us informed as to the time and place where things are happening.

With every good wish, I am

As ever,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

356 Saint Charles Avenue
Mobile 17, Alabama
July 2, 1963

Mr. Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director, VEP
Room 205
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

JUL 5 1963

Dear Mr. Blackwell:

It is highly that this letter and one from your office may cross but a local situation has developed that makes it imperative that I write you.

In my last letter to you I mentioned a "Citizenship Marathon". To get this show over we have requested the aid of the two local radio stations. However, they have informed us that they must have sufficient time to clear such programs through the FCC before they can give final approval. If your office approves of the plan as outlined in my letter of June 23, Please inform that I may notify the radio stations concerned.

Sincerely Yours,
Freeman Pollard
Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy

VERNON Z. CRAWFORD
ATTORNEY AT LAW
570 DAVIS AVENUE
MOBILE, ALABAMA

WBV
JMV
RTB

JUL 10 1963

July 9, 1963

Mr. Raymond Scott, President
Non-Partisan Voters League
Room 5, Franklin Building
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Scott:

This acknowledges receipt of your letter dated July 3, 1963. I am referring same to Mr. C. H. Montgomery, Chairman, Special Committee for Mobile Voter Registration Drive, for his disposition.

Very truly yours,

Vernon Z. Crawford

VZC:mht

cc: Mr. Wiley A. Branton ✓

"Freedom belongs to those who earn it"

THE NON-PARTISANS VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE AND MOBILE COUNTY
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

ROOM 5, FRANKLIN BUILDING
578 DAVIS AVENUE - HE 3-7927
Mailing Address: P-O BOX 1091 - MOBILE, ALABAMA

July 3, 1963

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Franklin Building
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Crawford:

This is to rather belatedly acknowledge your letter of June 14, 1963, with regard to an unfortunate development in the Mobile voter registration committee matter. I unhesitatingly attribute the existing conditions to the unfair thinking as expressed by you and others, and the discriminatory decision of those who selected only persons of one group to arrange the initial meeting for the important task to be undertaken with a project of this kind.

When you talked with me a Sunday morning several weeks ago you said in effect that you sometimes make careless or loose remarks. While I have high regard for you as a fellow citizen, the context of your letter, in my opinion, bears out the truth of your confession about making loose or reckless statements.

We think you will admit, Mr. Crawford, that you had not shown any interest in voter registration until Mr. C. H. Montgomery's group selected you as a member of this committee which was set up with the approval of the Voter Registration Project. Therefore, we do not feel that you are qualified to determine the feeling of those of us who have unselfishly given years of our lives to the cause of freedom for Negroes and for the right of franchise for our people. We are rather amused that you would make the ridiculous statement that "it is quite obvious that the main concern of the Non-Partisan Voters League, as it relates to the Voters Registration drive, is the allocation of funds."

For your information the Non-Partisan Voters League spent more than $1000.00 for voter registration drives in the last two or three years while other groups, as far as we know, have spent little or no money in this regard with the exception of having facsimiles or voter registration forms printed. It may also be interesting to you to know that the people who were ignored by Mr. Wiley Branton relative to the selection of the original committee, include those who were responsible for breaking down the Democratic white primary in Alabama and who were, to a large degree, responsible for the present Negro voting strength in Mobile and Mobile County. If I may say with candor, these people are so disgusted with the way Mr. Branton permitted the original committee to be selected they are seriously considering conducting their own voter registration drive as they have done every year.

PAGE PARTIALLY ILLEGIBLE

Mr. Vernon Z. Crawford

This feeling is strongly manifested by these people because Mr. Branton had previous knowledge of the two leading voter registration organizations and it had been suggested to him that both be considered in any initial plans for work in this field.

Another statement of yours which seems to be absurd to us is that which indicates the Non-Partisan Voters League has so-called "diversified interests," as you expressed it, "as opposed to the exclusive work of Mr. Montgomery's organization." As we understand our Mr. LePlore told you several days ago, you are apparently more interested in an organization's classification than you are in its ability to achieve a result. If the Non-Partisan Voters League is to be penalized for its interest and work in the overall civil rights field, our racial group is faced with a dismal future. May we also say that if your opinion should be accepted as a criterion, such movements as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the NAACP and even the Southern Regional Council would be barred from participating in projects on voter registration questions.

Finally, may we agree with you that every penny of any money which may be allocated for a voter registration drive in Mobile be used for that purpose only, and not for spurious attorney fees, trips for certain individuals, the buying of office furnishings and the paying of telephone bills, and the like.

Very truly yours,

Raymond Scott

Raymond Scott, President
NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE

cc: Mr. Wiley Branton

PAGE PARTIALLY ILLEGIBLE

7-16-63

July 9, 1963

Mr. C. R. Montgomery, Chairman
Mobile Voter Education Project
1403 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Montgomery:

We have given careful consideration to the many problems involved in getting a Voter-Education-Project-sponsored registration drive under way in Mobile. Because of the fact that Mobile does not, at this time, enjoy the unity of leadership which we would like to see we are reluctant to approve any year-round proposal for voter registration in your community.

We strongly urge volunteer work in connection with any registration effort and you simply cannot expect volunteer workers to remain active but for so long a time. We have concluded that our initial effort in Mobile should be limited to a 90-day effort following which we will give immediate consideration to a continued drive to begin either upon the completion of the initial effort or at some subsequent date.

The matter of time of a drive is something which we like to leave entirely to the discretion of the local community and I note that you had planned to conduct your conctrated effort during the period October 1 to February 1. Mr. Blackwell has pointed out to me in a memorandum that it would be desirable for you to start a drive this summer so as to take advantage of the student help which should be available to you at this time. Even though your registration office will not be open as much during the summer as it will after October 1, you still might be able to get very good results and the weather conditions should be much more favorable now than in the fall.

VEP has decided to make an initial grant to your Mobile project in the amount of $2,250 to cover a 90-day program which will be paid to you at the rate of $750 per month. We ask you to decide whether you want to launch a program immediately so as to get something started this summer or defer your program until October 1. We leave this decision entirely up to you. We do ask that this project be operated under the name of Mobile Voter Education Project and that the efforts not be credited to any particular organization as we would like for this to be a coordinated, non-partisan effort.

Please feel free to communicate with us regarding any matters pertaining to the voter registration program.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

cc: Mr. Vernon Crawford
Mr. J. L. Leflore
Mr. Freeman Pollard
Mr. Raymond Scott

JUL 20 1963

MOBILE COUNTY VOTER EDUCATION PROJECT

356 Saint Charles Ave.
July 7, 1963

Mr. Wiley Branton,
Project Director
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Your letter of July 9 has been received and accepted by the Mobile County Voter Education Project. We are happy to inform you of our acceptance of the financial outlay as described in your letter. As of this moment, the first stencils are being cut to launch our drive.

While it is certain that the financial assistance from VEP is appreciated, we feel that the wide experience that your office has had in this field has provided you and your staff with unique wisdom. I trust you will allow us the benefit of sharing that wisdom.

With best regards, we remain,

Sincerely yours,
Freeman W. Pollard
Freeman Pollard

WB
JM
RTB

OFFICERS

C. W. ALLEN, SR.
Founder

A. L. HERMAN
President

C. W. ALLEN, III
Exec. Vice-Pres. & Treasurer

D. L. MOORE
Vice-Pres.-Sec'ty

C. T. MCKINNIS
2nd. Vice-Pres.

Unity Burial & Life Insurance Co.

INCORPORATED

"A Friend In The Time Of Need"

506 St. Michael Street

MOBILE, ALABAMA

DIRECTORS

A. L. HERMAN
Chairman

C. W. ALLEN, III

JOSEPHINE GRAY

C. T. MCKINNIS

D. L. MOORE

July 11, 1963

JUL 12 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Room 206
5 Forsyth St. N. W.
c/o Voters Education Project
Atlanta 3, Georgia

My Dear Mr. Branton:

I do appreciate that I have been selected as one of the members of the voters Education Project. I can assure you that I shall work hard and untiringly with its Chairman, Mr. C. H. Montgomery; for anything to help my people and realizing that the vote is the only salvation for all of us, I am willing to make any sacrifice to put the program over.

Having attended several meetings I am sure that we can put the project over for the benefit of everyone.

Kindly remember me to Mr. Blackwell.

Sincerely Yours

Alex L. Herman

Alex L. Herman

VERNON Z. CRAWFORD
ATTORNEY AT LAW
570 DAVIS AVENUE
MOBILE, ALABAMA

June 14, 1963

JUN 17 1963

Mr. Raymond Scott, President
Non-Partisan Voters League
Room 5, Franklin Building
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Scott:

In reply to your letter addressed to the undersigned dated May 31, 1963, I am not principally concerned with which organization receive funds from Atlanta, However, I am of the opinion that, the organized Voters Registration Group which Mr. C. H. Montgomery is Chairman, is the one to conduct the drive. The basis for such opinion is the diversified interests of the Non-Partisan Voters League as opposed to the exclusive work of Mr. Montgomery's organization.

Your office or organization is not "entirely ignored in this matter', for the reason that, members of your committee are also members of the other group. It is quite obvious that the main concern of the Non-Partisan Voters League, as it relates to the Voters Registration drive, is the allocation of funds.

In the event the Voters Registration Group in Atlanta allocate funds for the Voters Registration drive in Mobile, I shall be in the forefront to see that every penny of it be spent solely for the purpose intended and that no individual or organization receive any part of the fund for any other purpose.

Very truly yours,

Vernon Z. Crawford

VZC:mht

cc: Mr. C. H. Montgomery
Mr. Wiley Branton

July 17, 1963

Mr. Vernon Crawford
Attorney at Law
578 Davis Avenue
Franklin Building
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Sir:

I will be in Mobile Thursday afternoon, July 18th, and would like very much to talk with you and as many members of your committee as you find it possible to get together, after 8:30 p. m. I will call you upon my arrival in the city as to the place of the meeting.

Looking forward to seeing you.

Very truly yours,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

July 17, 1963

Mr. Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy
356 St. Charles Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Sir:

I will be in Mobile Thursday afternoon, July 18th, and would like very much to talk with you and as many members of your committee as you find it possible to get together, between 7 o'clock and 8:30. I expect to be talking with Mr. Crawford and his committee after 8:30.

Looking forward to seeing you. I remain

Respectfully yours,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

P. S. I will call you when I arrive as to the place of meeting.

July 22, 1963

Mr. Tom Coutch
Club Harlem
St. Stephens Road
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Coutch:

Information has reached us here through our Field Director and through Mr. William Farrell, of the very outstanding leadership that you and the members of the Tavern Owners Association are giving to the community in voter registration. What you are doing represents the only instance, to our knowledge, of an effective technique being used to reach those segments of the population that is so often missed. We congratulate you, and hope sincerely that you will find it possible to continue in this important work.

Please feel free to share this letter with the other club owners there in the city of Mobile.

With warm regards, I remain

Yours truly,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js

alabama
4- mobile

July 22, 1963

Mr. Freeman Pollard
Director of Strategy
356 St. Charles Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Pollard:

Let me congratulate you and the other members of the Mobile Voter Registration Project for what I am already convinced is going to be a very successful drive. I hope you are going to continue to encourage - particularly - the Strategy Committee to continue to be creative in its approaches.

I went from Mobile over to New Orleans, and there, talking with the people, I came upon a theory that I think you will want to consider. I was told by the secretary for the New Orleans project that they are considering doing what they are calling a "Beer Bust" for new voters. The idea, as I understand it, is this: They intend to get one of the brewery companies to supply them, free of charge, with beer, and they are going to say to persons, that everybody registered of a given period, say a week, is invited to this particular affair. They seem to believe that they will be able to appeal to that crowd of persons that are not normally reached in mass meetings and the like. It struck me as being just the kind of thing you could make use of, even to a greater extent, than the people in New Orleans. Particularly, since you have such very good cooperation coming from the tavern owners.

We want to work closely with you. You will surely want to encourage Mr. Crawford to get his letter off to the Atlanta office as soon as possible. It occurs to me that it might be desirable for him to state in his letter, the name of the organization, the persons that are authorized to sign the checks, the name of the bank, and a sample check from that bank. Much of this information, I have already - and yet - I think our files should show this information coming from the Mobile Committee.

Please extend my personal regards to the many people I know there.

As ever,

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

WB

July 26, 1963

M E M O R A N D U M

To: Wiley A. Branton

From: Randolph T. Blackwell

Re: Field Trip to Mobile, Alabama, July 18, 1963

On July 18th, I visited Mobile, Alabama, motivated mainly by the desire to check to see if there were things that I could do to insure the most effective use of the money that had been set aside for use in the Mobile project.

I wrote a letter to Mr. Crawford and Mr. Pollard, asking for the privilege of meeting with them on the evening of the 18th. It was my good fortune to learn that Mr. Montgomery had called a meeting for the entire registration committee for the same evening. I attended that meeting. It afforded me a chance to examine a number of things. There was the question of how serious was the problems growing out of the Leflore controversy. There was some question of how much deliberate planning was being done, and to what extent were people being involved in the planning, and then there was the question of how much money would actually be needed, and how could the people of the community get together some part of the money that would be needed. These were questions I felt should be investigated before the project got on the way, as well as questions in which there was room for a lot of practical education of lasting value.

Except in a project like this, I don't know where there exists an opportunity for a leadership group to learn anything about solving intergroup conflict, planning and programming, involving individuals in a program, and the business of fund-raising.

On a previous trip, I had worked at trying to be inspiring. I had challenged the group at that time in Mobile to dare to be creative in their approaches, charging that one of the problems in voter registration was the fact that there is a great tendency to run a registration drive in the same unsuccessful way that they had been run for the past 20 years. It was gratifying to find some evidence of success in both regards. I was inspiring, at least to the extent that the people of Mobile had not waited for VEP sponsorship to begin their work. They had begun the next day, and had registered, with great enthusiasm, more than 400 people.

So far as being creative where approaches is concerned, they had taken my dare, and had come up with several unique approaches. Two of which are: a radio marathon, and voter education sessions in night clubs. The night club idea is the only single approach being employed for reaching those individuals that would be missed by mass meetings and the like. The nature of this night club thing can better be understood by examining the attached placard, which I found distributed about the city.

It was a real pleasure to observe that the people were no longer obsessed with the feeling that they needed a professional worker to come in from the outside; nor were they over-obsessed or concerned with VEP money. It seemed to me that they had been much too busy planning their drive; however, the steps necessary to qualify for VEP funds were taken in this meeting. The group agreed to use the name, "The Mobile Voter ~~Registration~~ EDUCATION Project", and they elected Mr. C. M. Montgomery, permanent chairman, Atty. Vernon Z. Crawford, Treasurer, and Mr. Pollard, Executive Secretary. They selected the Merchants National Bank as the institution with which they would do business. It was agreed that they would require the signature of two of the above stated officers to sign all checks. The group is requesting that VEP in Atlanta have prepared checks to its liking, and send them down as soon as possible.

Already, individuals in the Mobile county community are beginning to distinguish themselves in voter education. There is a blind man down there by the name of Mr. Bishop who has already been responsible for getting 28 people to register by himself. There is a Mrs. Dorothy Williams that has developed into a real trouper. I recall on my first organizing trip, that Mrs. Williams was present, but seemed to have had no confidence in her ability to do this kind of work. As I spoke to the group, I walked around the room directing my remarks to specific individuals, but at the same time, speaking to the whole company. I walked over and stood in front of Mrs. Williams, and began to ask such questions as: "Have we stopped to think how many women in the community have time to give to this kind of thing if they were sold on it?", and, "Have we considered how effective they could be?", and, "Have we stopped to review how successful they have been in Red Cross and Community Chest drives in the past?" This kind of thing seemed to have started things happening in Mrs. Williams' head. She is now speaking in a different church every week, and to two and three clubs per week. Mrs. Williams is not alone in this kind of work. Mrs. Helen Hayes feels much the same way. These are the same people that will someday meet in a retreat to work out the techniques for real political education, now that they have developed the skills necessary to effectively work with people.

Mrs. Bernice Johnson met these two ladies when she was in Mobile.

They went with her into two or three counties. She was so impressed with them that she encouraged them to apply to VEP for sponsorship as organizers in that congressional district. When I learned of this suggestion, and encouragement by Mrs. Johnson, I joined in encouraging them to place such a request before VEP. A letter can be expected in the near future containing such a request.

On Friday, I spent the day talking with individuals - Dr. Goode, Atty. Crawford, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Montgomery, and others about the Leflore split and other things. All in all, I feel that we have a well-organized program, and some real effort and results can be expected to come out of it.

I therefore recommend that: (1) VEP use the information supplied here, as a basis for starting to release the money that has been appropriated for the Mobile community, (2) That we have printed, as soon as possible, the supply of checks and send them to Mobile, (3), that VEP act favorably upon the request of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Hayes as soon as the request, with particular, is placed before it.

Randolph T. Blackwell
Field Director

RTB:js

August 13, 1963

Mr. J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
The Citizens' Committee
P.O. Box 1091
Mobile 6, Alabama

Dear Mr. LeFlore: RE VEP 3-17

Thank you for furnishing me with a copy of your letter of August 8 to Mr. William L. Ferrell, in which you suggest that the Voter Education Project of Mobile not schedule meetings at times when the Executive Board of the Citizens' Committee is meeting. I certainly concur in this suggestion and while it is virtually impossible to schedule meetings which will meet the convenience of every single individual, every effort should be made to avoid scheduling meetings at times when other major organizations are meeting and which involve people who are interested in voter registration.

I note that you state that "we have decided to continue our 19th Annual Voter Registration campaign." VEP is interested in all registration activity in the South whether actively supported by our project or not and I would appreciate any information you can give me regarding plans for your separate registration campaign.

Kind personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

J. L. LeFLORE
P. O. BOX 1091
MOBILE 6, ALABAMA

WBJ
JM
RTB

August 8, 1963

AUG 10 1963

AUG 12 1963

Mr. William L. Ferrell, Secretary
Voter Education Project of Mobile
c/o Central Life Insurance Company
419 Lexington Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Ferrell:

This is to acknowledge your letter of August 7, 1963, received Thursday morning, August 8, 1963, with regard to a voter registration meeting scheduled for this date at 8 p.m.

On the second and fourth Thursday nights of each month our executive board meetings are held in connection with the numerous cases we are handling, including public school desegregation, further developments in the University of Alabama situation, new plans to save the life of Willie Seals, job discrimination in heavy industry and travel survey. In addition problems of voter registration, revival of the trade school case, public behavior and new job opportunities are also considered as a part of the agenda of these meetings. We believe you will agree it would be difficult to bypass these meetings to attend any other meetings on the above mentioned designated nights, in view of their importance in the struggle to alleviate problems of all of the people.

Although we have decided to continue our 19th annual voter registration campaign, we shall lend any cooperation possible to the voter registration project under the Coordinating Committee's supervision.

We trust that in the future an ample period may be allowed for persons with numerous responsibilities to attend your meetings and that they may occasionally be held on a date to meet the convenience of some of the people who are endeavoring to give considerable time to many of the weighty problems affecting our racial group.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. L. LeFlore
Director of Case Work
THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

cc: Mr. Wiley Branton
Mr. Raymond Scott
Mr. Conrad Deane

COPY

AT

CLUB HARLEM

THE MOBILE COUNTY CO—ORDINATING COMMITTEE FOR VOTER REGISTRATION

SPONSORING

BENEFIT DANCE

HERE EVERY THURSDAY NITE

FEATURING

THE FAMOUS BILL WASHINGTON AND

HIS BAND And Other Popolar Mobile Bands

FOLKS!! ATTEND THESE DANCES

BECOME A 1st CLASS CITIZEN

ALL THE MONIES RAISED AT THESE BENEFITS WILL GO FOR VOTER REGISTRATION

IF YOU ARE NOT A REGISERED VOTER TELL MR. COUCH OR ANY EMPLOYEE OF CLUB HARLEM AND THEY WILL HELP YOU TO BECOME A QUALIFIED VOTER

DO IT NOW!! DONATION 50¢

Make file
Mobile, Ala - Non-Partisan Voters League

Courtesy of
NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE AND MOBILE COUNTY
578 Davis Avenue, Mobile, Alabama

Sample Questionnaire Sample Questionnaire

I, _____ do hereby apply to the Board of Registrars of _____ County, State of Alabama, and do herewith submit to the interrogatories propounded to me by said board.

QUESTIONNAIRE

1. State your name, the date and place of your birth, and your present address _____

_____

2. Are you married or single? _____ (2) If married, give name, residence, place of birth of your husband or wife, as the case may be: _____

3. Give the name of the places, respectively, where you have lived during the last five years; and the name or names by which you have been known during the last five years _____

_____

4. If you are self-employed, state the nature of your business _____

_____

(a) If you have been employed by another during the last five years, state the nature of your employment and the name or names of such employer or employers and his or their addresses: _____

_____

5. If you claim to be a bona fide resident of the State of Alabama, give the date in which you claim to have become a bona fide resident _____ (a) When did you become a bona fide resident of _____ County _____ (b) When did you become a bona fide resident of _____ Ward or Precinct _____

_____.

6. If you intend to change your place of residence prior to the next general election, state the facts _____

7. Have you previously applied for and been denied registration as a voter? _____ (a) If so, state the facts _____

8. Have your name been previously stricken from the list of persons registered? _____.

9. Are you now or have you ever been a dope addict or an habitual drunkard? _____ (a) If so, explain as fully as you can _____

_____

10. Have you ever been legally declared insane? _____ (a) If so, give details _____

11. Give brief statement of the extent of your education and business experience: _____

12. Have you ever been charged with or convicted of a felony or crime or offense involving moral turpitude? _____ (a) If so, give the facts _____

13. Have you ever served in the Armed Forces of the United States Government? _____ (a) If so, state when and for approximately how long _____

14. Have you ever been expelled or dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States, or any other country _____ (a) If so, state the facts _____

15. Will you support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Alabama _____ _____

16. Are you now or have you ever been affiliated with any group or organization which advocated the overthrow of the United States by unlawful means? _____ (a) If so, state the facts _____

_____

17. Will you bear arms for your country if called upon to do so ___ _____ (a) If your answer is no, give reasons _____

_____

18. Do you believe in free elections and rule by the majority? ____

19. Will you give aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States Government or the Government of the State of Alabama? _____

20. Name some of the duties and obligations of citizenship _____

_____ _____

(a) Do you regard those duties and obligations as having priority over the duties and obligations you owe to any other secular organization when they are in conflict _____

21. Give the names and post office addresses of two persons who have present knowledge of your present bona fide residence at the place as stated by you _____

_____

_____

Tel. HE 3-7927 "Freedom Belongs To Those Who Earn It"

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE COUNTY
Room 5, Franklin Building
578 Davis Avenue
Mobile, Alabama

VOTER REGISTRATION SURVEY

Date_____

1. Family Name_____

2. Address_____

3. Number of persons living in this house 21 years old and over_

4. Are you a qualified voter?_____

5. Number of qualified voters in this house_____

6. Number of war veterans who live here_____ Voter?_____

7. Number of Post-Korean war veterans live here_____ Voter?_____

8. Will you attend voters' clinic in your section of the?_____

9. Will you consent to register as a voter?_____

10. Will you call or write us?_____

11. Shall we contact you again?_____

12. Your telephone number_____

Interviewer_____

A. S. Crishon, President

Conrad Deane, Chairman of the Board

Daily registration period October 1 to February 1.

——I WANT TO BE A QUALIFIED VOTER——

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE OFFICE

570 Davis Avenue, Mobile, Alabama

PEREZ ISOM — 478-3993

FRANK DAFFIN — HE 8-4438

SCOTTS CLEANERS — HE 2-4148

M .....

Address .....

Phone No. ..... Time .....

Date .....19_____

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE AND MOBILE COUNTY

Room 5, Franklin Building
578 Davis Avenue, Mobile, Alabama
Tel: HE 3-7927

Dear Voter and Fellow Citizen:

As a public service, we respectfully offer for your careful and intelligent consideration the information provided below with regard to candidates seeking public office in the state -wide Democratic primary of May 1, 1962.

In a serious effort to consistently and unselfishly act in the public's best interest, we respectfully submit to the discretion of your judgment our recommendations in this instance.

These recommendations are made as an important educational process in meeting community responsibilities and reflect no more involvement than similar efforts by other groups which offer the same kind of election information to the people.

Practically all of the leading candidates or their official representatives have been interviewed by us and we sincerely hope that false issues will not be created or distorted statements made by any of these fine people for reason of circumstances involved in making the difficult decisions which were ours.

We cannot too strongly emphasize that no candidate recommended by us for public office has made or promised any consideration to us or on behalf of any segment of the people, other than good government.

Civically yours,

Conrad Deane

Conrad Deane, Chairman of the Board

United States Senator

( ) John G. Crommelin
( ) Donald Gunter Hallmark
(X) Lister Hill

Governor

( ) Albert Boutwell
( ) Eugene Bull Connor
( ) Ryan deGraffenried
( ) Preston T. Farish
(X) J. E. (Big Jim) Folsom
( ) MacDonald Gallion
( ) Bruce Henderson
( ) Wayne Bodie Jennings
( ) George C. Wallace

Lieutenant Governor

( ) C. G. Allen
( ) Jim Allen
(X) J. J. (Big John) Guthrie
( ) Bert Haltom
( ) J. Daniel Hand
( ) Alvin Horn
( ) Frank Mizell
( ) "Shorty" Price

Attorney General

( ) Jerry Coe
(X) Richmond M. Flowers
( ) Willard Livingston
( ) Walter Emmett Perry, Jr.

State Auditor

(X) Anne Conway
( ) Bettye Frink
( ) Howard Hudson
( ) John I. McWhorter
( ) Billy Bragg Morrison
( ) Ray Warren

Secretary of State

(X) Mrs. Agnes Baggett
( ) Evelyn Creamer
( ) Esther Hannay
( ) Janie H. Smitherman

State Treasurer

(X) Mary Texas Hurt Garner
( ) Betty Alabama Phillips Jenkins
( ) Mrs. Lamar Allene Latham

Superintendent of Education

( ) W. A. "Bing" Le Croy
(X) Austin R. Meadows
( ) J. R. (Bob) Pittard
( ) Vernon L. St. John

Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries

( ) Fletcher N. Farrington
( ) J. C. Gentle
(X) A. W. Todd
( ) W. F. (Flute) Wilson

Public Service Commission Place No. 1

( ) Joe Foster
(X) Ed Pepper
( ) L. B. Sullivan

Place No. 2

(X) Mrs. Jimmy Hitchcock
( ) Sibyl Pool

Associate Justice Supreme Court Place No. 1

( ) Donald F. Colquett
(X) Robert B. Harwood

Representative In Congress from the 1st Congressional District

( ) Frank W. Boykin
( ) Pierre Pelham

Judge of the 13th Judicial Circuit Place No. 7

(X) William D. Bolling
( ) Will G. Caffey, Jr.

Circuit Solicitor 13th Judicial Circuit

(X) Carl M. Booth
( ) Peter J. Palughi

State Senator 33rd Senatorial District

VOTE FOR ONE OF THE TWO CHECKED

( ) Huston Carter
(X) Thomas M. Galloway
( ) Ernest M. Megginson
(X) John M. Tyson

Member of the House of Representatives Mobile County Place No. 1

( ) Maurice A. "Casey" Downing
(X) William H. McDermott
( ) John C. McFerrin

Place No. 2

(X) H. Tom Cochran
( ) Mylan R. Engel
( ) J. William (Bill) Grayson

Place No. 3

(X) James J. Minyard
( ) C. M. A. (Max) Rogers
( ) Coy Smith

Member of the State Democratic Executive Committee 1st Congressional District Place No. 1

( ) Roy E. Haag
(X) Emmett L. West

Place No. 2

( ) Sam C. Blount
(X) Melvin H. Rosen

Place No. 3

( ) H. H. Matthews
(X) Robert H. Moore

Place No. 4

(X) John W. McConnell, Jr.
( ) Wallace Powell Pruitt, Jr.
( ) Frank Thomas

Place No. 5

( ) W. H. Bruce
(X) W. M. Williams, Jr.

Place No. 8

(X) Joseph N. Langan
( ) John L. Moore

Sheriff

( ) Ray D. Bridges
(X) Arnold D. Debrow
( ) John Norman Firth
( ) Joe Penton
( ) Harry D. Simmons
( ) Roy J. Smith
( ) Melvin Strickland

School Board Place 1

( ) William B. Crane
(X) Keaton C. Hardy

Place 2

( ) John H. Butt
(X) Dr. E. B. Goode
( ) Mrs. Wm. R. Goubil
( ) Charles E. McNeil
( ) W. T. Pierce

AMENDMENT NO. I

Sets up a New State Board of Examiners for Voter Registration to be appointed by the Alabama Legislative Council. The new board would prepare examinations to be administered to applicants for registration as voters in all counties of the state and would handle all grading of examinations, with the applicants to be designated by number only.

YES_____

NO X

WARD COMMITTEEMEN:

WARD 10 - PLACE 4 Rev. C. A. Tunstall
WARD 22 PLACE 1 - Conrad Deane
PLACE 2 - Joseph Malone
DISTRICT 3 - PLACE 5 - Mack Coates

Subject to the Action of Democratic Primary May 1, 1962

(Paid Political Advertising by Friends of the Non-Partisan Voters League)

THIS IS A COPY OF THE NEGRO BLOCK VOTE GUIDE BALLOT

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS LEAGUE OF MOBILE AND MOBILE COUNTY

Room 5, Franklin Building
578 Davis Avenue, Mobile, Alabama
Tel: HE 3-7927

Dear Voter and Fellow Citizen:

As a public service, we respectfully offer for your careful and intelligent consideration the information provided below with regard to candidates seeking public office in the state -wide Democratic primary of May 1, 1962.

In a serious effort to consistently and unselfishly act in the public's best interest, we respectfully submit to the discretion of your judgment our recommendations in this instance.

These recommendations are made as an important educational process in meeting community responsibilities and reflect no more involvement than similar efforts by other groups which offer the same kind of election information to the people.

Practically all of the leading candidates or their official representatives have been interviewed by us and we sincerely hope that false issues will not be created or distorted statements made by any of these fine people for reason of circumstances involved in making the difficult decisions which were ours.

We cannot too strongly emphasize that no candidate recommended by us for public office has made or promised any consideration to us or on behalf of any segment of the people, other than good government.

Civically yours,

Conrad Deane

Conrad Deane, Chairman of the Board

United States Senator
- ( ) John G. Crommelin
- ( ) Donald Gunter Hallmark
- (X) Lister Hill

Governor
- ( ) Albert Boutwell
- ( ) Eugene Bull Connor
- ( ) Ryan deGraffenried
- ( ) Preston T. Farish
- (X) J. E. (Big Jim) Folsom
- ( ) MacDonald Gallion
- ( ) Bruce Henderson
- ( ) Wayne Bodie Jennings
- ( ) George C. Wallace

Lieutenant Governor
- ( ) C. G. Allen
- ( ) Jim Allen
- (X) J. J. (Big John) Guthrie
- ( ) Bert Haltom
- ( ) J. Daniel Hand
- ( ) Alvin Horn
- ( ) Frank Mizell
- ( ) "Shorty" Price

Attorney General
- ( ) Jerry Coe
- (X) Richmond M. Flowers
- ( ) Willard Livingston
- ( ) Walter Emmett Perry, Jr.

State Auditor
- (X) Anne Conway
- ( ) Bettye Frink
- ( ) Howard Hudson
- ( ) John I. McWhorter
- ( ) Billy Bragg Morrison
- ( ) Ray Warren

Secretary of State
- (X) Mrs. Agnes Baggett
- ( ) Evelyn Creamer
- ( ) Esther Hannay
- ( ) Janie H. Smitherman

State Treasurer
- (X) Mary Texas Hurt Garner
- ( ) Betty Alabama Phillips Jenkins
- ( ) Mrs. Lamar Allene Latham

Superintendent of Education
- ( ) W. A. "Bing" Le Croy
- (X) Austin R. Meadows
- ( ) J. R. (Bob) Pittard
- ( ) Vernon L. St. John

Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries
- ( ) Fletcher N. Farrington
- ( ) J. C. Gentle
- (X) A. W. Todd
- ( ) W. F. (Flute) Wilson

Public Service Commission
Place No. 1
- ( ) Joe Foster
- (X) Ed Pepper
- ( ) L. B. Sullivan

Place No. 2
- (X) Mrs. Jimmy Hitchcock
- ( ) Sibyl Pool

Associate Justice Supreme Court
Place No. 1
- ( ) Donald F. Colquett
- (X) Robert B. Harwood

Representative In Congress from the 1st Congressional District
- ( ) Frank W. Boykin
- ( ) Pierre Pelham

Judge of the 13th Judicial Circuit
Place No. 7
- (X) William D. Bolling
- ( ) Will G. Caffey, Jr.

Circuit Solicitor 13th Judicial Circuit
- (X) Carl M. Booth
- ( ) Peter J. Palughi

State Senator 33rd Senatorial District

VOTE FOR ONE OF THE TWO CHECKED
- ( ) Huston Carter
- (X) Thomas M. Galloway
- ( ) Ernest M. Megginson
- (X) John M. Tyson

Member of the House of Representatives Mobile County
Place No. 1
- ( ) Maurice A. "Casey" Downing
- (X) William H. McDermott
- ( ) John C. McFerrin

Place No. 2
- (X) H. Tom Cochran
- ( ) Mylan R. Engel
- ( ) J. William (Bill) Grayson

Place No. 3
- (X) James J. Minyard
- ( ) C. M. A. (Max) Rogers
- ( ) Coy Smith

Member of the State Democratic Executive Committee 1st Congressional District
Place No. 1
- ( ) Roy E. Haag
- (X) Emmett L. West

Place No. 2
- ( ) Sam C. Blount
- (X) Melvin H. Rosen

Place No. 3
- ( ) H. H. Matthews
- (X) Robert H. Moore

Place No. 4
- (X) John W. McConnell, Jr.
- ( ) Wallace Powell Pruitt, Jr.
- ( ) Frank Thomas

Place No. 5
- ( ) W. H. Bruce
- (X) W. M. Williams, Jr.

Place No. 8
- (X) Joseph N. Langan
- ( ) John L. Moore

Sheriff
- ( ) Ray D. Bridges
- (X) Arnold D. Debrow
- ( ) John Norman Firth
- ( ) Joe Penton
- ( ) Harry D. Simmons
- ( ) Roy J. Smith
- ( ) Melvin Strickland

School Board
Place 1
- ( ) William B. Crane
- (X) Keaton C. Hardy

Place 2
- ( ) John H. Butt
- (X) Dr. E. B. Goode
- ( ) Mrs. Wm. R. Goubil
- ( ) Charles E. McNeil
- ( ) W. T. Pierce

AMENDMENT NO. I

Sets up a New State Board of Examiners for Voter Registration to be appointed by the Alabama Legislative Council. The new board would prepare examinations to be administered to applicants for registration as voters in all counties of the state and would handle all grading of examinations, with the applicants to be designated by number only.

YES _____

NO X

WARD COMMITTEEMEN:

WARD 10 - PLACE 4 — Rev. C. A. Tunstall
WARD 22 PLACE 1 - Conrad Deane
PLACE 2 - Joseph Malone
DISTRICT 3 - PLACE 5 - Mack Coates

Subject to the Action of Democratic Primary May 1, 1962

(Paid Political Advertising by Friends of the Non-Partisan Voters League)

Strategy for Voters Registration BLitz for Mobile County

Committee on Strategy

Atty: Vernon Z. Crawford

Mr. John Le Flore

Mr. Clarence H. Montgomery

Mrs. Dorothy Williams

Mr. Frank C. Thomas

Mr. Freeman Pollard, Chairman

Table of Contents

General Program----------1

Details of Strategy----------2

Instructions to Office Workers----------3

Items----------4

Area "A" ----------5

Area "B" ----------6

Area "C" ----------7

Area "D" ----------8

Area "D" continued----------9

Area "E" ----------10

Area "F" ----------11

Outlying Areas ----------12

County Areas ----------13

GENERAL PROGRAM FOR VOTERS REGISTRATION BLITZ

1. Mass meeting with main speakers
2. Hand bills (item # 2) distrubuted to general public
3. Hand out cards (item # 3) in churches and other large gatherings
4. Use sound-truck to lead jack-ass through "Blitzed Area" (item #4)
5. Establish car pool to carry prospect to voters registration office
6. Establish register od dependable vouchers (noting days and time of their availability)
7. Compile, publish and distribuit Register of qualified voters
8. Place signs; (item # 5) to main arteries leading to city; (item #6) on rear of taxi cabs; (item # 7) on car bumpers and on windshields; (item# 8) in business places; (item*#
9. If Blitz gives indication of lagging; Rent a coffin and display i it using item# 6.
10. Every member of Voters Registration Blitz talk voters registration every where you go every day.

DETAILS OF STRATEGY FOR VOTERS REGISTRATION BLITZ

Priming Area for attack one week before Blitz is launched

I. Call in Section Leaders and their Block Captains for thorough breifing as outlined in Item #1

2. Contact ministers of Area designated for attack and have them get the program over to their congregations

a. furnish ushurs with cards (item # 3) for distribution

3. Get local radio personalities (Mr. Le Flore, Mr. Montgomery Mr. Burroughs, Mrs. Roberta Williams and others) to announce the Blitz on their programs, giving names of streets, naming Section Leaders and Block Captains. Also warn people in the Area to beware of the Jack-ass.

4. At designated date, Area will be flooded with hand bills

a. Donkey will be towed through Area behind sound truck

b. Office workers will follow through on instructions as outlined in Item # 1.

Item # 1

INSTRUCTIONS TO OFFICE WORKERS AS REGARDS SECTION LEADERS AND BLOCK CAPTAINS:

1. Select Section Leaders and Block Captains from designated area
   a. Call them in for breifing
      1. hand bills for distribution
      2. appoint Captains to specified blocks
      3. make special point of proper distribution
      4. designate date for launching attack
2. Office Coordinator keeps check with Area Section Leader
   a. Verify hand bills have been eavenly distributed (spot checking with cross reference phone directory)
   b. If house shows non delivery of hand bills, Coordinator notifies Section Leader who will bring it to the attention of the Block Captain
3. Set schedule with Section Leaders and Block Captains to get prospects registered
4. Keep active list of vouchers

5in. x 7in.

If you are Not a Registered Voter
Let us help you
Call your Block
Captain

Name
Add
Phone

Item #2
20,000 needed

6ft. x 8ft.

Welcome to Registered Voters. If you have Not registered Call.
HE - - - -

Item # 5

5 Needed

2in. x 3in.

Let us help you to Register to vote.

Call HE - - -

Item # 3
50,000 needed

3in. x 12in.

Register to Vote
Go by 1070 Davis Ave;

Item # 7
20,000 needed

I did Not Register to vote because I am a Jack-ass. Whats your Excuse

Item 4

I did not Register to Vote Because I belong here

Coffin

How about you
Call HE

Item #6

AREAS----------SEACTIONS--------and------DIVISIONS

Area------"A"----------Area--------"A"----------Area----------"A"

Section.....1
Dempsey Street to North Side of Beauregard St.
Conception St. to Gracie St.
Suggested workers: 1
Section Leader; 4 Block
Captains

Section.....2
Marmotte St. to Monday St.
Hercules St. to Owen's School
SW; 1 Section Leader; 4
Block Captains.

Section.....3
Hercules St. to Juniper St.
Monday to Liveoak Sts.
1 Section Leader, 4 Block
Captains.

Section.....4
Hercules to Juniper Sts.,
Liveoak St. to Bizzell Ave.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block
Captains.

Section.....5
South Side Beauregard St. to State Street. Conception
Street to Armistead Street.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block
Captains.

Section.....6
Hamilton to Washington,Ave., (east side)
St. Francis Street to So. side Davis Ave.
1 Section Leader, 4 Block Captains

Section.....7
West side Washington Ave. to Jefferson St.
St. Louis Street to Adams St.
1 Section leader 2 Block Captains

Section.....8
So. side Davis Ave. to State St.
Marmotte St. to east side Kennedy St.
1 Section Leader, 4 Block Captains

Section.....9
West side Kennedy St. to E side Ann St.
So. Side Davis Ave., to State St. (end)
1 Section Leader ; 4 Block Captains

Section.....10
West side Ann St. to Lexington Ave.
So. side of Davis Ave., to Norman St.,
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....11
Lafayette St., (Wash. Pl. included) to Catherine St. Delaney St. to Congress St., up to Lexington Ave.
1 Section Leader, 4 Block Captains

Section.....12
Carvers Court (all)
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

AREA ---- "B"

Section 1
Simington Drive to Brazier Drive
Saint Stephens Rd., to Stone St.
1 Section Leader 4 Block Captains

Section.....2
Butchers Lane, Saint Charles Ave.,
200 to 450 Block and Stone Street
1500 Block to 1667.
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

Section.....3
Cassidy Street to Holly Drive
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains.

Section 4
Yukers St. to Schusse Ln.
Whitney St. to Crawford Ln.
1 Section Leader ; 2 Block Capts.,

Section.....5
Saint Stephen's Rd. to Devon St.
Pleasant Ave to Andrews St.
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains

Section 6
Andrews Street to Wagner Street
Donald St. (Crawford Pl., incl.,)to east side of Summerville St.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....7
General Gorgas Pl. and east side
Summerville rd. 1 Section Leader
2 Block Captains.

Section.....8
O'Connor St. to Tucker St.
(watch for blight) east side of Summerville Rd., 1 Section Leader
2 Block Captains.

Section.....9
Barretts Lane to Division St east side of Summerville Rd. to Donald Street(watch for blight)
1 Section Leader, 4 Block Captains

Section.....10
west side of Summerville Rd. to Wellington St., Andrews Street to Wagner Street(down to Stanton St.
1 Section Leader:; 4 Block Captains

Section.....11
Stanton St. to Ridgewood Dr.
Creek Circle Dr. (all)
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

Section 12
west side Summerville St. to
Petit St., Wagner St., to Hart
St., 1 Section Leader; 4 Block
Captains.

Section.....13
west side Summerville St., to
Petit St., Hart St. to Cecelia St.
1 section Leader 4 Block Captains

Section.....14
Summerville Rd. to G. M. & R.R.
Cecelia St to Prichard Lane
1 Section Leader ; 4 Block
Captains.

AREA-------"C"

(Area Director: please caution leaflet distributors to watch for blight).

Section.....1
Royal St. to Hamilton St.(all)
Selma St. to Texas St. (no. side)
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....2
Selma St. to Texas St.(no side)
Hamilton St., to Jefferson St.(all)
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....3
Royal St., to Hamilton Street
Texas St., to New Jeresy St.,
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....4
Hamilton St., to Chatham St.
Texas St., to Pillans St.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section 5
Elliott St. to Dublin St.
Lott St. to Booker St.
1 Section Leader 3 Block Captains

Section.....6
Dublin St. to Duval St.
Amsterdam St. to Partridge St.
2 Section Leader; 6 Block Captains

Section.....7
Duval St., to Forrest St.
Partridge to Houston St.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

AREA-------"D"

Section.....1
west side St. Stephens Rd. to
G. M. & O. R. R. , Prichard Lane
(Jewel Court incl.)to Cayuga St.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....2
west side St. Stephens Rd. to
Canal St., Third Ave to Berkley St
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains

Section 3
Canal St. to Ruth St.
G. M. & O. R. R. to Berkley St.
2 Section Leaders; 3 Block Captains

Section.....4
Reynolds Ave. to Prichard Lane
Mitchell Street to Spring Branch
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

Section.....5
north side Prichard Lane to Hogans Ln. to east side St. Stephens Road to So.
College St.

Section.....6
east side St. Stephens Rd. to Josephine St., Hogans Lane to Garrison Ave.,
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....7
So. College St., Reynolds Ave. (east of Spring Creek) to North Ave.
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains

Section.....8
Holmes St. to So. College (blighted)
Reynolds Ave to Prichard Lane. So. side
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....9
North Third St. to Albert St.
North side of Prichard Lane to Hogans Ln.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section 10
Front Street to Spring Creek
Hogans Lane to Garrison Ave.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains.

Section.....11
Bama Ave. to Bay Shore R.R.
to Root St. all of Garrison Ave.
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains

Section.....12
Midway Street to Klopner Street
1 Section Leader;2 Block Captains

Section.....13
Klopner St. to Price Ave
Whistler Ave. to G.M.& O R.R
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Section.....14
Yost Ave. to Howard St.
Whistler Ave to Pecan St.
1 Section Leader;3 Block Captains

Section.....15
Ann St. to Talisman St.
Whistler Ave. to G.M.& O. R.R.
1 Sect Ldr.;4 Block Capts.

Section.....16
east side Engine St. to G.M.&O R.R.
no. side of Bay Shore R.R. to Alexander St. 1 Section Leader ;
4 Block Captains.

Section.....17
east side of Engine St. to G.M.&O R.R
Alexander St. to Ninth St.(blight

Section.....18
west side Engine St. to Spring Creek
Bay Shore R.R. to Desylvia St
(blighted) 1 Section Leader; 4
Block Captains.

Section.....19
Spring Creek to St. Stephens Rd.
Bayshore R.R. to Rosedale Ave.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Capts.

Section.....20
Chestang St. & Christina St.,
1 Section Leader;2 Block Captains

Section.....21

AREA....."D" (continued)

Section.....21
Chandler St. to Hendricks St.
Craft Hiway to Thomas St.
2 Section Leaders;6 Block Captains

Section.....22
Cotton Mill Drive to Chinaberry Lane.
Craft Hiway to West Highland Ave.
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains.

AREA-------"E"

Section.....1
Chin Street to so side Bay Bridge Rd.
Bay Bridge Cut Off to Herbert St.
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains.

Section.....2
north side of Bay Bridge Rd. to Paper Mill Rd.
A.T.& N. R.R. to Terminal R.R.
1 Section Leader ; 4 Block Captains

Section.....3
East 8th. Street to East 6th. Street
West Turner Rd.m to Warren St.(Blighted)
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains.

~~SectionWest*Sevent~~
Section.....4
West 7th. Street to 5th. Street
Engine Street to Malone St. (blighted)
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

Section.....5
2nd. Street to Carver W & W. Branch St.
Engine Street to St. Stephens Rd.
1 Seetion Leader ;3 Block Captains

AREA....."F"

Section.....1
Mobile Street to Bay Shore St.
Hales St. to Fillingham St. (blighted)
1 Section Leader; 4 Block Captains

Randolph St. to Martin St.
Old Shell Rd. to Le Cren Ave. (blighted)
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains.

Old Shell Rd. to Springhill Ave.
Mc. Bride Ave. to Furr St. (blighted)
1 Section Leader; 3 Block Captains

~~Spring~~
Section.....4
Springhill Ave. to Sheips Lane
Cemetary to No. Mc. Gregor Ave., and section behind Chapel
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains

Section.....5
Cody Road and Hillsdale Heights
2 Section Leaders and 6 Block Captains

Section.....6
Dematropolis Rd. (Cottage Hill area)
blighted.
1 Section Leader; 2 Block Captains.

OUTLYING CITY AREAS

Section.....1
Cedar Point Rd.
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section.....2
Theodore
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section.....3
Dawes Union
1 Section Leader; 2Captains

Section.....4
Irvington
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section,.....5
Grand Bay
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section.....6
Wilmington
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

COUNTY AREAS

Section.....1
Citronelle and Marvella
2 Section Leaders; 2 Captains

Section.....2
Saraland
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section.....3
Axis
1 Section Leader

Section.....4
Mt. Vernon
1 Section Leader; 2 Captains

Section.....5
Creola
1 Section Leader

~~Pe~~
Section.....6
Pennsylvania
1 Section Leader

Section.....7
Salco
1 Section Leader

~~Section.....8~~
~~Mc. Intosh~~
~~1 Section Leader~~

December 2, 1963

MEMORANDUM

Re: ~~MOBILE~~ Alabama REGISTRATION CONTACT FILE

I talked today to Roy Jenkins, manager of the Montgomery Advertiser. He estimates that there are 95,000 Negroes registered in Alabama. He did not want to commit himself on the number of whites registered because, he said, he could get an exact figure on the total registration, and he was fairly sure that the Negro registration figure he gave me was pretty accurate. He said he would send the total figure by mail in the near future. It is interesting that Jenkins' estimation of Negro registration is some 10,000 above our own estimate.

If Jenkins' figure proves to be accurate, it would imply that there is considerable registration activity going on in Alabama about which we have not been informed.

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

file Reg Contacts Alabama

Established
1828

CARMAGE WALLS
PRESIDENT

THE ADVERTISER COMPANY

Publishers

MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER ~·~ ALABAMA JOURNAL

MORNING · EVENING · SUNDAY

Montgomery, 2, Alabama

Dec. 2, '63.

Dear Mr. Minis:-

Let me revise my estimates slightly upwards: there are an estimated 850,000 voters in Alabama, [redacted] 95,000 of which are Negroes.

Yours.

Ray Jenkins

Ray Jenkins, ALABAMA JOURNAL.

PS: only in Macon County (Tuskegee) [redacted] do Negroes outnumber whites, but they are rapidly climbing in neighboring Bullock.

December 2, 1963

MEMORANDUM

Re: ALABAMA REGISTRATION CONTACTS

I talked to John W. McConnell, Jr., in Mobile, and he said that he is simply unable to estimate the registration either Negro or white in Alabama. He was very cooperative, however, and suggested that we call either Fred Taylor or Hugh Sparrow of the Birmingham News. He requested that if we arrived at what we thought was a respectable figure, that we let him know what it is.

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

December 2, 1963

MEMORANDUM

Re: ALABAMA REGISTRATION CONTACT FILE

I talked today with Norman Jimerson, asking him to suggest contacts I might use for estimates of registered Negroes and whites in Alabama. He suggested the following persons: David Vann, 1910 City Federal Building, Birmingham, telephone, 322-5721; George Peach Taylor, Brown-Marx Building, Birmingham 3, telephone, FA 2-0654 (campaign manager for the Jefferson County Sheriff); John W. McConnell, Jr., Merchants National Bank Building, Mobile, telephone HE 3-1891 (he is a member of the state Democratic Central Committee); Roy Jenkins, managing editor of the Montgomery Advertiser.

Jimerson said that he, himself, could not even guess at the registration.

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

December 4, 1963

MEMORANDUM

RE: ALABAMA REGISTRATION CONTACTS

I talked today with Fred Taylor of the Birmingham News. He estimates the number of Negroes registered in Alabama at 100,000, and the number of whites, 600,000. Judging by the other figures we have, I am inclined to think that Taylor is overestimating the Negro registration, and underestimating the white registration.

When I talked with McConnell, who recommended that I get in touch with Taylor, McConnell seemed to be uncertain about whether or not Taylor would be interested in cooperating with SRC. While I did not discuss this with McConnell, I suspect that Taylor may be something of a segregationist. I mention this only to point out that if he is, the motivation for the overestimation of Negroes and underestimation of whites would be rather clear.

This gives us now, three figures for Negro registration, and two figures for white registration. Our figure for the Negro registration is the lowest at something over 85,000. Jenkins in Montgomery estimated 95,000, and Taylor estimates 100,000. I would suggest that we could arbitrarily select 90,000 as a reasonably dependable figure. Since I suspect Taylor, for the reason noted above, might tend to underestimate white registration, I think it might be advisable for us to use the Jenkins figure of 850,000 for the whites.

Looking at the June, 1962, figures from the Birmingham News, which shows white registration at 880,000, we could probably be confident that 850,000 is a minimum figure.

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

December 5, 1963

Mr. John W. McConnell, Jr.
Merchants National Bank Building
Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. McConnell:

During our telephone conversation of December 2, you asked that we advise you when we had arrived at what we thought was an acceptably accurate figure for the Negro and white registration in Alabama.

We have now been in touch with several people around the state who we feel are in a position to make informed guesses about it. The concensus appears to be that the Negro registration is between 90,000 and 100,000, and the white registration something over 850,000.

Following your advice, I did get in touch with Mr. Fred Taylor of the Birmingham News, and was pleased to secure his cooperation.

If we can be of any further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Very truly yours,

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

Negroes Await Court Decision On Injunction

6-12-64

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Negro leaders temporarily abandoned their plans to renew protest marches today until they get a federal court ruling on a requested injunction against police interference.

An injunction suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Birmingham Thursday. No date was set immediately for a hearing.

Until the court acts, a Negro spokesman, the Rev. T. Y. Rogers said no more demonstrations would be attempted. But he applealed to leaders of the white community to sit down at a conference table in an effort to negotiate a long standing dispute over segregation.

Rogers said the first new attempt to contact city officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives would be made today.

The injunction suit came after a three-hour mass seeing in a Tuscaloosa Negro church which gave the first indication that the demonstrators had decided on a change in strategy.

Five of the Negro leaders and two others who identified themselves as members of the Black Muslim sect were arrested as they left the church, but the 300 other Negroes who had gathered with the announced intention of defying a police ban on demonstrations made no effort to march through downtown streets.

Instead, they spent the morning hearing pep talks by some of their leaders and singing freedom songs. Then, they left the church quietly under a promise that no further arrests would be made if they went home peacefully.

(See NEGROES, Page 10)

NEGROES

(Continued From Page 1)

The injunction suit asked the court to prohibit city and state authorities from making "unreasonable arrests" and from interfering with peaceful demonstrations.

The petition charged that Negroes had been subjected to "sustained and systematic denial of their federal constitutional rights" when they sought to demonstrate against traditional segregational factors in the city.

Rogers issued a statement later contending that city authorities might even attempt to prevent future mass meetings in the Negro churches. He said he hoped the federal court would prohibit any such action.

The Negro minister said he based that contention on the fact that police surrounded churches and refused to let Negroes demonstrate Tuesday and again Thursday. He said it is apparent that city officials could break up any gathering in the future that might be construed to be unlawful.

The petition also asks the federal court to take jurisdiction of charges against the Negroes arrested during the bloody street clash with police Tuesday. Ninety-six Negroes were taken to jail and 33 others went to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Members of the City Commission denied today that Rogers or any of his associates in the Tuscaloosa Citizens for Action Committee had even asked city officials to negotiate.

Police Commissioner George Ryan said that when he met Rogers Thursday it was the first time he had talked to the Negro leader in weeks. Ryan said that he feels personally that "as long as outsiders are trying to run our business in Tuscaloosa I see no reason for negotiations."

Mayor George Van Tassel said he no longer recognizes Rogers as "a responsible leader of the Negro population."

Van Tassel also said he talked with State Public Safety Director Al Lingo Thursday and was assured state troopers will be sent to Tuscaloosa if needed.

Ala.

Jan. 29, 1963

Bill

Wiley--here are some comments on the Arkansas for whatever they may be worth.

On page 2--the requirement of voting in all elections seems severe. If the passage means that registration will be ~~xxxxx~~ if the person neglects to vote in all (voided) elections, then it is ambiguous and should be restated. Perhaps it is ambiguous and should be restated in any case.

On page 11--Section 10, read as a whole, makes no provision, positively, for the acceptance at the poll of the individual who makes a mark rather than signs his name. Could it be argued that, in the absence of positive provision, the judges are not authorized to permit illiterates to vote? Furthermore, sub-section (b) qualifies each judge of elections as a handwriting expert--is there no other way ?

On page 13--(c) (1) is ambiguous in the manner mentioned in the first comment above.
Does (d) (4) implicitly authorized the County Board of Registration to review registrations ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ and to purge at its discretion

On page 16--Illiterates are not excluded from registering anyplace in the bill, but (b) makes no provision for having an Affidavit of Registration form filled in for an illiterate

3-ark Reg. Data

H. B. No. 38
(Van Dalsem of Perry, Ledbetter of Pulaski, Etheridge of Jackson, Walt of Jefferson)

A Bill for an Act to Be Entitled:

"AN ACT to Establish a Statewide and Uniform System of Voter Registration; to Prescribe the Effective Date Thereof; and for Other Purposes."

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This Act may be known as the "Voter Registration Act."

SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS. As used in this Act, the term:

(a) "County Board of Registration" means the County Board of Election Commissioners in each of the several counties of this State.

(b) "Permanent Registrar" means the County Clerk in each of the several counties of this State.

(c) "Deputy Registrar" means the deputy County Clerk or Clerks in each of the several counties and the City Clerk or Recorder in each of the several municipalities of this State.

SECTION 3. POLICY. The system of registration provided for in this Act does not impose or add any qualification to those formerly required of voters by law, but is intended to and does establish a manner and means of determining that all who cast ballots in elections and primaries in this State are legally qualified to vote in such elections and primaries.

SECTION 4. APPLICATION. (a) This Act applies to all regular and special elections by voters of the State or of a political party within the State for the selection of public or of party officers and on measures

June 6, 1963

Mr. W. C. Patton
234 Hernando Street
Memphis 5, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Patton:

This will acknowledge receipt of a copy of your plans for a 1963 poll tax campaign in Arkansas. As I explained to you on the telephone there are two factors which I think we should give consideration to in designing any program for Arkansas this year.

1) There is no permanent registration in Arkansas and the efforts expended would be good for only one year. 34 of the necessary 38 states required to ratify the anti-poll tax amendment have already approved it and the other four states should approve it by January 30, 1964, at the latest. This means that Arkansas and Texas would then have to adopt some registration machinery following which we should consider major programs for those states.

2) Arkansas is totally lacking in any state-wide organization for non-partisan registration and any efforts through VEP should be conducted in such a way as to help provide some continuing organization and leadership in this area.

Because of my personal interest in my native state, I have been making some tentative plans for calling a state-wide meeting of leaders pretty much along the lines suggested in your proposal and if we decide to spend any money there I feel certain that I would want to give this matter some personal involvement. The places of concentration mentioned by you are good places to work but they by no means include many of the areas where we need to work and where there is already local leadership. It is quite apparent, and understandable, that the places mentioned by you are cities which have NAACP branches. There is terrific potential in places like Marianna, Star City, Lake Village, El Dorado, and Camden, to say nothing of the places you have already mentioned. In the event that we decide to spend any VEP money in Arkansas then I would certainly welcome the support and participation of NAACP and would be pleased to invite to any leadership meeting all persons recommended by you and to encourage them to actively participate in all planning, discussion, and work.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
cc: Dr. John Morsell
Mr. L. C. Bates

MAY 29 1963

5-28-63 ark — General

Mr. Pranton,

Attached is a copy of my recommended proposals to Dr. Morsell for the state of Arkansas.

I believe this would be a good approach toward organizing the state-wide leadership.

W. C. Patton

ARKANSAS 1963 POLL TAX CAMPAIGN

A. THE PURPOSE

The purpose is to stimulate the Negroes throughout the state to qualify for the forthcoming 1964 election through an organized state-wide Poll Tax Campaign. We would, however, concentrate on the following places: Fort Smith, Hot Springs, Little Rock, North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, West Memphis, Texarkansas and Braden. Beaude?

B. THE PLAN

I. (a) To call a meeting of the leaders and setup a state-wide committee so that every area of the state maybe touched.

(b) To visit each of the communities in which we will concentrate and setup the needed machinery to conduct a house to house campaign for a six weeks period.

(c) I would want to pay the cost of travel for leaders from fifteen (15) major cities to the initial meeting. By cost of travel, we mean gas and oil or mileage for one car from each of the fifteen (15) places. Dinner should also be provided.

II. We would strive to perfect a Poll Tax Campaign Committee in each of the places listed in Part A and provide funds for compensating a director who would be responsible for directing the campaign, and an office secretary. (Only the major points would have an office).

C. THE PROPOSED BUDGET (for six weeks)

Eight Campaign Directors	$ 2400.00
Eight Office Secretaries	1440.00
Transportation cost to initial meeting	300.00
Office Supplies	800.00
Printing & Publicity	1000.00
Postage	500.00
Prizes for Outstanding Achievements	200.00
Miscellaneous	200.00
TOTAL FOR THE STATE	$ 6840.00

COPY

June 26, 1964

Mr. Ralph McGill
The Atlanta Constitution
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. McGill:

I congratulate you on your continuous contributions to the improvement of human relations between the races by your many thought provoking articles in the daily press and in magazines.

Your article in the June 9, 1964 issue of the Atlanta Constitution stated that the desegregation of state supported colleges in Arkansas resulted from early federal court rulings. As one of the moving forces behind the integration of the University of Arkansas in 1948, I would like you to know that desegregation of all public supported colleges in Arkansas was voluntary action and there was never a single law suit filed to desegregate any of the colleges in that state.

In your article, "The Case for the Southern Progressive," which appears in the June 13, 1964 issue of Saturday Review, you mentioned the work of the Voter Education Project, which we appreciate very much. In commenting on the results from our project, you state "The drive ended April 30." April 30 was merely the cut-off date for figures which may have been released a few weeks ago, but the Voter Education Project drive will continue up until the registration deadline for voting in the November General Election in each of the eleven states where we are working and this will mean the first week in October in most instances.

We appreciate the support which you have given to the cause of Negro voter registration, and if we can be of any assistance to you, then please let us know.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:bs

25 South Liberty
Marianna, Arkansas
September 12, 1964

DEAR VOTING CITIZEN:

I am a candidate for Position #4 of the School Board of Education of School District "A" of Lee County, Arkansas. This election will be held SEPTEMBER 29, 1964, between the hours of 8 A.M. to 6:30 P. M. Voting polls will be CITY HALL (MARIANNA), LIBERTO STORE (HOLUBS CROSSING), LA GRANGE, AND RONDO.

I AM ASKING YOUR SUPPORT -----"YOUR VOTE", BECAUSE I BELIEVE ----

As Americans we should devote some time to service to the community in a public OFFICE.

I feel that as a life long citizen of Lee County, I should give of myself, by sharing in the responsibilities of Community Life.

I urge you to go to the polls and vote for continuation and increase of mills to support our educational system in Lee County. Only through adequate money can we have the best school system possible.

YOU ARE URGED TO SHOW YOUR INTEREST IN YOUR SCHOOL SYSTEM BY GOING TO THE POLLS AND VOTE.

FOR BETTER COMMUNITY LIVING, THROUGH EDUCATION, I AM

YOURS TRULY,

Lacy J. Kennedy

LACY J. KENNEDY

YOUR VOTE FOR ME WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED.

File with ARK.

VEP

*NOTICE****

You are asked to meet with us, Thursday Nite, Sept. 17, 1964, 8:00 P. M. at the Walnut Grove Baptist Church. This meeting is in conjuction with the Lee County Voters League Meeting.

We are asking you to act as a Co-caption in our efforts to get a member on the school board. Lacy J. Kennedy is running for Position No. 4, School District "A" of Marianna in opposition to O'Neal Marlowe.

Annual school elections are elections in which we as citizens have not participated. Therefore, we must make an effort to get each voting citizen to the polls. Voters must be contacted personally before the election, hauled to the polls on election day, or reminded to go to their respective polling places to vote.

There will only be four polling places opened. These are as follows:

CITY HALL,(MARIANNA), LIBERTO STORE (HOLUBS CROSSING, LAGRANGE, AND RONDO. THE POLLS WILL BE OPENED FROM 8:00 A.M to 6:30 on September 29, 1964.

PLEASE DON'T LET US DOWN IN OUR EFFORTS. BE THERE ON TIME, 8:00 P.M., Thursday, September 29, 1964.

S/ ANDREW HOWARD

25 South Liberty
Marianna, Arkansas
September 12, 1964

DEAR VOTING CITIZEN:

I am a candidate for Position #4 of the School Board of Education of School District "A" of Lee County, Arkansas. This election will be held SEPTEMBER 29, 1964, between the hours of 8 A.M. to 6:30 P. M. Voting polls will be CITY HALL (MARIANNA), LIBERTO STORE (HOLUBS CROSSING), LA GRANGE, AND RONDO.

I AM ASKING YOUR SUPPORT -----"YOUR VOTE", BECAUSE I BELIEVE ----

As Americans we should devote some time to service to the community in a public OFFICE.

I feel that as a life long citizen of Lee County, I should give of myself, by sharing in the responsibilities of Community Life.

I urge you to go to the polls and vote for continuation and increase of mills to support our educational system in Lee County. Only through adequate money can we have the best school system possible.

YOU ARE URGED TO SHOW YOUR INTEREST IN YOUR SCHOOL SYSTEM BY GOING TO THE POLLS AND VOTE.

FOR BETTER COMMUNITY LIVING, THROUGH EDUCATION, I AM

YOURS TRULY,

Lacy J. Kennedy

LACY J. KENNEDY

YOUR VOTE FOR ME WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED.

*NOTICE****

You are asked to meet with us, Thursday Nite, Sept. 17, 1964, 8:00 P. M. at the Walnut Grove Baptist Church. This meeting is in conjuction with the Lee County Voters League Meeting.

We are asking you to act as a Co-caption in our efforts to get a member on the school board. Lacy J. Kennedy is running for Position No. 4, School District "A" of Marianna in opposition to O'Neal Marlowe.

Annual school elections are elections in which we as citizens have not participated. Therefore, we must make an effort to get each voting citizen to the polls. Voters must be contacted personally before the election, hauled to the polls on election day, or reminded to go to their respective polling places to vote.

There will only be four polling places opened. These are as follows:

CITY HALL,(MARIANNA), LIBERTO STORE (HOLUBS CROSSING, LAGRANGE, AND RONDO. THE POLLS WILL BE OPENED FROM 8:00 A.M to 6:30 on September 29, 1964.

PLEASE DON'T LET US DOWN IN OUR EFFORTS. BE THERE ON TIME, 8:00 P.M., Thursday, September 29, 1964.

S/ ANDREW HOWARD

April 27, 1965

The Honorable Oren Harris
Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I appreciate the fact that your office has been sending me a copy of your letter to the people of the Fourth District periodically and, of course, I am interested in what my congressman has to say, and how he votes.

I am sure you must know that this district has the largest number and the largest percentage of Negro registered voters of any congressional district in the state, and it appears that the percentage of the Negro voters to the total number of registered voters will even grow higher for this district when redistricting takes place.

Even though I had every reason to hope that my congressman would rise above racial prejudice and vote for the Civil Rights Bill, I did not really expect you to do anything other than vote against it, as you did. But I did expect the passage of the Civil Rights Bill would free many southern congressmen from the political obligation to support segregation, racism, and ultra conservative views. It was therefore with great disappointment that I learned of your vote against the recent Aid to Education Bill, which will mean so much to a large percentage of your constituents and their children. This aid to education will benefit not only Negroes, but white people as well, and should go a long way toward raising the economic and educational status of the people of your district.

Now, it seems as though you intend to vote against the Voting Rights Bill, even though you come from a state which, thus far, has not discriminated against voters because of race or color. How long do you intend to slap your Negro constituents in the face at every opportunity?

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js

P. S. I am enclosing some registration data which you may find of interest, which was prepared in connection with a special assignment I have had with the Voter Education Project.

bc: Mr. R. A. Eilbott, Jr.
National Bldg.
Pine Bluff, Ark.

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Vol. 3, No. 11
March 22, 1965

APR 26 1965

CHAIRMAN
COMMITTEE ON INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE
4TH DISTRICT, ARKANSAS
OREN HARRIS

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 4TH DISTRICT:

PERHAPS THE MOST INTENSIFIED AND SENSITIVE CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS throughout the history of our government have evolved around voting rights and congressional apportionment. Following the dramatic address of the President to a special session of Congress last Monday night, a new approach was taken in the voting rights controversy. Details of its direction were revealed through proposed legislation submitted to the House Wednesday. The following day the House Judiciary Committee began hearings on the bill. This sudden action arises out of the regrettable tragic events in Alabama in recent weeks.

The proposal submitted is based on the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution which holds that no citizen of the United States shall be denied the right to vote "...on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." The bill provides that no voting qualification or procedure shall be applied to deny the right to vote on the grounds just quoted. It further would set up the machinery for a system of Federal examiners (registrars) for any political subdivision which basically uses any test or device as a qualification for voting, and in which less than 50% of the persons of voting age are registered or less than 50% of such persons voted in the last Presidential election.

The bill, if enacted, would have limited application at this time. It would not now affect Arkansas because we have no voting restrictions other than those of age, residence, and citizenship. We do not to my knowledge deny any man the right to vote by reason of race or color. Even so, Arkansas has been implementing its new voter registration law which is expected to give our State a much larger number of registered voters.

The Constitution has traditionally provided that the qualifications of voters shall be those prescribed by the State, other than those established by three amendments thereto relating to race, sex, and the poll tax. This new system of Federal examiners presents a most delicate and technical problem to the Congress in which it must avoid violating the Constitution or usurping the prerogative of the States.

The infinite danger of such a bill is that the trend toward Federal "overseers" is established which might, through attrition, continue to take over the regular Constitutional duties of State officials. In effect, the theory of the proposed legislation presupposes surveillance of elections in those areas where there is Federal registration. Even though we should and must see to it that all eligible citizens have the opportunity for the right of suffrage, we must equally be careful to maintain the Constitutional provisions that have been the strength of our system of government throughout its history.

AN EQUALLY TRYING AND DIFFICULT PROBLEM WHICH CONGRESS UNDERTOOK LAST week was that of prescribing Congressional redistricting "guidelines". This was done with the intention of clarifying the Supreme Court decision when it entered what the late Justice Frankfurter called the "political thicket". The House passed the bill, but there is serious question as to whether or not the Senate will concur.

APPORTIONMENT OF STATE LEGISLATURES IS ANOTHER POLITICAL THICKET IN WHICH the Supreme Court has become entangled. Pursuant to the requests of a number of States, more than 110 resolutions have been introduced in Congress in addition to the one I submitted. Most of them provide for the apportionment of one House of a State Legislature on factors other than population alone. Since no committee action has been taken on this matter, a petition has been filed with the Speaker containing 110 of the 218 signatures required to discharge it from committee. It is anticipated that in excess of 160 signatures will be obtained in the next few weeks.

Oren Harris

Member of Congress
4th District of Arkansas
2328 Rayburn House Office Building

JUN 23 1962

ARKANSAS COUNCIL ON HUMAN RELATIONS

1220 WEST CAPITOL
LITTLE ROCK, ARK.
PHONE FR 4-4521

June 21, 1962

Attorney Wiley Branton, Director
Voter Education Project
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Wiley,

The Arkansas Council on Human Relations wants to conduct a "Pilot Project" of voter registration in Little Rock this summer. Such a project would be organized and ready for an intensive and detailed campaign immediately following the Democratic Primaries.

Would your Voter Education program be interested in this? I can work out the details and submit them to you later but before I go to all that trouble I want to know if you buy the idea.

As you probably remember, ACHR has conducted a limited voter registration program for several years. A good plan, well worked this summer would be especially significant in light of the December School Election when two positions will be before the voters. Two fairly liberal persons to join Ted Lamb could solve many of our problems.

It occurs to me that much of the momentum of the summer primaries could be captured and civic, political and social groups mobilized toward this end. Could I have an early reply on this from you? We are in the process of projecting the Council's work for the next six months.

Sincerely

Ozell Sutton

Ozell Sutton
Associate Director

OFFICERS— THE REV. CHARLES C. WALKER, CHAIRMAN • THE REV. MAYNARD M. MILLER, VICE-CHAIRMAN
MRS. JOE R. BREWER, VICE-CHAIRMAN • DR. W. H. TOWNSEND, TREASURER • MRS. W. E. MORRIS, SECRETARY
STAFF— NAT R. GRISWOLD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR • OZELL SUTTON, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR • RUTH ARNOLD, SEC.

A Council to attain equal opportunity for all peoples

AMERICAN TEAMWORK WORKS

National Urban League, Inc.

14 EAST FORTY-EIGHTH STREET, NEW YORK 17, N. Y. • PLAZA 1-0300

President
HENRY STEEGER

Senior Vice-President
MALCOLM ANDRESEN

Vice-Presidents
JOHN H. JOHNSON
THOMAS G. YOUNG

Secretary
MOLLIE MOON

Treasurer
BURNS W. ROPER

Executive Director
WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

Board of Trustees
Malcolm Andresen
Regina M. Andrews
Joseph M. Baird
William H. Baldwin
George O. Butler
N. O. Calloway
Lisle C. Carter, Jr.
Mrs. Harold B. Case
Ray E. Clark
Robert W. Dowling
Sylvan Gotshal
Dorothy Hirshon
Jerome H. Holland
Sophia Y. Jacobs
John H. Johnson
R. Frank Jones
Mrs. Charles Keller, Jr.
Theodore W. Kheel
Lindsley F. Kimball
Lawrence W. Lowman
Brian G. Manion
Louis E. Martin
Ivan C. McLeod
Mollie Moon
Cecil E. Newman
Hilyard R. Robinson
Winthrop Rockefeller
John A. Roosevelt
Burns W. Roper
Ramon S. Scruggs
Martin E. Segal
Asa T. Spaulding
Maida Springer
Edward Stanley
Henry Steeger
Vernon B. Stouffer
Harry Van Arsdale, Jr.
William O. Walker
J. Waties Waring
Boyd L. Wilson
Frank H. Wyman
Thomas G. Young
Charles S. Zimmerman

July
Fifth
1962

Dear Mr. Branton:

Mr. Young has asked me to reply to your June 25th letter. We are seeking to assist the board of the Little Rock Urban League to fill the executive vacancy as promptly as possible, but cannot give you any assurance that there will be a man there before October 1st.

You might want to consider suggesting another joint effort to Little Rock, utilizing volunteer leadership and perhaps calling upon the local League to make some clerical staff time available.

League officials in Little Rock would be able to say better than we can say here whether or not such a plan would be desirable or practical from their point of view. The office secretary at the Little Rock League is Mrs. Bettye J. Davis. I am sharing a copy of this letter with her, as well as with Clarence Coleman, our regional director.

Sincerely,

Alexander J. Allen
Associate Executive Director

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Project Director
Voter Education Project
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

cc: Mrs. Bettye J. Davis
Clarence D. Coleman

Ark Council Human Relations

JUL - 2 1962

ARKANSAS COUNCIL ON HUMAN RELATIONS

1220 WEST CAPITOL
LITTLE ROCK, ARK.
PHONE FR 4-4521

June 28, 1962

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Wiley:

When I wrote you concerning a "pilot voter registration project" I had no idea of entering competition with one of your participating agencies. Nor did I know that certain agencies have priority in designated areas. I told Les and Paul in a discussion of the program at our staff meeting back in February that ACHR had no intention of "contending" in this area.

I am convinced that a well-planned, well-executed campaign immediately following the Democratic Primaries would be fruitful. Especially would this be helpful in light of the December School Election. This is my primary concern. Should you and Mr. Whitney Young decide this is Urban League territory and the local League will do the job, I assure you that no objection will emanate from ACHR.

Again, I made the request because the job needs to be done, it simply must be done and I'm committed to it should it come to that. However, it will leave me free to do something else if another agency will do it.

I will appreciate being advised of the determination of you and Mr. Young as soon as possible as this is the questionable item in my time-table for the next six months.

I am pleased to know that John Walker is with you this summer. Hello to him and warm regards to you and your family.

Sincerely

Ozell

OFFICERS— THE REV. CHARLES C. WALKER, CHAIRMAN • THE REV. MAYNARD M. MILLER, VICE-CHAIRMAN
MRS. JOE R. BREWER, VICE-CHAIRMAN • DR. W. H. TOWNSEND, TREASURER • MRS. W. E. MORRIS, SECRETARY
STAFF— NAT R. GRISWOLD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR • OZELL SUTTON, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR • RUTH ARNOLD, SEC.

A Council to attain equal opportunity for all peoples

July 10, 1962

Mr. Ozell Sutton, Associate Director
Arkansas Council on Human Relations
1220 West Capitol
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Ozell:

Mr. Alexander J. Allen, Associate Executive Director of the Urban League, has replied to my letter to Whitney Young of June 25 regarding a voter project in Little Rock. Mr. Allen states that they cannot give any assurance that they will have an executive secretary in Little Rock prior to October 1. He writes further "You might want to consider suggesting another joint effort to Little Rock, utilizing volunteer leadership and perhaps calling upon the local League to make some clerical staff time available."

I suggest that you submit a proposal to us in detail as to how you plan to conduct a voter project, the area in which you will operate, and a detailed budget of your planned project.

Upon receipt of this information, we will give further consideration to your request.

Sincerely yours,

Wiley A. Branton
Project Director

WAB:gwc

cc: Mr. Clarence D. Coleman

WB
RTB

ARKANSAS
COUNCIL ON HUMAN RELATIONS

1220 WEST CAPITOL
LITTLE ROCK, ARK.
PHONE FR 4-4521

MAY 4 1964

May 1, 1964

Mr. Wiley Branton, Director
Voter Education Project
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta, Georgia 30303

Dear Mr. Branton:

We know Mr. Blackwell will report on the Conference of Churchmen. But we want to say what he cannot, namely: He did a fine job in a situation new to all of us.

We have not carefully evaluated the conference: failures and successes. We can say that men responded from very remote situations. This indicates something useful for future programs. The conference opened the way into a number of Arkansas towns for voter registration before October 1: (Blackwell helped with this of course.) Camden, Magnolia, West Memphis, Forrest City, Jonesboro, Osceola, Hope, Texarkana, Cotton Plant, and Wynne, to name a few.

As Mr. Blackwell will tell you, we stand ready to join with ATA and others for a strong push for qualifying citizens to vote. After we have clarified in our own minds as to time and plan we will write your office.

Again thank you for letting us have Mr. Blackwell.

Sincerely,

Nat Griswold

Nat R. Griswold

NRG:ra

OFFICERS-MRS. JOE R. BREWER, CHAIRMAN • DR. W. H. TOWNSEND, VICE-CHAIRMAN • THE REVEREND GEORGE W. GUNN, VICE-CHAIRMAN • DR. G. P. FREEMAN, TREASURER • MRS. W. E. MORRIS, SECRETARY
STAFF-NAT R. GRISWOLD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR • OZELL SUTTON, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR • RUTH ARNOLD, SECRETARY AND PROGRAM

A Council to attain equal opportunity for all peoples

June 18, 1962

Mr. T. E. Patterson
Executive Secretary
Arkansas Teachers Association
924 Ringo Street
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Patterson:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 14 in which you inquire about the possibility of the Arkansas Teacher Association's participating in a Voter Education Project.

Each application will be considered on its merits, and we are enclosing a copy of the Statement of Conditions which we impose upon all grants made by VEP. There is no prescribed application form. We do require that all requests be made in writing, and you should explain fully the type of program which you intend to carry on and the area or areas in which you will operate.

The sending of this information to you should not be construed as an approval of any grant as that would depend upon the evaluation of any program which you care to submit to us.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton
Project Director

WAB:gwc
Enclosure

EXECUTIVE BOARD
Mrs. V. T. Hegwood, Pres.
Little Rock
N. P. Marshall, Vice Pres.
North Little Rock
Miss Kathalyn Scott, Rec. Sec.
Rosston
Will V. Rutherford, Treas.
Hope
D. S. Boswell (1962)
Little Rock
J. M. Sutton (1962)
Morrilton
T. E. Patterson (1963)
Nashville

Arkansas Teachers Association

Office of
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
PHONE FR 5-5868
924 Ringo Street
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

JUN 18 1962

EXECUTIVE BOARD
Leo D. Jeffers (1963)
Blytheville
C. N. Toney (1964)
Pine Bluff
C. T. Cobb (1964)
Forrest City
Charles Williams (1965)
McGehee
L. H. Black (1965)
Lewisville
Elijah Coleman (at large)
Pine Bluff

June 14, 1962

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project of
Southern Regional Council
Room 206 - #5 Forsyth Street, NW
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

As a member of NCOSTA the Arkansas Teachers Association was informed of the Southern Regional Council's project on Voter Education now in force. This project was presented to our Executive Board in a recent meeting. During this meeting the Executive Secretary was authorized to inquire and seek application for one of the grants to support a program parallel to the one outlined in your communication to W. E. Solomon on May 11.

I am sure, as a native Arkansasan, you are aware of the vast needs of such a program in this area. With primary elections and a general election this year there is a great need for such program/project to educate the minority voters.

Please send all bonafide forms and regulations this organization will need to apply at your earliest convenience.

Professionally yours,

T. E. Patterson

T. E. Patterson,
Executive Secretary

TEP/ceb

Voter Education Project

A PROGRAM OF THE SOUTHERN REGIONAL COUNCIL

ROOM 206 / 5 FORSYTH STREET, N. W. / ATLANTA 3, GEORGIA

June 18, 1963

Mr. T. H. Patterson
Executive Secretary
Arkansas Teachers Association
924 Ringo Street
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Patterson:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter dated May 30th which was not received in this office until June 6th, regarding a voter registration campaign by the Arkansas Teachers Association.

We concluded quite some time ago that the Voter Education Project should not conduct much of a program in Arkansas or Texas for two reasons:

1. There is no permanent registration, and any efforts would have to be duplicated.
2. Thirty-four of the required thirty-eight states have already adopted the anti poll tax amendment, and it may be that we will soon have a permanent registration law in these two states, and this would be the time to conduct a good registration program.

I am concerned over the fact that Arkansas, perhaps more than any other state, is also completely lacking in a strong state-wide organization which concerns itself with the political affairs of Negroes on a non-partisan basis. I am highly impressed with the outline proposed by the ATA, and I am of the opinion that this program could be used for spearheading a state-wide meeting of leaders to help set up the kind of organization I would like to see, and at the same time, conduct a voter registration program. I know that we can receive the support of the NAACP and the National Urban League in such an endeavor, and I would like to know your thoughts on such a ———?

I regret I will not be able to attend the Centennial celebration in Little Rock on June 23rd, but I would like for you to let me know what plans are made following that meeting for a voter registration campaign.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jm

cc: Mr. George Howard, Jr.
329½ Main Street
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

MOTAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD

N. P. Marshall, President
North Little Rock
E. L. Hawkins, Vice-President
Little Rock
Miss Kathalyn Scott, Rec. Sec.
Rosston
Elijah Coleman, Treasurer
Pine Bluff
W. H. Fowler
Little Rock
J. M. Sutton
Morrilton
Will V. Rutherford
Hope

Arkansas Teachers Association

Office of
T. E. Patterson
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
PHONE FR 5-5868
924 Ringo Street
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Leo D. Jeffers
Blytheville
C. N. Toney
Pine Bluff
Larthell Young
Moro
Charles Williams
McGehee
L. H. Black
Lewisville
Charles J. Latimar (at large)
Madison
Mrs. V.T. Hegwood, Immediate Past Pres.
Little Rock

May 30, 1963

JUN 6 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project of
Southern Regional Council
Room 206, #5 Forsyth Street, NW
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

I am endeavoring to set the machinery in motion for the Arkansas Teachers Association Voter Registration campaign.

We are cooperating with all organizations that will work toward total registration of the Negro population of Arkansas.

Mr. C. A. Jones as chairman of the committee is sponsoring a state wide Emancipation Proclamation Centennial Celebration, June 23rd at 3:00 PM in the Dunbar Community Center, Little Rock, Arkansas. At the close of this program we plan to encourage organizations over the state to sponsor a voter registration campaign. If at all possible we would welcome your attendance at this Centennial Celebration.

I am sending a copy of the outline of the ATA project and if at all possible would appreciate your granting some aid particularly for correspondence and travel for organizing and training local leadership.

Very truly yours,

T. E. Patterson

T. E. Patterson,
Executive Secretary

TEP/ceb
Encl:

ATA CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION PROGRAM

ORIGIN

The Arkansas Teachers Association Citizenship Education Program was approved by the Executive Board in the regular June meeting, June 16, 1962.

PHILOSOPHY

In a Democracy, a good citizen must be qualified to vote and have the ability to vote intelligently. The ATA accepts the responsibility of providing an education program on civic and school affairs.

PURPOSES

To get the minority groups of Arkansas vote conscious;

To get political science principles taught throughout the school - not just as a course in high school - and make citizenship education an integral part of those principles;

To indoctrinate idea of paying Poll Tax into students, parents, teachers and citizens as a civic responsibility;

To use adult groups in our state to foster citizenship education as a means of developing a good citizentry.

OBJECTIVES

A total population of informed Negro voters to insure full citizenship (1962 - - only 60,000 qualified out of a potential of 220,000);

To develop an honest voter who will not bow to gifts, graft or payola;

To develop some dedicated voters who will work willingly and diligently for causes in which he believes;

To improve communications from national, state and local levels to the voters.

CO-SPONSORING ORGANIZATION. -

Arkansas Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers

PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS:

1. NAACP
2. State Voters Leagues
3. Churches
   Farm Bureau
5. Fraternities
6. Sororities
7. Clubs
8. Local Citizens

-more

ARKANSAS TEACHERS ASSOCIATION
CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION PROGRAM

GOVERNING CONDITIONS

I. The Arkansas Teachers Association Citizenship Education Program is not obligated to or affiliated with any Political Party.

A. The ATA Citizenship Education Program will not use funds to promote any Political Party or candidate. It will take an active part in any phase of a political campaign or political activity approved by the Advisory Committee, with the exception of contributing funds thereto.

II. Personnel and Duties -

A. Supervisor - T. E. Patterson will supervise the entire program

B. Advisory Committee - N. P. Marshall, E. L. Hawkins, C. C. Mercer, B. G. Williams and F. L. Hawthorne will review and give final approval of recommendations made by the supervisor and may originate projects for the program

C. Local Chairmen
Each district, county, city and school community should have a chairman to carry out the program so that the smallest community will be brought into the program.

Meetings -
1) Enough meetings should be held to provide for organization and citizenship education;

2) Call meetings should be held whenever any issue comes up that affects all citizens.

Needs -
1) All must, of necessity, record names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all Negroes that are 21 or approaching 21 years of age - Those that are registered and those that are not;

2) Fund raising drives to provide for correspondence and expense of organization

D. Secretary-Clerk: Mrs. Annie Abrams and Mrs. Clothilde E. Bush shall keep the records, files and correspondence up to date on rosters sent in to the State Headquarters.

III. Statistical data, research results and progress reports will be made when ever deemed necessary by the Advisory Committee.

-more

GOVERNING CONDITIONS

IV. The activities of the Citizenship Education Program shall not conflict in any way with any other activity carried on by the Arkansas Teachers Association.

V. The ATA agrees to keep records open to the Advisory Committee at all times and will make detailed accounts and reports of expenditures to contributors to the Program.

PRIORITIES LIST

1. Equal job opportunities and equal pay for services rendered regardless of race, creed or sex;

2. Better housing conditions for Negroes;

3. More street improvements in Negro neighborhoods;

4. Better police protection for Negroes;

5. Employment opportunities for qualified Negroes in all state agencies;

6. Appointment of qualified Negroes to state boards, committees and commissions;

7. Equalization of teachers' salaries in any given area or district;

8. The admission of Negroes to any and all trade schools now established or to be established in the state of Arkansas;

9. The establishing of enough trade schools in Arkansas to provide training for persons desiring it;

10. Equal job opportunities for Negroes in all industries -
    a) holding federal government contracts,
    b) subsidized by the federal government;

11. Better recreational facilities for Negroes;

12. Appointment of a state interracial advisory commission on interracial problems and relations;

13. Centralized provisions for Negro orphans apart from delinquent homes or training homes.

ATA OFFICE
5/30/63:ceb

EXECUTIVE BOARD
Mrs. V. T. Hegwood, Pres.
Little Rock
N. P. Marshall, Vice Pres.
North Little Rock
Miss Kathalyn Scott, Rec. Sec.
Rosston
Will V. Rutherford, Treas.
Hope
D. S. Boswell (1962)
Little Rock
J. M. Sutton (1962)
Morrilton
T. E. Patterson (1963)
Nashville

Make file

Arkansas Teachers Association

Office of
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
PHONE FR 5-5868
924 Ringo Street
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

JUN 28 1962

EXECUTIVE BOARD
Leo D. Jeffers (1963)
Blytheville
C. N. Toney (1964)
Pine Bluff
C. T. Cobb (1964)
Forrest City
Charles Williams (1965)
McGehee
L. H. Black (1965)
Lewisville
Elijah Coleman (at large)
Pine Bluff

June 26, 1962

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project of
Southern Regional Council
Room 206 - #5 Forsyth Street, NW
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

I am submitting for your consideration the outline of the Arkansas Teachers Association Voter Education Program with their application for a Project grant.

The Negroes in Arkansas have become complacent so far as voting is concerned. With only 27.3% of the 220,000 eligible population registered, I believe that only such a project as we have outlined will provide the imputus of any appreciable and lasting increase.

I hope that you will give the Project your approval along with what you think would be an appropriate grant to carry out such a program.

Please advise, if you have any recommendations for improvements that will help in reaching our objectives.

Sincerely yours,

T. E. Patterson

T. E. Patterson,
Executive Secretary

TEP/ceb
Encl: 2

JUN 28 1962

ATA VOTER EDUCATION PROGRAM

ORIGIN

The Arkansas Teachers Association Voter Education Program was approved by the Executive Board in the regular June meeting, June 16, 1962.

PHILOSOPHY

In a Democracy, a good citizen must be qualified to vote and have the ability to vote intelligently.

PURPOSES

To get the Minority groups of Arkansas vote conscious.

To get Political Science principles taught throughout the school - not just as a course in high school - and make voter education an integral part of those principles.

To indoctrinate idea of paying Poll Tax into students, parents and teachers as a civic responsibility.

To use adult education groups in our state to foster voter education as a means of developing a good citizentry.

OBJECTIVES

A total population of informed Negro voters to insure full citizenship.

(1962 - - only 60,000 qualified out of a potential of 220,000)

To develop an honest voter who will not bow to gifts, graft or payola.

To develop some dedicated voters who will work willingly and diligently for causes in which he believes.

To improve communications from the National level to the state level and from the state level to the local level.

ESTIMATED ANNUAL BUDGET

Personnel	5,000.00
Research, projects, workshops, etc.	7,000.00
Office and supplies	3,000.00
Total	15,000.00

JUN 28 1962

VOTER EDUCATION PROJECT APPLICATION

GOVERNING CONDITIONS

This is to certify that -

1. No Voter Education Funds will be used to influence legislation or to support any Political Party or the campaign of any candidate for election to public office.

2. Key Personnel and their duties -
   A. Superviser - T. E. Patterson - To supervise the entire Project
      1) Supervisory Committee - E. H. Hunter, E. L. Hawkins, B. G. Williams, C. A. Hicks, L. D. Jeffers

   B. Director - Elijah Coleman - To promote, direct research and workshops and any other duties that the supervisor may assign him.

   8 Field Directors - one from each district in the state. Their duties will be to organize and promote the Program at the local levels.

District I	Thomas C. Brunson
District II	G. S. Ivory - Dr. R. M. Dunnings
District III	Rev. Nathaniel Jones
District IV	Earl Chaney
District V	John White
District VI	V. T. Hegwood - C. L. Horn
District VII	Hyman King
District VIII	Leo D. Jeffers

   C. Secretary - Beatrice Strong - To keep the records, files correspondence up to date.

   D. Clerk - Barbara Washington - To type and perform any other task assigned her.

3. To date no such program has been organized. The only other state organization interested in voters is the Democratic Voters Association, which is affiliated with Democratic Party.

4. Statistical data, research results and progress reports will be made promptly whenever deemed necessary by the parent Project.

5. The activities of the Voter Education Project will be separate and apart and will not conflict with any other activities being carried on by the Arkansas Teachers Association.

6. The ATA agrees to keep the records dealing with the grant, open to the Project staff at all times and will make detailed accounts, and reports of expenditures as requested.

7. All funds from the Project will be deposited in a separate bank account and all expenditures of Project funds will be supported by properly executed vouchers.

-more

8. The ATA would like to make this a two year Project. The schedule of disbursements is satisfactory and we will make quarterly reports promptly.

ARKANSAS TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

PROFESSIONAL DISTRICTS

*Do not have Negro Schools

2/7/62:ceb

June 28, 1962

Mr. T. E. Patterson, Executive Secretary
Arkansas Teachers Association
924 Ringo Street
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Patterson:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 26 in which you enclosed the proposal for the ATA Voter Education Program.

We would like some idea as to just how the ATA plans to carry on a voter registration program and would like this information in as much detail as possible. Assuming that VEP made a grant to ATA, we need to know the methods which you would employ in trying to increase registration, the geographical areas in which you propose to operate, and the date or dates during which you plan to conduct your campaign.

There are five major agencies working south-wide in the field of voter education and participating with VEP; namely, The Congress of Racial Equality, The National Urban League, The NAACP, The Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and The Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee. The Urban League will only work where it has local affiliates; and, therefore, the only possible work which The Urban League would do in Arkansas would be in Little Rock. Of the other four, The NAACP is the only organization operating in Arkansas; and any final decision regarding ATA participation would of necessity have to be made after we see what program is going to be approved for NAACP participation. We follow this policy in an effort to prevent unnecessary omission or duplication of registration efforts, though we encourage groups to work under a joint program where two or more are working in the same area. I am sure that you can appreciate our interest in seeing to it that those agencies which have been working in the field of voter registration for a long time have priority over programs and projects which have been developed solely as a result of the possibility of receiving a grant, even though the program is one in which all of us have a mutual interest.

I am aware of the fact that there is no statewide non-partisan political action group in Arkansas such as are found in most of the other states.

In view of the fact that October 1 is the deadline for payment of poll tax and it is already too late to qualify to vote in the important primaries this summer, we do not see much need in launching a big program in Arkansas where there is no such thing as permanent registration since there will not be any major elections in Arkansas next year. I realize the fact that all elections are important and that you probably will have some very important local or school board elections next year. In this regard, it occurs to me that it would be appropriate for you to select a few communities where the potential is good with the idea that we might be able to support some pilot projects in those areas during August and September of this year. The real push in Arkansas should best be conducted in 1963 in contemplation of the 1964 summer primaries.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton
Project Director

WAB:gwc

cc: Mr. Roy Wilkins
Mr. George Howard

August 6, 1963

Mr. T. E. Patterson
Executive Secretary
Arkansas Teachers Association
924 Ringo Street
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Patterson:

I had hoped that we would have had an opportunity to get together the last time I was in Arkansas but I was so busily engaged in trying a law suit that there was no opportunity to meet with you.

I do not regard this year as an appropriate time to conduct a wide-spread voter registration program in Arkansas for the reasons set forth in my letter to you of June 18, but this does not mean that we would not give some limited support to programs in Arkansas leading up to the October 1 poll tax payment deadline.

If the Arkansas Teachers Association is conducting any kind of a program this summer or plans to conduct anything prior to October 1, then you should, by all means, bring such efforts to my immediate attention and let me know in what way we can assist your program.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

Rec'd 6-29-63 WBr

Note file

EXECUTIVE BOARD

N. P. Marshall, President
North Little Rock
E. L. Hawkins, Vice-President
Little Rock
Miss Kathalyn Scott, Rec. Sec.
Rosston
Elijah Coleman, Treasurer
Pine Bluff
W. H. Fowler
Little Rock
J. M. Sutton
Morrilton
Will V. Rutherford
Hope

Arkansas Teachers Association

Office of
T. E. Patterson
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
PHONE FR 5-5868
924 Ringo Street
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Leo D. Jeffers
Blytheville
C. N. Toney
Pine Bluff
Larthell Young
Moro
Charles Williams
McGehee
L. H. Black
Lewisville
Charles J. Latimar (at large)
Madison
Mrs. V.T. Hegwood, Immediate Past Pres.
Little Rock

June 27, 1963

Mr. Wiley A. Branton, Director
Voter Education Project
5 Forsyth Street, NW, Room 206
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

I received your letter of June 18th, and would welcome the opportunity to work with the Urban League and NAACP in a state wide organizational program. However, the fellows are not to receptive to the idea of organizing the state, but are more or less mainly concerned in the trouble spots - namely Pine Bluff and Little Rock.

I would like to explore the possibilities of your suggestion along with Mr. Henry and Mr. Howard. Perhaps a conference could be set up on the date of your next visit to Arkansas.

The Emancipation Centinnial program was a success. However, the Voter Registration Steering Committee, composed of a representative from each county, was not, as the majority in attendance was from Little Rock and Pine Bluff, However, those present adopted the enclosed as the state program. Those in attendance were predominantly state political leaders and I'm afraid their objective isn't the same as ours - nor are they willing to make their objectives subordinate to the main idea of 100% state registration.

Looking forward to seeing you when you come to Arkansas.

Sincerely,

T E Patterson

T. E. Patterson,
Executive Secretary

TEP/ceb
Encl:

SEE AND HEAR

SENATOR LEROY R. JOHNSON of Atlanta, Georgia

The First Negro Member of the Georgia Legislature

Since 1892

at the

26TH ANNUAL MEETING of

THE URBAN LEAGUE OF GREATER LITTLE ROCK

Date ..... June 27, 1963

Time ..... 8:00 P. M.

Place ..... Dunbar Community Center

Admission ..... Free

Come Early in Order to Get a Good Seat!

"Support Your Urban League"

Statewide Centinnial Celebration of the

EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

June 23, 1963 -:- 2:30 P. M.

Dunbar Community Center

16th & Chester Street

Little Rock, Arkansas

Mr. C. H. Jones -:- -:- General Chairman

PROGRAM

2:30 P. M.

Prelude ---

Call to Order ---- Rev. J. C. Crenchaw

Music ---- "Lift Every Voice and Sing"

Invocation ---- Rev. A. Miller
Pastor, 1st Baptist Church
Stuttgart, Arkansas

Music ---- Alpha Phi Alpha Male Chorus

Presentation of General Chairman

The Occasion ---- Mr. Ozell Sutton,
Associate Director of Arkansas Council on Human Relation

GREETINGS (2 minutes)

Mayor Byron Morse

Bishop John D. Bright

Dr. L. A. Davis

Rev. Nat Griswald

Mr. A. L. Billingsley

Dr. D. J. Connor

Federated Women

Dr. G. W. S. Ish

Rev. J. J. Brown

Music ---- Alpha Phi Alpha Male Chorus

The Emancipation Proclamation ---- ---- ---- Miss Jacquelyn Evans

I Am An American ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Mrs. Tillie B. Smith

Solo ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Mrs. Jo Ann Sutton

Introduction of Speaker ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Rev. W. H. Bass

Address ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Dr. Tinsley L. Spraggins
National Democratic Committee
Washington, D. C.

Music ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Alpha Phi Alpha Male Chorus

Resolution by Centinnial Committee ---- ---- ---- Rev. Negail Riley

Report of Poll Tax Committee ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Mr. I. S. McClinton

Offering ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- Mr. Jeffery L. Hawkins

Awards ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- ---- W. M. Pierce & Mrs. Casa Lawlah

Announcements

Benediction

Reception for Dr. Spraggins immediately following the program

"Lift Every Voice and Sing"

Lift every voice and sing, Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, Bitter the chast'ning rod,
Felt in the days when hop unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat, Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears have been watered.
We have come, treading our path thro the blood of the slaughtered,
Out of the gloomy past, Till now we stand at last

Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.
God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou who hast brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who hast by Thy might, Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee,
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee,
Shadowed beneath Thy hand, May we forever stand,
True to our God, True to our Native land.

James Weldon Johnson.

Sponsored by the STATEWIDE EMANCIPATION COMMITTEE of One hundred citizens and the Southern Mediator Journal.

TE PATTERSON

5000

RECOMMENDATION
POLL TAX COMMITTEE FOR CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

(1) ok That a state-wide poll tax drive be planned at once.

(2) ok That a committee be named with persons from each county where Negroes live make up the committee, and additional persons be selected by the persons named here and other selected by other groups, organizations and movements designed to make this effort a success.

(3) ok That all counties name county chairman and other staff members to make this drive successful and effective from the local level, And that these persons be responsible for the results locally, and also kindly ask to work with the state committee, and the county chairmen either become a part of the state committee or name someone from his community to become a part of the state committee.

(4) ok We further recommend that we raise money by contributions, and by having local banquets or picnics or other acceptable programs by the local community or local people. →→→

(5) ok It has been suggested and we recommend that half of all money raised for the poll tax effort stay in a county or local fund and the other half go to a state fund. The purpose of the county fund will be to offer incentives to encourage groups or persons to work in the drive. The money in the state fund will be used to hire and pay a full-time executive secretary or worker for six or eight weeks depending upon our ability to raise money to pay the person. The money in the state fund will also be used to hold workshops for organizational purposes during and after the Centennial meeting and after the poll tax drive. And that we buy a sufficient amount of poll tax books to supply our needs to make the drive a success.

(6) ok We recommend that the committee be called a stirring committee of organizations on both the state and local level and that this committee be a strong bi-partisian movement without regard to religious faith, fraternal connections, or political party beliefs, but Negroes of Arkansas working to qualify and educate potential voters in the area of Governmental functions on the local level to the National and if necessary the International.

(7) ok That all county groups analyze the county populations and see where the density of the people are. This can be done by the local county workers and reported to the state so we can help where we can, this will be done with state support and help.

(8) ok On September 20th we will plan a state poll tax march beginning at 7:00 p.m. and ending as each local county see fit.

(9) ok This date (June 23, 1963) will be a state wide kick off for the Centennial Poll Tax Drive.

1243.069 Total

(10) Since the Negro population in the State is approximately 400,000 we recommend that our goal will be at least 200,000 qualified educated voters. 170,000 192 626 Non white delete

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Mr. C. H. Jones

Mr. J. L. Hawkins

Mr. Ozell Sutton

Dr. W. H. Townsend

Rev. E. M. O'Neal

Mr. I. S. McClinton, Chairman

This was adopted. Excuse this marked up copy, but I don't have another.

EH

Pine Bluff Tax Receipt Fuss Ended

Ark. Gazette 5-3-63

From the Associated Press

Pine Bluff, July 2.—Harold Norton, Jefferson County sheriff and collector, and the Pine Bluff Movement have resolved their difference over receipts for poll taxes for Negro voters.

Sheriff Norton personally accepted $215 worth of money orders and 215 poll tax applications yesterday.

Earlier clerks in the collector's office had refused to accept money orders and had refused to give members of the Movement a receipt for cash turned in. A canceled money order acts as its own receipt.

The dispute did not involve the poll tax receipts, which will be issued later.

The dispute led to a complaint by the Movement, an anti-segregation group, to the Justice Department at Washington. The Department said it would investigate.

Rev. Ben Grinage, a spokesman for the Movement, said today the Justice Department would be notified that the dispute had been resolved.

Arkansas Statewide

Ark. Gazette 6/24/63

—Staff Photo.

Negroes crowd auditorium to hear appeal to increase their voting power.

Salvation Is at Ballot Box, Negroes Told at Celebration

About 800 Negroes celebrated the centennial of the Emancipation Proclamation and began a voter registration drive yesterday at Dunbar Community Center.

A long series of speakers praised the Proclamation but told the Negroes that it was only the beginning of their movement toward freedom.

The salvation of the Negro today is at the ballot box, said the principal speaker, Dr. Tinsley L. Spraggins, assistant to the director of voter registration for the Democratic National Committee.

He urged the Negroes to give their money and time in order to meet the registration campaign goal of 200,000 Negro voters in Arkansas.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the audience donated money for the campaign and approved a resolution calling for Negro participation in politics, for securing the unrestricted use of public facilities and services, for the pursuit of full education and employment opportunities, and for "selective buying" as a weapon against economic insecurity.

Dr. Spraggins, a history professor on leave for his registration work, called the Emancipation Proclamation the federal government's first payment on the "mortgage" on the Negro's freedom.

The government has made other payments, such as the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision, but today the young Negroes are demanding "immediate and full payment," he said.

Negroes will not win their goals with self-pity, but with self-respect, solidarity and action, he said.

Dr. Spraggins was quoted by a preceding speaker as having answered the question "What does the Negro want?" by saying: "He wants what every other American citizen wants. Nothing more and nothing less."

The centennial celebration was organized by C. H. Jones, editor of the Southern Mediator Journal, a weekly Negro newspaper, and a committee of 100 persons. The voter registration drive is being organized by I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association.

Ark. Statesman

Pine Bluff Commercial 6-26-63

Movement Is Refused Tax Receipt

Workers of the Pine Bluff Movement and Harold Norton, the Jefferson County sheriff and collector, differed yesterday about whether Norton's office should give receipts for cash and poll tax applications turned over by the movement to the sheriff.

The movement has had a campaign to sell poll taxes under way in recent weeks and expects to continue the campaign indefinitely, some of its officers said.

THE DISPUTE with Norton occurred when Jimmie Travis, 20, of Jackson, Miss., went to the sheriff's office yesterday with 181 poll tax applications and $181 paid for the poll taxes.

Travis wanted to turn the applications over to the sheriff so that poll tax receipts (what most people call poll taxes) could be written. Workers in the sheriff's office agreed to accept the money and the applications but refused to give Travis a receipt for them.

Travis and other workers from the movement went back later yesterday and tried again. They were again refused a receipt.

Travis said that the movement previously had delivered 425 applications and dollars to the sheriff's office and had received receipts.

SHERIFF NORTON said today that the earlier receipts had been a mistake. He said that no more receipts would be issued.

"If the person who gives these people a dollar for a poll tax does not trust them, them he shouldn't do business with them in the first place," Norton said.

Rev. Ben Grinage, a spokesman for the movement, said that if a poll tax applicant failed to receive a poll tax receipt from the sheriff's office the movement wanted proof that the application and the dollar had been turned over to the collector.

Workers for the movement said they planned to return to see the sheriff today. They said they had talked with him by telephone but had not met with him face to face about the situation.

The movement sent telegrams to the Justice Department yesterday demanding federal intervention to force Norton to give them receipts.

RECEIPTS for the poll taxes that the Pine Bluff Movement had sold all apparently have been returned to the applicants by mail, a spokesman said.

Act 480 of 1949 governs purchasing of poll taxes. The law says that the tax must be paid to the county collector or his deputy by the prospective voter or his or her husband, wife, son, daughter, sister, brother, father, mother.

The law also says payment may be by mail.

Efforts to tighten up the law and require people to come to courthouses to buy poll taxes were defeated in the 1959 legislature.

ORGANIZATIONS, such as the League of Women Voters, have been permitted to collect for poll taxes and deliver applications to the collector.

The movement has a printed form which is signed by the voter asking the sheriff to mail the poll tax receipt to a specified address.

Norton said he was uneasy about unestablished groups selling poll taxes because of the danger that the taxes collected might disappear.

Ark. Statewide

, June 18, 1963. Ark. Gazette 6-18-63 EPB

Don't Say Nothin'

We don't know what Bruce Bennett is up to these days, in a running series of commentaries on racial issues, but we are convinced he's up to no good. The attorney general has now even taken it upon himself to criticize the assistant city attorney of Little Rock for asking the dismissal of a couple of old sit-in cases, arising from a lunch-counter segregation question that has since been settled.

The proprietors of the lunch counter had lost their wish to prosecute, but Mr. Bennett called the city's decision "surrender," instead of ordinary common sense.

Mr. Bennett presumably is still riled over the Arkansas Supreme Court's decision upsetting some of the old Bennett segregation statutes, passed back during The Trouble. The court's treatment of these unconstitutional statutes evoked in the attorney general sentiments remindful of the popular rock-and-roll lament, Don't Say Nothin' Bad About Mah Baby.

It is entirely possible, too, that Bennett still harbors in pectore ambitions for yet another try at Higher Office.

Wallace Rejects President's Bid To Ease Conditions in Alabama

N Y Times 6-18-63

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 17 (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama today answered President Kennedy's telegram with the charge "you have created situation existing in Tuscaloosa, Ala.," and he said the President "must assume the responsibility."

The Governor's statement came in a telegram to the President in answer to one from President Kennedy calling on Governer Wallace "to take the necessary steps" that would permit release of Alabama's federalized National Guard.

The President said the Guard would be kept under Federal orders until it was assured that local and state officials could maintain law and order at the University of Alabama. The Guard was federalized when Governor Wallace made his "stand in the schoolhouse door" at the university last week when two Negroes were enrolled there.

"I can and will guarantee that there will be no sustained violence in the State of Alabama," Mr. Wallace said in the telegram, "but with our limited resources, physical and financial, Alabama cannot insure absolutely the personal safety of individual students."

"You cannot usurp the powers reserved to the State of Alabama and then place the burdens thereby created on my shoulders," Mr. Wallace continued.

He said President Kennedy called the National Guardsmen into Federal service without "consulting me or without even complying with the statutes of the United States." The Governor did not elaborate on what statutes he thought the President had violated. Mr. Wallace added:

"Therefore, the defederalization of the Guard is a matter that you will have to determine yourself. I will not be intimidated by your calculated attempt to pass to me the responsibility for the duration of duty of the National Guard.

"Surely you realize that a continuous cause of the tension in Alabama is the presence of the three Negro students on the campuses of the University and I suggest that you immediately secure their withdrawal."

The Governor's office said the special state sovereignty committee of the Alabama Bar Association helped Mr. Wallace prepare the answers to President Kennedy. The bar association appointed the committee to advise Mr. Wallace on racial matters.

Apparently referring to a recent speech by the President, Governor Wallace said, "Your public statement that unless the demands of Negro agitators are met, Negroes will return to the streets, is an open invitation to violence and has worsened an already dangerous situation throughout the nation."

Mr. Wallace said Alabama had preserved law and order on the campuses of the university "under extreme provocation."

Alabama
Politics

Ark. Gazette 6-29-63

A Registration Measure

Arkansas cannot escape the necessity for adopting a voter registration law, probably during the next 18 months, and Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County is taking steps to see that the law finally enacted safeguards the individual right to vote. He tried unsuccessfully during the last General Assembly session to promote a sound registration bill, and has been working methodically since session's end to win public support.

Arkansas is not often treated to this approach to a legislative issue; that is to say, individual legislators do not often attempt to carry on a sustained public campaign. Mr. Croxton, as a leader of a minority in the General Assembly, has no real choice but to appeal directly to the people on an issue about which he feels strongly. He apparently intends to try to pass the bill through the General Assembly if a special session is convened or to use the initiative procedure if the Assembly fails to meet or to pass a good bill.

Mr. Croxton's proposal is based on studies made by the non-partisan League of Women Voters. It would provide for a permanent registration system with checks against fraudulent registration or voting. The bill has been modified to take into account some objections raised in the General Assembly during the last session and to win the accord of the county clerks, who will be charged with administering it.

At the meeting Thursday night of the newly-formed Committee for Voter Registration, the most serious question arising about Mr. Croxton's bill concerned the length of the annual registration period. Mr. Croxton has proposed to establish a period extending from January 1 to March 1. Dr. H. D. Luck of Arkadelphia argued in Thursday's meeting that it should extend at least to within 60 days of the primary elections, or in May. We are inclined to agree that a longer registration period would be preferable.

Mr. Croxton asked for no more than general agreement on the broad lines of his proposal. He did not attempt to argue that his bill is beyond improvement. But he did express the fear that unless there is vigilance about basic principles, the General Assembly will weaken the bill a little bit here and there until the basic protections are gone. On that, Mr. Croxton's audience seemed to be agreed.

Ark. Statesman

Voter Registration System Would Require Party Choice

Ark. Statesmen

Special to The Commercial

ROGERS—Civic leaders interested in a permanent voters registratino system reached general agreement on the details of such a system at a meeting at Little Rock on Thursday night, Hardy Croxton of Rogers said yesterday.

Croxton said the proposal that won general approval at the meeting was essentially the same as one reported out of a committee of the House of Representatives in the last legislature. That measure was heavily amended on the floor, and eventually defeated.

CROXTON, the Benton County state representative, was active in the fight for the registration law in the House. He called Thursday night's meeting, at which about 50 representatives of "good government" groups, of business, of labor and of several other organizations reviewed the voter registration situation. The group organized as the Committee for Voter Registration. Croxton was named chairman and Mrs. L. L. Elkins of Fort Smith was named secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Elkins is the state president of the League of Women Voters. Croxton emphasized that her work with the committee would be independent of her office in the league. Bylaws of the league limit the political activity of its officers.

Croxton said it now looked as if 38 states would have ratified a constitutional amendment eliminating the poll tax by January or February. After the thirty-eighth state has ratified, the amendment will take effect within a few days, Croxton said. The thirty-sixth state, Kentucky ratified the amendment a few days ago, he said.

When the amendment takes effect, Arkansas will be without a system of voter registration. Governor Faubus has said that a system could be enacted into law at a special session of the legislature if that became necessary.

CROXTON SAID that if there were a special session, the new group would work to get its proposed registration system written into law intact. If the legislature fails to come up with a law that seems satisfactory, there may be an initiated act, he added. This would be voted on in the general election in November of 1964.

There are some differences in the new committee about the best registration bill, Croxton said, but almost all of those at the meeting indicated a willingness to compromise differences and settle on a basic bill that could be heavily supported in the legislature and, if necessary, in an election campaign.

THE BIGGEST disagreement is over party registration. The proposed system would require voters to declare party affiliation when they registered. Croxton favors this. He said that Henry Britt of Hot Springs had spoken against party declaration but had declared a willingness to accept it to achieve unanimity on the bill. Britt is a lawyer. He was the Republican candidate for governor in 1960. Croxton is a Democrat who says he believes in a two-party system. He contends that a party declaration requirement will help build the second party. Some Republicans and other two-party advocates dispute this.

Under a party declaration system, only registered Democrats would be eligible to vote in Democratic primaries and only registered Republicans would be eligible to vote in Republican primaries. In general elections, voters of both parties would be free to vote for any candidate, as they are now.

Under the proposed system, would-be voters would have to register in person at the county courthouse or at stations set up by county clerks. Once registered, the voter would remain on the rolls so long as he voted at least once every two years in a primary or a general election. If a two-year period passed without the voter voting, he would have to register all over again.

Shut-ins and the infirm could register by mail, although the registration would have to be notarized.

There would be no charge for the registration.

THE VOTER ROLLS would be kept by precinct, and each voter would sign a book when he voted. He would sign next to his registration signature, so that the two signatures could be compared. Unless he had qualified for an absentee ballot, the voter would have to vote in his assigned polling place, and sign by his registration signature when he did so.

The voter registration law would have nothing to do with the form of ballots—which are numbered in Arkansas so that the ballot can be matched with the voter in election contests—or with privacy of balloting, lacking in most polling places, Croxton said.

The proposed system is about the same as was proposed to the Legislative Council by the League of Women Voters about two years ago, Croxton said. He said that only a few technical details needed to be worked out before the new committee would have the proposed system in what it considered final form for enactment into law.

One Backs Voter Plan Despite Reservations

Special to The Commercial

ARKADELPHIA — Dr. H. D. Luck said yesterday that he opposed two key provisions of the proposed permanent voter registration system but would campaign hard for the bill even if the two provisions were not changed.

"I would rather have what we have than have a few of the Old Guard write the law," Dr. Luck said. He is a physician here who attended Thursday night's meeting at Little Rock at which a committee to promote the permanent registration system was formed.

The provisions in the proposed legislation he doesn't like are:

—Party declaration. Under this, voters would have to declare themselves Democrats or Republicans when they registered. Dr. Luck said that talk he heard on Arkadelphia street corners persuadad him that this provision could defeat the registration system if the system were taken to the people in an intitiated act. Arkansans are inherently independents as votes, Dr. Luck contended. "If they're in a mood to vote against a man, they want to vote against him all the way —in the primaries and in the general election. Same thing if they're for him."

—Voter registration period. Proposed is an annual registration period from January 1 to March 1. Dr. Luck said that registration should be possible at least to within 60 days of election day.

He said the two-month registration period had been put in the proposal to please the state's county clerks. A longer period should not impose unmanageable workloads on the clerks, Dr. Luck contended.

He said that the short period would cut down on participation in elections, and would particularly work against participation in elections by people who had become aroused about an issue or a man.

The closer to election day registration can close, the better chance there is of registering public sentiment accurately in elections, Dr. Luck argued.

Arkansas's Clean Bill On the Voting Franchise

Ark. Statewide

ARKANSAS, whatever its deficiencies in some areas of race relationships, long ago recognized the voting rights of the Negro. The state's record on discrimination in voting stands in bright contrast beside the record of several states in the Deep South.

In this light it was gratifying to find Congressional Quarterly, a newspaper service used widely about the country, reporting in depth on just which states discriminate in voting and which states do not.

CQ, in this survey which the Gazette published last week, found that 261 counties in 11 Southern states would fall under the purview of the voting rights measure proposed to Congress by the president. The measure would authorize the registration of Negroes by federal court referees, in counties where less that 15 per cent of Negroes of voting age are registered. The enfranchisement of the Negro in some states has been systematically blocked, and the usual court remedies can be delayed by long litigation.

Arkansas has just two out of the 261 counties, the CQ survey showed.

These two are Crittenden County, in Eastern Arkansas, and Washington County in the Northwest. Crittenden had 11.9 per cent of Negroes of voting age registered, and Washington, 3.9 per cent. The statistic on Washington, where the University of Arkansas is situated, is curious but not particularly significant, for CQ listed only 311 nonwhite residents in the county.

It is perfectly true that Negro votes in Eastern Arkansas have often been "delivered" by county machines and by large landholders, but whatever the varying motives for past decisions to extend the franchise, the fact remains that it has been extended. In Arkansas any qualified resident with his poll tax dollar can vote, regardless of his color.

★ ★ ★

THIS KNOWLEDGE of the state's clean bill on voting discrimination should have its due place in the consciousness of Arkansas senators and representatives as they consider the several measures in the president's Civil Rights bill.

The provision for voting referees is not directed at Arkansas, but rather against conditions in several other states. In Alabama 33 of 67 counties would be affected; in Louisiana 23 of 64; in South Carolina 26 of 46; in Georgia, 36 of 159.

Most of all, the bill is designed against the systematic disfranchisement of the Negro in Mississippi where only six counties in the whole state do not show less than 15 per cent of voting age Negroes registered.

What we suggest is that Arkansas members of Congress be properly discriminating in contemplating the several measures proposed against racial discrimination.

Certainly, when the time of filibuster rolls around, we would understand readily enough why Senators J. W. Fulbright and John McClellan would join a Southern effort to throttle the extremely controversial Kennedy proposal for compulsory desegregation of privately-owned business establishments.

It would be difficult indeed to understand, on the other hand, why Arkansas senators should join any attempt to kill a measure to protect Negro voting rights. Certainly they would not be defending a practice existing in their own state, but rather they would be helping Mississippi and some other states to maintain a practice that is indefensible.

Arkansas opposition to voting rights legislation, moreover, would only serve to further cloud in the national mind the distinctions between Arkansas and Mississippi which Arkansans can draw with logic and with a good measure of pride.

Ark. Gazette 7-15-63

Ark. Gazette 7-18-63

Mr. Bennett Shows Himself in Capital

OLD WASHINGTON CITY, which thought it had seen about everything, now has been treated to the spectacle of a state's attorney general—ours—and self-commissioned expert on alleged Communist infiltration of the Negro rights movement who thinks that Martin Luther King is head of CORE.

Much as we would like to blame Bruce Bennett on the Communists or somebody else, *any*body else, we know that the fault is Arkansas's and Arkansas's alone. All that has been changed is that now a nation-wide TV audience has been let in on our secret.

One might have hoped that the charge of "Communist" direction of the Negro rights would have been effectively blown up for a time when, two hours before the worst of the Birmingham riots in early May, the hooded brethren of the Ku Klux Klan gathered at nearby Bessemer, in direct contravention of an Alabama state law. Whatever one may choose to say about the comparative bloodlines of a Wade Hampton and a Bobbie Shelton (the Alabama Klan's incumbent Grand Wizard), it cannot be denied that the present Klan exists for the same reason that the original Klan was brought into being: "To deal" with a Negro rights problem that began long, long, before Karl Marx first set pen to paper.

How long before?

Dr. King himself has supplied a clue, in his eloquent "Letter From Birmingham Jail," written in reply to a cease-and-desist plea from that city's white ministry:

> Our destiny is tied up with America. Before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, we were here . . .

The date was 1619, or shortly after the arrival of the first King James Bibles in this country, and if the Negro rights movement did not begin then it was made inevitable then, because the "problem" existed from that time on.

★ ★ ★

IN THE JULY issue of Esquire, William Styron advances the theory that Nat Turner's Rebellion, (the subject of his current novel-in-progress) came about precisely because Turner was not a subdued product of the big plantation system, but as a chattel on a smaller, marginal farm had to be granted a measure of practical freedom. The theory is not really new, of course, but has been heard in explanation of all revolutions: "Take your foot off their necks, and they start chewing up your leg." What is interesting is the date—1831.

Again, the June issue of American Heritage recalls an 1837 debate between a well - known Pennsylvania freedman, William Whipper and the editor of "The Colored American." Whipper, a moderate, had taken the affirmative position on the subject: "Resolved, that the practice of non-resistance to physical aggression is not only consistent with reason, but the surest method of obtaining a speedy triumph of the principles of universal peace." The newspaper's dissent could not have been more explicit:

Ark. Statesmen

Negro rights movement who thinks that Martin Luther King is head of CORE.

Much as we would like to blame Bruce Bennett on the Communists or somebody else, *any*body else, we know that the fault is Arkansas's and Arkansas's alone. All that has been changed is that now a nation-wide TV audience has been let in on our secret.

One might have hoped that the charge of "Communist" direction of the Negro rights would have been effectively blown up for a time when, two hours before the worst of the Birmingham riots in early May, the hooded brethren of the Ku Klux Klan gathered at nearby Bessemer, in direct contravention of an Alabama state law. Whatever one may choose to say about the comparative bloodlines of a Wade Hampton and a Bobbie Shelton (the Alabama Klan's incumbent Grand Wizard), it cannot be denied that the present Klan exists for the same reason that the original Klan was brought into being: "To deal" with a Negro rights problem that began long, long, before Karl Marx first set pen to paper.

How long before?

Dr. King himself has supplied a clue, in his eloquent "Letter From Birmingham Jail," written in reply to a cease-and-desist plea from that city's white ministry:

> Our destiny is tied up with America. Before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, we were here . . .

The date was 1619, or shortly after the arrival of the first King James Bibles in this country, and if the Negro rights movement did not begin then it was made inevitable then, because the "problem" existed from that time on.

★ ★ ★

IN THE JULY issue of Esquire, William Styron advances the theory that Nat Turner's Rebellion, (the subject of his current novel-in-progress) came about precisely because Turner was not a subdued product of the big plantation system, but as a chattel on a smaller, marginal farm had to be granted a measure of practical freedom. The theory is not really new, of course, but has been heard in explanation of all revolutions: "Take your foot off their necks, and they start chewing up your leg." What is interesting is the date—1831.

Again, the June issue of American Heritage recalls an 1837 debate between a well - known Pennsylvania freedman, William Whipper and the editor of "The Colored American." Whipper, a moderate, had taken the affirmative position on the subject: "Resolved, that the practice of non-resistance to physical aggression is not only consistent with reason, but the surest method of obtaining a speedy triumph of the principles of universal peace." The newspaper's dissent could not have been more explicit:

> "We publish this address with pleasure • • • but we honestly confess that we have yet to learn what virtue there would be in using moral weapons in defense against kidnapers or a midnight incendiary with a torch in his hand."

The words on both sides are familiar, but, again, it is the year that is important—1837, or 11 years before the publication of the Communist Manifesto and, more relevantly, 12 years before the appearance of Thoreau's treatise on Civil Disobedience, which actually is Martin Luther King's primary adopted text, insofar as he has any other than the aforementioned King James Bible.

Possibly the worst of all disservices we can do to the Negro people is to refuse to credit them with an original thought on the subject of freedom, or if one wants to put it that way, of revolution.

Ark. Statesman

Arkansas Gazette
9-16-63

Heading National Baptist Convention Only a Part of State Pastor's Work

—Staff Photo.
REV. C. D. PETTAWAY

Rev. C. D. Pettaway divides his time about 50-50 between being president of United Friends of America, a "fraternal benefit" society that he founded some 45 years ago, and being president of the National Baptist Convention of America, one of the large Negro church organizations in the country.

Mr. Pettaway, now 67, earlier this month was elected to his seventh one-year term as the NBCA head. "They seem to think I'm a good fellow, honest and Christian," he explained. "They just never found out anything bad about me."

In his spare time, he also is pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church at East Twelfth and Hanger Streets, a third job he's had for something like 36 years.

"The church here is very little," he said. "I've been there a long time and they let me go as much as I please."

The NBCA, Mr. Pettaway said, differs not one bit in its beliefs and dogma from its huge white counterpart, the Southern Baptist Convention, and a larger Negro Baptist group, the National Baptists of the United States of America. The National Baptists of the USA have almost 5,000,00 members, compared with some 3,750,000 for the NBCA.

In All States

The MBCA's members are in 11,000 congregations in all 50 states, although there are only about 1,500 or 2,000 members in Arkansas.

Mr. Pettaway explained away his eminence in the organization by saying simply that he'd "been attending the convetions for a long time." But he noted that the NBCA had elected him "over lows from New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and all those places."

His work requires him to travel considerably, "first one place and then another, speaking to some group, preaching to some church." He also is trying now to set up a Convention-wide pension fund and to establish a home for retired miisters.

Louisiana Native

A native of Louisiana, Mr. Pettaway moved to Little Rock some 35 to 40 years ago—he doesn't remember the exact year—and earned a degree at Philander Smith College "way back yonder." He also attended the University of Chicago and has two honorary degrees from Arkansas AM and N College and Arkansas Baptist College.

United Friends, which he founded in about 1918, in "like an old fashioned lodge, except that we have modernized." The organization sponsors a funeral home mainly to take care of its members and a 25-bed hospital at 714 West Tenth Street were members get free treatment.

At one time United Friends of America was licensed to do business in Louisiana, Tennessee and Oklahoma, as well as Arkansas, but is now licensed only in Arkansas. It has members, however, "from California to New York, Michigan to New Orleans," because they may "send their premiums here, regardless of where they live."

How did men of the same faith become so divided, organizationally? "It all got started by fighting, dividing and taking another name," said Mr. Pettaway. He has no ecumenical designs, feeling that both the Southern Baptist Convention and the NBUSA "are too big for us."

Mr. Pettaway and his wife have one son, two grandchildren and a deceased daughter.

Arkansas Statesmade

File - Ark. Statewide

Faubus Suggests Date Nearer Election Day As Last for Poll Tax

Arkansas probably could have a higher voter turnout if the deadline for payment of the poll tax or, eventually voter registration, was closer to the date of actual voting, Governor Faubus said Tuesday.

The state could also reduce the voting age from 21 to 18 to encourage larger turnouts at the polls, he added. The reduction of the voting age is something he has favored for a long time, Faubus noted.

Otherwise, the governor said, Arkansas is far ahead of most states in making it easy for those desiring to vote. He said he never heard of anyone being refused permission to pay a poll tax.

Apathy keeps Arkansas from having a greater turnout than the approximate 65 per cent of qualified voters at the polls, Faubus said.

Faubus talked about election turnouts when asked to comment on a special report on the subject prepared for President Johnson by a special federal commission. Faubus said he had skimmed through a copy and partly agreed with it.

The report said that about one-third of the eligible voters in the nation were not voting. The commission majority believed that about a third of this third were discouraged by state laws and procedures. Another third, the report said, were people who didn't care to vote under any circumstances.

Agrees With Estimate

Faubus agreed with the estimate of nonvoters but disagreed with the suggestion that the states could do more to simplify voting. He said that Arkansas has a law requiring employers to give employes time off to vote and the state and most other public offices close on election days to enable employes to vote.

Faubus said that poll tax payments were simple. Payment is required by October 1 to enable the holder to vote in any election up to October 1 the following year. This puts the poll tax deadline close to the November general election.

A deadline closer to the Democratic preferential primary in July would be better, he said.

"Interest in an election is built up by then and people who otherwise would not have voted because they didn't buy a poll tax the previous year would buy one to vote because their interest had been stimulated," Faubus said.

Faubus said that the poll books, or registration books when and if the state shifts to this type of voter qualification, could be reopened between the primaries and the general election in November to pick up more potential voters.

The governor said that the state has a liberal absentee voting law. He said that voters who move out of state were premitted to cast absentee ballots, until they qualify for residency and the right to vote in their new state. He said that the 8 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. election hour is ample time for those who want to vote.

Ark Statesman

Amen to the Governor

A good many of Governor Faubus's most persistent critics are likely to find themselves saying Amen to the governor if he stays hitched to his advocacy of less restrictive voter registration laws.

Mr. Faubus said last week that the voter turnout could be increased in Arkansas if the poll tax (or voter registration) deadline were closer to the primaries. The governor advocated a deadline just ahead of the July primary and reopening of the rolls between the primaries and the general election.

Arkansas's scandalously low voter turnout is pretty clearly in part a result of the present registration deadline: One must buy a poll tax by October 1 of the previous year to vote in the primaries and the primaries are where the action is in the state elections. There has never been reason for such an early cutoff except that it kept down the vote.

• • •

The poll tax will almost certainly be eliminated by federal constitutional amendment before the summer elections are held, and a special session of the legislature will no doubt be necessary to write new registration laws. We think the people are ready for effective reform, and will hold legislators accountable for any failure to write new rules which discourage fraud while encouraging voting by qualified citizens. Our inclination is toward a permanent registration system and we think it a shame that the reform bill championed by the Young Turks in the 1963 Legislature was blocked by the Old Guard.

But less restrictive registration cutoff dates are almost as important as any other voter registration reform and it is good to have Mr. Faubus supporting the idea of them.

18-year-old Voting

Mr. Faubus made his comments about voter registration deadlines while talking with reporters about the recommendations of a presidential commission on voting.

Mr. Faubus and the commission (which was named by President Kennedy but made its report to President Johnson) would like to see 18-year-olds voting. We have never cottoned to that idea, and are still disposed to approach it warily, but the commission offered a contention we hadn't heard before which seems to us worth reflecting on. This is that a lowered voting age would avoid a dry spell between training in citizenship in school and the chance to function as a voter at age 21. The proposition is that young people now come out of high school filled with a sense of the mission of citizenship and somewhat knowledgeable about its mechanics. The sense of mission and the knowledge of the mechanics tend to be leached out of a fellow in the three years between high school graduation and the 21st birthday, particulary if the fellow doesn't go on to college, it is argued.

This may presume more of the high schools than is warranted but the notion seems to us to have something in it.

Atlanta Daily World

Branton Ready To Push Amendment

Sold for 1-29-63

Wiley A. Branton, director of the Southern Regional Council's Voter Registration project, said he is prepared to meet head-on expected resistance from several southern states to the recently ratified 24th amendment to the U. S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax.

The anti-poll tax amendment which was formally ratified Jan. 23 when South Dakota became the 38th state to approve it, applies only to primaries and elections for President, Vice President and members of Congress. Approval of the required three fourths of the 50 states came in time to apply the new amendment to the 1964 presidential elections.

States now requiring payment of the poll tax are Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas.

Branton says he expects efforts will be made in all these states, except possibly Texas, to still use the poll tax device to prevent Negroes from voting in the forthcoming federal elections.

"If such is done," he said, "I am ready to go to court to enforce the new amendment."

Branton filed the lawsuit leading to the desegregation of Little Rock's Central High School in 1957.

For example, Arkansas's poll tax will be illegal in federal elections but there has been some conjecture that the state might be able to conduct its primaries using the poll tax on the ground that technically a primary isn't an election —only nominees for the election are chosen in the primary.

It's all up to Governor Faubus, who must call a special legislative session sometime to set up a vote registration system replacing the poll tax.

"If there is any attempt at all to keep people from voting in the primaries unless they have a poll tax," Branton said, "I'm serving notice here and now that there is going to be a lawsuit to restrain them."

Branton urged in a speech here that a special session be called and a "meaningful, liberal voter registration law" be adopted "so that people can register permanently and participate in the affairs of their government."

Branton said that the 24th Amendment is a boon to Negroes because it allows more of them to vote.

"This week will mark a major milestone in the South in attaining something that the NAACP has been working for, for years — the abolition of the poll tax," he said. He called the poll tax a vicious system."

Congressional sponsors of the 24th Amendment believed it would discourage states from levying poll taxes in state elections. But the Virginia Legislature, anticipating the enactment of the amendment, had already acted to ensure that its poll tax would be retained in state elections.

A new Virginia law would permit residents to vote for Federal candidates by filing certificates of residence but would require annual payments of $1.50 per person for voting in state elections.

The South Dakota Senate hurriedly suspended its rules and pushed the proposal to a vote after the Georgia Legislature threat-state to a vote.
state to avote.

The Georgia Senate approved the amendment, 43-0, Thursday, but the Georgia House working on other legislation, which had priority, delayed immediate action on the poll tax measure.

The 24th Amendment resolution was submitted to the states Sept. 24, 1962, after the United States House and Senate approved it by the required two-thirds majorities. Illinois was the first state to approve the measure, acting Nov. 14, 1962.

Of the 11 states of the old Confederacy, only Tennessee and Florida had approved the amendment by the time it was made a part of the Constitution. Mississippi formally rejected it.

Poll Tax

Ark Gazette 1/26/64

Arkansas Gazette
1-26-64

The Bad Expedients On Voter Registration

IS THERE some inexorable law of nature to guarantee that Arkansas officials, when confronted with an emergency such as that posed by the adoption of the 24th amendment, should consider all the wrong answers first? The amendment, banning the use of the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections, has created an urgent need for Arkansas to call the General Assembly back into session. Governor Faubus is reflecting on possible alternatives, and so far he has come up with some rather harrowing possibilities.

Mr. Faubus may be merely toying with the rest of us when he mentions that several people have suggested that a literacy test be included in any registration system. The governor helped knock down such a test in the last session of the legislature. But why bring it up again? We thought that the literacy test was the one voting issue that the Assembly was able to settle. The House defeated it rather soundly.

Much more concrete, apparently, is the threat of separating state and federal elections and continuing to require the payment of the poll tax as a voting prerequisite in state elections. There is, we suppose, nothing in the 24th amendment to prohibit such a plan. Texas and Virginia have decided to try splitting their elections in this way. They seem to be going to a great deal of trouble simply to evade the intent of the amendment, which was to end the use of the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

There can be little question that any proposal to split the two elections would be hopelessly clumsy. If state and federal elections were held at separate times, the number of elections would be virtually doubled: Two preferential nominating primaries, two run-off primaries, two general elections. Thus, in even - numbered years, Arkansans might have to vote in seven regular elections, since school elections are held every year. There is a real question whether the electorate would hold still for seven regular elections in a given year. Any attempt to have separate ballots for federal and state contests on the same day would, moreover, lead to endless confusion and probable litigation.

* * *

MR. FAUBUS, also suggests the possibility that registration for federal elections be handled as Arkansas now "registers" maiden voters. What he means, presumably, is that prospective voters would simply show up at the precincts with an affidavit saying they're qualified to vote. There is no advance registration now for maiden voters.

Poll Tax

Ark Gazette 1/26/64

Arkansas Gazette
1-26-64

The Bad Expedients On Voter Registration

IS THERE some inexorable law of nature to guarantee that Arkansas officials, when confronted with an emergency such as that posed by the adoption of the 24th amendment, should consider all the wrong answers first? The amendment, banning the use of the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections, has created an urgent need for Arkansas to call the General Assembly back into session. Governor Faubus is reflecting on possible alternatives, and so far he has come up with some rather harrowing possibilities.

Mr. Faubus may be merely toying with the rest of us when he mentions that several people have suggested that a literacy test be included in any registration system. The governor helped knock down such a test in the last session of the legislature. But why bring it up again? We thought that the literacy test was the one voting issue that the Assembly was able to settle. The House defeated it rather soundly.

Much more concrete, apparently, is the threat of separating state and federal elections and continuing to require the payment of the poll tax as a voting prerequisite in state elections. There is, we suppose, nothing in the 24th amendment to prohibit such a plan. Texas and Virginia have decided to try splitting their elections in this way. They seem to be going to a great deal of trouble simply to evade the intent of the amendment, which was to end the use of the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

There can be little question that any proposal to split the two elections would be hopelessly clumsy. If state and federal elections were held at separate times, the number of elections would be virtually doubled: Two preferential nominating primaries, two run-off primaries, two general elections. Thus, in even - numbered years, Arkansans might have to vote in seven regular elections, since school elections are held every year. There is a real question whether the electorate would hold still for seven regular elections in a given year. Any attempt to have separate ballots for federal and state contests on the same day would, moreover, lead to endless confusion and probable litigation.

* * *

MR. FAUBUS, also suggests the possibility that registration for federal elections be handled as Arkansas now "registers" maiden voters. What he means, presumably, is that prospective voters would simply show up at the precincts with an affidavit saying they're qualified to vote. There is no advance registration now for maiden voters.

The simple, straightforward solution is simply to end the use of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in any election in Arkansas. Anything else would be confusing, devious, expensive and frustrating to the electorate.

The requirements of the electorate, however, are not being considered in a vacuum. Governor Faubus is apparently going to be a candidate for re-election, and he does not like the uncertainties that a special session might introduce. Nor, of course, does he like the prospect of any basic change in the composition of the electorate. But the people should insist that Mr. Faubus's personal plans be subordinated to the need for a good, workable registration system. There may be some law of nature dictating that Mr. Faubus put forward some bad proposals. But there is no law saying the people have to accept them.

Ark. Gazette 1/26/64

Ban on Poll Tax To Have Impact On State Politics

By James O. Powell

NEW AND imponderable elements have been thrust into 1964 Arkansas politics with the ratification of the 24th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The amendment became effective last Thursday when South Dakota's legislature became the 38th to ratify. Now the poll tax has been abolished as a qualification for voting in primary or general elections in which there is a presidential contest or a race for Congress.

The impact on state politics this summer, especially in the governor's race, could prove of major importance. There are two reasons:

(1.) A special session of the General Assembly appears practically unavoidable. In itself such a session can hardly work in any way except to Governor Faubus's disadvantage in his presumed candidacy for a sixth term.

(2.) If the poll tax is eliminated for both primaries and the general election, it could bring a large number of new voters into action and thus induce the largest primary turnout in the state's history.

These factors offer some understanding why Governor Faubus last week was contemplating with such obvious distaste the need for a special session to draft a voter registration law.

Poll Tax

Splitting Elections

MR. FAUBUS has been dallying with the idea of preserving the poll tax by splitting the summer primary elections in twain, one for federal offices (congressional seats) and one for state offices. He has even suggested that a special session might not be needed: i. e. that the existing system for registering "maiden voters" (first-time voters are registered by affidavit) might suffice for holding all the elections for federal offices this year.

This novel arrangement would bring about the most cluttered, confused elections the state has experienced in this century. For one thing it would require three separate primaries—or even four, in a congressional runoff—and two separate elections in November. With the September school election, Arkansas could wind up with as many as seven elections in 1964—if the whole of Faubus's contemplated arrangement were put into effect.

It would appear practically impossible for the state to set up, without a special session, anything resembling a suitable registration system.

It is probable on the other hand that Mr. Faubus and the General Assembly in a special session could devise, if they chose, a two-headed election system for the summer primaries that would hold up in court.

How the electorate would cotton to such a clumsy arrangement in elections is another question. Arkansas voters at one time decided in favor of the poll tax but that was some years ago, and was no indication that they would approve piling one election system on top of another.

The special legislative session in itself will raise hazards for Governor Faubus if he is planning to run for another term, as practically everyone believes he is.

In the first place, a session of the Assembly is never wholly predictable even in these times when the governor usually manages to dominate the majorities. A legislative session provides the best of forums for the governor's adversaries and a public sounding board for potential candidates for governor.

The purview of the special call will necessarily be limited, and can be stretched only by a vote of extraordinary majorities. Even so, there is nothing to prevent the Faubus foes from attempting to gain consideration of measures directed against existing evils in the state. The legislature always provides an instrument for focussing public attention. For one example it is possible that the Assembly will experience a revival of the controversy over the notorious gambling operation that flourishes at Hot Springs on a Babylonian scale, while both local and state authorities look the other way.

VEP Poll Tax

Faubus Won't Say But Special Session Now Seems Likely

Governor Faubus talked Monday as if he had decided to call a special session of the legislature to pass a voter registration law.

But he declined to be pinned down.

He said many questions were to be answered before he makes up his mind.

A special session before the summer primaries is likely if, for no other reason, to clear the air, Faubus said.

"It has been generally accepted all the time that this [voter registration] will have to be handled in a special session," Faubus said.

He said that some of his editorial critics had taken advantage of his comments to accuse him of trying to avoid such a session and for not taking the lead in enacting the law.

"I never did say I was not going to call a special session," the governor declared. "I just hoped to avoid it before the primaries."

Ratification of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution, which outlaws the poll tax as a prerequisite in voting on federal offices in primaries and elections, has left Arkansas without the machinery needed to insure the people a vote for federal offices this year.

Faubus said that he would call the special session — if he decides this is the best course to follow — before he announces his political plans. The deadline for filing for the primaries is noon April 29.

The governor said recently that he would make public his decision by March 1, unless he has to change his plans. The Capitol consensus is that Faubus will run for a sixth term.

Faubus said that he still was gathering information and talking to legislators to determine the best course, but that it appeared the only solution was a special legislative session before the primaries.

He noted that only the state's four United States representative positions would be voted on this year. Faubus said that under normal conditions none of the four would be opposed in the primaries.

But, he said, someone could file at the last moment just to create a situation to involve an election in litigation. The state chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has promised to file a lawsuit if any attempt is made to hold the summer primaries under the poll tax system.

Stop Gap?

Faubus told newsmen that among the things he is looking into is whether a special session should enact a permanent type act or pass a stop-gap bill and let the 1965 legislature pass something more permanent on the basis of Legislative Council studies.

Then there are such problems as whether to include literacy requirements and party affiliation, whether to allow registration by relatives, and deciding on a deadline for registration before the primaries, and school, general and special elections. he said.

Faubus said that he could work all of this out beforehand and write a bill he regarded as good enough to survive the legislature, or let someone else prepare a bill he can support.

Faubus said he wasn't worried about being politically hurt by any registration bill passed by the legislature.

"I've always thought a broad base of qualified electors would favor me," he said, adding that he had previously fought against the poll tax without success.

Faubus said that he was not concerned about some legislators, particularly state Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, making political capital out of a special session.

Croxton sought to pass a voter registration bill in the 1963 legislature. He said recently that a new bill has been drawn up. Croxton has been regarded as a likely candidate for governor whether Faubus runs or not.

As far as he is concerned, Faubus said, he "doubted that Mr. Croxton could be re-elected if he chose to un."

Faubus said that if he called a special session he probably would include a bill to legalize the marriages of youth under 16 years who have been held not entitled to Social Security benefits because of a 1941 state law holding such marriages invalid.

Otherwise, the governor said. he doesn't intend to consider anything controversial in any special session he calls. He said that he doubted that the legislators wanted to get involved in any arguments.

Pine Bluff Commercial

Dual Election System Is Proposed by Bennett

1-29-64

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorney General Bruce Bennett said yesterday that Arkansas could set up a dual election system as a means of overcoming the voter registration problem created by the constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax in federal elections.

Bennett said the amendment had no affect on elections for city, county and state offices.

The attorney general said the dual system would require action by the legislature. Governor Faubus indicated Monday that a special session would be called soon.

In a dual system, the poll tax could be used in state and local registration, Bennett said. When a person bought a poll tax, he automatically could be registered to vote in federal races. If he wished, he could register and not buy a poll tax and vote only in the federal races.

Texas has a poll tax for the party primaries for local and state offices. But it has separate registration for federal offices.

•

Cottrell: Revise Form

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Representative J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County suggested yesterday that Arkansas voters could register at the same time they assess their personal property tax, by using a revised assessment form.

Cottrell said such a method would be simple and would allow a voter to register any time between the first Monday in January and April 10.

"If a special session is called, I will introduce a bill of this type," he said.

Poll Tax

Ark. Gazette 1-29-60
Poll Tax

No Makeshifts, Please

Orval Faubus has acted about a special session on voter registration like a farm boy trying to decide on the first spring dip in the old swimming hole. First, he just didn't want to go in until August, if then. Now, he's dipping a toe tentatively in the icy waters and assuring everyone that the chill doesn't scare him at all. When we hear a big splash, we'll know he's gone in.

There seems, however, to be no practicable way to avoid a special session before the summer primaries, and we feel sure the governor knows this full well. It would be unlawful, following the adoption of the 24th Amendment, to hold the congressional primaries under the old poll tax system. The governor says that under normal conditions, none of the four congressmen would have any opposition in the primaries. With all due respect for Arkansas's incumbent congressmen, it would be terribly presumptuous for them to expect no opposition at all. The governor is probably right, on the record, but there should be more competition for the congressional seats. And with the legality of this summer's primaries riding on the question of whether the congressmen will or will not have opposition, the only safe assumption is that they will have.

The basic question to be resolved, we infer from Governor Faubus's remarks, is whether the voter registration system adopted in a special session should be a permanent or merely a stopgap formula. We feel rather strongly that the General Assembly should try to adopt a sound, long-term registration proposal. Stopgaps have a way of enduring. The Assembly should try to draft a system that provides

Ark. Gaz. May 1, 29-64 Poll Tax

Bennett Suggests Dual Plan As Stop-gap Voting System

Gazette State News Service

FORREST CITY—A dual system of voting as a stop-gap for Arkansas was suggested by Attorney General Bruce Bennett here Tuesday.

Texas has already done this, the attorney general told the Rotary Club at noon. It has enacted laws that continue the poll tax for those voting in the party primaries for city, county, and state offices, and that set up a voter registration system for those primaries and elections which involve federal offices.

"I do not mean to suggest that we should follow the Texas system in its entirety. But the plan of having a separate election where a federal official is involved apart from our party primaries in the selection of our city, county and state officials seems to be the general will of the people of Arkansas," Bennett said.

At the same time, Bennett said, the system affords an opportunity to those individuals who have not paid a poll tax to vote in elections involving federal offices.

Maintains 'Purity'

"As a temporary system and with our party primaries less than six months away, I can foresee where the passage or amendment of our present election laws can comply with the new amendment to the United States Constitution and at the same time maintain the purity of our organized political parties in this state," Bennett said.

Under the Texas law, Bennett explained, the poll tax registration is continued for city, county and state elections.

A person with a poll tax receipt is eligible to vote in any election or primary including those involving federal offices. But the person who hasn't paid a poll tax before October 31, 1963, (he meant Oct. 1 which is the deadline) can go to the county tax collector and register as a qualified voter for federal offices only.

'Pure Party Business'

"The individuals the Democratic or Republican Party officials select as their nominees for city, county and state offices is pure party business. It should be kept that way and has been so under the Texas system," he said.

Governor Faubus has mentioned the dual or split system as one of those advanced in the course of discussions on the type of voter registration needed since a federal amendment outlawing use of the poll tax in federal elections was ratified recently.

Cottrell Offers Registering Plan

Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County suggested Tuesday that Arkansas voters could register at the same time they assess their personal property tax, by using a revised assessment form.

Cottrell said such a method would be simple and would allow a voter to register any time between the first Monday in January and April 10, the regular assessment period.

"If a special session is called, I will introduce a bill of this type," he said.

Arkansas's poll tax was outlawed by ratification of the 24th amendment to the United States Constitution. Governor Faubus has indicated he may call a special session to provide a new means of voter registration.

Voting Woes Faubus' Fault, Croxton Says

From the Associated Press

ROGERS—State Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County said Tuesday that Governor Faubus was to blame for Arkansas having no adequate voter registration system.

Croxton also said Mr. Faubus' remarks Monday about calling a special session of the General Assembly "indicates the fact that he has his hands on the legislature."

Mr. Faubus indicated Monday that he might call a special session to settle Arkansas voter registration problems caused by ratification of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution, outlawing the poll tax.

Croxton, an advocate of a voter registration bill that failed to pass in the 1963 regular session, said the governor could have helped pass the legislation but, "It's political." Croxton said he had no plans to introduce a voter registration bill in the special session.

"I hope the committee for voter registration will be active in supporting basic minimum registration laws which fundamentally eliminate any irregu[illegible] and fraudulent registration," he said.

Mr. [illegible] said Monday that he was not worried about any politicians, particularly Croxton, making political capital out of the special session. Croxton is a potential gubernatorial candidate.

"Faubus has a further desire to control the legislature and who is and is not elected," Croxton said. He also said Faubus was "using all the pressure possible at this time to discourage anybody else from running (for governor)."

Ark Gaz 1-30-64

Special Session To Await Draft Of Voter Bill?

Poll Tax

There was speculation Wednesday that Governor Faubus would ask the Legislative Council to write a voter registration bill to his liking before he calls a special legislative session.

He wasn't available to reporters but through Tuesday he hadn't committed himself to a special session.

Such a session seems to be a necessity because the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution, ratified last week, eliminates the use of the poll tax as a voting requirement in primaries or elections including federal offices.

Faubus in recent comments has indicated that the Council might be used to draft a permanent registration law for the 1965 General Assembly to consider.

The reports Wednesday were the first hint that he might let the Council have the responsibility for some kind of registration law to get through this year's primaries and general election.

Advising Members

A legislative source said that the governor was in the process of advising key Council members of his decision.

The State and Local Governments Committee of the Council is headed by Senator Robert Harvey of Swifton who said last week that he wanted to hear from the governor before he called his Committee together for such a major job as a voter registration bill.

Faubus has avoided being pinned down on the type of registration he favors except that he wants a liberal registration law. He has been gathering information on what such a bill should include. This involves the time element for registering, whether registration should be permanent or annual, whether the voter must state his political party preference and whether it should contain other refinements to qualify a registrant as a voter.

The study of a voter registration bill is not new to the Council. In 1962 a special committee spent many days over the period of the year drafting a bill which failed to pass in the 1963 legislative session.

Ark. Gazette 1-30-64

Two Registration Plans

Arkansas can expect voter registration plans to be advanced at something approaching a rate of two or three a day now. Attorney General Bruce Bennett and Representative J. H. Cottrell offered separate proposals Tuesday for dealing with the state's registration emergency.

Attorney General Bennett proposes, as a stopgap measure, that Arkansas keep the poll tax for state elections and provide for additional registration for federal elections. Anyone who paid the poll tax would apparently be automatically registered for federal elections under the Bennett plan. There would seem to be a very clear danger that any such system, which would have the practical effect of continuing the poll tax in effect for all elections, would be challenged in court. Surely, no Arkansas congressman is anxious that his election or nomination be left open to possible challenge. More important, the Bennett plan would tend to discourage registration and voting in much the same way that the poll tax has in the past. The price of voting would be small, but it would still be a price.

Representative Cottrell would provide for registration at the time of assessing personal property. Mr. Cottrell would alter the assessment form to provide a section for the voter to register as he lists his property. If he wanted to register but had no personal property to assess, he would use the same form, simply indicating that the property sections were not applicable.

Mr. Cottrell's plan has an organic defect. It would tend to make the right to vote dependent on the assessment of property for tax purposes. Voting should not even appear to be used as an instrument for making sure that property is assessed. The assessors, moreover, would have to share with the county clerks the role of custodian of the registration records.

These two proposals call to mind certain basic principles that should govern the Assembly in choosing a new registration system: Registration should not be tied to anything else; it should provide for good record-keeping and for protection against abuses.

There seems to be a predisposition to subordinate the right to vote and bequeath it as a reward for paying taxes. It must be noted that some political leaders seem to be approaching voter registration as if the right to vote were theirs to dispense under whatever terms they (and the General Assembly) choose. The voting franchise is an inherent right in this Republic, now reinforced by the 24th Amendment, and the electorate should demand that this be kept firmly in mind as the Assembly considers adopting a registration system. Poll Tax

Arkansas Gazette
1-31-64

Legislators Couldn't Agree In 5 Chances at Voter Bill

The 1963 General Assembly had five chances to establish a voter registration system in Arkansas but failed to agree on any of them.

Here are the bills introduced in the session last year and what happened to them:

★ HB 38 would have established a permanent voter registration system. It was approved by the House and died in the Senate.

★ HB 424 would have established a system similar in most respects to HB 38. This bill died in the House.

★ HB 532 would have established a biennial voter registration system. This too died in the House.

★ SB 342 would have established an annual voter registration system. This bill was approved by the Senate and died in the House.

★ SB 245 would have established a permanent system and was a carbon copy of HB 424. The bill was withdrawn from consideration.

The Sponsors

HB 38 was the work of Representatives Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County, Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and J. P. Walt of Jefferson County, who were members of a special committee of the Legislative Council that spent considerable time getting the proposal ready.

HB 424 was the work of Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County. HB 532 was authored by Representatives E. A. Walker of Stone County and Paul Jones of Searcy County. SB 342 was introduced by the late Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley and Senator Joe Lee Anderson of Helena. SB 245 was sponsored by Senator Dan White of Fort Smith.

The Legislative Council staff in a recapitulation of the 1963 session said there were four major areas of controversy in the consideration of these bills.

These were (1) permanent registration as against an annual or biennial registration; (2) a provision requiring the designation of party affiliation by the voter; (3) whether to allow absentee registration and registration by immediate members of the family of the registrant, and (4) the establishment of a literacy test as a condition of voter registration.

Amendments Offered

In the course of the debates on these bills, various members of the legislature introduced 20 amendments to HB 38 and another eight amendments to HB 424. These further complicated the discussions and assured the eventual defeat of these two measures.

Governor Faubus said recently that these four areas of controversy still exist and must be ironed out to assure the passage of a voter registration bill at a special session this year. The governor has not said definitely that he will call a special session although he has said that he doesn't yet see how one can be avoided before the summer primaries.

Poll Tax

Speed's Less Important Than the Assembly's Duty

GOVERNOR Faubus's announced plans for a special session on voter registration appear to be reasonable enough. The session will be held in late February or early March—soon enough to permit a reasonable registration period before the summer primaries—and the governor has asked the Legislative Council to draft a bill.

The Assembly must have some formal proposal as a basis for its work, and the Legislative Council is the logical agency to prepare it. The Legislative Council, as a matter of fact, did a fairly reasonable job of drafting a registration bill before the last session of the General Assembly. Only after the bill reached the floor was it so seriously compromised as to be unsound.

Governor Faubus and the legislators with whom he has conferred are quite correct in wanting to get the session called and the issue resolved swiftly. The state, after all, has an emergency, —and the registration bill will be needed fairly soon. But if the governor means to suggest that he contemplates a three or four day session to rubber-stamp the Council's recommendations, he is doing the electorate a disservice. The voter registration system is fundamental, and the legislators should be prepared to debate it fully and carefully.

★ ★ ★

RATHER strangely, the question of whether the law shall be some quickie makeshift proposal or a permanent-type registration system persists. Why is it so difficult to draft a registration bill that the state should even consider some watered-down measure for this year alone? The registration issue is fundamental, but it is not really so difficult to deal with—unless, of course, the Assembly, or a part of it, is trying to serve the wrong purposes. To construct a safe registration system is actually fairly simple; to find a devious method of preserving the political balance might be more difficult. The Assembly should go ahead and enact a sound permanent registration system during the special session. The voters are entitled to a good system for this year's elections quite as much as they are for those in future years.

Governor Faubus hints that the literacy test issue has been put aside. If this is so, then the General Assembly will have one less needless controversy to resolve. It may also be wise, to make action on the bill easier, to bypass the question of listing party affiliation at the time of registration. There has been no abiding and sharp division of opinion on the affiliation issue, but it could prove a nettlesome question to resolve nonetheless. On the larger issues, however — clear identification of voters, registration in person, control of absentee abuses, complete separation of voting from any tax collection function—the legislature should tend to its duty, no matter how long the session takes.

Arkansas Gazette 2-1-62

Poll Tax

Birm World 2-6-68

AROUND THE TOWN

Register to Vote

BALLOT

A number of applicants for the ballot says rejection letters are coming in from the Jefferson County Board of Registrars. At least one of these persons attended the voter-registration clinic and could fill out the application form correctly. Look for some new legal attack on voter registration denials. The registration officials will be in sessions from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. next Monday, and then the first Monday in March and April. The ballot is the crown of first-class citizenship. VEP 2-3/-

Ark. Gaz. 2-5-64
Poll Tax

Governor Suggests Party Ties Option In Registration Law

Making political party affiliation optional in a voter registration law was suggested Tuesday by Governor Faubus as a way to resolve, at least in a special legislative session, an otherwise disputed point.

Faubus said he had suggested this "compromise" to several legislators and that all but one, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County who advocates a mandatory party label provision, seemed to like the idea.

Otherwise Faubus avoided comment on controversial features of such a bill. He said he didn't want to say too much in advance of a Legislative Council hearing which opens Monday to draft a voter registration bill.

The governor said that either a stop-gap or permanent bill was acceptable to him, but that if the legislature undertakes to write a permanent bill it will find a great many points to be ironed out.

These include placing the responsibility for administering the measure, deciding who would be responsible for purging the names of non-voters for one reason or another off the registration rolls, providing for laws to protect the integrity of the rolls, penalties for abuses and probably requiring the persons in charge of the rolls to be bonded in the public interest.

"The more you study this the more involved it gets," Faubus said. "There are many things that have to be ironed out."

Hearings Start Monday

Faubus has said that he would call a special session of the legislature to enact a registration bill after the Council drafts the measure. The Council opens hearings 10 a. m. Monday at the Capitol. The special session may come as early as the last week of this month.

A voter registration law is necessary to enable voters to cast ballots for federal elective offices. The 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution recently ratified prohibits use of the poll tax to qualify voters in these elections. The state poll tax continues to apply to state, county and municipal elections, state Attorney General Bruce Bennett said.

Party Chairmen To Discuss Voting

The state chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties have asked to appear before the Legislative Council next week to discuss voter registration, the Council office said Tuesday.

They are Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, Democratic chairman, and William L. Spicer of Fort Smith, the Republican party chairman.

Representative Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County, the Council chairman, has invited any individual or organization to submit recommendations on a voter registration bill, which Governor Faubus has asked the Council to draft.

The Council will open public hearings on the proposed bill at 10 a. m. Monday at the Capitol. The League of Women Voters and Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County asked Monday to appear.

Ark Gaz 2/6/64

Ark. Poll Tax

New Poll Tax Problem Arises—Can Legislature Outlaw It?

Now there is a question whether the General Assembly legally can draft a voter registration bill in its upcoming special session that omits the poll tax as a qualification for voting in state elections.

The new 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution outlaws the poll tax only as a requirement for voting on federal offices in elections and primaries. It does not purport to interfere with the poll tax requirement in elections and primaries on state or local offices. And the Arkansas Constitution specifically requires a poll tax.

Governor Faubus said he thought there was another provision in the state Constitution—Amendment 39—that would permit the legislature to drop the poll tax, but that he would have to study that to be sure.

State Senator Robert Harvey of Swifton, chairman of the State and Local Government Committee of the Legislative Council, said Tuesday that "it is one of the things we will have to look into. I hadn't even though of it. I thought Amendment 39 cleared the way. I didn't know about the provision requiring the poll tax."

Doubt is created by Amendment 8, the Equal Suffrage amendment, and by the provisions of Amendment 39.

Amendment 8 sets up voter qualifications in Arkansas. Among other provisions, it says voters "who shall exhibit a poll tax receipt or other evidence that they have paid their poll tax at the time of collecting taxes next preceding such elections, shall be allowed to vote at any election in the State of Arkansas."

Amendment 39, approved in 1948, empowers the General Assembly to set up voter registration as a requirement for voting. It completely reversed an earlier provision, Article III, Section 2 which said in part: "* * * nor shall any law be enacted whereby the right to vote at any election shall be made to depend upon any previous registration of the elector's name * * *."

The puzzling question is, does Amendment 39 override the poll tax requirement of Amendment No. 8? Who can answer it besides the state courts?

Whatever the answer, Arkansas is still duty bound under its Constitution to collect a per capita tax of $1 on every male for the support of the common schools. This is required by Amendment 11, a reenactment of Article XIV, Section 3 which it replaced. As long as the state collects a poll tax, it will be considered identical with this per capita tax on males.

So if the General Assembly should drop the poll tax as a voting requirement it will apparently be responsible — under the Constitution—for setting up machinery to collect the annual per capita tax on males over 21 years of age. Poll tax receipts go to the schools.

The Arkansas Legislative Council will meet Monday to begin working on a voter registration bill. Governor Faubus said he would call the legislature into special session after the bill had been drafted.

They Say ...

Ark. Poll Tax
Pine Bluff Com.
2/7/64

A Brief History Of State's Poll Tax

JIMMY JONES, Status Auditor
In a Press Release

For 124 years, ever since Arkansas was admitted to the Union, people have paid a poll tax, but only since 1920 has the poll tax been a requirement for voting. History lists all five Constitutions included the poll tax. They are 1836, 1861, 1864, 1868, and 1874.

The 1836 Constitution states: "No poll tax shall be assessed for other than county purposes"; the 1861 Constitution added, "for county or cooperation purposes"; the 1864 Constitution brought in the "free and equal" phrase. And by 1868 the poll tax issue had become so acute that the law makers saw fit to write into the Constitution: "The levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive: therefore, the General Assembly shall never levy a poll tax except for school purposes."

The people will go along with being taxed for school purposes, and that is the way it is today. Ninety-five cents out of each dollar paid for poll tax goes to the general or common fund for schools, which is disbursed by the county school superintendent and county treasurer to the school districts of each county. The disbursement is on a per student-basis ...

In 1868 ... the poll tax first appeared as levy connected to property tax, known as the Clayton Law. This law was in direct contradiction to the fourth Arkansas Constitution, better known as the Carpetbag Constitution of 1868. Although this Clayton Carpetbag reign was the first to establish public schools in Arkansas, most of the tax money collected was said to be squandered and misused. The county originating as Clayton County later changed its name to Clay County because of the stigma of the former name. The fifth Arkansas Constitution of 1874 did not mention a poll tax as a prerequisite to vote.

Act 88 was signed March 23, 1885. This measure meted a levy annually of, "one dollar per capita on every male inhabitant over 21 years of age." This was slated for common school purposes, but it too failed to mention anything about voting. However, by then it was a practiced requirement even though ... not by definite law.

Five years later, in 1890, Mississippi and other Southern States made the poll tax requirements for voting a part of their constitutions.

The first constitutional amendment in Arkansas pertaining to poll tax was submitted in 1893, and was known as Amendment 2. The vote was 75,940 for—56,601 against, but since the total numbers of voters in that election for governor was 156,192 the vote did not carry a majority ....

The 1893 action was ruled as adopted and poll taxes were required for voting for twelve years, until 1905 a federal judge ruled it invalid, and the Arkansas Supreme Court backed him in 1906, the following year.

In 1907, the Legislature resubmitted the question to the people and it was approved as Amendment 9, but here too there was not a majority of all the votes cast in that election. The vote was 88,386 for—46,835 against. Voters numbered 180,000.

Regardless of the vote, the counties continued to collect the poll tax and made holding a receipt a requirement to vote.

The Arkansas Legislature, in 1919, submitted the woman's suffrage amendment to supersede the poll tax. When voted upon in 1920 ... the voting was 87,237 to 49,751. This also was declared lost because a majority of voters failed to mark the ballot on this particular issue. So an attack was made from another angle. Something was wrong with the voting regulations. The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled that, under the Initiative and Referendum Amendment of 1910, only a majority voting on a question was necessary for passage.

In 1936 ... Arkansas voted on abolishing the poll tax, but the answer from the voters was a big No.

Gazette Cop.
2/7/64

State Can't Abolish Tax, Bennett Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Attorney General Bruce Bennett said in a legal opinion yesterday that the state legislature lacks legal power to abolish the poll tax.

Bennett's answer to Milburn R. Gill, the Hot Spring County sheriff and collector, said Amendment 8 of the state Constitution requires the poll tax and the Constitution, Bennett said, can be changed only by popular vote.

However, some legal thinkers believe Amendment 39 to the state Constitution opens the door to the expected special session of the legislature to set up a voter registration system replacing the tax.

The amendment grants the General Assembly "power to enact laws providing for a registration of voters prior to any general, special or primary election, and to require that the right to vote at any such elections shall depend upon such previous registration."

Gill had asked Bennett whether he should continue selling poll taxes. Bennett told Gill he should.

Governor Faubus said today he will have to reanalyze his thinking about voter registration in light of Bennett's opinion.

Ark Gazette 2/7/64

Poll Tax Death Up to Voters, Bennett Says

Ark Poll Tax

It's beyond the power of the legislature to abolish the poll tax because it's in the Constitution, Attorney General Bruce Bennett said Thursday in a legal opinion.

Only a vote of the people can change the Constitution. And the 24th Amendment to the federal Constitution, outlawing the poll tax as a voting requirement for voting on federal offices, does not affect the Arkansas Constitution, Bennett said.

The poll tax is in Amendment 8 to the state Constitution and Amendment 8 is specific that a person must have a poll tax receipt to vote.

As long as this ruling stands, there is no alternative but for the special session soon to be called to enact laws for a dual primary and election system—one for state and local offices based on the poll tax and the other for federal offices based on whatever voter registration law the General Assembly adopts.

The dual system of primaries and elections already has been advocated by Bennett. He sent a copy of his opinion to the members of the Legislative Council just for their information. The Council will convene Monday to begin public hearings on voter registration proposals. Governor Faubus is waiting for the Council to draft a voter registration bill before he calls the special session.

Cottrell Offers Bill

One registration bill, by Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County, was filed Thursday with the Legislative Council. Many others are expected. Cottrell's is the one he has talked of before—to make voter registration a part of a person's personal property assessment each year, a plan the assessors of the state are against.

Bennett wrote his opinion for Milburn R. Gill of Malvern, the sheriff and tax collector of Hot Spring County, who had asked whether he should continue to issue poll tax receipts this year. Yes, said Bennett.

The attorney general said that possession of a poll tax receipt is required by state law of all elected public officials and they cannot hold office without it. Furthermore, Bennett added, every public employe is required to have a poll tax receipt before he can draw a salary.

The federal amendment, Bennett said, provides only that the poll tax cannot be used to qualify electors to cast ballots for federal officials in either primaries or general elections.

Can't Repeal It

"The Arkansas legislature cannot repeal Amendment 8 which provides for a poll tax," Bennett advised Gill. "That is solely within the power of the people of the state. The United States amendment did not repeal the poll tax insofar as it applies to city, county and state primaries and general elections."

Bennett told Gill that those who do not wish to pay the poll tax in view of the 24th Amendment don't have to and this will not affect their privilege to vote in presidential and congressional elections.

Ark Gazette

The Task Remains Clear On Voter Registration

ONLY THE state Supreme Court can settle beyond dispute the question of whether Amendment 8 to the Arkansas Constitution will compel the legislature to retain the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections. There is reason to doubt, however, that the question is as serious as some attorneys believe.

Amendment 8, the woman's suffrage amendment, provides that citizens who are otherwise qualified and who "shall exhibit a poll tax receipt or other evidence that they have paid their poll tax at the time of collecting taxes next preceding the election" shall be permitted to vote. The amendment was intended to show that no other requirements (such as that the citizen be a male) other than those itemized in the amendment be permitted to bar the franchise to a would-be voter.

Amendment 39, adopted in 1948, seems to contain clear authority for the Assembly to enact a registration system that does not depend on the collection of the poll tax. The amendment is short and direct:

> "The General Assembly shall have power to enact laws providing for a registration of voters prior to any general, special, or primary election, and to require that the right to vote at any such election shall depend upon such previous registration."

Because Amendment 39 was the later measure and because it is so explicit, it would appear to clear doubts about the Assembly's authority to enact a registration system without the poll tax. The question will, however, undoubtedly have to be resolved after the special session.

Under the Arkansas Constitution, the Supreme Court does not issue advisory opinions, but must wait until a case has actually been litigated. Some other states have made it possible for the governor or some other official to request such an opinion in advance of litigation or legislative action. There is no choice under Arkansas law but to resolve the issue in a test case as soon as the special session is over. The attorney general might provide some guidance, but his view would be nothing more than an opinion.

There is good reason to hope that the Assembly will not be sidetracked by this presumed problem. Governor Faubus and Senator Robert Harvey, chairman of the Senate's State and Local Government Committee, seem convinced, at least tentatively, that Amendment 39 provides all the basis the Assembly needs for enacting a tax-free registration system. The basic requirement remains for a simple, comprehensive registration system that provides protection against abuses and does not involve any complex split election scheme. There is a good basis for an expectation that the state courts would sustain such a system as constitutional.

Ark. Gazette 8/12/64

From the People

Ark Poll Tax 2/7/64

Voters Registration Long Overdue

To the Editor of the Gazette:

I was delighted to see the letter from Mr. Houser in regard to voter registration; and I heartily concur in his appeal to the electorate to write their Senators and Representatives urging them to pass a good system.

As he mentioned, for several years a good voter registration bill (drawn up by some of the best legal minds in Arkansas) has been periodically introduced in the Legislature. Each time it has failed to pass, generally on the ground that it is too difficult to comprehend. Now, as some predicted, we find ourselves with no means of voting in federal elections. It is imperative that we find a method, and the time is running out. Under these circumstances, are we likely to get the best available system?

The voter registration system advocated by Representative Hardy Croxton's committee is convenient and offers maximum safeguards against fraud. It provides that a voter shall be required to register only once unless he moves, changes his name, fails to vote in all elections and primaries for two successive calendar years, or loses the right to vote by being convicted of a felony or otherwise.

It provides that he registers at the County Clerk's office by filling in an affidavit containing the following information: Name, Address, Country and-or State of Birth, How Citizenship Acquired if Foreign Born, Birth Date of Voter, Whether or Not Voter Can Read or Write, If Unable to make Cross or Mark on Affadavit or Ballot, Number of Name of Voter's Precinct or School District.

The affidavit of registration is then signed by the voter in triplicate. On election day, his affidavit is in a bound precinct binder at his proper polling place. When he presents himself to vote, he is required to sign his name on a separate register, and this then is compared to the signature on the original affadavit of registration.

The rest of the bill sets up the machinery by which the bill is implemented. It also provides for those unable to read and write, or those unable to make an "X" by reason of physical infirmity.

(Communications on any subject are welcome. Letters should be under 500 words and typewritten if possible. All letters are subject to editing to meet space requirements. Each letter must be signed although signatures will be withheld on request. No letter will be returned unless self-addressed envelope is enclosed.—Editor)

Surely we deserve more than a makeshift, temporary measure. I hope that the voters will express themselves on this subject.

Joan B. Kurrus.

Hot Springs.

★ ★ ★

To the Editor of the Gazette:

It is quite amusing to note the quandary that our Arkansas politicians have been thrown into since the ratification of the amendment to our federal Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for a persons qualification in voting. The record of all active politicians on the subject is very bad and if the new voters were a vengeful type it would not be easy for them in the future at the polls.

And, as I recall, the record of the Gazette is not too good on the issue; your paper took and editorial stand against it when we had an opportunity to vote it out, on the ground that we didn't have a registration system to replace it if it were voted out. There have been so many farcical excuses for keeping the tax by our well-educated and respected men of state, that it is only natural that the death of it is a hard one.

Senator McClellan said that he was proud to face our school kids because of his $1 poll tax and Senator Fulbright said he would not object to the elimination of the tax if other states would reimburse our schools for the small loss of money. (something over $600,000 this year).

Mr. William Irving, Superintendent of the Forrest City School District, revealed back in 1962 that it was costing $600,000 to run the District and it does not comprise all of St. Francis County; in the eastern part, the kids go to the Hughes District School and in the western part there are the Palestine and Wheatley Districts, and Negro kids of high school age in Wheatley District go all the way to Brinkley, in Monroe County.

In reality, the poll tax went about as far supporting our schools as a snowball would in supporting the grates of hell; before the fire was lighted the weight would crush it, leaving it insubstantial. As a taxpayer I won't be naive enough to wonder what the other counties did for school money if St. Francis County got all of the proceeds from the poll tax.

If we had a forward looking Government and Legislature they would have been about the business of enacting a registration system when Senator Holland of Florida was able to get the amendment submitted to the states for ratification. We do have a United States, except for Arkansas (according to the Gov. and the Legislature) and maybe three other states. It must be pointed out that the machine type politician in a poll tax state has mustered his maximum support and any new voter won't owe them anything but opposition.

Of the many organizations, including the churches in this state, there were only a few that tried to secure a free vote for the citizens. They are: The State Federation of Labor, League of Women Voters and the Arkansas Association of University Women. And the effort of us Negroes has been so sad that we should go and come again, "and come again we should, with all deliberate and inclusive speed."

Ralph Nesbitt.

Ark Poll Tax

Tentative Date Set For Special Session

The extraordinary session of the legislature on voter registration will convene Wednesday, February 26, barring some hitch along the way, Governor Faubus said Friday.

The exact date depends on what happens in the Legislative Council which will open public hearings Monday to draft a voter registration bill. A prolonged hearing could change the timetable.

A possible snag developed Thursday when Attorney General Bruce Bennett said in an opinion that the legislature could not adopt a voter registration law and ignore the poll tax.

Bennett said that a dual election system with the poll tax used in city, county and state elections, and voter registration in all federal elections was the only answer under the state Constitution.

Three Disagree

Bennett's opinion evoked the quick disagreement of Representatives J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County and Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County and Mrs. E. E. Elkins of Fort Smith, president of the state League of Women Voters.

Cottrell said that Amendment 39 to the Constitution, adopted in 1949, permits the legislature to set up a single voter registration system for all elections. Croxton said he wanted to study Bennett's reasoning but he believed that the attorney general had erred in relying on the poll tax provision in Amendment 8 to the exclusion of Amendment 39. This was the impression of Mrs. Elkins who said the League would offer the same registration bill it drew up in 1957.

Cottrell and Croxton also will offer to the Council their versions of a registration bill.

Won't Join Argument

Faubus declined to be drawn into the argument over Bennett's opinion but said he had assumed that Amendment 39 legalized any registration system adopted by the legislature.

The need for a voter registration law is the result of the ratificiation of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution prohibiting a poll tax to qualify voters in all federal elections.

Arkansas and four other Southern states are the only states affected.

Amendment 39 Sponsor Says Dual System Won't Be Legal

The sponsor of the Amendment 39 which authorizes the legislature to adopt a voter registration law said Friday that he didn't believe a dual election system would stand a chance in the courts.

F. C. Crow, 58, a Hope lawyer who also maintains offices in Prescott, said in a telephone interview that he believed a simple voter registration system would doom the poll tax in Arkansas.

Crow was a state senator in the 1947 legislature when he introduced Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 which provided for the General Assembly to adopt a voter registration system. The proposal went through the legislature and was approved 135,151 to 71,934 at the general election the following year, becoming Amendment 39.

Crow said he sponsored the proposal because the Congress then had before it several proposals to outlaw the poll tax. He said it was to provide a way to vote when the poll tax was repealed.

Partially Repealed

The poll tax was partly repealed this year when Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution was adopted, outlawing the poll tax in all elections involving federal offices.

As a result, there are those, including Attorney General Bruce Bennett, who believe that a dual election system is the only course in Arkansas. That means using the poll tax to qualify to vote in city, county and state elections and a new registration system without a poll tax to vote for federal offices in either primaries or elections.

Tentative Date Set For Special Session

The extraordinary session of the legislature on voter registration will convene Wednesday, February 26, barring some hitch along the way, Governor Faubus said Friday.

The exact date depends on what happens in the Legislative Council which will open public hearings Monday to draft a voter registration bill. A prolonged hearing could change the timetable.

A possible snag developed Thursday when Attorney General Bruce Bennett said in an opinion that the legislature could not adopt a voter registration law and ignore the poll tax.

Bennett said that a dual election system with the poll tax used in city, county and state elections, and voter registration in all federal elections was the only answer under the state Constitution.

Three Disagree

Bennett's opinion evoked the quick disagreement of Representatives J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County and Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County and Mrs. E. E. Elkins of Fort Smith, president of the state League of Women Voters.

Cottrell said that Amendment 39 to the Constitution, adopted in 1949, permits the legislature to set up a single voter registration system for all elections. Croxton said he wanted to study Bennett's reasoning but he believed that the attorney general had erred in relying on the poll tax provision in Amendment 8 to the exclusion of Amendment 39. This was the impression of Mrs. Elkins who said the League would offer the same registration bill it drew up in 1957.

Cottrell and Croxton also will offer to the Council their versions of a registration bill.

Won't Join Argument

Faubus declined to be drawn into the argument over Bennett's opinion but said he had assumed that Amendment 39 legalized any registration system adopted by the legislature.

The need for a voter registration law is the result of the ratificiation of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution prohibiting a poll tax to qualify voters in all federal elections.

Arkansas and four other Southern states are the only states affected.

Amendment 39 Sponsor Says Dual System Won't Be Legal

The sponsor of the Amendment 39 which authorizes the legislature to adopt a voter registration law said Friday that he didn't believe a dual election system would stand a chance in the courts.

F. C. Crow, 58, a Hope lawyer who also maintains offices in Prescott, said in a telephone interview that he believed a simple voter registration system would doom the poll tax in Arkansas.

Crow was a state senator in the 1947 legislature when he introduced Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 which provided for the General Assembly to adopt a voter registration system. The proposal went through the legislature and was approved 135,151 to 71,934 at the general election the following year, becoming Amendment 39.

Crow said he sponsored the proposal because the Congress then had before it several proposals to outlaw the poll tax. He said it was to provide a way to vote when the poll tax was repealed.

Partially Repealed

The poll tax was partly repealed this year when Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution was adopted, outlawing the poll tax in all elections involving federal offices.

As a result, there are those, including Attorney General Bruce Bennett, who believe that a dual election system is the only course in Arkansas. That means using the poll tax to qualify to vote in city, county and state elections and a new registration system without a poll tax to vote for federal offices in either primaries or elections.

Crow disagreed. He said that, under Amendment 39, "The earlier constitutional provisions regarding voter qualification would, in my opinion, be ruled obsolete by the courts," Crow said.

Simple Bill

He said that a registration bill should provide only for a registrant to prove residence and age. At one time he believed the registration form should include a space for a fingerprint in case a voter's identity was challenged.

"I'm convinced that whatever law is passed it should be uncomplicated by party designation, literacy tests and other provisions that could make the bill as big as a Sears, Roebuck catalog," Crow said.

Pine Bluff Com. 2/13/65

Ark. Pres Sol

Optional Party Designation Included

Voter Bill Draft Approved

By HARRY PEARSON
Of The Commercial Staff

The Legislative Council yesterday approved the rough draft of a voter registration bill and attached to it a provision calling for optional party designation.

The optional party designation provision had been voted down several times Tuesday by the council. Once when Senator Bob Harvey of Swifton proposed that there be no party designation provision in the bill, his motion fell just one vote short of a majority (13).

On Tuesday, the council set down guidelines for its Local and State Government Committee to follow in drafting the voter registration bill. In general these provisions followed closely the bill proposed by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County.

As the bill stands now, the voter registration system will include:

—Annual registration.

—Optional party registration.

—Absentee registration under oath by the voter's relatives.

—Current poll tax holders will be blanketed in the new system and remain eligible to vote until May 31, 1965.

—Thirty days for those who did not pay their poll taxes last year to register for this year's elections.

—The county assessor as the registrar.

—No literacy test.

When the council went into session yesterday, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, whose efforts to get an optional party designation provision into the bill were thwarted Tuesday, moved to include such a provision in the rough draft.

Van Dalsem's opposition did not have the 12 votes it did Tuesday. It only had five. The men who voted against the Van Dalsem measure were besides Harvey, Representative Dave Burleson of Washington County, Reprensetative Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Pulaski County, Senator Dan White of Fort Smith and Senator Graham T. Nixon of Conway.

Senator Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff was among the 16 who voted for optional party designation.

Presumably either p[illegible] could make it obligatory to register as a member of that party before the voter would be eligible to vote in a primary. Nelson said yesterday afternoon that he thought the party could require the same thing under the existing system.

The rough draft of the bill approved yesterday will undergo examination by the governor's legal staff and the attorney general's staff. The council will meet at 10:30 a.m. next Thursday to pass on a final version of the bill.

Nelson said he intended to introduce an amendment, probably during the special session of the legislature, to make the registrar the county clerk instead of the tax assessor.

Poll Taxes Good Until Mid-1965

Under the provisions of the bill now before the Legislative Council and being put into final form, those who paid their poll taxes before October 1 last year would be eligible to vote in any election through May 31, 1965.

Those who did not pay their poll tax last year would be able to register with their county assessor between March 15 and April 15, and would be eligible to vote in elections held between June 1 until May 31, 1965. Those who did not register by paying their poll tax last year would not have to pay it when they register during the 30-day period.

The registration books would be open each year between January 1 and April 10, beginning in 1965. Voters would have to register annually. Everyone who wants to vote after May 31, 1965, would have to register between January 1 and April 10, 1965.

Faubus Says He's Ready For the Feb. 26 Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Governor Faubus said yesterday that "unless something happens" he would set a special legislative session February 26 to consider the Legislative Council's voters registration bill.

The bill, which Faubus says he approves of, would set up an annual registration system, handled by county assessors, with a registration period between January 1 and April 10 each year.

J. P. Lybrand Jr. of Pine Bluff, president of the Arkansas Tax Assessors Association, said yesterday that the group's legislative council would protest to Faubus today any plan involving registration by its members.

Registration by assessors would "scare off a lot of voters," Lybrand said, and his organization will do all it can to "prevent voter registration from becoming the responsibility of the tax assessor."

Faubus said he would issue a formal call for the special session next week and indicated that February 26 can be considered a definite starting date.

The governor said yesterday that the special session would not be asked to consider enacting a per capita tax to replace revenue lost from the $1 per person poll tax.

The 1965 regular session can handle this and other clean-up problems, he said.

Ratification of the 24th Amendment to the federal Constitution made necessary the creation of a new voter registration system for federal elections in Arkansas and four other Southern states.

Faubus suggested that the new regulation law should be subjected to a court test as soon as it is passed to remove any possible legal cloud from the upcoming elections.

Ark Gaz 2/13/64

Assessors To Protest Voter Bill

PINE BLUFF (AP) — J. P. Lybrand Jr. of Pine Bluff, president of the Arkansas Tax Assessors Association, said Wednesday that voter registration by tax assessors would "scare off a lot of voters."

The Tax Assessors Association is sending its legislative committee to Little Rock Thursday to protest to Faubus any plan involving registration by its members.

Lybrand said his organization will do all it could to "prevent voter registration from becoming the responsibility of the tax assessor."

"Our opinion is that this plan, in essence, says that a man has to assess property in order to vote," Lybrand said.

Ark. Gaz.

—Staff Photo.

Alfred B. Lewis, NAACP treasurer, at Little Rock.

Apathy Called Main Block To Negro Voting in State

The national treasurer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Thursday at Little Rock that Negro voters have no problem voting in Arkansas except their own apathy.

"And the fact," Alfred B. Lewis added, "that they've been brainwashed into believing that voting is the white man's business."

Lewis, who is white, is on a swing of Southern states, speaking to NAACP branches to stimulate voter registration, morale and membership.

Lewis, a retired insurance man who now lives at Greenwich, Conn., joined the NAACP more than 40 years ago, has served on the National Board since 1939 and has been national treasurer, a voluntary post, for six years. His wife also is an NAACP member.

He said the NAACP had held its own against the competition of other rising Negro rights groups. "We alone are organized in every state of the union and operate in all of them except Alabama," he said. A state court injunction has curtailed the Alabama operations but Lewis said this was being overcome in the federal courts.

The NAACP has "by far" the largest number of members and the largest budget, the membership having increased 29 per cent last year, he said.

He said Negroes would support President Johnson for election this year in overwhelming numbers because the president was committed politically and emotionally to civil rights. Without Negro votes of South Carolina, Texas and Illinois, the Kennedy-Johnson slate would not have won the last presidential election, he said.

If Senator Barry M. Goldwater is the Republican nominee, Lewis predicted he would get no more than 2 per cent of the total Negro vote because of his pro-states' rights stand, which Lewis equated with segregationist sentiment.

Ark. Statesman

ployment at decent jobs. Equal educational opportunities enable Negroes to get and hold professional and technical jobs "to a reasonable extent," Lewis said, and growth of Negro employment in professional, technical and supervisory jobs "has been one of the real success stories in the Negro community."

The main job for Little Rock and Arkansas Negroes, Lewis added, is to increase the Negro voter registration, now at only 40 per cent; to increase the proportion actually voting, and to "open up public accommodations—by agreement if possible, or demonstrations if necessary."

Charges Hypocrisy

Lewis also predicted passage of the pending civil rights bill in Congress, after a hard Senate fight over the public accommodations section. The bill was overwhelmingly approved by the House.

Lewis singled out for criticism three Republican senators —Aiken of Vermont, Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Dirksen of Illinois—who oppose the public accommodations section as an infringement on property rights.

"I charge these senators with hypocrisy," declared Lewis, "for in all three of their states there are state civil rights laws which interfere with property rights to the same extent in their states that the proposed federal law would do throughout the nation, and they were passed—or in Massachusetts strengthened—without any objection on the part of these senators."

In any event, he added, the NAACP "denies emphatically that there is any property right in the right to discriminate."

Negroes have a long way to go for full equality, Lewis said, particularly in the area of em-

Ark. Gazette 2/14/64

Why Force Registration On Reluctant Assessors?

Arkansas's assessors deserve a lot of credit for their response to the unsound proposal to put voter registration in their hands rather than the county clerks. J. P. Lybrand Jr., president of the Assessors Association, has reiterated that his group doesn't want the job and that, moreover, registration by assessors would "scare off a lot of voters."

Mr. Lybrand stated about as plainly as anyone could the fundamental reason why registration should not be the business of either the assessor or the collector of taxes:

> "Our opinion is that this plan, in essence, says that a man has to assess property in order to vote."

There has never been a satisfactory explanation of why it is considered necessary to have the assessor do this task, which is wholly foreign to his principal business. Representative J. H. Cottrell, who brought forth this approach to voter registration, says it will be convenient for voters to register during January, when they buy automobile licenses, assess personal property and buy drivers' licenses. It would most decidedly not be convenient to add yet another step to the annual January ordeal. A permanent registration system, with a long annual registration period, would be far more convenient and easier to administer.

A survey of voter registration legislation in other states suggests that permanent systems are far more common than those limiting registration to a specific period. There are 31 states with permanent systems and several others with permanent systems in at least a part of the state. Arkansas, then, would join the minority using annual systems.

Ark Poll Tax
Ark Gazette 2/14/64

Many Poll Tax Questions To Remain Unanswered, At Least for Time Being

The end of the poll tax as a voting requirement leaves a lot of unanswered questions about the tax but Governor Faubus has no intention of trying to deal with them in the special session on voter registration.

This session is just to get a voter registration law on the books as quickly and painlessly as possible and probably to handle a couple of non-controversial items. Both the governor and the legislators want the session out of the way as soon as possible because this is an election year and the campaigns are coming up.

Some of the questions are:

Will the state still impose a poll tax?

Or will the state begin to enforce the constitutional provision for a $1 per capita tax on all males over age 21? This has been in the Constitution since 1874.

If the poll tax is dropped, what will be done to replace the money it brings in for the Public School Fund? The amount was $633,665 for the poll tax receipts issued during 1963. It has been around $600,000 for several years. If the per capita tax on males is used as a substitute, the amount would drop. There were 502,450 males over 21 in the state in the 1960 census.

What will be done about those who have paid poll taxes in the current year? Nothing, most likely, they're just out $1 each. Many persons pay their poll taxes automatically when assessing and paying taxes during the first quarter of the year.

What About Officials?

What about the requirements that certain persons must have poll tax receipts, such as public officeholders, state employes, etc.? This was imposed partly to insure that all those drawing public money would be qualified voters. Governor Faubus commented that he personally would keep on paying the poll tax just to be sure that no lawsuit later could be based on his failure to have one.

All these and other questions will be left alone for the present.

Faubus said he thought the Legislative Council ought to study them and try to have something ready for the 1965 General Assembly.

"We face a complex situation which cannot be taken up without study and probably a court decision on the voter registration law," Faubus said.

The governor said he still planned to convene the special session on Wednesday February 26.

He said he might ask the legislature to authorize the state Education Department to spend up to $600,000 in new federal vocational aid funds available through July 1.

Previously Faubus had said he intended to ask the legislature to legalize underage marriages not recognized by the Social Security Administration and to reappropriate some construction money for improvements at the Benton unit of the State Hospital.

Pine Bluff Commercial

300 Beech Street
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

Every afternoon
and Sunday morning

Founded 1881
by Charles Gordon Newman

Published 1911 - 1945
by E. W. Freeman

Second-class postage paid at
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

A Member of
The Associated Press

Telephone JEfferson 4-3400
After 6 p.m. call:

Circulation ..... JE 4-3500
News ..... JE 4-3420
Sports ..... JE 4-3405

trumpet it at the Legislative Council hearings this week on voter registration. Not one of them, to our knowledge, has cited the motto throughout the voter registration excitement which has followed enactment of the 24th Amendment to the federal Constitution.

The Faubus crowd is not talking about revising the motto, or suspending it. They just aren't mentioning it. Yet the extent of popular rule is one of the two central issues which will be decided when a voter registration bill is enacted. (The other one is the extent to which election fraud shall be discouraged. We discussed yesterday the hypocrisy with which the Legislative Council has responded to this challenge.)

It would be both possible and respectable to debate voter registration in terms of how limited the right to vote should be. A case can be made against illiterates voting, for example. Stout arguments could also be summoned for limiting voting by people who do not pay property taxes, or who fail to pay them on time, or who for some other reason are reluctant to look a deputy assessor in the eye.

The Legislative Council is clearly not interested in such a debate, however. The council's majority has voted to place registration in the hands of the county assessors, and thus to combine registration with tax assessment and collection. The only rational basis for such a decision is that it will encourage the registration of "solid" citizens while discouraging the regis- the first to deny [illegible] of convenience but it has not been withdrawn.

Similarly, it would be possible to argue that voting should be limited to people interested enough in their government to register well in advance of elections. This is the only justification we can see for a registration cutoff of April 10, 3½ months ahead of the first primary. But the movers and shakers in the Legislative Council do not talk about an April 10 cutoff as a device for keeping people from voting. They defend it, instead, with the proposition that it will be convenient—since April 10 is also the deadline for personal property assessment.

Interestingly, these unacknowledged efforts to restrict voting to the "better elements" in the Arkansas body politic have not included the most obvious of all steps in that direction: No one has publicly urged that illiterates should be denied the franchise, yet people who cannot read and write are surely the group least well equipped to vote.

They are also, of course, the blocs of which East Arkansas's county political machines are built.

One is left with the conclusion that the Legislative Council wants to discourage voting by some poor and otherwise unreliable people, but not by all of them. Only those, as we read the registration bill, who might be inclined to register on their own initiative, and to vote as their own convictions dictated.

Chemical Warfare Charge Is Renewed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said again today that American troops in South Vietnam are waging chemical warfare against Communist guerrillas.

The United States has explained that chemicals are used to kill foliage in jungle hiding places of the guerrillas and do not injure humans.

2000

city such as parks, de streets, and con- velopment of business ential areas. In this id, the city will attract ries and people.

he meeting, the Real ard approved a resolu- ing Mrs. Mary L. (Pol- s, who was secretary- of the organization un- d last Saturday. Cecil e McNew Realty Com-

Regnat . . . ? Whazzat!

The motto of the State of Arkansas is "Regnat populus."

Translated, "The people rule."

The Faubusite legislators who have made so much noise about that motto in the past six or seven years were not heard to trumpet it at the Legislative Council hearings this week on voter registration. Not one of them, to our knowledge, has cited the motto throughout the voter registration excitement which has followed enactment of the 24th Amendment to the federal Constitution.

The Faubus crowd is not talking about revising the motto, or suspending it. They just aren't mentioning it. Yet the extent of popular rule is one of the two central issues which will be decided when a voter registration bill is enacted. (The other one is the extent to which election fraud shall be discouraged. We discussed yesterday the hypocrisy with which the Legislative Council has responded to this challenge.)

It would be both possible and respectable to debate voter registration in terms of how limited the right to vote should be. A case can be made against illiterates voting, for example. Stout arguments could also be summoned for limiting voting by people who do not pay property taxes, or who fail to pay them on time, or who for some other reason are reluctant to look a deputy assessor in the eye.

The Legislative Council is clearly not interested in such a debate, however. The council's majority has voted to place registration in the hands of the county assessors, and thus to combine registration with tax assessment and collection. The only rational basis for such a decision is that it will encourage the registration of "solid" citizens while discouraging the registration of poorer and less responsible people. But the decision is not defended on this basis—such an intent is even denied. It is said instead that registration by assessors will be convenient. The assessors themselves have been the first to deny the claim of convenience but it has not been withdrawn.

Similarly, it would be possible to argue that voting should be limited to people interested enough in their government to register well in advance of elections. This is the only justification we can see for a registration cutoff of April 10, 3½ months ahead of the first primary. But the movers and shakers in the Legislative Council do not talk about an April 10 cutoff as a device for keeping people from voting. They defend it, instead, with the proposition that it will be convenient—since April 10 is also the deadline for personal property assessment.

Interestingly, these unacknowledged efforts to restrict voting to the "better elements" in the Arkansas body politic have not included the most obvious of all steps in that direction: No one has publicly urged that illiterates should be denied the franchise, yet people who cannot read and write are surely the group least well equipped to vote.

They are also, of course, the blocs of which East Arkansas's county political machines are built.

One is left with the conclusion that the Legislative Council wants to discourage voting by some poor and otherwise unreliable people, but not by all of them. Only those, as we read the registration bill, who might be inclined to register on their own initiative, and to vote as their own convictions dictated.

UPI — Associated Press

PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS, FRIDAY, FEB. 14, 1964

Pine Bluff Com Cont Roll Dat

United Press International

Assessor J. P. Lybrand (Right) Talks With Reporters After Seeing Governor Faubus

Lybrand Says Voter Bill Has Between-the-Lines Meaning opposing a p cil's bill tha be the count

The bill, s sentative J.
Pulaski Cou
ed in final f
cil at 10:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Lybrand said his group would be at the council meeting and make its protest then. Lybrand and members of the assessors' legislative committee met yesterday with Governor Faubus to discuss the situation.

Lybrand said Faubus was sympathetic but did not take a position for or against the assessors. He said the governor told the group that most sheriffs wanted to retain their position as registrar.

According to Lybrand, the council had three things in mind when probably be charged the minimum assessment of $50, which would mean a tax bill of $2.50 or $3, an amount that would probably be uncollectable. He said that processing those people would bring in no new revenues and would just add administrative costs.

—(3) "Yes, it's going to scare off a few of that minority group. It's also going to scare off the poor folks and those old folks in old folks' homes." Lybrand said the measure probably would scare off the 21 and 22-year-old group is to send an informational letter to every state legislator; to get in touch with all the county assessors in the state and tell them to educate their public, showing why the assessor should "not be in the voter registration business;" and, to be at the special session of the legislature when it meets "to try to show them why it isn't feasible."

Lybrand said that 95 per cent of the state's assessors were behind him in this attempt to change the registrar provision of the voter registration bill.

United Press International

Campaigning in West, Speaks Before San Francisco Crowd

Questioning Set For Ruby's Jurors

DALLAS (AP) — Attorneys for both the state and defense, awaiting a decision today on a charge of venue motion, said they were prepared to start questioning prospective jurors Monday for the Jack Ruby murder trial if it is not transferred.

District Judge Joe B. Brown said he would rule this afternoon on the defense's request to move the trial to another city in Texas. He could grant the motion, deny it, or could reserve a final decision until after efforts are made to empanel a jury here.

Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel, said yesterday that he believed "the chances are pretty good" that Judge Brown would direct the lawyers to try to ...

'Spray Men' Take $94 From Couple

A Negro couple reported being robbed of $94 yesterday by two white men who said they were "government men" ordered to spray houses, Deputy Sheriff Buck Oliger said this morning.

Oliger said ...

McNamara And Navy At Odds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy recommended that men assigned to the Guantanamo Naval Base be allowed to take their families with them, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ruled otherwise.

This was learned from informed sources today in a follow-up ...

discount a man like that," said Representative William E. Miller in Rome, New York. "In the event we should have a so-called deadlocked convention it could turn to Dick Nixon," Miller added:

"I will say I don't believe we are going to have a deadlock at convention. Anyone who gets (the nomination) will be announced by April or May at the latest."

964

By HARRY PEARSON
Of The Commercial Staff

The between-the-lines meaning of the voter registration bill being sponsored by the Legislative Council is that "you've got to assess before you can register," J. P. (Sonny) Lybrand Jr. said today.

Lybrand is Jefferson County tax assessor and is president of the Arkansas County Assessors Association. The association is opposing a provision in the council's bill that the voter registrar be the county tax assessor.

The bill, sponsored by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County, will be presented in final form before the council at 10:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Lybrand said his group would be at the council meeting and make its protest then. Lybrand and members of the assessors' legislative committee met yesterday with Governor Faubus to discuss the situation.

Lybrand said Faubus was sympathetic but did not take a position for or against the assessors. He said the governor told the group that most sheriffs wanted to retain their position as registrar.

According to Lybrand, the council had three things in mind when it decided on the county assessor as registrar: (1) Convenience to the voter, (2) the addition of more people to the tax rolls to offset the loss of poll tax revenues and (3) scaring off certain minority groups of the voters.

Lybrand's retort:

—(1) "It hasn't been an inconvenience for them to register before now with the county collector," and "It's going to make the lines longer and take more time for each taxpayer" since the assessors will have voting forms in addition to assessment forms to complete.

—(2) "The class of people who are not on the tax rolls now are the poorest class," Lybrand said, adding that these people would probably be charged the minimum assessment of $50, which would mean a tax bill of $2.50 or $3, an amount that would probably be uncollectable. He said that processing those people would bring in no new revenues and would just add administrative costs.

—(3) "Yes, it's going to scare off a few of that minority group. It's also going to scare off the poor folks and those old folks in old folks' homes." Lybrand said the measure probably would scare off the 21 and 22-year-old voters who were still dependent on their families.

"We maintain," Lybrand said, "that this bill, while it doesn't say so directly ... that between the lines, it says you've got to assess before you can register."

He said that the registration of voters and the administration of assessments were two entirely different fields and that handling voters was not within the assessor's constitutional jurisdiction.

Most of the assessors in smaller counties, who have little if any help, would have to cut back on their assessment work to take care of voter registration, Lybrand said, and thereby cost the county money in lost tax revenues.

The strategy of Lybrand's group is to send an informational letter to every state legislator; to get in touch with all the county assessors in the state and tell them to educate their public, showing why the assessor should "not be in the voter registration business;" and, to be at the special session of the legislature when it meets "to try to show them why it isn't feasible."

Lybrand said that 95 per cent of the state's assessors were behind him in this attempt to change the registrar provision of the voter registration bill.

Setback in Little Rock

The management of the Marion Hotel has shown an unexpected and disappointing timidity in electing to cancel a reservation made for a meeting room by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

There is no relevance or consolation in the management's resort to the tired old excuse that a "controversial" figure—in this case the widow of the slain NAACP leader, Medgar W. Evers—was to be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting, originally scheduled at the hotel for February 16. In the lexicon of the times, "controversial" has taken on some new meanings and some new dimensions. In any case, there have been all kinds of "controversial" figures appearing at Little Rock hotels in the recent past—(Among them Senator Strom Thurmond, the Rev. Billy James Hargis, and Tom Anderson, the radical right wing publisher, to mention just three who come to mind).

What concerns us is not Little Rock's "image"; heaven knows there's been too much talk in the South about what others think of us and not enough talk about what we are. What concerns us is a setback of some importance in what has been a dramatic record of improvement in race relations.

The Marion's decision was disappointing because Little Rock had made such progress, in the desegregation of a large number of hotels and restaurants, in accordance with both the practicalities and the developing sense of principle emerging in many parts of the South.

It is disappointing, too, because the Southwest Hotels in Little Rock, at some sacrifice, have previously performed so well in fulfilling their considerable share of the "gentlemen's agreement" to give Little Rock Negroes access to the accommodations and services that the rest of us have come to take for granted in the modern society.

Pine Bluff Com 2/16/64

Rights Group Starts Drive For Phillips County Voters

Pine Bluff Com.

Three field secretaries of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee have been in Phillips County for two weeks organizing a voter registration drive, William W. Hansen Jr. of Pine Bluff said yesterday.

Hansen is director of the committee's Arkansas Project. He said the three were Bruce Jordan, 19, of Pine Bluff; Pearlie Sneed Jr., 30, of Star City, and James Jones, 20, of Willisville in Nevada County.

The field secretaries are planning meetings, Hansen said, to tell Negroes why they should register to vote.

Quotes Report

Hansen quoted from a report from Jones: "As it stands now, the situation in Helena is that Negroes are completely afraid of white people and what will happen to them if they, in any way, challenge the situation."

Last month, Hansen and other committee officials told the Arkansas Advisory Committee to the federal Civil Rights Commission that they were threatened with arrest by Police Chief Roy Ross of Helena if they ever set foot in Phillips County again.

None Arrested

Hansen said that none of the three had been arrested or intimidated by lawmen.

He also quoted another section from Jones's report:

"The big problem in finding housing is that as soon as people find out who we are, they slam the door in our faces because of the fear of what will happen to them if they rent to SNCC people."

Committee field secretaries from Pine Bluff, including Hansen and Jordan, were arrested in Phillips County in October and November. They organized sit-in demonstrations in October and said they had gone there to work on voter registration when they were arrested in November.

Ark. Statewide

Ark Poll Tax Ark. Gaz. 2/16/64

The Arkansas Press

Burying the Poll Tax

ARKANSAS'S voter registration problem continued to be a chief editorial topic for the state's newspaper.

The SEARCY DAILY CITIZEN: Now that the senseless dabbling promoted by strong backers of the "civil rights" project has resulted in the passage of the 24th amendment, outlawing the poll tax, the five states that use it as a basic system of registration have been forced into a hurried consideration of some system to replace it.

In Arkansas, a special session of the legislature—to be paid for by the taxpayers—has become a necessity. And, since the amendment applies only to federal elections and since the Arkansas constitution required a poll tax in state elections, it would appear that we are going to have to set up two separate voter registration lists. All of which is useless and cumbersome. * * *

The McGEHEE TIMES:—Let us hope the Legislative Council sees fit to suggest a voter registration system to take care of all elections in Arkansas, thus eliminating the poll tax as a pre-requisite to casting a vote. The poll tax has always seemed an unconstitutional tax—and now that 38 states have ratified an amendment to the United States constitution making it invalid for national elections, it would seem the height of stupidity to hold separate state and local elections just so a poll tax can be levied. * * *

Editor Bill Courtney in his Casual Chat column in THE WYNNE PROGRESS: I can't understand the uproar about voter registration law, now that our poll tax system has become a crime.

If you can't prevent people from voting, and you can't charge them for registration, why register them at all? When there is an election just let every adult who wants to vote come on in and cast a ballot. * * *

The VOICE of the Record column in the SHARP COUNTY RECORD at Cave City: It is to be remembered that when the poll tax dollar is eliminated that the schools of Arkansas will lose approximately $600,000 each year. What is hoped for is that this loss in revenue will not result in some form of additional taxation to close the gap. * * *

The SOUTHWEST AMERICAN at Fort Smith: We don't think even a voluntary registration of party affiliation is a good idea—because it would accomplish nothing and would be an unnecessary controversial point.

The fewest necessary restrictions on registration, embodying no more than the present poll tax law, and a simple annual re - registration * * * that should make for quick passage of a bill and the best bill that could be written.

Editor John R. Newman in his times Topics column in the HARRISON DAILY TIMES: Arkansans will get a registration law, probably in time for the primaries in July and August. The details will be worked out at a special session of the legislature, but it is likely that voting will be made easy rather than difficult, and that no literacy tests will be involved. * * *

In the editor's Picked Up Here & There column in the PIGGOTT BANNER: I personally think the poll tax is a big improvement over the Registration Plan, and base this statement on information given me by people who live in states having a Registration Plan. * *

The MARKED TREE TRIBUNE: The ratification of the amendment (outlawing the poll tax) in an election year in Arkansas has made the poll tax decision a political matter of grave importance to the Faubus administration and its supporters. Oddly enough the timing of the situation has revealed with unusual clarity one of the most undesireable aspects of the poll tax—that aspect which makes it a "political" tax so to speak, for this poll tax system has long been a handy tool for local and county machines to use in controlling elections. * * *

The UNION LABOR BULLETIN: * * * There should be one general rule for the new law. It should provides for registration of eligible voters, on the basis of name, age, address and length of residence.

★ ★ ★

THE VOICE of the Record column in the SHARP COUNTY RECORD at Cave City: It is to be remembered that when the poll tax dollar is eliminated that the schools of Arkansas will lose approximately $600,000 each year. What is hoped for is that this loss in revenue will not result in some form of additional taxation to close the gap. * * *

The SOUTHWEST AMERICAN at Fort Smith: We don't think even a voluntary registration of party affiliation is a good idea—because it would accomplish nothing and would be an unnecessary controversial point.

The fewest necessary restrictions on registration, embodying no more than the present poll tax law, and a simple annual re - registration * * * that should make for quick passage of a bill and the best bill that could be written.

Editor John R. Newman in his times Topics column in the HARRISON DAILY TIMES: Arkansans will get a registration law, probably in time for the primaries in July and August. The details will be worked out at a special session of the legislature, but it is likely that voting will be made easy rather than difficult, and that no literacy tests will be involved. * * *

In the editor's Picked Up Here & There column in the PIGGOTT BANNER: I personally think the poll tax is a big improvement over the Registration Plan, and base this statement on information given me by people who live in states having a Registration Plan. * *

The MARKED TREE TRIBUNE: The ratification of the amendment (outlawing the poll tax) in an election year in Arkansas has made the poll tax decision a political matter of grave importance to the Faubus administration and its supporters. Oddly enough the timing of the situation has revealed with unusual clarity one of the most undesireable aspects of the poll tax—that aspect which makes it a "political" tax so to speak, for this poll tax system has long been a handy tool for local and county machines to use in controlling elections. * * *

The UNION LABOR BULLETIN: * * * There should be one general rule for the new law. It should has been rendered almost helpless by a lack of honest, forthright leadership. Even the traditional wrangling between the "ins" and "outs" is fast disappearing as the "outs" join with the "ins."

This illness not only has spawned political dynasties (somewhat like dictatorships), it has given vigor and voice to splinter groups of fuzzy-minded agitators who would subvert and socialize the lives of their fellow citizens.

A cure to this sickness is the first of Arkansas' needs.

The healing process, however painful, must begin at the ballot box. Candidates who regard public office as a public trust, rather than entry to the public treasury and personal power, must step forward and be elected. This must be done before a monumental and far-reaching undertaking such as revision of the state's constitution can be assigned with confidence.

Revision, if needed, might be accomplished beneficially in a healthy atmosphere free of fear and reprisal. Under present conditions, however, the safeguards of the state's 90-year-old document (adopted in an era when constitution drafters were convinced that all government was a necessary evil that required numerous restraints) are more important that its wordiness and antiquity.

In the meantime, it might be remembered that the present constitution already has been revised 50 times. Each of these revisions—amendments—was tested at the ballot box. With or without a constitutional convention, the document can continue to be revised, as needed.

Burying the Poll Tax

ARKANSAS'S voter registration problem continued to be a chief editorial topic for the state's newspaper.

The SEARCY DAILY CITIZEN: Now that the senseless dabbling promoted by strong backers of the "civil rights" project has resulted in the passage of the 24th amendment, outlawing the poll tax, the five states that use it as a basic system of registration have been forced into a hurried consideration of some system to replace it.

In Arkansas, a special session of the legislature—to be paid for by the taxpayers—has become a necessity. And, since the amendment applies only to federal elections and since the Arkansas constitution required a poll tax in state elections, it would appear that we are going to have to set up two separate voter registration lists. All of which is useless and cumbersome. * * *

The McGEHEE TIMES:—Let us hope the Legislative Council sees fit to suggest a voter registration system to take care of all elections in Arkansas, thus eliminating the poll tax as a pre-requisite to casting a vote. The poll tax has always seemed an unconstitutional tax—and now that 38 states have ratified an amendment to the United States constitution making it invalid for national elections, it would seem the height of stupidity to hold separate state and local elections just so a poll tax can be levied. * * *

Editor Bill Courtney in his Casual Chat column in THE WYNNE PROGRESS: I can't understand the uproar about voter registration law, now that our poll tax system has become a crime.

If you can't prevent people from voting, and you can't charge them for registration, why register them at all? When there is an election just let every adult who wants to vote come on in and cast a ballot. * * *

In the Natty column in the ASHLEY COUNTY LEADER: * * * it was brought very plainly to a group of Hamburg business men this week that the 1963 legislature and the present state administration were not amiss by not having already enacted a voter registration system in anticipation of the federal anti-poll tax amendment that became effective last week. * * *

It was pointed out that the legislature nor the governor cannot even now intelligently provide for a voter registration system even though there must be some action made immediately because of the time element before the Democratic primaries.

The reason for this stymied situation is because no state government knows what demands will be contained in the so-called civil rights bill now being ballied around in Congress should any or all of it pass. * * *

The DUMAS CLARION: The truth of the matter is that most folks who won't pay $1 for a poll tax won't bother to turn out and register to vote. But the poll tax has been outlawed, as well it might, for there should be no tax on voting. And when a new statute is written in Arkansas, there should be no literacy restrictions or any other effort made to bar any group from voting. All that is needed is a law which provides for registration of eligible voters, on the basis of name, age, address and length of residence.

★ ★ ★

THE VOICE of the Record column in the SHARP COUNTY RECORD at Cave City: It is to be remembered that when the poll tax dollar is eliminated that the schools of Arkansas will lose approximately $600,000 each year. What is hoped for is that this loss in revenue will not result in some form of additional taxation to close the gap. * * *

The SOUTHWEST AMERICAN at Fort Smith: We don't think even a voluntary registration of party affiliation is a good idea—because it would accomplish nothing and would be an unnecessary controversial point.

The fewest necessary restrictions on registration, embodying no more than the present poll tax law, and a simple annual re - registration * * * that should make for quick passage of a bill and the best bill that could be written.

Editor John R. Newman in his times Topics column in the HARRISON DAILY TIMES: Arkansans will get a registration law, probably in time for the primaries in July and August. The details will be worked out at a special session of the legislature, but it is likely that voting will be made easy rather than difficult, and that no literacy tests will be involved. * * *

In the editor's Picked Up Here & There column in the PIGGOTT BANNER: I personally think the poll tax is a big improvement over the Registration Plan, and base this statement on information given me by people who live in states having a Registration Plan. * *

The MARKED TREE TRIBUNE: The ratification of the amendment (outlawing the poll tax) in an election year in Arkansas has made the poll tax decision a political matter of grave importance to the Faubus administration and its supporters. Oddly enough the timing of the situation has revealed with unusual clarity one of the most undesireable aspects of the poll tax—that aspect which makes it a "political" tax so to speak, for this poll tax system has long been a handy tool for local and county machines to use in controlling elections. * * *

The UNION LABOR BULLETIN: * * * There should be one general rule for the new law. It should not restrict voting rights, but should make it easier for citizens to vote. The reason the poll tax has been outlawed is that it restricted voting. Now if we substitute another law of equal or worse restrictions, then we haven't gained. * * *

THE BAXTER BULLETIN at Mountain Home: * * * Whatever the registration law provides, care should be taken that it is drawn in a manner that will eliminate, as much as humanly possible, attempts for manuevering the vote by such methods as "Cemetery Voting" and the casting of more than one vote by one voter. Laws alone can never fully insure honest elections but, properly drawn, they can make dishonesty more difficult. * * *

A Political Sickness

THE MORRILTON DEMOCRAT editorialized on "Constitutional Revision."

A good political issue, like a fine horse, needs for success not only an expert rider but a rider with altruistic motives and a proper sense of direction.

For more than a decade, expert riders have been ruining fine horses in this state.

Arkansas is sick politically as a result of manipulation, dissipation and prostitution of good issues. The weary and disillusioned electorate has been rendered almost helpless by a lack of honest, forthright leadership. Even the traditional wrangling between the "ins" and "outs" is fast disappearing as the "outs" join with the "ins."

This illness not only has spawned political dynasties (somewhat like dictatorships), it has given vigor and voice to splinter groups of fuzzy-minded agitators who would subvert and socialize the lives of their fellow citizens.

A cure to this sickness is the first of Arkansas' needs.

The healing process, however painful, must begin at the ballot box. Candidates who regard public office as a public trust, rather than entry to the public treasury and personal power, must step forward and be elected. This must be done before a monumental and far-reaching undertaking such as revision of the state's constitution can be assigned with confidence.

Revision, if needed, might be accomplished beneficially in a healthy atmosphere free of fear and reprisal. Under present conditions, however, the safeguards of the state's 90-year-old document (adopted in an era when constitution drafters were convinced that all government was a necessary evil that required numerous restraints) are more important that its wordiness and antiquity.

In the meantime, it might be remembered that the present constitution already has been revised 50 times. Each of these revisions—amendments—was tested at the ballot box. With or without a constitutional convention, the document can continue to be revised, as needed.

Ark. Gaz. Ark. Pall. Dem.
2/15/64

Women's League President Cites Vote Bill Weaknesses

The president of the League of Women Voters of Arkansas said Friday that the proposed voter registration bill of the Arkansas Legislative Council fails to provide maximum safeguards against fraud.

Nor, said Mrs. E. E. Elkins, the League president, would the Council's bill be the last word in voter convenience.

Mrs. Elkins cited what she said the League considered as defects in the proposed bill:

1. Permanent registration, rather than annual registration as proposed, would encourage persons to vote and thereby keep their registration in effect.

2. Persons should not be allowed to register their relatives. "A relative is not permitted to sign other official papers for you," said Mrs. Elkins. "Isn't our right to vote just as important?"

3. The voter should be required to sign his name on the back of his registration form before voting as a means of identification. Special provisions should be made for those unable to write.

4. Voting should not be associated with taxes or assessments and tax assessors should not be given responsibility for voter registration, as the bill proposes.

"What could be more simple than to register once in person at the county clerk's office," asked Mrs. Elkins, "and to keep that registration valid by exercising our right and privilege of voting?"

The League has promoted voter registration since 1956 and worked actively in the last legislature to obtain passage of a registration law.

Cook Poll Tax

Registration Halfheartedly Draws Praise

2/16/64

Pine Bluff Com.

By BRENDA TIREY and JIM GILTMIER
Of The Commercial Staff

Two of the most controversial aspects of the voter registration bill now before the Legislative Council were tentatively endorsed by half the Southeast Arkansas legislators polled for their opinion of the proposed bill.

The two provisions are annual registration and absentee registration by relatives.

The Council will meet Thursday to approve a final draft of the bill originally proposed by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr., of Pulaski County.

Other provisions of the Cottrell bill include:

—Appointment of the county assessor as registrar

—Optional party designation

—The incorporation of poll tax holders into the new registration system through May 31, 1965

—Thirty days time for voters who did not pay their poll tax to register this spring for the summer primaries and the fall general election.

Senator Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff said he would have to see a copy of the bill before making too many comments. He said "I would prefer a permanent registration system but I wouldn't stop the wheels of progress to contend that particular point." He said he felt that the county tax assessor would be "no more or no less appropriate (as registrar) than any other designated official."

Gathright said he would prefer having no party designation, but that he would accept any compromise on that point if it were necessary for passage of a bill. He added that he didn't think Arkansas was ready for party registration because it was not a balanced two-party state.

He said if the state wound up with annual registration he thought it would be necessary to have registration by family members. He said under a permanent registration system it would be feasible to have the voter appear in person, with the exception of those who were physically incapable.

Gathright said he was in favor of having the cutoff date for registration closer to the election.

on of Pine some things with in the e sure there de by some of the legislators to amend this proposal."

Nelson said he wanted to take more time to study the proposed bill and to consult with his advisors before making a statement on which proposals he disagreed with.

(Nelson voted for the optional party registration measure at the Legislative Council session Wednesday. He said Thursday that he would introduce an amendment, probably during the special session, to make the county clerk the registrar.

Senator James W. Raney of Warren said he approved of annual registration because "that way you keep up with people moving out of the state."

He said he would not favor party registration until "we get a two-party system in Arkansas." "I want them (the voters) to be able to vote for the man, not the party," he said.

Raney said he would not favor absentee registration except in very limited cases. He felt that a voter who was physically unable to register himself should have to present written proof of that fact.

He said his county could not afford to hire a full-time registrar and that the tax assessor was the man for the job.

Raney said he was in favor of the later cut-off date and the registration procedure for non-poll tax holders proposed in the Cottrell bill.

Senator Merle Peterson of Dumas said he was waiting to see a finished bill before making up his mind on any of the issues. He said he also would like to study voter registration systems in other states.

Peterson said the county tax assessors seemed the most logical officials to take over as registrars.

He said he favored absentee registration because persons should be deprived of the right to vote because they were sick, invalid or were in the armed forces.

Representative G. W. (Buddy) Turner of Jefferson County said he had mixed emotions on whether annual or permanent registration would be the best system. He said there were advantages to both methods.

He said he thought the registrar should be the county clerk or that eventually a new officer should be designed for that purpose.

He said his first reaction toa bsentee registration was that everyone should register for himself. "Should anyone else be made able to do it, it should be kept within the family," he added.

Representative T. L. Greenlee of Jefferson County said he would rather not comment on the proposed bill until he had discussed it further with other members of the legislature. He said there was a chance the council would make revisions in the bill.

Representative Nap B. Murphy of Ashley County said he liked annual registration. "If they're (the voters) not interested in registering, maybe they don't want to vote," he commented.

He said the assessors should be the registrars. Murphy said in his county the assessor could handle registration in a way that wouldn't add too much of a work load.

Murphy thought there shouldn't be any party affiliation clause. He said an optional party affiliation statement was only the first step toward making it compulsory. "Some folks up there think those Republicans might beat them," he said.

He said a voter should register for himself if he were able, but that registration by a member of the immediate family would be acceptable.

Representative Raymond Mays of Cleveland County said he definitely was in favor of everything in the bill because he had helped write it. "It's as good a bill as could have been written up in the short time you had to do it," he said.

Mays said he favored annual registration because he felt more accurate and up-to-date voter lists could be kept under that system. He said annual registration would be a more effective way on keeping down corruption in elections. added.

He said he didn't agree with the tax assessors that some voters would be scared away by having to register with the assessor. "Registration has nothing to do with taxation anyway," he said.

He said that his county could not afford a full-time registrar.

Mays said he actually favored mandatory party registration, but that he had voted for optional party registration as a compromise measure. "I don't think the Republicans have any business voting in the Democratic primary. I wouldn't want to go try to vote in their primary," he said.

He said he felt that persons should be able to register for other members of his immediate family. "It always has been that way," he said.

He said the new cut-off date would coincide with the assessment dates, which should "work out fine."

Representative Edward L. Works of Dallas County said "from what I've read in the paper, I think I could go along with the bill."

He said both annual and permanent registration had their merits. "I'd like to have permanent registration, but I think I could be convinced that they (the voters) should register yearly."

He said he thought Cottrell had a pretty good idea in making the assessor the registrar. He felt that more people would register because they could do so when they receive their assessments.

Representative Arthur Deckleman of Drew County said he thought permanent registration would, in the long run, be better than annual registration. He felt that the registrar should be the county clerk, but that the assessor would be as good as anybody else.

He said the issue of party affiliation was "immaterial to me."

He added:

"I was real surprised when they came up with such a measure. We should thrash this thing out in the general session. You can bet your bottom dollar that in the '65 session we will spend three or four weeks wrangling over changes if we don't do it right this time."

He said he liked the bill proposed earlier in the Legislative session by Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County. Croxton's proposal included permanent registration, the county clerk as registrar, and no provision for absentee registration by relatives.

Cook Poll Tax

Registration Halfhearted Draw

2/16/64

By Bill

Two of the mo registration bill now tentatively endorsed legislators polled for the

The two provisions a sentee registration by relat

The Council will meet Thursday to approve a final draft of the bill originally proposed by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr., of Pulaski County.

Other provisions of the Cottrell bill include:

—Appointment of the county assessor as registrar

—Optional party designation

—The incorporation of poll tax holders into the new registration system through May 31, 1965

—Thirty days time for voters who did not pay their poll tax to register this spring for the summer primaries and the fall general election.

Senator Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff said he would have to see a copy of the bill before making too many comments. He said "I would prefer a permanent registration system but I wouldn't stop the wheels of progress to contend that particular point." He said he felt that the county tax assessor would be "no more or no less appropriate (as registrar) than any other designated official."

Gathright said he would prefer having no party designation, but that he would accept any compromise on that point if it were necessary for passage of a bill. He added that he didn't think Arkansas was ready for party registration because it was not a balanced two-party state.

He said if the state wound up with annual registration he thought it would be necessary to have registration by family members. He said under a permanent registration system it would be feasible to have the voter appear in person, with the exception of those who were physically incapable.

Gathright said he was in favor of having the cutoff date for registration closer to the election.

Senator Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff said there were some things he was not satisfied with in the Cottrell bill. "I'm quite sure there will be an effort made by some of the legislators to amend this proposal."

Nelson said he wanted to take more time to study the proposed bill and to consult with his advisors before making a statement on which proposals he disagreed with.

(Nelson voted for the optional party registration measure at the Legislative Council session Wednesday. He said Thursday that he would introduce an amendment, probably during the special session, to make the county clerk the registrar.

Senator James W. Raney of Warren said he approved of annual registration because "that way you keep up with people moving out of the state."

He said he would not favor party registration until "we get a two-party system in Arkansas." "I want them (the voters) to be able to vote for the man, not the party," he said.

Raney said he would not fav absentee registration except in very limited cases. He felt that a voter who was physically unable to register himself should have to present written proof of that fact.

He said his county could not afford to hire a full-time registrar and that the tax assessor was the man for the job.

Raney said he was in favor of the later cut-off date and the registration procedure for non-poll tax holders proposed in the Cottrell bill.

Senator Merle Peterson of Dumas said he was waiting to see a finished bill before making up his mind on any of the issues. He said he also would like to study voter registration systems in other states.

Peterson said the county tax assessors seemed the most logical officials to take over as registrars.

He said he favored absentee registration because persons should be deprived of the right to vote because they were sick, invalid or were in the armed forces.

Representative G. W. (Buddy) Turner of Jefferson County said he had mixed emotions on whether annual or permanent registration would be the best system. He said there were advantages to both methods.

He said he thought the registrar should be the county clerk or that eventually a new officer should be designed for that purpose.

He said his first reaction toa bsentee registration was that everyone should register for himself. "Should anyone else be made able to do it, it should be kept within the family," he added.

Representative T. L. Greenlee of Jefferson County said he would rather not comment on the proposed bill until he had discussed it further with other members of the legislature. He said there was a chance the council would make revisions in the bill.

Representative Nap B. Murphy of Ashley County said he liked annual registration. "If they're (the voters) not interested in registering, maybe they don't want to vote," he commented.

He said the assessors should be the registrars. Murphy said in his county the assessor could handle registration in a way that wouldn't add too much of a work load.

Murphy thought there shouldn't be any party affiliation clause. He said an optional party affiliation statement was only the first step toward making it compulsory.

He said having the tax assessor as registrar would be a matter of convenience because most people have to make assessments between April 1 and May 10. "It won't take them but a couple of extra minutes to register," he added.

He said he didn't agree with the tax assessors that some voters would be scared away by having to register with the assessor. "Registration has nothing to do with taxation anyway," he said.

He said that his county could not afford a full-time registrar.

Mays said he actually favored mandatory party registration, but that he had voted for optional party registration as a compromise measure. "I don't think the Republicans have any business voting in the Democratic primary. I wouldn't want to go try to vote in their primary," he said.

He said he felt that persons should be able to register for other members of his immediate family. "It always has been that way," he said.

He said the new cut-off date would coincide with the assessment dates, which should "work out fine."

Representative Edward L. Works of Dallas County said "from what I've read in the paper, I think I could go along with the bill."

He said both annual and permanent registration had their merits. "I'd like to have permanent registration, but I think I could be convinced that they (the voters) should register yearly."

He said he thought Cottrell had a pretty good idea in making the assessor the registrar. He felt that more people would register because they could do so when they receive their assessments.

Representative Arthur Deckleman of Drew County said he thought permanent registration would, in the long run, be better than annual registration. He felt that the registrar should be the county clerk, but that the assessor would be as good as anybody else.

He said the issue of party affiliation was "immaterial to me."

He added:

"I was real surprised when they came up with such a measure. We should thrash this thing out in the general session. You can bet your bottom dollar that in the '65 session we will spend three or four weeks wrangling over changes if we don't do it right this time."

He said he liked the bill proposed earlier in the Legislative session by Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County. Croxton's proposal included permanent registration, the county clerk as registrar, and no provision for absentee registration by relatives.

THIS WEEK CLEANING ANY

Sauerkraut

Bob Woods
Sherlldan

Gunners are calling for US troops East Africa but so far Washington is not responding to this request.

Commercial not responsible for above statements.

Ark. Gaz.

29 Law May Legalize Poll Tax, Faubus Told

Poll Tax

2/18/64

Governor Faubus was asked Monday by county school supervisors to think about replacing the revenue that will be lost when the poll tax no longer is collected.

Mr. Faubus said the school men suggested that a 1929 law could make collection of the $1 poll tax possible even though the poll tax no longer would be used to qualify voters.

Act 288 of 1929 requires presentation of a poll tax receipt by all resident adults for the purchase of any kind of license and permit, including city franchise licenses, driver's licenses and hunting and fishing licenses.

The same act requires that all public employes must have a current poll tax receipt in order to draw salaries and warrants. The law provides that any official who issues a license or permit contrary to the Act shall be fined up to $200.

Mr. Faubus said that to the best of his knowledge only the salary provision has been enforced. Payment of the poll tax is expected to be discontinued with the enactment of a voter registration bill at the special session of the legislature February 26.

Will Study Law

The governor said that he advised the county school supervisors and members of a legislative subcommittee from the Arkansas Education Association that he would study the law and ask his legal advisers to brief him on whether the measure has been superceded by subsequent legislation.

But he said that would not be done until after the special legislative session.

Mr. Faubus reiterated that he would not ask the special session to substitute a per capita tax for the poll tax or enact any other complicated financing law to replace the poll tax.

"If we can retain the revenue by enforcing a law on the books, we may do that," he said. "But we don't intend to get embroiled in a complicated situation without considerable study."

Not Worth Fight

Mr. Faubus said that he felt that the revenue loss, compared with the multi-million dollar educational budget, was not worth a fight in a special or regular session. He indicated that the school men agreed with him.

The poll tax produced $633,000 in revenue last year and the money financed the operation of county school supervisors. What was left over went into the common school fund in the districts.

There are 50 county school supervisors in the state. Fourteen counties pay clerks to handle the duties and two counties have no county school supervisors or clerical help.

There have been repeated legislative attempts to do away with the county supervisors as not needed in modern school administration. The efforts have not been successful.

Sheriffs Call Special Meeting On Voter Bill

A special meeting of the Arkansas Sheriffs Association on the proposed voter registration bill will be held at noon Wednesday at Little Rock, it was announced Monday.

Desha County Sheriff Robert Moore, executive secretary of the Association, said the meeting would give the sheriffs a chance to voice their views on the bill, which is to be presented to a special session of the legislature February 26.

Most of the sheriffs hold a dual office as sheriff-collectors and in this capacity they issue poll tax receipts. The voter registration bill would replace the poll tax and place the responsibility of registration on tax assessors, who don't want it.

Divided in Stand

Moore said the sheriffs were divided on whether they want the responsibility for voter registration. He said that since the assessors didn't want the responsibility the attitude of the sheriffs on the issue was needed.

The bill itself is being screened by Attorney General Bruce Bennett along with William J. Smith, legal advisor to Governor Faubus, and Marcus Halbrook, director of the Legislative Council.

Bennett said the review had been requested by the Council and that only legal form was being checked. Bennett said that, as a result of a day-long study in his office Monday, several suggested changes would be recommended to the Council, which will meet Thursday to adopt a final draft of the bill.

Legal Aspects

He said these were legal aspects that would be raised on a subsequent court test of the final act after it is approved in the legislature this month. Bennett didn't give any details.

"We have drafted certain suggestions which we think will prevent a second special session this year, following the court suit and which will permit those nominated in the primary to be fully accredited and legal nominees," Bennett said.

Bennett again said the main question in the lawsuit would be whether Amendment 8 to the Arkansas Constitution continues in effect. The amendment provides for payment of a poll tax to vote in state elections.

February 19, 1964. Ark. Gazette

No Job for Sheriffs

Arkansas sheriffs, in the time-honored pattern of Western movies, can be expected to gallop into sight just in time to volunteer for the job of voter registration. Several of the sheriffs have been clamoring for control of registration. The sheriffs have an association meeting today to decide whether they will, as a group, ask for the assignment.

The Legislative Council has curiously tried to force registration on the tax assessors, who quite properly don't want it. The stage is now apparently set for the sheriffs to attempt to get it.

Sheriffs have no logical place in the registration system. Their sole argument is that, in the 58 counties where the sheriff is also the tax collector, they now have control of the poll tax system. Sheriff Robert Moore of Desha County, executive secretary of the Sheriffs Association, said recently that some sheriffs are reluctant to "lose a service they have traditionally performed."

Registration should be handled by the office of county clerk. The assessor deals with the public over taxes. The sheriff deals with the public over taxes in counties where he serves as collector. He also represents the long arm of the law, and it is simply unwise and unnecessary to have a deputy sheriff —a law enforcement officer—registering voters.

There can be no rational basis for refusing to put registration in the hands of the clerks. The clerks are not connected in the public mind with either tax assessment or tax collection; their sole connection with the taxing function is clerical and not public. The clerks do not have the political power of either the county judges or the sheriffs; their lobby is much less potent. Before the last month, however —that is, until the sheriffs said they wanted to control registration—there was a general presumption that the clerks should have the job. Why has there been such an attempt recently to give registration to someone else?

J. P. Lybrand, president of the Arkansas Assessors Association, said that his group doesn't want registration because the assessors think their other functions would "scare a lot of voters off." Mr. Lybrand is recognizing the need to have registration separate from any taxing function, and his reasoning applies with more than equal force to the sheriffs.

Ark Poll Tax

Statewide Election a Possibility

GOP May Attack Districting Law

Arkansas Republicans may try to tear up the congressional district boundaries adopted by the Democratic legislature and gamble on electing a representative in the ensuing confusion.

This was evident Tuesday in Republican circles at Little Rock on the heels of the United States Supreme Court decision that congressional districts within each state must be substantially equal in population.

State GOP Chairman William L. Spicer of Fort Smith took a more cautious tack. He said he would get a copy of the Monday ruling and have the Party's general counsel recommend a course of action.

"I will say this right now," Spicer said, "if it appears there is any ground for the Republican Party to act to correct the situation, we are not going to stand around twiddling our thumbs."

Others in the Republican movement viewed the decision as an ideal opportunity to force the Democrats into a state-wide election to elect four representatives this fall. They said there was enough disparity between the four congressional districts in Arkansas to attack in a court suit with a good chance of success.

"A couple of strong Republican names on the ballot in a state-wide election could turn the trick," said one hopeful Republican worker.

There was general silence in Democratic Party quarters toward the GOP activity. Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, state chairman, said he wanted to read the decision before he commented but doubted that the Republicans could gain by a suit.

There was a general air of expectancy in state administration circles that somebody would file a lawsuit attacking the redistricting adopted in 1961 by the legislature. One official viewed the Court decision as "an open invitation to anyone" to attack the redistricting.

The Guidelines

The Arkansas districts fall within the tentative guideline mentioned in the court ruling, contrary to the first interpretation Monday. The possible guideline mentioned was that no district should vary more than 20 per cent from the average population of the districts in a state. Two of Arkansas's four districts vary more than 20 per cent.

Arkansas's districts are the First (Gathings) with 360,183 population; Second (Mills) 517,860; Third (Trimble) 332,-844, and Fourth (Harris) 575,385.

The four add up to 1,786,272, of which the average is 446,-568. Twenty per cent of 446,568 is 89,314. Adding the 20 per cent to the average gives 535,-882, the theoretical upper population limit which is exceeded by the Fourth District. Subtracting the 20 per cent from the average leaves 357,-254, the theoretical lower limit, and the Third District is lower than that.

No fixed guideline has been set, however. One could develop out of the lawsuits that are almost certain to come in the various states.

Ark. Cong. Dist.

Arkansas Gazette 2/19/64

Arkansas Gazette 2/19/64

Proposed Vote Bill to Help The 'Ins,' Croxton Asserts

The proposed voter registration bill the legislature will consider February 26 will be a help to administrations and groups that are in politics for a living, Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County said Tuesday.

Croxton, in a talk to the North Little Rock Rotary Club at Holiday Inn, criticized the lack of a permanent registration system, the provision of the bill that would permit a person to register relatives and the fact that signatures could not be checked in case of an election contest.

All these things, Croxton said, favor the political "ins" and groups who will see to it that their supporters line up and register year after year. With a permanent system of registration the politicians and the groups would never know when the voters "might rise up and hit them in the face," he said.

Arkansas is getting ready to spend $100,000 on a special session when a registration bill should have been passed at the regular session last year because it was inevitable then that the constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax would be ratified by enough states within a short time, Croxton said.

"All we did was say 'So what'." he said. "The legislature was afraid someone would get hurt."

Wants a Study

Croxton plugged, as he has been doing for several years, for a commission to study the need for governmental reform and pleaded for more interest in politics by such persons as the civic club. Croxton said Arkansas was not a corrupt state but that its leadership was poor.

"With five more people in each county interested in good candidates and willing to contribute money and go out and work for them Arkansas could go places," Croxton said. "With more interest within three or four years you would see some fresh air in the legislature."

He said that some people criticized the encroachment of the federal government into local government into local governmental business but that some services now have to be performed by the national government because country and city governments are hampered by the restrictions on them in the state Constitution. Cities should have greater power to undertake civic improvement, he said.

"All too often," Croxton said, "it is not the fault of the federal government that it functions locally to our dislike but to our short-sightedness and lack of confidence in our local governmental institutions."

Ark. Roll Top Arkansas Gazette

—Staff Photo.

Talking About an Initiated Act

State Representative Hardy W. Croxton (left) presided Sunday at a meeting of the Committee on Voter Registration when it voted to sponsor an initiated act for a permanent voter registration system. Other members include (from left) Mrs. Byron W. House Jr., George H. Ellison of the State AFL-CIO, Miss Pauline Hoeltzel, legislative chairman of the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. Emma Hoeltzel and State Representative Jim Brandon.

Croxton Heads a Group Planning to Take Fight Over Voting to People

By RICHARD ALLIN
Of the Gazette Staff

A citizen's committee headed by State Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County voted Sunday to sponsor an initiated act in the November general election for a permanent voter registration system if the Arkansas General Assembly passes a registration bill it considers unacceptable.

bill Croxton and Brandon will introduce at the special session. It will, however, contain a clause repealing the voter registration bill to be enacted at the special session.

The Croxton committee pondered at first Sunday calling a referendum on the bill to be passed by the legislature, but then abandoned this in favor of

The group, which calls itself the Committee on Voter Registration, includes State Representative Jim Brandon of Little Rock, Mrs. Byron W. House Jr. of Little Rock and representatives of the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the State AFL-CIO and the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce. They met Sunday afternoon at the Albert Pike Hotel.

The committee has drafted what it considers to be a model voter registration bill, which will be introduced at the upcoming special session of the legislature by Croxton and Brandon. But committee members Sunday conceded it had little or no chance of passing. They expect passage of one of the three bills drawn up by the Arkansas Legislative Council. Each calls for annual voter registration, and they differ only on the county officer to be designated as voter registrar.

The Croxton committee bill differs markedly from the Council bills. It provides for a permanent registration to be done by the county clerks. There would be no party designation requirement, but the registration form would be made out in quadruplicate with one copy going to the voter, one each to the majority and minority party officials at the polls, and the fourth to a permanent file in the county clerk's office.

In Person

The bill would require registration in person, except in special circumstances. The period of registration would be from January 1 until May 1.

The proposed initiated act the committee plans to sponsor would be nearly identical to the bill Croxton and Brandon will introduce at the special session. It will, however, contain a clause repealing the voter registration bill to be enacted at the special session.

The Croxton committee pondered at first Sunday calling a referendum on the bill to be passed by the legislature, but then abandoned this in favor of the initiated act approach. Had they decided on the referendum the legislature's bill would have been suspended until its fate could be decided in the general election.

The initiated act would not suspend the legislature's bill, but would replace it immediately should it pass in the general election.

George H. Ellison, president of the State AFL-CIO, predicted that the job of voter registrar would go to the county sheriffs. He said he thought the original proposal that the county assessors be given the job was "camouflage," and that plans were to give it to the sheriffs all along.

The Legislative Council has drafted three bills, one in which the assessor is designated as registrar, another the sheriffs, and a third the county clerks.

The committee also voted to (See VOTER on Page 2A.)

Ark Poll Tax 2/25/64
Good Story!

Arkansas Gazette 2/28/64

Turning to the People On Registration Issue

The initiative affords a powerful recourse whenever the General Assembly puts its own political ends above the public interest. Thus, although Representative Hardy W. Croxton and other advocates of a permanent registration system may be overwhelmed in the coming special session, they may in fact have the last word.

The Committee on Voter Registration, organized under Croxton's leadership, voted Sunday to resort to the initiative if the Assembly comes up with a makeshift bill. The threat must be a carefully considered one because the odds are overwhelming that the bill approved by the legislature will be an abomination.

It may be somewhat strange and even superficially contradictory to maintain that the people, to work their will, must circumvent the legislature and resort to direct action. Is not the General Assembly a representative body? The answer is, of course, that when the Assembly is dominated by a political machine and subject to the demands of short-run political expediency, it fails to be truly representative. Thus, when we urge from time to time the election of independent legislators, we mean legislators who are willing to answer to no one other than their constituents.

The public interest has not been protected in the bill put forward by the Legislative Council. In some vital particulars, the Council has either made a wrong decision or no decision at all. The bill calls for annual registration rather than the more desirable permanent-type system. It provides no signature safeguards, since relatives may register for each other. And the Council has not yet been able to make up its collective mind which county official should administer the system. The Council has been paralyzed on naming the registrar largely because some of its leaders have been so bent on giving the job to the sheriff-collector or the assessor, both illogical choices for the job. Governor Faubus has delayed the special session in an effort to assure that the Council bill can be whipped through in a three-day period.

As a general rule, the initiative should be reserved for major needs. It can be overworked and rendered less effective through over-use. Voter registration, however, is as fundamental as any legislative issue in recent years. A sound bill must be enacted, whether by legislative act or by the people themselves. Mr. Croxton and his committee can be virtually assured of widespread public support for their effort to assure that Arkansas will have a sound registration system.

Gazette Press Desk

Voter Apathy In Arkansas Charged By NAACP

Atl. World 2-29-64

LITTLE ROCK, Ark — The Negro's only problem in Arkansas concerning voting is their own apathy, the treasurer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said here recently.

And, he added, "they've been brainwashed into believing that voting is the white man's business."

The NAACP treasurer, Alfred Baker Lewis, is speaking throughout Southern states to stimulate voter registration, NAACP membership and morale.

The main job for Little Rock and Arkansas Negroes, Mr. Lewis said, on Feb. 13, is to increase Negro voter registration which now stands at only 40 per cent and to increase the number of registered voters who actually vote.

Turning to the civil rights bill, expected to hit the floor of the Senate next week, Mr. Lewis predicted its passage there after a hard fight over the public accommodations section.

Ark Statewide

Pine Bluff Commercial 3/4/64 Ark Poll Tax

State Laws Block Voting

RICHARD M. SCAMMON
Director of the Census
In a Press Release of the Democratic National Committee

Why did fewer than two out of three adult Americans vote in the 1960 Presidential election?

Why did less than half of the potential electorate participate in choosing the members of the 68th Congress in 1962?

To find the answers to these questions, and to propose solutions for the poor record of voter turnout in this country, the late President Kennedy last spring appointed a Commission on Registration and Voting Participation.

The Commission now has reported to President Johnson that state laws often result in discouraging, rather than encouraging, citizens from registering to exercise the highest privilege a democracy offers.

Letters sent the Commission indicated people who had moved, sometimes just across a street, had been deprived of their right to vote because of unreasonable residence and re-registration requirements and that the barriers confronting persons who must unavoidably be away from home on election day often proved insurmountable.

On November 5, 1963, a candidate for city councilman in a suburb of Cincinnati found himself hospitalized for an emergency appendectomy. The law did not permit him to cast an absentee ballot from his hospital bed. He lost the election by one vote.

The President's Commission provided a series of 21 recommendations aimed at easing the way for a potential voter to get on the books and cast his ballot. Among them were these:

—Voter registration should be easily accessible to all citizens.

—State residence requirements should not exceed six months and local residence requirements should not exceed 30 days.

—New state residents should be allowed to vote for President.

—Voter registration should not end more than 3 or 4 weeks before election day.

—Absentee registration and voting should be facilitated.

—Polling places should be equipped to eliminate long waiting periods, and should remain open until at least 9 p.m.

These are some of the basic recommendations made by the President's Commission in its effort to assist America along the road toward achievement of expanded voter participation.

But much more than legal refinements are necessary if the nation's participation is to be increased from the unimpressive total of 63.8 per cent in 1960 (and a minority of 48.9 per cent in "off-year" 1962) to compete with the far better records of other democracies.

Canada consistently turns out around 80 per cent of its voters. The President's Commission was favorably impressed with the system used by our northern neighbors in which enumerators are dispatched to every dwelling in Canada seven weeks before each general election to compile an up-to-date roster of voters.

Idaho tops the 50 states in voter participation, having a commendable 80.7 per cent performance in 1960. The Gem state has set the pace by enacting statutes which meet or exceed the Commission's suggested standards in every respect.

Another important factor in expanding the vote is the need to mobilize public opinion to combat the massive sense of apathy which seems to have a vise-like hold on millions of adult Americans.

Mass communications media, civic and women's organizations, business and labor should join with the political parties in joint efforts to make clear the importance of wide participation to the success of democracy.

With an important Presidential election looming just months away, no better time could be chosen to launch a full-scale effort to reach that goal.

"WE HAVE A COMMON CULTURAL BACKGROUND"

Pine Bluff Commercial 3/6/64 Ark. Poll Tax

Behind The News

Main Issues in Voter Registration

By BILL MILES
Associate Editor

Have the issues in the voter registration fuss been obscured? Is it possible that attention of the people and legislators has been diverted to a relatively minor squabble from the thing that should be a real concern?

Many people observing the situation think the answers are in the affirmative.

The Faubus forces, that is Cottrell and Van Dalsem, along with Marion Crank and few others, have done everything to encourage a continuation of the fuss over who's going to be the registrar under legislation recommended to the General Assembly by the Legislative Council.

Not Main Issue

These forces refuse to recognize that the most important issues are annual versus permanent registration, registration by relatives versus in-person registration, and identification by signature versus no identification requirement.

It would be nice if everyone recognized that the registrar should be the county clerk, since he handles all of the other election stuff—absentee ballots, unofficial ballot tabulations, record storage and so on.

It's foolish to think that the tax assessor should be the man to handle registration. This is implied coercion of citizens if not outright blackmail.

MILES

Allowing the registration chores to remain with the sheriff-collector is not at all unrealistic, since the sheriff-collectors already are set up to do the job.

If there is something to be compromised, it should be in the registrar area.

What's Important

The real fight on the floor of the legislature should involve the important items. The legislators who want to prevent vote frauds should stand up and be counted on the side of permanent registration, identification by signature and in-person registration.

Our legislators from Jefferson County aren't off base if they stick to what they agreed to at an informal meeting last week at Rrepresentative James O. (Jim) Stevens's home.

And, since the effort fell through, I think that the voters of Jefferson County ought to know that Stevens and a couple of other legislators from here did just about everything they could to get the authors of the various bills down here to explain their bills at a public meeting.

Efforts Fail

Stevens's attitude on the proposed meeting was that the legislators themselves shouldn't sponsor th emeeting, that it should be sponsored by a private committee. The committee never got off the ground.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce did try to get one of its Controversial Debate Series programs devoted to voter registration. But the Jaycees failed in convincing anyone who supports the Legislative Council's bill that they should take part in it. Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County, the author of the permanent registration bill, accepted readily. But what use would he be without an opponent?

Actually, it shouldn't have been surprising that Cottrell and Van Dalsem and others refused to debate the issue. If it appeared that you already had all but won a victory and the only thing left to do was stall for time, would you voluntarily put your weakest points out for a battering?

All Van Dalsem and Cottrell have to do now, so they think, is bide their time and fan the registrar flames. Maybe someone will turn the tide on them.

Pine Bluff Commercial

Croxton Says Voter Bill An Invitation to Fraud

3/2/64 Ark. Poll Tax

DERMOTT (AP) — Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County said last night that the proposed voter registration "stopgap measure" invited fraud.

He told a Dermott civic club that "it is entirely possible that some of those who have already paid their poll tax will obtain another poll tax this year free of charge."

"It appears that the legislature will pass a measure that will invite more buzzards to the ballot box than we now have," Croxton said.

The proposal would qualify holders of 1963 poll tax receipts for this year's elections, and would set up a registration period in which voters can register without charge.

"There can be little doubt that the elections to be held in 1964 will be susceptible to more fraud than at any time in recent years," Croxton said.

He said that because of this "those persons and politicans who have shown only contempt for the ballot box" will control future elections.

•

Cottrell Irked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Representative J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County, who wrote the proposed Arkansas voter registration bill, criticized Representative Hardy Croxton today for Croxton's attacks on the bill. Cottrell said:

"I'm sick and tired of Hardy Croxton going around the state with his 'holier than thou' attitude and insinuating that anyone who doesn't agree with him is a crook.

"It is possible that he would rather go around the state and speak to various civic groups alleging generally what crooks we have in Arknasas, than to try to correct anything on his own when he is in position to do so."

•

Promotion Begins

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Committee for Voter Registration is distributing 8,000 pieces of literature promoting a permanent registration system for Arkansas.

The committee is pushing for a bill proposed by Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County. It is also fighting a measure endorsed by the Legislative Council.

Arkansas Gazette 3/6/64

UA Student Bar Association Favors Integrated Athletics

Gazette State News Service

FAYETTEVILLE—The Student Bar Association of the University of Arkansas School of Law Wednesday passed a resolution asking the University Board of Trustees to "rescind its policies" of segregated athletics and segregated dormitories.

The Association, the only group which represents the students of the Law School, has 107 members and 100 voted on the resolution. Charles Matthews of North Little Rock, president of the Association, said the resolution passed by a vote of 57 to 43.

The resolution said:

"Whereas the Student Bar Association of the School of Law at the University of Arkansas, being representative of a group of responsible students of law, feels the obligation to express an opinion on vital issues effecting the student body of this University:

"And whereas we believe that the University's policies of a segregated athletic program and dormitory housing are not in the best interests of the University because they are detrimental to the public image of the University and the state of Arkansas and are opposed to a clear constitutional mandate, this University being a land-grant state institution supported by both state and federal funds;

"Therefore, be it resolved that this group recommends to the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees that it rescind its policies of segregated athletics and dormitory housing."

Week-long Debate

Matthews said the issue first was brought up before the Association February 25 and was passed after a week-long debate. He said, however, that the debate concerned only whether the Association should express an opinion on the matter and not whether the University's policies of segregation were unconstitutional.

The University was one of the first in the South to desegregate and its on-campus housing also was desegregated from about 1947 to 1957, the year of the Little Rock integration crisis. The University now provides a residence hall for Negro women students but provides no on-campus housing for Negro men students.

The latest statement by the Board of Trustees regarding integrated athletics was made November 22. The Board noted that other members of the Southwest Conference were changing their practices of segregation in athletics but said the Board felt there should be no changes in its present policy.

Senate on Record

Last month, several members of the University Senate, composed of faculty members who have achieved the rank of assistant professor or above and who have been at the University at least two years, went on record as favoring integrated athletics.

The Senate members responded to a memorandum sent by Dr. Hardy C. Wilcoxson, chairman of the Senate, asking that they give their views on the integration of athletics to Dr. Delbert Swartz, chairman of the Senate Committee on Athletics. Dr. Swartz said that about 20 per cent of the members of the Senate replied to the memorandum and that a majority of those replying were in favor of integrated athletics. He said he gave the information to the University Senate Council and to Dr. David W. Mullins, University president, but that no other action had been taken by the Senate.

Ark. Statewide

Lone Star Courier

Poll Tax Death Causes Confusion in 5 States

Ark. Gaz.

By the Associated Press

The death of the poll tax, jealously guarded symbol of states rights, has given birth to election confusion in five Southern states.

The annual tax is $2 in Mississippi, $1.50 in Texas, Alabama and Virginia, and $1 in Arkansas; it therefore accounts for little revenue.

But it is treasured as a symbol of the five states, and four of them probably will continue to require the tax for voting in state elections.

The fifth state—Arkansas —is inclined to forget the tax as a voting requirement, but the state's 1874 Constitution may prohibit this.

The 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution became law early this year with ratification by the South Dakota Legislature. The amendment prohibits the tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Texas, Alabama, Virginia and probably Mississippi will let those who do not pay the tax vote only for president, vice president, United States senator and congressmen.

Attorney General Bruce Bennett of Arkansas believes the state's Constitution requires the tax to vote in state elections. If the courts so hold, Arkansas may also establish a dual system.

But there are strong indications that the poll tax amendment to the state Constitution will be removed in November, 1966.

More action can be expected in the five states. Virginia's dual system is being attacked in the courts; Texas leaders of the anti-poll tax movement are expected to try again; Alabama must eventually decide how to register those who do not pay the poll tax; and court attacks are likely in Mississippi, which proposes to charge persons who do not pay the poll tax a $1 fee for issuing a voting certificate.

Arkansas Gazette 3/8/64
Ark. Poll Tax

Reapportionment Tests Predicted For Arkansas

By Ernest Valachovic
Of the Gazette Staff

Ark. Gazette 3/8/64 Ark. Pol. Stat.

There is growing pressure in the nation to give the man on the street more recognition in the reapportionment of state legislatures.

The Council of State Governments in a survey last fall reported unrest in 40 states over legislative reapportionment.

Most of the resentment was in the form of law suits. In a few the changes were proposed through new state Constitutions or constitutional amendments.

The law suits have been scattered through state and federal courts. Most will wind up before the United States Supreme Court which previously ruled that states must obey their constitutions in reapportionment and that population distribution must be considered.

The landmark legislative reapportionment case came out of Tennessee. Here the issue was the failure of the legislature to reapportion as the state Constitution required.

The nation's highest court stepped in on behalf of the people because of the state's repeated failure to act, explained lawyers at the Capitol.

Inequities Are Cited

The effect of the decision was to open the door to upwards of 70 law suits. Some were in the form of injunctions to prohibit legislatures to appropriate funds until the House and Senate seats were reapportioned along population counts. Others were suits to require new formulas for redistribution of seats along population totals.

So far Arkansas has not been involved in this type of litigation. But, the lawyers said, there isn't any question in their minds but a suit along the same lines will be filed.

The decisions handed down so far by state and district federal courts have provided no clues. Some courts have held that population is the sole criteria for reapportionment in both houses of the legislature. Others, probably the majority of the courts, have said that population must be the sole criteria in reapportionment of at least one house.

"It is obvious that the United States Supreme Court will have to clarify the situation," said a legislative lawyer.

This of course poses the issue of states rights, he added. Where will the federal courts draw the line in what is fair reapportionment?

Arkansas poses a unique problem in this respect. There is no question that Arkansas obeys its Constitution in legislative reapportionment. As a result the issue will be whether the rights of the people are properly recognized by the Constitution.

There is good reason to believe that some discrimination exists, lawyers said.

Under the 1874 constitution the House was to have not less than 73 nor more than 100 members based on population, with each county having at least one representative. The Senate was to have not less than 30 nor more than 35 members distributed on the basis of the male population.

Then Amendment 23 changed that by giving the House 100 members, one each to the 75 counties and the remaining 25 distributed on the basis of population. The same amendment gave the Senate 35 members distributed by districts based on population with each district to have at least one representative.

In 1956 the Arkansas Farm Bureau, aware of the off-the-farm trek, led a campaign to freeze Senate seats on the basis of the reapportionment based on the 1950 federal census. This is the way the Senate sits to the present day.

It has led to discriminations not only between urban and rural areas, lawyers said, but between rural and rural areas. For example, Pulaski County with 242,980 people is entitled to three senators, one for more than 80,000 persons. In the Twenty-first Senatorial District there is one senator representing 35,983 persons in Drew and Desha Counties. The adjacent Twenty-sixth District has two senators for 105,680 persons and Union County's Thirteenth District senator represents 49,518 persons.

Calling the roll of districts shows these comparative allotments of population per senator:

First District, 47556; 2d, 64,865; 3d, 43,952 4th, 66,-685; 5th, 40,564; 6th, 42,226; 7th, 38,225; 8th, 42,716; 9th, 46,187; 10th, 41,534; 11th, 59,284; 12th, 58,041; 13th, 49,-518; 14th, 46,884; 15th, 80,993; 16th, 45780; 17th, 42,763; 18th, 49,657; 19th, 40,883; 20th, 47,910; 21st, 35,893; 22nd, 43,210; 23d, 46,656; 24th, 49,343; 25th, 50,029; 26th, 52,840. (In districts with more than one senator, the total population is divided by the number of senators).

Amendment 45 Vulnerable

Lawyers representing urban interests agree that the Senate apportionment is vulnerable to court attack. They believe that Amendment 45 would go down the drain in the light of the more recent Supreme Court decisions on equality of population in congressional districting and voting.

But a few don't believe that much will be settled by limiting a court attack on Amendment 45 alone. This segment believes that the House apportionment must be thrown out to insure representation on the basis of population alone.

"When 51 of the smallest (in population) counties control legislation and deny the majority of the population a voice this is not representative of the will of the people," declared a lawyer. "There is reason to believe that the breakthrough is coming. Then we can go after reapportionment as it represents the most people."

This view is debatable. Another lawyer argued that historical development has a lot of weight in court decisions. He feels that Amendment 45 is unconstitutional, he said, but only as it applies to the Senate. The House is apportioned fairly.

"The Constitution of the United States provides at least one representative to each state no matter the population," he said. "This is the case in Arkansas. Perry County is entitled to a representative even though it has the smallest population in the state."

The argument will go unresolved until someone puts it to a court test. At this stage it appears that those interested are willing to let other states and courts set the pattern and the guide lines.

Building Public Support For a Model Voting Bill

IN THE forthcoming special session of the General Assembly, the cause of a sound and secure voter registration system is moving toward what looks like a head-on collision with the Arkansas political establishment. The outlook is not promising when an organically defective voting bill has been drafted by the Legislative Council and has been accepted by Governor Faubus.

The cause, nevertheless, is not necessarily lost. The emergence of a citizens Committee for Voting Registration has helped stir substantial popular support for a registration system that has the merits notably lacking in the Legislative Council's measure. Members of the Committee include the presidents of the Arkansas Chamber of Commerce, the state AFLCIO, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women. Some 8,000 leaflets have been distributed analyzing the weaknesses of the Council plan and the strengths of a bill advanced by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County.

This public support for the Croxton bill will lend encouragement to the bill's backers in the Assembly. And if the obstacles in the special session prove insurmountable, the groundwork will have been laid for taking the issue to the people via the initiative.

★ ★ ★

SOME SORT of credit is due the Legislative Council, we acknowledge, for at least abandoning at the outset any idea of setting up a dual registration preserving the poll tax for state elections. Mercifully, a two-headed system is not in prospect. Beyond that, however, not much can be said for the Council's work.

The Council failed, in the first place, to reach any agreement on the office in which to vest the registration process. Obviously, the responsibility should go to the county clerk to avoid confusion of the voting function with other government functions. But there are alternate proposals for making registrars of the sheriffs, or the tax assessors. The Council was unable to make a decision.

In many counties where the sheriffs serve as tax collectors, sheriffs have been in charge of poll taxes. Now that the poll tax is on the way out, it is preposterous to propose that the sheriffs act as registrars. The association of law enforcement and voting is incompatible, and would actively discourage voting among timid and uneducated people.

Turning registration over to the tax assessor would be less objectionable, but the association of taxation with voting is objectionable enough.

Where the Council did reach agreement, its judgment was basically unsound. The Council picked up most of the elements in a plan advanced by Representative J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County, and the Cottrell plan has little to recommend it.

It provides for an annual, rather than a permanent, registration system. Arkansas voters would have to register every year, at an inconvenience both substantial and unnecessary.

The Croxton bill provides permanent registration—in accordance with the prevailing pattern in other states.

The Council bill would allow voters to register for close relatives. Here a "convenience" is provided that opens the way for loose practices, especially in machine counties, that are only too evident.

Croxton's bill requires each person to register personally, except in cases of certified hardship.

★ ★ ★

IN OTHER details Mr. Croxton's measure is eminently preferable in providing what the Council plan lacks. One provision of critical importance requires the signature of each voter in his registration, and the signature would be checked at the polls at each election.

In the summing up, it is evident that both logic and the force of national experience are arrayed overwhelmingly on the side of the bill advanced by Mr. Croxton and endorsed by the Committee for Voter Registration.

It is another question whether reason and experience can prevail in a General Assembly whose recent performances have mostly mirrored the low estate into which Arkansas politics has fallen. Even so, the backers of Croxton's model bill are ready to make a fight of it. Their prospects for modifying or overhauling the Council's offering will be materially strengthened if the people who want straightforward and efficient voting express themselves now in a voice that is loud and clear.

Arkansas Gazette
8/8/4
Ark. Poll Tax

Registration Issues

There were these comments on the voter registration situation.

Editor John R. Newman in his Times Topics column in the HARRISON DAILY TIMES: It should have been a simple matter to enact a voter registration law, but confusion and ambiguity are building up, even before the special session starts. * * * as Rep. Hardy Croxton remarked, we could have saved $100,000 if the regular session had passed the law when it was apparent it would be needed.

The HELENA - WEST HELENA WORLD: Governor Faubus hasn't made up his mind as yet when, or if, he will call a special session of the legislature to consider a new voters registration bill. In addition, he has postponed his announcement as to his future plans about continuing his hold on the governor's seat. The governor has tossed into the laps of the four Arkansas congressmen any proposals for redistricting the congressional district. * * *

* * * Faubus contends that there is a fight around the state between the sheriffs, collectors and assessors as to who should be in charge of voter registration. At one time it was suggested that three separate bills be adopted and leave the final choice up to the governor.

For the past six or more years the legislature has been virtually a rubber stamp for the Huntsville humorist. Why doesn't he just come out now and tell the solons how he feels about the proposals?

* * * At any rate, Faubus isn't going to take any step that will hurt his political prestige. He's not worried about the congressmen, about the new amendment banning poll taxes. He's only interest is what is "best for Orvile." (sic)

In his own good time, he'll tell us peons what we must do!

The NEWS OBSERVER at Crossett: * * * When the Solons gather in Little Rock, they will be faced with at least two possibilities for solving the voter registration question. Which of the two routes they elect to follow could have lasting effect on good government for our state.

Across the page you will note a comparison has been made of two proposed bills. One is the Croxton Bill and the other has been put forward by Representative Cottrell. One bill has been well thought out, has built - in safeguards assuring clean, honest elections. The other measure is simply a "stop-gap" approach to the problem that leaves gaping holes through which could gush all forms of election day "hanky-panky." * * *

The MARKED TREE TRIBUNE: Arkansas action on a voter registration plan has turned into a real merry-go-round and the sheriffs are the latest bidders for the gold ring that has to do with handling registration. In fact, at this juncture no one can be truly sure that the officers who handled the poll tax receipts weren't in the act behind the scenes all along. Gov. Faubus has shown righteous indignation over the whole affair—and here again it is hard to tell if this is self-righteous ire designed to cover some fancy political footwork or if it's on the level.

What is not hard to tell is that the Legislative Council obviously does not favor a sane and sensible permanent type voter registration plan. * * *

The simplicity and directness of such a plan does not appeal to the politician looking for potential lever to use in election control. * * *

Arkansas Gazette
3/8/64
Ark. Poll Tax

The PARAGOULD DAILY PRESS: It's time once again for Arkansans to speak up if they are to get the kind of voter registration law THEY want—one that is good for all the people and not just for those who happened to hold political office at the moment.

Arkansans should demand something more than a continuation of antiquated horse-and-buggy voting laws and procedures in new voter registration legislation. They should demand a bill designed for citizens —and not politicians. * * *

Since this is election year, Arkansans have a larger voice than usual in the upcoming special session of the legislature. They can ask their representatives to vote for the kind of registration law THEY want—and if they don't get what they want they can see about making some changes come summer. * * *

Arkansas Gazette 3-8-64 Ark Statesman

Pulaski Lawmakers Still Widely Split On Voter Measure

By RICHARD ALLIN
Of the Gazette Staff

If the Pulaski County delegation is any indication, the special session of the legislature that is supposed to adopt a voter registration law in the minimum three days is split wide open on what the law ought to contain.

Pulaski representatives and senators questioned last week gave answers that added up this way:

Whom do you want to be the voter registrar? They were split between the county clerk and tax assessor.

Whom do you think actually will be the registrar? Split between the tax assessor and the sheriff-tax collector.

Will there be a literacy test? They agree that there won't.

Will political party preference be included? They agreed that it wouldn't.

Should registration be permanent or annual? Split.

Are you being lobbied by the sheriff-tax collectors? Only one admitted having heard from them.

This division possibly might be influenced by the fact that two of the leading protagonists in the dispute over voter registration are members of the Pulaski group — Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr., who wrote the measure approved by the Legislative Council, and Representative Jim Brandon, who opposes the Cottrell bill and supports the one sponsored by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County.

Anyway, it looks as if there are a lot of minds still to be made up after Governor Faubus calls the special session, which he is expected to do in the next few days.

Who'll Get It?

Eleven of the 13-member Pulaski delegation were asked which official they thought would end up with the job of voter registrar. Two members—Representatives Sherman Williams and Pete Haydon — could not be reached.

Representatives Sterling Cockrill, Cottrell, Joel Y. Ledbetter, Harry W. Carter and Glenn F. Walther said they thought the county assessor would get the job—even though the county assessors have said, through a spokesman, that they do not want it.

Representatives Jim Brandon, Doug Brandon, Ben Allen, and Gary Eubanks all thought the sheriff-collector would be made voter registrar. Each of these, however, personally opposes the sheriff-collector having the job. and Sprick favor the tax assessor for the job. The reasons given by Cottrell satisfied all. He said this would allow the voter to buy his auto license, assess his property and register for voting at the same place and time.

Allen was undecided and Eubanks said he had no personal preference because any of the groups mentioned could handle the job adequately.

Eubanks said he was surprised at the fuss over who would do the actual registering. "It's just an argument over who would provide facilities for the voters to register," he said. "Regardless of who does it, the county clerk will still prepare voter lists and count ballots on election night."

All agreed that a literacy test provision would be unlikely to be brought up. Most believed that mandatory party affiliation would not be required.

Annual or Permanent?

They are split over annual and permanent voter registration.

A permanent system is favored by Jim Brandon, Howell, Cockrill, Eubanks and Doug Brandon (with reservations).

"I'd like to see a permanent system if we have a good purge system," Doug Brandon said. He said persons contacting him personally had favored "100 per cent" a permanent registration system.

Jim Brandon is a member of the Committee for Voter Registration, headed by Croxton, which has pledged to initiate an act for permanent voter registration should the General Assembly fail to do so.

"I hope we get a permanent registration system," Senator Howell said. "It would allow a more accurate list of registrants." Howell said he also would favor registration by signature of the registrant and would oppose registration by proxy.

Senators Max Howell and Dan C. Sprick said they did not know who would get the job.

Their Preference

Whom do they actually prefer for the job?

Jim Brandon, Doug Brandon, Cockrill and Carter prefer the county clerk. Some have reservations. Jim Brandon and Howell said they really wanted a separate office of voter registrar, but Brandon saw little possibility for this.

Cottrell, Ledbetter, Walther

Annual voter registration is preferred by Walther, Cottrell, Ledbetter, Sprick and Carter. The annual system is the keystone of the Cottrell bill.

Walther, arguing against a permanent system, said, "If anyone wants to run a crooked election, I think permanent registration is made to order. I can see Garland County getting every tout, jockey and drifter that comes to Hot Springs and keep on voting them for 30 years. The same thing would happen in Eastern Arkansas."

ALC Split on Registration Extends to Most Lawmakers

By the Associated Press

A month ago the Arkansas Legislative Council met in quiet assurance that it could draw up a noncontroversial voter registration bill.

Ten days later it broke up in noisy wrangling over which county official should handle registration.

An Associated Press poll of members of the legislature indicates that this wrangling will carry over into a special session when Governor Faubus calls one.

And the poll showed that the area of dispute will cover more than the identification of the registrar.

It revealed a division of sentiment in the House over whether registration should be annual or permanent and in both houses over whether the voter should be required to register in person. The only real point of agreement is that holders of current poll tax receipts should be registered automatically.

Fifteen of 33 senators and 59 of 100 House members responded to the poll. The senators voted 13-2 and the House members 42-10 for automatic qualification for poll tax payers. Seven House members indicated no choice.

The senators also divided 12-3 in favor of annual registration and the House showed 40-19 sentiment for that Council-approved system.

Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County and the Committee for Voter Registration are leading the fight for a permanent registration bill. The 40-19 division indicates that Croxton has more support than many observers had believed.

Slim Majority

Seven of the 15 senators and 28 of the 59 House members believe the voter should register in person. The Council view of family registration thus has only a slender majority with those answering the poll.

And the legislators are as divided as the Council was on designating the registrar.

Not even Mr. Faubus with his reputation for bringing disputing factions together has been able to effect a compromise. Six senators said that the sheriff-collectors should get the job, five named assessors, one favored the clerks, two said they don't care who does it and one, Senator John O. Moore of Texarkana, suggested that a new office of county registrar be created.

Moore's view was shared by two House members, Charles W. Stewart of Washington and Hayes C. McClerkin of Miller County.

Representative Joseph T. Hamilton of Boone County, who did not respond to the poll, had advanced this proposal previously.

Otherwise, 19 House members named the county clerk, 16 the tax assessor, 15 the sheriff-collector and seven said they did not care.

Resent Delay

Several legislators voiced impatience because the special session has been delayed by the threat of controversy. It once was tentatively set for February 26 but Mr. Faubus postponed it after the squabble in the Council. He has not set another date, even a tentative one.

Several legislators expressed willingness to compromise on minor points to avoid a long argumentative session.

Many questioned the importance of exactly which county official is made registrar.

"Deciding the man that does the job is not worth all this confusion," said Representative Lloyd George of Yell County.

Enactment of voter registration legislation became necessary when the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Arkansas, which has used the poll tax for registration, then was faced with creating a registration system to qualify voters who did not pay the poll tax by the deadline last October 1.

German to Visit Latins

BONN (AP) — West German President Heinrich Luebke will leave for state visits to Peru, Chile, Argentina and Brazil on April 23 and return May 15, his office announced.

Independent Registrar Idea Enters the Picture; Debate Declined Again

A new suggestion on voter registration came out Tuesday from Representative David H. Pryor of Ouachita County and the Quorum Court of Miller County—that the registrar be an entirely new and independent office.

This was only part of the agitation around the state as the wait for Governor Faubus to call the special session lingered on. In other developments:

1. Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County again accepted and Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski again refused an invitation to debate their respective registration bills—and this time it was an invitation from a Democratic Party organization.

2. William M. Shepherd asked that the Committee on Voter Registration not use his name in any campaign to influence legislators in advance of the special session.

Miller County Plan

The Miller County Court voted unanimously a couple of weeks ago for a separate new office. Part of the motive, according to Representative Hayes C. McClerkin of Miller County, is that Miller is under an initiated act covering county office salaries. If voter registration is added to the duties of an existing county office, Miller County would have to do something about its law as well as find the extra money.

"But also the people down here want to get this cleaned up as free from politics as possible and they felt the best way to do it was to have a separate office, possibly under a state merit system," said McClerkin. McClerkin said he personally favored an independent voter registrar and so did Senator John O. Moore of Texarkana.

McClerkin said he already had checked with Governor Faubus on this and had been informed that it was economically unfeasible.

Pryor said he'd prefer to have a registrar "completely out of the courthouse" and under some kind of civil service. He understood that such a proposal would have little chance in the special session but said he might introduce it if the other two—Croxton's and Cottrell's—sank into a deadlock.

He doesn't want any elected official to be the registrar because all elected officials have an interest in who registers—creating a kind of conflict of interest. It would be fairer if the registrar was not dependent on election results, he said.

"If we place the system in the hands of the assessor, then we automatically tie it to the tax system. If the sheriff is given the job, half of us are afraid to see him to begin with. And the county clerks are already too involved with elections as it is," Pryor said at Fayetteville, where he is a student in the University of Arkansas School of Law.

Asks Public's Advice

Pryor also published Tuesday afternoon in the Camden News, at his home town, an advertisement inviting the public to tell what it wants in a voter registration law. "They've polled the public officials, the legislators and everybody else—why not the people?" Pryor asked.

The Young Democrats Club of Pulaski County issued the latest debate invitation to Cottrell and Croxton whose sponsorship of opposing registration bills has made them the de facto leaders of the main factions. The difference is that Cottrell's bill has been approved by the Legislative Council and Mr. Faubus, while Croxton is still trying to stir up public demand for his.

Jerry Russell of Little Rock, president of the Club, said he sent the invitations by mail late Sunday afternoon, offering to set up the meeting at a place and time at their convenience. Twenty-four hours later, on Monday afternoon, Russell mailed carbon copies of the invitation to the press.

Croxton Accepts

Croxton said Tuesday that he would be happy to accept the invitation at any time or place and that he had always advocated more debate and public discussion of this issue and other issues.

Cottrell said he had no intention of even replying to the letter, much less of engaging in debate. He was miffed partly because a reporter had called him before he had seen his own invitation, which turned out later to be waiting in his mail.

But also, "as far as debate is concerned, I made my position clear on that last Saturday," he said. "I fully intend to debate Mr. Croxton in the General Assembly when the special session is called, and I have no idea of assisting him in building up a crowd to support his candidacy for governor."

This is at least the third debate with Croxton that Cottrell has turned down. The Pine Bluff Junior Chamber of Commerce tried it, then Croxton himself last week.

Russell said he was not concerned with drawing a crowd for Croxton but for the two of then to debate an important public issue. He said Cottrell was "begging the question."

Shepherd, a vice president of the Arkansas Power and Light Company and immediate past president of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, asked the Committee for Voter Registration not to use his name. Croxton was one of the organizers of the Committee.

Shepherd said he had seen literature that had been circulated widely over the state by the Committee that he, as Chamber president, was endorsing the Croxton bill.

Shepherd said he had not attended any of the Committee's meetings and was not in total agreement with its final recommendations. Moreover, he said, the enactment of a suitable bill is the legislature's responsibility and he felt it competent to do that.

"While I think study committees to develop proposals are definitely in order," Shepherd said, "a campaign to influence legislators in advance of the special session is something with which I do not want to be identified."

Judge Johnson Offers Opinion On Vote Issue

The need for strong leadership to work out a compromise on a voter registration system was voiced Tuesday by Associate Justice Jim Johnson of the state Supreme Court.

Unless such leadership develops, Johnson said, he has serious doubts that a special session will be called by the governor.

"I anticipate no special session of the Arkansas legislature unless some strong leadership is forthcoming which is capable of effecting the compromises necessary to weld the good portions of the two major proposals into one workable bill," Johnson said.

Asked if his remarks could be taken as criticism of Governor Faubus, Johnson said matter-of-factly, with a brief smile: "They can take it any damn way they want to."

Asked His Opinion

Judge Johnson said he had been called by a reporter and asked for his comment on the controversy developing between voter registration proposals offered by Representatives J. H Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County and Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County. The Legislative Council adopted Cottrell's proposal but the members failed to agree on which county official should be the registrar.

Johnson said he felt free to comment as a "citizen, a taxpayer and a state official" interested in public affairs.

He said he had given "some cursory study" to the problem of voter registration and saw a way out if the special session Mr. Faubus has been putting off failed to materialize. Johnson said that the state Democratic and Republican party rules could be revised to meet the new federal constitutional amendemnt which prohibits use of the poll tax in federal elections.

How to Do It

He said that the two political parties by resolutions could permit officials in their respective primaries to open the voting to those who desire to vote in contested federal races through the signing of an affidavit. Johnson said that the election officials would have to require a person without a poll tax to swear that he is qualified by residency and is not a felon. The person then could be handed a ballot involving only the federal election, he explained. Those holding a poll tax would automatically be qualified as registered voters, he said.

Arkansas Gazette.

Established November 20, 1819.

The Gazette Is the Oldest Newspaper West of the Mississippi

Published every day by Gazette Publishing Company, Gazette Building, Little Rock. Second Class Mail Privilege authorized at Little Rock, Arkansas, Second Class postage paid at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Tuesday, March 17, 1964.

The Darkest Path

Governor Faubus, who had "hoped" to avoid any controversy in next week's special legislative session, now has gone out of his way to include in his formal call yet another of his patented attempts to legislate against a rumor.

Because Mr. Faubus and his advisers claim to have heard that there might be "sit-in" demonstrations at the polls this year, or possibly in some subsequent year, the governor would make a felony offense out of any attempt to disturb or interfere with the access of voters to a polling place.

The proposal is unnecessary at best and, at worst, inflammatory — another gratuitous attempt to excite the maximum amount of controversy. It conceivably could lead to contesting litigation that, in the end, might serve actually to weaken existing legislation to guarantee peaceful conduct at the polls. As outlined, the proposed new legislation amounts to a transparent re-write of Act 482 of 1949, which provides the stiffest kind of misdemeanor penalties for any such attempt to interfere with the voter's access to the polls—jail sentences of up to a year in jail and fines of up to $1,000, or a combination of both.

The difference is that Act 482 was passed as part of an attempted general toning up of the state's election code and, as such, could not be construed as an effort to legislate "against" any class of citizen and voter. Mr. Faubus's—or, rather, Mr. William J. Smith's—latest brainchild, in contrast, already has been billed in the public prints as an anticipatory response to unverified (and unverifiable) threats by "minority groups." By now, surely, none of us needs to be reminded that the atmosphere in which legislation of this sort has been considered is taken into account by the courts in determining whether such legislation may be discriminatory, either in intent or in application.

If it can be demonstrated at some time in the future that this appendage to the 1964 voting law was part of a pattern of real or implied intimidation of the state's Negro voters—in conjunction, perhaps, with the proposal to vest voter registration authority in the office of the county sheriff—then we all may wind up in more trouble than we are already, which, the Lord knows, is trouble enough.

The fact remains that—unless what Mr. Faubus is trying to tell us is that the new registration law will be deliberately designed to be so discriminatory in its application as to provoke massed protests at the polls—there is no need whatever for any strengthening of present laws covering peaceable conduct at the polls. And if that happens to be what Mr. Faubus is trying to tell us, then we had best be prepared for a long step backward into the night, to a place where we've never been before, not even through all that has happened in recent years.

There may have been isolated examples in the past of an undue amount of mobilization on the part of sheriff's deputies on election days, but these attempts at coercion usually have been directed as much at "out" white groups as at Negroes. By and large, the voting front has been one of the brighter spots in Arkansas's race relations throughout the middle and declining years of the poll tax. It would be folly—and worse, a tragedy—if ratification of the federal anti-poll tax amendment should be seized upon at this late date as a device for following Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana down this darkest of their many dead-end garden paths.

Arkansas Statewide

Ark. Gazette 3/17/64

Pat Gray 3/19/63

Faubus Wants Stiffer Penalty To Guard Polls

Governor Faubus claimed as his own Monday a proposal to stiffen the penalty for convictions for sit-in or lie-in demonstrations at polling places—one of the proposals that he is submitting to the legislature at next week's special session.

Mr. Faubus said he wanted interference with the casting of ballots to be a felony, instead of a misdemeanor, as is the case now. He said that he had information from East and South Arkansas that Negroes planned demonstrations to influence the outcome of elections.

"The right to vote is the most precious right a man has," Mr. Faubus said. "My purpose is to protect that right."

The governor said he decided to ask the legislature to stiffen the penalty in order to "provide more discouragement" to anyone planning demonstrations at polling places.

He said that guarantee would protect both Democrats and Republicans.

Small Appropriations

On the special session, which he ordered convened at noon, Tuesday, March 24, the governor said that very little in new appropriations would be involved.

The session has been called primarily to enact a voter registration law as a result of a new amendment to the federal Constitution which prohibits use of the poll tax in voting for federal officials.

At the same time, the governor asked the legislature to consider 17 other proposals, most of them reshuffling existing funds or providing for the state to take advantage of new federal aid allocations.

The governor said he was asking for a new $50,000 appropriation for the state penitentiary for construction of a hospital-informary.

The call also includes a proposal to provide funds for the remodeling of the House chamber. No figure is attached to the request and Mr. Faubus said he was leaving that to the House.

Studying Alterations

The House Efficiency Committee has been studying making extensive alterations in its wing of the Capitol. The special session, said Representative Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County, will be asked to vote about $195,000 to air condition the House chamber, remodel the public balcony and create a new committee room for House members in vacant rooms and unused storage space behind the balcony.

The Senate and the House chambers are not air conditioned, although the remainder of the Capitol is.

The call also includes a proposal to permit the University Medical Center to get a larger share of state welfare funds if the federal government permits. Mr. Faubus said that this would be possible through an increase in out-patient payments by the welfare agency and by the Welfare Department using the Medical Center more.

Arkansas Statesmide

Ark. Gaz. 3/18/64

League of Women Voters To Study Quorum Court, Survey Minorities' Problems

The Little Rock Chapter of the League of Women Voters had a dinner meeting Tuesday night and decided to undertake two study projects for this year:

1. The structure powers, functions and procedures of the Pulaski County Quorum Court;
2. A community survey of minority problems.

Mrs. William S. Steele, president of the Chapter, said the studies would take several months (some have lasted years).

The two studies were proposed by the Board of Directors, which had chosen them from suggestions from members.

Wants JP Candidates

The study of the Quorum Court springs from its promotion of voting machines.

Mrs. Steele said last week that the Chapter was urging its members to run for justice of the peace positions. The JPs make up the Quorum Court. Phillip G. Back, a member of the Quorum Court, tried to bring up the voting machine issue at the court's January meeting but County Judge Arch Campbell ruled him out of order.

She said the study of minority problems would be a basic survey to determine the extent of any discrimination in schools, housing, transporation, jobs and recreation in Little Rock.

A board member will head each study group and the board will provide guidelines to areas that will be explored.

Mrs. Steele said the current concern with voter registration had been anticipated by the League.

"Our original study went on for 10 years," Mrs. Steele said. She said a bill drafted by the League, with the aid of political scientists and constitutional lawyers, was introduced in the 1957 General Assembly.

"It died," Mrs. Steele said "but ever since then we have worked toward trying to do something about the registration system."

New Officers

The Little Rock chapter also elected officers Tuesday night. Mrs. Steele, who was elected last year to a two-year term, remains as president.

Mrs. James Bell and Miss Parma Basham were named vice presidents, and Mrs. Winslow Drummond was elected treasurer.

Directors elected were Mrs. Malcomb Bliss, Mrs. Jack Diner, Mrs. Carl A. Foster, Miss Jessie Harris and Mrs. Sam Allen.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Daniel R. Neal of 7704 Illinois Street.

Proposed Law On Sit-ins Hit By McClinton

The president of Arkansas's largest Negro voter group Tuesday criticized a proposed state law to prohibit sit-in or lie-in anti-segregation demonstrations at voting places.

I. S. McClinton of Little Rock, president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association, which claims 12,000 contributing members, accused Governor Faubus of hoping the racial problems will go away.

Mr. Faubus proposed the law in his call for a special legislative session next week. He said he had heard there might be such demonstrations.

McClinton said East Arkansas legislators were behind the move. "This sort of law further agitates the trouble in education and job opportunities for Negroes," McClinton said.

But McClinton also advised against such demonstrations at the polls. "The local communities through their business and elected officials and local Negro leadership should form negotiating groups to solve their problems," he said. "The problem of misunderstanding between the races can best be solved at the conference table."

Arkansas Statewide

Jean Levine
Southern Reg. Council
5 Forsyth St. N.W.
Atlanta 3, Ga.
DS 7-3-64

—Staff Photos by Larry Obsitnik

McClinton (standing) talks against boycott before Board members (foreground).

Ark. Gazette, 3/31/64, p.1A

Little Accomplished As School Board Talks With Negro Leaders

By ERNEST DUMAS
Of the Gazette Staff

Five members of the Little Rock School Board met with 14 Negroes for two hours Monday at the East Side Junior High School and accomplished nothing more than to show that there were degrees of ardor in the Negro community for next Monday's school boycott.

They spent the first hour arguing about the purposes of the meeting and, leaving that unresolved as far as the Negroes were concerned, went on to a discussion of the Pupil Placement Law and other Negro grievances.

At the end, the Negro leaders and the School Board agreed that nothing much had been accomplished. Dr. W. H. Townsend, president of the Council on Community Affairs (COCA), which called the boycott, said that it was still on.

Two hours later, 100 Negroes met at Miles Chapel AME Church to hear more about the boycott and an address by John Lewis, national chairman of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee. It was announced that other mass meetings would be held Friday and Sunday.

Rev. Richard B. Hardie Jr. was at the afternoon meeting to persuade the two sides to agree to a citywide biracial committee that the Greater Little Rock Ministerial Association, of which he is president, hopes would forestall the boycott.

Dr. Townsend (left) and Sutton.

Arkansas Politics

Mr. Hardie said afterward that he was discouraged about the prospects for the biracial committee. He said he would keep trying to get the sides together.

Both Russell H. Matson Jr., president of the School Board, and Ozell Sutton, who spoke most often for the Negroes, agreed at the end that they got nowhere.

Matson called the meeting Monday morning. He said "grievances and other matters" would be discussed and he said invitations went to "several Negro leaders and members of the white community."

McClinton's Statement

The meeting began at 4 p. m. with a statement by I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas (Negro) Democratic Voters Association. McClinton is a member of COCA but he is in bad standing with other COCA leaders because of his disapproval of the boycott.

McClinton said he had supported every request of COCA and he thought the School Board should have gone along with them but he didn't agree with the others on how to get what they wanted. Several of McClinton's supporters were at the meeting.

Sutton shortly began to wonder why the Board called the meeting. "What is the design here?" he asked. The School Board members had invited a few of their friends in the Negro community, he said, and he wanted to know why he had not been told he could invite a few of his friends in the white community.

Matson replied that while the Board understood that the Negroes were united in their aims there was a division among them on how to attain them and the Board wanted to hear both sides. He had invited several Negro principals because they were vitally concerned, Matson said.

Explains Proposal

Mr. Hardie arose early to explain the Ministerial Association's proposal—that the School Board, the City Manager Board, the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Little Rock Conference on Religion and Human Relations appoint a member each and COCA and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee name four members to a biracial committee.

He said that Matson had con-

(See BOARD on Page 2A.)

Arkansas Politics

Ga. Wednesday Morning, April 1, 1964

Ark. Pol. p. 12, Columbus Ledger

Faubus Is Facing Opponent In Winthrop Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, the squire of Petit Jean Mountain, steps out today of his industry-getting job in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' Democratic administration.

He apparently is stepping into a collision course with Faubus in a fight for the Arkansas governor's chair.

Neither has said he will run; both have said the other will run.

Both would be heavy favorites to win summer primaries and meet in the November general election.

Rockefeller has embarked on a series of speeches at fund-raising dinners. Republicans, experienced losers in Arkansas politics, have set up a "Draft Rockefeller for Governor" movement and a Rockefeller campaign fund.

It's not that the brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller needs handouts for a political campaign. Republicans feel that if they are to "Win with Win," they must have full support from the electorate.

Faubus already has brought up the topic of the Rockefeller money and said, "I can't match him dollar for dollar."

Faubus has given followers and critics the idea that he will run for a sixth term. He has said he doesn't think any other Democrat can beat Rockefeller.

The two have worked together for nine years to build the state's industrial image. Rockefeller has been chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission since it was founded in 1955.

It is this commission that he leaves. He once said that if he ran for governor, he would first quit the commission to avoid conflict.

Rockefeller left New York in 1953 to build a ranch on the slopes of scenic Petit Jean Mountain 45 miles west of Little Rock. He has worked since he arrived to rebuild the party.

His efforts range from gala parties on the mountain — complete with Hollywood stars — to talks with possible Republican candidates for justice of the peace.

But his work has gotten him into trouble with a faction of the state party which backs Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

William Spicer, the state party chairman and a Goldwater man, charged that Rockefeller was only trying to win the state's 12 convention votes for his brother Nelson.

Loyal Principal Standing Firm Behind Barret At Stewartville

Commercial Appeal, 4-8-64, p 12

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Guy E. Hoffman, principal of the Barret's Chapel School for 35 years and Squire Paul Barret's chief Negro lieutenant in northeast Shelby County, has promised reform of at least one voting practice at the Stewartville box.

He said he 'believes" segregated voting, which has been standard procedure at the Stewartville box, will be corrected.

In a letter to the Shelby County Court, he went to the length of saying, "We should extend to Mr. Grider (Squire George Grider, who has spearheaded an investigation of the Shelby County Election Commission) our thanks for mentioning that we may have been segregating ourselves at the polls."

Guy E. Hoffman
Educator In Politics
—Staff Photo

Prof. Hoffman, who directs an elementary and a high school with a combined attendance of 1,236, could be readily type-cast for the part of the Lord in "Green Pastures"—although he shed this benign mien in County Court long enough to call Squire Grider a "liar."

He is well over 6 feet tall, weighs more than 200 pounds and carries his 64 years with complete assurance, although he was severely gassed in the trenches in Flanders in the First World War and also was twice wounded.

Since 1929, he has led in building Barret's Chapel School from a small frame elementary school to a modern, well-equipped grade and high school plant. He could hardly have done this without showing the diplomatic qualities required to win the support of both the white and Negro elements of his community.

Now within one year of retiring, he probably could not convert himself into a civil rights leader if he wanted to, which he does not. He recently testified in Federal Court he would resign rather than teach in an integrated school.

He tells how the late Squire, J. H. Barret, the present squire's father, responded in 1922 to a petition of the Negroes for a high school in that corner of Shelby County.

"His son, Squire Paul Barret, has continued to manifest an interest in the school and the community. The people trust his judgment, respect his integrity, and in most instances vote for the candidates of his choice. They did not vote for the Dixiecrats in 1948, although Mr. Barret supported them.

". . . Mr. Barret has never told me or implied I had to vote for any candidate. And I have never told any person he had to vote for any candidate."

Prof. Hoffman does not deny he has passed out instruction cards in an "instruction tent" pitched just the required 50 feet from the polling place. Nor does he deny the Negro vote at Stewartville usually goes practically unanimously for the candidates Squire Barret favors.

A few of the younger Negroes in northern Shelby County will, in deep privacy, tell you they are ready to "shake the halter" of both Prof. Hoffman and Squire Barret at the first opportunity.

Prof. Hoffman himself says new machines and new methods of cotton culture have driven many Negro families off the farm and reduced them from the comparative security of tenant farmers to day laborers.

A few young Negroes, like the handful of Korean war veterans Prof. Hoffman helped train in scientific farming, are able to get a foothold. With Government loans, they have acquired small farms and are doing well.

When congressional candidates like Squire Grider and Republican Robert James go to Stewartville this summer to recruit Negro campaign workers, the chances are some of Prof. Hoffman's erstwhile students will let themselves be recruited.

The Stewartville box may never again go 917 to 27 for Squire Barret's man.

Arkansas Statesman

Vote Record For Faubus Since 1954

Ark. Gazette 4-23-64

Orval Eugene Faubus at the polls:

1954

Preferential Primary

Cherry	154,879
Faubus	109,614
Jones	41,249
McMillan	18,857

Runoff Primary

Faubus	191,328
Cherry	184,509

General Election

Faubus (Dem.)	208,121
Remmel (Rep.)	127,004

1956

Preferential Primary

Faubus (Nominated)	180,760
Johnson	83,856
Pippin	1,328
Prosser	1,653
Snoddy	43,630

General Election

Faubus (Dem.)	321,797
Mitchell (Rep.)	77,215

1958

Faubus (Nominated)	264,346
Finkbeiner	60,173
Ward	59,385

General Election

Faubus (Dem.)	236,598
Johnson (Rep.)	50,287

1960

Faubus (Nominated)	238,997
Hardin	66,499
Bennett	58,400
Williams	29,190
Millsap	9,547

General Election

Faubus (Dem.)	292,064
Britt (Rep.)	129,921

1962

Faubus (Nominated)	208,996
Alford	82,815
Coffelt	5,302
Cox	2,149
Whitten	22,377
McMath	83,473

General Election

Faubus (Dem.)	225,743
Ricketts (Rep.)	82,349

Ark. Statewide

Faubus Failed In Rights Area, Hubbard Says

Ark. Gaz., 4-28-64

Ark. Pol.

Joe Hubbard of Russellville said Monday that he was the only gubernatorial candidate "ready to face up to the hard facts confronting the people of Arkansas in the area of human rights."

In a prepared statement, the former Army captain declared that he had resigned his commission and gotten into politics because of Governor Faubus' failure to face the issue.

"The first question I am usually asked when I meet an individual or a group of people is: What are we going to do about rights in Arkansas?" Hubbard said.

"My answer is simply the one that rings through the pages of our American history. We will exert every possible effort to insure that all Americans are able to enjoy, with complete freedom from racial segregation, the fruits of our American liberty."

Courage Needed

He continued, "We, the people of Arkansas, have the courage and the ability to face the facts of our national dilemma in the field of human rights. In so doing, we will restore public confidence in the integrity of Arkansas government by demonstrating government confidence in the people of Arknsas. And there is not one thinking person who does not realize our actions will restore international confidence in the government and the people of the United States."

Hubbard said he wanted to correct the idea that he entered the race because of personal feelings "toward any particular person on the Arkansas political scene," meaning, presumably, Mr. Faubus.

Leadership Need

He added: "The present leadership in Arkansas has proposed a program of economic progress that is acceptable to me except in a very few areas. But our present leadership has completely missed the burning issue confronting Arkansas today—human rights. This factor alone caused me to turn away from a successful military career and offer my service to Arkansas and the Democratic Party."

Mr. Faubus has not adequately prepared the state for the 24th Amendment's abolition of the poll tax in federal elections and he is not preparing it to accept the provisions of the civil rights bill, which has passed the House of Representatives and is pending in the Senate, he said.

Hubbard, 32, was a member of the ROTC faculty at Arkansas Polytechnic College at Russellville before resigning his commission. Two other Democrats have filed — Mr. Faubus and E. T. (Gene) Ridgeway, formerly of Newport.

CHARLES R. WATSON
For Secretary of State

TRAVIS N. BEESON
For Lieutenant Governor

2 Republicans Are Entered In State Races; Third Files For Trimble's House Position

Ark. Gaz. 4-29-64

The prospective candidates that state Republicans have been saying were standing in the wings began showing up Tuesday.

Two filed for state offices and a third filed for United States representative from the Third District, setting up a Republican primary in the 18 Northwest counties.

The candidates are:

★ Charles R. Watson, 69, of Arkadelphia, a real estate man, who was state director of the Federal Housing Administration from 1955 to 1962, filed for secretary of state.

★ Travis N. Beeson, 37, of Camden, owner of a retail building supply store, filed for lieutenant governor.

★ J. E. (Jerry) Hinshaw, 47, of Springdale, Man of the Year in the Poultry Industry in 1961 and president of the Arkansas Poultry Federation in 1962, filed for United States representative from the Third Congressional District.

J. E. HINSHAW
For U. S. Representative

Another man who identified himself as Harry A. Diehl of near Mount Ida sought without success to file as a Republican for lieutenant governor. Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said that Diehl was ineligible because he had not paid his poll tax.

Diehl confirmed that but argued that he had paid his Texas poll tax and the Arkansas law, as he saw it, didn't say that a person has to pay the Arkansas poll tax to file for office. Diehl said that he would run as a write - in candidate for the office in November.

Hinshaw's filing sets up a primary involving him and Hal L. Cochran of Fort Smith, who also filed for the same position as a Republican. The incumbent is Representative James W. Trimble of Berryville, a Democrat who has held the position since 1945. Trimble has no Democratic opposition so far.

Expects Strong Efforts

Everett A. Ham Jr., assistant to Winthrop Rockefeller, GOP national committeeman from Arkansas and a candidate for governor, praised both Hinshaw and Cochran. He said that he expected both to campaign vigorously and indicated that a primary would strengthen the Republican Party in the hill counties.

Trimble in 1962 defeated Cy Carney of Fort Smith, the GOP candidate who had sought to unseat him.

Hinshaw, born in Sheridan, Ind., and a graduate of Purdue University, came to Arkansas in 1956 to establish the Arbor Acres Farm. He said that he decided to run because he felt that the district was not getting "vigorous representation" and this was not good for the people and state.

Native of Missouri

Watson, a native of Missouri who moved to Arkansas 52 years ago, said this was his first bid for an elective office. He said that he believed in a two-party system and felt that Arkansas would have a Republican governor.

"He'll need as many constitutional officers with him as possible," Watson said.

Beeson is a native of Dallas County, the eighth of nine children of Mrs. J. A. Beeson and the late J. A. Beeson. He graduated from Ouachita Baptist College and served in the Air Force. He opened his business in March 1959.

The candidate's wife has taught in the Whiteside Elementary School at Camden for the past 10 years. The Beesons have two children.

Bryant, a Democrat, seeks a second term and Lieutenant Governor Nathan Gordon, also a Democrat, seeks a tenth term. Roy L. Siales Sr. of Mena, a Democrat, has filed for Gordon's position.

Ark. Statewide

Ervin Odell Dorsey Files As Gubernatorial Candidate; He's Watson's 'Businessman'

Ark. Gaz. 4-29-64

Ervin Odell Dorsey, 35, of Route 1, Sheridan, filed Tuesday as a Democratic candidate for governor and paid the $1,500 filing fee with small bills he said were contributed by his neighbors in Grant County.

Dorsey owns electrical supply firms in North Little Rock and El Dorado and is a partner in an insurance business in North Little Rock as well.

He said that he was the "young businessman" that Sam P. Watson of Little Rock, an investment broker, predicted would file. Watson made the statement after taking himself out of consideration as a candidate.

—Staff Photo.
ODELL DORSEY

Dorsey, who will not use his first name in campaigning, is the third Democrat to challenge Governor Faubus, who has filed for a sixth term. The others are E. T. (Gene) Ridgeway of Newport and Joe Hubbard of Russellville. In addition, Winthrop Rockefeller of Morrilton has filed as a Republican candidate for governor.

2-year Preparation

Dorsey had considered running for governor two years ago. He decided against it because of lack of time to prepare for a campaign, he explained Tuesday. But this time he is ready to go, he said, and has been preparing himself for the race most of the last two years.

Dorsey appeared at the secretary of state's office with his wife, three children, his mother, step-father and friends. He had the money in a crumpled brown paper sack. Secretary of State Kelly Bryant accepted the money for the Democratic Party. It turned out there was $12 too much and Bryant returned the excess.

Dorsey answered personal questions about himself but said that he would not discuss the issues and his platform now. Instead, he read a prepared statement in which he said that the people needed more information on the progress made in the last few years.

He said that gains had been made in education, in welfare,

(See DORSEY on Page 2A.)

Dorsey

(Continued from Page 1.)

in the general financial improvement of the state agencies and programs. But just comparing these gains with a few years ago, he said, didn't give the public a true picture.

"I think we are all for bettering ourselves * * * but I don't think we can know the true picture of just how we are progressing by comparing ourselves today with ourselves some years ago. After all, all states have made progress," he said. "The question in my mind is: Has our progress been at a rate that would allow us to catch up when we have been so far behind."

Cites Needs

Dorsey said that Arkansas probably should have had some of the improvements earlier. He cited hard surfaced rural roads as an example of what he meant. He said that he lived on a rural road most of his life.

Dorsey said that as the campaign progressed he intended to tell the public about what he believed in and wanted to bring about if he were elected.

He said that he lived on the old E. P. Tabor farm which he bought from former Governor Sid McMath. Dorsey introduced Tabor as one of his supporters.

Dorsey introduced his wife, the former Helen Hill of Mabelvale, and their two daughters, Terry, 11, and Tamara, 5, and Ervin Jr., 14 and his mother and step-father, Rev. and Mrs. T. F. Cupples of the East End Community in Saline County.

Dorsey was born in Grant County and later graduated from the Mabelvale High School. He said that he went on to the Little Rock Trade School to become an electrical engineer.

He said that he was a Baptist.

Ark. Democrat

Negro Ministers Told to 'Get on Ball' Or Lose Leadership of Civil Rights

Ark. Gazette 4-29-61

A Negro college president om Virginia told a gathering Negro ministers Tuesday ght at Philander Smith Colge to "get on the ball" or se their leadership in the civil ghts movement.

Addressing the Ministerial onference on Minority Probms in Arkansas, Dr. Thomas . Henderson, president of the irginia Union University at ichmond, said that ministers ere suited for leadership in civil rights because they were respected in the community and were responsible only to God and their congregations.

One of their first challenges, he said, is to "get our own people to want first-class citizenship." Many Negroes hide behind segregation because they have been brainwashed with inferiority by the white community and because they are afraid to compete on equal terms with other people, he said. Other Negroes, including a few businessmen, have a vested interest in segregation.

Dr. Henderson gave the clerics these warnings:

★ Watch for new forms of discrimination to appear, as the old ones disappear.

★ Avoid becoming attached to a method and losing sight of the end. He said that a few Negroes at Richmond who had been demonstrating at theaters actually were disappointed when he and other leaders got the theaters desegregated.

★ Avoid dissension such as that which occurred when a group of Brooklyn Negroes, defying other Negro leaders, organized a stall-in at the World's Fair last Wednesday.

★ Watch for Negro leaders who want to use the movement to advance themselves.

★ Don't expect instant success with every project. He told them to demand all their rights but not to shut the door on negotiations if they didn't get everything they wanted.

What the civil rights movement really amounts to, Dr. Henderson said, is a readjustment in the relationship between whites and Negroes from paternalism to brotherhood.

At an earlier session, Ozell Sutton of Little Rock had declared that Negro leaders were going to have to be more creative in the fight for racial equality, because Southern white leaders were devising defenses against the old tactics.

No pattern will continue to work for long, Sutton said. Finding new ways to fight segregation puts a terrific demand on Negro leaders, but it must be done, Sutton said.

Sutton is associate director of the Arkansas Council on Human Relations and was one of the Negro leaders who negotiated for the desegregation of downtown restaurants and business houses.

"History has placed on the American Negro the unique task of perfecting a democracy and purifying a religion," Sutton said. "This, despite inadequate financing and, in some cases, inadequate education. At this time, the Negro is the only large segment of the American population that has unfulfilled aspirations and desires. These are the things that made this country, so it is left to the Negro to keep the fires of democracy burning in America."

Ark. Politics

Complete List Of Candidates For Top Offices

Ark. Pol.

Ark. Leg., 4-30-64

Here is the complete list of state and district candidates as compiled by the secretary of state's office (incumbents denoted *):

GOVERNOR
Democrat
*Orval E. Faubus, Huntsville.
E. T. (Gene) Ridgeway, Newport
Joe Hubbard, Russellville
Ervin Odell Dorsey, Sheridan
R. D. Burrow, Walnut Ridge
Republican
Winthrop Rockefeller, Petit Jean Mountain
National States Rights Party
Kenneth Hurst, Clarendon

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR
Democrat
*Nathan Gordon, Morrilton.
Roy L. Riales, Mena.
Republican
Travis N. Beeson, Camden.

SECRETARY OF STATE
Democrat
*Kelly Bryant, Hope.
Republican
Charles R. Watson, Arkadelphia.

STATE AUDITOR
Democrat
*Jimmie (Red) Jones, Magnolia.

STATE TREASURER
Democrat
*Mrs. Nancy J. Hall, Little Rock.

ATTORNEY GENERAL
Democrat
*Bruce Bennett, El Dorado.

LAND COMMISSIONER
Democrat
*Sam Jones, Little Rock.
Floyd E. Bradberry, Searcy.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE
Democrat
*Frank Holt, Little Rock.

UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVES
First District
Democrat
*Representative E. C. (Took) Gathings, West Memphis.
Mrs. Florence Katheryn Clay, Forrest City.
Second District
Democrat
Wilbur D. Mills, Kensett.
Third District
Democrat
James W. Trimble, Berryville.
Republican
J. E. Hinshaw, Springdale.
Hal L. Cochran, Fort Smith.
Fourth District
Democrat
*Oren Harris, El Dorado.
Dean E. Murphy, Hope.

(See LIST on Page 2A.)

—Staff Photo.
R. D. BURROW
7th Gubernatorial Hopeful

Here's Look At Seven Candidates

Here are thumbnail sketches of the candidates for governor of Arkansas:

ORVAL EUGENE FAUBUS, 54, Governor's Mansion, Little Rock, and Huntsville; newspaper publisher; political experience: Circuit clerk and recorder of Madison County, state highway director under Governor Sid McMath, governor for five terms.

WINTHROP ROCKEFELLER, 52, Route 3, Morrilton (Winrock Farm, Petit Jean Mountain); farmer, cattleman, investments, etc.; Republican national committeeman from Arkansas.

ERVIN ODELL DORSEY, 35, Flying "D" Ranch, Sheridan; electrical contractor; no political experience (Dorsey announced for governor two years ago, withdrew before the campaign).

EUGENE T. (GENE) RIDGEWAY, 43, Newport; mobile home salesman (in Norfolk, Va.); former delinquent tax collector of Jackson County, as a result of which he served 21 months of a five-year prison sentence in the Arkansas penitentiary for misappropriating public funds and embezzlement.

JOE HUBBARD, 32, Russellville; former Army Captain and ROTC instructor at Arkansas Polytechnic College in Russellville, which Hubbard resigned to run for governor; no political experience.

R. D. BURROW, 54, Walnut Ridge; furniture and hardware dealer; no political experience (although he served on the Governor's Mansion Committee when the Mansion was built under Governor McMath).

KENNETH HURST, 49, Clarendon; supermarket operator; no political experience. Hurst says he helped found the White Citizens Council in Arkansas and has said he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

CHANCELLOR
District 1—*Murray O. Reed, North Little Rock.
District 3—*Sam W. Garratt, Hot Springs.
District 6—*Wesley Howard, Texarkana.

CIRCUIT JUDGE
District 13 (First Division)—Harry Crumpler, Magnolia

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
District 1 — *Lloyd Henry, Searcy, and A. E. (Gene) Raff, Helena.
District 2 — *A. S. (Todd) Harrison, Blytheville.
District 3 — Sam Boyce, Newport.
District 4 — *Ted P. Coxsey, Berryville.
District 5 — *Jeff Mobley, Russellville.
District 6—*John T. Jernigan, Little Rock.
District 7—Robert N. Hardin, Benton, and Dorsey D. Glover, Malvern.
District 8—*John W. Goodson, Texarkana.
District 9—Joe H. Hardegree, Mena.
District 10—*Frank Wynne, Fordyce.
District 11—Donald H. Smith, Pine Bluff, and Joe Holmes, Pine Bluff.
District 12—*Lyman Mikel, Fort Smith.
District 13—Joe D. Woodward, Magnolia.
District 14—Carl S. Whillock, Clinton.
District 15—*Jack Yates, Ozark.
District 16—E. V. (Don) Hoyt, Mountain Home and Robert H. Dudley, Pocahontas.
District 17—*W. M. (Bill) Lee, Brinkley.
District 18—*David B. Whittington, Hot Springs, Earl Mazander, Hot Springs, and Richard W. Hobbs, Hot Springs.

(All candidates for chancellor, circuit judge and prosecuting attorney are running as Democrats.)

STATE SENATOR
District 1 — *Russell Elrod, Siloam Springs, and Frank H. Nelson (Republican), Siloam Springs.
District 4 — *Dan White, Fort Smith.
District 8 — *John O. Moore, Texarkana, Bob W. Douglas, Texarkana, and Bethel B. Larey (Republican), Texarkana.
District 14 — *Graham T. Nixon, Conway; Ammon Ward, Clinton; J. C. Dawson, Conway, and Guy H. Jones, Conway.
District 15 (Position 1) — *Max J. Howell, Little Rock.
District 15 (Position 2) — Jim Brandon, Little Rock; Everett Tucker Jr., Little Rock, and John Yancey, Little Rock.
District 15 (Position 3) — *Dan T. Sprick, Little Rock, Cal Ledbetter Jr., Little Rock, and Wayne H. Babbitt (Republican), North Little Rock.
District 18 — *Robert Harvey, Swifton, and Forrest Jeffrey, Batesville.
District 19 — *Charles L. George, Cabot, and J. T. Gunter, Austin.
District 20 (Position 1) — *Morrell Gathright, Pine Bluff.
District 20 (Position 2) — *Knox Nelson, Pine Bluff, and Lloyd Maurer (Republican), Pine Bluff.
District 21 — *Merle F. Peterson, Dumas, and Carl F. Mason, Monticello.
District 23 — *Cecil M. McNiel, Rector; Leon Beaton, Marmaduke; M. O. Raley, Paragould, and J. T. (Jimmy) Warren, Paragould.
District 24 — *J. Lee Beard en, Leachville.
District 25 (Position 1) — Clarence E. Bell, Parkin.
District 25 (Position 2) — *W. K. Ingram, West Memphis.
District 26—Mrs. Dorathy Allen, Brinkley; John D. Miller, Brinkley; Lester Graves, Suttgart, and Forrest E. Long, Brinkley.

Ark. Politics

Ridgeway Hits Another Snag, This Time on Voter Validity

Ark. Gaz. 5-28-64

For the second time officially, Attorney General Bruce Bennett said Wednesday that E. T. (Gene) Ridgeway of Newport was not qualified to run for governor, this time on the ground that Ridgeway is a qualified voter in Virginia but not in Arkansas.

Bennett based his new opinion on a request from Leon Catlett of Little Rock, Democratic state chairman, and information furnished by Catlett showing that Ridgeway has been paying poll taxes to qualify to vote in Virginia.

Bennett's first opinion, May 19, held Ridgeway ineligible because of a conviction for embezzlement of public funds in 1955, despite a pardon later on. Catlett ordered Ridgeway's name off the ballot and Ridgeway filed suit to get his name back on.

This suit will be heard at 3 p. m. today before Pulaski County Chancellor Murray O. Reed at Little Rock. The way has been cleared for an immediate appeal to the state Supreme Court. If Judge Reed rules this week the high court will hear arguments Monday, the day before the annual summer recess.

Catlett said he had checked with Charles B. Cross Jr., a circuit clerk in Chesapeake, a suburb of Norfolk, Va., and was told that Ridgeway and his wife, Mary C., are qualified electors there. Cross said Ridgeway paid Virginia poll taxes in 1961, 1962 and 1963 and was a registered voter in the city, including this year.

Ridgeway, who says that he maintains legal residency in Arkansas and pays taxes in Newport, works in Virginia.

Bennett disputed that and said he would advise the court of the latest development.

He said Ridgeway had purchased Arkansas poll taxes by listing the home of his parents at 1301 Remmell Avenue, Newport, as his legal residence. In Virginia, he is listed as a resident at 1901

(See BENNETT on Page 3A.)

(Continued from Page 1.)

Madora Drive, which Bennett said is Route 3, Box 225E-1 on Chesapeake records.

"Actually he is better qualified to run as governor of Virginia than Arkansas," Bennett said.

Bennett said Ridgeway, who filed as a candidate for governor March 26, had assessed furniture at $90 in Jackson County on April 12 and the next day bought state license tags for a 1958 Nash Rambler and a 1963 Chevrolet. The car licenses should have been bought in January, Bennett said.

'Doubled Back

"He doubled back to establish legal residency in Arkansas," Bennett said. "That's what the records show he did. He never mentioned any of this in his statements to the press."

Bennett said there was no question but Ridgeway is no longer a qualified resident of Arkansas.

"The mere fact that an individual pays a poll tax in Arkansas does not preclude the possibility of establishing legal residence in another state by moving to that other state, residing there for several years, earning his living there and rendering himself subject to the laws of that other state," Bennett wrote Catlett.

Bennett said that payment of a poll tax in another state and qualifying as an elector of that state results in "a conclusion of specific intent to abandon Arkansas as a place of residence and to establish new residence in the state of Virginia."

Conway County Case

The attorney general said he didn't regard his opinion as a precedent prohibiting residents of Arkansas temporarily working and living in other states from casting absentee ballots in Arkansas. He was asked specifically about charges by a Conway County citizens group that two persons living in Michigan voted in Conway County. Bennett said the issues were not the same. He said he understood that the Conway County dispute was involved in a court suit and he was leaving the matter to the courts to settle.

Bennett is acting as attorney for Catlett and Jack T. Lynn of Little Rock, secretary and treasurer of the state Democratic Party, both defendants in the suit filed by Ridgeway's attorney, Lee Ward of Jonesboro.

Catlett advised Ridgeway of the new development in a telegram to Ridgeway's address in Newport.

Ark. Pol.

Ark. Gaz.
5-30-64

Vote Machine Case Timing Annoys Court

The state Supreme Court indicated Friday that it wasn't very happy about the city of Little Rock's bringing in its voting machine case only one work day before the Court recesses for the summer. But it ordered both sides to get their briefs in by that afternoon, and said it would decide Monday whether to hand down an immediate decision or let the matter hang over until fall.

If the Court decides to handle the case before it recesses, oral arguments will be heard Monday morning.

The city is appealing a May 13 ruling by Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed who refused to order the county Election Commission to install voting machines in the city though a 1958 countywide election had approved them. Judge Reed held that the city must hold another election of its own under a more recent 1963 law.

1958 Election

The city had proposed to install the machines on the basis of the 1958 election and deduct the cost from the election expense it shares with Pulaski County. The County Board of Election Commissioners rejected the plan and the city filed suit.

The city is asking the Supreme Court to decide the matter before it adjourns for the summer. Friday's special session of the court was called to hear the petition to advance the case in the public interest.

If the Court should defer the decision until the fall term, and then uphold Judge Reed's ruling, there would be no time to qualify a vote machine election for the general election ballot.

If the Court rules against Judge Reed, no election will be necessary, and the city will be free to buy its machines.

When Assistant City Attorney Jack Young and his opponent for the county, Deputy Prosecuting attorney Sloan Rainwater appeared before the Court Friday, neither had submitted briefs.

Briefs Required

Chief Justice Carleton Harris told them that the Court could not consider their case until the briefs were filed and told them to get them in that afternoon. Both complied.

Justice Jim Johnson asked Young, "Weren't you admonished by the clerk to get your briefs in early?"

"Yes." Young replied, "but we were unable to get the transcripts filed.

"You waited until the day before we adjourned," Johnson said.

Justice Ed F. McFaddin question Young on the city's contention that the election in 1958 is still valid.

"It would be empty form to require another election to test the intention of the people," Young answered.

The city is asking that the Supreme Court rule that the 1958 election is valid, and that it be allowed to proceed with its plan to buy voting machines.

It is also asking whether a certification made by the County Election Commission of the machine made by the Shoup Voting Machine Company is still valid.

Ark. Pol

Ark. Gaz.
5-30-64

Ridgeway Takes Ballot Ruling To High Court

Eugene T. (Gene) Ridgeway, the ex-convict of Newport who wants to be governor of Arkansas, appealed to the state Supreme Court Friday a ruling by Pulaski County Chancellor Murray O. Reed that he is ineligible to be a candidate because he has been convicted of a felony.

Oral arguments on the case will be heard Monday, the final day of Court before the summer recess. The Court could hand down a ruling Monday or later. The fate of Ridgeway's candidacy must be decided by June 23, the deadline for removing names from the first primary ballot.

Ridgeway served 21 months of a five-year prison term beginning in 1955 after being convicted of embezzling public funds while serving as delinquent tax collector in Jackson County. Later, he received a pardon, which restores civil and political rights.

First Opinion

Attorney General Bruce Bennett issued an opinion May 19, however, that said his conviction made him ineligible as a candidate under the state Constitution because holding office is a political privilege not a right.

Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, Democratic state chairman, then ordered Ridgeway's name off the ballot and Ridgeway sued to stay on it.

Later, Bennett issued an opinion that Ridgeway was also ineligible on the ground that he was not a resident of Arkansas and that he had paid poll taxes in Virginia in 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Ridgeway has been living in Norfolk, Va., where he operates a trailer sales company. He also has paid Arkansas poll taxes, and contends that he is a qualified Arkansas elector.

Asks Reinstatement

Lee Ward, Jonesboro lawyer, is handling Ridgeway's appeal. In his appeal brief filed Friday, he said Ridgeway was a qualified elector of Jackson County, and that the action of Catlett was "arbitrary, capricious, and beyond the discretion" of the Party chairman. He asked the Court to order Catlett to reinstate Ridgeway's name on the Democratic primary ballot.

Ward cited three previous decisions by the state Supreme Court. One of them, Irby vs. Barrett, holds that "certain it is that the chairman and secretary of the state committee are clothed with no judicial power. Their duties are purely ministerial," he said.

Atty Pol.

(WB)

Ala - Feb - Ark

THE

MRS. FAUBUS FETES INTEGRATED GROUPS

7-7-65

Special to The New York Times

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 6--Mrs. Alta Faubus, wife of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, was hostess Wednesday to about 35 white and Negro leaders of the Little Rock area in a meeting at the Governor's Mansion for a briefing on a Federally assisted program to help pre-school children prepare for entering school next fall.

This was the first integrated meeting to have been held at the mansion since the Faubuses moved into it in January, 1954.

Six Negro women were among the guests, but the meeting was less distinguished by the fact that it was integrated than because some of the white leaders present had once been some of the Governor's bitterest opponents.

These opponents had been members of the Women's Emergency Committee that was formed in 1958 after Mr. Faubus closed the Little Rock high schools. The committee fought to have the schools reopened. This was the year after the Governor had used National Guardsmen at Central High School to block integration.

Longshoreman Is Killed

38 Suffolk - Va.

(WB)

COLLECT POLL TAX, SUIT ASKS VIRGINIA

Liberals Act to Force State to Prove Impracticality

3-7-65

Special to The New York Times

NORFOLK, Va., March 6—Long-time opponents of Virginia's poll tax have filed suit to force the state to collect more than $10 million in unpaid poll taxes.

The suit was filed in the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals for William L. Sheppard, a liberal Norfolk businessman, Harold Boyd, president of the Virginia A.F.L.-C.I.O., and Julian Carper, the union organization's state vice president.

Henry E. Howell Jr., a Norfolk lawyer who also participated in the Virginia reapportionment case before the United States Supreme Court last year, filed the suit. The suit lists Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr., State Tax Commissioner C. H. Morrissette and 130 city and county treasurers throughout Virginia as defendants.

Overdue Amount

The plaintiffs asked the State Supreme Court to require the state to collect the overdue amount, plus poll taxes assessed since 1959.

If the state should reply that such collection was "impractical," the Norfolk suit asked the court to declare the poll tax unconstitutional and forbid local treasurers from assessing it.

"If this tax is going to remain on the books," the union officials said in a statement today, "we want to do everything we can to see that it is enforced, with the hope that enforcement will bring about its elimination."

They believe the state might find that forced collection costs exceed the amount collected.

Liberal Democrats and most Republicans in Virginia have maintained for years that the $1.50 a year poll tax is used to restrict the electorate in the state. The tax must be paid for three years preceding an election, and must be paid six months in advance of the election.

Many New Voters

A 1963 constitutional amendment erased the poll tax as a requirement for voting in Federal elections and thousands of voters, particularly Negroes, who had never paid poll taxes, voted in the 1964 Presidential election. Virginia politicians believe most of the new voters helped swing the state to President Johnson.

The Virginia Legislature in 1963 continued the poll tax requirement for state and local elections. But in some cases, the plaintiffs contend, treasurers discouraged voluntary payments.

The suit quotes Governor Harrison as having told the State Legislature in November, 1963:

"The capitation [poll] tax is Virginia's only universal tax that is assessed from every adult. It is a debt and is owed like all other taxes."

The lawsuit is an attempt to force the state either to admit—tacitly or openly—that the poll tax is a voter restricting device or to compel its collection.

Research Unit Changes Name

file
Arkansas
voter registration

Population by Districts
1960 Federal Census
District 1- 360,183
District 2- 517,860
District 3- 332,844
District 4- 575,385
Total Population - Arkansas - 1960
1,786,222

ARKANSAS

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS

APPROVED SEPT. 21, 1961
BY AUTHORITY OF ACT No. 5 OF SECOND EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF 1961

PUBLISHED BY NANCY J. HALL
Secretary of State

ARKANSAS

STATE SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

REVISION MADE BY

SUPREME COURT OF ARKANSAS

FEBRUARY 25, 1952

Published By

KELLY BRYANT

Secretary of State

ARKANSAS

STATE CHANCERY DISTRICTS 1958

Published By

KELLY BRYANT

Secretary of State

ARKANSAS

STATE JUDICIAL DISTRICTS 1958

CIRCUIT JUDGES AND PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS

Published By

KELLY BRYANT

Secretary of State

PREPARED BY
JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR OF STATE
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

COUNTY	1961 TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD	1961 POLL TAX SOLD WHITE	1961 POLL TAX SOLD COLORED	1961 PER CENT POLL TAX SOLD	1959 TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD	1959 POLL TAX SOLD WHITE	1959 POLL TAX SOLD COLORED
ARKANSAS	7,820	6,769*	1,051*	56	7,919	6,868	1,051
ASHLEY	8,044	6,450	1,594	58	8,004	6,436	1,568
BAXTER	4,694	4,694	-0-	72	4,159	4,159	-0-
BENTON	12,805	12,795*	10*	55	12,629	12,619	10
BOONE	6,553	6,553	-0-	63	6,081	6,081	-0-
BRADLEY	5,125	4,109	1,016	61	5,296	4,214	1,082
CALHOUN	3,145	2,380	765	88	3,188	2,407	781
CARROLL	4,753	4,753	-0-	62	4,420	4,420	-0-
CHICOT	6,421	3,597	2,824	60	6,253	3,827	2,426
CLARK	6,814	5,828	986	51	7,086	6,128	958
CLAY	5,841	5,841	-0-	45	5,493	5,493	-0-
CLEBURNE	3,492	3,492	-0-	59	3,340	3,340	-0-
CLEVELAND	3,021	2,605	416	72	3,161	2,712	449
COLUMBIA	7,401	6,299	1,102	46	7,533	6,508	1,025
CONWAY	7,734	6,372	1,362	85	8,015	6,512	1,503
CRAIGHEAD	13,682	13,406	276	48	13,784	13,450	334
CRAWFORD	6,661	6,528	133	51	6,865	6,691	174
CRITTENDEN	7,487	5,920	1,567	31	7,747	6,210	1,537
CROSS	5,029	4,276	753	47	5,522	4,597	925
DALLAS	4,069	3,153	916	66	4,265	3,316	949
DESHA	6,715	4,447	2,268	61	6,868	4,638	2,230
DREW	4,794	3,724	1,070	44	5,342	3,963	1,379
FAULKNER	10,259	9,771	488	66	10,329	9,670	659
FRANKLIN	4,954	4,906	48	78	4,520	4,491*	29*
FULTON	3,396	3,396	-0-	54	3,094	3,094	-0-
GARLAND	19,613	17,489	2,124	64	19,485	17,019	2,466
GRANT	3,591	3,454	137	71	3,701	3,579	122
GREENE	7,716	7,712	4	50	7,841	7,837	4
HEMPSTEAD	7,185	5,631	1,554	59	7,270	5,694	1,576

COUNTY	1961 TOTAL	1961 WHITE	1961 COLORED	PER CENT	1959 TOTAL	1959 WHITE	1959 COLORE
HOT SPRING	7,875	7,155*	720*	61	8,571	7,851	720
HOWARD	4,210	3,905	305	69	4,042	3,549	493
INDEPENDENCE	7,457	7,382*	75*	56	7,399	7,324*	75*
IZARD	3,316	3,294	22	75	3,245	3,221	24
JACKSON	7,800	6,952	848	60	7,980	7,046	934
JEFFERSON	20,330	14,810	5,520	45	22,520	15,931	6,589
JOHNSON	5,148	5,083	65	64	4,893	4,839	54
LAFAYETTE	3,963	2,631	1,332	63	3,537	2,662	875
LAWRENCE	6,542	6,513	29	63	6,027	6,010	17
LEE	4,001	2,713	1,288	37	4,203	2,817	1,386
LINCOLN	3,878	2,768	1,110	46	4,047	2,709	1,338
LITTLE RIVER	4,037	3,175	862	76	3,918	3,040	878
LOGAN	6,106	6,061*	45*	58	6,012	5,967*	45*
LONOKE	7,613	6,900	713	55	8,620	7,814	806
MADISON	3,309	3,309	-0-	58	3,550	3,550	-0-
MARION	3,034	3,034	-0-	76	2,976	2,976	-0-
MILLER	11,116	9,045	2,071	59	11,155	9,062	2,093
MISSISSIPPI	18,077	14,271	3,806	48	17,878	13,998	3,880
MONROE	4,554	3,443	1,111	49	4,690	3,558	1,132
MONTGOMERY	2,660	2,660	-0-	77	2,630	2,630	-0-
NEVADA	4,085	3,222	863	61	4,236	3,386	850
NEWTON	2,542	2,542	-0-	73	2,396	2,396	-0-
OUACHITA	11,807	8,188	3,619	65	11,548	8,617	2,931
PERRY	2,541	2,484	57	86	2,439	2,375	64
PHILLIPS	9,117	5,848	3,269	38	9,718	6,213	3,505
PIKE	3,266	3,170	96	65	3,117	3,032	85
POINSETT	8,383	8,291	92	50	8,915	8,565*	350*
POLK	4,550	4,550	-0-	59	4,892	4,892	-0-
POPE	7,421	7,331*	90*	55	7,473	7,383*	90*
PRAIRIE	4,007	3,578*	429*	65	4,047	3,618	429
PULASKI	70,664	60,021	10,643	47	81,184	69,169	12,015
RANDOLPH	4,709	4,684*	25*	62	4,647	4,622*	25*
ST. FRANCIS	7,244	5,034	2,210	44	7,652	5,402	2,250
SALINE	9,578	9,182	396	52	9,732	9,323	409
SCOTT	3,121	3,076*	45*	66	3,614	3,569*	45*
SEARCY	2,904	2,904	-0-	59	3,245	3,245	-0-

COUNTY	TOTAL	WHITE	COLORED	PER CENT	TOTAL	WHITE	COLORED
SEBASTIAN	19,885	19,188	697	48	19,665	19,007	658
SEVIER	3,510	3,302	208	55	3,516	3,285	231
SHARP	3,467	3,467	-0-	84	3,001	3,001	-0-
STONE	3,052	3,052	-0-	81	2,943	2,943	-0-
UNION	16,585	14,113	2,472	56	17,472	14,795	2,677
VAN BUREN	3,567	3,545*	22*	77	3,482	3,460	22
WASHINGTON	16,112	16,100*	12*	45	14,425	14,413*	12*
WHITE	10,842	10,555	287	53	10,589	10,289*	300*
WOODRUFF	3,987	3,085	902	51	4,051	3,121	930
YELL	4,983	4,833*	150*	66	5,399	5,249*	150*
TOTALS	575,769	506,799	68,970	54	590,501	517,897	72,604

* Asterisk denotes figures which are estimates only.

THIS IS NOT A CERTIFIED COPY.

TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD IN STATE OF ARKANSAS FOR YEARS INDICATED:

1955 - 558,197

1956 - 580,645

1957 - 563,978

1958 - 552,226

1959 - 590,501

1960 - 603,795

JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR OF STATE
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

1962 POLL TAX RECEIPTS SOLD

1962 Poll Tax Will Entitle the Tax Payer, If Otherwise Qualified, To Vote At Any Election Held In This State Between October 2, 1962 And October 1, 1963 Inclusive.

ARKANSAS	8,158	GARLAND	20,430	NEWTON	3,222
ASHLEY	8,231	GRANT	3,534	OUACHITA	14,688
BAXTER	4,545	GREENE	7,886	PERRY	2,657
BENTON	13,421	HEMPSTEAD	7,170	PHILLIPS	8,792
BOONE	7,036	HOT SPRING	8,097	PIKE	3,211
BRADLEY	5,134	HOWARD	4,277	POINSETT	8,558
CALHOUN	2,901	INDEPENDENCE	7,666	POLK	4,909
CARROLL	5,668	IZARD	3,052	POPE	8,502
CHICOT	6,383	JACKSON	8,088	PRAIRIE	3,918
CLARK	6,578	JEFFERSON	22,385	PULASKI	77,228
CLAY	6,120	JOHNSON	5,030	RANDOLPH	4,740
CLEBURNE	3,344	LAFAYETTE	3,667	ST. FRANCIS	6,902
CLEVELAND	3,097	LAWRENCE	6,363	SALINE	9,816
COLUMBIA	7,690	LEE	3,830	SCOTT	3,038
CONWAY	8,138	LINCOLN	3,966	SEARCY	4,483
CRAIGHEAD	13,864	LITTLE RIVER	3,893	SEBASTIAN	22,124
CRAWFORD	7,472	LOGAN	6,200	SEVIER	3,788
CRITTENDEN	7,750	LONOKE	8,465	SHARP	3,107
CROSS	5,195	MADISON	5,550	STONE	3,282
DALLAS	4,128	MARION	2,784	UNION	17,184
DESHA	6,972	MILLER	10,302	VAN BUREN	3,520
DREW	4,883	MISSISSIPPI	15,857	WASHINGTON	18,381
FAULKNER	9,774	MONROE	4,703	WHITE	11,532
FRANKLIN	4,516	MONTGOMERY	2,550	WOODRUFF	5,135
FULTON	3,232	NEVADA	4,175	YELL	5,124

TOTAL FOR STATE - 601,991

TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD IN STATE OF ARKANSAS FOR YEARS INDICATED:

1955 - 558,197	1959 - 590,501
1956 - 580,645	1960 - 603795
1957 - 563,978	1961 - 575,769
1958 - 552,226

July 10, 1962

Auditor
State of Arkansas
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Sir:

Please send me the latest compilation of poll tax receipts for the State of Arkansas by counties and independent cities. I should like these figures broken into white and Negro if you have such data. If there is any charge, you may either send the data collect or bill me.

If your office is not the appropriate place from which to request such information, will you inform me as to how I may go about getting it?

Very truly yours,

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:gwc

STATE OF ARKANSAS

OCT 29 1962

JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR

STATE CAPITOL
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

Auditor of State

October 26, 1962

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

Enclosed is copy of 1962 Poll Tax sold by county.

The law does not require this office to break down the Poll Tax by race, so therefore, we do this every other year. There is more interest shown for this information for the Poll Tax used in the Democrat Primary. The breakdown by race will not be available for 1962.

Sincerely yours,

Jimmie Jones

Jimmie "Red" Jones
Auditor of State

JJ: ew

JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR OF STATE
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

1962 POLL TAX RECEIPTS SOLD

1962 Poll Tax Will Entitle the Tax Payer, If Otherwise Qualified, To Vote At Any Election Held In This State Between October 2, 1962 And October 1, 1963 Inclusive.

ARKANSAS	8,158	GARLAND	20,430	NEWTON	3,222
ASHLEY	8,231	GRANT	3,534	OUACHITA	14,688
BAXTER	4,545	GREENE	7,886	PERRY	2,657
BENTON	13,421	HEMPSTEAD	7,170	PHILLIPS	8,792
BOONE	7,036	HOT SPRING	8,097	PIKE	3,211
BRADLEY	5,134	HOWARD	4,277	POINSETT	8,558
CALHOUN	2,901	INDEPENDENCE	7,666	POLK	4,909
CARROLL	5,668	IZARD	3,052	POPE	8,502
CHICOT	6,383	JACKSON	8,088	PRAIRIE	3,918
CLARK	6,578	JEFFERSON	22,385	PULASKI	77,228
CLAY	6,120	JOHNSON	5,030	RANDOLPH	4,740
CLEBURNE	3,344	LAFAYETTE	3,667	ST. FRANCIS	6,902
CLEVELAND	3,097	LAWRENCE	6,363	SALINE	9,816
COLUMBIA	7,690	LEE	3,830	SCOTT	3,038
CONWAY	8,138	LINCOLN	3,966	SEARCY	4,483
CRAIGHEAD	13,864	LITTLE RIVER	3,893	SEBASTIAN	22,124
CRAWFORD	7,472	LOGAN	6,200	SEVIER	3,788
CRITTENDEN	7,750	LONOKE	8,465	SHARP	3,107
CROSS	5,195	MADISON	5,550	STONE	3,282
DALLAS	4,128	MARION	2,784	UNION	17,184
DESHA	6,972	MILLER	10,302	VAN BUREN	3,520
DREW	4,883	MISSISSIPPI	15,857	WASHINGTON	18,381
FAULKNER	9,774	MONROE	4,703	WHITE	11,532
FRANKLIN	4,516	MONTGOMERY	2,550	WOODRUFF	5,135
FULTON	3,232	NEVADA	4,175	YELL	5,124

TOTAL FOR STATE - 601,991

TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD IN STATE OF ARKANSAS FOR YEARS INDICATED:

1955 - 558,197	1959 - 590,501
1956 - 580,645	1960 - 603795
1957 - 563,978	1961 - 575,769
1958 - 552,226

11-7-62

October 24, 1962

The Honorable JimmeeJJones
Auditor
State of Arkansas
State Capitol Building
Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Jones:

Will you please be kind enough to send me a copy of the 1962 poll tax figures by county and by race. If you do not yet have this information by race, I would appreciate it if you would send it to me as soon as you have it available.

A self-addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
enc.

House-approved Bill To Replace Poll Tax Defeated in Senate

Arkansas Gazette 3-15-63

The Senate dealt the final blow yesterday to a bill that would have established a permanent voter registration system.

Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley objected to a third reading of the bill (HB 38), which would have brought it up for a final vote.

Senator Carl E. Sorrels of Atkins made a motion to suspend the rules to permit a third reading and it failed by a voice vote that sounded at least two to one. This killed the bill, since the legislature adjourned for good at noon.

Since the 1963 legislature failed to pass a voter registration bill, there is no law on the books to replace the poll tax in the event it is outlawed by federal amendment.

State of State After 46 Years

Representative W. L. Ward Sr. of Lee County, whose career as a legislator dates back to 1917, had this appraisal of the 1963 legislative session: "The sorriest and the soberest one I've been associated with."

Special Session?

Such an amendment is making the rounds of the state legislatures now and will go into effect if it is ratified by 38 states. If the poll tax should be nullified before the 1965 legislature meets, there apparently would have to be a special session to establish a registration system.

The House wrangled all session over permanent voter registration bills and finally passed HB 38 Tuesday by a vote of 54-15. By accident, it was not read for the first time that day in the Senate or it would have been ready for a final vote yesterday.

Bills must be read the first, second and third times on different days if someone objects and the sponsor can't get enough support to suspend the rules.

The major issues on the registration system were whether the voter should be required to state his political party preference and whether other members of his family should be entitled to register for him.

Primary Bill Loses

The Senate rejected a second effort to try to pass a bill (HB39) that would recodify the party primary laws. The measure was defeated Wednesday 14-14, with 18 necessary to pass.

Senator Max Howell of Little Rock made a motion yesterday to recall the bill from the House so the Senate could vote on it again but the motion failed, 13-15.

Senators W. K. Ingram of West Memphis and Allen spoke against the motion. Ingram said some of his constituents didn't believe the changes proposed in HB 39 were necessary. Allen said the Senate hadn't had enough time to study the bill because it only passed the House Tuesday.

Allen Critical

"The House kept that bill 58 days before sending it over here," Allen said. "It has quite a bit of impact and I don't appreciate this last minute rush to pass it."

Senator Robert Harvey of Swifton said he thought the opponents of HB 39 were "making much to do over nothing." He said the bill was the product of a Legislative Council study and was only designed to straighten out noncontroversial conflicts in the primary laws.

Senator Clifton Wade of Fayetteville, who had opposed HB 39 Tuesday, reversed himself yesterday and supported the motion. He said he thought the Senate should take another look at the bill.

—Staff Photo.

Bennett reads 24th Amendment to Council.

Ark Gaz.

Vote Registration List Should Show Payers Of Tax, Bennett Says

2/11/64

Ark Poll Tax

By JEROL GARRISON
Of the Gazette Staff

Attorney General Bruce Bennett said Monday that the 633,665 persons who have already paid their poll taxes for 1964 should be blanketed in under a new voter registration bill, so that they don't have to register again.

"I think that until the people of our state repeal the poll tax, we're going to have to pass some form of legislation to live with it," Bennett told the Arkansas Legislative Council.

Bennett contends that persons who pay their poll taxes are still entitled to vote in state, county and municipal elections even though the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution prohibits a poll tax to qualify voters for federal elections.

The Legislative Council opened hearings Monday at the Capitol on a voter registration system—and much of the discussion centered around whether the poll tax should still be used for state elections. The issue has caused considerable confusion.

State Representatives David S. Burleson of Washington County and J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County took issue with Bennett. They argued that a poll tax was not required by the state Constitution and should not be included in a voter registration bill.

"This is a difference of opinion that is going to be here until the Supreme Court decides it," Burleson said.

Cottrell has proposed making voter registration a part of a person's personal property assessment each year. He will discuss his proposal when the hearings resume at 10 a. m. today in the House chamber. The next speaker will be Representative Doris McCastlain of Monroe County, who has another plan to present.

(See ALC on Page 2A.)

Ark Poll Tax

Croxton Offers Bill

A permanent registration bill was submitted to the Council Monday morning by state Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County on behalf of an 11-man Citizens Committee on Voter Registration, of which he is chairman.

Croxton's bill provides that once a person has registered he need not register again as long as he votes every two years and does not move outside the county. It requires each voter to register in person, except that an invalid may register by signing an affidavit at home and having it notarized.

"Some say that this is too stringent, and that relatives should be allowed to register other relatives," Croxton said. "I say that the good to be derived from an accurate registration list is far greater than the inconvenience it may cause a very few people."

Croxton's bill also requires each voter to sign his name when he appears to vote. An election judge would compare the signature with the one on the voter's registration form before issuing him a ballot.

Endorses Bill

Mrs. E. E. Elkins of Fort Smith, president of the League of Women Voters of Arkansas, told the Legislative Council that the Croxton bill was endorsed by the League. She said the system contained in the bill "is convenient and offers maximum safeguards against fraud."

Mrs. Elkins said the League had not been able to reach a decision on whether a person should be required to list his party affiliation when he registers to vote. She said the League would accept a bill with or without that provision.

Croxton's bill requires party designation on the registration form, but he said it would be all right with him for that to be stricken. The bill is essentially the same proposal that Croxton submitted to the 1962 legislature.

Need 'Simple Measure'

Representative Chadd L. Durrett of Union County told Croxton that his bill would rewrite the election laws from top to bottom. What is needed, Durrett contended, is a simple measure to tide the state over until the 1965 legislature meets.

"We're not going to have time to get all this stuff done and printed before the next election," Durrett commented.

Mrs. Robert Meyer of Pine Bluff, one of a half-dozen observers present from the League of Women Voters, said she didn't see any need for the legislators to postpone action on a permanent registration bill

"Why don't all of these gentlemen pretend they are pregnant and go ahead and have the baby?" interjected Mrs. Meyer, who is president of the Pine Bluff chapter of the League.

Tells GOP Preference

Henry M. Britt of Hot Springs, general counsel for the state Republican Party, said that a poll showed that the Republicans preferred two to one that no requirement for party designation be included in the voter registration bill.

"We prefer that each citizen have the right to register as an independent, and have the option of voting in either the Republican primary or Democratic primary," Britt told the Council.

Representative Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Pulaski County asked Britt why he thought the poll was against party designation.

"I would say offhand that it's because some of our people vote in the Democratic primary," Britt said.

Mrs. Wy Pake of Little Rock, state GOP committeewoman from Pulaski County, told the Council that she preferred party designation. She said it was necessary if the parties were to control their primaries.

Mrs. Pake said the voter registration bill should contain "every possible safeguard for the voter's interest." She called on the legislators to "keep the voter in mind — not just the office seekers."

Cites Amendment 8

Bennett said that under Amendment 8 to the state Constitution persons who have paid their poll tax must be allowed to vote at any election in the state. He said it would be illegal under the Constitution to disfranchise the 633,665 persons who have paid their poll taxes for 1964 and require them to register again.

"As far as I am concerned, they are qualified registered voters in this state at this time," Bennett said.

Bennett proposed that the 633,665 persons be "blanketed in" under the voter registration bill, and that the registration books be re-opened for several weeks to permit persons who haven't registered to do so. These new voters would not have to pay the $1, he said.

This would give the people time to initiate a petition to get a measure on the November general election ballot to repeal Amendment 8, Bennett said. Then the 1965 legislature could enact a voter registration law that does not permit the use of a poll tax, he said.

"I'm just trying to get you by with valid elections this year," Bennett said.

'Headed for Courts'

State Representative Clarke Kinney of St. Francis County said he thought that allowing some persons to vote free while requiring others to pay $1 would be subject to attack in the courts.

Bennett said that regardless of what the legislature passed it would be taken to court. This same view was expressed by several persons.

Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said he thought Bennett's plan was the best one in view of the disagreement about whether Amendment 8 is still in effect. He said it would just be a matter of adding the new registrants to the list of poll tax holders.

This combined voting list could be used in the primary and general elections this year, Catlett said, or the legislature could require voters to register again for the generale lection.

A number of legislators, including Burleson and Cottrell, contend that Amendment 8 has been repealed by Amendment 39, which gives the legislature the power to enact voter registration laws. Catlett expressed the view that Amendment 39 repealed Amendment 8 by implication, but said this was a matter that would have to be settled by the Supreme Court.

Catlett also told the Council that the Democratic Committee favored an annual registration system rather than a permanent system.

"We think it would create quite a problem to purge the rolls if we have a permanent system," he said.

Catlett said the Democratic Committee was agreeable to let the party designation be optional with the voter.

"Quite a few Republicans vote in the Democratic primary," he said. "It gives them an opportunity to vote for a qualified man."

Catlett also spoke in favor of permitting persons to register for members of their immediate family, the same system that was followed under the poll tax.

Ark. Poll Tax
Ark Gazette 2-11-64

—Staff Photo.

Britt discusses GOP position on registration.

Bennett Says That Poll Tax Not a Must in State Voting

Attorney General Bruce Bennett said Monday that Amendment 8 to the State Constitutilon means simply that anyone who pays a $1 poll tax is entiled to vote at any election in the state.

"It's not all-inclusive," Bennett told reporters after addressing the Legislative Council. "The legislature can give other people the right to vote free if it wants to."

Bennett said in a written opinion last Thursday that "the provisions for the paying of a poll tax to be a qualified elector in any election in this state is in full force and effect, with the exception of an election which embraces a federal office."

Bennett said Monday that he didn't mean that Amendment 8 made it mandatory for a person to pay a $1 poll tax in order to vote in a state election. Many persons had gotten that impression, however.

"The legislature has the authority to promulgate a law opening up other ways for people to vote," Bennett said.

Bennett said if a new registration system were enacted, Arkansas residents would have the choice of using it or the poll tax system to register to vote. He said this choice would remain until the electorate repealed Amendment 8.

Bennett said the legislature cannot repeal Amendment 8, but that Amendment 39 to the State Constitution gives it the authority to set up an additional voter registration system. He agreed that few persons, if any, would pay their dollar if they had the option of a free registration system.

Ark Poll Tax

Arkansas Gazette

77,714 Poll Taxes Paid by Negroes In 1963, a Record

2/25/64

About 77,714 poll tax receipts for 1963 were issued to Negroes, an increase of 5,110 over the previous high of 72,604 in 1959, state Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones said Monday.

In 1961 there were 68,970 Negroes who received poll tax receipts.

A total of 633,658 receipts were issued for 1963—a record.

Jones said that the ratio of poll taxes issued Negroes appeared to follow an up and down trend. He said that Negro poll tax drives contributed to the increase.

There were 601,991 poll taxes receipts issued in 1962, 575,769 in 1961 and 603,795 in 1960, a presidential year.

The first tabulation of white and Negro voters by Jones was in 1957. It showed then that of the 563,978 poll taxes issued, 64,023 went to Negroes.

Jones is not required to provide the racial breakdown. He said that he undertook the survey because of quetions asked his office.

Because of an inability to get racial totals in some counties verified, Jones said that he had to estimate breakdowns on the basis of previous records. A few counties failed to show the race of the poll tax payer on the books, Jones said. Officials are required only to show race on the poll tax and not the poll tax books, although most do it anyway through habit.

Census Figures

The 1960 federal census showed 1,786,272 residents in Arkansas with 1,396,197 white and 390,075 non-whites.

Pulaski County listed 80,978 poll tax receipt holders with 12,960 of them Negroes. In 1961, the total was 70,664 with 10,643 Negroes. In 1959, 81,184 persons paid poll taxes in the county, including 12,015 Negroes.

In Jefferson County, where Negroes made a determined poll tax drive last year, Jones said, 7,733 poll taxes receipts were issued to Negroes out of the total 25,195. In 1961, the total was 20,330 issued with 5,520 to Negroes, and in 1959 of the 22,520 sold, 6,589 were issued to Negroes.

The Jones report showed there were no Negro poll tax holders payers in Baxter, Boone, Carroll, Clay, Cleburne, Fulton, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Newton, Polk, Searcy, Sharp and Stone Counties.

Poll Tax Breakdown By Counties

County	White	Negro
Arkansas	7,316	1,271
Ashley	6,822*	1,650*
Baxter	5,080	0
Benton	13,872*	10*
Boone	7,022	0
Bradley	4,323	1,059
Calhoun	2,442	785
Carroll	4,926	0
Chicot	3,913	2,919
Clark	6,048	1,095
Clay	6,950	0
Cleburne	3,907	0
Cleveland	2,699	445
Columbia	6,907	1,509
Conway	6,813	1,444
Craighead	15,019	301
Crawford	7,547	181
Crittenden	7,299	1,777
Cross	4,648	611
Dallas	3,276	1,004
Desha	4,670	2,445
Drew	3,987	1,190
Faulkner	10,731*	560*
Franklin	4,691*	48
Fulton	3,595	0
Garland	19,495	2,317
Grant	3,738	94
Green	9,022*	4*
Hempstead	5,970	1,581
Hot Spring	8,110*	720*
Howard	3,983	621
Independence	7,840*	75*
Izard	3,498	14
Jackson	7,357	1,031
Jefferson	17,462	7,733
Johnson	5,373	82
Lafayette	2,756	1,031
Lawrence	7,074	40
Lee	2,792	1,434
Lincoln	3,114	1,541
Little River	3,296	781
Logan	6,518*	45*
Lonoke	7,874	918
Madison	3,900	0
Marion	3,129	0
Miller	9,290	1,848
Mississippi	12,366	3,134
Monroe	3,728	1,281
Montgomery	2,750	0
Nevada	3,360	1,047
Newton	2,680	0
Ouachita	8,756	3,298
Perry	2,685*	57*
Phillips	6,381	3,963
Pike	3,395	98
Poinsett	8,905	337
Polk	5,116	0
Pope	8,584*	90*
Prairie	3,728*	429*
Pulaski	67,918	12,960
Randolph	4,751*	25*
St. Francis	5,613	2,920
Saline	10,175	388
Scott	3,320*	45*
Searcy	3,451	0
Sebastian	23,355*	750*
Sevier	3,751	231
Sharp	3,520	0
Stone	3,441	0
Union	15,133	2,799
Van Buren	3,608*	22*
Washington	17,448*	12*
White	12,782	381
Woodruff	3,528	1,083
Yell	5,622*	150*
Totals	555,944	77,714

*Denotes estimates only.

Ark. Gaz.

Faubus Says He Will Sign Anyone's Petition Calling For Repeal of the Poll Tax

Ark. Gaz., 3/31/64, p. 1B

Governor Faubus said Monday that the poll tax should be repealed and that he would sign a petition to this effect no matter who sponsored it.

He was asked if he would sign a petition circulated by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, a critic of the governor's policies, who is regarded as a likely gubernatorial candidate this year.

"I don't change my views because of who is involved," the governor replied. "I hope I am a little more stable than that.

"Yes, I would sign. I have always been against the poll tax."

The governor noted that he had in his time circulated petitions seeking to place repeal of the poll tax on the ballot.

The legislature Friday adopted a voter registration law, and a lawsuit challenging it is before the state Supreme Court.

Won't Speculate

Mr. Faubus said he didn't care to speculate on what the Supreme Court will do. He said that whatever the Court decided would be in effect this year since no higher appeal was contemplated.

The governor indicated that he planned to recommend that the public pay poll taxes in the event a dual election—one for city, county and state offices, and the other for federal offices—was the result of the litigation.

He said the voter registration law was written to handle both a single registration without the poll tax and a dual election system retaining the poll tax.

Letter to Assessors

Mr. Faubus said he would issue a statement on the poll tax in a form of a letter to county tax assessors.

He said there would be no need for any more special legislative sessions on voter registration. The 1965 legislature can take up the subject on the basis of experience under the temporary law, which will go into effect April 11, the governor concluded.

Arkansas
Poll Tax

The Afro-American 4/11/64

Governor, Bennett Uphold Court Decision on Poll Tax

Both Governor Faubus and Attorney General Bruce Bennett agreed Monday that the state Supreme Court could have reached no other decision in upholding the poll tax requirement in state elections.

virtue of the valid portions of Act 19, those who hold a valid paid poll tax receipt issued prior to October 1, 1964, will be considered properly registered for all purposes until July 1, 1965."

These registrants will be permitted to vote in the November 1964 general election for candidates both for state and federal offices," Justice Johnson said.

But those registrants who hold only "free" poll tax receipts will be permitted to vote for federal offices only—provided they register again during the last 20 days of September.

In order to be registered beyond July 1, 1965, both the holders of paid poll tax receipts and those who have not paid a poll tax must register with the county collector anytime between January 1, 1965 and April 10, 1965. These dates were set up by the valid portions of Act 19.

"The holders of valid paid poll tax receipts will continue to enjoy the privileges of voting in all state and federal elections," Justice Johnson said. "All others who register will be limited to the privileges of voting for candidates for federal offices only."

He said he wrote his concurring opinion because he felt the court should have pointed out "that the net effect of the majority holding, in which I am in complete agreement, is that the people alone have the power to alter the basic difficulty presented by the adoption of Amendment 24 of the Constitution of the United States.

"Until the voice of the people of Arkansas is heard by their repeal of the portion of the constitution of the State of Arkansas requiring the payment of a poll tax as a requisite to voting, this state will be faced with a dual registration system and dual balloting as a resulting necessity."

"This development confirms the wisdom and the good judgment of the Legislative Council and the General Assembly in passing a registration measure which would be sufficient for the holding of elections this year," the governor said.

He said the measure was so drawn that it could be used, regardless of which way the court ruled, in this year's elections. As a result, the governor noted, there is no need for a further special legislative session on voter registration.

Mr. Faubus said that the court decision made clear the course the people must take if they want a registration system good for all elections.

"There is only one course and that is the amendment of the state constitution to repeal the requirement of the payment of a poll tax to vote in state and local elections," Mr. Faubus declared.

The governor said, though, that he expected the 1965 legislature to take another look at voter registration and that would be assured if the poll tax is repealed by the voters in November. Mr. Faubus said that he favors repealing the poll tax.

Bennett said that the decision "cleared the air of a lot of misconceptions" and that the poll tax remained part of the constitution until its repeal by the people.

Bennett said he had serious doubts that the people would repeal the poll tax and that two such attempts had been voted down.

Arts. Poll Tax

April 29, 1964

Mr. William R. Jones
M.W.G.M.
Prince Hall Grand Lodge
F. & A. M.
Jurisdiction of Arkansas
Masonic Temple
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

Dear Grand Master Jones:

Thank you for your letter and enclosures of April 24, 1964, in which you describe your efforts in alerting the Brotherhood of the free poll tax provision. You are to be commended for the immediate cooperation which you gave to this program.

I note one error in your letter to the Worshipful Masters. You state that holders of free poll tax receipts""...will enable the bearer to vote in all elections held from now to October 1, 1964." Holders of free poll tax receipts may only vote in elections involving federal offices, and they will not be entitled to vote for any state or county offices.

As a result of the Supreme Court decision, it appears that we must carry on a gigantic poll tax campaign this summer and I will be in touch with you regarding this.

Our check in the amount of $36.65 is enclosed in payment of your itemized expenditutes.

Fraternally yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js

Encl: $36.65 check

Anti Poll Tax

C. S. SMITH
DEPUTY GRAND MASTER, CROSSETT
HORACE J. EVANS
GRAND SR. WARDEN, PINE BLUFF
V. J. JOHNSON
GRAND JR. WARDEN, HUTTIG
SOLOMON RICHARDSON
SECRETARY EDUCATION - CHARITY
PINE BLUFF

MOST WORSHIPFUL
Prince Hall Grand Lodge
F. & A. M.
JURISDICTION OF ARKANSAS

N. G. BRANSCUMB
GRAND TREASURER, BRINKLEY
E. M. HARRIS
SEC'Y. - TREAS. RELIEF DEPT.
PINE BLUFF
L. W. WILLIAMSON
GRAND SECRETARY WASHINGTON
ROSBORO HENDRICKS
C. C. F. C. MALVERN

OFFICE OF
WILLIAM R. JONES, Grand Master
OFFICE PHONE JE. 4-5467 RES. PH. 48 CLARENDON
MASONIC TEMPLE - 4TH & STATE
PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

24 April 1964

Att'y. Wiley A. Branton
Project Director
5 Forsyth Street, N.W.
Atlanta, 3, Georgia

Dear Brother Branton:

Please note enclosures. Copies of the letter were mailed to all Worshipful Masters in the Jurisdiction, together with from 5 to 15 copies of the Notices, on April 10, 1964.

In spite of the Court Decision, progress is being made, as evidenced by inquiries received since the letters were mailed, in informing the brotherhood of this new Ammendment to our Constitution. We are indeed glad that you invited us to participate in the drive. Below is an itemized account of our expenditures:

Stamps----------	$16.50
Paper----------	7.65
Stencils & fluid	2.50
Secretarial Services--------	10.00
Total---------	$36.65

Thank you again for inviting our participation. We will always count you as a friend of the administration and of the Jurisdiction of Arkansas.

Fraternally yours,
William R. Jones
William R. Jones

NOTICE!! NOTICE!! NOTICE!! NOTICE!!

ONE PROVISION OF ACT 19, THE VOTER REGISTRATION LAW, PASSED IN THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE ARKANSAS LEGISLATURE HELD MARCH 26-28, 1964, PROVIDES THAT VOTERS MAY REGISTER FREE DURING THE PERIOD FROM APRIL 11th to the 30th. 20 DAYS.

ALL PERSONS WHO HAVE PAID THE POLL TAX FOR 1963, DO NOT HAVE TO REGISTER. USE YOUR POLL TAX TO VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS HELD UP TO OCTOBER 1, 1964.

ALL PERSONS WHO DO NOT HAVE A 1963 POLL TAX RECEIPT, MUST REGISTER BETWEEN THE DATES OF APRIL 11th and 30th, IN ORDER TO VOTE IN ELECTIONS HELD UP TO OCTOBER 1, 1964.

TO RECEIVE THE FREE POLL TAX REGISTRATION RECEIPTS, GO TO THE OFFICE OF THE TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF NEAREST YOU DURING THE REGISTRATION PERIOD, AND REGISTER FOR ALL THE MEMBERS OF YOUR HOUSEHOLD OF VOTING AGE.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO PAY

BE A GOOD CITIZEN

REGISTER WITH YOUR TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF

VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS FOR YOUR CANDIDATES

REGISTRATION PERIOD--APRIL 11-30, INCLUSIVE

NOTICE!! NOTICE!! NOTICE!! NOTICE!!

ONE PROVISION OF ACT 19, THE VOTER REGISTRATION LAW, PASSED IN THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE ARKANSAS LEGISLATURE HELD MARCH 26-28, 1964, PROVIDES THAT VOTERS MAY REGISTER FREE DURING THE PERIOD FROM APRIL 11th to the 30th. 20 DAYS.

ALL PERSONS WHO HAVE PAID THE POLL TAX FOR 1963, DO NOT HAVE TO REGISTER. USE YOUR POLL TAX TO VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS HELD UP TO OCTOBER 1, 1964.

ALL PERSONS WHO DO NOT HAVE A 1963 POLL TAX RECEIPT, MUST REGISTER BETWEEN THE DATES OF APRIL 11th and 30th, IN ORDER TO VOTE IN ELECTIONS HELD UP TO OCTOBER 1, 1964.

TO RECEIVE THE FREE POLL TAX REGISTRATION RECEIPTS, GO TO THE OFFICE OF THE TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF NEAREST YOU DURING THE REGISTRATION PERIOD, AND REGISTER FOR ALL THE MEMBERS OF YOUR HOUSEHOLD OF VOTING AGE.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO PAY

BE A GOOD CITIZEN

REGISTER WITH YOUR TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF

VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS FOR YOUR CANDIDATES

REGISTRATION PERIOD--APRIL 11-30, INCLUSIVE

Office of the Grand Master
Masonic Temple, 4th & State Sts.
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

ATTENTION: WORSHIPFUL MASTERS, WARDENS & BRETHREN!!!
(This letter to be read in open lodge)

We feel sure that you are aware of the Special Session of the Arkansas Legislature held March 26-28, 1964. In this Session Act 19, the Voter Registration Law, was passed and signed by Governor.

One of the provisions of this Act is that any citizen of voting age in Arkansas, MAY REGISTER FREE DURING THE PERIOD FROM APRIL 11th to the 30th, TWENTY DAYS INCLUSIVE.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS ISSUED DURING THIS PERIOD WILL HAVE PRINTED IN BOLD RED LETTERS ACROSS THE FACE: THAT THE RECEIPT HAS BEEN ISSUED FREE OF CHARGE. THEY WILL ENABLE THE BEARER TO VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS HELD FROM NOW UNTIL OCTOBER 1, 1964.

As you well know, approximately 95% of the Master Masons have already paid the poll tax for 1963. ALL PERSONS HOLDING THE 1963 POLL TAX RECEIPT WILL NOT HAVE TO REGISTER.

Now, since you, as Worshipful Masters and Brethren, are good citizens, we feel sure that there are relatives and friends who did not pay the poll tax last year and are not eligible to vote. IT IS THIS GROUP OF CITIZENS THAT WE DESIRE YOUR HELP IN SEEING TO IT THAT THEY ARE INFORMED OF THE NEW LAW, THAT THEY CAN NOW OBTAIN THE POLL TAX FREE, AND BECOME ELIGIBLE TO VOTE, by registering with the Tax Collector or Sheriff.

Therefore, will you please have this letter read in your next communication, or if necessary, call a special meeting of your lodge, then explain to the brothers present the importance of being able to vote in all elections; and ask each brother to make himself a committee of one, and contact every person in his immediate community. If one does not have a 1963 poll tax receipt, have him GO AT ONCE TO THE TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF NEAREST HIM, AND REGISTER FOR HIMSELF AND EACH MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY OF VOTING AGE, DURING THE 20 DAYS OF REGISTRATION, APRIL 11th to the 30th.

Our Fraternity is strictly NON-PARTISAN. What candidates for office you vote for, how you vote on Bond issues, is your personal business. Our concern is to see that ALL CITIZENS are able to exercise their franchise, "THE RIGHT TO VOTE."

ASK YOUR PASTOR TO ANNOUNCE THIS MESSAGE FROM THE PULPIT SUNDAY.

OUR GOAL---20,000 MASONS, THEIR FAMILIES AND FRIENDS, REGISTERED

Fraternally yours,

William R. Jones,
Grand Master

Office of the Grand Master
Masonic Temple, 4th & State Sts.
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

ATTENTION: WORSHIPFUL MASTERS, WARDENS & BRETHREN!!!
(This letter to be read in open lodge)

We feel sure that you are aware of the Special Session of the Arkansas Legislature held March 26-28, 1964. In this Session Act 19, the Voter Registration Law, was passed and signed by Governor.

One of the provisions of this Act is that any citizen of voting age in Arkansas, MAY REGISTER FREE DURING THE PERIOD FROM APRIL 11th to the 30th, TWENTY DAYS INCLUSIVE.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS ISSUED DURING THIS PERIOD WILL HAVE PRINTED IN BOLD RED LETTERS ACROSS THE FACE: THAT THE RECEIPT HAS BEEN ISSUED FREE OF CHARGE. THEY WILL ENABLE THE BEARER TO VOTE IN ALL ELECTIONS HELD FROM NOW UNTIL OCTOBER 1, 1964.

As you well know, approximately 95% of the Master Masons have already paid the poll tax for 1963. ALL PERSONS HOLDING THE 1963 POLL TAX RECEIPT WILL NOT HAVE TO REGISTER.

Now, since you, as Worshipful Masters and Brethren, are good citizens, we feel sure that there are relatives and friends who did not pay the poll tax last year and are not eligible to vote. IT IS THIS GROUP OF CITIZENS THAT WE DESIRE YOUR HELP IN SEEING TO IT THAT THEY ARE INFORMED OF THE NEW LAW, THAT THEY CAN NOW OBTAIN THE POLL TAX FREE, AND BECOME ELIGIBLE TO VOTE, by registering with the Tax Collector or Sheriff.

Therefore, will you please have this letter read in your next communication, or if necessary, call a special meeting of your lodge, then explain to the brothers present the importance of being able to vote in all elections; and ask each brother to make himself a committee of one, and contact every person in his immediate community. If one does not have a 1963 poll tax receipt, have him GO AT ONCE TO THE TAX COLLECTOR OR SHERIFF NEAREST HIM, AND REGISTER FOR HIMSELF AND EACH MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY OF VOTING AGE, DURING THE 20 DAYS OF REGISTRATION, APRIL 11th to the 30th.

Our Fraternity is strictly NON-PARTISAN. What candidates for office you vote for, how you vote on Bond issues, is your personal business. Our concern is to see that ALL CITIZENS are able to exercise their franchise, "THE RIGHT TO VOTE."

ASK YOUR PASTOR TO ANNOUNCE THIS MESSAGE FROM THE PULPIT SUNDAY.

OUR GOAL---20,000 MASONS, THEIR FAMILIES AND FRIENDS, REGISTERED

Fraternally yours,

William R. Jones,
Grand Master

Free Receipts For Poll Tax Total 1,236

Ark. Gaz.
5-14-64

There are few free poll tax receipt holders eligible to vote in the three congressional districts with primary races in July, the state Auditor's records showed Wednesday.

With most of the counties reported there are 1,236 free poll tax receipts in the hands of potential voters, compared with 440,003 paid poll tax receipts in the three districts.

The breakdown by congressional districts:

In District 1, where Representative E. C. (Took) Gathings of West Memphis is opposed by Mrs. Florence K. Clay of Forrest City, with nine of 10 counties reported, there are 218 free poll tax receipts issued against 93,476 paid receipts.

In District 3, where Hal L. Cochran of Fort Smith and J. E. (Jerry) Hinshaw of Springdale face each other in a rare GOP primary, 14 of the 18 counties show 377 free receipts issued against 131,561 paid.

In District 4 where Representative Oren Harris of El Dorado faces Dean E. Murphy of Hope, 24 of the 28 counties have issued 614 receipts compared with 214,966 paid.

There is no congressional primary in the Second District and the free receipts issued in this district are valueless as far as a vote is concerned.

As a result of an interpretation of the law by the state Supreme Court the free poll tax receipt entitles the holders to a vote in any federal contest before October 1. New free receipts will be issued in the last 20 days of September to cover the November general election.

Ark. Leg.

Jefferson Democrats Name State Delegates

W. B.

8/21/64 P.B. Commercial

Jefferson County delegates to the state Democratic Convention have been elected, Garland (Pete) Brewster Jr., chairman of the county Democratic Central Committee, announced today.

Brewster said he had received no official notification of when the state convention would be. However, an announcement in Little Rock last week set the convention for September 18-19 at Robinson Auditorium at Little Rock.

The Jefferson County delegates, named Tuesday night, are:

Brewster, chairman; Sam Levine, vice chairman; and Knox Nelson, Harold Norton, Allen Sheppard, Joe Henslee, Tim Massanelli, Gene Roberts, Mack Koonce, Don Smith, Joe Holmes, Bart Mullis, Jesse Walter, Pink Booher, Austin T. Franks, Dr. Boyce Alford, Sonny Lybrand, Johnny Wynne, George Heister, Malvin Moore, Earle Chanay, M. D. Jordan, Lawrence A. Davis, Mrs. Victor Huselton, Mrs. Hubert Tisdale, Mrs. Tommy Shell, Wilton Steed, Dr. Bill Owen, Mrs. Hortense Scoggins, Mrs. Naomi Lawson, J. W. Ryburn, D. Stratton and James O. Stevens.

33 delegates

The alternates are C. S. McNew III, Gordon McNulty, Earl Hodge, Dean Rowell, G. W. (Buddy) Turner Jr., Morrell Gathright, E. W. Brockman Jr., George Campbell, Lee Henslee Jr., Jessie Bogy, Fred Condray, Fred Born, Chester List, J. P. (Jess) Walt, Earl Chaddick, Dave Wallace, Lawrence Blackwell, Coy Nixon Jr., Jerry Feuss, Sam Vaulx, H. W. Smith, Wendell D. Lee, Don Stone, Abe Stone, Pelton Mooney, B. B. Pritchard, Randall Williams, Jess Reaves, C. M. Toney, Wirt Blankenship, Ed Dorris and J. W. Higgason.

32

65

Ark NR

WB ✓

JMZ

NEWS RELEASE - - - - IMMEDIATE

FROM THE OFFICE OF JIMMIE "RED" JONES, AUDITOR OF STATE

Jimmie "Red" Jones, Auditor of State reports it is now official that a record number of 1964 poll tax receipts were issued. The last county reporting made the total count 715,528 .

Prior to this the record was 633,658 poll tax receipts issued in 1963.

All counties showed an increase over 1963 except Fulton, Izard and Stone.

Jimmie "Red" Jones, attributes the increase to the intense interest the citizens of Arkansas have in the Presidential election, the Governor's race and the seven (7) constitutional amendments.

OCTOBER 26, 1964

715,528
105,000
610,528

JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR OF STATE
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

1964 POLL TAX RECEIPTS SOLD

1964 Poll Tax Receipts will entitle the Tax Payer, if otherwise qualified, to vote in any election held in this State between October 2, 1964 and October 1, 1965 inclusive.

ARKANSAS	9,078	GARLAND	26,830	NEWTON	3,370
ASHLEY	8,656	GRANT	3,977	OUACHITA	15,931
BAXTER	5,773	GREENE	9,971	PERRY	3,187
BENTON	15,393	HEMPSTEAD	7,905	PHILLIPS	12,274
BOONE	7,872	HOT SPRING	9,083	PIKE	3,710
BRADLEY	5,417	HOWARD	4,633	POINSETT	12,857
CALHOUN	3,292	INDEPENDENCE	9,056	POLK	5,551
CARROLL	5,526	IZARD	3,314	POPE	9,902
CHICOT	7,191	JACKSON	9,283	PRAIRIE	4,461
CLARK	7,917	JEFFERSON	28,521	PULASKI	94,267
CLAY	7,081	JOHNSON	5,772	RANDOLPH	5,055
CLEBURNE	4,732	LAFAYETTE	3,885	ST. FRANCIS	9,553
CLEVELAND	3,166	LAWRENCE	7,529	SALINE	11,515
COLUMBIA	9,119	LEE	5,158	SCOTT	3,477
CONWAY	8,974	LINCOLN	5,044	SEARCY	4,034
CRAIGHEAD	16,384	LITTLE RIVER	4,197	SEBASTIAN	26,981
CRAWFORD	8,946	LOGAN	7,041	SEVIER	4,146
CRITTENDEN	11,247	LONOKE	9,786	SHARP	3,805
CROSS	5,946	MADISON	5,811	STONE	3,365
DALLAS	4,497	MARION	3,401	UNION	19,824
DESHA	7,649	MILLER	12,296	VAN BUREN	4,258
DREW	5,392	MISSISSIPPI	19,518	WASHINGTON	23,347
FAULKNER	11,570	MONROE	5,808	WHITE	14,413
FRANKLIN	5,682	MONTGOMERY	2,763	WOODRUFF	4,986
FULTON	3,450	NEVADA	4,605	YELL	6,122

TOTAL FOR STATE - 715,528

TOTAL POLL TAX SOLD IN STATE OF ARKANSAS FOR YEARS INDICATED:

1955 - 558,197	1960 - 603,795
1956 - 580,645	1961 - 575,769
1957 - 563,978	1962 - 601,991
1958 - 552,226	1963 - 633,658
1959 - 590,501

JIMMIE "RED" JONES
AUDITOR of STATE
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

1964 FREE POLL TAX RECEIPTS

ISSUED DURING THE LAST 20 DAYS OF SEPTEMBER 1964

ARKANSAS	8	GARLAND	118	NEWTON	10
ASHLEY	4	GRANT	1	OUACHITA	22
BAXTER	57	GREENE	16	PERRY	-0-
BENTON	160	HEMPSTEAD	54	PHILLIPS	25
BOONE	57	HOT SPRING	12	PIKE	1
BRADLEY	2	HOWARD	25	POINSETT	-0-
CALHOUN	-0-	INDEPENDENCE	29	POLK	39
CARROLL	27	IZARD	1	POPE	48
CHICOT	-0-	JACKSON	2	PRAIRIE	10
CLARK	26	JEFFERSON	8	PULASKI	102
CLAY	36	JOHNSON	18	RANDOLPH	32
CLEBURNE	14	LAFAYETTE	1	ST. FRANCIS	5
CLEVELAND	1	LAWRENCE	4	SALINE	24
COLUMBIA	49	LEE	8	SCOTT	-0-
CONWAY	4	LINCOLN	30	SEARCY	9
CRAIGHEAD	71	LITTLE RIVER	-0-	SEBASTIAN	176
CRAWFORD	31	LOGAN	18	SEVIER	10
CRITTENDEN	59	LONOKE	16	SHARP	4
CROSS	18	MADISON	1	STONE	8
DALLAS	-0-	MARION	14	UNION	47
DESHA	-0-	MILLER	35	VAN BUREN	7
DREW	-0-	MISSISSIPPI	184	WASHINGTON	119
FAULKNER	34	MONROE	1	WHITE	36
FRANKLIN	4	MONTGOMERY	4	WOODRUFF	4
FULTON	-0-	NEVADA	4	YELL	5

TOTAL FOR STATE - 2009

Proposed Ark law to abolish poll tax & set up a permanent reg. system — to be voted on Nov. 3, 1964

WBJ
JBM

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANVASSERS AND SIGNERS

1. Amendment No. 7 gives to the people of the State of Arkansas the power to propose amendments to its Constitution. The Petition must be signed by ten percent of the legal voters. The proposed amendment must be submitted to the legal voters of the State at a regular election, and it is adopted if a majority of the votes are cast in its favor.

2. Only legal voters may sign. Names, residences, post offices, and voting precincts must be given. This Petition should contain only the signatures of voters residing in the same county.

3. All signatures must be affixed by the signers in their own handwriting in the presence of the persons circulating the Petition.

4. The signatures should be made with ink or indelible pencil.

5. Do not paste additional sheets to this Petition, but place as many names as possible on the Petition.

6. To sign any name other than your own or knowingly to sign your name when you are not legally entitled to sign it, or knowingly and falsely to misrepresent the purpose and effect of this Petition for the purpose of causing anyone to sign it shall constitute a misdemeanor and subject the offender to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each violation.

Nº 23078

Bruce Bennett
Attorney General of the State of Arkansas

No. _____ Circulated by _____ of _____ _____ in _____ County, Arkansas.

Number of Signatures _____

PETITION TO INITIATE AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

TO THE HONORABLE KELLY BRYANT, Secretary of State of the State of Arkansas:

We, the undersigned legal voters of the State of Arkansas, respectfully propose the following Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas:

(Popular Name)

ARKANSAS AMENDMENT FOR VOTER REGISTRATION WITHOUT POLL TAX PAYMENT

(Ballot Title)

AN AMENDMENT TO ESTABLISH A SYSTEM OF PERMANENT PERSONAL REGISTRATION AS A MEANS FOR DETERMINING THAT ALL WHO CAST BALLOTS IN GENERAL, SPECIAL OR PRIMARY ELECTIONS IN THIS STATE ARE LEGALLY QUALIFIED TO VOTE IN SUCH ELECTIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CONSTITUTION OF ARKANSAS AND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES; TO PRESCRIBE DUTIES FOR COUNTY CLERKS AS REGISTRARS AND FOR OTHER PUBLIC OFFICIALS; TO ESTABLISH A PROCEDURE FOR REGISTRATION IDENTIFICATION THROUGH PERSONAL SIGNATURE ON AFFIDAVITS OF REGISTRATION; TO PROVIDE FOR SAFEGUARDS AGAINST ILLEGAL OR IMPROPER REGISTRATION AND VOTING; TO PROVIDE FOR THE CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION FOR PERSONS WHO HAVE FAILED TO VOTE FOR FOUR SUCCESSIVE CALENDAR YEARS, WHO HAVE CHANGED THEIR NAME, WHO HAVE CHANGED THEIR LEGAL RESIDENCE OUTSIDE THE COUNTY, OR FOR OTHER REASONS OF INELIGIBILITY; TO ESTABLISH PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF THIS AMENDMENT BY ELECTION OFFICIALS, OTHER PUBLIC OFFICIALS, OR OTHERS; TO ELIMINATE THE POLL TAX AS A REQUISITE FOR REGISTRATION OR VOTING; TO REPEAL ACT 19 OF 1964, AND ANY OTHER INCONSISTENT LAWS; TO DIRECT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO MAKE APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED FOR THE EFFECTUATION OF THIS AMENDMENT; TO PERMIT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO AMEND IN THE SAME MANNER AS AN INITIATED ACT THE SECTIONS OF THIS AMENDMENT SPECIFYING THE OPERATION OF THE REGISTRATION SYSTEM; TO PROVIDE THAT THIS AMENDMENT SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1965, WITH SPECIAL PROVISION FOR VOTING PRIOR TO MARCH 1, 1965; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Arkansas:

Section 1. STATEMENT OF POLICY. The purpose of this Amendment is to establish a system of permanent personal registration as a means of determining that all who cast ballots in general, special and primary elections in this State are legally qualified to vote in such elections, in accordance with the Constitution of Arkansas and the Constitution of the United States.

Section 2. DEFINITIONS. As used in this Amendment, the terms:

(a) "County Board of Registration" means the County Board of Election Commissioners in each of the several counties of this State.

(b) "Permanent Registrar" means the County Clerk in each of the several counties of this State.

(c) "Deputy Registrar" means the Deputy County Clerk or clerical assistants appointed by the County Clerk.

(d) "Election" means any general, special or primary election held pursuant to any provisions of the Constitution or statutes of the State of Arkansas; provided, that this Amendment shall not apply to selection of delegates to party conventions by party committees or to selection of party committeemen by party conventions.

Section 3. APPLICATION. No person shall vote or be permitted to vote in any election unless registered in a manner provided for by this Amendment.

Section 4. PERMANENT REGISTRATION. When a voter is once registered under the provisions of this Amendment, it is unnecessary for such voter again to register unless such registration is cancelled or subject to cancellation in a manner provided for by this Amendment.

Section 5. DUTIES OF REGISTRATION OFFICIALS. (a) The registration of voters is to be under the supervision of the Permanent Registrar. Eligible voters resident in a county may register at any time from and after the effective date of this Amendment at the office of the Permanent Registrar and at any other place or places within the county as are designated by the Permanent Registrar. The Permanent Registrar shall provide office and clerical facilities and may employ such clerical assistants which he may deem necessary to fulfill the duties imposed by this Amendment; provided, that all clerical assistants so employed shall have the qualifications required by law of eligible voters and shall be selected on the basis of competence and without reference to political affiliation.

(Continued on Next Page)

(b) The State Auditor, from and after the effective date of this Amendment, shall provide a sufficient number of blank forms to each Permanent Registrar for the registration of the voters in each county. The forms shall be known as "Affidavits of Registration" and shall consist of looseleaf sheets of durable quality. All Affidavits of Registration shall be made and executed in quadruplicate, the original and each copy of a distinctively different color. Each form shall be printed at the top thereof with the word "Original", "Duplicate", "Triplicate" or "Quadruplicate", as the case may be, each to be followed immediately by the words "Affidavit of Registration". The forms shall be bound together in books or pads and each set of copies shall be capable of being detached from the book or pad and inserted and locked into the Registration Record Files. All forms in a quadruplicate set shall have an identical number, the sets being numbered in sequence.

(c) The State Board of Election Commissioners is authorized and, as soon as is possible after the effective date of this Amendment, directed to prescribe, adopt, publish and distribute:

(1) such Rules and Regulations supplementary to this Amendment and consistent with this Amendment and other laws of Arkansas as are necessary to secure uniform and efficient procedures in the administration of this Amendment throughout the State;

(2) a Manual of Instruction for the information, guidance and direction of election officials within the State; and

(3) detailed specifications of the Registration Record files, the Affidavits of Registration and other registration forms, all of which shall be consistent with this Amendment and uniform throughout the State.

Section 6. AFFIDAVITS OF REGISTRATION. (a) The front of the Affidavit of Registration shall contain the name of the County in which issued and:

(1) the voter's name, including given name, middle name or initial (if any), and last name, and, in the case of a woman, the given name shall be preceded by the designation of "Miss" or "Mrs.";

(2) the legal residence of the voter, including street address and house number if house numbers are used, otherwise such a description of the voter's legal residence as makes its location possible for determination of the voter's proper precinct, and length of time during which the voter has resided at the above address. If the voter resides at a hotel, motel, apartment house, boarding house or institution, such additional information is to be included as is necessary to determine the exact location of the legal residence of the voter;

(3) country or state and country of the voter's birth;

(4) if any voter is foreign born, how his American citizenship was acquired, including the name of the court granting the same, the place and date thereof, and if naturalized through another person, the name of such person;

(5) the month, day and year of birth of the voter;

(6) if the voter cannot read or write, this must be indicated;

(7) if the voter is unable to make a mark or cross on the Affidavit of Registration or on a ballot, this must be indicated;

(8) number or name of the voter's school district and number or name of the voter's precinct;

(9) the address in Arkansas where the voter was last registered, if any, and the name under which so registered; and

(10) the signature of the Permanent or Deputy Registrar who receives the voter's application to register.

(b) The back of the Affidavit of Registration shall contain:

(1) signature. When registering the voter shall manually sign with ink or indelible pencil the original and all copies of the Affidavit of Registration, the signature to include given name, middle name or initial (if any), and last name. If the voter is unable to sign his name, the voter, witnessed by the Permanent or Deputy Registrar, may sign with a mark or cross. If the voter signs with a mark or cross or is unable to sign or make a mark or a cross, the Permanent or Deputy Registrar shall so indicate in the space provided for the voter's signature, and must write in said space the month and day of the voter's birth;

(2) affidavit. Immediately above the space for the signature on the original and all copies must be printed an affidavit in which the voter swears or affirms that he has all qualifications required by the laws of this State to entitle him to vote and, thereafter, these words: "I, being duly sworn on oath (or affirmation), depose and swear (or affirm) to the best of my knowledge and belief that the statements hereon made by me are true and correct"; and

(3) record of voting. Immediately following the space for the signature of the voter on the Affidavit of Registration forms shall be printed a Record of Voting Form, which includes as many blank spaces as may be possible, each blank space sufficient to include a stamped date and the signature or mark of the voter, substantially as follows:

RECORD OF VOTING

Date..... .....

Signature

Date..... .....

Signature

(et cetera for as many spaces as possible)

(c) The State Board of Election Commissioners may require blank spaces for additional information, including supplements to the Record of Voting Form.

Section 7. REGISTRATION RECORD FILES. (a) In each county, the Permanent Registrar shall provide three active Registration Record Files for all voters legally resident within that county:

(1) the Permanent Registration File which shall contain, securely fastened, all original copies of the Affidavits of Registration in alphabetical order for the whole county without regard to precincts or other districts;

(2) a Precinct Registration File which shall contain, securely fastened in binders suitable for locking, all duplicate copies of the Affidavits of Registration, arranged and bound by precinct; and

(3) a Precinct Registration File which shall contain, securely fastened in binders suitable for locking, all triplicate copies of the Affidavits of Registration, arranged and bound by precinct.

(b) The Affidavits of Registration within the Precinct Registration Files shall be arranged in alphabetical order; provided, that the Affidavits of Registration in all or in some of such Files may be arranged by street and street number or on some other appropriate basis, and shall be so arranged at the direction of the County Board of Registration.

(c) In each county, the Permanent Registrar shall provide an Inactive Registration File which shall contain, securely fastened, all cancelled original Affidavits of Registration, arranged in alphabetical order for the whole county without regard to precincts or other districts.

(d) The appropriate Precinct Registration File or Files containing the duplicate copies of Affidavits of Registration shall be delivered to the polling places and used in all elections; provided, that the appropriate Precinct Registration File or Files containing the duplicate copies of the Affidavits of Registration shall be delivered to the polling places of the majority political party for use at party primary elections of such party and the appropriate Precinct Registration File or Files containing the triplicate copies of the Affidavits of Registration shall be delivered to the polling places of the minority political party for use at party primary elections of such party. Before being delivered to the appropriate County Board of Registration or other lawfully designated election officials for use at any election, the Affidavits of Registration in the Precinct Registration Files shall be securely fastened and locked.

(e) The County Board of Registration or other lawfully designated election officials shall cause the appropriate Precinct Registration Files to be at the polling places on the date of elections, and shall return them at the close of the election to the office of the Permanent Registrar with the ballot boxes.

Section 8. SPOILED AFFIDAVITS OF REGISTRATION. The Permanent Registrar shall give a receipt to the State Auditor for all blank Affidavits of Registration issued to the county and shall be strictly accountable to the State Auditor for the blanks provided. The Permanent Registrar must account for each blank set of Affidavits of Registration, whether unused, spoiled or in the proper Registration Record Files. If for any cause a blank Affidavit of Registration is spoiled or mutilated, it shall be stamped or written across the face of all copies of the blank form and all copies of the form shall be returned by the Permanent Registrar to the State Auditor. The State Auditor shall compile a record of the number of the spoiled or mutilated Affidavits of Registration, send a copy of such record to the Permanent Registrar, and then destroy the spoiled or mutilated Affidavits of Registration. By the first of June of each year the Permanent Registrar shall make an accounting of all Affidavits of Registration to the State Auditor.

Section 9. APPLICATION TO REGISTER. (a) All persons may register who:

(1) are qualified electors and who have not previously registered;

(2) will become qualified electors during the twenty (20) day period immediately prior to the next election scheduled within the county; or

(3) are qualified electors but whose registration has been cancelled or is subject to cancellation in a manner provided for by this Amendment.

(b) Registration shall be in progress at all times except during the twenty (20) day period immediately prior to any election scheduled within the county, during which period registration of voters shall cease for that election, but registration during such period shall be effective for subsequent elections.

(c) The original, duplicate and triplicate copies of all Affidavits of Registration submitted as applications for registration to the Permanent Registrar shall be filed promptly in the active Registration Record Files unless the applicant lacks one or more of the qualifications required by law of voters of this State. The quadruplicate copy of all Affidavits of Registration shall be given to each applicant immediately upon the acceptance of his application. The Permanent and Deputy Registrars are empowered to administer oaths for purposes of executing the Affidavits of Registration.

(d) If the Permanent Registrar has any reason to doubt the qualifications of an applicant for registration, he shall submit such application to the County Board of Registration and such Board shall make a determination with respect to such qualifications and shall instruct the Permanent Registrar regarding the same.

(e) If any person eligible to register as a voter is unable to register in person at the Permanent Registrar's office by reason of sickness or physical disability, the Permanent or Deputy Registrar shall register the applicant at his place of abode within such county, if practicable, in the same manner as if he had appeared at the Permanent Registrar's office.

(f) Notwithstanding other provisions of this Amendment, all members of the armed forces of the United States and their spouses when residing with or accompanying them, who are otherwise eligible, may vote without registration by absentee ballot in accordance with the laws of this State.

(g) Any person whose registration status or voting eligibility is affected adversely by an administrative determination under this Amendment may appeal such adverse determination within five (5) days of receipt of notice thereof to the County Board of Registration. The County Board of Registration shall act on such appeal and render its decision within ten (10) days of its receipt. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of such decision, any aggrieved party may appeal further to the Circuit Court of the county.

Section 10. TRANSFER AND CHANGE OF STATUS. (a) Upon a change of legal residence within the county, any registered voter may cause his resignation to be transferred to his new address by signing a mailed request to the Permanent Registrar, giving his present address and the address at which he was last registered, or by applying in person at the office of the Permanent Registrar. The Permanent Registrar shall strike through the last address and record the new address of the voter on the original, duplicate and triplicate copies of the Affidavit of Registration and upon the quadruplicate copy if it is presented for that purpose to the Permanent Registrar by the registered voter. The Permanent Registrar promptly shall make such appropriate changes in the Precinct Registration Files as necessitated by such change of address.

(b) Upon a change of legal residence to another county within the State of Arkansas, an eligible voter must register again and shall record his former address in the spaces provided for such purpose in the Affidavit of Registration.

(c) Upon a change of name by marriage or otherwise, an eligible voter must register again and shall record his former name in the spaces provided for such purpose in the Affidavit of Registration.

Section 11. CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION. (a) It shall be the duty of the Permanent Registrar to cancel the registration of voters:

(1) who have failed to vote in any election during four successive calendar years immediately preceding the first of January of any year;
(2) who have changed their residence to an address outside the county;
(3) who have died or changed their name;
(4) who have been convicted of felonies and not been pardoned; or
(5) who are not lawfully qualified or registered electors of this State, or of the county.

(b) It shall be the duty of the Permanent Registrar of each county upon the registration of a person who has been registered previously in another county to notify promptly the Permanent Registrar of such other county of the new registration.

(c) It shall be the duty of the Director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics to notify promptly the Permanent Registrar in each county of the death of all residents of such county.

(d) It shall be the duty of the Circuit Clerk of each county upon the conviction of any person of a felony to notify promptly the Permanent Registrar of the county of residence of such convicted felon.

(e) Within ten (10) days following the receipt or possession of information requiring any cancellation of registration, the Permanent Registrar shall write or stamp the word "cancelled" across the face of such original Affidavit of Registration and note the date of the cancellation, the reason for the cancellation, and the signature of the person cancelling in blank spaces provided thereon for such purposes. Such cancelled original Affidavit of Registration shall then be transferred to the Inactive Registration File and the duplicate and triplicate copies in the Precinct Registration Files shall then be destroyed.

(f) The Permanent Registrar shall send all persons whose Affidavits of Registration are cancelled in accordance with Section 11(a)(1) of this Amendment the following notice by first-class mail within ten (10) days after such cancellation: "NOTICE OF CANCELLATION OF VOTER REGISTRATION. Notice is hereby given that due to your failure to vote in any election in this county during the preceding four calendar years, under the laws of this State your voter registration has been cancelled. If you are still a qualified voter, you may register again at any time."

(g) The Permanent Registrar is authorized, and may be directed by the County Board of Registration, to determine by mail check, house to house canvass or any other reasonable means at any time within the whole or any part of the county whether active Record Registration Files contain the names of any persons not qualified by law to vote. Further, upon application based upon affidavits of one or more qualified voters by the Prosecuting Attorney for the county, the Circuit Judge of the county, for good cause shown, may order the Permanent Registrar to make such determination or to cancel the registration of such unqualified persons.

Section 12. LOSS OR DESTRUCTION OF AFFIDAVITS OF REGISTRATION. In the event any Registration Record File shall became lost or destroyed, or in the event that any Affidavit of Registration in any Registration Record File shall be mutilated or destroyed in any manner not authorized by this Amendment, the Permanent Registrar shall prepare, from the remaining Files, temporary copies of the Affidavits of Registration, if necessary for the conduct of any election. The Permanent Registrar shall send notice of such fact by first-class mail to any voter whose Affidavit has been lost, destroyed or mutilated in order that such voter may register again. The previous registration shall be cancelled at the time of the new registration, and in any event within sixty (60) days after mailing of such notice.

Section 13. SIGNATURE REQUIREMENT. (a) No voter shall receive a ballot at any election until a judge of the election has stamped the date and until the voter, in the presence of such judge, has signed his name, including his given name, his middle name or initial (if any), and his last name in the first unused space on the Record of Voting Form.

(b) No registered voter shall receive a ballot for any election unless the signature of the person on the Affidavit of Registration and his signature in the appropriate space on the Record of Voting Form thereon are deemed by the judges to be identical.

(c) No registered voter unable to sign his signature or unable to make his mark or cross in the appropriate space on the Record of Voting Form shall receive a ballot at any election unless the month and day of the person's birth, as then stated by him, conform to that entered in the space for the person's signature on the Affidavit of Registration by the Permanent or Deputy Registrar.

(d) Absentee voting shall be conducted in the same manner as now provided under the laws of the State; provided, that the Permanent Registrar shall determine that the signature on the application for absentee ballot is identical with the signature appearing on the voter's Affidavit of Registration before mailing or passing out an absentee ballot. The Permanent Registrar shall, upon permitting absentee voting in the manner hereinabove authorized, stamp in the first vacant and unused blank space in the Record of Voting Form the date of the forthcoming election and shall note thereafter the words "absentee ballot".

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section, if a voter presents himself at a polling place on the date of an election but no copy of his Affidavit of Registration can be located by the judges of the election in the Precinct Registration Files, such voter shall be permitted to vote when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) the voter surrenders the quadruplicate copy of his Affidavit of Registration;
(2) the voter signs such quadruplicate copy in accordance with Section 13(a), (b) and (c) of this Amendment;
(3) an election judge verifies the existence of an original Affidavit of Registration in the Permanent Registration File; and
(4) the original Affidavit of Registration reveals that the voter has presented himself at a precinct polling place where he is legally qualified to vote. The quadruplicate Affidavits of Registration so surrendered shall be returned to the Permanent Registrar with the Precinct Registration Files, and new registration shall thereupon be required in accordance with the procedure set out by Section 12 of this Amendment.

Section 14. LISTS OF VOTERS. (a) By the first day of June of each year, and at such other times as may be practicable, all Permanent Registrars shall, and at their discretion at other times may, print or otherwise duplicate and publish lists of registered voters by precincts, and may distribute such lists free of cost, or, with the approval of the County Board of Registration, at a price necessary to cover cost of publication. A copy of the most current such list in each precinct shall be furnished the election officials at each precinct at the time the ballot boxes are delivered and such election officials shall post said list at a conspicuous place in the polling area.

(b) By the first day of June of each year, the Permanent Registrar shall certify to the State Auditor the total number of registered voters in the county. The State Auditor shall tabulate the total number of registered voters in the State and shall make such information available to interested persons upon request.

Section 15. PENALTIES. (a) Any person who shall maliciously and intentionally destroy, steal, mutilate or unlawfully detain or obtain any Affidavits of Registration or any Registration Record Files shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or be imprisoned in the State Penitentiary for a period of not less than one (1) year nor more than five (5) years, or both.

(b) Any public official or election official who wilfully violates any provision of this Amendment shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall also be removed from such office.

(c) Any other person who wilfully violates any provision of this Amendment shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 16. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this Amendment or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Amendment which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Amendment are declared to be severable.

Section 17. EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS. This Amendment supersedes and repeals the requirement of Amendment No. 8 that a poll tax receipt be presented prior to registration or voting, and further supersedes and repeals Act 19 of 1964 and all other laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 18. APPROPRIATIONS. The General Assembly shall make such appropriations as may be required for the effectuation of this Amendment.

Section 19. AMENDMENT. The General Assembly may, in the same manner as required for amendment of laws initiated by the people, amend Sections 5 through 15 of this Amendment, so long as such amendments are germane to this Amendment, and consistent with its policy and purposes.

Section 20. SHORT TITLE. This Amendment shall be known as the "Arkansas Amendment for Voter Registration without Poll Tax Payment."

Section 21. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Amendment shall be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1965; provided, that for any elections held before March 1, 1965, those voters who are registered electors as of December 31, 1964, shall be permitted to vote in such election if otherwise qualified.

and by this, our petition, we order that the same be submitted to the people of said State to the end that it may be adopted or rejected by the vote of the legal voters at the regular general election to be held on the 3rd day of November, 1964, and each of us for himself or herself says: I have personally signed this petition; I am a legal voter of the State of Arkansas and my residence, post office address, and voting precinct are correctly written after my name.

Name	Residence	Post Office	Voting Precinct
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.
10.
11.
12.
13.
14.
15.
16.
17.
18.
19.
20.
21.
22.
23.
24.
25.

AFFIDAVIT TO PETITION

STATE OF ARKANSAS,
COUNTY OF _____

I, _____, being duly sworn, state: I circulated the above and foreging petition and each and all of the above-named persons signed the foregoing petition, and each and all of them signed his or her name thereto in my presence. To the best of my knowledge and belief each signature thereto is genuine; and each person signing the same has stated his or her name, address, residence, post office and voting precinct correctly and is a legal voter of the State of Arkansas.

Signature _____ Post Office _____

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1964.

_____
Clerk, Notary Public, Judge or Justice of the Peace.
(If above officer has seal, same must be affixed.)

My Commission expires:

_____

UNION PRINTING CO.

CONFUSED?

CARTOON REPRINTED COURTESY OF THE NORTH LITTLE ROCK TIMES

Make Voting Simple — Support Permanent Registration

ADVANTAGES OF PERMANENT REGISTRATION

REGISTER ONCE

* in person
* if you vote at least once every 4 years
* keep same name
* and continue to live in same county

FREE!!!

* no poll tax

CONTINUOUS REGISTRATION

* year round up to 20 days before any election
* more people will vote

PREVENTS FRAUD

* voter identified by signature
* legislature can amend act
* preserves registration forms and record of voting dates

STOPS 'BLOCK' VOTING

* each voter must register in person
* signatures are compared at polls

CUTS COST

* eliminates yearly registration
* eliminates reprinting lists

44 States Have Permanent Registration

— WHY NOT ARKANSAS?

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF PINE BLUFF

PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

Dear Sir,

We are sending you this copy of The Arkansas Amendment For Voter Registration in the hope that it will help you answer any questions asked of you.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs D.S. Jacobson

Mrs. D.S.Jacobson

Legislative Ch.

715,528 Arkansans, 2 of Every 3 Over 21, Pay Poll Tax for 1964

Arkansas Gazette

About two out of every three persons of voting age in Arkansas have a current paid poll tax receipt, a record high.

The final tally issued Monday by state Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones showed a total of 715,528 receipts issued prior to the October 2 deadline.

This tops by 81,869 the number issued in 1963, the previous high, and by 111,732 the number issued in the 1960 presidential year.

The 1960 federal census listed the voting age population at 1,043,269 and the population at 1,786,272.

Clay and Pulaski were the last counties to file their corrected final poll tax receipt totals with Jones.

Clay County issued 7,081 poll tax receipts this year against 6,950 last year and 6,076 in the 1960 presidential year.

Pulaski County corrected its previous totals to report issuing 94,267 poll tax receipts this year —731 below the previous report —against 80,878 in 1963 and 81,-316 in 1960.

There also were 2,009 free poll tax receipts issued this fall that entitle the holders to vote only for federal offices.

Jones said that only Fulton, Izard and Stone Counties did not show increases in receipts issued this year over last.

Jones attributed the increase to the intense interest generated by the presidential and gubernatorial elections and to the seven proposed constitutional amendments on the November 3 ballot.

The list of paid poll tax receipts issued this year as against 1960:

County	Poll Taxes Paid 1960	1964
Arkansas	8.109	9.078
Ashley	8.066	8.686
Baxter	4.810	5.773
Benton	14.561	15.393
Boone	7.874	7.872
Bradley	6.018	5.417
Calhoun	2.641	3.292
Carroll	4.862	5.526
Chicot	6.232	7.191
Clark	6.724	7.917
Clay	6.076	7.081
Cleburne	3.339	4.732
Cleveland	2.965	3.166
Columbia	7.771	9.119
Conway	7.002	8.974
Craighead	14.410	16.384
Crawford	7.280	8.946
Crittenden	8.082	11.247
Cross	5.190	5.946
Dallas	4.152	4.497
Desha	6.737	7.649
Drew	5.136	5.392
Faulkner	9.774	11.570
Franklin	4.824	5.682
Fulton	2.785	3.450
Garland	19.350	26.830
Grant	3.557	3.977
Greene	7.936	9.971
Hempstead	7.216	7.905
Hot Spring	8.094	9.083
Howard	4.129	4.633
Independence	7.748	9.056
Izard	2.900	3.314
Jackson	7.683	9.283
Jefferson	22.971	28.521
Johnson	5.002	5.772
Lafayette	3.489	3.885
Lawrence	6.190	7.529
Lee	4.146	5.158
Lincoln	4.032	5.044
Little River	3.864	4.197
Logan	6.311	7.041
Lonoke	8.452	9.786
Madison	5.474	5.811
Marion	2.864	3.401
Miller	10.828	12.296
Mississippi	14.431	19.518
Monroe	4.605	5.808
Montgomery	2.517	2.763
Nevada	4.088	4.605
Newton	3.523	3.370
Ouachita	11.150	15.931
Perry	2.152	3.187
Phillips	9.629	12.274
Pike	3.200	3.710
Poinsett	8.626	12.857
Polk	4.707	5.551
Pope	7.590	9.902
Prairie	3.838	4.461
Pulaski	81.316	94.267
Randolph	4.575	5.055
St. Francis	7.198	9.553
Saline	9.593	11.515
Scott	2.913	3.477
Searcy	4.397	4.034
Sebastian	23.484	26.981
Sevier	3.735	4.146
Sharp	2.694	3.805
Stone	2.811	3.365
Union	17.566	19.824
Van Buren	3.279	3.258
Washington	20.389	23.347
White	12.761	14.413
Woodruff	4.155	4.986
Yell	5.014	6.122
	603,795	715,528

Ark
V.S.

TO THE COLLECTOR:

_____COUNTY, ARKANSAS

Under authority of Act 480 of 1949, I hereby request my 19____ poll tax receipt be mailed to me at the address below. I am enclosing one dollar in payment.

Very truly yours,

Taxpayers Color

W or C_____

Ward or Voting

Precinct_____

Taxpayers Signature_____

Print Taxpayers Name_____

Taxpayers Address_____

Street or Route City

_____

_____

4

Received of

_____

($1.00) One Dollar

For payment of

19____ Poll Tax

Your Poll Tax Receipt will be mailed to you by the County Tax Collector.

_____

Agent.

Political Arkansas

Reprinted from THE JOURNAL OF NEGRO EDUCATION, Summer, 1957 Issue

EXPANSION OF NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN ARKANSAS*

TILMAN C. COTHRAN, Chairman, Department of Sociology

and

WILLIAM M. PHILLIPS, JR., Department of Sociology, Arkansas A. M. & N. College

Tilman

Bill

3 - Ark - Reg. Data

Arkansas County Fights Machine Rule

Wash. Post 7/23/62

Second of two articles

By Karl E. Meyer
Staff Reporter

The big tent in Arkansas is dominated by the gubernatorial campaign, in which Orval E. Faubus is fighting bitterly for re-election. But the outcry against machine rule is also heard in rural Conway County where an intense local drama is absorbing the state.

Pretty nearly everyone is agreed on three things. First, that Conway's Sheriff, Marlin Hawkins, is the last of an old breed of local bosses in Arkansas, a man whose whim can be law in a county of 15,430.

Second, that his chief tormentor, 35 - year - old Gene Wirges, is an exceptionally plucky country editor who for more than a year has been relentlessly attacking Sheriff Hawkins in the pages of the Morrilton Democrat ("Covers the Petit Jean Country Like the Sunshine").

And finally, there is agreement that the feud began last year when the voters of Morrilton, the county seat, were about to decide whether to adopt a city manager plan.

Wife and 3 Kids

Sheriff Hawkins, a barrel-chested and genial man who strolls around the courthouse in a sports-shirt, is disarmingly frank.

"I don't mess in city politics," he said, "but then they started talkin' about cleanin' out the courthouse. Hell, that's my bread and butter. I got a wife and three kids to send to school and my career is servin' the county — I been doin' it for 22 years."

The city manager plan was voted down, but the local temperature started zooming up as Wirges, in splashy front-page stories, charged that flagrant voting irregularities were commonplace. A grand jury was named, and was presented with detailed evidence; it came to the odd conclusion that no action was necessary because voting frauds were "customary" in Conway County.

Violent Reaction

Young Wirges, a redhead who was born in Little Rock, an hour's drive away, began to find it prudent to send his wife and four children to the capital for safety. His home was stoned, he was beaten up, he was threatened by telephone, and on several occasions called on friends to guard his house with shotguns.

DR. STANLEY GUTOWSKI
. . . saved the paper

GENE WIRGES
. . . baited the sheriff

SHERIFF MARLIN HAWKINS
. . . defender his bread and butter

Sheriff Hawkins disclaims any responsibility for thuggery and insists that Wirges is only dramatizing things. Sitting in his office, only a tumbleweed's roll from the tiny building in which the Democrat is printed, the sheriff retorts: "Hell, if I ran this place the way he runs his shop, I'd be out of here in no time."

There is no doubt that Wirges has been in financial straits since he bought the country weekly four years ago. His private affairs, however, were not helped when all the local banks and creditors began pressing simultaneously for cash.

As it happens, the sheriff is also the county collector, and he maintains that it is his "duty" to make Wirges pay. A judgment of $11,399.90 was imposed against Wirges, and it seemed that the fight was over on July 5 when the sheriff was about to auction off the Morrilton Democrat.

A Good Samaritan

Enter Dr. Stanley Gutowski, a good samaritan in neighboring Perry County who made out a personal check to save the paper from the auction block. Dr. Gutowski had not met Wirges; he was simply opposed to extinguishing a paper that he felt was performing a useful service.

Throughout, Wirges continued to level broadsides at the Sheriff while at the same time picking his way through a legal labyrinth of suits countersuits and Federal tax claims. The front page of his weekly (circulation about 3600) was packed with charges drawn from state audit records that Sheriff Hawkins, his wife and his deputies were using tax money for lavish car allowances and superfluous salaries.

On July 31, in the same primary in which the state will nominate a governor (Sheriff Hawkins is backing Faubus), the voters of Conway County will chose between rival slates. Sheriff Hawkins ("I know my people") is confident of the results: "I was here when Gene Wirges came. I'll be here when he leaves."

"The real issue," Wirges replies, "is not my personal problems but a battle over machine politics. If we get an honest count, we'll win."

In Morrilton, a tidy town with a model elementary school built with the help of Winthrop Rockefeller, who lives nearby, a gnarled filling-station attendant had the last word: "That young feller has got lots of spunk. I'll say that much."

1.27
S
TEAKS 20

Sample of Ark. Journ

APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT

COUNTY CLERK

JEFFERSON COUNTY

PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

Because of BEING OUT OF THE CITY, I will (state reason for absence) be absent from the voting precinct on the date of the PRIMARY election to be held on the _____ day of JUL 31 1962, 19 ____.

(To be used only when voter will be absent for both first and second primaries.)

I will also be absent from my voting precinct on the date of the second primary election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19 ____

Please mail (send by _____,
(name of relative)

my _____) an absentee ballot for the elections indicated (relation of voter) above.

My voting precinct in Jefferson County is _____.

My residence address is _____

Mail my ballot to me at _____

_____
(Signature of voter)

Behind the News

PINE BLUFF COMMERCIAL
Aug. 7. 1962

Negroes Man Polling Place in Primary

By BILL MILES
Commercial City Editor

Several years ago, a group of Negroes in Pine Bluff requested election officials assign Negro judges and clerks to help with election proceedings.

They in effect were put off. The officials, although not opposed to using Negro help at the polling places, believed tensions between the races to be too taut to begin such a practice.

The Jefferson County Democratic Central Committee assigned five Negro persons to help with last week's primary, and no complaints have been heard.

The five were used as judges and clerks in one of the Fourth Ward boxes in the city.

Pete Brewster, chairman of the commitee, said the five did yeoman service. As a matter of fact, they were so conscientious that they were pretty late in getting the results turned into persons tabulating the results at the Jefferson Courthouse.

A member of the central committee said the counts made by the Fourth Ward box officials were checked and rechecked a number of times to make sure that no accusation which might be made against them would stick. They chose to be late over the chance of human error that might have lasting repercussions.

MILES

Brewster worked with the five giving them the benefit of his many years of experience in running elections.

Because of the manner in which the five performed, there's not much doubt that the central committee, and the Jefferson County Board of Election Commissioners, which has the responsibility for conducting general elections, will continue to call on Negroes to help run the elections here.

When it became obvious that Governor Orval Faubus would go back into his chair without a run-off this year, we remarked to State Senator Knox Nelson, a strong Faubus supporter who was at the courthouse:

"We'll get him two years from now, Knox."

Nelson shot back something like:

"You can have him. I'll have a race of my own then."

Senators are elected for four-year terms. Nelson has two more years to go on his.

A few minutes after we had seen David Cox, the Weiner farmer who ran for governor and got arrested a couple of times in so doing, in Pine Bluff shortly before the election, we asked Sheriff Norton if he had seen Cox.

"Yep," the sheriff quipped. "We let him out on his own recognizance."

Ark Gazette 11/9/62

City Director

Position No. 4

Negro optometrist

Box	Jones.	Henson.	Tinsend.
1A1	62	137	55
1A2	35	32	81
1B1	21	18	281
1B2	8	20	208
1C1	49	137	47
1C2	42	108	70
1D1	66	180	129
1D2	63	163	142
1E1	52	97	291
1E2	82	157	201
1E3	56	106	329
2A	123	146	52
2B1	93	152	51
2B2	86	156	72
2C	90	174	130
2D	34	30	279
2E	45	43	480
3A	79	152	94
3B	84	157	36
3C	28	42	304
3D1	63	132	35
3D2	62	132	44
3E	92	295	63
3F1	95	337	81
3F2	96	357	74
3G	46	171	28
4A1	115	301	77
4A2	88	259	90
4A3	107	259	113
4B1	77	239	180
4B2	78	127	168
4C1	59	174	72
4C2	52	137	14
4D1	69	182	81
4D2	68	206	62
4D3	96	202	51
4E1	102	338	67
4E2	106	334	63
4F	73	389	54
4G1	29	160	36
4G2	46	142	54
4H1	68	216	47
4H2	77	277	49
5A1	58	197	43
5A2	58	186	49
5A3	65	186	48
5B1	67	283	46
5B2	56	260	47
5B3	81	253	43
5C1	30	227	33
5C2	36	221	24
5D1	62	545	60
5D2	90	489	78
5E1	39	321	33
5E2	56	236	28
5E3	53	356	59
5F1	46	239	49
5F2	45	280	26
5G1	77	407	73
5G2	29	160	32
5H	43	226	47
Absentees 3	22	64	35
4	28	96	8
5	43	80	24
6	29	72	41
Totals	3,998	12,550	7,783

ARKANSAS GAZETTE. January 12, 1963

Ark. Regist. Data

ALC Panel Okays Final Draft Of Voter Registration Bill

A final draft of a proposed voter registration bill requiring party loyalty in primaries was approved yesterday by a Legislative Council committee.

The bill will be introduced early in the legislative session which starts Monday so that interested parties may suggest amendments before it is called to a vote.

A party loyalty requirement has been in the bill all along but the committee inserted a sentence yesterday stating flatly: "No person shall be permitted to vote in any primary unless he registers as a member of the party holding the primary."

The proposal provides that the registrant must state party affiliation. This is not required under the poll tax system now used for keeping trac kof eligible voters.

Backers of the registration bill hope to pass it with a stipulation that it will not take effect unless an anti-poll tax amendment is approved for the United States Constitution.

Initial registration would be conducted between July 1 after the poll tax is outlawed and the third Tuesday of the following April.

In each succeeding year, registration would be conducted between January 1 and the third Tuesday in April. Registration would not be permitted except during this period.

Arkansas Gazette
1-19-63

AY, JANUARY 17

House Receives Seven Measures Voting Laws

Registration Plan And Date Changes Included in Bills

By ROY REED
Of the Gazette Staff

Seven bills were introduced in the House yesterday to change the state's election laws.

They were:

1. HB 38 by Representatives Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County, Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and J. P. Walt of Jefferson County to establish a voter registration system to replace the poll tax if it is made illegal by federal Constitution now under federal Constitutoin now under consideration.

2. HB 39 by Representatives Ledbetter and Jim Brandon of Pulaski County to codify the primary laws.

3. HB 43 by Ledbetter to implement Amendment 54 to the state Constitution, the voting machine measure adopted by the voters in November.

4. HB 25 by Representative Glenn F. Walther of Pulaski County setting out the method of buying voting machines.

5. HB 26 by Representative Milt Earnhart of Sebastian County to change the date of primaries from the second Tuesday in August (with the preferential primary two weeks prior to that) to the last Tuesday in May.

6. HB 30 by Earnhart to permit television stations to show the ballot the day before an election to familiarize the voters with it.

7. HB 29 by Earnhart to require write-in candidates and all independents to pay the same filing and ballot fees as the nominees of political parties.

Far-reaching Proposal

The voter registration bill is far-reaching and comprehensive. It would establish a permanent registration system to replace the present poll tax system. It would not go into effect until the first July after the adoption of the federal amendment outlawing the poll tax for voting. The necessary three-fourths of the states are expected to ratify the amendment this year but there is no way of knowing whether that will be done before this July.

The bill sets out an elaborate and seemingly tamper-proof way of handling registration. The state auditor would print the registration forms in duplicate and each form would have its number. The forms would go to the county clerks. The voters would fill them out and sign an affidavit on the back swearing that they had given correct information. The duplicate copies would be kept in one file by the county clerk. The originals would go into precinct books and would be taken to the voting places each election day. When a voter came to vote, his name would be found in the book. Under the signature on his affidavit he would be required to sign his name again so the election judges could compare the two signatures and thereby keep down forgeries and illicit voting.

The bill would enforce party loyalty. Each precinct would have three books—one each for the Democrats, Republicans and independents. The voter would name his party or independent preference when registering and his name would go into that book only.

Under HB 39, the proposed recodification of the primary laws, the Democrats and Republicans would not be required any longer to hold their elections in the same polling places. That law is not followed now.

Party loyalty or disloyalty would not matter in general elections under HB 38.

The county clerk would check the registration forms every two years. The name of any voter who had not voted during the last two years would be taken from the list. He would have to register again before being allowed to vote.

The first registration would be conducted between July 1 and the third Tuesday of the next April. Thereafter, it would be conducted between January 1 and the third Tuesday in April. Registration would not be permitted except during that period.

Chance for Amendments

Ledbetter, who was chairman of a Legislative Council subcommittee that worked up the bill, had said that the bill would be filed early in the session to give other legislators a chance to add amendments.

Comparative table of recent immigration levels and oversubscribed quotas to existing quotas and quotas proposed under 1963 bill, principal countries contributing to recent immigration file art.

V-R
CR-2-7-63
p.1916

	Present quota	Average immigration, 1951–60	Proposed quotas	Immigrants registered oversubscribed quotas
Europe:
Austria	1,405	2,968	2,595	4,590
Belgium	1,297	1,292	1,710	----------
Czechoslovakia	2,859	2,880	3,357	----------
Denmark	1,175	1,370	1,293	3,071
Finland	566	668	792	2,992
France	3,069	3,802	6,172	7,756
Germany	25,814	34,545	25,000	----------
Greece	308	4,844	3,458	105,659
Hungary	865	6,455	4,556	17,470
Ireland	17,756	6,455	17,756	----------
Italy	5,666	18,700	15,648	268,723
Latvia	235	1,913	2,292	1,709
Lithuania	384	1,186	1,841	2,286
Netherlands	3,136	4,719	3,902	8,666
Norway	2,364	2,467	2,364	----------
Poland	6,488	12,798	13,848	57,657
Portugal	438	2,043	1,892	50,559
Rumania	289	1,743	2,441	13,892
Spain	250	1,072	2,614	16,396
Sweden	3,295	1,886	3,295	----------
Switzerland	1,698	1,719	1,698	3,392
Turkey	225	684	2,367	18,123
United Kingdom	65,361	~~20,887~~ 1,172,666	25,000	[1] 48,573
U.S.S.R.	2,697	4,650	6,487	8,613
Yugoslavia	942	5,866	5,295	79,732
Asia:
China	205	3,274	5,335	[2] 2,860 [3] 22,000
India	100	314	3,233	14,057
Indonesia	100	1,012	3,789	8,576
Iran	100	291	1,586	10,384
Iraq	100	190	458	7,320
Israel	100	935	810	15,196
Japan	185	4,467	5,378	8,882
Jordan	100	511	507	3,194
Korea	100	702	2,616	1,192
Lebanon	100	337	365	5,358
Philippines	100	1,809	2,913	8,124
Africa:
Morocco	100	216	964	5,278
Tunisia	100	137	259	4,518
Union of South Africa	100	232	1,243	3,286
United Arab Republic	100	618	1,670	11,966
Oceania:
Australia	100	500	1,344	4,982
New Zealand	100	189	397	1,586

[1] Subquota areas: 1,329,946

Antigua	583
Bahamas	762
Barbados	2,923
Bermuda	178
British Guiana	2,827
British Honduras	2,686
British Virgin Islands	886
Grenada	952
Hong Kong	510
Jamaica	25,614
Malta	5,644
Montserrat	424
St. Christopher	1,043
St. Lucia	114
St. Vincent	496
Trinidad	2,931

1,350,835

[2] Whites.
[3] Chinese.

Van Dalsem Filibuster Stalls Attempt to Kill Literacy Test Proposal

Ark U-R

ARK GA2.2-5-63

By ROY REED
Of the Gazette Staff

A group of House members tried to kill a literacy test amendment on a voter registration bill yesterday but Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County stalled the attempt with a filibuster.

The maneuvering is expected to continue this morning. The House will meet at 10 a. m.

Representative Jim Brandon of Pulaski County made an unexpected move to kill the amendment during the "morning hour," the first hour of the legislative day, which customarily is for routine, non-controversial business. He submitted an amendment to strike the literacy test amendment, which was adopted by a lackadaisical voice vote during a lull Wednesday. Several members did not know the literacy amendment had been adopted until it was done.

Van Dalsem, the author of the registration bill (HB 38), pounced on Brandon's striking amendment and tied it up in the morning hour. Business begun in the morning hour must be finished before the expiration of the hour or be carried over until the next day. An opponent of a measure caught in the morning hour can keep it in limbo indefinitely by filibustering each day during the morning hour.

Talks 30 Minutes

Van Dalsem's filibuster lasted about 30 minutes. Speaker Marion H. Crank than exercised his prerogative and declared the morning hour expired prematurely. Crank, who has known Van Dalsem for years, did not doubt that Van Dalsem could speak a full hour. Van Dalsem will have the floor when the House convenes today.

Representative Talbot Feild Jr. of Hempstead County, author of the literacy test amendment, said he had a compromise amendment prepared and might offer it today.

Opponents of the literacy provision were in no humor for compromise when they left yesterday.

The opposition lobby included such disparate elements as Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County and the Women's Emergency Committee. The League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women also had representatives working against it.

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas (Negro) Democratic Voters Association, said that his group was opposed to the bill and that he hoped the Association leadership in the counties would contact their representatives to ask them to oppose it. McClinton said he hoped that "a state that is progressing economically and industrially would think a long time before passing this kind of legislation." He thought the bill would be unconstitutional because it would disfranchise many voters.

Some Eastern Arkansas representatives reportedly were uneasy about the literacy test. One had to be assured privately that Feild's test would not be mandatory for all voters trying to register. The man explained that his county had about 600 Negroes who could not read or write and a mandatory literacy test would disfranchise them. He indicated that the 600 supported him.

Some Southern states have used literacy tests to keep Negroes from voting. Feild said he had no such intention with his amendment. He said at least 18 states, South, had literacy tests. A literacy test encourages people to become literate, he said.

His amendment would give a vote registrar authority to test a person trying to register. The person could be required to read and give a "reasonable interpretation" of anv part of the Arkansas Constitution.

Governor Faubus apparently had nothing to do with promoting the Feild amendment.

More Amendments

Other amendments to the registration bill are expected before the measure comes to a vote. Brandon said he would offer another to strike a provision requiring voters to register by party affiliation. He said several legislators felt 'hat that provision would strengthen the Republican Party.

The registration bill is to replace the poll tax system if three-fourths of the states ratify an amendment to the federal Constitution outlawing the poll tax in federal elections. Four states have ratified it.

Now, 50 Years Late, A 'Mississippi Bill'

The attempt to load down a model voter registration bill with the ultimate anachronism of a "literacy" test is most unfortunate in its timing. It is almost as if the sponsors had searched the whole record over for one single area where members of the General Assembly had not been invited to make themselves look ridiculous in recent years and then had moved forthwith into the breach to remedy the deficiency.

The questionable tactics employed in rushing the thing to a House vote while Wednesday's opening prayer was still reverberating was admission enough of the poverty of the sponsors' case—and reason for its rejection after any sort of thought and consideration.

However, the literacy test amendment deserves rejection on its own demerits, and one of the sponsors—Representative Talbot Feild of Hempstead County—was helpful enough to pinpoint some of the more obvious holes in his own logic in comments made to reporters after Wednesday's vote was taken.

Mr. Feild said for example that, as of 1956, 18 states—by no means all of them in the South—had some sort of literacy requirements for voting. What Mr. Feild did not elaborate upon was what had happened to these 18 supposed examples since 1956—through judicial review and the amending process.

Another, more simple, description of the proposal heard in the wake of the House vote was that it was nothing more than a "Mississippi bill." This description is so simple as to be a little oversimplified, perhaps, but insofar as it is an accurate one, it needs to be said once again that Arkansas is not Mississippi. If it was felt that Arkansas needed Mississippi-type voting laws, then the time to have started working for their passage was a half century or so ago—not at a time when the courts are systematically engaged in throwing out such obvious and deliberate attempts to deny one segment of the population the most basic of all citizenship rights. The courts aside, to attempt at this late date to impose Mississippi-type restrictions upon second and third-generation Negro voters is to ask for trouble, the like of which even we in Arkansas haven't seen yet.

★ ★ ★

TODAY, there is an overwhelming and inescapable national consensus that the poll tax must go — if only for the principle of the thing. We agree — for the principle of the thing—although the poll tax has not been used in Arkansas for purposes of consciously attempting to limit the franchise for quite a few years now, and therefore has not, in our view, represented any practical disability to any class of our citizenship. Against the prospect of an imminent constitutional ban on all systems of registration by poll tax, serious men, both in and out of the Arkansas Legislature, have spent a lot of time in trying to draft a workable registration system to take its place. The attempt to complicate their labors by adding a literacy test requirement does a great disservice to them—and to all the people of Arkansas.

Lest there be any lingering mistake about it, what Representative Feild is trying to do is institute a wholly new (for Arkansas) class of civil disability—"suspicion of illiteracy." Under terms of Mr. Feild's proposal, voter registration officers are charged with detecting this condition in prospective voters (presumably by occult means) and then proving or disproving their suspicions by demanding that the applicant "interpret" any or all sections of the Arkansas Constitution, the logic and validity of the answers received to be determined by the same voter registration officer (the county clerk, under provisions of the original bill).

The first and most obvious question is, of course, "who will test the testers?" And the simplest way to dispose of the whole matter would be for those persons who are quite sure they can "interpret" the state Constitution to somebody else's (anybody else's) satisfaction to go ahead and support it, and for all the rest of us to say, "No. Huh-uh!"

Arkansas Gazette

2-8-63

AM & N Bill For Branch Is Offered

Ark Gazette file ARKV-R 2-9-63 p. 5A

A bill to allow Arkansas AM and N College of Pine Bluff to establish a junior college in Southwest Arkansas was introduced yesterday by Senator Nathan G. Coulter of Nashville.

The establishment of the college and its location would have to be approved by the Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance. The Board of Trustees of AM and N would operate the school.

The measure, SB 191, made no appropriation but the bill did authorize the Board of Trustees to accept gifts and grants for the school.

Other introductions included:

SB 188 by Senator Max Howell to require non-profit organizations to file corporation papers and to prohibit them from issuing stock or paying dividends. Howell said the bill was designed to control private clubs.

SB 190 by Senator John O. Moore of Texarkana to subject the net income of national banks, federal savings and loan banks and other institutions chartered under federal laws to corporation income state taxes.

VEP 1B

Arkansas Gazette.

Classified Ads

LITTLE ROCK, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1963.

—Staff Photo by Rodney Dungan

Point of Order Before a Walkout

The hand of Representative Paul Van Dalsem gestures for recognition as Mrs. John D. Reid begins to read her statement on the registration bill. Chairman Glenn F. Walther overruled Van Dalsem, who then walked out. Representative Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland County is seated beside Mrs. Reid.

Van Dalsem and Feild Leave Hearing As AAUW Leader Makes Appearance

By BILL LEWIS
Of the Gazette Staff

Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County led a walkout yesterday during the House Rules Committee hearing on the voter registration bill, protesting the appearance of Mrs. John D. Reid of Little Rock, legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women.

Representative Talbot Feild Jr. of Hempstead County followed, leaving chairman Glenn F. Wal-before a notary public, and return them to the county clerk's office.

Protest Is Lodged

This brought a protest from E. Allen Sheppard, clerk of Jefferson County, who said that since the forms would be numbered serially he was certain the clerks would not want to release them indiscriminately.

Before the walkout, the Committee had acted on some pro-

The Committee turned down by a three-to-one vote another proposed amendment by Representative C. B. Nance Jr. of Crittendon County to eliminate the requirement that the voter show his party registration.

Van Dalsem protested that this would gut the bill and that if the amendment were added, he'd vote against the whole bill.

Claims Aid for GOP

Nance argued that the require-

Voter Bill Snarled; Croxton to Submit A Fresh Proposal

Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County will give the House a chance to start afresh on a voter registration bill.

He said he would introduce a new bill today that he believed would be acceptable to the House.

Voter registration, one of the important issues before the 1963 legislature, has bogged down in procedural difficulties. The original registration bill, HB 38, is being loaded down with amendments from all sides and now is in the Rules Committee.

Croxton said many representatives agreed that HB 38 was in trouble and probably would not pass because of the difficulties in trying to amend it. He began drafting the replacement bill yesterday.

Croxton's bill will attempt to meet a number of objections that have come up to HB 38.

No Literacy Test

It will have no literacy test. The House voted last week against two literacy tests but there was lingering talk yesterday of bringing up still another version.

The Croxton bill will include a long series of mainly clerical changes requested by the County Clerks Association. That apparently will guarantee the clerks' support.

Croxton said that one amendment the clerks already had attached to HB 38 would be revised in his bill. The bill originally would have required a county clerk to return all damaged or soiled affidavits of registration to the state auditor. The amendment would have allowed the clerk himself to destroy the affidavits.

Opposition has been building in the House against that provision by members who see a chance for

Arkansas Gazette.

LITTLE ROCK, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1963.

Classified Ads

—Staff Photo by Rodney Dungan

Point of Order Before a Walkout

The hand of Representative Paul Van Dalsem gestures for recognition as Mrs. John D. Reid begins to read her statement on the registration bill. Chairman Glenn F. Walther overruled Van Dalsem, who then walked out. Representative Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland County is seated beside Mrs. Reid.

Van Dalsem and Feild Leave Hearing As AAUW Leader Makes Appearance

By BILL LEWIS
Of the Gazette Staff

Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County led a walkout yesterday during the House Rules Committee hearing on the voter registration bill, protesting the appearance of Mrs. John D. Reid of Little Rock, legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women.

Representative Talbot Feild Jr. of Hempstead County followed, leaving chairman Glenn F. Walther of Pulaski County, Chadd L. Durrett of Union and Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland. Mays also withdrew a few minutes later, explaining that he had to round up members for another hearing.

Although the Committee has 12 members, those five had been making Committee decisions on amendments as the chairman declared that he could "see" a quorum present. Van Dalsem stopped at the door on the way out and suggested that the chairman could no longer "see" a quorum. Walther couldn't, so the Committee could not act on any more amendments or on the bill itself.

At Odds Before

Van Dalsem and the AAUW have tangled before. When Mrs. Reid began reading her statement, the first sentence aroused him. He interrupted and said she was out of order for speaking on the original bill, not the bill as amended. Walther overruled him.

Van Dalsem muttered something about no action without a quorum and left, urging others to join him. Durrett declined the invitation, saying he had promised to stay and hear the women out.

Mrs. Reid's opening sentence was a request that the Committee support a bill "identical in all basic respects to the one presented to the House by the Legislative Council Committee," which she said had been worked on for two years and insured to the people "the proper protection for their votes."

Mrs. Reid's statement went on to appeal for retention of the provision requiring each person to sign his own voter registration application. This, she said, would serve as a double-check against multiple-voting. She suggested that the head of the family might take the application forms home, have them signed by the other eligible members of the family before a notary public, and return them to the county clerk's office.

Protest Is Lodged

This brought a protest from E. Allen Sheppard, clerk of Jefferson County, who said that since the forms would be numbered serially he was certain the clerks would not want to release them indiscriminately.

Before the walkout, the Committee had acted on some proposed amendments, adopting one that Representative Nathan L. Schoenfeld of Garland County charged was simply another literacy requirement in mild disguise. An outright literacy requirement had been approved, then defeated earlier in the House, after Governor Faubus had made know his preference for a bill without it.

This amendment by Representative Clyde Kinslow of Pope County would require that voters fill out their own application for permanent registration. This would include not only the signature but also 11 other items of information on the form.

Schoenfeld, who is not a Committee member, declared that it "does a great deal more than it purports—it means that no one can register or vote unless he can write. It cuts out us illiterates. I think it is unfair and unconstitutional."

The Committee turned down by a three-to-one vote another proposed amendment by Representative C. B. Nance Jr. of Crittendon County to eliminate the requirement that the voter show his party registration.

Van Dalsem protested that this would gut the bill and that if the amendment were added, he'd vote against the whole bill.

Claims Aid for GOP

Nance argued that the requirement would have the effect of creating a strong Republican Party in the state. Only Feild voted for the amendment.

There was some confusion as to whether Kinslow's amendment conflicted with one already adopted by the House. The earlier one, submitted by Representative G. D. Smith Jr. of Lincoln County, would allow a husband, wife, son, daughter, sister, brother, father or mother to fill out the affidavit of registration for persons unable to register in person.

Walther said it appeared to him that the two amendments were in conflict and he said informally after the hearing that he was against all of the bill in its present (amended) form.

With resignation, Walther said his only alternative was to set another hearing for next week—No. 4 by the House Committee on this single bill—and ask then for a do-pass or do-not-pass vote.

Voter Bill Snarled; Croxton to Submit A Fresh Proposal

Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County will give the House a chance to start afresh on a voter registration bill.

He said he would introduce a new bill today that he believed would be acceptable to the House.

Voter registration, one of the important issues before the 1963 legislature, has bogged down in procedural difficulties. The original registration bill, HB 38, is being loaded down with amendments from all sides and now is in the Rules Committee.

Croxton said many representatives agreed that HB 38 was in trouble and probably would not pass because of the difficulties in trying to amend it. He began drafting the replacement bill yesterday.

Croxton's bill will attempt to meet a number of objections that have come up to HB 38.

No Literacy Test

It will have no literacy test. The House voted last week against two literacy tests but there was lingering talk yesterday of bringing up still another version.

The Croxton bill will include a long series of mainly clerical changes requested by the County Clerks Association. That apparently will guarantee the clerks' support.

Croxton said that one amendment the clerks already had attached to HB 38 would be revised in his bill. The bill originally would have required a county clerk to return all damaged or soiled affidavits of registration to the state auditor. The amendment would have allowed the clerk himself to destroy the affidavits.

Opposition has been building in the House against that provision by members who see a chance for abuse if a tight check is not kept on the affidavit forms. The forms would be numbered and each would represent a potential vote. Croxton's bill will require that the forms be returned to the auditor.

Signing Requirement

The Croxton bill will restore a requirement that a prospective voter must sign his own registration affidavit. The House has approved an amendment striking that provision in HB 38 on the request of members who said that a member of a voter's family should be allowed to register for him. Opponents fought it on the ground that allowing that freedom would make it too easy to continue the venerable but illegal custom of officials' packing the voter rolls.

The legislature is trying to come up with a replacement for the poll tax. The Legislative Council recommended a registration system and Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, a veteran legislative leader for the Faubus administration, agreed to sponsor it. The poll tax will not be legal if three-fourths of the states ratify a proposed amendment to the federal constitution outlawing it, and already four states have approved it.

Arkansas Gazette
2-16-63
VEP

Bill by Sprick Hits at Negro Voting Slates

Senator Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock introduced a bill Friday that he says is aimed at stopping the "exploitation" during elections of "poor, ignorant voters," by which he means Negroes.

The bill (SB 235) would prohibit the solicitation of money from political candidates for placing their names on printed slates. It also would prohibit the distribution of such slates on election day and would prohibit voters from carrying them into polling places.

Sprick said yesterday that the bill was directed at such persons as I. S. McClinton, Bishop O. L. Sherman and Jeffrey Hawkins—all of whom are or have been political powers among Little Rock and North Little Rock Negroes.

Bishop Sherman was transferred recently. He had been influential in North Little Rock for years. McClinton and Hawkins have worked for years with Negro political groups.

Sprick said that positions on the political slates he had in mind were sold to the candidate who bid the most money. The voters who go along with the slates simply carry them into the polling places and blindly follow the recommended list, he said.

Sprick said he didn't know of any whites who organized such slates.

Slates are very much a part of the political picture in the Negro communities of Little Rock and North Little Rock. Their actual effectiveness is an unknown quantity but the cautious politicians give them the benefit of the doubt.

Arkansas Gazette 2-22-69

Registration Bill Is Okayed By Committee

The House Rules Committee finished amending a proposed voter registration bill (HB 38) yesterday and put a "do pass" recommendation on it.

The amendments adopted yesterday were technical and made administrative changes asked by the County Clerk's Association.

The Committee approved last week a modest literacy requirement which would make each registrant fill out his application in his own handwriting. There is another amendment already adopted by the House, which would permit registration by close relatives of the voters.

The Committee did not act on a substitute bill (HB 424) introduced by Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County, Croxton's bill basically is the same as the other bill before amendment.

From the People

Arkansas Gazette
2-22-63

Fair Voter Registration Is a Basic

To the Editor of the Gazette:

It appears that the fond hopes of a patient electorate for something like a fair election are going to be nipped again by the monkeyshines of the legislature, tampering with any attempt to get a fair registration law.

In the House, a move to make every voter do his own registering was tossed out on the lame excuse that "most husbands buy their wife's poll tax." If they would stop with the wife, it might not be so bad, but some of them get so carried away with the idea they buy one for everyone in the family who is still warm.

Look at this county! In 1961 it stuck its chest out half way to Little Rock because we led the rest of the state in percentage of poll taxes per capita. Out of the 5,947 people who inhabit this county 53 per cent had poll taxes. If anyone had stopped to consider he would have known we had to borrow some people from somewhere for a distorted figure like that.

That is just what we did—from adjoining counties (where they also had poll taxes) and from our neighboring states. One of our politicos who trails his fingers through the public trough for a monthly handout, became so enthusiastic that he not only bought a poll tax for his wife, and himself, but for his daughter, and husband who haven't lived in Arkansas for 25 years, and for his grandson and wife, and granddaughter and husband—and the in-laws have never been in Arkansas, much less hold any claim to residency. Apparently they thought we were incapable of electing our own officials, for each of them butted in with a ballot for the absentee box.

California furnished us with an amazing number of voters, as did Houston, Tex.

★ ★ ★

Those in our community who would like to see a fair election began to breathe more hopefully with the thought that if each fellow had to do his own registering, some of this outside interference might be stopped.

This writer, before marrying an Arkansas man, lived in a state where the registration system prevails.

When the registrar of voters removed her name from the list of eligible voters along with the others who had moved away, nothing was thought of it, because she had always believed that a married woman must take her husband's legal residence.

(Communications on any subject are welcome. Letters should be under 500 words and typewritten if possible. All letters are subject to editing to meet space requirements. Each letter must be signed although signatures will be withheld on request. No letter will be returned unless self - addressed envelope is enclosed.—Editor)

Not so in Arkansas! It is amazing how many people are unwilling to cut the political umbilical cord, for when they marry and move elsewhere, they still appeared at home on the poll book as "Mrs. Mary Jones." They are probably Mrs. John Jones where they reside with their husbands.

It isn't Khrushchev and his Commies who are destroying our precious right to vote. It is our own legislature backed by an apathetic electorate.

Don't just sit there! Do something!

Collar your representative or senator and tell him that his mighty office doesn't belong to him, but to the people of the country and that you want a Fair Registration Law, and that you are holding him accountable.

Then sit back and watch it bring results.

"Ima Voter".

Hampton.

P. S. My representative isn't six feet from my elbow as I write!

Arkansas Gazette
VE 2-22-63

—Staff Photo

SENATOR SPRICK

Sprick Attacks Negro Leaders; Bill Is Passed

Senator Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock said yesterday in the Senate that Negro leaders frequently solicit money from political candidates to place their names on recommended voting lists for circulation among the voters.

"I say here that the Negro is being exploited by the members of his own race," Sprick said.

Sprick made a fiery speech on behalf of SB 235, and it passed, 33-0. The measure, which Sprick introduced Friday, would prohibit the solicitation of money from political candidates for placing their names on printed slates. The bill would also prohibit the distribution of recommended slates on election day and would make it unlawful for voters to carry such a list into a polling place for reference while marking their ballot.

A violation would be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $300 to $1,000 or a prison sentence of up to one year. Election officials who fail to report violations would be subject to a $100 fine.

Sprick aimed most of his remarks at two Little Rock Negroes, I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas (Negro) Democratic Voters Association, and Jeffrey L. Hawkins, president of the East End Civic League.

Sprick denied a charge that McClinton made earlier in the week that he (Sprick) hired Negroes to circulate a voting list with his name on it the last time he ran for office. "Gentlemen, I didn't do that," Sprick said. "A friend of mine did, and he had those poor people in such a state of confusion they didn't know who in the world to vote for."

Sprick also criticized Bishop O. L. Sherman of the African Methodist - Episcopal Church. Sherman lived at North Little Rock until last fall when he was transferred to Waco, Tex.

A Means of Harassment

Senator Dan Sprick had to do no more than scream "Negro bloc voting," and the Senate was off and running on his bill to eliminate the use of slates of recommended candidates. Specifically, Senate Bill 235 would make it illegal for any candidate to pay to have his name put on such a slate, would bar the publication of such slates on election day and would prohibit any individual from taking such a slate into the polling place. SB 235 was approved 33 to 0 by the Senate.

The House members ought to examine this measure more thoughtfully than their colleagues in the "upper" chamber apparently have. The measure's principal effect will be to provide a means of harassment, not merely for Negroes, but for any opponents of an incumbent office-holder.

How, for instance, can it clearly be established whether or not a candidate paid to have his name put on a slate? Perhaps the senator is prepared to police against such offenses, or perhaps he would have us take the word of an opposing candidate. The prohibition against an individual's taking such a slate into the polling place with him is unworkable and dangerous. With Pulaski County's 11-man House delegation and its three senators, your average citizen may need to prepare a slate for himself and his wife to remember not to vote for Dan Sprick—or perhaps even to vote for him. The senator would need, then, to provide some ready test for showing whether a slate was drawn up by the person voting or by someone else.

The only way in which the measure could be made to work against Negro bloc voting and not against all individuals would be for it to be applied with an uneven hand. If that is what Senator Sprick has in mind, his bill is an offense against democracy.

Arkansas Gazette 2-25-63

Ark Gaz. 2-27-63

'Fresh' Voter Bill Amended in House; Loses Some Appeal

By ROY REED
Of the Gazette Staff

The House yesterday put what the opponents call a "graveyard" amendment on Representative Hardy W. Croxton's new voter registration bill, HB 424.

The amendment probably will make the bill somewhat less acceptable to those legislators who saw the Croxton bill as a fresh hope when the session's first registration bill, HB 38, got bogged down in amendments.

The HB 424 amendment would allow a member of a person's immediate family to register for him to vote. Croxton said that would encourage abuse. He had described the provision earlier as one to allow unscrupulous machine politicians to vote dead people.

By Van Dalsem

Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, author of the amendment, said he would not have anything to do with it if he thought it would lead to anything crooked in elections. He said he wanted it added to the bill because everybody should be encouraged to vote.

Author's Stand

Representative G. D. Smith Jr. of Lincoln County, another proponent of the amendment, said it would allow continuation of the present system in which a husband may pay his wife's poll tax.

The poll tax probably is on its way out because of a proposed federal amendment to outlaw it. Other states are ratifying the amendment quickly. That's why Arkansas is considering a registration system.

The House adopted the Van Dalsem amendment 51-35, not a vote to spare.

Another proposed amendment that stirred controversy was defeated 44-46. It was one by Representative Cecil B. Nance Jr. of Crittenden County to strike a clause in HB 424 requiring registration by political party.

Nance said that the party loyalty clause would promote the Republican Party instead of hurt it as some believe. Many who are angry at the national Democratic Party will register as Republicans, thus inflating the GOP rolls and encouraging the Republicans to hold more primaries, he said.

Van Dalsem, the original author of the party loyalty clause in HB 38, opposed Nance. Without party registration, the Republicans would vote in both Republican and Democratic primaries, he said.

Other Actions

In other action, the House passed:

★ SB 191 to permit AM and N College at Pine Bluff (all-Negro) to establish a branch in Southwest Arkansas, with approval of the Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance, 80-7.

★ SB 194 to close the Confederate Home, transfer the residents to nursing homes and turn the building over to the Blind and Deaf Schools Board, 94-0.

★ SB 122 requiring out-of-state insurance companies to deposit $50,000 in securities or a $50,000 surety bond with the state insurance commissioner for protection of Arkansas policyholders, 92-0. The companies now must deposit $20,000 in securities or meet other requirements.

Two Hours Earlier

The House will meet at 10 a. m. today, two hours earlier than usual. It hopes to pass several non-controversial bills and send them to the Senate to avoid trapping them in the customary end-of-the-session logjam. The session has two weeks to run.

Asheville Gazette 2-25-63

'Cemetery' Amendment

The "new" voter registration bill, HB 424 by Representative Hardy Croxton, has now been amended to include some of the defects of the original measure. Not surprisingly, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, the author of the earlier bill, led the fight to weaken Croxton's proposal.

The damage done by Mr. Van Dalsem is not fatal, however, and the Croxton bill may still work its way through the House as an effective piece of legislation. Mr. Croxton ought to try to eliminate the worst portions of the Van Dalsem amendment whenever his measure comes up again.

Van Dalsem's amendment provides (1) that members of a person's immediate family could register for him and (2) that a person be permitted to vote absentee without ever having registered in person. Both provisions clearly weaken the safeguards in the bill. The latter defect, however, seems more fundamental.

The amendment was passed because of a feeling in the House that it would be unsafe for legislators to go back home if they made registration requirements too stringent. Under the poll tax system, there is no requirement that the tax be paid in person; in fact, probably more poll taxes are paid by mail than by any other method. But Mr Croxton had hoped to incorporate into the registration bill a basic reform, and he has now been rebuffed by the House. The requirement for registration in person did not seem unduly harsh in a permanent registration system. Even though Mr. Croxton's proposal would have improved the situation, however, this part of the Van Dalsem amendment will not be intolerable where it is honestly and justly administered.

The provision permitting absentee registration and then absentee voting, however, so weakens the bill that a serious effort ought to be made to excise it. There would be no opportunity for the voter registrar to determine the fundamental question of whether there is a real live body to back up the vote. Such loose control opens the way for extensive abuses.

Mr. Van Dalsem has played "wrecker" often enough in this session of the General Assembly. The House will surely not permit him to undermine Mr. Croxton's efforts to give the people a sound registration law to protect the rights of the individual.

1963. Ark-Reg. Data

Registration Bill Amended Again in House

Little Likelihood Seen for Passage In Waning Session

By ROY REED
Of the Gazette Staff

The House continued amending a voter registration bill yesterday, striking a party designation requirement and rejecting another literacy test, but it all might have been in vain.

Only nine working days remain in the 1963 session. There is a strong feeling in the House that no registration bill can be adopted with so little time left.

The House has three registration bills before it and two of them that originally had strong support have been so burdened with amendments and parliamentary obstacles that they have small chance of passage. The third was introduced only Thursday, and few bills filed so late in the session have any chance of working through the mill.

HB 38 by Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, the first bill, came up for more amendments yesterday. Van Dalsem apparently had decided to resurrect it and try to pass it.

He brought the bill up for two minor clerical amendments, and no sooner were they adopted than Representative C. B. Nance Jr. of Crittenden County submitted a third amendment to strike a requirement that voters register by political parties. That requirement was one of Van Dalsem's main reasons for his registration bill and he had repeatedly fought off efforts by Nance and others to strike it.

Reconsideration Notice

Nance finally succeeded yesterday. His amendment was adopted 52-22. But a few minutes later Representative Michael Womack of Franklin gave notice of reconsideration, so the Nance amendment probably will come up again.

The first fight over the registration bill was over a proposed literacy test that Representative Talbot Feild Jr. of Hempstead County tried to attach. Feild was beaten and subsequent efforts to put on milder literacy tests also failed.

Representative Clyde Kinslow of Pope County tried again yesterday with an even more watered-down literacy test. Kinslow's would have required a registrant to fill out his registration form in his own handwriting, unless prevented by physical disability. That was beaten 54-22 after a brief debate.

The second registration bill (HB 424) by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, was trapped in the morning hour Thursday by a Van Dalsem filibuster. There was no action on it yesterday.

The third (HB 532) was introduced by Representatives E. A. Walker of Stone County and Paul Jones of Searcy County.

Arkansas Gazette 3-5-63

Voter Bill Escapes Van Dalsem's Trap But Hits New Snag

By ROY REED
Of the Gazette Staff

The House overrode Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County yesterday and removed a voter registration bill from a parliamentary trap by a vote of 64-11.

Then it refused to go along with the author of the bill, Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, on an amendment to restrict absentee voting. Croxton's amendment failed 39 for and 33 against with 51 needed for passage.

HB 424 was caught in the morning hour, the time reserved for routine business, by a Van Dalsem filibuster last week. Croxton could get it out with 51 votes and he got those handily.

But he bogged down in questions and parliamentary confusion when he tried to attach his amendment.

Croxton was trying to change an amendment that Van Dalsem put on HB 424 several days ago. The Van Dalsem amendment would permit a member of a voter's immediate family to register for him. It also would permit the voter to vote absentee without ever registering in person, with the approval of the county board of registration. The last part is opposed by Croxton and the amendment he proposed yesterday would reverse it, requiring the absentee registrant to sign his own registration affidavit before being able to vote an absentee ballot.

Still Will Try

Croxton said afterward that he still intended to try to pass the bill, even with the Van Dalsem provision.

Several members had attacked the provision earlier as an invitation to election abuse. Allowing anyone to register for another person would allow unscrupulous officials to vote dead people and non-residents, they said.

Advocates of the provision contend that a husband ought to be able to register his wife to vote, just as he now can pay his wife's poll tax.

The registration bill is to take the place of the poll tax in case enough states ratify a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution outlawing it.

The House has two other versions of a registration bill. The chances of getting any through both houses of the legislature diminish daily. Only eight working days are left in this session.

ing. That was one of several setbacks for Van Dalsem yesterday and by the end of the day he was saying little.

Resolution Filed

Van Dalsem filed a resolution (HR 31) calling for a Public Service Commission study to find out if the Arkansas Power and Light Company made a larger profit than the law allows last year. The resolution says it is rumored that AP and L made about $13,000,000 last year. Van Dalsem apparently is referring to a statement by the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association last week saying that AP and L had overcharged its customers $13,255,000 from 1956 through 1960. AP and L denied it.

Control Bill Beaten

The House defeated 51-33 HB 430 by Representative Nathan Schoenfeld of Garland County to establish a board to control collection agencies..

Measures passed included:

HB 505 by Representative L. H. Autry of Mississippi County to authorize the Education Department to buy the Highway Department's building on the Capitol grounds for $400,000, 83-1. The Highway Department plans to move to the outskirts of Little Rock.

HR 27 by Representative B. G. Hendrix of Sebastian County commending the chambers of commerce for helping industrialize the state, by a unanimous voice vote. Van Dalsem, who indicated last week that he opposed it, spoke for it.

ist Bill ...ned Along, Then Hits Snag

Mixup in Senate May Kill Measure For Registration

The House suddenly and painlessly passed a permanent voter registration bill yesterday and sent it to the Senate.

And there, after miraculously surviving nearly two months of battering and amending in the House, the bill may die an accidental death. The Senate forgot to have it read.

The 64th General Assembly will end at noon tomorrow. Without opposition and with plenty of backing, the registration bill could be passed before adjournment. But it has opposition.

Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley, who is pushing an annual registration bill that is pending in the House, probably will object to a second reading of the bill today. That will call for a vote on suspension of the rules, which requires two-thirds of those voting. With Allen's influence, he probably can prevent a rules suspension today and tomorrow if he wishes. That would kill the bill because it must be read three times before it can come up for a final vote.

It was Allen who discovered that the bill, HB 38 by Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County and others, was not read in the Senate after being delivered from the House yesterday afternoon.

After the Senate adjourned, Allen asked what had happened to HB 38. He had wanted to object to a second reading, he said.

A search of the bills file disclosed that the bill was stamped to show that it had been read twice. But the Senate Journal, the official arbiter, showed that it had not been read at all.

Probable Error

Lieutenant Go[illegible]or Nathan Gordon, the pr[illegible]ng officer of the Senate, said he did not know why HB 38 was not read. He surmised that the reading clerk had picked up two bills by accident with HB 38 on the bottom and had passed it on to the stack of bills that had been read.

Allen said he opposed the bill because it had not been amended sufficiently in the House. He objects to requiring a voter to register by political party. That provision was a pet of Van Dalsem's. The House struck it out over Van Dalsem's objection several days ago—or it thought it did. Allen said he had found another place in the bill that required the county clerk, the official registrar, to place registrants' affidavits in files marked Democrat, Republican and Independent. That keeps the party affiliation requirement in the bill despite the House amendment that attempted to strike it, he said.

Van Dalsem Switches

Van Dalsem ended up supporting HB 38 yesterday even without the clause on party affiliation that he so strongly favored. He would not say why but it was believed that Governor Faubus asked him to relent. William J. Smith, the governor's legal advisor and legislative aide, arranged a conference yesterday between Van Dalsem and Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, the author of another version of a permanent registration bill, to try to break a deadlock. Smith said he arranged the meeting at the request of several legislators who wanted a bill passed without further dispute or [illegible]

He said Mr. Faubus had no part in the conference.

It was thought that all permanent registration bills were dead Monday. They were supposed to have made made a special order or business Monday but a premature adjournment cut them off. At the time, Croxton and others interested in the bills believed them to be dead because of the short time remaining in the session.

Easy Passage

After the conference arranged by Smith, HB 38 passed the House without debate. The vote was 54-15. The vote was taken in the morning hour, a time reserved for non-controversial matters.

As passed, HB 38 included a provision to allow a voter's father, mother, brother, or sister register for him. That caused considerable opposition earlier in the session, particularly from Croxton. That was one of the amendments added to HB 38 that prompted Croxton to introduced his own bill, HB 424. But before it was over, HB 424 was so amended that Croxton favored Van Dalsem's bill over his own. And Van Dalsem favored Croxton's over HB 38 after HB 38 lost its party affiliation clause.

The House passed up a chance to vote on Allen's annual registration bill, SB 342, yesterday. It was put on a list of non-controversial bills. But when it was called up, several members objected and Speaker Marion H. Crank ordered it withdrawn.

Arkansas Gazette 3-13-63

Arkansas Gazette

Registration Bill Dying in Senate; Buried by House

3-14-63

A permanent voter registration bill hangs by a thread in the Senate and its backers will try to pass it over tough opposition this morning. The legislative session will end at noon.

The House yesterday virtually killed an annual registration bill that was introduced late in the session as a substitute for a permanent registration bill. The author of the ill-fated annual registration bill, SB 342, is Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley, and he is leading the fight against the permanent registration bill, HB 38.

Allen maneuevered HB 38 to the edge of its grave yesterday and undoubtedly will try to push it in when the Senate convenes at 10 a. m. today.

HB 38 was read the first time yesterday in the Senate and Allen objected to a second reading. Senator Dan White of Fort Smith made a motion to suspend the rules to permit a second reading but it failed by a voice vote.

Later, Senator Roy Sorrels of Atkins tried another motion to suspend the rules so the bill could be read a second time but Lieutenant Governor Nathan Gordon, the presiding officer, ruled that this was out of order.

Gordon said the Senate rules forbid making the same motion twice in one day on the same question.

But Gordon told Sorrels that he could make the same motion today, and if it carries, the bill could be read the second and third times. This would bring it to a final vote.

Sorrels' motion would require two-thirds of those voting to carry and it appeared doubtful yesterday that the senators had changed their attitude sufficiently to give it this margin.

Filibuster Threat

Even if Sorrels did get the bill read the second and third times, a filibuster could keep it from coming to a final vote before the Senate adjourns sine die at noon.

"We can talk two hours in the morning if we have to," said Allen.

The House, which has been wrangling over permanent voter registration bills all session, passed HB 38 Tuesday by a vote of 54-15. It is sponsored by Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County and others.

Allen said that at the present time he is flatly opposed to a permanent voter registration system because he doesn't believe it is possible to have one without requiring voters to state their party preference.

(See BILL on Page 2A.)

Harm to GOP

This requirement would prevent Republicans from voting in the Democratic primaries, Allen said, and in his district the Democratic primary is the only way Republicans can have a voice in the election of county and state officials.

Asked why he thought a permanent voter registration system would need a provision for party preference, Allen said that in counties which hold both Republican and Democratic primaries there would need to be separate registration books to be certain that a resident didn't vote in both primaries.

Allen said he could see how counties with both Republican and Democratic primaries might want the party preference listed.

"I believe that's the biggest bone of contention on the whole thing," Allen said. "Some of us want party preference and some of don't."

Van Dalsem, the author of the bill, wanted it to include party preference, but the House attempted to amend this provision out of it. Allen and other senators don't believe the House did a good enough job on this. They say that the bill still requires party preference because the county clerk would have to place the registrants' affidavits in files marked Democrat, Republican and Independent.

HB 38 was amended 18 times in the House before it got to the Senate, and some senators are casting a wary eye at it because of that.

"That bill has been so fouled up by amendments," said Senator Robert Harvey of Swifton, "that it's hard to tell what it will do."

House Opposition

Allen's annual registration bill ran into determined opposition in the House. Representative Doris McCastlain of Monroe County, who was handling the bill, tried in vain to bring it to a vote. After a long wrangle, the House voted further consideration. Mrs. McCastlain said she considered that the death of the bill.

Represenattive Nathan Schoenfeld of Garland County tried first to kill the bill with a filibuster. That failed and he tried to kill it with amendments. He was unable to get an amendment put on it but the House went along with killing it with the withdrawal motion.

Only Continuation

Mrs. McCastlain argued that the bill was only a continuation of the present system of signing people up to a vote as poll tax payers, except that the $1 tax would not be required. The reason the legislature is considering a registration system is because an amendment may be adopted soon to the federal constitution to outlaw the poll tax.

Schoenfeld said SB 342 was not simply a continuation of the present system.

"This is the loosest bill for qualifying electors ever passed by any American state," he said. He said it would open the door to all manner of abuses, including voting dead people in greater numbers than they are voted now.

Reform in Voting

The General Assembly's failure to pass a sound voter registration bill, to replace the moribund poll tax, mirrored the same opposition to reform demonstrated earlier in other areas, as in the failure to pass a school consolidation bill.

In the circumstances, nevertheless, we are somewhat relieved that the Assembly did not pass makeshift registration legislation. A proposal for an annual registration, introduced by Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley, was so weak as to deserve the funeral the House gave it on Wednesday. A bill introduced in the House by Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County had been so amended—under the guidance of the author—that it bore substantial defects. Neither really deserved to pass.

An atmosphere of some urgency was generated over the voter registration issue, but we think it was not justified. Governor Faubus has shared our view that the poll tax is not likely to be outlawed right away. The anti-poll tax amendment to the federal Constitution has now been ratified by only six states and must be approved by 32 more before it becomes effective. The 1965 General Assembly may very well come soon enough to write a substitute for the poll tax. If the ratification process should be hastened, a special session could conceivably become necessary.

Reform legislators, we think, should begin now to tell the people of the importance of a sound registration law which will protect the integrity of the ballot. Certainly this is an issue that deserves more careful study and more attention to safeguarding the public interest than the the legislature displayed during the session just ended. The reformers, such as Representative Hardy Croxton, did not succeed in passing a sound registration law, but they did at least prevent the enactment of "cemetery voting" provisions and literacy tests. The Assembly ought to provide new safeguards to assure that only bona fide, live voters are registered. The opposition leaders need to set about the task of winning more widespread public support for such reforms than was brought to bear on this legislature.

Arkansas Gazette

Arkansas Gazette 2-1-63

So to the Initiative

In some circumstances there would be validity to the contention by Governor Faubus that a new voter registration system, which Arkansas must have to replace the moribund poll tax, would better be written by the General Assembly than in the initiative.

It would, indeed, require two-thirds majorities in the Assembly to amend an initiated act setting up voter registration. The initiative method does offer less flexibility.

But these considerations become academic in the light of the legislative performance. The Assembly in the session just ended had an opportunity to pass a registration act but didn't. Commanding evidence indicates, moreover, that the system now being proposed for an initiated act is better than anything that the Assembly would pass.

The initiative plan is essentially the bill which Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County offered the Assembly. It has workable provisions for permanent registration by party, and safeguards against "cemetery" voting and abuses by courthouse machines. In the recent legislative session there was substantial opposition to some of Mr. Croxton's key provisions for protecting the electoral processes.

If any important defect in the Croxton plan developed after it had been put into practice, corrective action could still be taken by two-thirds of the membership of each chamber, or in another initiative move.

It is regrettable that the Arkansas Assembly has shown itself, in voter registration and some other areas, so nearly incapable of constructive action. Nevertheless, in an Assembly dominated by Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County and other comparable (if less blatant) figures, the prospects for sound legislation are always uncertain at best. Where practicable, resort to the initiative offers the only immediate remedy.

Ark. Gazette 6/10/63
Ark. Reg. Data

Negro Urges Voting Drive For Arkansas

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association, called yesterday for a state-wide poll tax drive to increase Negro voting strength in Arkansas.

He spoke at a planning meeting at the Elks Club at 912 Gaines Street yesterday afternoon.

McClinton recommended that committees be established in all counties that have Negro residents to raise money and encourage payment of the poll tax.

The state committee that directs the drive should be bipartisan and shouldn't have religious or fraternal connections, he said. He wants to start the drive June 23 at an Emancipation Centennial celebration at Little Rock.

McClinton preceded his recommendations with criticisms of state Senator Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock and state Attorney General Bruce Bennett.

He said Sprick would be defeated because of "anti-McClinton" legislation that Sprick introduced and passed in the 1963 legislature. He was referring to a new law that prohibits soliciting and accepting money for including a political candidate's name on a voting slate. Voting slates are widely circulated among Negro voters.

He said that Bennett and other elected officials were supposed to preserve law and order, not incite violence by predicting it. This apparently was a reference to Bennett's statement last week that there might be trouble across the country during the Emancipation celebrations.

Pine Bluff Commercial

110-112 Main Street
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

Every afternoon
and Sunday morning

Founded 1868
by Charles Gordon Newman

Published 1901 - 1945
by E. W. Freeman

Second-class postage paid at
Pine Bluff, Arkansas
A Member of the Associated Press

Telephone JEfferson 4-3400
After 6 p.m. call:
Circulation .... JE 4-3400
News ..... JE 4-3420
Sports ..... JE 4-3405

Page 18—Sunday, June 30, 1963

Voter Registration

Our hunch is that a system of voter registration that did not require party declaration would do most to build a two-party system in Arkansas.

Others have the opposite hunch, and their view has prevailed in the framing of the proposed permanent voter registration system that won the endorsement of the Committee for Voter Registration at the Committee's founding meeting last week at Little Rock.

On this point, as on others, we think differences far less important than unanimity in seeking an efficient, relatively corruption-proof voter registration system. It is good news that the cross-section of the state's leadership which attended the Little Rock meeting appears to agree. There is evident a willingness to submerge disagreements, to give on disputed points, in order that a solid front can be shown the legislative Black Gang in what now looks like an inevitable special session to write a voter registration statute.

The good government folks and the other segments of the state's leadership represented at the meeting, and now working together in the committee, want Arkansas to have honest elections. They recognize that an indispensable forerunner of honest elections is a voter registration system built to discourage fraud and to render fraud readily detectible when it does occur. These are virtues of the proposed permanent registration system. It will not in itself preclude a dishonest count or ballot box stuffing, but it will cut back the potentiality for these things.

Another virtue is the permanence that is designed into the system. Quite apart from the protection against fraud that is inherent in checking election-day signatures against those maintained as part of a permanent registration system, permanent registration will mean less confusion and trouble for the individual voter. It will mean (once we are used to it) fewer questions about who is eligible to vote and who isn't. It should also mean less work for county officials.

These are good things in themselves.

Ark. Reg.

About Arkansas Ark. Gazette 7-18-63

Forrest City Listening To the Distant Drum

By JAMES O. POWELL
Editor of the Editorial Page

Forrest City.

Not many of the growing Southern towns in the 10,000-to-25,000 bracket of population have been visibly affected by the desegregation movement that has so occupied the attention of the cities of the South.

So it is in Forrest City, Arkansas. To the naked eye, segregation is as immutable a way of life in this swiftly developing town as it was 25 or 50 years ago. There are two separate communities within the one, and not much apparent evidence of dissatisfaction with that which has been ordained.

The white people of the South, nevertheless, have learned to take less for granted in contemplating the Negro, and they have shed some illusions. Knowledge of inexorable change is reaching into the consciousness of the towns as well as the cities. This awareness is especially acute, just below the surface, here in a community that is so economically progressive that leaders expect doubling of population within six or seven years.

Forrest City is one of the Southern communities that is not lost in the backwater of the past, even if it is named after General Nathan Bedford Forrest and still observes his birthday with due propriety. Here the heads of the power structure are engaged in the present and looking at a future that is increasingly attractive. Community leaders raised in the old ways have not lost the capacity for adaptation. Forrest City, moreover, has experienced to an unusual degree the homogenizing influence of Northerners who have come down to manage the process of industrialization.

Here, then, is the "New South" in microcosm: The old and the new, side by side, each conditioned by the other.

★ ★ ★

SUCH A community could hardly be oblivious to the forces of change, especially when Forrest City is so strongly influenced by both Little Rock and Memphis. Politically Forrest City is oriented (or "subjugated" as one outspoken resident phrases it) to Little Rock. Commercially it is oriented to Memphis. People here are fully aware that both cities have desegregated schools and parks and other facilities in the public domain, and have voluntarily desegregated downtown lunch-counters, some hotels, motion picture houses and some sports arenas.

Realists here know that the present immunities of the smaller Southern towns and cities are not enduring and, indeed, may end sooner than many imagine.

The first evidence of change, in truth, is already emerging. The response has been reassuring.

The moving force is industrialization. Yale and Towne, in its Forrest City plant, employs a few semi-skilled Negroes under the firm's national policy of equal opportunity. Facilities (lunch and rest rooms included) are not segregated. On a larger scale, the rule of equal opportunity has been formally and publicly proclaimed now for a big television plant that will be the biggest industry in Forrest City.

The Warwick company, makers of television sets for Sears, stipulated in its negotiations that a no-discrimination policy would govern the hiring and training of workers.

Forrest City, in all practicality, took the stipulation in stride. Thousands of whites and Negroes were interviewed at the same time in a labor survey conducted by the Chamber of Commerce with the help of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. Whites registered Negroes and vice versa without incident or discernible friction.

★ ★ ★

THE SMOOTH operation of the labor survey augurs well for the future. Yet the real tests will come at some indeterminate point when Forrest City begins token school desegregation and, finally, faces the more complicated tests of desegregation in certain privately - owned establishments where there is no requirement of law.

These visceral issues are neither at hand nor in sight. As it is in other Southern towns of comparable size, only a scant few Negroes in Forrest City have much economic independence. As Forrest City's industrialization proceeds, however, such independence will rise in the Negro community, stirring the familiar desire for equality.

This outlook for the future does not raise the kind of issues that community leaders care to talk about, on the record, for the obvious reasons.

Yet privately the community leaders are listening attentively to the rumbling of the distant drum, fully aware of the "price" that attends progress and opportunity.

Some businessmen are aware that the Negro without employment is a drain upon the community. Above all, the leadership is concerned with the practicalities. "If there is something that has to be done," said one figure in the community, "it is better that it be done graciously."

No one could reasonably say that Forrest City will make its adaptation without incident or without anguish. There is strong reason to believe, even so, that Forrest City will be ready when the time comes.

Pick Ark Reg

Pine Bluff Commercial 1/26/64

History of a Voter Registration Bill

By JIM GILTMIER
Of The Commercial Staff

House Bill 38, the voter registration law that finally died in the legislative digestive process last year, began its tortured life in January of 1962.

It was then that the bill was drafted by Representative Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County.

The bill's content's were designed to replace the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Permanent Registrar

The bill finally had 18 amendments tacked to it by the time it died at the end of the session. But this is the way it looked in December of 1962, after the Arkansas Legislative Council had considered it for nearly a year:

The county clerk would be the permanent registrar. Once a voter registered, he wouldn't have to register again unless he moved out of the county, changed his name or failed to vote in all elections during two successive calendar years, was convicted of a felony.

The proposal spelled out the way registration books should be prepared and provided for the use of the voter lists at the polls. Most of those details would have been left up to the state Board of Election Commissioners to specify through regulations.

On January 16, 1963, the bill was introduced by Ledbetter, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, Representative Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and Representative J. P. Walt of Jefferson County.

Bill 'Beefed Up'

The bill was beefed up by the time it had reached the legislature. The state auditor would print the registration forms in duplicate, and each form would have its own number. The forms would go to the county clerks. The voters would fill them out and sign an affidavit on the back, swearing that they had given correct information. The duplicate copies would be kept in one file by the county clerk. The originals would go into precinct books and would be taken to polling places each election day. When a voter came to vote, his name would be found in the book. Under the signature on his affidavit, he would having family members register for prospective voters.

Van Dalsem Walks Out

(Croxton's timing was good. The previous day, Van Dalsem led a walkout from the Rules Committee during a hearing on HB 38. Van Dalsem got angry over an appearance before the committee of Mrs. John D. Reid of Little Rock, legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women.

(Mrs. Reid read her association's statement requesting that each person be required to sign his own registration form. E. Allen Sheppard, Jefferson County clerk, protested. He said that the county clerks would not give out the forms indiscriminately.

(Van Dalsem got angry over the statement and told Mrs. Reid she was out of order for speaking on the original bill and not the bill as it had been amended. Representative Glenn Walther of Pulaski County, who was presiding, overruled him, and Van Dalsem and Feild walked out.)

On February 26, the House put what opponents called a graveyard amendment on Croxton's bill, HB 424. The amendment would have allowed a member of a person's family to register for him. Van Dalsem was the author of the amendment. The vote for it was 51-35.

By March 1, it was generally conceded that HB 38 was dead. But Croxton was still trying to get his version through. He failed because Van Dalsem filibustered each time Croxton tried to get some action.

That same day, HB 38 was considered further. Representative Cecil B. Nance of Crittenden County secured adoption of an amendment striking the party affiliation requirement from the bill.

A Third Bill Filed

Two other representatives, E. A. Walker of Stone County and Walker Jones of Searcy County that day filed a third voter registration bill, HB 532. Walker said it would simply continue the present rules on signing up to pay the poll tax. He said the bill included Van Dalsem's provision on absentee registration, but did not include the Van Dalsem-backed proposal requiring registration by in January of 1962.

Arkansas Reg. Data

It was then that the bill was drafted by Representative Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County.

The bill's content's were designed to replace the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Permanent Registrar

The bill finally had 18 amendments tacked to it by the time it died at the end of the session. But this is the way it looked in December of 1962, after the Arkansas Legislative Council had considered it for nearly a year:

The county clerk would be the permanent registrar. Once a voter registered, he wouldn't have to register again unless he moved out of the county, changed his name or failed to vote in all elections during two successive calendar years, was convicted of a felony.

The proposal spelled out the way registration books should be prepared and provided for the use of the voter lists at the polls. Most of those details would have been left up to the state Board of Election Commissioners to specify through regulations.

On January 16, 1963, the bill was introduced by Ledbetter, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, Representative Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and Representative J. P. Walt of Jefferson County.

Bill 'Beefed Up'

The bill was beefed up by the time it had reached the legislature. The state auditor would print the registration forms in duplicate, and each form would have its own number. The forms would go to the county clerks. The voters would fill them out and sign an affidavit on the back, swearing that they had given correct information. The duplicate copies would be kept in one file by the county clerk. The originals would go into precinct books and would be taken to polling places each election day. When a voter came to vote, his name would be found in the book. Under the signature on his affidavit, he would be required to sign his name again so the election judges could compare the two signatures and thereby keep down forgeries and illicit voting.

The bill would have enforced party loyalty. Each precinct would have three books—one each for Republicans, Democrats and independents. The voter would name his party or independent preference, and, when registering, his name would go into the proper book.

Ledbetter said the bill was entered early in the session so that legislators could have a chance to add their amendments. They did.

Literacy Tests

On February 7, John Thompson of The Commercial staff reported: "An attempt apparently will be made to strike from a proposed Arkansas voter registration law an amendment providing for administration of literacy tests.

"The amendment was inserted yesterday in HB 38.

"Representative Talbot Feild of Hempstead County brought up the amendment in an executive session of the House Rules Committee yesterday, and it got approved by a voice vote of the House before some members apparently realized what was happening . . .

The following day, February 8, Van Dalsem began a filibuster to fight an effort to revoke the literacy amendment. But Marion Crank declared an end to the talk, and the House voted 64-15 against the literacy test it had approved with a voice vote the previous day. Even Feild took the floor to speak against the literacy test.

Arthur Deckelman of Drew County was the only Southeast Arled a walkout from the Rules Committee during a hearing on HB 38. Van Dalsem got angry over an appearance before the committee of Mrs. John D. Reid of Little Rock, legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women.

(Mrs. Reid read her association's statement requesting that each person be required to sign his own registration form. E. Allen Sheppard, Jefferson County clerk, protested. He said that the county clerks would not give out the forms indiscriminately.

(Van Dalsem got angry over the statement and told Mrs. Reid she was out of order for speaking on the original bill and not the bill as it had been amended. Representative Glenn Walther of Pulaski County, who was presiding, overruled him, and Van Dalsem and Feild walked out.)

On February 26, the House put what opponents called a graveyard amendment on Croxton's bill, HB 424. The amendment would have allowed a member of a person's family to register for him. Van Dalsem was the author of the amendment. The vote for it was 51-35.

By March 1, it was generally conceded that HB 38 was dead. But Croxton was still trying to get his version through. He failed because Van Dalsem filibustered each time Croxton tried to get some action.

That same day, HB 38 was considered further. Representative Cecil B. Nance of Crittenden County secured adoption of an amendment striking the party affiliation requirement from the bill.

A Third Bill Filed

Two other representatives, E. A. Walker of Stone County and Walker Jones of Searcy County that day filed a third voter registration bill, HB 532. Walker said it would simply continue the present rules on signing up to pay the poll tax. He said the bill included Van Dalsem's provision on absentee registration, but did not include the Van Dalsem-backed proposal requiring registration by political party.

On March 5, Croxton was still trying, without success, to get the absentee registration provision stricken. Van Dalsem was still filibustering. Finally Croxton said he would try to get the bill passed with Van Dalsem's amendment on it.

That same day, Governor Faubus made his only remark concerning a new registration bill. "There's no hurry about passing a bill as far as I'm concerned."

On March 8, Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley, now deceased, introduced a Senate bill essentially like the one proposed by Jones and Walker. It passed 19-11.

House Bill 38 Dies

On March 12, HB 38 somehow got through the House. It was sent to the Senate where it was due for a fight from Allen.

And there in the Senate, on March 13, after miraculously surviving nearly two months of battering and amending in the House, HB 38 finally breathed its last.

The Senate forgot to have it read. The bill was stamped, showing that it had been read twice, but the Senate Journal showed it hadn't been read at all. Allen noticed it at the last minute. But it was too late.

On March 14 the legislature adjourned.

Van Dalsem said no voter registration bill was passed because of interference by women's civic groups like the university women and the League of Women Voters.

It is expected that the governor will call a special session of the legislature to consider another registration bill.

Perhaps it will fare better than HB 38.

Arkansas Reg. Data

Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and Representative J. P. Walt of Jefferson County.

Bill 'Beefed Up'

The bill was beefed up by the time it had reached the legislature. The state auditor would print the registration forms in duplicate, and each form would have its own number. The forms would go to the county clerks. The voters would fill them out and sign an affidavit on the back, swearing that they had given correct information. The duplicate copies would be kept in one file by the county clerk. The originals would go into precinct books and would be taken to polling places each election day. When a voter came to vote, his name would be found in the book. Under the signature on his affidavit, he would be required to sign his name again so the election judges could compare the two signatures and thereby keep down forgeries and illicit voting.

The bill would have enforced party loyalty. Each precinct would have three books—one each for Republicans, Democrats and independents. The voter would name his party or independent preference, and, when registering, his name would go into the proper book.

Ledbetter said the bill was entered early in the session so that legislators could have a chance to add their amendments. They did.

Literacy Tests

On February 7, John Thompson of The Commercial staff reported: "An attempt apparently will be made to strike from a proposed Arkansas voter registration law an amendment providing for administration of literacy tests.

"The amendment was inserted yesterday in HB 38.

"Representative Talbot Feild of Hempstead County brought up the amendment in an executive session of the House Rules Committee yesterday, and it got approved by a voice vote of the House before some members apparently realized what was happening . . .

The following day, February 8, Van Dalsem began a filibuster to fight an effort to revoke the literacy amendment. But Marion Crank declared an end to the talk, and the House voted 64-15 against the literacy test it had approved with a voice vote the previous day. Even Feild took the floor to speak against the literacy test.

Arthur Deckelman of Drew County was the only Southeast Arkansas legislator to vote for the literacy test. However, Albert Hayes of Arkansas County, Edwin E. (Bud) Hopson of Desha County, Raymond Mays of Cleveland County, Bill Wells of Bradley County and W. R. (Witt) Stephens of Grant County were either absent or not voting.

Registration by Family

On February 11, the House adopted an amendment introduced by Representative G. D. Smith Jr. of Lincoln County permitting prospective voters to be registered by members of their family.

Roy Reed of the Arkansas Gazette reported: "The House also considered a large batch of mostly minor amendments requested by the County Clerks Association. Some of the amendments were too complex to follow. After adopting several, each more controversial than the last, the House finally voted 43-43 on a motion by Bill Wells of Bradley County to send the package back to the Rules Committee."

Thompson reported for The Commercial that the changes asked by the clerks were being handled by Van Dalsem.

The bill was in trouble.

On February 15, Representative Hardy Croxton presumed to settle the growing confusion by introducing a new bill. The Croxton bill included the changes asked by the county clerks. But it did not have Smith's provision for get his version through. He failed because Van Dalsem filibustered each time Croxton tried to get some action.

That same day, HB 38 was considered further. Representative Cecil B. Nance of Crittenden County secured adoption of an amendment striking the party affiliation requirement from the bill.

A Third Bill Filed

Two other representatives, E. A. Walker of Stone County and Walker Jones of Searcy County that day filed a third voter registration bill, HB 532. Walker said it would simply continue the present rules on signing up to pay the poll tax. He said the bill included Van Dalsem's provision on absentee registration, but did not include the Van Dalsem-backed proposal requiring registration by political party.

On March 5, Croxton was still trying, without success, to get the absentee registration provision stricken. Van Dalsem was still filibustering. Finally Croxton said he would try to get the bill passed with Van Dalsem's amendment on it.

That same day, Governor Faubus made his only remark concerning a new registration bill. "There's no hurry about passing a bill as far as I'm concerned."

On March 8, Senator Tom Allen of Brinkley, now deceased, introduced a Senate bill essentially like the one proposed by Jones and Walker. It passed 19-11.

House Bill 38 Dies

On March 12, HB 38 somehow got through the House. It was sent to the Senate where it was due for a fight from Allen.

And there in the Senate, on March 13, after miraculously surviving nearly two months of battering and amending in the House, HB 38 finally breathed its last.

The Senate forgot to have it read. The bill was stamped, showing that it had been read twice, but the Senate Journal showed it hadn't been read at all. Allen noticed it at the last minute. But it was too late.

On March 14 the legislature adjourned.

Van Dalsem said no voter registration bill was passed because of interference by women's civic groups like the university women and the League of Women Voters.

It is expected that the governor will call a special session of the legislature to consider another registration bill.

Perhaps it will fare better than HB 38.

Arkansas Reg. Data

Ark. Reg.

Special Session On Registration Will Be Called

1-31-64

ALC Sets Hearings After Governor Reveals Decision

Governor Faubus said Thursday that he had decided to call the General Assembly into special session to adopt a voter registration law omitting the poll tax.

At the same time he asked the Legislative Council to write the proposed law.

Faubus wasn't definite on the date of the session but said it would be late in February.

Within an hour, Representative Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County, chairman of the Legislative Council, announced that the Council would convene at 10 a. m. Monday, February 10, at the Capitol to get to work.

Related Article on Page 2A.

He advised the Council members to expect to be in session most of the week.

The council will hold public hearings on voter registration and Ledbetter invited anyone interested to attend the hearings or file recommendations with the Council.

Confers With Visitors

Faubus came to the Capitol early and met soon afterward with Representatives Marion H. Crank of Little River County, current speaker of the House, and Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, to discuss the voter registration proposal.

Arkansas has to set up a voter registration system because the ratification of the 24th amendment to the federal Constitution prohibits the use of the poll tax in primaries or elections involving federal offices.

Faubus said that in his talks with a cross section of the legislators all were unanimous in wanting the session called and the registration problem settled as quickly as possible. That's because the summer primary campaigns are coming up behind the session.

The governor telephoned Senator Robert Harvey of Swifton, chairman of the Council's State and Local Governments Committee, and asked that the Committee undertake a study without delay. Later Ledbetter said that it was decided that to have the Committee consider the bill first and then the Council would be a duplication of effort. Presumably, Harvey and his committee, which have studied this subject before, will conduct the hearings with the full Council present.

Faubus again said he had reached no conclusions on what the registration bill should contain. He did say that at the moment the indications were that there would be no literacy test, which should reduce the controversy about the bill.

Sheriffs Make Bid

Even as the governor talked about a session, Sheriff Robert S. Moore of Desha County said that several sheriffs want to handle the voter registration.

Moore said that 58 sheriffs of the 75 in the state also serve as the tax collectors and in the latter capacity issue poll taxes.

"A number of sheriff-collectors don't want to lose a service they have traditionally performed," Moore, an executive in the Arkansas Sheriffs Association, said. He said that Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Morrilton had been among those interested in retaining the service.

Ark. Voter Reg

Gazette May 2/13/64

Branton Says 8,756 Added To Voter Rolls

From April 1962 through December 1963, the Voter Education Project of Atlanta got 8,756 new Negro voters registered in Arkansas.

This was announced at Atlanta by Wiley A. Branton, formerly of Pine Bluff and director of the VEP which is sponsored by the Southern Regional Council. In 11 Southern states, Branton claimed 327,588 new Negro voters. This is not the total gain in Negro voters but only the gain attributed to VEP work.

The VEP encourages voter registration in the South, studies patterns of Negro voting and seeks methods of overcoming barriers of discrimination and voter indifference. It is a nonpartisan program, endorsed by both the Republican and Democratic Parties.

The claimed increases, by states, were: Alabama 13,487, Florida 37,111, Georgia 46,347, Louisiana 5,899, Mississippi 3,228, North Carolina 23,323, South Carolina 20,727, Tennessee 34,243, Texas 120,590 and Virginia 13,877.

For Arkansas the VEP estimated the total Negro voting strength at 80,000 or 12.6 per cent of the total number of voters. This also is 41.5 per cent of the number of Negroes of voting age.

Ark. Leg.

Ark. Gaz. 3/14/64

Assessors Confer With Faubus; Map Voter Bill Plans

The tax assessors of Arkansas mapped their strategy Thursday to keep from being saddled with voter registration.

The Legislative Committee of the Arkansas County Assessors Association talked with Governor Faubus, a recognized political strategist, and J. P. Lybrand of Pine Bluff, Jefferson County assessor and president of the Association, said he gave them some leads to follow in shaking free of the registration.

One of these was to go before the Legislative Council Thursday and ask to be relieved of the responsibility, which is fixed in a voter registration bill drafted by the Council.

Lybrand said that Faubus also suggested that the assessors approach the members of the legislature and enlist their support.

This will be done without delay as soon as the Committee can spread the word around, Lybrand said.

Faubus, he said, was sympathetic but did not take a stand for or against the assessors administering the proposed law.

No Recommendations

While the tax assessors don't want the responsibility, Lybrand said, they aren't recommending where it should go.

Faubus said later that the administration of the voter registration law, which he will ask a special session of the legislature to adopt late this month, should be in the hands of the tax assessor, the tax collector or the county clerk. He will leave it to the legislature to decide which one, he said.

The tax collectors are divided on the role and the county clerks may accept the task in the end, Faubus speculated.

Lybrand said that those who favor having the assessors handle voter registration look on the plan as a means to find additional names to place on the tax rolls. He said that was the wrong attitude.

Fears Conflict

Lybrand said the assessors did not want to shirk their public responsibility or work, but that it was likely that registering voters could develop into a paramount duty and that the assessment of property would suffer.

"The assessor will feel that he has got to give registration more of his time because of deadlines, and the importance of not keeping anyone waiting in line longer than necessary, and assessing property will become secondary," Lybrand explained.

In many counties, he said, the assessor and a deputy are all the staff. When they go out to assess property the office is locked up. If registration is to be done in their office, someone would have to remain behind in the courthouse.

As for finding new assessments through the registration system, Lybrand said that those not assessing now were generally those who own no real property and who do not own a car.

"Probably all they have is a skillet and a bedstead," he said.

These are people so poor that they would not pay any tax assessed and would be placed on a delinquent tax list. He said it would cost the county money to try to get this low economic class to pay.

Lybrand said that at least three-fourths of the assessors in the state feel as he does. He said he came to the governor's office speaking for the Association.

Voter Registration Could Open Polls To 400,000 More

By the Associated Press

The switch to voter registration this year will open the voting door to about 400,000 persons who failed to pay the poll tax by the deadline last October 1.

If they all take advantage of the state's first free ballot in 40 years, the political picture could be thrown out of focus. Candidates who had carefully counted votes would find the size of the electorate nearly doubled.

But officials doubt if more than 50,000 to 100,000 additional voters will qualify during a 30-day free registration period proposed in a voter registration bill to be considered at a special legislative session planned to start Feburary 26.

Approval of the bill is virtually assured. It has the blessing of Governor Faubus and it was written by the Legislative Council, which numbers the most influential senators and representatives among its membership.

The state has a record 633,604 qualified voters—holders of current poll tax receipts—who will be automatically registered. In the 1960 census, here were 1,043,269 persons over 21 in the state, or 409,604 more than the current number of poll tax payers.

Registration Period

Those who did not pay the $1 tax can qualify for this year's elections by registering between March 15 and April 15. They will get a registration form which they will use at the polls as the poll tax receipt has been used in the past.

Their names will be placed on a supplemental voting list, which election officials will have in addition to the poll tax book.

Both those who qualified by paying the tax and those who register can vote in all elections, primary, general and special, through May 31, 1965.

But if they want to vote after that they will have to register under the continuing provisions of the bill between January 1 and April 10, 1965. Such registration will qualify them for elections between June 1, 1965 and May 31, 1966.

Register Each Year

In each subsequent year, prospective voters will register during the January 1-April 10 period to qualify to vote for one year, starting on the following June 1.

The weakest section of the Legislative Council bill is the provision placing registration under the county assessors. The Arkansas Assessors Association is pledged to fight this provision, first before the Legislative Council next Thursday and later, if necessary, in the legislature.

Another weak provision permits the registrant, at his option to list his political party affiliation on his registration form. A floor fight over this provision is expected when the legislature meets.

But other provisions of the bill found almost unanimous endorsement among the Council members and are expected to remain in the measure when it becomes law.

Tightening of Law

Mothers, fathers, sons, daughters, brothers and sisters of the prospective voter may register for him.

This is a tightening of existing law because almost anyone can pay a poll tax for the voter.

The bill calls for the state auditor to provide registration forms to the counties at state expense but the expense of the registration would be borne by the counties.

County clerks would continue to compile the lists of qualified voters. The voter would present his registration certificate at the polls as he now presents his poll tax receipt.

The registration form will include the name, residence, voting precinct and school district of the voter.

Vote at Age 21

The maiden vote allowed under the poll tax system will be abolished. Instead, any person who will be 21 during the forthcoming voting period will be permitted to register during the registration period, although he will not be permitted to vote until he is 21.

The April 10 registration deadline will move the closing date of the voting list six months and 10 days closer to the date of Arkansas's main state balloting — the Democratic primary.

It will permit registration during a period when campaign issues have begun to develop and candidates have started to announce.

Under the poll tax system, the voting list closed October 1, almost 10 months before the election.

Ark. Democrat

Governor Says He'd Consider Districting Bill

Ark Gaz 2/28/64

Four Congressmen Give No Indication Of Being Worried

If the state's four United States representatives think it necessary and come up with a satisfactory congressional redistricting plan, he will consider putting it in the special legislation session call on voter registration, Governor Faubus said Thursday morning.

The representatives, all Democrats, are interested and worried about the possibility of being forced into an at-large elections this fall, Mr. Faubus said. This could come about as the result of a lawsuit challenging the present districts.

But the congressmen, checked later in the day in Washington, gave no indication of being worried. They like the present districts and wouldn't want to change them "unless necessary," they said.

Mr. Faubus said that an at-large election had to be considered because a suit could be timed so that it would be too late to redistrict after the summer primaries. A suit may be likely because of a recent United States Supreme Court decision that requires an even population distribution among congressional districts. In Arkansas, the First and Third districts are much smaller than the Second and Fourth districts.

GOP Making Study

The Republicans have their lawyers studying the feasibility of challenging the Arkansas districts. This could force the representatives, now elected by districts, into running in statewide elections, where upsets are more likely.

Mr. Faubus said the representatives were studying the ramifications of redistricting and that this was a decision they would have to make since they would be affected.

"I'm sure that the congressmen are giving considerable thought to the matter. If they suggest a plan, which they work out with the legislature so that no undue controversy arises, I am willing to consider including redistricting in the special session," he said.

Mixed Emotions

At Washington, the House members reacted with mixed emotions to the governor's offer. The consensus was that they favor redistricting if it becomes necessary but otherwise they would just as soon leave the present alignment undisturbed.

Representative E. C. (Took) Gathings of West Memphis suggested that Congress itself might set the guidelines, which the Court hasn't set.

He said the Arkansas legislature should keep in mind that the House Judiciary Committee has scheduled hearings for March 7-8 on a bill by its chairman, Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem., N. Y.).

Celler's bill provides that no congressional district shall vary in population by more than 15 per cent from the average district figured from the state's total population. In Arkansas, the average district would have a population of about 446,000.

Gathings said he thought it was a good bill and would be enacted into law. Otherwise, he said, he would favor any good redistricting plan.

Views of Others

Representative Oren Harris of El Dorado said any legislative action now might be premature.

Representative James W. Trimble of Berryville said he would be willing to do anything necessary on redistricting if it becomes a definite requirement, indicating that it would be better to wait until a regular legislative session.

Representative Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett said he neither had discussed the matter with the governor nor given any thought to it at all.

The possibility that redistricting may be included in what started out strictly as a brief session to pass a voter registration law may delay for another few days the start of the special session. Mr. Faubus said "it is unlikely" to begin next week as had been expected by many legislators. Originally, the session was to have begun last Wednesday. The failure of the Arkansas Legislative Council to designate a county official to act as registrar brought on the first delay.

Mr. Faubus said the selection of either the tax assessor, tax collector or county clerk as registrar remained unsettled.

Arkansas Gazette

Voter Registration, 17 Other Subjects In Legislative Call

By the Associated Press

Governor Faubus Saturday issued a proclamation for the special legislative session containing 17 items in addition to a voter registration bill.

The proclamation for the session, which begins Tuesday, March 24, calls for the General Assembly to "consider, and, if so advised, enact laws" on the 18 listed purposes.

After the first item, for the expenses of the special session and for repairs to the House chamber and committee rooms, the list includes:

To make it a felony offense to interfere with voters at the polls.

To appropriate $50,000 for the state penitentiary to construct a hospital-infirmary.

To add academic salary positions at Arkansas State College; to establish additional teacher positions for the Arkansas School for the Deaf and to make appropriations of any federal aid funds received for the use of the school.

Even Flow of Funds

To revise the Revenue Stabilization Law to assure an even flow of funds to the agencies which use general revenues. (Mr. Faubus said this should keep the state from ever again having to borrow from its daily balance).

To implement Act 149 of 1957 to assure a state-wide medical care program and to make appropriations for the program.

To revise certain salaried positions at McRae Memorial Tuberculosis Sanatorium; to appropriate any federal aid funds received for the use of the School for the Blind.

To make an appropriation for the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service if additional federal funds are made available and to provide a method of establishing salaried positions for additional employes when required to carry out the state-federal rehabilitation program.

on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance as the state agency in charge of participation in the federal Higher Education Facilities Act.

10 Items Outlined

Mr. Faubus addressed a meeting of the Southeast Arkansas legislative delegation Friday night at Pine Bluff and outlined 10 of the special session items.

He defended the expense of a special session by saying that Arkansas had kept such costs at "absolutely a minimum."

The item on underage marriages is to take care of a Social Security provision which states a widow cannot draw benefits if she or her husband were under age at the time of the marriage.

On the Air National Guard provision, Mr. Faubus said that since he occasionally uses the planes, "I am interested in their being secure."

The item on voter registration read: "To implement the laws of this state in such manner as shall establish compatibility with the 24th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America."

Hospital Appropriations

To expand the purposes for which State Hospital appropriations made by past legislatures may be used and to make available a part of such appropriation and matching federal aid to the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service; also to appropriate for construction such additional funds as the State Hospital may receive from the sale of lands and grants of right of way and to authorize the hospital board to enter agreements to take part in federal construction grant funds.

To implement state laws so Arkansas may take full advantage of the Federal Vocational Education Act of 1963; to amend a state law so the State Board for Vocational Education can designate the location of area vocational-technical and adult education schools without regard to the present congressional district limitation in cases where such schools will be built and operated by a local school district.

TB Control Funds

To make appropriations from the public health fund so the state Board of Health may continue tuberculosis control and other programs should federal aid for such programs end.

To make appropriations from the Military Department for Air National Guard security guard positions.

To make valid all previous marriages where either husband or wife were under the statutory age for marriage and to provide that future underage marriages shall be voidable.

To amend a state law so that newly chartered banks may be designated as depositories of public funds.

To designate the Commission

Ark. Reg.

Arkansas Gazette

Comparison of Registration Bills

Subject	Perm. Reg. (Croxton Bill)	Annual Reg. (Cottrell Bill)	Per'dic Reg. (Brandon McClerkin Bill	Ethridge Bill)
Signature Registration: (1) Every voter must register by personally signing the registration forms ..	Yes	No	Yes	No
(2) Relatives (husband, wife, mother, father, brother, sister, son or daughter) may register for each other	No	Yes	No	Yes
Signature Voting (each voter must sign for ballot at the polls)	Yes	No.	Yes	Yes
Optional designation of political party affiliation on registration records	No	Yes	No	Yes
All voters required to re-register either annually or periodically (Automatic purge of registration rolls)	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Literacy test required to register	No	No	No	No
Absentee registration by affidavit of voter authorized	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes
Registration official returns all unused registration forms to State Auditor at end of each annual registration period	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Provisions for temporary registrations of voters for elections to be held this year	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Name of registration official	County Clerk	undecided	Assessor	Assessor

Arkansas Registration

Two More Bills To Be Offered On Registration

Two compromise registration bills, both providing that voters register every four years and naming the county tax assessor as registrar, were proposed Saturday.

One was offered by state Representative Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and the other by Representatives B. D. (Doug) Brandon of Pulaski County and Hayes C. McClerkin of Miller County. Neither side knew the other was at work on such a bill.

Each of the measures, to be introduced at the special session of the General Assembly to begin March 24, represents what its authors consider the desirable features of two earlier but competitive bills by Representative J. H. Cotrell Jr. of Pulaski County and Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County.

Such compromises were almost bound to come out of the delay in the calling of the special session, all of it filled with bickering over the bills.

Cottrell's bill, which has annual registration, got the endorsement of the Legislative Council, and later of Governor Faubus, but even the Council members couldn't agree on who was to be the registrar. Cottrell wanted the tax assessors to have the job—but the assessors said no, and then both the county clerks and tax collectors were suggested.

This hasn't been resolved yet but it may be a clue that both the compromise bills, written nearly a month after the Council convened, name the tax assessor.

Date Finally Set

The governor had intended to have the special session begin February 26 but the Council's deadlock on the registrar caused him to wait—and wait. He finally set a date anyway.

Croxton opposed the Cottrell version in the Council and kept on hammering at it after the Council had finished. In its stead he's pushing his own, which calls for permanent registration with the county clerk as registrar.

The two new bills are similar in many respects, but there are two major differences. The Brandon - McClerkin measure would require each voter to register for himself, while the Etheridge bill would permit a voter to be registered by husband, wife, mother or father.

Party Preference

The other big difference is an optional designation of political party affiliation on registration records. The Etheridge bill provides for this as does the Cottrell measure, while the other two bills do not.

In general, the two new bills are somewhat stricter than the Cottrell measure on the mechanics of registration but not so strict as the Croxton bill. The latter requires each voter to register personally, while Cottrell's proposal would allow a father, mother, husband, wife, son, daughter, brother or sister to register a voter.

Under both the new bills, complete voter re-registration would be required every four years. Annual registration for new voters would be held between January 1 and April 10 under the Etheridge bill. The period would be from January 1 to April 30 under the Brandon-McClerkin measure.

Signature Voting (each voter must sign for ballot at the polls)	Yes	No.	Yes	Yes
Optional designation of political party affiliation on registration records	No	Yes	No	Yes
All voters required to re-register either annually or periodically (Automatic purge of registration rolls)	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Literacy test required to register	No	No	No	No
Absentee registration by affidavit of voter authorized	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes
Registration official returns all unused registration forms to State Auditor at end of each annual registration period	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Provisions for temporary registrations of voters for elections to be held this year	No	Yes	Yes	Yes
Name of registration official	County Clerk	undecided	Assessor	Assessor

Arkansas Registration

er by Representatives B. D. (Doug) Brandon of Pulaski County and Hayes C. McClerkin of Miller County. Neither side knew the other was at work on such a bill.

Each of the measures, to be introduced at the special session of the General Assembly to begin March 24, represents what its authors consider the desirable features of two earlier but competitive bills by Representative J. H. Cotrell Jr. of Pulaski County and Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County.

Such compromises were almost bound to come out of the delay in the calling of the special session, all of it filled with bickering over the bills.

Cottrell's bill, which has annual registration, got the endorsement of the Legislative Council, and later of Governor Faubus, but even the Council members couldn't agree on who was to be the registrar. Cottrell wanted the tax assessors to have the job—but the assessors said no, and then both the county clerks and tax collectors were suggested.

This hasn't been resolved yet but it may be a clue that both the compromise bills, written nearly a month after the Council convened, name the tax assessor.

Date Finally Set

The governor had intended to have the special session begin February 26 but the Council's deadlock on the registrar caused him to wait—and wait. He finally set a date anyway.

Croxton opposed the Cottrell version in the Council and kept on hammering at it after the Council had finished. In its stead he's pushing his own, which calls for permanent registration with the county clerk as registrar.

The two new bills are similar in many respects, but there are two major differences. The Brandon - McClerkin measure would require each voter to register for himself, while the Etheridge bill would permit a voter to be registered by husband, wife, mother or father.

Party Preference

The other big difference is an optional designation of political party affiliation on registration records. The Etheridge bill provides for this as does the Cottrell measure, while the other two bills do not.

In general, the two new bills are somewhat stricter than the Cottrell measure on the mechanics of registration but not so strict as the Croxton bill. The latter requires each voter to register personally, while Cottrell's proposal would allow a father, mother, husband, wife, son, daughter, brother or sister to register a voter.

Under both the new bills, complete voter re-registration would be required every four years. Annual registration for new voters would be held between January 1 and April 10 under the Etheridge bill. The period would be from January 1 to April 30 under the Brandon-McClerkin measure.

Purge Procedures

They also contain automatic purge procedures to keep the voter list current. This includes automatic removal of names of those who have died, persons who have been convicted of a felony, those who notify the voter registrar that their legal voting residence has been moved from the county and those who transfer registration to another county.

Both the new bills would permit the voter registrar or his deputy to challenge the registration of any voter but he would have to call a hearing within 10 days after doing so. An adverse ruling could be appealed to the circuit court.

They also contain special provisions for registration of voters for elections to be held before July 1, 1965.

Each person who paid the 1963 poll tax would be considered a registered voter until October 1, 1964. Persons who paid the 1964 poll tax would be eligible to vote in all elections between October 1, 1964, and July 1, 1965.

Other persons would be allowed to obtain a poll tax receipt free during the last 20 days of September and through October 1, 1964, under both new bills.

Ark Gaz, Ark Dem

Faubus Wants Bill On Voting Passed Without Revisions

3/18/64

Governor Faubus made it clear Tuesday that he doesn't want the legislature to tamper with the voter registration bill that the Legislative Council put together.

Mr. Faubus was asked at a news conference about providing in the bill for the creation of a separate office of county voting registrar on an optional basis.

The governor said he thought that was a good idea but not in the bill he has asked the special legislative session to hand him. The governer doubted that this was the time to go into any further refinements in the bill.

He said he would favor amending the bill in the regular 1965 session to permit those counties that want to pay for a separate office of registrar to be able to do so.

"We'll have the experience of this year to go on," he said.

The governor appeared to be more relaxed about the special session on voter registration than he had in recent weeks. The session will open at noon Tuesday and the governor has indicated previously that he was aiming for a Friday adjournment.

May Be Sooner

"I think it will be over right away. We might get through in three days," he told newsmen. He had a brief conference with Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County before he met the press.

Van Dalsem came out of the meeting with Mr. Faubus predicting a three-day session. But, like the governor he hedged by adding that an amendment to any of the 18 items in the call could force the session into a fourth day.

The minimum legal time in which a bill can be passed by the General Assembly is three days.

Mr. Faubus said that the legislative Joint Budget Committee of House and Senate members will meet Monday to iron out the budget bills that he has asked the legislature to pass. This way, the governor explained, the legislators can speed up the process.

The governor said the situation might be resolved to a point where he will not have to make any recommendation as to the registrar. He said last week that he would make a recommendation if the issue was not resolved by the time the session begins.

Mr. Faubus will address the special session to explain to the members why he has asked them to pass 17 other measures in addition to the voter registration bill.

The Legislative Council has scheduled a meeting for 10 a. m. Monday to consider all of the budget items in the call. The Council expects these hearings to last all day.

The need for a voter registration bill was forced on the state with the adoption of the Twenty-fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution. This amendment prohibits use of a poll tax to qualify an elector to vote in any federal election.

No Hasty Action

The governor added that he doesn't want to leave the impression that the legislature will try to cut off debate on voter registration or any proposal. He said that the subject was too important for hasty action.

Mr. Faubus apparently has been working behind the scenes to smooth out all of the hitches before the session begins. He expects some opposition from legislators who favor permanent registration as opposed to the Council's annual registration plan.

But, he said, he doesn't expect a bitter fight nor effective delaying tactics to force a compromise on any proposal. For one thing, he said, he didn't believe that the permanent registration bloc, headed by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, could muster enough votes on the floor to block anything.

Not that he is accusing anyone of delaying tactics, the governor added. He felt that every legislator was acting in good faith on the basis of differing viewpoints.

Registrar No Problem

As for the still unresolved issue about which county official should handle the registration, Mr. Faubus said that this has boiled down to either the tax assessor or the tax collector. And, the governor said, the opinion is not heated enough to pose a problem.

Pine Bluff Commercial 3/31/64

Voter Registration Law and Registration

WARREN EAGLE DEMOCRAT

Governor Faubus has finally moved and called for Arkansas legislators to come back to Little Rock and write a voter registration law.

This is good.

We only regret that he has put it off as long as he has.

Arkansas needs, and deserves, a voter registration law that will kill off "block voting" in Eastern Arkansas and at other points.

The State needs a law that will keep the voter rolls up to date.

It needs a law that will encourage, rather than discourage voting.

We are convinced that a law that will call for either annual or bi-ennial registration is the kind of measure that is needed.

Automatic purging of the voter rolls of ineligible voters will take place if this sort of law is approved.

Arkansas certainly doesn't need the kind of "permanent registration" law that has been in use in Cook County, Illinois, the seat of Chicago, for the past few years.

A study of one election in 1960 showed that approximately a third of the "voters" in Cook County were either dead, moved from their precinct, or impossible to find.

Pine Bluff Commercial 3/23/64 Ark. Reg.

The Voter Registration Issue: Permanent Vs. Annual

By HARRY PEARSON
Of The Commercial Staff

Unless something unforeseen by administration forces goes wrong this week, the special session of the legislature will pass an annual registration system for Arkansas voters.

There likewise seems to be little doubt that the legislation passed at the session beginning Tuesday will be modeled on the annual registration system introduced by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County.

About the only issue that really seems to be in doubt is what county official the legislators will name as the registrar.

The Cottrell legislation calls for the tax assessor to handle the job. But the assessors showed no enthusiasm about this proposed increase in their work load, and went on record saying so.

Sheriffs Want Job

The sheriffs and collectors wanted to continue being the registrar as they had been under the poll tax system and put their lobby to work. Last week, Robert Moore, secretary of the Arkansas Sheriffs Association, said he had conducted an informal poll of the legislators and had found that 60 per cent of them favored leaving the job of registrar with the sheriffs and collectors.

Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, the boss of the legislature, has given lobbyists for the sheriffs and collectors assurance of his supoprt, it is reported.

J. P. (Sonny) Lybrand of Pine Bluff, president of the Arkansas Assessors Association, said Friday that he had taken no polls of the legislature and that it was hard for him to predict whether his group would be given the job.

"It's hard to tell which way it's going," he said. He said that he had talked with Moore and that Moore had said the majority of the legislators polled thought it was "economically more feasible" for the sheriffs and collectors to continue handling voter registration. In 67 counties, the jobs of sheriff and collector are handled by one individual.

County Clerk Proposed

A small minority of legislators, including the liberals, would like to see the county clerk as the voter registrar. These legislators, as well as a great many people representing special interest groups outside the legislature, think that there would be less discrimintion if the county clerks handled the job.

One pro-Faubus legislator, during the Legislative Council sessions, said the reason the assessor was to be designated regis- that Negroes and perhaps certain from voting. The reasoning was tha Negroes and perhaps certain other groups would be afraid to register because of the possibility of their being assessed at the same time. Under the Cottrell legislation, the voter registration and assessment periods would coincide each year.

Cottrell himself provided the best confirmation of this when he wrote a letter to the Arkansas Gazette defending his legislation:

"Really the only argument against the assessor is that a person desiring to avoid assessing personal property might feel some compulsion to assess when he registered to vote. My concern and sympathy for tax-dodgers does not extend quite this far."

The reason the sheriffs and collectors want to continue as registrar (with the notable exception of Harold Norton, Jefferson County sheriff) is simply to benefit those sheriffs who control machine counties and do not wish to relinquish their power.

Moore's Explanation

Moore himself put it better. He said it was important for the sheriffs to keep the job so that they could get to know the people in their county. He said these contacts were important from a political standpoint.

It was the hassle over whom to name as the voter registrar that bogged the Legislative Council down, and finally resulted in a three-headed bill being recommended to the legislature.

The only difference between the three bills is in the designation of the registrar. Fundamentally, however, there was little disagreement on the major points contained in the bill and there will probably be just as little disagreement (with the exception of a few fiery speeches) when the issue hits the floor of the legislature.

Yet it is the major features of the Cottrell bill that will provoke an initiated act from the Committee on Voter Registration. The committee is a rather strange coalition of Republicans, Democrats, labor, liberals, women and business. Their avowed intention is getting a good voter registration system. They find the Cottrell legislation "abhorrent" and "totally unacceptable."

Agreement on 3 Things

But there are at least three things about the Cottrell bill that the committee, tacitly perhaps, would find acceptable:

—The poll tax for voting in state elections is a thing of the past.

—There are stiff penalties for voting fraud.

—Those who paid poll taxes so far would be eligible to vote until the new registration system comes into effect.

Van Dalsem does not favor the stiff penalties contained in the Cottrell bill. He said, during the council session, he thought they were "too hard."

The controversial features of the Cottrell legislation are:

—Annual registration.

—Registration for the absentee voter by relatives.

—The optional designation of party affiliation.

—The lack of a signature comparisons as a safeguard against election fraud.

Annual registration, as its title implies, simply means that the voter would have to register each year. The registration period would end months before the voter became eligible to vote in an election. The governor and his supporters contend that annual registration would, de facto, prevent tombstone voting since the lists would begin again each year.

Permanent Registration

The advocates of permanent registration are also advocates of a purging of the voting lists at regular intervals. Permanent registration means that if your register once, you remain registered unless you:

—Fail to vote at last once in a two-year period

—Move from your voting precinct

—Change your name

—Or die.

Under the system being sponsored by the committee, the Bureau of Vital Statistics would inform the registrar (the county clerk) of the deaths, and a change of address service of the United States Postoffice would provide the registrar with the names of people who had moved.

Permanent registration will, its supporters say, make registration more convenient for the voter, put a premium on regular voting, and save the monies that would be spent in re-registering more than 600,000 voters each year. The committee's system would also allow those who wished to register to vote to do so up until 20 days before an election.

44 States Have It

There are 44 states with permanent registration. Of these, 32 use only permanent registration, and the remaining 12 have permanent registration in some areas. Among these states are Tennessee, Louisiana, Missouri, and Oklahoma.

The permanent registration system being proposed by the committee was based on the National Municipal League's model voter bill and was not solely the idea of Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County, who will introduce the legislation before the special session.

Under this system, the voter will sign his name when he registers and when he votes and the signatures will be compared. The opposition says that voting clerks and judges are not handwriting experts. The committee says that judges and clerks can see obvious discrepancies.

The Cottrell bill did not originally contain a provision for party affiliation, although Croxton's made party affiliation mandatory. Van Dalsem got the council to insert an optional party affiliation clause into the Cottrell legislation.

Van Dalsem Compromise

Van Dalsem said he wanted mandatory affiliation in order "to get the Winthrop Rockefeller Republicans" but said that he would settle for optional party affiliation because "If you can't get the whole loaf, take half."

Accordingly, the voter may or may not (at his volition) designate his party when he registers. This does not, however, prevent the state Democratic Party from making the requirement mandatory for primary voting.

The permanent registration bill proposed by Croxton now has been revised so that no party affiliation is required. There is the fear that party affiliation designation would cripple the growth of a two-party state.

Registering by Relatives

Last, but not least, is the Cottrell provision that allows relatives (mother, brother, father, sister, wife, or husband) to register for another member of the family. What has not been widely noted about this provision of the Cottrell bill is that the relative who does the registering must sign a notarized affidavit.

Supporters of the permanent registration method call this provision of the Cottrell bill "an open invitation to fraud." Supporters of the Cottrell bill say such absentee registration provides a convenience to the voter, particularly in rural areas.

Under the permanent system, the voter would have to register in person at the registrar's office. If the voter were unable to get to the registrar's office, he would be required to sign a notarized affidavit in order to register.

2 Other Ideas

Briefly, there are two other ideas being promoted by independents in the legislature and outside. One, which does not have wide support, is a periodic registration system.

Periodic registration is sort of a cross between permanent and annual registration. It would require registration at periodic intervals for everyone but not annually. Some of the periods suggested have been two and four years.

Governor Faubus said he did not think a permanent registration system would be feasible without a separate office for the registrar. Such a proposal would result in a full-time or part-time registrar who did nothing but handle the registration books and purges of the voting rolls. Tennessee is one of the many states in which a registrar (under the control of the county election commission) is responsible for registering the voters and keeping the books.

Faubus has predicted that Arkansas would finally come up with a permanent registration system. He did not think this would be accomplished for a long while.

However, the Committee on Voter Registration is already preparing petitions calling for an initiated act on a permanent voter registration system. The people may have an opportunity to make their choice in an election this summer.

The legislature, with its choice apparently already made, can then measure its action in accordance with the wishes of its constituency.

J. H. COTTRELL JR.
Sponsored Annual System

HARDY CROXTON
Favors Permanent System

United Press International

At Legislative Council Hearings

Attorney General Bruce Bennett and Governor Faubus's legal adviser, William Smith (right), gave their views on what ought to be incorporated into a voter registration bill to insure its legality. Bennett and Smith wrote their ideas into legislation introduced before the Legisative Council by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County.

From the People

Ark. Gaz. 3-24-64

The Basics of a Proper Voting Law

To the Editor of the Gazette:

In this talk about voter registration systems, no headway will be made unless the various camps first make known their stand on certain fundamentals, to-wit: (1) That voting is the fundamental political right of citizens; (2) that this right must be extended equally to all voters; (3) that the equality of the franchise must be protected to the hilt against fraud of every kind.

These concepts are so basic to our form of government that the to-do about costs is largely beside the point. The adoption of either annual or permanent registration will not reduce the state to bankruptcy or anything approaching bankruptcy. To get a good system of voter registration is worth whatever it will cost.

Much hullabaloo is made about which official is to handle the registration. There is always noise when politicians approach the trough of fees and enlarged departments, but the registration personnel is a relatively minor item. The important questions are:

1. Which system makes it easier for a voter to qualify to vote? — once in a lifetime or once every year?

2. Which system offers more protection against fraud —the annual system which perpetuates every loophole for fraud we have known under the poll tax system, or the permanent system with its requirement of signature identification at the polls?

Men who rely in daily business on signatures as the ultimate proof of authenticity now raise cries of alarm that their signature changes from day to day or that it gives every election judge the opportunity arbitrarily to deny the validity of a signature. The simple answer to this is that any judge now may question whether any voter is who he says he is. In those states which have long had signature identification at the polls, this has not proved to be a problem. Are Arkansas election judges so much more arbitrary and devoted to fraud than election judges elsewhere?

It is said by opponents of permanent registration that such a system has the backing of liberal organizations that rely heavily on controlled bloc voting to carry elections, especially in large cities. If the opponents of permanent registration mean that they do not subscribe to the belief that voting is the fundamental political right of all citizens and that all care should be exercised to see that each vote counts for all it is worth, let them clearly say so. Then the real basis for debate will be in the open.

(Communications on any subject are welcome. Letters should be under 500 words and typewritten if possible. All letters are subject to editing to meet space requirements. Each letter must be signed although signatures will be withheld on request. No letter will be returned unless self-addressed envelope is enclosed.—Editor.)

★ ★ ★

Additionally, who in Arkansas would contend that under our poll tax system we have not known bloc voting? The incidence of bloc voting is in no way related to the type of registration system in use.

Nor can it really be said that the type of registration system in use is the sole factor in voter turnout at the polls. Yet it is a fact that the six top-ranking states in terms of voter participation in the 1960 presidential election, with turnouts ranging from 80.7 per cent to 77.3 per cent of eligible participants, were Idaho, Utah, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota and West Virginia. With one exception all of these states had the permanent system of voter registration. The one exception is North Dakota, which requires of its voters NO previous registration at all. Arkansas under its poll tax system managed to get only 41.1 per cent of eligible participants to the polls.

Should we in Arkansas not adopt a system which will encourage voter turnout? Are the opponents of permanent registration trying to say that the government is best in which the fewest possible voters are permitted to vote?

Cook County, Illinois, is cited by some as an example of how permanent personal registration leads to fraud. In Cook County voters are identified by signature. An investigation of the 1960 election in that county was undertaken by Morris J. Wexler, Special State's Attorney, and his report contains no implication that the system of permanent registration led to irregularities in the election. In only nine of Chicago's 3,800 precincts was there evidence that election officials did not compare voter signatures, and the investigation further disclosed that of 2,504,447 voters only 263 were unqualified. That these unqualified persons were able to vote because of any fault in the permanent registration system is never mentioned or implied. To the contrary, the small number of unqualified persons who managed to vote seems to be a fine testament to the success of permanent registration.

Arkansas needs permanent, personal registration with the requirement for signature identification at the polls.

Laura Lafferty.

Little Rock.

Voting Prospects

To the Editor of the Gazette:

The current controversy over voter registration has become increasingly confused in recent days. It seems that this has been brought on with a certain purpose in mind. For some reason, the question of who will register voters has gotten much more publicity than the question of whether or not the registration will be annual or permanent.

Could there be some purpose behind all this? Practically all states have a permanent registration system. Many which have tried annual ones have found them unworkable. Under an annual registration system, any fraud and irregularities can be destroyed to a great extent by merely destroying the voting lists immediately after an election. Under an annual registration system, county machines could prevent slip-ups such as the one that occurred in Conway with the voters from Michigan.

A property installed permanent registration would be a major step toward returning the rights of the people back to the people. This is the real issue.

However, certain politicians have been campaigning feverishly to convince us that the question of which county official, (sheriff, assessor, or clerk) is the only one which merits our attention. The least logical choice for the job is the sheriff. The assessor is a more logical choice than the sheriff, but the most logical choice for the job is the county clerk.

The paying of taxes has no relationship to the right of voting. This is clearly demonstrate by the 24th Amendment. To maintain the sheriff as a registrar of voters is to cling blindly to the idea of the poll tax.

However, for the past few years we have rarely done the best or most logical thing. We will probably end up with an annual system and with the sheriff as registrar, just as the governor and his cronies want us to have. The Roman Circus scheduled to begin on Tuesday will probably bear me out.

Ronny Deaton.

Arkadelphia.

Ark. Gaz.

Pine Bluff Corr.

Council's Voter Bill Is Praised

3/24/64

Ark. Reg.

Faubus Refuses To Support Registrar Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Governor Faubus told the Arkansas Legislature today that the Legislative Council's voter registration bill came closest to meeting the four main criteria of a good registration measure.

But Faubus shied away from what promises to be the most controversial topic of registration: Which county official shall be designated as voter registrar.

Faubus's views on voter registration were released in a speech prepared for delivery to a joint session of the general assembly at 1:30 p.m.

Lawmakers met at noon to consider voter registration and 17 other matters that Faubus included in his call to a special session.

Prime Considerations

Faubus listed the prime considerations of a voter registration measure as:

1—Simplicity and ease of compliance for the voter.

2—Simplicity and ease of record keeping by the registering official.

3—Minimum of expense to state or local government;

4—Minimum of fraud or error in the voter registration list.

"I recommend the measure worked out by the Legislative Council as coming the nearest to meeting satisfactorily these considerations at the present time," Faubus said.

Registrar Discounted

He said designation of the registrar was not important. He said:

"I'm sure whoever receives the job will fulfill the responsibility. There may at times be failures and defects in the election processes of our state, but Arkansas is not known for election fraud. When compared to places like Chicago, our record stands out like a hound's tooth on a skunk hide."

Faubus recommended that the registration blank have a space for an optional statement of party affiliation. Such a blank is provided in the council bill but legislative moves to make party designation mandatory and to remove the requirement altogether are expected.

Faubus closed his remarks on voter registration by stating:

"No one has advanced the thought that this proposal is the final and ultimate answer to voter registration. Changes may be made as needed or desired in the future. Experience and observation will confirm any virtues of the measure and likewise disclose any defects it may contain."

Other Items Explained

Most of the speech was devoted to explaining the 17 other items in the call.

Faubus said he proposed a bill to make sit-in-type demonstrations at polling places a felony instead of a misdemeanor to protect the right to vote.

"I think if this measure is adopted, we will not be faced with such demonstration in Arkansas," Faubus said. "If we are faced with such demonstration, the law could be used to incarcerate in the Arkansas pentitentiary tain white or colored agitators who have come to Arkansas for no other purpose than to create discord, turmoil and conflict."

It was expected that as many as 10 registration proposals varying by minor degrees would be introduced during the day.

Debate and voting on the bills cannot come before Wednesday.

10 Vote Bill Versions Expected As Special Session Opens Today

Ark. Reg., 3-21-67 Ark Reg

At least 10 variations of a voter registration bill are expected today when the special legislative session gets down to business.

The session will begin at noon.

Legislative sources said Monday that 10 voter registration bills, each different to a degree, had been prepared for introduction.

The number includes three versions of the bill drafted by the Legislative Council. The bills differ only in the designation of either tax assessor, collector or county clerk as registrar.

The session is expected to last three or four days. But, legislative leaders were reported ready to ask for enough money to pay for an eight-day session as a precaution.

Governor Faubus, who will ask for a voter registration bill and 17 other proposals that he said are needed, expects a normal special session of three or four days. He saw nothing in sight Monday to change the estimate.

After the formality of organization today, the Senate and House will convene to hear the governor's address, around 12:30 p. m.

On the eve of the session, the sentiment appeared to be favoring the selection of the assessors as registrars even though the Arkansas Assessors Association leadership says it doesn't want the added job.

The tax collectors working through the leadership of the Arkansas Sheriffs Association are asking to be designated registrar. Most of the sheriffs have dual roles as tax collectors, who now issue the poll tax.

The county clerks are regarded as not in the running although some legislators, led by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, favor the clerks and a permanent registration bill.

The Council bill supported by Mr. Faubus calls for annual registration.

Some legislators are predicting a divided first vote on the selection of a registrar with the assessors winding up with the job.

A spot poll by the Associated Press showed Monday that the assessors were slightly favored. The poll included 28 of the 133 Senate and House members.

Twenty-seven of the 28 expected the session to be wrapped up by Friday. It takes a minimum of three days to approve a bill.

Croxton's Hope For Bill Is Dim

ROGERS (AP) — State Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County indicated Monday that he had little hope of getting his version of the voter registration bill passed during the special session of the legislature, which opens Tuesday.

Croxton said there was little chance of defeating any measure supported by Governor Faubus. He said Mr. Faubus was backing a voter registration measure written by Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County.

Cottrell's bill calls for annual registration of voters while Croxton is in favor of permanent registration.

Ark Reg.

Now Governor Tells His Choice

The tax assessors were his choice for voter registrars, Governor Faubus said Thursday.

But that was after both the Senate and House had designated the sheriff-tax collectors as the registrars in separate registration bills.

Mr. Faubus said he felt free to state his personal view since he wouldn't affect the outcome of the legislative vote.

The governor said that as late as Wednesday night he was approached by several legislators and asked to state his preference.

"I told them that I'd accept whoever they picked," Mr. Faubus said.

Ark. Gaz., 3-27-64

Ark Registration

Ark. Reg

How House Cast Votes On Registrar

Ark. Gaz.

3-27-64, p. 2A

Here is how the House of Representative voted Thursday on HB 2 naming the sheriff-tax collectors as voter registrars:

For (69)

Alexander
*Allen
Autry
Baker
*Bethell
Brown of Union
Bryant
Buck
*Burleson
*Bynum
Carpenter of Clay
Colay
Collier
*Collins
Davis
Day
Durrett
Earnhart
*Etheridge
Evans
*Field
Foster
Galyean
*George
Goodwin
Graham
*Greenlee
*Martin
*Hackler
Hammons
*Hayes of Arkansas
*Hayes of Randolph
Hendrix
Hinkle
Hopson
Howell
Jones
Kinney
Kinslow
Kizer
*Landers
Ligon
Linder
*McBrayer
McCastlain
McCuiston
McKennon
*Maddox
*May
Miller
*Morrow
Mulkey
Nance
*Oakes
Sadler
Sanson
Shaver
*Smith of Garland
Stephens of Grant
*Sulcer
Teague
*Thompson
Tucker
*Turner
Van Dalsem
Ward
Wharton
Womack
Speaker Crank

*Voted against Wednesday.
Did not vote Wednesday.

Against (29)

Doug Brandon
Jim Brandon
Brown of Craighead
Butler
Capps
Carter
Cockrill
Cottrell
Croxton
Deckelman
Eubanks
Hamilton
Haydon
Ledbetter
McClerkin
Pryor
Schoenfeld
Smith of Lincoln
Stevens of Jefferson
Stewart
Thomasson
Walker
Walt
Walther
Wells
Williams
*Wimpy
Works
Young

*voted for Wednesday.

Absent or Not Voting

Carpenter of Sharp
Murphy

Ark. Leg.

Registering Job Assigned To Sheriffs

Ark. Reg.

Ark. Gaz., 2-27-64

p. 1A.

By RICHARD ALLIN and JEROL GARRISON
Of the Gazette Staff

The House of Representatives broke its deadlock Thursday and approved a registration bill that gives the job of registering voters to the sheriff-tax collectors. The vote was 69-29.

In the Senate, which adopted a sheriff-tax collectors bill the day before, the last opposition faded away and an emergency clause was tacked to the Senate bill.

So the sheriff-tax collectors won a lobbying contest and were chosen over the tax assessors, who did not want the job.

Both houses will meet again this morning to give routine approval to the other's bill and the session will be all over by noon.

The House had defeated the same bill (HB 2) the day before, 40 votes for and 52 against. Since then, many members who had favored the assessors or county clerks switched over to the sheriff-tax collectors.

Faubus', ALC's Bill

The bills approved in both Senate and House carry out the plan recommended by the Legislative Council and Governor Faubus. It is an annual registration system in which members of the voter's family may register for him.

However, neither the Legislative Council nor Mr. Faubus expressed an opinion as to which county official should get the registration job and the House had a difficult time making the decision.

On Wednesday, 40 legislators favored the Legislative Council's plan with the sheriff-tax collectors as registrars, 30 wanted the county clerks and 36 preferred the assessors. Since a bill needs 51 votes to pass, all of them failed.

When HB 2 was called to a new vote Thursday, Representative Paul Van Dalsem of Per-

(See VOTE on Page 2A.)

Ark. Reg.

Vote

(Continued from Page 1.)

ry County told the House members this would be the last chance they would have to pass a voter registration bill during the special session.

"Rather than go home without a bill, I urge you to pass this bill, and if it doesn't satisfy you, we will try to do something about it in the regular session next January," Van Dalsem said. He originally had favored the tax assessor plan.

Many Aren't Pleased

Despite the fact that the House settled on HB 2, many of the members weren't very pleased with it. Representative Nathan Schoenfeld of Garland County almost succeeded in pushing a bill (HB 24) through that would have declared the new voter registration plan null and void on December 31, 1966.

Schoenfeld said the legislature had had only a short period of time to study voter registration. He said his bill would require the 1965 General Assembly to study the matter again and establish a "comprehensive registration system."

The bill received 48 favorable votes the first time it was considered, three short of passage. Backers tried again a half-hour later but that time slipped to 46 favorable votes.

Walther's Plea

Representative Glenn F. Walther of Pulaski County led the fight for Schoenfeld's bill the second time it was called up. He told the House members that they were going to receive some criticism from the people back home about the voter registration plan they approved.

By passing Schoenfeld's bill, Walther said, "you can tell the people that you enacted a measure that will make it mandatory to reconsider voter registration in 1965." He said that Schoenfeld's bill would be wise "from a political standpoint."

Representative George W. Davis of Sevier County spoke against the Schoenfeld bill. He said he couldn't see any sense in approving a voter registration plan and then passing a bill to repeal it.

"I have no apologies to my people back home for the way I voted," Davis said. "If you can't take the heat, get out of the kitchen."

Representative Jack Oakes of Woodruff County and John P. Bethell of Prairie County also spoke against the Schoenfeld bill. Oakes said the bill wouldn't allow sufficient time for trying out the new voter registration system. Bethell said the legislature could repeal the system anytime it wanted to and that there was no point in forcing it to reconsider the matter.

All 11 members of the Pulaski County delegation—except for Representative Ben Allen—opposed the bill to give the registration job to the sheriffs. All of them except Allen also supported the move to have the bill declared null and void at the end of 1966.

Van Dalsem also advocated passage of Schoenfeld's "null and void" bill. He said it would take some of the steam out of the drive to have a permanent registration system placed on the ballot at the November general election.

Two Others Defeated

Before approving HB 2 Thursday, the House voted down two other voter registration plans. They were:

★ HB 20 by Representatives Doug Brandon of Pulaski County and Hayes C. McClerkin of Miller County to establish a system under which persons would register to vote every four years. The tax assessors would be the registrars and everyone would have to register in person. This bill got 41 favorable votes and 52 against.

★ HB 21 by Representative Arthur Deckelman of Drew County to establish a permanent registration system under the county clerks. The vote on this was 32 in favor and 62 against.

On Wednesday the House had voted 32-60 against the permanent registration system (HB 9) proposed by Representatives Hardy Croxton of Benton County and Jim Brandon of Pulaski County. Deckelman's bill was similar in most respects to this one, except that it provided for using the poll tax receipts to vote in this year's elections.

Vote Group to Meet

Later, Croxton announced that the Committee on Voter Registration would meet at 2 p. m. today at the Albert Pike Hotel. The Committee, which he helped organize, has said that it will try to get an initiated act on the November ballot for a permanent registration system if the special session did not adopt one.

The Senate passed 27 to 5 the crucial emergency clause on SB 5, identical to HB 2, then defeated its version of the tax assessor bill, SB 6 by 14 to 18. Although Senator Joe B. Hurley of El Dorado gave notice of reconsideration, Senator Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock, the sponsor, said he did not plan to do any more on SB 6.

Could Have Stalled

Opponents of HB 2 could have stalled its reading for the second time Thursday in the Senate merely by objecting but they did not. Had they done so, it would have meant the special session would have run at least one day longer.

The victory of the sheriff-tax collector version came after a strng lobbying effort in both the House and Senate by Sheriff Robert S. Moore of Desha County and Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County. Both haunted the legislative halls and Sheriff Hawkins even made all members of the General Assembly honorary deputy sheriffs of Conway County and presented them each with a lapel pin in the form of tiny handcuffs. Each legislator also received a letter from his sheriff.

Before their defeat, proponents of the tax assessor version of the registration bill urged spiritedly on the Senate floor for its passage. Senator Clifton Wade of Fayetteville Senator Thomas Penn of Black Rock and Senator Sprick all argued for it.

The Senate had failed by one vote Wednesday to add the emergency clause to SB 5, its sheriff-tax collectors bill. But members apparently worked during the night, and came up with a winning 27 to 5 vote Thursday, with 24 votes needed.

One of Three

The successful Senate measure was one of three bills drafted by the Legislative Council and was sponsored in the Senate by Senators Clarence E. Bell of Parkin and W. K. Ingram of West Memphis.

The bills approved provide that persons who have paid their 1963 poll tax will be eligible to vote in any election prior to October 1, 1964, and those who have paid their 1964 poll tax will be eligible to vote in any election between October 1, 1964 and July 1, 1965. Voters who have not bought their poll taxes will receive them free during two registration periods.

The poll tax receipts will be replaced by the new system next year. Voters will register between January 1 and April 10 each year to vote in elections during the one-year period beginning July 1.

The House also adopted a resolution by Representative David W. Pryor of Ouachita County Thursday to have the Legislative Council study the feasibility of establishing a separate office of voter registrar in each county.

The resolution said that the basis for the study was the "lack of substantial agreement among the General Assembly with respect to which of the existing county officers should administer the provisions of a voter registration system."

The Voter-Registration Bill: Here's What It Provides

Pine Bluff Commercial, 3/27/64, p.8.

Ark. Reg.

Here is what the voter-registration bill passed at the special session will provide:

—Annual registration with the sheriff-collector as voter registrar.

—Absentee registration for the voter by relatives.

—A registration period extending from the first of January to the tenth day of April.

—The incorporation of current poll-tax holders (both 1963 and 1964) into the new registration lists.

—No signature comparisons at the polls.

Those who did not pay 1963 poll taxes will be allowed to register free the last 20 days of April. This registration will remain in effect through October 1, 1964. It will permit those who register to vote in the summer primaries.

Those who did pay 1963 poll taxes will automatically be registered through October 1, 1964.

Those who have not paid their 1964 poll tax will be allowed to register the last 20 days of September this year. They will remain registered through July 1, 1965, when the regular system goes into effect.

Those who did pay their 1964 poll taxes will be automatically registered through July 1, 1965.

Those who wish to vote after July 1, 1965, will have to register between January 1 and April 10, 1965. In other words, some people may have to register three times in the next year.

It is the intent of the bill that everyone—poll tax payers and those who register free—be able to vote for both state and federal offices.

If the courts hold, however, that Amendment 8 to the Arkansas Constitution makes payment of the poll tax mandatory for voting in state elections, those who register free will be allowed to vote only for the federal offices.

Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Ruling Against Registration Law Isn't Taken Seriously—For Now

Sun Bluff Comm
3-28-64

By HARRY PEARSON
Of The Commercial Staff

For the time being, no one is taking too seriously Chancellor Guy E. Williams's decision striking down the voter registration law passed by the legislature yesterday morning.

Williams's opinion was rendered less than four hours after the suit questioning the constitutionalty of the law was filed. It was necessary to get Williams to rule one way or the other so the case could get on up to the state Supreme Court.

What the chancellor said was simple: Arkansas must have a dual poll-tax system. The state cannot charge the poll as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections; but it must charge it in state elections because the Arkansas Constitution says so.

News Analysis

If this decision is upheld, then the Committee on Voter Registration is in trouble. The committee, a coalition of liberal groups, has planned an initiated act for a permanent voter registration.

The requirement of an annual poll tax for registration would conflict with permanent registration. Therefore, the committee would be forced into seeking a constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax requirement in Amendment 8 if the state Supreme Court upholds the chancellor.

There are other constitutional arguments that will be made in an effort to get the state Supreme Court to strike down the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections. Most of these arguments will be based on Amendment 39 to the state Constitution, which some say was designed to give the legislature just this power: To set up other requirements for the registration of voters. (The poll (head) tax would still be a requirement, but not for voting.)

At least one of the members of the Committee on Voter Registration does not think that the case is being argued impartially by the attorneys for the state. He says the committee may enter the case as amicus curiae (friend of the court).

If the state Supreme Court affirms Williams's decision, then only Section 14 of the voter registration system passed by the legislature will stand.

This section was originally written into the new voter bill by the governor's and attorney general's legal staffs to make the law stand up in case the Supreme Court did require a dual system.

Section 14 provides for the registration of poll tax holders and non-poll tax holders up until July, 1965. After that time, the other provisions of the registration law would have been in effect.

During the special session of the legislature, Representative C. B. Nance of Crittenden County suggested a dual system of registration. Nance withdrew his bill, however. He did announce, just after the voter registration bill finally passed the House and Senate, that he was going to file the test case to determine the validity of the new law.

An arrangement for an early ruling had been worked out with Chancellor Williams. The judge received some of the materials in the case in advance and moved the case to the top of his docket.

If the chancellor is upheld, the legislature probably will not have to meet again in special session unless Section 14 also is declared unconstitutional.

Should Section 14 alone withstand the court test, then the legislature would, in its 1965 session, have to come up with another voter registration law. Either this, or it would have to try to get a constitutional amendment submitted to the people.

Ark. Leg.

Democrats Set Filing Rules For Jefferson

Pine Bluff Comm.
3/28/64, p.14
Ark. Reg.

The Jefferson County Democratic Committee yesterday set the ticket opening for the July 28 primary and established filing fees.

The committee, meeting in annual session at the Jefferson County Courthouse also elected J. B. Rounder as its treasurer, raised the group's membership from 26 to 50 and voted to increase the number of polling places in Pine Bluff from 10 to 16 or 18.

Garland (Pete) Brewster Jr., committee chairman, said the ticket for the primary would open at noon Monday and close at noon April 29.

Filing fees will be:

—State representative, $200.
—State senator, $300.
—Sheriff and county judge, $450 each.
—County clerk, circuit clerk and assessor, $425 each.
—County treasurer, $350.
—Municipal judge, $500.
—Municipal clerk, $335.
—City attorney, $350.
—Alderman, $125.
—Justice of the peace and committeeman $5 each.

Filing fees may be paid to Brewster or County Clerk E. Allen Sheppard.

Ark. Reg.

Judge Voids Key Sections Of Voter-Registration Law

Pine Bluff Comm. - Ark. Leg
3/28/64, p. 1.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four hours after Governor Faubus signed the state's new voter-registration law yesterday, Chancellor Guy E. Williams voided key features of the act as being in conflict with the state Constitution.

The Williams ruling was appealed immediately to the state Supreme Court, which will have the final say in the matter.

The judge ruled in a friendly suit designed to test Act 19 of 1964. The law was enacted by the legislature yesterday and signed by Governor Faubus 31 minutes after adjournment of a special session called to produce a registration law to replace the poll tax.

Williams said Amendment 8 to the state Constitution makes the tax mandatory for voting in state, county and city elections and it is thus irreplaceable.

Williams said the legislature did a good job of complying with Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution, which precipitated the special session by outlawing the poll tax as a voter-qualification device in federal voting.

Unless Williams's ruling is overturned, it means that persons who register under stopgap provisions of the bill will be able to vote only in congressional races in the July 28 and August 11 primaries and only for president, vice president and congressman in the November general election.

It also means that the key provisions of the registration bill—those setting up a continuing registration system starting January 1, 1965—are invalid because they require only registration to qualify the voter.

Ark. Legs.

Petition Campaign Prepared

3-28-64

Special to The Commercial

LITTLE ROCK — The Committee on Voter Registration, a group favoring permanent registration, announced yesterday that it would begin next week circulating petitions calling for an initiated act on permanent voter registration.

The committee, headed by Repsentative Hady Croxton of Benton County, met at the Albert Pike Hotel yesterday afternoon after the legislature ended its special session. The legislature enacted an annual-registration system.

Croxton said the committee would sponsor an amendment to the state Constitution if the Supreme Court ruled that a dual vote system was necessary under the constitution.

If a constitutional amendment were necessary to wipe out the requirement of Amendment 8 that a poll tax was a qualification for voting, the committee would have to get 10 per cent of the number of people who voted in the last governor's race —or 30,809.

Ark. Regs.

Ark. Gaz., 3-28-64, p. 8A

—Staff Photo.

Representative Croxton and Mrs. Lafferty at the meeting.

Petitions to Get Initiated Voter Act On Ballot Being Readied for Signers

Petitions will be circulated starting next week to get a vote this fall on a permanent voter registration system to replace the annual registration version passed this week by the legislature.

State Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, co-sponsor of a permanent registration bill that failed in the special legislative session, met Friday afternoon with his Committee on Voter Registration at the Albert Pike Hotel and they decided to proceed with plans to raise petitions to put a proposed initiated act on the ballot in November.

Croxton said the petitions would start circulating as soon as they were printed. Lawyers are making a few refinements in the bill he introduced in the legislature and it will be in shape next week, he said. Croxton did not say precisely what the changes would be.

No Major Changes

Its principal features, which won't be changed, are permanent registration; designation of the county clerk as the registrar, rather than the sheriff-tax collector as in the legislative version, and a requirement that individuals must register by personally signing registration forms, rather than allowing close relatives to do it for them, as in the legislative measure.

To put an initiated act on the ballot, Croxton's group will need to get 24,647 valid signatures—8 per cent of the total vote in the 1962 gubernatorial race.

Croxton's bill, which largely was the result of a voter registration study by the League of Women Voters, was defeated Wednesday, 60-32, by the House of Representatives.

Laid Groundwork

They had expected this and had laid the groundwork for a proposed initiated act. The version that became law was introduced in the House by Representative Doris McCastlain of Monroe County.

"The McCastlain-sheriff bill is deficient in many respects," Croxton said. "The people should have a chance to say whether we will continue as we have in the past or step up and get a good voter registration system."

There is a certain amount of uncertainty. If the Supreme Court declares that the state Constitution requires a dual system of voting — maintaining the poll tax for state elections — Croxton's group probably would have to raise more petitions to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot to overcome this obstacle.

Committee Members

Meeting with Croxton were Mrs. Andrew Kurrus, Mrs. Parma Basham, Mrs. Laura Lafferty and Mrs. Byron W. House Jr., all of the League of Women Voters; state Representative Jim Brandon of Pulaski County, co-sponsor with Croxton of the permanent voter registration bill; J. Bill Becker and George H. Ellision, both of the State AFL-CIO; John Hale, president of the state Young Democrats, and Mrs. David Hamilton of the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Also on the Committee, but not present Friday, are Donald H. Smith of Pine Bluff, president of the Arkansas Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Faulkner of Fayetteville, president of the Young Republican Clubs of Arkansas. They do not represent their organizations officially.

Ark. Gaz.

New Vote Bill Goes To Court, Heads For Quick Decision

By GEORGE BENTLEY
Of the Gazette Staff

Act 19, the new voter registration law, was challenged in court 2½ hours after Governor Faubus signed it Friday and was declared unconstitutional as far as it authorized persons without a poll tax to vote on state and local candidates, issues and propositions.

The law was held constitutional only to the extent that it provides a system of registering persons to vote, without having a poll tax, in federal races.

Chancellor Guy E. Williams ruled that the legislature did not have the power to remove any of the specific voter qualifications listed in Amendment 8 to the state Constitution. These include the poll tax requirement.

The test suit was filed by Representative Cecil B. Nance Jr. of Crittenden County, a lawyer, asking for an injunction to prevent the use of the registration system for qualifying voters in state and local races. Judge Williams granted the injunction.

Files Appeal Quickly

Attorney General Bruce Bennett, who defended the Act, said he filed an appeal of the ruling Friday night with Supreme Court Clerk Philip N. Gowen. Bennett said he would ask the Court Monday to advance the case for a speedy final decision.

Nance and Bennett said it was a friendly suit and that they had prepared their legal pleadings Thursday so they would be ready for court as soon as the governor signed the measure.

Judge Williams, who said he was advised Thursday that a test case was imminent, read a four-page finding of fact from the bench at the end of the hearing. He said he had prepared it at home Thursday night.

Bennett said the ruling "reconciled" Amendments 8 and 39 to the state Constitution, Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections, and Act 19. Bennett said he thought all four were "compatible" with each other in view of the judge's finding.

Explains Ballots

Bennett said the ruling meant that if there is a contest for a federal office this year, it would be on a separate ballot to be used by registered voters with or without a poll tax. State and local races would be on another ballot that a voter would receive only if he had a poll tax receipt, Bennett said. This is in the event the state Supreme Court affirms the Chancery Court decision.

The test suit, thus, brings Act 19 to grips with Amendment 8, which establishes voter qualifications. The Supreme Court in this way can decide the validity of the state poll tax Amendment in the light of Amendment 24 to the federal Constitution abolishing the poll tax.

Nance filed the suit with his secretary, Miss Maxine Miles, as the plaintiff and as a taxpayer's suit for all taxpayers in the state. It was against the governor as ex-officio chairman of the state Election Commission; Leon Catlett of Little Rock, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and Alvin E. Bell, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee and the County Election Commission.

W. J. Smith, the governor's legislative assistant and legal

Nance pleading his case in Chancery Court.

—Staff Photos

Signing the Voter Registration Law

Governor Faubus signs Act 19 of the special session as he is watched by (from left) Representative Doris McCastlain, Senator Clarence E. Bell and his legal advisor, William J. Smith. Mrs. McCastlain and Bell were among the sponsors of the winning measure.

Legislators Finish Work On Vote Bill

By JEROL GARRISON
Of the Gazette Staff

The legislature completed action Friday morning on a registration bill that gives the job of registering voters to the tax collectors, and Governor Faubus signed it into law. The bill became Act 19 of the special session.

Both houses adjourned at 11 a. m. to end the special session. It was called by Governor Faubus after an amendment to the United States Constitution was passed that prohibits the use of poll tax in federal elections.

Lobbied Hard

The Arkansas Sheriffs Association lobbied hard for the registration job. They said that since poll taxes had been issued by the collectors it was only logical for them to get the job. In 59 counties, the sheriff and collector is the same person.

Act 19 is divided into two sections. One pertains to elections up to July 1, 1965, and the other to elections after that.

Persons who want to vote up to October 1 of this year can do so by presenting a 1963 poll tax receipt. If they don't have one they can get it without charge between April 10 and 30.

The Procedure

Anyone who has paid his 1964 poll tax will be automatically registered between October 1, 1964, and July 1, 1965. Persons who haven't paid the tax can get a free receipt between September 10 and 30.

This system will get the state through elections this year and any elections before July 1, 1965.

The second part of the bill takes effect January 1. Any person who registers between January 1 and April 10 of next year will be eligible to vote during the one-year period that begins July 1, 1965.

This process will be repeated each year.

The Act provides that if anyone cannot register in person the voter's husband, wife, mother, father, brother, sister, son or daughter may do so for them.

The Senate approved the registration plan 22-10 Friday and the House okayed it 70-25. The votes were routine since both houses had already passed identical measures.

The governor chose to sign the House bill (HB 2), which was sponsored by Representative Doris McCastlain of Monroe County. He vetoed the Senate bill (SB 5), which was sponsored by Senators Clarence E. Bell of Parkin and W. K. In-

Ark. Reg.

Lobbied Hard

The Arkansas Sheriffs Association lobbied hard for the registration job. They said that since poll taxes had been issued by the collectors it was only logical for them to get the job. In 59 counties, the sheriff and collector is the same person.

Act 19 is divided into two sections. One pertains to elections up to July 1, 1965, and the other to elections after that.

Persons who want to vote up to October 1 of this year can do so by presenting a 1963 poll tax receipt. If they don't have one they can get it without charge between April 10 and 30.

The Procedure

Anyone who has paid his 1964 poll tax will be automatically registered between October 1, 1964, and July 1, 1965. Persons who haven't paid the tax can get a free receipt between September 10 and 30.

This system will get the state through elections this year and any elections before July 1, 1965.

The second part of the bill takes effect January 1. Any person who registers between January 1 and April 10 of next year will be eligible to vote during the one-year period that begins July 1, 1965.

This process will be repeated each year.

The Act provides that if anyone cannot register in person the voter's husband, wife, mother, father, brother, sister, son or daughter may do so for them.

The Senate approved the registration plan 22-10 Friday and the House okayed it 70-25. The votes were routine since both houses had already passed identical measures.

The governor chose to sign the House bill (HB 2), which was sponsored by Representative Doris McCastlain of Monroe County. He vetoed the Senate bill (SB 5), which was sponsored by Senators Clarence E. Bell of Parkin and W. K. Ingram of West Memphis.

Filibuster

The House ended its session with a 10-minute filibuster by Representative G. D. Smith Jr. of Lincoln County which killed a bill that would have authorized counties to hire additional deputies for registration.

"The sheriffs said they had all the help they need for voter registration and could do it without any additional expense," Smith said. "I just want them to live up to their bargain."

The bill (HB 19) was sponsored by Representative Roy Galyean of Benton County. It had alrealy passed both houses but was back in the House for concurrence in a Senate amendment.

was a friendly suit and that they had prepared their legal pleadings Thursday so they would be ready for court as soon as the governor signed the measure.

Judge Williams, who said he was advised Thursday that a test case was imminent, read a four-page finding of fact from the bench at the end of the hearing. He said he had prepared it at home Thursday night.

Bennett said the ruling "reconciled" Amendments 8 and 39 to the state Constitution, Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections, and Act 19. Bennett said he thought all four were "compatible" with each other in view of the judge's finding.

Explains Ballots

Bennett said the ruling meant that if there is a contest for a federal office this year, it would be on a separate ballot to be used by registered voters with or without a poll tax. State and local races would be on another ballot that a voter would receive only if he had a poll tax receipt, Bennett said. This is in the event the state Supreme Court affirms the Chancery Court decision.

The test suit, thus, brings Act 19 to grips with Amendment 8, which establishes voter qualifications. The Supreme Court in this way can decide the validity of the state poll tax Amendment in the light of Amendment 24 to the federal Constitution abolishing the poll tax.

Nance filed the suit with his secretary, Miss Maxine Miles, as the plaintiff and as a taxpayer's suit for all taxpayers in the state. It was against the governor as ex-officio chairman of the state Election Commission; Leon Catlett of Little Rock, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and Alvin E. Bell, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee and the County Election Commission.

W. J. Smith, the governor's legislative assistant and legal adviser, attended the hearing. The Legislative Council, in writing Act 19, had incorporated in it features suggested by Smith and Bennett.

5-Pronged Injunction

The suit asked for a five-pronged injunction to prevent any loopholes that would allow voting without a poll tax in state and local races.

The injunction barred:

1. Any person from qualifying as a candidate for a state or local office without paying the poll tax.
2. Any person from voting in a primary or the general election for a candidate for state or local office unless the voter has a poll tax.
3. Certifying as a nominee for any party a candidate for state or local office who has not paid a poll tax.
4. Placing on the general election ballot the name of a nominee for state or local office unless he has paid the poll tax.
5. Any person from voting on any issue or proposition unless the voter has paid the poll tax.

Amendment 39, approved by voters in November 1948, empowered the lgislature to enact a registration law, but Judge Williams said it did not propose "in any respect to specifically or by inference repeal the many qualifications of voters set out in the Constitution [Amendment 8]"

What Judge Said

He said that if the registration system repealed the poll tax, it also would repeal the other qualifications—that a voter must be 21, must have resided in the state 12 months, in the County six months and in the precinct, town or ward one month; that a convicted felon was not qualified to vote; that a voter could not be an alien; that a voter must not be an idiot or insane person.

—Staff Photos

Signing the Voter Registration Law

Governor Faubus signs Act 19 of the special session as he is watched by (from left) Representative Doris McCastlain, Senator Clarence E. Bell and his legal advisor, William J. Smith. Mrs. McCastlain and Bell were among the sponsors of the winning measure.

Ark. Reg.

Ark. Reg.

Way Open for Voters in '64 But What Will Happen Next?

Amendment 8 to the Arkansas Constitution is explicit. Its first sentence, stripped of clauses having to do with other voting qualifications says, "Every citizen who shall exhibit a poll tax receipt shall be allowed to vote at any election in the State of Arkansas."

This is the amendment Chancellor Guy E. Williams relied on Friday in throwing out parts of the new voter registration system in Act 19 of 1964.

A later amendment, No. 39, gives the General Assembly the power to set up a voter registration system and to require that "the right to vote at any such election shall depend upon such previous registration." No. 39 doesn't mention the poll tax.

So the question is: Can the General Assembly legally eliminate the poll tax as a voting requirement?

The state Supreme Court will decide in an appeal of the lawsuit over Act 19. Among lawyers there is weighty opinion on both sides.

If Judge Williams is upheld and the poll tax is still required for voting in state and local elections—but not in elections for federal office because of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution — then what?

It means Arkansas will have a dual system of elections unless and until Amendment 8 is amended. That will mean one ballot for state and local voting for use by voters who have paid their poll tax, and a separate ballot for federal offices for use by registered voters with or without a poll tax.

In the Democratic primaries this summer, the only federal offices that could be on the ballot are those of the four Arkansas members of the United States House of Representatives. If none of them have opposition for the nomination, then no federal office would appear on the primary ballot.

In the general election in November, the presidential and congressional races will be on the ballot.

Act 19 creates two registration systems. One is the stopgap system to get the voters through the primaries and elections this year and up to July 1, 1965. Judge Williams' ruling does not affect this.

The other is the continuing registration system to begin January 1, 1965, and continue each year. Since this registration does not take the poll tax into account, it is stricken under the Williams ruling, and the 1965 regular session of the legislature will have to try again.

Amendment No. 8

(Equal Suffrage)

(Replaces Article III, Section 1) Every citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years, who has resided in the state 12 months, in the county six months, and in the precinct, town or ward one month, next preceding any election at which they may propose to vote, except such persons as may for the commission of some felony be deprived of the right to vote by law passed by the General Assembly, and who shall exhibit a poll tax receipt or other evidence that they have paid their poll tax at the time of collecting taxes next preceding such election, shall be allowed to vote at any election in the State of Arkansas; provided, that persons who make satisfactory proof they have attained the age of 21 years since the time of assessing taxes next preceding said election and possess the other necessary qualifications, shall be permitted to vote; and, provided further, that the said tax receipt shall be so marked by dated stamp or written endorsement by judges of election to whom it may be first presented as to prevent the holder thereof from voting more than once at any election. It is declared to be the purpose of this amendment to deny the right of suffrage to aliens and it is declared to be the purpose of this amendment to confer suffrage equally upon both men and women, without regard to sex. Provided, that women shall not be compelled to serve on juries.

Speed of Change

How soon could Amendment 8 be changed? It is possible for an initiated amendment to be on the ballot in November. The Committee on Voter Registration, which intends to get an initiated act for a permanent registration system on that bal- [illegible] whether to try also for an initiated amendment.

If an initiated amendment is not attempted this year, the next chance will be in November 1966. The 1965 legislature could refer a proposed amendment to the general election of 1966.

How does the new system affect this summer's primaries and the general election in November?

If you already hold 1963 and 1964 poll tax receipts you are already registered and can vote in all elections up to June 1 of next year.

If you paid he 1963 poll tax, but not the 1964, you can vote in all elections up to October 1 of this year. That includes this summer's primaries.

Poll Tax Free

Those who did not pay the 1963 poll tax can go by the tax collector's office in the courthouse during the last 20 days in April and pick up a 1963 receipt-free.

Next September the voter can get—also free of charge—a 1964 poll tax receipt at the collector's office. This will make him eligible to vote in the November general election and any other election up to June 1, 1965.

This is a temporary arrangement that will end this year. It was necessary in shifting from the old to the new system.

From 1959 on, assuming Act 19 is upheld by the Supreme Court, voter registration will be held from January 1 to April 10 of each year. The change in procedure—except for not having to pay the dollar—will be so slight as to be negligible.

Registration will be done in the tax collector's office, where poll taxes were paid. All a person has to do is give his name, address, the name of his school district, his ward or township and then sign his name.

Registration Rules

One family member can register the entire family. The new system allows a person to register any other close relative—husband, wife, mother, father, brother, sister, son or daughter.

An absent person can register by writing the registrar, asking for an application, and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The new law does not place any new restrictions on voters. If a person meets age and residence requirements, is not a felon or an idiot he is eligible to register. Persons who cannot write their names may simply make a mark or a cross to register.

When a person registers he will receive a Certificate of Voter Registration which he should always keep with him. Should his name be left off the poll lists accidentally, he can show his certificate at the polls.

Change of Address

If a person changes his voting address, he may transfer his registration to another ward or county. But he must do so not later than 30 days before an election. He makes the transfer by notifying the registrar.

Under the new system, the period of registration—January 1 to April 10—entitles a person to vote in a period beginning July 1 of the year, and ending June 30 of the following year.

The tax collectors are the voter registrars. They are the same officials who sell the poll taxes.

In 16 counties, the tax collector is a separate office. The Counties are Benton, Boone, Carroll, Columbia, Craighead, Garland, Greene, Independence, Jackson, Lawrence, Lonoke, Miller, Pulaski, Union, Washington and White. In the other 59 counties, the tax collector's office is combined with the sheriff.

Ark. Reg.

1 EP Ark Reg. 1

Gazette.

Ark. Gazette, 3/31/64, p.1B

ARCH 31, 1964.

Way Opened for Quick Test Of Voter Registration Law

The state Supreme Court opened the way Monday for a quick test of the constitutionality of Arkansas's new voter registration law, Act 19.

The court called for submission of all briefs in the law suit challenging the law by Friday. It will take the case under submission next Monday.

Attorney General Bruce Bennett had asked the court to set a five-day time limit for filing briefs. State Representative Cecil B. Nance Jr. of Crittenden County, a lawyer, who attacked the new law in the test suit, had filed a similar request.

The Supreme Court also agreed Monday to permit the Arkansas Chapter of the League of Women Voters and the Arkansas State AFL-CIO to file friend of the court briefs in the case.

The court's ruling could be handed down as early as April 13. Normally, it takes months for a suit to move through the lower courts for final decision by the State Surpeme Court.

The law was challenged Friday in Pulaski County Chancery Court 2½ hours after Governor Faubus signed it and was declared unconstitutional as far as it authorized persons without a poll tax to vote on state and local candidates, issues and propositions.

Chancellor Guy E. Williams held that it was constitutional only to the extent that it provided a system of registering persons to vote, without a poll tax, in federal elections.

Judge Williams said the legislature did not have the power to remove any of the specific voter qualifications listed in Amendment 8 to the state Constitution. The qualifications include the poll tax requirement.

Bennett then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Ark Reg

Ark Gazette

arkets

4/1/64

First of 'Free' Tax Receipts Due Next Week

State Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones said Tuesday that he would distribute 100,000 "free" poll tax receipts next week to tax collectors under the new voter registration law.

Jones said he had ordered 150,000 free receipts and would keep 50,000 in reserve. The distribution will be made in time to meet the start April 11 of the 20-day distribution period provided for in Act 19, the voter registration law.

The law is involved in a test case now before the state Supreme Court. Pulaski County Chancellor Guy E. Williams held that the law was unconstitutional insofar as it authorized persons without a poll tax to vote on state and local candidates and issues but the ruling didn't disturb provisions under which the free poll tax receipts will be issued.

Jones said that he couldn't wait for the court decision because the law becomes effective next week.

Dated 1963

The tax collectors now are issuing 1964 poll tax receipts on payment of the $1 tax. They entitle the holders to vote in any election after October 1. To prevent confusion Jones has ordered poll tax receipts dated 1963 on which will be printed a notice in bold red letters that the receipt had been issued without charge. He said that he would suggest to collectors that they keep track of the free receipts in a separate ledger.

15 Per Cent More

Jones said that he based his order on conversations with collectors and assessors who were at Little Rock last week when the legislature adopted a voter registration law. He said that they estimated that they would need from 10 to 15 per cent as many free receipts as paid receipts issued last year.

Jones said that the free receipts were being printed by the Parkin Printing and Stationery Company of Little Rock under contract the company has with the state.

File - Ark Reg.
Ark. Gazette 4/4/64

Both Sides File Appeal Briefs On Voter Law

The friendly and the "friend of the court" briefs in the voter registration law test case were filed Friday with the state Supreme Court.

The law, Act 19, was signed by Governor Faubus March 27 and in 2½ hours a court had held that it was constitutional only as it provided a system of registering persons to vote, without a poll tax, in federal elections.

Chancellor Guy E. Williams held that Amendment 8 to the state Constitution, which requires a poll tax to vote in state and local elections, remained in effect. The decision sets up a dual system of elections this year that the legislature sought to avoid.

Bennett's Argument

Attorney General Bruce Bennett appealed the decision to the Supreme Court. In his brief, Bennett argued that Amendment 39 to the state Constitution authorized a registration system and didn't contemplate a dual system.

The friend of the court brief lodged by the Arkansas League of Women Voters and by the Arkansas State AFL-CIO warned that if Judge Williams' decision were allowed to stand the result would be "an unwieldy and impractical situation," which endangered the right to vote.

Their joint brief said that the few days permitted to research the law and file the brief had prevented a more detailed presentation.

Refers to Judge's Action

"Clearly it is impossible to prepare exhaustive arguments in opposition to the position taken by both sides in this 'friendly' action and adopted by the court below in a decision which was prepared before the act was passed by the legislature," the brief noted. This was a reference to Judge Williams' statement that he prepared his decision at home the night before the act was signed and the suit filed.

The joint friend of the court brief argued for the right of the legislature under Amendment 39 to remove the poll tax as a voter qualification in all elections.

The opposite view was taken by the attorney for Miss Maxine Miles, in whose name the test suit had been filed. In this brief, the Court was asked to uphold Judge Williams on the ground that Amendment 39 didn't repeal Amendment 8 and that the poll tax, while outlawed in federal elections, continued in effect in state and local elections.

Ark. Registration

Free Poll Tax Receipts to Be Issued Starting Saturday by Collectors

County collectors can begin issuing free poll tax receipts on Saturday even though the legality of the system as far as state elections are concerned is still in doubt.

Free receipts can be obtained from April 11 through April 30 at county tax collector's offices.

The free receipts were authorized by Act 19, the Voter Registration Act adopted by the special session of the General Assembly last month as an interim measure to replace payment of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in state and federal elections.

Act 19 has been attacked in the courts and its fate is in the hands of the state Supreme Court. Nevertheless, State Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones, who distributes poll tax receipts to the counties, said the issuance of free receipts would begin as planned.

The reason: Even if they are outlawed for state elections, they will still constitute legal registration for federal elections.

Those who paid their poll taxes before October 1, 1963, are already registered under Act 19 for voting in this summer's primaries. Those who have paid their 1964 poll taxes are registered for all elections to be held through July 1, 1965.

But those who failed to pay their 1963 poll taxes may now go back and register free simply by picking up a poll tax receipt at county tax collectors' offices. Receipts being issued this month — assuming the system is finally declared constitutional — will allow the voter to vote in all elections up to October 1. More free poll tax receipts — registration for elections between October 1, 1964, and July 1, 1965 — will be distributed in September.

The new registration system became necessary with passage of the 24th Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment outlawed payment of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections — for president, vice president, senators, and representativs.

In adopting Act 19, the Arkansas General Assembly also did away with the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections. It is this provision that is now being tested in the Supreme Court.

Hours after Act 19 was signed into law on March 27, Pulaski County Chancellor Guy E. Williams ruled that the provision eliminating poll taxes for state elections was unconstitutional. The law was attacked in a friendly test suit and his ruling was expected. It was designed to rush the law before the Supreme Court for a quick final decision so the way could be paved for upcoming 1964 elections.

Williams ruled it unconstitutional on the ground that Amendment 8 to the state constitution specifically mentions a poll tax as a voting requirement. He said the General Assembly does not have authority to overrule a provision in the constitution.

He issued his decree in spite of Amendment 39 which authorizes the General Assembly to set up a voter registration system, and which prescribes no limitations.

The question the Supreme Court will decide is, does Amendment 39 allow the General Assembly to do away with the poll tax provisions of Amendment 8? Chancellor Williams said no.

The Supreme Court could rule one of three ways, each of which would give a different character to the voting in the upcoming elections:

★ It could reverse Chancellor Williams and declare the act constitutional. This would mean free poll tax receipts are legal in all elections this year.

★ It could affirm his decree. This would mean that persons who have not paid their 1963 and 1964 poll taxes would not be allowed to vote in state elections, but could cast votes for federal candidates.

★ It could declare the entire act to be unconstitutional. This is considered an unlikely eventuality since only a part of it was attacked. But if it happened it would mean that another special session of the General Assembly would have to be called before this summer's primaries.

If Act 19 is constitutional the way is paved for free and unencumbered voting by all qualified electors in all elections whether a poll tax has been paid or not.

If the high court sides with Chancellor Williams, Arkansas will have what it tried to avoid —a dual system. This would require payment of a poll tax for voting in state elections, but not in federal elections. Otherwise qualified voters who do not hold a current paid poll tax receipt would get a ballot with only names of federal candidates on it.

Should the court uphold the state's poll tax system, a constitutional amendment would be required to do away with it.

Assuming the Supreme Court declares Act 19 constitutional, and permits the interim free poll tax system to stand, it will open the way to about 400,000 persons who failed to pay the poll tax by the deadline last October 1.

Estimates of those who will register during the 20-day period this month have ranged from 50,000 to 100,000.

Phase ... oting Law ... uled Illegal

Afro-American 4/11/64

Decision Requires Dual Registration Until People Act

The state Supreme Court said unanimously Monday that the legislature did not have the authority to abolish a constitutional provision requiring that persons must pay their poll tax in order to vote in state and local elections.

The court upheld Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams in declaring unconstitutional a section of Act 19—the voter registration law approved by the special session of the General Assembly last month—that had abolished the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state and local elections.

The court also agreed with Judge Williams in upholding a section of Act 19 that the poll tax is not required for voting in federal elections. That section was enacted in accordance with an amendment to the United States Constitution this year outlawing the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting on federal candidates.

The ruling in effect sets up a dual voter registration system for Arkansas — requiring free registration for federal elections and payment of the poll tax for voting in state elections.

The law had been tested in a friendly lawsuit filed in Judge Williams' court on March 27, the same day the legislature approved it.

(Related Articles on Page 1B.)

Associate Justice Paul Ward wrote the opinion, which centered around Amendments 8 and 39 to the state constitution.

Amendment 8 sets the requirements for voting in Arkansas, such as age and residence. It also mentions the poll tax must be paid before a person can vote.

Amendment 39 authorizes the legislature to set up a voter registration requirement for voting.

"The basic issue presented for our decision, briefly stated, is whether Amendment 39 to the state constitution gives the legislature the power to dispense with the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting," Justice Ward wrote.

Unaffected Elections

(Justice Ward said all parties conceded that the poll tax is no longer required for voting on federal candidates in primaries or general elections.)

"The basic issue above mentioned is therefore limited in this opinion to the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting for persons running (in a primary general or special election) for a state, district, county, township or municipal office, or voting on a state or local issue, or in a school election," the opinion said.

"It is our opinion that said Amendment 39 does not give the legislature the power to dispense with the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in state elections."

Judge Ward reviewed the constitutional provisions dealing with elections, voting and the poll tax. He noted that before passage of Amendment 39, the constitution specifically prohibited the legislature from setting up prior voter registration as a requirement for voting.

"We are convinced, however, that the people, in adopting Amendment 39, did not intend to do away with the necessity of paying a poll tax in order to vote," Judge Ward said. "Perhaps the most obvious and the most forceful reasons why the people did not so intend is that if they so meant, they would have so stated — it would have been easy to do so."

Cites Reasons

He cited what he called "forceful reasons" that Amendment 39 did not do away with the necessity of a poll tax.

"The payment of a poll tax is only one of several qualifications of an elector required by Amendment 8 as heretofore pointed out," he said. "If Amendment 39 gives the legislature power to abolish the poll tax * * * then it would seem to follow also that the legislature could change or abolish the qualifications pertaining to age and residence."

This, he said, would amount to holding the Amendment 39 repealed Amendment 8 "by implication."

"Repeal by implication is not favored and the legal presumption is against such repeal," Justice Ward said.

The court brushed aside an argument that Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution also abolished the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in state elections.

Justice Ward wrote, "It is abundantly clear from the above quoted language that said Amendment 24 has nothing to do with state elections."

Free Tax Cut

The court also threw out the "free" poll tax scheme, set up by the legislature as an interim registration measure until the new registration system went fully into effect in January.

Act 19 provided that registration for voting in this summer's primaries would be reopened in April to allow all those who had not registered to become registered. It said they could become registered for all elections by obtaining from the county collector a "free poll tax receipt." This would let them vote on both state and federal candidates, according to the intention of the legislature.

But the court ruled this illegal in state elections. The opinion said:

"We call attention * * * to certain provisions * * * which purport to substitute a 'free' poll tax for registration purposes in lieu of a poll tax for which the voter has paid $1 (one dollar.) It is our conclusion that the legislature has no power, in state elections, to substitute said 'free' poll tax for the poll tax required by Amendment 8 which provides that the voters "shall exhibit a poll tax receipt or other evidence that they have PAID their poll tax * * * "

To hold otherwise, the Court said, would be "subterfuge for evading the letter and the spirit of a plain constitutional provision."

The constitution directs that money raised from the poll tax shall go to support the public schools, the opinion continued.

"This important source of revenue for a worthy purpose, in our opinion, is entitled to protection by the court until the people—by amendment—direct otherwise," Justice Ward wrote.

Johnson Concurs

Associate Justice Jim Johnson, in a concurring opinion, clarified the effect that the court's decision will have on the upcoming elections.

"First," Justice Johnson wrote, "I feel that it should be pointed out that the valid portions of Act 19 do not radically change the law as it existed prior to the passage of Act 19."

He said people who have paid their 1963 poll tax can still vote in all state and federal elections until October 1, 1964—as was true under the old law.

He pointed out that other persons who have not registered can become registered for federal elections by getting a "free" poll tax receipt during the last 20 days of April.

"Only those holders of a valid paid poll tax receipt will be permitted to vote for candidates for state and subdivision offices," he said.

Justice Johnson also projected the effect of the court's ruling beyond the summer primaries.

"Here again the law has not been materially changed for those who pay the poll tax prior to October 1, 1964. By

Arkansas Gazette

Pine Bluff Comm.
4-12-64, p. 21.
Ark. Reg.

Arkansas

Legislators Fear Negro Vote Gain

By HARRY PEARSON
Of The Commercial Staff

Just after the end of the special session of the legislature, one of the pro-Faubus legislators gave a rundown of the reasoning for administration support of an annual registration system with the tax assessor as registrar.

This particular representative aligned himself consistently with Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County, who introduced the tax assessor bill before the legislature.

His explanation went something like this:

There have been disturbing gains in the number of registered Negro voters in some counties which have a numerical majority of Negroes.

Negroes in Legislature?

While most legislators aren't thinking about it yet, there is the possibility that Negroes could control 11 seats in the House and perhaps two seats in the Senate.

Now under a permanent registration system, there would be nothing to stop Negroes from getting on the rolls, staying there, and gradually getting enough other Negroes registered to form a majority.

Under the annual registration system with the poll tax, the dollar price tag served as something of a derrent against mass registration. However, if the poll tax is abolished by the state Supreme Court, then there would be no axe that the sheriff-collectors could hold over the heads of the Negro voters.

But, if on the remote chance that the Supreme Court outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections as well as federal, the logical place for the registering of voters to be done would be in the tax assessor's office. He continued:

"If these boys (the assessors) are on their toes, they can slap assessments to these niggers and not even the NAACP can afford to pay a $5, $10, or $15 assessment for all the niggers in Arkansas.

"Now we'll have two registering periods this year and we can watch the number of niggers who register. If it looks like it's gettin' out of hand, we can move it back to the assessor come January.

"But whatever happens, it's got to be annual, nor permanent."

•

A Long Shot

This particular representative said that the legislature had designed their annual registration law on what most considered a long shot: That the Supreme Court of the state would strike down the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections as well as federal, the logical place for the registering of voters to be done would be in the tax assessor's office. He continued:

"If these boys (the assessors) are on their toes, they can slap assessments to these niggers and not even the NAACP can afford to pay a $5, $10, or $15 assessment for all the niggers in Arkansas.

"Now we'll have two registering periods this year and we can watch the number of niggers who register. If it looks like it's gettin' out of hand, we can move it back to the assessor come January.

"But whatever happens, it's got to be annual, nor permanent."

•

A Long Shot

This particular representative said that the legislature had designed their annual registration law on what most considered a long shot: That the Supreme Court of the state would strike down the poll tax as a require-state's four major cities.

Few legislators voluntarily dethrone themselves, unless they are seeking higher office or nearing retirement.

The reason the voter registration issue was the subject of so much political manipulation and under-the-table dealing was simply that it clearly and fundamentally involves the continuation of the existing power structure.

The annual voter registration system passed by the legislature was an interesting phenomenon. It is, in effect, merely the system that existed before with very few modifications. The intention of those who insured its passage was to continue the existing power structure.

What our reprsentative friend was criticizing was the legislature's short-sightedness in not making allowances for preserving the power structure against a future threat (the Negroes). Had the legislature approved the tax assessors bill, it would have changed rather sharply the existing power by sealing the doom of the sheriff-collectors as a political force.

Power Structure

But the tax assessors bill, while altering the balance of political power in Arkansas today among the existing factions, would have possibly insured the over-all position of the white supremacists in the power structure of tomorrow.

It goes without saying almost that the elimination of the sheriff-collectors as a political force would, in the long run, eliminate several legislators who are backed by sheriff-controlled machines.

There is—according to Weston LaBarre, a Duke University anthropologist—such a thing as a negative cultural value, as well as positive cultural values which enable societies to continue to exist.

In both the cases of the sheriff-collectors and the tax assessor's annual registration systems, as well as dual system, there is a cluster of negative values, a steadfast determination to maintain the disenfrancisement of certain groups of voters, and thereby limit their social values and endowments to primitive and not very useful expression.

This waste of human resource, creativity, and ability can only further result in the narrowing of perspective and the narrowing of interchange among the state's power elite.

Not only does a creation of such a political monolith harm the best interests of the state and its populace, it eventually insures decay and the taking over by sometimes new and radical forces.

Ark. Reg.

session of the legislature, one of the pro-Faubus legislators gave a rundown of the reasoning for administration support of an annual registration system with the tax assessor as registrar.

This particular representative aligned himself consistently with Representative J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County, who introduced the tax assessor bill before the legislature.

His explanation went something like this:

There have been disturbing gains in the number of registered Negro voters in some counties which have a numerical majority of Negroes.

Negroes in Legislature?

While most legislators aren't thinking about it yet, there is the possibility that Negroes could control 11 seats in the House and perhaps two seats in the Senate.

Now under a permanent registration system, there would be nothing to stop Negroes from getting on the rolls, staying there, and gradually getting enough other Negroes registered to form a majority.

Under the annual registration system with the poll tax, the dollar price tag served as something of a derrent against mass registration. However, if the poll tax is abolished by the state Supreme Court, then there would be no axe that the sheriff-collectors could hold over the heads of the Negro voters.

But, if on the remote chance that the Supreme Court outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections as well as federal, the logical place for the registering of voters to be done would be in the tax assessor's office. He continued:

"If these boys (the assessors) are on their toes, they can slap assessments to these niggers and not even the NAACP can afford to pay a $5, $10, or $15 assessment for all the niggers in Arkansas.

"Now we'll have two registering periods this year and we can watch the number of niggers who register. If it looks like it's gettin' out of hand, we can move it back to the assessor come January.

"But whatever happens, it's got to be annual, nor permanent."

•

A Long Shot

This particular representative said that the legislature had designed their annual registration law on what most considered a long shot: That the Supreme Court of the state would strike down the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections.

Although nobody much wanted a dual system, he continued, everybody thought it would be safer to include a stopgap clause which would work even if the main body of the bill was felled. He said the legislature could always come up with a new bill in its 1965 session.

The only problem is, and apparently it did not occur to our legislative friend, that the legislature will be in session when people should be registering to vote. Consequently, another special session may be a necessity simply to implement a workable registration program before the mass registrations are to begin.

•

Reluctant to Give Up

It is almost a law of human nature that once a person is placed in a position of power he is reluctant to shed that power. Hence the mighty grinding and groaning when the Tennessee country boys were asked for equitable reapportionment by their fellow legislators from are seeking higher office or nearing retirement.

The reason the voter registration issue was the subject of so much political manipulation and under-the-table dealing was simply that it clearly and fundamentally involves the continuation of the existing power structure.

The annual voter registration system passed by the legislature was an interesting phenomenon. It is, in effect, merely the system that existed before with very few modifications. The intention of those who insured its passage was to continue the existing power structure.

What our reprsentative friend was criticizing was the legislature's short-sightedness in not making allowances for preserving the power structure against a future threat (the Negroes). Had the legislature approved the tax assessors bill, it would have changed rather sharply the existing power by sealing the doom of the sheriff-collectors as a political force.

Power Structure

But the tax assessors bill, while altering the balance of political power in Arkansas today among the existing factions, would have possibly insured the over-all position of the white supremacists in the power structure of tomorrow.

It goes without saying almost that the elimination of the sheriff-collectors as a political force would, in the long run, eliminate several legislators who are backed by sheriff-controlled machines.

There is—according to Weston LaBarre, a Duke University anthropologist—such a thing as a negative cultural value, as well as positive cultural values which enable societies to continue to exist.

In both the cases of the sheriff-collectors and the tax assessor's annual registration systems, as well as dual system, there is a cluster of negative values, a steadfast determination to maintain the disenfrancisement of certain groups of voters, and thereby limit their social values and endowments to primitive and not very useful expression.

This waste of human resource, creativity, and ability can only further result in the narrowing of perspective and the narrowing of interchange among the state's power elite.

Not only does a creation of such a political monolith harm the best interests of the state and its populace, it eventually insures decay and the taking over by sometimes new and radical forces.

Ark. Reg.

Pine Bluff Commercial 2-14-64

Behind The News

Where Is the Star City Leader Now?

By BILL MILES
Associate Editor

Back in 1954, Jim Johnson, now a member of the state Supreme Court, made his first bid for a state office, that of attorney general.

His platform was based mainly on proposed laws aimed at keeping schools segregated. That was the big issue of the day.

Johnson was a long and loud speaker in those days. Some people thought that he played too much on the emotions of his audiences, that he was able to arouse actions rather than just votes.

It was during this time that the Crossett lawyer decided he'd make a speech at Star City. Not long after the announcement of his intention, a group from Star City made another announcement: Johnson wouldn't be welcome there. He was advised to cancel his plans.

Made Race Later

There was a young business and civic leader in Star City who got the job of telling Johnson that he shouldn't plan on making the speech.

The business-civic leader wasn't an officeholder. He was G. D. Smith Jr., who a few years later ran for state representative and won.

Smith told Johnson that his brand of campaigning might upset the people of Star City, both Negro and white. He told Johnson that racial relations in Star City were excellent and that the leaders of the town didn't want Johnson or anyone else coming in and upsetting the applecart.

Johnson was informed that the Negro people in Lincoln County had good schools and were getting better ones as tax money became available. He learned that the Negroes, according to Smith, were satisfied with the progress that the race had made there.

And, Smith said, the white people were interested in the problems which the Negroes had and were willing to help solve them. But, he added, everyone concerned wanted to work out the problems without any outside help or advice.

Johnson didn't make the speech in Star City.

Other Outsiders

Now, some other outsiders are

MILES

trying to break into Star City. They don't want to make speeches, at least not the kind Johnson was planning. They're members of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, interested in convincing the Negro people of Lincoln County that they should pay their poll taxes and register to vote in upcoming elections.

One of the prime targets of the co-ordinating committee is Representative G. D. Smith Jr. Since becoming a member of the legislature, Smith has expressed, on more than a few occasions, his support for Governor Faubus, an arch-enemy of the co-ordinating committee and other civil rights workers.

This time, the outsiders weren't contacted by a spokesman for a group of civic and business leaders. Three of them so far have been jailed on traffic charges, usually considered minor offenses. However, the fines levied by a justice of the peace take the charges out of the minor category.

The director of the Arkansas Project of SNCC was jailed — he was the third—after he had announced that he would call on the Justice Department and the federal Civil Rights Commission to intervene, claiming that people engaged in voter registration work were being intimidated in Lincoln County.

Leaders Are Quiet

No one has said publicly who is behind the so-called effort in Star City to keep the voter registration workers out. So far, the city police chief, a couple of state troopers and a justice of the peace have been the only ones connected publicly with the incidents. The state troopers acted on orders out of their headquarters, which undoubtedly acted — in at least the third case — on orders of J. Orville Cheney, state revenue commissioner, who works for the administration of Governor Faubus.

None of the business community's leaders has said a word this time about any good relations between the races in Star City or Lincoln County.

Smith, who undoubtedly is more powerful than he was 10 years ago, hasn't been connected with the incidents, from all appearances. His position of leadership has caused him to be quite vociferous on a number of occasions in the past four or five years. But he is strangely silent today when a threat hangs over his county.

Smith was applauded by many people in 1954 when he kept Jim Johnson out of Star City. Will the people applaud him this year for keeping silent? Or would they rather he exercise his leadership and help prevent possible federal intervention in Lincoln County?

CARMICHAEL

Ark. Reg.

Ark. Gaz. 4/17/64

Star City Policemen Jail Another SNCC Secretary

Ark Leg

STAR CITY (AP)—Star City police jailed the second field secretary for the anti-segregation Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee in two days Thursday with the arrest of William Hansen of Pine Bluff.

Bruce Jordan, the other field secretary, was arrested and jailed Wednesday on charges of making an improper left turn, of having a bad emergency brake and on suspicion of driving a stolen car.

Hansen, a white man, was jailed on charges of violating Arkansas statute 75-140, which makes it illegal for an automobile owner to allow another person to operate his car unless ownership papers are in it.

Jordon drove Hansen's car to Star City when he went there Wednesday to continue an attempt to organize a Negro voter registration drive.

Hansen went to Star City Thursday to make bond for Jordon and to claim ownership of the car.

Jordon was tried Thursday afternoon on Wednesday's charges and charges of operating a car with improper parking lights and not having a license plate light for which he was arrested last week.

He was found guilty of the license plate light charge and fined $100 and costs. The parking light charge was dropped.

Trial on the improper left turn charge was postponed and the bad emergency brake charge was dropped.

Authorities continued to hold Jordon on the improper turn and the suspicion of driving a stolen car charge. Bond was $500 on each charge. Hansen's bond was set at $500.

A spokesman for SNCC at Pine Bluff said telegrams had been sent to the Justice Department asking intervention.

Ark. Gaz. 4/1/61

Registration Without Poll Tax Payment

THE PROPOSED voter registration amendment has cleared the attorney general's office with a title modification which seems to be an improvement. The proposal will be known as the "Arkansas Amendment for Voter Registration Without Poll Tax Payment" and that is an accurate short statement of it.

The Supreme Court's decision of Monday raises the possibility that Arkansas could continue indefinitely with a dual registration system—with the poll tax good in all elections and with what might as well be called the free poll tax good only for votes on federal officials—congressmen and senators in the primary, and congressmen, senators and president in the general election.

★ ★ ★

WE DON'T THINK Arkansans want such a dual system even though some of the state's politicians doubtless do want it. It is far more objectionable even than the registration system set up by the legislature which would have gone into effect had the Supreme Court ruled that the poll tax no longer was required. This system was, essentially, a free poll tax system, with almost no changes from the traditional poll tax registration system except that the slip of paper substituted for the poll tax would not have cost a dollar.

Ark. Reg.

The Committee on Voter Registration, the citizens group which is promoting the Arkansas Amendment for Voter Registration Without Poll Tax Payment, proposes an efficient system of permanent registration in which county clerks (rather than sheriff-collectors) would be the registrars, in which the vote would be safeguarded by a signature requirement, and in which the voting rolls would be systematically cleansed by mandatory purge procedures. It offers also a final abolition of the poll tax.

The Committee appears to be going expeditiously about the promotional effort the amendment will require. The resignation of Representative Hardy W. Croxton as chairman may, we take it, be interpreted as a signal that the group is ready to move out in quest of the 30,809 signatures required to get the amendment on the November general election ballot. Mr. Croxton's role in forming and leading the Committee has been crucial—the situation is, simply, that the group might not exist had he not taken the lead in forming it. But Mr. Croxton is now considering a race for governor and his pursuit of his personal political aspirations would appear to be incompatible with his leadership of a nonpartisan campaign for a good voter registration system.

★ ★ ★

IN THE REGULAR legislative session last year and in the special session last month, Mr. Croxton led the battle for such a registration system. The Committee on Voter Registration is an outgrowth of his personal commitment to that system. This commitment will, we are sure, be weighed with his many other battles for good government and a better Arkansas should Mr. Croxton decide to make a race for the governorship this summer.

Ark. Leg.

Pine Bluff Commercial 4/17/64

Bennett Favors One-Ballot Voting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorney General Bruce Bennett said today that he would recommend a "one ballot for each voter" system for this year's elections.

The decision will rest with the state committees of the political parties in the primaries and with the state Elections Commission in the general election, in Bennett's opinion as the state's chief legal officer.

Under his recommendation a voter who has paid the poll tax would receive a ballot listing both state and federal races. The voter with a free poll tax receipt issued under Act 19 of 1964 would get a ballot showing only federal races.

"This system is simple and foolproof," Bennett said. "There would be only one line. All the ballots can go in the same box."

The question may not come up in the primaries where the congressional posts are only federal offices for which races might develop. Republicans have never had a contest for a congressional nomination. None of the four Democratic incumbents has an opponent so far, and none was opposed two years ago.

If there is no race for Congress, the primary elections will be held just as if Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution had never outlawed the poll tax as a qualification for voting in federal elections.

Only state races will be left and only persons who paid the poll tax before the deadline last October 1 will be allowed to vote.

That is the situation exactly as it would have been if the legislature had never met in special session and never enacted a voter registration law.

Persons who obtained a free tax receipt in the current April 11-30 registration period will have done so in vain. They can't use them for anything.

The general election is another matter. Republican versus Democrat races are expected for some of the congressional seats and, in any event, there will be a presidential election.

Again, persons who pay the current poll tax before the deadline this coming October 1 will vote just as they have in the past.

Persons who obtain a free tax receipt during the September 11-30 registration period will be able to vote only for president, vice president and congressman.

Registration during both free periods is at the county collector's office.

Bennett's ballot plan already has the endorsement of Governor Faubus. He said that printing a separate federal ballot would be a simple matter and that voting would be less complicated than under either alternative.

The alternatives are the two-ballot system—with one ballot listing only federal races and he other only state races—and a one-ballot system, under which election officials would mark the state races off the ballot given persons who had not paid the poll tax.

The two-ballot system would require the poll tax receipt holder to stand in line twice to vote in both state and federal elections.

Ark. Leg.

Pine Bluff Commercial 4/17/64

Pine Bluff Commercial

Dick Chidester Sells Poll Tax

League of Women Voters Tests Registration System

By LES SEAGO
Of The Commercial Staff

Two representatives of the League of Women Voters visited the Jefferson County sheriff's office yesterday to confirm their suspicion that the Arkansas voter registration system was confused.

Mrs. Robert M. Meyer, league president, and Mrs. Danny Jacobson took 11 questions to the office to confront two of Sheriff Harold Norton's clerks — Dick Chidester and Mrs. Ernestine Norton.

They left with some of the questions answered and with everybody agreeing that the free voter registration certificates being distributed were practically worthless.

They also found that if they wanted to vote in November for or against a constitutional amendment, outlawing the poll tax in Arkansas, they must pay their poll tax for another year. The two league members laid out a dollar each and bought the receipts.

Here's what Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Jacobson asked and the answers they got from Chidester and Mrs. Norton:

1—WHAT WILL it cost to buy a 1964-65 poll tax? The answer, $1.

2—HOW LONG will this poll tax be good? Until October 1, 1965.

3—CAN I vote for governor if I pay the 1964-65 tax? Yes, if the receipt is purchased before October 1, a resident may vote in the November general election. If the resident doesn't possess a 1963-64 receipt, he can't vote in this year's primaries for state or local races. The answer was the same on voting for representative, proposed amendments and the president.

4—IS IT NECESSARY to both register and pay the poll tax to vote for all candidates in November? No.

5—CAN I VOTE for president of the United States by buying a poll tax for $1? Yes, if the receipt is purchased before October 1, residents may vote in November.

6—IS IT TRUE that the holders of the 1963-64 poll tax can only vote in the summer primary elections and not in the November general election? The $1 poll tax receipts are good until October 1. The free receipts now being distributed under the new voter registration law are worthless unless a contest develops in a congressional race in the primary. Originally, a law passed by the legislature this year allowed residents to vote in all elections if they registered and picked up a free poll tax receipt. However, the state Supreme Court ruled this portion of the law unconstitutional and said that residents must pay $1 to vote in state and local elections.

7—FOR THOSE who wish to dispose of the poll tax permanently by voting against it in November, must they register and buy a 1964-65 poll tax before October 1? All that is needed is the $1 receipt which is proof of registration.

Mrs. Norton added that the league members probably would not be allowed to send in lists of applicants for poll tax receipts any more. The league has worked to register voters in the past by collecting $1 and buying the poll tax receipts in groups.

Ark. Leg.

New Voter Amendment Petitions Off Press, Ready for Circulation

The corrected petitions to put a proposed amendment for a permanent voter registration system on the November general election ballot came off the press Friday, and circulation of them will begin today or Monday.

Five organizations, including representatives of the Democratic and Republican Parties, will begin the collection of signatures.

The backers of the proposal, the nucleus of the Committee on Voter Registration formerly headed by Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, have until July 3 to obtain a minimum of 30,809 signatures required to put the measure on the ballot. They hope to get 50,000 names to allow for a margin of safety.

Miss Parma Basham of Little Rock, executive secretary of the group backing the move, said the petitions also would be circulated by the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, the League of Women Voters and the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

No Name Yet

The "new" organization has not selected a name, and decided to disassociate itself with the Croxton group because he is considered a potential gubernatorial candidate and consequently too "controversial."

The new proposal, if approved by the voters, also would eliminate the poll tax as a voting requirement. Under a recent ruling of the state Supreme Court, the state now has a dual system — the poll tax requirement for state and local elections and a free system for voting on federal candidates.

Speakers Available

Miss Basham said that her organization would have speakers available in the Little Rock area to explain the proposal to interested organizations. They probably will be available over the state soon.

Any individual or group interested in circulating petitions may obtain them by writing Postoffice Box 3263, Forest Park Station, Little Rock.

The title of the proposed amendment is "Arkansas Amendment for Voter Registration Without Poll Tax Payment, and 25,000 petitions were printed. The petitions printed earlier inadvertently left out the word "voter."

The Supreme Court held that a voter registration law passed at the recent session of the legislature couldn't repeal the poll tax requirement set forth in the state Constitution.

Ark. Reg.

Pine Bluff Commercial

300 Beech Street
Pine Bluff, Arkansas
Every afternoon
and Sunday morning
Founded 1881
by Charles Gordon Newman
Published 1911 - 1945
by E. W. Freeman

Second-class postage paid at
Pine Bluff, Arkansas
A Member of
The Associated Press
Telephone JEfferson 4-3400
After 6 p.m. call:
Circulation ..... JE 4-3500
News ..... JE 4-3420
Sports ..... JE 4-3405

Page 28—Sunday, April 19, 1964

Voting in Arkansas

The objectives of a good voter registration law for Arkansas might be summarized in these words:

To establish a system of permanent personal registration . . . in accordance with the Constitution of Arkansas and the United States . . . .

To establish a procedure for registration identification through personal signature on affidavits of registration . . . .

To provide for the cancellation of registration for . . . reasons of ineligibility . . . .

To establish penalties for violations . . . by election officials, other public officials, or others . . . '.

To eliminate the poll tax as a requisite for voting . . . .

These words are taken from the ballot title of the constitutional amendment favored by the Committee on Voter Registration. They not only indicate the purpose of the amendment but constitute a convincing argument for it.

• • •

The proposed constitutional amendment does not provide for a separate registrar of voters. Instead, it makes the county clerks responsible for voter registration.

One practical argument for designating a separate registrar is the working example of other states that have adopted permanent registration systems. Another is the wise general policy of diffusing government power to safeguard the individual.

The argument most frequently advanced against a separate registrar of voters is one of economy: Using the county clerk as a registrar would save money.

But it would seem that the major expense of permanent registration would lie in establishing the system, no matter who runs it. County clerks would need additional money and personnel to operate the system. The constitutional amendment recognizes this necessity: It directs "the General Assembly to make appropriations required by . . . this amendment."

Permanent voter registration should operate as a separate system no matter who is chosen to be responsible for it; it certainly should have no connection with the payment of taxes. And, finally, the county clerks — in the courteous and non-commital way of county clerks—have shown no great eagerness to take on the duties of registrar. Burdening an official with extra duties may not be the most efficient or economical way to operate a system of permanent registration.

But the proposed constitutional amendment would allow the General Assembly to amend the registration system in the same way it can amend an initiated act—by a two-thirds vote. If the legislature, at some later date, saw fit to establish a separate office of registrar, it could do so by a two-thirds vote.

• • •

All told, the Committee on Voter Registration has come up with a constitutional amendment that seems both practical and flexible.

Ark. Reg.

Ark. Gaz. 4-20-64

Negroes Urged To Back Bonds, Shun Vote Plan

About 75 persons attending a meeting of the East End Civic League Sunday afternoon were urged to vote for bond issues for the proposed Little Rock Port Authority and the Strickland Transportation Company terminal at Little Rock.

But League President J. L. Hawkins cautioned them about signing petitions to put the proposed permanent voter registration amendment on the November general election ballot.

Hawkins said that the bond issue projects would mean more jobs for Negroes, and that the Strickland project wouldn't "take any money out of your pocket."

The proposed $4,300,000 million Port Authority project would be financed by 1¾ mill property tax. Hawkins said this would be a good investment, considering the new jobs the river port would produce. The bond election will be May 12.

Voters will decide April 28 on the Strickland facility, which would involve a $1,200,000 bond issue under Act 9 of 1960. This would be repaid by the concern through a rental agreement, and would create about 530 jobs.

Registration Warning

Hawkins said that a permanent voter registration system would not be "healthy for the Negro." He said that Negroes might be disenfranchised by election officials through a comparison of signatures on the holder's registration slip and the ballot he would sign at a polling booth.

He encouraged members of the audience to pay their 1964 poll tax and to obtain a free registration certificate to make certain they could vote in both national and state elections.

Petitions are to be circulated beginning today to put the registration amendment on the ballot. If successful, it would prohibit the payment of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in all elections.

The project is sponsored by representatives of the Democratic and Republican Parties, the state AFL-CIO, the League of Women Voters and the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Ark. Leg.

PINE BLUFF COMMERCIAL

Wednesday, April 22, 1964

(Arkansas Registration)

Jordan Fined At Star City; Asks Appeal

By BOB LANCASTER
Of The Commercial Staff

STAR CITY —Bruce Jordan, the civil rights worker who was charged here last week with making an improper left turn and driving a car without ownership papers, was fined $100 on each charge today. He appealed.

The 19-year-old Pine Bluff Negro, a field secretary for the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, was tried before E. Workman, a justice of the peace.

Jordan pleaded guilty to driving without ownership papers in the car. He pleaded not guilty to the improper-left-turn charge.

He testified that he had borrowed the car April 10 from William W. Hansen Jr., the white director of SNCC's Arkansas Project, and that the ownership papers were in the car at that time. However, he said, he misplaced them before he was arrested Wednesday.

John Hanna, another SNCC field secretary, supported Jordan's testimony that he did not make an improper left turn. Hanna, also a Negro, was with Jordan when the latter was arrested.

Police Chief Jim Best, the arresting officer, testified that he saw Jordan make an improper left turn.

Best said Jordan gave a proper turn signal but entered the left lane of traffic too quickly when he turned left from a Star City street onto Highway 81.

Workman set Jordan's total cash bond at $430 on both charges. Best said Jordan would be kept in jail here until bond was made.

Jordan's trial today was the second in two weeks. He was tried and convicted last week on a charge of not having a light over his automobile license plate. He was fined $100. Jordan said he would appeal that conviction, too.

Jordan, along with several other SNCC workers, is engaged in a voter registration project in Lincoln County.

Ark. Reg
Ark. Gazette 4-29-67

'Free' Receipts Will Be Issued Until Thursday

Thursday is the last day that Arkansas voters who have not paid their 1963 poll taxes can get "free" poll tax receipts from the county collector at the courthouse.

The receipts will permit the previously unregistered voter to cast votes for federal candidates only in this summer's party primaries.

Here is a brief rundown on who can vote for whom in the upcoming primary and general elections:

★ You can vote for both state and federal candidates in the summer primaries only if you have a 1963 paid poll tax receipt. This means you must have paid your poll tax by October 1, 1963.

★ You can vote only for federal candidates in the primaries if you have only a "free" poll tax receipt obtained during the last 20 days of April. If you have neither a paid poll tax receipt nor a free receipt, you are ineligible to vote in any election.

★ You can vote both for state and federal candidates in the November general election if you have a 1964 poll tax receipt. You may pay you 1964 poll tax until October 1, 1964.

★ You can vote only for federal candidates in the general election if you hold a "free" 1964 poll tax receipt. The "free" receipts for the general election will be issued during the last 20 days of September.

Dual Registration

All this is part of Arkansas's dual voter registration. It was made necessary by the ratification of Amendment 24 to the United States Constitution, which outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting on federal candidates. The state Supreme Court has ruled that a paid poll tax still is necessary for voting in state elections.

Under Arkansas law, persons who are not able to come in person to the collector's office to get a "free" poll tax receipt may have an immediate relative pick it up.

Back Rights Bill, McClinton Urges

Ark. Gazette 4-28-57

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Association, sent out letters during the week end to 300 of his county leaders urging support of the civil rights bill pending before the Senate.

McClinton urged that Negroes and their organizations send letters on the bill to senators. The bill is being held up in the Senate by a Southern filibuster.

The letter also announced a meeting of the Association in May or June to study the new voter registration law, to name a committee to select political candidates for endorsement by the Association, to consider a recommendation that a full-time executive be hired to organize Negro voters in Arkansas and to elect new officers.

Ark. Leg.

Ark Reg. BW

Fisher in the North Little Rock Times.

On Voter Registration

Comments in the state press on the proposed constitutional amendment on voter registration have included these:

THE NORTH LITTLE ROCK TIMES: If you are confused about the system of voting now in effect, you have a lot of company. The best advice that anyone can give you is to go ahead and buy a 1964 poll tax just as you have always done. In this way, you'll be able to vote for all candidates in the General Election November 3; if you aren't already qualified to vote in the 1963 primaries it's too late to worry about it now.

The next best advice anyone can give you is for you to sign one of the petitions that are being circulated to put a constitutional amendment on the November ballot that would clear up all confusion. As it stands now, Arkansas has two systems of voting—the old poll tax and Act 19, which wasn't much good in the first place but was really in terrible shape when the Supreme Court got through with it. The Court said that it was okay for Act 19 to create a registration system of voting for candidates for national offices but that such a system was no substitute for the poll tax in state and local races. So Act 19 is almost meaningless. This year, why not buy a poll tax and vote for everyone in sight?

There are many reasons why this newspaper and most of the others in the state support a permanent rather than a temporary system of voter registration. Take cost, for example. Imagine how much more expensive it will be to print new lists and hire all that extra registration help year after year. Then there's convenience. Already each January we have to stand in three long lines to buy a driver's license, to assess and to buy a car tag. Now here comes another one—voter registration line . . .

After this year, the voting confusion will increase if we continue to have the poll tax plus crippled Act 19. Special provisions were made by the General Assembly to get us past 1964, but next year—unless this proposed constitutional amendment is approved—everyone will have to line up to buy a poll tax and also to register if he is to vote in every race. Persons working in behalf of the amendment are trying to obtain 50,000 signatures to get it on the ballot * * *.

The SOUTHWEST AMERICAN at Fort Smith: When observers note that [illegible] than 8,000 persons in the entire

That, in itself, was a considerable accomplishment.

The state should end up with a clearer, more workable and legally-unquestioned system as a result.

The SOUTHERN MEDIATOR JOURNAL of Little Rock, a Negro paper: The special session of the Legislature approved registration by the sheriffs and collectors of the various counties in the state, and we believe that the selection could not have been better. The sheriffs and collectors have handled the poll tax all these years, and we have heard but a few complaints from colored or white persons, and they were isolated cases. As a matter of fact, the sheriffs already have the mechanical setup to handle the job and consequntly we believe that they can do the job more efficiently than anyone else. The sheriffs and collectors can save the taxpayers thousands of dollars, that they would have to pay otherwise, if the sheriffs and collectors were not named registrars. Economy is the watch word now, and it must be taken into consideration when it comes to an efficient operation of our local, state and federal government.

There used to be a time when some Negroes were afraid of the sheriffs, but Negroes are not afraid any more. They walk in the sheriffs' or collectors' office and pay their taxes like any other citizen. The fact is, the sheriffs for the most part are friendly toward Negroes and Negroes are friendly toward sheriffs.

We are convinced that the sheriffs are best qualified and prepared from the standing point of efficiency, expense honesty and simplicity to handle the job of voter registration.

The ARKANSAS UNION LABOR BULLETIN: It is possible to only guess what the motives were of a majority of our state legislators in passing the voter registration law that puts annual registration in the hands of sheriffs.

The effect of the law is to seriously interfere with the right of people to vote. We have found nobody who doesn't believe that a permanent registration system would not result in more people taking part in the voting process. At the same time, it is difficult to find any one who will say—publicly, at least—that the right to vote isn't basic in a democracy, and that democracy is better when the maximum number of people go to the polls.

Ark Reg

On Voter Registration

Comments in the state press on the proposed constitutional amendment on voter registration have included these:

THE NORTH LITTLE ROCK TIMES: If you are confused about the system of voting now in effect, you have a lot of company. The best advice that anyone can give you is to go ahead and buy a 1964 poll tax just as you have always done. In this way, you'll be able to vote for all candidates in the General Election November 3; if you aren't already qualified to vote in the 1963 primaries it's too late to worry about it now.

The next best advice anyone can give you is for you to sign one of the petitions that are being circulated to put a constitutional amendment on the November ballot that would clear up all confusion. As it stands now, Arkansas has two systems of voting—the old poll tax and Act 19, which wasn't much good in the first place but was really in terrible shape when the Supreme Court got through with it. The Court said that it was okay for Act 19 to create a registration system of voting for candidates for national offices but that such a system was no substitute for the poll tax in state and local races. So Act 19 is almost meaningless. This year, why not buy a poll tax and vote for everyone in sight?

There are many reasons why this newspaper and most of the others in the state support a permanent rather than a temporary system of voter registration. Take cost, for example. Imagine how much more expensive it will be to print new lists and hire all that extra registration help year after year. Then there's convenience. Already each January we have to stand in three long lines to buy a driver's license, to assess and to buy a car tag. Now here comes another one—voter registration line . . .

After this year, the voting confusion will increase if we continue to have the poll tax plus crippled Act 19. Special provisions were made by the General Assembly to get us past 1964, but next year—unless this proposed constitutional amendment is approved—everyone will have to line up to buy a poll tax and also to register if he is to vote in every race. Persons working in behalf of the amendment are trying to obtain 50,000 signatures to get it on the ballot * * *.

The SOUTHWEST AMERICAN at Fort Smith: When observers note that less than 2,000 persons in the entire state have shown any interest in the "free voter registration" set up by the recent special session of the legislature and then take the view that the session was a "waste of time," they should take one further look—at what caused the waste.

The special session wasn't held because Arkansas particularly wanted to change its method of voting qualification. It was held because other areas forced on this state their view about how voters should be qualified.

It so happens that we don't like the idea of a poll tax payment as a qualification for voting—so we had no kick against the national amendment which forced its abandonment.

But it's no news to us that all the clamor in other states about how the poll tax "denied the vote to many thousands," etc., was mostly hokum. We never did think it "denied" any votes—and the lack of interest in the "free registration" now has about proved it.

In practicality, the special session didn't gain anything and in that sense was maybe a "waste of time"—but it was something Arkansas had to do, because that was the only way to meet the demands of the new federal amendment outlawing the poll tax in federal elections.

The fact that few people show any interest in the results doesn't change the fact that it had to be done.

Anyway, a debated legal point was cleared up as a result of the special session—and Arkansas people now know what they must do by another amendment this fall, in order to set up a single, uniform system of qualifying voters for all elections in the state.

That, in itself, was a considerable accomplishment.

The state should end up with a clearer, more workable and legally-unquestioned system as a result.

The SOUTHERN MEDIATOR JOURNAL of Little Rock, a Negro paper: The special session of the Legislature approved registration by the sheriffs and collectors of the various counties in the state, and we believe that the selection could not have been better. The sheriffs and collectors have handled the poll tax all these years, and we have heard but a few complaints from colored or white persons, and they were isolated cases. As a matter of fact, the sheriffs already have the mechanical setup to handle the job and consequntly we believe that they can do the job more efficiently than anyone else. The sheriffs and collectors can save the taxpayers thousands of dollars, that they would have to pay otherwise, if the sheriffs and collectors were not named registrars. Economy is the watch word now, and it must be taken into consideration when it comes to an efficient operation of our local, state and federal government.

There used to be a time when some Negroes were afraid of the sheriffs, but Negroes are not afraid any more. They walk in the sheriffs' or collectors' office and pay their taxes like any other citizen. The fact is, the sheriffs for the most part are friendly toward Negroes and Negroes are friendly toward sheriffs.

We are convinced that the sheriffs are best qualified and prepared from the standing point of efficiency, expense honesty and simplicity to handle the job of voter registration.

The ARKANSAS UNION LABOR BULLETIN: It is possible to only guess what the motives were of a majority of our state legislators in passing the voter registration law that puts annual registration in the hands of sheriffs.

The effect of the law is to seriously interfere with the right of people to vote. We have found nobody who doesn't believe that a permanent registration system would not result in more people taking part in the voting process. At the same time, it is difficult to find any one who will say—publicly, at least—that the right to vote isn't basic in a democracy, and that democracy is better when the maximum number of people go to the polls.

Why then would a majority favor such a vote-limiting law as the one that was passed.

One answer, of course, is that a great deal of hard work was done by a determined minority of legislators who wanted such a law. Among the leaders in this campaign were some Pulaski County legislators who, it would seem, would have less interest in the cause than some of the legislators from far eastern Arkansas.

There were then a number of legislators who seemed determined to vote against any measure favored by Hardy Croxton. This is about as bad a reason for casting a vote as any we can think of.

There were probably as many different reasons for the votes on the voter registration proposal as there are legislators. But whatever the reasons, it was a sad day for the people of Arkansas.

The state now has a voter registration law that is just about as bad as the poll tax.

There is, it would seem, only one thing to be done.

That is for the people to try to un-do what the legislators have so hastily done. It will take months of hard work to do it. Because it is necessary to get petitions signed for a constitutional amendment. Then when those are signed, it will be necessary to set up a campaign to inform the people of the issues in the hope that those who go to the polls in November will pass a suitable law.

The Arkansas State AFL-CIO is on record as being ready to co-operate with any group that is interested in this project. The time to start is now.

Ark Reg

Negro Vote Group To Meet June 13

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Association, has called a state meeting for June 13 in Little Rock to discuss candidates and issues in the upcoming primary and general election.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 a. m. at Dunbar Community Center, Sixteenth and Chester Streets. McClinton said five delegates were expected from each county.

Other subjects to be discussed include voter registration, equal job opportunities and citizenship responsibilities.

Officers will be elected for the next two years, and members will vote on a constitution change which is necessary to hire a full-time executive secretary.

Ark. Gaz., 5-31-64 9/5

Ark. Reg.

Petitions Start For Voting Law

But New Committee Finds Printing Error

A "new" committee on voter registration started circulating petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment Thursday but then had to recall them because of a printing error.

A spokesman for the committee insisted that it was not the group formed by state Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, although its membership is largely the same, with the exception of Croxton. Its goal also is the same: To work for the adoption of a proposed constitutional amendment to set up a permanent voter registration system and abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections.

The group met Thursday morning at the Tower Building and announced that 25,000 petitions to get the proposal on the November general election ballot had been printed. Later, it was discovered that the word "voter" was omitted by the printer in the popular title of the proposed amendment as it appeared on the petitions.

The title should have read, "Arkansas Amendment for Voter Registration Without Poll Tax Payment." A spokesman for the Union Printing Company, which printed the petitions, said the corrected petitions would be out today.

The group already had collected some signatures.

Croxton 'Controversial'

Croxton resigned as committee chairman last Monday after some members decided that it was best not to have a potentail gubernatorial candidate as its head. Croxton also was considered "too controversial" by some members.

Mrs. Laura Lafferty, a member of the League of Women Voters who presided at the opening of Thursday's meeting in the absence of a permanent chairman, announced that the meeting would be closed to the press.

Later, Winslow Drummond, a Little Rock lawyer, spoke to reporters who were waiting in the corridor.

"This is not the Croxton committee," Drummond said. "This is not the Croxton bill," he added, referring to the proposed constitutional amendment as printed on the petitions.

"You might call this a committee which has not been formed," he said. "We do not have a committee organization."

Group Has No Name

He said the new committee had not chosen an official name and that the title "Committee on Voter Registration," the name of the group of which Croxton was chairman, did not carry over to the new group.

Drummond said the new committee was made up of representatives from five state organizations — the Republican Party, the Democratic Party, the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, the League of Women Voters and the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Drummond, who was not a member of the original committee, was asked to name those attending the meeting.

"We don't want to give the names of anybody who is here," Drummond said, "because this is not a representative group. It does not include the whole membership."

Others Who Attended

Besides Drummond and Mrs. Lafferty, those attending included George Ellison, outgoing president of the State AFL-CIO; Mrs. Myron W. House Jr., Mrs. John Samuels and Mrs. David Hamilton of the University Women; Miss Parma Basham and Mrs. William Steele of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Bill M. Spaulding, Tom Gugino of the Little Rock University Young Republicans, and state Representative Jim Brandon of Pulaski County, who helped form the first group.

Marion Burton, a representative of the Republican national committeeman's office, came as an observer. Burton is to examine the proposed amendment to see if it conforms with voter registration standards as set by the Republican Party.

J. Bill Becker, secretary of the State AFL-CIO, was present when the meeting opened but left when the press was asked to leave. He said he was not a member of the committee.

Meeting Was Postponed

The meeting, held at the Tower Building conference room, originally had been scheduled for Wednesday but was postponed because all of the petitions had not been printed.

The committee plans to circulate petitions in every county and hopes to get at least 50,000 signatures. It will take a minimum of 30,809 signatures to qualify the proposed constitutional amendment for the ballot.

The committee wants to set up a statewide organization for the petition drive.

"We hope to have a working committee in shape by May 15," Drummond said.

"The group acknowledges Croxton's substantial contribution to the goals of this particular organization," Drummond said. "The nucleus of this committee is certainly that of the Croxton group."

Has No Chairman

Although a nominating committee has been appointed, the group is still without a chairman. Miss Basham was elected Thursday as its executive secretary.

She will serve, Drummond said, perhaps for 30 days. He said the committee hoped to raise some money and might hire a permanent secretary to co-ordinate the work.

The petitions must be filed with the secretary of state four months before the election, or by July 3.

The "Croxton Bill," also sponsored by state Representative Jim Brandon of Pulaski County, was introduced in the special special session of the General Assembly last month with the approval of the old group, the Committee on Voter Registration. It was unsuccessful.

Because it was a legislative bill, it did not purport to abolish the poll tax as a requisite for voting, which the proposed constitutional amendment would do.

The only difference otherwise is that under the proposed constitutional amendment, voters would be purged every four years for failure to vote instead of every two.

Like the Croxton measure, it would set up a permanent voter registration system to be administered by the county clerks. It would require personal registration and have signature safeguards. And it would provide for year-round registration, to be cut off 20 days before any election.

Ark Reg

say Westerfield, a Harvard Ph.D., and former dean of the Atlanta University Business School, will be upgraded to a supervisory role, becoming the highest-placed Negro ever ever in the department.

AID education director—Dr. Benjamin Mays, Morehouse College president, is expected to accept this post which will include heading a program for the spreading worldwide agency.

White Ousts 2 Tots, Burns House Of Ga. Deacon

A white man who allegedly ordered two children out of the house of Cobb, Ga., church deacon Trim Porter, whose church was used for voter registration training, and set fire to the house. At a grocery store at the time, Porter later moved his wife and eight of his 14 children still at home into a neighbor's house. Porter said he did not report the incident to police because he was afraid.

Statesman Feted: Given a press conference-luncheon by the Women's National Press Club in Washington, D. C.'s Sheraton-Carlton Hotel, Prime Minister Abdirascid Ali Scermarche of the Somali (E. Africa) Republic enjoys a before-luncheon chat with club president Patty Cavin.

NEGROES 'AIN'T READY YET'

Arkansas' Negro voters pitifully goofed big chances to elect two Negroes to balky (on integration) school boards in two cities, and, by staying at home, allowed the top Negro contenders to be crushed, though the Negro electorate had power to sweep them to victory.

Analyzing the vote tallies the morning after election day, the losing candidates, "as much as it hurt," agreed: "In Arkansas, we just ain't ready."

In Hot Springs, businessman E. S. Stevenson lost, though only 2,200 out of the total electorate showed at the polls and an estimated 3,000 Negroes are registered to vote. Stevenson said he was endorsed by practically every major Negro group in the city, yet figures indicate even members of the endorsing groups apparently didn't go out to vote him into power.

Meanwhile, in Little Rock, scene of 1957 school desegregation riots, even the fact that fluent, intellectual Dr. Morris A. Jackson vied strongly for a position on the slow-to-integrate school board failed to budge a majority of city's Negro voters. Though an estimated 7,000 Negroes are eligible, and only slightly over 12,000 votes were cast, Jackson came in second, while the white winner received only 6,521 total votes. The figures tell the story.

SAY TAN ARKANSAS POLITICOS

Understating his disgust at the results, Dr. Jackson said he was "a little bit unhappy" with the vote turnout. He even mulled a notion to meet with city's Negro employers to persuade them to require a registration card as proof of voting before they consider hiring a Negro. Said the University of Arkansas Medical School grad: "I think just about anything you can think of to make them (Negroes) vote would be a good thing."

Said Mr. Stevenson: "There's no coercion to prevent Negroes' voting. In fact, we've taken the privilege for granted for years. We're free as a bird to do it, but we just wouldn't vote." Echoed Dr. Jackson: "They just didn't get here (to the polls). WHY? is a big mystery here."

Cole Date 1/2

Pine Bluff Comm.

Jordan in Star City Jail Again

4-24-62

Special to The Commercial

STAR CITY — Bruce Jordan, 19, a Negro field secretary of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, was arrested on traffic charges here yesterday for the third time in two weeks.

State Trooper Robert Cockman charged Jordan with speeding in a residential area and failing to yield the right of way on entering a highway from a Star City side street.

Cockman said the morning that the failure-to-yield charge had been dropped.

He said he stopped Jordan yesterday afternoon at 4:20 when Jordan was driving a pick-up at 25 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone.

John Hanna, another SNCC field secretary who was with Jordan in the truck, said Jordan was not speeding.

Jordan was taken to jail at Star City. His bond was set at $200 cash. He remained in jail today. His trial was set for 1 p.m. Thursday.

Jordan was convicted April 16 by Justice of the Peace E. Workman at Star City for driving a car without a light over the license plate. He was fined $111.50.

He was convicted again Wednesday of driving without having registration papers in the car and making an improper left turn. He was fined $100 on each conviction.

He has appealed all three convictions.

Jordan got out of jail on appeal bond late Wednesday.

William E. Hansen Jr., white director of the SNCC Arkansas Project, said Jordan's latest arrest was further proof of "a campaign of harassment and intimidation being waged (against the SNCC) by Lincoln County authorities."

Jordan and Hanna have said that they have been conducting a Negro voter registration drive in Lincoln County.

Arb Resistance

file ark. Reject.

Arkansas Gazette.

LITTLE ROCK, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1962.

—Staff Photo.

Negro young people singing during their walk along Main Street.

Negroes Protest 2 Arrests, Conduct Downtown Marches

Thirty-five Negro men and women, some of them from Philander Smith College, held demonstration marches on Little Rock streets yesterday.

One who appeared to be their leader in the first march—from the Police and Courts Building on Markham Street, south on Gaines Street, to Philadner Smith at Twelfth Street—said the march was to protest the arrests Wednesday of a white man and a Negro during a sit-in demonstration at the Walgreen Drug Store at Capitol Avenue and Main Street.

The man refused to give his name but said he was a student. He said some of those in the march were from Philander Smith.

The 35 demonstrators first gathered in the municipal courtroom at the Police and Courts Building at 8:30 a. m., most of them taking seats on the west side of the room. In a front row seat on the east side was Dr. William H. Townsend, a Negro optometrist who was an unsuccessful candidate for a position on the City Manager Board in the general election.

They were in the courtroom to hear the cases of William Hansen, 23, of 1113 State Street, a white man, and Worth W. Long, 26, of 1604 West Nineteenth Street, a Negro, who were charged Wednesday under Act 14 of 1959 for refusing to leave a business establishment after being requested to do so by the owner or manager.

Harold Anderson, a Negro attorney, asked for a continuance of the cases until December 7 and received it. Municipal Judge Quinn Glover said it was a rule of his court to allow the defense a continuance on first call of the case if an attorney has been employed so that he may prepare a defense. Hansen and Long remained in jail in lieu of $500 bond

Nine Sit In at Walgreen; White Man, Negro Arrested

A white man and eight Negroes extended sit-in demonstrations yesterday to Walgreen Drug Store at Capitol Avenue and Main Street. Two of them, including the white man, were arrested and jailed when they refused to leave the store at the request of the management.

William Hanson, 23, of 1113 State Street, and Worth W. Long, 26, of 1604 West Nineteenth Street, a Negro, were charged under Act 14 of 1959 for refusing to leave a business establishment after being requested to do so by the owner or manager. They were held in lieu of $500 bond each and their cases were to come up at 8:30 a. m. today in Municipal Court.

The group arrived at Walgreen about 12:05 p. m. and took seats at the counter. White patrons who had been served finished their meal but the dining area was chained off and a sign, "This fountain is closed in the interest of public safety," was put up.

Newsmen who crossed the chain to talk to the sitters were firmly asked to leave and did so. At 12:10 p. m., Hansen and a Negro girl left and he returned about an hour later with a Negro man. When they sought to take seats at the counter, a store official told them to leave. They refused and were arrested by Lt. B. A. Griffith.

Sit-in demonstrators have visited the F. W. Woolworth Co. store at 400 Main Street in recent weeks but there have been no arrests.

—Staff Photo.

Worth W. Long (left) and William Hansen in city jail.

Thurs., Nov. 29, 1962.

Downtown Little Rock Desegregates Facilities

Pine Bluffs Commercial, Sunday, January 20, 1963

Special to The Commercial

LITTLE ROCK—Desegregation of restaurants, lunch counters, hotels and public restrooms is proceeding quietly in the downtown district here.

Opening these facilities to Negroes apparently has its main support among a group of 25 business leaders.

Segregationists have singled out for public protest only one concern involved—the Gus Blass Company, a department store that has desegregated its mezzanine tea room. Each day during the noon hour a picket marches in front of the store carrying a sign.

The picketing has achieved no noticeable effect. Passers-by pay the pickets scant notice, and some white persons have made special trips to eat in the tea room.

The move to begin desegregation of downtown facilities reportedly originated in a meeting last summer between white and Negro leaders. The effort was said to have been pushed along when Negro college students held sit-in demonstrations in the downtown stores during early November. Desegregation was said to have begun about Jan. 1.

It is thought by some sources that further impetus was given by interest here in attracting additional convention business. More and more national organizations are being integrated, and few remain willing to accept segregated facilities at convention time.

At least four eating places are eerving Negroes and white persons on an equal basis. In several places, the traditional "White" and "Colored" signs have been removed from restroom doors. Some hotels are accepting Negro guests.

The desegregation of downtown facilities and the protest picketing have not been reported by Little Rock newspapers, radio stations and television stations.

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee

6 Raymond Street, N. W.

Atlanta 14, Georgia

Negro Church Is Dynamite In Southeastern Arkansa

N.Y. Times 6-2-60

GILLETT, Ark., June 1 (UPI) — City Marshall Jeff Fletcher said today that a dyna mite blast blew out the fron door of a Negro church tw miles south of this southeaster Arkansas cotton town las night. He said that he had foun pieces of a dynamite fus around the doorway.

He said the explosion knocke out some windows and was fel all over town. There were nc injuries.

"I have no idea of the rea son," Mr. Fletcher said. He saic that it might have been the work of a fanatic.

Sheriff Harold Woodson o Arkansas County, the state police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation were called.

WAD

Resistance — Arkansas

Pine Bluff Commercial

Improper Turn

7/1/64

The Star City police have arrested a 19-year-old Negro voter registration worker, Bruce Jordan, for the second time within five days.

Last Friday, the charges against him included driving without a light on his license plate and having faulty parking lights on his car. (These infractions were discovered in broad daylight, so there can be no complaint about any lack of vigilance on the part of the Star City police.) The charge of driving with faulty parking lights was dropped, but Justice of the Peace E. Workman fined him $100 for not illuminating that license plate.

On Wednesday, the charges against Bruce Jordan were making an improper left turn and failing to show proof of the car's ownership.

Police Chief Jim Best at Star City has made it clear that the voter registration worker was not arrested because he was trying to get Negroes registered to vote. "I can't understand," said the police chief with appropriate incredulity, "why anyone should willfully violate our state traffic laws." That sure is a mighty hard thing to understand, Chief. Considering the frequency of such charges against Negro voter registration workers in that area, there can be only one explanation for it: These voter registration workers must all turn into terrible drivers and worse maintenance men the minute they get on Highway 81 to Star City.

Arts. Resistance

Hansen Arrested in Star City; Officials Said Car Not Assessed

4/17/64

Pine Bluff Commercial

By BOB LANCASTER
Of The Commercial Staff

STAR CITY—William W. Hansen Jr., director of the Arkansas Project of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, was jailed here yesterday.

He was charged with having violated Arkansas Statute 75-140, which makes it illegal for the owner of an automobile to allow another person to operate his vehicle unless the ownership papers are in the car.

Hansen's trial will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the Lincoln County Courthouse.

Hansen, a white man, had lent his car, a 1957 Plymouth, to Bruce Jordan, a Negro leader in the SNCC who had been conducting a Negro voter registration drive in Star City.

Jordan was arrested Wednesday in the car and jailed because he could not show proof of ownership of the car.

Tells of Phone Call

Hansen said he telephoned Police Chief Jim Best of Star City on Wednesday and identified himself as the owner of the car. Hansen said Best told him that he would have to bring the ownership papers to Star City to prove it.

Hansen said he called Best late yesterday afternoon and told him that he was on the way with the papers.

Before he left Pine Bluff, Hansen predicted that he would be arrested in Star City. He said to a reporter, "The harder they make it on us down there, the harder it's going to be on them."

He was driven to Star City by William Green, a Negro who is a justice of the peace in Lincoln County.

Met by Police

When Green's car pulled up to the Lincoln County Courthouse, three police cars converged on it.

Hansen got out of the car and State Police Sergeant Jack Scroggin of Pine Bluff showed him a paper, issued by state Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney. The paper said that the Plymouth hadn't been assessed. It ordered police to remove the license plates of the car.

Cheney said today that he had been notified by Assessor J. P. (Sonny) Lybrand Jr. of Jefferson County that the car had not been assessed.

Lybrand said this morning that a representative of the State Police or the state Revenue Department (he couldn't remember which, he said) came into the assessor's office last week and checked Hansen's personal property assessment.

Lybrand said the person who checked the assessment found that Hansen had assessed a 1961 Rambler on January 21 but had not assessed the 1957 Plymouth.

Lybrand said that he agreed to type up a letter to the Revenue Department saying that the Plymouth was not on Hansen's assessment sheet.

Lybrand said that he didn't know how Hansen got a license for the Plymouth without assessing it. The state Revenue Department issues licenses. Proof of assessment normally is required before a license is issued.

Hansen was told by the policemen that he would have to accompany them to Thornton Ford Company here for the removal of the plates.

Gets Police Escort

Hansen got into a State Police car and was driven to where the car was being held.

Best accompanied Hansen and Scoggin in the State Police car. Best said today that he arrested Hansen as soon as the license plates were removed. He said the car is still being held by police because it does not have license plates.

The police car returned 15 minutes later but did not stop at the courthouse. It went instead to the county jail, which is on the adjoining block.

Hansen emerged from the car wearing handcuffs.

He was taken into the jail.

The police announced that he had been charged with violating Arkansas Statute 75-140.

His bond was set at $500.

Hansen said something to one of the SNCC leaders as he was being taken into the jail.

The SNCC leader said later that Hansen had said:

"Tell my wife where I am."

Ark. Resistance

Gazette Boy 4-18/64

SNCC Leader Foresaw Arrest

Hansen Called Police Before Star City Trip

From the Associated Press

STAR CITY — William Hansen, the white civil rights leader, told a newspaper reporter before he left Pine Bluff for Star City Thursday that he expected to be arrested.

He was.

Hansen went to Star City to get a Negro associate, Bruce Jordan, out of jail and claim his car, which Jordan had been driving. Both are field secretaries for the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC), with headquarters at Pine Bluff.

Hansen said that after he learned of Jordan's arrest, he called Star City Police Chief Jim Best Thursday to tell Best that he was the owner of the car Jordan was driving. Hansen said Best told him to come to Star City and bring the papers.

Police Cars Converge

As soon as the car in which Hansen was riding pulled up at the Lincoln County Courthouse here, three police cars converged on it.

Hansen got out and State Trooper F. C. Scoggins of Pine Bluff showed him a paper issued by Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney saying that Hansen's car — the one Jordan had been driving — had not been assessed for taxes.

Cheney's paper ordered the police to remove the license plate. (A person must have a personal property assessment, including automobiles, before he can buy his driver's license or license tags in Arkansas.)

Hansen was told that he would have to accompany the officers to a garage for removal of the plates. Hansen got into a police car and was driven to the garage.

Police Chief Best said he arrested Hansen as soon as the plates were removed and charged him with allowing another person to drive his car when the ownership papers were not in the car, a violation of an Arkansas statute.

The police then impounded the car for lack of license plates.

Checked Assessment

(Jefferson County Tax Assessor J. P. Lybrand said Friday that a representative of the State Police or the state Revenue Department came to his office last week and checked Hansen's personal property assessment.

(Lybrand said the person who checked found that Hansen had assessed a 1961 Rambler on January 21 but had not assessed the 1957 Plymouth sedan Jordan was driving.

(Lybrand said the person asked him to write a letter to Cheney explaining the situation.

(Lybrand said he didn't know how Hansen got the license for the Plymouth without assessing the car for taxes.)

(See ARREST on Page 2A.)

Hansen was released from the Star City Jail Friday night on $500 bond. His trial was set for 9 a. m. today. Chief Best said Hansen was being charged $10.00 a day for storage on the car.

Jordan was removed from the Jail to the Gould City Jail Friday. There was no explanation of why he was transferred. Chief Best wouldn't comment.

Jordan, who is being held in lieu of $1,000 bond, was first arrested last Friday when he came here to conduct a voter registration drive. He was arrested again Wednesday.

He was charged with:

1. Driving without a proper emergency brake.
2. Making an illegal left turn.
3. Driving a car with faulty parking lights.
4. Failure to have a light over the license plate.
5. Suspicion of driving a stolen car.

Jordan was tried in the sheriff's office here Thursday and fined $100 and costs for not having the license-plate light. He said he was arrested in the early afternoon when it was not necessary to have the light. The parking-lights and emergency-brake charges were dismissed and trial on the illegal left-turn charge was postponed.

Hansen told the newspaper reporter before he left Pine Bluff, "The harder they make it on us down there, the harder it's going to be on them," he said.

Hansen was driven to Star City by William Green, a Negro justice of the peace from Lincoln County.

Ark Resistance

Pine Bluff Commercial 4/18/64

Hansen Acquitted But Fined for Contempt

By BOB LANCASTER
Of The Commercial Staff

STAR CITY — William W. Hansen Jr. was acquitted of a charge of violating Arkansas Statute 75-140 this morning by E. Workman, a Lincoln County justice of the peace.

At the same time, he was found guilty of contempt of court and fined $5 and assessed $11.50 in court costs. The contempt charge arose because Hansen, who had been free on bond, was 20 minutes late for the trial.

Arkansas Statute 75-140 makes it illegal for the owner of an automobile to allow another person to operate his vehicle unless the ownership papers are in the car.

Hansen, director of the Arkansas Project of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, was arrested Thursday on the charge. He had lent his car, a 1957 Plymouth, to Bruce Jordan, a field secretary for the committee, who had been conducting a voter registration campaign among Negroes in Lincoln County.

Jordan was arrested Wednesday and jailed because he could not show proof of ownership of the car. Jordan testified this morning that he lost the registration papers Hansen had given him when he lent Jordan the car.

Police Chief Jim Best testified that when Jordan was first arrested April 10, the registration papers were in the car. Best said he confiscated the papers and eventually returned them to Jordan.

Hansen testified that he had not been told by Jordan that Jordan had lost the registration papers.

Workman said there was some doubt about the evidence against Hansen, so he was finding Hansen not guilty.

After the trial, Jordan was released from jail on $2,000 appearance bond on another charge for which he was arrested Wednesday—that of making an improper left turn. Jordan also posted a $250 appeal bond pending the appeal of his conviction Thursday on a charge of driving without a light over the car's license plate. This was the charge on which Jordan was arrested April 10.

Hansen Says Impounding of Car Is 'Legalized Theft' by State

William W. Hansen Jr., whose car was impounded Thursday after state officials charged that it had not been assessed, denied the charge yesterday and called the state Revenue Department's action "legalized car theft."

The car in question was a 1957 Plymouth for which Hansen bought a license tag January 27. State law requires that automobiles be assessed before the tags are issued.

J. P. (Sonny) Lybrand Jr., Jefferson County assessor, said he had no record of assessment on the Plymouth. However, proof of assessment must be shown before the state will sell the license tags.

A week before Hansen purchased the tags for the Plymouth, he assessed a 1961 Rambler, Lybrand said. Officials in the state Revenue Department theorize that Hansen hurriedly showed workers in the Jefferson County office of the state Revenue Department the assessment papers on the Rambler and thereby obtained the license tags for the Plymouth.

Lyle Williams, attorney for the department, said yesterday in Little Rock that such an occurrence was likely during the last-minute rush at the end of January. Williams said the department had had similar cases in the past.

Hansen, director of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee's Arkansas Project, said he did everything that was required by law and said the charges were the result of the state's attempt to block voter registration in Lincoln County.

The car was impounded Thursday when Hansen went to Star City to get the car. Bruce Jordan, a field secretary for Hansen's group, had been arrested Wednesday while driving the car and charged with making an improper left turn. Hansen was told by Star City police that he would have to bring the registration papers for the Plymouth to Star City in order to get the car back.

When Hansen arrived in Star City, he was handed a letter from Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney stating that his auto registration was revoked.

Cheney's letter said:

"Information has been received from the Tax Assessor of Jefferson County that you failed to comply with Act 144 of 1953.

"Your 1964 registration and license plate No. 2-18120 are hereby revoked and you are requested to surrender your 1964 registration certificate and license plate No. 2-18120 to a representative of this department or the State Police Department."

Act 144 requires vehicle owners to assess their cars before receiving a state registration certificate and license plate.

Hansen surrendered his registration and license plate to the State Police. Then the car was impounded for not having a license plate.

Clarence Lusby, state revenue collector in Pine Bluff, agreed with the theorizing from the main office at Little Rock: It is possible, Lusby said, that Hansen offered the assessment on the Rambler when he applied for the Plymouth license.

Lusby said that some of the inexperienced extra workers hired to help handle the January rush might have issued the license without properly checking the assessment.

Hansen said that Police Chief Jim Best of Star City told him the Plymouth was being held (at Thornton Ford Company there) and that Hansen was being charged $10 a day for its storage.

Hansen said: "Faubus and all his sheet-clad minions think there are too many Negroes registering (to vote) and the way to stop it is by legalized theft of the registration workers' cars."

He added: "What can you do when the State of Arkansas steals your car?"

Williams, the Revenue Department attorney, had an answer for that. "Well, for Hansen to get his license back, he would have to get the car properly assessed; then there'd have to be a hearing with Mr. Cheney. It'd have to be a public hearing. We can't have any of this star-chamber stuff these days."

Ask Resistance

Theory and Reality

The director of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee's Arkansas Project has a political vocabulary as categorized and bombastic as the title he bears.

The rhetoric of The Movement comes readily to William Hansen; his phrases can sound like a list of term papers sociologist C. Wright Mills might have assigned his students in any given semester: the White Power Structure, the Power Elite, the Monolithic Society. It is sometimes difficult to tell whether Mr. Hansen sounds more like an agitator burlesquing a sociologist, or a sociologist burlesquing an agitator.

To describe a state as varied and distinctive as Arkansas in pat phrases is a challenge Mr. Hansen often accepts. Another tribute to the conquest of reality by theory is Mr. Hansen's ability to describe as monolithic a society composed of the professors at Fayetteville, the Social Darwinians at Fort Smith, the city dwellers of Little Rock and its suburbs, the planters and croppers of the Delta, the businessmen of Pine Bluff, and the Ozark mountaineers.

Any state represented in the United States Senate by both John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright must have a good measure of diversity. Arkansas is about as monolithic as a patchwork quilt.

His theories about Arkansas's Monolithic Society shape Mr. Hansen's tactics as well as his vocabulary. Last January, in his testimony before the Arkansas Advisory Group of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, Mr. Hansen offered this rationale for his methods: ". . . you talk about er excerpt from Mr. Hansen's testimony last January: "You have mass meetings, knock on doors and tell them 'Your kids are in jail because of a police situation that allows this to occur.' "

But what happens when peaceable demonstrations not only are allowed, but protected? What happens when a school board comes up with a sensible and legal desegregation program before the issue comes to the boiling point? Then, the agitator is no longer the cause, but only the catalyst of social change. When other elements actually take the initiative in reaching an accommodation on racial problems, he is not even the catalyst.

In such cases, he must either cease being an agitator or search for other areas where grievances exist to be agitated. In February of this year, the team of Dick Gregory and Bill Hansen went out into Jefferson County and found a grievance beyond the jurisdiction of Pine Bluff's police.

When another outside agitator of a different persuasion threatened to get in the act, Mr. Gregory was wise enough to pull out of town rather than work as Orval Faubus's straight man.

There are still places in Arkansas where a Negro voter registration worker can be jailed for being brazen enough to drive through town on a sunny spring afternoon without a light on his license plate. When the Star City police jailed a Negro registration worker last week, they gave Mr. Hansen an opportunity to generalize about the state of Arkansas in the sweeping

Ark. Reader

Left Comm., 4-24-64

Ark. Reader

Pine Bluff Commercial, 4-24-64

The director of the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee's Arkansas Project has a political vocabulary as categorized and bombastic as the title he bears.

The rhetoric of The Movement comes readily to William Hansen; his phrases can sound like a list of term papers sociologist C. Wright Mills might have assigned his students in any given semester: the White Power Structure, the Power Elite, the Monolithic Society. It is sometimes difficult to tell whether Mr. Hansen sounds more like an agitator burlesquing a sociologist, or a sociologist burlesquing an agitator.

To describe a state as varied and distinctive as Arkansas in pat phrases is a challenge Mr. Hansen often accepts. Another tribute to the conquest of reality by theory is Mr. Hansen's ability to describe as monolithic a society composed of the professors at Fayetteville, the Social Darwinians at Fort Smith, the city dwellers of Little Rock and its suburbs, the planters and croppers of the Delta, the businessmen of Pine Bluff, and the Ozark mountaineers.

Any state represented in the United States Senate by both John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright must have a good measure of diversity. Arkansas is about as monolithic as a patchwork quilt.

His theories about Arkansas's Monolithic Society shape Mr. Hansen's tactics as well as his vocabulary. Last January, in his testimony before the Arkansas Advisory Group of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, Mr. Hansen offered this rationale for his methods: "... you talk about getting people to pay poll taxes when they can't elect anyone anyway ... we must show them how to organize, and one way is to give them something to rally around — like the sit-ins."

But what happens when Negroes can run for public office in open elections? (Pine Bluff's last local election provides a relevant example.)

What happens when Negroes can register to vote without fear of harassment? (Arkansas in general, and only in general, is a relevant example.)

When that happens, Mr. Hansen's theory must be altered to conform to the facts. That is a good deal to ask of any theoretician, and an impossible request to make of one who believes he already has everything figured.

If the race question were not the center of every issue, its devotees would have to deal with the entire community and not just a segment of it. The talented agitator, after years of specializing in racial matters, would have to tackle problems more diffuse and less emotional.

It is simpler to demand that existing rights be shared equally than to enlarge the rights of all. It is simpler to demand that existing jobs be divided than to expand the number of jobs for all. It is simpler to demand that existing wealth be shared than to devise a way to increase it for all.

A man who presents his plea in highly emotional terms must always be tempted to stick with the simple issues—literally, the black and white issues. To quote another excerpt from Mr. Hansen's testimony last January: "You have mass meetings, knock on doors and tell them 'Your kids are in jail because of a police situation that allows this to occur.' "

But what happens when peaceable demonstrations not only are allowed, but protected? What happens when a school board comes up with a sensible and legal desegregation program before the issue comes to the boiling point? Then, the agitator is no longer the cause, but only the catalyst of social change. When other elements actually take the initiative in reaching an accommodation on racial problems, he is not even the catalyst.

In such cases, he must either cease being an agitator or search for other areas where grievances exist to be agitated. In February of this year, the team of Dick Gregory and Bill Hansen went out into Jefferson County and found a grievance beyond the jurisdiction of Pine Bluff's police.

When another outside agitator of a different persuasion threatened to get in the act, Mr. Gregory was wise enough to pull out of town rather than work as Orval Faubus's straight man.

There are still places in Arkansas where a Negro voter registration worker can be jailed for being brazen enough to drive through town on a sunny spring afternoon without a light on his license plate. When the Star City police jailed a Negro registration worker last week, they gave Mr. Hansen an opportunity to generalize about the state of Arkansas in the sweeping terms of his own theory:

> The Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee feels that the arrest of Bruce Jordan is a deliberate and blatant attempt to intimidate voter registration workers and prospective Negro voters.
>
> If the authorities in Lincoln County or anywhere else in Arkansas think that these tactics will succeed, they had better have their heads examined.
>
> Representative G. D. Smith is going first, and all the rest of them are going right behind him. It's only a matter of time.
>
> It is about time that Arkansas quits hiding behind its so-called liberal voting qualifications. Arkansas will let anyone register without intimidation as long as that doesn't include enough Negroes to involuntarily retire these medieval legislators.

The Star City police might as well have sent Mr. Hansen an engraved invitation. Before long, Mr. Hansen was in the Star City jail and out again, agitated about having his car impounded (he called it "legalized theft") and determined to agitate others. Such incidents hand Mr. Hansen a challenge commensurate with his capacity and appropriate to his tactiss.

Harassment is one way for an agitator to gain publicity and a following. And, as time passes, the agitator can depend only on a diminishing number of short-sighted officials in Arkansas to give him that opportunity.

Hansen Says His Car Held Star City Chief Says It Isn't

Pine Bluff Comm., 4-30-64

Ark. Recent.

STAR CITY — William W. Hansen Jr.'s 1957 Plymouth is sitting without license plates on the lot of the Thornton Ford Company here.

Hansen says Police Chief Jim Best of Star City told him that he could not remove the car from the lot, that it was legally impounded and that he was being charged $10 a day for its storage.

Best said yesterday that the car was not being held, that Hansen could come and get it any time and that he never said anything about storage costs.

When Hansen was told what Best had said, he said that was not the way he understood it.

Fred Thornton owner of the lot said yesterday that he had a fixed storage rate. He said the rate was 50 cents a day. He said that was what Hansen was being charged.

Bruce Jordan, a field secretary for the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee, was arrested in Star City on April 15 in the car, and when he could not show the registration papers on it, the car was impounded. It has been on the lot since that time.

Hansen, director of the SNCC's Arkansas Project, went to Star City to claim ownership of the car the day after Jordan was arrested. On arrival, he was presented an order from state Revenue Commissioner, J. Orville Cheney revoking the license of the car. Cheney said he issued the order when he was informed by Assessor J. P. (Sonny) Lybrand of Jefferson County that the car was improperly assessed.

(Continued on Page 2)

Chief Says Hansen's Car Is Not Held

From Page 1

Hansen was taken by Best, a state trooper and a member of the Criminal Investigation Division of the State Police to remove the license plates of the car.

Hansen said Best told him at that time about the impounding of the car and about the $10-a-day storage cost.

Best said that when Hansen proved he owned the car, the police no longer had any reason to hold it.

Hansen said Best told him later that he could not tow the car off the lot. Best said the only thing he said to Hansen was that Hansen couldn't drive the car because it had no license plates. Best said the car was not being held and that he had never told Hansen he couldn't come get it.

Arkansas Gazette

5-23-64

ARKANSAS GAZETTE, Sa

Voting Drive Moves to Gould; Mayor Tells SNCC, 'Register All You Want,' Observe Law

From the Associated Press

GOULD—The Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee, which has experienced some trouble in its voter registration drive in the Star City area of Lincoln County, has expanded its efforts to Gould, 20 miles away.

William Hansen Jr. of Pine Bluff, director of SNCC in Arkansas, says his organization has had "a couple of people working in Gould" since last week.

Mayor A. L. Butcher of Gould said SNCC had conducted several meetings in Gould attended mainly by young Negroes.

Butcher said he had a long talk with one of the SNCC workers. "I told him I don't care how many people he registered and how many he got to vote," Butcher said.

But the mayor added that he thought SNCC's real purpose at Gould was "to stir up trouble."

He quoted the workers as saying Gould needed many things, including a bi-racial committee and a new Negro school.

"I told him we didn't need one [a bi-racial committee]," Butcher said. "I said if the local people wanted one, let them come down here and tell me about it."

"He said we needed a new [Negro] school, and I said 'Hell, I know we need a new school and we're working to get one.' "

He said the SNCC worker told him he could get "about 200 Negroes to march down the streets here."

"I told him to march ahead, but if they broke any laws, blocked the streets or anything, we'd throw them in jail," Butcher said.

He said that SNCC tactics smacked of Hitlerism. He said Hitler began working with young people in Germany right after World War I and that nobody paid much attention at the time.

Butcher said the city planned not to pay any attention to the SNCC workers. He said the city would not harass them, but he warned that if a SNCC worker were arrested and found guilty of breaking the law, "we'd stick it to him just like we do the local people [who break the law]."

Hansen said the only SNCC member who he knew had talked to Butcher was Bruce Jordan, 19, of Pine Bluff. Jordan was arrested three times and fined three times for minor traffic violations during the voter registration drive at Star City last month.

Ark Les.

APR 3 1963

Fla
General

1902 Colonial
Fort Pierce, Fla
March 31, 1963

Dear Mr. Brouton:

Since your visit to Fort Pierce is delayed indefinitely we are wondering whether you have publications or other Voter Education materials or information which you can share with us. It seems to ~~us~~ in the Community Association that Fort Pierce is a good community in which to conduct such a campaign. There will be no Greenwood-like complications here but negro voters and voters-to-be (and the whites also) need to be educated to their responsibilities.

Sincerely

Mortimer Cohen

12.5
4|50
4
10
8
2 12.5

3
57.5

B4
3-12-63

February 12, 1963

Mr. Mortimer Cohen
1902 Colonial Rd.
Fort Pierce, Florida

Dear Mr. Cohen:

Because of the pressure of many other out-of-town commitments it was not possible for me to come to Fort Pierce in connection with my Miami trip.

I will try to come to Fort Pierce at the earliest possible moment and will be in touch with you at such a time.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

January 22, 1963

Mr. Mortimer Cohen
1902 Colonial Rd.
Fort Pierce, Florida

Dear Mr. Cohen:

I will not be speaking in Miami until February 14, and it would rush me too much to try to come to Ft. Pierce from Daytona Beach this week end.

As soon as I see what my schedule is like for my Miami trip of the 14th I will get in touch with you further.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

JAN 18 1963

1902 Colonial Rd
Fort Pierce, Fla
Jan 16, 1963

Mr Wiley A. Branton
Voter Education Project

Dear Mr Branton:

Thank you for your letter of Jan 8.
Some of the members of the Fort Pierce group will be in Daytona to hear your talk but a number of others, including myself, will not be able to make it.
We would certainly welcome the chance to talk to you when you pass thru Fort Pierce on your way to or from Miami. Please let us know whether your schedule is now definite and, if so, when you would reach our city. I can arrange to have a group at my home to meet with you.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Very sincerely
Mortimer Cohen

January 8, 1963

Mr. Mortimer Cohen
1902 Colonial Rd.
Fort Pierce, Florida

Dear Mr. Cohen:

Your letter of January 1, to the Southern Regional Council has been referred to me for reply.

The Voter Education Project is a program of the Southern Regional Council and we are engaged in a South-wide research program which is designed to study the causes for low registration and the best methods and techniques for helping to solve this problem. This is a non-partisanprogram which enjoys tax exemption from the Internal Reveanu Service. Our research data is gathered by observing and analyzing the actual registration programs being conducted by other groups.

We work primarily through five major participating organizations (CORE, NAACP, Urban League, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee) but we also work with purely local organizations where the major organizations have no program planned or where special circumstances provide a more effective program through a local organization.

While we do not have an adequate staff to provide someone for every community interested in getting a voter registration program under way, we always try to provide someone to assist in consultation and planning where requested.

I note that I will be speaking in Daytona Beach for the Florida Council on Human Relations on Saturday, January 26, and have a tentative agreement to speak in Miami either the day before or the day following. Perhaps if your local group is sufficiently interested I might find it convenient to arrange my schedule to stop in Fort Pierce and meet with you.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

WB

1902 Colonial Rd
Fort Pierce, Fla.
Jan 1, 1963

Southern Regional Council
5 Forsyth St NW
Atlanta 3, Ga.

Gentlemen:

Our local inter-racial group, the Fort Pierce Community Association, is interested in learning more about the activities and suggestions of the Southern Regional Council in relation to Voter Education. I should appreciate receiving any literature or references which you may have on a grass-roots approach to the problem of Voter Education.

Thank you for your help.

Very sincerely
Mortimer Cohen

September 18, 1963

Mr. Frank Hampton
Duval County Citizens Benefit Corporation
2610 N. Myrtle Avenue
Jacksonville 9, Florida

Dear Mr. Hampton:

Thank you for your letter of August 21 in which you state that the Duval County Citizens Benefit Corporation would like to start a drive in Jacksonville, for voter registration, next March 1.

I understand from Mr. Clarence Coleman, Regional Director for the National Urban League, that the Urban League is interested in spearheading an immediate drive in Jacksonville and that cooperation will be sought from all existing organizations in your city. I would hope that you and your organization would lend your support to any voter registration drive which might take place prior to yours which you have in mind for next March.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
cc: Mr. Clarence Coleman

DUVAL COUNTY CITIZENS BENEFIT CORPORATION

FRANK HAMPTON
PRESIDENT
EDWARD J. NORMAN
VICE PRESIDENT
CHARLES M. BROWN
SECRETARY
GEORGE D. LESESNE, JR.
TREASURER

2610 N. MYRTLE AVENUE
JACKSONVILLE 9, FLORIDA
PHONE EL 5-8340 EL 5-8349

August 21, 1963

AUG 23 1963

Mr. Wiley Branton
Voters Educational Project
5 Forsyth Street
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

On the first day of January, 1964, every registered voter in Duval County will receive a card in the mail from the Supervisor of Registration. These cards cannot be forwarded - if a voter moves he must register again.

Mr. Rutledge Pearson, President of the local NAACP informed me that the NAACP is not conducting a registration drive before April or to his knowledge anytime thereafter.

If we started our drive March 1, 1964, we would not only register new voters but also re-register any voter that moved during the four-year period, January 1,1960 - January 1, 1964.

Any assistance you can offer will be greatly appreciated to make this drive successful.

Very truly yours,

Frank Hampton

Frank Hampton

FH/1

8-14-63
2

August 7, 1963

Mr. Frank Hampton
2610 N. Myrtle Avenue
Jacksonville, Florida

Dear Mr. Hampton:

You promised to check with Mr. Rutledge Pearson regarding any planned registration activities in Jacksonville and let us hear from you. I would be interested in knowing what information you have been able to gather.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

305

2610 N. Myrtle Ave.
Elgin 5-8349

7/13/63 call
telephone

I with
Frank Hampton — of Jacksonville, Fla.
Duval County ~~City~~ Citizen Benefit Corp.

Ruthledge Pearson is Pres. of Jax NAACP

Memo from JEAN LEVINE

WAB

In connection with the Urban League's Jacksonville program, you may remember that Ernest Lent (Eliza's counterpart in Jacksonville) had asked us to let him cooperate with VEP in any way he could. Do you think it might be helpful to the Urban League or the Duval County gfoup to know of this source of help?

jl

2-11-64

RTB
BUX
JL for BU

February 3, 1964

Mr. Joseph R. Jackson
Washington Adult High School
P.O. Box 183
Pensacola, Florida

Dear Mr. Jackson:

In reply to your letter of January 17, 1964, we would be very much interested in knowing what organizations have been doing registration work in Pensacola and in Escambia County during the past several years and we would also like to know something of their plans for registration during 1964.

Upon receipt of this information we will be in a better position to properly reply to your letter.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl

Florida Statewide

WBV
RTB
BW

WASHINGTON ADULT HIGH SCHOOL
600 West Strong Street
P. O. Box 183
Pensacola, Florida
Phone: HE 8-9305
-oOo-
J. R. Jackson, Principal

JAN 20 1964

January 17, 1964

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Voters Educational Project
Room #206
5 Forsythe Street N.W.
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Sir:

We have 10,500 Negro - voters on the book in Escambia County. There are approximately 25,000 eligible voters here. I am deeply concerned because, I am a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county.

It was my pleasure to talk (long distance by phone) with Mr. Frank Hampton this morning, of Jacksonville, Florida and he suggested that I write to you and ask for method and aid that might add to our voters list.

Please give all data that could be helpful.

Yours truly,

Joseph R. Jackson

Joseph R. Jackson

Precinct Committeeman #91

ACTION SOUGHT

FORT MYERS, Fla. (ANP)--The Florida Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights has called on Gov. Farris Bryant to provide moral leadership and police action in the St. Augustine racial situation, pointing out that the state "has too much at stake to let its image be tarnished."

The committee, meeting here recently, requested the governor to encourage respect for Negro rights and police action necessary to punish wrong-doers at St. Augustine where numerous overt racial actions of intimidation have occurred in recent weeks.

The committee said one life has been lost and several Negro homes have been bombed and the situation is worse than when the committee held a meeting there last September.

Concern about the image of the state throughout the world was expressed by the committee in view of a quadricentennial celebration scheduled in St. Augustine this year. The committee said, "it is inconceivable we should put before the world such an example."

The committee also advised the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights that conditions have worsened at St. Augustine and requested a hearing by the commission to be held there.

The letter from the committee also will go to Atty. Gen. James W. Kynes of Florida and the state's nine gubernatorial candidates.

The committee has held public hearings in 12 Flordia cities and said owners of public accomodations are willing to serve the public regardless of race and would welcome passage of the public accommodations section of the civil rights bill.

In a report on racial condition in this area, the committee said "The city of Fort Myers and Lee County are living by tradition in race relations without regard for changes that are taking place and without regard for the demands of Negro citizens for equal opportunity and treatment."

The committee said public officials in the county and in Fort Myers "continue a course of enforcing traditions of the past even to the extent of depriving Negro citizens of proper schooling, employment, housing, recreational, health and ther governmental facilities."

According to the committee, schools in the area continue to be segregated; and on Sanibel Island "there is a situation of the most flagrant hardship with small children spending five hours a day needlessly being transported to and from schools despite a willingness of the white residents of Sanibel to have the Negro children schooled there."

The committee added: "The hospital situation is in human. Negro babies have died because of inattention at a so-called Negro hospital." (77)

Columbus News
3/28/64

Fla. Pol.

SERS Library

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES 1-A
Date: APR 11 1964

Pol - Fla

gov race

Fred Karl: Mr.

By MARTIN WALDRON AND JACK NEASE
Of The Times Staff

If Rep. Fred Karl of Daytona Beach is elected governor, he will most likely:

✓ Stress education above other needs of the state.

✓ Pattern his administration after that of former Gov. LeRoy Collins but probably be ineffective in working with the Legislature and Cabinet.

✓ Actively push plans to give populous areas a bigger voice in the state Legislature and in Florida's congressional delegation.

✓ Gladden the hearts of school teachers and their lobbyists, the Florida Education Association.

The 39-year-old attorney has left no doubt in political circles that he is deliberately patterning his campaign and public image after Collins.

Some of Collins' chief supporters are backing Karl and Karl is getting campaign advice from some of the same people who helped Collins to victory in 1954 and 1956.

THE SUPPORT ISN'T unanimous, however. A number of influential Collins supporters—particularly in the state Senate—are backing Sen. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville.

Karl, like Collins before he became governor, is generally thought of first in connection with school legislation. Chairman of the House Public Schools Committee and closely allied with school lobbyists, he has been the chief legislative bargaining agent to secure more state funds for teacher salaries and other school needs.

Sometimes overlooked—and generally less successful—have been Karl's efforts in other fields.

NO ONE HAS ever accused Karl of innovations on public school matters.

His school philosophy has been simple: The state should appropriate more money to pay teachers higher salaries and build new school buildings.

In addition Karl has fought to keep public schools open, come what may.

Karl established himself as a champion of the public school system in 1957, his first term in the legislature.

The fires of racial bitterness flamed high throughout the state that year, and most legislators wanted to close public schools to avoid integration.

KARL STAYED on his feet, fighting the idea in vote after vote. He espoused segregation, but not to the extent of harming the state's schools.

When the Legislature made it plain that some school closing bills would pass, it was Karl who led the way to amending the plan so it would take at least 25 per cent of the people of a county to begin a move to close schools.

Former Gov. LeRoy Collins vetoed the bill, and Karl helped bottle up a similar bill in committee during the 1959 session.

THE 1957 SESSION was also the year Florida flirted with interposition, the theory that state governments don't have to follow U.S. Supreme Court decisions unless they want to.

Karl was one of 20 representatives who waged an unsuccessful fight to delay consideration of the resolution. It passed by voice vote.

Karl found his courage tested again in 1959, when small county legislators devised a scheme to spend state money to sell segregation to the north.

They appropriated $500,000 toward a joint advertising campaign with four unnamed Southern states to sell the rest of the nation on the "separate but equal" doctrine.

Karl was one of only 13 representatives who voted against this in the emotionally charged atmosphere of that session.

Collins vetoed this scheme too.

KARL'S FIGHT to keep schools open in 1957 won him an appointment as vice chairman of the House Public Schools Committee in 1959.

He became chairman when the previous chairman moved out of the state.

In this capacity, Karl has been the chief spokesman in the House for public school interests and their lobbyists.

He has been effective, winning pay raises for teachers when legislative leaders were determined to keep all appropriations as low as possible.

He has opposed teacher merit pay plans on the grounds that they could be used for political purposes in local school board and school superintendent races.

YET HE ACCEPTED one merit pay plan in 1961 as part of a compromise package to get a pay raise for teachers from that tight-pocketed Legislature.

The plan proved so controversial that Karl had little trouble getting it repealed in 1963.

Karl's role as the school system's chief advocate has won him as least as many enemies as friends in the Legislature.

He has been the target of the animosity that some legislators feel toward the Florida Educaational Association.

With 43,000 white school teachers behind it, the FEA is perhaps the most potent lobbying organization in the state. It is able to turn floods of letters and telegrams to legislators on and off as easily as turning a faucet.

MANY LEGISLATORS, afraid to buck the FEA publicly, resent this vast power. Some of the resentment has rubbed off on Karl, limiting his effectiveness in other fields.

Karl — at least in public appearances — doesn't seem to mind.

He has never been known to lose his temper in debate and, in fact, rarely seems to get excited. Yet some felt he shot from the hip during the recent racial unrest in Jacksonville when he called on the governor for state intervention.

John Mathews: Effectiveness Without

1-A

By MARTIN WALDRON and JACK NEASE
Of The Times Staff

If State Sen. John E. Mathews Jr., of Jacksonville is elected governor, and his administration follows his past pattern of government service:

- The governor's office will be run in an efficient but unspectacular fashion.
- The State Legislature will do what Mathews wants, but he will not suggest anything revolutionary.
- Many state agencies will be reorganized, some abolished.
- He will wait until problems arise before finding a solution for them.

Mathews is a 43-year-old, well-to-do corporation lawyer who is running for governor as if he were running for chairman of the board.

HE HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED for so long with persons who understand government that at times he appears to have lost the ability to make himself understood by the average voter.

Microfilm Code No.

SERS Library

ST. PETERSBURG
TIMES 1-A

Date: APR 10 1964

FROM 1-A

Mathews is in the 1964 governor's race at the urging of a number of legislators, including three of the Senate's "white knights" — Verle A. Pope of St. Augustine, Ed Price of Bradenton and John McCarty of Fort Pierce.

McCarty ran for governor in 1964, came in fourth. Pope has yearned to run, but the years caught up with him. And Price, who had been urged in 1959 to run by former Gov. LeRoy Collins, decided he did not want to.

In the 1963 session, these three senators fed Mathews with opportunities to become the floor leader for good government. As a result, Mathews led a successful fight against much of the program for Gov. Farris Bryant.

Mathews grew up in a political family. His father was a state senator and then a member of the Florida Supreme Court.

THIS BACKGROUND has given Mathews a great sense of timing — he knows when to make a move.

Mathews is no reformer on a white charger, but he does have a record of pushing for reorganization where it makes government more efficient.

His record indicates he believes government should allow people to solve their own problems, helping them only as a last resort. He has opposed such things as a consumer's commission to lobby in behalf of average citizens.

IN THE HANDLING of race relations, Mathews is dedicated to reasonableness.

He has made it clear that he disagrees with the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling. He has not made it clear why.

Mathews is considered a top expert on constitutional law in the state, and at least part of his objections has been based on this.

In 1957, he joined with Rep. Fred Karl to fight a bill which would allow Florida's public schools to be closed if they were integrated.

But at the same time, Mathews voted for the plan sponsored by Rep. Bill Reedy of Lake County which would have appropriated $500,000 of tax money to sell segregation to the North through advertising.

AND HE INDICATED support for interposition — a theory that states do not have to follow decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court unless they choose to.

Mathews has proposed no plan which would ease the state through racial crisis in Florida. Neither has any other candidate.

Mathews proclaims himself to be reasonable. Perhaps he is.

Mathews' greatest value to the state has been in the field of reorganization of the state government. For years, Mathews has harbored an idea of rewriting the state constitution.

BUT NO propitious time has arisen, and he has played the waiting game. He also has kept to himself his ideas of what the new constitution should say.

In the 1963 session of the Legislature, Mathews pushed through the Senate a bill which would put strict restrictions on the fees which a governor could hand out to his cronies when the state borrows money.

Rep. Karl handled the House end of this legislation.

Mathews probably would be a worry-wart sort of governor, insisting that state laws be followed to the letter.

HIS WHOLE ADULT life has been attuned to corporation law where each comma and each period in a contract is studied and fumed over.

And this tendency carries over into Mathews' lawmaking career.

SERS Library Pol-Fla

gov race

ST. PETERSBURG
TIMES 1-A
Date: APR 9 1964

Bud Dickinson: Promises, Smiles,

The Yardstick Of Florida Issues

Here, in capsule form, is the way former Sen. Fred O. Dickinson Jr. of West Palm Beach, measures up against the yardstick of issues in the 1964 race for governor.

✓ RACE RELATIONS — Supported interposition in 1957. Supported plan to spend $500,000 selling segregated way of life to the North through advertising in 1959. Voted for last resort school closing bill.

By MARTIN WALDRON AND JACK NEASE
Of The Times Staff

If Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., of West Palm Beach is elected governor, his record of past performances suggests:

✓ He will run the state government as if it were a big chamber of commerce.

✓ His administration will resemble closely that of Gov. Farris Bryant.

✓ Florida will build a number of new toll roads.

✓ The governor's office will be more likely to dodge controversial issues than to lead in unpopular stands.

✓ Real estate developers will wield greater influence in Tallahassee.

✓ The real Bud Dickinson may emerge.

DICKINSON IS A BALDING, 42-year-old lawyer making his second try for the governor's office. He ran fifth in the 1960 Democratic primary.

This is his 33rd year of campaigning. He claims to have been smitten with the idea of being governor when he was nine, and to have spent the subsequent time aiming himself toward the state's top job.

In three decades, the voters generally come to know their politicians inside and out. Dickinson is an exception. High-powered publicists have dehumanized his campaign, selling the candidate to the voters much as they would sell an improved version of Tide.

DICKINSON HAS MADE two false starts toward going beyond the confines of his rather airy campaign platform.

Both were in Jacksonville.

At a meeting of Florida's county commissioners, he suggested that the counties' share of the state gas tax might be used to borrow $300 million to build highways. He wasn't booed off the platform but he got no standing ovation either. He pointed out later that he did not originate this idea.

Last weekend, he set out — amid advance publicity — to expose "the real story" of last month's race riots in Jacksonville. On a television program, Dickinson suggested that the racial violence was created by Haydon Burns as a campaign gimmick. Dickinson backed down from this charge even as he was making it. He said it all might have been coincidental.

ALL HIS ADULT life, Dickinson has followed a tried and proven campaign formula — smile pleasantly, anger no one and above all, make promises.

He has proposed that everybody in Florida be turned into well-educated, gainfully employed, socially attuned, and mentally adjusted citizens through the careful appliance of bold new state programs. At the same time, he proposed a tax cut.

Microfilm Code No.

Pol-Fla

SERS Library

gov race

ST. PETERSBURG
TIMES p.1

Date APR 8 1964

Scott Kelly: Luck And Many Conti

★ ★ ★

The Yardstick Of Florida Issues

Here, in capsule form, is the way Florida Sen. Scott Kelly measures up against the yardstick of issues in the 1964 race for governor:

RACE RELATIONS — Kelly had changeable record on race relations in the Legislature, voting both for and against bills to close schools to avoid integration. Since opening his campaign he has attempted to give the impression, by indirection, that he is a staunch segregationist, but really hasn't made a clear-cut statement of his view.

By MARTIN WALDRON
and JACK NEASE
of The Times Staff

If Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland is elected governor — and acts in the governor's office as he has in the Legislature — he will:

- Fight attempts to levy a severance tax on phosphate and other minerals.
- Refuse to support the national Democratic party.
- Waver on the question of keeping Florida schools open in the face of desegregation demands.
- Will be politically indebted to many people not listed in city directories and telephone books who contributed large sums to his campaign.
- Tie down forever his reputation as the luckiest man in Florida politics.

Luck, plus the ability to squeeze every advantage from an opportunity, has played a key part in Kelly's rocketing rise from North Florida farm boy to wealthy Lakeland banker, builder, insurance agent and Realtor.

THE 34-YEAR-OLD BUSINESSMAN — youngest candidate in the race — presents a picture of perplexing contradictions in his bid for the office.

He gained statewide attention with a noisy campaign to reform the state's road building system, but the drive fizzled and he has hardly mentioned the subject during the current campaign.

He is campaigning on a promise to cut auto tag fees, but he fails to tell voters he voted against other sources of state revenue — particularly a severance tax on the phosphate industry.

Kelly's every move in the current campaign has been designed to establish him as the farthest right of the six Democratic candidates, but this a newly assumed position.

His legislative voting record shows instead an inconsistent political philosophy. Early in his Senate career he leaned strongly toward the powerful small county bloc of lawmakers dubbed the Pork Chop Gang.

Later — after he got the gubernatorial bug — he tried to switch sides, but this didn't work. So he switched back.

THE MOST CONSISTENT THING about Kelly's political career has been his luck.

His first big break came in 1956 when Kelly, then only 29, decided to run for the state Senate.

Polk County was represented by Harry E. King, a 16-year legislative veteran who had already been designated 1957 Senate president by his colleagues.

The Senate presidency is the second most powerful position in state government, and King was expected to win handily.

(Please See KELLY, 6-A)

SOME PHOSPHATE company officials are openly supporting Kelly's bid for the governor's chair this year, and have already reported contributing $3,200 to his campaign.

With Kelly's Senate voting record he could have campaigned as a moderate, but the middle road was crowded, and Kelly chose to campaign as far to the right as necessary to establish himself as the most conservative.

He attacked what he called the "ultra-liberal" programs of the Kennedy administration "in regard to spending, foreign (aid) policy, agriculture and many domestic issues . . ."

He did not, as he pointed out after the President was assassinated, attack Kennedy personally.

NOR DID HE DIRECTLY attack the President's civil rights program. But there was no doubt he was then, and is now, attempting to establish himself as the strongest segregationist of all the candidates.

Kelly's actual record on segregation — and the question of whether public schools should be closed to avoid integration — is mixed.

He has voted both for and against "last resort" bills.

In 1957 he voted against a bill to close schools to avoid integration and inserted a long explanation in the Senate Journal.

He said then the bill would impair the state's pupil assignment law and that if the Supreme Court ordered any Florida schools integrated the Legislature could call itself into session.

THE BILL CLEARED the Legislature but was vetoed by former Gov. LeRoy Collins who said it was an invitation to firebrands to ignite the flames of racial hatred.

Two years later Kelly was on the other side of the issue, voting for a constitutional amendment to permit voters of a county to close their schools and authorizing the Legislature to spend money for a private school system.

The bill died later that session, after a determined group of House members kept it bottled up in committee.

Except on the road committee bills, Kelly has seldom been a leader to pass or kill proposed legislation.

ONE EXCEPTION came in 1963, when Kelly doggedly pushed through a bill setting the tax on alcohol made from citrus products at only one-fifth the normal rate. Polk County is a major citrus area.

Kelly's attitude toward strict-interpretation of the state's "who-gave-it, who-got-it" law has varied.

In 1959 he said he hoped the House would kill a proposed bill to exempt county officials from the law. He said the law "has done more to clean up politics in Florida than any measure I know."

Kelly spent nearly two years trying to convince the state it ought to take road building out of politics. He failed, and now hardly mentions the subject.

He may be having some second thoughts on the topic.

In his first campaign talk in Sarasota he made a political promise to widen a road.

Microfilm Code No.
Pol Ila
SERS Library

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES 1-A
Date: APR 7 1964

Robert King High: Big Headlines But L

By MARTIN WALDRON and JACK NEASE
Of The Times Staff

If Miami's red-headed Mayor Robert King High is elected governor of Florida, he'll probably:

- Make spectacular headlines in Florida newspapers and on occasion in northern papers.
- Lead in trying to create a new climate in racial relations throughout the state.
- Be disposed to get into contentious arguments with other state officials.
- Stand up for the rights of Florida's urban residents but get very little done.

At least, that's the impression you get after studying the record High has made during 6½ years as mayor of Florida's largest city.

The fast-moving, quick-thinking, 39-year-old attorney has displayed a talent for saying or doing things that publicize himself or dramatize a cause.

In the process he sometimes has infuriated fellow city officials, won four ballot-box victories, and accomplished relatively little.

Typical of this was the well-publicized bolita "buy" the mayor made two months after he was first elected late in 1957.

Accompanied by reporters and photographers, High watched an informant buy bolita tickets at 10 different places in Miami's Negro section.

Then High walked into a small grocery just outside the city limits and purchased a 40-cent bolita ticket for himself.

MIAMI NEWSPAPERS played the story for days and two months later the grocery clerk was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve 60 days in jail.

There were no other arrests.

High has conducted numerous crusades against bolita since then, apparently with no greater results.

He has been trying to get rid of Miami Police Chief Walter Headley for six years.

"Bolita couldn't operate unless somebody is being paid off," High has said over and over, in one way or the other.

Headley shrugs the charges off and calls High "that little jerk."

Under Miami's City Charter the police chief can't be fired unless he is found guilty of wrongdoing. High has never proved Headley guilty of anything.

ONE TIME HIGH HAD three Miami policemen suspended on charges they accepted a bribe to drop a drunk driving charge but they were reinstated two years later and given $30,000 in back pay.

Impartial Miami residents who have followed High's public career credit him with only two real accomplishments: (1) getting rid of strip shows in Miami proper (some moved to the beaches), and (2) promoting harmonious race relations and peaceful integration of public facilities. Miami also has absorbed 50 to 70 thousand Cuban refugees.

Miami has a city manager form of government. He pre-

Pol-Fla

SERS Library

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES p. 1-A
Date: APR 6 1964

For Race profiles of: Haydon Burns, Robert King High, Keith Kelly, Bud Dickinson, John Mathews, Fred Karl

1-A

Haydon Burns:

By MARTIN WALDRON
and JACK NEASE
Of The Times Staff

If Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns is elected governo and his state administration follows his city administration

- The state debt will increase by billions of dollars
- Ill-timed remarks from the governor's office will turn the state into a seething cauldron of racial violence.
- Reporters will need to study carefully every deal the state enters.

These are some of the conclusions to be drawn by measuring Burns' past performances against the very real issues which now face the voters of the State of Florida.

BURNS IS A SHREWD, 52-year-old politician who hides behind an injured air when faced with public reproach.

He understands machine politics possibly as no other candidate running for governor this year

He also has demonstrated elastic ethics when handling government affairs.

This combination of shrewdness, ability, and easy ethics makes Burns one of the greatest wheeler-dealers ever to appear on the Florida political scene.

He runs his office with a sure hand, brooks no interference or advice from outsiders except when absolutely necessary.

Burns has not hesitated to use threats to discourage open criticism. As a result, Burns has been able to operate in a free-wheeling sort of way impossible in any other major Florida city.

Burns has been mayor of Jacksonville since 1949 when he won a solid victory in a campaign marked by charges arising from his days as Jacksonville representative for the Federal Housing Agency.

He went into court, attempting to stop his opponent from bringing up the matter in newspaper advertisements. The court threw out the suit, after the election.

BURNS IS HARD TO compare with other candidates for governor, because he is in a sense unique among Florida office-holders.

He is a lone wolf who seldom endorses plans proposed by others. Instead he wends his own way among the mazes open on most questions of government.

In the 1964 campaign, Burns is running as a businessman, a builder of cities, just as he did in the 1960 governor's race when he ran third.

In the 1960 campaign, other candidates chose to ignore Burns because they thought he was running fifth or sixth.

This year, Jacksonville's sorry police record, its exorbitant debt, and its violent race relations are getting more attention from the other candidates. In fact, he will be the focal point of attacks by other candidates.

For example, State Sen. Fred O. Dickinson, West Palm Beach, gingerly suggested Saturday that Burns' performance in handling recent race disorders was designed as a campaign gimmick to bolster a sagging campaign. But Dickinson hedged on the charge by adding it might be a "coincidence" that Burns had sought a "dramatic issue" in a meeting with a public relations man and a "third party" just two weeks before he went on TV to swear in Jacksonville's fire department for use in handling racial disturbances.

In the field of race relations, Burns has been viewed as both progressive and regressive.

Prior to 1958, Burns was considered a moderate on the racial issue. He had helped establish the Colored Police Division in his first year in office.

In 1951, he hired Negro women as school crossing guards.

In campaign literature distributed in the 1963 mayor race, Burns claimed credit for opening firemen's examinations to Negroes, for allowing integrated sports teams to play in the city-owned stadium, and for the integration of 22 lunch counters in Jacksonville.

Negro attitudes toward Burns began to change in 1958 when he pushed the sale of the city-owned golf course to avoid integration. But the strength of the anti-Burns feeling really came to a head in 1960 when Negroes began sit-in demonstrations in downtown lunch counters.

THE DAY BEFORE the 1960 race riots in Jacksonville, mimeographed leaflets announced planned white retaliation.

At the appointed hour, city police were conspicuous by their absence. Eyewitnesses said that white men armed with ax handles paraded around downtown Jacksonville for an hour before the riots, unhampered by police. The riots lasted three days.

Afterward, Burns refused to appoint a biracial committee.

Three weeks ago, Negroes began a second push in Jacksonville for the integration of hotels and restaurants. Some young Negroes tried to register in downtown hotels.

Burns took to the airwaves and ordered them to stop. The young Negroes, he said, were getting bad advice from adults.

"These same adults have led these young people to think they have the right to congregate in public streets, parks, or at public buildings," he said. "You do not have such a right under the law."

BURNS WENT ON TO say that people could not assemble in public places in Jacksonville without permission of the mayor.

"There will be no demonstrations like last week," he said. "They will not be tolerated."

The mayor then swore in as special officers 496 firemen to join with 508 policemen to stop further demonstrations.

As expected, the young Negroes took this as a dare, and when police began arresting them in city parks, rioting broke out for the second time in four years.

One Negro woman was killed and numerous persons injured.

After two days of violence, Burns agreed to allow a biracial committee of Negroes and whites to be appointed to seek to reopen lines of communication between Negroes and whites.

Burns said he wouldn't appoint the committee, though.

In the past 10 days, Burns has been credited with conflicting statements on the racial question.

Reporters in Tampa thought they heard him blame the NAACP for the riots. Back home, he said he didn't say that.

Reporters in Miami thought they heard him say he endorsed the civil rights bill now pending in Congress. Back home, he said he didn't say that.

Fla. Pol.

sides over city commission meetings but has no more power than the other commissioers.

In addition, Miami is but a small part of the Dade county governmental complex.

Less than one-third of the people in Dade County live within the city limits of Miami. Many of the others live in 27 other Dade cities, including two (Hialeah and Miami Beach) that have more than 60,000 residents each.

Rivalry between some of the cities is bitter. Politics often is complex and tumultuous and High's record naturally reflects this.

A mighty metro government, more powerful than any other county government in Florida, is superimposed over the lot.

Thus Miami's mayor serves mainly as an official spokesman for the city. In his job as mayor, High receives $5,000 a year plus a $2,500 expense allowance.

In this High has apparently been successful. Although constantly feuding with fellow commissioners (even some he endorsed for election) High has been elected mayor four times.

RELATIVELY few people vote in Miami city elections, though, and the most votes High ever received was 25,626.

Miami had a 1960 population of 291,688.

High's well-publicized personal campaigns have ranged all the way from the price of soft drinks at the Orange Bowl to telling Castro to shave his beard, but only two have real bearing in the governor's race.

These are race relations and reapportionment.

High has enjoyed the support of Miami's Negro voters since mid-way in his first campaign for mayor in 1957.

A supposedly politically powerful white collection agent for some 5,000 rental units in the Negro section backed High's chief opponent in the primary and High failed to carry the city's Negro precincts.

Between elections a group of Negro ministers called on the Dade County Grand Jury to investigate political contributions by "representatives of slum owners."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT apparently changed sentiment of Negro voters and High carried all Negro precincts — as well as most of the white ones — in his run-off victory.

High has supported civil rights causes ever since.

In 1959, when school integration was the most talked about subject before the Florida Legislature, High called for a massive "March on Tallahassee" by Miami church, civic and business leaders.

He said the march was needed to let the legislature know that closing public schools would bring "the blackest day in our history."

"From the very first day in the Legislature when a bill was introduced to close the schools the men in Tallahassee have been headed in that direction," High said.

DADE COUNTY Sen. W. C. Herrell shot back that High was just "an exhibitionist" who would do the cause more harm than good.

"We are trying to protect the peace and the tranquility of the state and an exhibition as suggested by the mayor of Miami would only serve to infuriate the Legislature," said Herrell.

Herrell said proposals like High's made the Dade delegation look ridiculous and reduced its effectiveness in Tallahassee.

High appointed a five-member committee anyway to "keep our schools open" but the march-on-Tallahassee idea was dropped after it was opposed by a Miami newspaper.

No bill to close schools emerged from the 1959 legislature and that fall two Miami schools were integrated peacefully.

"The fact that no incidents occurred reflects dignity and credit to the people of this community, regardless how they feel about the Supreme Court ruling," said High.

THE NEXT YEAR, in March 1960, High pledged support of a biracial committee appointed by former Gov. LeRoy Collins.

He said racial problems are "not essentially one of government . . . but essentially a problem between businessmen and people."

A month later High and a majority of the Miami city commission endorsed integration of lunch counters within the city.

He promised Negro leaders he would meet with store owners to discuss the end of racial segregation.

Since then, integration of public facilities has proceeded peacefully. High's moves in helping accomplish this have been quiet, behind-the-scenes actions, in sharp contrast to his publicity-producing early efforts.

OCCASIONALLY High still uses the publicity approach.

In September of last year — just a few months before he let it be known he would be a candidate for governor — High took part in mourning and parade ceremonies for six victims of Birmingham's racial violence.

"My presence here," High told the group, "is to tell the world that the leadership of Miami insists on following a course, without counting ballots, of understanding and a determination to do that which is right in the eyes of God."

High has stuck to his stand. The day before he announced for governor he had his picture taken with a group of Negro boys playing football.

And he has been the only candidate to endorse the proposed federal civil rights bill.

★ ★ ★

The Yardstick Of Florida Issues

Here, in capsule form, is the way Miami Mayor Robert King High measures up against the yardstick of issues in the 1964 race for governor:

✓ RACE RELATIONS — High has been a leader, both publicly and behind the scenes, in working for integration of public facilities. He is the only one of the six Democratic candidates to support proposed federal civil rights legislation.

Fla. Statewide

Negro Vote May Hold Key To Sunshine State Elections

Atlanta C&J, pt 3-64

By CHARLES F. HESSER
Staff Writer, The Miami News
Special to Atlanta Journal-Constitution

FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., May 2 — The Negro vote may have a significant bearing upon the outcome of Florida's Democratic primaries this month and in the November general election.

Latest registration figures from Florida's 67 counties place Democratic Negro registration at 225,562, up 28,026 from last fall, and up 48,742 from the November, 1962, general election.

Republican Negro registration at 15,054 is down slightly.

While there are 1,576,668 white Democrats in Florida, the Negroes represent 14 per cent of the total Democrat vote.

Florida Negroes appear to be strongly in back of two candidates running in Tuesday's primary — Miami Mayor Robert King High for governor, and Brailey Odham for the U.S. Senate.

HIGH IS THE most liberal of the six Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls and Odham has the nod over his opponent, Sen. Spessard Holland, in this category.

The Negro vote doesn't appear to have solidified behind any other of the candidates seeking statewide office.

The Florida Voters League, assisted by the NAACP and CORE, is largely responsible for the increase in Negro registrants. This has been the primary program of the league for the past eight years.

"This will be a continuing program," said Elmer A. Ward, of Miami, a vice president of the league. "Registration is expected to accelerate leading up to the November election."

FLORIDA NOW has almost 46 per cent of eligible Negro voters on registration lists.

How many will vote in this month's primaries and again in November is not known. In the past, the percentage of Negroes going to the polls has been less than for the white voters.

But, new voters traditionally take more interest in balloting. In addition, racial unrest in Florida, plus the civil rights filibuster in Congress, will, no doubt, act as a magnet to draw the Negro to the polls.

While most Florida counties show substantial gains in Negro registrants, five are targets of the U.S. Department of Justice because of lack of Negro registrants.

They are Flagler, Gadsden, Lafayette, Liberty and Union.

LAFAYETTE and Liberty have no Negroes registered, Union only 127 Democrats, Flagler 293 and Gadsden 1,325.

As of last October, Gadsden had only 361 Negro Democrats registered.

Ward said:

"At Quincy (in Gadsden County) recently, more Negroes registered in one day than in the last 100 years put together."

The Florida drive to increase Negro registration is part of a Southwide program called The Voter Education Project. VEP has been conducting an intensive two-year campaign to get Negroes on the voter lists of 11 states below the Mason-Dixon Line.

States, in addition to Florida, include Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

VRD

Mayor Burns and Mayor High In Runoff for Governorship

Atl. Jour. & Const., 5-10-64

By CHARLES F. HESSER
Staff Writer, The Miami News
Special to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution

FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 — The mayors of Florida's two largest cities — Robert King High of Miami and Haydon Burns of Jacksonville—are in a runoff for governor.

Burns was top man in the primary. This came as no surprise as he was a strong third in the 1960 governor's race and had been running since.

But, High pulled a major political upset to run second to Burns. High started campaigning late with little organization and less money.

During the primary campaigning, Burns spent $352,409 to High's $93,077.

The Burns-High runoff will bring the civil rights issue sharply into focus. Burns has been one of the leading opponents of the civil rights bill now before the Senate, while High favors its passage.

BURNS, who led High by approximately 100,000 votes, "predicts a tough, hard fight," leading up to the May 26 runoff.

High said he is confident of victory, but doesn't plan to spend any great sum of money to win the state's highest office.

"I want to go to Tallahassee a free man," High declared.

During the primary, High said he would refuse big campaign contributions that would compromise his principles. He accused some of his five Democratic primary opponents of trying to buy their way into the governor's office with money from "special interests."

Eliminated in the primary voting were Fred O. Dickinson, who also lost out in the 1960 contest; Scott Kelly, a state senator; Fred Karl, a state representative; and John Mathews, a state senator.

THE PRIMARY campaign of Burns was complicated by racial troubles at Jacksonville. Burns charged that the incidents were politically planned by his rivals or their backers.

But his opponents blamed Burns for the riots.

High declared that "racial differences should be settled at the conference table, as they have been in Miami, and not with ax handles out in the streets."

Burns is expected to run well in his home county of Duval in the May 26 balloting, solidify his strength across North Florida, and in the rural areas.

High was disappointed with his 42 per cent showing in Dade County (Miami) and said he would concentrate on getting a bigger share of the votes of his neighbors in the runoff.

AS HE SEEKS runoff votes, Burns is expected to point to the development and progress Jacksonville made under him during his 15 years as mayor.

High will emphasize fair reapportionment, a minimum wage of $1.25 for every Florida worker, and a reduction in some consumer taxes. He believes that big industries, such as phosophate, should pay a greater share of the tax burden.

The winner of the Burns-High runoff will meet Republican Charles Holley, a St. Petersburg legislator, in the November general election. The Democratic nomination in the past, however, has been tantamount to election.

Ala. Politics

University Trimester Plan Issue in Governor's Race

Atl. Const 5-17-64

By CHARLES F. HESSER
Staff Writer, The Miami News
Special to Atlanta Journal-Constitution

FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., May 16—The trimester system of operation of Florida's state universities is under attack.

A special faculty committee at Florida State University said the system has reduced teaching and education to a "harried, frantic rat race."

Gov. Farris Bryant immediately defended the operation, declaring, "We should stick to the trimester system and make it work."

It has also become an issue in the current governor's race, with one candidate — Haydon Burns—calling for its end.

The FSU committee, appointed a year ago by President Gordon Blackwell at the request of the faculty, made its evaluation of the trimester system, using voluntary communication, personal contact and a questionnaire.

A VERY LARGE majority of the FSU faculty views the system unfavorably, the survey found.

The system was urged by Bryant and ordered into effect at all state universities, beginning in September, 1962, by the Florida Legislature.

It was adopted primarily to provide for greater utilization of classroom and dormitory facilities to absorb skyrocketing student enrollments, and to permit bright students to finish their college training sooner.

But, the FCU faculty study reported that the operation was seriously deficient on basic educational grounds and that the education lacked depth.

"A TRIMESTER course cannot be the equivalent of a semester course," the evaluation report said.

It also said the increased pressure resulted in both a lower quantity and quality output by the students.

The report deplored the lack of time allowed for faculty research and creative work and said the year-round operation forced students to neglect reading and thinking and led to exhaustion and fatigue among both faculty and students.

In the decision to go to trimester operation, the report concluded, "there seems to have been at work a misconception that is fatal to a quality education which is designed to produce mature, thoughtful, secure and knowledgeable individuals."

SIMILAR complaints have been heard from the other state universities.

Bryant still thinks he was right in urging adoption of the plan.

Opposition of the faculty, he says, was based on a difference in philosophy.

"The professors feel there is too much pressure on the students," Bryant said. "Well, life is full of pressures and competition is the essence of the free enterprise system."

Bryant noted that "life is more difficult now than when you had to walk three miles to school . . . and . . . if we are to meet the mass needs of today, we must utilize what facilities we have."

The governor said improvements should be made in the system, "but we shouldn't abandon it. We should stick to it and make it work."

Florida Politics

RD

Columbus Ga. 5-27-64

Burns Wins Runoff Race In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jacksonville's mayor, Haydon Burns, rode the Civil Rights issue to the Democratic nomination for governor of Florida on Tuesday and virtually certain election in November.

In the other statewide election, an unpledged slate of Republican National Convention delegates took a slight lead over a slate pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in early returns.

No matter which group won, Goldwater was virtually assured Florida's 34 convention votes—at least on the first ballot.

Unofficial returns from 384 of the state's 2,279 precincts gave 8,114 votes to the unpledged slate, 7,206 to the pledged delegation.

Burns, 52, hard-talking foe of the civil rights bill, rolled up a lead of 120,000 in early returns over Miami's Mayor Robert King High, who called himself a racial moderate.

Unofficial returns from 1,513 of Florida's 2,279 precincts gave Burns 454,111 and High 356,945.

Burns, whose home city was rocked by racial violence during the first primary campaign, had pledged to take "every conceivable legal action" tostop the federal government from imposing further civil rights demands on Florida.

Fla. Pol.

Ark. Gaz.
5-28-64

Florida Victor Criticizes Negro Opposition Vote

MIAMI (UPI) — Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns Wednesday criticized the heavy Negro vote against him in the Democratic gubernatorial runoff but promised he would be sympathetic to Negroes' needs as governor.

Burns, who defeated his liberal opponent, Miami Mayor Robert King High, by a 174,000-vote margin in Tuesday's balloting, said the Negro vote ran 25-to-1 against him in some instances.

The Final Count

Burns, a foe of the civil rights bill, took the majority in 64 of the state's 67 counties.

"Irrespective of the bloc voting of the Negroes * * * I am still sympathetic to the needs of this group of citizens," Burns told a news conference.

Complete unofficial returns from Floridas' 2,279 precincts gave Burns 634,421 to 460,384 votes for High.

Burns, 52, mayor of Jacksonville since 1949, was up shortly after dawn Wednesday fielding congratulations and making plans to move to Tallahassee next January, although he faces Republican Charles Holley of St. Petersburg in the November general election.

Burns is considered a shoo-in since no Republican has been Florida governor since Reconstruction days.

The Burns-High race, riddled with heated exchanges over civil rights, drew more than 1,085,000 to the polls — a record for a second primary.

JM ✓

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

Tallahassee
32304

OCT 22 1964

October 20, 1964

Mrs. Jane Bond Moore
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mrs. Moore:

In response to your request, we are enclosing a list showing the number of registered voters in the State of Florida at the time the registration books closed on October 3, 1964, for the general election.

If we can be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/jk

Enclosure

Flo. Statewide

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

OCTOBER 3, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS	OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS	Negroes
Alachua	29,686	2,614	516	32,816	32
Baker	4,051	5	----	4,056	7
Bay	26,896	854	197	27,947	41
Bradford	5,670	58	3	5,731	17
Brevard	48,338	16,243	1,668	66,249	48
Broward	127,255	62,785	5,647	195,687	136
Calhoun	5,068	18	15	5,101	12
Charlotte	7,659	3,469	237	11,365	14
Citrus	6,339	364	83	6,786	17
Clay	9,094	559	27	9,680	12	1035
Collier	6,618	1,807	77	8,502	16
Columbia	11,251	228	36	11,515	19
Dade	400,859	62,162	5,162	468,183	238
DeSoto	4,886	184	4	5,074	15
Dixie	3,063	12	7	3,082	12
Duval	178,278	14,288	1,989	194,555	148
Escambia	69,882	3,325	484	73,691	105
Flagler	2,231	51	4	2,286	8
Franklin	4,096	75	13	4,184	7
Gadsden	12,447	329	40	12,816	15
Gilchrist	1,874	9	9	1,892	9
Glades	1,456	7	----	1,463	7
Gulf	4,951	52	----	5,003	11
Hamilton	3,801	31	5	3,837	12
Hardee	5,943	162	12	6,117	11
Hendry	3,999	86	6	4,091	10
Hernando	5,712	646	51	6,409	14
Highlands	11,466	1,329	83	12,878	15
Hillsborough	163,295	18,655	1,237	183,187	104
Holmes	6,735	18	16	6,769	23
Indian River	10,317	3,197	292	13,806	17
Jackson	15,436	230	49	15,715	32
Jefferson	3,936	65	6	4,007	11
Lafayette	1,852	3	3	1,858	5
Lake	22,653	5,635	263	28,551	37
Lee	24,116	6,742	155	31,013	31
Leon	30,468	1,646	257	32,371	15	7130
Levy	5,327	131	16	5,474	16
Liberty	1,025	6	2	1,033	6
Madison	6,680	124	3	6,807	15
Manatee	26,343	12,079	695	39,117	35
Marion	24,587	2,088	202	26,877	30
Martin	9,058	1,889	49	10,996	15
Monroe	19,185	671	147	20,003	21
Nassau	7,731	133	5	7,869	12
Okaloosa	26,008	895	192	27,095	26
Okeechobee	3,530	42	----	3,572	6
Orange	88,414	28,808	1,423	118,645	95
Osceola	8,577	2,164	142	10,883	14
Palm Beach	95,407	36,856	3,023	135,286	82
Pasco	18,716	4,809	230	23,755	29
Pinellas	116,785	101,996	5,357	224,138	157
Polk	73,082	10,281	655	84,018	91
Putnam	11,546	644	40	12,230	27
St. Johns	13,641	1,287	48	14,976	28
St. Lucie	16,411	2,712	197	19,320	17
Santa Rosa	13,547	479	103	14,129	22
Sarasota	21,593	22,970	1,030	45,593	26
Seminole	19,171	3,853	356	23,380	23
Sumter	6,234	164	25	6,423	12
Suwannee	10,273	153	18	10,444	23
Taylor	6,654	15	3	6,672	17
Union	2,357	3	2	2,362	8
Volusia	56,379	14,796	853	72,028	82
Wakulla	3,124	65	12	3,201	13
Walton	8,977	65	50	9,092	33
Washington	6,723	35	17	6,775	14
Total	2,008,762	458,156	33,548		2,278

Grand Total---------- 2,500,466

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 19, 1964

rec'd 10/27/64
JM

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

Tallahassee
32304

October 23, 1964

Mrs. Jane Bond Moore
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mrs. Moore:

In response to your request, we are enclosing a list showing the number of registered voters in the State of Florida at the time the registration books closed on October 3, 1964, for the general election.

If this office can be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/jk

Enclosure

file statewide

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

OCTOBER 3, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS	OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
Alachua	29,686	2,614	516	32,816	32
Baker	4,051	5	----	4,056	7
Bay	26,896	854	197	27,947	41
Bradford	5,670	58	3	5,731	17
Brevard	48,338	16,243	1,668	66,249	48
Broward	127,255	62,785	5,647	195,687	136
Calhoun	5,068	18	15	5,101	12
Charlotte	7,659	3,469	237	11,365	14
Citrus	6,339	364	83	6,786	17
Clay	9,094	559	27	9,680	12
Collier	6,618	1,807	77	8,502	16
Columbia	11,251	228	36	11,515	19
Dade	400,859	62,162	5,162	468,183	238
DeSoto	4,886	184	4	5,074	15
Dixie	3,063	12	7	3,082	12
Duval	178,278	14,288	1,989	194,555	148
Escambia	69,882	3,325	484	73,691	105
Flagler	2,231	51	4	2,286	8
Franklin	4,096	75	13	4,184	7
Gadsden	12,447	329	40	12,816	15
Gilchrist	1,874	9	9	1,892	9
Glades	1,456	7	----	1,463	7
Gulf	4,951	52	----	5,003	11
Hamilton	3,801	31	5	3,837	12
Hardee	5,943	162	12	6,117	11
Hendry	3,999	86	6	4,091	10
Hernando	5,712	646	51	6,409	14
Highlands	11,466	1,329	83	12,878	15
Hillsborough	163,295	18,655	1,237	183,187	104
Holmes	6,735	18	16	6,769	23
Indian River	10,317	3,197	292	13,806	17
Jackson	15,436	230	49	15,715	32
Jefferson	3,936	65	6	4,007	11
Lafayette	1,852	3	3	1,858	5
Lake	22,653	5,635	263	28,551	37
Lee	24,116	6,742	155	31,013	31
Leon	30,468	1,646	257	32,371	15
Levy	5,327	131	16	5,474	16
Liberty	1,025	6	2	1,033	6
Madison	6,680	124	3	6,807	15
Manatee	26,343	12,079	695	39,117	35
Marion	24,587	2,088	202	26,877	30
Martin	9,058	1,889	49	10,996	15
Monroe	19,185	671	147	20,003	21
Nassau	7,731	133	5	7,869	12
Okaloosa	26,008	895	192	27,095	26
Okeechobee	3,530	42	----	3,572	6
Orange	88,414	28,808	1,423	118,645	95
Osceola	8,577	2,164	142	10,883	14
Palm Beach	95,407	36,856	3,023	135,286	82
Pasco	18,716	4,809	230	23,755	29
Pinellas	116,785	101,996	5,357	224,138	157
Polk	73,082	10,281	655	84,018	91
Putnam	11,546	644	40	12,230	27
St. Johns	13,641	1,287	48	14,976	28
St. Lucie	16,411	2,712	197	19,320	17
Santa Rosa	13,547	479	103	14,129	22
Sarasota	21,593	22,970	1,030	45,593	26
Seminole	19,171	3,853	356	23,380	23
Sumter	6,234	164	25	6,423	12
Suwannee	10,273	153	18	10,444	23
Taylor	6,654	15	3	6,672	17
Union	2,357	3	2	2,362	8
Volusia	56,379	14,796	853	72,028	82
Wakulla	3,124	65	12	3,201	13
Walton	8,977	65	50	9,092	33
Washington	6,723	35	17	6,775	14
Total	2,008,762	458,156	33,548		2,278

Grand Total---------- 2,500,466

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 19, 1964

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

OCTOBER 3, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS	OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
Alachua	29,686	2,614	516	32,816	32
Baker	4,051	5	----	4,056	7
Bay	26,896	854	197	27,947	41
Bradford	5,670	58	3	5,731	17
Brevard	48,338	16,243	1,668	66,249	48
Broward	127,255	62,785	5,647	195,687	136
Calhoun	5,068	18	15	5,101	12
Charlotte	7,659	3,469	237	11,365	14
Citrus	6,339	364	83	6,786	17
Clay	9,094	559	27	9,680	12
Collier	6,618	1,807	77	8,502	16
Columbia	11,251	228	36	11,515	19
Dade	400,859	62,162	5,162	468,183	238
DeSoto	4,886	184	4	5,074	15
Dixie	3,063	12	7	3,082	12
Duval	178,278	14,288	1,989	194,555	148
Escambia	69,882	3,325	484	73,691	105
Flagler	2,231	51	4	2,286	8
Franklin	4,096	75	13	4,184	7
Gadsden	12,447	329	40	12,816	15
Gilchrist	1,874	9	9	1,892	9
Glades	1,456	7	----	1,463	7
Gulf	4,951	52	----	5,003	11
Hamilton	3,801	31	5	3,837	12
Hardee	5,943	162	12	6,117	11
Hendry	3,999	86	6	4,091	10
Hernando	5,712	646	51	6,409	14
Highlands	11,466	1,329	83	12,878	15
Hillsborough	163,295	18,655	1,237	183,187	104
Holmes	6,735	18	16	6,769	23
Indian River	10,317	3,197	292	13,806	17
Jackson	15,436	230	49	15,715	32
Jefferson	3,936	65	6	4,007	11
Lafayette	1,852	3	3	1,858	5
Lake	22,653	5,635	263	28,551	37
Lee	24,116	6,742	155	31,013	31
Leon	30,468	1,646	257	32,371	15
Levy	5,327	131	16	5,474	16
Liberty	1,025	6	2	1,033	6
Madison	6,680	124	3	6,807	15
Manatee	26,343	12,079	695	39,117	35
Marion	24,587	2,088	202	26,877	30
Martin	9,058	1,889	49	10,996	15
Monroe	19,185	671	147	20,003	21
Nassau	7,731	133	5	7,869	12
Okaloosa	26,008	895	192	27,095	26
Okeechobee	3,530	42	----	3,572	6
Orange	88,414	28,808	1,423	118,645	95
Osceola	8,577	2,164	142	10,883	14
Palm Beach	95,407	36,856	3,023	135,286	82
Pasco	18,716	4,809	230	23,755	29
Pinellas	116,785	101,996	5,357	224,138	157
Polk	73,082	10,281	655	84,018	91
Putnam	11,546	644	40	12,230	27
St. Johns	13,641	1,287	48	14,976	28
St. Lucie	16,411	2,712	197	19,320	17
Santa Rosa	13,547	479	103	14,129	22
Sarasota	21,593	22,970	1,030	45,593	26
Seminole	19,171	3,853	356	23,380	23
Sumter	6,234	164	25	6,423	12
Suwannee	10,273	153	18	10,444	23
Taylor	6,654	15	3	6,672	17
Union	2,357	3	2	2,362	8
Volusia	56,379	14,796	853	72,028	82
Wakulla	3,124	65	12	3,201	13
Walton	8,977	65	50	9,092	33
Washington	6,723	35	17	6,775	14
Total	2,008,762	458,156	33,548		2,278

Grand Total---------- 2,500,466

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 19, 1964

Rec'd

October 21, 1964

Mrs. Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division
Office of the Secretary of State
Tallahassee, Florida 32304

Dear Mrs. Glisson:

Sometime ago I wrote you requesting the latest list of registered voters in Florida as listed by county and by race. You very kindly sent me one but it was not up to date as of October 3rd. If you have a list which includes those people registering for the November general election, I will appreciate receiving a copy.

Sincerely yours,

(Mrs.) Jane Bond Moore
Research Assistant

State Vote Record Is Expected

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 22 (UPI)—A record 1,955,000 voters will go to the polls in Florida Nov. 3 to choose a president, governor and other officials, Secretary of State Tom Adams predicted today.

Adams' forecast of more than 1.9 million voters represents 78 percent of the 2,500,465 Democrats, Republicans and independents eligible to cast ballots in the state.

In 1960, in the Kennedy-Nixon race, 76.5 percent of the registered voters participated in Florida.

"Probably no election in recent history has attracted so much interest and attention in Florida as this year's presidential race" between Lyndon Johnson and Barry Goldwater, said Adams, who is the state's chief election official.

It should produce a record turnout, he said.

Adams added that it is entirely conceivable the final vote will exceed 2 million if the pace of the campaign quickens in the closing days and voter interest is increased further.

"Enthusiasm in both camps is high and a record amount of money is being spent by the two presidential candidates in Florida," he said. Other facts contributing to an anticipated large turnout included heightened interest in the heated race for governor between Haydon Burns and Charles Holley and congressional contests in several areas.

"Candidates in these contests are going all-out to bring voters to the polls," Adams said, "and their teams of supporters seem to be better organized than ever."

Adams, a Democrat, urged everyone to get out and vote.

"Every vote counts," he said, recalling the extremely close statewide contests in the May primary election just past, including the squeaker for attorney general in which incumbent James Kynes was nosed out by Rep. Earl Faircloth of Miami by less than 600 votes.

NOV. 3 ELECTION Savanah Morning News 10-23-64

Registered Voters Listed by Counties

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Here is the official list by party and by county of the number of those registered in Florida to vote in the Nov. 3 general election:

	DEMOCRATIC		REPUBLICAN
County	White	Negro	White	Negro
Alachua	23,659	6,027	2,261	353
Baker	3,477	574	3	2
Bay	23,172	3,724	837	17
Bradford	4,809	861	50	8
Brevard	44,854	3,484	15,897	346
Broward	110,907	16,348	61,022	1,763
Calhoun	4,625	443	18	0
Charlotte	7,348	311	3,464	5
Citrus	5,785	554	344	20
Clay	8,071	1,023	547	12
Collier	6,031	587	1,777	30
Columbia	8,689	2,562	170	58
Dade	350,797	50,062	58,129	4,033
DeSoto	4,152	734	137	47
Dixie	2,705	358	10	2
Duval	137,770	40,508	12,461	1,827
Escambia	56,984	12,898	2,979	346
Flagler	1,863	368	47	4
Franklin	3,485	611	69	6
Gadsden	8,143	4,304	186	143
Gilchrist	1,777	97	8	1
Glades	1,166	290	7	0
Gulf	4,129	822	24	288
Hamilton	2,742	1,059	10	21
Hardee	5,598	345	150	12
Hendry	3,211	788	76	10
Hernando	4,995	717	632	14
Highlands	9,876	1,590	1,258	71
Hillsborough	142,812	20,483	17,615	1,040
Holmes	6,518	217	17	1
Indian River	8,833	1,484	3,104	93
Jackson	11,819	3,617	143	87
Jefferson	2,500	1,436	8	57
Lafayette	1,852	0	3	0
Lake	20,140	2,513	5,528	107
Lee	22,451	1,665	6,653	89
Leon	23,338	7,130	1,395	251
Levy	4,692	635	90	41
Liberty	1,025	0	6	0
Madison	4,557	2,123	46	78
Manatee	23,083	3,260	11,876	203
Marion	18,249	6,338	1,878	210
Martin	7,815	1,243	1,864	25
Monroe	16,946	2,239	663	8
Nassau	6,134	1,597	118	15
Okaloosa	24,719	1,289	883	12
Okeechobee	3,122	408	39	3
Orange	78,040	10,374	28,033	775
Osceola	8,018	559	2,122	42
Palm Beach	82,296	13,111	35,712	1,144
Pasco	17,419	1,297	4,789	20
Pinellas	107,228	9,557	100,554	1,442
Polk	63,530	9,552	9,725	556
Putnam	9,371	2,175	531	113
St. Johns	10,827	2,814	1,116	171
St. Lucie	12,551	3,860	2,562	150
Santa Rosa	12,748	799	468	11
Sarasota	19,657	1,936	22,699	271
Seminole	15,475	3,696	3,731	122
Sumter	5,296	938	131	33
Suwanee	8,418	1,855	66	87
Taylor	5,729	925	15	0
Union	2,219	138	2	1
Volusia	49,371	7,008	14,413	383
Wakulla	2,571	553	53	12
Walton	8,071	905	57	8
Washington	5,824	899	32	3
Totals	1,726,085	282,678	441,313	16,843

Fla Bdg

V-R Florida

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
APRIL 7, 1962

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	GRAND TOTAL	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua 2289	21,169	2,931	24,100	1,524	358	1,882	221	26,203	31
Baker 498	3,174	494	3,668	2	4	6	---	3,674	7
Bay 3177	22,167	3,161	25,328	514	16	530	65	25,923	59
Bradford 849	4,519	841	5,360	22	8	30	---	5,390	8
Brevard 1771	28,358	1,721	30,079	8,654	250	8,904	971	39,954	37
Broward 11461	90,637	9,849	100,486	45,436	1,612	47,048	3,792	151,326	130
Calhoun 366	4,293	366	4,659	9	---	9	11	4,679	15
Charlotte 292	5,474	280	5,754	1,886	12	1,898	94	7,746	14
Citrus 468	4,574	432	5,006	252	36	288	33	5,327	17
Clay 798	6,519	782	7,301	365	16	381	19	7,701	12
Collier 359	4,632	345	4,977	1,223	14	1,237	35	6,249	14
Columbia 1739	7,353	1,681	9,034	82	58	140	29	9,203	19
Dade 36219	314,744	26,716	341,460	48,864	3,803	52,667	3,701	397,828	211
DeSoto 732	3,849	631	4,480	151	101	252	1	4,733	15
Dixie 184	2,508	182	2,690	11	2	13	6	2,709	12
Duval 26874	107,313	25,379	132,692	6,303	1,495	7,798	816	141,306	146
Escambia 9201	51,471	8,911	60,382	1,573	290	1,863	309	62,554	105
Flagler 133	1,685	132	1,817	33	1	34	7	1,858	8
Franklin 532	3,196	528	3,724	68	4	72	5	3,801	7
Gadsden 373	7,174	287	7,461	61	86	147	30	7,638	15
Gilchrist 57	1,658	55	1,713	2	2	4	4	1,721	7
Glades 237	939	237	1,176	8	---	8	---	1,184	7
Gulf 502	3,517	472	3,989	17	31	48	---	4,037	11
Hamilton 701	2,526	672	3,198	14	29	43	6	3,247	12
Hardee 434	5,138	292	5,430	152	142	294	12	5,736	11
Hendry 799	3,008	790	3,798	47	9	56	4	3,858	10
Hernando 560	4,376	557	4,933	414	3	417	20	5,370	14
Highlands 1079	8,682	1,047	9,729	951	32	983	38	10,750	16
16175 Hillsborough	115,490	15,256	130,746	12,477	919	13,396	718	144,860	104
Holmes 140	6,639	139	6,778	21	1	22	10	6,810	23
Indian River 666	7,237	611	7,848	2,256	55	2,311	238	10,397	15
Jackson 2885	11,839	2,788	14,627	90	97	187	30	14,844	32
Jefferson 315	2,266	290	2,556	8	25	33	2	2,591	11
Lafayette	1,842	---	1,842	7	---	7	2	1,851	5
Lake 1344	17,216	1,267	18,483	3,821	77	3,898	146	22,527	37
Lee 1821	21,503	1,704	23,207	4,689	117	4,806	169	28,182	29
Leon 4906	18,001	4,713	22,714	572	193	765	32	23,511	11
Levy 362	3,802	315	4,117	34	47	81	10	4,208	16
Liberty	1,965	---	1,965	2	---	2	1	1,968	6
Madison 1079	4,336	1,013	5,349	26	66	92	---	5,441	15
Manatee 1546	20,840	1,399	22,239	9,638	147	9,785	510	32,534	35
Marion 3749	15,046	3,627	18,673	806	122	928	66	19,667	30
Martin 721	6,225	701	6,926	1,239	20	1,259	8	8,193	14
Monroe 2192	15,193	2,173	17,366	537	19	556	132	18,054	20
Nassau 1204	5,531	1,188	6,719	59	16	75	4	6,798	12
Okaloosa 881	20,337	872	21,209	683	9	692	148	22,049	26
Okeechobee 217	2,444	313	2,757	24	4	28	3	2,788	6
Orange 4328	60,985	3,841	64,826	18,409	487	18,896	950	84,672	90
Osceola 451	7,405	413	7,818	1,813	38	1,851	128	9,797	14
Palm Beach 8634	60,802	7,607	68,409	20,212	1,027	21,239	1,386	91,034	80
Pasco 735	13,278	728	14,006	3,567	7	3,574	161	17,741	29
Pinellas 6009	94,258	4,845	99,103	87,882	1,164	89,046	4,863	193,012	147
Polk 6113	57,024	5,685	62,709	8,181	428	8,609	517	71,835	47
Putnam 1522	8,327	1,409	9,736	318	113	431	18	10,185	27
St. Johns 1863	9,382	1,674	11,056	650	189	839	31	11,926	28
St. Lucie 1883	11,801	1,786	13,587	1,980	97	2,077	148	15,812	16
Santa Rosa 625	10,948	615	11,563	243	10	253	98	11,914	22
Sarasota 973	15,628	759	16,387	16,904	214	17,118	571	34,076	26
Seminole 1901	11,065	1,813	12,878	1,909	88	1,997	208	15,083	23
Sumter 726	4,752	685	5,437	94	41	135	15	5,587	12
Suwannee 614	6,674	555	7,229	43	59	102	12	7,343	24
Taylor 210	5,263	204	5,467	14	6	20	3	5,490	17
Union 6	1,975	6	1,981	3	---	3	4	1,988	5
Volusia 5395	41,785	5,072	46,857	11,125	323	11,448	499	58,804	74
Wakulla 477	2,205	468	2,673	14	9	23	5	2,701	13
Walton 790	7,479	777	8,256	52	13	65	10	8,331	33
Washington ~~740~~ 713	5,177	710	5,887	37	3	40	5	5,932	14
Total	1,458,618	167,792	1,626,410	329,077	14,664	343,741	22,090		2,158
	329,077	14,664
	1,787,695	182,456

Grand Total---------- 1,992,241

gain 117,065 %

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
April 19, 1962

July 10, 1962

Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Sir:

Please send me the latest compilation of registered voters for the State of Florida by counties and independent cities. I should like these figures broken into white and Negro if you have such data. If there is any charge, you may either send the data collect or bill me.

If your office is not the appropriate place from which to request such information, will you inform me as to how I may go about getting it?

Very truly yours,

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:gwc

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

July 12, 1962

Mr. Jack Minnis
Director of Research
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Minnis:

Your letter of July 10th has been received.

Under separate cover we are sending you copy of the Compilation of the Election Laws of the State of Florida, and a list of the Registered Voters, State of Florida, as requested.

With kind regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/mb

JUL 24 1962

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

July 23, 1962

Mr. John W. Walker
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Walker:

Your letter of July 9th to the Director, Florida State Highway Department, has been forwarded to this office for handling.

We are attaching hereto map showing the boundaries of the 12 Congressional Districts and Senatorial Districts of the State of Florida. The attached list of circuit judges also shows the counties in the various judicial circuits.

We are sorry that we do not have maps showing the wards and precincts of this State.

With warmest personal regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
Dorothy W. Glisson,
Director, Election Division

DG/lb
Enclosures

STATE SENATORIAL DISTRICTS AND POPULATION - 1960

1st - Santa Rosa, Okaloosa (90,722)
2nd - Escambia (173,829)
3rd - Walton, Holmes (26,420)
4th - Jackson (36,208)
5th - Liberty, Franklin Wakulla (14,971)
6th - Gadsden (41,989)
7th - Polk (195,139)
8th - Leon (74,225)
9th - Citrus, Hernando (20,473)
10th - Madison, Taylor (27,322)
11th - Pinellas (374,665)
12th - St. Lucie, Indian River, Martin (81,535)
13th - Dade (935,047)
14th - Columbia (20,077)
15th - Union, Bradford (18,489)
16th - Nassau (17,189)
17th - Suwannee, Hamilton, Lafayette (25,555)
18th - Duval (455,411)
19th - Orange (263,540)
20th - Marion (51,616)
21st - Levy, Dixie, Gilchrist (17,711)
22nd - Jefferson (9,543)
23rd - Lake (57,383)
24th - Lee, Hendry, Collier, Monroe (126,332)
25th - Bay, Washington, Calhoun, Gulf (95,739)
26th - Putnam (32,212)
27th - Hardee, Highlands, DeSoto, Glades (48,341)
28th - Volusia (125,319)
29th - Baker, Clay (26,898)
30th - Broward (333,946)
31st - St. Johns, Flagler (34,600)
32nd - Alachua (74,074)
33rd - Okeechobee, Osceola (25,453)
34th - Hillsborough (397,788)
35th - Palm Beach (228,106)
36th - Manatee, Sarasota Charlotte (158,657)
37th - Seminole, Brevard (166,382)
38th - Pasco, Sumter (48,654)

STATE OF FLORIDA

COUNTIES COMPRISING THE TWELVE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS
Population - 1960 Federal Census

FIRST Congressional District

Bay	67,131
Escambia	173,829
Gulf	9,937
Holmes	10,844
Okaloosa	61,175
Santa Rosa	29,547
Walton	15,576
Washington	11,249
	379,288

SECOND Congressional District

Duval	455,411

THIRD Congressional District

Dade	500,000

FOURTH Congressional District

Dade	435,047
Monroe	47,921
	482,968

FIFTH Congressional District

Citrus	9,268
Hernando	11,205
Lake	57,383
Marion	51,616
Osceola	19,029
Pasco	36,785
Seminole	54,947
Sumter	11,869
Volusia	125,319
	377,421

SIXTH Congressional District

Broward	333,946
Collier	15,753
Glades	2,950
Hendry	8,119
Lee	54,539
Martin	16,932
Palm Beach	228,106
	660,345

SEVENTH Congressional District

Charlotte	12,594
DeSoto	11,683
Hardee	12,370
Highlands	21,338
Manatee	69,168
Okeechobee	6,424
Polk	195,139
Sarasota	76,895
	405,611

EIGHTH Congressional District

Alachua	74,074
Baker	7,363
Bradford	12,446
Clay	19,535
Columbia	20,077
Dixie	4,479
Flagler	4,566
Gilchrist	2,868
Levy	10,364
Nassau	17,189
Putnam	32,212
St. Johns	30,034
Union	6,043
	241,250

NINTH Congressional District

Calhoun	7,422
Franklin	6,576
Gadsden	41,989
Hamilton	7,705
Jackson	36,208
Jefferson	9,543
Lafayette	2,889
Leon	74,225
Liberty	3,138
Madison	14,154
Suwannee	14,961
Taylor	13,168
Wakulla	5,257
	237,235

TENTH Congressional District

Hillsborough	397,788

ELEVENTH Congressional District

Brevard	111,435
Indian River	25,309
Orange	263,540
St. Lucie	39,294
	439,578

TWELFTH Congressional District

Pinellas	374,665

Compiled by
TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE
July 12, 1961

elec-3

STATE OF FLORIDA

CIRCUIT JUDGES
1962

FIRST JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Escambia, Okaloosa, Santa Rosa and Walton

D. Stuart Gillis, DeFuniak Springs
Woodrow M. Melvin, Milton
Charles A. Wade, Crestview
Ernest E. Mason, Pensacola
Ralph M. McLane, Pensacola
Thos. D. Beasley, DeFuniak Springs

SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Franklin, Gadsden, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty, Wakulla

W. May Walker, Tallahassee
Hugh M. Taylor, Quincy
Ben C. Willis, Tallahassee
Guyte P. McCord, Jr., Tallahassee

THIRD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Columbia, Dixie, Hamilton, Lafayette, Madison, Suwannee and Taylor

Samuel S. Smith, Lake City
R. H. Rowe, Madison

FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Clay, Duval and Nassau

Charles A. Luckie, Jacksonville
Edwin L. Jones, Jacksonville
W. A. Stanly, Jacksonville
Albert W. Graessle, Jr., Jacksonville
William H. Maness, Jacksonville
John M. McNatt, Jacksonville
Marion W. Gooding, Jacksonville
Roger J. Waybright, Jacksonville
William L. Durden, Jacksonville
Charles R. Scott, Jacksonville
Frank H. Elmore, Jacksonville

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Citrus, Hernando, Lake, Marion, Sumter

W. Troy Hall, Jr., Tavares
D. R. Smith, Ocala
Carroll W. Fussell, Bushnell

SIXTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Pasco and Pinellas Counties

John U. Bird, Clearwater
Thomas J. Collins, St. Petersburg
Richard Kelly, Dade City
C. Richard Leavengood, St. Petersburg
Charles M. Phillips, Clearwater
Clyde M. Kissinger, St. Petersburg
Orvil L. Dayton, Jr., Dade City
T. Frank Hobson, Jr., St. Petersburg

(OVER)

SEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Flagler, Putnam, St. Johns and Volusia

Howell W. Melton, St. Augustine
Robt. H. Wingfield, DeLand
P. B. Revels, Palatka
Horace D. Riegle, Daytona Beach

EIGHTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Gilchrist, Levy, Union

George L. Patten, Starke
John A. H. Murphree, Gainesville

NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

Brevard, Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, St. Lucie, Seminole

Frank A. Smith, Orlando
Parker Lee McDonald
Vassar B. Carlton, Titusville
Roger A. Barker, Orlando
W. A. Pattishall, Orlando
D. C. Smith, Vero Beach
Volie A. Williams, Jr., Sanford
Wallace Sample, Fort Pierce
Murray W. Overstreet, Kissimmee
Wm. G. Akridge, Cocoa
C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge, Stuart

TENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Hardee, Highlands and Polk

D. O. Rogers, Bartow
Gunter Stephenson, Winter Haven
William K. Love, Lakeland
Clifton M. Kelly, Sebring
J. H. Willson, Bartow

ELEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Dade

Francis J. Christie, Miami
Marshall C. Wiseheart, Miami
William A. Herin, Miami
Grady L. Crawford, Miami
Pat Cannon, Miami
J. Fritz Gordon, Miami
Robert L. Floyd, Miami
Robert H. Anderson, Miami
Ray Pearson, Miami
Harold R. Vann, Miami
Lucien C. Proby, Jr., Miami
John J. Kehoe, Miami
Irving Cypen, Miami
Joe Eaton, Miami
Hal P. Dekle, Miami
George E. Schulz, Miami
Ralph O. Cullen, Miami
William A. Meadows, Jr., Miami
Phillip Goldman, Miami

TWELFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — DeSoto, Charlotte, Collier, Glades, Hendry, Lee, Manatee and Sarasota

Lynn Gerald, Fort Myers
Robert E. Hensley, Bradenton
John D. Justice, Sarasota
Archie M. Odom, Fort Myers
Robert E. Willis, Bradenton

THIRTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Hillsborough

Roger D. Flynn, Tampa
Harry N. Sandler, Tampa
I. C. Spoto, Tampa
James S. Moody, Plant City
John Germany, Tampa
Oliver C. Maxwell, Tampa
John G. Hodges, Tampa
Neil C. McMullen, Tampa

FOURTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Bay, Calhoun, Gulf, Holmes, Jackson, Washington

Robert L. McCrary, Jr., Marianna
Joseph W. Bailey, Panama City
W. L. Fitzpatrick, Wewahitchka

FIFTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Broward and Palm Beach

Jos. S. White, West Palm Beach
Lamar G. Warren, Fort Lauderdale
Otis Farrington, Ft. Lauderdale
James H. Walden, Fort Lauderdale
R. O. Morrow, Lake Worth
James R. Knott, West Palm Beach
Culver Smith, West Palm Beach
Richard M. Sauls, Hollywood
Ted Cabot, Fort Lauderdale
Robert S. Hewitt, West Palm Beach
George W. Tedder, Jr., Fort Lauderdale

SIXTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT — Monroe

Aquilino Lopez, Jr., Key West

Compiled by-
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
March 23, 1962

Received from Justice
Department 7/25/62

FLORIDA POPULATION AND REGISTRATION[1] STATISTICS

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
Alachua	30,555	9,898	20,978	2,886
Baker	3,203	807	3,893	564
Bay	31,940	4,964	21,450	2,572
Bradford	5,580	1,345	4,573	849
Brevard	58,433	6,494	35,921	2,002
Broward	189,517	27,009	125,966	9,670
Calhoun	3,434	582	4,705	281
Charlotte	8,659	427	5,760	229
Citrus	5,174	829	4,659	505
Clay	9,508	1,276	6,662	861
Collier	8,163	1,364	5,716	408
Columbia	8,092	3,082	7,105	1,704
Dade	537,448	75,573	376,377	27,698
De Soto	6,339	1,343	3,937	954
Dixie	2,858	363	2,398	202
Duval	203,804	58,430	128,180	30,666
Escambia	76,688	18,041	53,540	9,133
Flagler	1,789	846	1,729	50

[1] The registration figures are from The Florida Times-Union of October 25, 1960.

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
Franklin	3,186	779	3,277	571
Gadsden	11,711	12,261	7,097	375
Gilchrist	1,513	154	1,704	51
Glades	1,061	741	925	253
Gulf	4,196	1,138	3,533	561
Hamilton	2,486	1,621	2,599	662
Hardee	6,734	552	5,210	308
Hendry	3,430	1,180	2,780	792
Hernando	5,689	1,151	4,455	580
Highlands	10,997	2,251	10,254	1,204
Hillsborough	213,950	31,114	133,085	15,767
Holmes	6,131	249	6,562	157
Indian River	13,182	2,637	9,513	586
Jackson	14,087	5,390	11,900	2,959
Jefferson	2,383	2,600	2,230	329
Lafayette	1,536	152	1,995	0
Lake	30,535	6,438	22,659	1,265
Lee	30,363	4,677	21,433	1,584
Leon	28,241	12,322	20,346	5,793
Levy	4,483	1,568	3,853	356
Liberty	1,525	240	1,948	0
Madison	4,380	3,067	4,200	1,104
Manatee	42,291	5,278	29,165	1,654
Marion	21,001	9,283	15,442	3,807

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
Martin	9,291	1,753	7,192	702
Monroe	25,512	2,919	13,963	1,960
Nassau	7,054	2,076	5,742	1,300
Okaloosa	30,816	2,097	21,040	933
Okeechobee	2,870	533	2,685	423
Orange	137,780	21,771	78,444	3,917
Osceola	11,697	1,122	9,042	423
Palm Beach	119,342	29,541	91,164	9,060
Pasco	22,329	2,391	16,861	895
Pinellas	255,369	18,121	178,404	5,663
Polk	97,314	19,224	67,560	6,739
Putnam	13,095	5,089	9,591	1,810
St. Johns	13,771	4,331	10,566	1,887
St. Lucie	17,238	6,527	14,061	2,324
Santa Rosa	14,710	1,082	10,979	696
Sarasota	49,533	4,125	31,608	937
Seminole	24,372	7,050	14,578	2,246
Sumter	5,396	1,523	5,053	689
Suwannee	6,409	2,149	6,173	515
Taylor	5,454	1,724	5,071	77
Union	2,880	1,082	1,841	6
Volusia	74,209	11,615	54,546	6,358
Wakulla	2,120	753	2,312	417
Walton	7,958	1,086	7,438	799
Washington	5,364	1,021	6,016	840

POPULATION AND REGISTRATION[1] STATISTICS FOR FLORIDA BY CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
District No. 1
Hernando	5,689	1,151	4,455	580
Hillsborough	213,950	31,114	133,085	15,767
Pasco	22,329	2,391	16,861	895
Pinellas	255,369	18,121	178,404	5,663
District No. 2
Clay	9,508	1,276	6,662	861
Duval	203,804	58,430	128,180	30,666

---

[1] The registration figures are from The Florida Times-Union of October 25, 1960.

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
District No. 3
Bay	31,940	4,964	21,450	2,572
Calhoun	3,434	582	4,705	281
Escambia	76,688	18,041	53,540	9,133
Franklin	3,186	779	3,277	571
Gadsden	11,711	12,261	7,097	375
Gulf	4,196	1,138	3,533	561
Holmes	6,131	249	6,562	157
Jackson	14,087	5,390	11,900	2,959
Jefferson	2,383	2,600	2,230	329
Leon	28,241	12,322	20,346	5,793
Liberty	1,525	240	1,948	0
Okaloosa	30,816	2,097	21,040	933
Santa Rosa	14,710	1,082	10,979	696
Wakulla	2,120	753	2,312	417
Walton	7,958	1,086	7,438	799
Washington	5,364	1,021	6,016	840
District No. 4
Dade	537,448	75,573	376,377	27,698
Monroe	25,512	2,919	13,963	1,960

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
District No. 5
Brevard	58,433	6,494	35,921	2,002
Citrus	5,174	829	4,659	505
Flagler	1,789	846	1,729	50
Lake	30,535	6,438	22,659	1,265
Marion	21,001	9,283	15,442	3,807
Orange	137,780	21,771	78,444	3,917
Osceola	11,697	1,122	9,042	423
Seminole	24,372	7,050	14,578	2,246
Sumter	5,396	1,523	5,053	689
St. Johns	13,771	4,331	10,566	1,887
Volusia	74,209	11,615	54,546	6,358
District No. 6
Broward	189,517	27,009	125,966	9,670
Charlotte	8,659	427	5,760	229
Collier	8,163	1,364	5,716	408
Glades	1,061	741	925	253
Hendry	3,430	1,180	2,780	792
Indian River	13,182	2,637	9,513	586
Lee	30,363	4,677	21,433	1,584
Martin	9,291	1,753	7,192	702
Okeechobee	2,870	533	2,685	423
Palm Beach	119,342	29,541	91,164	9,060
St. Lucie	17,238	6,527	14,061	2,324

County	Whites over 21	Negroes over 21	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
District No. 7
De Soto	6,339	1,343	3,937	954
Hardee	6,734	552	5,210	308
Highlands	10,997	2,251	10,254	1,204
Manatee	42,291	5,278	29,165	1,654
Polk	97,314	19,224	67,560	6,739
Sarasota	49,533	4,125	31,608	937
District No. 8
Alachua	30,555	9,898	20,978	2,886
Baker	3,203	807	3,893	564
Bradford	5,580	1,345	4,573	849
Columbia	8,092	3,082	7,105	1,704
Dixie	2,858	363	2,398	202
Gilchrist	1,513	154	1,704	51
Hamilton	2,486	1,621	2,599	662
Lafayette	1,536	152	1,995	0
Levy	4,483	1,568	3,853	356
Madison	4,380	3,067	4,200	1,104
Nassau	7,054	2,076	5,742	1,300
Putnam	13,095	5,089	9,591	1,810
Suwannee	6,409	2,149	6,173	515
Taylor	5,454	1,724	5,071	77
Union	2,880	1,082	1,841	6

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 6, 1962

COUNTY	Total Negros	DEMOCRATS White	DEMOCRATS Colored	DEMOCRATS Total	REPUBLICANS White	REPUBLICANS Colored	REPUBLICANS Total	OTHERS	Grand Total	PRECINCTS
Alachua	3216	20,185	2,951	23,136	1,336	265	1,601	225	24,962	31
Baker	494	3,191	491	3,682	2	3	5	---	3,687	7
Bay	3216	22,281	3,200	25,481	534	16	550	69	26,100	59
Bradford	863	4,571	855	5,426	24	8	32	---	5,458	8
Brevard	2100	29,958	1,838	31,796	9,401	262	9,663	1,010	42,469	37
Broward	12312	93,475	10,670	104,145	47,537	1,642	49,179	4,024	157,348	130
Calhoun	365	4,292	365	4,657	8	---	8	9	4,674	15
Charlotte	289	5,907	276	6,183	2,252	13	2,265	119	8,567	14
Citrus	285	4,756	351	5,107	279	34	313	51	5,471	17
Clay	865	6,608	850	7,458	357	15	372	15	7,845	12
Collier	363	4,808	350	5,158	1,316	13	1,329	37	6,524	14
Columbia	1740	7,378	1,682	9,060	83	58	141	29	9,230	19
Dade	32152	322,101	28,177	350,278	50,653	3,975	54,628	3,996	408,902	211
DeSoto	744	3,888	649	4,537	142	95	237	1	4,775	15
Dixie	184	2,508	182	2,690	15	2	17	6	2,713	12
Duval	27988	111,787	26,455	138,242	6,682	1,533	8,215	912	147,369	146
Escambia	9410	52,012	9,091	61,103	1,640	319	1,959	306	63,368	105
Flagler	173	1,707	172	1,879	33	1	34	5	1,918	8
Franklin	520	3,190	515	3,705	63	5	68	4	3,777	7
Gadsden	276	7,182	290	7,472	62	86	148	28	7,648	15
Gilchrist	62	1,624	60	1,684	8	2	10	2	1,696	7
Glades	236	906	236	1,142	8	---	8	---	1,150	7
Gulf	622	3,510	593	4,103	13	29	42	---	4,145	11
Hamilton	701	2,516	672	3,188	14	29	43	6	3,237	12
Hardee	304	5,001	291	5,292	158	13	171	14	5,477	11
Hendry	714	2,834	706	3,540	48	8	56	2	3,598	10
Hernando	572	4,444	569	5,013	450	3	453	26	5,492	14
Highlands	1151	8,886	1,116	10,002	979	35	1,014	42	11,058	16
16556 Hillsborough		117,410	15,719	133,129	12,921	839	13,760	751	147,640	104
Holmes	136	6,596	135	6,731	19	1	20	8	6,759	23
Indian River	8737	7,457	801	8,258	2,410	72	2,482	220	10,960	15
Jackson	2883	11,851	2,785	14,636	90	98	188	31	14,855	32
Jefferson	330	2,283	305	2,588	8	25	33	2	2,623	11
Lafayette	#	1,846	---	1,846	6	---	6	3	1,855	5
Lake	1428	17,464	1,344	18,808	4,066	84	4,150	149	23,107	37
Lee	1835	22,070	1,716	23,786	4,965	119	5,084	174	29,044	29
Leon	5049	18,503	4,850	23,353	523	199	722	51	24,126	11
Levy	414	3,790	368	4,158	50	46	96	12	4,266	16
Liberty	~~1447~~	1,963	---	1,963	4	---	4	1	1,968	6
Madison	1147	4,281	1,097	5,378	25	50	75	---	5,453	15
Manatee	1582	21,361	1,434	22,795	10,131	148	10,279	533	33,607	35
Marion	3775	15,295	3,646	18,941	899	129	1,028	78	20,047	30
Martin	778	6,488	750	7,238	1,310	28	1,338	12	8,588	14
Monroe	2227	15,565	2,206	17,771	597	21	618	134	18,523	20
Nassau	1294	5,349	1,275	6,624	53	19	72	3	6,699	12
Okaloosa	880	20,337	871	21,208	683	9	692	149	22,049	26
Okeechobee	328	2,522	325	2,847	28	3	31	3	2,881	6
Orange	6676	62,175	5,991	68,166	19,454	685	20,139	1,018	89,323	90
Osceola	448	7,432	411	7,843	1,849	37	1,886	135	9,864	14
Palm Beach	8872	64,259	7,893	72,152	23,332	979	24,311	1,684	98,147	80
Pasco	848	14,449	834	15,283	3,788	14	3,802	141	19,226	29
Pinellas	6267	96,425	5,108	101,533	90,672	1,159	91,831	5,092	198,456	147
Polk	6144	57,176	5,710	62,886	8,285	434	8,719	529	72,134	47
Putnam	1513	8,268	1,400	9,668	327	113	440	19	10,127	27
St. Johns	1810	9,220	1,656	10,876	683	154	837	59	11,772	28
St. Lucie	2163	12,275	2,045	14,320	2,097	118	2,215	159	16,694	16
Santa Rosa	655	11,012	646	11,658	241	9	250	100	12,008	22
Sarasota	839	16,489	830	17,319	17,940	223	18,163	629	36,111	26
Seminole	2003	11,544	1,903	13,447	2,092	100	2,192	233	15,872	23
Sumter	743	4,778	702	5,480	98	41	139	15	5,634	12
Suwannee	647	7,283	589	7,872	42	58	100	19	7,991	24
Taylor	650	5,315	650	5,965	10	---	10	2	5,977	17
Union	5	1,982	4	1,986	4	1	5	2	1,993	5
Volusia	5546	42,455	5,209	47,664	11,520	337	11,857	545	60,066	74
Wakulla	485	2,215	475	2,690	15	10	25	5	2,720	13
Walton	791	7,486	777	8,263	57	14	71	9	8,343	33
Washington	710	5,211	707	5,918	40	3	43	7	5,968	14
Total		1,491,386	176,820	1,668,206	345,431	14,843	360,274	23,654		2,158
		360,274
191663		1,851,660

Grand Total---------- 2,052,134

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 17, 1962

+(107858)

4- Reg. Data - ~~Virginia~~ Florida

file 7 la. Reg. data

STATE OF FLORIDA

COUNTIES COMPRISING THE TWELVE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS
Population - 1960 Federal Census

FIRST Congressional District

Bay	67,131
Escambia	173,829
Gulf	9,937
Holmes	10,844
Okaloosa	61,175
Santa Rosa	29,547
Walton	15,576
Washington	11,249
	379,288

SECOND Congressional District

Duval	455,411

THIRD Congressional District

Dade	500,000

FOURTH Congressional District

Dade	435,047
Monroe	47,921
	482,968

FIFTH Congressional District

Citrus	9,268
Hernando	11,205
Lake	57,383
Marion	51,616
Osceola	19,029
Pasco	36,785
Seminole	54,947
Sumter	11,869
Volusia	125,319
	377,421

SIXTH Congressional District

Broward	333,946
Collier	15,753
Glades	2,950
Hendry	8,119
Lee	54,539
Martin	16,932
Palm Beach	228,106
	660,345

SEVENTH Congressional District

Charlotte	12,594
DeSoto	11,683
Hardee	12,370
Highlands	21,338
Manatee	69,168
Okeechobee	6,424
Polk	195,139
Sarasota	76,895
	405,611

EIGHTH Congressional District

Alachua	74,074
Baker	7,363
Bradford	12,446
Clay	19,535
Columbia	20,077
Dixie	4,479
Flagler	4,566
Gilchrist	2,868
Levy	10,364
Nassau	17,189
Putnam	32,212
St. Johns	30,034
Union	6,043
	241,250

NINTH Congressional District

Calhoun	7,422
Franklin	6,576
Gadsden	41,989
Hamilton	7,705
Jackson	36,208
Jefferson	9,543
Lafayette	2,889
Leon	74,225
Liberty	3,138
Madison	14,154
Suwannee	14,961
Taylor	13,168
Wakulla	5,257
	237,235

TENTH Congressional District

Hillsborough	397,788

ELEVENTH Congressional District

Brevard	111,435
Indian River	25,309
Orange	263,540
St. Lucie	39,294
	439,578

TWELFTH Congressional District

Pinellas	374,665

Compiled by
TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE
July 12, 1961

elec-3

Microfilm Code No.

Staff File

SERS Library

X VEP

WB ✓
JM ✓
file

FLORIDA
TIMES - UNION
(JACKSONVILLE)
p 24
Date: OCT 22 1962

Voting Study Shows Floridians Still Are Governed by Minority

By PAUL MAINS

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 21 (AP)—The rise is Republican voter registration is one of the most phenomenal changes in Florida's electorate in the past decade.

A study of registration and voting during the past 10 years also shows the continued willingness of the majority to be governed by a relatively small minority.

In the Nov. 6 general election, it appears that fewer than one million of Florida's residents will elect the men and make the constitutional changes under which more than five million people will be governed.

Registration under the Republican banner has more than quadrupled since the 1952 election, rising from 68,000 then to 360,000 now.

In the same period, Democratic registration climbed from 1,119,000 to 1,668,000.

On paper, it would appear that Democratic candidates have nothing to worry about yet, at least not in statewide races.

But actually they do. Growing numbers of Democrats have shown they are willing to leap the party fence to vote for a Republican. Thus, the last GOP nominee for governor, George Petersen of Fort Lauderdale, got 569,000 votes against Gov. Farris Bryant in 1960, nearly twice as many votes as there were registered Republicans and more than 40 per cent of the total votes cast. Republicans won Florida in the last three presidential races. Innumerable other examples could be cited.

Florida, with nearly five million residents in 1960, certainly has well over five million now. Yet total registration for the Nov. 6 voting is only 2,015,970, despite the fact that one senator, all 12 congressmen, one State Railroad Commissioner, half the state senators and all state representatives, the legislative apportionment constitutional amendment plus other amendments of varying importance, all are on the ballot.

Of the two million registered to vote, less than half are expected actually to go to the polls on Nov. 6. Secretary of State Tom Adams is predicting a voter turnout of 875,000.

What of Negro voter registration during the past 10 years?

There are 191,663 registered to vote this fall, 14,843 of which are Republicans. In 1952, there were 121,000 of which 8,045 were Republicans.

The gain in Negro registration is a little greater than the increase in Negro population, which rose from 603,000 in 1950 to 880,000 in 1960. There are no figures which show the degree of Negro turnout at the polls.

Negro registration increased more than 19,000 between the spring party primaries this year and the close of registration this fall.

Minor parties also more than quadrupled their strength during the past decade. Although no breakdown is available on the individual parties, 23,654 persons now are registered as members of minor parties or political independents. Ten years ago there were 5,875.

Recd Oct. 9, 1963

WB ✓
JM ✓
RTB

(Marion, Fla.

In Ocala Balloting Sept. 26, 1963

Eligible Electors May Set Record

A record number of electors will be eligible to cast ballots in the November 5 election, Miss Fran Pasteur said yesterday.

Nearly 23,000 are now on the registration rolls, with some nine days remaining to qualify for the election she said. The registration books will officially close at 5 p.m. Oct. 5.

UNOFFICIAL counts of the poll lists through Tuesday showed 22,816 registered to vote in the election, with a big increase recorded since Sept. 1.

Miss Pasteur said nearly 800 had been added to the list since the first of the month, with the vast majority of them Negroes.

A massive registration campaign being staged by the NAACP is credited for the big influx of new registrants.

THROUGH Tuesday, some 685 Negroes had registered since the first of the month, compared to 109 new white registrants.

Of the nearly 800 new voters, almost all registered as Democrats. There were 31 new white registrations for the Republican party, and 17 new Negro GOP voters.

This meant some 666 Negroes had registered as Democrats, compared to 73 new whites selecting the Democratic party.

THERE IS a possibility that more than 1,000 additional voters will be eligible by the time the books close at the end of next week if the drive continues to send the huge throngs of prospective voters into the courthouse to register.

As many as 150 per day have been appearing in Miss Pasteur's office, but many of them are already registered and are merely checking to make sure they are eligible to vote.

Books To Close Saturday 9/30/63

Heavy Registration Of Negro Voters Continues

Business continued brisk at the Marion County voter registration office today, indicating a decided upswing in total number of votes cast in the coming general election Nov. 5.

Most of the new registrants are Negroes affiliated with the Democratic Party. They are from all parts of the county, with first one area and then another apparent in block registrations, Miss Fan Pasteur, supervisor of registration, reported.

New registrations in the 28-day period ending last Saturday totaled 1,375, bring the total number of voters eligible to cast ballots in the November election to 22,393.

Books close at 5 p. m. Saturday and will not reopen until Nov. 12, she said. Normally the registration office is closed at noon on Saturdays, but high interest in this year's election has brought on a considerable increase in the number of voters on the books.

Last Saturday a total of 117 persons were registered by noon, often with double lines in the second floor lobby of the courthouse. Nearly all were Negroes.

In Ocala's three voting precincts, a total of 8,174 voters was registered through Sept. 28.

Twenty-six new white voters registered in both Precinct 1 and 1-A, none in 1-B, during the period Sept. 1-28.

During the same period 110 Negroes registered in Precinct 1, one in 1-A and 214 in 1-B.

Reg. Data - Fla.

PAGE PARTIALLY ILLEGIBLE

file Fla. Reg.

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

OCT 23 1963

OCT 24 1963

October 23, 1963

Mr. Jack Minnis
Director of Research
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Minnis:

Your letter of October 18 has been received.

Attached is a copy of the latest registration figures which we have available at this time.

We are compiling figures at the time the books closed October 5, 1963 for a special election. When these are ready, we will send you a copy.

If we can be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

With every good wish and warmest regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/lb

Enclosure

October 18, 1963

The Hon. Tom Adams
Secretary of State
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Sir:

Would you kindly send me your latest registration figures? Thank you.

Very truly yours,

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

JM:js

Rec'd 10/24/63

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 6, 1962

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	Grand	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total		Total
Alachua	20,185	2,951	23,136	1,336	265	1,601	225	24,962	31
Baker	3,191	491	3,682	2	3	5	---	3,687	7
Bay	22,281	3,200	25,481	534	16	550	69	26,100	59
Bradford	4,571	855	5,426	24	8	32	---	5,458	8
Brevard	29,958	1,838	31,796	9,401	262	9,663	1,010	42,469	37
Broward	93,475	10,670	104,145	47,537	1,642	49,179	4,024	157,348	130
Calhoun	4,292	365	4,657	8	---	8	9	4,674	15
Charlotte	5,907	276	6,183	2,252	13	2,265	119	8,567	14
Citrus	4,756	351	5,107	279	34	313	51	5,471	17
Clay	6,608	850	7,458	357	15	372	15	7,845	12
Collier	4,808	350	5,158	1,316	13	1,329	37	6,524	14
Columbia	7,378	1,682	9,060	83	58	141	29	9,230	19
Dade	322,101	28,177	350,278	50,653	3,975	54,628	3,996	408,902	211
DeSoto	3,888	649	4,537	142	95	237	1	4,775	15
Dixie	2,508	182	2,690	15	2	17	6	2,713	12
Duval	111,787	26,455	138,242	6,682	1,533	8,215	912	147,369	146
Escambia	52,012	9,091	61,103	1,640	319	1,959	306	63,368	105
Flagler	1,707	172	1,879	33	1	34	5	1,918	8
Franklin	3,190	515	3,705	63	5	68	4	3,777	7
Gadsden	7,182	290	7,472	62	86	148	28	7,648	15
Gilchrist	1,624	60	1,684	8	2	10	2	1,696	7
Glades	906	236	1,142	8	---	8	---	1,150	7
Gulf	3,510	593	4,103	13	29	42	---	4,145	11
Hamilton	2,516	672	3,188	14	29	43	6	3,237	12
Hardee	5,001	291	5,292	158	13	171	14	5,477	11
Hendry	2,834	706	3,540	48	8	56	2	3,598	10
Hernando	4,444	569	5,013	450	3	453	26	5,492	14
Highlands	8,886	1,116	10,002	979	35	1,014	42	11,058	16
Hillsborough	117,410	15,719	133,129	12,921	839	13,760	751	147,640	104
Holmes	6,596	135	6,731	19	1	20	8	6,759	23
Indian River	7,457	801	8,258	2,410	72	2,482	220	10,960	15
Jackson	11,851	2,785	14,636	90	98	188	31	14,855	32
Jefferson	2,283	305	2,588	8	25	33	2	2,623	11
Lafayette	1,846	---	1,846	6	---	6	3	1,855	5
Lake	17,464	1,344	18,808	4,066	84	4,150	149	23,107	37
Lee	22,070	1,716	23,786	4,965	119	5,084	174	29,044	29
Leon	18,503	4,850	23,353	523	199	722	51	24,126	11
Levy	3,790	368	4,158	50	46	96	12	4,266	16
Liberty	1,963	---	1,963	4	---	4	1	1,968	6
Madison	4,281	1,097	5,378	25	50	75	---	5,453	15
Manatee	21,361	1,434	22,795	10,131	148	10,279	533	33,607	35
Marion	15,295	3,646	18,941	899	129	1,028	78	20,047	30
Martin	6,488	750	7,238	1,310	28	1,338	12	8,588	14
Monroe	15,565	2,206	17,771	597	21	618	134	18,523	20
Nassau	5,349	1,275	6,624	53	19	72	3	6,699	12
Okaloosa	20,337	871	21,208	683	9	692	149	22,049	26
Okeechobee	2,522	325	2,847	28	3	31	3	2,881	6
Orange	62,175	5,991	68,166	19,454	685	20,139	1,018	89,323	90
Osceola	7,432	411	7,843	1,849	37	1,886	135	9,864	14
Palm Beach	64,259	7,893	72,152	23,332	979	24,311	1,684	98,147	80
Pasco	14,449	834	15,283	3,788	14	3,802	141	19,226	29
Pinellas	96,425	5,108	101,533	90,672	1,159	91,831	5,092	198,456	147
Polk	57,176	5,710	62,886	8,285	434	8,719	529	72,134	47
Putnam	8,268	1,400	9,668	327	113	440	19	10,127	27
St. Johns	9,220	1,656	10,876	683	154	837	59	11,772	28
St. Lucie	12,275	2,045	14,320	2,097	118	2,215	159	16,694	16
Santa Rosa	11,012	646	11,658	241	9	250	100	12,008	22
Sarasota	16,489	830	17,319	17,940	223	18,163	629	36,111	26
Seminole	11,544	1,903	13,447	2,092	100	2,192	233	15,872	23
Sumter	4,778	702	5,480	98	41	139	15	5,634	12
Suwannee	7,283	589	7,872	42	58	100	19	7,991	24
Taylor	5,315	650	5,965	10	---	10	2	5,977	17
Union	1,982	4	1,986	4	1	5	2	1,993	5
Volusia	42,455	5,209	47,664	11,520	337	11,857	545	60,066	74
Wakulla	2,215	475	2,690	15	10	25	5	2,720	13
Walton	7,486	777	8,263	57	14	71	9	8,343	33
Washington	5,211	707	5,918	40	3	43	7	5,968	14
Total	1,491,386	176,820	1,668,206	345,431	14,843	360,274	23,654		2,158

14,843
191,663

Grand Total---------- 2,052,134

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 17, 1962

WAB
RTB
JM
[redacted] file VEP
7 Ga V-R

Atl Daily World 10-26-63

Negroes Increase Fla. Vote Power

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— Florida Negroes, apparently spurred by civil rights drives, increased their voting registration by 11.1 per cent in the past year, records compiled by the secretary of state showed Thursday.

This compares with white gains of 3.4 per cent.

However, in numbers, the increase in Negro voting strength is relatively insignificant.

The 11.1 per cent meant a jump of only 21,465 eligible Negro voters while the 3.4 per cent jump in white registration was an increase of 62, 616 voters.

A majority of the 213,128 Negro voters are Democrats.

Negroes increased their Democratic voting strength by almost 12 per cent, up from 176, 820 in Oct., 1962, to 197,536.

The increase in Negro GOP registration, up from 14,843 to 15,592, was only five per cent.

This compares with increases of about three per cent in white Democratic registration and seven per cent in white Republican registration.

Liberty and Lafayette Counties continued as the only counties without a single Negro voter. Gadsden County Quincy, once accused by the Civil Rights Commission with discouraging Negro voters, listed a registration Thursday of 450 compared to 376 a year ago.

Dade, with 32, 152 and Duval, with 27,988, have the largest Negro registration.

file 7 ha. v. Bt

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee
32304

OCT 29 1963

October 28, 1963

Mr. Jack Minnis
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Minnis:

In response to your request, we are sending you a copy of the latest list showing the registered voters in the various counties, broken down by party and color.

If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

With every good wish and warmest regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/lb

Enclosure

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 5, 1963

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	22,014	3,416	25,430	1,831	262	2,093	359	27,882	31
Baker	3,145	460	3,605	3	1	4	---	3,609	7
Bay	22,469	3,231	25,700	562	15	577	74	26,351	42
Bradford	4,537	877	5,414	41	8	49	---	5,463	8
Brevard	32,162	2,049	34,211	10,563	286	10,849	1,042	46,102	48
Broward	94,766	10,826	105,592	49,033	1,587	50,620	4,159	160,371	134
Calhoun	4,230	403	4,633	11	---	11	10	4,654	15
Charlotte	6,169	286	6,455	2,327	11	2,338	150	8,943	14
Citrus	4,674	425	5,099	315	45	360	63	5,522	17
Clay	6,808	883	7,691	380	16	396	18	8,105	12
Collier	5,189	336	5,525	1,461	16	1,477	42	7,044	16
Columbia	7,305	1,647	8,952	80	55	135	30	9,117	19
Dade	324,640	34,756	359,396	51,606	4,054	55,660	4,044	419,100	237
DeSoto	3,895	663	4,558	139	85	224	---	4,782	15
Dixie	2,526	291	2,817	13	2	15	6	2,838	12
Duval	118,104	29,156	147,260	7,890	1,636	9,526	1,139	157,925	148
Escambia	53,410	10,500	63,910	1,743	327	2,070	322	66,302	105
Flagler	1,683	181	1,864	35	1	36	5	1,905	8
Franklin	3,258	526	3,784	65	5	70	5	3,859	7
Gadsden	6,893	361	7,254	71	89	160	30	7,444	15
Gilchrist	1,449	65	1,514	5	1	6	2	1,522	9
Glades	909	239	1,148	7	---	7	---	1,155	7
Gulf	3,667	590	4,257	19	32	51	---	4,308	11
Hamilton	2,578	692	3,270	13	24	37	5	3,312	12
Hardee	5,049	289	5,338	152	13	165	13	5,516	11
Hendry	2,809	701	3,510	47	8	55	2	3,567	10
Hernando	4,603	615	5,218	519	6	525	30	5,773	14
Highlands	8,675	1,194	9,869	1,010	41	1,051	60	10,980	16
Hillsborough	122,507	16,635	139,142	13,453	950	14,403	840	154,385	104
Holmes	6,691	162	6,853	18	1	19	5	6,877	23
Indian River	7,701	1,033	8,734	2,663	83	2,746	248	11,728	17
Jackson	11,907	3,510	15,417	77	92	169	28	15,614	32
Jefferson	2,274	414	2,688	8	29	37	4	2,729	11
Lafayette	1,748	---	1,748	3	---	3	3	1,754	5
Lake	17,677	1,461	19,138	4,312	82	4,394	153	23,685	37
Lee	22,131	1,683	23,814	5,598	122	5,720	158	29,692	29
Leon	19,564	5,342	24,906	755	230	985	117	26,008	15
Levy	3,790	378	4,168	53	45	98	14	4,280	16
Liberty	1,976	---	1,976	3	---	3	2	1,981	6
Madison	4,301	1,083	5,384	22	64	86	---	5,470	15
Manatee	21,904	1,571	23,475	11,016	158	11,174	566	35,215	35
Marion	16,033	5,913	21,946	1,168	203	1,371	112	23,429	30
Martin	6,592	917	7,509	1,408	33	1,441	25	8,975	14
Monroe	16,409	2,359	18,768	627	19	646	149	19,563	21
Nassau	5,383	1,217	6,600	50	15	65	4	6,669	12
Okaloosa	20,337	887	21,224	703	12	715	175	22,114	26
Okeechobee	2,558	325	2,883	30	3	33	3	2,919	6
Orange	65,393	7,009	72,402	22,037	707	22,744	1,052	96,198	95
Osceola	7,444	428	7,872	1,936	26	1,962	132	9,966	14
Palm Beach	66,005	7,583	73,588	25,783	933	26,716	1,793	102,097	82
Pasco	14,421	925	15,346	4,035	17	4,052	183	19,581	29
Pinellas	99,670	6,546	106,216	94,910	1,387	96,297	5,212	207,725	157
Polk	60,488	6,222	66,710	9,240	479	9,719	651	77,080	47
Putnam	8,521	1,585	10,106	359	123	482	19	10,607	27
St. Johns	9,693	1,222	10,915	729	173	902	50	11,867	28
St. Lucie	12,439	2,181	14,620	2,274	137	2,411	181	17,212	18
Santa Rosa	11,316	651	11,967	277	9	286	114	12,367	22
Sarasota	17,250	983	18,233	19,396	247	19,643	724	38,600	26
Seminole	11,925	1,956	13,881	2,392	102	2,494	233	16,608	23
Sumter	4,797	765	5,562	93	38	131	15	5,708	12
Suwannee	6,596	543	7,139	30	67	97	14	7,250	24
Taylor	5,341	781	6,122	12	---	12	2	6,136	17
Union	1,899	4	1,903	2	1	3	---	1,906	5
Volusia	44,315	5,611	49,926	12,340	353	12,693	627	63,246	74
Wakulla	2,225	478	2,703	14	9	23	5	2,731	13
Walton	7,508	812	8,320	71	13	84	10	8,414	33
Washington	5,213	703	5,916	37	4	41	7	5,964	14
Total	1,531,558	197,536	1,729,094	367,875	15,592	383,467	25,240		2,214

Grand Total---------- 2,137,801

1899436

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 24, 1963

213128

Negroes Increase Fla. Vote Power

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— Florida Negroes, apparently spurred by civil rights drives, increased their voting registration by 11.1 per cent in the past year, records compiled by the secretary of state showed Thursday.

This compares with white gains of 3.4 per cent.

However, in numbers, the increase in Negro voting strength is relatively insignificant.

The 11.1 per cent meant a jump of only 21,465 eligible Negro voters while the 3.4 per cent jump in white registration was an increase of 62, 616 voters.

A majority of the 213,128 Negro voters are Democrats.

Negroes increased their Democratic voting strength by almost 12 per cent, up from 176, 820 in Oct., 1962, to 197,536.

The increase in Negro GOP registration, up from 14,843 to 15,592, was only five per cent.

This compares with increases of about three per cent in white Democratic registration and seven per cent in white Republican registration.

Liberty and Lafayette Counties continued as the only counties without a single Negro voter. Gadsden County Quincy, once accused by the Civil Rights Commission with discouraging Negro voters, listed a registration Thursday of 450 compared to 376 a year ago.

Dade, with 32, 152 and Duval, with 27,988, have the largest Negro registration.

Sun. Week 10/3/63 Fla. Statesman

NOV 16 1963

Office of the

Secretary of State

State of Florida

Tallahassee

32304

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

file
Fla VR

November 15, 1963

Mr. Jack Minnis
Director of Research
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Minnis:

Further in response to your request, we are enclosing list showing the number of registered voters of the State of Florida.

If we can be of further assistance to you at any time, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson,
Director, Elections Division

DG/ce

Enclosure

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 5, 1963

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	22,014	3,416	25,430	1,831	262	2,093	359	27,882	31
Baker	3,145	460	3,605	3	1	4	---	3,609	7
Bay	22,469	3,231	25,700	562	15	577	74	26,351	42
Bradford	4,537	877	5,414	41	8	49	---	5,463	8
Brevard	32,162	2,049	34,211	10,563	286	10,849	1,042	46,102	48
Broward	94,766	10,826	105,592	49,033	1,587	50,620	4,159	160,371	134
Calhoun	4,230	403	4,633	11	---	11	10	4,654	15
Charlotte	6,169	286	6,455	2,327	11	2,338	150	8,943	14
Citrus	4,674	425	5,099	315	45	360	63	5,522	17
Clay	6,808	883	7,691	380	16	396	18	8,105	12
Collier	5,189	336	5,525	1,461	16	1,477	42	7,044	16
Columbia	7,305	1,647	8,952	80	55	135	30	9,117	19
Dade	324,640	34,756	359,396	51,606	4,054	55,660	4,044	419,100	237
DeSoto	3,895	663	4,558	139	85	224	---	4,782	15
Dixie	2,526	291	2,817	13	2	15	6	2,838	12
Duval	118,104	29,156	147,260	7,890	1,636	9,526	1,139	157,925	148
Escambia	53,410	10,500	63,910	1,743	327	2,070	322	66,302	105
Flagler	1,683	181	1,864	35	1	36	5	1,905	8
Franklin	3,258	526	3,784	65	5	70	5	3,859	7
Gadsden	6,893	361	7,254	71	89	160	30	7,444	15
Gilchrist	1,449	65	1,514	5	1	6	2	1,522	9
Glades	909	239	1,148	7	---	7	---	1,155	7
Gulf	3,667	590	4,257	19	32	51	---	4,308	11
Hamilton	2,578	692	3,270	13	24	37	5	3,312	12
Hardee	5,049	289	5,338	152	13	165	13	5,516	11
Hendry	2,809	701	3,510	47	8	55	2	3,567	10
Hernando	4,603	615	5,218	519	6	525	30	5,773	14
Highlands	8,675	1,194	9,869	1,010	41	1,051	60	10,980	16
Hillsborough	122,507	16,635	139,142	13,453	950	14,403	840	154,385	104
Holmes	6,691	162	6,853	18	1	19	5	6,877	23
Indian River	7,701	1,033	8,734	2,663	83	2,746	248	11,728	17
Jackson	11,907	3,510	15,417	77	92	169	28	15,614	32
Jefferson	2,274	414	2,688	8	29	37	4	2,729	11
Lafayette	1,748	---	1,748	3	---	3	3	1,754	5
Lake	17,677	1,461	19,138	4,312	82	4,394	153	23,685	37
Lee	22,131	1,683	23,814	5,598	122	5,720	158	29,692	29
Leon	19,564	5,342	24,906	755	230	985	117	26,008	15
Levy	3,790	378	4,168	53	45	98	14	4,280	16
Liberty	1,976	---	1,976	3	---	3	2	1,981	6
Madison	4,301	1,083	5,384	22	64	86	---	5,470	15
Manatee	21,904	1,571	23,475	11,016	158	11,174	566	35,215	35
Marion	16,033	5,913	21,946	1,168	203	1,371	112	23,429	30
Martin	6,592	917	7,509	1,408	33	1,441	25	8,975	14
Monroe	16,409	2,359	18,768	627	19	646	149	19,563	21
Nassau	5,383	1,217	6,600	50	15	65	4	6,669	12
Okaloosa	20,337	887	21,224	703	12	715	175	22,114	26
Okeechobee	2,558	325	2,883	30	3	33	3	2,919	6
Orange	65,393	7,009	72,402	22,037	707	22,744	1,052	96,198	95
Osceola	7,444	428	7,872	1,936	26	1,962	132	9,966	14
Palm Beach	66,005	7,583	73,588	25,783	933	26,716	1,793	102,097	82
Pasco	14,421	925	15,346	4,035	17	4,052	183	19,581	29
Pinellas	99,670	6,546	106,216	94,910	1,387	96,297	5,212	207,725	157
Polk	60,488	6,222	66,710	9,240	479	9,719	651	77,080	47
Putnam	8,521	1,585	10,106	359	123	482	19	10,607	27
St. Johns	9,693	1,222	10,915	729	173	902	50	11,867	28
St. Lucie	12,439	2,181	14,620	2,274	137	2,411	181	17,212	18
Santa Rosa	11,316	651	11,967	277	9	286	114	12,367	22
Sarasota	17,250	983	18,233	19,396	247	19,643	724	38,600	26
Seminole	11,925	1,956	13,881	2,392	102	2,494	233	16,608	23
Sumter	4,797	765	5,562	93	38	131	15	5,708	12
Suwannee	6,596	543	7,139	30	67	97	14	7,250	24
Taylor	5,341	781	6,122	12	---	12	2	6,136	17
Union	1,899	4	1,903	2	1	3	---	1,906	5
Volusia	44,315	5,611	49,926	12,340	353	12,693	627	63,246	74
Wakulla	2,225	478	2,703	14	9	23	5	2,731	13
Walton	7,508	812	8,320	71	13	84	10	8,414	33
Washington	5,213	703	5,916	37	4	41	7	5,964	14
Total	1,531,558	197,536	1,729,094	367,875	15,592	383,467	25,240		2,214

Grand Total---------- 2,137,801

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 24, 1963

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee
32304

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

January 24, 1964

~~JAN 24 1964~~

JAN 25 1964

Mrs. Barbara Whitaker
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mrs. Whitaker:

In response to your request of January 21, we are enclosing a list showing the registered voters in the State of Florida.

If this office can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

Dorothy W. Glisson

By
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/lb

Enclosure

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 5, 1963

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	22,014	3,416	25,430	1,831	262	2,093	359	27,882	31
Baker	3,145	460	3,605	3	1	4	---	3,609	7
Bay	22,469	3,231	25,700	562	15	577	74	26,351	42
Bradford	4,537	877	5,414	41	8	49	---	5,463	8
Brevard	32,162	2,049	34,211	10,563	286	10,849	1,042	46,102	48
Broward	94,766	10,826	105,592	49,033	1,587	50,620	4,159	160,371	134
Calhoun	4,230	403	4,633	11	---	11	10	4,654	15
Charlotte	6,169	286	6,455	2,327	11	2,338	150	8,943	14
Citrus	4,674	425	5,099	315	45	360	63	5,522	17
Clay	6,808	883	7,691	380	16	396	18	8,105	12
Collier	5,189	336	5,525	1,461	16	1,477	42	7,044	16
Columbia	7,305	1,647	8,952	80	55	135	30	9,117	19
Dade	324,640	34,756	359,396	51,606	4,054	55,660	4,044	419,100	237
DeSoto	3,895	663	4,558	139	85	224	---	4,782	15
Dixie	2,526	291	2,817	13	2	15	6	2,838	12
Duval	118,104	29,156	147,260	7,890	1,636	9,526	1,139	157,925	148
Escambia	53,410	10,500	63,910	1,743	327	2,070	322	66,302	105
Flagler	1,683	181	1,864	35	1	36	5	1,905	8
Franklin	3,258	526	3,784	65	5	70	5	3,859	7
Gadsden	6,893	361	7,254	71	89	160	30	7,444	15
Gilchrist	1,449	65	1,514	5	1	6	2	1,522	9
Glades	909	239	1,148	7	---	7	---	1,155	7
Gulf	3,667	590	4,257	19	32	51	---	4,308	11
Hamilton	2,578	692	3,270	13	24	37	5	3,312	12
Hardee	5,049	289	5,338	152	13	165	13	5,516	11
Hendry	2,809	701	3,510	47	8	55	2	3,567	10
Hernando	4,603	615	5,218	519	6	525	30	5,773	14
Highlands	8,675	1,194	9,869	1,010	41	1,051	60	10,980	16
Hillsborough	122,507	16,635	139,142	13,453	950	14,403	840	154,385	104
Holmes	6,691	162	6,853	18	1	19	5	6,877	23
Indian River	7,701	1,033	8,734	2,663	83	2,746	248	11,728	17
Jackson	11,907	3,510	15,417	77	92	169	28	15,614	32
Jefferson	2,274	414	2,688	8	29	37	4	2,729	11
Lafayette	1,748	---	1,748	3	---	3	3	1,754	5
Lake	17,677	1,461	19,138	4,312	82	4,394	153	23,685	37
Lee	22,131	1,683	23,814	5,598	122	5,720	158	29,692	29
Leon	19,564	5,342	24,906	755	230	985	117	26,008	15
Levy	3,790	378	4,168	53	45	98	14	4,280	16
Liberty	1,976	---	1,976	3	---	3	2	1,981	6
Madison	4,301	1,083	5,384	22	64	86	---	5,470	15
Manatee	21,904	1,571	23,475	11,016	158	11,174	566	35,215	35
Marion	16,033	5,913	21,946	1,168	203	1,371	112	23,429	30
Martin	6,592	917	7,509	1,408	33	1,441	25	8,975	14
Monroe	16,409	2,359	18,768	627	19	646	149	19,563	21
Nassau	5,383	1,217	6,600	50	15	65	4	6,669	12
Okaloosa	20,337	887	21,224	703	12	715	175	22,114	26
Okeechobee	2,558	325	2,883	30	3	33	3	2,919	6
Orange	65,393	7,009	72,402	22,037	707	22,744	1,052	96,198	95
Osceola	7,444	428	7,872	1,936	26	1,962	132	9,966	14
Palm Beach	66,005	7,583	73,588	25,783	933	26,716	1,793	102,097	82
Pasco	14,421	925	15,346	4,035	17	4,052	183	19,581	29
Pinellas	99,670	6,546	106,216	94,910	1,387	96,297	5,212	207,725	157
Polk	60,488	6,222	66,710	9,240	479	9,719	651	77,080	47
Putnam	8,521	1,585	10,106	359	123	482	19	10,607	27
St. Johns	9,693	1,222	10,915	729	173	902	50	11,867	28
St. Lucie	12,439	2,181	14,620	2,274	137	2,411	181	17,212	18
Santa Rosa	11,316	651	11,967	277	9	286	114	12,367	22
Sarasota	17,250	983	18,233	19,396	247	19,643	724	38,600	26
Seminole	11,925	1,956	13,881	2,392	102	2,494	233	16,608	23
Sumter	4,797	765	5,562	93	38	131	15	5,708	12
Suwannee	6,596	543	7,139	30	67	97	14	7,250	24
Taylor	5,341	781	6,122	12	---	12	2	6,136	17
Union	1,899	4	1,903	2	1	3	---	1,906	5
Volusia	44,315	5,611	49,926	12,340	353	12,693	627	63,246	74
Wakulla	2,225	478	2,703	14	9	23	5	2,731	13
Walton	7,508	812	8,320	71	13	84	10	8,414	33
Washington	5,213	703	5,916	37	4	41	7	5,964	14
Total	1,531,558	197,536	1,729,094	367,875	15,592	383,467	25,240		2,214
	367,875	15,592
	1,899,433	213,128

Grand Total---------- 2,137,801

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 24, 1963

Atl Const - 5-3-64

Negro Vote May Hold Key To Sunshine State Elections

Atl. Const. 5-3-64

FLORIDA

By CHARLES F. HESSER
Staff Writer, The Miami News
Special to Atlanta Journal-Constitution

MIAMI, Fla., May 2 — The Negro vote may have a significant bearing upon the outcome of Florida's Democratic primaries this month and in the November general election.

Latest registration figures from Florida's 67 counties place Democratic Negro registration at 225,562, up 28,026 from last fall, and up 48,742 from the November, 1962, general election.

Republican Negro registration at 15,054 is down slightly.

While there are 1,576,668 white Democrats in Florida, the Negroes represent 14 per cent of the total Democrat vote.

Florida Negroes appear to be strongly in back of two candidates running in Tuesday's primary — Miami Mayor Robert King High for governor, and Brailey Odham for the U.S. Senate.

HIGH IS THE most liberal of the six Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls and Odham has the nod over his opponent, Sen. Spessard Holland, in this category.

The Negro vote doesn't appear to have solidified behind any other of the candidates seeking statewide office.

The Florida Voters League, assisted by the NAACP and CORE, is largely responsible for the increase in Negro registrants. This has been the primary program of the league for the past eight years.

"This will be a continuing program," said Elmer A. Ward, of Miami, a vice president of the league. "Registration is expected to accelerate leading up to the November election."

FLORIDA NOW has almost 46 per cent of eligible Negro voters on registration lists.

How many will vote in this month's primaries and again in November is not known. In the past, the percentage of Negroes going to the polls has been less than for the white voters.

But, new voters traditionally take more interest in balloting. In addition, racial unrest in Florida, plus the civil rights filibuster in Congress, will, no doubt, act as a magnet to draw the Negro to the polls.

While most Florida counties show substantial gains in Negro registrants, five are targets of the U.S. Department of Justice because of lack of Negro registrants.

They are Flagler, Gadsden, Lafayette, Liberty and Union.

LAFAYETTE and Liberty have no Negroes registered, Union only 127 Democrats, Flagler 293 and Gadsden 1,325.

As of last October, Gadsden had only 361 Negro Democrats registered.

Ward said:

"At Quincy (in Gadsden County) recently, more Negroes registered in one day than in the last 100 years put together."

The Florida drive to increase Negro registration is part of a Southwide program called The Voter Education Project. VEP has been conducting an intensive two-year campaign to get Negroes on the voter lists of 11 states below the Mason-Dixon Line.

States, in addition to Florida, include Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Atl Reg.

believe that time would have been saved, and that Senators would have received suggestions from the committee looking toward the drafting of a sounder bill if it had been referred to the committee for a limited time.

AMENDMENTS NOS. 561 AND 562

Mr. President, before I begin my remarks, I ask unanimous consent that I may yield, without losing the floor, to the distinguished Senator from North Carolina [Mr. ERVIN], who, I understand, wishes to submit certain amendments which are to follow the appropriate procedure.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ERVIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I may be permitted to submit two amendments to the pending bill, and that they may be printed in the RECORD preceding the speech of the Senator from Florida. I further ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendments be waived under the provisions of rule XXII, and that they may be deemed to have been read for the purpose of satisfying the rule.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hear none, and it is so ordered.

The amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 561

On page 25, line 22, insert the following: After the word "color", insert the word "religion".

AMENDMENT NO. 562

On page 27, beginning with line 21, strike out all through line 25 on page 50 (Title VIII of the Act).

Mr. ERVIN. I thank the distinguished Senator from Florida.

Mr. HOLLAND. It is a pleasure to yield to my distinguished friend from North Carolina.

Mr. President, in my remarks today, I shall discuss the provision of title V of the pending civil rights bill, H.R. 7152, which proposes to extend the time of existence of the so-called Civil Rights Commission and also to give added powers to the Commission. I shall confine myself to the question of whether the Civil Rights Commission should be extended at all beyond the date of termination fixed by existing law, which is not later than 60 days after September 30, 1964. The pending legislation apparently seeks to extend the operations of the Commission through January 31, 1968, and possibly to 60 days after that date, though there is no clear provision in the bill to that effect. The applicable part of the bill is subsection (b) of section 104, which reads as follows:

> The Commission shall submit interim reports to the President and to the Congress at such times as the Commission, the Congress or the President shall deem desirable, and shall submit to the President and to the Congress a final report of its activities, findings, and recommendations not later than January 31, 1968.

Subsection (c) of section 104 of existing law would terminate the life of the Commission 60 days after its final report.

There is a question as to whether subsection (c) of section 104 would be continued or discontinued by the pending bill.

Other portions of the bill would eliminate the provisions of existing law which fixed an earlier termination date with the expectation, as stated in the report of the House committee, that the Civil Rights Commission would be extended to become a permanent body. This intention was defeated on the floor by an amendment which placed in the bill that portion of the provision quoted above which requires the Commission to "submit to the President and to Congress the final report of its activities, findings, and recommendations not later than January 31, 1968." During this debate various Senators have given notice of their intention to try to amend the bill as it passed the House so as to again provide that the Civil Rights Commission shall be a permanent body. The purpose of my remarks today will be to oppose any action to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission, either to January 31, 1968, or to any fixed date in the future or to make it a permanent body.

Mr. President, both the Civil Rights Commission, as functioning in 1963, and the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice as now existing, have been unfair to my State and to five counties therein which have been referred to adversely in several ways as follows:

In its 1963 report, the Civil Rights Commission, page 16, said:

> An examination of the 100 counties where denials of voting rights were indicated in the 1961 voting report compels the conclusion that racial discrimination persists and the policy of the Civil Rights Acts has been frustrated.

On page 17, the Civil Rights Commission continued as to Florida, as follows:

> Florida contained 5 of the 100 counties. No litigation has occurred in the State. Registration has increased in two counties and remained virtually unchanged in the other three. Though the number of voters in these counties has increased from 76 in 1956 to 512 in 1962, fewer than 5 percent of the voting-age Negroes are registered.

In its summary on page 26, the Civil Rights Commission said as follows:

> In seven States, the right to vote—the abridgment of which is clearly forbidden by the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States—is still denied to many citizens solely because of their race.

One of the seven States which was included in the blanket indictment of the Civil Rights Commission that "the right to vote is still denied to many citizens solely because of their race" was the State of Florida. That statement is simply untrue as to Florida.

Continuing, the Civil Rights Commission, on page 28, included its recommendation to Congress, which was followed by three specific recommendations, the third of which on page 29 reads as follows:

> That, if the steps previously recommended prove ineffective, Congress further act to assure the attainment of uniform suffrage qualifications as contemplated by section 2 of the 14th amendment, through enactment of legislation proportionately reducing the representation in the House of Representatives in those cases in which voter qualifications continue to be used as a device for denying the franchise to citizens on the grounds of race, color, or national origin.

In its listing of the 100 counties referred to by the Commission, the Civil Rights Commission includes the listings of 5 Florida counties.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed, at this point in the RECORD, table A, entitled "Voter Registration Statistics."

There being no objection, the table was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

TABLE A.—Voter registration statistics

County	1956 registration				1962 registration
	White		Negro		White		Negro
	Number	Percent of voting age	Number	Percent of voting age	Number	Percent of voting age	Number	Percent of voting age
FLORIDA
Flagler	1,465	115	64	7.5	1,718	96	133	15.8
Gadsden	6,391	57	5	.04	7,235	62	373	3.0
Lafayette	1,755	103	0	0	2,000	130	0	0
Liberty	1,593	107	1	.4	1,968	129	0	0
Union	2,501	66	6	.4	1,978	69	6	.6
Total	13,705	70	76	0.5	14,899	77	512	3.5

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I shall comment upon the salient points of the table just placed in the RECORD.

Flagler County, which had a registration of Negroes, in 1956, of 64 out of 1,465 persons of voting age, increased its 1962 Negro registration to 133, or 15.8 percent.

Gadsden County, which had only 5 Negroes registered in 1956, increased its Negro registration in 1962 to 373.

Lafayette and Liberty Counties, which had, respectively, no Negroes and one Negro registered in 1956, had none registered in 1962.

Union County, which had 6 Negroes registered in 1956 still had 6 registered in 1962.

The total number of Negroes registered in those 5 counties in 1956 was 76; but by 1962 the total registration of Negroes in those 5 counties had risen to 512.

But the Civil Rights Commission, in its 1963 report, specifically listed the five mentioned counties in Florida as being among those where "racial discrimination persists" and where "the right to vote is still denied to many citizens solely because of their race."

The report of the Civil Rights Commission contains no statement such as is included for the State of Tennessee to the effect that—"the State has no restrictive registration laws, the only requirements being age, residency, U.S. citizenship, and nonconviction of a felony"—though it is true in Florida there are no restrictive registration laws, no literacy tests, no poll tax requirements, and no other legislation of any sort which should hamper the registration of qualified Negro citizens to vote if they desire to do so.

I wonder why the Civil Rights Commission did not make any such fair statement about the Florida election laws as it did about the laws of Tennessee.

The vicious nature of such a list appears clearly in the statement of Assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall before the House Subcommittee on Appropriations in January 1964, in which statement the Assistant Attorney General included the following words:

Included in the 100 counties and parishes listed in table A of the report of the Civil Rights Commission, Civil Rights 1963, in which the denials of voting rights were found.

I recently requested from Assistant Attorney General Marshall a written statement as to the reasons why the five Florida counties already mentioned were listed in his statement before the House subcommittee and in reply I received a lengthy letter from Mr. Marshall dated April 30, 1964, which I now ask unanimous consent to have included in the RECORD as a part of my remarks.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
Washington, D.C., April 30, 1964.

Hon. SPESSARD L. HOLLAND,
U.S. Senate,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR SENATOR: This responds to your letter of April 25, 1964, and your recent inquiry as to the reasons five Florida counties were listed in my statement to the House Subcommittee on Appropriations last January.

There are two factors which have prompted the inclusion of these counties in the list given to the committee. The first was statistical. The following were the most recent registration statistics available to us at the time the list was compiled. The registration statistics are as of October 5, 1963, by the Florida Secretary of State and the population statistics are from the 1960 census report:

	Persons of voting age	Persons registered [1]	Percentage
Flagler:
White	1,789	1,718	96.0
Negro	846	182	21.5
Gadsden:
White	11,713	6,964	59.5
Negro	12,261	450	3.6
Lafayette:
White	1,536	1,751	[2] 114.0
Negro	152	0	0
Liberty:
White	1,525	1,979	[2] 129.8
Negro	240	0	0
Union:
White	2,880	1,901	66.0
Negro	1,082	5	.004

[1] Additional persons registered whose race is not designated: Flagler, 5; Gadsden, 30; Lafayette, 3; Liberty, 2.
[2] One possible explanation of this discrepancy is that the census statistics are 1960 figures and the registration statistics are 1963 figures.

In two of these counties no Negroes are registered to vote. The letter which you transmitted to me from officials in Flagler County indicated that the statistical picture there has substantially improved, with an additional 112 Negroes registered.

The second reason that the counties were included in my report to the committee was that the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights listed all 5 counties as among the 100 counties in which the Commission found voting denials.

For these reasons these five counties were included in my report. I am glad to be informed of the substantial increase in Negro registration in Flagler County, but I regret that the officials of that county did not have the benefit of reading the full statement which I gave the House Subcommittee on Appropriations. I believe the explanatory portions of that statement clear up the matter. This statement reads as follows:

"COUNTIES ALLEGED TO DENY VOTING RIGHTS TO NEGROES

"Statistical and other information available to this Division indicated that there was reason to believe that in the counties and parishes listed below, Negroes may have been denied their voting rights because of discrimination by private individuals or public officials. In some of the counties listed, no investigation has yet been made by the Department to determine whether this is so, or whether, if so, the discriminatory practices have ceased. In others, action has been taken, either by investigation, records analysis, negotiation, or litigation. Included are the 100 counties and parishes listed in table A of the report of the Civil Rights Commission, 1963, in which denials of voting rights were found."

While the Department of Justice has made no formal investigation in any of these five counties, with the exception of a preliminary records inspection in Union County, the information which we had at the time the report was compiled suggested that investigation might be needed. With the exception of Flagler County, the statistics still indicate that, in the absence of some other explanation for the very low Negro registration, some inquiry into its causes may be appropriate and necessary in the future.

Sincerely,

BURKE MARSHALL,
Assistant Attorney General,
Civil Rights Division.

Mr. HOLLAND. It will be noted that in the final paragraph of his letter, Mr. Marshall is frank enough to state:

While the Department of Justice has made no formal investigation in any of these five counties, with the exception of a preliminary records inspection in Union County, the information which we had at the time the report was compiled suggested that investigation might be needed. With the exception of Flagler County, the statistics will indicate that, in the absence of some other explanation for the very low Negro registration, some inquiry into its causes may be appropriate and necessary in the future.

In other words, Mr. Marshall's letter makes very clear that his adverse reference to the five counties in Florida was made because he was relying upon the list by the Civil Rights Commission, in table A of its 1963 report, of counties "in which denials of voting rights were found," and because he thought the investigation by the Department of Justice "might be needed" in said five counties. Senators will note that in his letter, Mr. Marshall indicates that he now excepts Flagler County from the list of five counties where he feels an investigation may be needed, but still feels that "in the absence of some other explanation for the very low Negro registration, some inquiry into its causes may be appropriate and necessary in the future." Mr. Marshall's exception of Flagler County is based, of course, upon a strong statement made by all of the elected courthouse officials of Flagler County, which was made to me in a letter dated April 23, 1964, which I had forwarded to Mr. Marshall, for his information. I think this letter is so important, as indicating the careless methods being followed by the Civil Rights Commission and the Department of Justice, that I shall read it into the RECORD in full, as follows:

BUNNELL, FLA.,
April 23, 1964.

Hon. SPESSARD L. HOLLAND,
U.S. Senate,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR SENATOR HOLLAND: I am enclosing photostatic copy of a front page report which appeared in the Daytona Beach Evening News on April 22, 1964.

This report came as a complete surprise to the officials and citizens of Flagler County, particularly as there seems to be no basis of facts to substantiate it.

Our supervisor of registration, who has held that office for over 20 years, is ready to state under oath that no FBI or other Federal agents have investigated the voter lists in her custody during that period of time, or taken photographs of any of the voting records. Her statement is corroborated by other Flagler County officials who are equally ignorant of any such investigation. It is further substantiated by the fact that in September 1962 Flagler County had 140 registered Negro voters, and as of April 5, 1964, their number had increased to 294, out of a total of 2,157 registered voters in the entire county. In view of these figures, how can anyone assert that the colored citizens of Flagler County have been denied the right to vote?

It is unfortunate indeed that the head of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division considered it unnecessary to give Flagler County an opportunity to present its side before releasing such an accusation to the press. It is particularly unfortunate as Flagler County, in contrast to some of its neighboring counties, has been singularly free of racial unrest up to now. If this state of affairs should change for the worse in the near future, as it very well may, I am sure that the citizens of Flagler County will "thank" Mr. Marshall for this blessing.

In view of the facts as presented above, the citizens of Flagler County feel that they have a right to know how and through whom Mr. Marshall received his information, and that he retract his statement publicly if he cannot substantiate it with irrefutable evidence.

Any help you can give us to this end will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

E. A. SMYTHE,
Clerk, Circuit Court,
Flagler County.

T. K. MCKNIGHT,
County Judge.

DALE B. BROWN, Jr.,
Tax Collector,
Flagler County.

D. D. MOODY,
Tax Assessor,
Flagler County.

HOMER BROOKS,
Sheriff,
Flagler County.

It thus appears that because of the careless methods followed by the Civil Rights Commission and by the Department of Justice, Flagler County has been subjected to the adverse press reactions shown by the article from the Daytona Beach Evening News of April 22, 1964, which I ask to have included in the RECORD in full at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. McGOVERN in the chair). Is there objection?

There being no objection, the article was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

[From the Daytona Beach (Fla.) Evening News, Apr. 22, 1964]

VOTER RIGHTS DENIED IN FLAGLER?

Flagler County has been cited by a top U.S. Justice Department official as one of 189 counties in eight Southern States where "the right to vote is denied to thousands of Negroes."

Flagler officials, however, said they knew of no investiagtion by any Federal agency of the county's voting list.

The list of counties where voter discrimination allegedly is practiced was submitted to a U.S. House Appropriations Subcommittee by Assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall, head of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division.

In testimony given January 28 to the subcommittee and released yesterday, Marshall said the FBI photographed 250,000 pages of voting records in southern counties last year in connection with Federal voting discrimination cases.

According to the Associated Press in Washington, Marshall said 58 cases were pending under the 1957 Civil Rights Act, which bars denial of voting rights for racial reasons.

Marshall said FBI agents photograph the records, which are obtained from local voter registrars, sometimes by court order. The records then are analyzed by the Civil Rights Division.

Flagler County Supervisor of Registration, Mrs. Gladys Dean, said she knew nothing of any such probe in Flagler. Similar denials came from Emil Smythe, county clerk, Julia Harvey, deputy clerk, and Sheriff Homer Brooks.

Brooks said he had checked with the district FBI agent, who told him there had been no investigation. The agent was not available for comment.

There were 126 Negroes on Flagler voter rolls in 1962. No current figures could be obtained today.

Other Florida counties charged with violating Negro voting rights were Gadsden, Lafayette, Liberty, and Union. Counties in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee also were cited.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, it is quite clear, from the statement by the courthouse officials, that the Negro citizens in Flagler County have overcome their inertia and the previous indisposition to register as voters; and the number of those who have registered have increased by April 5, 1964, from the 140 who were registered in September 1962 to 294. I hardly think any additional comment is necessary, except to say again that I think that such careless practices as those disclosed on the part of the Civil Rights Commission and on the part of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice are inexcusable, and that it is wholly inappropriate to continue the existence and functioning of agencies which are so unfair to organized units of Government which are implicitly following the voters registration law, and are welcoming the registration of qualified Negro citizens who ask to be registered. It will be noted, from the correspondence and from the statement of Mr. Marshall, that no check of any kind had been made—prior to the finding of the Civil Rights Commission and prior to the appearance and statement by Assistant Attorney General Marshall before the House subcommittee—to determine the facts as to registration of Negroes in Flagler County or as to the truth or falsity of any of the adverse statements made by both the Civil Rights Commission and the Assistant Attorney General.

I call attention to the fact that in his letter, the learned Assistant Attorney General, Mr. Marshall, drops Flagler County from the list of counties which he says need to be investigated. I am only sorry that he did not advise himself in time to prevent him from making such false and unfair accusations against a county which is trying to make available to the members of the Negro race the provisions of Florida's most generous registration law, which, as I have said, does not impose any restriction of any kind on a citizen who has had an adequate length of residence, has attained an adequate age, and has shown that he has not been convicted of a serious offense, and is otherwise qualified as required by law.

Mr. Marshall's letter reached me the day before yesterday; and I have been unable to check with the remaining four Florida counties which were included within the list of the Civil Rights Commission and of the Assistant Attorney General as being counties in which "the right to vote is still denied to many citizens solely because of their race." I have, however, checked with Gadsden County, which is the largest of the four counties still remaining on the list after the name of Flagler has been stricken therefrom; and I find that, just as in the case of Flagler County, the long, continuing inertia of the Negro citizens to register for voting has apparently been discontinued, and the number of Negro registrants this year in Gadsden County has increased to 1425, from the 355 listed by the Civil Rights Commission report as of October 8, 1960, and from the 373 listed in its 1963 report as of October 5, 1963.

I am informed by officials in the courthouse in Gadsden County, that no inquiry has been made, either by the Department of Justice or by the Civil Rights Commission, or by any agent of of either of them, of the voting situation in Gadsden County. No photographs have been taken by FBI agents, and no investigation of any sort has been made by them in that county. So it is peculiarly unfortunate that the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice and the Civil Rights Commission have made such accusations, without having first informed themselves of all of the facts in the case of those particular counties.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Florida yield?

Mr. HOLLAND. I yield.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Does the Senator from Florida say that the statements by the Civil Rights Commission were incorrect as of the dates cited by the Commission?

Mr. HOLLAND. I certainly do. The statement as to the number of registrants was correct, but the statement by the Assistant Attorney General that registration was being denied on the ground of race or color was completely incorrect and was not based on any investigation by either of the agencies referred to. It was not based on anything except perhaps the inertia of the colored citizens of that county—most of whom are agricultural workers, and most of whom own their own homes—and their indisposition to register as voters—until recently.

Mr. DOUGLAS. But of course there is always the possibility that there will exist a tacit unwillingness to register to vote, for fear of reprisals.

Mr. HOLLAND. I realize that that is a question. But I realize also that the Civil Rights Commission is a public agency and a public body. In making its written report, it had no right to include a conclusion in its report that the registration of citizens was being denied in a certain county because of race, when all that it relied upon was the number of registrants in the county, and when it had made no investigation. More particularly, it was not right for the Assistant Attorney General to testify—this year, mind you—upon those statements made in 1961 and 1963 by the Civil Rights Commission, to not certainly include the statement that registration was being denied on account of race, when it is not true.

Mr. DOUGLAS. May not the increase in registration, since the dates on which the Civil Rights Commission reported, have been due in part, and perhaps entirely, to the publicity which was given to the very low percentage of Negro registrants in certain counties?

Mr. HOLLAND. The Senator is correct in that there may be some such effect. The Senator from Florida thinks it would be very slight, if it exists at all, because the number of Negro registrants in the State of Florida has increased year after year somewhat in a regular curve. It began following my State's adoption of the poll tax ban in 1937. It has increased to the point where last year the total number of registrants was 213,000. This year the number of registrants has increased to 240,000, as I shall show in a later part of my statement. The statement will also show that there is a complete disparity in various parts of our State from other parts of the State as to the speed with which the Negro citizens have availed themselves of this privilege, or this duty—and I am inclined to regard it as a duty, rather than a privilege. The disparity between their inertia in some places and this aggressiveness in others is something that I do not think anyone could explain by examining the figures.

It probably results from greater aggressiveness on the part of Negro leadership in some places than in others. It may result from other causes, with which I am not familiar.

But the fact remains that the increase in registration has continued on a somewhat level basis. If the Senator will examine the figures, he will find that the number of registrants has been increasing in recent years—something like 20,000 a year. This year, it has gone up 27,000. There is not very much difference in the speed with which our Negro citizens qualified.

So far as the Senator from Florida is concerned—and the Senator from Illinois knows this—the Senator from Florida supported the repeal of the poll tax requirement in 1937, and has gone much further than that since that time in trying to repeal it on a national basis, and shed a considerable amount of legislative blood in doing so. The Senator from Florida has never done anything other than to encourage Negro citizens to register and to vote. That has been the prevailing sentiment in an increasing number of our counties beginning in 1937 with a large number of counties, but increasing year after year until now I think it is correct to say that there is hardly a spot in the State of Florida where that is not the sentiment.

That is the sentiment in the two counties of Flagler and Gadsden. It is shown by the registration figures in Flagler County over the past 4 or 5 years, and by the registration figures in Gadsden County over the past 3 years.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. HOLLAND. I yield.

Mr. DOUGLAS. I remind the distinguished Senator from Florida that Congress enacted a voting rights bill in 1957. The Civil Rights Commission has been at work on this problem for some years. The Negro community is becoming more conscious of this matter. I do not think it is quite "cricket" or just for the Senator from Florida to attack the Civil Rights Commission, which has been responsible for a large part of the improvement.

Mr. HOLLAND. I do not think the Commission has been responsible for much of the improvement in our State—if any. It is very clear from the statement of the Attorney General that it has not made any investigation. It is also clear that no suits have been brought. The Commission has checked and has made a perfunctory inspection of a part of the records in one county alone—Union County.

I remind the Senator from Illinois that this stepping up of registrations has happened since a time long before the Civil Rights Commission was established. The Commission was established in 1957. The increase in registration began immediately after 1937. I have already stated twice in my remarks that the increase in the number of registrations of Negro people has been rather constant over that period of time.

I shall now continue with my prepared statement. I think this will be enlightening to the Senator from Illinois. Incidentally, this advice came from one of the leading lawyers of the particular county. He checked the entire matter of registration for me and reported to me by telegraph and telephone.

I am advised that a very active campaign for the registration of Negro citizens was carried on this year by some of the aggressive Negro civil rights groups and that as a result of same the substantial increase in the Negro registrants has occurred without any untoward incident or demonstration and without any semblance of denial to any Negro citizen to his right to register which brings the number of registrants in Gadsden County up to nearly 12 percent now as compared with just under 3 percent in 1960.

In spite of the freedom to register, in spite of efforts made by the aggressive civil rights leaders—and it is my understanding that the president of CORE went to Gadsden County and made an effort to persuade the Negro citizens to register—as of now, only 12 percent of the Negro citizens of qualified age have registered.

So the Senator must recognize that there is a resistance to registration, and an inertia which has been most difficult to overcome in agricultural, naval stores or forestry counties—as I shall indicate in a later part of my remarks—and which has been more quickly overcome in our urban communities, with the distinction that it has been more quickly overcome in the old, southern urban communities, and slower to yield in the urban counties populated by people from other parts of the Nation.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Mr. President, will the Senator yield further?

Mr. HOLLAND. I yield.

Mr. DOUGLAS. I do not wish to engage in a prolonged discussion with the Senator from Florida. But surely the Senator must know that a very large proportion of the low registration of Negroes is due to the fear of Negroes as to what would happen if they did try to register. One should not cite the low percentage of Negro registrants in an effort to prove that only the percentage indicated wanted to register and vote. I am sure the Senator recognizes that in his own heart. I think that fact should be noted on the RECORD.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have suggested in the Senate before that the willingness of the whole community to follow strictly our new law banning the poll tax and giving the registration right to everyone—without any literacy test, by the way—has not come with equal speed to every part of our State. I call the attention of the distinguished Senator to the fact that in such areas as Duval County—Jacksonville—where the Negro registration has consisted of nearly 50 percent of their number for many years, even in this year, their total registration is up to only 50-odd percent of the total. Not only is there no restraint, but many of the local candidates for office go over and campaign in the Negro portion of the city. There are about 100,000 Negroes in Jacksonville. Many of them are fine people. There still seems to exist a feeling of inertia or unwillingness to register, which I do not explain as anything other than a feeling that has followed a long period of inexperience and nonparticipation in this field.

I regret that that has occurred, but I do not think it is fair for the Civil Rights Commission or the Attorney General to say what I know to be not true; namely, that Negroes are being denied the right to register in Florida counties because of their color. I think it is clearly shown that, with respect to the two counties mentioned, Flagler and Gadsden, that statement is not true, and does not apply to the present situation. The learned Attorney General withdrew his statement as to Flagler County, and retains it only as to four others.

Apparently the only limit which has existed in Gadsden County with reference to the registration of qualified Negro citizens has been of their own inertia, because they have been strongly urged by militant civil rights groups to register, and yet only 1,425 out of the total of 12,261 Negroes of voting age who are shown to be in Gadsden County by the 1960 census have seen fit to register. It is too bad that the Civil Rights Commission and the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice have both seen fit to castigate Gadsden County in the way that they have when the facts are as I have just stated, and when their statements are not based upon investigation of the records and checking in the field. Undoubtedly in future years the Negro citizens of Gadsden County will register in greater and greater numbers until they catch up with the registration of Negroes in many other Florida counties, which has been continuing since we eliminated the poll tax requirement in 1927, just 27 years ago, but has not existed on a uniform rate and probably will never exist uniformly among the many counties any more than the registration of qualified white voters has been uniform in all parts of our State.

I refer at this time to the tabulation of voting age population and registration statistics for Florida as placed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on April 6, 1964, pages 6808–6809, by the distinguished Senator from New Hampshire [Mr. McINTYRE], and I ask that said statistical list be republished in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD at this time as a part of my remarks.

There being no objection, the tabulation was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Fla.

WB
JMV

Voting age population and registration statistics, State of Florida

County	Persons of voting age [1]	Persons registered [2]	Percent registered	Not designated [3]
Alachua:
White	30,555	28,845	94.4	359
Negro	9,898	3,678	37.2
Baker:
White	3,203	3,148	98.3	----------
Negro	807	461	57.1	----------
Bay:
White	31,940	23,031	72.1	74
Negro	4,964	3,246	65.4
Bradford:
White	5,580	4,578	82.0	----------
Negro	1,345	885	65.8	----------
Brevard:
White	58,433	42,725	73.1	1,042
Negro	6,494	2,335	36.0
Broward:
White	189,517	143,799	75.9	4,159
Negro	27,009	12,413	46.0
Calhoun:
White	3,434	4,241	124.0	10
Negro	582	403	69.2
Charlotte:
White	8,659	8,496	98.1	150
Negro	427	297	69.6
Citrus:
White	5,174	4,989	96.4	63
Negro	829	470	56.7
Clay:
White	9,508	7,188	75.6	18
Negro	1,276	899	70.5
Collier:
White	8,163	6,650	81.5	42
Negro	1,364	352	25.8
Columbia:
White	8,092	7,385	91.3	30
Negro	3,122	1,702	54.5
Dade:
White	537,448	376,246	70.0	4,044
Negro	75,573	38,810	51.4
De Soto:
White	6,339	4,034	63.6	----------
Negro	1,343	748	55.7	----------
Dixie:
White	2,138	2,539	118.8	6
Negro	363	293	80.7
Duval:
White	203,804	125,994	61.8	1,139
Negro	58,430	30,792	52.7
Escambia:
White	76,688	55,153	71.9	322
Negro	18,041	10,827	60.0
Flagler:
White	1,789	1,718	96.0	5
Negro	846	182	21.5
Franklin:
White	3,186	3,323	104.3	5
Negro	779	531	68.2
Gadsden:
White	11,711	6,964	59.5	30
Negro	12,261	450	3.6
Gilchrist:
White	1,513	1,454	96.1	2
Negro	154	66	42.9
Glades:
White	1,061	916	86.3	----------
Negro	741	239	32.3	----------
Gulf:
White	4,196	3,686	87.8	----------
Negro	1,138	622	54.7	----------
Hamilton:
White	2,486	2,591	104.2	5
Negro	1,621	716	44.2
Hardee:
White	6,734	5,201	77.0	13
Negro	552	302	54.7
Hendry:
White	3,430	2,856	83.3	2
Negro	1,180	709	60.1
Hernando:
White	5,689	5,122	90.0	30
Negro	1,151	621	54.0
Highlands:
White	10,997	9,685	88.1	60
Negro	2,251	1,235	54.9
Hillsborough:
White	213,950	135,960	63.5	840
Negro	31,114	17,585	56.5
Holmes:
White	6,131	6,709	109.4	5
Negro	249	163	65.5
Indian River:
White	13,182	10,364	78.6	248
Negro	2,637	1,116	42.3
Jackson:
White	14,087	11,984	85.1	28
Negro	5,390	3,602	66.8
Jefferson:
White	2,383	2,282	95.8	4
Negro	2,600	443	17.0
Lafayette:
White	1,536	1,751	114.0	3
Negro	152	0	0
Lake:
White	30,535	21,989	72.0	153
Negro	6,438	1,543	24.0
Lee:
White	30,363	27,729	91.3	158
Negro	4,677	1,805	38.6
Leon:
White	28,241	20,319	71.9	117
Negro	12,322	5,572	45.2
Levy:
White	4,483	3,843	85.7	14
Negro	1,568	423	27.0
Liberty:
White	1,525	1,979	129.8	2
Negro	240	0	0
Madison:
White	4,380	4,323	98.7	----------
Negro	3,067	1,147	37.4	----------
Manatee:
White	42,291	32,920	77.8	566
Negro	5,278	1,729	32.8
Marion:
White	21,001	17,201	81.9	112
Negro	9,283	6,116	65.9
Martin:
White	9,291	8,000	86.1	25
Negro	1,753	950	54.2
Monroe:
White	25,512	17,036	66.8	149
Negro	2,919	2,378	81.5
Nassau:
White	7,054	5,433	77.0	4
Negro	2,076	1,232	59.3
Okaloosa:
White	30,816	21,040	68.3	175
Negro	2,097	899	42.9
Okeechobee:
White	2,870	2,588	90.2	3
Negro	533	328	61.5
Orange:
White	137,780	87,430	63.5	1,052
Negro	21,771	7,716	35.4
Osceola:
White	11,697	9,380	80.2	132
Negro	1,122	454	40.5
Palm Beach:
White	119,342	91,788	76.9	1,793
Negro	29,541	8,516	28.8
Pasco:
White	22,329	18,456	82.7	183
Negro	2,391	942	39.4
Pinellas:
White	255,369	194,580	76.2	5,212
Negro	18,121	7,933	43.8
Polk:
White	97,314	69,728	71.7	651
Negro	19,224	6,701	34.9
Putnam:
White	13,095	8,880	67.8	19
Negro	5,089	1,708	33.6
St. Johns:
White	13,771	10,422	75.7	50
Negro	4,331	1,395	32.2
St. Lucie:
White	17,238	14,713	85.4	181
Negro	6,527	2,318	35.5
Santa Rosa:
White	14,710	11,593	78.8	114
Negro	1,082	660	61.0
Sarasota:
White	49,533	36,646	74.0	724
Negro	4,125	1,230	29.8
Seminole:
White	24,372	14,317	58.7	233
Negro	7,050	2,058	29.2
Sumter:
White	5,396	4,890	90.6	15
Negro	1,523	807	53.0
Suwanee:
White	6,409	6,626	103.4	14
Negro	2,149	610	28.4
Taylor:
White	5,454	5,353	98.1	2
Negro	1,724	781	45.3
Union:
White	2,880	1,901	66.0	----------
Negro	1,082	5	.004	----------
Volusia:
White	74,209	56,655	76.3	627
Negro	11,615	6,964	51.3
Wakulla:
White	2,120	2,239	105.6	5
Negro	753	487	64.7
Walton:
White	7,958	7,579	95.2	10
Negro	1,086	825	76.0
Washington:
White	5,364	5,250	97.9	7
Negro	1,021	707	69.2
Total:
White	2,617,438	1,899,433	72.5	----------
Negro	470,261	213,128	45.3	----------

[1] Official Bureau of Census figures, 1960 census, table 27.

[2] Those registration statistics are taken from a report of the secretary of state of the State of Florida dated Oct. 24, 1963. The statistics related to Oct. 5, 1963. A copy of the report of the secretary of state is attached.

[3] The report of the secretary of state of the State of Florida has a column designated "Others" which refers to registered voters who are neither Democrats nor Republicans. This column is not separated according to race. It is therefore not possible to include this group of persons in the percent registered.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am sorry that there are not available sufficient copies of the table to circulate, but I am furnishing my own copy to the distinguished Senator from Illinois [Mr. DOUGLAS] so that he may follow my statements.

It would appear from this list that, in spite of the fact that registration of qualified Negro citizens has been as free as air in our State for 27 years, out of the 470,261 Negro citizens of voting age in 1960, only 213,128—or 45.3 percent—had availed themselves of the privilege of registration up to October 5, 1963, the date covered by the table of statistics furnished by the Secretary of State.

It is quite apparent, Mr. President, that it has taken years to overcome the inertia which existed in 1937 and that the registration of Negroes in the 67 counties has by no means been uniform. Registration of Negroes began at once in some counties and proceeded at a rapid rate. In others, for unexplained reasons, it began slowly and proceeded ever more slowly. Neither I nor any other person can give a clear explanation as to why this nonuniformity occurred, but that it did occur and is still present among the several counties, without any indication whatever of any obstruction by officials or others of Negroes in their efforts to register, is shown clearly when we contrast the conditions existing as of October 5, 1963, in some of the counties in Florida.

For instance, on that date in Duval County—Jacksonville—which is primarily an "old South" county——

Mr. DOUGLAS. Mr. President, if the Senator will yield, that is Miami; is it not?

Mr. HOLLAND. It is Jacksonville—52.7 percent of the Negroes shown to be of qualified age by the 1960 census had registered to vote, whereas in Sarasota County—which is decidedly not an "old South" county, only 29.8 percent had registered.

I cannot explain the difference, and I do not think anybody else can, by any rule of logic.

Contrasting again, in Jackson County in west Florida—probably about as 100 percent an "Old South" county as we have—66.8 percent of their Negro citizens of qualified age had registered; whereas in Manatee County only 32.8 percent had registered, or less than half as many, proportionately in that fast-growing south Florida county. In Hillsborough County—Tampa—56.5 percent of the Negroes had registered, whereas in Palm Beach County only 28.8 percent had registered.

These figures show clearly the nonuniformity of registration of our Negro citizens of qualified age and also show rather clearly that in the "Old South" part of our State there has certainly been no obstinate resistance of any kind to Negro registration.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. HOLLAND. I yield.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Is it not true that the percentage of Negro registrants is low in counties where the ratio of Negroes to whites is high? For example, in the case of Gadsden, which county we have been discussing, the number of white persons of voting age was approximately 11,700, while the number of Negro registrants was 12,200.

In Union County, the number of whites of voting age was 2,880, and the number of Negroes was virtually 1,100.

Is it not true that the difficulty lies largely in the counties of northern Florida, running across the northern part of Florida, south of Georgia, which form a part of the "Black Belt"?

As I understand, the "Black Belt" starts in Prince Edward County, Va., runs down the Atlantic seaboard three or four counties deep in the East, cuts across northern Florida to the Mississippi, and goes up the Mississippi as far as Cairo in my State. It is in those counties, at least 200 in number, that the greatest difficulty arises; and some of that occurs in the State of Florida. Is that not true?

Mr. HOLLAND. No. It is true that there is great difficulty in some of the counties. It is not true that that situation prevails in my State.

If the Senator will look at the table which I handed him, he will see that in the two counties on two sides of Gadsden County, Leon and Jackson, which I have already mentioned, and which is one of the most "Old South" counties we have, the percentage of Negro registrants is high. It is 66.8 percent in Jackson. That is a large number.

The Senator has the table in front of him; I would appreciate it if the Senator would give us the number of qualified voters.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Approximately 14,100 white and 5,400 Negroes—about 3 to 1. That is a very high registration of Negroes.

Mr. HOLLAND. It is 66.8 percent, I believe.

Mr. DOUGLAS. Yes.

Mr. HOLLAND. If the Senator will look at the figures for Leon County, which is the capital county, and which is not an agricultural county like Gadsden and Jackson, he will find a high percentage of Negro registrants.

Mr. DOUGLAS. The number of white persons of voting age is approximately 28,200, and 12,300 Negroes—71.9 percent of the whites are registered, and 45.2 percent of the colored are registered.

Mr. HOLLAND. If the Senator will look at the figures for Jefferson County, which is the only county, other than Gadsden, in our State where there is an excess of Negroes over whites, he will find a very different picture from Gadsden, indicating that there is no pattern anybody can follow in this matter. I do not remember the figures, but I remember that in Jefferson County, which is an agricultural county like Gadsden, there is an excess of the Negro population over the white population, and I remember that many more colored people are qualified to vote there than is the case in Gadsden County.

Mr. DOUGLAS. May I read the figures?

Mr. HOLLAND. Yes.

Mr. DOUGLAS. In Jefferson County the number of white persons of voting age is approximately 2,400 and there are 2,600 Negroes of voting age—95.8 percent of the whites are registered and 17 percent of the Negroes are registered.

Mr. HOLLAND. The fact remains that there is no obstructionism. They are just emerging from the inertia which I have already described. Apparently, they are 2 or 3 years ahead of Gadsden County. If the Senator will look at the north Florida counties, he will find that his remarks are much too general. He spoke of counties along the Georgia and Alabama line. His remarks apply, after all, only to Gadsden County, because it so happens that the other counties on the list of the smallest percentage of registrants are, in two cases not border counties. They are the counties of Liberty and Lafayette—and Flagler, which has been stricken off the list, due to my recent correspondence with the Attorney General and the facts which have developed in the last 2 or 3 years.

Mr. DOUGLAS. The Liberty County figures are interesting.

Mr. HOLLAND. There are none, as I recall.

Mr. DOUGLAS. It is indicated that in 1960 white persons of voting age numbered 1,525. The whites who were registered numbered 1,979. Thirty percent more people were registered than lived there in 1960. The Negroes on the other hand, numbered 240—not a large number—but none was registered. So the difference between 130 percent and zero percent is very interesting. I do not believe that the Senator from Florida has any right to complain about alleged voting practices in my own State of Illinois when in one county of his State there are 30 percent more people registered than the number of voting age.

Mr. HOLLAND. The Senator from Illinois makes a good case without having seen the situation on the ground. He has made the same error which our learned friends on the Civil Rights Commission and in the Department of Justice have made. That county is a very small forestry county, with 240 Negroes scattered over a large area. They live mostly in the woods. There are a relatively small number of whites. My recollection is 1,500.

Mr. DOUGLAS. It is 1,525, but about 2,000 were registered.

Mr. HOLLAND. I was about to state the situation there. In the small counties, registration books are permanent registration books. Unfortunately, in several forestry counties—if the Senator will listen to me, because I wish him to have his mind open on this subject—the registration books are purged in the large counties every 2 years. There are special lists in the county in which I live, for example, where the registration lists are purged and brought up to a current basis every 2 years. In most of the small counties this does not happen. Unfortunately, in the large forestry counties, the population has been diminishing for the past 20 to 30 years, and the registration books have not been purged or brought up to date. That accounts for the dis-

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee
32304

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

BW
WB
RTB
JD
BW
JS

MAY 14 1964

May 11, 1964

Mrs. Barbara I. Whitaker
Research Assistant
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mrs. Whitaker:

In response to your request of May 6, we are enclosing a list of the registered voters as of the date the books closed.

If this office can be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

With every good wish and warmest regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/lb

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

APRIL 4, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	20,017	4,168	24,185	1,517	253	1,770	302	26,257	32
Baker	3,436	567	4,003	3	2	5	---	4,008	7
Bay	21,208	3,461	24,669	426	12	438	63	25,170	41
Bradford	4,676	765	5,441	38	7	45	---	5,486	17
Brevard	37,386	2,269	39,655	12,591	301	12,892	1,219	53,766	49
Broward	100,350	11,787	112,137	52,825	1,643	54,468	4,428	171,033	136
Calhoun	4,597	440	5,037	9	---	9	9	5,055	12
Charlotte	6,617	285	6,902	3,035	9	3,044	191	10,137	14
Citrus	5,261	516	5,777	337	32	369	76	6,222	17
Clay	7,657	1,000	8,657	427	8	435	27	9,119	12
Collier	5,438	465	5,903	1,532	24	1,556	44	7,503	16
Columbia	8,439	2,258	10,697	113	51	164	48	10,909	19
Dade	330,127	37,822	367,949	53,177	3,812	56,989	4,126	429,064	238
DeSoto	3,990	596	4,586	133	44	177	---	4,763	15
Dixie	2,849	373	3,222	12	2	14	7	3,243	12
Duval	121,598	35,356	156,954	8,687	1,616	10,303	1,298	168,555	148
Escambia	52,299	10,813	63,112	1,852	262	2,114	275	65,501	105
Flagler	1,820	293	2,113	40	1	41	3	2,157	8
Franklin	3,442	579	4,021	68	6	74	9	4,104	7
Gadsden	7,920	1,325	9,245	95	100	195	19	9,459	15
Gilchrist	1,714	95	1,809	7	2	9	14	1,832	9
Glades	1,137	287	1,424	5	---	5	---	1,429	7
Gulf	4,049	712	4,761	14	25	39	---	4,800	11
Hamilton	2,719	1,035	3,754	10	21	31	5	3,790	12
Hardee	5,498	338	5,836	137	10	147	11	5,994	11
Hendry	3,429	783	4,212	70	11	81	5	4,298	10
Hernando	4,825	666	5,491	562	13	575	43	6,109	14
Highlands	9,465	1,295	10,760	1,126	57	1,183	69	12,012	15
Hillsborough	132,231	18,048	150,279	15,039	828	15,867	943	167,089	104
Holmes	6,496	184	6,680	15	1	16	7	6,703	23
Indian River	7,951	1,209	9,160	2,721	83	2,804	238	12,202	17
Jackson	11,427	3,302	14,729	91	80	171	35	14,935	32
Jefferson	2,437	619	3,056	6	19	25	2	3,083	11
Lafayette	1,887	---	1,887	2	---	2	3	1,892	5
Lake	18,234	1,857	20,091	4,738	91	4,829	182	25,102	37
Lee	20,294	1,197	21,491	5,685	73	5,758	138	27,387	31
Leon	20,026	6,145	26,171	757	189	946	133	27,250	15
Levy	4,771	495	5,266	86	48	134	15	5,415	16
Liberty	2,100	---	2,100	4	---	4	2	2,106	6
Madison	4,601	1,544	6,145	31	58	89	---	6,234	15
Manatee	21,019	2,257	23,276	10,677	187	10,864	545	34,685	35
Marion	16,846	6,177	23,023	1,369	200	1,569	136	24,728	30
Martin	7,163	1,043	8,206	1,589	19	1,608	34	9,848	15
Monroe	15,529	2,172	17,701	393	17	410	79	18,190	21
Nassau	5,966	1,459	7,425	73	15	88	4	7,517	12
Okaloosa	22,727	1,131	23,858	607	7	614	162	24,634	26
Okeechobee	3,039	392	3,431	24	2	26	2	3,459	6
Orange	67,005	7,673	74,678	22,577	708	23,285	1,004	98,967	95
Osceola	7,806	470	8,276	2,030	38	2,068	119	10,463	14
Palm Beach	70,024	9,951	79,975	29,099	1,084	30,183	2,154	112,312	82
Pasco	16,268	1,035	17,303	4,552	17	4,569	180	22,052	29
Pinellas	96,026	7,128	103,154	93,108	1,334	94,442	4,596	202,192	157
Polk	59,075	8,509	67,584	8,287	501	8,788	497	76,869	91
Putnam	8,678	1,625	10,303	376	97	473	26	10,802	27
St. Johns	10,044	2,171	12,215	875	158	1,033	49	13,297	28
St. Lucie	11,558	2,218	13,776	2,233	120	2,353	181	16,310	17
Santa Rosa	12,022	779	12,801	300	10	310	86	13,197	22
Sarasota	16,816	953	17,769	19,804	208	20,012	726	38,507	26
Seminole	13,226	2,291	15,517	2,791	86	2,877	214	18,608	23
Sumter	5,070	865	5,935	98	24	122	16	6,073	12
Suwannee	6,921	984	7,905	49	62	111	10	8,026	23
Taylor	5,897	876	6,773	14	---	14	1	6,788	17
Union	2,251	127	2,378	3	1	4	5	2,387	8
Volusia	44,970	6,087	51,057	12,731	341	13,072	659	64,788	82
Wakulla	2,552	540	3,092	51	12	63	10	3,165	13
Walton	7,981	811	8,792	69	9	78	13	8,883	33
Washington	5,771	889	6,660	29	3	32	14	6,706	14
Total	1,576,668	225,562	1,802,230	381,831	15,054	396,885	25,511		2,279
	381831	15,054
	1958499	240,617

Grand Total---------- 2,224,626

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
April 20, 1964

B'ham World
5-16-64

Fla. Registration Drive Pays Off

TAMPA, Fla. — NAACP voter registration drives throughout the state, which have placed 240,550 Negroes on the voting lists, paid off in this week's primary, NAACP Florida Field Secretary Robert W. Saunders reported.

As a result of Negro voting support, Mayor Robert King High of Miami, the only one of six Democratic candidates for governor who has supported the civil rights bill, received sufficient votes to force a run - off election May 26.

Last month the NAACP Florida State Conference threw its support to Mayor High because of his work in Miami and Miami Beach in ending racial discrimination and his support of the civil rights bill.

Mayor High will oppose Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville in the run -off election.

Following the May 26th election, the NAACP voter registration program will continue, Mr. Saunders said, with a goal of 300,000 registered Negro voters before the Presidential election in November.

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida
Tallahassee
32304

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

AUG 11 1964

August 10, 1964

Mr. Wiley A. Branton
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mr. Branton:

In response to your request of August 5, we are enclosing lists showing the number of registered voters for the years 1960, 1962 and 1964.

If we can be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/lb

Enclosures

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

APRIL 3, 1960

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS		REPUBLICANS		OTHERS
	WHITE	COLORED	WHITE	COLORED
Alachua	16,453	2,582	727	249	88
Baker	3,840	558	1	3	---
Bay	18,568	2,431	273	11	31
Bradford	4,445	812	34	7	1
Brevard	21,733	1,607	6,058	232	904
Broward	70,019	7,630	31,516	1,325	2,533
Calhoun	4,290	360	14	---	16
Charlotte	3,894	213	778	7	8
Citrus	4,111	397	200	47	26
Clay	5,796	843	256	6	15
Collier	4,395	388	898	17	24
Columbia	6,963	1,663	62	69	30
Dade	282,910	19,190	40,838	3,277	2,423
DeSoto	3,622	797	135	158	2
Dixie	2,354	198	6	---	---
Duval	105,240	24,821	4,881	1,724	759
Escambia	48,138	7,898	972	274	182
Flagler	1,619	35	27	---	2
Franklin	3,019	576	84	5	8
Gadsden	6,835	254	44	80	24
Gilchrist	1,714	47	7	3	2
Glades	917	247	3	---	2
Gulf	3,477	529	9	31	---
Hamilton	2,557	615	9	37	---
Hardee	4,972	287	117	12	17
Hendry	3,729	728	32	7	7
Hernando	3,767	577	155	---	6
Highlands	8,871	1,144	800	33	14
Hillsborough	109,896	13,830	10,867	1,001	704
Holmes	6,144	152	14	1	9
Indian River	6,525	445	1,575	24	139
Jackson	11,474	2,851	41	83	21
Jefferson	2,189	290	11	25	---
Lafayette	1,986	---	4	---	2
Lake	19,726	1,199	2,619	59	108
Lee	17,604	469	2,956	30	127
Leon	17,106	5,137	399	235	16
Levy	3,733	309	36	41	9
Liberty	1,941	---	4	---	---
Madison	4,019	1,159	14	41	---
Manatee	18,291	1,427	5,831	156	407
Marion	14,056	3,526	487	145	54
Martin	4,632	670	710	10	2
Monroe	12,490	1,902	340	20	61
Nassau	5,900	1,200	56	17	4
Okaloosa	18,951	908	385	9	119
Okeechobee	2,611	330	18	6	---
Orange	52,388	2,994	12,437	389	671
Osceola	7,069	365	1,385	34	117
Palm Beach	61,738	6,719	17,413	689	688
Pasco	11,828	750	2,660	14	151
Pinellas	80,375	3,798	71,870	929	3,831
Polk	55,196	5,614	6,833	383	419
Putnam	8,300	1,545	240	124	14
St. Johns	9,191	1,614	624	152	3
St. Lucie	11,410	2,082	1,565	64	124
Santa Rosa	10,450	692	229	11	83

(over)

(Continued)

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS		REPUBLICANS		OTHERS
	WHITE	COLORED	WHITE	COLORED
Sarasota	12,419	528	11,794	139	380
Seminole	10,910	1,996	1,317	117	162
Sumter	4,602	633	141	15	---
Suwannee	5,981	472	28	49	10
Taylor	5,263	77	28	2	9
Union	1,752	2	3	1	2
Volusia	39,380	5,005	9,010	330	390
Wakulla	2,288	404	15	12	7
Walton	7,312	756	67	14	6
Washington	5,946	858	37	8	6
TOTAL	1,331,320	150,135	252,999	12,993	15,979

GRAND TOTAL ---------- 1,763,426

TOTAL NUMBER OF PRECINCTS IN EACH COUNTY

Alachua	30	Hamilton	12	Okeechobee	6
Baker	7	Hardee	11	Orange	58
Bay	59	Hendry	10	Osceola	14
Bradford	8	Hernando	14	Palm Beach	47
Brevard	36	Highlands	18	Pasco	28
Broward	102	Hillsborough	101	Pinellas	114
Calhoun	15	Holmes	23	Polk	47
Charlotte	9	Indian River	11	Putnam	27
Citrus	17	Jackson	32	St. Johns	42
Clay	11	Jefferson	11	St. Lucie	15
Collier	14	Lafayette	5	Santa Rosa	21
Columbia	19	Lake	37	Sarasota	24
Dade	210	Lee	27	Seminole	16
DeSoto	15	Leon	11	Sumter	12
Dixie	12	Levy	16	Suwannee	24
Duval	131	Liberty	6	Taylor	17
Escambia	97	Madison	15	Union	5
Flagler	8	Manatee	32	Volusia	67
Franklin	6	Marion	30	Wakulla	13
Gadsden	15	Martin	13	Walton	33
Gilchrist	7	Monroe	19	Washington	10
Glades	7	Nassau	12
Gulf	10	Okaloosa	20

TOTAL ------ 1,971

Compiled by
R. A. Gray
Secretary of State
April 19, 1960

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

OCTOBER 8, 1960

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS		REPUBLICANS		OTHERS
	WHITE	COLORED	WHITE	COLORED
Alachua	19,678	2,612	1,300	274	261
Baker	3,888	564	5	---	---
Bay	20,044	2,558	506	14	64
Bradford	4,539	835	34	7	---
Brevard	27,755	1,743	8,116	259	1,084
Broward	83,530	8,173	42,436	1,497	3,557
Calhoun	4,697	281	8	---	16
Charlotte	4,612	223	1,148	6	23
Citrus	4,397	452	262	53	42
Clay	6,312	853	350	8	17
Collier	4,609	391	1,107	17	31
Columbia	7,036	1,642	69	62	37
Dade	325,120	23,656	51,257	4,042	3,813
DeSoto	3,785	807	152	147	1
Dixie	2,393	198	5	4	4
Duval	120,228	28,488	7,952	2,178	1,151
Escambia	51,950	8,789	1,590	344	350
Flagler	1,688	50	41	---	3
Franklin	3,195	566	82	5	8
Gadsden	7,035	269	62	86	31
Gilchrist	1,697	49	7	2	1
Glades	919	253	6	---	---
Gulf	3,515	527	18	34	1
Hamilton	2,588	625	11	37	---
Hardee	5,070	295	140	13	17
Hendry	2,750	783	30	9	4
Hernando	4,148	580	307	---	9
Highlands	9,298	1,171	956	33	27
Hillsborough	120,274	14,721	13,427	1,046	801
Holmes	6,548	156	14	1	9
Indian River	7,425	548	2,088	38	188
Jackson	11,819	2,858	81	101	50
Jefferson	2,213	294	12	25	4
Lafayette	1,989	---	6	---	2
Lake	19,436	1,199	3,223	66	5
Lee	17,942	1,478	3,491	106	143
Leon	19,613	5,541	733	252	35
Levy	3,804	315	49	41	13
Liberty	1,943	---	5	---	1
Madison	4,178	1,084	22	40	---
Manatee	20,828	1,499	8,337	155	542
Marion	14,770	3,653	672	154	61
Martin	6,271	690	921	12	6
Monroe	13,468	1,939	495	21	104
Nassau	5,679	1,280	63	20	4
Okaloosa	20,331	924	709	9	160
Okeechobee	2,660	417	25	6	---
Orange	61,353	3,445	17,091	472	995
Osceola	7,404	384	1,638	39	135
Palm Beach	69,336	8,159	21,828	901	1,120
Pasco	13,817	888	3,044	7	90
Pinellas	92,768	4,501	85,636	1,162	4,998
Polk	59,234	6,224	8,326	514	530
Putnam	9,240	1,665	351	145	20
St. Johns	9,862	1,704	704	183	52
St. Lucie	12,179	2,218	1,882	106	131
Santa Rosa	10,627	684	352	12	96

(OVER)

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS WHITE	DEMOCRATS COLORED	REPUBLICANS WHITE	REPUBLICANS COLORED	OTHERS
Sarasota	15,598	717	16,010	220	545
Seminole	12,467	2,112	2,111	134	272
Sumter	4,887	674	156	15	15
Suwannee	6,170	470	3	45	10
Taylor	5,049	72	22	5	6
Union	1,838	5	3	1	---
Volusia	43,430	5,468	11,116	390	505
Wakulla	2,288	404	14	13	7
Walton	7,366	781	70	18	9
Washington	5,977	862	39	8	7
TOTAL	1,488,557	167,466	322,726	15,614	22,223

GRAND TOTAL---------- 2,016,586

TOTAL NUMBER OF PRECINCTS IN EACH COUNTY

Alachua	30	Hamilton	12	Okeechobee	6
Baker	7	Hardee	11	Orange	58
Bay	59	Hendry	10	Osceola	14
Bradford	8	Hernando	14	Palm Beach	47
Brevard	36	Highlands	17	Pasco	28
Broward	102	Hillsborough	101	Pinellas	114
Calhoun	14	Holmes	23	Polk	47
Charlotte	9	Indian River	11	Putnam	27
Citrus	17	Jackson	32	St. Johns	42
Clay	11	Jefferson	11	St. Lucie	15
Collier	14	Lafayette	5	Santa Rosa	21
Columbia	19	Lake	37	Sarasota	24
Dade	210	Lee	27	Seminole	16
DeSoto	15	Leon	11	Sumter	12
Dixie	12	Levy	16	Suwannee	24
Duval	131	Liberty	6	Taylor	17
Escambia	97	Madison	15	Union	5
Flagler	8	Manatee	32	Volusia	67
Franklin	6	Marion	30	Wakulla	13
Gadsden	15	Martin	13	Walton	33
Gilchrist	7	Monroe	19	Washington	10
Glades	7	Nassau	12
Gulf	10	Okaloosa	20

TOTAL--------- 1969

Compiled by
R. A. Gray
Secretary of State
October 24, 1960

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
APRIL 7, 1962

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	GRAND TOTAL	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	21,169	2,931	24,100	1,524	358	1,882	221	26,203	31
Baker	3,174	494	3,668	2	4	6	---	3,674	7
Bay	22,167	3,161	25,328	514	16	530	65	25,923	59
Bradford	4,519	841	5,360	22	8	30	---	5,390	8
Brevard	28,358	1,721	30,079	8,654	250	8,904	971	39,954	37
Broward	90,637	9,849	100,486	45,436	1,612	47,048	3,792	151,326	130
Calhoun	4,293	366	4,659	9	---	9	11	4,679	15
Charlotte	5,474	280	5,754	1,886	12	1,898	94	7,746	14
Citrus	4,574	432	5,006	252	36	288	33	5,327	17
Clay	6,519	782	7,301	365	16	381	19	7,701	12
Collier	4,632	345	4,977	1,223	14	1,237	35	6,249	14
Columbia	7,353	1,681	9,034	82	58	140	29	9,203	19
Dade	314,744	26,716	341,460	48,864	3,803	52,667	3,701	397,828	211
DeSoto	3,849	631	4,480	151	101	252	1	4,733	15
Dixie	2,508	182	2,690	11	2	13	6	2,709	12
Duval	107,313	25,379	132,692	6,303	1,495	7,798	816	141,306	146
Escambia	51,471	8,911	60,382	1,573	290	1,863	309	62,554	105
Flagler	1,685	132	1,817	33	1	34	7	1,858	8
Franklin	3,196	528	3,724	68	4	72	5	3,801	7
Gadsden	7,174	287	7,461	61	86	147	30	7,638	15
Gilchrist	1,658	55	1,713	2	2	4	4	1,721	7
Glades	939	237	1,176	8	---	8	---	1,184	7
Gulf	3,517	472	3,989	17	31	48	---	4,037	11
Hamilton	2,526	672	3,198	14	29	43	6	3,247	12
Hardee	5,138	292	5,430	152	142	294	12	5,736	11
Hendry	3,008	790	3,798	47	9	56	4	3,858	10
Hernando	4,376	557	4,933	414	3	417	20	5,370	14
Highlands	8,682	1,047	9,729	951	32	983	38	10,750	16
Hillsborough	115,490	15,256	130,746	12,477	919	13,396	718	144,860	104
Holmes	6,639	139	6,778	21	1	22	10	6,810	23
Indian River	7,237	611	7,848	2,256	55	2,311	238	10,397	15
Jackson	11,839	2,788	14,627	90	97	187	30	14,844	32
Jefferson	2,266	290	2,556	8	25	33	2	2,591	11
Lafayette	1,842	---	1,842	7	---	7	2	1,851	5
Lake	17,216	1,267	18,483	3,821	77	3,898	146	22,527	37
Lee	21,503	1,704	23,207	4,689	117	4,806	169	28,182	29
Leon	18,001	4,713	22,714	572	193	765	32	23,511	11
Levy	3,802	315	4,117	34	47	81	10	4,208	16
Liberty	1,965	---	1,965	2	---	2	1	1,968	6
Madison	4,336	1,013	5,349	26	66	92	---	5,441	15
Manatee	20,840	1,399	22,239	9,638	147	9,785	510	32,534	35
Marion	15,046	3,627	18,673	806	122	928	66	19,667	30
Martin	6,225	701	6,926	1,239	20	1,259	8	8,193	14
Monroe	15,193	2,173	17,366	537	19	556	132	18,054	20
Nassau	5,531	1,188	6,719	59	16	75	4	6,798	12
Okaloosa	20,337	872	21,209	683	9	692	148	22,049	26
Okeechobee	2,444	313	2,757	24	4	28	3	2,788	6
Orange	60,985	3,841	64,826	18,409	487	18,896	950	84,672	90
Osceola	7,405	413	7,818	1,813	38	1,851	128	9,797	14
Palm Beach	60,802	7,607	68,409	20,212	1,027	21,239	1,386	91,034	80
Pasco	13,278	728	14,006	3,567	7	3,574	161	17,741	29
Pinellas	94,258	4,845	99,103	87,882	1,164	89,046	4,863	193,012	147
Polk	57,024	5,685	62,709	8,181	428	8,609	517	71,835	47
Putnam	8,327	1,409	9,736	318	113	431	18	10,185	27
St. Johns	9,382	1,674	11,056	650	189	839	31	11,926	28
St. Lucie	11,801	1,786	13,587	1,980	97	2,077	148	15,812	16
Santa Rosa	10,948	615	11,563	243	10	253	98	11,914	22
Sarasota	15,628	759	16,387	16,904	214	17,118	571	34,076	26
Seminole	11,065	1,813	12,878	1,909	88	1,997	208	15,083	23
Sumter	4,752	685	5,437	94	41	135	15	5,587	12
Suwannee	6,674	555	7,229	43	59	102	12	7,343	24
Taylor	5,263	204	5,467	14	6	20	3	5,490	17
Union	1,975	6	1,981	3	---	3	4	1,988	5
Volusia	41,785	5,072	46,857	11,125	323	11,448	499	58,804	74
Wakulla	2,205	468	2,673	14	9	23	5	2,701	13
Walton	7,479	777	8,256	52	13	65	10	8,331	33
Washington	5,177	710	5,887	37	3	40	5	5,932	14
Total	1,458,618	167,792	1,626,410	329,077	14,664	343,741	22,090		2,158

Grand Total---------- 1,992,241

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
April 19, 1962

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA
OCTOBER 6, 1962

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	Grand	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total		Total
Alachua	20,185	2,951	23,136	1,336	265	1,601	225	24,962	31
Baker	3,191	491	3,682	2	3	5	---	3,687	7
Bay	22,281	3,200	25,481	534	16	550	69	26,100	59
Bradford	4,571	855	5,426	24	8	32	---	5,458	8
Brevard	29,958	1,838	31,796	9,401	262	9,663	1,010	42,469	37
Broward	93,475	10,670	104,145	47,537	1,642	49,179	4,024	157,348	130
Calhoun	4,292	365	4,657	8	---	8	9	4,674	15
Charlotte	5,907	276	6,183	2,252	13	2,265	119	8,567	14
Citrus	4,756	351	5,107	279	34	313	51	5,471	17
Clay	6,608	850	7,458	357	15	372	15	7,845	12
Collier	4,808	350	5,158	1,316	13	1,329	37	6,524	14
Columbia	7,378	1,682	9,060	83	58	141	29	9,230	19
Dade	322,101	28,177	350,278	50,653	3,975	54,628	3,996	408,902	211
DeSoto	3,888	649	4,537	142	95	237	1	4,775	15
Dixie	2,508	182	2,690	15	2	17	6	2,713	12
Duval	111,787	26,455	138,242	6,682	1,533	8,215	912	147,369	146
Escambia	52,012	9,091	61,103	1,640	319	1,959	306	63,368	105
Flagler	1,707	172	1,879	33	1	34	5	1,918	8
Franklin	3,190	515	3,705	63	5	68	4	3,777	7
Gadsden	7,182	290	7,472	62	86	148	28	7,648	15
Gilchrist	1,624	60	1,684	8	2	10	2	1,696	7
Glades	906	236	1,142	8	---	8	---	1,150	7
Gulf	3,510	593	4,103	13	29	42	---	4,145	11
Hamilton	2,516	672	3,188	14	29	43	6	3,237	12
Hardee	5,001	291	5,292	158	13	171	14	5,477	11
Hendry	2,834	706	3,540	48	8	56	2	3,598	10
Hernando	4,444	569	5,013	450	3	453	26	5,492	14
Highlands	8,886	1,116	10,002	979	35	1,014	42	11,058	16
Hillsborough	117,410	15,719	133,129	12,921	839	13,760	751	147,640	104
Holmes	6,596	135	6,731	19	1	20	8	6,759	23
Indian River	7,457	801	8,258	2,410	72	2,482	220	10,960	15
Jackson	11,851	2,785	14,636	90	98	188	31	14,855	32
Jefferson	2,283	305	2,588	8	25	33	2	2,623	11
Lafayette	1,846	---	1,846	6	---	6	3	1,855	5
Lake	17,464	1,344	18,808	4,066	84	4,150	149	23,107	37
Lee	22,070	1,716	23,786	4,965	119	5,084	174	29,044	29
Leon	18,503	4,850	23,353	523	199	722	51	24,126	11
Levy	3,790	368	4,158	50	46	96	12	4,266	16
Liberty	1,963	---	1,963	4	---	4	1	1,968	6
Madison	4,281	1,097	5,378	25	50	75	---	5,453	15
Manatee	21,361	1,434	22,795	10,131	148	10,279	533	33,607	35
Marion	15,295	3,646	18,941	899	129	1,028	78	20,047	30
Martin	6,488	750	7,238	1,310	28	1,338	12	8,588	14
Monroe	15,565	2,206	17,771	597	21	618	134	18,523	20
Nassau	5,349	1,275	6,624	53	19	72	3	6,699	12
Okaloosa	20,337	871	21,208	683	9	692	149	22,049	26
Okeechobee	2,522	325	2,847	28	3	31	3	2,881	6
Orange	62,175	5,991	68,166	19,454	685	20,139	1,018	89,323	90
Osceola	7,432	411	7,843	1,849	37	1,886	135	9,864	14
Palm Beach	64,259	7,893	72,152	23,332	979	24,311	1,684	98,147	80
Pasco	14,449	834	15,283	3,788	14	3,802	141	19,226	29
Pinellas	96,425	5,108	101,533	90,672	1,159	91,831	5,092	198,456	147
Polk	57,176	5,710	62,886	8,285	434	8,719	529	72,134	47
Putnam	8,268	1,400	9,668	327	113	440	19	10,127	27
St. Johns	9,220	1,656	10,876	683	154	837	59	11,772	28
St. Lucie	12,275	2,045	14,320	2,097	118	2,215	159	16,694	16
Santa Rosa	11,012	646	11,658	241	9	250	100	12,008	22
Sarasota	16,489	830	17,319	17,940	223	18,163	629	36,111	26
Seminole	11,544	1,903	13,447	2,092	100	2,192	233	15,872	23
Sumter	4,778	702	5,480	98	41	139	15	5,634	12
Suwannee	7,283	589	7,872	42	58	100	19	7,991	24
Taylor	5,315	650	5,965	10	---	10	2	5,977	17
Union	1,982	4	1,986	4	1	5	2	1,993	5
Volusia	42,455	5,209	47,664	11,520	337	11,857	545	60,066	74
Wakulla	2,215	475	2,690	15	10	25	5	2,720	13
Walton	7,486	777	8,263	57	14	71	9	8,343	33
Washington	5,211	707	5,918	40	3	43	7	5,968	14
Total	1,491,386	176,820	1,668,206	345,431	14,843	360,274	23,654		2,158

Grand Total---------- 2,052,134

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
October 17, 1962

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

APRIL 4, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	20,017	4,168	24,185	1,517	253	1,770	302	26,257	32
Baker	3,436	567	4,003	3	2	5	---	4,008	7
Bay	21,208	3,461	24,669	426	12	438	63	25,170	41
Bradford	4,676	765	5,441	38	7	45	---	5,486	17
Brevard	37,386	2,269	39,655	12,591	301	12,892	1,219	53,766	49
Broward	100,350	11,787	112,137	52,825	1,643	54,468	4,428	171,033	136
Calhoun	4,597	440	5,037	9	---	9	9	5,055	12
Charlotte	6,617	285	6,902	3,035	9	3,044	191	10,137	14
Citrus	5,261	516	5,777	337	32	369	76	6,222	17
Clay	7,657	1,000	8,657	427	8	435	27	9,119	12
Collier	5,438	465	5,903	1,532	24	1,556	44	7,503	16
Columbia	8,439	2,258	10,697	113	51	164	48	10,909	19
Dade	330,127	37,822	367,949	53,177	3,812	56,989	4,126	429,064	238
DeSoto	3,990	596	4,586	133	44	177	---	4,763	15
Dixie	2,849	373	3,222	12	2	14	7	3,243	12
Duval	121,598	35,356	156,954	8,687	1,616	10,303	1,298	168,555	148
Escambia	52,299	10,813	63,112	1,852	262	2,114	275	65,501	105
Flagler	1,820	293	2,113	40	1	41	3	2,157	8
Franklin	3,442	579	4,021	68	6	74	9	4,104	7
Gadsden	7,920	1,325	9,245	95	100	195	19	9,459	15
Gilchrist	1,714	95	1,809	7	2	9	14	1,832	9
Glades	1,137	287	1,424	5	---	5	---	1,429	7
Gulf	4,049	712	4,761	14	25	39	---	4,800	11
Hamilton	2,719	1,035	3,754	10	21	31	5	3,790	12
Hardee	5,498	338	5,836	137	10	147	11	5,994	11
Hendry	3,429	783	4,212	70	11	81	5	4,298	10
Hernando	4,825	666	5,491	562	13	575	43	6,109	14
Highlands	9,465	1,295	10,760	1,126	57	1,183	69	12,012	15
Hillsborough	132,231	18,048	150,279	15,039	828	15,867	943	167,089	104
Holmes	6,496	184	6,680	15	1	16	7	6,703	23
Indian River	7,951	1,209	9,160	2,721	83	2,804	238	12,202	17
Jackson	11,427	3,302	14,729	91	80	171	35	14,935	32
Jefferson	2,437	619	3,056	6	19	25	2	3,083	11
Lafayette	1,887	---	1,887	2	---	2	3	1,892	5
Lake	18,234	1,857	20,091	4,738	91	4,829	182	25,102	37
Lee	20,294	1,197	21,491	5,685	73	5,758	138	27,387	31
Leon	20,026	6,145	26,171	757	189	946	133	27,250	15
Levy	4,771	495	5,266	86	48	134	15	5,415	16
Liberty	2,100	---	2,100	4	---	4	2	2,106	6
Madison	4,601	1,544	6,145	31	58	89	---	6,234	15
Manatee	21,019	2,257	23,276	10,677	187	10,864	545	34,685	35
Marion	16,846	6,177	23,023	1,369	200	1,569	136	24,728	30
Martin	7,163	1,043	8,206	1,589	19	1,608	34	9,848	15
Monroe	15,529	2,172	17,701	393	17	410	79	18,190	21
Nassau	5,966	1,459	7,425	73	15	88	4	7,517	12
Okaloosa	22,727	1,131	23,858	607	7	614	162	24,634	26
Okeechobee	3,039	392	3,431	24	2	26	2	3,459	6
Orange	67,005	7,673	74,678	22,577	708	23,285	1,004	98,967	95
Osceola	7,806	470	8,276	2,030	38	2,068	119	10,463	14
Palm Beach	70,024	9,951	79,975	29,099	1,084	30,183	2,154	112,312	82
Pasco	16,268	1,035	17,303	4,552	17	4,569	180	22,052	29
Pinellas	96,026	7,128	103,154	93,108	1,334	94,442	4,596	202,192	157
Polk	59,075	8,509	67,584	8,287	501	8,788	497	76,869	91
Putnam	8,678	1,625	10,303	376	97	473	26	10,802	27
St. Johns	10,044	2,171	12,215	875	158	1,033	49	13,297	28
St. Lucie	11,558	2,218	13,776	2,233	120	2,353	181	16,310	17
Santa Rosa	12,022	779	12,801	300	10	310	86	13,197	22
Sarasota	16,816	953	17,769	19,804	208	20,012	726	38,507	26
Seminole	13,226	2,291	15,517	2,791	86	2,877	214	18,608	23
Sumter	5,070	865	5,935	98	24	122	16	6,073	12
Suwannee	6,921	984	7,905	49	62	111	10	8,026	23
Taylor	5,897	876	6,773	14	---	14	1	6,788	17
Union	2,251	127	2,378	3	1	4	5	2,387	8
Volusia	44,970	6,087	51,057	12,731	341	13,072	659	64,788	82
Wakulla	2,552	540	3,092	51	12	63	10	3,165	13
Walton	7,981	811	8,792	69	9	78	13	8,883	33
Washington	5,771	889	6,660	29	3	32	14	6,706	14
Total	1,576,668	225,562	1,802,230	381,831	15,054	396,885	25,511		2,279

Grand Total---------- 2,224,626

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
April 20, 1964

9/21/64 recorded

SPECIAL REPORT

Hugh T. Love

RE: Political Action August, 1964

Lake City, Columbia County, Florida, a northeast Florida town located about 60 miles southwest of Jacksonville. It has a population of about 13,600 people of which approximately 26 or 30% are Negroes. Unlike most cities and towns in the state of Florida, Lake City and Columbia County thrive on farming, and not tourist trade. Tobacco is the principle crop.

Employment for Negroes in this area is one of the greatest plights of the Negro. Skilled and unskilled labor is practically non-existent. Common labor includes pulp wooding, farming (in season) and domestic work. Governmental employment represents the most achieved area of employment for the Negro. Aerospace, government supported, employs the lesser percentage of Negro labor, while the V.A. Hospital employs the greatest percentage of Negro labor in governmental employment.

Public employment opportunities for Negroes are few. Negroes are employed only in the Sanitation and Police Dept. No elective or appointive positions are held by Negroes.

The housing conditions for Negroes in Lake City and Columbia County can be rated as substandard. This is not in terms of Negro dwellings in other cities and towns, but rather in relation to what is generally accepted as decent living conditions, regardless to race. The greatest percentage of the houses occupied by Negroes in this area are quite insufficient in providing ample conveniences and living area for the family.

4-26

Fla - Reg.
(gen files)

Office of the
Secretary of State
State of Florida

SEP 29 19

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE

Tallahassee
32304

September 28, 1964

Mrs. Jane Bond Moore
Voter Education Project
Room 206
5 Forsyth Street, Northwest
Atlanta 3, Georgia

Dear Mrs. Moore:

In response to your request we are sending you a copy of the latest list showing the number of registered voters in the State of Florida. Your name is also being placed on the mailing list to receive this information after the books close on October 3.

If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to accord us the privilege.

With every good wish and warmest regards, I remain

Sincerely,

TOM ADAMS
Secretary of State

By Dorothy W. Glisson
(Mrs.) Dorothy W. Glisson
Director, Election Division

DG/jm

Enclosure

1.

Legend: Sec of State, Fla as of Apr 4, '64 + U.S. Census - 1960

WVAP	NVAP	WR	NR
30,555	9,898	21,534	4,423	Alachua
3,203	807	3,439	569	Baker
31,940	4,964	21,634	3473	Bay
5,580	1,345	4,714	772	Bradford
58,433	6,494	49,977	2,570	Brevard
189,517	27,009	153,175	13430	Broward
3,434	582	4606	44	Calhoun
8,659	427	9652	294	Charlotte
5,174	829	5598	548	Citrus
9,508	1,276	8084	1008	Clay
8,163	1,364	6970	489	Collier
8,092	3,122	8552	2309	Columbia
537,448	75,573	383,304	41,634	Dade
6,339	1,343	4,123	640	DeSoto
2,138	363	2861	375	Dixie
203,804	58,430	130,285	36 972	Duval
76,688	18,041	54,151	11075	Escambia
1,789	846	1860	294	Flagler
3,186	779	3510	585	Franklin
11,711	12,961	8015	1425	Gadsden
1,513	154	1721	97	Gilchrist
1,061	741	1142	287	Glades
4,196	1,138	4063	937	Gulf

2.

WVAP	NVAP	WR	NR
2,486	1,621	2729	Hamilton 056
6,734	552	5635	Hardin 348
3,430	1,180	2479	Henry 794
5,689	1,151	5387	Henrietta 679
10,997	2,251	10,591	Highland 1352
213,950	21,114	147270	Hillsboro 18876
6,131	249	6511	Holmes 185
13,182	2,637	10,672	Jr. High 1292
14,087	5,390	11,518	Jackson 3382
2,383	2,600	2443	Jefferson 638
1,536	152	1889	Lafayette 0
30,535	6,438	22,972	Lake 1948
30,363	4,677	25,979	Lee 1270
28,241	12,322	20,783	Lima 6334
4,483	1,568	4857	Lucas 543
1,525	240	2104	Lafayette 0
4,380	3,067	4632	Madison 1575 1602
42,291	5,278	31,696	Marietta 2444
21,001	9,283	18,215	Marion 6377
9,291	1,753	8752	Morton 1062
25,512	2,919	15,922	Monroe 2189
7,054	2,076	6039	Morgan 1474
30,816	2,097	23,334	Muskingum 1138

3

WVAP	NVAP	WR	NR
2,870	533	3,063	Okeech. 394
137,780	21,771	89,582	Orange 8,381
11,697	1,122	9,836	Osceola 508
119,342	29,541	99,123	Palm B. 11,035
22,329	2,391	20,820	Pasco 1,052
255,369	18,121	189,~~244~~ 134	Pinellas 8,462
97,314	19,224	67,362	Polk 9,010
13,095	5,089	9,054	Putnam 1,722
13,771	4,331	10,919	St Johns 2,329
17,238	6,527	13,791	St Lucie 2,338
14,710	1,082	12,322	Santa Rosa 789
49,533	4,125	36,620	Sarasota 1,161
24,372	7,050	16,017	Seminole 2,377
5,396	1,523	5,168	Sumter 889
6,409	2,149	6,970	Suwannee 1,046
5,454	1,724	5,911	Taylor 876
2,880	1,082	2,254	Union 128
74,209	11,615	57,701	Volusia 6,428
2,120	753	2,603	Wakulla 552
7,958	1,086	8,050	Walton 820
5,364	1,021	5,800	Wash. 892
2,617,438	470,261	1,958,499	240,616

REGISTERED VOTERS, STATE OF FLORIDA

APRIL 4, 1964

COUNTY	DEMOCRATS			REPUBLICANS			OTHERS	TOTALS	PRECINCTS
	White	Colored	Total	White	Colored	Total
Alachua	20,017	4,168	24,185	1,517	253	1,770	302	26,257	32
Baker	3,436	567	4,003	3	2	5	---	4,008	7
Bay	21,208	3,461	24,669	426	12	438	63	25,170	41
Bradford	4,676	765	5,441	38	7	45	---	5,486	17
Brevard	37,386	2,269	39,655	12,591	301	12,892	1,219	53,766	49
Broward	100,350	11,787	112,137	52,825	1,643	54,468	4,428	171,033	136
Calhoun	4,597	440	5,037	9	---	9	9	5,055	12
Charlotte	6,617	285	6,902	3,035	9	3,044	191	10,137	14
Citrus	5,261	516	5,777	337	32	369	76	6,222	17
Clay	7,657	1,000	8,657	427	8	435	27	9,119	12
Collier	5,438	465	5,903	1,532	24	1,556	44	7,503	16
Columbia	8,439	2,258	10,697	113	51	164	48	10,909	19
Dade	330,127	37,822	367,949	53,177	3,812	56,989	4,126	429,064	238
DeSoto	3,990	596	4,586	133	44	177	---	4,763	15
Dixie	2,849	373	3,222	12	2	14	7	3,243	12
Duval	121,598	35,356	156,954	8,687	1,616	10,303	1,298	168,555	148
Escambia	52,299	10,813	63,112	1,852	262	2,114	275	65,501	105
Flagler	1,820	293	2,113	40	1	41	3	2,157	8
Franklin	3,442	579	4,021	68	6	74	9	4,104	7
Gadsden	7,920	1,325	9,245	95	100	195	19	9,459	15
Gilchrist	1,714	95	1,809	7	2	9	14	1,832	9
Glades	1,137	287	1,424	5	---	5	---	1,429	7
Gulf	4,049	712	4,761	14	25	39	---	4,800	11
Hamilton	2,719	1,035	3,754	10	21	31	5	3,790	12
Hardee	5,498	338	5,836	137	10	147	11	5,994	11
Hendry	3,429	783	4,212	70	11	81	5	4,298	10
Hernando	4,825	666	5,491	562	13	575	43	6,109	14
Highlands	9,465	1,295	10,760	1,126	57	1,183	69	12,012	15
Hillsborough	132,231	18,048	150,279	15,039	828	15,867	943	167,089	104
Holmes	6,496	184	6,680	15	1	16	7	6,703	23
Indian River	7,951	1,209	9,160	2,721	83	2,804	238	12,202	17
Jackson	11,427	3,302	14,729	91	80	171	35	14,935	32
Jefferson	2,437	619	3,056	6	19	25	2	3,083	11
Lafayette	1,887	---	1,887	2	---	2	3	1,892	5
Lake	18,234	1,857	20,091	4,738	91	4,829	182	25,102	37
Lee	20,294	1,197	21,491	5,685	73	5,758	138	27,387	31
Leon	20,026	6,145	26,171	757	189	946	133	27,250	15
Levy	4,771	495	5,266	86	48	134	15	5,415	16
Liberty	2,100	---	2,100	4	---	4	2	2,106	6
Madison	4,601	1,544	6,145	31	58	89	---	6,234	15
Manatee	21,019	2,257	23,276	10,677	187	10,864	545	34,685	35
Marion	16,846	6,177	23,023	1,369	200	1,569	136	24,728	30
Martin	7,163	1,043	8,206	1,589	19	1,608	34	9,848	15
Monroe	15,529	2,172	17,701	393	17	410	79	18,190	21
Nassau	5,966	1,459	7,425	73	15	88	4	7,517	12
Okaloosa	22,727	1,131	23,858	607	7	614	162	24,634	26
Okeechobee	3,039	392	3,431	24	2	26	2	3,459	6
Orange	67,005	7,673	74,678	22,577	708	23,285	1,004	98,967	95
Osceola	7,806	470	8,276	2,030	38	2,068	119	10,463	14
Palm Beach	70,024	9,951	79,975	29,099	1,084	30,183	2,154	112,312	82
Pasco	16,268	1,035	17,303	4,552	17	4,569	180	22,052	29
Pinellas	96,026	7,128	103,154	93,108	1,334	94,442	4,596	202,192	157
Polk	59,075	8,509	67,584	8,287	501	8,788	497	76,869	91
Putnam	8,678	1,625	10,303	376	97	473	26	10,802	27
St. Johns	10,044	2,171	12,215	875	158	1,033	49	13,297	28
St. Lucie	11,558	2,218	13,776	2,233	120	2,353	181	16,310	17
Santa Rosa	12,022	779	12,801	300	10	310	86	13,197	22
Sarasota	16,816	953	17,769	19,804	208	20,012	726	38,507	26
Seminole	13,226	2,291	15,517	2,791	86	2,877	214	18,608	23
Sumter	5,070	865	5,935	98	24	122	16	6,073	12
Suwannee	6,921	984	7,905	49	62	111	10	8,026	23
Taylor	5,897	876	6,773	14	---	14	1	6,788	17
Union	2,251	127	2,378	3	1	4	5	2,387	8
Volusia	44,970	6,087	51,057	12,731	341	13,072	659	64,788	82
Wakulla	2,552	540	3,092	51	12	63	10	3,165	13
Walton	7,981	811	8,792	69	9	78	13	8,883	33
Washington	5,771	889	6,660	29	3	32	14	6,706	14
Total	1,576,668	225,562	1,802,230	381,831	15,054	396,885	25,511		2,279

Grand Total---------- 2,224,626

Compiled by -
Tom Adams, Secretary of State
April 20, 1964

State Vote Record Is Expected

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 22 (UPI)—A record 1,955,000 voters will go to the polls in Florida Nov. 3 to choose a president, governor and other officials, Secretary of State Tom Adams predicted today.

Adams' forecast of more than 1.9 million voters represents 78 percent of the 2,500,465 Democrats, Republicans and independents eligible to cast ballots in the state.

In 1960, in the Kennedy-Nixon race, 76.5 percent of the registered voters participated in Florida.

"Probably no election in recent history has attracted so much interest and attention in Florida as this year's presidential race" between Lyndon Johnson and Barry Goldwater, said Adams, who is the state's chief election official.

It should produce a record turnout, he said.

Adams added that it is entirely conceivable the final vote will exceed 2 million if the pace of the campaign quickens in the closing days and voter interest is increased further.

"Enthusiasm in both camps is high and a record amount of money is being spent by the two presidential candidates in Florida," he said. Other facts contributing to an anticipated large turnout included heightened interest in the heated race for governor between Haydon Burns and Charles Holley and congressional contests in several areas.

"Candidates in these contests are going all-out to bring voters to the polls," Adams said, "and their teams of supporters seem to be better organized than ever."

Adams, a Democrat, urged everyone to get out and vote.

"Every vote counts," he said, recalling the extremely close statewide contests in the May primary election just past, including the squeaker for attorney general in which incumbent James Kynes was nosed out by Rep. Earl Faircloth of Miami by less than 600 votes.

NOV. 3 ELECTION

Savanah Morning News 10-23-64

Registered Voters Listed by Counties

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Here is the official list by party and by county of the number of those registered in Florida to vote in the Nov. 3 general election:

	DEMOCRATIC		REPUBLICAN
County	White	Negro	White	Negro
Alachua	23,659	6,027	2,261	353
Baker	3,477	574	3	2
Bay	23,172	3,724	837	17
Bradford	4,809	861	50	8
Brevard	44,854	3,484	15,897	346
Broward	110,907	16,348	61,022	1,763
Calhoun	4,625	443	18	0
Charlotte	7,348	311	3,464	5
Citrus	5,785	554	344	20
Clay	8,071	1,023	547	12
Collier	6,031	587	1,777	30
Columbia	8,689	2,562	170	58
Dade	350,797	50,062	58,129	4,033
DeSoto	4,152	734	137	47
Dixie	2,705	358	10	2
Duval	137,770	40,508	12,461	1,827
Escambia	56,984	12,898	2,979	346
Flagler	1,863	368	47	4
Franklin	3,485	611	69	6
Gadsden	8,143	4,304	186	143
Gilchrist	1,777	97	8	1
Glades	1,166	290	7	0
Gulf	4,129	822	24	288
Hamilton	2,742	1,059	10	21
Hardee	5,598	345	150	12
Hendry	3,211	788	76	10
Hernando	4,995	717	632	14
Highlands	9,876	1,590	1,258	71
Hillsborough	142,812	20,483	17,615	1,040
Holmes	6,518	217	17	1
Indian River	8,833	1,484	3,104	93
Jackson	11,819	3,617	143	87
Jefferson	2,500	1,436	8	57
Lafayette	1,852	0	3	0
Lake	20,140	2,513	5,528	107
Lee	22,451	1,665	6,653	89
Leon	23,338	7,130	1,395	251
Levy	4,692	635	90	41
Liberty	1,025	0	6	0
Madison	4,557	2,123	46	78
Manatee	23,083	3,260	11,876	203
Marion	18,249	6,338	1,878	210
Martin	7,815	1,243	1,864	25
Monroe	16,946	2,239	663	8
Nassau	6,134	1,597	118	15
Okaloosa	24,719	1,289	883	12
Okeechobee	3,122	408	39	3
Orange	78,040	10,374	28,033	775
Osceola	8,018	559	2,122	42
Palm Beach	82,296	13,111	35,712	1,144
Pasco	17,419	1,297	4,789	20
Pinellas	107,228	9,557	100,554	1,442
Polk	63,530	9,552	9,725	556
Putnam	9,371	2,175	531	113
St. Johns	10,827	2,814	1,116	171
St. Lucie	12,551	3,860	2,562	150
Santa Rosa	12,748	799	468	11
Sarasota	19,657	1,936	22,699	271
Seminole	15,475	3,696	3,731	122
Sumter	5,296	938	131	33
Suwanee	8,418	1,855	66	87
Taylor	5,729	925	15	0
Union	2,219	138	2	1
Volusia	49,371	7,008	14,413	383
Wakulla	2,571	553	53	12
Walton	8,071	905	57	8
Washington	5,824	899	32	3
Totals	1,726,085	282,678	441,313	16,843

W 2,162,398 N 299,521

33,547 = Ind. or other parties of both races

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	* Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	% N ~~VAP~~ Reg	% W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Source ~~Remarks~~
Alachua	40453	30555	9898	24.5	32300	25920	6380	79.8	19.8	84.8	64.4	Sun Morn. News 10/23/64
* Baker	4010	3203	807	20.1	4056	3480	576	101.2	14.2	108.6	71.4	"
Bay	36904	31940	4964	13.4	27750	24009	3741	75.2	12.5	75.2	75.4	"
Bradford	6925	5580	1345	19.4	5728	4859	869	82.7	15.2	87.1	64.6	"
Brevard	64927	58433	6494	10.0	64572	60241	3531	99.5	6	104	59	"
Broward	216526	189517	27009	12.5	190033	171922	18111	87.8	10	90.7	67	"
* Calhoun	4016	3434	582	14.5	5086	4643	443	126.6	8.7	135.2	76.1	"
* Charlotte	9086	8659	427	4.7	11128	10812	316	122.5	2.0	125	74	"
* Citrus	6003	5174	829	12.8	6703	6129	574	111.7	8.0	118.5	69.2	"
Clay	10784	9508	1276	11.8	9653	8615	1038	89.5	10.7	90.6	81.1	"
Collier	9527	8163	1364	14.3	8425	7808	617	88.4	7.3	95.6	45.2	"
* Columbia	11214	8092	3122	27.8	11479	8859	2620	102.4	22.8	110	84	"
Dade	613021	537448	75573	12.3	463 021	408926	54095	75.5	11.7	76.1	71.6	"
DeSoto	7682	6339	1343	17.5	5070	4289	781	66	15.4	67.7	58.2	"
* Dixie	2501	2138	363	15	3075	2715	360	123	11.7	127	99.2	"
Duval	362234	203804	158430	22.3	194555	152132	42423	74.2	21.8	74.6	72.6	Supt. of Reg. 10/26
Jacksonville	124452	77837	46615	37.4	82144	49700	32444	66	40	63.8	69.6	"
Escambia	94729	76688	18041	19	72207	59963	13244	77.3	18.1	78.2	73.4	Sun Morn. News 10/23/64
* Flagler	2635	1789	846	32.1	2282	1910	372	86.6	16.3	106.8	44	"
* Franklin	3965	3186	777	19.6	4171	3554	617	105.2	19.8	111.5	99.4	"
Gadsden	23972	11711	12261	51.2	12776	8329	4447	53.3	34.8	71.1	36.3	"
* Gilchrist	1667	1513	154	9.0	1883	1785	98	113	5.2	118	63.6	"
* Glades	1802	1061	741	41.1	1463	1173	290	81.2	19.8	110.5	39.1	"
Gulf	5334	4196	1138	21.3	5263	4153	1110	98.7	21.1	99	98	"
* Hamilton	4107	2482	1621	39.5	3832	2752	1080	93.3	28.2	111	66.6	"
Hardee	7286	6734	552	8.0	6105	5748	357	83.8	5.8	85.4	64.7	"
Hendry	4610	3430	1180	25.6	4085	3287	798	88.6	20	95.8	67.6	"
Hernando	6840	5689	1151	16.8	6358	5627	731	93	12	99	64	"

* All Reg, WReg & NReg figures come from Swannah Morn News 10/23/64

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	VAP Reg	%.W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Source ~~Remarks~~
St. Lucie	23165	17238	6527	27.5
Santa Rosa
Sarasota	53658	49533	4125	7.7
Seminole	31422	24372	7050	22.4
Sumter
Suwanee	8558	6409	2149	25.1
Taylor	7178	5454	1724	24.0
Union	3962	2880	1082	27.3
Volusia	85824	74209	11615	13.5
Wakulla
Walton
Washington
Total

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	VAP Reg	%.W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Source ~~Remarks~~
Highlands	13348	10997	2251	17.0		11134	1661
Hillsborough	94506	71380	31114	12.7		160427	2523
Holmes	6380	6131	249			6535	218
Indian River	15819	13182	2637	16.7		11937	1577
Jackson	19477	14087	5390			11962	3704
Jefferson	4983	2383	2600			2508	1493
Lafayette	1688	1436	152		1852	1852	0
Lake	36963	30525	6438	17.4		25668	2620
Lee	35040	30363	4677	13.3		29104	1754
Leon	40563	28241	12322	30.4		24733	7381
Levy	6051	4483	1589	25.9		4782	676
Liberty	1765	1525	240		1025	1025	0
Madison	7447	4380	3067	41.2		4603	2201
Manatee	47569	42291	5278	11.1		34959	3463
Marion	30384	21001	9283	30.6		20127	6548
Martin	11044	9291	1753	15.9		9679	1268
Monroe	28431	25512	2919			17609	2247
Nassau	9130	7054	2076			6252	1612
Okaloosa	32913	30816	2097	6.4		25602	1301
Okeechobee	3403	2870	533			3161	411
Orange	159551	137780	21771	13.6		106073	11149
Osceola	12819	11697	1122			16140	601
Palm Beach	148883	119342	29541	19.8		118608	14255
Pasco	24720	22329	2391	9.7		22208	1317
Pinellas	273490	255369	18121	6.6		207782	10999
Polk	116538	97314	19224	16.5		73255	10108
Putnam	18184	13095	5089	28.0		9902	2288
St. Johns	18102	13771	4331	23.9		11943	2985

October 26, 1964

Mr. Louis Martin
Deputy Chairman
Democratic National Committee
1730 K Street, N. W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Dear Louis:

We are all very excited over the final registration results in Florida, where the books closed on October 3.

Negro registration in Florida is now 299,960, an increase of 59,344 since the report of April 1, which I previously furnished you with. On April 1, 51.6% of all Negroes of voting age (1960 Census) were registered in Florida, and it has now reached 63.7%.

I am enclosing a couple of news articles which you might find of interest, together with a list showing the registration by county.

Kind personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:js
Encls. 2

1964

State of Florida

Election Data

TOM ADAMS, SECRETARY OF STATE

OFFICES TO BE FILLED IN THE 1964 GENERAL ELECTION

United States Senator

12 Representatives in Congress (1 from each Congressional District)

2 Justices of the Supreme Court

Judges of the District Courts of Appeal (1 Judge in First District, 2 in second and 2 in third)

Circuit Judges (where vacancy has occurred since 1962 general election)

Governor

Secretary of State

Attorney General

Comptroller

State Treasurer

State Superintendent of Public Instruction

Commissioner of Agriculture

1 Member, Railroad and Public Utilities Commission

State Attorneys (one in each of the 16 Judicial Circuits)

Public Defenders (one in each of the 16 Judicial Circuits)

State Senators (odd numbered districts)

Members of the House of Representatives

National Committeeman and Committeewoman (Democratic and Republican) elected in the second primary election.

Delegates to the National Convention (Democratic and Republican) elected in the second primary election.

County offices to be filled are not the same in each county.

Each County, however, will elect the following:

County Judge

Clerk of the Circuit Court

Sheriff

Tax Assessor

Tax Collector

Superintendent of Public Instruction

Supervisor of Registration

County Surveyor

County Commissioners — Districts 1, 3 and 5
School Board — Districts 2 and 4

Justices of the Peace

Constables

Some counties will elect a Judge of the Small Claims Court, Prosecuting Attorney; Judge, Solicitor, Clerk of the Criminal Court of Record, Civil Court of Record, Court of Record; Members of Mosquito Control Boards, Fire Control Boards, Civil Service Boards and various other boards and commissions.

ELECTION DATES — 1964

First Primary	May 5, 1964
Second Primary	May 26, 1964
General Election	November 3, 1964

DATES FOR CANDIDATES TO QUALIFY

Candidates for the offices of United States Senator, Representatives in Congress, Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the District Courts of Appeal, Circuit Judges, Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Comptroller, State Treasurer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Commissioner of Agriculture, Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner, State Attorney, Public Defenders, State Senators, Members of the House of Representatives, National Committeeman and Committeewoman and Delegates to the National Conventions are required to qualify with the Secretary of State at any time after Noon February 18, 1964 but not later than Noon March 3, 1964.

Candidates for a County Office are required to qualify with the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County at any time after Noon March 3, 1964 but not later than Noon March 17, 1964.

DATES REGISTRATION BOOKS CLOSE

All registration books close on the thirtieth day preceding the day on which there is a primary or general election and remain closed five days following the election.

Registration Books close April 4, 1964 for the primaries and open again on June 1, 1964. Registration books close October 3, 1964 for the general elcetion and open again on November 9, 1964.

REQUIREMENTS TO REGISTER

Section 97.031 F.S. No person whose name is not on the registration books is permitted to vote any primary or election.

Section 97.041 F.S. Any person twenty-one years of age or any person who will attain age twenty-one prior to the next succeeding primary or general election, upon proof of his birth date who is a citizen of the United States, a permanent resident living in Florida for one year and residing in the county where he wishes to register for six months, is eligible to register with the Supervisor when the registration books are open; provided however, that a person who has not attained the age of twenty-one years at the time the registration books close, but who will attain such age prior to the next succeeding primary or general election may not register sooner than thirty days prior to the closing of the registration books next preceding his twenty-first birthday. Naturalized citizens must present to the registration officer a certificate of naturalization or certified copy thereof. The following persons are not entitled to vote:

1. Persons not registered; 2. Persons under guardianship or confined in any state prison; 3. Persons insane or idiotic; 4. Persons convicted of any felony by any court of record and whose civil rights have not been restored; 5. Persons convicted of bribery, perjury, larceny or any infamous crime in this or other states, or interested in any wager depending on the result of any election; 6. Persons not registered to vote in the precinct in which they have their permanent place of residence.

Section 97.062 F.S. Any citizen of Florida under the age of twenty-one, about to enlist or be inducted into the armed services or who is already in the armed services may pre-register for voting. (Form P & G 200-363)

Section 97.121 F.S. A person in military service is exempt from any law requiring re-registration as a pre requisite to voting if he has been previously registered without having had his name removed from the registration lists before entering military service. (The Supervisor of Registration may require reasonable proof of military service as grounds for exemption).

Section 97.131 F.S. Anyone holding a position with the United States Government or in military service who is unable to re-register when the registration books are open may have his name placed on the new registration lists by forwarding to the Supervisor of Registration of his county of legal residence an affidavit stating the above conditions and an affirmation that the applicant is still a qualified elector under the Florida Law. (Form P & G 200-364). This form will be furnished by the Supervisor of Registration upon request.

Section 101.694 F.S. Upon receipt of a duly executed federal post card application as provided for by Section 101.693 F.S. from members of the armed forces and their spouses living outside the territorial limits of Florida who have never registered, the Supervisor of Registration shall send an application for absentee registration. This provides for absentee registration of electors who are members of the armed forces and their spouses living outside the territorial limits of the State.

ABSENTEE VOTING

Section 101.61 F.S. Defines an absentee elector as a registered and qualified elector who is physically unable without another's assistance to go to the polls, or who on account of the tenents, of his religion cannot attend the polls or one who will not be in the county of his residence during the hours the polls are open for voting on the day of any general, special or primary election.

Section 101.62 F.S. An absentee elector may apply to the Supervisor of Registration for an official ballot at any time during the 45 days preceding any election, but not later than 5:00 P.M. on the 5th day preceding such election. Application for the ballot may be made on a form furnished by the Supervisor of Registration. Instructions as to how an absentee ballot shall be marked are prescribed by law and are sent to the absent elector with the ballot. The ballot must be mailed or delivered in person so that it will reach the Supervisor of Registration not later than 5:00 P.M. in the afternoon of the day preceding a primary or general election. Envelopes with instructions on back and other forms are furnished by the Supervisor of Registration.

Section 101.69 F.S. An absentee elector who has not voted the absentee ballot and who returns the ballot to the Supervisor of Registration, may cast his vote in person, should the circumstances allow him to go to the polls.

Section 101.691 F.S. Members of the armed forces while in active service, Service Academy Cadets, members of the Merchant Marine of the United States, civilian employees of the United States, members of Religious Groups or Welfare Agencies assisting members of the armed forces who are officially attached to and serving with the armed forces and their spouses and dependents are entitled to cast an absentee ballot provided they are otherwise eligible to vote.

Section 101.692 F.S. Upon receipt of the federal post card application the Supervisor of Registration may send to the applicant in the same envelope containing the absentee ballot, a blank form to permit the reinstatement of his registration where he had previously registered and his registration has lapsed because of failure to re-register or because of his failure to return a notice mailed by the Supervisor in compliance with the provisions of the permanent registration system. (This section relates to Armed services and federal personnel absentee voting.)

Section 101.693 F.S. The federal post card application, as provided for by any federal law, shall be accepted as an application for absentee ballot when executed by residents of Florida who are otherwise entitled to vote who are Members of the armed forces and their spouses living outside the territorial limits of the State. The Federal post card application shall also be accepted as an application for absentee registration when duly executed by residents of Florida who are otherwise entitled to vote who are members of the armed forces and their spouses living outside the territorial limits of the State. The federal post card application shall also be accepted as an application for an absentee ballot when duly executed by any one of the persons covered in Section 101.691 F.S.

VOTING AT THE POLLS

Where voting machines are used the elector desiring to vote is required to identify himself to the clerk and inspectors of the election by signing his signature in ink or indelible pencil to an identification blank. Before entering the voting machine the elector is required to deliver his identification slip to the clerk or inspector operating the machine. The elector is then admitted to the voting machine compartment where he is allowed five minutes to vote.

Where hand ballots are used, before any ballot is delivered to an elector, one of the inspectors is required to affix his initials on the line provided on each of the two stubs and the elector shall sign his name on the line on the top stub. After the inspector determines that the elector is entitled to vote he detaches and retains the upper stub. The elector shall then go to the booth and mark his ballot. After he has marked his ballot, he shall fold it so as to leave the stub visible so that it can be detached without unfolding the ballot. The inspector compares this stub with the stub he retained and if it is the ballot he delivered to the elector, he will detach and retain the remaining stub and the elector then deposits the folded ballot in the ballot box. The elector is allowed five minutes for voting.

Any elector who may by mistake spoil a ballot may return it to the inspectors and obtain another.

If an elector needs assistance in any election he may present a special registration crtificate (if he has been issued one under the provisions of Section 97.061 F.S.) or submit to an examination required by Section 101.051 or 101.48 F.S., and request assistance of two inspectors of his choice or some other person of his choice who has not previously so acted for any other person during the election.

Constitutional Amendments

Subject To The November 3 General Election

DISTRIBUTED BY

TOM ADAMS
SECRETARY OF STATE
TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Following is a brief summary of the proposed amendments to the Florida Constitution to be voted on by the people in the November 3 General Election. The amendments will be placed on the ballot in the order listed.

AMENDMENT #1–
LEGISLATIVE REAPPORTIONMENT

gives constitutional sanction to the existing apportionment formula of the Florida Legislature. It provides for creation of forty-two Senatorial districts on the basis of economic affinity, geographic area and population. There would be a total of forty-three Senators, one from each district with the most populous county having two Senators.

The House of Representatives would be composed of 112 members. Each of the 67 counties would have at least one representative with the remaining 45 representatives assigned to the larger counties in proportion to their population. This amendment provides for reapportionment of the Legislature in 1971 and every ten years thereafter.

In view of recent United States Supreme Court decisions on apportionment, there are indications that this amendment may be declared unconstitutional and removed from the ballot.

AMENDMENT #2–
BOARD OF REGENTS

allows the Legislature to establish nine-year terms of office for the members of the board which oversees state colleges and universities (Board of Regents). The present Constitutional provision prohibits the creation of any office having a term of membership longer than four years.

AMENDMENT #3–
SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION BONDS

extends to the year 2,000 the bond program providing funds for public school construction. The amendment would continue the present method of repaying the bonds through revenues derived from the licensing of motor vehicles. It increases the maximum bond interest rate from 4% to 4½% and provides an additional method of determining instruction units for the purpose of distributing the fund.

AMENDMENT #4–
STATE SCHOOL FUND

provides that the principal as well as the interest of the State School Fund may be used for construction of public schools, including junior colleges and universities. The Constitution now permits only the interest from the Fund to be distributed.

AMENDMENT #5–

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS

permits a local option election in certain counties as to whether the County Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be elected by popular vote or appointed by the County Board of Public Instruction. Counties involved are Escambia, Lake, Martin, Okeechobee, Palm Beach, Putnam and Seminole.

AMENDMENT #6–

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT, TAYLOR COUNTY

permits a local option election in Taylor County only as to whether the County Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be elected by popular vote or whether he shall be appointed by the County Board of Public Instruction.

AMENDMENT #7–

EMERGENCY SUCCESSION OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS

gives the Legislature authority to provide for a line of succession for public officers to insure continuity of governmental operations in periods of emergency resulting from enemy attack. It further authorizes the Legislature to fill vacancies in office as a result of enemy attack. This amendment would permit the moving of the State Capitol from Tallahassee to a safer location in such emergencies.

AMENDMENT #8–

DUTIES OF COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

deletes reference to the Commissioner of Agriculture's supervision over matters pertaining to public lands and the Bureau of Immigration. The amendment removes from the Constitution reference to matte·s over which the Commissioner of Agriculture no longer exercises responsibility.

AMENDMENT #9–

CIVIL JURY TRIALS, DADE COUNTY

allows civil jury trials in branch courthouses in Dade County. The amendment modifies the requirement that all county offices be in the county seat. It does require, however, that the principal office of the clerks or other officers be maintained in the county seat.

AMENDMENT #10–

JUDICIAL CIRCUITS

increases from 16 to 20 the maximum number of judicial circuits that may be established by the Legislature. It requires that each judicial circuit be composed of a county or contiguous counties having not less than fifty thousand inhabitants except that Monroe County may constitute one circuit irrespective of population. It further provides that there shall be no reduction in the number of circuit judges residing in any county as a result of any future changes in a judicial circuit.

AMENDMENT #11–

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

provides that either branch of the Legislature may propose a revision of all or part of the State Constitution subject to approval of the people. Under existing law, the Legislature cannot itself draft a revision of the entire Constitution but rather must leave the details up to a Constitutional Convention which does not submit its revision to the people.

AMENDMENT #12–

EXTENSION OF GAS TAX FOR ROADS

extends to the year 2018 the allocation of the two cents "Second Gas Tax" to the State Road Distribution Trust Fund. Presently this money, derived from sale of gasoline, is earmarked through the year 1993.

AMENDMENT #13–

SARASOTA COUNTY HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

provides that the first $2,000 of the assessed valuation of tax exempt homestead property in Sarasota County shall be taxable for school purposes only and that the next $5,000 of assessed valuation (from $2,000 to $7,000) shall be exempt from taxation for school purposes. The amendment does not seek to change the $5,000 Homestead Exemption from taxation for other than school purposes.

FLORIDA POPULATION AND REGISTRATION STATISTICS BY RACE

(Northern District)

County	Whites of Vot. Age.	Reg.	Negroes of Vot. Age	Reg.
Alachua	30,555	20,978	9,898	2,886
Bay	31,940	21,450	4,964	2,572
Calhoun	3,434	4,700	582	281
Dixie	2,138	2,398	363	202
Escambia	76,688	53,540	18,041	9,133
Franklin	3,186	3,277	779	571
Gadsden	11,711	7,097	12,261	355
Gilchrist	1,513	1,704	154	51
Gulf	4,196	3,533	1,138	561
Holmes	6,131	6,562	249	157
Jackson	14,087	11,900	5,390	2,959
Jefferson	2,383	2,230	2,600	329
Lafayette	1,536	1,995	152	0
Leon	28,241	20,346	12,322	5,793
Levy	4,483	3,853	1,568	356
Liberty	1,525	1,948	240	0
Okaloosa	30,816	21,040	2,097	933
Santa Rosa	14,710	10,979	1,082	696
Taylor	5,454	5,071	1,724	77
Wakulla	2,120	2,302	753	417
Walton	7,958	7,436	1,086	799
Washington	5,364	6,016	1,021	840

{Compiled report under Rule 1 complete set}

FLORIDA POPULATION AND REGISTRATION STATISTICS BY RACE

(Southern District)

County	Whites of Vot. Age	Reg.	Negroes of Vot. Age	Reg.
Brevard	58,433	35,921	6,494	2,002
Collier	8,163	5,716	1,364	408
Dade	537,448	376,377	75,573	27,698
Flagler	1,789	1,727	846	50
Glades	1,061	925	741	253
Indian River	13,182	9,513	2,637	581
Lake	30,535	22,659	6,438	1,265
Lee	30,363	21,433	4,677	1,584
Orange	137,780	78,444	21,771	3,917
Palm Beach	119,342	91,164	29,541	m 9,060
Pinellas	255,369	178,404	18,121	5,663
Sarasota	49,533	31,608	4,125	937
Seminole	24,372	14,578	7,050	2,246
Suwannee	6,409	6,173	2,149	515
Union	2,880	1,841	1,082	6

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	I %N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	II VAP Reg	% W VAP Reg	III % N VAP Reg	QUOTAS ~~Remarks~~
Alachua	40,453	30,555	9898	24.5	26,203	22,693	3289	64.8	6609	74.3	33.2	1322
Bay	36904	31940	4964	13.4	25923	22681	3177	61.4	1787	71.0	36.0	357
Brevard	64,927	58,433	6494	10.0	39954	37012	1971	61.5	4528	63.3	30.3	905
Broward	216,526	189,517	27009	12.5	151326	136073	11461	69.9	15548	71.8	42.4	3110
Collier	9527	8163	1364	14.3	6249	5855	359	65.6	1005	71.7	26.3	201
Dade	613021	537448	75573	12.3	397828	363608	30519	64.9	45054	67.6	40.4	9011
Duval	262234	203804	58430	22.3	141,306	113616	26874	53.9	31556	55.7	46.0	6311
Highlands	13248	10997	2251	17.0	10750	9633	1079	81.1	1172	82.6	47.9	2344
Hillsborough	245,064	213,950	31114	12.7	144860	127967	16175	59.1	14939	59.8	52.0	2988
Indian River	15819	13182	2637	16.7	10397	9493	666	65.7	1971	72.0	25.2	394
Lake	36973	30535	6438	17.4	22529	21037	1349	60.9	5094	68.9	20.9	1019
Lee	35040	30363	4677	13.3	28182	26192	1821	80.4	2856	86.3	38.9	571
Leon	40563	28241	12322	30.4	23511	18573	4906	58.0	7416	65.8	39.8	1483
Levy	6051	4483	1568	25.9	4208	3836	362	69.5	1206	85.6	23.1	241
Madison	7449	4380	3067	41.2	5441	4362	1079	73.1	1988	99.6	35.2	398
Manatee	47569	42291	5278	11.1	32534	30478	1546	68.4	3732	72.1	29.3	746
Marion	30284	21001	9283	30.6	19667	15852	3749	64.9	5534	75.5	40.4	1107
Martin	11044	9291	1753	15.9	8193	7464	721	74.2	1052	80.3	41.1	206
Okaloosa	32913	30816	2097	06.4	23049	21020	881	67.0	1216	68.2	42.0	243
Orange	159551	137280	21771	13.6	84672	79394	4328	53.1	17445	57.6	19.9	3489
Palm Beach	148883	119342	29541	19.8	91034	81014	8634	61.1	20907	67.9	29.2	4181
Pasco	24720	22329	2391	09.7	17741	16845	735	71.8	1656	75.4	30.7	331
Pinellas	273440	255319	18121	06.6	193012	182140	6009	70.6	12112	71.3	33.2	2422
Polk	116538	97314	19224	16.5	71835	65205	6113	61.6	13111	67.0	31.8	2622
Putnam	18184	13095	5059	280	10185	8645	1522	56.0	3567	66.0	29.9	713
St. Johns	18102	13771	4331	23.9	11926	10032	1863	65.9	2468	72.8	43.0	494
St. Lucie	23765	17238	6527	27.5	15812	13781	1883	58.0	4644	79.9	28.8	929
Sarasota	53653	49533	4125	07.7	34076	32532	923	63.5	3152	65.7	23.6	630

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	VAP Reg	% W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Remarks
Seminole	31422	24372	7050	22.4	15083	12974	1901	48.0	5149	53.2	27.0	1030
Suwanee	8558	6409	2149	25.1	7343	6717	614	85.8	1535	1048	28.6	307
Taylor	7178	5454	1724	24.0	5490	5277	210	76.5	1514	96.7	12.2	303
Union	3962	2880	1082	27.3	1988	1978	6	50.2	1076	68.7	00.5	215
Volusia	85824	74209	11615	13.5	58804	52910	5395	68.5	6220	71.3	46.4	1244
												51867

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	I %N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	II UN VAP Reg	% W VAP Reg	III % N VAP Reg	Remarks
ALACHUA	40,453	30555	9898	24.5	26,203	22693	3289	64.8	6609	74.3	33.2	See State - 4/1/62
BAKER	4010	3203	807	20.1	3674	3176	498	91.6	309	99.1	61.7	"
BAY	36904	31940	4964	13.4	25933	22681	3177	61.4	1787	71.0	36.0	"
BRADFORD	6925	5580	1345	19.4	5390	4541	849	77.8	496	81.4	63.1	"
BREVARD	64927	58433	6494	10.0	39954	37012	1971	61.5	4523	63.3	30.3	"
BROWARD	216526	189517	27009	12.5	151326	136073	11461	69.9	15548	71.8	42.4	"
CALHOUN	4016	3434	582	14.5	4679	4302	366	116.5	216	125.3	62.9	"
CHARLOTTE	9086	8659	427	04.7	7746	7360	292	85.2	135	85.0	68.4	"
CITRUS	6003	5174	829	13.8	5327	4826	468	88.7	361	93.3	56.4	"
CLAY	10784	9508	1276	11.8	7701	6884	798	71.4	478	72.4	62.5	"
COLLIER	9527	8163	1364	14.3	6249	5855	359	65.6	1005	71.7	26.3	"
✓ COLUMBIA	11214	8092	3122	27.8	9203	7435	1739	82.1	1383	91.9	55.7	"
DADE	613021	537448	75573	12.3	391828	363608	30519	64.9	45054	67.6	40.4	"
DESOTO	7682	6339	1343	17.5	4732	4000	732	61.6	611	63.1	54.5	"
DIXIE	2501	2138	363	14.5	2709	2519	184	108.3	179	117.8	50.7	"
DUVAL	262234	203804	58430	22.3	141,306	113616	26874	53.9	31556	55.7	46.0	"
ESCAMBIA	94729	76,688	18041	19.0	62554	53044	9201	66.0	8840	69.2	51.0	"
FLAGLER	2635	1789	846	32.1	1858	1718	133	70.5	713	96.0	15.7	"
FRANKLIN	3965	3186	779	19.6	3801	3264	532	95.9	247	102.4	68.3	"
GADSDEN	23972	11711	12261	51.1	7638	7235	373	31.9	11888	61.8	03.0	"
GILCHRIST	1667	1513	154	9.2	1721	1660	57	103.2	97	99.6	37.0	"
GLADES	1802	1061	741	41.1	1184	947	237	65.7	504	89.2	32.0	"
GULF	5334	4196	1138	21.3	4037	3534	503	75.7	635	84.2	44.2	"
HAMILTON	4107	2486	1621	39.5	3247	2540	701	79.1	920	102.2	43.2	"
HARDEE	7286	6734	552	7.6	5736	5290	434	78.7	118	78.5	78.6	"
HENDRY	4610	3430	1180	25.6	3858	3055	799	83.7	381	89.1	67.7	"

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	I %N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	II UN VAP [redacted]	% W VAP Reg	III % N VAP Reg	Remarks
HERNANDO	6840	5689	1151	16.8	5370	4790	560	78.5	591	84.2	48.6	See State - 4/1/62
HIGHLANDS	13248	10997	2251	17.0	10250	9633	1079	81.1	1172	87.6	47.9	"
HILLSBOROUGH	245064	213950	31114	12.7	144860	127967	16175	59.1	14939	59.8	52.0	"
HOLMES	6380	6131	249	03.9	6810	6660	140	106.7	109	108.6	56.2	"
INDIAN RIVER	15819	13182	2637	16.7	10397	9493	666	65.7	1971	72.0	25.2	"
JACKSON	19477	14087	5390	27.7	14844	11929	2885	76.2	2505	84.7	53.5	"
JEFFERSON	4983	2383	2600	52.3	2591	2274	315	52.0	2285	95.4	12.1	"
LAFAYETTE	1688	1536	152	09.0	1851	1849	0	109.6	152	120.4	0	"
LAKE	36973	30535	6438	17.4	22527	21037	1344	60.9	5094	68.9	20.9	"
LEE	35040	30363	4677	13.3	28182	26192	1821	80.4	2856	86.3	38.9	"
LEON	40563	28241	12322	30.4	23511	18573	4906	58.0	7416	65.8	39.8	"
LEVY	6051	4483	1568	25.9	4208	3836	362	69.5	1206	85.6	23.1	"
LIBERTY	1765	1525	240	13.6	1968	1965	0	111.5	240	128.8	0	"
MADISON	7447	4380	3067	41.2	5441	4362	1079	73.1	1988	99.6	35.2	"
MANATEE	47569	42291	5278	11.1	32534	30478	1546	68.4	3732	72.1	29.3	"
MARION	30284	21001	9283	30.6	19667	15852	3749	64.9	5534	75.5	40.4	"
MARTIN	11044	9291	1753	15.9	8193	7464	721	74.2	1032	80.3	41.1	"
MONROE	28431	25512	2919	10.3	18054	15730	2192	63.5	727	61.6	75.1	"
NASSAU	9130	7054	2076	22.7	6798	5590	1204	74.4	872	79.2	58.0	"
OKALOOSA	32913	30816	2097	06.4	22049	21020	881	67.0	1216	68.2	42.0	"
OKEECHOBEE	3403	2870	533	15.7	2788	2468	317	81.9	216	86.0	59.5	"
ORANGE	159551	137780	21771	13.6	84672	79394	4328	53.1	17443	57.6	19.9	"
OSCEOLA	12819	11697	1122	08.7	9797	9218	451	76.4	671	78.8	40.2	"
PALM BEACH	148883	119342	29541	19.8	91034	81014	8634	61.1	20907	67.9	29.2	"
PASCO	24720	22329	2391.	09.7	17741	16845	735	71.8	1656	75.4	30.7	"
PINELLAS	273486	255369	18121	06.6	193012	182140	6009	70.6	12112	71.3	33.2	"
POLK	116538	97314	19224	16.5	71835	65205	6113	61.6	13111	67.0	31.8	"
PUTNAM	18184	13095	5089	28.0	10185	8645	1522	56.0	3567	66.0	29.9	"

State Florida

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	UN VAP [redacted]	% W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Remarks
ST. JOHNS	18102	13771	4331	23.9	11926	10032	1863	65.9	2468	72.8	43.0	See State 4-1-62
ST. LUCIE	23765	17238	6527	27.5	15812	13781	1883	58.0	4644	79.9	28.8	"
SANTA ROSA	15792	14710	1082	06.8	11914	11191	625	75.4	457	76.1	57.8	"
SARASOTA	53658	49533	4125	07.7	34076	32532	973	63.5	3152	65.7	23.6	"
SEMINOLE	31422	24372	7050	22.4	15083	12974	1901	48.0	5149	53.2	27.0	"
SUMTER	6919	5396	1523	22.0	5587	4846	726	80.7	797	89.8	42.7	"
SUWANEE	8558	6409	2149	25.1	7343	6717	614	85.8	1535	104.8	28.6	"
TAYLOR	7178	5454	1724	24.0	5490	5277	210	76.5	1514	96.7	12.2	"
UNION	3962	2880	1082	27.3	1988	1978	6	50.2	1076	68.7	00.5	"
VOLUSIA	85824	74209	11615	13.5	58804	52910	5395	68.5	6220	71.3	46.4	"
WAKULLA	2873	2120	753	26.2	2701	2219	477	94.0	276	104.7	63.3	"
WALTON	9044	7958	1086	12.0	8331	7531	790	92.1	296	94.6	72.7	"
WASHINGTON	6385	5364	1021	16.0	5932	5214	713	92.9	308	97.2	69.8	"
	3,087,699	2,617,438	470,261	15.2	*1,492,210	1,187,693	187,456	64.5	287,805	68.2	38.8

* THERE ARE 22091 MINOR PARTY REGISTRANTS WHOSE RACIAL BREAKDOWN IS NOT AVAILABLE

8400
~~5000~~
~~$13,400~~
$12,900 (500 going to CORE in S.C. area)

SCLC - Jacksonville - ~~Duval Ct, City~~ Benefit Union.
34,324

CORE - Dade, Pinellas, Leon — 13122
48,940 13122 8764 (70826)

24.6	Dade	3296.40	(3800)
8.2	Hillsboro	1098.80
6.5	Pinellas	871.00
4.4	Leon	589.60
17.2	Duval	2304.80
3.4	Volusia	455.60
9.3	Orange	1246.20
3.5	Alachua	469.00
1.0	Bay	134.00
4.9	Escambia	656.00
8.6	Brevard	1152.40
.7	Columbia	93.80
7.0	Polk	938.00
		13,305.60

NAACP - Duval — 34324
Daytona, Volusia — 6853
Orlando, Orange — 18512
Gainesville, Alachua — 7141
Tampa, Hillsborough — 16405
Tallahassee, Leon — 8764
Panama City, Bay — 2104
Pensacola, Escambia — 9923
Dade — 48940
Ft. Lauderdale, Broward — 17208
Lake City, Columbia — 1543
Winter Haven, Polk — 14027
93716 198866

Gadsden 12565
Jefferson 2422
14987

Final approval

SCLC - Leon - $600

CORE - Dade - $2800
NAA - DADE - $500
NAA - rest of the as above - $9500

State Voters League Gains Stature

Those who formerly followed the meetings of the State Voters League and attended the session on last Saturday in Macon, not only saw in contrast new emphasis, but, as well new vistas for such a vigorous movement taking on younger minds as it rolled on.

This was an encouraging aspect, for where there is the interest of youth, there are excellent signs of renewed life and the promise of health in our political action front.

The harmony which prevailed all through the session was indicative of the determination of the body to use its energies and influences in working for a constructive program rather than wasting efforts at petty bickering.

Representatives from some portions of Georgia's 10 congressional districts, betrayed the fact that at last a cross-section of voters were participating in the State League. The roll call of counties showing the increase in registration, was also an interesting feature as well as a distinct contribution to the objectives sought by the League since its organization.

The battle cry was more voters with independent voting. With these two outstanding features and the intensity of the interest of the young voting public at the session, there should be renewed vigor in the ranks of our political action groups. There should be such a wide attraction that the whole state should be allerted in the area of justice and equal opportunity for those whose heavy vote is bound to be something to be reckoned with in the future.

The Macon meeting showed health; it proved that those state workers have interested the youthful school groups and through them we are going to continue gains on our registration and voting fronts.

Atlanta Daily World 3-26-62

file
Ga. Ky. data

Rec'd 7-24-63
Sec. State says (as of that date)
This is latest.

COMPILED BY
BEN W. FORTSON JR.
SECRETARY OF STATE
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

COUNTY	COURTHOUSE	1954	1956	1958	1960	1962
JEFFERSON	Louisville	6,253	6,251	4,384	4,333	4,807
JENKINS	Millen	3,260	3,769	3,196	3,541	3,359
JOHNSON	Wrightsville	5,309	5,852	3,923	3,710	3,470
JONES	Gray	2,419	2,379	2,659	3,013	3,493
LAMAR	Barnesville	3,646	3,785	3,700	4,278	4,582
LANIER	Lakeland	2,274	2,479	2,344	2,468	2,153
LAURENS	Dublin	14,431	16,972	16,725	11,679	11,821
LEE	Leesburg	1,203	1,273	1,310	1,239	1,417
LIBERTY	Hinesville	3,919	4,529	4,600	4,014	4,758
LINCOLN	Lincolnton	2,292	1,661	2,440	2,225	2,250
LONG	Ludowici	2,602	3,262		3,470	1,650
LOWNDES	Valdosta	13,222	15,001	14,564	14,969	10,580
LUMPKIN	Dahlonega	4,033	4,204	3,995	2,747	2,927
MACON	Oglethorpe	3,124	3,551	3,202	3,480	3,544
MADISON	Danielsville	5,528	4,731	4,643	4,807	4,172
MARION	Buena Vista	1,396	1,406	1,382	1,563	1,427
McDUFFIE	Thomson	4,200	4,336	4,468	4,297	4,381
McINTOSH	Darien	2,785	2,667	2,615	2,890	3,079
MERIWETHER	Greenville	8,013	8,574	6,384	5,458	5,806
MILLER	Colquitt	3,277	3,499	3,363	3,193	3,226
MITCHELL	Camilla	8,835	7,781	7,673	5,326	5,478
MONROE	Forsyth	4,311	3,796	4,086	3,805	3,938
MONTGOMERY	Mt. Vernon	3,435	4,163	4,320	3,908	3,100
MORGAN	Madison	4,212	3,354	3,353	3,820	3,697
MURRAY	Chatsworth	4,658	4,831	4,997	3,812	4,704
MUSCOGEE	Columbus	35,000	29,962	26,588	26,549	32,396
NEWTON	Covington	9,463	10,263	10,963	6,042	7,275
OCONEE	Watkinsville	3,348	3,730	3,596	2,275	2,317
OGLETHORPE	Lexington	2,810	3,206	3,157	3,059	3,022
PAULDING	Dallas	8,068	8,149	8,286	8,169	7,089
PEACH	Ft. Valley	3,056	3,124	3,218	3,198	3,511
PICKENS	Jasper	3,953	5,338	4,494	4,840	5,264
PIERCE	Blackshear	5,500	5,501	3,769	4,256	4,212
PIKE	Zebulon	2,540	3,048	3,016	3,320	3,412
POLK	Cedartown	14,192	15,840	11,006	11,571	11,885
PULASKI	Hawkinsville	2,869	3,323	3,088	3,255	3,408
PUTNAM	Eatonton	2,737	3,056	2,936	3,173	2,866
QUITMAN	Georgetown	722	808	764	804	831
RABUN	Clayton	4,195	4,766	4,878	5,243	5,116
RANDOLPH	Cuthbert	3,216	3,046	3,078	2,856	2,918
RICHMOND	Augusta	26,588	28,620	29,080	28,867	32,844
ROCKDALE	Conyers	3,622	4,064	4,064	4,662	5,372
SCHLEY	Ellaville	1,058	1,114	1,164	1,027	1,064
SCREVEN	Sylvania	3,606	3,950	3,562	4,027	4,393
SEMINOLE	Donalsonville	3,212	3,364	3,201	3,500	3,034
SPALDING	Griffin	10,742			10,284	10,761
STEPHENS	Toccoa	7,224	8,228	8,869	10,289	9,492
STEWART	Lumpkin	2,156	2,262	1,662	1,808	1,792
SUMTER	Americus	6,667	6,068	5,647	6,035	6,279
TALBOT	Talbotton	1,477	1,632	1,667	1,799	1,706
TALIAFERRO	Crawfordville	1,603	2,007	1,669	1,840	1,774
TATTNALL	Reidsville	8,794	10,004	9,904	8,417	7,940
TAYLOR	Butler	3,180	3,449	3,450	3,294	3,329
TELFAIR	McRae	6,920		7,558	7,576	4,284
TERRELL	Dawson	3,776	3,591	2,858	2,945	3,063
THOMAS	Thomasville	9,982	10,544	10,001	9,536	10,347
TIFT	Tifton	7,600	6,768	7,794	8,123	8,306
TOOMBS	Lyons	5,528	6,517	5,713	6,511	6,393
TOWNS	Hiawassee	2,600	2,123		3,514	3,161
TREUTLEN	Soperton	3,200	3,559	2,552	2,683	3,156
TROUP	LaGrange	16,704	14,845	15,940	13,491	14,154
TURNER	Ashburn	3,807	4,467	4,367	3,994	2,901
TWIGGS	Jeffersonville	2,667	2,940	2,865	1,936	1,944
UNION	Blairsville	4,695	4,822	4,944	5,662	4,346
UPSON	Thomaston	7,523	6,467	5,903	6,153	7,059
WALKER	LaFayette	22,802	25,356	24,451	25,061	25,947
WALTON	Monroe	7,310	8,130	7,678	6,595	6,839
WARE	Waycross	17,746	13,338	13,736	14,756	15,870
WARREN	Warrenton	2,076	2,304	2,201	1,931	1,828
WASHINGTON	Sandersville	7,417	7,543	8,400	7,941	6,811
WAYNE	Jesup	6,950	8,789	9,370	7,705	7,980
WEBSTER	Preston	1,293	908	934	800	775
WHEELER	Alamo	3,469	3,492	3,592	2,776	2,575
WHITE	Cleveland	3,965	4,119	4,121	4,462	4,552
WHITFIELD	Dalton	21,000	16,339	16,777	17,756	18,511
WILCOX	Abbeville	4,383	3,470	3,289	3,667	3,732
WILKES	Washington	3,229	3,700	3,654	3,779	4,022
WILKINSON	Irwinton	3,171	3,472	3,452	3,637	3,406
WORTH	Sylvester	5,903	6,118	6,151	6,311	5,146
	TOTAL	1,273,793	1,310,586	1,286,021	1,302,139	1,364,988

NUMBER OF REGISTERED VOTERS BY YEARS

COUNTY	COURTHOUSE	1954	1956	1958	1960	1962
APPLING	Baxley	8,283	8,519	7,752	9,064	8,803
ATKINSON	Pearson	5,335	6,461	4,961	2,951	3,190
BACON	Alma	5,379	5,997	6,127	6,285	3,890
BAKER	Newton	1,511	1,727	1,670	1,740	1,655
BALDWIN	Milledgeville	9,181	9,981	10,293	10,293	6,830
BANKS	Homer	3,148	4,460	4,464	3,713	3,726
BARROW	Winder	6,142	6,980	6,160	6,760	7,003
BARTOW	Cartersville	12,034	13,144	12,442	13,108	13,485
BEN HILL	Fitzgerald	4,702	5,061	4,727	3,916	4,032
BERRIEN	Nashville	6,334	7,005	4,580	4,804	5,639
BIBB	Macon	32,076	32,864	31,037	31,869	46,720
BLECKLEY	Cochran	5,239	6,121	3,391	4,161	3,928
BRANTLEY	Nahunta	3,860	3,427	3,993	3,786	3,765
BROOKS	Quitman	4,525	4,906	5,016	3,716	3,802
BRYAN	Pembroke	2,657	3,034	2,789	3,551	3,626
BULLOCH	Statesboro	10,056	11,178	9,289	9,183	9,353
BURKE	Waynesboro	4,184	3,968	4,091	3,711	4,377
BUTTS	Jackson	4,397	5,419	5,247	5,668	4,040
CALHOUN	Morgan	1,951	2,084	1,814	1,816	1,830
CAMDEN	Woodbine	3,228	4,372	3,991	3,861	3,604
CANDLER	Metter	3,688	4,369	4,369	4,185	4,055
CARROLL	Carrollton	16,750	18,044	14,605	12,451	13,409
CATOOSA	Ringgold	9,217	9,620	10,008	11,508	7,885
CHARLTON	Folkston	2,500	2,315	2,333	1,893	2,108
CHATHAM	Savannah	45,120	46,798	46,193	46,139	51,183
CHATTAHOOCHEE	Cusseta	288	318	292	335	355
CHATTOOGA	Summerville	11,637	12,712	12,261	9,639	10,201
CHEROKEE	Canton	10,593	10,652	13,069	13,762	11,823
CLARKE	Athens	14,493	15,555	17,391	10,703	11,473
CLAY	Ft. Gaines	1,040	1,081	1,107	1,121	1,141
CLAYTON	Jonesboro	10,450	13,736	11,918	14,304	15,638
CLINCH	Homerville	2,622	2,963	2,748	2,796	2,632
COBB	Marietta	26,663	29,342	30,042	30,376	33,375
COFFEE	Douglas	9,108	11,928	11,000	11,744	11,340
COLQUITT	Moultrie	11,436	12,150	13,965	15,293	12,479
COLUMBIA	Appling	3,321	3,718	3,933	4,720	3,763
COOK	Adel	4,750	6,877	6,500	6,745	6,924
COWETA	Newnan	5,375	13,925	13,244	11,776	10,702
CRAWFORD	Knoxville	1,570	1,897	1,651	1,595	1,563
CRISP	Cordele	5,311	5,746	5,506	6,100	6,069
DADE	Trenton	3,691	3,883	3,718	4,329	4,326
DAWSON	Dawsonville	2,099	2,018	2,172	2,183	1,835
DECATUR	Bainbridge	8,330	7,930	8,490	8,857	9,262
DEKALB	Decatur	54,679	61,424	66,603	70,636	84,143
DODGE	Eastman	10,486	10,866	10,756	12,075	10,974
DOOLY	Vienna	4,741	5,149	4,974	5,067	5,312
DOUGHERTY	Albany	22,400	12,182	13,443	14,405	16,729
DOUGLAS	Douglasville	6,268	7,576	7,778	9,405	8,257
EARLY	Blakely	4,661	4,561	4,017	4,151	3,990
ECHOLS	Statenville	926	870	819	745	857
EFFINGHAM	Springfield	2,978	3,134	2,806	3,068	3,398
ELBERT	Elberton	8,178	10,011	10,116	9,658	9,721
EMANUEL	Swainsboro	6,829	8,661	9,014	9,650	9,962
EVANS	Claxton	2,684	2,903	2,689	2,806	2,953
FANNIN	Blue Ridge	8,433	8,334	8,522	8,452	8,667
FAYETTE	Fayetteville	3,002	3,752	3,229	2,766	2,809
FLOYD	Rome	28,041	31,071	20,767	22,698	21,016
FORSYTH	Cumming	3,948	5,020	4,148	5,419	5,418
FRANKLIN	Carnesville	10,068	7,300	5,800	12,319	10,561
FULTON	Atlanta	124,978	124,808	133,291	145,096	177,497
GILMER	Ellijay	5,384	4,564	4,460	4,041	4,110
GLASCOCK	Gibson	1,543	1,615	1,358	1,385	1,284
GLYNN	Brunswick	10,563	10,159	9,464	9,834	10,868
GORDON	Calhoun	7,665	7,578	7,702	8,744	8,713
GRADY	Cairo	7,389	5,267	5,907	4,709	4,788
GREENE	Greensboro	5,948	7,508	7,781	7,501	4,203
GWINNETT	Lawrenceville	16,546	16,500	17,500	20,579	21,929
HABERSHAM	Clarkesville	7,706	8,423	8,423	6,000	7,302
HALL	Gainesville	17,377	20,745	18,751	14,010	14,573
HANCOCK	Sparta	3,551	4,097	3,794	3,045	2,262
HARALSON	Buchanan	11,443	8,757	12,194	6,401	7,546
HARRIS	Hamilton	3,689	3,675	3,850	4,021	3,603
HART	Hartwell	6,823	6,535	6,238	7,312	6,259
HEARD	Franklin	2,750	3,061	2,849	3,190	2,646
HENRY	McDonough	6,198	7,008	7,104	8,239	9,602
HOUSTON	Perry	5,175	7,386	7,739	7,653	9,662
IRWIN	Ocilla	4,500	5,000	5,200	4,800	5,600
JACKSON	Jefferson	6,800	7,588	7,659	7,114	7,087
JASPER	Monticello	3,349	3,225	3,334	2,548	2,697
JEFF DAVIS	Hazlehurst	5,869	4,239	6,190	4,282	4,922

Atlanta Daily World

Published Every Morning Except Monday

ANTA (3), GEORGIA, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1963 (Two Sections) — PRICE TEN CENTS

CITY EDITION

"NEWS WHILE IT IS NEWS"

"Easier To Buy Destructive Weapon, Than To Vote"

VOTE BAR END URGED

Presidential Commission, Johnson Note Ballot Lag

WASHINGTON — The 11-member Presidential Commission on Registration and Voting Participation Friday urged that literacy tests, poll taxes and other legal barriers to voting be abolished.

"The United States, leader of the free world, lags behind many other free countries in voter participation," the commission said.

The commission was established last March 30 by the late President John F. Kennedy to study reasons for low voter turnout in the United States.

President Johnson accepted the 21 recommendations made by the commission and stated: "I am told that it is easier today to buy a destructive weapon, a gun, in a hardware store, than it is to vote."

COMMISSION EXTENDED

Johnson extended the life of the commission until next March 30 in order to assist states and localities to put some of the suggested reforms into practice.

Many Negro and white organizations throughout the United States have called for the abolition of literacy tests and poll tax payment as a prerequisite to voting.

The commission noted that during the 1960 presidential election, only 63.8 per cent of Americans of voting age cast ballots. Voting participation in off-year congressional elections has ranged as low as 30.1 per cent during the last 40 years.

In their sweeping recommendations, the commissioners noted that many election laws and administrative practices are "unreasonable, unfair and outmoded. They obstruct the path to the ballot box, disfranchising millions who want to vote."

The President called upon "both political partites Republicans and Democrats, the governors and officials of each state in the union, and all citizens" to join in the effort to secure the right to vote for all who wish it. He asked: "Why should we make it difficult for people to vote? It is easier now to register and enlist in the service in many cases than it is to vote. Why should a man have an easy path provided for him to go and fight, but a difficult path for him to go and voté?' - He said he hoped that in the presidential election next year "three out of every three eligible voters will vote for their president instead of only two out of every three."

Atlanta Daily World

President Johnson Comes Out With The Proposition Of A Powerful Memorial

12-22-63

In extending the life of the Commission set up to protect the registration of voters, President Lyndon B. Johnson strictly emphasized this right. He went all out in his declaration of the principles underlying this right and well said that it is far easier for an individual to purchase a deadly firearm than to qualify for the right to vote.

The President castigated the practice of making it so hard for an individual to get to the polls for the expression of his version in the country's political arena.

The President went further in declaring that it is still made easier for men to qualify for the military service than to get the ballot. He also made the inference that a man who is able to qualify for the defense of his country in battle, should also be able to vote in the commonwealth he is called upon to defend.

It is hoped that those whose cause the President is espousing on this voter front, will not default this earnest vouchsafe of the head of this nation, who follows a great President, who for a portion of the same cause, poured out the last full measure of his devotion and went on to an untimely grave as a part of that price.

Herein lies the greatest memorial tribute within the grasp of mankind — the qualifying for the right to vote.

State of Georgia

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE

I, Ben W. Fortson, Jr., Secretary of State of the State of Georgia, do hereby certify that the five pages of photographed matter hereto attached contains a true and correct copy of an Act approved by the Governor on February 21st, 1964, numbered Act No. 593 (Senate Bill No. 278) and entitled; "An Act to amend an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28, 1874 (Ga. L. 1874, p. 116), and the several Acts amendatory thereof; to repeal fonflicting laws; and for other purposes"; as the same appears of file and record in this office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of my office, at the Capitol, in the City of Atlanta, this 4th day of May, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty- four and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Eighty- eighth.

Ben W. Fortson Jr.
SECRETARY OF STATE.

Act #
593

S. B. No. 278

ENROLLMENT

Feb. 21, 1964

The Committee of the Senate on Senate Administrative Affairs has examined the within and finds the same properly enrolled.

Glenn Pelham
Chairman

Peter Zack Geer
President of the Senate

George D. Stevens
Secretary of the Senate

Geo. L. Smith
Speaker of the House

Glenn Ellard
Clerk of the House

Received D. D. Barnard
Secretary, Executive Department

This 24 day of Feb. 1964

Approved Carl E. Sanders
Governor

This 21st day of February 1964

General Assembly

AN ACT

To amend an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28, 1874 (Ga. L. 1874, p. 116), and the several Acts amendatory thereof; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

IN SENATE

Read 1st time February 5, 1964
Read 2nd time February 6, 1964
Read 3rd time February 12, 1964
And Passed

Ayes 36 Nays 0

George D. Stevens
Secretary of the Senate

IN HOUSE

Read 1st time February 13, 1964
Read 2nd time February 14, 1964
Read 3rd time February 21, 1964
And Passed

Ayes 120 Nays 0

Glenn Ellard
Clerk of the House

By: Senators Johnson of the 38th, MacIntyre of the 40th, Coggins of the 35th, Salome of the 36th and others.

AN ACT

To amend an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28, 1874, and the several Acts amendatory thereof, and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same that the Act entitled an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28, 1874 (Ga. Laws 1874, p. 116), and the several Acts amendatory thereof, be further amended as follows:

Section 1. A copy of notice of intention to apply for this local legislation and an affidavit showing the publication of such notice as required by law are attached hereto and made a part of this bill, and it is hereby declared that all the requirements of the Constitution of the State of Georgia of 1945 relating to publication of notice of intention to apply for the passage of this local legislation have been complied with for the enactment of this law.

Section 2. Vacancies in any offices, whether elected by the people or by the Board of Aldermen with the exception of the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen shall be filled by a vote of the Board of Aldermen and the person so elected shall serve the remainder of the term.

Section 3. All vacancies in the membership of the Board of Aldermen occurring within 15 calendar months or less of the expiration of their term of office shall be filled by the Mayor from a list of three qualified nominees submitted by the Board of Aldermen. All vacancies occurring in the membership of the Board of Aldermen more than 15 months prior to the expiration of their term of office shall be filled by a majority of the votes cast in a special election called by the Board of Aldermen on the same day as the next General Election in which members of the House of Representatives of Fulton County are elected. If no one person voted on in such special election receives a majority of the votes cast, a run-over election shall be called by the Board of Aldermen and said election shall be held not less than 10 nor more than 30 days thereafter, and, in such election only the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the special election shall be accepted as candidates in such run-over election. All electors or voters, from that part of Atlanta that is in DeKalb County, voting in any special election as herein provided shall vote at the precincts that are established in DeKalb County for the holding of State General Elections. All electors or voters, from that part of Atlanta that is in DeKalb County, voting in any run-over election as herein provided shall vote at the precincts that are established in DeKalb County for the holding of City General Elections for the City of Atlanta. In the event the election herein provided will not be held within sixty (60) days after the occurrence of such vacancy, the Mayor shall fill such vacancy from a list of three qualified nominees submitted by the Board of Aldermen for the interim from the time of the occurrence of such vacancy until the person elected at such special election enters upon the duties of the office as a member of the Board of Aldermen. The persons so appointed or elected and qualified shall hold office until the expiration of said unexpired term and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Section 4. Section 2 of an amendatory Act entitled "An Act to amend an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28th, 1874, and the several acts amendatory thereof, and for other purposes.", approved February 26, 1941 (Ga. Laws 1941, p. 1057), relating to the filling of vacancies, is hereby stricken in its entirety.

Section 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO APPLY FOR LOCAL LEGISLATION

Notice is hereby given that the City of Atlanta intends to apply for the passage of local legislation at the 1964 session of the General Assembly of Georgia, which convenes on Monday, January 13, 1964, to amend the charter of the City of Atlanta, the title to such bill or bills to be as follows:

"An Act to amend an Act establishing a new charter for the City of Atlanta, approved February 28, 1874, and the several Acts amendatory thereof, and for other purposes."

This 20th day of December, 1963.

HENRY L. BOWDEN,
City Attorney
City of Atlanta

Dec 23 30, 1963, Jan 6 13 20 27, Feb 3 10, 1964

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority, duly authorized to administer oaths, LEROY R. JOHNSON, who, on oath, deposes and says that he is Senator from the 38th District, and that the attached copy of Notice of Intention to Introduce Local Legislation was published in the FULTON COUNTY DAILY REPORT, which is the official organ of Fulton County, on the following dates: January 13, 20 & 27, 1964.

Leroy R. Johnson
Senator, 38th District

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 4th day of February, 1964

Frank E. Blankenship
Notary Public

FRANK E. BLANKENSHIP
Notary Public, Georgia State at Large
My Commission Expires July 15, 1966

May 19, 1964

MEMORANDUM

To: Leslie W. Dunbar
From: Barbara I. Whitaker
Re: REGISTRATION IN ATLANTA, FULTON COUNTY, AND STATE OF GEORGIA

MAYORALTY RACE, ATLANTA, 1961:

	Total	White	Negro
All Wards Except 2nd	132,123	91,873	40,250
2nd Ward - DeKalb Cty.	12,432	11,446	986
	144,555	103,319	41,236

GUBERNATORIAL ELECTION, 1962:

	Total	White	Negro
Georgia	1,364,988	1,119,453	165,535
Fulton County	177,935	131,323	46,612
Atlanta	143,249	98,183	45,056

1964 ESTIMATES*:

	Total	White	Negro
Georgia	1,575,000	1,300,000	275,000
Fulton County	210,184	150,184	60,000
Atlanta	169,000	111,000	58,000

* These are statistical estimates based on best available information. The Secretary of State will not make an official release until early next month. The total for Fulton County is official. The breakdown is estimated from reports in the VEP files. Mr. Hay, Chief Registrar, is preparing an official release on breakdown which should be completed within a "few weeks." The Atlanta figure is the total eligible to vote in the referendum on May 6, and includes only those persons registered through April 13, 1964. This cut-off date came during massive neighborhood registration. It also includes 13,486 voters in the Second Ward in DeKalb County, approximately 5,000 of whom are Negroes.

Barbara I. Whitaker
Research Assistant

BIW:js

Registration Data
BW

NEWS RELEASE

Rec'd 5/22/64 WB

Georgia's only Negro Senator, Leroy R. Johnson of the 38th District Atlanta, Georgia made an effort yesterday (5-20-64) to revolutionize the State's Political Arena by moving to Amend Senate Bill 1 by striking Section 34-618 in its Entirety and inserting a New Section.

Section 34-618 in the State's Old Constitution made it mandatory for a prospective voter to answer 20 of 30 difficult questions if he was unable to read and interpret the United States Constitution.

Senator Johnson's Amendment seeks to replace the asking of the 30 difficult questions with 6 easy ones.

Johnson's Amendment passed the Senate by a vote of 35-2.

In speaking in support of his Amendment, Johnson declared, "A good, honest person of good character ought to be able to vote without having to answer 20 of the present 30 questions."

The six questions that Johnson offered and were approved by the Senate are:

1. Who is President of the United States?
2. Who is Vice President of the United States?
3. Who are the two United States Senators from Georgia?
4. Who is Governor of Georgia?
5. Who are the members of the General Assembly who represent you?
6. Who is Sheriff of your County?

An illiterate person could be registered to vote if he correctly answered four of the six questions.

It is predicted that this Amendment would aid thousands of Potential Negro Voters.

Ga statewide

New Provision Adopted

Senator Johnson of the 38th moves to amend S. B. 1 (Comm. Sub.) by striking Section 34-618 in its entirety and inserting a new Section 34-618 as follows:

"Section 34-618. Oral examination of applicants on standard questions. -- The examination which the registration officers shall submit to an applicant who claims the right to register on the basis of good character and understanding of the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government, shall be based upon the following list of standard questions, and the questions on this list and no others shall be submitted to such applicant:

1. Who is the President of the United States?
2. Who is the Vice President of the United States?
3. Who are the two United States Senators from Georgia?
4. Who is the Governor of Georgia?
5. Who are the members of the General Assembly who represent you?
6. Who is the sheriff of your county?

If the applicant can give correct answers to four of the six questions propounded to him, possesses the other necessary qualifications and is not disqualified in any other way, the card shall be marked 'approved' and the applicant shall be considered an elector; otherwise the applicant is rejected."

Old Provision

SECTION 19.

The standard list of questions which shall be propounded to each applicant is as follows:

1. What is a republican form of government?

2. What are the names of the three branches of the United States government?

3. In what State Senatorial District do you live and what are the names of the county or counties in such District?

4. What is the name of the State Judicial Circuit in which you live and what are the names of the counties or county in such Circuit?

5. What is the definition of a felony in Georgia?

6. How many Representatives are there in the Georgia House of Representatives and how does the Constitution of Georgia provide that they be apportioned among the several counties?

7. What does the Constitution of Georgia prescribe as the qualifications of Representatives in the Georgia House of Representatives?

8. How does the Constitution of the United States provide that it may be amended?

9. Who is the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia and who is the Presiding Justice of that Court?

10. Who may grant pardons and paroles in Georgia?

11. Who is the Solicitor General of the State Judicial Circuit in which you live and who is the Judge of such Circuit? (If such Circuit has more than one Judge, name them all.)

12. If the Governor of Georgia dies, who exercises the executive power, and if both the Governor and the person who succeeds him die, who exercises the executive power?

13. (a) What does the Constitution of the United States provide regarding the suspension of the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus?

    (b) What does the Constitution of Georgia provide regarding the suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus?

14. What are the names of the persons who occupy the following State offices in Georgia?

    (1) Governor

    (2) Lieutenant Governor

    (3) Secretary of State

    (4) Attorney General

    (5) Comptroller General

    (6) State Treasurer

    (7) Commissioner of Agriculture

    (8) State School Superintendent

    (9) Commissioner of Labor

15. How many Congressional Districts in Georgia are there and in which one do you live?

16. What is the term of office of a United States Senator?

17. What is the term of office of a State Senator?

18. What is the county site of your county?

19. How does the Constitution of Georgia provide that a county site may be changed?

20. What are the qualifications for jury service in Georgia?

21. What are the names of the persons who occupy the following offices in your county?

    (1) Clerk of the Superior Court

    (2) Ordinary

    (3) Sheriff

22. How may a new state be admitted into the Union?

23. On what day and how often is the general election held in Georgia at which members of the General Assembly of Georgia are elected?

24. What does the Constitution of the United States provide regarding the right of citizens to vote?

25. In what Federal Court District do you live?

26. What are the names of the Federal District Judges of Georgia?

27. Who are citizens of Georgia?

28. What is trason against the State of Georgia?

29. In what body does the Constitution of the United States declare that the legislative powers granted in such Constitution shall be vested?

30. How many electoral votes does Georgia have in the electoral college?

MADDOX, MATTHEWS LASH AT SANDERS

Atl. Const. 5-30-64

United Press International

A state legislator and an Atlanta restaurant operator, both outspoken supporters of Gov. George C. Wallace, took Gov. Carl E. Sanders to task Friday for opposing a visit here by the Alabama governor.

Rep. Dorsey Matthews of Colquitt County said Sanders catered to a mob element in blocking the visit.

The restaurant owner, Lester Maddox, called a news conference and charged that Sanders "slapped the faces of all patriotic citizens of Alabama and Georgia."

A bloc of rural voters in the Georgia House, generally allied with former Gov. Marvin Griffin, invited the Alabama segregationist governor to address the House next Tuesday.

Sanders objected to the speech saying no one should make political talk in the legislature while it is busy trying to revise the state constitution in a special session costing taxpayers $18,000 a day.

The Wallace supporters moved to meet Sanders objections and get Wallace off the taxpayers' time by scheduling him for a breakfast talk at a downtown hotel.

Wallace then called off the trip. His cancellation Thursday came after Dr. C. Miles Smith, president of the Atlanta branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sent Wallace a telegram warning that the governor's visit might provoke "massive and uncontrollable" demonstrations.

Wallace said that if state leaders didn't want him he wouldn't come. But he plans to appear here July 4 at a segregationist rally.

Matthews, one of the lawmakers who issued the invitation to Wallace, charged that if Sanders "did not call out the National Guard and protect any man .... against a mob he's not a governor of the white people of this state — he's taking sides with a mob element."

Madox, who worked to arrange Wallace's visit, called Sanders "arrogant, rude, senseless and vindictive."

Ga.

Ga. Statewide

June 29, 1964

Honorable Carl Sanders, Governor
State of Georgia
State Capitol
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Governor Sanders:

You were quoted in the April 30, 1964 issue of the Atlanta Journal as having urged all citizens to register and vote. The article stated that you refuted a belief by some that racial restrictions prevented some people from registering in Georgia.

We commend you for your interest in voter registration for all people and wish that our findings would support your statement that there are no racial restrictions in Georgia regarding voters. Unfortunately, our reports indicate that there are still several counties in Georgia where Negroes are discriminated against in their efforts to register. We are happy to report that some counties which have had a record for racial discrimination against Negro registrants now have a sizable number of Negro voters.

We honestly believe that the only way to show what has actually taken place in Georgia is to make public the number of registered voters by race in each county, and this information is not always easy to come by. Your office could render a great service to the cause of voter registration if you would take steps to request of each county registrar that he make available to you for publication the number of registered voters by race in his respective county. With this kind of information, we will not only be able to measure how far Georgia has come in the area of non-discriminatory voter registration, but it will also let us know where we still must work.

Will you please let me hear from you regarding this matter.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:bs

Atl Journal 4/30/64

Governor Urges Everybody to Vote

Special to The Atlanta Journal

MONROE, Ga., April 30—Gov. Sanders Wednesday defended Georgia's voter registration as a whole and urged all citizens to get on the eligible lists and go to the polls during this election year.

Georgia's chief executive discussed politics and farm growth in general and the duty of all citizens in particular as principal speaker at Walton County's Governor's Day.

A crowd of approximately 3,000 attended the festivities here arranged by the Walton County Farm Bureau and Monroe and Walton County public officials.

The governor's prepared text refuted a belief in some places that Georgia's voters constitute a closed society and that registration is on a restrictive basis.

"This is simply not so," the text said. "I challenge those citizens who have not yet let their presence be felt to register and find out for themselves."

ACTUALLY, the governor departed from his prepared text which made an obvious reference to charges that Negroes are prevented from registering in Georgia. He skipped over the "registration on a restrictive basis," and appealed to all citizens to get themselves eligible.

The governor said that there are about a million persons who could be eligible to vote in Georgia who have not registered to take part in elections.

"We face a grave political crisis each time a citizen neglects the public and private duty to register and vote," he told his listeners.

Gov. Sanders said it was his official hope that all citizens would register and go to the polls by challenging the Walton County Farm Bureau to help lead the way in a new registration crusade.

"The right to vote is one of the proudest heritages we have made available to our young people and it is our sacred duty, therefore, to see to it that each young person is made aware of this right," the governor said.

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE described the state's agriculture as being "on the move." He gave figures which showed that gross farm income had a healthy 7 per cent increase from 1962 to 1963.

Other festivities included an exhibition by three members of the Georgia Sky Divers' Club.

Miller-Gray (Outlook)

Everyone's Duty to Register And Vote, Sanders Tells 3,000

By TED SIMMONS
Constitution Staff Writer

MONROE, Ga. — Gov. Carl Sanders appealed Wednesday to every individual in the state, "no matter who he may be," to register and vote.

He omitted from his speech a section of his prepared text which replied to criticism of restricted registration.

The governor made his get out and vote appeal before some 3,000 celebrants of Walton County's Governors Day.

Sanders told the crowd gathered at American Legion Field here that the time has come for every citizen "to stand up and be counted" in government.

CHALLENGES CHARGES

In his prepared text Sanders made an obvious reference to charges that Negroes are prevented from registering in some parts of Georgia.

"This is simply not so, and I hereby challenge those citizens who have not yet let their presence be felt in our government to register and find out for themselves," the text said.

In his speech Sanders made no reference to "registration . . . on a restrictive basis," but directed his appeal for all citizens to push for bigger vote registration.

Sanders also departed from his prepared text to describe Georgia as a state which is "looked on as a progressive state . . . no longer looked on as just a leader in the South" but in the nation as well.

He said Georgia is growing on all fronts "because our people are united." There is no longer division in the state between north and south or east and west, or between the cities and the rural areas.

EDUCATION SUPPORT

An example of this new unity was the "overwhelming" support his education program received from the Legislature during its last session, Sanders said.

The governor also described the state's agriculture as being "on the move."

"In 1962, for example, the gross farm income in our state totaled $831,022,000 while the latest preliminary estimates on farm income for 1963 amount to about $899 million, or in other words, a very healthy seven per cent increase in a year's time," Sanders said.

"What makes this continuing increase even more remarkable is the fact that there are now actually fewer farmers taking in more income," he said.

Sanders was honored with ceremonies that attracted citizens from all over the county, and which were climaxed by an outdoor barbecue chicken dinner.

SKY DIVING

The festivities included a spectacular sky diving exhibition by three members of the Georgia Sky Divers' Club, which created some excitement in the crowd when all three divers were blown considerably off target by high winds.

The female member of the team, Miss Pat Hollins, landed in a tree, a considerable distance from American Legion field, but was uninjured.

The ceremony also included music and marching by the Monroe Girls' Corps, the Loganville Glee Club, and the Morgan County High School Band.

In a brief address preceding that of Gov. Sanders, Dr. Harry Brown, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau told the crowd that agriculture is now "more important than it has ever been before," because of ever increasing population.

Gov. Sanders responded by giving his assurance "that there will be a strong agricultural program in Georgia as long as I am governor."

Staff Photo—Dwight Ross

GUESTS AT WALTON COUNTY CELEBRATION
3,000 Persons Hear Address By Governor, Shown with Wife

Board of Registrars DeKALB BUILDING ANNEX
Decatur, Georgia

JM

NOV 6 1964

DATE	PRECINCT TRANSFERS	REMOVALS	NEW REGIST.	TOTAL
Avondale				2876
Briarcliff				4660
Brookhaven				4624
Brownings				3288
Chamblee				2276
Clarkston				2151
College Heights	A			892
	B			1060
Decatur-Glenwood				2870
Diamonds				320
Doraville				3561
East Atlanta				3008
East Lake	A			191
	B			1021
Edgewood A				1899
Edgewood B				2976
Edgewood C				310
Emory				2558
Evans	A			870
	B			1771
Fernbank	A			1934
	B			32
Hooper-Alexander				1320
Jim Cherry				3306
Johnson Estates A				2875
Johnson Estates B				999
North Kirkwood	A			245
	B			1399
South Kirkwood A				2441
South Kirkwood B				388
Kittredge				2604
Knollwood				2349

DATE	PRECINCT TRANSFERS	REMOVALS	NEW REGIST.	TOTAL
Laurel Ridge				1444
Leslie J. Steele			=	2338
Lithonia				1790
McWilliams				400
Medlock				3671
Midway Heights				3613
Mills				3282
Oakhurst				1549
Phillips				175
Pine Lake				965
Ponce de Leon				3107
Redan				737
Rehoboth				3228
Sagamore				31655
Scottdale				2322
Shallowford				734
Skyhaven				1942
Skyland				4213
S. W. DeKalb				1283
Stone Mountain				1438
Terry Mill				1410
Toney				3773
Wadsworth				3197
W. D. Thomson				3422
Winnona				1468

TOTAL NUMBER REGISTERED VOTERS 10-1-64 117740
DEKALB COUNTY
117, 740

COMPILED BY
BEN W. FORTSON JR.
SECRETARY OF STATE
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

COUNTY	COURTHOUSE	1954	1956	1958	1960	1962	1964 Negroes
JEFFERSON	Louisville	6,253	6,251	4,384	4,333	4,807
JENKINS	Millen	3,260	3,769	3,196	3,541	3,359
JOHNSON	Wrightsville	5,309	5,852	3,923	3,710	3,470
JONES	Gray	2,419	2,379	2,659	3,013	3,493
LAMAR	Barnesville	3,646	3,785	3,700	4,278	4,582
LANIER	Lakeland	2,274	2,479	2,344	2,468	2,153
LAURENS	Dublin	14,431	16,972	16,725	11,679	11,821
LEE	Leesburg	1,203	1,273	1,310	1,239	1,417
LIBERTY	Hinesville	3,919	4,529	4,600	4,014	4,758
LINCOLN	Lincolnton	2,292	1,661	2,440	2,225	2,250
LONG	Ludowici	2,602	3,262		3,470	1,650
LOWNDES	Valdosta	13,222	15,001	14,564	14,969	10,580
LUMPKIN	Dahlonega	4,033	4,204	3,995	2,747	2,927
MACON	Oglethorpe	3,124	3,551	3,202	3,480	3,544
MADISON	Danielsville	5,528	4,731	4,643	4,807	4,172
MARION	Buena Vista	1,396	1,406	1,382	1,563	1,427
McDUFFIE	Thomson	4,200	4,336	4,468	4,297	4,381
McINTOSH	Darien	2,785	2,667	2,615	2,890	3,079
MERIWETHER	Greenville	8,013	8,574	6,384	5,458	5,806
MILLER	Colquitt	3,277	3,499	3,363	3,193	3,226
MITCHELL	Camilla	8,835	7,781	7,673	5,326	5,478
MONROE	Forsyth	4,311	3,796	4,086	3,805	3,938
MONTGOMERY	Mt. Vernon	3,435	4,163	4,320	3,908	3,100
MORGAN	Madison	4,212	3,354	3,353	3,820	3,697
MURRAY	Chatsworth	4,658	4,831	4,997	3,812	4,704
MUSCOGEE	Columbus	35,000	29,962	26,588	26,549	32,396	43895 (8/5/64)
NEWTON	Covington	9,463	10,263	10,963	6,042	7,275
OCONEE	Watkinsville	3,348	3,730	3,596	2,275	2,317
OGLETHORPE	Lexington	2,810	3,206	3,157	3,059	3,022
PAULDING	Dallas	8,068	8,149	8,286	8,169	7,089
PEACH	Ft. Valley	3,056	3,124	3,218	3,198	3,511
PICKENS	Jasper	3,953	5,338	4,494	4,840	5,264
PIERCE	Blackshear	5,500	5,501	3,769	4,256	4,212
PIKE	Zebulon	2,540	3,048	3,016	3,320	3,412
POLK	Cedartown	14,192	15,840	11,006	11,571	11,885
PULASKI	Hawkinsville	2,869	3,323	3,088	3,255	3,408
PUTNAM	Eatonton	2,737	3,056	2,936	3,173	2,866
QUITMAN	Georgetown	722	808	764	804	831
RABUN	Clayton	4,195	4,766	4,878	5,243	5,116
RANDOLPH	Cuthbert	3,216	3,046	3,078	2,856	2,918
RICHMOND	Augusta	26,588	28,620	29,080	28,867	32,844	40859 (7/20/64)
ROCKDALE	Conyers	3,622	4,064	4,064	4,662	5,372
SCHLEY	Ellaville	1,058	1,114	1,164	1,027	1,064
SCREVEN	Sylvania	3,606	3,950	3,562	4,027	4,393
SEMINOLE	Donalsonville	3,212	3,364	3,201	3,500	3,034
SPALDING	Griffin	10,742			10,284	10,761
STEPHENS	Toccoa	7,224	8,228	8,869	10,289	9,492
STEWART	Lumpkin	2,156	2,262	1,662	1,808	1,792
SUMTER	Americus	6,667	6,068	5,647	6,035	6,279
TALBOT	Talbotton	1,477	1,632	1,667	1,799	1,706
TALIAFERRO	Crawfordville	1,603	2,007	1,669	1,840	1,774
TATTNALL	Reidsville	8,794	10,004	9,904	8,417	7,940
TAYLOR	Butler	3,180	3,449	3,450	3,294	3,329
TELFAIR	McRae	6,920		7,558	7,576	4,284
TERRELL	Dawson	3,776	3,591	2,858	2,945	3,063
THOMAS	Thomasville	9,982	10,544	10,001	9,536	10,347
TIFT	Tifton	7,600	6,768	7,794	8,123	8,306
TOOMBS	Lyons	5,528	6,517	5,713	6,511	6,393
TOWNS	Hiawassee	2,600	2,123		3,514	3,161
TREUTLEN	Soperton	3,200	3,559	2,552	2,683	3,156
TROUP	LaGrange	16,704	14,845	15,940	13,491	14,154
TURNER	Ashburn	3,807	4,467	4,367	3,994	2,901
TWIGGS	Jeffersonville	2,667	2,940	2,865	1,936	1,944
UNION	Blairsville	4,695	4,822	4,944	5,662	4,346
UPSON	Thomaston	7,523	6,467	5,903	6,153	7,059
WALKER	LaFayette	22,802	25,356	24,451	25,061	25,947
WALTON	Monroe	7,310	8,130	7,678	6,595	6,839
WARE	Waycross	17,746	13,338	13,736	14,756	15,870
WARREN	Warrenton	2,076	2,304	2,201	1,931	1,828
WASHINGTON	Sandersville	7,417	7,543	8,400	7,941	6,811
WAYNE	Jesup	6,950	8,789	9,370	7,705	7,980
WEBSTER	Preston	1,293	908	934	800	775
WHEELER	Alamo	3,469	3,492	3,592	2,776	2,575
WHITE	Cleveland	3,965	4,119	4,121	4,462	4,552
WHITFIELD	Dalton	21,000	16,339	16,777	17,756	18,511
WILCOX	Abbeville	4,383	3,470	3,289	3,667	3,732
WILKES	Washington	3,229	3,700	3,654	3,779	4,022
WILKINSON	Irwinton	3,171	3,472	3,452	3,637	3,406
WORTH	Sylvester	5,903	6,118	6,151	6,311	5,146
	TOTAL	1,273,793	1,310,586	1,286,021	1,302,139	1,364,988

SMV

NUMBER OF REGISTERED VOTERS BY YEARS

COUNTY	COURTHOUSE	1954	1956	1958	1960	1962	1964	NEGROES
APPLING	Baxley	8,283	8,519	7,752	9,064	8,803
ATKINSON	Pearson	5,335	6,461	4,961	2,951	3,190
BACON	Alma	5,379	5,997	6,127	6,285	3,890
BAKER	Newton	1,511	1,727	1,670	1,740	1,655
BALDWIN	Milledgeville	9,181	9,981	10,293	10,293	6,830
BANKS	Homer	3,148	4,460	4,464	3,713	3,726
BARROW	Winder	6,142	6,980	6,160	6,760	7,003
BARTOW	Cartersville	12,034	13,144	12,442	13,108	13,485
BEN HILL	Fitzgerald	4,702	5,061	4,727	3,916	4,032
BERRIEN	Nashville	6,334	7,005	4,580	4,804	5,639
BIBB	Macon	32,076	32,864	31,037	31,869	46,720
BLECKLEY	Cochran	5,239	6,121	3,391	4,161	3,928
BRANTLEY	Nahunta	3,860	3,427	3,993	3,786	3,765
BROOKS	Quitman	4,525	4,906	5,016	3,716	3,802
BRYAN	Pembroke	2,657	3,034	2,789	3,551	3,626
BULLOCH	Statesboro	10,056	11,178	9,289	9,183	9,353
BURKE	Waynesboro	4,184	3,968	4,091	3,711	4,377
BUTTS	Jackson	4,397	5,419	5,247	5,668	4,040
CALHOUN	Morgan	1,951	2,084	1,814	1,816	1,830
CAMDEN	Woodbine	3,228	4,372	3,991	3,861	3,604
CANDLER	Metter	3,688	4,369	4,369	4,185	4,055
CARROLL	Carrollton	16,750	18,044	14,605	12,451	13,409
CATOOSA	Ringgold	9,217	9,620	10,008	11,508	7,885
CHARLTON	Folkston	2,500	2,315	2,333	1,893	2,108
CHATHAM	Savannah	45,120	46,798	46,193	46,139	51,183
CHATTAHOOCHEE	Cusseta	288	318	292	335	355
CHATTOOGA	Summerville	11,637	12,712	12,261	9,639	10,201
CHEROKEE	Canton	10,593	10,652	13,069	13,762	11,823
CLARKE	Athens	14,493	15,555	17,391	10,703	11,473
CLAY	Ft. Gaines	1,040	1,081	1,107	1,121	1,141
CLAYTON	Jonesboro	10,450	13,736	11,918	14,304	15,638
CLINCH	Homerville	2,622	2,963	2,748	2,796	2,632
COBB	Marietta	26,663	29,342	30,042	30,376	33,375
COFFEE	Douglas	9,108	11,928	11,000	11,744	11,340
COLQUITT	Moultrie	11,436	12,150	13,965	15,293	12,479
COLUMBIA	Appling	3,321	3,718	3,933	4,720	3,763
COOK	Adel	4,750	6,877	6,500	6,745	6,924
COWETA	Newnan	5,375	13,925	13,244	11,776	10,702
CRAWFORD	Knoxville	1,570	1,897	1,651	1,595	1,563
CRISP	Cordele	5,311	5,746	5,506	6,100	6,069
DADE	Trenton	3,691	3,883	3,718	4,329	4,326
DAWSON	Dawsonville	2,099	2,018	2,172	2,183	1,835
DECATUR	Bainbridge	8,330	7,930	8,490	8,857	9,262
DEKALB	Decatur	54,679	61,424	66,603	70,636	84,143
DODGE	Eastman	10,486	10,866	10,756	12,075	10,974
DOOLY	Vienna	4,741	5,149	4,974	5,067	5,312
DOUGHERTY	Albany	22,400	12,182	13,443	14,405	16,729
DOUGLAS	Douglasville	6,268	7,576	7,778	9,405	8,257
EARLY	Blakely	4,661	4,561	4,017	4,151	3,990
ECHOLS	Statenville	926	870	819	745	857
EFFINGHAM	Springfield	2,978	3,134	2,806	3,068	3,398
ELBERT	Elberton	8,178	10,011	10,116	9,658	9,721
EMANUEL	Swainsboro	6,829	8,661	9,014	9,650	9,962
EVANS	Claxton	2,684	2,903	2,689	2,806	2,953
FANNIN	Blue Ridge	8,433	8,334	8,522	8,452	8,667
FAYETTE	Fayetteville	3,002	3,752	3,229	2,766	2,809
FLOYD	Rome	28,041	31,071	20,767	22,698	21,016
FORSYTH	Cumming	3,948	5,020	4,148	5,419	5,418
FRANKLIN	Carnesville	10,068	7,300	5,800	12,319	10,561
FULTON	Atlanta	124,978	124,808	133,291	145,096	177,497	224031	61,692 (10/6/64)
GILMER	Ellijay	5,384	4,564	4,460	4,041	4,110
GLASCOCK	Gibson	1,543	1,615	1,358	1,385	1,284
GLYNN	Brunswick	10,563	10,159	9,464	9,834	10,868		6000
GORDON	Calhoun	7,665	7,578	7,702	8,744	8,713
GRADY	Cairo	7,389	5,267	5,907	4,709	4,788
GREENE	Greensboro	5,948	7,508	7,781	7,501	4,203
GWINNETT	Lawrenceville	16,546	16,500	17,500	20,579	21,929
HABERSHAM	Clarkesville	7,706	8,423	8,423	6,000	7,302
HALL	Gainesville	17,377	20,745	18,751	14,010	14,573
HANCOCK	Sparta	3,551	4,097	3,794	3,045	2,262
HARALSON	Buchanan	11,443	8,757	12,194	6,401	7,546
HARRIS	Hamilton	3,689	3,675	3,850	4,021	3,603
HART	Hartwell	6,823	6,535	6,238	7,312	6,259
HEARD	Franklin	2,750	3,061	2,849	3,190	2,646
HENRY	McDonough	6,198	7,008	7,104	8,239	9,602
HOUSTON	Perry	5,175	7,386	7,739	7,653	9,662
IRWIN	Ocilla	4,500	5,000	5,200	4,800	5,600
JACKSON	Jefferson	6,800	7,588	7,659	7,114	7,087
JASPER	Monticello	3,349	3,225	3,334	2,548	2,697
JEFF DAVIS	Hazlehurst	5,869	4,239	6,190	4,282	4,922

Georgia Statewide

State Voters League Hears Report On Meet With Governor

By Thomas Jefferson Flanagan

The Georgia Voters League in its semi-annual conclave in Steward Chapel A. M. E. church at Macon, on last Saturday scored new gains on many fronts.

In the first place, the sudden upsurge of young people, unprecedented in numbers, reflected the impact that state workers have been vigorously carrying on for the last few months.

One of the highlights of the gathering was a report made by a committee which met last month with Governor Carl Sanders to present certain views and formal requests in behalf of our people. The report, printed in bulletin form, was distributed to those in attendance. J. H. Calhoun, William Randall and Q. V. Williamson made the report on the meeting with Gov. Sanders.

Of interest among the citations in the report were the topics of state employment, the appeal for better educational opportunities, housing, health, welfare, recreation, justice and political action.

The following were named District Leaders of the Voters League:

(Continued on Page 6, Col.)

1st District, Leroy Wilson, Savannah.

2nd District, J. H. Robinson, Moultrie.

3rd District, R. J. Reynolds, Columbus.

4th District, A. C. Touchstone, Griffin.

5th District, Franklin P. O'Neal.

6th District, J. L. King.

8th District, J. F. Mann, Brunswick.

10th District, Ray B. Ware, Athens.

One emphasis of the Voters League and the Registration committee was placed on political action through independent voting. It was stressed that such a procedure would enhance the opportunities of a two-party system which is badly needed in the state.

The following persons were named to head certain districts of the State-Wide Registration Committee:

1st District, Leroy Wilson, Savannah.

2nd District, Mrs. Marie Dixon, Bainbridge.

3rd District, Samuel Sapp, Columbus.

4th District, Warren Bush, Barnesville.

5th District, Rev. Fred Bennett, Atlanta.

6th District, Rev. V. J. Malone, Macon.

8th District, Rev. J. F. Mann, Brunswick.

10th District, Livingston B. Wallace, Augusta.

The meeting was opened in the afternoon by Republican co-chairman J. H. Calhoun, Atlanta, and attended by a large number of young people who had held a state-wide registration meeting in conjunction with the Southern Leadership Conference voter registration committee. Several hundred persons were present, representing one of the largest gatherings held by the League.

Two of the principal resolutions adopted by the group were: 1. One which requests Gov. Carl Sanders and members of the General Assembly to repeal the statute which requires a separate listing of the tax-payers by race on the grounds that this law makes possible the discrimination against Negroes in serving on juries. The jury lists over the state are taken from the tax-payers lists. 2. It adopted, among other resolutions, a request that the governor and Director of State Parks take what action is necessary to improve Lake Altoona as a recreational place near the Atlanta metropolitan area.

C. A. Scott of the Atlanta Daily World emphasized the importance of seeking the repeal of this statute which requires a separation of the tax-payers by race.

ASKS FOR MORE VOTERS

J. M. Atkinson, vice-co-chairman of the league, shared in the presiding and joined with Mr. Calhoun in urging the organization to keep up its action for unity among our racial group in political action when necessary. They both urged increased action to get more names on the voters rolls.

On motion of Mrs. Ocelia Ellis, secretary, the group expressed appreciation for the contribution Rod Harris of Atlanta had made to the league and hope for him a speedy recovery from his illness. Many other Atlantans who were present, joined in supporting the motion.

Rev. T. J. Flanagan of the Daily World staff, was chairman of the resolution committee.

Memo. ... FROM THE DESK OF

W. A. BRANTON

DATE

Fulton Co. Registration

white — 151,949
Negro — 59,602 — 61.2%
211,551

21 & over — white 108,019
123,026
2653
2554
2653
2972
2854
3161
247,892

age 18 & over white

Negroes — 47,881
60,132
1447
1383
1363
1561
1649
1633
117,049

50.9

age 18 & over Negro

COMPLIMENTS OF DARBY PRINTING COMPANY

GEORGIA POPULATION AND REGISTRATION* STATISTICS

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
1. APPLING	5,862	1,401	6,612	1,140
2. ATKINSON	2,486	812	4,168	797
3. BACON	4,203	536	6,105	22
4. BAKER	1,139	1,285	1,670	0
5. BALDWIN	16,109	9,233	7,675	2,618
6. BANKS	3,850	213	4,420	44
7. BARROW	7,865	1,332	5,848	312
8. BARTOW	14,942	2,393	11,239	1,208
9. BEN HILL	5,931	2,436	3,797	930
10. BERRIEN	6,179	964	4,177	403
11. BIBB	60,429	26,812	26,124	4,913
12. BLECKLEY	4,528	1,380	3,346	45
13. BRANTLEY	2,854	384	3,767	226
14. BROOKS	5,059	3,711	4,321	695
15. BRYAN	2,289	1,111	1,972	817
16. BULLOCH	10,101	4,337	7,899	1,390
17. BURKE	4,358	6,600	3,664	427
18. BUTTS	3,195	2,099	3,810	1,437
19. CALHOUN	1,654	2,393	1,682	132
20. CAMDEN	3,447	2,059	2,606	1,385
21. CANDLER	2,714	1,200	3,195	1,174
22. CARROLL	19,234	3,595	13,680	925

*1958 Registration figures, [illegible]

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
23. CATOOSA	12,370	172	9,938	70
24. CHARLTON	2,077	810	2,293	40
25. CHATHAM	78,118	37,563	36,943	9,250
26. CHATTAHOOCHEE	8,061	1,830	284	8
27. CHATTOOGA	11,460	1,025	11,250	1,011
28. CHEROKEE	13,964	517	12,874	195
29. CLARKE	23,895	6,740	14,255	3,136
30. CLAY	1,130	1,441	1,013	94
31. CLAYTON	23,996	2,456	11,441	477
32. CLINCH	2,373	1,256	2,429	319
33. COBB	63,291	4,568	28,134	1,908
34. COFFEE	9,682	2,977	10,058	942
35. COLQUITT	15,982	4,081	13,000	965
36. COLUMBIA	5,096	2,364	3,423	510
37. COOK	5,213	1,755	6,000	500
38. COWETA	11,891	5,579	11,597	1,647
39. CRAWFORD	1,596	1,611	1,496	155
40. CRISP	6,451	3,858	4,785	721
41. DADE	4,803	70	3,678	40
42. DAWSON	2,148	1	2,172	0
43. DECATUR	9,069	5,515	7,530	960
44. DE KALB	148,167	12,407	64,450	2,153

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
45. DODGE	7,392	2,328	8,728	2,028
46. DOOLY	3,581	2,866	4,252	722
47. DOUGHERTY	29,897	14,163	10,815	2,628
48. DOUGLAS	8,595	1,268	6,946	832
49. EARLY	4,013	3,277	4,335*	226*
50. ECHOLS	832	246	804	15
51. EFFINGHAM	4,008	1,756	2,618	188
52. ELBERT	7,752	3,127	9,012	1,104
53. EMANUEL	7,627	3,005	7,252	1,762
54. EVANS	2,738	1,308	2,206	483
55. FANNIN	8,111	31	8,503	19
56. FAYETTE	3,585	1,190	3,402	25
57. FLOYD	38,230	5,949	19,244	1,523
58. FORSYTH	7,328	4	4,148	0
59. FRANKLIN	7,611	776	5,500	300
60. FULTON	247,892	117,049	104,877	28,414
61. GILMER	5,431	7	4,454	6
62. GLASCOCK	1,281	351	1,339	19
63. GLYNN	18,750	6,762	7,425	2,039
64. GORDON	11,441	669	7,130	527
65. GRADY	7,205	3,364	5,076	831
66. GREENE	3,565	2,998	5,053	2,728
67. GWINNETT	24,299	1,841	16,498	1,002
68. HABERSHAM	10,676	518	8,223	200

* 1956 figures

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
69. HALL	27,726	2,789	17,542	1,209
70. HANCOCK	1,727	3,576	2,064	1,730
71. HARALSON	8,571	642	11,443	751
72. HARRIS	3,310	3,102	3,635	215
73. HART	7,382	1,832	5,944	294
74. HEARD	2,661	590	2,475	374
75. HENRY	6,429	3,539	5,442	1,662
76. HOUSTON	17,742	4,228	6,943 *	443 *
77. IRWIN	3,759	1,602	4,500	700
78. JACKSON	10,228	1,309	7,209	450
79. JASPER	1,925	1,705	2,530	804
80. JEFF DAVIS	4,116	909	6,130	56
81. JEFFERSON	4,937	4,780	4,120	264
82. JENKINS	2,985	2,210	2,502	694
83. JOHNSON	3,455	1,261	3,655	268
84. JONES	2,655	2,185	2,048	611
85. LAMAR	4,078	2,118	2,801	899
86. LANIER	2,158	756	1,892	452
87. LAURENS	13,178	6,284	13,218	3,507
88. LEE	1,427	1,795	1,281	29
89. LIBERTY	5,310	3,176	3,128	2,472
90. LINCOLN	1,974	1,336	2,437	3[illegible]
91. LONG	1,527	635	2,201 *	1,061 *
92. LOWNDES	20,746	8,459	11,860	2,704

* 1956 figures

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
93. LUMPKIN	4,500	79	3,912	83
94. McDUFFIE	4,625	2,740	4,089	379
95. McINTOSH	1,643	1,823	1,396	1,219
96. MACON	3,171	4,077	3,024	178
97. MADISON	5,962	989	4,588	55
98. MARION	1,353	1,609	1,330	52
99. MERIWETHER	6,547	4,990	5,457	927
100. MILLER	3,095	946	3,357	6
101. MITCHELL	6,055	4,971	7,298	375
102. MONROE	3,607	2,652	3,333	753
103. MONTGOMERY	2,520	1,288	3,315	1,005
104. MORGAN	3,415	2,469	2,615	738
105. MURRAY	6,209	51	4,962	35
106. MUSCOGEE	74,662	22,549	22,859	3,729
107. NEWTON	9,045	3,767	9,058	1,905
108. OCONEE	3,228	681	3,224	372
109. OGLETHORPE	2,964	1,709	2,958	199
110. PAULDING	7,353	603	7,851	435
111. PEACH	3,650	4,562	2,539	679
112. PICKENS	5,264	251	4,393	101
113. PIERCE	4,432	1,135	3,388	381
114. PIKE	2,593	1,643	2,520	496
115. POLK	15,065	2,442	9,852	1,154
116. PULASKI	3,018	1,843	2,853	235
117. PUTNAM	2,297	2,204	2,366	570

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
118. QUITMAN	581	707	721	43
119. Rabun	4,392	43	4,867	11
120. Randolph	2,878	3,663	2,585	493
121. RICHMOND	61,315	24,785	23,260	5,820
122. ROCKDALE	4,708	1,512	3,501	563
123. SCHLEY	961	903	1,006	158
124. SCREVEN	4,557	3,729	3,027	335
125. SEMINOLE	2,648	1,255	3,172	29
126. SPALDING	16,657	5,252
127. STEPHENS	9,975	1,355	8,242	627
128. STEWART	1,465	2,681	1,555	107
129. SUMTER	7,730	6,710	5,164	483
130. TALBOT	1,437	2,507	1,448	219
131. TALIAFERRO	917	1,073	913	756
132. TATTNALL	7,377	3,135	8,224	1,680
133. TAYLOR	2,767	2,004	3,103	347
134. TELFAIR	4,938	2,087	7,389	169
135. TERRELL	3,038	4,057	2,810	48
136. THOMAS	13,179	7,644	8,422	1,579
137. TIFT	10,211	3,513	6,681	1,113
138. TOOMBS	7,513	2,444	5,543	170
139. TOWNS	2,942	1
140. TREUTLEN	2,473	968	3,541 *	18 *
141. TROUP	20,579	8,577	13,836	2,104
142. TURNER	3,422	1,535	3,893	474

* 956 figures

County	Whites over 18	Neg. over 18	Whites Registered	Negroes Registered
143. TWIGGS	1,969	2,255	2,517	348
144. UNION	3,957	1	4,944	0
145. UPSON	11,159	3,615	5,437	466
146. WALKER	26,511	1,388	23,324	1,127
147. WALTON	9,392	3,076	6,873	805
148. WARE	15,671	4,763	11,418	2,318
149. WARREN	1,911	2,224	2,006	195
150. WASHINGTON	5,373	5,451	6,696	1,704
151. WAYNE	8,204	1,878	7,931	1,439
152. WEBSTER	775	975	934	0
153. WHEELER	2,236	824	3,157	435
154. WHITE	4,047	169	3,932	189
155. WHITFIELD	24,437	1,085	15,920	857
156. WILCOX	3,309	1,282	3,059	230
157. WILKES	3,621	3,101	3,364	290
158. WILKINSON	3,135	2,279	3,041	411
159. WORTH	5,324	3,776	5,855	296

PERMANENT LOCATIONS OF PRECINCTS CITY OF ATLANTA
For Absentee Voting
Fulton County Court House

SEN. D.
35	1-A	Fulton County Court House
35 - 36	1-B	Ed Cook School, 211 Memorial Dr., S. E.
35	1-C	Georgia Ave. School, 252 Georgia Ave., S. W.
36	1-D	Fire Station #10, 447 Blvd., S. E.
36	1-E	Faith School, 1043 Memorial Dr., S. E.
37	1-F	Atlanta Public Library, 126 Carnegie Way, N. E.
36	1-G	Anne E. West School, 820 Essie Ave., S. E.
36	1-H	W. F. Slaton School, 668 Grant St., S. E.
35 - 39	3-A	Walter St. School, 165 Walker St., S. W.
38 - 39	3-B	E. R. Carter School, 80 Ashby St., N. W.
38	3-C	Grove Park Recreation Center, Hortense Pl., N. W.
37 - 39	3-D	Fowler St. School, 595 Fowler St., N. W.
38 - 39	3-E	English Ave. School, 627 English Ave., N. W.
39	3-F	J. Allen Couch School, 860 McMillan St., N. W.
38 - 39	3-G	J. W. Goldsmith School, 1202 W. Marietta St., N. W.
39	3-H	School Bldg., Corner Greensferry and Chestnut St., N. W.
39 - 40	3-I	Mt. Vernon School, 1850 Alma St., N. W.
38-39-40	3-J	Bolton School, 2268 Adams St., N. W.
35-39	3-K	Bethune School, 198 Northside Dr., N. W.
38	3-L	Center Hill School, 2451 Bankhead Ave., N. W.
39 - 40	3-M	Fire Station #23, 1545 Howell Mill Rd., N. W.
38	3-N	Rockdale School, 1557 Johnson Rd., N. W.
35	4-A	Perkerson School, 2895 Lakewood Ave., S. W.
35	4-B	Adair School, 711 Catherine St., S. W.
36	4-C	Lakewood School, 335 Sawtell Ave., S. E.
35	4-D	Capitol View School, 1442 Stewart Ave., S. W.
34	4-E	I. N. Ragsdale School, 1114 Avon Ave., S. W.
36	4-F	Milton Ave. School, 202 Milton Ave., S. E.
35	4-G	Sylvan Hills School, 1757 Melrose Ave., S. W.
36	4-H	Orchard Knob Recreation Bldg., 3055 Humphries Dr., S. E.
36	4-I	Thomas H. Slater School, 1320 Pryor Rd., S. W.
36	4-J	Benteen School, 200 Casanova St., S. E.
37 - 39	5-A	Clark Howell School, 176 10th St., N. E.
39	5-B	Home Park School, 1031 State St., N. W.
39	5-C	Spring St. School, 1404 Spring St., N. W.
40	5-D	E. Rivers School, 8 Peachtree Battle Ave., N. W.
37	5-E	Grady High School, Grady High Gym, 929 Charles Allen Dr., N. E.
40	5-F	Peachtree Hills Community House, 308 P'tree Hills Ave., N. E.
37 - 39	5-G	Fire Station #11, 30 North Ave., N. E.
39 - 40	5-H	E. P. Howell School, 1741 Howell Mill Rd., N. W.
37	5-I	New Rock Springs School, 771 Lindbergh Dr., N. E.
37	6-A	Highland Branch Library, N. Highland & St. Charles Pl., N. E.
37	6-B	Highland School, 978 North Ave., N. E.
37	6-C	Hellenic Center, 2124 Cheshire Bridge Rd., N. E.
37	6-D	Moreland School, 1083 Austin Ave., N. E.
37	6-E	Samuel Inman School, 774 Virginia Ave., N. E.
37	6-F	Morningside School, 1053 E. Rock Springs Rd., N. E.
37	6-H	David T. Howard School, 551 Houston St., N. E.
37	6-I	Forrest School, 608 Forrest Rd., N. E.
38	7-A	Recreation Bldg., Anderson Park
34 - 38	7-B	West Haven School, 2531 Gordon Rd., S. W.
34	7-C	Cascade Heights School, 2326 Venetian Dr., S. W.
38	7-D	Washington High School, 45 White House Dr., S. W.
38	7-E	J. C. Harris School, 1444 Lucile Ave., S. W.
34 - 38	7-F	E. L. Connally School, 1628 West Haven Dr., S. W.
34-38-39	7-G	Peeples St. School, 589 Peeples St., S. W.
34 - 38	7-H	Fire Station #25, 2349 Sewell Rd., S. W.
34	7-I	Ben Hill Recreation Center, Fairburn Rd. at Campbellton Rd., S. W.
40	8-A	Northside High School, 2875 Northside Dr., N. W.
37 - 40	8-B	North Fulton High School, 2 North Fulton Dr., N. E.
40	8-C	Margaret Mitchell School, 2845 Margaret Mitchell Dr., N. W.
40	8-D	R. L. Hope School, 3317 Piedmont Rd., N. E.

 SEE REVERSE SIDE FOR COUNTY DISTRICTS **

LOCATIONS OF COUNTY POLLING PLACES

DISTRICTS	SEN. D.	CODE NUMBER
ALPHARETTA	40	02	HEALTH CENTER
BIG CREEK	40	03	OCEE COMMUNITY HOUSE
BUCKHEAD	40	05	LIBERTY GUINN SCHOOL, Long Island Dr., N. W.
CAMPBELLTON	34	06	CEDAR GROVE SCHOOL
COLLEGE PARK	E-35 W-34	07	AUDITORIUM
DOUBLE BRANCH	40	08	COURT HOUSE, FREEMANSVILLE
EAST POINT	34	91A	SUMNER PARK
EAST POINT	34	91B	HEADLAND HIGH SCHOOL
EAST POINT	34	92A	CITY AUDITORIUM
EAST POINT	34	92B	FIRE STATION #4, BEN HILL ROAD
EAST POINT	35	93A	RUSSELL HIGH SCHOOL
EAST POINT	35	93B	BROOKDALE PARK
EAST POINT	35	94	COMMUNITY HOUSE
FAIRBURN	34	10	CITY HALL
GOODES	34	11	RICO SCHOOL
GROGANS	40	12	MORGAN FALLS SCHOOL
HAPEVILLE	35	13	RECREATION BUILDING
LITTLE RIVER	40	14	CRABAPPLE COMMUNITY HOUSE
NEWTOWN	40	15	NEWTOWN COMMUNITY CLUB
OAK GROVE	40	16	HAMMOND SCHOOL, 300 Johnson Ferry Rd., N. W.
OLD FIRST	40	17	WARSAW SCHOOL
OLD NINTH	34	18	CLIFTONDALE SCHOOL
PALMETTO	34	19	COMMUNITY HOUSE
RED OAK	34	21	HEALTH CENTER
RIVERTOWN	34	22	CALDWELL'S STORE, Rivertown & Cedar Grove
ROSWELL	40	23	ROSWELL CITY HALL
SANDTOWN	34	24	SANDTOWN SCHOOL, 5320 Campbellton Rd., S. W.
UNION	34	25	UNION CIVIC HOUSE
UNION CITY	34	26	CITY HALL, Next to Woman's Club
UTOY SPRINGS	34 - 38	27	UTOY SPRINGS SCHOOL

Ga. Laws

Charter & Related Laws

Charter, Related Laws and Code of General Ordinances of Atlanta, Ga. (1953)

Sec. 14.19 - Initiative.

Whenever ten per cent of the registered voters, as disclosed by registration sheets of the last preceding general municipal election, shall request, etc.

Code 1942 - Sec. 5-211

Sec. 14.20 - Referendum. (Code 1942, Sec. 5-212

NUMBER OF REGISTERED QUALIFIED VOTERS IN FULTON COUNTY AS OF MAY 20, 1960
PRIMARY ELECTION SEPT. 14, 1960

WARD	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
1 A	187	165	352
1 B	832	675	1507
1 C	312	1561	1873
1 D	1490	6	1496
1 E	684	241	925
1 F	300	416	716
1 G	1348	0	1348
1 H	813	826	1639
TOTAL	5966	3890	9856
3 A	30	496	526
3 B	5	2551	2556
3 C	2261	484	2745
3 D	578	2	580
3 E	45	2922	2967
3 F	725	120	845
3 G	377	43	420
3 H	11	2284	2295
3 I	519	2	521
3 J	1007	159	1166
3 K	1	1318	1319
3 L	1382	851	2233
3 M	963	129	1092
3 N	1	877	878
TOTAL	7905	12238	20143
4 A	1581	24	1605
4 B	940	947	1887
4 C	2727	285	3012
4 D	1754	0	1754
4 E	1520	122	1642
4 F	691	82	773
4 G	1572	30	1602
4 H	898	196	1094
4 I	9	2134	2143
4 J	940	291	1231
TOTAL	12632	4111	16743
5 A	1357	6	1363
5 B	1199	1	1200
5 C	2098	10	2108
5 D	3487	10	3497
5 E	1129	64	1193
5 F	2212	0	2212
5 G	1200	6	1206
5 H	1966	3	1969
5 I	783	0	783
TOTAL	15431	100	15531
6 A	2638	2	2640
6 B	1966	4	1970
6 C	700	0	700
6 D	606	6	612
6 E	1988	2	1990
6 F	2364	10	2374
6 H	26	2146	2172
[illegible]	116	1901	2017
	10404	4071	14475

WARD	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
7 A	14	2586	2600
7 B	1038	939	1977
7 C	3176	1	3177
7 D	4	2282	2286
7 E	1606	1373	2979
7 F	2648	0	2648
7 G	1559	184	1743
7 H	2348	73	2421
7 I	1336	86	1422
TOTAL	13729	7524	21253
8 A	2578	25	2603
8 B	3584	23	3607
8 C	2534	80	2614
8 D	3365	2	3367
TOTAL	12061	130	12191
CITY TOTAL	78128	32064	110192
		1133
		33197

DISTRICT	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
ALPHARETTA	642	6	648
BIG CREEK	111	0	111
BUCKHEAD	1934	2	1936
CAMPBELLTON	102	0	102
COLLEGE PARK	2702	381	3083
DOUBLE BRANCH	180	0	180
EAST POINT 1	3047	4	3051
EAST POINT. 2	2627	1	2628
EAST POINT 3	2061	469	2530
EAST POINT 4	375	16	391
FAIRBURN	857	52	909
GOODES	142	1	146
GROGANS	188	0	188
HAPEVILLE	2712	0	2712
LITTLE RIVER	162	0	162
NEWTOWN	132	0	132
OAK GROVE	2761	4	2765
OLD FIRST	73	0	73
OLD NINTH	246	2	248
PALMETTO	353	65	418
RED OAK	796	26	822
RIVERTOWN	51	5	56
ROSWELL	868	49	917
SANDTOWN	323	19	342
UNION	113	1	114
UNION CITY	355	27	382
UTOY SPRINGS	231	3	234
TOTAL	24144	1133	25277

GRAND TOTAL OF WHITE VOTERS - CITY AND COUNTY 102272

GRAND TOTAL OF COLORED VOTERS - CITY AND COUNTY 33197

GRAND TOTAL CITY OF ATLANTA AND FULTON COUNTY 135469

TABULATION FOR APRIL 27TH MEETING

TENTATIVE FULTON COUNTY SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

1960 POPULATION*

		1960 Population
		Existing District	Tentative Revised District
District 34	Brown	82,195	84,973
District 35	Coggin	82,888	81,530
District 36	Salome	79,023	84,256
District 37	Wesberry	78,540	75,776
District 38	Johnson	78,953	78,817
District 39	Brewer	79,713	74,479
District 40	MacIntyre	74,834	76,315
	Total Fulton County Population	556,146	556,146

* Compiled by Atlanta Region Metropolitan Planning Commission from official publications of U. S. Bureau of the Census at the request of the Fulton County Registrar.

Atlanta Constitution

POPULATION OF FULTON CO. DISTRICTS

Based on 1960 U.S. Census

District	White	Non-White	Total
34	71,825	10,224	82,049
35	50,657	31,894	82,551
36	51,049	27,974	79,023
37	45,703	32,837	78,540
38	35,509	43,522	79,031
39	35,336	44,962	80,298
40	72,844	1,990	74,834
Total	362,923	193,403	556,326

NUMBER OF REGISTERED QUALIFIED VOTERS IN CITY OF ATLANTA AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 1961

THOSE QUALIFIED ONLY FOR THE DECEMBER 6, 1961, CITY GENERAL ELECTION

WARD	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
1-A	181	211	392
1-B	908	690	1598
1-C	274	1914	2188
1-D	1635	6	1641
1-E	645	389	1034
1-F	332	485	817
1-G	1469	0	1469
1-H	864	915	1779
TOTAL	6308	4610	10918
3-A	36	559	595
3-B	7	2758	2765
3-C	2447	624	3071
3-D	675	3	678
3-E	44	3428	3472
3-F	767	133	900
3-G	401	60	461
3-H	14	2517	2531
3-I	632	1	633
3-J	1153	222	1375
3-K	4	1459	1463
3-L	1513	222	1375
3-M	1073	146	1219
3-N	3	1118	1121
TOTAL	8769	14343	23112
4-A	1815	27	1842
4-B	969	1022	1991
4-C	3241	324	3565
4-D	1845	0	1845
4-E	1710	143	1853
4-F	741	80	821
4-G	1727	38	1765
4-H	1216	307	1523
4-I	9	2470	2479
4-J	1082	288	1370
TOTAL	14355	4699	19054
5-A	1556	6	1562
5-B	1360	4	1364
5-C	2328	9	2337
5-D	3965	9	3974
5-E	1252	115	1367
5-F	2585	0	2585
5-G	1322	7	1329
5-H	2164	3	2167
5-I	966	0	966
TOTAL	17498	153	17651

VOTERS QUALIFIED AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 1961, FOR THE DECEMBER 6, 1961, CITY GENERAL ELECTION

WARD	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
6-A	2906	2	2908
6-B	2159	4	2163
6-C	834	0	834
6-D	641	9	650
6-E	2179	3	2182
6-F	2643	12	2655
6-H	31	2258	2289
6-I	93	2256	2349
TOTAL	11486	4544	16030
7-A	12	3119	3131
7-B	1078	1360	2438
7-C	3628	5	3633
7-D	5	2466	2471
7-E	1697	1443	3140
7-F	2864	0	2864
7-G	1685	219	1904
7-H	2871	80	2951
7-I	1790	93	1883
TOTAL	15630	8785	24415
8-A	2972	25	2997
8-B	4061	26	4087
8-C	3132	113	3245
8-D	3956	3	3959
TOTAL	14121	167	14288
GRAND TOTAL	88167	37301	125468

Atlanta's DeKalb County is ward #2. - not shown here

Atlanta Journal 5/10/62

NEGRO VOTER LIST JUMPS TO 46,938

Atlanta Reg's

'Crash Campaign' in Fulton County Adds 16,000 Registrants in 16 Months

A committee of Negro citizens Thursday reported that its "crash campaign" of voter registration was a big success, adding more than 16,000 Negroes to the voters' list in Fulton County in 16 months.

Jesse Hill Jr. and Dr. C. A. Bacote, cochairmen of the All-Citizens Registration Committee, said Negro registration has increased 54 per cent since January, 1960, while white registration was increasing 37 per cent.

They said that in that period Negro registration grew from 30,499 ta 46,938—the unofficial total reached Saturday, deadline for registering to vote in this year's primary and general election.

* * *

THE COCHAIRMEN said all but 1,494 of the 46,938 live inside the Atlanta city limits. Mr. Hill said the committee plans to begin working immediately with Negro citizens and ministers in East Point, Fairburn, Alpharetta, Roswell, Palmetto and College Park to boost registration.

The committee in the last days before the deadline distributed some 50,000 handbills and used Negro radio stations and newspapers and carborne loudspeakers to drum up interest.

The Committee of Appeal for Human Rights, the Negro college student movement, took part in the "crash campaign," supplying manpower for door-to-door canvassing, telephoning and operating car pools.

* * *

STUDENTS WORKED with leaders at housing projects from which chartered buses were dispatched to carry prospective registrants to the courthouse.

The All-Citizens Registration Committee was organized in 1946 after Georgia's white primary law was held unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Fulton Co., Ga.

VOTERS' REGISTRATION - COUNT BY WARD & PRECINCT
As of 08/31/62

INSIDE

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED	% N.	TOTAL
1A	178	273	60.5	451
1B	988	752	43.2	1,740
1C	268	2,363	89.8	2,631
1D	1,756	11	0.6	1,767
1E	651	553	45.9	1,204
1F	382	575	60.1	957
1G	1,588	1	0.06	1,589
1H	941	1,074	53.3	2,015
3A	48	688	93.5	736
3B	11	3,178	99.6	3,189
3C	2,598	804	23.6	3,402
3D	755	4	0.5	759
3E	55	4,196	98.7	4,251
3F	829	166	16.7	995
3G	432	75	14.8	507
3H	22	2,891	99.2	2,913
3I	721	2	0.3	723
3J	1,258	346	21.6	1,604
3K	5	1,683	99.7	1,688
3L	1,625	1,814	52.7	3,439
3M	1,175	182	13.4	1,357
3N	3	1,503	99.8	1,506
4A	2,020	34	1.6	2,054
4B	1,027	1,196	53.8	2,223
4C	3,681	386	09.5	4,067
4D	1,950	1	0.05	1,951
4E	1,824	172	8.6	1,996
4F	768	93	10.8	861
4G	1,821	51	2.7	1,872
4H	1,506	389	20.5	1,895
4I	16	2,953	99.5	2,969
4J	1,187	271	18.6	1,458

3D voter dist? no voters

10-16-62
10-23-62

VOTERS' REGISTRATION - COUNT BY WARD & PRECINCT

Cont.

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED		TOTAL
5A	1,703	9	0.05	1,712
5B	1,455	6	0.04	1,461
5C	2,517	10	0.04	2,527
5D	4,383	12	0.03	4,395
5E	1,386	166	10.7	1,552
5F	2,918	0	0	2,918
5G	1,458	7	0.05	1,465
5H	2,382	7	0.03	2,389
5I	1,147	0	0	1,147
6A	3,116	5	0.02	3,121
6B	2,300	6	0.03	2,306
6C	1,047	0	0	1,047
6D	697	14	0.2	711
6E	2,342	4	0.02	2,346
6F	2,946	14	0.5	2,960
6H	40	2,569	98.5	2,609
6I	86	2,723	96.9	2,809
7A	14	3,739	99.6	3,753
7B	1,074	1,942	64.4	3,016
7C	3,907	6	0.1	3,913
7D	7	2,686	99.7	2,693
7E	1,801	1,587	46.8	3,388
7F	3,058	1	0.03	3,059
7G	1,819	258	12.4	2,077
7H	3,290	92	2.7	3,382
7I	2,282	109	4.5	2,391
8A	3,420	29	0.8	3,449
8B	4,459	37	0.8	4,496
8C	3,698	119	3.1	3,817
8D	4,542	9	0.2	4,551
TOTAL	97,383	44,846	31.5	142,229
		1534
		46,380.

VOTERS' REGISTRATION - COUNT BY MILITIA DISTRICT
As of 08/31/62

OUTSIDE

MILITIA DISTRICT		WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
02	ALPHARETTA	1,037	11	1,048
03	BIG CREEK	140	1	141
05	BUCKHEAD	3,133	1	3,134
06	CAMPBELLTON	146	1	147
07	COLLEGE PARK	3,625	510	4,135
08	DOUBLE BRANCH	274	0	274
10	FAIRBURN	1,119	106	1,225
11	GOODES	184	4	188
12	GROGANS	273	1	274
13	HAPEVILLE	3,166	2	3,168
14	LITTLE RIVER	266	0	266
15	NEWTOWN	169	0	169
16	OAK GROVE	4,420	7	4,427
17	OLD FIRST	103	10	113
18	OLD NINTH	348	3	351
19	PALMETTO	446	93	539
21	RED OAK	1,086	56	1,142
22	RIVERTOWN	60	10	70
23	ROSWELL	1,316	67	1,383
24	SANDTOWN	486	25	511
25	UNION	158	2	160
26	UNION CITY	475	48	523
27	UTOY SPRINGS	297	27	324
91	EAST POINT-1ST.	4,112	2	4,114
92	EAST POINT-2ND.	3,626	3	3,629
93	EAST POINT-3RD.	2,509	520	3,029
94	EAST POINT-4TH.	444	24	468
	TOTAL	33,418	1,534	34,952

JM

VOTER EDUCATION PROJECT
Room 206, 5 Forsyth Street, N. W.
Atlanta 3, Georgia Tel. 525-0595

Dear Sir:

As a part of our research program, we are gathering figures on white and colored voter registration. We should greatly appreciate it if you could give us the racial breakdown of registered voters in your county. We enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

8

Jack Minnis
Director of Research

Voter Registration:

White_____ Colored_____ State Ga

As of_____(date) County Fulton

(1)

Pct.	9-14-60 Reg Negroes per Negro Hog Unit	9-30-61 Reg Negroes per Negro Hog Unit	8-31-62 Reg Negroes per Negro Hog Unit	chng. 60-61	chng. 61-62	diff bet. 60-61 61-62
4-I	1.1190	1.2952	1.5485	.1762	.2533	.0771 —
6-H	.5218	.5491	.6247	.0273	.0756	.0483 —
7-D	1.4298	1.5451	1.6829	.1153	.1378	.0225 —
7-A	.9574	1.1547	1.3843	.1973	.2296	.0323 —
3-N	.6115	.7796	1.0481	.1681	.2685	.1004 —
3-H	.7766	.8558	.9829	.0792	.1271	.0479 —
6-I	.4984	.5915	.7139	.0931	.1224	.0293 —
3-K	.5108	.5655	.6523	.0547	.0868	.0321 —

(2)

Pct.	DIFF BETWEEN INCREASE, 61-62	% of all N. Hog Units	% of all NO-O units	% of units O-O	avg value	avg rent	Range of avg value
3N	1004	3.0	2.0	20.6	7811	33	3500-10500
4I	771	3.9	?	17.4	8129	46	5000-10500
6H	483	8.5	3.3	11.5	8694	38	6000-15500
3H	479	6.1	3.9	18.8	10,008	38	7000-13000
7A	323	5.6	11.8	61.6	10,372	58	5000-195000
3K	321	5.3	3.9	21.2	8171	42	3500-13000
6I	293	7.9	4.5	17.4	11469	51	5000-21000
7D	225	3.3	6.8	60.3	13130	47	8500-21000
		43.6	36.2

1961

7A	.1973	6-H	.5491	8694
4I	.1762	3-K	.5655	8171
3N	.1681	6-I	.5915	11469
7D	.1153	3-N	.7796	7811
6I	.931	3-H	.8558	10008
3H	.792	7-A	1.1547	10372
3K	.547	4-I	1.2952	8129
6H	.273	7-D	1.5451	13130

	1960	Avg Value	Inc. 60-61	Inc. 61-62
6-I	.4984	11469	7-A	3-N
3-K	.5108	8171	4-I	4-I
6-H	.5218	8694	3-N	7-A
3-N	.6115	7811	7-O	7-O
3-H	.7766	10008	6-I	3-H
7-A	.9574	10372	3-H	6-I
4-I	1.1190	8129	3-K	3-K
7-D	1.4798	13130	6-H	6-H

Table 2 indicates the trend which seems to have dominated the difference between the registration 60-61 and the registration 61-62. Though, of course, the rough kind of data with which we are dealing doesnot permit the assessment of causation in very sharp detail, we can assume that some kind of ~~order~~ subterrenean order is manifesting itself in the avg. value column of table 2. Since the ACRC avowed at the outset that it intended to work for registration in the poorer districts we think it more than coincidental that our statistical analysis sof the results of the drive indicates that these districts were the location of the greatest differences of 61-62 ~~the~~ and the former years.

ta Daily World

Published Every Morning Except Monday

LANTA (3), GEORGIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1962

PRICE FIVE CENTS

CITY EDITION

"NEWS WHILE IT IS NEWS"

ning when a reconnaissance nese Communist fire. In new es withdrew from a major
Karakoram Pass in Ladakh.

Georgia Republican Aspirations Suffer Setback, But Results Are Breakthrough For 2 Party System

Election Of 4 Republicans Lays 2 Party Groundwork

By STANLEY S. SCOTT

Unofficial general election returns throughout the state clearly indicate Georgia Republican aspirations for two-party government suffered a setback. However, results of Tuesday's election have left a keen awareness upon the Democratic Party that the basis and groundwork for a two-party system has been established.

A breakthrough in the solid Democratic party barrage occupied in four stat races with GOP candidates apparent winners. Unofficial returns showed that Dan MacIntyre, Republican, won the 40th district Senate seat, Fulton County; Perry Gordy won the 15th District seat in Columbus; and B. C. Logan, a Republican who ran on an independent ticket, took a House seat in Gilmer County.

Republican incumbent A. C. Duncan apparently came out on top in a race with Democrat write-in candidate Roy Kovsky.

FULTON COUNTY

Corner politicians and man-in-the-street commentators on out-up with several theories on the outcome of the election in Fulton County which saw a Negro, Atty. Leroy R. Johnson, elected to the State Senate for the first time in more than 50 years, with 70 per cent of the Negro voters casting their ballots for successful Democratic 5th Congressional District candidate Charles L. Weltner.

"This is the most serious moment of my life," Johnson said after his 7,324 to 3,271 victory of T. M. lexander, Sr., in the 38th Dis-ct. "From this day forward I am edicated servant of the people." last minute effort to thwart certain election of a Negro in in for O'Callaghan.

While defeated office seekers were licking their wounds Wednesday, some political scientists openly stated that the Negro community could have just as easily elected two Negroes to the Senate by actively supporting the candi-

(Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Vote Returns In 5th Congressional District Race

	Number Registered	Number Voting	Number O'Callaghan	Number Weltner	Per Cent O'Callaghan	Per Cent Weltner
Precinct 3-B ..	3196	1809	623	1186	34.48	65.52
Precinct 3-E ..	4211	1974	586	1388	29.60	70.32
Precinct 3-K ..	1692	861	347	514	40.30	59.70
Precinct 3-N ..	1509	611	95	516	15.55	84.45
Precinct 4-I ..	2964	1520	362	1158	23.82	76.18
Precinct 6-H ..	2591	1325	298	1027	22.49	77.51
Precinct 7-A ..	3742	1784	482	1302	27.02	72.98
Precinct 7-D ..	2696	1528	568	960	37.17	62.83
Total	22601	11412	3361	8051	29.45	70.55

Based on 8 Precincts—22,601 Registered Negro Voters of Total Negro Registration of 45,056 or 50.16 per cent.

(Analysis by John D. Reid and C. A. Bacote)

Senate roved

pproving countywide al election. This was ion of Leroy John-the 38th District.
on the Repub-

ting proposal dment 1-A ionment.
Fulton large ns.
od
e

Election Effects Disputed By National Party Chairmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said Wednesday the election results represented a "tremendous victory" for President Kennedy and indicated a highly productive 88th Congress.

Bailey also told a news conference that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's loss to Democratic Governor Edmund G. Brown in California apparently means the end of the political road for Nixon.

Final unofficial tabulations on Tuesday's balloting showed the Republicans gained only two House seats, leaving the Democrats in control 259 to 176. Incomplete Sen-

Atlas Missile Soars 4,000 Miles Across Atlantic

Mixed Drinks Illegal Sales, Whitman Says

George P. Whit
Fulton County S in Atlanta T of mixed d
Judge

Negro voting in three Fulton County precincts in five different elections during Sept., Oct., and Nov., 1962

Congressional Primary, Sept. 12, 1962

Pct.	% Negro votes cast	N Reg. per N Hsg. Unit	N %/Hsg. Units N Owner-Occupied	Med. val. o-o units	Avg. VAL. Medx o-o units
3-N	37.1	1.0481	20.6	7,500	7399
7-A	46.4	1.3843,	61.6	11,500	10372
7-D	52.9	1.6829	60.3	12,500	13130

Congressional Runoff, Sept. 26, 1963

3-N	42.1
7-A	51.9
7-D	59.8

State Senatorial Primary, Oct. 16, 1962

3-N	~~40x4x~~ 24.4
7-A	~~47x9x~~ 24.6
7-D	~~56x6x~~ 33.2

Gen. Election, Nov. 6, 1962

State Senatorial ~~Runoff, Oct. 23, 1962~~

3-N	44.2
7-A	51.7
7-D	60.8

Congressional Gen. Elec., Nov. 6, 1962

3-N	40.4
7-A	47.3
7-D	56.6

Memo from JEAN T. LEVINE

47

- 33, 34, 35, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

Renters NW occupied 70.8%
1960 29.2%

City of Atlanta

4-1-60 Total NW occ. 48188
OO occ. 14089
Rent 34099

Metropolitan Planning Commission
11-29-62

4I .1762
273
1153
1973
1681
792
931
547

8 Negro Precincts in Nov. 1962

22,601 Voting —

O'Callaghan - 3361 - 29.45%

Walton - 8051 - 70.55%

	W.	O'C
3B —	2553	24
E	3561	58
R	1469	13
N	1616	13
4-1	2700 Mac	15 Pick
6-H	2217 M	30 P
7-A	3763	35
7-D	1962	36
	14,924	+ 209 = 15,133
	98.670	1.4%

file
Ga V-R

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

106 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING
165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON G. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

MARCH 16, 1963 up to election closing date 5-15 Atlanta 3, Georgia about 4,000 more. 5,000 since election date

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
1A	111	238	349
1B	835	661	1,496
1C	186	2,210	2,396
1D	1,499	11	1,510
1E	532	543	1,075
1F	335	509	844
1G	1,478	1	1,479
1H	858	1,009	1,867
		5182
3A	42	618	660
3B	11	2,993	3,004
3C	2,270	827	3,097
3D	658	3	661
3E	42	3,949	3,991
3F	734	153	887
3G	398	68	466
3H	18	2,608	2,626
3I	662	0	662
3J	1,152	355	1,507
3K	6	1,571	1,577
3L	1,468	1,970	3,438
3M	1,103	168	1,271
3N	4	1,421	1,425
		16704
4A	1,907	31	1,938
4B	892	1,104	1,996
4C	3,504	384	3,888
4D	1,831	0	1,831
4E	1,665	160	1,825
4F	684	88	772
4G	1,672	50	1,722
4H	1,519	395	1,914
4I	16	2,731	2,747
4J	1,095	252	1,347
		5195

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

100 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON S. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

Atlanta 3, Georgia

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
5A	1,490	8	1,498
5B	1,312	6	1,318
5C	2,363	11	2,374
5D	4,143	12	4,155
5E	1,271	155	1,426
5F	2,779	0	2,779
5G	1,322	6	1,328
5H	2,280	6	2,286
5I	1,039	0	1,039
		204
6A	2,928	5	2,933
6B	2,062	7	2,069
6C	1,035	0	1,035
6D	629	12	641
6E	2,199	3	2,202
6F	2,865	12	2,877
6H	42	2,298	2,340
6I	55	2,586	2,641
		4923
7A	16	3,596	3,612
7B	851	2,091	2,942
7C	3,794	4	3,798
7D	7	2,529	2,536
7E	1,618	1,501	3,119
7F	2,875	1	2,876
7G	1,617	231	1,848
7H	3,234	89	3,323
7I	2,362	94	2,456
		10136
8A	3,381	24	3,405
8B	4,175	32	4,207
8C	3,730	111	3,841
8D	4,365	9	4,374
		176
TOTAL	91,026	42,520	133,546

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

108 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON G. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

Atlanta 3, Georgia

MILITIA DISTRICT		WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
02	ALPHARETTA	1,041	12	1,053
03	BIG CREEK	135	1	136
05	BUCKHEAD	3,132	2	3,134
06	CAMPBELLTON	138	1	139
07	COLLEGE PARK	3,555	482	4,037
08	DOUBLE BRANCH	270	0	270
10	FAIRBURN	1,091	108	1,199
11	GOODES	180	4	184
12	GROGANS	280	1	281
13	HAPEVILLE	3,051	3	3,054
14	LITTLE RIVER	268	0	268
15	NEWTOWN	167	0	167
16	OAK GROVE	4,505	5	4,510
17	OLD FIRST	98	10	108
18	OLD NINTH	365	2	367
19	PALMETTO	434	97	531
21	RED OAK	1,061	55	1,116
22	RIVERTOWN	65	12	77
23	ROSWELL	1,327	61	1,388
24	SANDTOWN	508	22	530
25	UNION	156	2	158
26	UNION CITY	464	45	509
27	UTOY SPRINGS	297	32	329
91	EAST POINT - 1st	4,063	3	4,066
92	EAST POINT - 2nd	3,588	4	3,592
93	EAST POINT - 3rd	2,404	476	2,880
94	EAST POINT - 4th	421	25	446
TOTAL		33,064	1,465	34,529

those purged after 4-1-63

outside		Suicide
W	N	W	N
65	5	245	111
181	7	784	329
160	7	666	239
76	4	360	153
18	1	174	55
52	5	245	100
75	2	345	149
128	7	648	279
8	0	29	12
49	7	265	204
55	0	210	57
58	2	302	101
147	8	785	288
24	4	123	33
19	1	92	24
109	4	393	141
3	0	7	1
86	4	392	148
133	11	757	258
57	6	251	145
6	0	20	5
21	0	54	13
114	0	499	319
2	0	35	13
1/1647	1/86	12/7693	3/3180

Total purge but 15,800

Negro Only
Original Purge 1963

	Inside	Outside
A	128	5
B	388	12
C	280	9
D	194	7
E	67	2
F	116	7
G	173	5
H	342	10
I	14	—
J	246	9
K	68	2
L	132	2
M	354	12
N	41	5
O	32	1
P	178	7
Q	2	—
R	169	7
S	325	13
T	174	9
U	6	—
V	14	—
W	373	15
X	~~[illegible]~~	—
Y	19	—
Z	~~3~~	—
	3838	140

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

106 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING
165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON G. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

September 9,1963

Atlanta 3, Georgia

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
1A	120	239	359
1B	890	674	1,564
1C	227	2,292	2,519
1D	1,550	11	1,561
1E	602	571	1,173
1F	406	515	921
1G	1,491	1	1,492
1H	895	1,038	1,933
		5341
3A	52	613	665
3B	68	3,019	3,087
3C	2,230	915	3,145
3D	681	4	685
3E	134	4,024	4,158
3F	760	157	917
3G	409	67	476
3H	63	2,590	2,653
3I	690	-	690
3J	1,206	380	1,586
3K	48	1,595	1,643
3L	1,532	2,126	3,658
3M	1,119	170	1,289
3N	70	1,480	1,550
		17140
4A	2,008	34	2,042
4B	925	1,124	2,049
4C	3,700	397	4,097
4D	1,879	-	1,879
4E	1,711	169	1,880
4F	705	86	791
4G	1,729	49	1,778
4H	1,661	426	2,087
4I	106	2,789	2,895
4J	1,150	283	1,433
		5357

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

106 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING
165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON G. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

Atlanta 3, Georgia

WARD & PREC.	WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
5A	1,532	8	1,540
5B	1,345	8	1,353
5C	2,426	13	2,439
5D	4,282	11	4,293
5E	1,315	160	1,475
5F	2,821	-	2,821
5G	1,345	6	1,351
5H	2,298	6	2,304
5I	1,071	-	1,071
		212
6A	2,989	5	2,994
6B	2,091	8	2,099
6C	1,100	-	1,100
6D	648	12	660
6E	2,283	3	2,286
6F	2,957	11	2,968
6H	94	2,307	2,401
6I	133	2,635	2,768
		4981
7A	108	3,710	3,818
7B	878	2,317	3,195
7C	3,924	4	3,928
7D	49	2,569	2,618
7E	1,680	1,511	3,191
7F	2,918	1	2,919
7G	1,675	223	1,898
7H	3,385	90	3,475
7I	2,537	94	2,631
		10519
8A	3,674	22	3,696
8B	4,282	31	4,313
8C	3,871	110	3,981
8D	4,504	9	4,513
		172
TOTAL	95,032	43,722	138,754
		1717
		45439

FULTON COUNTY

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

106 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

165 CENTRAL AVE., S. W.

LEON G. HAY
CHIEF REGISTRAR

Atlanta 3, Georgia

MILITIA DISTRICT		WHITE	COLORED	TOTAL
02	ALPHARETTA	1,121	13	1,134
03	BIG CREEK	144	1	145
05	BUCKHEAD	3,215	2	3,217
06	CAMPBELLTON	142	1	143
07	COLLEGE PARK	3,789	540	4,329
08	DOUBLE BRANCH	290	-	290
10	FAIRBURN	1,266	114	1,380
11	GOODES	180	5	185
12	GROGANS	301	1	302
13	HAPEVILLE	3,216	3	3,219
14	LITTLE RIVER	297	-	297
15	NEWTON	175	-	175
16	OAK GROVE	4,855	6	4,861
17	OLD FIRST	107	12	119
18	OLD NINTH	401	2	403
19	PALMETTO	462	104	566
21	RED OAK	1,133	56	1,189
22	RIVERTOWN	69	12	81
23	ROSWELL	1,419	65	1,484
24	SANDTOWN	534	31	565
25	UNION	169	2	171
26	UNION CITY	473	55	528
27	UTOY SPRINGS	314	46	360
91	EAST POINT - 1st.	4,300	4	4,304
92	EAST POINT - 2nd.	3,771	5	3,776
93	EAST POINT - 3rd.	2,527	610	3,137
94	EAST POINT - 4th.	441	27	468
	TOTAL	35,111	1,717	36,828

file atla.
Negro Reg.

WBL
JM
RTB

ATLANTA DAILY WORLD

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1963

SEP 21 1963

Negro Registration Increases In Atlanta

By STANLEY S. SCOTT

Fulton County voter registration records show that Negro registration in the City of Atlanta climbed to 44,893 eligible voters at the close of 1962.

The figures also show that Negro registration increased by 16,743 compared to 15,518 whites being added to the eligible voters roll.

While Negro voter registration showed a substantial increase over the past year, Negroes still lag behind white registered voters percentage wise. At the end of 1960 approximately 33 percent of the white population was registered to vote and only 23 percent of the Negro population was eligible to cast ballots.

City of Atlanta voter registration figures show that 144,215 Negro and white citizens are registered voters.

The U. S. Department of Commerce field office in Atlanta stated that there are 380,912 persons eighteen years or older. At the present time there are approximately 177,000 registered voters in the metropolitan area which includes the five counties of Clayton, Cobb, DeKalb, Fulton and Gwinnett.

REGISTERED VOTERS

The summary of the list of registered voters at the end of 1962, by ward were as follows:

	White	Colored
Ward 1	8,386	5,627

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Negro Registration

(Continued from Page One)

Ward 3	9,614	17,570
Ward 4	15,850	5,565
Ward 5	19,449	220
Ward 6	12,649	5,376
Ward 7	17,279	10,339
Ward 8	16,095	196
Totals	99,322	44,893

U. S. Department fo Commerce statistics show that approximately two out of every five Atlanta residents are Negro, and that there are 1,069,500 residents in Metropolitan Atlanta, and more than half of the total live outside of the Atlanta city limits.

The Department of Commerce further shows an exodus of whites to the surburbs and a large migration of Negroes to the city.

From 1957 to 1962, some 40,805 Negroes have made their way into the City of Atlanta and 29,305 whites have moved into the county area. At the end of 1962 there were 303,200 whites and 196,700 Negroes in the City of Atlanta.

N. Reg. 9-14-60 32,064
" " 12-6-61 37,301
~~[illegible]~~
" " 8-31-62 44,846
" " 3-16-63 42,520

Increase 60-61 5,237
" 61-62 7,545

Decrease 8-31-62 to 3-16-63 2,373

march 16, 1963
atlanta ~~Fulton Co.~~ 42,520 ~~43,985~~
loss of 2373 between end of 1962 year and 3-16-63

wards	3-16-63	12-31-62	loss or gain
1.	5182	5627	-445
3.	16704	17570	-866
4.	5195	5565	-370
5.	204	220	-16
6.	4923	5376	-453
7.	10136	10339	-203
8.	176	196	-20

Comparison % of N vote with % loss

	Vote	loss	% of total loss
1.	12.5	-08	18.7
3.	39.1	-05	36.5
4.	12.4	-07	15.6
5.	00.5	-07	00.7
6.	12.0	-08	19.1
7.	23.0	-02	08.5
8.	00.4	-10	00.8

Submitted by: Rev. Fred C. Bennette, Field Director

file atla.
Negro Pets.

WBL
JM
RTB

ATLANTA DAILY WORLD

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1963

SEP 21 1963

Negro Registration Increases In Atlanta

By STANLEY S. SCOTT

Fulton County voter registration records show that Negro registration in the City of Atlanta climbed to 44,893 eligible voters at the close of 1962.

The figures also show that Negro registration increased by 16,743 compared to 15,518 whites being added to the eligible voters roll.

While Negro voter registration showed a substantial increase over the past year, Negroes still lag behind white registered voters percentage wise. At the end of 1960 approximately 33 percent of the white population was registered to vote and only 23 percent of the Negro population was eligible to cast ballots.

City of Atlanta voter registration figures show that 144,215 Negro and white citizens are registered voters.

The U. S. Department of Commerce field office in Atlanta stated that there are 380,912 persons eighteen years or older. At the present time there are approximately 177,000 registered voters in the metropolitan area which includes the five counties of Clayton, Cobb, DeKalb, Fulton and Gwinnett.

REGISTERED VOTERS

The summary of the list of registered voters at the end of 1962, by ward were as follows:

	White	Colored
Ward 1	8,386	5,627

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Negro Registration

(Continued from Page One)

Ward 3	9,614	17,570
Ward 4	15,850	5,565
Ward 5	19,449	220
Ward 6	12,649	5,376
Ward 7	17,279	10,339
Ward 8	16,095	196
Totals	99,322	44,893

U. S. Department fo Commerce statistics show that approximately two out of every five Atlanta residents are Negro, and that there are 1,069,500 residents in Metropolitan Atlanta, and more than half of the total live outside of the Atlanta city limits.

The Department of Commerce further shows an exodus of whites to the surburbs and a large migration of Negroes to the city.

From 1957 to 1962, some 40,805 Negroes have made their way into the City of Atlanta and 29,305 whites have moved into the county area. At the end of 1962 there were 303,200 whites and 196,700 Negroes in the City of Atlanta.

N. Reg. 9-14-60 32,064
" " 12-6-61 37,301
" " 8-31-62 44,846
" " 3-16-63 42,520

Increase 60-61 5,237
" 61-62 7,545

Decrease 8-31-62 to 3-16-63 2,373

march 16, 1963
Atlanta ~~Fulton Cty 43,985~~ 42,520
loss of 2373 between end of 1962 year and 3-16-63

wards	3-16-63	12-31-62	loss or gain
1.	5182	5627	-445
3	16704	17570	-866
4.	5195	5565	-370
5.	204	220	-16
6.	4923	5376	-453
7.	10136	10339	-203
8.	176	196	-20

Comparison % of N vote with % loss

	Vote	loss	% of total loss
1.	12.5	-08	18.7
3.	39.1	-05	36.5
4.	12.4	-07	15.6
5.	00.5	-07	00.1
6.	12.0	-08	19.1
7.	23.0	-02	08.5
8.	00.4	-10	00.8

Submitted by: Rev. Fred C. Bennette,
Field Director

Microfilm Code No.
Ref-Ga
SERS Library

BP

ATLANTA
DAILY WORLD p. 1

Date JAN 26 1964

Voter Registration Program Expanded

The Fulton County Board of Commissioners has approved an expansion of the voter registration program "that will assure the county passing the 200,000 mark during 1964."

The stepped - up program was included in the adoption of the 1964 budget by the commissioners January 22. Commission Charman Harold F. McCart said the county is advancing the registration program in an effort to reach over 50 per cent of the citizens who are not registered.

The registration office now has approximately 181,000 registered out of 381,000 persons qualified to vote, or less than 50 per cent. McCart said the Fulton County registrar will work with interested people in the county in "seeing that the program is 100 per cent successful."

FIELD REGISTRATION

Chief Registrar Leon Hay said the program calls for the establishment of a field registration unit that would register eligible students in the high schools and would canvass certain areas that have a concentration of people.

Hay said, "I would personally contact management in large plants or businesses that employ large groups of people, asking for their cooperation in allowing the field unit to set up shop in their plants or office buildings."

Hay said the unit would provide night - neighborhood registration services, operating at high schools and public buildings throughout the county.

Several civic groups and organizations have established campaigns to promote registration. "The unit will cooperate with these groups and any others who are interested in the program," Chairman McCart said.

Hay predicted a favorable response to the field unit in view of the major elections during the fall of 1964. National, state and local elections are slated.

He explained that Georgia law states that all persons who voted in any of the state elections of 1962 will not be required to re - register.

In addition to the field unit, persons will be able to register at the registrar's office at the administration building on Central Avenue and at several municipalities in the county.

Hay said the field unit will be operational as soon as the new employees are hired and trained.

Fulton Co.
Voter Registration

The largest number of new voters reported was in Texas--a total of 120,590 as of December 31. The figure is an estimate of new voters paying poll tax for the first time under a state-wide program. It includes Latin Americans, white persons, and Negroes. Approximately 60,000 are Negroes. The Texas program will continue up to the 1964 registration cut off date in that state, as will the program in all other states.

The lowest figure was for Mississippi--3,228.

Figures for other states are Alabama, 13,487; Arkansas, 8,756; Florida, 37,111; Georgia, 46,347; Louisiana, 5,899; North Carolina, 23,323; South Carolina, 20,727; Tennessee, 34,243; Virginia, 13,877.

VEP also released its estimates of total voter registration in the area. For the eleven states, all voters numbered 14,157,058. Of these, 12,405,240 are white, and 1,751,818 are non-white.

This means that 11.8 per cent of the total registration in the eleven southern states is now non-white. Of the non-white voting age population, 35.2 per cent are registered.

The Voter Education Project is a program of the Southern Regional Council, with offices in Atlanta.

Const. - 5/11/62

Fulton White Vote Still Leading 3-1

Atlanta Reg.

Registrations for Both Races Hit Record in 1962 Count

By WILLIAM O. SMITH

Despite an increase in Negro registration in recent years, white voters in Fulton County are still in the majority by a margin of almost 3 to 1.

Chief Registrar Leon C. Hay said Friday a final tabulation of registration statistics as of the May 5 deadline to vote in the Democratic primary reflect these facts:

-Total whites registered, 131,323; total Negroes registered, 46,612; total registered, 177,935.

* * *

-ALL THREE totals are records, with the total registration exceeding the number of registered voters in the 1960 Democratic primary by 43,000.

-Mr. Hay pointed out, however, that the number of voters eligible to vote in the Sept. 12 primary will in the end likely be about 177,500.

-The names of registered voters who transfer or die will be taken off the rolls during the summer. With the deadline for registering less than a week in the past, 97 names must already be stricken.

* * *

IN 1960, there were only 135,469 persons registered to vote in Fulton, of which 102,272 were white and 33,097 Negro.

Whites have gained 29,053 voters since then as opposed to 13,515 more Negro voters.

The statistics reflect that whites are maintaining their lead with a tremendous margin in the county outside the City of Atlanta.

There are 33,130 whites registered in the county as opposed to only 1,556 Negroes.

Whites still have a margin exceeding 2 to 1 in the city, even so. There are 98,193 white voters and 45,056 Negro voters in Atlanta. This makes 143,249 registered voters in the city.

* * *

MR. HAY is pleased with the registration turnout in neighborhood centers established in Fulton County outside Atlanta.

A total of 903 persons registered in these centers, with 348 at East Point topping the list. There were 233 in Roswell and 102 in Hapeville.

The neighborhood centers were approved by the 1961 General Assembly so prospective voters would not have to make a long trek to the Fulton Courthouse to sign up.

HOW VOTES STACK UP

REGISTRATION COMPARISON

Election	Total Registered	White	Negro	Voted
1958 Democratic primary	133,291	104,877	28,414	90,003
1960 Democratic primary	135,469	102,272	33,097	73,507
1961 City primary	144,555	Not Available		103,860
1962 Democratic primary	177,935	131,323	46,612	?

Ad Negro Pe

Atl. Const. 4-26-69

Voter Deadline Near, Fulton Eyes 200,000

By WILLIAM O. SMITH

The deadline for registering to vote in the Democratic primary and general election is Saturday, but there's a chance registration will be reopened later.

Saturday is also the deadline for candidates to qualify to run in the primary. It's absolute, however. There won't be a second chance for those who don't qualify by noon.

The second chance for voters to register depends upon whether the General Assembly approves recommendations of the election laws study committee.

THE COMMITTEE has recommended that the deadline for qualifying and registering be set 45 days before the general election.

If the General Assembly accepts this proposal at its special session beginning Monday week, the committee is recommending that the new registration deadline go into effect immediately.

That means voter registration would resume with a primary deadline of Saturday, July 25, and a general election deadline of Saturday, Sept. 19.

The primary is scheduled Wednesday, Sept. 9, and the general election Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Registration officials point out, however, that the proposal might be rejected and prospective voters should register this week if they want to vote.

FULTON AND DeKalb registration offices will be open next Saturday to register residents who cannot register on a weekday.

Leon Hay, Fulton chief registrar, said his office will be open Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Irene B. Scott, DeKalb chief registrar, said her office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until noon Saturday. Those in line will be registered at noon, but no one will be allowed to get in line after noon, she said.

Two neighborhood registration centers will also be operated Monday and Tuesday nights in DeKalb.

Mrs. Scott said her staff will visit the Edgewood precinct in the Candler Park Civic Club on Candler Park Drive Monday night and the Evans precinct in the Mountain View Civic Club on Redan Road Tuesday night.

OFFICES at both precincts will be open from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. and residents from other precincts can register either night.

Fulton Registrar Hay said his neighborhood registration program ended last week. His office will be open daily this week from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mr. Hay predicted that Fulton's registration will reach 200,000 by the Saturday deadline for the first time—an increase of about 50 per cent since the presidential election of 1960.

There were 143,076 Fulton residents registered to vote in 1960 and about 12,000 of these were purged in 1963 for not voting.

That means Fulton will have gained more than 65,000 voters in four years.

Fulton County Reg.

uting cause.

Voter Deadline Near, Fulton Eyes 200,000

By WILLIAM O. SMITH

The deadline for registering to vote in the Democratic primary and general election is Saturday, but there's a chance registration will be reopened later.

Saturday is also the deadline for candidates to qualify to run in the primary. It's absolute, however. There won't be a second chance for those who don't qualify by noon.

The second chance for voters to register depends upon whether the General Assembly approves recommendations of the election laws study committee.

THE COMMITTEE has recommended that the deadline for qualifying and registering be set 45 days before the general election.

If the General Assembly accepts this proposal at its special session beginning Monday week, the committee is recommending that the new registration deadline go into effect immediately.

That means voter registration would resume with a primary deadline of Saturday, July 25, and a general election deadline of Saturday, Sept. 19.

The primary is scheduled Wednesday, Sept. 9, and the general election Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Registration officials point out, however, that the proposal might be rejected and prospective voters should register this week if they want to vote.

FULTON AND DeKalb registration offices will be open next Saturday to register residents who cannot register on a weekday.

Leon Hay, Fulton chief registrar, said his office will be open Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Irene B. Scott, DeKalb chief registrar, said her office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until noon Saturday. Those in line will be registered at noon, but no one will be allowed to get in line after noon, she said.

Two neighborhood registration centers will also be operated Monday and Tuesday nights in DeKalb.

Mrs. Scott said her staff will visit the Edgewood precinct in the Candler Park Civic Club on Candler Park Drive Monday night and the Evans precinct in the Mountain View Civic Club on Redan Road Tuesday night.

OFFICES at both precincts will be open from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. and residents from other precincts can register either night.

Fulton Registrar Hay said his neighborhood registration program ended last week. His office will be open daily this week from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mr. Hay predicted that Fulton's registration will reach 200,000 by the Saturday deadline for the first time—an increase of about 50 per cent since the presidential election of 1960.

There were 143,076 Fulton residents registered to vote in 1960 and about 12,000 of these were purged in 1963 for not voting.

That means Fulton will have gained more than 65,000 voters in four years.

Atl. Const. & Journal 4-26-64

Co. Fulton Co.

Voter Registrar Praises Editorial

Atl. Const. 5-3-64

The Editors: I wish to express my appreciation for the editorial appearing in last Sunday's paper regarding the activities of the Registration Department of Fulton County.

We have had the splendid cooperation of the press, also the many civic organizations throughout our county, and the people who have volunteered their services to register the citizens in their community.

LEON G. HAY
Chief Registrar
Fulton County Voters
Registration Office.
Atlanta.

Fulton County (Pub
Rel

Registrar Closes Books; Fulton County Is No. 1

Fulton County has registered its 210,180th person, climaxing the most successful voter registration campaign in the history of the state.

Miss Dorrene West, the last person in line to beat the May 2 cutoff date for this year's elections, is among 56 percent of the county's eligible voters, the largest percentage of any Georgia county.

Leon Hay, chief registrar, said the total marked a 48 percent increase over the number of registered voters in the 1960 presidential election. In 1960, 143,076 were registered.

The surge in the number of registrations on the books began March 2, sparked by enthusiastic civic groups throughout the county. To meet the demand for anxious citizens wanting to register, the Fulton County registration office deputized registrars and utilized volunteer workers to register people in high schools and other facilities. The neighborhood campaign accounted for an additional 10,5[illegible] registered voters.

"My staff has received the utmost cooperation from all groups in the county," Hay said. "Commendations go out to all those people who made the program such a success."

Atl. Daily World.
5-6-64

Registration
Fulton County

Fulton, Fifth District Republicans Reply To Tribble's Racial Charge

Atl. Daily Herald, 5-7-64

Leaders of Fulton County and Fifth District Republican organizations Wednesday refuted remarks attributed earlier in the week to State Sen. Joseph W. Tribble disavowing the need for Negro support.

The press conference Wednesday morning at the downtown GOP headquarters follows similar action taken by Republican Atlanta aldermen Rodney Cook and Richard Freeman, and Sen. Dan MacIntyre.

Sen. Tribble of Savanah, a staunch Goldwater supporter for the Presidency and newly elected state chairman of the Republican party, was quoted as saying that the GOP could go it along without the Negro vote.

He also implied that the white vote gain offset the loss of Negro support.

Sen. Tribble, who waged a stormy battle with Fulton County Republicans to gain his victory at the Republican State Convention last Saturday, also charged that only persons who work actively for Goldwater's candidacy are entitled to have a voice in the state Republican leadership.

Most Fulton County and Fifth District Republicans, who have only been lukewarm to the Goldwater drive for the Presidency, have in the past few days following the convention publicly taken issue with Sen. Trible's statement on the vote.

S. Jarvis Levison, chairman, Fifth District Republican Executive Committee, told local newsmen "We have come to a sad day if the leadership in the Republican party in this state restricts participation to only one group of Republicans and discourages others from participating in developing programs and leadership."

"If the statements attributed to Sen. Tribble accurately state his views, then I think the coming months might well provide an opportunity for Republicans in Georgia to test which approach offers the greatest opportunity for success."

Mr. Levison also disagreed with Tribble's statement which "implied that only those who embraced the philosophy of Sen. Tribble and his supporters and who are willing to actively work for Sen. Goldwater's candidacy are entitled to have a voice in the leadership in the Republican party."

Fulton County Republican chairman Donald L. Whittemore, Jr., said Sen. Tribble's remarks "seem to be in direct contradiction to those made by Sen. Goldwater in his keynote address last Saturday at the GOP state convention."

"Senator Goldwater flatly stated the Republican Party could not concede any group of voters to the opposition if we expected to win in November.

"We, in Fulton County, agree wholeheartedly with Senator Goldwater and other outstanding Republicans on this question.

The principles of the Republican Party appeal to people in all walks of life regradless of race, color or creed. Any person who believes in the dignity of the individual, the free enterprise system and a strong dynamic foreign policy is welcome in the ranks of the Republican Party.

(Continued

...ion Fifth

(Continued from Page One)

"In Georgia, Negroes by the thousands have supported the Republican Party and will continue to do so unless Senator Tribble and others try to read them out of the Party.

"In the last Presidential election, Negroes in Fulton County stood by our Party despite Democrat efforts to get them to desert it.

"Further, Negroeos in Fulton County have for years played an important role in party leadership at County, District and State levels," Whittemore stated.

Atlanta Leg.

AMITE COUNTY

"A short fat man with greying crewcut hair thrusts a wrinkled and grimy piece of paper in front of a businessman, 'These people must be fired from your firm,' he says. 'The organization does not approve of them.'

"The businessman looks at the list and notes that two of the names represent employes he has known for 20 years, but he nods sad agreement to the demands just the same. Germany, 1939? Russia today? No, Amite County, Mississippi 1964....

...."'All we have to do is to make white people raise rents until the Negro is forced to move away. Of course we will do it gradually so that their loss will not affect our economy. We can start with the progressive Negroes, since they give us the most trouble', he [a member of Americans for the Preservation of the White Race] concluded." (Delta Democrat-Times, 5/11/64)

LAUREL

Early Sunday a.m. (5/10), the pressroom of the Laurel Leader-Call heavily damaged by a dynamite explosion. The F.B.I. reported investigating. There were reports from Laurel that white groups were holding meetings in heavily-guarded abandoned oil company shacks outside the city. (Delta Democrat-Times, 5/12/64)

HINDS COUNTY

Charles Evers, state NAACP director, in a letter to Attorney General Kennedy, alleged that Ernest Caston was shot and killed by law enforcement officer of county. (Jackson Daily News, 5/15/64)

HATTIESBURG

SNCC worker, Oscar Chase (white), tells of being beaten by prisoners after being jailed in January for "leaving the scene of an accident," and of later seeing the attacker rewarded with a pack of cigarettes and released. (The Nation, 5/18/64)

2h - Reg. State wide

Suffrage - GA.

Registered voters in Fulton County precincts in 4th Congressional District officially released as of 7/10/64 (Fulton Co. registrar)

Precinct	Registered Negro voters	Registered White voters
1E	950	590
1D	12	1,714
1G	2	1,606
1H	1,353	897
4F	113	781
4H	565	2,193
4I	3,719	26
4J	400	1,329
5I	0	1,462
6B	2,313	19
6D	14	745
6E	4	2,537
6F	9	3,346
6H	2,892	55
6I	3,688	66
total	16,034	17,366

1B	764	1,000
1H	1,353	897
4C	491	4,530
5E	217	1,498
	17,506	25,291

JMV

Recd 9/26/64

FULTON COUNTY

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

VOTER REGISTRATION OFFICE

LEON G. HAY, CHIEF REGISTRAR

ROOM 106 • 165 CENTRAL AVENUE, S. W. • 30303 • TELEPHONE 522-5310 Ext 225

JULY 20,1964

REGISTERED VOTERS BY WARD & PRECINCT

WARD & PRECINCT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
1 A	107	344	451
1 B	1,019	762	1,781
1 C	171	2,984	3,155
1 D	1,751	11	1,762
1 E	603	949	1,552
1 F	519	713	1,232
1 G	1,634	2	1,636
1 H	900	1,348	2,248
3 A	44	715	759
3 B	21	3,447	3,468
3 C	1,640	2,330	3,970
3 D	836	6	842
3 E	52	4,808	4,860
3 F	837	185	1,022
3 G	417	81	498
3 H	25	2,850	2,875
3 I	861	2	863
3 J	1,510	529	2,039
3 K	11	1,956	1,967
3 L	1,469	3,241	4,710
3 M	1,324	234	1,558
3 N	8	2,209	2,217

WARD & PRECINCT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
4 A	2,526	39	2,565
4 B	1,013	1,327	2,340
4 C	4,639	488	5,127
4 D	2,099	1	2,100
4 E	1,980	195	2,175
4 F	811	111	922
4 G	1,996	71	2,067
4 H	2,296	570	2,866
4 I	26	3,676	3,702
4 J	1,368	401	1,769
5 A	1,898	10	1,908
5 B	1,511	9	1,520
5 C	2,725	14	2,739
5 D	5,193	20	5,213
5 E	1,543	215	1,758
5 F	3,275	3	3,278
5 G	1,522	10	1,532
5 H	2,601	5	2,606
5 I	1,505	-	1,505
6 A	3,424	5	3,429
6 B	2,348	20	2,368
6 C	1,428	-	1,428
6 D	775	13	788
6 E	2,566	4	2,570
6 F	3,407	8	3,415
6 H	59	2,885	2,944
6 I	66	3,667	3,733
7 A	38	4,865	4,903
7 B	707	3,490	4,197
7 C	4,783	8	4,791
7 D	19	2,903	2,922
7 E	1,792	1,711	3,503
7 F	3,182	-	3,182
7 G	1,890	247	2,137
7 H	3,976	102	4,078
7 I	3,749	135	3,884
8 A	4,597	27	4,624
8 B	5,065	38	5,103
8 C	4,611	133	4,744
8 D	5,454	13	5,467
TOTAL	110,222	57,145	167,367

REGISTERED VOTERS BY MILITIA DISTRICT

MILITIA DISTRICT		WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
02	ALPHARETTA	1,421	43	1,464
03	BIG CREEK	166	1	167
05	BUCKHEAD	4,040	2	4,042
06	CAMPBELLTON	181	1	182
07	COLLEGE PARK	4,587	639	5,226
08	DOUBLE BRANCH	387	-	387
10	FAIRBURN	1,580	231	1,811
11	GOODES	217	7	224
12	GROGANS	387	3	390
13	HAPEVILLE	4,039	5	4,044
14	LITTLE RIVER	361	1	362
15	NEWTOWN	228	-	228
16	OAK GROVE	6,445	9	6,454
17	OLD FIRST	139	14	153
18	OLD NINTH	546	9	555
19	PALMETTO	558	140	698
21	RED OAK	1,530	79	1,609
22	RIVERTOWN	77	16	93
23	ROSWELL	2,019	114	2,133
24	SANDTOWN	695	44	739
25	UNION	238	2	240
26	UNION CITY	617	130	747
27	UTOY SPRINGS	398	138	536
71	COLLEGE PARK	87	7	94
72	COLLEGE PARK	71	55	126
73	COLLEGE PARK	14	-	14
74	COLLEGE PARK	117	-	117
75	COLLEGE PARK	111	18	129
76	COLLEGE PARK	3	-	3
91A	EAST POINT	2,848	5	2,853
91B	EAST POINT	2,697	-	2,697
92A	EAST POINT	2,312	3	2,315
92B	EAST POINT	2,710	1	2,711
93A	EAST POINT	1,343	361	1,704
93B	EAST POINT	1,752	9	1,761
94	EAST POINT	571	370	941
	TOTAL	45,492	2,457	47,949

REGISTERED VOTERS BY SENATORIAL DISTRICT

SENATORIAL DISTRICT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
34	36,409	1,833	38,242
35	17,730	5,660	23,390
36	14,783	8,226	23,009
37	20,390	7,547	27,937
38	9,489	26,775	36,264
39	11,493	9,139	20,632
40	45,420	422	45,842
Total	155,714	59,602	215,316

WAB ✓
JM ✓
JI ✓

FULTON COUNTY
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

OCT 21 1964

VOTER REGISTRATION OFFICE
LEON G. HAY, CHIEF REGISTRAR
ROOM 106 • 165 CENTRAL AVENUE, S. W. • 30303 • TELEPHONE 522-5310

October 6, 1964

REGISTERED VOTERS BY WARD & PRECINCT

WARD & PRECINCT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
1 A	103	362	465
1 B	1,060	796	1,856
1 C	171	3,091	3,262
1 D	1,824	13	1,837
1 E	619	965	1,584
1 F	561	722	1,283
1 G	1,683	1	1,684
1 H	932	1,388	2,320
3 A	46	750	796
3 B	24	3,556	3,580
3 C	1,613	2,500	4,113
3 D	890	9	899
3 E	58	5,023	5,081
3 F	862	193	1,055
3 G	430	81	511
3 H	31	2,921	2,952
3 I	883	4	887
3 J	1,606	546	2,152
3 K	14	2,056	2,070
3 L	1,488	3,388	4,876
3 M	1,387	240	1,627
3 N	9	2,286	2,295

File: Registration Data: League of Women Voters Research

WARD & PRECINCT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
4 A	2,599	42	2,641
4 B	1,028	1,374	2,402
4 C	4,786	496	5,282
4 D	2,161	3	2,164
4 E	2,058	200	2,258
4 F	832	113	945
4 G	2,052	72	2,124
4 H	2,392	576	2,968
4 I	28	3,742	3,770
4 J	1,445	411	1,856
5 A	2,019	13	2,032
5 B	1,566	8	1,574
5 C	2,821	21	2,842
5 D	5,441	21	5,462
5 E	1,614	217	1,831
5 F	3,442	4	3,446
5 G	1,569	10	1,579
5 H	2,665	5	2,670
5 I	1,585	-	1,585
6 A	3,553	7	3,560
6 B	2,463	20	2,483
6 C	1,526	-	1,526
6 D	805	16	821
6 E	2,680	6	2,686
6 F	3,552	8	3,560
6 H	66	2,987	3,053
6 I	66	3,776	3,842
7 A	39	4,980	5,019
7 B	692	3,632	4,324
7 C	5,010	8	5,018
7 D	20	2,967	2,987
7 E	1,809	1,745	3,554
7 F	3,267	1	3,268
7 G	1,978	256	2,234
7 H	4,098	102	4,200
7 I	3,899	138	4,037
8 A	4,809	29	4,838
8 B	5,274	40	5,314
8 C	4,790	134	4,924
8 D	5,677	13	5,690
TOTAL	114,470	59,084	173,554

REGISTERED VOTERS BY MILITIA DISTRICT

MILITIA DISTRICT		WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
02	ALPHARETTA	1,499	52	1,551
03	BIG CREEK	176	1	177
05	BUCKHEAD	4,207	3	4,210
06	CAMPBELLTON	187	1	188
07	COLLEGE PARK	4,576	638	5,214
08	DOUBLE BRANCH	410	-	410
10	FAIRBURN	1,633	241	1,874
11	GOODES	231	7	238
12	GROGANS	406	3	409
13	HAPEVILLE	4,261	5	4,266
14	LITTLE RIVER	371	1	372
15	NEWTOWN	240	-	240
16	OAK GROVE	6,758	9	6,767
17	OLD FIRST	146	22	168
18	OLD NINTH	587	9	596
19	PALMETTO	581	150	731
21	RED OAK	1,614	80	1,694
22	RIVERTOWN	79	17	96
23	ROSWELL	2,157	125	2,282
24	SANDTOWN	732	45	777
25	UNION	256	2	258
26	UNION CITY	643	135	778
27	UTOY SPRINGS	422	156	578
71	COLLEGE PARK	180	12	192
72	COLLEGE PARK	133	75	208
73	COLLEGE PARK	23	-	23
74	COLLEGE PARK	202	-	202
75	COLLEGE PARK	210	44	254
76	COLLEGE PARK	4	-	4
91A	EAST POINT	2,989	5	2,994
91B	EAST POINT	2,857	-	2,857
92A	EAST POINT	2,417	3	2,420
92B	EAST POINT	2,823	1	2,824
93A	EAST POINT	1,423	369	1,792
93B	EAST POINT	1,835	9	1,844
94	EAST POINT	601	388	989
	TOTAL	47,869	2,608	50,477

REGISTERED VOTERS BY SENATORIAL DISTRICT

SENATORIAL DISTRICT	WHITE	NEGRO	TOTAL
34	38,056	1,922	39,978
35	18,487	5,871	24,358
36	15,320	8,405	23,725
37	21,328	7,778	29,106
38	9,649	27,731	37,380
39	12,048	9,529	21,577
40	47,451	456	47,907
TOTAL	162,339	61,692	224,031

NEGRO REGISTRATION IN FULTON COUNTY (GA.)
1949 - 1964

Year	Negro Population	Registered	Percentage
1949		25,016
1950	99,347	20,257	20%
1951
1952	148,400	19,362	13%
1953		20,000
1954	159,300
1955	169,700
1956		24,441
1957	174,000
1958	176,600	28,414	16%
1959	187,000	31,163	17%
1960	117,049 (VAP) 193,403 (TP)	(29% of all reg. voters) 34,642(36% of population)
1961		37,301 (city)
1962		46,380
1963		45,439
1964		61,192

	N reg per N reg unit 1962	N reg per N reg unit 1960	% 0-0 units	Med Value 0-0 units	Med rent R-O units	% increase 1 over 2
7D	1.6829	1.4298	60.3	12,500	48	17.7
7A	1.3843	.9574	61.6	11,500	61	40.8
3N	1.0481	.6115	20.6	7,500	33	71.5
3H	.9829	.7766	18.8	10,000	35	26.6
6I	.7139	.4984	17.4	11,500	50	43.2
3K	.6523	.5108	21.2	8,500	41	27.7
6H	.6247	.5218	11.5	8,500	38	19.7

		TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 67 BLK	1	303	171	19	8000	273	59		152000	16107
	2	380	113	29	9500	334	58		275500	19372
	3	138	114	41	10500	96	65		430500	6240
	4	64	16	31	9000	32	56		279000	1792
Pct 4	5	29	16	22	8500	5	48		187000	220
	6	215	54	52	9500	155	60		494000	9300
	7	34	34	33	8500	1	–		280500	–
	8	26	26	24	7500	2	–		180000	–
	16	99	94	47	7000	47	36		329000	1692
	17	23	23	7	5000	16	27		35000	432
	18	4	–	–	–	–	–
	19	14	13	4	–	10	34			340
TRACT 55B	4	28	25	3	–	24	51			1224
	5	126	126	13	5500	113	33		71500	3729
	6	15	14	8	10000	7	31		80000	217
	14	12	12	6	10000	5	–		60000	–
	15	26	25	7	7500	18	37		52500	666
	16	15	14	5	9500	9	42		47500	378
	17	8	7	5	7500	2	–		37500
	18	149	149	1	–	148	42		–	6216
	19	52	51	1	–	50	30			1500
	20	58	58	1	–	57	30			1710
	21	57	57	–	–	57	31			1767
	22	28	28	–	–	28	52			1456
	23	59	59	1	–	58	34			1972
	24	6	6	2	–	4	–		–	–
	25	13	13	5	6000	8	39		30000	312
	26	27	19	14	7500	12	44		105000	528

1.1190 Reg N. per N. Reg. Unit. 1960
1.5485 " " " " .862
17.4% O-O

38.4% Reversion

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

State _____

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 55B
BLK 27	32	28	19	7000	13	40		133000	520
BLK 31	19	19	10	5000	9	36		50000	324
BLK 32	21	21	12	6500	9	46		78000	414
33	12	12	5	-	7	37		-	259
34	11	11	7	5000	4	-		35000	-
35	20	20	2	-	18	51		-	918
36	25	25	-	-	25	31			775
37	82	81	-	-	81	32			2592
38	52	51	-	-	51	42			2142
41	100	99	1	-	98	32			3136
42	55	53	2	-	51	33			1683
43	70	70	-	-	70	44			3080
44	80	80	-	-	80	33			2640
	2587	1907	439		2087			3,423,500	95,653
619 white tract			(421		(2069)		mean	8179	46

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

State _____

CANDIDATE	ELECTION	3N	7A	7D				3N	7A	7D	ELEC	CANDIDATE
DAVIS	CONG. PRIM.	75	150	95							SEN. PRIM
LOWE		51	105	106				3	4	16		BARFIELD
RESPESS		25	71	34				2	13	6		GARY
WELTNER		409	1421	1194				364	915	873		JOHNSON
		560	1747	1429				1	3	1		ZUKAS
REG VOTERS (N)		1503	3739	2686				370	935	896
VOTES CAST MINUS W. REG		557	1734	1422				1503	3739	2686
% N Vote Cast.		37.1	46.4	52.9				367	921	892
								24.4	24.6	33.2
	CONG. RUNOFF
DAVIS		26	37	30							GEN. ELEC.
WELTNER		610	1918	1584				567	1395	1016		JOHNSON
		636	1955	1614				111	554	624		ALEXANDER
REG VOTERS N.		1503	3739	2686				668	1949	1640
VOTES CAST - W. REG.		633	1941	1607				1503	3739	2686
% N Vote Cast		42.1	51.9	59.9				665	1935	1633
								44.2	51.7	60.8
	GEN ELEC.
WELTNER		516	1302	960
O'CALLAGHAN		95	482	568
		611	1784	1528
REG VOTERS N		1503	3739	2686
VOTES CAST - W. REG		608	1770	1521
% N. VOTE CAST		40.4	47.3	56.6

County VAP WVAP NVAP %N Reg. WReg NReg Reg VAP % Reg VAP % W Reg VAP % N Remarks

State _____

State _____

County	3N [redacted]	7A [redacted]	7D [redacted]	%N	3N Reg.	7A WReg	7D NReg	% VAP Reg	VAP Reg	% W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Candidates [redacted]s
	1st	Cont	Prim.			Rem	H
	75	150	95		26	37	30					Davis
	51	105	106									Jaime
	25	71	34									Respess
	409	1421	1194		610	1918	1584					Weltner
	460	1747	1499		636	1955	1614
		Con	Prim.
	3	14	16									Barfield
	2	13	6									Gary
	364	915	873									Johnson
	1	3	1									Zykas
	370	945	896
		Gen	Elect.
	95	482	568									O'Callaghan
	516	1302	960									Weltner
	611	1784	1528
	567	1385	1016									Jackson
	111	554	624									Alexander
	678	1949	1640

1196 votes cast for Barfield as a write-in in entire 38th Dist. in Gen. election – Some 1/2 dozen write-in votes for other candidates but none of these write-ins are identifiable by precinct.

	TOTAL UNITS	A-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT 17 BLK 3	32	28	5	21000	26	61	105000	1586
4	86	80	14	14000	67	73	196000	4891
5	148	136	15	14000	121	57	210000	6897
6	130	126	16	11500	110	71	184000	7810
7	88	82	17	10500	66	56	178500	3696
10	27	26	13	12000	14	34	156000	476
11	14	14	5	12000	9	58	60000	522
12	90	87	25	10000	62	53	251000	3286
13	43	43	2	-	41	57	-	2337
14	146	144	8	18000	137	58	144000	7946
15	68	62	9	15000	54	64	135000	3456
16	58	56	18	11500	39	60	207000	2340
17	28	26	2	-	24	50	-	1200
19	31	27	14	12000	15	60	168000	900
20	47	46	12	12000	29	72	204000	2088
21	77	76	9	10000	67	77	90000	5159
22	152	145	10	15500	137	55	155000	7535
23	37	32	-	-	34	60	-	2040
24	47	44	11	15000	33	59	165000	1947
26	26	26	26	15000	-	-	390000	-
27	7	7	7	10500	-	-	73500	-
28	32	32	19	10500	13	42	199500	546
29	44	43	35	11500	9	66	402500	594
31	66	62	21	13000	41	57	273000	2337
32	6	-	-	-	5	-	-	-
33	33	3	-	-	28	52	-	1456
34	16	15	-	-	16	51	-	816
35	101	54	9	12500	85	51	1125000	4335

Part 6-I

.7139 reg. negro per N. Reg. unit.

17.4% Reg. units owner-occupied

State _____

County

VAP % N	WVAP % W	NVAP %	Reg. VAP	WReg VAP	NReg VAP	Reg %	Reg %	Reg %	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT 17 BLK 36	64	59	19	11000	40	52	209000	2080
37	52	51	22	9500	29	50	20900	1450
38	57	52	9	–	43	46	–	1978
39	47	46	3	–	43	50	–	2150
42	104	103	46	8500	57	48	391000	2736
45	67	66	13	8000	53	48	104000	2544
TRACT 18 BLK 1	82	80	9	21000	71	55	189000	3905
2	59	55	9	10500	46	42	94500	1932
3	24	23	3	–	20	42	–	840
15	36	35	8	10500	27	81	84000	2187
16	107	104	11	7500	93	35	82500	3255
17	59	56	5	13000	51	49	65000	2499
19	43	39	4	–	35	50	–	1750
20	118	112	8	–	104	32	–	3328
21	120	117	20	8000	98	42	160000	4116
32	56	56	30	12500	26	45	375000	1170
33	42	42	13	13500	29	49	175500	1421
34	60	58	5	–	53	55	–	2915
35	173	170	10	12500	160	46	125000	7360
36	311	297	33	11000	264	47	363000	12408
37	21	21	4	–	17	44	–	748
48	61	57	4	–	53	35	–	1855
49	65	61	10	5000	51	35	50000	1785
50	88	79	14	5000	65	40	70000	2600
51	110	106	11	12000	95	46	132000	4370
52	146	139	5	10500	134	42	52500	5628
53	57	57	7	18500	50	54	129500	2700
54	55	50	3	–	49	74	–	3626

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	NON UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 18 BLK 55	26	25	5	11500	20	42			57500	840
TRACT 28 BLK 51	78	76	9	8000	67	37			72000	2479
	4068	3814	679		3225				7,248,500	164851
90 white			(637)		(3220)			mean	11469	51
69 units

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

State _____

VALUE	NO				RENT	NO.
5000	24				47	264
9500	11				48	110
8000	42				49	80
8500	46				Median 50	131
9500	22				51	101
10000	34				52	68
10500	65				53	62
11000	52				54	50
Median 11500	74				55	261
12000	60				56	66
12500	49				57	203
13000	26				58	146
13500	13				59	33
14000	79				60	88
15000	46				61	26
15500	10				64	54
18000	8				66	9
21000	14				71	110
RENT	NO				72	29
32	104				73	67
34	14				74	49
35	197				77	67
37	67				81	27
40	65
42	331
44	17
45	26
46	298

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

Tract #39

Pab 7-D

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UN.	OWN ED	AVG. VALUE	AVG. RENT	RENT ED	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
Blk # 1	27	26	12	14000	48	14	168000	672
2	17	17	13	13000	—	4	169000	—
3	17	17	10	12000	61	7	120000	427
4	20	20	16	15500	—	4	248000	—
5	23	23	20	13000	—	3	260000	—
6	109	109	76	14500	64	33	1,107,000	—
7	13	12	11	21000	—	1	231000	—
8	30	30	10	9500	66	20	95000	1320
9	33	32	14	11500	66	18	161000	1188
10	16	16	14	12500	—	2	175000	—
11	30	30	21	11500	53	9	241500	477
12	15	15	13	12000	—	2	156000	—
13	14	14	10	13000		4	130000	—
14	17	17	12	10000	58	5	120000	290
15	15	15	12	11000	—	3	132000	—
16	26	24	12	11500	45	12	138000	540
17	8	8	8	10000	—	—	80000	—
18	18	17	15	10000	—	2	150000	—
19	17	17	11	9500	53	6	104500	318
20	27	25	12	8500	46	13	102000	598
21	42	42	24	11500	42	18	276000	756
22	20	20	19	10500	—	1	199500	—
23	47	47	8	12500	41	39	100000	1599
24	59	59	39	11500	48	20	248500	960
25	40	37	13	10500	44	24	136500	1056
26	35	34	9	10500	51	25	94500	1275
27	52	52	—	—	45	52	—	2340
28	54	50	5	11000	64	45	55000	2880

1,6829. respondent written per N. Hen hold
60.3% of units are owner-occupied

State _____

County VAP WVAP NVAP %N Reg. WReg NReg Reg VAP Reg VAP % Reg VAP % W Reg VAP % N Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	NW UN.	OWNED	AVG. VAL.	AVG RENT	RENTED		TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT 39
Blk 29	28	28	21	12500	62	7		262500	434
Blk 30	26	26	24	11500	—	2		276000	—
31	59	53	6	12500	43	47		75000	2021
32	23	22	6	9000	47	16		54000	752
33	10	5	—	—	37	5		—	185
34	68	62	13	12000	44	49		156000	2156
35	56	45	15	11000	57	33		165000	1881
Tract 40 Blk 16	38	38	33	16500	—	5		544500	—
17	25	25	20	15500	—	5		310000	—
18	24	24	23	12500	—	1		287500	—
19	63	62	57	14500	63	5		826500	315
20	29	29	27	15500	—	2		418500	—
21	54	53	41	12500	52	12		512500	624
22	47	45	38	13500	75	7		513000	525
23	23	22	21	18500	—	1		388500	—
24	20	20	17	16500	—	3		280500	—
TRACT 24 Blk 15	29	29	27	11000	—	2		297000	—
16	53	51	32	12000	56	19		384000	1064
17	16	15	10	14000	54	5		140000	270
18	23	23	20	13000	—	3		260000	—
19	23	23	20	13500	—	3		270000	—
23	46	46	34	15500	57	12		527000	684
24	14	14	11	11500	—	3		126500	—
25	11	11	10	19500	—	1		195000	—
	1649	1596	965			634		12,671,400	27607
						(597)	AVG	13130	47

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	VAP Reg %	VAP Reg % W	VAP Reg % N	Remarks

State _____

Pct. 7-D

VALUE	No.
8500	12
9000	6
9500	21
10,000	35
10,500	41
11,000	59
11,500	145
12,000	68
median 12,500	113
13,000	63
13,500	58
14,000	22
14,500	133
15,500	97
16,500	50
18,500	21
19,500	10
21,000	11
	965

RENT	No.
37	5
41	39
42	18
43	47
44	73
45	64
46	13
47	16

RENT	No.
Median 48	34
51	25
52	12
53	15
54	5
56	19
57	45
58	5
61	7
62	7
63	5
64	78
66	38
75	7

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	OWN UNITS	AVG. VAL.	RENT UNITS	AVG. RENT	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
Tract 25 Blk 2	79	77	40	13000	37	42	520,000	1554
3	27	27	10	9000	17	51	90000	867
4	24	23	9	8000	14	45	72000	630
5	24	23	10	9500	13	37	95000	481
12	46	45	15	7000	30	64	105000	1920
13	44	42	15	9000	27	43	135000	1161
14	75	74	10	5500	64	41	55000	2624
15	17	17	7	7000	10	44	49000	440
16	4	–	–	–	–	–	–	–
18	26	26	14	10000	12	39	14000	468
19	23	21	14	11500	7	58	161000	406
20	12	11	5	9000	6	48	45000	288
21	26	26	9	5500	17	38	49500	646
22	61	59	14	6500	45	34	91000	1530
23	61	61	10	8100	51	38	80000	1938
24	38	36	20	7500	16	69	150000	1104
25	152	146	27	9000	119	42	243000	4998
26	38	38	15	11500	23	47	172500	1081
35	51	48	9	7500	39	42	67500	1638
36	31	30	7	6500	23	45	45500	1035
37	–	–	–	–	–	–	–	–
38	118	115	–	–	115	51	–	5865
39	40	39	3	–	36	55	–	1980
Tract 26 Blk 1	25	21	–	–	21	32	–	672
2	27	27	9	9000	18	30	81000	540
3	14	13	5	–	8	38	–	304
5	18	18	4	–	14	37	–	518
9	27	27	8	9000	19	40	72000	760

Pct 35K

0.6523 reg N's per N. Reg unit

21.2% of Reg units 0-0

State _____ County _____ VAP WVAP NVAP %N Reg. WReg NReg Reg VAP Reg VAP Reg VAP % Reg % W VAP % N VAP Remarks

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	W VAP %	N VAP %	Remarks
Tract 26 Blk 7		28	28	15	9000	13	37	135000	481
8		17	17	9	9000	8	39	81000	312
9		15	14	5	7500	9	41	37500	369
10		20	17	7	9500	10	24	66500	240
11		29	29	5	-	24	35	-	840
12		40	39	6	5500	33	34	33000	1122
13		29	29	4	-	25	27	-	675
14		31	29	7	3500	22	36	24500	792
16		22	22	4	-	18	52	-	936
17		37	37	2	-	35	31	-	1085
18		14	14	4	-	10	18	-	180
19		7	7	-	-	7	26	-	182
20		42	37	4	-	33	52	-	1716
22		29	29	8	9500	21	67	76000	1407
23		33	33	11	7500	22	38	82500	836
24		46	45	7	5500	38	42	38500	1596
25		58	54	14	5500	40	32	77000	1280
26		28	28	-	-	28	38	-	1064
27		18	18	3	-	15	36	-	540
28		25	23	6	8500	17	39	51000	663
29		48	48	12	8000	36	81	96000	2916
30		14	13	-	-	13	26	-	338
32		10	9	2	-	7	37	-	259
33		56	55	1	-	54	28	-	1512
35		30	29	7	9000	22	30	63000	660
36		34	33	6	9000	27	85	54000	2295
37		27	26	8	7000	18	52	56000	936
38		13	12	4	-	8	40	-	320

	TOTAL UNITS	NW UNITS	OWN UNITS	AVG. VALUE	RENT UNITS	AVG. RENT		TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
Tract 26 Blk 39	43	37	12	8500	25	35		102000	875
40	71	66	9	8000	57	59		72000	3363
41	34	31	6	7500	25	37		45000	925
42	35	34	13	6000	21	35		78000	735
43	59	53	4	-	49	37		-	1813
44	47	46	5	10000	41	39		50000	1599
45	36	34	4	-	30	40		-	1200
46	76	71	3	-	68	31		-	2108
47	6	6	-	-	6	17		-	102
52	17	17	-	-	16	30			480
53	12	12	5	10500	7	38		52500	266
54	46	43	4	-	39	42		-	1638
55	35	31	8	6000	23	36		48000	828
56	67	66	6	9000	60	42		54000	3720
57	7	7	3	-	4	-		-	-
58	1	-	-	-	-	-		-	-
59	60	55	6	8100	49	34		48000	1666
60	23	22	5	-	17	41		-	697
61	112	85	3	-	82	48		-	3936
	2715	2580	546		2033			3,941,000	86951
			(479)		(2029)		AVG	8171	42

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	VAP Reg %	VAP Reg % W	VAP Reg % N	Remarks

State _____

3-12

VALUE	NO.	RENT	NO.
3500	7
5500	46	37	121
6000	21	38	133
6500	21	39	78
7000	30	40	57
7500	51	41	90 — median
8000	46	42	332
median 8500	18	43	27
9000	117	44	10
9500	25	45	37
10000	19	47	23
10500	5	48	88
11500	29	51	132
13000	40	52	69
		55	36
RENT	NO	58	7
17	6	59	57
18	10	64	30
24	10	67	21
26	20	69	16
27	25	81	36
28	54	85	27
30	56
31	103
32	61
34	127
35	70
36	60

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	VAP Reg %	VAP Reg % W	VAP Reg % N	Remarks

		Total Units	N-W Units	Own Units	Avg. Val.	Renter Units	Avg. Rent		Total Value	Total Rent
TRACT 24 Blk	3	45	41	10	11500	31	55		115000	1705
	4	305	277	136	12500	141	60		1,700,000	8460
	5	72	70	58	12000	12	60		696000	720
	6	45	45	13	7500	32	52		97500	1664
	14	16	16	16	10000	—	—		160,000	—
TRACT #83	16	157	142	114	7500	32	57		855,000	1824
	17	23	23	17	5000	6	57		85000	342
Pch 7A	18	10	10	9	6000	3	—		42000	—
	19	37	35	26	8000	9	48		208000	432
	20	13	13	11	14500	2	—		159500	—
	21	78	77	58	12000	19	65		696000	1235
	22	34	34	32	14000	2	—		448000	-
	23	30	29	25	14500	4	—		362500	—
	24	17	17	15	19500	2	—		292500	—
	25	17	17	17	11500	—	—		195500	—
	26	13	13	13	11500	-	—		149500	-
	27	65	64	51	12500	13	47		637500	611
	28	93	93	82	9500	11	49		779000	539
	29	9	9	4	—	5	42		—	210
	30	30	30	21	7500	9	47		157500	423
	31	23	23	21	8500	2	—		178500	—
	32	44	43	35	6000	8	52		210000	416
	33	19	19	17	7000	2	-		119000	—
	34	432	328	78	8500	250	61		663000	15250
	35	53	49	35	8000	14	48		280000	672
	36	56	44	-	—	44	65		-	2860
	37	15	15	15	10500	—	—		157500	-
	38	34	34	32	10500	2	—		336000

1.3843 registered Negroes per Negro housing unit
61.6% of Negro units are owner-occupied

State _____

County | VAP | WVAP | NVAP | %N | Reg. | WReg | NReg | Reg VAP % | Reg VAP % W | Reg VAP % N | Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	NW UNITS	OWN UNITS	AVG. VALUE	RENTED UNITS	AVG. RENT		TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT #83 Blk 39	61	61	55	12000	6	68		660000	408
40	13	13	13	15000	–	–		195000	–
42	15	15	12	15000	3	–		180000	–
43	20	20	20	14000	–	–		280000	–
44	7	7	5	15000	2	–		75000	–
45	7	7	7	14500	–	–		101500	–
46	35	33	29	14500	4	–		420500	–
47	106	105	20	14500	85	48		290000	4080
48	56	48	40	18500	14	54		740000	756
TRACT #84 Blk 9	32	32	22	14500	10	56		319000	560
10	88	87	60	13500	27	51		810000	1377
11	204	200	97	10000	103	71		970000	7313
12	73	72	51	9500	21	45		484500	945
13	78	78	63	9500	15	41		598500	615
14	42	41	41	10000	1	–		41000	–
15	38	36	33	11000	3	–		363000	–
16	26	26	25	11500	1	–		287500	–
17	213	210	120	13500	90	64		1,620,000	5760
	2899	2701	1672		1040			17,342,500	59,177
					(1107)		AVG	10372	58

11 white Reg. Units.

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

Pet. 7-A

VALUE	NO	RENT	NO.
5000	17	52	40
6000	42	54	14
7000	17	55	31
7500	148	56	10
8000	61	57	38
8500	99	60	153
9500	196	median 61	250
10000	154	64	90
10500	47	65	63
11000	33	68	6
median 11,500	65	71	103
12000	171
12500	187
13500	180
14000	52
14500	114
15000	30
18500	10
19500	15
	1668

RENT	NO.
41	15
42	5
45	21
47	22
48	108
49	11
51	27

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VAL.	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT # 36
BLK 1	74	57	4	-	53	33		1749
2	20	16	1	-	15	57		855
4	24	24	1	-	23	44		1012
5	15	15	3	-	12	61		732
6	133	126	2	-	124	37		4588
7	42	41	1	-	40	29		1160
10	2	-	-	-	-	-
11	17	15	-	-	15	41		615
12	78	77	1	-	76	33		2508
13	34	31	-	-	31	29		899
14	27	25	4	-	21	37		777
15	77	72	12	13000	60	37	156000	2220
16	39	38	8	10000	30	41	80000	1230
17	7	7	-	-	7	34		238
18	5	5	2	-	3	-
19	39	39	17	12500	22	47	212500	1034
20	48	46	8	12500	38	42	100000	1596
21	53	50	8	10500	42	40	84000	1680
22	29	28	-	-	28	31		868
23	20	20	-	-	20	33		660
24	12	12	-	-	12	35		420
26	24	24	1	-	23	37		851
27	18	18	3	-	15	36		540
TRACT # 37
BLK 1	87	86	6	8500	80	34	51000	2720
2	86	86	1	-	85	32		2720
3	140	139	4	-	135	30		4050
4	146	144	4	-	140	31		4340
5	110	110	1	-	109	31		3379

Pct 3-H

.9829 reg. dotted per N. hsg. unit.

18.8% hsg. units owner occupied

State _____

County VAP WVAP NVAP %N Reg. WReg NReg Reg VAP % Reg VAP % W % Reg VAP % N Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VAL.	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 37
BLK 6	12	12	-	-	12	26			312
7	97	97	-	-	97	32			3104
TRACT 38
BLK 1	14	14	-	-	14	80			1120
2	28	27	11	10000	16	52		110000	832
3	24	24	8	7500	16	57		60000	912
4	36	35	11	11500	24	73		126500	1752
5	51	49	26	11000	23	44		286000	1012
6	64	63	24	9000	39	46		216000	1794
7	65	65	27	9500	38	40		286500	1520
8	40	39	18	9000	21	53		162000	1113
9	27	27	10	9000	17	53		90000	901
10	20	18	6	11000	13	52		66000	676
11	23	22	4	-	19	56			1064
12	1	-	-	-	-	-
13	16	16	10	10000	6	53		100,000	318
14	23	23	8	9500	15	47		76000	705
15	26	25	11	10000	14	48		110000	672
16	48	40	9	10000	31	35		90000	1085
17	29	27	14	6500	13	52		91000	676
18	24	24	20	11000	4	-		220000
19	28	27	17	11500	10	62		195500	670
20	52	51	25	11500	26	45		287500	1170
21	37	37	19	9000	18	54		171000	972
22	29	29	16	7500	13	52		120000	676
23	31	30	12	9500	18	41		114000	738
24	38	38	11	9000	27	45		99000	1215
25	47	47	5	12000	42	43		60000	1806
26	33	32	19	11000	13	47		209000	611

State _____ County

VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

TRACT #38	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VAL.	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
BLK 27	2	-	-	-	-	-
28	23	21	1	-	21	41			861
29	41	41	18	9,000	23	36		162000	828
30	54	54	13	9000	41	38		117000	1558
31	41	40	12	8500	28	40		102000	1120
32	41	37	3	-	34	38			1292
33	38	36	12	7000	24	33		84000	792
34	58	58	26	11500	32	44		299000	1408
35	26	22	3	-	19	49			931
36	39	39	10	8500	29	63		85000	1827
37	15	13	3	-	10	33			330
38	39	39	8	11000	31	69		88000	2139
39	69	65	8	8500	57	34		68000	1938
40	188	187	4	-	183	32			5856
	3043	2941	554		2390			3,034,500	91,697
			(503)		(2383)		AVG.	10,008	38

3 white high units

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

State _____

	VALUE	NO.				RENT	NO.
	6500	14				43	42
	7000	12				44	78
	7500	24				45	53
	8500	36				46	39
	9000	113				47	50
	9500	47				48	14
median	10000	49				49	19
	10500	8				52	55
	11000	79				53	44
	11500	79				54	18
	12000	5				56	19
	12500	25				57	31
	13000	12				61	12
	RENT					62	10
	26	12				63	29
	29	71				69	31
	30	135				73	24
	31	277				80	14
	32	365
	33	183
	34	144
median	35	43
	36	38
	37	228
	38	75
	40	108
	41	84
	42	38

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

TRACT # 87	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	OWN UNITS	AVG. VALUE	RENTED UNITS	AVG. RENT.	TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
1	6	6	4	–	2	–
7	28	28	14	8500	14	33	119000	462
8	47	46	28	6500	18	24	182000	432
9	91	24	21	8000	3	–	168000	–
10	5	5	4	–	1	–	–	–
11	65	31	31	8500	–	–	263500	–
12	28	28	–	–	28	31	–	868
13	68	68	–	–	68	34	–	2312
14	104	102	1	–	101	34	–	3434
15	56	56	1	–	55	30	–	1650
16	381	372	31	7000	346	34	217000	11764
18	48	48	–	–	48	33	–	1584
19	75	74	5	3500	69	32	17500	2208
20	169	167	1	–	166	33	–	5478
21	109	108	–	–	108	29	–	3132
22	7	7	1	–	6	99	–	594
23	64	57	35	7500	26	27	262500	702
24	59	29	30	8500	25	47	255000	1175
25	15	15	11	10500	4	–	115500	–
26	12	11	8	9500	3	–	76000	–
27	56	53	23	7500	30	34	172500	1020
28	18	17	7	7000	10	32	49000	320
30	61	60	32	7500	28	28	240000	784
31	18	17	11	9500	6	33	104500	198
32	5	5	4	–	1	–	2,242,000	38117
	1595	1434	303		1166		AVG 7811	33
5 white high units			(287)		(1152)

1.0481 reg N. Natives per negro reg. unit.

20.6 % of reg. units owner occupied

3-2

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	% N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	% VAP Reg	% W VAP Reg	% N VAP Reg	Remarks

State _____

Pat 3-N

	VALUE	NO.
	3500	5
	6500	28
	7000	38
median	7500	90
	8000	21
	8500	75
	9500	19
	10500	11
		287

	RENT	NO.
	24	18
	27	26
	28	28
	29	108
	30	55
	31	28
	32	79
median	33	234
	34	545
	47	25
	99	6

State _____

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT		TOTAL VALUE	TOTAL RENT
TRACT 28 Blk 11	35	34	1	-	33	40			1320
13	4	-	-	-	-	-
14	67	62	5	15500	57	39		77500	2067
17	162	148	9	9000	139	38		81000	5282
18	52	44	4	-	40	43			1720
27	24	19	-	-	19	42			798
28	28	26	1	-	25	36			900
29	18	18	-	-	18	27			486
30	80	77	8	-	69	41			2829
31	90	83	12	12000	71	46		144000	3266
32	128	123	5	6000	118	33		30000	3894
33	74	69	1	-	68	44			2992
34	36	35	3	-	32	30			960
35	246	226	3	-	223	33			7359
37	5	-	-	-	1	-
38	25	21	1	-	20	46			920
39	14	12	-	-	12	36			432
46	9	8	-	-	9	54			486
47	14	11	-	-	11	51			561
48	32	31	-	-	31	46			1426
49	44	41	2	-	39	41			1599
50	19	18	4	-	14	39			546
TRACT 29 Blk 1	16	16	4	-	12	97			1164
2	27	27	6	7000	21	42		42000	882
5	107	103	18	10500	88	42		189000	3696
8	54	52	12	12000	40	44		144000	1760
9	61	60	20	10500	40	50		210000	2000
10	9	9	1	-	8	43			344

Pct 6-H

11.5% of dog units occupied

.6247 reg N per N dog unit.

County	VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg VAP %	Reg VAP % W	Reg VAP % N	Remarks

State _____

	TOTAL UNITS	N-W UNITS	O-O UNITS	AVG. VALUE	R-O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 29 BLK 11	1	-	-	-	-	-
12	34	33	-	-	33	33			1089
13	90	84	9	8500	77	43		76500	3311
14	90	86	8	9000	78	56		72000	4368
15	61	61	28	7000	33	41		196000	1353
16	86	82	20	6500	62	34		130000	2108
17	16	15	7	6000	8	39		42000	312
18	6	4	1	-	5	146			730
19	50	49	7	8000	42	38		56000	1596
20	20	20	3	-	17	38			646
21	9	5	2	-	3	-
22	72	65	12	7500	53	38		90000	2014
23	83	76	11	7500	65	38		82500	2470
24	76	72	19	8000	53	38		152000	2014
25	74	74	12	9000	62	35		108000	2170
27	54	47	7	7500	41	44		52500	1804
28	22	22	1	-	21	40			840
29	26	25	7	8500	18	39		59500	702
30	13	12	-	-	12	34			408
31	55	47	7	-	40	34			1360
32	76	74	10	9000	64	35		90000	2240
33	62	52	8	7000	46	47		56000	2162
34	59	58	10	9500	48	41		95000	1968
35	102	102	23	8500	79	53		195500	4187
36	51	51	11	11500	40	48		126500	1920
TRACT 33 BLK 5	68	68	8	-	60	34			2046
6	11	11	-	-	11	39			429
7	33	30	-	-	27	36			972

State _____ County

VAP	WVAP	NVAP	%N	Reg.	WReg	NReg	Reg %	% W VAP	% N VAP	Reg VAP	Reg VAP	Remarks

	TOTAL UNITS	N.W UNITS	O.O UNITS	AVE. VALUE	R.O UNITS	AVG. RENT
TRACT 33 BLK 8	50	49	9	10500	40	53			94500	2120
9	13	10	2	-	8	40				320
11	44	38	8	14000	30	36			112000	1080
12	15	15	1	-	14	27				378
16	-	-	-	-	-	-
17	-	-	-	-	-	-
18	171	150	5	10500	145	34			52500	4930
21	-	-	-	-	-	-
25	43	41	15	10000	26	39			15000	1014
26	45	39	5	-	34	37				1258
27	87	83	13	9000	70	37			117000	2590
28	32	30	8	9000	22	40			72000	880
29	62	59	1	-	58	34				1972
30	56	54	10	7500	44	32			75000	1408
32	33	31	6	7000	25	59			42000	1475
38	61	59	2	-	57	33				1881
39	74	71	12	6000	59	32			72100	1888
40	82	78	8	6500	71	38			52000	2698
42	499	497	17	6000	480	33			102000	15840
43	116	110	-	-	110	37				4070
	4363	4112	473		3649				3,538,500	140,704
10 White ~~Bl~~ 9 Units			(407)		(3645)			mean	8694	38

County VAP WVAP NVAP %N Reg. WReg NReg VAP Reg VAP Reg VAP Reg % N % W % VAP Remarks

State _____

Augusta

4/23/63 – Conference in VEP Office
John Calhoun & Group from Augusta present with Calhoun:
Henry Charles Brooks – 1216 Broad St. Augusta Park 4-3413
John Sanders – 1337 Florence St. Park 25966
Robert M. Crawford – 1414 Wrightsboro Rd. Park 42697

Representing Citizen's Voters League – Brooks, Pres. –
NAACP registration program started in Feb. & closed
April 1,

Rev. R.L. Postell was director of coordinated program with Citizen Voters League & NAACP

Rev. C.S. Hamilton, Pres. of NAACP (Baptist Pastor – Tabernacle Bapt. Church.
Headquarters was in Tabernacle Church.
Registered approx 3500 during drive –
NAACP gave approx 850 =
local group raised about 600 =

About 11,500 registered in Richmond County as of this date –

Mobile registration office will be going to various precincts:
119, 123 (1) (2) 1269 (1) & 1660, 1434 Laney Homes
precincts.

3 Main Groups working in registration:
1. – NAACP Branch – Rev. C.S. Hamilton
Younger Group 2. – Augusta – Richmond County Voters League – Father T.W. Morris, Pres.
older Group 3. – Citizen's Voters League – Richard Dent V.P. – M. Brooks, Pres.

294
223

3 Groups above have formed Citizens Registration Council, made up of all 3 – L.B. Wallace Chairman, Henry Brooks Co-Chairman

phone
724-6483

Citizens Voters League - 1401½ - 12th Street
No phone yet -

Pres. - Henry C. Brooks
Sec. - Mrs. L. B. Henderson
Treasurer - John Zigler

Rev. Patell - 1223 Dwinnett
Augusta

724-3942
Rev. R. L. Patell - ~~[illegible]~~
Tabernacle Bapt Church 724-1230

Citizens Registration Council:

Treasurer - Joseph Carr - (Brick layer)

Note: Andrew Young joined Congress & agreed to give Local group at August $400 out of their VEP fund.

4/24/63 - Made trip to Augusta - talked to Rev. Hamilton accompanied by Jos. Calhoun & Fred Bennett. John Murray - white man down town - calling plays for Citizens Voters League.

Contacts for Meeting Tonight

A.M.E. Min. 1. Rev. Patell
Real Estate Broker 2. L. B. Wallace
Contractor - 3. Henry C. Brooks
Episcopal - 4. Father Morris (~~[illegible]~~)
Floor Contractor - 5. Richard Dent
Furniture store - 6. B. L. Dent
M.D. - 7. Dr. R. S. Walton
Pastor Tabernacle 8. Rev. C. S. Hamilton
- 9. John Sanders
- 10. Wesley Watkins
Beautician 11. Mrs. Helen Harris
12 - Joseph Carr
13. Mrs. L. B. Henderson
14. Robert M. Crawford
15. Atty. Jack Rogers
16. Atty. John Walker
Baptist Min. - 17. Rev. Wingfield
Baptist Min. - 18. Rev. C. L. Stokes
19. C. E. Reese

Rec'd 5/8/63

Unpaid bills in Augusta, Ga. following registration program by NAACP.

WORKERS

NAME	DAYS WORKED	AMOUNT PAID	AMOUNT OWED
Mrs. D. M. Gains	21	$ 15.00	$ 90.00
Mrs. Carrie Smith	5	15.00	10.00
Mrs. Allie Lee	21 ($15.00 by C. League)	30.00	65.00
Mrs. Olive Reese	14	10.00	60.00
Mrs. Rena Buggs	2	5.00	5.00
Mrs. Topsy Eubanks	10	----	50.00
Mrs. LaQuita Boykins	6	20.00	10.00
Mrs. Mattie Mays	5	15.00	10.00
		$110.00	$300.00

DRIVERS

NAME	DAYS WORKED	AMOUNT PAID	AMOUNT OWED
Mr. Robert Thurmon	24	$ 20.00	$ 104.00
Mr. John Sanders	30	25.00	125.00
Mr. James Cartledge	15	15.00	60.00
Mr. J. T. Smith	15	15.00	60.00
Mr. Frederick Brown	5	5.00	20.00
Mr. Dave Wheeler	10	10.00	40.00
		$ 90.00	$409.00

ADMINISTRATIVE

Rev. R. L. Postell	$ 150.00
Mrs. Gwendolyn Marshall	105.00
	$ 255.00
Grand Total Expenditures	$ 1264.00
Total Paid	200.00
Balance	$ 1064.00

CITIZEN REGISTRATION COUNCIL

Financial Report
April 8 - 16, 1963

Balance		$ 74.13
Money received
Stoney Medical & Dental Society	$ 10.00
Second New Hope Baptist Church	3.00
Tickets (received from Atty. Watkins)	132.00
		$ 219.13
Disburstments
Director	$ 100.00
Sect.	70.00
Stamps	3.00
		$ 173.00
		$ 46.13 BALANCE

4713

CITIZEN REGISTRATION COUNCIL

Financial Report
February 12 - March 30, 1963

Money Received

NAACP Educational Fund		$ 808.50
(Churches)
Solid Rock Baptist Church	$ 2.00
Good Shephard Baptist Church	10.00
Mt. Zion AME Zion Church	8.00
Tabernacle Baptist Church	15.00
St. Mary's Episcopal Church	15.00
		$ 50.00
(Organizations)
Richmond County Voters League	$247.00
Citizen's Voters League	100.00
Chi Rho International	10.00
York Rite Mason	10.00
		$ 367.00
(Individual Contributions)
Mr. James Hinton	$ 10.00
Mr. L. B. Wallace	21.00
Mr. John Sanders	1.00
Mr. H. V. Vincent	1.00
Mr. Wesley Watkins	1.00
Mr. H. C. Brooks	1.00
Rev. R. L. Postell	1.00
Atty. John Watkins	1.00
		$ 37.00
		$1,262.50

Disbrustments

Workers	$216.00
Director	250.00
Sect.	175.00
Bryants Service Station	171.14
The Globe Press	5.50
Ashley Print Shop	5.25
Carters Studio	20.00
Atlanta Daily World	39.75
Telephone	50.00
Rent	50.00
Printing of Material	58.03
Stamps	22.00
Office Supply	92.30
Asst. to Sect.	12.00
		$1,166.97
		$95.53

April 8, 1963

Money Received

NAACP Educational Fund		$ 139.27
		$234.80

Disburstments

Bryants Service Station	$ 13.85
Director	50.00
Sect.	35.00
Murphy Stationary Company	61.82
		$ 160.67
(balance)		$74.13

9 n 18

BE WISE ..., BE SMART

R E G I S T E R N O W

Join The Other First Class Citizens And Vote

REGISTRATION DOES NOT COST A PENNY

WHY? In order to help get better schools, streets and lights, police protection, jobs, etc.

WHO? You - If you are 18 years or older; have lived in Georgia one year, and your present county six months.

HOW? You will be asked the following questions: Name, Address, Age, Year of birth, Mother's name before marriage (maiden name), Type of work (occupation), How long have you lived in Richmond County.

WHERE?

Monday	April 22	119th	District	Sibley Rd	9:30-4:30
Tuesday	April 23	121st	District	Jamestown	9:30-12:30
		124th	District	McBean	1:00-4:30
Wednesday	April 24	123 (1)	District	Lumpkin Rd	9:30-4:30
Thursday	April 25	123 (2)	District	Sand Bar Ferry	9:30-4:30
Monday	April 29	1269(1)	District	Jackson Rd	9:30-4:30
Tuesday	April 30	1269(2)	District	Washington Rd	9:30-4:30
Wednesday	May 1	1434th	District	Hephzibah	9:30-4:30
Thursday	May 2	1660th	District	Gracewood	9:30-4:30
Friday	May 3	1760th	District	Blythe, Ga.	9:30-4:30

You will receive courteous treatment from the Registrar.

FOR TRANSPORTATION: Call Office Phone PA 4-1230

WHEN? Mondays thru Fridays 9:30 A. M. to 4:30 P. M.

REGISTER YOURSELF; TAKE ANOTHER ONE WITH YOU. Every citizen A QUALIFIED VOTER. IF YOU DON'T VOTE, DON'T SQUAWK

SPONSORED BY: Citizen Registration Council

CITIZENS REGISTRATION COUNCIL - RICHMOND COUNTY, GEORGIA

RECOMMENDED CRASH PROGRAM - APRIL 24-MAY 3, 1963

Apr. 21 - Executive Council

1000 Announcements distributed to churches

24 - (123-1) - Radio - Television - Newspaper

Telephone Committee (10) - Call friends - Chains

(Loud Speaker)

25 - (123-2) - Home of Sam Gantt - Strategy Meeting - Yard

Loud Speaker

29 - (1269-1)- Loud Speaker

28th Sharon Baptist Church

May 1 - (1434) - Tuesday nite - Ebenezer Baptist

2 - (1660) - Wednesday nite - Sons & Daughters Society Hall

3 - Courthouse Registration

SUGGESTED BUDGET FOR 9 DAY CRASH PROGRAM

Canvassers - $5.00 per day (5) - 9 days	$ 200.00
Transportation - 1 station, 1 car - $10.00	180.00
Literature - Telephone callers	70.00
Telephone	30.00
Office Securty	35.00
Director	50.00
	$ 565.00
Miscellaneous	35.00
	$ 600.00
Local	200.00
Needed	$ 400.00

February 12, 1963

THE MINUTES OF THE VOTING CAMPAIGN

The Registration Compaign assembled for their first meeting on Tuesday evening at Four O'Clock P. M.

Meeting was called to order by the Chairman L. B. Wallace.

It was motion and properly second upon naming the orginazation "CITIZEN REGISTRATION COUNCIL".

It was moved and properly second that we ellect officers.

The officers are as followed:

	Director	Rev. R. L. Postell
	Chairman	L. B. Wallace
	Co-chairman	J. C. Brooks
	Treasurer	Joe Carr
	Secretary	Mrs. G. Marshall
Finance Committee:	Chairman	Joe Carr
		John Walkins
		Joe Beard
		A. E. Bryant
		B. L. Dent
		Mrs. Mattie Mays
		W. J. Hamp
		Garrett Mathis
		Joe Kettle
Speakers Bureau Committee:	Chairman	John Walkins
		Larry Burnett
		C. E. Reese
		Rev. L. W. Case
Transportation Committee:	Chairman	Mr. Dent
		John Sanders
		Nathan Williams
		John Swint
		Roger Bates
Publicity Committee:	Chairman	James Hinton
		Wesley Walkins
		Rev. Mrs. McIntyre

Telephone Committee: Chairman Mrs. Helen Harris
Mrs. Katy Walker
Mrs. Savannah Richardson
Mrs. Carrie Dixon

Recruiting Committee: Chairman Rev. Hamilton
H. C. Brooks
L. B. Wallace

Special Committee on Orgination:
Chairman A. M. Carter
Edward McIntyre
Roger Bates
Henry Myles
Phynize Thompson
Ike Eubanks
Mrs Leuvenia Pearson
Carswell Gilbert
Mrs. Leuvenia Kettler
Mr. Merryweather
R. S. Weaston
Henry Brigham
Verdree Tutt
Dr. Charles Porter
Adolph Dixon

Work with Children Committee:
Chairman Henri Freeman
H. L. Thompson
Beauford Golphin

General Ward Committee: Chairman John Sanders

Religion, Social Action Committee and others groups:
Chairman Rev. Stokes

Next order of business, Office Equipment Supplies, Rev. Postell in charge

It was motion and properly seconded upon the Council to assemble once a week. First meeting Tuesday 19, At 8:00 P. M.

Committies should be organized by that time, and should have learned their functions.

Meeting is Adjorn:

Chairman L. B. Wallace
Secretary Mrs. G. Marshall

May 10, 1963

Rev. R. L. Postell
1223 Gwinnett Street
Augusta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Postell:

I regret that the mobile registration campaign did not get off the ground in the manner we had contemplated following my visit to Augusta on April 23. I am sure that this was due, in part, to the fact that there was no meeting of the minds following the changed attitude on Mr. Brook's part after the meeting had adjourned. And, of course, I had no opportunity to discuss the matter further with you.

I wish now to re-confirm my interest in the total voter registration program in Augusta and to assure you of our intention to assist in seeing that any unpaid bills for your campaign just ended are taken care of.

As I stated to your group in Augusta, I think your committee should proceed at once to raise as much money locally as you possibly can for the payment of these bills and as soon as you have notified us as to the result of your sincere effort in this regard then we will consider a request for the payment of any deficiency.

May I remind you again that our future support to Augusta will be influenced by our opinion regarding your own good faith efforts to raise the money locally. We are also interested in knowing the final results of your registration effort in Augusta.

Very truly yours,

Wiley A. Branton

WAB:jl
cc: Rev. C.S. Hamilton
Mr. Henry Charles Brooks
Mr. W. C. Patton
Rev. T. W. Norris

League of Women Voters of Georgia
7 - 17th Street, N. E.
Atlanta 7, Georgia

STATEMENT TO ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

July 13, 1961

The League of Women Voters of Georgia commends this Committee for its serious effort to evaluate and rewrite Georgia's election laws. The act of voting constitutes for many citizens their only participation in government, so it is fundamental that election laws should be clear, equitable, and enforceable. Today in actual practice there is an infinite number of variations in the administration of the laws, due in large part to ambiguity and contradiction. This creates a situation where in many instances local officials become the arbiters and sole interpreters of the laws. The primary responsibility for protecting the right to vote lies with the State - with an obligation that the laws and the administration of such laws be uniform and equitable for all citizens. Therefore, the importance of your work as an Elections Committee cannot be over estimated.

The ultimate purpose of the League of Women Voters is an informed and active participation in government by citizens. In reviewing early League history, we find that as soon as the Woman's Suffrage amendment had passed in 1920, the League of Women Voters was formed expressly for the purpose of learning how to use the ballot. Citizenship schools were sponsored by the League and interest spread to encourage more citizens, both men and women, not only to vote but to be informed as well. It might be of interest to this Committee to know that one of the first items on the League program was the publication by each state organization of a digest of state election laws.

In the past in Georgia the League has opposed the poll tax, supported permanent registration, the secret ballot, printing of sample ballots, and abolition of the County Unit System, among other. More recently we opposed the 1958 Registration Act because, after careful study, we felt that a number of its provisions did not encourage voter participation and other provisions were neither equitable nor enforceable.

In our opinion, the major provisions dealing with voter qualifications and registration procedures violate the necessity for clarity and ease of impartial administration. For example, to require an applicant: to answer under "what constitutional classification" he is making application; to make two trips, unless the Board of Registrars happens to be on hand; and to be literate or answer twenty of thirty difficult questions which college professors in political science have acknowledged they could not answer; certainly makes qualifying to vote unreasonably difficult both for the would-be voter and for the Registrars. Could all of you gentlemen give the definition of a felony or state the qualifications for jury service in Georgia without prior consultation with the Georgia Code?

We are enclosing with our statement some sections of the 1958 Registration Act which, in League opinion, should be changed along with our reasons for the changes.

The League is happy to see that the Committee is considering favorably the printing of sample ballots and the removal of Superior Court Judges and Solicitors from the General Election ballot. The League has long supported the printing of such ballots as an educational service to the voter and has over the years advocated the principle of the short ballot.

Statement to Elections Committee (continued)

In addition, we would urge that it be made mandatory that names of presidential candidates be placed on the ballot and that electors be pledged to their party's candidate. We feel that in this age, when the media of communication reach into every community, the voting citizen has the means of determining his own choice for the highest office in the nation and that having made this determination he should have the unqualified assurance that his vote will be so recorded.

The League deplores the recent law permitting the party executive committee to set the date of the primary election. We believe a primary date which is set by law and not subject to political nameuvering is in the best interests of the electorate. We urge the Committee to recommend repeal of the 1961 law and adoption of one to provide a September primary.

We would also urge consideration of a date clearly fixed by law for closing registration fro the primary and general elections. The present law is not clear with regard to registration deadlines and is subject to periodic rulings by the Attorney-General. In addition, we would like to ;oint out that Georgia is one of the few states closing its registration books as much as six months prior to the voting date.

The League urges some clarification of the laws regarding petitions to place candidates' names on ballots. At present there is confusion as to whether candidates for state office must have 5% of the registered voters of every county, or whether among the 5% there must be names from every county.

The League supports the two-party system, and deplores laws which discourage its development in our state. We urge the Committee to investigate practices in other states as to percentage requirements for independent candidates.

The League thanks the Committee for this public hearing. We are almost envious of the opportunities for improvement in the Elections Code open to you and hope that our suggestions will be of some benefit.

League of Women Voters of Georgia
7 - 17th Street, N. E.
Atlanta 9, Georgia
July 12, 1961

The League wished to point up some of the most glaring faults of the 1958 Registration Act as follows:

1. It does not provide for equal application of the law. On the contrary, it would provide every County Board of Registrars with great powers of discretion, making possible unequal application in several instances.

Here are some examples:

a. Section 8 says: "The registration card shall be substantially the following form. . .; but the registrars may require additional information and provide for its inclusion on rhw card." Even the basic application froms could vary as among individuals and counties.

b. Section 12 requires any person desiring to register to "apply" to a registrar or deputy, and fill in the application form. According to Section 14, these cards are turned over within 10 days to the Board of Registrars who would then examine them, and notify the accepted applicants to appear before them for examination as to their qualifications. These provisions make two trips necessary for completing registration.

Section 17 (c) on the other hand says: "The registrars, if present or in session at the time an application is filed, may proceed to the examination of the applicant instanter and without notice". This would mean some applicants would have to make two trips, whereas others could complete registration in one trip.

c. Section 17 (a). The bill does not specify the section of the Constitution of Georgia or the U. S. to be submitted to the applicant to be read and written. Nor does it fix a standard for "intelligently" reading and "legibly" writing the section submitted. Evidently this test could vary with individuals and counties.

d. Section 18 and 19. The bill does not require Registrars to make available the thirty questions and/or answers in advance to those who are to take this test. Neither does it provide for a standard set of acceptable answers. Who is to decide, for example, what answer will be correct for the question, "What is the republican form of government?"

2. It would make the process of registering more tedious, more confusing, and unreasonably difficult. How many applicants will know what is meant by the question, "Under what constitutional classification do you desire to make application for registration?"

Section 8. How many citizens will be able to make the second trip at the convenience of the Registrars?

Questions for those unable to read or write are unreasonably difficult. "What is the definition of a felony in Georgia?: "What are the qualifications for jury service in Georgia?" "What does the Constitution of the U. S. provide regarding the right of citizens to vote?"

3. There seem to be conflicting interpretations possible as to who would be required to register. Section 1 reads in part, "any person who, after the effective date of this law, desires to register as an elector to vote . . . must do so under the previsions of this law." By inference, this would seem to indicate that all who are now registered would not have to re-register.

   But - Section 2 says, "notwithstanding any other provision of this law, any person who was qualified and registered to vote in the 1956 general election shall not be required to re-register under terms of this law . . ." Does this contradict Section 1, and mean that those who have registered since May 1956 would have to re-register? How is this to be interpreted?

4. Provisions of Sections 1 and 25 taken together are confusing and create a question as to whether registrants would have to register six months prior to the primary in non-general election years.

In summary, this law creates great confusion and difficulties for registrants. But more important, any law which by tis own provisions would permit unequal application is obviously in violation of the spirit and intent of United States and Georgia contitutional provisions protecting the rights of citizens to vote.

League of Women Voters of Georgia
7 - 17th Street, N. E.
Atlanta, Georgia 30309

July, 1963

REVIEW OF C. R. I-ELECTIONS - 1961-1963

"An equitable, enforceable system"

The League has long worked to achieve improvement in Georgia's election system. Recently there has been opportunity to make our stand known on some of our goals.

1. A simple system of voter registration which is fair and convenient to the voter, and which safeguards against fraud.

On July 13, 1961, the League of Women Voters of Georgia made a statement to the Election Laws Study Committee, a committee created by the 1961 Legislature which will make a preliminary report to the 1962 session of the Legislature. We stated in party that "we opposed the 1958 Registration Act because, after careful study, we felt that a number of its provisions did not encourage voter participation and other provisions were neither equitable nor enforceable. In our opinion, the major provisions dealing with voter qualifications and registration procedures violate the necessity for clarity and ease of impartial administration. For example, to require an applicant: to answer under 'what constitutional classification' he is making application; to make two trips, unless the Board of Registrars happens to be on hand; and to be literate or answer 20 or 30 difficult questions which college professors in political science have acknowledged they could not answer; certainly makes qualifying to vote unreasonably difficult both for the would-be voter and the Registrars." We also urged "consideration of a date clearly fixed by law for closing registration for the primary and general elections. The present law is not clear with regard to registration deadlines and is subject to periodic rulings by the Attorney-General. In addition, we would like to point our that Georgia is one of the few states closing its registration books as much as six months prior to the voting date."

2. Primary expenses paid from public funds.

In most states primary expenses are paid from public funds, but in Georgia primary expenses are paid by the political party out of party committee funds, usually obtained by candidates' entry fees. When the expenses of conducting a primary are great, this necessitates setting prohibitively high entry fees.

3. Candidates' fees set by law.

In most states primary entry fees are fixed by state law at a small percentage of the salary of the office sought. In Georgia candidates' entry fees are fixed by the party committee. High entry fees sometimes keep otherwise qualified candidates from running for office.

4. Short Ballot.

If only policy-forming officials - such as governor, lieutenant-governor, and legislators - were elected, and if the governor appointed the administrative executive officers, it would be possible for the voter to hold the governor and legislators strictly accountable for the results.

5. Preservation of the secret ballot.

This item became a C. R. in 1950 after the enactment of the Secret Ballot Law of 1949. It has been retained on the Program so that action may be taken to obtain full protection of the voters' rights whenever election officials fail to provide for a secret ballot or should there be an effort to repeal the secret ballot law. Local Leagues have secured voting machines, stopped the practice of election managers giving instructions to persons who were neither physically-handicapped nor blind, and secured the use of private booths.

6. Regulation of primaries by law, not by party rule.

In 1961, the Legislature repealed the 1952 law which set the state primary date at the second Wednesday in September. The League is urging repeal of the 1961 law which allows a party executive committee to set the date of the primary. A flexible primary date encourages political maneuvering to favor one candidate over another and, in addition, further confuses and disfranchises would-be voters, who may well find that by the time the committee has decided upon a primary date, the registration cut-off has long since passed.

7. Printing of sample ballots.

The process by which a citizen votes should be made simple and clear. Many states require that sample ballots be printed in the newspapers so that voters may study the ballot before going to the polls. It is understood that the Elections Committee is considering favorably the printing of sample ballots, at present illegal in Georgia.

8. Names of presidential candidates be placed on the ballot and electors be pledged to their party's candidate.

The League stated to the Committee that we urge "that it be made mandatory that names of presidential candidates by placed on the ballot that electors be pledged to their party's candidate. We feel that in this age, when the media of communication reach into every community, the voting citizen has the means of determining his own choice for the highest office in the nation and that having made this determination he should have the unqualified assurance that his vote will be so recorded."

The League also criticised the ambiguity of the law regarding petitions to place candidates' names on the general election ballot in district and statewide races. The attorney General has since ruled that the law's intent is to require signatures of 5% of the registered voters in the territory as a whole, rather than to require 5% from each county in the territory.

1962 LEGISLATIVE ROUNDUP ON ELECTIONS

The law setting the state primary date at the second Wednesday in September was restored.

A new law permits counties to set qualifying fees for general election candidates, except for those nominated in primaries. (The League believes in candidates' fees set by law for primaries.)

Another law clarifies qualifying rules for candidates. It provides that all candidates shall file notice of candidacy 45 days before the general election. Candidates for the General Assembly shall qualify with the ordinary of the counties or county in which they are running. Each candidate who is not nominated in a primary, or whose party polled less than 5% of the votes for such office in the last general election for such officer, shall file a separate petition signed by not less than 5% of the registered voters of the territory in which he is a candidate.

League of Women Voters of Georgia
3121 Maple Drive, N. E.
Suite #2
Atlanta, Georgia 30305

STATEMENT TO CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION SUB-COMMITTEE ON

BILL OF RIGHTS AND ELECTIVE FRANCHISE

September 6, 1963

The League of Women Voters has traditionally been closely identified with the area of suffrage and elections. After all, it was not so many years ago that we as women were denied the right to participate in these processes. Consequently we have always had an especial interest in the Elective Franchise and in those other liberties guaranteed in the Bill of Rights.

The League of Women Voters of Georgia hopes that the Constitutional Revision Commission will take advantage of this opportunity to reaffirm the substantive and procedural individual liberties of our citizens as outlined in Article I of the Georgia Constitution - the Bill of Rights. We believe that a Bill of Rights should be expressed in the clearest and most meaningful manner possible - in a manner easily understood by all citizens. Otherwise, a Bill of Rights may come to have no real significance to the people.

On this basis then we would like to suggest a few possible changes in Article I. For example, its length. As we all know, the Federal Bill of Rights is composed of ten succinct statements guaranteeing the protection of the citizen. The Model State Constitution, drawn up by the National Municipal League, contains seven such sections. In contrast, Article I of the Georgia Constitution is a collection of thirty-nine paragraphs ranging in subject matter from the traditional basic guarantees of liberty to such inappropriate matters of statute law as prohibition against lotteries (Section II, Paragraph IV) and lobbying (Section II, Paragraph V) and confirmation of tidewater titles (Section IV, Paragraph I). The language in some places is redundant or obsolete or simply confusing. For example, banishment and whipping are forbidden in a separate paragraph of Section I as though the "cruel and unusual punishment" prohibition of Paragraph VIII would not include this. Paragraph XVII prohibiting slavery is unnecessary in light of the 13th Amendment of the Federal Constitution. The terminology of Section II, Paragraph III is confusing to the lay person - the phrase "work corruption of blood" may have more medical than legal implications. Much of Section III on just compenstion is surplus verbiage in light of the due process of law clause of Section I.

Many provisions would be greatly strengthened by comgining the paragraphs and using less redundant terminology. It has been suggested that a bill of rights should be a "sparse" document; the expression of fundamental guarantees should not be obscured by unnecessary wordiness or lack of clarity.

We point out these few examples - there are others - as areas of weakness and dullness in what should be the strongest and brightest portion of our Constitution. Article I is certainly adequate as it stands, but we urge that it be considered afresh with the view toward making a truly significant document, not just for the use of constitutional lawyers but for the education of all our citizens as to our basic contitutional liberties.

From this brief statement on Article I, it follows quite naturally that we comment on Article II, Elective Franchise. The League of Women Voters of the United States, with state and local Leagues in all fifty states, has struggled without cessation to preserve the right of citizens - all citizens - to register and to vote and to increase the number of persons to exercise that right. The League of Women Voters of Georgia believes firmly that the integrity of our democratic system of government is dependent upon the citizens' participation through the electoral process. The process of registering and voting should be simple and clear, equitable and enforceable.

We believe that this Committee will readily agree that Article II of our present Constitution contains much material that is statutory and some material that permits discriminatory application in practice. Beginning with Section I, Paragraph I, the residence requirement penalizes many newcomers to Georgia and those state residents who move from one county to another. Many modern state constitutions require only six months' residence in the state (some require only three) and one month in the county. Some contitutions waive residence require elections. Why not broaden Georgia's voting-eligibility base to meet the competition of forward-looking states?

The chief concern, however, of the Georgia League of Women Voters is the provisions of Paragraph IV having to do with the qualifications of electors. Although it is generally agreed that constitutions should be of a basic nature and should avoid rigidity, these provisions are glaring examples of ambiguous terminology which lead to variations in interpretation and application. Specifically, the phrases "of good character", "understand the duties and obligations of citizenship", "correctly read. . . any paragraph","correctly write", "reasonable interpretation of any paragraph" permit too much discretion and authority on the part of local registration officials. What is "good character" different interpretations of these qualifications.

The League would suggest a provision which would not allow for such subjectivety. For example, why not revise Paragraph IV so as to direct the Legislature to establish a simple, understandable qualification test which cannot be subject to different interpretations by registrars? Qualifications for illiterates could be on the basis of simple factual knowledge, those for literates should permit no variation in application. New York state has established such objective test of voters' literacy qualifications. Thirty states out of fity have no literacy requirements whatever.

Section II of Article II, who disfranchised, might well be revised to a simple, understandable statement that "Electors are disqualified for voting for mental incompetency or conviction of felony".

In lieu of the numerous sections and paragraphs in Article II, which are of a statutory nature, the League recommends, in the interest of clarity, that there be substituted therefor a Section entitled Legislature to Prescribe for Exercise of Suffrage: The legislature shall by law define residence for voting purposes, insure secrecy in voting, and provide for the registration of voters, absentee voting, the administration of elections and the nomination of candidates.

Thank you for permitting us to appear before this Committee.

League of Women Voters of Georgia
3121 Maple Drive, N. E.
Suite #2
Atlanta, Georgia 30305

STATEMENT TO ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

September 10, 1963

The League of Women Voters of Georgia firmly believes that the integrity of our democratic system of government is dependent upon the citizen's participation through the electoral process. Every effort should be made to preserve the right of the citizen to register and vote and to increase the number of persons who exercise this right. The process of registering and voting should be simple and clear, equitable and enforceable.

In the 1960 Presidential Election, Georgia ranked 48th in the percentage of voting age population which cast ballots. Only 31.3% of our adult citizens voted, while in Idaho, 80.8% of the people voted. In 31 of the 50 states, 70% or more of adult citizens voted. Could our poor record be due partly to archaic election laws?

Today in actual practice, there is an infinite number of variations in the administration of our election laws, due largely to ambiguity and contradiction. In many instances, too great discretion is permitted local officials in matters of interpretation and application, although it is a primary obligation of the State to ensure that election laws and their administration are uniform and equitable for all citizens. Georgia's voter registration law, for example, provides for many excellent administrative procedures on paper, such as those for periodic purging of the registration lists. In actuality, this provision is so loosely enforces that, in 1962, 36 counties were found with more registered voters listed on the books than there were residents of voting age! The League recommends that the powers and duties of the State Elections Commission be expanded to include regulatory and enforcement provisions.

The League commends recend changes in the registration law authorizing neighborhood registration and making it easier to complete all registration requirements in one trip. However, we should like to suggest changes in certain provisions of the present law which we feel place unnecessary stumbling blocks in the way of the prospective registrant, bearing in mind that the main purpose of a voter registration law in not to restrict voting, but to prevent fraud at the polls. The 1958 Registration Act does not provide for equal application of the law; on the contrary, it provides the Registrars with great powers of discretion.

1. The Registration Card: It should be mandatory that all registration cards be alike and that the Registrars not be allowed to require additional information. Irrelevant data, such as physical description and mother's and father's names, should be omitted. The personal signature of the registrant should be sufficient identification at the polls and a comparison of signatures at the polling places should be made mandatory in every county. The National Municipal League suggests a simplified registration card, with spaces for the following information: name, sex, address, citizenship status, signature, and an affidavit in which the registrant affirms that he is a citizen, will be of voting age by the day of the next election, and will have resided in the state and county the required length of time, and is legally qualified to vote.

2. Residence Requirements: The present residence requirements of one year in the state and six months in the county penalize the many newcomers to Gerogia. A number of states require only six months' residency in the state and one month in the county, and the Model Constitution of the National Municipal League suggests state residency of three months and county residency of one month. In addition, some states now waive residence requirement for those citizens newly moved into the state who wish to vote in presidential elections.

3. Multiple Trips to Registrars' Offices: Recent legislation which authorizes deputy registrars to examine applicants, facilitates the completion of registration requirements in only one trip, but the Board of Registrars still may require the applicant to appear a second time at any time within a period of one to thirty days. If the applicant fails to appear at the time specified, his application is rejected and he may not re-apply until after the beginning of the new calendar year. These provisions should be eliminated. In addition, those persons who receive notice that they are to be purged from the voting lists should be allowed to request continuance of registration by mail, rather than having to appear in person, as is now the case.

4. Registration Cut-Off Date: Experts recommend closing the registration books thirty days prior to an election, and many states have such a provision. When Fulton County officials have been quoted as saying that they can have their voting list ready within thirty days after close of registration, it is hard to understand why any county needs six months to prepare the lists.

5. The Qualifying Question: How many applicants know what is meant by the question, "Under what constitutional classification do you desire to make application for registration?" Would it not be simpler just to say, "Do you wish to show that you can read and write, or if you cannot, do you want to show that you understand your duties as a voter?"

6. The Tests: (a) for literates -- under the existing law, Registrars may select any section of the Georgia or United States Constitution, which may vary from one pargraph to several pages and may contain simple words or complex legal terms, for testing the would-be voter. The Registrars decide if it is read "intelligibly" and written "legibly." The League favors a simple, objective test which would remove such discretionary power from the hands of the Registrars. Attached to the mimeographed copy of the League's statement is a sample of the New York State test, composed and administered by the state educational authorities. It consists of specific questions about non-political information containes in a paragraph preceding the questions. No interpretive answers are possible, since the correct answers are identical with the date right before the applicant.

(b) for illiterates -- instead of requiring the illiterate applicant to answer correctly 20 out of 30 difficult questions, which college professors in political science have asknowledged they could not answer, the answers to some of which also are open to subjective interpretation by the Registrars, we should return to the simpler provisions of Georgia's 1949 Registration Law. At that time, the applicant had to answer correctly 10 out of 30 factual questions for which answers were published or readily available.

The League would also like to recommend reforms in certain other portions of Georgia's election laws:

In most states, primary expenses are paid from public funds, but in Georgia the expenses are paid from candidates' entry fees. When the expenses of conducting a primary are great, this necessitates setting prohibitively high entry fees. The League recommends that primary expenses be paid by the same governmental authority that bears the regular election expenses and that candidates' fees be set by law at a small percentage of the salary of the office sought, high enough to discourage the irresponsible but low enough to encourage qualified candidates to run.

The League has long supported the principle of the short ballot. If only policy-making officials - such as governor, lieutenant governor, and legislators were elected, and if the administrative executive officers were appointed, it would simplify the task of making informed choices at the polls and it would be possible for the voter to hold the elected officials strictly accountable for the results.

The printing and wide distribution of sample ballots should be legalized as an aid to informed and efficient voting.

It should be mandatory that the names of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates be placed on the ballot and that electors be pledged to their party's candidate, and not merely permissive, as provided in the 1962 law.

The League thanks the Committee for this public hearing and for the opportunity to make its views known.

PART OF NEW YORK STATE LITERACY TEST (June 1958 VOTER)

"Rockefeller Center is located in New York City. It is made up of fifteen buildings. These buildings cover more than twelve acres. About 200 buildings had to be torn down to make room for the Center. The first of these buildings to be erected was the RKO building. It was started in September 1931 . . ."

The answers to the following questions are to be from the above paragraph.

1. How many buildings make up Rockefeller Center?----------

2. Which was the first of the buildings to be erected?----------

3. In what month was that building started?----------

League of Women Voters of Georgia
3121 Maple Drive, N. E. Suite #2
Atlanta, Georgia 30305
January 28, 1964

CALL FOR ACTION

To: Local League Presidents and State C. R. Chairmen

From: Charlotte Moran, State C. R. Chairman

RE: PENDING ELECTION LEGISLATION

We are sending you a copy of the letter and the analysis of the proposed state Election Code, S. B. 205, which we shall send to the appropriate House and Senate Committees. As mentioned in the December-January GEORGIA VOTER, the Georgia League must still oppose many of its provisions, particularly those concerning voter registration - which remain essentially unchanged, with a few exceptions for the worse - and those dealing with regulation of primaries, primary expenses and candidates' fees.

It should be pointed out that in the proposed legislation the restrictions against printing and distribution of sample ballots seem to be removed; that the dates for the state primary and for closing registration for both the primary and general election would be established by law; and that the names of presidential and vice-presidential candidates shall be placed on the ballot. (See C. R. positions outlined in the December-January VOTER).

There are improvements in the administration and supervision of elections; there are provisions for registration by mail for certain citizens - military personnel, etc.; and for written application for re-registration. Nevertheless, in those areas regarding which we have particular interest, the suggested legislation is not changed sufficiently for us to withdraw our opposition.

As the recent report of the President's Commission on Registration and Voter Participation points out, the finest election system is valueless if voters are discouraged from participating in ti by complicated and unfair registration procedures. It is in this latter area that the proposed state Election Code fails.

PLEASE CONTACT YOUR SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVE AND URGE THEM TO REMOVE THESE RESTRICTIVE AND DISCRIMINATORY PROVISIONS!

January 27, 1964

House Judiciary Committee Members

Senate Reles Committee Members

Gentlemen:

Because of our long history of interest in voter registration and election laws, the League of Women Voters of Georgia is especially concerned with the proposed new state Election Code, Senate Bill 205. While we find it contains many improvements over existing law (the mere fact of Georgia's election laws being compiled into one unit is commendable) nevertheless, on close analysis we have found it to retain the same objectionable features the Georgia League has opposed in the past.

In a democratic republic the most fundamental right and responsibility of each citizen is the vote. Without it our form of government could not exist. The League of Women Voters feels that for the protection of our democracy every effort should be made to preserve the right of the citizen to register and vote and to increase the number of persons exercising this right.

For this reason, the processes of registration and voting should be clear, simple, fair and enforceable. In particular, registration, which chould be intended only to prevent fraud at the polls, should not be complicated so as to prevent participation in voting. Recent figures indicate that only 31% of the eligible citizens in Georgia voted in the 1960 elections - Georgia ranked 48th among the states in voter participation. The Georgia League believes that complicated and discriminatory state voter registration regulations are partially responsible for this shocking figure.

In the attached summary you will find our analysis of these restrictive features contained in the proposed Code and of their relation to existing laws.

The proposed Election Code also does not change existing provisions regarding primaries - their regulation by parties, payment of the expense of conducting them, and the qualifying fees for candidates running in them. In these instances the Georgia League favors state regulation: primary dates should be established by law instead of party rule; similarly candidates' entry fees should be fixed by state law, rather than by the party committee, at an appropriate percentage of the salary of the office sought - high enough to discourage the irresponsible, but low enought to encourage qualified candidates to run. Primary expenses are now paid out of party committee funds, usually obtained from entry fees. We believe that together with state regulation of candidates fees, there should be provision for payment of the costs of primaries from public funds by the same governmental authority that bears regular election expenses.

Until these measures are provided for, thus expanding primaries to promote greater candidate and voter participation, we reamin in opposition to those sections of the proposed Code dealing with the regulation of primaries.

In view of the vital nature of these and other features of the proposed Election Code, we respectfully request the Committees to provide at a public hearing the opportunity for the Georgia League of Women Voters, as well as any other interested citizens, to express their opinions regarding this important pending legislation.

Again, we urge your careful attention to those unnecessarily confusing and discriminatory features of the section on voter registration.

Yours very truly,

(Mrs.) Jane D. Martin, President

Mrs. Neil Moran, Chairman
Elections Study Committee

League of Women Voters of Georgia

NM:FS
encl.

CC: Governor Carl E. Sanders

League of Women Voters of Georgia
3121 Maple Drive, N. E., Suite #2
Atlanta, Georgia 30305

January 27, 1964

ANALYSIS OF SALIENT FEATURES OF PROPOSED ELECTION CODE

Proposed Administrative Proposals

Under present law there is a State Elections Commission composed of the Governor, Attorney General and the Secretary of State, who shall serve as chairman. The duties of the Commission are to assist and advise the county registrars in carrying out the 1958 Registration Act, and to distribute material and information to them. The proposed Code would establish a Commissioner of Elections whose primary function would be to promote the uniform, fair, orderly and legal conduct of primaries and elections.

The Comissioner would have the authority ot institute or intervene in court actions, the authority to supersede county primary or election officials, the authority to hold investigative hearings when deemed necessary, The Commissioner may have as advisers a member of each political party to be appointed by the State Executive Committee of each party. Although it appears mandatory that the Commissioner must call a meeting of these advisers prior to issuance of any rule or of any notice of a hearing or of any other action upon which he desires advice, it does not seem mandatory that the party executive committees must appoint such advisers.

Does this then create an administrative office powerless to act or a oneman policy-making body? Another question the League wishes to raise regards the laco of clarity between provisions regarding the Commissioner of Elections and those specifying the duties of the Secretary of State in the conduct of elections. While in most states the Secretary of State assumes legal responsibility for the election system, he usually has a multi-membered Election Board or Commission to assist him. Is it appropriate that a single official serve in a double capacity as administrator of, and sole abiter over, election procedures. The League favors election of policy-making officials and appointment of administrative ones. In the proposed legislation there seems to be some confusion as to just which role the elected Secretary of State or ex officio Commissioner of Elections shall be.

Proposed Voter Registration Proposals

With regard to the proposed registration procedure the Georgia League must again raise the same questions it posed in 1958.

Does the form of the registration card (Section 34-609) which "shall be in substantially" the prescribed form - but which may contain additional information if required by the registrars - promote uniform statewide application? Doesn't it, instead, permit 159 different registrars undue and varying degrees of authority? Are the physical description and the father's name appropriate requirements for voting? (Authorities consider statement of mother's maiden name along with a mandatory comparison of signatures at the polling place adquate safeguards against fraud.) Since all information must be furnished, if a person should be unable to give his father's name, would he then be ineligible to register and vote?

Is it necessary to close the registration books four months before the General Election (Section 34-611)? While this is an improvement over the earlier six months cut-off date, it still closes registration before the peak of interest brought about by national conventions and campaigning is reached. If Idaho with a continual review of voter lists can continue registration up to the Saturday before the Tuesday of the General Election, isn't four months unnecessarily long?

Are the contradictions regarding examination of the registration applicant desirable? Section 34-613a implies two trips are necessary for registration one to apply, the second, after noticication, to be tested. On the other hand, Section 34-617c states "the registrars may proceed to the examination of the applicant instanter and without notice". And does not Section 34-613b, which says qualified persons shall be registered at the time of application at neighborhood registration places penalize the citizen in those small counties without neighborhood registration. He may be required to make two trips!

Does not Section 34-615 narrow the right of appeal as it currently exists? Present law specifies all decisions of the registrars shall be subject to appeal; the proposed provision says that any person denied registration "on the ground that the lacks the qualifications set forth in . . . the State Consitution" may appeal. Doesn't this limit appeal to decisions based only on literacy or residence, rather than any reason given by the registrar for rejection of the applicant? (Under Section 34-614 the applicant would have to answer any direct question of the registrar; if he does not, his application is rejected. According to Section 34-615 he would then have no right of appeal from this decision.)

Section 34-617, on the test of qualifications by registration officials, would establish several procedures violating the prinsiples of clarity and uniformity. To the applicant seeking to register on the basis of literacy, any paragraph of the United States or Georgia Consitutions shall be submitted. It may range from a single sentence to several pages. There is no standard set forth to judge intelligible reading or legible writing. Doesn't this permit great variation from person to person and county to county? If the applicant seeks to qualify on the basis of good character and his understanding of the duties and obligations of citizenship, he must correctly answer 70% of the questions on the standarized list. The new Code does not specify these questions but merely says that they shall be prepared and furnished from time to time by the Commissioner of Elections. There is no provion that the questions be made readily available or that a standard set of answers be supplied. Existing law specifies thirty very difficult questions which even literate citizens find unreasonable. Is this new provision any better?

It has been assumed that thses questions shall be propounded to the applicant unable to register on the basis of literacy. Under existing procedure (Code Section 34-1905 - Assistance to Illiterates and Disabled) the applicant shall state whether or not he will require assistance at the polls because of either physical disability or inability to read the English leanguage. He may then have the assistance of any two election manager or any freeholder of his choice. In Section 34-1317 of the proposed Code reference to assistance to illiterates is omitted. Does this then mean that the illiterate citizen will be allowed to register on the basis of possessing "good moral character and understanding of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship . . ."(Gerogia Constitution, Article II, Paragraph 4, Section I.) as determined by his answers to ten now unstated questions, but since there will be no provision for his authorized assistance at the polling place, he may be denied his constitutionally stated right to vote?

Ga. Statistics
Atl. Journal-Const. Pol. Ga. Reapp.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1962

HERE'S HOW NEW SENATE DISTRICTS APPEAR IN GEORGIA
Those Districts Which Have More Than One Senator Are Listed Above

Top Nine Counties Given 23 of State's 54 Senators

By GORDON ROBERTS

The history-making legislative reapportionment law will give urban areas—where most of the people are—the balance of power in the Georgia Senate.

The state's new senatorial districts, drawn according to population in accordance with a federal court decree, give Georgia's nine most populous counties a total of 23 senators.

Fulton County will have seven senators; DeKalb and Chatham, 3; Richmond, Muscogee, Bibb and Cobb, 2, and Floyd and Dougherty, 1. Other counties of the state are placed in districts which average out to about 70,000 population each.

The top nine counties' 23 senators will represent an aggregate population of 1,695,364, or [illegible] of the total state [illegible] lowed by the federal court which ordered reapportionment.

Floyd and Dougherty are the only counties which are districts by themselves. In the multiple-district counties, though senators must come from the district in which they reside, they must be voted on countywide.

The largest districts in geographical size, such as the 6th District in southeast Georgia, and the 50th in the northeast, are composed of eight counties. Senatorial candidates will have to run for election throughout their large districts.

THE NEW DISTRICTING of the Senate in terms of more equitable for areas with [illegible] —which the court ruled unconstitutional — voters in only approximately one third of Georgia's 159 counties chose all 54 Democratic nominees for the Senate each election.

The present Senate, which will meet Monday for probably its last time, was actually elected by voters in 28 counties which contained only 5.5 per cent of the total 1960 state population.

THE CRUSADER

VOL. 1, No. 2 | SAVANNAH, GEORGIA, THURSDAY OCTOBER 17, 1963 | PRICE 10 CENTS

The Judge Gave Me A Chance!

By Hosea L. Williams

I really didn't understand why the judge sentenced me to five days in jail until five days after my release. He called me up before the bench and said,"Hosea, obviously you are intelligent and have ability. I say you are intelligent because these Negroes follow you. You've proved you have ability because of the type

Continued on Page Four

We Paid The Supreme Price!

THEY BEAT, GASSED AND JAILED US

Demonstrations can be fruitful or they can be destructive. In Savannah, they were both, but in the end they were productive. They were responsible for the integration of many local Hotels, Motels, Theaters, formation of the Committee of the 100 white businessmen and an understanding between the white and colored community that the Negroes of Chatham County must have their FREEDOM NOW!

There was violence, but documented data will prove the demonstration leaders were not at fault. The first violence occurred on the night of June 12, 1963 while demonstrations were being carried out against segregation at the Holiday Inn Motel. Both leaders (Hosea & Clark) were arrested by the Police and State Troopers and an attempt was made to frighten the other four or five thousand demonstrators. Well, Negroes don't run any longer, just because a white man wants him to.

The trouble started when 27 Negroes began praying across from the City Police station. They were asking God to free their leaders (Hosea and Clark). Without provocation, the Police began throwing tear gas bombs. They threw enough gas bombs to dis-

Continued on Page Four

Candidate For Mayor To Speak Here Sunday

Slater King, leader of the Albany Movement will be the guest speaker at Sunday's Mass Meeting at 3:30 p. m. at St. James A. M. E. Church, 623 E. Broad St. Young Slater King was the first Negro ever to run for May-

Continued on Page Five

Williams And Clark Out

Hoseal L. Williams, leader of the Savannah Freedom Now Movement and Benjamin Van Clarke, Director of the Movement thrilled the audience at Sunday's Mass Meeting. Williams explained the value of the pair. He is out under $36,000 Bond. Thirty Thousand Dollars on Peace Bonds ($14,500 probated and $600 Appeal Bonds for Demonstrating. Clark is out on $18,000 Bonds $10,000 probated. Three Thousand dollars worth of Appeal Bonds are postedt for Clark. The above photo shows the leader telling the attendance that he prays to God that his son (Hosea II) will be just like his Director, Young Clark.

EDITORIAL

The Courts Gamble With Our Future

The future security, progress and growth of our community is being gambled with by our courts. Once again, Savannah is allowing herself to be hung up for ridicule.

Since General Oglethorpe organized Savannah, it has maintained a national reputation for having the finest race relationship of any Southern city. This was false. One reason Savannah was able to create such dynamic false race statue was due to its large foreign population. Many of these constituents came from countries where the mental illness (Racial segregation) did not exist. Many others came from countries where they were a part of the depressed; therefort, one would think those persons would never participate in the destruction of human beings simply because of their color. Any sane-minded person, particularly Americans, would naturally predict these persons would not only condone, but join and fully participate with the Negro in their struggle for equal liberty and justice for all.

Through the years Savannah has been able to maintain her national false race relation reputation. This was mainly due to the fact her Negroes have always accepted racial inequalities, inferior educational facilities in comparison with the white, segregated public and even government opportunities, inferior recreational facilities, Negro leadership chosen by the white man and the destruction of black manhood and womanhood. Through the years Negroes have even allowed the white man to deny their children an opportunity to fully develop and cultivate their God-given talents. Even those that resist the immovable force of segregation and obtain an education have allowed the white man to deny them an equal opportunity to display their God-given, cultivated talents.

Savannah's superb national race relations reputation was challenged June 4, 1963 when a black boy, raised by an uneducated, poverty-stricken mother in East Liberty Lane by the name of Benjamin Van Clarke, coached and guided by the fearful mind of Hosea L. Williams, a product of our segregated society, disturbed confused Negroes and demanded that the white man preach and practice the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man and live by those laws he constituted. It was a synonym of David and Goliath. The Giant (Savannah's Race Relations) was fallen with momentum that agitated the earth.

Once the truth was known retrogression became a living reality. Industrialists who had to plant their dollar Bills in Chatham County withdrew; sightseers and tourists shunned the city as though there were a plague; Wall Street investors, holding Savannah Bonds, began squirming; national news releases defined Savannah as the second most racially-torn city in our nation; a local judge committed an act of atrocity; the right of the individual became a thing of the past and the white power structure was shocked to their senses.

A temporary settlement was reached. A period of tranquility ensued and Savannah began to tumble from a national ridiculous state of affairs.

On October 2, 1963, Savannah began to regain her long lost ground when National and International news media highly publicized the integration of certain facilities. Wall Street financiers holding her bonds began to regain consciousness, industrialists once again became interested in her Dollar Bill plantation and Savannah's Race Relation reputation began to jet upward nationally at supersonic speed. News commentators throughout the nation, not only praised Savannah, but advised the Birmingham's, the Jackson, Mississippians, the Danville, Virginians, and the Cambridge, Maryland's to go to Savannah and learn the secret of her miracle.

The COURTS of Savannah kept pushing. Negro demonstrators continue to be tried, found guilty and punished for a crime they did not commit. It is the hope of those concerned that the Federal Courts will free the demonstrators, but this is a gamble. A gamble that the future of our city cannot afford. At the present rate, the Court is mending out its justice. Demonstrators will have to make from two months to six and one-half years in prison or pay fines from $100 to $4,500 and serve probated sentences ranging from four months to twelve years. If these sentences stand, the future progress of Savannah will be damned. We can all pack our bags and find progressive cities to live in. The damnation of Savannah will forever lie at the door-steps of an unjust courthouse, created and perpetuated by the office of the Solicitor General and the Courtroom attendant who sits up high in the swivel chair.

THEY WINE AND DINE LIKE AMERICANS

These are Ex-Jail Birds, well rested and showing the sign of victory after checking out of Savannah's newly desegregated Hotels, Motels and Theaters. Each of these Freedom Fighters were arrested several times during the Crusade For Voter's Recent Non-Violent protest demonstrations. The DESEGREGATORS thrilled the audience at one of the Crusade For Voters Mass Meetings by sharing their experiences while living at the previously all-white establishment. Hosea (Their Leader) Williams said "I kept my promise. At our first Sunday Mass Meeting down town in Johnson Square, I promised you we would be served at these places before Christ had another Birthday.

VOTER REGISTRATION KILLS SEGREGATION !

A VOTELESS PEOPLE IS A HOPELESS PEOPLE !

STOP GRIPING, REGISTER AND VOTE !

Georgia Collection Investigations Agency

Bonded and Reliable to handle all of your Collections and Investigations

Location
458½ West Broad Street
Suite 208-9,
2nd Floor
Guaranty Building
Savannah, Ga. 31401

ADams 3-8127-8-9

Don't Give Up Those Past Due Accounts—Let Us Collect Them For You And Save You Worry!

We are also equipped to handle investigations And Credit References at a Reasonable Rate

(Mrs.) Juanita T. Williams, Proprietor

Miss Eula Hicks, Secretary

Listen Every Saturday To The Voice of The

CRUSADERS

WSOK – 9:30 A. M.

HOSEA (Their Leader) WILLIAMS

THRIFTY FOLKS SHOP AT

THRIFTY 5 & 10

CHARLTON & WEST BROAD

GAS HEATERS
as Low as $2.99

12-Gal. Plastic
GARBAGE CAN
$1.79

Sturdy TOILET SEAT
All Colors
$1.99

TENNIS SNEAKERS
as low as
59c

Full Size Durable Washable BLANKETS
99c

Sanforized And Circle Stitched
BRAS
4 for $1

BAR STOOLS
$2.69

First Quality
9x12 RUGS
Beautifully Designed and Enamelized
$3.68
6'x9' Rugs. 2.29
12x12 $8.98

Thrifty All Purpose
PAINT
All Colors & White
$1.29
Gal. Top Quality
Vinyl Latex Paint
Terrific Value
$1.99
Gal.

STEP LADDERS
As low as $1.00

PROFILE OF THE MONTH

MR. JOSEPH (Big Lester) HANKERSON FRONT MAN WITH RAISED HANDS

Joseph L. Hankerson, born in Sylvania, Ga., on July 5, 1925 to Mr. and Mrs. Sug Hankerson. His father was a steel worker out of the mines of Pennsylvania. His mother, a farm girl, out of the fields of Screven County. Big Lester spent his early days on the cotton plantation of the late Mr. W. L. Bentley, located 7 miles south of Sylvania.

Big Lester let 8 years of his life slip by before he ever entered school. This was after his mother got tired of slaving in Mr. Bently's cotton field and moved down in the Collatt Quarters in Savannah, Ga. After entering the sixth grade, Big Lester traded school for the dizzy life found only on the corners of WEST BROAD STREET. His first job was lumber jacking. Although very young, he had the size and strength. This type of work afforded the kind of cash needed by a nighttime block-buster (Big Lester.)

December 16, 1942, the blocks and dim corners of WEST BROAD Street lost BIG (BAD) LESTER to Uncle Sam. After serving 27 months in the Army's Quartermaster Corp., Big Lester was honorably discharged with the rank of Sergeant. One again the blocks and dim corners of West Broad Street were run by Lester and his boys.

Wedding bells first ran for Big Lester on July 18, 1946. The spunky young lady (Dorothy) held on for 7 years. She had enough. Needing work, Big Lester could find none. Disappointment after disappointment landed Big Lester in the lap of Uncle Sam once again, G. I. Bill they called it, attending the Savannah Vocational Trade School, Big Lester took up everything but a "Vocation." Trades lasted no longer than the G. I. Bill. He studied bricklaying, woodcraft, interior decorating, etc. He earned certificates in bricklaying and interior decorating (Jessie Brinson's on the job training center, Savannah, Georgia).

Big Lester decided "dem dam Yankees had more to offer him for de labor," than Mr. Charlie. It took him two years to learn that all over America it is the same (a White Man's Heaven is a Black Man's Hell). Upon returning home, Big Lester took to playing the blocks full time. The spring of 1953 rang Wedding Bells once more for Big Lester. The brave young lady this time was the former Arethia Olds. He is the father of four wonderful youngsters(1 boy and three girls). He is a member of Tremont Baptist Church and the Brazillian Social Club.

From Big Lester's young childhood, he wore the badge of a BULLY. The Freedom Now Movement did not introduce him to the calls of jail. Upon entering the freedom movement, Big Lester owned a record of crime and violence. Upon many occasions, the underworld of Savannah, Georgia saw Big Lester tame the wild, black and white, male and female.

NOW! Joseph (Big Lester Hankerson is one of Hosea L. Williams' top captains in the Crusader's Non-Violent Freedom Now Movement. During last summer's demonstrations, Hankerson was arrested five times. He learned the use of Dr. Martin Luther King's Non-Violence and made great use of it. He became a leader. Hosea Williams depended heavily upon Hankerson to keep the marchers (crowds ranging from 1,000 to 6,000) peaceful, obedient and non-violent. Whenever the BAD BOYS, drunks and troublemakers got disorderly during the freedom marches, Hosea (the leader) called on Hankerson, the disorder disappeared.

When asked about his involvment in the Freedom Drive, Mr. Hankerson says, "That Hosea talked me into it. I have alwgays held white people responsible for the colored folks problems. They want all the good thinks of life, yet they expect the Negroes to be so good. We are always the last hired, but the first fired. Look at this town, the Negro has all the low rent housing projectsa nd the white folk get all the fine subdivisions. This is because the colored man can't find good or equal-paying jobs. Jobs are what the colored folk need, not low rent housing projects."

"I'm glad I got myself tied up in this fight. The first night I heard Hosea speak he talked me out of my switch-blade knife. I must say this movement has learned me into it. I have always held never raise one finger," explained Hankerson. He went on telling of his proof. "One day we were marching down the main street to Johnson Square to hear Hosea speak. A big red-faced young cop pulled me to the side. I almost reached for my blade. I remembered Hosea had it and I also remembered what they had low rent housing projects and the violence. By this time the cop made every attempt to manhandle me. I just smiled and raised my hands. He jerked me in the collar so hard, it tore my shirt off. I still held both hands high and continued to smile. Then he pushed me up against the wall with his gun drawn. I then knew he wanted to kill me. He shouted: Nigger, put your dam hands down! I stood there smiling and told him. I am not going to fight you, I don't care what you do to me. Even if you beat me with your billy stick or gun, I won't fight you. Mister, I am strictly non-violent. I could see his hands shaking and the frown left his face, I knew then, Hosea had taught me how to live.

Hankerson is now the top Freedom salesman in the Crusade for Voters!

Organized Labor Pays Share

OF COST OF FREEDOM

Mr. George Sawyer, Ex-president of Local 615, International Brotherhood of Pulp Sulphite Paper Mill Workers, presented Hosea L. Williams, leader of the Savannah Freedom Now Movement, a financial contribution of $217. Mr. Sawyer said "His members decided to give the total amount to the Crusade For Voters after learning the Crusade For Voters had to pay all the bonding costs in connection with last summer's demonstrations." Williams reaffirms Mr. Sawyer's statement by saying "It is very true many organizations and persnos mooched in on the negotiations, but no organizations and persons mooch- Crusade for Voters get these young people out of jail nor help pay any of the bills made durin demonstrations. Many of them take great pride in telling the public we've integrated the Hotels, Motels, or Theaters. Yet, they refuse to help pay one bill or bare the expenses of getting one demonstrator out of jail." The audience gave Mr. Sawyer and his members a standing ovation of thanks.

Guaranty Life Insurance Co.

460 West Broad Street

Savannah, Ga.

Issuing All Purpose Coverage On Your Life,

Hospitalization or Retirement

Phones AD 3-5761 or AD 3-4565

COMPLIMENTS OF

Tykie and Gregory

Carellas Bros.

Super Market

East Broad & Gwinnett Sts.

BARGAINS ON ALL GOOD FOOD

The Judge

Continuedf rom Page 1

of work you do and you have held your job for many years, but, you are using your intelligence and your ability the wrong way. You are trying to force colored folks on white people."

Then the judge went on to teach me how I should be using what he defined as intelligence and ability. The judge went on to explain that I should teach Negroes how to work. He claimed Negroes want white people to give them jobs, but when white people give them jobs, they wont work. The Judge told me, I should use my intelligence and ability to teach Negroes how to keep themselves clean. The Judge made a big thing out of BASTARDY among Negroes. He said Bastardy among your people is the most disgusting thing I know. I know about it, he said, because I have to deal with this Bastardy among your people. This is where you (Hosea) should be using your intelligence and ability and it would be doing some good. Teach them not to have all those illegitimate children.

During the whole ordeal, I just stood there. I got the feeling this judge was trying to make me angry. Angry, so I would blow up and contempt the court. The Judge even told me how long he has been in Savannah. He reminded me of the FINE race relation that has existed in this wonderful coastal town for so long. He accused me of DESTROYING Savannah's long-lived GOOD race relations. He said I had turned BLACK against W H I T E and WHITE against BLACK. I think he also accused me of using crazy Negroes in the demonstrations and making criminals or delinquents out of all the young Negroes who participated in the Savannah Non-Violent Freedom Now Movement. I said "Think" because I have been up before unjust Judges so many times but I do know this accusation was made on one occasion.

Then, the Judge questioned me as to whether or not I agreed with the other Negroes signing the statement. I meekly informed the Judge that it was my intelligence and ability that caused these American citizens whom he had kept in jail illegally for 55 days to sign the statement. I also attempted to explain to the Court why I advised these patriotic Americans to comit an act of treason. I must admit the statement was masterfully composed. Yet, the Daily Morning Newspaper termed the signing of the statement as a repudiation of demonstrations.

If the Daily Morning Newspaper can see through the statement well, you know. . . . The Judge politely informed me, that he had grounds to fine me in contempt of Court. But, in trying to bend over backwards to be fair, he offered me a chance to sign the statement. Now I know the Judge had his reasons for finding me in contempt, but I have never understood the grounds.

At this point I began to fully understand what the Savannah Non-Violent Freedom Now Movement was up against. I felt as the great abolitionist Negro Frederick Douglas. I had learned, if there is no struggle, there is no progress. Those who profess to want freedom for all and yet depress or depreciate agitation, are men who want good crops without working the fields. They want education without learning. They want to go to Heaven without praying. I felt the Court had destroedy my individual liberty and my freedom of speech guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution simply because my mind harbored convictions that are contrary to this sick, segregated, unjust society we live in that is destroying America.

I could not understand how I was found in contempt when my ation did not distort nor alter the Court's action. In only gave my personal modest opinion of the proceedings long after the court was closed. Many citizens have publicly disagreed with rulings of the U. S. Supreme Court and called them communists, traitors, etc., now you mean to tell me I can't express my opinion concerning a verdict or action of a local court, without being sentenced to prison? What is America coming to, a Police State?

After the Judge told me I would he sentenced for contempt of court if I did not sign that statement which he had prepared and knowing he was the same Judge who had not only issued 12 Peace Warrants against me, but ran my Bond from $2,500 to $30,000 in no time flat. Then i thought about the Judge demanded a separate piece of property for each warrant. He had refused to accept the securities of a professional Bondsman, Insurance securities or even cash. Can you imagine, the property had to be completely clear of debt, its tax access value must exceed the Bond. Now in Chatham County, your property is accessed about 1-4 of its retail value. This means, it takes about $120,000 worth of debt-free property to post a $30,000 Bond.

After thinking about all of this, I asked permission to consult Council before giving the Judge my answer. When the Judge called for my answer, I requested the privilege to make a statement first. I was afraid to make any kind of statement without the court's permission because I did not want to contempt the contempt. Anyway, the privilege was granted. I began by admitting to the Judge that everything he said about Negroes was correct; but, this is also true about white people. I know something of Bastardy among my white brothers and sisters. There is a government-maintained institution for (White Only) unmarried mothers out near Thunderbolt. They have every comfort, even an opportunity to further their education. The County Board of Education pays full-time teachers who work in the unwedded mothers' home full time. They even give the white children an advantage before birth. When the Judge was tongue-lashing me, he talked about how dirty Negroes were. He even said, "When Negroes clean themselves up and learn how to act, someone will build them a nice restaurant."

Maybe the Judge doesn't know about his unclean and bad-behaving white sisters and brothers but I know about mine. Many of my white brothers and sisters fail to, not only look presentable, but they don't smell acceptable. The judge reminded me of lazy Negroes. I guess he just doesn't know many white folk. Being a PUBLICLY ELECTED Judge, I would think he knows some of these white folk being fired off their jobs everyday for being down-right lazy. Seems like he would have met some of those white folk the Welfare Department turned down daily because they found out my white brothers just won't work. Well, anyway after I admitted to the good judge his statement about some Negroes was correct, I reminded him, what he said about Negroes was also true about white people. Remembering what the judge said about me using my intelligence and ability to help Negroes, I told him I was an American first, and I felt whatever short coming any black or white other American possess is the responsibility of every other American to help him out of his dilemma. Meaning the more fortunate Negroes are just as responsible for the less fortunate whites as he is for the less fortunate Negros, and the thing holds true for the more fortunate whites, like Judges.

I also told the judge that I have never and will never advocate or condone violence. I had him to know, I didn't feel the demonstrators should be branded as law violators. They had not breached the peace nor promoted violence, therefore, I could not sign and would not sign his statement.

One thing I am sure of the five days I spent in prison did not lessen my determination to be free. Thank God it did not teach me to hate those who denied us our God-given and Constitutional rights. But, the prison term did extend my patience and understanding of those Negroes who have failed to join and suffer with us, even for their own freedom. Yet, they wait like a Saint for the Resurrection, to enjoy the opportunity to pursue happiness.

I better understand now how Negroes must suffer if we are to ever be free. I for one will never turn back. If it means more prison terms, loss of my job or even my life. I shall be free or protest and suffer the balance of my natural life.

I hope the Judge learned one thing and that is, Negroes have grown to treasure MANHOOD. Some said the Judge gave me a choice. But did they understand what kind of a choice. The choice was simply this YOUR MANHOOD or FIVE DAYS IN JAIL.

For freedom did Christ set us free. —(Gal. 5:1).

Through Christ we are able to enjoy perfect freedom—the freedom that allows us to use our mental and physical capacities to the fullest.

We Paid The Supreme Price!

Continuedf rom Page 1

perse 2,700 people. They were throwing them so fast some of the bombs did not explode. At this point, the Non-violent demonstrators had enough. Some of the previous prayers grabbed up several of the excess gas bombs and flung them back in the direction of their attackers. The Police could not take it. They began retreating but not for long.

Violence also occurred in Savannah on the night of July 10, 1963. The demonstrators (about 1,000) many of whom had been arrested several times were trying to submit themselves to arrest in protest of the illegal jailing of their leader (Hosea). Again, the city Fathers used their conventional tactics. They preferred violence rather than arrest. Some believe the city Fathers were trying to save the good (False) name of Savannah, Georgia.

SNNC worker, Bruce Gordon (The Black Tornado) ordered by Benjamin Clark, commanded all persons wanting to be arrested in protest of Hosea L. Williams' False arrest, to step out in front of the Freedom Marchers. There were so many that stepped forward that the guiding hand of the local Police Department lost his sense of love. The law enforcers resorted to Tear Gas, Riot Guns, Billy Sticks and Gastapo tactics. Again, Negroes refused to run. They proved their eligibility into the American society by Non-violently submitting their bodies to death.

City Taxes — County Taxes — State Taxes

Federal Taxes

YOUR PROBLEMS ARE OUR BUSINESS

DO YOU HAVE TAX PROBLEMS?

BRING THEM TO ME

MRS. JUANITA T. WILLIAMS

458½ West Broad Street

GUARANTY BUILDING PHONE AD 6.5727

Tax Notary Public Mimeographing

Stenographing

Remember Your Vote Means Greater Power ?

Our Hearty Support To

The Crusade For Voters

SIDNEY A. JONES FUNERAL HOME

Highest Class Service At Lowest Cost

The Queen Of The Jail House

55 DAYS IN JAIL

Mrs. Gussie Augustus, Female Captain in the Savannah Non-Violent Movement receives many words of congratulation from Hosea (Their Leader) Williams for her courageous stand against segregation. Judge Victor H. Mullins, Associated Judge of the Municipal Court issued five Peace Warrants against Mrs. Augustus and first set her bond at $12,500. She remained in the County Jail for 55 days and won the title "Queen Of The Jail House." She is the mother of five children. Her baby learned to walk while Judge Mullins held his mother in jail for fighting for FREEDOM. Every mother should feel the Queen paid the supreme price of MOTHERHOOD. Mrs. Augustus proved she has learned the TRUE meaning of MOTHERHOOD.

YOUTH TO REORGANIZE

Benjamin Van Clarke, Director of the Youth Department of the Crusade for Voters announced today that the Membership of the Youth Division will hold an emergency conference within the next two weeks for the purpose of reorganization.

Clarke said this becomes necessary because of the new outlook the Crusade For Voters has within the community. Also, because of the programs The Crusade For Voters will venture into within the month.

To sum up our prespective, we will employ the FORWARD LOOK

TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Continuedf rom Page 1

or in Southwest Georgia. He competed with two staunch segregationist last Wednesday in what was termed Albany's hottest political campaign. Mr. King is a very successful business man. He is owner and operator of King's Insurance Agency and King's Realty Company.

This will be Mr. King's first public speech since entering Albany's race for Mayor. This will also be his first trip to Savannah since local Hotels, Motels, and Theaters integrated. He has an outstanding record as one of the South's finest Freedom Fighters. He has been arrested and jailed many times during the Albany struggle. He is an executive officer of the Georgia Voters League and is respected as one of Georgia's finest politicians. His movement is now carrying on a very successful withholding patronage campaign against segregation in Albany, Ga.

He Returned As A Guest

WILLIE (Chief Captain) BOLDEN HOLDS OUT DOOR MEETING

Mr. Willie Bolden, ex-Bell Hop at a local Hotel, tells of how the demonstrations cost him his job at the establishment; but, he returned just two months later as a guest. "I never dreamed two months ago that I would ever sleep and eat in dignity at that Hotel," Bolden said. Bolden explained, "I still can't enjoy those fine places because I don't have the money. What we got to do now is get our rightful share of these jobs. Take Broughton Street, we should have at least 35 percent of the jobs. I mean from the top to the bottom and from BANKS to Street Cleaners. Negroes make up 34 percent of the population. Most white people shop at Shopping Centers; therefore, Negroes make up a very large per cent of the down town shoppers. Yet, the white folk have just about all of the jobs. We won the right to use many of the down town facilities by being beaten, jailed, tried and sentenced, now we must submit ourselves to any type of danger, and suffering to win our equal share of the DOLLAR BILL.

The Vanity Shoppe

Photograph Studio
Phonograph Records
Phonograph Players
Nylons

142 West Broad St.
521 W. Henry St.

From Mrs. Ruby R. Slevin, Las Vegas, Nevada: I remember my home in Greenwich Village near the Hudson River. The roadways were paved with heavy cobble stones, sidewalks lined either side. The small two story family dwellings were built of red brick. My father owned a three-story hotel with a saloon on the main floor.

As a small child, I did not like the city streets and brick houses. I didn't like the narrow, dark alleyways where cats seemed to swarm around the garbage pails. All seemed depressing to me, except for the man who used to come around with his hand organ and his tiny monkey with its little red hat, as well as the man with his hand-cart full of goodies. These consisted of candied apples, flavored chopped ice, and ice cream sandwiches. These I loved best of all and I wish I could find the same kind today. The ice cream was wedged between two crispy cone-like wafers.

While playing on the sidewalk with other small children, I was suddenly terrified into action as I heard a heavy rumbling on the cobblestone pavements. As I looked up the street from my tiny height, I saw three white horses abreast pounding toward me. Behind them the smoke stack of the bright red engine was billowing smoke, sparks, and echoing shrill whistles.

I was glued to the sidewalk for a second; then with terror in my pounding heart I started to run home. I did not stop until I had reached the second floor, from where I watched the horses pass in a more peaceful frame of mind. They were the first fire engines I had ever seen. I dreamed about those horses coming at me for years afterward, believe it or not.

(Send contributions to this column to The Old Timer, Community Press Service, Box 39, Frankfort, Kentucky.)

Pay Your Electric, Gas, Water and Telephone Bill At–

Crosby Bros.

CUT RATE DRUGS

Montgomery and Henry Sts. Savannah, Ga.

MONEY ORDERS SOLD HERE

CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS

NAME ..... Phone .....

ADDRESS .....

I Volunteer To Work In The Following Position (S) With The Chatham County Crusade For Voters In Its Voter Registration Drive: (Check)

District Organizer ..... Organization Committee .....

Block Worker ..... Transportation Committee .....

Finance Committee .....

I WILL WORK BLOCK .....

WOO BROS.

MARKET

711 E. Broad St.

AD 2-7522

"We Specialize In Fine Meats"

Down With The Savannah Banner

The Savannah Banner was no good for our community. It's done now, "Good Riddance to Bad Rubbish." This so-called "scoop-sheet" caused the Savannah Freedom Now Movement the integration of the white bowling alleys. Integration of these establishments had been negotiated. An agreement was made during negotiations to work out these problems without publicity. It is believed someone attending the negotiations was Abe's pimp When negotiations were completed, Abe knew as much as the attendance there. He didn't lighten up. The Savannah Banner hit the streets with all the secrets. Then the whites charged the Negroes with breaking faith, someone did.

The Segregationists got the Savannah Banner. They pressured the bowling industry. Leagues began to withdraw. Then it became a matter of dollars and cents with the lane owners. They froze up and went back on the agreement. Thanks to Abe's pimp and the Savannah Banner.

The Savannah Banner stated in an editorial on July 20 that the NAACP had not condoned or taken part in the night demonstrations. This was false. The NAACP not only condoned it but sponsored night demonstrations. The only reason they stopped, the size of the crowd was discouraging.

Many untruths accompanied the August 4th issue. The publisher allowed an article entitled: "City's Negro Leadership Veto Dr. King's Coming," to give the NAACP credit for additional Negro Police, Negro Firemen, the hiring of Negroes by the city to do jobs previously held by whites only, desegregation of the Golf Course and the Public Library; solidifying of the Negro vote and developing favorably communication between the City Fathers and true Negro leadership, these are gains made by a united Negro vote, guided and negotiated by the Chatham County Crusade For Voters.

The Savannah Banner caused many supporters of the Savannah Freedom Now Movement to go astray by claiming "Hosea's Movement is virtually crushed unless outsiders come in and unless the Negro ministers and the NAACP bail him out." What the Savannah Banner did not know, EVEN IN JAIL HOSEA L. WILLIAMS STILL PULLS THE STRINGS.

BUY THE STORY OF THE SAVANNAH FREEDOM-NOW MOVEMENT IN PICTURES

Yes, for $1.00 per month, you can own the complete story of the Crusade for Voters' 1963 Movement.

Each month a picture telling the most important movements of the movement can be purchased for only $100. Frames can be purchased for only 50c. should be made to the Crusade for Voters.

Decorate the walls of your living room, den, hallway, bedroom or family room with these Great Moments of history. Pictures can be purchased at the headquarters' office, 416 W. Park Avenue or delivered to your home by calling AD 3-8127 or AD 6-5727. All checks

Next To Your Doctor Your Druggist

EAST SIDE CUT RATE DRUG

Phone AD 4-8258 Free City-Wide Delivery

718 East Broad Street

Savannah, Georgia

ALL INTELLIGENT PEOPLE ARE REGISTERED TO VOTE

STOP POLICE BRUTALITY, REGISTER AND VOTE!

SOUTHEASTERN GEORGIA CRUSADE FOR VOTERS' ANNUAL REPORT TO THE 7TH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING'S SOUTHERN REGIONAL CONVENTION

The Southeastern Georgia Crusade for Voters is comprised of the 1st U. S. Congressional District (18 counties) of Georgia. It was organized in April, 1960 and became an affiliate of SCLC in September 1961. Its objective is to coordinate the political abilities of the 18 counties by organizing a Crusade for Voters in each county whose purposes are: To get every eligible citizen registered, to get all registered voters to vote in every election, to interview 'all Candidates, to keep daily records on all public issues, public officials and make records available to the general public, to operate who want to become First Class Adult Citizenship schools for those citizens, to coordinate the political abilities of all individuals and organizations, to foster direct action programs against segregation.

The types of programs fostered by the respective Crusade for Voters are naturally determined by the needs and resources of the individual counties. In the past year the Southeastern Georgia Crusade For Voters has conduction programs in seven counties, including the surveying of more than 30,000 Negroes and the registration of 5,000, Thirty Adult Citizenship schools in seven counties, Organized Crusade for Voters organizations in nine counties, developed Political Awareness programs in five counties, supported four Negroes public office in two counties, Negotiated the appointment of more than 20 Negroes to governmental Boards, Commissions, and Committees in two counties, negotiated the upgrading of many Negroes in governmental positions in one county, Negotiated the hiring of Negroes in positions previously held by white only in one county, and Conducted a direct Action Program in one county.

The Chatham County Crusade For Voters has been the most effective county organization in our district. Through its Political Action program, the following facilities have been integrated in the City of Savannah and the County of Chatham, Georgia; (1) Municipal Golf Course, (2) Municipal Air Port, (3) Public Library, (4) Savannah's Police Department, (5) City and County Water Fountains, (6) City and County Rest Rooms, (7) Seating in City Police Court, (8) Seating in County Police Court, (9) City Auditorlium, (10) City Civil Service Examinations, (11) City Voter Registration Lists (12) County Voter Registration Lists, (13) City Voting Polls, (14) County Voting Polls, (15) Seven City Boards, Commissions, and Committees and (16) Fire Department.

The Chatham County Crusade For Voters' Political Action Program was responsible for the upgrading of Negroes in the following positions: (1) One Detective to Sergeant, (2) Two Patrolmen to Detectives, (3) One Laborer to Water Meter Reader, (4) One Laborer to Water Pump Operator, (5) Two Laborers to Heavy Equipment Operators.

The Crusade For Voters was not only responsible for Negroes being appointed to the following governmental Boards, Commissions and Committees but named the appointees: Savannah Public Library, Bacon Park Commission, Civil Defense Commission, Savannah Auditorium Committee, Savannah Recreation Commission, and Advisory Committee to the Savannah Metropolitan Planning Commission.

The Crusade For Voters was also responsible for the hiring of Negroes in the following positions: Additional Negro Policemen (The number of Negro Policemen increased from 17 to 25), Negro Firemen, Negro Bus Drivers.

The Crusade For Voters conducted its first Direct-Action Program against Segregation this summer. This program was under the direct leadership of Hosea L. Williams, President of the Crusade For Voters, who was assisted by Benjamin Van Clarke, Director of The Crusaders' Youth Program. Activities of the Direct Action Program consisted of daily morningtrain ing workshop noon downtown marches and speeches, nightly mass meetings, nightly mass marches (After Nightly Meetings), Daily sit-in demonstrations and daily picketing of certain segregated establishments.

These protest demonstrations were carried out mainly against segregated Motels, Motels, Restaurants, Theaters, Employment. More than 800 arrests were made under charges of trespassing, unlawful assembly, disobeying an officer, inciting riots and interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty. 26 demonstrators were arrested under Peace Warrants; included were President Hosea L. Williams and Youth Leader Benjamin Van Clarke. Williams was lodged in jail for a $30,000 Bond and was released after 34 days under bond of $15,550. Youth Leader Benjamin Van Clark remains in jail up to this time under a $15,000 bond. Williams was later returned to jail for a 5 day sentence being charged with contempt of court for giving his personal opinion publicly of a Municipal Court verdict dealing with the 26 Peace Warrants. Nineteen of the demonstrators who were arrested under the Peace Warrants were released from jail after 55 days. after they were given two choices: signing statements repudiating demonstrations or returning to jail.

Out of the 800 arrested many have been tried. At the present rate so-called 'justice is being meaded out. Sentences will range from $100 to $4,500 or 2 months to 6½ years in prison and 12 years probation.

During the period of demonstrations many Negroes were beaten by Policemen. At least 4 Negroes were shot by whites. Demonstrators were frequently gassed by the Police Department and Ga. State Troopers Some demonstrators were housed in a disbanded jail, without beds. In some cases Juveniles were held in custody for more than 25 days. Many Negroes lost their jobs, cars and in some few cases, their homes.

Although there are many demonstrators yet to come to trial and it is feared they will not be able to be bonded out because the solicitor will only accept property bonds. Integration of the Hotels, Motels, Theaters and Bowling Alleys will take place before this Southern Christian Leadership Conference's 7th Annual Convention is closed.

A VOTELESS PEOPLE IS A HOPELESS PEOPLE !

VOTER REGISTRATION KILLS SEGREGATION !

REGISTER AND VOTE, STOP HOPING !

Benjamin Van Clark's Day

LAST OF THE PEACE BONDS

On October 6, 1963, Negroes of Savannah proclaimed this day Benjamin Van Clarke's Day. In tribute to his leadership in the Savannah Freedom Now Movement.

Clarke had just been released from the Chatham County Jailhouse after spending more than 31 days in confinement. He is the last of the Peace Bonders! The day began with a Mass Meeting in his honor. At this time he reconfirmed his philosophy in the fight for FREEDOM and total EQUALITY. He told the people who came out to pay tribute to Clarke added. him, "There comes a time when people get tired. On June 4, 1963, we came together to say to those who have mistreated us so long that we were tired; tired of being kicked about by the feet of oppression; tired of being segregated and humiliated. We had no other choice bus to demonstrate."

The day ended with Clark being guest of honor at the Flamingo Night Club. Thus, we began anew the fight for Freedom and total equality because we have two leaders who are willing to suffer, sacrifice and even die for all of our Freedom.

Phones AD 2-4171— 2-4172

HEARD'S FUNERAL SERVICE

New Location, 3020 West Broad Street

Savannah, Georgia

Randle W. Heard, Owner

Mrs. Francis C. Braddy, Mgr.

Nathaniel B. Braddy, Asst. Mgr.

Formerly Located at Monroe Funeral Home Bldg.

PHONE ADams 4-1634

WILLIAMS & WILLIAMS

Funeral Home

Ossie H. Williams & Geo. C. Williams, Owners

Our Services Dedicated To Meet Your Needs.....

COURTEOUS - REASONABLE

1012 -1014 E. Gwinnett St. Savannah, Ga.

STOP POLIO SUNDAY, OCT. 20 OCTOBER 17, 18, 19, 21 STOP POLIO SUNDAY, OCT. 20

Prices Good Both Stores Thurs.-Fri.-Sat.-Monday

2 STORES

FOODTOWN SUPER MARKET

1500 W. Bay W. Broad & Liberty

2 STORES

BRAND NAME TENDERIZED
10-14 lb Avg.
Smoked HAM lb. Whole or Shank Half 39c

Hy Grades Porter
Sliced BACON
LB. CELLO
29c

Old Fashion Round
Aged American
CHEESE lb. 39c

HEAVY WESTERN BEEF
ROUND STEAK, lb 59c
T-BONE STEA,K lb 59c
SIRLOIN STEAK, lb 49c

LEAN MEATY SPARE RIBS
Lb. 29c

ROGER WOODS
Franks or Smoked Sausage 3 lbs. 99c

HEAVY WESTERN TENDER
RIB STEAKS lb. 43c

REG. 77c GIANT SIZE SURF
BOX 47c

BLUE PLATE
Apple Jelly
2 Lb. Jar 25c

WILSON'S CORN BEEF
HASH
4 CANS 1.00

SEALTEST
ICE MILK
½ GAL 39c

CIRCUS DRINKS
Pineapple - Grapefruit
Orange - Grape
CAN 46 OZ. TALL 19¢

Hunts Tomato
CATSUP
14 OZ BOTTLE
7 FOR $1.00

SOUTHERN GEM
Large 303 Can CUT GEEN
BEANS
3 cans 25¢

JUMBO PIES
BOX 29¢

PLASTIC
Dust Pans
12¢

PET, CARNATION, BORDEN'S
TALL MILK 8 cans 1.00

QUAKER QUICK
GRITS
25 Lb Bag 99¢

LIBBY'S 46-oz
TOMATO JUICE 25c
TALL
SARDINES, 2 cans 29c
LIBBY'S TALL CAN 10 Cans
Pineapple Juice 1.00
AMERICAN BEAUTY
SPAGHETTI can 10c
GENUINE PRESTONE Gal.
ANTI-FREEZE 1.59

CAMPBELLS Can
TOMATO SOUP 10c
FAMO Pkg.
PANCAKE MIX 10
BLUE PLATE 18 oz. Jar
PEANUT BUTTER 39c
BLUE PLATE Quart
SNACK SPREAD 39c
BUTTER NUT 6 Bars
CANDY BARS 19c

REYNOLDS
FOIL, 25 ft 23c
BLUE BONNETT 2 lbs.
WHIPPED OLEO 49c
SWIFT'S
PREM, can 35c
NESTLE
QUICK, lb can 29c
3 Lb. Tin
SNOWDRIFT, 59c

PILLSBURY INSTANT MASHED POTATOES, 3 Pkgs 25c
Reg. TWIN PAC 59c
POTATO CHIPS 39c
MAIN FLAT 12 CANS
OIL SARDINES 1.00
SOUTHERN GEM
LIMA BEANS, can 10c
10 LBS. SECOND HEAD
RICE . . . 99c

FLEARE RED TOKAY
GRAPES
Lb. 10c

US No. 1 IRISH POTATOES
10 lbs. 29c

FRESH JUICY FLORIDA
Grapefruit
Big Size 5c EACH

THE CRUSADER

VOL. I, NO. 3 | SAVANNAH, GEORGIA | THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1963 | 10 CENTS

Did White Folks Or Negroes Send Me To Jail

By Hosea L. Williams

(The segregaionist's only strength is our weakness. Negroes in Chatham County had their chance. We could have been free. Three months ago FREEDOM confronted us and we just were not ready. We were not prepared and we forsook our forefathers, those that made it possible for us to be free. I am speaking of the black men. Those that made it possible for us ever to be free. I am speaking of the black men, women and children that absorbed the rawhide whip lashes of the slave masters. Those lashes that left their bodies paining with the sting of death, gashed and bleading like the springs of the Nile. I know many of them must have turned over in their graves and said "My God forgive them for they know not what they do", when the NCAAP published a paid ad in the Savannah Morning News, Sunday, June 23. (See Page 5.)

This was the ODDEST event of the whole FREEDOM-NOW MOVEMENT. A Withholding Patronage Campaign was in progress against the Savannah Morning News and Evening Press bectuse of their stand against CHRISTIANITY and DEMOCRACY. The campaign was called after meeting with the executive and managing editors. The exclusion of Negroes from their social page over-playing crime among Negroes, slanting of news dealing with racial issues, suppressing and blotting out news, proving progress among Negroes and failing to support any positive action dealing with the granting of civil rights to Negroes, was discussed to no avail. Yet, Mr. W. W. Law and his group, not only spoke out in the defense of the segregationist paper, but gave them

(Continued On Page 3)

Why Many Ministers Crucified The Crusaders

By Hosea L. Williams

First, I would like to say THE REAL LEADERS OF the NEGRO PEOPLE ARE THIR PREACHRS AND TEACHERS. At least this is the way it has been since the days of slavery. History tells us the original leaders and teachers of the American Negro was the PREACHER. Realizing that the true leadership of Negroes is vested in their preachers and teachers, the Crusaders FREEDOM NOW MOVEMENT had no intention of challenging this well-recognized power. Yet, the movement caused many church doors to be closed to our meetings. Only three ministers were able to take part in all activities of the movement later two of these three were pressured out of full participation. There were two other ministers able to be in attendance at our nightly mass meetings but not actively in the movement.

I have always said Negroes have too many churches for the number of qualified leaders. Then came the demonstrations and I found

(Continued On Page 5)

INTEGRATION LEADER BENJAMIN VAN CLARKE GIVES $170.00 SMILE

The Sueders Social Club commits a real worthwhile social act by contributing $100 to FREEDOM roaher throwing a party for the boys. The above photo shows officers of the Sueders happily contributing to integrationist Benjamin Van Clark their $100 contribution for Freedom plus a $70 check (see story on page 7) from the Women's Freedom Club of the Sugar Refinery Quarters. Frank King, president of the Sueders Social Club said "we all agreed, we have bought too much fun and not enough freedom. therefore, the Sueders have decide to leod the way with the hopes that other social clubs will follow. If the CRUSADERS FOR FREEdom can be beaten, gassed

(Continued On Page 7)

Chatham Registrars Use New Law To Block Negro Registration

By Willie (Chief Captain) BOLDEN

Chatham County is one of the hardest counties in the First U. S. Congressional District of Georgia for a Negro to register and vote. This is nothing new. The registration clerks have always required more of Negroes than whites. Many Negroes have been forced to take Georgia's "un-passable" illiterate test, for mispronouncing one word or stubling over words like militia, insurrection, prosecution and disparage. These same individuals read newspapers, Sunday School books and voter-registration material in the Crusade for Voters office, many were property owners. They declare and pay their own taxes, but they are denied an opportunity to register. There is no doubt in my mind, a great injustice is being done to many Negro citizens by the county registrars. I say "Registrars" because they are responsible for the action of their clerks. The Crusade for Voters complained directly to the Board of Register. It was like talking to a brick wall.

I admit, Negroes are very nedvous when they attempt to register the first time. You might say they have a chip on their shoulders. Well, who put the chip there? Why would registrating to vote make Negroes nervous. In other words, we admit the illness, will the registrars admit the cause? No. because they are the cause. They condone and abet the cause; IMPATIENCE, DISCOURTESY, and HOSTILITY.

The chief registrar, Attorney Charles Debele, let "the cat out of the bog. in a meeting with the Crusade for Voters he tried to 'sugar-coat' how discourteous he is to Negroes trying to register. He said "this 72 year old Negro woman came up and tried to register. She was so nervous, I tried to help her. I told her NOW GIRL, JUST TAKE YOUR TIME." Obviously, he is so uninformed he did not realize how disrespectful his help was. Calling a 72 year old woman GIRL. Can you imagine how a 72 year old woman must have felt when the chief registrar, who is young enough to be her son called her GIRL.

(Continued On Page 2)

CHATHAM'E REGISTRARS USE EW LAW TO BLOCK NEGROES' VOTING STREN

(Continued From Page 1)

During the last term of the State Legislature, a law was passed allowing counties with populations over 100,000 to set up temporary registration offices over the county. This bill allows registrar to register votehs at places other than their official registration office. It makes registratioin possible for citizens finding it inconvenient to go all the way downtown: It was also designed to make registration convenient for those citizens working for their livelyhood the same hours as the registration affice is open to register. Take the following example: A citizen employed between the hours of 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. at Victory Drive and Ogeechee Road, from Monday through Friday would have to lose at least two hours from work to go down town and register, Because the registration office is only open during his working hours. Under the new law, the Board of Registrars could set up a temporary registration one day per week on the West Side. This would allow the citizens working at Victory Drive and Ogeechee Road to run over and get registered during lunch hour. Even if he had to take some tine from work. Think of how many citizens could register to vote and how much money could be saved by the registrants, by not having to lose time from work.

Obviously, the Board of Registrars isn't concerned about giving Negro registrants an EQUAL OPPORTUNITY TO REGISTER. Under the new law, the Board has set up three temporary offices in Chatham County, the third largest county in Georgia: one each in Garden City, Thunderbolt, on the Intermediate Road. All three of these sections are almost totally white. The one in Thunderbolt and the one on Intermediate Road are in the same part of the county. Why two in that section of the county and none in the West nor Southwest part of the county? These areas are heavily populated with Negroes Why not move the temporary registration offices around in all parts of the county. Why not give all sections of the county an equal opportunity under the law. Take the East Side of town nad the West Side of town and the West Side 40,000 Negroes live. They should have access to temporary registration offices. They are American citizens. They pay taxes, take up arms in the defense of this country and obey the laws of the Constitution of America.

A conference with the chief registrar in this injustice proved fatal. He claims there are no public buildings in those areas we pleaded for and said the county did not have money to rent any office space. The Crusade for Voters offered to acquire free office space in churches, schools, etc, and then we found out the truth. The Chief Registrar just doesn't want to give Negroes an EQUAL OPPORTUNITY to register to vote.

The Crusade for Voters even tried to get the Chief Registrar to keep the dawntown registration office open on Saturday until 12:00 noon or unutil 9:00 P. M. a couple of days each week. Most of the larger counties in Georgia are making this sacrifice in order to allow the working people a chance to register without losing time from work.

The chief registrar's objection to keepink the courthouse open late certain nights each week in order to allow the working people a chance to register without losing lime from their jobs was "eight hours work is plenty for the pay our clerks receive".

We informed the chief registrar that it was possible to get extra pay for extra work by the clerks from the county commissioners, but he still refused to give and consideration to the idea. Could it be that the chief registrar knows 86 per cent of the Negro people in Chatham county are laborers employed between the hours of 9:00 ano 5:00 and are not willing to lose time from their jobs to get registered because of their, already small income. But would register if the registration office was open after working hours.

YOU BE THE JUDGE*

The School Lunch Program, administered nationally by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service, is now in its 17th year.

The School Lunch Program operates in 68,000 public and private schools, feeds balanced, nutritious lunches to some 16,000,000 children.

The National School Lunch Program each year provides 2.7 billion lunches to school youngsters.

Psoriasis derives its name from the Greek word psora, meaning itch.

The American Medical Association reports that arthritis still is the chief cause of crippling disabilities among Americans.

The American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation says parents should insist that their children walk or cycle to school if the distance is not more than two miles.

A WHITE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER SHAMES MY CONGREGATION

Benjamin Van Clark

It isn't ofter that I have the pleasure to attend services at my church on Sunday because of so few Negroes who are willing to help with the day to day operation of our office, the Crusade for Voters, 410 West Park Ave., Savannah, Ga. But on last Sunday November 3, 1963. I decided to forego my business until I had received some spiritual guidance that we all need in a movement of this type.

When I arrived at the church, many of our members had already assembled and were awaiting the beginning of the service. The members of my church are the aristocrats of the Savannah Society. They are the school teachers, principals, the doctors, the dentists, and the postal workers, Many of them are self employed with a flourishing business of Negro trade.

I can count the number of members of my church on my right hand who actively participate in the Freedom Movement and because of this I rarely associate with even the younger members. It is my contention, "Like father like son".

Maybe it was the work of God that took me to Victory Drive and Burroughs street last Sunday to hear Dr. William Henderson, Director of Vocation for the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Dr. Henderson, in no uncertain terms, shamed the members of Butler Presbyterian Church. He told them the story of Rip Van Kinkle. This man, he said, had slept for some twenty long yeors on the mountain side and great changes had taken place. The little village in which he had been born was no longer a colony of the British king. It was now a part of the United States of America. While Rip had been sleeping peacefully, a fierce war had been fought. Don't you be another Rip Van Winkle, he said. Rip slept through a revolution, you are now a part of a revolution too. But, the thing that made me happy was his final statement. "There is a place for you in the movement. I know many mistakes were made in your movement here in Savannah, but if you were out there helping to direct things, those mistakes might not have occurred. No matter what your profession, there is a place for you in the struggle.

He went on further to say "My own three sons are active and right now my younger son is in Mississippi helping the Negro there secure the right to vote. So wake up and become a part of this revolution.

Commode & Water Tank
As Low As $19.94
(With Coupon)

1/4" DRILL
As Low As $7.88

GAS HEATER
As Low As
$2.88
(With Coupon)

Electric Gear Drill
As Low As
$7.88
(With Coupon)

Thrifty Folks Shop At
TRIFTY 5 & 10
CHARLTON & WEST BROAD
(With Coupon)

14 BOOK VOLUME DICTIONARY
$3.88
(With Coupon)

TENNIS SNEAKERS
As Low As 59c

SANFORIZED AND CIRCLE STITCHED BRAS
4 FOR $1

LEON'S FREEDOM VILLAGE

"WE SERVE THE BEST BEVERAGES BUT THEY ARE THE CHEAPEST ON THE COAST

and save money too!

YOU ARE INVITED NIGHTLY

Not Only The Coolest, But The Newest Happening In Town

USE LEON'S EASY CREDIT PLAN—100 PCT. DOWN—NO PAYMENTS

It's Better To Give Than To Receive, So Bring Leon Something

FOR RESERVATION OR INFORMATION CALL

OR DROP BY

The Freedom Village

FLORANCE AND MILLS B. LANE

DID WHITE FOLKS OR N GROES SEND ME TO JAIL?

(Continued From Page 1)

the NEGROES MONEY. Gave them OUR MONEY TO PRINT A LIE: I Call this buying segregation and making the Negroes pay for it.

Read the "FAITH SAVER" (see page 5) and try to understand its contents. First, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People need not apologize to anyone at anytime for UNDISPUTED ACCOMPLISH - MENTS. I must say this, "Today's Negro is not willing to sit down and wait on tomorrow, just because of some advancement made yesterday. YOU EITHER LEAD HIM OR HE WILL RUN OVER YOU!

The second paragraph implies, the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement was not the will of a duly elected body. Well, that's false. I carried Ben Clark's (organizer of our non-violent protest demonstration) proposed program before the Executive Board 2 consecutive official board meetings. Both times the proposed program was sanctioned without dissension. I can aso tell you, the NAACP has carried out many major programs that no executive board ever heard of until they read it in a newspaper, heard it over the radio or saw it on television; For example, the first group that tried to use the Municipal Golf Course, the group arrested at Daffin Park (known in court as the Wright Case versus the City of Savannah, Georgia), the Broughton Street Boycott, etc.

The third paragraph tried to explain how wonderful white folk ae. How easy it would have been to integrate the local hotels, motels, theaters, bowling alleys and restaurants. I say, in fact, I know they sent boys and girls to do the job of men and I mean MEN. Men willing to be beaten by brutal police, gassed by gastapo rio squads, dragged in the streets by WILD state troopers, men even willing to die. The white folk knew negotiation were no going to get those places integrated. The third paragraph stated there was no violence while the NAACP'S followers were negotiating, demonstrating and picketing to integrate the downtown facilities. That's right, but when you think of SIX young (some very young) Negroes trying to break 40 years of habit, no one gives them a thought. They had two youths doing their negotiating, and six or seven standing-in at the theaters one or two days a week. The same six or seven youths picketed the colored theaters a few times. I am not criticizing the NAACP but I am critical of this PAID AD which says one thing and means another. Keep in mind this article is what sent me to jail for 35 long, hot, muggy, sleepless days and nights.

The fourth and last (thank God) paragraph started off by stating the NAACP believes that the Negro Community looks to it for leadership and direction. Well, I found out, Negroes will follow any organization leading in the "right" direction; but, you have to keep leading or they will run right squarely over you. Another thing, one does not have to worry about his followers. IF they are given TRUE leadership, they will follow.

The article stated that the NAACP was faced with peaceful intergration of Chatham County's public schools. I say, Chatham County doesn't have any integrated schools. CHATHAM COUNTY HAS IMITATION INTEGRATION. Out of 15,000 Negro students, about 20 were sent over to schools containing 25,000 white students. Out of 25,000 white students, not one was sent to schools containing only 15,000 Negro students. The NAACP Should have integrated the schools, after nine long years. Yes, I said integrated them in one way: MARCH EVERY NEGRO STUDENT IN CHATHAM COUNTY TO THE SCHOOL NEAREST HIS OR HER HOME EVERY SCHOOL DAY AND HAVE "STUDY-INS". This is what I call taking your grieviences to the public because the courts have failed you. Did you know this is Constitutional?

The fourth paragraph went on to plead for calmness (white folk downtown call it transquillity). Ntgroes have always been calm. We are meek by nature. The white folk caused all the violence, so don't accuse the CRUSADER'S for what the whites did. We never started violence, but I tell you, there is going to be violence connected with any worthwhile advancement Negroes make because the white folks are going to see to that. For 400 years they have been beating, shooting, jailing, and even killing us, just because we ask for our FREEDOM. Well the Crusaders stopped begging, we demanded some FREEDOM by peacefully marching day and night, singing gospel and spiritual songs and praying to God. We were beaten, not only by white citizens, but by police more than once; the loca lpolice and state troopers gased us without provocation or cause; but we kept demanding. Negroes that tried to bu ya 10c coke or a 15c Hot Dog were jailed day after day, still we demanded. Then the white folk got the one break they had been praying for; THE SAME ONE THEY HAVE USD FOR 400 YEARS TO KEEP NEGROES DOWN.

THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT THE WHITE FOLK IN SAVANNAH HAD BEEN WAITING FOR. This told them, the Negroes were divided, only some are tired of talking about freedom, therefore we can still FOOL the others. Only part of them have nerve enough to tell us white folk to our face, "WE AIN'T GONNA WAIT NO LONGER, GIVE US FREEDOM OR DEATH." The others are still willing to keep on talking to us double-dealing white folk behind closed doors, willing to continue POPPING OFF STEAM. in some mass meeting or board meeting. The whites were convinced by this paid ad, the Negro community in Savannah SPLIT WIDE OPEN. They said, "LOOK! LOOK! who signed this paid ad. They got power and influence in the Negro community. They are our friends. They are against BOYCOTTING the Savannah Morning News because they purchased a paid ad in Sunday's issue. If they purchased an ad, they have to tbe telling the Negroes to buy and read the papet. We know those marching Negroes, the Crusaders, the ones we beat, gassed and put in jail day after day because they wanted their freedom are not buying nor reading the Savannah Morning New or Evening Press; therefore, one faction of the Negro community is on our side and the other faction is against us." This gave the white folk the upper hand. Then they began to heep all kinds of injustices upon the demonstrators because they knew that faction of the Negro community who put that ad in the Savannah Morning News would not come to the demonstrators defense.

The whites knew everybody must have a head and if the head is cut off, the body will naturally die. The head of the Crusaders (those marching for the freedom of every Negro, those submitting their bodies to death) was Hosea L. Williams. THE WHITES CUT THAT HEAD OFF! Hosea L. Williams was thrown in the hole of the Chatham County jail under $30,000 worth of bonds. Many of the white men and women even signed BLANK WARRANTS, the JUDGE later filled in the name. The head was cut off. but thank God the body did not die. The whites committed this historical injustice because a faction of the Negro community had implied in a paid ad; "We Want Do a Thing About It!" In other words, they allowed a Negro who stuck his neck out to get it chopped off. DID WHITE FOLK OR NEGROES PUT ME IN JAIL?

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING SALUTES SAVANAH FREEDOM-NOW MOVEMENT

Dr. Martin Luther King (center Greets Savannah, L-R Albert McCount, Mrs. Daisy P. Jones, Dr. King, Hosea L. Williams and Henry Brownlee.

The Crusader's Freedom-Now movement of Savannah, Georgia, was one of the highlighted stories at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Convention in 1963 because it boosted Savannah Georgia up to the most integrated city in Georgia. The Crusade for Voters is one of SCLC'S most effective affiliates.

Dr. King and SCLC not only furnished personnel for the Savannah Movement, but have paid the bulk of the expenses, with the exception of legal fees which are being paid by the Legal Education and Defense Fund of the NAACP.

Eight of Savannah's Crusaders attended the Convention. Not including those in the above photogaph, we had present Eugene Seals, Joseph Hankerson, Walter Torrence James Durham and Miss Beverly Louis.

More than half of the living Nobel Prize winners who went to college in the United States earned degrees from Land-Grant Colleges.

Lumps in evaporated milk are formed by the solids settling during storage. Dairy specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture say these lumps do not harm the milk.

Isaac A. Jones Gulf Service Station

THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN GOOD GULF PRODUCTS

THERE IS NO GULF AS GOOD AS ISAAC JONES'

For All Auto Repairs "See Ike"
EXPERT MECHANIC

FOR FREEDOM FROM WORRIES—GO TO (39th And Ogeechee West)

ADAMS 2-9163

PROFILE OF THE MONTH

Mrs. Mable R. Dawson

Mrs. Mable R. Dawson was born in Hampton, South Carolina a few years ago. Her parents died when she was young and she was reared by an aunt. She graduated from Matha Junior High School in Buford, S. C. and from Bolin Haven High School in Jacksonville, Fla. She then enrolled at Savannah State College and attended several quarters.

Her many charitable contributions to our community began early. She is blessed with many talents: beauty, poise, a melodious voice, personality and above all a deep love for her fellowman, which she utilizes every day of her life in whatever way she can. In addition to these attributes Mrs. Dawson has "Freedom in her blood." She works tirelessly with the Crusade for Voters.

Mrs. Dawson is the mother of four children: Herman (who is now married and the father of five) Leon, who operates Leon's Lounge at 903 West 52nd street, and Carolyn, a senior at Savannah State College and the one who inherited her mother's love for civic work. Carolin is active in the Young Adult Branch of the NAACP. Last, but certainly not the least is the youngest, Donell, a seventh grade student at Beach High School. Mrs. Dawson's husband Josh, shares and encourages her many good deeds. He is a federal employee and lends whatever support he can, whenever he can.

Mrs. Dawson is the proud grandmother of Dionne 9, Juanita 7, Harman 6, James 4 and Michelle 16 months.

Her numerous affiliations include: Peacefud Zion Baptist Church where she is a member of the deaconess board, Pastors Aid Club, Churches Sinking Fund, Johnson's Gospel Singers and Eastern Stars. But, we feel that above all else, she should be proud of her work in the Crusade for Voters and untireless efforts fighting for all of our freedom. If there were just about ten more Mable Dawson's here in Savannah, our fight for equality would be jusa about at any time. We are proud courageously and intelligently. She is not afraid to say what is right and what is wrong to anyone, any place, at any time. We and proud to pay this tribute to her.

Mrs. Dawson gave teeth to the idea of freedom to the Negroes in the Northwest part of Chatham County. She operates two full time Adult Citizenship School conducted a houste to house voter-registration campaign, developed a group of Chatham County's most outstanding Freedom Singing Groups conducts and sponsors area-wide Mass Freedom Rallies and hauls citizens weekly over ten miles to the registration office.

Mrs. Dawson is one of the main reason the Chatham Crusade for Voters has been able to exist. Not only is she an executive board member, she is one of the leading fund raisers, office work helpers, member of the transportaioin committee, Adult Citizenship School Teacher and Freedom Song Leader. Mrs. Mable Dawson controls a lot of votes in this part of the state.

Forty years ago an oil well that went a mile into the ground was considered a deep hole. Now, according to Oil Facts, an oil or gas well must exceed 15,000 feet — nearly three miles — to be considered deep. Such wells are becoming increasingly more common — and more expensive. Last year, for instance, American oilmen drilled 254 deep wells, a record number. Average depth was 17,000 feet, at a cost of $654,000 each, or $38.00 a foot.

ALL INTELLIGENT PEOPLE ARE REGISTERED TO VOTE

STOP POLICE BRUTALITY, REGISTER AND VOTE!

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS??????
IF NOT, JOIN TODAY! FILL OUT THIS APPLICATION (BELOW) AND MAIL OR BRING IT TO THE OFFICE, 416 WEST PARK AVENUE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA 31401.

CRUSADE FOR VOTERS · CHATHAM COUNTY

Crusade For Voters
VOTER EDUCATION
416 West Park Avenue
Phone AD 3-8127
SAVANNAH, GA.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT

Name .....

Amount $ .....
Is a Member in Good Standing of
C. C. C. V.
Hosea L. Williams, President 1963

Name .....
Address .....
Phone Number .....
Registered to Vote.....
Membership $.....
Amount Paid $.....
Balance Pledged $.....
Amount Due Each Mo. $.....

Signature of Worker

Compliments Of

ALEX'S SUPER DUPER

"The Store With No Limit"

West Broad and Hall Streets
Savannah, Georgia

Listen Every Saturday To The

Voice of The

CRUSADERS

WSOK – 9:30 A. M.

HOSEA (Their Leader) WILLIAMS

This and That

LOST AND FOUND

ARTICLES FOR SALE, RENT. TO BUY

REAL ESTATE (Sale, Rent, Buy).

EMPLOYMENT WANTED

Male

Female

Situations

Male

Female

NEW RRIVALS

DEATHS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Beginning in our next issue, we will feature a "This and That" page in the CRUSADER. We will have to have your articles by Monday of each week in order for them to appear in our paper which comes off the press every two weeks. PLEASE address these articles to This and That Section, Crusader Newspaper, 416 West Park Avenue, Savannah, Ga., 31401 or call them in AD 3-8127 or AD 6-5727. There is no charge for this service!

$ENSE

WHY MANY MINISTERS CRUCIFIED THE CRUSAD

(Continued From Page 1)

out there were not enough churches. There were only two large churches out of 30 in Chatham County that would permit the Crusade for Voters to hold a meeting in their santuary or other facilities. long with these two large churches, there were eight out of 188 smaller churches that continued to allow the Crusade For Voters to hold public meetings in their sanctuary or other facilities. An investigation into the reason why the Freedom Movement was stopped from holding meetings in most churches 28 out of 218) proved to be the demands of the ministers, with the exception of two churches.

One point was never made clear and I would like to make a public apology because I am responsible. The scope and momentum of the Crusaders' Freedom-Now Movement was based upon 100 per cent cooperation of ALL RELIGIOUS FACETS of our community. Knowing that segregating people because of their color is SINFUL UNDEMOCRATIC(and knowing that no American in good standing with his conscious could ever condone segregating people on the bases of color, I felt all real ministers were bound to support the type of program we were conducting.

Even the ministers have to admit we had a well-planned attractive program-and that it go t results. Our program got more Negroes involved in doing something good and constructive for themselves than any program launched since the white man brought Negroes to North America. We made decent citizens out of thugs. We made men and women out of people segregation had made boys and girls. We won the respect of thousands of white citizens. Our program cut down on crime among Negroes tremendously. We made the segregationist know Negroes are ready for FREEDOM NOW. Hundreds of Negroes stood up like real men and women for the first time in their lives. They were willing and were beaten, gassed, drug in the street, jailed and fined, unjustly and STICKING THEIR NECKS OUT, TO MAKE ONE MISTAKE, then he chops his head clear off. I don't mean the type of leader that is leader only in name; therefore, he is forced to slander any leader that takes action to keep his false image. I mean leaders that learned segregation is wrong and fight to kill it. Their fight is always peaceful, nonviolent BUT STERN. They forget themselves as the PREACHERS teach us Christ did. They give their life to Christ because this is what the preachers have always told them to do. They are willing to make sacrifices, even death, for the freedom of all mankind. The PREACHERS told them "it is better to give than receive; therefore, they have learned the only true wealth a person can ever gain in this sin-filled world is to sacrifice their lives so that others will have an equal right to LIFE, LIBERTY and the PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.

The real trouble between most of the Negro religious leaders and the Crusader's Freedom-ow Movement started when I damaged my relationship with the International Ministers Alliance. I received a letter from the President early in June of this year. The letter plainly stated that I was to meet with the officials of the Alliance and Mr. W. W. Law, President of the NAACP, June 13, 6 P. M. at a specific church. The last last paragraph read something like this: "If you fail to appear at this meeting, the ministers of this county will interpret this action as IMPERTURBABLE. Really, I was overjoyed that the real leaders of our people had decided to do something about a real unnoticed, but serious problem. Well, I called a few of my friends and told them I wiuld be at their meeting without fail.

On the 12th day of June, my assistant, Benjamin Van Clarke, 184 other Americans and I were jailed. Negroes were beaten and dragged in the streets of Savannah by local police and state troopers. We were gassed and lodged in common jails because we peacefully, nonviolently staged a protest march against America denying Negroes an equal opportunity just because our skins are pigmented. Being the leader of the movement, having the responsibility of getting the other 184 Americans out of jail, some worthy citizens bonded me out of jail a 4:35 1963, the date of the ministers' meeting. From the time I left Travis (Prison camp) until I went to my job (8 A. M.) I worked toward bonding out my 185 followers. I wonder where the REAL LEADERS OF THE NGROES WERE?

About 2:00 P. M. June 13, 1963, I received a telephone call on my job. The Mayor of our city had become concerned about the racial disorder which developed the night before; so he said. Really there was no racial disorder. The police just illegally arrested 186 Negroes. Many Negroes were beaten, jolled and gassed for exercising their U. S. constitutional rights. The telephone call was to inform me that my presence, along with several other responsible citizens of our community, was requested at the Mayor's office at 4 P. M. that afternoon. I attended that meeting with the hope it would end in time for me to appear before the ministers at 6 P. M. The meeting at the Mayor's office ended at exactly 8 P. M. I fel sure the ministers would understand because two of their main leoders were there (Rev. L. S. Stell and Rev. P. A. Patterson) with me. Then, I didn't believe a group of ministers would wait on the President of the p United States two hours. I knew they could not have held the meeting because the other invitee (Mr. W. W. Law) was also in the Mayor's meeting.

What I did not know, and no one told me, was that Rev. L. S. Stell, Jr., called the ministers after he saw the Mayor's meeting was going to detain us. In other words, after Rev. Stell saw the mayor's meeting would not end in time for him and Mr. W. W. Law to make the ministers' meeting, he called the ministers and told them to wait. Although I was in the same meeting, with the Rev. L. S. Stell, Jr. no one informed me that the ministers agreed to wait until we could get there.

Although the mayor's meeting did not end until 8 P. M. and the ministers were to start at 6 P. M., I might have still gone to the place where the ministers were to meet, but I got immediately involved in trying to get my 184 followers out of the Chatham County jail. The Rev. Andrew Young, who was also arrested the night before (but bailed out) informed me of the un-Godly conditions under which the Negroes remaining in jail were living. Rev. Young Atty. B. C. Mayfield remained in City Hall until 9:30 P. M. trying to bail the remaining Negroes out of jail. This was very important because 86 Negro men were being housed in cells ordinarily equipped to house about 26 prisoners. Many of then had been placed on confinement (bread and wawater.

About 9:30 P. M. we were able to find the responsible party that allowed Atty. B. C. Mayfield to bail all demonstrators out of jail. Immediately, we rushed to a BIG COUNTY WIDE Mass meeting being held at Pope Plus X. We learned that thousands of Negroes had hurried from the building by the police department because of a bomb scare.

What I was trying to say is, I had no intention of disregarding the demands of the ministers. In a similar meeting on June 19th, I tried with all my might to explain to the ministers why I did not make their meeting on June 13th. I tried, but obviously I failed, because MOST OF THE CHURCHES TRULY CLOSED IN THE CRUSADERS FACE.

If all of the National Forests were combined into one huge forest, the area would equal all of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, and the Atlantic Coastline states down through the upper half of South Carolina.

Forty years ago—in 1923—the first U.S. standards for cheddar cheese were issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Soggy biscuits are the result of too much liquid, too little fat, or baking at too low an oven temperature, food specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture say.

One out of every six U.S. patents issued since 1899 has been for automotive inventions, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reports.

Screw a blown fuse into each unused electric socket and save a curious child from harm.

Before you put iron-on interfacings in a garment, remember they will make the fabric stiff.

From the crudest earth, vegetable, and insect dyes to today's highly sophisticated chemical compounds, man's cosmetic history demonstrates unceasing attention to complexion.

Federal & State Income Tax Returns

Social Security & Withholding Tax Forms

MIMEOGRAPHING
Forms—Programs—Letters

Do You Have TAX PROBLEMS?
Bring Them To Me!

MRS. HOSEA L. WILLIAMS
458 1-2 West Broad Street
GUARANTY BUILDING—PHONE ADams 3-8127

NOTARY PUBLIC—PUBLIC STENOGRAPHING— PAYROLLS

"Your Problems Are Our Business— Our Only Business"

WOO BROS.

MARKET

711E. Broad St.

AD 2-7522

"We Specialize In Fine Meats"

YOUTH TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Benjamin Van Clarke, Director of Youth Activities for the Crusaders' announced that his department is considering plans for a conference around the 2nd week in November. "Although this is a new idea for students in the Savannah Area, we feel this will be one of the most important ventures the Crusaders could possibly consider" Clarke told his members.

Plans for the conference are still upon the drafting board but we are centain that our Student Directors within the four high schools will be presenting a program of great interest.

Persons across the state and als o staff personnel of Dr. M. L. King's SCLC along with our president, Hosea L. Williams, are expected to participate as consultants.

All youth who might be interested in participating should contact the Crusaders office, 416 West Park Ave ADams 3-8127

WE WENT TO JAIL FOR YOU

CONGRATULATES PRESIDENT JORDAN— Dr. Howard Jordan (left) President of Savannah St College is being congratulated by Dr. Henry M. Collier, Jr. (extreme right) after his first address the student body. Pictured in the center is Mrs. Howard Jordan.

"MISS SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE AND HER ATTENDANTS- Seated: Miss Deloris Bowens, "Miss Savannah State College," fro Fitzgerald, Georgia is a Mathematics major. Standing (L-R) Idel Glover, a Chemistry major from Savannah, Georgia; Matilda Bryan, Social Science major from Savannah, Georgia; and Nora William Statesboro, Georgia, Sociology major.

SUGAR REFINERY WOMEN SWEETEN FREEDOM $70.00 WORTH

Hosea L. Williams, leader of the Crusaders' Freedom Movement, said "Those Sugar Refinery Women are sweet in more ways than one They may not be so plentiful when it comes to going to jail for freedom but they sure are courageous when it comes to paying bails and fines."

Mrs. Amanda Bing, Mrs Polly Steele, Mrs. Gloria Edwards and Mrs. Gertrude Williams spearheaded a neighborhood funds for freedom group. Their first snack party netted $70 for freedom. The total amount was turned over to the Chatham County Crusade for voters for the purpose of helping to eliminate financial indebtedness that grew out of the demonstrations which ultimately integrated hotels, motels, theaters, etc., in Savannah, Georgia.

In accepting the contribution, President Hosea L. Williams said, "It's hard to believe that the same group of Negroes who were jailed, beaten and fined had to get out of jail and pay their own expenses. The Negro with the money who could afford to finance the fight for Freedom is afraid to go to jail, yetfi he is too cheap or caught up in the white man's way of thinking to even pay the indebtedness in curred by those who did go to jail for Freedom. But, this particular type of Negro woits like a saint to get to heaven or a vulture for a lifeless prey, for any type of integration to take place so they can run down town and brush against or giggle in the white man's face. They well know, the Negro who has paid the supreme price for integration cannot afford it financially. Therefore, they feel that as integration becomes more a reality. they become whiter and whiter because thy are able to escape social life among their color."

Don't let the possibility of a split lip. keep you from having a lot of hearty laughs come winter.

The question before the house sometimes is, "How are we going to pay next month's rent?"

Because of larger beef production and lower retail prices, the U.S. Department of Agriculture expects per capita beef consumption to reach 91.5 pounds this year. In 1962, it was 89.1 pounds.

Intelligent People Vote

COMPLIMENTS OF

Tykie and Gregory

Carellas Bros.

Super Market

East Broad & Gwinnett Sts.

BARGAINS ON ALL GOOD FOOD

INTEGRATIO LEADER BE NJAMIN VAN CLARKE GIVES $170 SMILE

Continued From Page 1

and jailed for our rights, the least we can do is give up a few drinks and a plate of fried chicken and buy some human dignity."

Benjamin Van Clarke, who received the Sueders contribution said, "It is certainly hoped that other social clubs will follow their leadership and sponsor similar projects to aid the Crusaders in their fight for free dom in Savannah and the whole world. We have approximately 300 organizations in Savannah whose aims and purposes are to give service to mankind but only three or four of these have given any thought to their Freedom. What better way is there for them to aid mankind than to work for the Freedom of blacks and whites (We are all in bondage, until we are all free)."

If you desire information on haw your organization can best help the movement, call the office, AD 3-8127, and do as the men in the Sueders Social Club did. You will feel better inside for helping outside.

PLEASE FILL OUT THIS FORM, DROP IT BY OUR OFFICE, OR MAIL IT TO 416 WEST PARK AVENUE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA OR CALL ADAMS 3-8127.

CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS

NAME _____ PHONE _____

ADDRESS _____

I VOLUNTEER TO WORK IN THE FOLLOWING POSITION(S) WITH THE CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS IN ITS VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE: (CHECK)

DISTRICT ORGANIZER _____ ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE _____

BLOCK WORKER _____ TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE _____

FINANCE COMMITTEE _____ CHURCH WORK COMMITTEE _____

PARTTIME OFFICE HELPER _____ P.T.A. COMMITTEE _____

TELEPHONE COMMITTEE _____

All Intelligent People Are Registered To Vote

Compliments Of
THE FOOD CORNER
37th and Florence Streets
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

Phone 236-5405
HILL'S SUPPLY COMPANY
Distributors
Beauty and Barber Supplies
SERVICE IS OUR BUSINESS
RAYMOND H. HILL
503 1-2 W. Broad Street
Savannah, Georgia

SWINT SNACK BAR
Open From 5 A.M. Until 12 P.M.
7 DAYS PER WEEK
C. S. SWINT, Proprietor

SAVANNAH PHARMACY
"The Home Of Long Ease"
719 W. Broad Street
AD 2-7585

Building With Great Experience
BOISY GOLDWIRE & SONS
906 W. BROAD Building Contractors
PHONE AD 3-5595
Savannah, Georgia

THE HONEY BEE CAFE
Open 24 Hours a Day
Specializing In Home-Cooked Meals
1216 W. BROAD STREET
W. F. Robinson, Manager

YACHUM-YACHUM
"UNCLE SAMMY'S BOY'S"
C and S Charge — Lay-a-Way For Children

Men's Work Shoes
HI TOP
Genuine Leather
Sizes 7-12
Black 'n Tan
Reg. $4.98
NOW
$2.69
With This Coupon

Ladies Nylon Hose
With Seams
3 FOR
$1.00

Boy's and Girl's School
SHOES
Up To Size 3
$2.98

GIRL'S DRESSES
Latest Fashions and Colors
$1.98 & $2.98

CHILDREN'S CAR COATS
All Colors and Sizes
$2.98
And Up

GIRL'S WHALERS
All Colors and Sizes
$2.98

Prices Good Both Stores Thur.-Fri.-Sat.-Monday

2 STORES FOODTOWN SUPER MARKET 2 STORES

1500 W. Bay — W. Broad & Liberty

Fresh Dressed and Drawn, Grade A
Stewing CHICKENS lb. 15c

Swifts Streak O'Lean
WHITE Meat lb. 19c

Hygrade's Porter
Sliced Bacon 3 LB PKG. 89c

SWIFT'S HICKORY CURED
SMOKED BACON lb. 29c

ROGER WOOD FRANKS
Smoked Sausage 3 lbs. 99¢

HEAVY WESTERN BEEF
ROUND STEAK, lb. . . 59c
T-BONE STEAK, lb. . . 59c
SIRLOIN STEAK, lb. . 49c

Fresh Lean
Spare Ribs lb. 23c

Gerbers Strained
Baby Food 12 jars 1.00

Kleenex Table
Napkins 3 pkgs 25c

Halfhill
TUNA 7 cans 1.00

Holsum Old Fashioned
RoundCake 29c

OAK HILL In Heavy Syrup
PEACHES Giant 2½ Size Can 19c

BERRMONT PURE
LARD 8 LB. CAN 89c

QUAKER QUICK
GRITS 25 LB. BAG 99c

KOTEX
The Name You Know Best
BOX of 12 19c

BORDENS, SILVER COW
TALL MILK 8 cans 1.00

CHICKEN
Scratch FEED 25 lbs. 89c

NORTHERN
Turnips 5c lb.

Bring This Coupon to Foodtown
Genuine PRESTONE ANTI-FREEZE Gal. $1.37 with this coupon

FRESH GREEN
Cabbage 3c lb.

Juicy Tender Doz.
Oranges 29¢

U. S. No. 1
Irish Potatoes 10 lbs. 29c

Bright Red Eating 4 lb Bag
Apples 29¢

Shawnee's Self Rising 5 lbs
Flour 45¢

Reg. 1.00 Size Woodbury
Lotion 29¢

Wilson's Luncheon Meat
MOR 1.00

Luzianne White Label
Coffee 2 lb Tin 89¢

WOW
DOG FOOD 5¢ Can

GENUINE ALASKA PINK
SALMON Tall Can 39¢

Extra Fancy Fruit Cake
Material lb. 29c

Mortons Frozen Cherry, Peach
Apple Pies 4 Family Size 1.00

QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED

PAID AD REFERRED TO ON PAGE ONE, COLUMN 5, FROM ARTICLE ENTITLED "DID WHITE FOLK OR NEGROES SEND ME TO JAIL" BY HOSEA L. WILLIAMS.

THIS PAID ADVERTISEMENT APPEARED IN THE SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS
JUNE 23, 1963

THE HISTORY AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE (NAACP) NEED NO APOLOGY. SINCE 1909, ALMOST ALONE, THE NAACP HAS FEARLESSLY, VIGOROUSLY AND CONSISTENTLY FOUGHT THE BATTLES OF THE NEGRO CITIZENS OF AMERICA. THE RESULTS HAVE BEEN GREAT AND SIGNIFICANT IN ALL AREAS OF CIVIL RIGHTS INCLUDING HOUSING, TRANSPORTATION, VOTING, EMPLOYMENT, EDUCATION AND LAW ENFORCEMENT. BEING ACUTELY AWARE OF THESE FACTORS, THE SAVANNAH BRANCH OF THE NAACP HAS CARRIED OUT ITS FUNCTION OF LEADERSHIP IN OUR LOCALITY IN COMPLETE ACCORD WITH THE POLICIES OF THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION AND IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE NEGRO COMMUNITY.

WE DEPLORE VIOLENCE AND WILL NEVER ENCOURAGE IT, BUT WE ARE COMMITTED TO A PROGRAM OF NON-VIOLENT, PEACEFUL PROTEST WHEREVER SUCH SERVES TO ELIMINATE INJUSTICES IMPOSED UPON NEGRO CITIZENS. THE SAVANNAH BRANCH OF THE NAACP IS GOVERNED BY A DULY ELECTED EXECUTIVE BOARD COMPOSED OF A CROSS-SECTION OF CONCERNED NEGRO CITIZENS, AND NO DEFINITE ACTION IS EVER TAKEN BY THE BRANCH WITHOUT FULL DISCUSSION BEFORE REACHING A DECISION.

AT THE TIME THAT THE PRESENT SITUATION DEVELOPED, THE YOUNG ADULT COUNCIL OF THE NAACP WAS IN A PROGRAM OF NEGOTIATIONS WITH HOTELS, MOTELS, BOWLING ALLEYS, THEATERS AND RESTAURANTS, ALONG WITH THESE NEGOTIATIONS, DEMONSTRATIONS AND PICKETING WERE IN PROGRESS WITHOUT ARRESTS, DISORDER, VIOLENCE OR VANDALISM. THE PROBABILITY OF SUCCESS OF THESE NEGOTIATIONS WAS BRIGHT IN VIEW OF THE EXPERIENCES IN ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE AND OTHER MAJOR SOUTHERN CITIES.

THE NAACP BELIEVES THAT THE NEGRO COMMUNITY LOOKS TO IT FOR LEADERSHIP AND DIRECTION. EVEN NOW THE BRANCH IS FACED WITH THE MONUMENTAL PROBLEMS OF EFFECTING PEACEFUL AND ORDERLY INTEGRATION OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN SEPTEMBER. THE SCHOOL PROBLEM AND THE PRESENT DISTURBING SITUATION REQUIRE THAT AN ATTITUDE OF AS MUCH CALM AS POSSIBLE PREVAIL IN OUR COMMUNITY WHILE THESE MATTERS ARE BEING SETTLED. IN THE LIGHT OF THESE FACTORS, WE BELIEVE THAT NIGHT MASS PROTEST MARCHES, WHILE USEFUL UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES WILL NOT SERVE THE BEST INTERESTS AT THIS TIME IN REACHING OUR GOALS. WHILE THE NAACP IS HOPEFUL, WE ARE NOT THOROUGHLY CONVINCED THAT A SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM WILL BE FOUND DURING THE PRESENT NEGOTIATIONS. NEVERTHELESS, WE FEEL THAT A PERIOD OF CALM WILL GIVE THE NEGOTIATORS THEIR BEST CHANCE OF SUCCESS UNDER THE PRESENT CONDITIONS. SHOULD THE NEGOTIATIONS FAIL, THE NAACP IS COMMITTED TO RESUME PEACEFUL, NON-VIOLENT PROTESTS AND DEMONSTRATIONS, LOOKING ALWAYS TOWARD THE DAY WHEN NEGRO CITIZENS OF AMERICA WILL ENJOY FULL EQUALITY WITH ALL OTHER AMERICAN CITIZENS.

W. W. LAW,
PRESIDENT

MRS. ESTER F. GARRISON,
SECRETARY

MRS. MARY R. HEYWARD,
ASST. SECRETARY

VINCENT HILL, PRESIDENT
YOUTH COUNCIL

JAMES R. ALEXANDER, PRES.
YOUNG ADULT COUNCIL

CHARLIE BLOODWORTH
JOSEPH CLARKE
REV. JAMES FLOYD
MRS. FRANCES GREEN
DR. S. M. MCDEW
REV. F. D. JAUDON
VICE PRESIDENT
DR. J. W. JAMERSON, JR.
VICE PRESIDENT

MRS. BESSIE SAWYER
KITTLES, TREASURER

REV. C. S. STRIPLING
S. J. BROWN
ATTY. E. H. GADSDEN
HENRY HOLMES
REV. A. J. SCOTT
ROBERT R. TINDAL
M. C. CHISHOLM
EZEKIEL COOPER, SR.
LEO E. GARRISON
MRS. ETHEL B. LUTEN
REV. L. S. STELL, JR.

REPRINTED IN ITS ENTIRETY

THE CRUSADER

VOL. I, NO. 4 | SAVANNAH, GEORGIA | THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1963 | 10 CENTS

CRUSADERS CALL FOR UNITY

A House Divided Against Itself Cannot Stand!'

Hosea L. Williams, president of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters announced that a summit meeting has been called between the Negroes of Chatham County, for Friday night, Nov. 22, 1963 at Butler Presbyterian Church, West Victory Drive and Burroughs St.

This meeting is being called between the officials of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Interdenomination Ministerial Alliance, Organized Labor, Professional Negroes and other influential Negro Citizens of our county.

This summit meeting is being called to emphasize and stimulate the effectiveness of "togetherness" among Negroes in Chatham County. The ONLY hope of maintaining segregation in this section of America, all but came to be a thing of Reality. It is believed by many that if the Freedom Now Movement of the Crusaders last sum-

(Continued on Page 5)

Dr. Martin Luther King Honors The Crusaders' Freedom-Now Movement

Says Savannah is Georgia's Most Integrated City

Hosea L. Williams, leader of the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement of Savannah, Georgia, is seen in above photo receiving a large plaque from Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Williams received the honor at the Statewide Registration Committee's Annual Convention in Macon, Georgia for his unselfish, courageous and dedicated leadership given the citizens of the 1st U. S. Congressional District of Georgia in the field of Political Action and Non-Violent Direct Action.

Upon receiving the award, Williams was praised by the Rev. Andrew J. Young as being one of the most effective integrationists in Georgia. "This has been proven because Savannah, Georgia is the most integrated city in the entire state," said Rev. Young.

After receiving the award, Williams told the largest crowd ever to attend an Annual Statewide Registration Convention. "Savannah would not be ahead of other cities in Georgia in this struggle for the dignity of all mankind, if the same type of Grass-Root-People were found in other cities. In Savannah the masses were looking for, and accepted, true leadership. I am very honored to hear you say the gains of the

(Continued on Page 2)

We Went To Jail For You! Now, We Are Fighting For 6,000 More Negro Registered Voters! WILL YOU GIVE US YOUR ODD JOBS?

The Crusaders, in order to provide employment for many of the Freedom Fighters who were fled for fighting for their freedom, are peparing an ODD JOBS REGISTER. This register is still in the process of being compiled but we are prepared to offer the following services at very reasonable charges:

If you need any or all of these services, help us continue to fight for your freedom. ALL WORK IS GUARANTEED.

You may call ADams 3-8127 or ADams 6-5727 and tell us what you need. We will do the rest.

Free estimates on all jobs within the city limits and outlying areas.

PAINTERS, INSIDE AND OUT
YARD CLEANING, GRASS CUTTING, TRIMMING, ETC.
FLOOR POLISHING
WINDOW WASHING
EXTRA MAID WORK (HOUSE OR OFFICE)
BRICK LAYING HELPERS
FIXING WINDOWS, DOOR STEPS, ETC.
CAR WASHING AND POLISHING
BABY SITTING AND IRONING
EXTRA FILING IN YOUR OFFICE
ADDRESSING ENVELOPES OR CARDS
SERVING PARTIES (IN UNIFORMS)
WASHING DISHES AFTER PARTIES

Another Boycot

A boycott of Santa Claus was urged last Sunday at the Crusade for Voters' Weekly Mass meeting.

Some 400 members of the organization unanimously voted to boycott Santa Claus unless Negroes are given a 'air share of Christmas jobs. Youth leader Benjamin Van Clarke reported, there are plenty of Negroes walking the streets, qualified for jobs such as clerks, cashiers, sales persons, stockroom keepers, etc. These Negroes should be given a fair share of the extra Christmas jobs by Department Stores, Variety Stores, Drug Stores, Loan Companies, Banks, Furniture Stores, Shoe Stores and other establishments employing extra help for the Yule season.

The Crusade for Voters will make the above recommendations at a community summit conference being called at its headquarters Friday night November 29, 1963.

Clarke said the Boycott would also serve as a protest against any type of segregation and specifically the recent bombing of Negroes in the state of Alabama which killed four little childern in one instant.

Other Women Of The Sugar Refinery Quarters Finance Fight For Freedom

When Mrs. Paulette Steele and her associates at the Sugar Refinery Quarters decided to join in this fight for freedom, financially, they got together and held a house party that netted them $71.00 which they happily donated to the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement. In the above photo we see Willie Bolden, Captain, receiving their donation.

- EDITORIAL -

Should Negroes Boycott Santa Claus?

Christmas is a time of joy. It is the time for giving. The Holy Bible tells us, it is better to give than to receive. What better time can anyone choose for ...ing this teaching than the birthday of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ?

The spirit of God is truly a living reality throughout the Yule Season. It enters the home of poverty causing pennyless parents and undernourished children to generate cheerfulness. It enters prison-death cells, stimulates men condemned to die to enjoy living. It makes death beds restful, sinful misers regret selfishness during the joyful season which expresses the coming of the Christ Child. Aged and decrepted are made youthful and useful by the spirit of Xmas, unwanted children are demanded and loved, houses of hell and relatives of deceit become homes and families. SHOULD THE NEGROES BOYCOTT SANTA THIS OR ANY OTHER XMAS?

Man must never forget "to give those thing to Caesar that belong to Caesar," but he must never give Caesar those things that belong to God. Only God must be granted things that belong to Him. We should live the philosophy of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man everyday of our lives. We should not allow any season to cause us to relinquish our manhood, willingl, meaning, rebel and fight whenevr God's children are being exploited. Due respect must always be demanded. A procedure or technique is compromisable, but not a principle.

Business is always at its peak during the Xmas season. The poor get poorer and the rich get riched. Is the Negro, the poor? Is he always the last to get a job and is he always the first one to get fired or laid off th ejob? Do whites make considerably more for their labor than the Negro? Does it take as much for the Negro to live as it does the white? What grocer sells to a man cheaper because he is non-white? Will a toy store charge the white more because his earnings are higher? The Negroe's income is far below that of the white's, therefore, his buying power is weaker. SHOULD THE NEGRO BOYCOTT SANTA CLAUS?

Every man, woman and child is entitled to the happiness of Xmas, especially that feeling of communication with Almighty God and the gifts of Santa Claus. Is the Negro financially able to receive the gifts of Santa Claus? Is there any immediate remedy to the Negroe's joblessness, last hired and first fired delema or SHOULD HE BOYCOTT SANTA CLAUS? Most Negroes have always participated in the Xmas-giving crave. Most of them utilize pawn shops, illegal private loans; small loan companies where one must mortgage his soul, life savings, legal robbery lay-a-way plans or banks. Yes, the majorit of the Negroes qualify for banks loans (most of them have to get co-signers) Is it a must for Negroes to be active in the gift and toy carnival or SHOULD THEY BOYCOTT SANTA CLAUS?

Is another outlet humanly possible that would abet the Negro in his desperate effort to spend money for Xmas? Yes, JOBS, XMAS JOBS. Some call them part-time, extra or seasonal help. This is one of the natural constructive gifts of the Yule Season. HUNDREDS OF CLERKS, SALES PERSONS, STOCKROOM CHECKERS, DISPLAY HELPERS, CREDIT CHECKERS, APPLICATION TAKERS, BANK TELLERS, TYPISTS, FILE CLERKS, BOOKKEEPERS, etc. are hired AND PAID WELL. The only job categories that are opened to Negroes are significantly MAIDS, PORTERS, JANITORS, WAITERS, BUS BOYS, COOKS, HOUSE CLEANERS AND CLOTHES IRONERS. These positions pay WELL, WELL below what it takes to live and they are not subsidibed by welfare or any other charitable agency. Negroes have always accepted these jobs without expressing their true feelings and tried to buy Santa Claus this Xmas?

Should the whites remember, God made all men equal? Should they need reminding that ALL citizens of the U. S. of America are entitled to an equal opportunity to pursue happiness? Do they believe God made ALL men of one blood,, there is only one heaven and the blacks are their brothers? Don't they know they are their brother's keepes and that they are liars if they think they can love God but don't love the Negro? The Bible said this! If they loved Negroes, would they give all those good Xmas jobs to the white or would they divide them between white and black sisters and brothers? "You are your brother's KEEPER" said the Holy Bible and it didn't mean KEEP him in semi-slavery by giving all the good, well-paying Xmas jobs to the white. It means in part, KEEP the Negro participating in the buying of Santa Clause by allowing him a fair opportunity to earn money to spend. IF THE WHITES FAIL TO HIRE NEGROES in these extra Xmas Jobs, CAN NEGROES BUY SANTA CLAUS???

The Crusaders' Buddy Of The Month

GREGORY ANTHONY BROWN

Gregory is a fortunate little boy. He lives within marble shooting distance of the Crusader's headquarters. His mother, Mrs. Hannah C. Brown, a sales clerk at Robbins Department Store, will never have to teach Gregory to sing freedom songs, carry picket signs, march for freedom or lead freedom movements.

Although Gregory is only three years, little Gregory has learned to love the Crusaders and their movement. By having open-minded parents and living next door to the Crusader's headquarters, "Hosea's Buddy" is sure to be one Negro man that will always fight to protect the many freedoms he enjoys because he will know how hard freedom for the black man was to get.

A Letter to the Editor of the Herald which They Refused To Print . . . . . .

BY BENJAMIN VAN CLARKE

Hosea L. Williams, President of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters, spoke to a large crowd at St. James A. M. E. Church last Sunday concerning the local civil rights battle. Williams began his talk by expressing thanks to Rev. Russell Lavender, who bailed him out of the Chatham County Jail after he had been there for 34 days. He said, "Rev. Lavender had to put up eleven pieces of property with sales values totaling over $75,000. to bond me out. I know it was unfair for those people to put me in jail or keep me there for protesting against an un-American way of life. Yes, I want my freedom and I want it now! I have made up my mind that we are doing God's will."

Williams went on to say, "This fight might cost me my job, my home, my two cars and my family's security, but I promise you I shall fight every minute of my life with every ounce of strength God has given me until we are all free."

Williams criticized the Negroes who were so willing to negotiate a settlement with the white folks but refused to concern themselves or give any help in getting the remaining demonstrators out of jail or helping raise the $250,000 bond money needed for the other 600 demonstration cases still to be tried.

"I read in the Savannah Banner where the NAACP and the Negro ministers vetoed Dr. Martin Luther King's coming to Savannah. I was told the white folks of Savannah didn't want Dr. King here, either. Well, I feel Dr. King should have been invited to come to Savannah and take part in this freedom fight, and the Negroes and right-thinking white folk should have laid out the RED CARPET for him; because we are not fighting a local battle. These white folks are not denying us our constitutional rights because we are Savannians but because we are Negroes, and Dr. King is just as much Negro as you and I," Williams said.

"I can tell you, if Dr. King had been invited to come to Savannah to participate in the fight for freedom, the Crusade for Voters would not be wondering where in the name of God we are going to find $250,000 bond money. Dr. King would pick up the telephone and we would have the money, just as he did in Birmingham. Now, those organizations that vetoed this Negro (Dr. King) from coming to Savannah to fight for his and all other Negroes' freedom should have enough character and conscience to help the Crusade for Voters get those remaining demonstrators out of jail and help raise the $250,000 needed for future bond money. Remember, the freedom the Crusade for Voters has won will be enjoyed by EVERY Negro," Williams declared.

He continued, "The white rulers of this city intend to make us suffer severely for the freedom we win. I am sure they would not be so hard and unjust if the Negro community were not divided. The white power structure realizes that the Crusade for Voters is a great threat to segregation. They intend to destroy not only Hosea Williams but the Crusade for Voters and many Negroes in our community are helping them by their selfish, jealous, and scared acts. I pity those poor Negroes who refuse to help because they feel that if we win a victory this will threaten their prestige, influence and power in the comunity. Well, I can tell them, no labor goes unrewarded.

"I intend to do everything I can to bring the Negro community back together. I don't feel the Crusade for Voters was responsible for the split but I am going to try to give the Crusade for Voters the credit for sewing up the split," Williams said. "I don't think any person or organization should get angry with another because they attack segregation. Instead, I feel they should join in. There is too much segregation for Negroes to waste time fighting over who is going to attack what. While one organization is breaking down segregated public accomodations, another group could break down discrimination in public and private housing, employment, recreation, education, organized labor, courts, or local and state government."

Williams said the Crusade for Voters' future activities will be mainly concerned with voter registration, adult education, employment opportunities, and fund raising. Williams made a public plea for unity among the Negroes in Chatham County and asked that property owners come to the aid of demonstrators still in jail.

Benjamin Van Clark

Crusader's FREEDOM

(Continued From Page 1)

Crusader's Freedom Now Movement, which I was branded as "Hosea the Leader" has moved Savannah, Georgia up to Georgia's number one integrated city. But, I don't think you are aware of the fine, young fearless leaders that truly led the Savannah Freedom-Now Movement. Savannah's youth leader, 20 year old Benjamin Van Clarke; Chief Captain Willie Bolden (and his strong captain force); Savannah's most outstanding 1963 High School athletes, Benjamin Westley and Albert Mack; Bruce Gordon (and his staff) of SNCC; Rev. Andrew J. Young and Rev. James Bevels of SCLC, were the true forces that led the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement in Georgia.

First Congregational Church To Sponsor Carnival Nov. 30th

The First Congregational Church, 421 Habersham Street, will sponsor a Carnival at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stiles, Skidaway Road, on Nov. 30, starting at 1 p.m.

KARP MOTORS

West Broad and Broughton
New and Used Cars

JAMES WILBURN Salesman

(Miss) Katherine Mainor
AD 3-8127
SALES GIRL
Miss Helen Robinson
AD 3-8127

Lavender's Home Builders

Builder of the Finest New Homes. Make old homes look like new. Lots available for you.
934 Wheaton St. AD 3-2246

Lavender's Bonding Company

We Post Bond For All Types of Crimes.
Immediate Service Day Or Night
Day Call AD 4-3310 Night Call: AD 2-1716

L-R Ben Stewart, Mrs. Larena and Mrs. Lonnie Groover

TOP MONEY-RAISER FOR CRUSADERS

In the above photo, Mrs. Larena Groover, top money raiser for the Crusade for Voters, turns over sack of money to Benjamin Stewart, president of the Youth Crusade for Voters and sponsors of the Crusaders' Freedom Now Movement.

Mrs. Groover and her friends navé made door to door canvassing funds for the Crusade for Voters their primary off-the-job duty .

Mrs. Groover was asked to explain why she and her friends had chosen the Crusade for Voters as their benefactor for such an effort. She said, "We learned that the Crusade for Voters had to pay all the expenses involved in integrating the hotels, motels, and theaters. We feel to sponsor demonstrations such as was sponsored by the Crusade for Voters last summer, a great deal of money is needed. Due to the fact all Negroes will benefit from the efforts of the Crusade for Voters, we don't feel that no one group should have to pay all the bills. Mr. Williams told us in a mass meeting that all the leading groups in our city went down and talked with the white folks but these groups were not willing to help pay any of the bills accumulated in carrying out the demonstrations that integrated many of the facilities."

Mrs. Groover was extended a standing ovation of thanks at last Sunday's mass meeting. Benjamin V. Clarke, who was presiding, commented "These women have been informed."

CUT-RATE DRUGS
HENRY AT MONTGOMERY ST.
PAY YOUR
GAS - TELEPHONE - ELECTRIC - WATER
BILLS HERE
PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED
CHECKS CASHED MONEY ORDERS SOLD
AD 6-8228

L-R BEN, HOSEA AND BOLDEN

Williams & White Sinclair Ser. Sta
722 WEST BROAD STREET
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA
PHONE AD 2-9504

HAGAN'S
SUPER MARKET
"A COMPLETE FOOD STORE"
0TH AT MONTGOMERY SAVANNAH, GA

HILL'S SUPPLY CO.
HEADQUARTERS FOR COLORED DOLLS
LAY AWAY PLAN
503½ W. BROAD ST. 236-5405

KOLMAN'S GROCERY
B. R. KOLMAN
1038 AUGUSTA AVENUE
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

MEL'S MARKET
1202 W. BROAD ST. SAVANNAH, GA.
WE SPECIALIZE IN FRESH POULTRY & EGGS
TELEPHONE 233-6707

ALL INTELLIGENT PEOPLE ARE REGISTERED TO VOTE

Compliments Of
ALEX'S SUPER DUPER
"The Store With No Limit"
West Broad and Hall Streets
Savannah, Georgia

Weinberger Driven Out

—Photo by Ernest Withers

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn.—If you don't believe justice can be turned upside down in Southern courts, consider the case of Eric Weinberger.

Weinberger is the young pacifist who came here two years ago and set up West Tennessee's tote bag project. He is pictured above (right) with Odell Sanders, Brownsville civil rights leader, and one of the women he taught to make tote bags.

This home industry has provided income for over 70 women whose families were deprived of livelihood after voter registration started here. Over 3000 tote bags have been sold.

Now Weinberger has left Brownsville. He had survived beatings, jailings and constant harassment. What finally drove him out was perfectly legal action in the courts.

It started in August when he was arrested, acid-burned and beaten again. (See September Patriot.) He survived that, but in the process police charged him with kicking a deputy sheriff.

People who know Weinberger know him as a complete pacifist who never strikes back, but he had no witnesses and the deputy did. Weinberger's lawyer told him the sentence would be several years, if he was convicted, and chances for reversal on appeal were slim. But he said the prosecutor indicated that charges would be dropped if Weinberger left town.

"I saw that I had to leave Brownsville one way or the other—either on my own volition or to jail for four years," Weinberger said.

He left so he could be free to arrange for the tote-bag project to continue without him. He is confident it will and urges people to order bags for Christmas by writing Haywood Handicrafters, 307 W. Margin, Brownsville, Tenn. (Suede, light or dark brown, $10.72; smooth leather, red, black, or navy, $13.75, both including tax.)

Meantime, undaunted, Weinberger is planning new home industries which will produce jewelry and sandals in other Southern communities where there is economic need.

VOTES KILLS SEGREGATION !

In Memoriam

Mrs. Minnie Holland Smith
ROSARY SERVICE
Friday, November 8, 1963
8:00 P.M.
612 West 44th Street

PROFILE OF THE MONTH

Mr. Jesse Doster Makes Financial Contribution To CCCV

Regional Director of District 4, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers

Mr. Jesse Doster makes financial contribution to CCCV. Regional Director of District 4, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Mr. Jesse G. Doster was born in Shelby County, Alabama, May 23, 1912 to Mr. & Mrs. Robert Doster who are now deceased. Mr. Doster graduated from Industrial High School (Now Parker High) and completed Correspondent Courses in Political Economics.

Ever since June, 1940, Mr. Doster has been with the Labor Movement, except for 46 months he spent in World War II. In 1952, he was appointed the Regional Director of the Southeastern States which was District 5 (now changed to district 4) covering South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi. His duties are to handle arbitration cases, grievances and the third step with negotiated agreements his organization has with various companies they represent.

Mr. Doster was married at one time but since 1939 he has been a most-eligible bachelor (not catch-able, so far). He is a man of exquisite taste in dress and in personality. He gives the appearance of wealth and security that we all desire to obtain. He is a 32 degree Mason of Eureka I and Ezra Consistory No. 27 and a member of the Shriner's Imperial Council Lodge No. 21. He is an Executive Board member of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters and of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mr. Doster is greatly responsible for the Crusade of Voters being in existence at this time. Two years ago the Crusade for Voters found itself without funds and was asked to move from its location at that time, immediately, because the building had been sold. Mr. Doster interceded and was able to find plenty of office space in the hall of local #870 of the Mine, Mill and Smelters Union. His work has never allowed him to be a very active member of the Crusaders, but he has made an even greater contribution by soliciting support from the rank and file of organized labor. He has also been a goodwill ambassador for the Crusade for Voters because he has told the success story of the organization throughout America.

When asked why he supported Hosea L. Williams, Doster replied, "I don't, I support the program of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters. My interest in the CCCV is based on the good work that it has done (and is still doing) for the community and its citizens. The CCCV is doing a remarkable job toward assisting the Negro citizens to register and vote. Since our organization is highly interested in registering all of its members and encouraging them to vote in every public election, we were happy to support the CCCV. We understand that Politics and Economics are so closely related that they are inseparable.

I accepted membership on the Chatham County Crusade for Voters' Executive Board sometime ago but I have not been as active as one should because of my out of town work schedule. I constantly encourage our local membership to support and assist the CCCV organization. We feel that the CCCV is "The Organization" of the community and the many good things it is contributing to the citizens are too numerable to be counted."

AMERICA NEEDS MORE JESSE DOSTERS!

Have Mercy Upon Them NEGRO SCHOOL TEACHERS by Benjamin Van Clarke

Each and everyday I am confronted with the remark "Clarke, Why don't you worry about yourself—many doors are being opened now and you want to be able to secure some of the finer things of life." Well I am real tired of my teachers and their advice. If we didn't subject ourselves to jail, tear gas and what have you, those doors would not be open. I have yet to see a history teacher out in the forefront in the struggle for equality and they know as well as I do—there can be no social gain without individual pain. Yes, I have ulcers and many others have other illnesses—what can a teacher say she has as a result of the freedom movement?

If I had to decide right now between growing up and being uneducated, but free or being educated but in semislavery as many of my educated friends, I would rather be free, uneducated and on welfare. God help those half-crazy Negroes realize if they lose their jobs this minute the first place they would run to is our office (The Crusade for Voters). I hope and pray that they will wake up before it is too late and see the light. If so many doors are being opened, why don't they try to get into some of them? Maybe they aren't prepared. Well, teachers, I want my freedom and I want it RIGHT NOW!

All Intelligent People Are Registered To Vote

"I SELL THE EARTH AND RENT THE TOWN"

TOOMER REALTY COMPANY, Inc.

REAL ESTATE—COLLECTIONS

810 Montgomery Street

TELEPHONE AD 6-7563 Savannah, Ga.

Listen Every Saturday To The Voice of The

CRUSADERS

WSOK – 9:30 A. M.

HOSEA (Their Leader) WILLIAMS

THE BEST GIFT YOU CAN GIVE ANY AMERICAN IS

IT'S BETTER TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE, SO BUY SOME ONE A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

MAKE YOUR NEXT GIFT A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

MAKE ALL YOUR XMAS GIFTS A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

☐ ENCLOSED $2.50 ☐ BILL ME FOR $2.50

ONE YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION TO

THE CRUSADER

THE CRUSADER, 416 W. PARK AVE., SAVANNAH, GA.

NOTE: MAKE ALL CHECKS PAYABLE TO THE CRUSADER

EAST SIDE THEATRE

THIS IS HOT!

"THE DEVIL MADE A WOMAN"

SUNDAY — MONDAY — TUESDAY — UN - CENSORED !

PLUS - IN COLOR

LOVE HAS NO COLOR LINES TO CROSS WHEN THE — — — "FLAME IS IN THE STREET"

TAYLOR FURNITURE CO.

"HOME OF TAYLOR MADE TERMS"

A COMPLETE LINE OF FINE FURNITURE AND APPLIANCES

VENTED GAS HEATERS & RANGES INSTALLED FREE ON NATURAL GAS

NO FINANCE CHARGES

416 WEST LIBERTY STREET SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

Letter to the Editor of the CRUSADER . . .

These are 13 Things Negroes Must Do For Themselves Before WE White Folk Will Ever Accept YOU As EQUALS!

Let's just say the subject of this article is: "If the Negro Would Try." The Negro race has never tried to do very much for itself. The race has great possibilities. Properly awakened, the Negro can do the so-called impossible. Following is a list of MUSTS that Negro leaders should guide their race into. This is the only way to get acceptance on the part of whites.

1. THE NEGRO MUST LEARN TO PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST

The first things are: Education, Development of Character Traits, A Trade and Home Ownership. The Negro puts too much of his earnings in clothes, food, in show and in having what he calls a good time. The late Dr. Kelly Miller said, "The Negro buys what he wants and begs for what he needs." Too True!

2. THE NEGRO MUST STOP EXPECTING GOD AND WHITE FOLK TO DO FOR HIM WHAT HE CAN DO FOR HIMSELF.

It is the 'Divine Plan' that the strong shall help the weak but even God does not do for man what man can do for himself. The Negro will have to do exactly what Jesus told the man in John 5:8 to do—Carry his own load—"Take up your bed and walk."

3. THE NEGRO MUST KEEP HIMSELF, HIS CHILDREN AND HIS HOME CLEAN AND MAKE THE SURROUNDINGS IN WHICH HE LIVES COMFORTABLE AND ATTRACTIVE.

4. Believe it or not—Some day, some race is going to outdo the Anglo-Saxon completely. It can be the Negro race, if the Negro gets sense enough. Civilization goes up and down that way.

5. THE NEGRO MUST LEARN TO DRESS MORE APPROPRIATELY FOR WORK AND FOR LEISURE.

6. THE NEGRO MUST MAKE HIS RELIGION AN EVERY-DAY PRACTICE AND NOT JUST A SUNDAY-GO-TO-MEETING EMOTIONAL AFFAIR.

7. THE NEGRO MUST HIGHLY RESOLVE TO WIPE OUT MASS IGNORANCE. The leaders of the race must teach and inspire the masses to become eager and determined to improve mentally, morally and spiritually. Ignorance-satisfied ignorance-is a millstone about the neck of the race. It is democracy's greatest burden.

8. THE NEGRO MUST STOP CHARGING HIS FAILURES UP TO HIS 'COLOR' AND TO WHITE PEOPLES' ATTITUDE.

The truth of the matter is that the Negro can make 'his color' a real asset and by excelling in his undertaking make this (the attitude of the white race) fade like mist before the rising sun. God intended a man's color to be a badge of distinction. He must make himself a workman who is too skilled not to be wanted and too dependable not to be on the job. He has gone 'rights' mad and 'duty' dumb.

9. THE NEGRO MUST OVERCOME HIS BAD HABITS. He must make a brand new reputation for himself in the world of labor. His bad habits are absenteeism (funerals to attend or a little business to look after). He also has a bad reputation for loud talking, quarreling, loafing, carelessness (due to lack of job pride), insolence, gum chewing and—too often— liquor drinking.

10. HE MUST IMPROVE HIS CONDUCT IN PUBLIC PLACES. Taken as a whole, he is entirely too loud and too illmannered.

11. THE NEGRO MUST LEARN HOW TO OPERATE BUSINESS FOR PEOPLE, NOT FOR NEGRO PEOPLE, ONLY.

12. THE AVERAGE SO-CALLED EDUCATED NEGRO WILL HAVE TO COME DOWN OUT OF THE AIR.

He is too inflated over nothing. He needs an experience similar to the one that Ezekiel had (Ezekiel 3:14-19) and he must do what Ezekiel did. Otherwise, through indifference as to the plight of the masses, the Negro who thinks that he has escaped will lose his own soul. It will do all leaders good to read Hebrew 13:3 and the first thirty-seven chapters of Ezekiel. A race transforms itself through its own leaders. True leaders are never "things apart from the people." Dante stated a fact when he said, "Show the people the light, they will find the way."

13. THE NEGRO MUST STOP CHOPPING ONE ANOTHER'S HEADS OFF.

All of my life I have noticed that Negroes act like a group of crabs. White folk know how to destroy those who are potential threats to segregation. Allow him to become a leader and the Negres will destroy him by spreading lies. Why is it, Negroes become so suspicious of their leaders? They accuse him of stealing money, becoming a dictator, driving their group and all sort of things whites have been doing all along and no one thinks a thing about it. Negroes don't even trust the whites that mean them good. They will even help one another to become a leader and then jump on the leader and ruin him.

A White Friend Of The Negro People

This and That

We will have to have your articles by Monday of each week in order for them to appear in our paper which comes off the press every two weeks. PLEASE address these articles to This and That Section, Crusader Newspaper, 416 West Park Avenue, Savannah, Ga., 31401 or call them at AD 3-8127 or AD 6-5727.

CLOTHING—SHOES—HATS
416 WEST PARK AVE.

"A Thrift Sale" Sponsored by the Mother's of the Crusader's will serve two functions:

1. FINANCE
2. Affords jobs for our young people in Salesmanship—Display Management.

WE PICK UP

We need YOUR donations of clothing, shoes, hats, etc. This is one way you, your club or church can help our YOUTH

WANTED
House Work, General
Mrs. Mary Johnson
AD. 3-8127

Crusaders Call For Unity

(Continued From Page 1)

mer had had the unified support of all elements of our county, the Negroes in Chatham County would be free today. The failure of this great drive for freedom has been blamed upon the division of the Negro community.

The recent Voter Registration Drive of the NAACP has been termed "all but a failure" due to the disunity among Negroes in this county. During the months of January, February and March of this year more than 3,000 Negroes were put on the Registration list in a drive sponsored by the Chatham County Crusade for Voters. The success of this drive was credited to the UNITY of the Negroes in Chatham County.

There is one fact undisputed. NO Negro is free, until all Negroes are free. Therefore, the Crusader's recognize now as they have in the past, UNITY is not "just a thing called Joe" but; the nearest, cheapest and quickest way to FREEDOM. The segregationist is hoping, praying and paying large sums of money to, not only develop, but maintain division among Negro leadership. The ONLY wise and profitable thing for Negroes in Chatham County to do is let bygones be bygones and UNITE ourselves and fight segregation as ONE. In this way Black men and women of Chatham County can gain FREEDOM NOW!

Any citizen interested in participating in this summit conference as an individual or representative of his church or organization, should immediately register by calling ADams 3-8127, ADams 6-5727 or ELgin 5-5925 OR stopping by 416 West Park Avenue (On the corner of West Broad Street and West Park Avenue—over Robbin's Store).

LEON'S FREEDOM VILLAGE

"WE SERVE THE BEST BEVERAGES BUT THEY ARE THE CHEAPEST ON THE COAST

YOU ARE INVITED NIGHTLY

Not Only The Coolest, But The Newest Happening In Town

USE LEON'S EASY CREDIT PLAN—100 PCT. DOWN—NO PAYMENTS

It's Better To Give Than To Receive, So Bring Leon Something

FOR RESERVATION OR INFORMATION CALL
AD 2-9105
OR DROP BY

The Freedom Village

FLORANCE AND MILLS B. LANE

Commode & Water Tank
As Low As $19.94
(WITH COUPON)

1/4" DRILL
As Low As $7.88

GAS HEATER
As Low As
$2.88
(WITH COUPON)

Electric Gear Drill
As Low As
7.88

Thrifty Folks Shop At
TRIFTY 5 & 10
CHARLTON & WEST BROAD
(With Coupon)

PERMANENT
ANTI-FREEZE
ONLY $1.19 GAL.

4 BOOKS IN ONE GIANT VOLUME

14 BOOK VOLUME DICTIONARY
$3.88
(WITH COUPON)

TENNIS SNEAKERS
As Low As 59c

SANFORIZED AND CIRCLE STITCHED BRAS
4 for $1.00
(WITH COUPON)

ARTHUR'S

WE DELIVER 2101 BAY ST.

BARGAINS GALORE
IN OUR GIGANTIC
FOOD SALE
KING-SIZED BUYS!

Feed the Hungry NOW

Winter is coming in the Delta of Mississippi, and with it the threat of freezing and starvation for thousands of Negroes who have no resources.

Again the worst victims will be those who try to register to vote. But all Negroes are a part of it. Basically these people are victims of machines that have taken over their jobs in the cotton fields.

They can't look to state and local officials for any program to help their situation, because Mississippi segregationists fear the voting power that Negroes will soon have and hope they will leave the state.

Last winter the situation was desperate before people outside of Mississippi became aware of it. Then there was a crash program to take care of the more needy people.

This year, the Mississippi Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) is asking friends throughout the nation to start sending food, clothing, and funds in massive doses at once.

Shipments and funds should be sent to offices of the COFO Emergency Welfare and Relief Committee, 400 Yazoo Ave., Clarksdale, Miss., and 708 Avenue N. Greenwood, Miss.

President Kennedy should also be asked to order extra funds for the Federal school-lunch program in the area, and to increase the amount of surplus commodities available for the unemployed and those on relief.

Your

Vote

Means

Power

The planter and the barmaid

ON THE DAY of the Washington March, Aug. 28, a demonstration of the unevenness of justice as it applies to Negro and white was given in a Hagerstown, Md., courtroom. It was in the case of William Zantzinger, 24, white tobacco planter and horseman.

The affair began at a charity ball in Baltimore last Feb. 9. Zantzinger made his entrance with his wife, according to testimony, by striking a bellboy with a cane. He sat down, struck a waitress with the cane and said: "'Hey, black girl, give me a drink." He then demanded a drink of barmaid Hattie Carroll, 51. She said, "Just a minute, sir." Zantzinger said: "When I order a drink, I want it now." He cursed. Mrs. Carroll said: "I'm hurrying as fast as I can."

"I don't have to take that kind of stuff from a nigger," Zantzinger raged, and struck Mrs. Carroll with the cane. Mrs. Carroll died eight hours later; she had a history of heart trouble.

The state originally had sought a murder conviction, but the charge was later reduced to manslaughter. The defense won a change of venue to Hagerstown, in the western Maryland country.

Last June Zantzinger was convicted by a three-judge panel. On Aug. 28 he was sentenced to six months in prison by Judge D. Kennedy McLaughlin and fined $625.

Start of sentence was postponed to Sept. 15 to allow Zantzinger to gather his tobacco crop.

WOO BROS.

MARKET

Fine Meats

"No Peace Between Oppressor and Oppressed"

Below is an excerpt from a resolution on "peaceful co-existence" made by the Puerto Rican liberation organization, Accion Patriotica Unitaria (APU):

"There can be no peaceful co-existence between oppressor nation and oppressed nation, such as is the case of Puerto Rico and the United States—just as there can be no peaceful co-existence between oppressor classes and oppressed classes, as in the case of the oppressed classes of Puerto Rico and the monopolistic Yankee bourgeoisie. . . .

"We are against war, but not for sentimental reasons. There is never "peace" in any colony, because colonialism itself is war....

"The so-called peace between exploiter and exploited is a massive assassination committed by the oppressor against the oppressed. The evil fruits of the exploitation of the working class . . . the terrible living conditions . . . are a daily massacre. That is why our resolution of May 5 calls for:

"Peace with National Liberation, yes. Peace without it, no!"

Ray's Super
Val-U Market

GROCERIES MEATS
FRESH VEGETABLES

FREE DELIVERY

PHONE 3-7910

2515 WEST BROAD ST.

DIAL ADAMS 2-9261

BEATON'S PHILLIP 66 SERVICE STATION

TIRES - TUBES - BATTERIES - LUBRICATIONS
MOTOR TUNEUP AND REPAIRS
MINUTE CAR WASHING AND ROAD SERVICE

TOMMIE BEATON, JR.

2215 WEST BROAD STREET
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

VOTE

THE HONEY BEE CAFE
Open 24 Hours a Day
Specializing In Home-Cooked Meals
1216 W. BROAD STREET
W. F. Robinson, Manager

A Moral Issue

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — As many in this city tried to forget the church bombing and official white leadership was moving "back to normal," a few courageous voices spoke. Two prominent civic leaders, James A. Head and Charles F. Zukoski, Jr., said in a letter to the newspaper: "Unless Birmingham begins to face up to the great moral issue involved, and to recognize the rightness as well as the inevitability of the change, it will indeed be dead."

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS??????
IF NOT, JOIN TODAY! FILL OUT THIS APPLICATION (BELOW) AND MAIL OR BRING IT TO THE OFFICE, 416 WEST PARK AVENUE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA 31401.

CRUSADE FOR VOTERS · CHATHAM COUNTY

Crusade For Voters
VOTER EDUCATION
416 West Park Avenue
Phone AD 3-8127
SAVANNAH, GA.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT

Name MR. JOHN DOE

Amount $ 100.00

Is a Member in Good Standing of

C. C. C. V.

Hosea L. Williams, President 1963

Name MR. JOHN DOE

Address FREEDOM STREET

Phone Number

Registered to Vote

Membership $

Amount Paid $

Balance Pledged $

Amount Due Each Mo. $

Signature of Worker

PLEASE FILL OUT THIS FORM, DROP IT BY OUR OFFICE OR MAIL IT TO 416 WEST PARK AVENUE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA OR CALL ADAMS 3-8127.

CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS

NAME _____ PHONE _____

ADDRESS _____

I VOLUNTEER TO WORK IN THE FOLLOWING POSITION(S) WITH THE CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS IN ITS VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE: (CHECK)

DISTRICT ORGANIZER _____ ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE _____

BLOCK WORKER _____ TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE _____

FINANCE COMMITTEE _____ CHURCH WORK COMMITTEE _____

PARTTIME OFFICE HELPER _____ P.T.A. COMMITTEE _____

TELEPHONE COMMITTEE _____

"NOT UNTIL YOU REGISTER AND VOTE!"

COMPLIMENTS OF

Tykie and Gregory

Carellas Bros.

Super Market

East Broad & Gwinnett Sts.

BARGAINS ON ALL GOOD FOOD

THE TENSE GENERATION

by Benjamin Van Clarke

Black Youth make up the tense generation. They are the true Revolutionists in our society because no longer are they contented with the outmoded doctrine of Segregation and Discrimination. They, unlike their mothers and fathers are faced with the future. Since last summer's crisis in Savannah, the Negro's freedom movement has grown in scope and combativeness in a manner that must have astonished even its most sanquine militants. And yet, paradoxically the progress that has been achieved toward the movement's goal of freedom and equality for American Negroes has been small, and in some respects, recent months have actually been a period of setbacks. How can we account for this? Does the difficulty lie in the strategy of the movement? Or, more importantly, the leadership?

I would accept the last question as the basis for the paradoxical situation we find ourselves confronted with. Even in our own community, if something should happen that would cause Hosea Williams to remove his presence from the leadership of Savannah's Freedom NOW movement the struggle for equality would have to be carried on by youth such as: Benjamin Stewart, Alfonsa Rivers, Erwin Thomas, Josh Crofton, Joseph Hankerson and many others.

By no means, should I impose upon your minds that Hosea Williams is the only adult leader, but I am saying that he wants what is his NOW and not like some of his counterparts who might be leaders of Savannah Freedom TOMORROW Movement.

This is a tense generation because America has an overdue bill to society and Negro youth are willing to be the collection agency and collect with interest so that the future generation can begin anew without worrying about bills their parents left behind. It might appear that even the youth have stopped in their quest for freedom. Yes, we have stopped but not for rest, but to gather strength to go on toward the new day. The rebirth of true Americanism—the goal of the tense generation.

A Small Sample Of Ruling Class Justice

For those who might still have some illusions that the courts dispense justice—Now hear this:

In New York, a young man named Victor Richman, lost his motor scooter last summer. He reported its loss to the police and the police found it in the possession of an unemployed young man whom they charged with the theft.

Mr. Richman, in getting his motor scooter back, wanted to drop the charges against the alleged thief, but the police and the court WOULD NOT LET HIM!

Judge T. Vincent Quinn, sitting in Part 1A of Manhattan's Criminal Court gave Mr. Richman ten days in prison for refusing to press charges. (Mr Richman's crime was, of course "contempt of court."

Danville Story

An important new pamphlet on the civil rights movement in Danville, Va., has been issued by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. It was written from the scene by Dorothy Miller and is illustrated with remarkable photos by Danny Lyons. The Patriot urges its readers to distribute this pamphlet and let the world know about repression in Danville. Order from SNCC, 8½ Raymond St., Atlanta 14, Ga. Copies are free, although contributions to cover costs are appreciated.

No One Free

"White people in Mississippi aren't free either. We are prisoners of fear created by the Citizens Council and the Sovereignty Commission. Our teachers are afraid to speak our Christian ministers and laymen fear to talk to each other. The 'Freedom Vote' program means freedom for us all."

—From a campaign statement by the Rev. Ed King

REGISTER AND VOTE!

NATIONAL TAILORS

Since 1915

MEN AND BOYS' WEAR

"LAY AWAY PLANS"

- Suits
- Shirts
- Shoes
- Hats
- Trousers

401-403 WEST BROAD STREET
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

DIAL ADams 2-7459

All intelligent people should register to Vote – and when it comes to going shopping all intelligent people should check prices & quality and then shop at FOOD FAIR - Oglethorpe & Price.

FOR BETTER HOMES

SAVANNAH'S OLDEST AND MOST EXPERIENCED BUILDERS

HOME LOAN COMPANY

BUILDERS OF

FEILER HOMES

120 HABERSHAM STREET

TELEPHONE 236-0678

BEN SHEFTALL

The South's Largest DOLL DEALERS

ONLY

50¢ down

346 W. Broad St. AD 2-0760

BEN SHEFTALL BEAUTY SUPPLY CO.

WSOK DOLL HEADQUARTERS

Federal & State Income Tax Returns

Social Security & Withholding Tax Forms

MIMEOGRAPHING
Forms—Programs—Letters

Do You Have TAX PROBLEMS?
Bring Them To Me!

MRS. HOSEA L. WILLIAMS
458 1-2 West Broad Street
GUARANTY BUILDING—PHONE ADams 3-8127

NOTARY PUBLIC—PUBLIC STENOGRAPHING— PAYROLLS

"Your Problems Are Our Business— Our Only Business"

TAYLOR FURNITURE CO.

"HOME OF TAYLOR MADE TERMS"

A COMPLETE LINE OF FINE FURNITURE
AND APPLIANCES

VENTED GAS HEATERS & RANGES
INSTALLED FREE ON NATURAL GAS

NO FINANCE CHARGES

416 WEST LIBERTY STREET SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

Catherine's

Tailor Shop

416 W. BROUGHTON

233-5224

Guaranty Life Insurance Co.

460 West Broad Street
Phones AD 3-5761 or AD 3-4565
Savannah, Ga.

Issuing All Purpose Coverage On Your Life,

Hospitalization or Retirement

YORKRITE MASONS FINANCE FREEDOM FIGHTERS

Jackson Temple Lodge #613, York Rite Masons, Henry Goshea, Worshipful Master and Mr. J. B. Lockwood made a $15.00 contribution to the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement. Mr. Alphonso Rivers, Financial Secretary of the Movement said, "This is the type of action and support we seek from all organizations. When the other organizations become as enlightened as Lodge #613 of the Yorkrite Masons, the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement will not only be able to integrate Hotels, Motels and Theaters but acquire the equal pay in the many jobs the black men and women in Savannah are entitled to."

Upon presenting the contribution to Mr. Rivers, Mr. J. B. Lockwood, secretary of the Lodge said, "We were very much concerned in your struggle for freedom. Therefore, we decided to make a small contribution toward your efforts. We realize that in your fgiht you need physical, moral, spiritual and financial support. Your fight for freedom by demonstrations and your paper the "Crusader" are the best things that have ever hit the streets of Savannah. We wish you success in your fight for Freedom."

Virginia Smith At First Congregational Christian Church

The First Congregational Christian Church, Habersham at Taylor Streets, will present Mrs. Victoria A. Smith, contralto, in recital, on December 15, 1963 at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Smith has been warmly praised for her musical interpretations. An accomplished choir director, she has played a major part in many of Atlanta's choral groups.

She has received top ratings as a soloist repeatedly since her first appearance with the Chariot Wheel Singers, the Graham Jackson Musical Ensemble, and the Liberty Baptist Church Choir.

Featured in this presentation will be the works of Bach, Mendelsohn, Gounod, Mysels and some Spirituals.

South Carolina Farmer Indicted In Slavery Case

Columbia, S. C.

The owner of a large farm was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury Wednesday in what one official termed "the first case of slavery in the South in at least 40 years."

The farmer, Robert Moultrie Cook, 48, was accused of violating laws prohibiting involuntary servitude and peonage by forcing a Negro laborer to work against his will.

Cook's farm is located near Johnsonville in the extreme southeastern tip of Florence County. The investigation was coordinated by Klyde Robinson, an assistant U. S. district attorney in Charleston. He said as nearly as he knew, it was the first such case in the South in 40 years.

The only other similar case in memory, he said, was in Connecticut last year. He said the defendant there was convicted. The grand jury was told that Cook held Max Roy McKenzie in involuntary servitude and peonage to work off alleged debts owed Cook. Officers said that when McKenzie tried to leave the farm, Cook arranged his arrest in Lake City May 7 on charges of writing a bad check.

U. S. District Attorney Terrell L. Glenn said Cook beat McKenzie on the head with a pistol and used other force to make him work in the fields. Three days after his arrest, explained Robinson, Cook paid the Negro's bail and continued to threaten him and force him to work, Robinson said Cook swore he would send McKenzie back to jail if Cook's orders were disobeyed.

The investigation began when the Negro went to the Florence office of the FBI. The U. S. attorney's office and the FBI had to get authorization from the Department of Justice to press the charges before the grand jury, Robinson said.

McKenzie reportedly was paid $3 per day for an average of five days a week. Robinson said half of the pay went to Cook to pay off some sort of alleged debt.

A New Politics in Mississippi

CAMPAIGNING in Mississippi are the Rev. Ed King (left) and Aaron Henry. King is still bandaged for an automobile accident in Jackson last June. A car driven by the son of a public official pushed another car into the one in which King was riding.

JACKSON, Miss.—History was made in Mississippi this fall when a Negro and a white man joined forces to run for governor and lieutenant governor of this state.

They didn't expect to win, but they gave the state a preview of what politics might be like when Negroes here can vote, and it was like a breath of fresh air.

The candidate for governor was Aaron Henry, long-time civil-rights leader and state NAACP president. Running for lieutenant governor was the Rev. Ed King, Methodist minister and chaplain at Tougaloo College. Both are native Mississippians.

GREEK ORTHODOX STATEMENT ON RACIAL EQUALITY

The Greek Orthodox Church is against racial segregation, and believes in the full equality of all races and peoples. Our Church believes, moreover, that all Americans, regardless of faith or color, should be granted equal opportunities for public education and for employment in all fields of endeavor, consistent with the best of their abilities and qualifications; and that all should enjoy equal advantages and be the beneficiaries of equal public accomodations and facilities.

In this spirit we call upon our fellow citizens of all faiths, and upon all those who cherish truth and justice, to oppose every expression and demonstration of bigotry. We also urge all our fellow citizens to desist, in word and action, from whatever might seem to further the circulation of false reports, rumors, or representations that distort our mutual relations and the progress of our common welfare.

But the Christians of America should feel that they have a special mandate to work for equal rights for all. We are challenged to prove that the Legions of Christ can, in His Name uphold these rights wherever and whenever they are endangered. Christian love is not a semantic symbol. It is a commandment to which we must conform our actions as Christians and strive in every way to make a reality, consistent with the will of God which was expressed by His Son Jesus Christ when He said, "Love ye one another."

The whole question of integration and equal rights for all races and humane understanding among them, has an ethical basis linked not only with our national security but also with our relationships with half the nations of the earth. Justice, peace and equality are not meant to be merely noble words; they are meant to be the basic and workable concepts of humanity, which will teach us to help and respect each other.

The present integration conflict is wasteful and unproductive. The American Negro has great talents which he should be given every opportunity to develop for the further cultural enrichment of America, to which he has already contributed so much. Wherever the Negro has been given real opportunities, or has had the initiative to seize them himself, he has excelled. We see this perhaps most dramatically in the fields of music, the performing arts, and athletics; but in a less spectacular way it is true of all fields of endeavor, none of which should be closed to or made difficult for the Negro.

We must point out, however, that in the heat of the integration problem, in the great gains that have been made over the years toward equal opportunities for Negroes may tend to be overlooked or minimized. We, therefore, urge patience and forbearance upon all concerned. Violence breeds bitterness. And bitterness only serves to retard the ultimate achievement of human equality which our democratic processes dictate. These processes must survive the anguish of the times and remain the basis of the American will and government.

Intelligent People Vote

Hours:
8 to 12 Weekdays
8 to 2 A.M. Fri. & Sat.

Phone
AD. 4-4823

Piggie's Bar-B-Q
FRIED CHICKEN - DEVILED CRAB - PIT BAR-B-Q
BEVERAGES OF ALL KINDS

HARRY WILLIAMS
Proprietor

1605 AUGUSTA AVE.
SAVANNAH, GA.

Phone 232-7875

Al's Cleaners
DELUXE SERVICE
LINT FREE - CLING FREE
SUPER DRY CLEANING AND ALTERATIONS
1 HOUR CLEANING - MONDAY THRU SATURDAY

2607 WEST BROAD ST.
SAVANNAH, GA.

B. L. REYNOLDS
ESSO SERVICE STATION
1315 Augusta Avenue
Savannah, Georgia
Phone AD 4-9361

TOYS & BICYCLES
AT LOW
AUTOS & TRICYCLES
DISCOUNT
PRICES
Southern Auto Store
W. BROAD & STATE ST.
LAY AWAY

UNCLE SAMMY'S BOYS
YACHUM YACHUM
FREE PARKING IN REAR OF STORE

LADIES TASSEL LOAFERS
BLACK — BROWN
SIZE — 4 - 10
3.98

Williams' Gas and Oil Co.
1220 Montgomery St.
Phone 232-9546
STANDARD OIL DEALER
It's a Pleasure to Serve You
Help Poor Sam Stay on Henry and Montgomery Streets

S. and G. MEN'S SHOP
402 WEST BROAD STREET
BIG PRE - HOLIDAY SALE
THE SMARTEST CLOTHES IN TOWN
A SALE THAT WARM WEATHER FORCED US TO HAVE. NOW, WHEN YOU CAN USE IT BEST.

SPECIAL
12.95 Sweaters
Now 7.97

SPECIAL
5.00 Sport Shirts
Now 2.97

SPECIAL
12.95 Shoes
Now 9.97

Prices Good Both Stores Thur.-Fri.-Sat.-Monday

SHOP FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9 P.M.

2 STORES

FOODTOWN SUPER MARKET

1500 W. Bay — W. Broad & Liberty

2 STORES

Ballard's Obelisk Flour 5 lb. Box 39c

SNOWDRIFT 3 lb. Tin 49c

Blue Plate MAYONNAISE FULL QUART 29c

Fresh Lean Western SPARE RIBS lb. 23c

SWIFT'S HICKORY CURED SMOKED BACON lb. 29c

Visking Wrapped Small Smoked Picnics lb. 25c

Heavy Western Beef Tender Grade A Round Steak lb. 49c

Roger Woods Franks or Smoked Sausage 3 lbs. 99¢

Tender Minute Cubed STEAKS lb. 59¢

Tender Delicious Boneless STEW lb. 49¢

Red Hot Smoked Sausage 2 lbs. 49¢

MODESS V-Form Sanitary Napkins Box of 12 19c

American Beauty CATSUP Bottle 10c

Carnation Instant Dry MILK 5 Qt. Size 29c

Johnson's Air Freshener GLADE Reg. 59¢ 39c

NESCAFE Instant Coffee Large 6 Oz. Jar 59c

Island Sun Sliced Pineapple Flat Can 10c

American Beauty CORN Tall Can 10c

Extra Fancy Fruit Cake Material lb. 29c

A-1 Soft Toilet Tissue 4 Rolls 19c

Reg. $1.00 Size Woodbury LOTION 29c

GENUINE ALASKA PINK SALMON Tall Can 39¢

Red Ripe Tomatoes 8 303 Cans 1.00

Extra Fancy YAMS lb. 5c

Bright Red Eating Apples 4 lb. Bag 29c

Port Clyde Flat Oil Sardines 3cans 25c

CLAXTON Fruit Cake Dark & Light All Sizes

November 21-22-23-26

QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED

CRUSADE FOR VOTERS • CHATHAM COUNTY •

THE CRUSADER

VOL. 1, NO. 5 SAVANNAH, GEORGIA THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1963 10 CENTS

"WE'LL NEVER TURN BACK"

HE WILL BE SEATED SECOND TO NONE

In Memoriam

THE LATE JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
THE MOSES OF THE FREE WORLD

President Kennedy did more than his part to bring God's Kingdom upon this earth. He did as much good for the world as any statesman since the death of God's Begotten Son, Jesus Christ. His life was more productive in 46 years than

CONTINUED ON PAGE 4

Benjamin Van Clarke Hospitalized

Benjamin Van Clarke, Executive Director of the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement Youth Activities, has been hospitalized at Charity Hospital for what doctors term bleeding peptic ulcers.

Clarke, who was arrested

CONTINUED ON PAGE 2

HIS FATHER MUST NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN

"Goodbye Daddy!"

This little boy is not only lonely but fatherless. Yes, his father was a "MAN" not just a member of the male sex, not just an educated Millionaire, but a MAN. He was a Man by the standards of the Holy Bible and the United States Constitution. This can be said only for a vast minority of Homosapiens, regardless of the age they experienced.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 4

THE LAST OF THE CONVICTS?
NO! THERE ARE MORE THAN 100 TO GO

CONVICTED CRUSADERS BEING CARRIED TO JAIL

SEE STORY ON PAGE 4

THEY NEED JOBS TOO

BOYCOTT YES,

BOYCOTT YES,

IF THEY HIRE – WE BUY
THEY WON'T HIRE – SO WE WON'T BUY
A SELECTIVE BUYING CAMPAIGN FOR XMAS

CONTINUED ON PAGE 4

EDITORIAL -

THE SERMON OF A TRUE CRUSADER

TEXT: Into Whatsoever City or Town You Shall Enter, Inquire In It Who Is Worthy? Matthew 10:11

SUBJECT: THE INFLUENCE OF CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

The Christian church in every generation has had a distinctive challenge to influence, in a constructive way, the social climate in which it finds itself.

Without such impact and influence, the church fails to fulfill a very essential part of its prophetic mission. It is likewise true, that as a result of such failures, communities lack those qualities necessary to promote the common good.

Current efforts to enlist church people in the registration and voting campaign is a good example, because through the ballot constructive influence can be brought to bear on sin and men in a way that true good will result.

For church people to use this democratic means of effecting desirable community change is consistent with the best in our religious tradition. This is a tradition which calls for the Christian community to be the "salt of the earth" and the "light of the world."

There is support for this view of Christian responsibility in the words of Jesus to his disciples at the very beginning of their mission.

Observe carefully his advice and admonition to these men whose charge is no less than to be witnesses whose influence would be felt "unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

Theirs, according to Jesus is to be a mission of concern for the suffering. They are to reclaim those who have lost zeal for that which is good.

These disciples are forthrightly told that they must find more creative ways of meeting opposition than simply "hating" it. Dramatically Jesus urges them to lose themselves in a cause "bigger than self" and thereby find themselves in the creation of a new order.

Among these admonitions from the master are the words of the text—Unto Whatsoever City or Town You Shall Enter, Inquire In It Who Is Worthy. The disciples are hereby challenged to involve themselves in creative social action.

This is our commitment as Christians and voters in the cities where we reside. We must raise the significant question, Who is deserving of our public trust? Why is this question of such significant importance? What does it mean for the future of America's 20,000,000 citizens of Negro descent? Indeed, how does this inquiry influence the whole of American Democracy—"Who is worthy?"

1. THOSE WHO GOVERN MUST BE MADE TO REALIZE

I. THOSE WHO GOVERN MUST BE MADE TO REALIZE THAT THE ELECTORATE IS JUDGING THE QUALITY OF THEIR PERFORMANCE

One of the tragedies of our times has been the existence, too often, of scared, unfair and corrupt individuals in high places of government.

Men entrusted with the public interest have made important decisions for personal gain or for racial partisan advantages. Minority groups, many times, find no support from such officials in their attempts to obtain justice under the law. Negroes have been denied the right to register and to vote, brutally treated and herded into ghettos like hogs or cows, jailed because they wanted to eat or sleep at decent PUBLIC places, shot down because they tried to teach their people to realize their own dignity Negroes have been illegally jailed for long periods of time, tried by unfair white judges, prosecuted by sinful minded white politicians (prosecutors), found guilty for crimes they didn't commit by sick-minded white jurors, just because they wanted to enjoy the same privileges in their own country that are granted to white socialists, white communists or Nazis recently coming into this counrty.

A greater tragedy resides in the fact that such violations of the public trust often go unchallenged. In these instances men of good will have failed in their responsibility to ask "who is worthy" and to act accordingly through the power and influence of the ballot. We Christians are as guilty as the white politician who commits these acts against God's children, our sisters and brothers. We are guilty because we don't seem to care as long as we are living well. If we truly cared we would do something about the way our black brothers and sisters are being exploited and destroyed. Not only would we register and vote, not only would we TALK about, but WORK hard enough to see to it that every friend, every neighbor, every member of our PTA's are registered and VOTE in every election.

Jesus says to these disciples, your efforts at goodwill can be made ineffective by those corrupt forces in the community which influence the lives and destinies of men. Discover first the foremost, are these leaders suited for the high task they assume?

When American Negroes go to the polls in righteous indignation against those who violate their sacred dignity as men they are heeding the Christian injunction to discover — "Who is Worthy."

II. CITIZENS OF MINORITY STATUS MUST BECOME INCREASINGLY AWARE OF THEIR OWN FITNESS FOR LARGER RESPONSIBILITY IN GOVERNMENT

One of the bright signs on the horizon in American Life is the increasing number of Negroes who are being appointed and elected to public office.

Many of these capable Negroes are being elected to City Councils, Boards of Education and to the Legislatures of several states.

In almost every instance, these appointments and elections occur where Negro citizens have enlarged the number of their voters.

Perhaps this is in the mind of Jesus as he suggests to his disciples to find out "who is worthy?"

Indeed this could be his way of saying that men must be evaluated for positions of responsibility on basic and not superficial grounds. They should not become rulers of men by the machines of power politics or the ability to buy votes. Neither should they be denied such opportunity because of the color of their skin or the texture of their hair. Public servants should be judged ultimately on the basis of their character, skill, courage, devotion and ability to do a job.

Only a large committed voting populace can counteract those diabolical influences which tend to hold capable men back even when they deserve to be given a larger stewardship and a higher trust.

Our votes can give more Negroes an opportunity to ascend to places of prominence in public life, if and when they are "worthy."

CONTINUED ON PAGE 8

A Time and Me

by Ervin Thomas

A Time I was buked —
A Time I was scorned —
The time to pre-empt me;
That time is all gone.
Yesterday, I yielded in your fields
And I challenged at night —
My dignity gone, but my God
Still in sight.
I learned in the shadows
And remembered well —
And no one had to tell me
I lived in a hell.
Today is the time I stand firm
Against your hypocrises —
I contribute, you constitute, yet;
My freedom come from none of these Non-violently, I repudiate, protesting Massively —
Universally, I cry
I want to be free.
A time, day and night
I trampled your streets
Beat, gased, jailed, yet
Never in defeat.
A time when God fearing world leaders
Shout freedom for all —
I watch you assassinate them
But they never fall
For the time, and their prophesies
Will soo come to pass—because
I'll fight very hard as long as I last.
Ask you, who am I? Who am I?
Oh World don't you know?
I am black, but a MAN
Not just a Negro.

Benjamin Van Clarke Hospitalized

FROM PAGE 1

seven times during last summer's non-violent protest direct action demonstrations, spent several weeks in the Chatham County jail. While being confined in the Chatham County jail, Clarke first started spitting up blood. Stomach bleeding caused Clarke severe anguish during many long hot days in the Chatham County jail.

While being confined to the Charity Hospital, Clarke will undergo extensive tests to determine whether or not an immediate stomach operation is necessary. The Crusade for Voters is asking the prayers of everyone that young Benjamin Van Clarke will regain his health very soon and return to High School in time so that he may graduate this coming June. Clarke is president of the Senior Class at Beach High School.

THE REV. C. T. VIVIAN SPEAKS HERE SUNDAY

Dr King's Affiliates Director

Rev. C. T. Vivian, Director of Affiliates for Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference will be the guest speaker at the Crusader's Freedom-Now Mass Meeting Sunday, December 8, 3:30 p.m. at BUTLER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, West Victory Dr. and Burroughs Sts. Rev. Vivian is nationally known as one of the greatest civil rights orators in America. He is considered by Dr. Martin Luther King as one of the most efficient and effective members of his executive staff. Rev. Vivian is well educated and has a very rich background of experiences.

He is a graduate of Western Illinois State Teachers' College, American Baptist Theological Seminary and did his graduate work for the Master's Degree in Religious Education at Searvitt College.

Rev. Vivian's Civil Rights experience is second to none. He served as vice president of the Peoria, Illinois NAACP. He led the Nashville City-Wide March to the Mayor's office that ended sit-ins and brought an end to white hoodlum violence.

Rev. Vivian was on the FIRST freedom ride bus to drive into Jackson, Mississippi. He was among the FIRST group of Clergymen in NORTH AMERICA to go to jail for challenging segregation. His knowledge of, and ability to, communicate Christian Non-Violence has made him one of America's most fiery and informative freedom rally and mass meeting speakers, pulpiteer of freedom and college lecturer.

As a clergyman, Rev. Vivian directed boy's work and lay activities for the Sunday School Publishing Board of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc. He has written and edited Sunday School Quarterlies. He edited and originated the Baptist Laymen, Official Magazine for the National Baptist Laymen's Convention. Rev. Vivian built and pastored the First Community Church, Nashville, Tennessee. He pastored the Cosmopolitan Church of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

He is an active member of the Executive Committee of the National Council of Community churches, the Executive Committee of the Southern Conference Education Fund and the Advisory Committee of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

TO ALL
REGISTERED VOTERS

THANK

YOU FOR THE FIRST STEP

INCOME TAX SERVICE

Social Security & Withholding Tax Forms

MIMEOGRAPHING
Forms—Programs—Letters

Do You Have TAX PROBLEMS?
Bring Them To Me!

MRS. HOSEA L. WILLIAMS
458 1-2 West Broad Street
GUARANTY BUILDING—PHONE ADams 3-8127

Federal & State Income Tax Returns

NOTARY PUBLIC—PUBLIC STENOGRAPHING

"Your Problems Are Our Business— Our Only Business"

IRWIN ROSS REPORTS NEGROES MOVING UP THE JOB LADDER

In the December issue of Reader's Digest, Irwin Ross reports that the "white only" rule has been discarded in surprising places. Negro engineers, mathematicians and draftsmen are working in Atlanta, Greensboro, New Orleans, Tulsa and other southern cities, alongside white colleagues in complete compatibility. Negroes not only work on a level of equality, but in many cases in a supervisory capacity at Lockheed Aircraft in Marietta, Georgia, Negroes direct mixed crews on the production line. At the same plant it is not surprising to find a Negro girl instructing a white boy in a skilled operation.

Although headlines are shouting of racial tension everywhere, particularly in the south, Negroes in preferred jobs have been on a steady climb throughout the country. Negroes apparently experience no difficulty in supervising white men. "I have no special problem," one of them told a reporter. "Just the general problems of handling people." One white employer said "if a white worker disapproves, all he can do is quit." Very few do however because there is no surplus of factory jobs in the south.

CENTRAL FOOD STORE

1164 WEST BROAD STREET

AD 6-7769

FRESH WESTERN MEATS

FRESH PRODUCE

THE BEST GIFT YOU CAN GIVE ANY AMERICAN IS

THE CRUSADER

IT'S BETTER TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE, SO BUY SOME ONE A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

MAKE YOUR NEXT GIFT A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

MAKE ALL YOUR XMAS GIFTS A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CRUSADER

☐ ENCLOSED $5.00 ☐ BILL ME FOR $5.00

THE CRUSADER

THE CRUSADER, 416 W. PARK AVE., SAVANNAH, GA.
NOTE: MAKE ALL CHECKS PAYABLE TO THE CRUSADER

THRIFTY FOLKS SHOP AT THRIETY 5 & 10

CHARLTON & WEST BROAD

BIRDSEYE
Top Quality
DIAPERS
1.39 Doz.

BAR STOOL
2.69

UNION #5
ROLLER SKATES
2.99

AS LOW AS
88c

WAGONS

AS LOW AS 1.99

PERMANENT
ANTI-FREEZE
1.19 GAL.

TRICYCLES

AS LOW AS 4.98

RURAL MAIL BOX
AS LOW AS 1.79

IRONING BOARDS METAL
2.94

FELDMAN'S MEN WEAR

ALICE AND WEST BROAD ST.

OUR PRICES CAN'T BE BEAT,
BUT OUR CLOTHES ARE SMARTEST TO LOOK & BE WELL DRESSED
TRY OUR

CONOLLY OR ITALIAN SHOES

MINITMAN MARKET

MONTGOMERY AT 32nd ST.

MONTGOMERY AT 32ND ST.

GRADE A MEATS — GROCERIES

COSMETICS — NOVELTIES — TOYS

WE NEVER CLOSE

B FOR THE HOLIDAY B

TRANSISTOR RADIO with CASE & EAR PHONES	$3.98
BRAND NEW 5 TUBE RADIO	$7.99
Men's & Lady's Watches as low as	$6.98
MEN'S SUITS LATEST STYLES	$9.88
Golden Vinyl Latex PAINT all colors	$1.95 Gal.
RELIANCE HOUSE PAINT	$1.19 Gal

HUNTING & FISHING LICENSES FOR SALE AT

B & B LOAN COMPANY

414 West Broad Street Corner Berrien

THEY NEED JOBS TOO

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

51 STORES SAY – YES 47 STORES FLATLY SAID – NO

XMAS BOYCOTT

Mr. Jimmie Wells, director of the Crusader's Freedom Now Movemet Xmas Boycott, said "a complete 'Xmas Jobs for Negroes' survey had been made. In fact, 9 Negroes have already been hired in sales positions for the Xmas shopping season."

Mr. Well's first job was to find out from the owner or manager of every store whether or not they would include Negroes in their hiring of sales persons for the Xmas rush. Then Mr. Wells had the job of sending down qualified applicants to all the stores that said they would include Negroes in their Xmas sales rush help. After the applicants applied, Mr. Wells had to figure out means to determine whether or not the manager followed through as promised, and he did.

Mr. Wells said "there will be much activity connected with the Crusader's Xmas boycott. We will send out many pickets, Xmas boycott singers, door to door knockers, speakers to organizations and leaflet deliverers. Our boycott will largely be confined to the larger Negro neighborhoods and the large department stores."

"Our boycott is not a blanket one. We are selectively boycotting. We will buy from any store that exemplifies fair employment practices. We will not buy from any store that will not hire Negroes in positions other than porters, janitors, etc."

Benjamin Van Clarke, Executive Director of the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement said, "We will not pressure, intimidate or threaten any Negro who fails to go along with our selective buying campaign. This is the reason we are not picketing up and down Broughton Street. We have the personnel (young and physically fit) but we don't believe in strong-arm tactics. The one and only thing we want to be sure is that EVERY NEGRO KNOWS WHAT STORES REFUSED TO HIRE NEGROES. After this our job is finished." Clark went on to say "We are not going to start this business of calling our folk's names if they shop in one of the stores that we are boycotting. We don't believe in standing around telling adults what they had better not do, following them home and telling their friends and pastor, watching a man's store like a watch-dog, and following his customers after they leave the store like law enforcement officers. All we are going to do is let the Negroes know what white folk refused to hire them as sales persons, etc."

A complete list of the stores that promised to hire Negroes and a list of those that said they would not hire a Negro can be obtained at 416 West Park Avenue (over Robbins Dry Goods Store) or by calling AD 3-8127. These lists will be passed out at all Crusade for Voters' meetings.

HE WILL BE SEATED SECOND TO NONE

FROM PAGE 1

999,999,999 men out of 1,000,000,000 who live to ripe old ages.

He was not a "copy-cat." He was an originator, with wisdom. He possessed far and nearsighted vision. He was shallow enough to protect the peasants, yet he had more than enough depth to cope effectively with the greatest and most difficult problems ever to face man.

His life was an inspiration even to the hopeless. It inspired countless humans to lift themselves from the depths of degredation and hitch their wagons to the mightiest star. That star that Moses saw of the promised land with dying eyes. That eternal star that lead three wise men to the manger in Bethlehem. As James Barrie said "You can have anything in life if you will sacrifice everything else for it." What has the late PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY? EVERYTHING!

HIS FATHER MUST NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN

FROM PAGE 1

We mourned, the Nation Mourned, in fact nearly the whole world mourned, but mourning will not violate the death of this little boy's father. His father was God's gift to the 20th century. Even communist aggression stood still and remorsed over the death of his father. Statesmen all over the globe were anguished. The mighty wheel of mass production stopped. The forever matriculating minds of world financiers slumbered, alcoholics and dope fiends stabilized. Habitual prostitutes and gamblers thought saintly and rabid segregationists felt equal and secured. But, only for a period of mourning.

Mourning can be used as a secret valve for the outlet of one's real conscious of self DAMNATION. This is proven by their returning to a life of status-quo. Mourning can exemplify the authentic character of one's real self. This is proven by mental and physical action. Those that mourned over President John Fitzgerald Kennedy's death will prove they were not uncapping their secret valve to let out their own conscious of self damnation by mentally and physically working to see that his death was not in vain.

PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY will not have died in vain to every man, woman, and child that get out into the streets, talk to every citizen, knock on every door until every citizen of America, not only have the opportunity (without intimidation or harassment) but is REGISTERED and VOTES. So that this little boy will not be fatherless in vain, we must originate, support and lead organizations in efforts that are fighting the battles against exploitation and destrucion of human beings. We must do more than talk. We must give freely of our money, time and thinking ability toward attaining equal educational opportunities, equal jobs, equal pay, equal housing and equal use of governmental, private and public facilities for all citizens. We must take up arms both mentally and physically against ideals, persons, nations, and continents who advocate or work to destroy God or the U. S. Constitutional rights of the individual. If we stop "only talking" and actually get out and work to rid this world of HATE. Hate that has enveloped the entire universe but seemingly hangs its phangs deeper in the so-called FREE world than in the iron curtain. Hate that presents a greater problem than the exploration of outer space or stabilizing man on the moon. Hate that is forcing man to destroy himself just like the dinosaur. Hate that causes sick American judges to inflict heathonistic, unjust punishment upon citizens for trying to get our society to conform to our national constitution. Hate which drove sick men to bomb God's churches. That same hate made a fellow American hide under thick brush in the dark of night and murder Mr. Medgar Evers in cold blood for nothing. Hate drove grown white men to toss a bomb in God's Church during the Sunday school hour which killed four little harmless girls. YES HATE, HATE that stole God's gift to the 20th Century.

Convicts?

FROM PAGE 1

On November 20, 1963 about 45 more crusader's for freedom were tried for fighting for freedom and Human Dignity last summer. The above photo shows a city policeman and a deputy sheriff of city court loading the convicted demonstrators into the patrol wagon which took them to the county jail. The use-to-be-tried-and-convicted Freedom Fighters were very jovial, the males allow the females to enter the wagon first.

The Respectability Of President Kennedy

History has taught us that we are respected by others as we respect ourselves. One of the great geniuses of our beloved J.F.K. was the respect his subjects had for him. This was not purchased respect, nor respect out of fear. Mr. Kennedy was greatly respected because he respected himself. He was the first president of the United States of America that respected himself, his position and his responsibility to the point enough to rely upon quality rather than quantity.

He displayed his respect for quality by the number of qualified Negroes appointed to his administration during his first six months in office. The lagging of the free world and the aggression of the communist bloc may have well been reversed had predecessors of Mr. Kennedy utilized the intelligence and ability of black men.

SENATORS SOCIAL CLUB

L-R WILBUR BUXTON, RICHARD POLITE, BEN MYERS JOHNNY COOPER

ROBBIN'S DEPARTMENT STORE
1018 WEST BROAD STREET AD 3-2508
CLOTHING FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY
1018 W. BROAD AD 3-2508
DELIGHTFULLY DECORATIVE
3 PIECE PLASTIC DRAPE SET 39c

COCONUT GROVE NIGHT CLUB
Famous For Fun
Mightiest array of talent
OPEN NIGHTLY
DANCING EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT
AVAILABLE FOR ALL TYPES OF AFFAIRS
HWY 17 S. AD 2-9689

A. M. E. Leadership of the Georgia Conference

REV. JOHN S. BRYAN, PROMOTED

L-R DR. BRYAN, W. SAV. DIST., DR. LAMPKINS, SAV. DIST., DR. STEPHENS, WAYCROSS DIST., DR. STRIPLING, S. SAV. DIST., DR. LANE (NOT SHOWN BRUNSWICK DIST.

St. Philip West Broad Street is a church with a great and glorious past. Across the years, some of the most capable ministers in the A. M. E. Church have pastored the church as they have risen to great heights, so has St. Philip.

For the past fourteen years, the Rev. John Sterling Bryan pastored the great church and gave it the kind of leadership that has marked his career as a minister. An able preacher, a brilliant orator, and a dedicated leader, Rev. Bryan is widely known and respected in church circles. For several years he was president of the Connectional Council, an organization of ministers second only to the Bishops' Council. It was his great influence that brought the Winter Session of the Bishops' Council to our city. A member of the General Board of the A. M. E. Church, Rev. Bryan has been called to serve on many policy making boards of the church and his wise judgments are always accepted.

Now the presiding elder of the West Savannah District, he will be greatly missed in the pastorate and the Chatham County Crusade for Voters is proud to salute him on his promotion and lauds him for being always in the vanguard of the human rights fight.

REGISTER TO VOTE

CROSBY BROS Cut Rate DRUGS Rx

CUT-RATE DRUGS
HENRY AT MONTGOMERY ST.
PAY YOUR
GAS - TELEPHONE - ELECTRIC - WATER
BILLS HERE
PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED
CHECKS CASHED MONEY ORDERS SOLD
AD 6-8228

Phone ADams 3-5224
CATHERINE'S TAILOR SHOP
Expert Alterations — Dressmaking
Tailor Made Shirts and Pants
Ladies, Men's and Boys Ready-To-Wear
Catherine B. Branch, Mgr.
A. H. Branch, Asst. Mgr.
416 West Broughton Street
Savannah, Georgia

HORNSTEIN'S MKT.
601 W. 39th St.
FANCY GROCERIES - WESTERN MEATS
RESTAURANT AND INSTITUTION SUPPLIES

Intelligent People Vote

RELIABLE Rx PRESCRIPTIONS
HARRY'S
CUT RATE DRUGS
FREE DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone AD 34559
709 W. 37th SAVANNAH, GA.
XMAS TOYS-FINE CANDIES-COSMETICS
"WE HAVE WHAT EVER YOU NEED"

SWINT SNACK BAR
Open From 5 A.M. Until 12 P.M.
7 DAYS PER WEEK
C. S. SWINT, Proprietor

WING'S MARKET
520 W. 48TH ST.
WE SELL FOR LESS AND QUALITY, TOO!
PHONE 232-0000
FREE DELIVERY

Suits Made to Measure
PADEREWSKY
THE TAILOR
FORMAL WEAR FOR RENT
ALL KIND ALTERATION
DIAL --AD 4-9965
351 WEST BROAD ST.
SAVANNAH, GA.

ONE COAT-NO DRIP
MARY CARTER'S
ALL NEW Rol Hide
THE ONLY PAINT WITH A WRITTEN UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE CERTIFICATE

UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE
IF FOR ANY REASON YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH THE PERFORMANCE OR QUALITY OF ROL-HIDE, WHEN USED IN THE MANNER PRESCRIBED ON THE LABEL, JUST BRING BACK THE CAN AND THIS GUARANTEE CARD, AND YOUR PURCHASE PRICE WILL BE CHEERFULLY REFUNDED.

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY
2nd GAL. $8.98
Mary Carter Paint Stores
1200 BAY ST.
466 MONTGOMERY ST.
3101 SKIDAWAY RD
INTERIOR ACRYLIC LATEX

UNCLE SAMMY'S BOYS
YACHUM YACHUM
FREE PARKING IN REAR OF STORE
LADIES TASSEL LOAFERS
BLACK — BROWN
SIZE — 4 - 10
3.98
C and S Charge
Lay-a-Way For Children

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHATHAM COUNTY CRUSADE FOR VOTERS??????
IF NOT, JOIN TODAY! FILL OUT THIS APPLICATION (BELOW) AND MAIL OR BRING IT TO THE OFFICE, 416 WEST PARK AVENUE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA 31401

CRUSADE FOR VOTERS · CHATHAM COUNTY

Crusade For Voters
VOTER EDUCATION
416 West Park Avenue
Phone AD 3-8127
SAVANNAH, GA.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT

Name MR. JOHN DOE

Amount $ 100.00
Is a Member in Good Standing of
C. C. C. V.
Hosea L. Williams, President 1963

Name MR. JOHN DOE
Address FREEDOM STREET
Phone Number
Registered to Vote
Membership $
Amount Paid $
Balance Pledged $
Amount Due Each Mo. $

Signature of Worker

"Do you have any character references other than this one from the

CRUSADERS?

YOUR NEWSPAPER STANDS ON THE FRONTIER OF FREEDOM

. . . always on the job!

Rain or shine, hot or cold, you can depend on your newspaper boy steadfastly to maintain his schedule of deliveries to your doorstep.

PAPER BOYS WANTED

START YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD ROUTE NOW!

FOR COMPLETE DETAILS Write
THE CRUSADER, 416 W. PARK AVE., SAVANNAH, GA.
OR CALL AD 3-8127

YOU CAN EARN FROM $2 TO $10 EVERY WEEK BY DELIVERING

This and That

We will have to have your articles by Monday of each week in order for them to appear in our paper which comes off the press every two weeks. PLEASE address these articles to This and That Section, Crusader Newspaper, 416 West Park Avenue, Savannah, Ga., 31401 or call them at AD 3-8127 or AD 6-5727.

CLOTHING—SHOES—HATS
416 WEST PARK AVE.

"A Thrift Sale" Sponsored by the Mother's of the Crusader's will serve two functions:

1. FINANCE
2. Affords jobs for our young people in Salesmanship—Display Management.

WE PICK UP

We need YOUR donations of clothing, shoes, hats, etc. This is one way you, your club or church can help our YOUTH

TOYS & BICYCLES
AUTO PARTS & TRICYCLES
AT LOW
DISCOUNT
PRICES
Southern Auto Store
W. BROAD & STATE ST.
LAY AWAY

L & L FOOD STORE
524 W. 41st STREET
AD 3-5015
WE SELL THE FINEST & CHEAPEST FOOD IN TOWN
FREE DELIVERY SERVICE

LARRY'S SUPER MARKET
FREE CITY-WIDE DELIVERY
+ADAMS 2-4984
229 EAST BROAD STREET
(CORNER McDONOUGH ST.)

Registered To Vote

WHITE WAY MARKET
618 MONTGOMERY ST.
*OPEN 24 HOURS PER DAY
7 DAYS PER WEEK
PHONE 234-9759

BBS CHATTER

JUANITA T. WILLIAMS

Adult Citizenship Schools Open

We have all heard the expression "Now is the time for All Good Men to come to the Aid of their Country.' Well, now is the time! No longer can we sit back because we did not have an opportunity when we were younger. The Adult Citizenship Schools, sponsored by the Southeastern Georgia Crusade for voters jointly with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, cater to adults of all ages who want to learn to read and write so that they can register and vote and be true citizens. As we all know, you are not a true citizen unless you have a voice in your government. You do not have a voice unless you are registered and vote in every election.

Schools will be operating at the following locations:

TEACHER — MRS. REBECCA F. JENKINS, 405 E. Perry Street, ADams 4-1957.
#1 School: Hitch Village
Location: Community Center in Hitch Village
Night: Monday and Wednesday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.
#2 School: St. James A.M.E. Church
Location: St. James A.M.E. Church, East Broad & Hall Street
Night: Tuesday and Thursday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MRS. CHARLIE MAE HAGIN, 1020 Fellwood Homes, ADams 2-7967
#1 School: Fellwood Homes
Location: Fellwood Homes Community Center
Nights: Wednesday & Friday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MRS. MABLE DAWSON, 608 W. 59th Street, ADams 3-0633
#1 School: Five Miles Bend
Location: Knights of Damons Hall, Cor. Highway 21 and Big Hill Road
Nights: Wednesday & Friday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.
#2 School: Rosenall Hill
Location: Call Mrs. Dawson
Nights: Monday & Thursday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MRS. DAISY P. JONES, 17 Edinburgh Street
Nights: Monday & Friday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MRS. CHARLOTTE DAWSON, 610 W. 61st Street, ADams 3-0465
#1 School: Filer's Park
Location: St. Peters Baptist Church, Cor. W. 46th & Montgomery
Night: Monday and Wednesday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.
#2 School: Peaceful Zion
Location: Peaceful Zion Baptist Church, E. 31st & Reynolds St.
Night: Tuesday & Friday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MR. BENJAMIN VAN CLARKE, 416 West Park Ave, ADams 3-8127
#1 School: Crusade For Voters #1
Location: Headquarters' Office, 416 West Park Ave.
Nights: Monday & Wednesday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.
#2 School: Crusade for Voters #2
Location: Headquarters' Office, 416 West Park Ave.
Night: Tuesday and Thursday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MISS CAROLYN ROBERTS, 1317 Augusta Avenue, ADams 2-5607
#1 School: Francis Bartow Village
Location: Community Center in Francis Bartow Homes
Nights: Monday and Wednesday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.
#2 School: West Savannah School
Location: West Savannah Community Center, Church Street & Millen Lane
Night: Tuesday and Thursday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

TEACHER — MRS. JUANITA T. WILLIAM (Temporary Teacher)
3115 Gilbert St., EL 5-5924
#1 School: Yamacraw Village
Location: Yamacraw Village Center
Nights: Monday and Wednesday
Time: 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHER — MRS. IDA SMALLS MACK
935 Fellwood Homes, AD 6-7389

There are no charges to attend either of these schools. You are welcome to join the class that is most convenient. The classes in two nights per week, two hours each night. The first hour is devoted to citizenship. We show movies, present speakers, play records and many other interesting media to teach citizenship. No two schools are run exactly alike because the classes decide what they want to do themselves. Our students are encouraged to participate freely in all activities of the Crusade for Voters. What better way to learn citizenship.

The second hour is devoted to subjects; mainly reading, arithmetic, writing and briefly history, language and government.

All of these subjects are taught by the "experience method" and not the subject-matter method. That is, at the beginning, each class chooses a problem that is most prevalent in its community and all subjects are worked around that problem; reading, writing, arithmetic, history, language and government.

During the Citizenship hour, current events are discussed. We feel it important to be aware of happenings in our world today. Students learn more readily when they discuss things they come in contact with.

We are very happy with our progress over the past three years in these schools and thank all of the churches, project managers, etc. that have allowed us to meet in their buildings.

If you are interested in any of these classes or if you know anyone who should enroll in one of these classes, please call AD 3-8127 or AD 6-5727 for more information.

In our next issue BBS Chatters about Job Opportunities. Bye Now!

Delta Sorority Opens Adult Night Classes Here

Savannah, Ga.—THE ALUMNAE CHAPTER OF DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY, in keeping with the Five-point Program of the Grand Chapter of this public service sorority initiated a project of wide interest to the city employees of Savannah. It consists of 50 adults who meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening at the Harris Trade School. The purpose of this project is to enable these persons to become more aware of their civic duties in the community and to be able to participate fully by learning the three basic skills—reading, writing and arithmetic. The ultimate goal is to become registered voters.

These classes are free and volunteer sorors of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, who are themselves professional teachers and librarians, are teaching these citizens, without any type of compensation, except the feeling that they are doing a job that needs to be done.

The teachers volunteering such a wonderful service are: Miss Marilyn Cole, teacher at Moses Jackson Elementary School, Mrs. Jacquelyn Stephens, teacher at Robert W. Gadsden Elementary School, Miss Pauline Rocquemore, librarian at Alfred E. Beach Junior High School.

Lavender's Home Builders

Builder of the Finest New Homes. Make old homes look like new. Lots available for you.
934 Wheaton St. AD 3-2246

Lavender's Bonding Company

We Post Bond For All Types of Crimes.
Immediate Service Day Or Night
Day Call AD 4-3310 Night Call: AD 2-1716

Compliments Of
ALEX'S SUPER DUPER
"The Store With No Limit"
West Broad and Hall Streets
Savannah, Georgia

OLIVER'S GARAGE

ASK FOR ELMO
Complete TRANSMISSION Service
DON'T TRADE
SEE ELMO
WE SPECIALIZE IN MOTORS
FRONT ENDS, BODY & FENDER WORK, PAINT JOBS
EXPERT SERVICE – Guaranteed
417 W. WAYNE ST. AD 4-9155
ON THE CORNER OF W. BROAD & WAYNE
WE MAKE OLD CARS LOOK LIKE NEW!

EDITORIAL

FROM PAGE 2

III. CHRISTIANS MUST ASK SEARCHING QUESTIONS OF THEIR SOCIETY FOR THE GOOD OF THAT SOCIETY ITSELF

Sometimes, individuals tend to underestimate the influence of their particular vote. How often do we hear it said, "after all, one vote won't make any difference—I'll stay at home."

Jesus says to his disciples, make the significant inquiries even in the face of opposition. Go on seeking the right answers in spite of the fact that an evil majority is in control. Trust in ultimate victory when all momentarily seems to be lost. The enemy may be strong and powerful, but you must still concern yourself, with the answer to the question—"is he worthy?" If he isn't, he will eventually surely fail.

The truth of this emphasis in the message of Jesus is to be found in the fact that almost two thousand years since he uttered this challenge, his truth still marches on. It marches on in spite of some community leaders who have put their personal power and influence above and beyond the Negroes' freedom. There are Negro leaders themselves who have put the prestige of their favorite organization before the Freedom of the Negro, but God's truth keeps marching on. It marches on even though those who claim their lives have been dedicated and concentrated to God, prosecute those who are doing the job they themselves should be doing. It marches on in the decline of imperialism, in the prime importance of civil rights legislation and in the willingness of our youth to suffer in the cause of freedom.

Yes, your vote does count. It counts beyond the next election. Your vote can help determine the course of American democracy. It will help to shape this country's moral impact on world affairs. It influences the quality of those who rule on local, state and national levels. Your vote can help determine the extent to which the talents of all men regardless of race are made available for building a stronger nation and a better land.

In the final analysis, the question raised in the text is directed at each of us. The church, under the guidance of Christ, is saying that each professing Christian must ask himself, am I loing my part as a Negro to advance the cause of my race? Am I assuming my obligations as a responsible member of the community to improve the same? Have I done my duty as a Christian to bring moral judgement to bear on that society of which I am a part?

If, through the sacred influence of our honest votes, we can answer yes, then we can also say — "I AM WORTHY."

STOP POLICE BRUTALITY, REGISTER AND VOTE!

"NOT UNTIL YOU REGISTER AND VOTE!"

LEON'S FREEDOM VILLAGE

FREE HOPPIN-JOHN PARTY NEW YEAR'S EVE NIGHT

"WE SERVE THE BEST BEVERAGES BUT THEY ARE THE CHEAPEST ON THE COAST

YOU ARE INVITED NIGHTLY

Not Only The Coolest, But The Newest Happening In Town

USE LEON'S EASY CREDIT PLAN—100 PCT. DOWN—NO PAYMENTS

It's Better To Give Than To Receive, So Bring Leon Something

FOR RESERVATION OR INFORMATION CALL
AD 2-9105
OR DROP BY

The Freedom Village

FREE HOPPIN-JOHN PARTY NEW YEAR'S EVE NIGHT

FLORANCE AND MILLS B. LANE

Guaranty Life Insurance Co.

460 West Broad Street
Phones AD 3-5761 or AD 3-4565
Savannah, Ga.

Issuing All Purpose Coverage On Your Life,

Hospitalization or Retirement

PHONE 232-9497

NICK'S SILVER MOON

WHOLESOME FOODS - DELICIOUS DRINKS
WE HAVE YOUR FAVORITE BRANDS-WE NEVER CLOSE
1302 WEST BROAD STREET 232-9497

Compliments Of
THE FOOD CORNER
37th and Florence Streets
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

TAYLOR FURNITURE CO

"HOME OF TAYLOR MADE TERMS"
'A COMPLETE LINE OF FINE FURNITURE AND APPLIANCES
VENTED GAS HEATERS & RANGES INSTALLED FREE ON NATURAL GAS

NO FINANCE CHARGES
416 WEST LIBERTY STREET SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

WOO BROS.
MARKET
Fine Meats

HAGAN'S
SUPER MARKET
"A COMPLETE FOOD STORE"
40TH AT MONTGOMERY SAVANNAH, Ga.

NATIONAL TAILORS
Since 1915
MEN AND BOYS' WEAR
"LAY AWAY PLANS"
401-403 WEST BROAD STREET
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA
- Suits
- Shirts
- Shoes
- Hats
- Trousers

DIAL ADams 2-7459

ARTHUR'S
WE DELIVER. 2101 BAY ST.

BARGAINS GALORE
IN OUR GIGANTIC
FOOD SALE
KING-SIZED BUYS!

Listen Every Saturday To The Voice of The CRUSADERS
WSOK – 9:30 A. M.
HOSEA (Their Leader) WILLIAMS

WHILE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SPENDS BILLIONS ABROAD...

10,000 Negroes Are Starving in Mississippi

BY B. VAN CLARKE, DIRECTOR, YOUTH AFFAIRS

The United States is engaged in a modest, yet promising, effort to store up the sagging economies of its depressed areas. It began May 1, 1961 when President Kennedy signed the AREA RE-DEVELOPMENT ACT. ARA's purpose was to create a new partnership between private enterprise, community leadership, and state and federal government to improve economic conditions in hundreds of areas. Now is the time for Congress to have the state of Mississippi realize it is a part of the USA. But on the other hand Congress, the president and the nation must realize also that Black Mississippians are literally dying of hunger. The concept of our founding fathers must come to bear upon this issue. AMERICA, DO WE NEED MORE WEAPONS, OR MORE JOBS?

For too long America has increased our military budget, our nuclear stockpiles and our capacity to destroy all life on this hemisphere . . . without any corresponding increase in our security. We spend 56 billion each year for our nuclear stockpiles. Defense spending has not brought security or prosperity. If you don't believe me, come over to Greenwood, Mississippi or Sunflower County. See old, torndown shacks being used as living quarters. Come over to Yalobusha and to Washington County and I know you will leave crying—My God! My God! Is this America, the Land of a pure Democracy? America, here is my thinking. Here is a workable program. I would urge the president to start now in transferring some of the excess 20 billion to begin to take care of human needs now. I know that more jobs are created for each billion spent on our human needs than each billion spent on defense. BEGIN NOW to implement your established programs with or without the help of local or state government . . . and for good measure . . . BEGIN training those Mississippians for "New Jobs — Now Opening" so that they might work for themselves when FULL & FAIR Employment presents itself.

Church Council Sends Team To Southern Cities

CHURCH COUNCIL SENDS TEAMS TO SOUTHERN CITIES

Since July, the National Council of Churches has been sending "three-person trouble shooting teams" to Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia at the request of Negro leaders to ease racial tension.

The Rev. James C. Moore associate director for community action for the council's Commission on Religion and Race said that invitations from Negro leaders and leaders of civic and religious groups have been coming in considerable numbers to the council's offices at 475 Riverside Drive, but have been set aside because of lack of manpower.

The council is a federation of Protestant and Orthodox church groups in the United States. It started sending teams to the south last July 4 when churchmen were jailed for trespassing at the Gwyn Oak recreation park near Baltimore.

Last week a team, comprising of a minister and two laymen met with Mayor Chris Heniz and two judges in Selma, Ala., where several dozens of young Negroes were arrested last week by state troopers on charges of failing to attend school. The youngsters were taking part in a demonstration to protest lack of civil rights.

The Rev. Arthur Thomas, a Methodist minister, John M. Pratt, a layman, and Reuben G. Clark, a Washington Lawyer, members of the Selma team, would say only that they went to the Alabama city "to diagnose the situation" and collect "information and facts."

A team generally meets with civic and religious leaders and tries to set up negotiations between whites and Negroes in a racial dispute.

It also helps to arrange bail for civil rights demonstrators who either haven't got the money or have been prevented from securing it.

REGISTER AND VOTE!

TAYLOR FURNITURE CO
"HOME OF TAYLOR MADE TERMS"
A COMPLETE LINE OF
FINE FURNITURE
AND APPLIANCES
VENTED GAS HEATERS & RANGES
INSTALLED FREE ON NATURAL GAS
NO FINANCE CHARGES
416 WEST LIBERTY STREET SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

"Eleanor"
USE OUR CONVENIENT
LAYAWAY PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS
USE YOUR C & S CHARGE
All Styles of Dresses
JR. PETITE
JR. SIZES
"FASHIONS GALORE"
at ELEANOR LOVELY GIFTS
"YOUR DOLLAR BUYS MORE
at ELEANOR
110 W. BROUGHTON ST.
FREE BALL POINT PENS WITH EVERY PURCHASE

COMPLIMENTS OF
Tykie and Gregory
Carellas Bros.
Super Market
East Broad & Gwinnett Sts.
BARGAINS ON ALL GOOD FOOD

AAA VACUUM CLEANERS
SALES & SERVICE
WE MAKE OLD VACUUM CLEANERS LIKE NEW
WE FIX ANY VACUUM CLEANER
WE SELL ALL KIND OF PARTS
ONE DAY SERVICE
GUARANTEED
715 EAST 37TH STREET 232-5077

BISHOP WILKES CONCLUDES ANNUAL CONFERENCES

With the spiritual depth, dignity and decisiveness that have characterized his ministerial career, Bishop William R. Wilkes closed the 1963 Annual Conferences of Georgia, the Sixth Episcopal District, African Methodist Episcopal Church. Of the six conferences in the state, the Georgia Annual Conference is the oldest, 96 years, and the last one held. Bishop Wilkes closed the Georgia Conference Sunday, November 24, at St. Philip, Charles and West Broad—the Rev. John S. Bryan was the host pastor.

Now, all African Methodists have turned their sights to the 1964 General Conference which will convene in Cincinnati, Ohio. Georgians are particularly anxious that the Eight Year Law will be repealed and thus make it possible for Bishop Wilkes to be reassigned to the Sixth Episcopal District.

Eminently qualified to lead the ecclesiastical affairs of his home state, Bishop Wilkes has brought solidarity to the state and has given the ministers and laymen new dimensions and broader horizons. A man of unquestionable loyalty and integrity, Bishop Wilkes is a respected, recognized scholar who has always commanded the respect of everyone who knows him. A powerful, consecrated pulpiteer, the prelate successfully pastored some of Georgia's leading churches before he was elected to the bishopric.

A past president of the Bishops' Council and present chairman of the General Commission on Finance of the A.M.E. Church, Bishop Wilkes with the unstinted support of ardent Georgia A. M. E.'s, has reported approximately two million dollars to the General Fund in the last eight years.

As Chairman of the Morris Brown College Board of Trustees, the bishop has seen the annual income of the college increase to one million dollars. With the wide offerings now available at the college, the enrollment now totals more than nine hundred. and Turner Theological Seminary, once housed on the Morris Brown College campus, is now a part of the rapidly growing, highly respected Interdenominational Theological Center. Eight acres of land, adjacent to the college, have been purchased for expansion. Four acres have been paid for and early next year, construction will begin on the recently purchased property.

Since 1956, the year Bishop Wilkes was assigned to Georgia, many A. M. E. churches have been renovated, enlarged and relocated. One example in our city is St. Philip Monumental. The pride of Georgia African Methodism is Allen Temple, Atlanta. At the cost of several million dollars, an ultra modern edifice has been constructed, and the architect now has plans for a six million dollar housing project to be built by the Allen Temple membership.

Because the A. M. E. Church in Georgia has scaled new heights and is going higher, the Chatham County Crusade for Voters gives its full endorsement for the return of Bishop Wilkes to Georgia.

All Intelligent People Are Registered To Vote

WANTED
House Work, General
Mrs. Mary Johnson
AD 3-8127

The question before the house sometimes is, "How are we going to pay next month's rent?"

Because of larger beef production and lower retail prices, the U.S. Department of Agriculture expects per capita beef consumption to reach 91.5 pounds this year. In 1962, it was 89.1 pounds.

From the crudest earth, vegetable, and insect dyes to today's highly sophisticated chemical compounds, man's cosmetic history demonstrates unceasing attention to complexion.

Takes Hosea with him - - - -

BENJAMIN VAN CLARKE MOVES UP INTO NATIONAL PROMINENCE

Benjamin Van Clarke, Director of Youth Activities and Assistant to Hosea L. Williams, president of the Crusader's Freedom Now Movement, gained National Recognition last week at the 4th Annual Conference of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, held in Washington, D.C. Clarke was appointed by the students attending the conference to map plans and strategy for SNCC's Freedom Movement for 1964. Over 5,000 Youth from across America attended the Thanksgiving Conference for a 4 day period. We interviewed Clarke upon his return home as to what his duties will consist of, Clarke stated: "The Freedom Movement in Savannah has gained world-wide attention. This was evident in the standing ovation Savannah received when I entered the auditorium of Howard University."

Reporter: The students did not give you a standing ovation?

Clarke: No! They wanted to show their respect to Savannah's leadership and therefore I ceased to be Clarke and became an institution embodying, not only myself, but Hosea also.

Reporter: Give us an idea as to what your new duties might be?

Clarke: My job is to coordinate the leadership activities of Florida and map new areas for SNCC's future actions.

Reporter: Are you the only person who will concern yourself with SNCC's problems here in Savannah?

Clarke: I think it might be well to note that Hosea L. Williams stood out above and beyond any adult's name mentioned. SNCC has requested Mr. Williams to lend his experience and knowledge to them because of the tremendous amount of problems we are having in Voter Education and Voter Registration.

Reporter: Will you bring any of SNCC's activities to Savannah?

Clarke: Yes, Mr. Williams and I are now in the process of setting up a conference to begin working on some of the major organizational problems of SNCC. The conference will take place in Savannah or one of the surrounding areas.

Reporter: Finally, Mr. Clarke, In what area do you feel SNCC should concern itself?

Clarke: In the area of Voter Registration. This is the most pressing at this particular point in the struggle. I would also recommend immediate action to get some jobs and food for disadvantaged Negroes.

Most Worthy Soldier To Return To Duty

MRS. DOROTHY B. TAYLOR
POLITICAL GUIDANCE COMMITTEE, CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Taylor is a member of the Chatham County Crusade for Voter's Executive Committee. She is also Executive Chairman of Chatham County's Political Guidance Committee. She has been one of the most ardent supporters of political action in Chatham County.

In 1962, Mrs. Taylor was elected to represent the First U. S. Congressional District of Georgia in a statewide meeting which endorsed candidates running for state office who received the Negro vote. Along with her duties as executive chairman of the political guidance committee, Mrs. Taylor directed the Crusade for Voter's First Annual Membership Drive.

Mrs. Taylor has been absent from the rank of the CCCV for about three months due to summer vacation and illness.

The president of the Crusade for Voters was overjoyed when Mrs. Taylor informed him, "I will resume all of my responsibilities with the Crusade for Voters January 1, 1964."

SERMONS WE SEE

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day,
I'd rather one should walk with me than merely show the way.
The eye's a better pupil and more willing than the ear;
Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear;
And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds,
For to see the good in action is what everybody needs.
I can soon learn how to do it, if you'll let me see it done.
I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fast may run.
And the lectures you deliver may be very wise and true,
But I'd rather get my lesson by observing what you do.
For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give,
But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.

EDGAR A. GUEST

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

President John Fitzgerald Kennedy

"WHAT HE WAS TO ME"

President Kennedy, to me, was the greatest man who ever lived. He was the symbol of truth, love and peace. He was a great leader, a great political figure, a great family man and next to God, the greatest friend a poor man ever had.

He carried the responsibilities of the United States very courageously. He dealt with the world's affairs because he was concerned, not only for his family, nor America, but for the peace of the world.

He believed in peace and righteousness and he lived that way. He was also the symbol of wisdom, strength and freedom He believed in civil rights and equality for everyone.

I can truthfully say this, that teenagers and young adults very seldom listened to their president's speeches in the past. Whenever the presidents would come on television or radio, the teenagers would say (I quote) "That's only the president speaking, let's turn to something else." But, after President Kennedy was elected and proved himself worthy of his administration things have changed a great deal. Now the young and old listen to Kennedy's speeches. Why? I can only answer for myself that his speeches were very interesting and I felt that he was talking to me personally. His speeches were always about the survival of mankind. He was a good man, if ever I wanted to shake a man's hand, it would have been President John F. Kennedy's.

"He helped the big and the bold
He also helped the young and old
He never received, but he did give
To Me, he was the greatest man that ever lived."

As I sit here watching television and listening to the sad music, I feel so much sorrow. It's as though I have lost someone so very close to me (and he was). I know he has passed but he will live on in the hearts of everyone who loved and followed him. His work shall go on forever. I only wish that he could have lived to enjoy the outcome of his work.

We all know that God moves in mysterious ways; perhaps this was the way that President Kennedy was destined to die. I believe if President Kennedy was living in the days of Jesus, he would have been chosen as one of His disciples. As you know Jesus was crucified because He preached the truth—love and happiness. President Kennedy died also because he believed in the truth and righteousness. He was a great leader, and now he's gone to his reward. Who would believe that something as brutal as assassination could happen in this supposedly civilized world?

We shall always remember him for his words "It's not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." You may be wondering where our President is now I believe he is in paradise with his maker because as it states in our Holy Bible "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake; for their's is the Kingdom of Heaven." May President Kennedy forever rest in peace.

Mrs. Sarah J. Penner, Tompkins' Alumni

"THE COLORED MAN"

I am the man called "colored,"
my days are as dark as night.
I help to build a kingdom, that denies me civil rights.

• • •

I clear away the wildness of this western civilization
With muscles, blood, and death having full occupation

• • •

I received no salaries,
no holidays or vacations
I was told after-death would forever be a great celebration

• • •

I fought and died
on foreign land,
To keep America
from the enemies hand

• • •

I tried to love those,
that stress the name Christ.
For four hundred years,
a worthless sacrifice

• • •

I tried to use the places with the best accommodations
In order for this to be, there must be legislation

• • •

I was siced upon by dogs, while trying to vote
Felled by the force of water hoses arrested and taken to court.

I went to Sunday school to give thanks to Thee
Dynamite blew the church apart no apprehension, there will be

• • •

But, oh! I thank almighty God, for that muslim-man
Who declares unto the Government,
We must have some land.

• • •

That we may rid ourselves, of all exploitation,
Build homes, provide,
protect our great and beautiful nation

• • •

In this age of atomic,
I speak of Mr. Muhammad.

FRED X. CHILDS

More than half of the living Nobel Prize winners who went to college in the United States earned degrees from Land-Grant Colleges.

Lumps in evaporated milk are formed by the solids settling during storage. Dairy specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture say these lumps do not harm the milk.

Don't let the possibility of a split lip. keep you from having a lot of hearty laughs come winter.

SUMMIT MEETING AMONG NEGROES IN CHATHAM COUNTY CALLED TO ORDER

SERIOUS-MINDED ATTENDANCE LISTEN TO CURTIS V. COOPER

The attempt to re-unite civil rights fighters in Chatham County by Hosea L. Williams, president of the Chatham County Crusade for Voters and and announced leader of recent non-violent direct action demonstrations in Savannah which were terminated by the integration of many local hotels, motels and theaters that cost Dr. Martin Luther King's SCLC thousands of dollars, got off to a slow start. Most of the time was spent diagnosing the problem rather than offering a cure.

A committee was formed under the leadership of Dr. P. W. Cooper to investigate the split between the NAACP and the CCCV and make an effort to re-unite the two groups. The elected officials of the NAACP were invited but they did not attend the meeting.

Dr. Cooper, chairman of the "Unity Committee" told the crowd "we must settle this problem." We, the people, will try to get the heads of these two organizations back together, but if they don't respond, we will just have to find new leadership. The committee is having a series of closed meetings and will call another public meeting in the very near future.

Proposal made by the chairman, Dr. Phillip W. Cooper to the Citizens Committee on Unity at their meeting on December 2, 1963 for the committee's evaluation and consideration.

Citizens Committee On Unity

As chairman of the committee on unity, I submit the following proposals for your evaluation:

1. That Joint Bi-Monthly meetings of the N.A.A.C.P. and Crusade for Voters be held in the various churches of the city. These meetings are to be presided over alternately by the respective organizations.
2. That the receipts from these meetings be divided equally between the two organizations.
3. That the function of the Crusade For Voters be confined to Voter Registration, Political Education, Sponsoring of Political Candidates, Voter Schools, Getting Voters to the Polls, Keeping check on Political Candidates, Political Rallies, etc, and other activities within its charter.
4. That the function of the N.A.A.C.P. be kept within its charter.
5. That no demonstrations, boycotts, sit-ins or other controversial activities, by either the parent bodies or their respective youth groups, take place without the majority vote (by secret ballot) of the respective Board of Directors of each organization. In the event of a deadlock the Citizens Committee on Unity would cast the deciding vote.
6. That the parent body of each organization be held directly responsible for the activities of their youth councils.
7. That both organizations cease and desist immediately in alternating Negroes against each other on the basis of differences in economical or social status.
8. That a permanent committee on unity be maintained to see that the adopted proposals are adhered to, to serve as a grievance committee and as a mediation body.
9. That in the event the N.A.A.C.P. or Crusade for Voters refuse to accept and abide by the adopted proposals on unity, then the proposals be made public in the news media and the public be asked to withdraw their support financially. and by the use of their churches until such a time an agreement is reached. That the National body be appraised of our action and why.
10. That these agreements become effective when ratified by the majority vote of the respective board of directors.
11. That no new organization be created in an attempt to bypass the N.A.A.C.P. or Crusade For Voters.
12. That joint committees representing the N.A.A.C.P. and Crusade For Voters be maintained for negotiation, job placement and training opportunities.

PHILLIP W. COOPER, Chairman

Intelligent People Vote

WE FILL OUT ALL INCOME TAX FORMS

Federal and State Income Tax Returns
Social Security & Withholding Tax Forms

MIMEOGRAPHING
FORMS - PROGRAMS - LETTERS

DO YOU HAVE TAX PROBLEMS?
BRING THEM TO ME!

NOTARY PUBLIC PUBLIC STENOGRAPHING - PAYROLLS

(MRS.) JUANITA (NIT) WILLIAMS
458½ West Broad Street
GUARANTY BUILDING - PHONE ADams 6-5727

"YOUR PROBLEMS ARE OUR ONLY BUSINESS"

Screw a blown fuse into each unused electric socket and save a curious child from harm.

One out of every six U.S. patents issued since 1899 has been for automotive inventions, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reports.

Prices Good Both Stores Thur.-Fri.-Sat.-Monday

SHOP FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 8 P.M.

2 STORES

FOODTOWN SUPER MARKET

2 STORES

1500 W. Bay — W. Broad & Liberty

FRESH DRESSED and DRAWN
Gainesville Grade "A"
Stewing CHICKENS, lb. 17c

Heavy Western Fat Back
"Fine For Boiling"
Bacon 10 lbs. 99c

Tender Heavy Western Good
CHUCK ROAST or STEAK, lb. 39c

Fresh Lean Western
SPARE RIBS lb. 23c

Country Cured
SMOKED BACON lb. 29c

Lykes Thrifty
SLICED BACON
3 lb. Pkg. 89¢

Hygrade Pure & Clean Pork
CHITTERLINGS
10 lb. Pail 1.99

Hygrade
PORK BRAINS
lb. Pkg. 19¢

Borden's Tall
MILK can 10c

Robin Hood
Pre-Sifted Self Rising
FLOUR
25 lb. 1.69

Reg. $1.00 Size Woodbury
LOTION
29c

Red Ripe
Tomatoes
8 303 Cans 1.00

Economy Size Reg. 83c
GLEEM
Tooth Paste
49c

Wesson Oil
Large Size
29c

Blue Plate
Apple Jelly
2 lb. Jar 25¢

Wow
Dog Food
Can 5¢

CIRCUS Tall Cans
Orange Drink
10 cans 1.00

Blue Plate
Instant Coffee
2 Oz. Jar 19c

Blue Plate
Peanut Butter
18 oz. Jar 39c

Giant 24-oz. Poly Bag
Frozen French Fried
POTATOES
Large Bag 17c

GENUINE ALASKA PINK
SALMON
Tall Can 39¢

American Beauty
CATSUP
4 2 oz. Bottles 1.00

Family Size
Royal Pudding
3 Giant Pkgs. 25c

Pet Instant
Dry Milk
8 Qt. Giant Size 47c

Fancy Yellow
YAMS
lb. 5c

Fresh Green
Cabbage
lb. 3c

Bright Red Eating
Apples
4 lb. Bag 29c

Flat Oil
Sardines
3 cans 25c

QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED

"BOYCOTT"
A SELECTIVE BUYING CAMPAIGN FOR XMAS

IF THEY DON'T HIRE, DONT BUY

NEGROES LOOKED FOR XMAS JOBS

51 STORES SAID "YES"
THEY HIRE--WE WILL BUY

95 STORES SAID "NO"
THEY DON'T HIRE-WE DONT BUY

THESE STORES SAID "NO" TO THE NEGRO

BROUGHTON STREET

BUTLER'S SHOE STORE	MAXWELL FURN. STORE	LERNER'S	MEN'S QUALITY
LORD'S	KAPLIN'S SHOE STORE	H.L. GREEN	SHOE BAR
FRIEDMAN JEWLERS	ALLNUTT MUSIC SCNTER	HOGANS	HAVERTY'S
MANGLE'S	TOWN & COUNTRY FURN. STR.	ELLIOTS DRUG'S	PUNCH & JUDY
HARDY SHOE STORE	COHEN FURN. STORE	ALLIED	BUTLER'S
WESTERN AUTO	ALPERT SHOE STORE	JOSEPH'S	BUCK' S
MISIC CENTER	JOE PRICE	FINE'S	SMART & THRIFTY
HEYMAN & SON	BOND'S	GLOBE'S	STANLEY JEWLERS
HAROLDS	SCHOWBILT'S	SAVANNAH TRAD. CO.	LEVEY JEWLERS
LOVETTE FURN. STORE	TOM McCAN	MY SHOP	CHARHAM FURN. CO.
B.J. SHEPPARD	J.C. PENNEY'S	WOOLWORTH'S	TEEN & JUNIORS

WEST BROAD STREET

JOE LEVIN ABC FURNITURE COMPANY LEES FURN. COMPANY

VICTORY DRIVE SHOPPING PLAZA

KING & PRINCE, SINGER SEWING CENTER, LEGGETT LANE DRUGS, ADLERS, JOSEPH'S, GRANT'S

UNITED 5 & 10

CROSSRAODS SHOPPING CENTER

PUNCH & JUDY BUTLER'S ELLIOT'S DRUGS PHOTOCRAFT DIANNA'S HARRIS THE HUB

LARETTES FRIEDMAN JEWLERS HARDWARE GARDNERS CROSSROADS APPLIANCE

BELK GRIFFETH WOOLWORTH'S WEBSTER'S K MART NIFTY CITY H.L. GREEN

Atl. Journal + Const.

Study Unit Urges Ballot Petition Cut

12-22-63

By WILLIAM O. SMITH

The State Election Laws Study Committee has suggested a reduction in the petition requirements for new political candidates from 5 to 3 per cent. The reduction would give Georgia Republicans a major victory.

This is one of many changes in Georgia election laws included in the first election laws code—a 262-page compilation—that will be presented to the 1964 General Assembly.

Secretary of State Ben Fortson, chairman of the State Election Laws Study Committee, announced the final recommendations Saturday and said he hopes the compilation will be finished sometime this week.

SOME MAJOR recommendations the committee approved earlier have been discarded, however, including the elimination of all literacy requirements for registering to vote.

The committee did propose elimination of the 30-question qualification test in favor of a 10-question test on federal and state governments to be prepared by the commissioner of elections.

Also discarded was a proposal to create a State Election Board that would have had authority to institute its own court action to insure compliance with the law.

The secretary of state was made ex-officio commissioner of elections and his powers broadened somewhat in handling elections.

Republicans lost an effort to require [illegible] help pay for party primaries [illegible] said the committee [illegible] a provision now would result in subsidizing Republicans.

When Republicans become a major party on a par with Democrats, a proposal for government aid in primaries will probably be made, Mr. Fortson said.

ONE CHANGE in the petition law was made to require candidates qualifying by petition to file at least 65 days prior to the general election instead of 45 days.

Mr. Fortson explained the extra time is needed to check accuracy of petitions and print and mail absentee ballots.

The code would make it mandatory for all candidates seeking party nomination in general primaries or office in general elections to qualify at least 45 days before the primary or election. Different qualification dates exist throughout the state.

One bugaboo of voters would be eliminated — the scratching out of names on a paper ballot.

VOTERS henceforth could vote a straight ticket or place an "X" by the name of each candidate voted for in case they want to split their tickets.

The proposed code would not take away the right of secrecy from the voters. They still won't have to register by party or announce their party when voting.

All candidates would have to receive a majority vote in order to obtain party nomination in a primary or be elected in an election. The plurality vote exists now in some instances.

Voter registration deadline was reduced from six months prior to the November general election to July 1. The same deadline would apply to the September primary.

All primaries must be held on the same date. Mr. Fortson said this would help Republicans and small parties by allowing them to use the same machinery used in Democratic primaries.

The proposed code authorizes the ordinary to create voting precincts to suit the convenience of voters. Boundaries of some voting precincts now coincide with militia districts and city wards, a practice which generally results in the neglect of voter convenience, Mr. Fortson said.

IF ADOPTED, the code would also require political organizations to register with the secretary of state and would tighten up requirements for voter identification at the polls.

The use of voting machines would be liberalized in the proposal to leave the question of their use to local determination.

The proposal to designate the secretary of state as the ex-officio commissioner of elections empowers him to promulgate, consistent with law, rules and regulations that are conducive to the uniform, fair and orderly conduct of elections.

Ga. Statew. de

Atlanta Daily World

New Election Code Drawn By Ga. Unit

12-22-63

Election code proposals that would reduce voters' registration deadline from six months to approximately four months before a general election have been drawn up by a state election last study committee.

The proposals would also eliminate the thirty-question voter qualification test from the statute and place responsibility for preparing such a test on the commissioner of elections. A committee report, aimed at revising the state's hodgepodge election laws and incoporating them in a new constitution, was released Saturday by Ben W. Fortson, Jr., secretary of state and chairman of the election laws study committee.

"The committee believes it to be in the best interest of the people for the proposed election code, with such changes as the legislature deems advisable, to be speedily passed at the next session," Fortson said in his report.

Gov. Carl Sanders has set as a major goal of his administration the adoption of a new, workable state constitution to replace the present document which has become weighed with hundreds of amendments.

"Our state has never had a comprehensive set of election laws," Fortson's committe said. "The present one are a hodge podge of local and general laws which have haphazardly accumulated for over a century.

WORST IN NATION

"They are so complex and obscure that virtually every election calls for a rash of legal opinions from government atorneys. Our election laws are the worst in the nation."

The report noted that since its organizational meeting on June 12, 1963, the committe has held numerous meetings in Atlanta and has held public hearings here and in Columbus, Rome, Savannah and Valdosta.

On Oct. 25, the committee published its first draft of its proposed election code and distributed copies to the members of the General Assembly, the ordinaries, the boards of registrars and other interested parties.

The chairman said the committee had done its best to devise a comprehensive yet simplified code of election laws, "writen in plain language, that will secure purity and fairness in all elections."

Among other changes besides the shorter registration period and shorter test, the proposed code designates the secretary of state as the ex officio commissioner of elections and empowers him to promulgate, consistent with law, rules and regulations that are conducive to the uniform, fair and orderly conduct of elections.

It also authorizeds the ordinary to create voting precincts to suit the convenience of voters. The present law in many instances requires that the boundaries of voting precincts coincide with those of militia districts and city wards, a practice which generally results in the neglect of voter convenience.

ORGANIZATIONS TO REGISTER

The code would also require political organizations to register with the secretary of state. The proposed code requires that candidates seeking party nomination in general primaries, or seeking public office in general elections, must qualify at least 45 days prior to the primary or election but in case of special primaries or elections, such qualification deadline is reduced to 15 days.

Candidates seeking to qualify by petition are required to file at least sixty-five days prior to the general election in order to provide sufficient time for checking the accuracy of the petition, and to avoid any delay in the printing and mailing of absentee ballots upon the expiration of the forty-five day deadline for other candidates.

The minimum number or signatures required on a petition has been reduced by the proposed code from 5 per cent of the registered voters of the area involved in the last general election to 3 per cent of such voters.

Ga. Statewide

The Atl. Journal 1/24/64

State Senate Vote Lashed by Russell

By MARGARET SHANNON
Atlanta Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Speaking in the U.S. Senate, Georgia's Richard B. Russell has severely castigated his home state Senate for racing to ratify the anti-poll tax amendment to the federal Constitution.

Sen. Russell said it makes him "hang my head in shame" that the state Senate tried to make Georgia the 38th state to accept the amendment, and thereby give it the majority needed.

Sen. Russell

The Georgia Senate voted Thursday, 43-0, to ratify the amendment, which prohibits poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in federal elections. The state's only Negro legislator, Sen. Leroy Johnson, moved to call the measure up.

GEORGIA LOST the ratification race, however, because the House did not get to the measure before the South Dakota legislature completed the act of ratification.

(Georgia abolished this state's poll tax during the administration of Gov. Ellis Arnall in 1945. It was done by legislative act. The late Eugene Talmadge, hoping for another term as governor at the time, heartily endorsed the action in an article in his political newspaper, The Statesman.)

THE DISCUSSION of the poll tax amendment followed a severe beating taken by Sen. Russell and other persistent foes of change in U.S. Senate rules. The Senate voted, 57-25, for a new provision requiring senators to stick to the subject of pending legislation for three hours a day when an important bill is under consideration.

Sen. Russell's tongue-lashing of the Georgia Senate came in the midst of a warm round of compliments and congratulations following an announcement by Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., that the poll tax amendment has just become a part of the constitution. Mr. Holland was author of the amendment.

IN THE COURSE of the discussion, Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., mentioned that South Dakota and Georgia had "raced" for the honor of being the 38th state to ratify.

Sen. Russell called his own remarks "a sour note" in the otherwise happy proceedings.

The Georgia Democrat said he felt he had to express his "profound regret" that the Georgia Senate wanted any part in what he termed the "coersion and conformity" of the amendment.

He said there had been a time when Georgia "stood in the vanguard" of states which attended to their own affairs and let other states attend to theirs.

The Georgia Senate action is "a source of humilitation to me," Sen. Russell said.

HE DECLARED he regrets that the state Senate joined in "this mad rush" to ratify the amendment and to become "the tail on this particular kite of conformity and coercion."

"I am pleased the effort failed," Sen. Russell said.

Sen. Holland replied that he respects Sen. Russell's consistency in his convictions, but he doesn't think there has been "unseemly haste" in consideration of the poll tax amendment. He first proposed it 15 years ago.

Sen. Russell said he referred to the "race" to be the 38th state to ratify the amendment and "knock down the last pretense of state sovereignty."

THE GEORGIA senator, chief of Southern forces in the Senate, and Senate Republican Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois fought a rear-guard action against the germaneness rule that passed Thursday.

The change wipes out an almost sacred practice of allowing any senator to talk on any subject at any time regardless of the legislation being considered.

Sen. Russell said the new rule "will not stop a single extraneous speech." He said it can lead to "delays and confusion."

Sen. Dirksen said he liked the old Senate way much better than a requirement for staying on the subject at hand.

He said he didn't want "any junior cloture bill coming along here — that's what this is."

Cloture is the procedure of cutting off debate in the Senate. It takes a two-thirds vote to do it.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge of Georgia voted against the germaneness rule. The opposition votes came from Southern Democrats and a handful of Republicans.

Georgia Politics

VEP 1, 9

CONSTITUTION

Standard Newspaper Ga. Statewide

Y, FEBRUARY 4, 1964 36 PAGES, 3 SECTIONS ★★★★★ Price Five Cents
Outside Georgia: Ten Cents

Cloudy

Partly cloudy, mild in Atlanta Tuesday and Tuesday night; Wednesday cloudy, mild with rain in afternoon or night. Extremes predicted: 38 and 54 Tuesday, 40 and 54 Wednesday.

Joint Committee Votes Districting Setup with 2 Congress Seats Here

Approval by Senate Is Expected This Week

By SAM HOPKINS

A congressional redistricting plan that takes into account Georgia's population shift to the urban areas was approved Monday night by a joint legislative study committee.

Senate passage of the proposal by Friday was predicted by Sen. Julian Webb of Donalsonville, chairman of the committee.

The committee recommendation, which will be introduced in the Senate Tuesday morning, gives two districts to the state's two most populous counties—Fulton and DeKalb.

A NEW EIGHTH

The 35th and 36th senatorial districts in Fulton would be joined with DeKalb County to form a new Eighth District, and the remainder of Fulton County would make up the Fifth District.

Sen. Frank Coggin represents the 35th District and Sen. Joe Salome represents the 36th.

Sen. Webb pointed out that although any revamping of the state's 10 congressional districts could not meet "with the unanimous acceptance by the people of this state," a majority of the committee "is of the opinion that the proposed plan will meet with acceptance by the majority of the members of the General Assembly and the people of Georgia."

Although there were numerous predictions the proposal will have little trouble passing the Senate, the close 5-4 vote of the House members on Webb's committee indicated the bill will have considerably more difficulty in the House.

Map showing proposed redistricting on Page 9.

ATTEMPT TO AMEND

A major change in the redistricting plan involving the coastal area prompted Sen. William Zorn of Jesup to declare he will attempt to amend it on the floor of the Senate.

The new plan places Savannah and Brunswick in the same district. "It radically tears up the First and Eighth districts," Zorn declared.

"We would be substituting one voice in Washington for the coastal area for the two we now have," he added.

Sen. Hugh Gillis of Soperton, another of the two senators on the committee displeased with the proposal, declared it "almost abolishes the First District and puts it in the Sixth."

The committee recommendation takes away six counties now in the Sixth District and adds 10 counties presently in the First.

The committee beat down a proposal by Rep. Jim Andrews of Stephens County to shift

Continued on Page 9, Column 1

1st District	422,216
2nd District	387,771
3rd District	400,589
4th District	373,195
5th District	394,415
6th District	401,162
7th District	378,956
8th District	418,693
9th District	404,168
10th District	380,088

Note: Eight District consists of DeKalb County plus 35th and 36th Senatorial Districts of Fulton County

Reapportioned Districts as Recommended by Committee

Joint Panel Approves Districting

Continued From Page 1

some counties in the northern sections of the state.

He would have changed the committee plan so as to shift Bartow County to the new Ninth District and Whitfield to the new Seventh. Andrews also would have placed Franklin, Hart and Madison counties in the new Ninth District and Walton County in the new 10th.

Sen. Webb, whose joint committee was appointed last July 18 by House Speaker George T. Smith and Lt. Gov. Peter Zack

Reapportioned Districts as Recommended by Committee

Joint Panel Approves Districting

Continued From Page 1

some counties in the northern sections of the state.

He would have changed the committee plan so as to shift Bartow County to the new Ninth District and Whitfield to the new Seventh. Andrews also would have placed Franklin, Hart and Madison counties in the new Ninth District and Walton County in the new 10th.

Sen. Webb, whose joint committee was appointed last July 18 by House Speaker George T. Smith and Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer, reminded the committee Monday that a suit is pending before the U.S. Supreme Court which challenges the validity of the present congressional redistricting.

He added that although the court "has not yet announced its decision, it seems to be the consensus of attorneys familiar with the case that the court very probably will declare" the current district lines unconstitutional.

AT LARGE BASIS?

Webb further stated:

"The result that may be reasonably contemplated is that the General Assembly must come up with a reasonable and fair redistricting of the State of Georgia, or that the elections for the 10 congressmen of this state will be held at-large."

The at-large elections could be ordered by the court if it felt the Legislature failed to redistrict on an equitable basis.

Sen. Webb said the population of the current districts ranges from 272,154 in the Ninth District to 823,680 in the Fifth District, according to the 1960 census.

The suit before the Supreme Court, which was initiated by Atlanta Sen. Jim Wesberry, attacks this disparity in the population of the districts and contends the districting is unconstitutional.

DEKALB ON EAST

Fulton County's 35th and 36th senatorial districts, which with DeKalb County would form the Eighth Congressional District, are entirely bounded on the east by DeKalb.

The 35th, which adjoins Clayton County on the south, takes in most of Hapeville and parts of the eastern sections of East Point and College Park. It also includes the part of Atlanta Airport which does not lie in Clayton County.

Fulton's 36th senatorial district extends north to near Memorial Drive and west to the Atlanta & West Point Railroad and the Central of Georgia Railroad.

The population by districts under the plan recommended include:

First, 422,516; Second, 387,771; Third, 400,619; Fourth, 373,201; Fifth, 394,415; Sixth, 401,162; Seventh, 378,956; Eighth, 418,693; Ninth, 364,419; and 10th, 401,694.

Districts as They Stand Now

THE COUNTIES

The plan the committee worked out includes these counties in these districts:

First—Chatham, Effingham, Bryan, Liberty, Long, MacIntosh, Glynn, Camden, Wayne, Brantley, Charlton, Appling, Bacon, Pierce, Ware, Atkinson, Coffee, Jeff Davis and Irwin.

Second — Seminole, Decatur, Grady, Thomas, Brooks, Lowndes, Echols, Clinch, Lanier, Berrien, Cook, Tift, Colquitt, Worth, Dougherty, Mitchell, Baker, Calhoun, Miller and Early.

Third—Muscogee, Chattahoochee, Stewart, Quitman, Clay, Randolph, Terrell, Webster, Marion, Schley, Sumter, Lee, Macon, Houston, Dooly, Crisp, Turner, Pulaski, Wilcox, Dodge, Telfair and Ben Hill.

IN WEST GEORGIA

Fourth — Carroll, Heard, Troup, Harris, Coweta, Meriwether, Talbot, Taylor, Peach, Crawford, Upson, Pike, Lamar, Butts, Spalding, Fayette, Clayton, Henry, Newton and Rockdale.

Fifth—Portion of Fulton.

Sixth — Monroe, Bibb, Jones, Baldwin, Twiggs, Bleckley, Wilkinson, Washington, Johnson, Laurens, Emanuel, Treutlen, Wheeler, Montgomery, Toombs, Candler, Tatnall, Evans, Bulloch, and Screven.

Seventh — Cobb, Douglas, Paulding, Bartow, Haralson, Polk, Floyd, Chattooga, Walker, Catoosa and Dade.

Eighth — DeKalb and portion of Fulton.

Ninth — Murray, Whitfield, Gordon, Fannin, Gilmer, Pickens, Cherokee, Forsyth, Dawson, Lumpkin, Union, Towns, White, Hall, Gwinnett, Barrow, Jackson, Walton, Banks, Habersham, Rabun and Stephens.

Tenth—Franklin, Hart, Madison, Elbert, Oglethorpe, Clarke, Oconee, Morgan, Greene, Wilkes, Lincoln, Taliaferro, Jasper, Putnam, Hancock, Laurens, Glascock, McDuffie, Jefferson, Burke, Jenkins, Richmond and Columbia.

State Registration Group Sets Action In Political Area

Ga. Statewide
2/16/64
Atl Daily Wld

Stirred by reports of prosecution of the "Albany Five" by the U. S. Department of Justice and encouraged by reports of progress in other areas of the state, the joint session of the Executive Committees of the Statewide Registration Committee and Georgia Voters League, Saturday a program of political action. At the meeting, held in the American Motor Hotel, a goal of 300,000 registered Negro voters and co-ordinated action as a program, were unanimously adopted by some forty leaders from eight of the ten U. S. Congressional Districts of Georgia.

Individual and collective telegrams were sent to Washington protesting the prosecution of leaders of civil rights as is being done in Albany and nine U. S. Congressional District Citizenship Clinics were established, which will be co-ordinated with District Meetings of the Georgia Voters League. Beginning with a Sixth District Meeting at St. Paul A.M.E. Church in Dublin on Wednesday, February 19, at 6:00 P. M. the following clinics were established: February 29, Columbus, Third District; March 7, Savannah, First; March 14, Greensboro, Ninth and Tenth; March 21, Waycross, Eight; March 28, Moultrie, Second; April 4, Griffin, Fourth; April 11, Cedartown, Seventh; April 18, Atlanta, Fifth; April 25, Macon, Sixth. Of course, it was announced, registricting by the State Legislature, may change some of the aligments for the meetings.

Some of the more favorable aspects of the reports were made by Rev. Andrew H. Young of SCLC, sponsors of the meetings, [illegible] effect that there are approximately 225,000 Negroes [illegible] in Georgia and that his organization would back the co-ordinated program. Mrs. Barbara Whitaker of the Voter Education Project, reported over 300,000 registered in 11 Southern states under auspices of her agency and urged the demanding of respect by getting out the vote. Slater King and Thomas Chatman of Albany; Wm. P. Randall of Macon, A. C. Touchstone, Griffin; Toombs McLendon, Washington; Jesse Hill, Atlanta; Rev. J. C. Hope, Brunswick; Ray Ware, Athens; Rev. Samuel Wells, Albany; and Eli Jackson; Greensboro, reported on increased registration and improved conditions in jobs, integration of facilities and better housing. Wm. P. Randall, Macon and J. H. Calhoun, Atlanta, Co-Chairmen, presided, with the assistance of Mrs. Ocelia Ellis and Rev. F. C. Bennettee.

Atl. Const.

House Votes Study of Reseating

The House agreed late Friday to set up a committee to study that chamber's apportionment and any possible need for change in the General Assembly.

The House approved by unanimous consent the resolution, proposed by Rep. A. A. Fowler of Douglas, which creates a seven-member committee to "study and investigate the present method of apportionment of the members of the House."

"I've heard reports this week that there are those planning to go into federal court seeking to reapportion the Georgia House of Representatives," Fowler said.

PROBE URGED

"While my resolution was not prompted by these reports, it would be prudent for us to carefully examine the makeup of the House and have in mind alternative proposals which can be considered."

One place where reapportionment of the House might be considered is the constitution revision session which Gov. Carl Sanders has scheduled in early May, Fowler said.

MAY GO TO COURT

City officials have said in recent days they may go into the courts seeking to upset the current apportionment — three members for the largest eight counties, two for the next thirty counties, and one each for the 121 smallest counties.

Population statistics show that Echols County has only a fraction of the number of voters that are in Fowler's home county. The ratio spreads to 99-to-1 when Echols and Fulton are compared.

Several other states already have been forced to change their House and Senate membership, so that both represent population.

Meanwhile, Georgia legal experts said that the case handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court Monday requiring congressional redistricting obviously would also apply to legislative reapportionment in Georgia.

A suit currently is pending in federal court here which would require the House to be put on a population basis. That same suit already has required Senate redistricting to give urban counties a larger voice in government.

See Statement

Politics and People

At 1. Const

Smaller Counties March Into Trap

2-22-64

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

"We're just building a record, very quietly, for the courts," a city official said the other day. "Then we will have to go into a complete suit on reapportionment of the Georgia House."

The record now is complete. The suit will be filed shortly. The House itself has produced the best possible testimony to lose the small counties some representatives.

Reg Murphy

Following Rep. Denmark Groover of Bibb, as it had in the heyday of former Gov. Marvin Griffin, the House voted to try to get its largest concentration of population again Thursday.

Legislators who for five weeks had been building the record against themselves thus led themselves straight into the trap laid so patiently and well by the cities.

Comment and Analysis

At this session alone, the House has amassed the following testimony for reapportionment:

Killed financial aid bills and amendments that would have helped cities, as counties now are helped.

Stopped bills that would have allowed cities to contract for roads, just as counties now do.

Shouted down a uniform law in effect in many states that would have allowed annexation in the event of heavy growth just outside cities.

And others, including the congressional redistricting vote Thursday.

There is, to be sure, a suit still pending in federal court here asking House reapportionment to give the largest county a better than 99-to-1 equalization with the smallest.

That suit could be revived, and may be, but an entirely separate one is being prepared by city officials.

It must be said in behalf of the House as it presently is constituted, however, that it is consistent. Anything cities want, it kills.

Groover, who was the floor leader for Griffin, is a good lawyer. One cannot help but wonder whether he was aware of the suits.

There will be denials in the House that the courts have anything to do with House membership. "That's geography," they will insist.

The ones who have kept up will know better. They will know that a federal court in Oklahoma not only has ordered both House and Senate onto a population basis, but has drawn the districts for them.

The courts have said that Delaware and Connecticut must redistrict both houses of the Legislature to be responsive to urban population.

In Illinois, over 160 legislators are running at large because the State Supreme Court said they would have to be elected by people, of a relatively equal number.

Remember that when the screams arise, and just remember that the Georgia House's best informed men know precisely what sort of record they were building.

Ga. Statewide

Redistricting Approved By Georgia Solons

Atl. World 2-23-64

Georgia legislators and political observers Saturday not only saw the new state redistricting plan a fair compromise with those who had opposed previous proposals but also felt confident it was satisfactory enough to damper any court action.

The General Assembly came up with the new district arrangement barely minutes before the 1964 session officially ended. As a matter of fact backers of Gov. Sanders are accused of having unplugged the clock in the House to stretch time in approving the plan, then plugging it in again to head off further talk.

Rep. Denmark Groover, one of the chief challengers of previous redistricting plans, indicated Saturday he was willing to go along with the passed bill and not go into court. Gov. Sanders had issured a strong directive for the legislators to come up with an approiate redistricting plan before the session ended.

The new plan creates 10 congressional districts of 400,000 each, however at least on district... the 6th may have over 455,000. The new plan will add a Representive each for Fulton and DeKalb Counties, rather than one combined.

The legslature also passed a prison reform package of bills which will mean freedom for 200 to 400 convicts throughout the state who are termed accidental victims of a system now being changed.

Ga. Statewide

Statistics, Ga. Statewide Posit

LEGISLATURE APPROVED THIS REVISION OF CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS
Atlanta's Metropolitan Area Gets Two Congressmen for First Time in History

PRESENT SITUATION CONCERNING STATE'S CONGRESSSIONAL DISTRICTS
Note That District 5 Includes Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale Counties

Now Weltner Won't Run Alone

By WILLIAM O. SMITH

Two congressmen who must be concerned with the problems of downtown Atlanta and its fringe areas were spawned by the redistricting plan approved by the General Assembly Saturday minutes after midnight.

Fulton, DeKalb and Rocckdale —the present 5th District—were given two congressmen. Both will serve sections of the general downtown Atlanta area.

Fifth District Congressman Charles Weltner keeps most of downtown Atlanta, but the new DeKalb congressman will get such a large slice of the city that he, too, must be receptive to its needs.

All of the 36th and parts of the 35th and 37th Senatorial District will go into the DeKalb district. This is a change from earlier plans which would have attached two complete districts to DeKalb.

SOME OF the Atlanta landmarks or areas going to DeKalb include Broadview Plaza, the Morningside residential area, Grant Park, Federal Penitentiary, Ponce de Leon Park, Grady Hospital, Georgia Baptist Hospital, Carver Homes Housing project, and the State Archives Building under construction.

Border landmarks or areas remaining in the 5th are Lenox Square, Piedmont Park, Municipal Auditorium, Atlanta Police Station, the Ansley Park residential area and the new stadium to be constructed behind the State Capitol.

The new City Auditorium to be constructed in Buttermilk Bottom will straddle the line.

Fulton Rep. Jack Paul Etheridge, who drew the lines for separating the new 4th and 5th, explained Saturday they were split to keep central downtown Atlanta in Weltner's district.

IF THE ENTIRE 37th Senatorial District had gone to DeKalb, all of downtown Atlanta west of a line parallel with Spring Street, north of the railroad line just south of Marietta Street and south of 10th Street would have been in the new district.

This would have placed the Old Post Office Department location of Mr. Weltner's office in Atlanta, and most banking establishments as well as businesses in the heart of the city, in the DeKalb district.

To keep this from happening, all Atlanta property west of Butler Street and in a general straight line from the end of Butler to 10th Street was retained in the 5th.

The only section of the 35th tacked onto the new 4th is a four-block area southeast of the Capitol comprised mainly of the Capitol Homes Housing Project.

A PLAN DRAFTED by the joint congressional redistricting committee headed by Sen. Julian Webb of Donalsonville would have placed the State Captiol, Atlanta City Hall and Fulton Courthouse in the DeKalb District. A move was under way to change this when the plan was discarded.

The redistricting plan adopted, which was drafted late Friday by Fulton Sen. Frank Coggin except for the Fulton-DeKalb separations, places Rockdale in the 4th with DeKalb. Most other plans had Rockdale in some other district.

The present 5th District of Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale is the second largest in the nation with 823,000 population. The 5th now will have 398,763 people, while the 4th will have 424,917.

SEN. COGGIN said Saturday he finished drafting his plan, which was approved just as he outlined it, about 5:30 Friday afternoon.

He worked alone in the meeting room of the Senate Rules Committee adjacent to the lieutenant governor's office while the Senate was in executive session confirming appointments of the governor.

Sen. Coggin had been on a conference committee that was making no headway all day and ultimately had deadlocked on a 3-3 vote. He decided to draft a plan of his own and submit it for consideration.

Guidelines proposed during weeks of debate, testimony given by legislators at a hurry-up public meeting at mid-day Friday and other factors such as trade areas, compatibility of one county to another, growth pattern and economic patterns of certain counties were all considered, he explained.

THESE GUIDELINES were followed:

—Two congressmen for Atlanta and Fulton.

—Divide Columbus and Macon, the state's fourth and fifth largest cities.

—Keep incumbent congressmen from having to oppose each other.

—Give the coastal area two congressmen, with Glynn and Chatham counties separated.

—Allow each of the state's largest cities to be the metropolitan center of a congressional district.

—Draft a plan as equitable to everyone as possible.

ONE CRITICISM evoked by the plan is the disparity in population. The new districts range in size from 329,738 in the 9th to 455,575 in the 6th.

Many legislators thought the population tolerance should have been narrower. But Sen. Coggin said he drafted the plan with trade areas and growth patterns in mind as much as equal population and felt he arrived at the most satisfactory plan for the most lawmakers.

"I know it was impossible to satisfy everyone and keep anyone from getting hurt," he said, adding the plan "must have been close to what everybody wanted" because it passed both houses easily — the Senate at 11:58 p.m., the House at 12:11 a.m. Saturday.

Sen. Coggin's committee did not consider the plan, but when a new conference committee was appointed just after 11 p.m., he handed it to the new members and asked that they consider it.

The committee accepted it unanimously and within an hour it had cleared both houses to end a task that had been under way almost a year.

The Fulton Republicans Met Successfully An Important Test Here Saturday

Atl. World 2-23-64

We are glad over the fact that the top leadership in the Fulton County Republican organization and some of its state leadership as well successfully met here Saturday a challenge to the G.O.P. future growth in the county.

The meeting partially confirmed what was announced a few days previously "that an accord had been reached" between the regulars and a more conservative group over the official leadership of the county organization. The main test came over the question of the temporary chairman who would preside over the session. Atty. Randolph Thrower, county chairman, whose term expired with the beginning of the session, and head of the liberal forces of the G.O.P. decisively beat conservative Shorty R. L. Doyal 853 to 414 votes for the temporary chairmanship. The Negro delegates solidly supported the Thrower leadership.

Also on the questions of permanent county officials and delegates to the district and state conventions which are to be held later there was no serious disagreement.

However on another important test vote, the conservatives won the vote to commit the county delegates to the district and state conventions to support delegates to the national convention committed to the nomination of Senator Goldwater for the President. Only the district and state conventions actually name delegates to the national convention.

With a total of 1486 Fulton Republicans registered for the meeting, it marked the largest gathering of Republicans to a single meeting in the entire history of the Party in the state. This shows definite progress and we think this is healthy and in the interest of better and more just government in meeting the racial and other local issues.

Our racial group had appropriate representation in the discussions and in the selection of officers and delegates. This is in keeping with the tradition of the G.O.P. in this state and at the national level. Continued recognition of this principle, the Republicans can expect continued growth.

Sa. Statewide

"Regular" Republicans Maintain Control Of Fulton County Group

Atl. Jnl. 2-2-64

Powell Named Secretary; Negroes For Rockefeller

By STANLEY S. SCOTT

An expected split between "regular" Republicans and pro-Goldwater forces was possibly averted at the Fulton County Convention Saturday when a slate of party stalwarts were elected to office without opposition.

However, the Fulton County Republican Convention, after stiff opposition, adopted a resolution directing that delegates to the National convention in San Francisco cast their votes for Sen. Barry Goldwater as the presidential nominee on each ballot until released by the senator.

The GOP convention held at the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium attracted 1,486 registered delegates, said to be the largest gathering in the history of the party.

OFFSET GOLDWATER

It was well-known that the large number of Negroes who attended the usually integrated convention, were not satisfied with the 704 to 457 vote calling for Fulton County delegates to district convention to commit their votes to Sen. Goldwater, who has thus far espoused a state's rights campaign philosophy.

Negroes polled at the convention indicated strong backing for another announced Republican candidate—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

A resolution offered by Atlanta's John H. Calhoun and approved by the convention is expected to help the force of committed delegates to the national convention.

The Calhoun resolution called for the Fulton County Republican Party to support the decisions of the local party and the 1964 convention. The resolution backers expressed the hope that Sen. Goldwater's candidacy would not be accepted at the national convention in July and the delegates would have no alternative but to shift to Gov. Rockefeller.

COMMITTED DELEGATES

Speaking on the issue of committed delegates for Goldwater, T. M. Alexander, Sr., local Negro insurance executive, told the convention: "Sen. Goldwater's name has been associated with individuals and groups, considered by my race to be anti-Negro. He unfortunately gives the impression that he is not concerned with the aims and aspirations of the Negro people and does not understand the basic frustrations, fears and doubts that are troubling a great many of the white people and Negro people regarding the racial issue."

"It is no secret," Alexander continued, "that a majority of Negro Republicans and Democrats would favor Gov. Rockefeller."

Former Republican National Committeeman from Georgia, Robert Snodgrass, took the platform and urged the convention to give the delegates to the national convention, the "freedom to represent you and me."

He said that the most important issue that pops up in the GOP ranks, is (1) Deciding on a Republican candidate for president every four years and backing him to victory, and (2) the building of a two-party system in the State of Georgia to represent all the people "which the Democratic party has not done."

Other prominent Republicans urging that the delegates be uncommitted, included. Ald. Rodney Cook and Richard Freeman, Sen.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

(Continued from Page One)

Dan MacIntyre, S. Jarvin Levison.

"ALIEN, EXTREME"

R. L. (Shorty- Doyle, former Fulton ounty Commissioner, and said to represent the "alien and extreme" element of the convention, led the fight for committed delegates for Sen. Goldwater.

"I have been labeled by the Atlanta press as an extremist . . . I am, I believe in constitutional government . . . state's rights," Doyle told the cheering Goldwater banner wavers.

A floor fight developed, as expected, over the temporary chairmanship of the convention Fulton County Chairman Randolph Thrower finally won out in a vote that pitted him against Doyle. The issue was resolved after bitter debate which saw one delegate almost ejected from the convention by policemen, and a vote of 853 to 414 in Thrower's favor.

Mr. Thrower, who had announced his intention of resigning his post prior to the heated convention, is regarded as a highly respected member of the "regular" Republican faction.

TWO-PARTY GROWTH

An Atlanta police officer on duty at the convention commented on the usually large turnout of delegates, saying: "I can remember twenty years ago when there were only a handful of participants, but you had Negroes attending then."

The Republican Party has traditionally been an integrated party in Georgia. The Democratic Party, last year, opened its ranks to some Negro citizens.

Republicans, regardless of differences, were saying, following the closing speeches, that the show of so many faces definitely represented a growth in this area in the drive for two-party politics.

Persons elected to head the Republican Party in Fulton County for the next four years included: Don Whittemore, chairman. Julian LeCraw, first vice chairman; Mrs. Douglas (June) Smith, Oscar Persons, Dr. Lee Shelton, George C. Callahan, Mrs. Earl (Nancy) Geiger, vice chairmen.

Others elected were: Walter Dobbins, finance chairman. Mrs. J. B. (Nan) Pendergrast, public relations counsel; Dr. C. Clayton Powell, secretary; Mrs. J. W. E. Bowen, assistant secretary; Charles West, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Ferst, assistant treasurer; Mike Eagan, general counsel.

Persons named to the Fulton County District Committees included: Sid B. Avery, Scott Walters, Jr., J. Edward Singley, Jr., Robert H. Harris, Louis R. Cavuoti, James T. Stacey, John H. Calhoun, Richard Freeman, Q. V. Williamson, Clayton R. Yates, Jeff Watts, Miss Gene Witherspoon, Dan MacIntyre, Rodney Cook.

Some of the Negroes named to serve on the 37-member GOP Executive Committee were: Milton J. White, Rev. T. J. Flanagan, Rev. A. S. Dickerson, Mrs. Evelyn Frazier, Dr Horace Mann Bond, Mrs. J. B. Harris, C. A. Scott, Rev. C. D. Colbert

Georgia Politics

WOOD COMMONWEALTH, GREENWOOD, MISS. FRIDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 16, 1962

ramed Negro Warns Against Demonstrations

We're indebted to Mrs. Sanders Armstrong for bringing us the following report which was first printed in the Albany, Ga., Herald on February 6. It was written by a prominent government and military figure who is a Negro. He is Major Hughes Alonzo Robinson who now makes his home in Fort Valley, Ga. He is a retired army officer, educator and industrial executive. Feeling that his people were being led into unproductive paths by current agitators, he was moved to write the following article.

* * *

By Major. Tughes Alonzo Robinson

During December and January I visited the principal metropolitan areas of the Eastern Seaboard, including Boston, Providence, New Haven, Hartford, New York, Newwark, Wilmington, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Charlotte, Charleston and Columbia, Savannah, Jacksonville and Miami in addition to the principal cities of Georgia throughout the interior. My finds convince me more than ever that demonstrations sponsored by the Southern Leadership Conference (Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head), the Congress of Racial Equality (James M. Farmer, national director); the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (James Foreman, executive secretary, and John Lewis, chairman) are doing much more harm to the progress of the Negro people in the United States than they are doing good. They are making conditions 100 per cent more difficult to change or compromise.

The Negroes have lost, due primarily to sit-in demonstrations, goodwill of the white citizen in every section of the country, and especially in the large metropolitan areas of the country.

Many young Negroes have been encouraged by the racial elements who head up the organizations to demonstrate a hostile attitude toward many white people, even those of their employers. By reason of their attitude in this regard, some 550,000 jobs have been given to others that usually are held by Negroes. This group being unqualified for other positions in any area of employment, it finds itself among the unemployed. Some have gone so far lions of people. The Negro could have, with the money spent on pleasure alone, accomplished just as much had he utilized his brains for advancement rather than spent all of his time agitating against the other racial groups for what the Negroes themselves failed to do.

"Waste of Time"

The agitation about schools, hotels, motels and public accomodations is a waste of time. You cannot legislate the mind and heart of men. Individualism must not be permitted to be destroyed by agitators.

If the agitators and demagogues really want to help the Negro people, let them stop their agitating against other racial groups and get the Negroes to improve their living habits, their sanitation, clean up their homes and backyards, reduce their habitual sex relations wherein excessive babies are born in families where there is insufficient financial arrangements provided for them, and sponsor a program to expose the exploitation of teachers in our elementary and secondary schools.

So long as there are these conditions, the Negro agitators cannot, in good conscience, agitate against any other matter whatsoever. The Negro agitators ignore entirely the basic need of the Negro people. I find thousands of young men right here in Georgia too lazy to work; they spend their time in activities that no man with ambition would spend as much as one minute. Thousands of young women have babies by different fathers, and bring them into the world for others to support. Until such time as this type of activity ceases, the integration leaders have sufficient work to do within their own race without going out agitating against another race. What the Negro needs is a different type of leadership than those now heading up such organizations as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Congress of Racial Equality, the Student Non Violent Coordinating Committee, the National Urban League, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"Kiss of Death"

The endorsement of any potential candidate for high office by any one of the above named groups will al-

Georgia Statewide

as to argue with employers about their rights which they know nothing about, and the type of privileges that do not exist.

The sit-in demonstrations are costing the Negroes approximately $1.5 billion annually at the present time. It is true that sit-in demonstrations won a few battles and the privileges of eating and sleeping in places denied them previously; however, privileges with no money to pay for them are worthless.

Consumers, Not Producers

During the past 100 years the Negroes have been consumers, and not producers. They are not in position to hire one another. They failed to organize business as other racial groups, and used their money for good times — on pleasure and liquor. Now they place blame on white citizens for their failures and for their laziness.

Many of the leading politicians are under the erroneous impression that the professional agitators represent the majority of the Negroes in the United States. The contrary is true; they represent only about 5 per cent of the Negroes, and this 5 per cent, for the most part, are those with extreme views on racial matters, and usually left-wingers.

Demonstrators have greatly deceased the earning power of the Negroes in the United States, and they have provided no outlet for employment; they are responsible for those being out of work.

The integration leaders advance the view that the Negroes have been deprived of so much of their liberties in the past the country now owes them a living. Yet many other racial groups have among them men and women who, say as recently as 25 years ago, were without money and without work, and now control large industrial concerns employing mil-most make certain his defeat in 1964, regardless of party label. The bloc votes of the Negro will drive other racial groups on the opposite side of the political fence, and no one will be so ignorant as to believe 90 per cent of the population will lose in competition with 10 per cent of the same population.

The campaign to register Negro voters is a waste of time; there should be campaigns to register voters, period. The registering of Negro voters send out immediately five new white voters to every Negro voter who was not previously registered. The integration leaders seem to be too ignorant to understand how politics works.

In general, the Negro people would be 150 per cent better off if the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Congress of Racial Equality, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the Urban League ceased all activities within the United States and moved their leadership and their headquarters to some other countries whose racial elements also thrive on propaganda and agitation.

(Continued From Page Eight)

One thing is certain: These groups or organizations are certainly doing the American Negroes more harm than good. They are creating a potential wall between the whites and the blacks in all section of United States, and the ill-will resulting therefrom is depriving the Negroes of jobs that they otherwise would hold.

It is my view that the Negroes in the United States would have been 70 per cent further advanced had not any of the above organizations ever existed. A continuous flow of agitation throughout the year is bad and makes for resentment and suspicion. Confidence between members of one race is reduced and confusion results.

Advance by Merit

During my entire period of existence, I have never associated myself with any group that agitates against some other racial group, and yet I find myself holding positions of importance in the Federal Government, in State Government, and in private interests for a long period of years. All employment and public accommodations are individual matters, be determined on [illegible]. Under this philosophy every individual, regardless of race, has equal opportunity to advance. Without initiative and without preparations, the individual meets with keen competition.

The courts should not permit violence or delay or deceit of the law by the racial agitators. Without law and obedience to its rule, neither the city, nor the state, nor the nation can lon survive. The citizen's obligation to obey the law cannot be modified by an election or by his personal preference because the law exists to protect all and not just some minority group. Ultimatums by integration leaders and others have done much to destroy patriotic citizenship among the youth of the land. The demonstrations have created a surge of antagonism against Negroes that is really appalling. There is now much resentment and bitterness among whites in all sections of the United States and there is much turmoil.

The cordial relationship which existed between the races in many areas has been destroyed by the racial elements with extreme views to the left. Demonstrations are usually in the form of intimidation. The competent are to be told to make room for the incompetent. They seek to replace the private enterprise system with a public enterprise system. This is anti - United States.

As the incentive of individualism is gradually destroyed, free enterprise will be abolished. This is not the road to happiness, but to the same disasters that befell autocracies in the past centuries. Free men of intelligence have risen before to quell the intolerance and tyrannies of minorities as well as majorities. They will in time do so again.

Atl. Journal

DeKalb Lists Sign-Up Sites In Vote Drive

3/5/64

Ga. Statewide

The DeKalb County registrar's office has released a schedule for neighborhood voter registration in a continuing program which has added at least 6,000 new voters to the list during the last four months of 1963.

To be eligible to register, a prospective voter must be 18 years old before the next general election (Nov. 3), and must have lived in DeKalb for six months and in Georgia for a year.

The schedule for the month of March and April by the community is: Lithonia, first Wednesday, scout hut, Lithonia; Doraville, second Tuesday, Community Center, Park Avenue, Doraville; East Atlanta, second Friday, Leslie J. Steele School, 2162 Second Ave., SE; Brownings, third Monday, Fire Station No. 5, 4013 Lawrenceville Highway, Tucker; Panthersville, third Tuesday, Fire Station No. 6, 2522 McAfee Road; Clarkston, third Friday, Fire Station No. 9, 2559 Lawrenceville Highway; Edgewood, fourth Monday, Candler Park Civic Club, Candler Park Drive, NE; Evans, fourth Tuesday, Mountain View Civic Club, Redan Road and Cross Keys; fourth Friday, Fire Station No. 4, 5472 Peachtree Road, Chamblee.

The voter registration desks in the areas listed will be open from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the days mentioned.

To serve Decatur, the registrar's office in the DeKalb Building will remain open until 8 p.m. each Thursday. Regular hours there are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

The Atl. Journal

NEGROES ON PANEL, DEKALB GOP SAYS

3/5/64

Ga. Statewide

DeKalb County's new Republican chairman, Ed Manget, has pointed out, in response to a request that he use his influence to add more Negroes to the county executive committee, that there are two Negroes among the 46-member committee now.

Howard R. Cramer, a member of the DeKalb Republican Advisory Committee, last week wrote Mr. Manget that he wanted to "urge, almost beg, you to take advantage of what appointive powers and influence you have as chairman . . . to correct this oversight," referring to his belief that there was only one Negro on the committee.

"I am certain that you would not wish our Democrat opponents in the coming election campaigns to be able to call our candidates racists, even though by default," Mr. Cramer said.

IN REPLY to a question, Mr. Manget said Wednesday that Mr. Cramer's figure was wrong, that there are two Negroes on the committee.

"We are just getting organized," Mr. Manget said. "If we need to add (members to the committee), we will in the future." He said any additions would be before the Republican National Convention next summer.

"Some areas are not too well represented on a geographical basis," he said, mentioning specifically the Skyland section near Chamblee. There are probably not many Negro Republicans living in that area, he admitted.

MR. MANGET said in response to Mr. Cramer's other point, that he believed there were no Negroes at all on the DeKalb Democratic Executive Committee.

He indicated he felt that DeKalb Republicans compared as well or better to county Democrats in such matters of racial representation.

Atl. Const 3-6-64

'Votomatic' Utilizes IBM-Type Cards and Stylus

NO MORE LONG LINES?

Votomatic Gives Mr. Voter a Break

By JACK STRONG

The end of the long line for Fulton County voters may be in sight if tests of a portable vote recorder prove successful here and in DeKalb County.

DeKalb may well provide the first critical evaluation of the briefcase-sized "Votomatic" developed by a professor of political science at the University of California.

Fulton and DeKalb can use the devices because they have sophisticated data processing plants which can count and assess the election information which voters will punch onto IBM-type cards, using the recorder and a simple stylus.

BIG SAVINGS PREDICTED

Fulton County Manager Alan F. Kiepper and the county commissioners are hopeful that early tests of the device will prove successful because if they are the county can affect sizeable savings through using the recorders rather than the heavy and relatively expensive voting machines now in use.

The larger voting machines, of which Fulton County has 381, cost about $1,745 apiece. The county has set aside $125,000 for purchase of at least 70 more machines this year to relieve the standing lines at polls which caused some people to wait two hours in order to vote during 1962 elections.

The recorders cost about $100 apiece and an estimated 600 could more than adequately handle the 200,000 voters who are expected to be registered by the time of the primary elections this fall.

In using the device the voter inserts a computer card into it and punches out the card beside the candidates listed on the side of the recorder. If the card is not correctly inserted the vote cannot be cast.

300 ARE ORDERED

DeKalb has already ordered 300 of the first-production models scheduled to come off the assembly line in March. Fulton will ask for about 50.

Fulton Democratic Executive Secretary Neill Leach listed 12 objections to the devices and the card-punch method of election in a report to Fulton Ordinary Eugene Gunby, but Votomatic representatives feel they have answered the objections.

Leach, the legal attorney for distributors of the mechanical voting machines now being used by the county, said that voters might accidentally punch out holes representing names of two candidates invalidating their vote in that race. He raises questions about recounts and time consuming counting of write-in candidates.

Ga
Statewide

Atl. Const.
3-7-64

Districting Ruled Valid By Cook

The midnight clock-stopping incident in the Georgia Legislature when a congressional redistricting bill was passed would not invalidate the measure, Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook ruled Friday.

Cook pointed out that "Sen. Culver Kidd has raised the question" as to the constitutionality of the bill because of the fact that the clocks in the House and Senate were stopped prior to midnight and final action was not taken until after midnight of the final day of the session.

Cook said in a letter to Gov. Carl Sanders that inasmuch as the needed steps to authenticate the bill had been taken, "it follows that the courts of this state will not look beyond those steps to establish by extrinsic evidence that the bill was not passed within the prescribed time."

The attorney general said Sen. Kidd cited a West Virginia case to support his contention of unconstitutionality. Cook, however, pointed out that in that case "the records of the Legislature were replete with evidence that the clock in the legislative chamber had been stopped but that the watches of numerous members showed the time to be well after midnight."

Cook added there was "no equivocation or ambiguity whatever" in Georgia's legislative journal, that it stated simply that the House and Senate adjourned at 11:59 p.m.

Cong. Statewide

SELLING POINT

Atl. Const. 3-8-64

It Is Astonishing to Her That We Must Be Reminded to Vote

By CELESTINE SIBLEY

THE LIGHTS were on in a country school house out our way the other night and when I inquired I learned the reason. Voter registration. The registrars are going where the people are to get their names on the voting lists.

Every morning on the way to town we listen to the radio and when we switch to the Negro station, WERD, there's one message we're sure to hear: Register to vote.

Celestine Sibley's column appears regularly in the daily Atlanta Constitution.

The astonishing thing is that we have to be sold on the idea — or even reminded.

During the General Assembly some of the people who appeared at a public hearing on the election code explained that our methods of registering voters vary from county to county. In some counties where they're nervous about getting too many Negroes voting they can create as many stumbling blocks as they want to.

TO VOTE

One of the best is to call on an ignorant Negro field hand, who is clearly qualified to state whether he wants John Jones or Jim Smith for county commissioner, to perform feats of erudition that would stump the local college president.

It's presumptuous for one whose voting right was easy and automatic to try to say what it means to have to fight for the right to vote. But sometimes it seems to me the Negroes are fortunate to have to win and re-win the battle in registration offices over the land.

For as long as they remember the fight they will not hold their voting privilege lightly.

It's the same with women. Older ones who remember the battles of Woman's Suffrage are less casual about voting than their daughters who take the right to vote in the same spirit as the right to wear lipstick and high heels.

SOLD

Most of us are so far removed from the urgent, liberty - or - death furors that raged over the ballot that we wouldn't vote at all unless somebody made it stylish.

We have to be sold on exercising this democratic freedom in almost precisely the way we are sold a new shampoo or a diet food.

An old mountain woman told me one time that her pa came in "from Ca'lina" with a wagon train of settlers and the first thing he did when he had raised a crude cabin with rock chimney and planted a garden patch was to walk into the county seat 30 miles away to register to vote.

"We had a team of oxen," she said, "but they was needed at home to work. Walking wasn't any trouble to Pa and voting was his pride and pleasure."

Nowadays we're such a bunch of silly softies even with cars and paved roads we have to have the registrars come to us.

Next thing you know we won't cast a ballot unless it comes pre-marked and quick frozen.

Ga.

Statewide

Atl. World 3-10-64

On Reapportionment . . .

Wesberry Calls For "One Man-One Vote"

"One Man-One Vote" must be accepted in Georgia in place of the old "One County-One Vote" concept, Senator James P. Wesberry, Jr., told members of the LaGrange Optimist Club Monday. The hardest part of further legislative reapportionment, which Wesberry described as "coming faster than 1965," will be the acceptance by many small counties of the fact that they are "simply not big enough to deserve a single representative."

"In fact," Wesberry added, "most of Georgia's small Counties are not even big enough to deserve a county."

"The greatest impediment to county consolidation in Georgia is the outdated constitutional guarantee of at least one House member per county," Wesberry told the Optimists meeting at the Colonial Hotel in LaGrange, 'No two canuties are going to even think about consolidation when it means loss of a representative. Until this is remedied there will be no county consolidation in Georgia," Wesberry predicted.

"The impending reapportionment of the Georgia House will unlock the door to county consolidation and to responsible local government in Georgia." Wesberry belives that decisions will be handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court in five pending cases involving legislative reapportionment in other states which will require revamping the Georgia House this year.

On the subject of urban domination of the legislature if both houses are apportioned according to population Wesberry observed that in the newly reapportioned Senate during his two year's service he could not recall one single controversial vote when all the Senators representing urban areas voted together.

DELEGATION SPLIT

"The Fulton County Senate Delegation was split on almost every vote taken in the Senate", said Wesberry. "If Atlanta's central county representatives don't vote together, how can there be a great danger of urban domination?" Wesberry pointed out that in the Illinois House in 1957, just after reapportionment had given the Chicago-Cook County area a majority in the House, disagreement within the delegation from the Chicago metropolitan area occurred more frequently than any other disagreement in that legislature. "Reapportionment of the Georgia House may not be the blessing to the urban areas. Some expect it to be," said Wesberry, "but it is right—it is just—it is just—and it is going to happen." "The State has no authority to classify people according to where they live—urban or rural areas—the type of work they do—laborer or banker—the type of education they have had—high school or college graduate—and to authorize such classes to elect representatives to the State legislature in such a manner as to permit the vote of the member of any such class to have weight in the election of State legislators than the members of any other class. Thus population is the only fair method of apportionment."

Wesberry concluded by saying that he had considered making some comments about primary election policies in some counties and the fact that "some persons convicted of violating the law have been allowed to qualify to seek public office"; however, upon remembering that "two members of the Atlanta Board of Alderman who have also been similarly convicted still hold public office," Senator Wesberry said, "I deem it inapproprate to make any comment and must hang my head in shame for my city and the public shame brought upon it."

"The situation might be summed up as follows," said Wesberry:

"The tallest tale has now been told
By those who are so very bold
As to say that their law breaking Qualifies them for our law making."

Ga. Politics

DeKalb Plans to Buy 300 Voting Machines

The DeKalb County Commission voted Tuesday to buy 300 voting machines—the type which will utilize the county's data-processing equipment to count the ballots.

The new machines, the Harris Votomatic, cost about $100 each, as compared to the conventional voting machines cost of $1,800.

Ordinary Mrs. Katherine Mann requested 68 additional old-style voting machines for this fall's elections. However, she and the Democratic and Republican executive committees in the county have approved the new machines.

The machine was placed on the market this year and weighs about five pounds.

Commission Chairman C. O. Emmerich said an educational program to acquaint the people with the machines will begin as soon as possible. He said the new machines do not require as much storage space as the old-style machines, and can be transported to and from precincts with relatively little effort.

Flour Storm

LONDON (UPI) — A small "snowstorm" swirled through central London Tuesday when 50 bags of flour fell from a truck and broke open.

Ga.
Statewide

Atl. Const. 3-11-64

Sanders to Push New Vote Code

Gov. Carl Sanders definitely will include the revision of Georgia's election laws code in his call for a special session of the Legislature in May, a reliable source said Tuesday.

The governor already has said the session will deal with revision of the present antiquated state constitution.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer said Tuesday he could see "no objection" to the Legislature working on the election laws code at the May session.

Geer felt there might be a lot of "lost motion" if the Legislature had only one general bill to work on, pointing out that either the House or Senate would be twiddling its thumbs waiting for the other to complete action on the constitution measure.

There was also a report Tuesday that Gov. Sanders may decide to appoint a special committee made up of House and Senate members to take another look at the proposed election laws code between now and May.

The proposed code was introduced at the last session but was never acted upon because of the last-minute pile-up of other matters. It was put in final form by a study committee headed by Secretary of State Ben Fortson.

There was some earlier speculation that the elections bill would be delayed until next January. However, Sanders now has decided not to wait until then.

A source close to the governor's office said the revision of the elections code and state constitution may be two of the most controversial measures to come before the Legislature during the Sanders administration.

Part of the election law code already is being attacked by state Democratic Party Secretary George Stewart as a "monstrosity." Stewart referred to the section which would allow the secretary of state to take over the handling of a primary or general election in a county where it appeared the possibility of vote frauds or other irregularities existed.

Gov. Sanders indicated he likely will announce the opening date of the special session at a press conference Friday morning. He is expected to meet Thursday with House Speaker George T. Smith and Geer to discuss the date.

Ga. Politics

Sen. Salome Says: Atl. Daily World 3/12/64, p. 1

Negro Struggle Has Aided Other Groups

By WILLIAM A. FOWLKES
(Managing Editor, Atlanta Daily World)

"The valiant struggle of the Negro to overcome the disabilities brought about by unfair administration of the law has worked to the benefit of many groups other than the Negro race."

Thus declared State Senator Joe Salome, of the 36th District, Wednesday in his address to the Butler St. YMCA Hungry Club luncheon forum.

"The advance of your people," he continued, "has at the same time brought with it the secondary advance of all peoples considered as minorities. The Negro, the Catholic, the Jew and the foreigner in days gone by stood each alone in the singular solitude of that minorial position. But today, thanks to the unending efforts of your quest for justice, those divided minorities of yesterday are the majority of today."

COMPARES "FIRSTS"

Mr. Salome, who is of Lebanese extraction, pointed out that he was the first person of Syrian descendency ever to sit in the Georgia tee.

(Continued On Page 4, Col 4)

to which my own father, an orphan boy of fifteen, travelled alone, thousands of miles, in his thirst for freedom, that this country will become a place where the only important race is the human race, an the only creed that of the brotherhood of man."

The 36th District solon reported on the recent session of the Georgia General Assembly, calling it a progressive legislature with the passage of congressional re-districting, education, prison reform, uniform code on administrative law and procedure, health, state scholarship and sheriff's salary bills among others. He pointed out that the General Assembly has been called to meet in May to complete constitutional revision.

It was Sen. Salome's opinion that 'a new breed of young men" are in Georgia's Senate, accounting for much of the progressive atmosphere and legislation on Capitol Hill He said that some Assembly members may be "definitely burdened by the

Georgia Politics

Negro Struggle

(Continued from Page One)

General Assembly, which he compared with the significance of the election of Senator Leroy Johnson, the first Negro, in 90 years.

"I earnestly pray," the speaker declared, "that in my lifetime in this country of America, a country to which my own father, an orphan boy of fifteen, travelled alone, thousands of miles, in his thirst for freedom, that this country will become a place where the only important race is the human race, an the only creed that of the brotherhood of man."

The 36th District solon reported on the recent session of the Georgia General Assembly, calling it a progressive legislature with the passage of congressional re-districting, education, prison reform, uniform code on administrative law and procedure, health, state scholarship and sheriff's salary bills among others. He pointed out that the General Assembly has been called to meet in May to complete constitutional revision.

It was Sen. Salome's opinion that 'a new breed of young men" are in Georgia's Senate, accounting for much of the progressive atmosphere and legislation on Capitol Hill He said that some Assembly members may be "definitely burdened by the attitudes of the area from which they come." However, he stated that he sensed from many of them the desire to represent all the people, unhampered.

The Hungry Club session was moderated by J. R. Henderson, member of the executive committee.

Georgia Politics

Atl. Const.
3-13-64

Georgia Out Front on Redistricting

When the U.S. Supreme Court issued its decision on congressional redistricting, wheels already were turning in Georgia.

It was a Georgia case and the decision did not catch Georgia by surprise. Redistricting plans already were being prepared.

True, there was some bitter legislative skirmishing after the Supreme Court decision. But in the end, the Legislature adopted a redistricting plan that most Georgians consider fair and acceptable.

This bit of recent history is worth reviewing because it sets Georgia aside from its sister states.

In other states, there is talk of delaying or evading the Supreme Court ruling. But Georgia has accepted the decision gracefully and forthrightly. And Georgia alone has acted to carry out the Supreme Court verdict.

The gap between the largest and the smallest districts under the new plan is not ideal, but it is an immense improvement over what Georgia had before the new districts were drawn.

So for the present at least, it is a workable plan that most parts of the state can live with.

And Georgians and their state leadership are entitled to great credit for leading the way in meeting this fundamental standard of political fair play.

for. Politics

Ga. Pol.

Atl. Const.
3-13-64

Politics and People

Campaigners Are Blossoming All Over

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

The political season is welling faster than the dogwood buds. A few early blossoms:

Reg Murphy

Fulton County Republicans are talking openly now of having September primaries, with real live opposition in some races.

One that might be expected is Atlanta Ald. Rodney Cook running against Dr. John Savage for the congressional nomination. . . . It appears Democratic Rep. Charles Weltner might not have serious primary opposition. . . .

Republicans are banking on getting a full slate of candidates and maximum exposure to help their campaign. . . .

Democratic Rep. Russell Tuten of Brunswick is taking no chances on new counties in his district. He will meet at 8 a.m. Friday with mayors of all towns in Bleckley, Dodge, Ben Hill and Wilcox. . . . Then he speaks at the Dodge County High School, a combined Rotary-Lions meeting in Eastman, jumps to Bleckley, and on Saturday to Ben Hill and Wilcox. . . .

The same reports must have reached his ears and ours: That Mrs. Iris Blitch of Homerville is trying to stage a comeback in the Eighth after a two-year retirement . . .

Comment and Analysis

Talking of Republicans, did you hear the new elephant joke: Harold Stassen . . .

Marshall S. Black of Thomaston has been asking Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook about ways to get petitions together to get Republicans on the ballot. Republican sources say there may be a slate of GOPs in Upson County. One indication of political unrest is that State Rep. Talmadge Echols was beaten in the Democratic primary . . .

State Rep. A. A. Fowler of Douglas is running against an opponent who calls himself a member of the "new breed." Fowler retorts, "I don't guess I qualify as a member of the new breed — like Robert Kennedy and Ivan Allen Jr. And I don't pop galluses like the old breed. Maybe I'm just a member of the pure breed . . ."

No matter what the politicians say, the basic reason they are calling a special legislative session May 4 and not later in the summer is that the House is not air-conditioned . . .

Former Gov. Marvin Griffin confirmed he is a potential candidate for Congress against Rep. J. L. Pilcher. If he doesn't run, former Albany Mayor Asa Kelley will.

Endangered Redistricting Bill Is Law

Columbus Ledger 3/7/64 p. 1

ATLANTA (AP)— The three-week-old congressional redistricting bill became law Friday with the signature of Gov. Carl E. Sanders.

But even as the lefthanded Sanders signed, there was the distinct possibility that the federal courts may knock the measure off the statute books before the ink dries out completely.

Sanders is alive to that possibility and admitted it at a news conference.

"I believe the act can withstand court attacks," Sanders said. "We have passed what is a fair and equitable bill so far as possible. We did it in good faith and I think the courts are going to sustain it—at least, I hope so."

State Sen. James P. Wesberry of Atlanta, co-author of a suit which brought a U.S. Supreme Court decision voiding the 10 old districts, said Friday he may challenge the new law.

He can do it without a new suit because the one in which he won a Supreme Court victory has been returned to a three-judge federal court in Atlanta for further action. The issue is whether the new districts comply with the mandate that they must have equal population.

Ga. Politics

Quitman People Should Speak

As matters now stand, the voters of Quitman County are scheduled to go to the polls on April 2 and select a state representative. Only one name will be on the ballot, however. That will be the name of Joseph Hurst, the incumbent, who qualified to run on Feb. 15.

A potential opponent, George Balkcom was denied entry into the race because the county Democratic committee ruled that qualifying closed on Feb. 17, two days after the primary date was set, and three days before official legal notice of the date was published.

The state Democratic committee has warned that sufficient time was not allowed for qualifying and a hearing has been set today to study the situation.

A mistake was obviously made by the Quitman committee, and it should rectify that mistake by postponing the primary and allowing further qualifications. Otherwise, it will run the risk of judicial intervention or state control of its primaries.

The personalities involved are less important than the principles involved. The people of Quitman County are the proper court to decide the issue. They should speak out forcefully against any attempt to deny them the right of a choice in primaries or elections.

Col. Eng., 3/16/64, p. 4.

Col.

No Revamp for the House

Reapportionment

Enquirer 3-17-64, p. 4.

State Sen. James Wesberry, who brought the suit that resulted in Georgia's congressional redistricting, now thinks the state House of Representatives should be reapportioned on population lines.

On that venture, we can't accompany the young Atlantan, who delights in baiting the "Clyde Clods of Clabber County."

Already, the Georgia House reflects population to some degree, in that the largest counties have three members, the medium-sized have two, and the smallest get but one.

The Senate is organized on strict population lines and the example provided by the U. S. Constitution and the federal Congress is a bicameral legislature that considers both population and geography.

Wesberry argues that "some counties in Georgia just aren't big enough to deserve a representative."

A more precise and correct argument would be that some counties in Georgia are not big enough to be counties. But as long as they are counties, we believe they deserve a representative in the House.

A better solution would be the consolidation of a number of counties. This possibility, long thwarted by various obstacles, looks more encouraging today. Even the County Commissioners Association has recognized the wisdom of consolidating certain services across county lines.

Consolidation is coming. Counties with less than 10,000 population are usually unable to meet the demands asked of local government today. The people will realize this and then force the officials to act.

In the meantime, let's keep our state legislature in shape to represent even those counties that should not exist.

The concept of representative government allows no less.

Ga. Politics

Lt. Govs. Geer, Allen Hold Joint Interview

Georgia Politics

Col. Eng. 3-17-64 p. 7

By BILL LEVY

Lt. Gov. James B. Allen Monday said he is hopeful the Alabama Legislature will "discharge its duty in redistricting the state" at its next session.

With the last redistricting session fresh in mind, however, Allen would not speculate on the mood of the state lawmakers when they return to Montgomery to tackle the problem of drawing new district lines.

The federal courts have ruled the state's present plan of eight Congressmen for nine districts is unconstitutional. The U.S. has threatened to redistrict the state if the legislature fails to do the job within a specified time.

In a visit here for an appearance on WRBL-TV's "At Home With Rozell" show with Georgia Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer, Allen said the 9-8 formula for congressional representation was passed by the legislature as a "stop-gap measure" to keep the courts from intervening immediately.

"What we must do now, is carry out our duty to redistrict the state before the courts get around to doing it for us," he said.

Establishing eight new districts, he said, will be made difficult by the fact that Jefferson County (Birmingham) has "too many citizens for one representative and too few for two."

"None of the surrounding counties desire to have a section of Jefferson in their own district," he said.

According to the 1960 census, Jefferson has 634,864 of Alabama's 3,266,740 residents. It is represented in Congress by one representative, George Huddleston Jr.

The last effort to redistrict the state came when Alabama was forced to give up one Congressman due to a failure to keep pace with the nation's population growth in the 1950s.

Attacking a political front in his state, Geer said he favors a strong home-rule provision for Georgia's local governing bodies.

The home-rule issue is one of several matters the Georgia General Assembly is expected to take up when it meets in a special session in May.

Administration leaders have expressed hope that the legislature will include a local rule provision in a new state constitution.

The provision would allow city and county governing bodies to act directly on certain local matters without carrying special requests to the assembly.

Geer said, meanwhile, that he is opposed to a proposed change in the state's election laws which would give the State Election Commission the authority to determine voter qualifications.

The qualifications for a Georgia voter, said Geer, should be set by the General Assembly.

He said it would be an "abdication of responsiblity" for the General Assembly to turn over to someone else the matter of setting vote qualifications or tests. Furthermore, Geer said he thought it would be unconstitutional for the Assembly to delegate this power to another body.

However, Geer said he believes the problem of voter qualifications can be worked out harmoniously during the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly.

Geer expressed satisfaction with Georgia's new congressional district lines, but said he is opposed to reapportioning the Georgia House of Representatives.

Geer and Allen were interviewed on television by WRBL-TV Reporters Don Nahley and Eleanor Whitelaw.

Col. Ledger, 3/19/64, p. 3B

8 Registrars To Assist Voter Drive

The Columbus Jaycees will sponsor a vote-registration booth again Saturday at Broadway and 12th Street, but this time the booth will be staffed by eight instead of two registrars.

Muscogee County Commission approved the use of eight registrars at its meeting Tuesday. The commissioners previously had authorized only two.

J. R. Allen, Jaycee president, requested the increase after telling the commissioners 160 new voters were registered last Saturday at the same location by two registrars.

However, Allen said, the Jaycees feel an additional 300 to 400 voters could have been registered if there had been more registrars.

He pointed out that anyone who wishes to register at the booth may do so, explaining that each person is given a number and is registered in turn.

Along the same line, County Commission received a request from the Women's Auxiliary of the Muscogee Boosters Club for permission to sponsor a similar booth Saturday on Sixth Avenue at the Masonic Temple.

The commissioners asked the group spokesman to clear the request with the Muscogee Board of Voter Registrars, as the Jaycees did, and they would give the request the same privilege and consideration.

Later, County Commission received a letter asking permission for the Baker Student Council to rent four voting machines for use in its elections April 24 and 28.

The commissioners, who granted the request last year, referred the letter to Dr. William H. Shaw, superintendent of the Muscogee School District for clarification of who would be responsible for transportation of and possible damage to the voting machines.

Ga. Statewide

Countywide Vote Law Attacked in U.S. Court

ATLANTA (AP) — A three-judge federal court was asked Tuesday to throw out as unconstitutional a law providing for election of state senators by a countywide vote in counties having multiple senatorial districts.

The act was approved as an amendment to the constitution in 1962 after reapportionment of the Senate. In reshaping the 54 senatorial districts, 21 were placed in seven of the most populous counties.

Fulton County was allotted seven senators, Chatham and DeKalb three each and Bibb, Cobb, Muscogee and Richmond counties, two each.

Sen. Dan I. MacIntyre of Atlanta and two voters of Fulton and DeKalb Counties, all Republicans, filed suit in federal court. They want senators from multi-district counties elected only by the voters of their respective districts.

C. A. Moye Jr., counsel for the plaintiffs, told the court that the act deprives voters in Fulton and the other multi - district counties of equal protection by diluting their votes.

He argued that 18 per cent of the voters in six Fulton districts could nullify the choice of every voter for senator in the remaining district.

"This results in invidious discrimination against voters in any senatorial district which is comprised of less than an entire county," Moye said. He cited a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court which said once the geographic unit for which a representative is to be chosen is designated, all who take part in the election are to have an equal vote.

Paul Rogers, assistant attorney general, told the court the senatorial election requirement does not devalue a vote in multi-districts.

A brief submitted by the state said the countywide method of electing senators "is rational and intelligible because tstimulates unity and harmony within the senatorial delegation in seeking the attainment of the political goals of the county electorate."

Moye said the larger counties have voters with a variety of interests. He mentioned Democrats, Republicans and Negroes. In a countywide vote, he said, it is possible for 51 per cent of the voters to elect a senator who would represent none of the major segments of a particular district.

Rogers contended that the Fulton County voter has the right to vote for seven senators whereas a rural voter may vote for only one. While the rural voter would have more influence on his single senator, the Fulton voter's aggregate influence upon each of his senators would equal the rural voter's influence upon his single senator.

Both the countywide and district methods were used in special elections following reapportionment. In Fulton County, Judge Durwood Pye ruled countywide vote counting was unconstitutional and MacIntyre won a Senate seat although he failed to carry the county.

The three-judge tribunal, composed of Judge Griffin Bell of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals and district Judges Frank A. Hooper and Lewis R. Morgan, did not indicate when a ruling would be forthcoming.

Ga. Politics

Atl. World 3-19-64

GOPs Ask Ruling Against County Wide Senate Vote

State Senator Dan MacIntyre, state GOP chairman James Dorsey, and J. Edward Manget, a Republican luminary in Decatur, have asked a three-judge federal court panel to rule that county-wide elections of senators in multiple districts is unconstitutional.

Attorney Charles A. Moye, using Fulton County as an example, and citing instances where some senators are elected on a district-wide basis, said this dual method "constitutes the invidious discrimination which is not permitted by the equal protection of the -4th Amendment to the US Constitution."

It was pointed out that counties with multiple districts the electorate could vote for a Senator but their choice could be thwarted by the other districts in the county.

An amendment to the state constitution in 1962 upholds county-wide voting in multi-districts, but the petition filed by the three Republicans has resulted in a word battle between counsel for the petitioners and state assistant Attorney General Paul Rogers.

Rogers contends the county-wide vote does not dilute the vote but would give voters opportunity to vote more than one candidate.

Rogers said multi-district counties usually have political, social, and economic solidarity which warrants county-wide voting, but Moye countered with a difference in nature of district within a county, like rural population, business, and racial population.

Ga. Statewide

Democrats Hold County Meeting

Atl. World 3-20-64

By WILLIAM A. FOWLKES

Negroes were integrated into the organization of Fulton County Democrats Wednesday night for the first time in history.

At the same time, Governor Carl Sanders used the occasion to re-emphasize that Georgia Democrats would "stand solidly" with President Lyndon B. Johnson this fall. He also hit hard Republican candidates Barry Goldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Richard Nixon, Harold Stassen, Gov. Romney and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Among the overflow gathering on the Dinkler-Plaza Roof were many Negroes, who apparently enjoyed the political cracks and the appearance of a live, multi-colored mule, portraying "Mr. Democrat."

The organizational meeting saw the naming of Dr. C. A. Bacote as one of three vice-chairmen, to assist chairman Hamilton Lokey.

Dr. Bacote was named to the Board of Governors as were Warren R. Cochran, Herbert Greene, Senator Leroy Johnson and Judge A. T. Walden. Walter H. Aiken, Mrs. H. C. Hamilton, Dr. Benjamin Mays and Judge Walden were named on the advisory committee.

Atty. Horace T. Ward and Ed Billingsley were named to chairmanships of Wards 3 and 7, respectively, in the organization designed to register and assist in voting citizens of all county precincts.

Bob Clark Jr. and Mrs. Claudia Duffell were the other vice presidents of the Fulton County Democratic Party named, while James H. Moore was elected secretary and Marvin Shoob treasurer.

Committee chairmen for the county include: William Gibson, programs; James Pilcher, speakers bureau; Mrs. Frances Satterfield, research; Chuck Shields, publicity, and Leon Eplan, parliamentarian.

In his speech to the 700-odd assemblage, Gov. Sanders declared: "Georgia's support of President Johnson does not automatically mean full acceptance of each and every proposal . . . We in Georgia recognize his problems . . . The proper forum to work out our differences is within the ranks of the Democratic Party." This was his closest approach to the civil rights controversy.

Referring to some of the announced stands of GOP hopefuls, Gov. Sanders declared he was "not here to seek the abolition of social security or to propose the sale of TVA. I don't advocate withdrawal from the United Nations."

The governor was presented by State Democratic Chairman Sen. Fuqua.

Mrs. Marjorie Thurman, Georgia's national Democratic committeewoman, declared that the evening "marks the beginning of a new era in Georgia politics — the beginning of an all-out Democratic organizational effort in our state." She said that the organization would work the 13-ward divided Fulton County, reaching every block and home.

Ga. Statewide

Atl. Const
3-20-64

People and Politics

Dixie Democrat Has a Young Look

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

The changing shape of the Southern Democrat is going to startle the old pros if and when they ever get around to noticing.

(Actually, they can either take notice now or get beaten in the next election.)

The new shape is as far from the Theodore Bilbo and Pitchfork Ben Tilden models as man still is from the moon.

Reg Murphy

Nowhere was that more clearly evident than at a Fulton County Democratic Party organization meeting here this week.

It was so new that when Gov. Carl Sanders was lambasting the Republican front-runners and somebody in the crowd yelled, "Tell them about it, Carl" — it embarrassed the whole crew.

Comment and Analysis

The crowd was so stylishly modern that it would have pained the oligarchy that used to run (and sometimes still thinks it runs) the Georgia Democratic Party.

What is especially significant is that young people predominated.

If this ever sinks in, watch the changes. The simple fact is that in almost every high school in Georgia, seniors are registering to vote.

The combination of the 18-year-old voting law and a baby explosion that has grown into a voter explosion are responsible.

To be sure, not all these youngsters have gone into the Democratic party. There has been significant growth toward a two-party system because of them.

But the truth is that old-timers in either party who depend on their contacts and outlooks of the 1930s and 1940s are going to be sunk.

BLIND SPOT

Many of these older politicians have a severe "blind spot" in their 20-20 political visions.

For their edification, they should turn to the pollsters and find out how the polls are weighted on age. (They will find that polls which don't have a majority of the sample under 40 years of age are worthless.)

Periodically, in almost every political situation, the "old crowd" gets pitted against the "new crowd." It happened in the 1930s and it happened specifically in the 1962 governor's race in Georgia.

USING FACT

Gov. Sanders, who wasn't behind the gallery rail when the political brains were passed out, perhaps is the leading user of this known, but often overlooked, fact.

He is staking, without question, a political career on the voter explosion.

Anybody who thinks he is wrong had better go down to the polling places and take a look at the waiting lines.

Sa. Statesmen

Geer Assails Voting Code Section

Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer Friday joined in opposition to a section of the proposed new election laws code that would allow the Secretary of State to take over jurisdiction of a local election under certain circumstances.

State Democratic Party Secretary George Stewart has called the proposal a "monstrosity."

Geer said he did not believe "any one man ought to be the high priest of local elections."

The code section Geer objects to would allow the Secretary of State to move toward taking jurisdiction if he "has reason to believe that the laws governing primaries or elections . . . will not be fairly, impartially or properly enforced or applied in any county . . ."

Proponents of the new code feel this provision would help to eliminate vote frauds and other election irregularities.

On other subjects during an impromptu press conference in his office Friday, the lieutenant governor, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor in the future, declared that it is "idiotic" to pay Georgia's governor a base salary of only $12,000 when most department heads make more than that.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Saturday, March 21, 1964 5

"The governor's salary ought to be in the neighborhood of at least $25,000 a year," he believed.

Geer also said he felt that the question of home rule will be "the very heart" of the revision of the State Constitution during the special legislative session beginning on May 4.

Ga. Statewide

Atl. Daily

District GOP Delegates Are Named At Meet

3/22/64, p. 1

Ga. Pol.

By STANLEY S. SCOTT
(World News Staff)

The Fifth District Republican Convention Saturday elected delegates to the July 13 national convention in San Francisco; approved a slate of officers for Fulton County posts and the State Central Committee; and sounded a "rallying cry" for victory in '64.

County Republican orga said, "It is in the interes candidate that the Nego sented in our Party in a piate way.... I do not would be in the interest
Goldwater to exclude Williamson won out over delegate in a close vote of

FIFTH DISTRICT OFFIC

Officers elected to fill Fi trict posts included S. Jarv son, chairman; Whitney first vice chairman; Q. V. son, vice chairman; John houn, secretary; Ed Callah surer.

The Georgia Republica which has been integrated out its history, Saturday na following Negroes to the Fi
trict Executive Committee
Williamson, John H. Calh
Lee R. Shelton, Dr. C.
Powell, Robert Shaw, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Evelyn Frazier. Negroes named to serve on the State Central Committee were T. M. Alexander Sr., Q. V. Williamson, John H. Calhoun, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock.

RAP DEMMOCRATS

Taking political shots at the local Democratic Party, Levison told the convention, "They elected a Democrat who has lost two races, one to a Democrat and one to a Republican. They have the right kind of chairman," Levison added amidst wild applause.

S. Jarvin Levison, newly elected Fifth District chairman, told the 109 official convention delegates and an overflow audience of GOP stalwarts:

"The 1964 we shall have only one rallying cry-Victory! and victory shall be at all levels of political activity. Victory for what has been the minority political party in the State of Georgia and the Fifth District will be an uphill fight, but to participate in such contest and ultimate victory is far more exciting and rewarding than working with a tired and stale group of has-beens."

Delegates elected Saturday to attend the national convention were S. Jarvin Levison and Miss Gene Witherspoon. Alternates chosen by the convention included Q. V. Wil-purpose of determining the Republican nominee for office of Congressman from the Fifth District.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

Several Republicans have been mentioned as possible Congressional candidates to oppose Congressman Weltner, included in the list of names is Atlanta Alderman Rodney Cook.

Appointed delegates and alternates to the convention yesterday from the Negro community included: W. J. Shaw, Dr. Lee Shelton, Timothy Gilham, Q. V. Williamson, C. A. Scott, Dr. C. Clayton Powell, B. F. Bullock, John H. Calhoun, Mrs. Mamie Davis, T. M. Alexander, Sr., Clayton R. Yates, T. J. Curry, Milton J. White, Mrs. Eddy B. Page, Mrs. Lottie Harris, Mrs. Clayton R. Yates, Fred Brooks, Dr. X. L. Neal, Mrs. Ocelia Ellis, Mrs. B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Lee Shelton.

Donald L. Whittemore, Jr. will fill the Fulton County GOP position vacated by Randolph Thrower.

S t "today

s of dark Weltner."
emocratie t be faced r his job
ks in the Republi-to pledge victory olling up t practi-

lity for want you ent that can nom-ngress on here "will Republi-

Novem-

CES political id, "we stacles":
politics.
l labels leader-

pted a Fifth e Com-for the

District GOP Delegates

(Continued from Page One)

liamson and Julian LeCraw.

The delegates selected are honor bound to cast their ballots for the candidacy of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater at the convention, due to a floor fight pledge adopted by the Fulton County Convention last month.

Speaking in behalf of Williamson as a delegate, Randolph Thrower, former chairman of the Fulton County Republican organization, said, "It is in the interest of any candidate that the Nego is represented in our Party in an appropiate way....I do not think it would be in the interest of Sen. Goldwater to exclude Negroes." Williamson won out over a white delegate in a close vote of 58-50.

FIFTH DISTRICT OFFICERS

Officers elected to fill Fifth District posts included S. Jarvin Levison, chairman; Whitney O'Keefe, first vice chairman; Q. V. Williamson, vice chairman; John H. Calhoun, secretary; Ed Callaham, treasurer.

The Georgia Republican Party, which has been integrated throughout its history, Saturday named the following Negroes to the Fifth District Executive Committee: Q. V. Williamson, John H. Calhoun, Dr. Lee R. Shelton, Dr. C. Clayton Powell, Robert Shaw, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Evelyn Frazier. Negroes named to serve on the State Central Committee were T. M. Alexander Sr., Q. V. Williamson, John H. Calhoun, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock.

RAP DEMMOCRATS

Taking political shots at the local Democratic Party, Levison told the convention, "They elected a Democrat who has lost two races, one to a Democrat and one to a Republican. They have the right kind of chairman," Levison added amidst wild applause.

He also declared that "today starts what be a long series of dark days for Mr. Charles L. Weltner." Weltner, Fifth District Democratie Congressman, will no doubt be faced with a political battle for his job from the Republican ranks in the November election.

Levison chellenged the Republican group "to join with me to pledge ourselves to victory....a victory that will only come by rolling up our sleeves and working at practical, partisan politics."

"With prime responsibility for the Congressional race, I want you to know that I am confident that the Fifth District Republican nominee will be elected to Congress on Nov. 3rd.

Levison predicted that there "will be a clean sweep for the Republicans in Fulton County" in November of this year.

POLITICAL INDIFFERENCES

"To overcome the usual political indifference," Levison said, "we must scale three major obstacles": 1. An aversion to practical politics. 2. An addiction to political labels and slogans. 3. Timidity of leadership.

The convention also adopted a resolution instructing the Fifth District Republican Executive Committee to hold a primary for the purpose of determining the Republican nominee for office of Congressman from the Fifth District.

Several Republicans have been mentioned as possible Congressional candidates to oppose Congressman Weltner, included in the list of names is Atlanta Alderman Rodney Cook.

Appointed delegates and alternates to the convention yesterday from the Negro community included: W. J. Shaw, Dr. Lee Shelton, Timothy Gilham, Q. V. Williamson, C. A. Scott, Dr. C. Clayton Powell, B. F. Bullock, John H. Calhoun, Mrs. Mamie Davis, T. M. Alexander, Sr., Clayton R. Yates, T. J. Curry, Milton J. White, Mrs. Eddy B. Page, Mrs. Lottie Harris, Mrs. Clayton R. Yates, Fred Brooks, Dr. X. L. Neal, Mrs. Ocelia Ellis, Mrs. B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Lee Shelton.

Donald L. Whittemore, Jr. will fill the Fulton County GOP position vacated by Randolph Thrower.

Ga Statesman 3-22-64

District GOP Delegates Are Named At Meet

By STANLEY S. SCOTT
(World News Staff)

The Fifth District Republican Convention Saturday elected delegates to the July 13 national convention in San Francisco; approved a slate of officers for Fulton County posts and the State Central Committee; and sounded a "rallying cry" for victory in '64.

S. Jarvin Levison, newly elected Fifth District chairman, told the 109 official convention delegates and an overflow audience of GOP stalwarts:

"The 1964 we shall have only one rallying cry-Victory! and victory shall be at all levels of political activity. Victory for what has been the minority political party in the State of Georgia and the Fifth District will be an uphill fight, but to participate in such contest and ultimate victory is far more exciting and rewarding than working with a tired and stale group of has-beens."

Delegates elected Saturday to attend the national convention were S. Jarvin Levison and Miss Gene Witherspoon. Alternates chosen by the convention included Q. V. Williamson and Julian LeCraw.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

District GOP Delegates

(Continued from Page One)

The delegates selected are honor bound to cast their ballots for the candidacy of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater at the convention, due to a floor fight pledge adopted by the Fulton County Convention last month.

Speaking in behalf of Williamson as a delegate, Randolph Thrower, former chairman of the Fulton County Republican organization, said, "It is in the interest of any candidate that the Nego is represented in our Party in an appropiate way....I do not think it would be in the interest of Sen. Goldwater to exclude Negroes." Williamson won out over a white delegate in a close vote of 58-50.

FIFTH DISTRICT OFFICERS

Officers elected to fill Fifth District posts included S. Jarvin Levison, chairman; Whitney O'Keefe, first vice chairman; Q. V. Williamson, vice chairman; John H. Calhoun, secretary; Ed Callaham, treasurer.

The Georgia Republican Party, which has been integrated throughout its history, Saturday named the following Negroes to the Fifth District Executive Committee: Q. V. Williamson, John H. Calhoun, Dr. Lee R. Shelton, Dr. C. Clayton Powell, Robert Shaw, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Evelyn Frazier. Negroes named to serve on the State Central Committee were T. M. Alexander Sr., Q. V. Williamson, John H. Calhoun, Clayton R. Yates, B. F. Bullock.

RAP DEMMOCRATS

Taking political shots at the local Democratic Party, Levison told the convention, "They elected a Democrat who has lost two races, one to a Democrat and one to a Republican. They have the right kind of chairman," Levison added amidst wild applause.

He also declared that "today starts what be a long series of dark days for Mr. Charles L. Weltner." Weltner, Fifth District Democratic Congressman, will no doubt be faced with a political battle for his job from the Republican ranks in the November election.

Levison chellenged the Republican group "to join with me to pledge ourselves to victory .. a victory that will only come by rolling up our sleeves and working at practical, partisan politics."

"With prime responsibility for the Congressional race, I want you to know that I am confident that the Fifth District Republican nominee will be elected to Congress on Nov. 3rd.

Levison predicted that there "will be a clean sweep for the Republicans in Fulton County" in November of this year.

POLITICAL INDIFFERENCES

"To overcome the usual political indifference," Levison said, "we must scale three major obstacles": 1. An aversion to practical politics. 2. An addiction to political labels and slogans. 3. Timidity of leadership.

The convention also adopted a resolution instructing the Fifth District Republican Executive Committee to hold a primary for the purpose of determining the Republican nominee for office of Congressman from the Fifth District.

Several Republicans have been mentioned as possible Congressional candidates to oppose Congressman Weltner, included in the list of names is Atlanta Alderman Rodney Cook.

Appointed delegates and alternates to the convention yesterday from the Negro community included: W. J. Shaw, Dr. Lee Shelton, Timothy Gilham, Q. V. Williamson, C. A. Scott, Dr. C. Clayton Powell, B. F. Bullock, John H. Calhoun, Mrs. Mamie Davis, T. M. Alexander, Sr., Clayton R. Yates, T. J. Curry, Milton J. White, Mrs. Eddy B. Page, Mrs. Lottie Harris, Mrs. Clayton R. Yates, Fred Brooks, Dr. X. L. Neal, Mrs. Ocelia Ellis, Mrs. B. F. Bullock, Mrs. Lee Shelton.

Donald L. Whittemore, Jr. will fill the Fulton County GOP position vacated by Randolph Thrower.

Quitman County Case Shows Election Laws Inadequate

Atl. Const. 3/23/64

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

In the drafty Old Supreme Courtroom at the State Capitol Monday morning, a group of politicians and their attorneys will file in with briefcases bulging, tempers barely concealed.

Reg Murphy

The State Democratic Executive Committee will have its own special committee sitting behind a hearing table.

An the tale of elections in Quitman County will begin to unfold. There are charges of a fast shuffle that kept opposition out of the race against incumbent Rep. Joe Hurst.

Elections in Quitman don't require IBM calculations. There are not that many people. The counting doesn't take very long, particularly if the incumbents don't have opposition.

HAS ITS FACTIONS

Like many other counties, Quitman has its factions. Elections frequently are hotly contested—but in the cool of the spring before the general state primaries.

As the Democratic Executive subcommittee begins to sort through the charges and counter charges, there will begin to be one clear fact: Georgia's election laws simply are not adequate.

Almost anywhere you look—Quitman, Berrien, Gilmer, Telfair, Miller, etc.—you see repeatedly the charges of improper election procedures.

NEED FOR REFORM

The hearing Monday thus will point up the absolute need for a complete new set of election laws to eliminate the worst of the transgressions against the voters.

Comment and Analysis

Whether the Legislature meeting May 4 can agree on the necessary changes is the question.

Many of the counties already are holding their early primaries (Sumter Tuesday, Troup, Twiggs and Polk Wednesday), leaving lame ducks in office for a while.

NO CENTRAL CLEARING

These early primaries also point up another urgent need: for some type of elections bureau at the state level to keep up with all the contests and participants.

With no central clearing bureau for elections, and these elections scattered around the entire year, it is virtually impossible for government officials to keep their lists up to date.

Of course, any such bureau is a minuscule want in comparison to the real need for election laws that cover situations like Quitman.

But with luck, it is possible for the General Assembly to pass new ones at the May 4 session.

One has the feeling that the Democratic Executive subcommitte would welcome them.

Ga. Politics

'Bugs' Already Have Been Worked Out Of Punch-Card Voting, Official Reports

Atl. Const., 3/24/64

Atlanta — Your editorial of March 16, "And Now Elections by Punch Card," asks what happens in case a voter selects two men for the same office. The answer to this question is spelled out in the enabling legislation passed during the last session of the General Assembly. This legislation also provides a system for write-in votes that is simpler for the voter and the person counting the votes than that provided by the present voting machines.

In the case of "over-voting," the computer machine is programmed to reject, or not count, that portion of the ballot.

In order to check the accuracy of the computer machines, the law calls for a predetermined set of cards to be run through the computer immediately prior to the running of the actual voter cards. This predetermined set of cards includes cases in which two names have been punched for one office. The computer must reject these, count the rest of those ballots, and come out with a perfect total.

Only when the count for the predetermined cards is perfect will the actual voter cards be run through the computer. As a further check the predetermined cards are run through the computer again after the actual election cards have been counted. Again, the total must be perfect.

Members of the DeKalb Democratic Executive Committee have studied the law and the new vote tabulating machine thoroughly. We voted to support the county's buying of the new machines because we feel they are not only more economical, but offer a simpler system of voting and a more accurate and faster count than the present system.

MRS. H. B. WILLIAMS JR.,
Secretary, DeKalb County
Democratic Executive Committee.

• • •

Ga
Statewide

Big Turnout Likely Today for Sumter Democratic Primary

Columbus Enq. 3/24/64

AMERICUS, Ga.—One of the largest voter turnouts in local history is expected here today when citizens cast their ballots in the Sumter County Democratic primary.

Highlighting the primary is a hotly disputed $900,000 school bond issue proposed by the Sumter County Board of Education, along with the filling of seven contested offices from among a field of 21 candidates.

All candidates have waged an intensive campaign but the center of attraction for most voters residing outside the county is the controversial school bond issue. City of Americus voters are not eligible to vote on the school bond proposal, but all citizens of the county can cast ballots for the various offices at stake.

The list of contested offices include three Sumter County Commission posts, County sheriff, ordinary, school superintendent and surveyor.

Whitaker Opposes Chappell

Sheriff Fred D. Chappell, who has held his office for eight years, is being opposed by J. Tally Whitaker, well - known Americus businessman.

The race for county school superintendent also pits the incumbent, W. W. Foy, against challenger Ed Bailey of Cobb. Foy was elected to his present office in 1953.

With the planned retirement of Ordinary Robert T. Hawkins after 38 years, four Sumter hopefuls are bidding for that position. They include Carroll Austin, businessman; Randolph Stackhouse, salesman; Davis Lee, cashier in a local business establishment, and Eugene Horn, attorney.

Kendall Wooten, who has held the office of county surveyor since 1946, is being challenged by Jim Littlefield, private surveyor and engineer.

All three incumbents in the races for the three contested county commission posts are seeking renomination. Candidates for these positions include:

Post 1. Commission chairman George L. Mathews (incumbent) vs. Leon Holloway.

Post 2. Rufus Chappell (incumbent), Minor Turner and J. D. Clements Jr.

Post 3. H. Phil Jones Sr. (incumbent), Clarence Parker, Theo Baldwin, Joseph E. (Buddy) Slappey and James R. Buchanan.

Under the bond issue, as proposed by the Sumter County Board of Education, a number of buildings and improvements for schools throughout the county would result if the measure i approved. A plan which would lead to merging of the county school system and the Americus School System is also included in the proposal.

Point Draws Fire

It is this latter point that has drawn heavy fire from opponents throughout the county, since many taxpayers believe the county might bear a heavier burden financially than the City of Americus.

On the other hand the county board of education has also received wide support.

The result has been an intensive series of meetings by both groups in the last several weeks, with each side attempting to carry its various arguments to the people.

A breakdown of projects to be financed by the propoed bond monies included:

New elementary school building in Plains, $200,000; completion of elementary school building in Leslie, $115,000; new roof on school and repairs on building and lunchroom at New Era elementary school, $10,000; gymnatorium at county Negro high school, $125,000; and county's share of proposed merged high school with Americus Public School System, $450,000.

Would Consolidate Schools

Under one plan, the two present county high schools at Leslie and Plains would consolidate and students would attend school in one new building to be constructed. Under another proposal the county would pool its resources with the Americus school system and build a county-wide high school for all senior and junior high students.

The building, under the latter proposal, would be located in Americus at the site where the old Americus High building destroyed by fire Jan. 26 was located.

This proposal has been agreed to by a majority of both boards of education since officials believe a merged system using resources now available to both systems would provide greater benefit for all students.

Just what happens must be determined by today's vote. Some 6,600 citizens are eligible to vote and a high percentage of turnout is anticipated.

Ga. Statewide

FAVORED IN RULING — Ralph Balkom gestures at a hearing room at the capitol in Atlanta Monday where the Democratic Party conducted a hearing on his fight to qualify for Quitman County representative as an opponent of incumbent Joe Hurst. A committee ruled in Balkcom's favor by voiding a scheduled April 2 primary and told the county Democratic committee it would have to fix another date to give candidates time to qualify. — AP Wirephoto.

Columbus Eng.

Quitman Primary Date Ruled 'Null and Void'

By LUKE TEASLEY
Enquirer State Editor

ATLANTA, Ga. — The Georgia Democratic Executive Committee will name its own nominee for Quitman County representative if the county committee does not set a primary in accordance with party rules, according to a Monday ruling.

A special primary subcommittee of the State Democratic Executive Committee ruled, after a special hearing in the state capitol, that the April 2 Quitman primary called for the state representative race is "null and void."

The primary-setting action taken Feb. 15 by the County committee was declared void because it was only two days before the candidate qualification deadline passed instead of the 10 days required by state party rules.

The committee took action Monday on a petition filed by Ralph Balkcom, who contended that he was not allowed to qualify even though he attempted to pay his fee three times before the advertised deadline passed.

Ga. Statewide

Joe Hurst, incumbent representative, was the only candidate allowed by the Quitman committee to qualify for he state primary race.

Presented by Hurst

The primary schedule approved Feb. 15 by the Quitman committee to qualify for the Hurst, according to a statement read at the hearing by Warren Fortson, attorney for Balkcom.

Fortson said the statement which he read was made by Carey Hammond, a member of the Quitman County committee. He said Hammond was hurriedly called to the Feb. 15 meeting, which already was under way when he arrived.

Rep. Jake Cullens of Cartersville, attorney for Fane Dykes, chairman of the Quitman executive committee, told the state group "There was some hurried action," but the primary was set according to state party regulations and Georgia law.

Cullens cited a section in the party rules which states that the county committee "may fix closing dates" for the House of Representatives race.

Legal Secretary

Henry Neal, legal secretary to the governor and a member of the party primary committee, called Cullens' and the committee members' attention to the concluding statement in the section cited by Cullens.

The section cited by Neal stated that the announcement of the selected closing dates shall be made in the local newspapers at least 10 days before the closing date.

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Cullens contended that The Sunday Ledger-Enquirer carried a story on the Hurst qualification on the day after the committee meeting and the qualification of Hurst.

Both sides agreed that the first legal advertisement of the called primary date was on Feb. 20 in a Cuthbert newspaper, which is the legal organ for the county.

Other Races

The state committee ruling mentioned only the race for state representative. There was no mention of the other races in the April 2 primary, as they were not challenged by Balkcom.

After ruling the April 2 primary date for the representative race null and void, the state committee directed the county committee to set another date for the representative race.

The ruling stated that the new date must be in accordance with the state committee rules, or the race will be held in conjunction with the Sept. 9 state primary.

Failure of the county committee to conduct a primary according to state rules and regulations would result in the state committee making its own nomination and certifying the nominee to the secretary of state.

Dykes said he would take the ruling to members of the county committee, and that the decision will be up to them.

Fuqua Presides

J. B. Fuqua, chairman of the Georgia Democratic Party, presided at the hearing in the "old Supreme Court room."

Dykes told the committee he felt the time for qualification given was sufficient for a small county with only 780 qualified voters.

He said that he did not know at the Feb. 15 meeting that there was a state law requiring that a candidate for state office qualify 45 days before the primary, instead of 30 as stated in the April 2 primary call.

The county committee chairman said that the day before the 30-day qualification deadline passed he received a copy of the state law which stated that 45 days was required.

Cites 'Ruling'

Dykes said he could not identify where the copy of the law came from, so he called the office of the state attorney general and received a "ruling" that he could not legally accept any other candidates.

The county committee chairman told the state committee that the primary date was not changed because it would establish a precedent requiring that other dates be changed.

Cullens urged the state committee not to "mess in local affairs."

"It sounds like a local fight," Cullens said. He added, "if divided, another party will take over."

Both Cullens and Dykes said there would be an objection to having the representatives race during the regular September primary.

Dykes told the committee he did not believe it should interfere with the county committee actions, and that he felt sure the state committee could "handle which candidate gets up here."

The county committee chairman said, "there was no mistake" in setting the primary "because we did not know the law."

The Referee Can't Fight

Charitably, we will say that the Quitman County Democratic Committee simply made a mistake when it laid down primary rules that effectively barred any candidate for state representatives except the incumbent.

According to the testimony of one of the committee members, it was the incumbent, Rep. Joe Hurst, who drew up the primary timetable. Until recently, Rep. Hurst had served as the Quitman committee chairman, although committeemen clearly should not be office-holders.

A committee is the referee that sets and enforces the rules for a contest between candidates. The referee certainly can't also be one of the fighters, nor should he be unduly obligated or favorable to one of the fighters.

Fortunately, the Quitman committee's mistake has been rectified by the state Democratic committee. After a hearing Monday, the primary subcommittee of the state committee ordered that either a new primary date be set with ample time for qualifications; or, that Quitman hold its primary on the same day as the state primary, Sept. 9.

We favor the latter suggestion. There seems no good reason why all counties should not conduct their primaries on the common day set aside by the state committee. This would eliminate confusion over qualifying dates.

When a local commitee can play around with the rules, the temptation exists to favor one candidate over another.

A county's voters, not an executive committee, are supposed to decide who shall hold offices.

Further defiance by Quitman should produce even sterner action from the state committee.

Actually, the delay may be good for Rep. Hurst. He complained recently that he was too "exhausted" to make a race at this time. Perhaps by the summer, he will feel more like it.

Col. Eng.

Ga. Politics

Ga. Republicans Pledge 18 of 24 Votes To Barry

Atl. Hrld 3/25/64

By UPI

Georgia Republicans Saturday firmly pledged 18 of the state's 24 national convention votes to Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination.

Conventions in nine of the state's 10 congressional districts adopted resolutions committing their delegates to Goldwater until released by the Arizona senator. Only the north Georgia 9th district GOP refused to bind its two delegates.

Goldwater probably will pick up the four at - large delegates to be chosen by the GOP state convention here May 1-2, thus assuring him of 22 of Georgia's 24 votes at the San Francisco convention next July.

There was talk at the 9th district meeting of endorsing Sen. Thruston R. Morton, R-Ky., for the GOP nomination and of backing Goldwater. However, the vote on a motion to send the delegates unpledged was overwhelming on a show of hands.

The 9th district's reluctance to pledge its delegates was regarded as about the only surprise in the convention activity. Observers had forecast all 20 votes would be lined up for the Arizona senator.

Skirmishes over the seating of Negro delegations erupted in three of the district conventions but were settled by the local credentials committee.

In one district meeting, the 6th at Griffin, the dispute involved a delegation headed by A. C. Touchstone, a Negro ousted recently from the chairmanship of the Spalding County GOP, a post he held for 16 years.

Touchstone indicated he might appeal the decision to the state convention's credentials committee.

The other skirmishes came in the 1st district meeting at Savannah and the 3rd district session in Americus. At Savannah, the credentials committee refused to seat a Negro delegation from Johnson County which contended it should be recognized because of a technical conflict that erupted in the county convention.

At Americus, the convention refused to recognize a Muscogee County Negro group that had demanded — and lost -the right in the county meeting last month to name one - third of the county's representation at the district meeting.

The conventions were the first held under congressional district lines redrawn by the state legislature last month. A rundown on convention activities:

1st District — Met at Savannah. Elected Delegates State Sen. Joseph J. Tribble of Savannah and John Jones, Swainsboro and alternates John B. Miller, Savannah and Dr. Grady Campbell, Dublin. District chairman Wiley Wasden Jr., Savannah.

2nd district — Met at Albany. Delegates, Russ Kaliher, Albany and Jaime Oglesby, Thomas County; alternates, Earl Spear, Albany, and Hoyt Wimpy, Thomas County. Kaliher was elected district chairman.

3rd district — Met at Americus; delegates, Mrs. A. Edward Smith, Muscogee, widow of a gubernatorial candidate killed while campaigning two years ago and Howard Callaway, Harris County; Alternates A. W. Pratt of Houson County and William J. Schloth, Muscogee County. Schloth was elected district chairman.

4th District - Met at Decatur: Delegates Roscoe Pickett and Charles Moye Jr., both of DeKalb County; alternates, Dr. Robert Shinal land J. E. Manget, DeKalb County; Moye was elected chairman.

5th district — Atlanta —Delegates, S. Jarcin Levison and Miss Jean Witherspoon, Atlanta. Levison elected chairman.

6th district — Griffin — Delegates, Ralph Dougherty, Griffin, Mrs. Donald D. Comer. Alternates J. W. Adams and W. Madison New. Dougherty elected chairman.

7th district — Rome — Delegates Ed Y. Chapin, Walker County and Dorsey Dodgen, Cobb County; Alternates Harvey Howalt Jr., Whitfield County and David Sewell, Rome. District chairman John W. Stokes Jr., Dalton.

8th district — Waycross Delegates, J. F. Brophy, Dodge County and Anthony Alaimo, Glynn County. Alternates, Tim Ray Heath,

Ga. Statewide

Confusion From Redistricting May Become Legislative Problem

Columbus Enq., 3/26/64

By BEN WALBURN
Enquirer Managing Editor

The eligibility of Erle Cocke Jr. to run for Congress from the 3rd District this year most likely will be decided by the Georgia General Assembly when it convenes in special session May 4.

The Associated Press reported from Atlanta Wednesday that "usually reliable sources" are predicting that Gov. Carl Sanders will include clarification of residence requirements for congressional candidates in his call for a special legislative session.

The confusion left in the wake of redistricting of Georgia's congressional districts this year brought into the spotlight by an announcement by Cocke that he will seek the seat to be vacated after this year by retiring congressman, Rep. E. L. (Tic) Forrester of Leesberg.

Cocke's home county of Terrell was shifted from the 3rd District to the 2nd. He has said he will move into the 3rd District to try for Forrester's post.

The hitch is that a state law provides that a candidate must have lived for 12 months in the district where he seeks to be elected congressman.

While Cocke's case has been more publicized, the problem confronts political aspirants in eight other congressional districts changed by the 1964 redistricting bill. One district, the 7th, was not changed.

In fact, spokesmen in the office of Gov. Sanders and at the headquarters of the state Democratic party have been swamped with queries the past two weeks about who can or can't run in this or that district.

Under existing law — until some other interpretation is advanced by the attorney general or the courts — there are those who believe that no candidate in the nine districts changed by redistricting will be eligible to run for Congress this year since those districts have undergone a change in member counties.

Some observers say Cocke would not be eligible to run in the 3rd, nor could he run in the new 2nd District.

The redistricting confusion is expected to be a matter of prime discussion when the State Democratic Executive Committee meets in Atlanta Tuesday to set a qualifying deadline for the Sept. 9 primary.

Associated Press reports that the committee will set May 2 — two days before the General Assembly convenes — as the deadline for qualifying.

The committee, however, may delay its planned cutoff date for qualifying to give the legislature time to change the residence requirement for congressional races, especially for the 1964 race.

Confusion—

(Continued from Page 1)

The legislature, if the matter is included on its special session agenda by the governor, could change the residence requirement law to clear up the redistricting confusion this year, and then vote to return to the one-year residence requirement in 1965.

Cocke, who visited Columbus over the weekend, said he will ask Attorney General Eugene Cook to rule on his eligibility to run in the 3rd District. However, spokesmen in Cook's office and the office of Gov. Sanders Wednesday said they have received no formal request from Cocke.

The Dawson resident, former American Legion national commander and now U. S. representative to the World Bank, will be facing plenty of 3rd District competition if he can clear the decks for a congressional campaign.

Already announced candidates for Forrester's seat are Garland Byrd of Reynolds, now a state senator and former lieutenant governor, and Stephen Pace Jr. of Americus, solicitor general of the Southwestern Judicial Circuit.

Also reported considering the race are Ed Wohlwender Jr. of Sumter County and state Sen. Stanley Smith of Perry.

Ga. Politics

Democrats To Set Rules For Primary

Ga. Jrnl. 3/26/64

ATLANTA (AP) — The State Democratic Executive Committee will meet here Tuesday and, barring a last-minute change in plans, will fix May 2 as the qualifying deadline for candidates for office in the Sept. 9 primary.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders, the leader of the party in Georgia, and several of the administration chiefs agreed tentatively Wednesday on the May 2 cutoff date.

Then State Sen. J. B. Fuqua of Augusta, a strong personal friend of the governor, issued an official call for the Tuesday session of the 120-member committee.

The committee will adopt rules for the primary. Authoritative sources said these will include a provision for runoff elections a few days after Sept. 9 if a candidate failed to receive a clear majority in the first round.

Two years ago former Gov. Ernest Vandiver insisted on adoption of the runoff rule to guard against the possibility of a minority group electing a state official by entering a candidate in a race having several in the field.

Only a few state offices will be at stake this year. No race for governor or the U.S. Senate will be involved.

Three of the seven justices of the State Supreme Court will be up for reelection. They are T. Grady Head, Bond Almand and Tom S. Candler. Two of the nine judges on the State Court of Appeals will be running. They are H. E. Nichols and Charles A. Pannell.

Terms of Allen Chappell and Walter McDonald on the Georgia Public Service Commission expire Dec. 31 and both are expected to seek their posts again.

The Democrats will nominate 10 for the congressional seats allotted Georgia. With all but one of the districts changed in a recent legislative act, contests are shaping up in nearly all.

And the 54 seats in the State Senate will be involved in the primary.

Ga. Politics

2 Quitman Registrars Resign Posts

Col. Leg.
3/26/64

GEORGETOWN, Ga. — Two Quitman County voter registrars, ordered to appear Wednesday in Quitman Superior Court, submitted their resignations to Judge Walter I. Geer, of the Pataula Circuit.

Resigning were F. J. Graddy and Jim Ogletree, both of whom were among the Quitman County group which on Feb. 28 entered pleas of guilty in U.S. District Court to charges of voting-law violations.

The two registrars were ordered by Judge Geer to "show cause, if any you can, why you should not be discharged or removed from office of registrar in and for Quitman County for nonperformance of your duty as registrar, for malpractice as a registrar and misfeasance as a registrar."

The citation stated that the order was issued because of the guilty pleas they entered to charges "involving the practice of fraud in an election."

The order was issued Monday by Judge Geer.

C. W. Worthy, the remaining board member, was not charged in U.S. District Court. He was not cited by Judge Geer and did not submit his resignation.

In their resignations both Graddy and Ogletree, who was chairman of the board of registrars, said they had entered pleas of guilty, but claimed they were innocent of wrongdoing.

Ga. Politics

Court Ruling Not Harmful To Muscogee

Columbus Enq.

3/28/64

By JANE GULLATT

Muscogee County Sens. Harry Jackson and Perry Gordy agreed Friday that a federal court ruling that state senators must be elected by the voters in their individual districts will not harm the county's overall representation in the Senate.

Gordy, a Republican who represents the 15th District, said he feels the county's two senators, even if forced to run on a district basis instead of countywide, still will represent the county as a whole, and not a particular section.

Jackson, a Democrat from the 16th District, said he believes he represents the people as a whole, and would not want to be recognized as representing only those who live within his district north of the 17th Street boundary.

"I certainly feel in our situation the senators should be elected on a countywide vote and through an agreement," he said. "I am willing to set it up that way, although the court says it is not necessarily so."

Gordy said that, in his opinion "The change probably is desired in larger areas such as Atlanta, but I don't see where it helps us in any way."

Muscogee is one of seven Georgia counties which now have more than one state senator under a 1962 senatorial redistricting measure.

Two years ago, Gordy and Jackson were elected on a countywide basis to represent Muscogee's 15th and 16th Districts.

The Friday court decision, however, means that only the voters in a district will vote for that district's senator. The court ruled that a section of the Georgia Constitution requiring countywide votes for state senator violates the equal-protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution and is "therefore null and void."

Capitol legal sources said the federal decision would be applicable to the Sept. 9 Democratic Primary and the Nov. 3 general election.

Last October, Gordy investigated to see what effect such a ruling would have on Muscogee County. He had under study then a plan whereby the two senatorial districts would be redrawn along precinct lines in the event the vote was on a districtwide basis.

And, he added Friday that he will ask the Muscogee County legislative delegation to approve a change in the boundary along lines he proposes.

He explained that 17th Street is the present boundary line between the 15th and 16th Districts, but the boundary line splits five city precincts.

Ordinary Henry Hunter agreed with Gordy that it would be better to redraw the two districts along precinct lines than to split up the precincts if there is a districtwide vote.

"It would be a good idea. . . so we won't disturb or move the voters," he said.

And, Mrs. Ione Holt, deputy registrar, said the Muscogee County Board of Registrars has such a plan under study.

In October, Gordy said it would cost money to rearrange voting precincts if 17th Street remained as the boundary line, since five precincts would be split with a part or portion in the 15th District and the remainder in the 16th District.

(Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

He also said such a change would create confusion, in that a voter would go to the precinct in which he normally votes and find he is in another precinct.

It would be simpler and cost less to make some minor adjustments along existing precinct lines, he added.

The present 17th Street division line starts at the Chattahoochee River, goes west to Dell Drive, south on Dell Drive to Macon Road and out Macon Road to the countyline.

The area north of that line is the 16th District, while the area to the south is the 15th District.

In making its decision Friday, the federal court sustained a contention of state Republican leaders who brought the litigation. The decision agreed with one handed down by Superior Judge Durwood T. Pye of Fulton County on the eve of the 1962 senatorial elections.

The decree gave the State Democratic Executive Committee a new and unexpected chore before its called session for next Thursday. The committee will have to rewrite its new rules to conform with the decision.

The ruling affects, in addition to Muscogee County, the counties of Fulton, DeKalb, Bibb, Chatham, Cobb and Richmond.

Ga. Statewide

JA. 3-1459 ATLANTA (3), GEORGIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1964 PRICE FIVE CENTS

COUNTYWIDE VOTE FOR STATE SENATORS IN 7 AREAS NIXED

Ga. Politics

Provision To Limit Chances Of Negroes Loses

By United Press International

A provision requiring countywide votes for Georgia state senators in counties with more than one senatoiral district was ruled invalid Friday by a three - judge federal court.

The tribunal ruled that the provision, added to the state constitution in 1962 to limit the chances of a Negro winning a state Senate seat, violated the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the federal constitution.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Paul Rodgers said the state definitely will appeal. He pointed out that a case before a three - judge tribunal can be appealed directly to the U. S. Supreme Court.

"This is a rather important case because it involves the power of the state to classify," Rodgers said. "We're going to appeal just to make sure one way or the other what the law in this area is."

STATE DISCRIMINATED

The three - judge panel declared the state in effect had formed two classes of voters — those in multi-district counties and those in other counties — and discriminated against one class.

The ruling directly affects Fulton, Bibb, Richmond, Muscogee, Chatham, Cobb and DeKalb, the only counties with more than one state senator under reapportionment forced by a 1962 federal court ruling.

Under the ruling, state senatorial candidates will have to stand election only within specific districts, rather than face the entire electorate of the county. The federal court, however, held that there was no need to issue an injunction to force election officials to follow the decision.

The judges, Griffin Bell and Frank Hooper of Atlanta, and Lewis R. Morgan of LaGrange, pointed out that the defendants in the suit, Secretary of State Ben Fortson and Ordinaries Eugene Gunby of Fulton County and Katherine Mann of DeKalb County, stated in court that no injunction would be necessary.

"These respected and responsible officials are simply caught up in the ferment of change stemming from the recent concept of applying federal constitutional standards to the political process," the court said.

REPUBLICAN SUIT

The suit was brought by three Georgia Republicans, state party Chairman James W. Dorsey, State Sen. Dan MacIntyre of Atlanta, and James E. Manget.

The court discounted a state contention that voters in counties with more than one district go he added benefit of being able to vote for more than one senator.

They said the fact was not disputed that in Fulton County 18 per cent of the voters of seven districts could nullify the vote of the 34th senatorial district in the county.

(Continued On Page 7, Col. 3)

The judges also discounted a state claim that "harmony between the senators" of one county is required so that the county will receive better representation.

"The answer to this is that the Senate is to represent people and not geography," the ruling said.

While it was generally conceded the provision was designed to keep a Negro from being elected to the Senate, Leroy Johnson, a Negro attorney of Atlanta, was elected two years ago and became the first member of his race in the Senate in 40 years.

R. Balkcom Qualifies In Quitman

Columbus Enq. 3/30/64

By BILL LEVY

Ralph Balkcom Sr., leader of a hard-fought political battle to reopen qualifying in the Quitman County Democratic primary, has qualified to run for the Quitman legislative seat held by Joe J. Hurst.

According to Fane Dykes, chairman of the Quitman Democratic Executive Committee, Balkcom paid his $150 qualifying fee Saturday night, just a few hours after Hurst's wife, Mrs. Mary Castellow Hurst, entered the race for her husband's seat in the House.

Balkcom and Mrs. Hurst will oppose each other in a countywide primary July 28. Qualifying deadline under a new set of party election rules is April 21.

A primary election initially set for April 2 was voided by the county Democratic Executive Committee last week after Balkcom had told the state Democratic committee he had not been permitted to have his name placed on the primary ballot.

The county committee had refused to qualify the former Quitman County school superintendent on grounds that he failed to appear before it within a specified 45-day period.

Hurst, who had qualified for the first election, announced over the weekend that he was withdrawing from the race.

A native of Quitman County, Mrs. Hurst has served as Quitman County's welfare director for the past 15 years. She is a member of a well-known Quitman County political family.

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Hurst, who served 14 years in the House, was found guilty in federal court here last year on charges of conspiring to manufacture illegal whisky, and was sentenced to a year and a day in prison. The conviction is now on appeal.

He has since pleaded guilty to a federal vote fraud charge, and received a three-year probationary sentence and a $1,000 fine.

Balkcom, who will be making his first race for representative served as county school superintendent eight years.

He attempted to enter the April 2 running on Feb. 27, but Dykes refused to qualify him, saying the deadline was Feb. 18.

The dispute was brought to the State Democratic Executive Committee, which ruled that insufficient time was given to allow candidates to qualify. The committee said it would not certify Quitman's nominees unless the representative's race was changed and ample time given to qualify.

Ga. Statesmen

Columbus Enq., 4/1/64, p. 1

Democratic Committee Boosts Candidate Fees To Meet Runoff Costs

By BILL LEVY
Enquirer Staff Writer

ATLANTA — In an historic change in policy, the State Democratic Executive Committee Tuesday ruled that candidates in the September primary must carry a majority of the popular vote in order to be certified as the party's nominee on the November ballot.

The ruling wiped out the use of the old plurality-vote system, and set the stage for runoff elections for all elective posts in Georgia — state, county and city.

The state committee set the 1964 fall primary for Sept. 9. In cases where runoffs must be held, they will be staged a week later, on Sept. 16. The deadline for qualifying is May 2.

The Columbus and Muscogee County Democratic Committees are expected to increase qualifying fees for all elective positions this year to meet the cost of two elections, instead of the usual one.

Columbus Committee

George Dorman, chairman of the Columbus committee, said it will meet "sometime after the county committee meets" to consider qualifying rules for City Commission candidates.

"With the costs of two elections facing us, it is only logical to assume that the fees will go up," he said. The fee for City Commission candidates in the last election was $450.

Third District Committee Chairman W. H. Young Jr. of Columbus said he plans to set a date for a meeting of the district committee after he has had a chance to study the rules of the state committee. He said the district meeting will be held in Americus.

In Atlanta Tuesday, George Stewart, secretary of the State Democratic Committee, said the words "unit vote" have been virtually eliminated from the language of the party's rules.

Old System

Under the old "unit vote" system, it was possible for candidates for state office to win an election without carrying the most popular votes. The system was based on the assignment of voting "units" to individual counties.

The state committee established the majority - vote rule Tuesday by adopting Section 6 of a new set of primary regulations.

The section states, "In order for any candidate to be declared a nominee of the Democratic Party of Georgia (for state and local offices), the candidates must have received a majority of all the popular votes cast."

Henry Neal, legal aide to Gov. Carl Sanders and a member of the state committee, said the new rules "delete the reference to county unit vote system" and include several minor changes in statewide voting regulations.

Another change in party rules called for the creation of a special primary subcommittee to conduct appeal hearings and amend committee rules.

Members of the committee are State Chairman J. B. Fuqua, Secretary George Stewart, Pope McIntyre, Arthur Bolton, Robert Richardson and Neal.

A separate section of the rules gives the committee the right to decide on appeals "in accordance with the law and the rules and customs of the party."

The state committee also made it clear that no winning

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Majority—

(Continued from Page 1)

candidate shall be certified if it is shown he conducted his campaign in violaton of state election laws.

All new rules, according to Fuqua, may be altered later to conform with any new state election code adopted by the General Assembly.

In an opening address to the state committee, Gov. Sanders said the Democratic Party "is the party that goes to the polls, and not to convention, and the party that goes to the ballot box, and not somewhere else."

'Greatest Turnout'

He predicted that this fall's primary will produce "the greatest turnout ever" in state elections.

"We have open primaries now, and we will have open primaries in the future," he said. "With the help of good Democrats like yourselves, we will continue to be the party of the people," he added.

Fuqua, meanwhile, said he has no fear of the party being overtaken by the state's Republican forces.

Fuqua asked for a stronger state organization through a network of "Democratic Clubs," and asked committee members to support President Lyndon B. Johnson in the November election.

"If we keep this party strong, we won't have to worry about the Republicans," he said.

Qualifying fees increased by the state committee were justices of the Supreme Court, judges of Court Appeals and public service commissioner from $750 to $1,000; judges of Superior Courts from $500 to $750, and state senators and solicitors general, from $350 to $500.

Counties having a population of 70,000 or more may set additional fees not exceeding $2,500 for circuit judges and solicitors general.

Ga. Politics

White to Request Later Runoff Date

C. Cody White, chairman of the Muscogee County Democratic Executive Committee, Tuesday night said he plans to file a protest with the State Democratic Committee, asking that the time between the Sept. 9 primary and the primary runoff be extended.

White said he will write Committee Secretary George Stewart today and request that the state committee consider pushing back the scheduled Sept. 16 runoff at least one week.

"One week is simply not enough time for us to get ready for another election," White said. "We can't even get the [illegible] of White also said state laws governing the use of voting machines require that the machines remained sealed a period of 15 days following an election.

When a runoff was staged for a state office in 1962, White was forced to obtain a court order allowing the county committee to reopen machines in time for the second election.

"The state committee is just putting a burden on the whole state, and particularly where voting machines are used," he said.

White said he plans to call a meeting of the county committee for 5 p.m. Thursday.

Rep. Frank Twitty Plans to Bow Out

Atl. Jour., 4/1/64, p. 2

—The state's first sales tax, enacted under Mr. Twitty's leadership during Gov. Herman Talmadge's term, which gave $100 million to the schools.

3. The open-school fight, "when the present governor and I went out over the state for the Chamber of Commerce," the first two legislators to come out for open schools in the face of court-ordered desegregation.

IN 20 YEARS, Mr. Twitty has seen more far-reaching changes in Georgia political, economic and social life than in possibly any other two decades in this century.

"I saw appropriations rise from $54 million, including $17 million for education, to the present biennial budget of some $500 million," he said Wednesday.

He said he thinks all the changes were "more or less for the best."

Assessing the governors he served under, he said "they all faced their problems." To Gov. Talmadge's credit, he mentions the sales tax passage that helped education, the first enabling legislation to obtain federal money in the Hill-Burton program that "resulted in practically every rural area in Georgia having a hospital," and road building.

"GOV. VANDIVER had to face social problems never faced before," Mr. Twitty said. "He faced them as he should have; I think he came out all right."

Gov. Politics

Special Session Sees Swan Song

"I'll bow out after two very controversial and important issues have been acted on," said Rep. Frank Twitty of Camilla Wednesday, retiring after 20 years in the Georgia House of Representatives.

Rep. Twitty

Mr. Twitty's farewell to the House will come at the special session of the General Assembly in May, which will consider a new state Constitution and revised election laws.

After 20 years of being very much in the thick of legislative controversy and activity, Mr. Twitty is retiring to devote more time to his extensive law practice and to encourage his son Frank Jr., 29, to become more active in politics.

THE YOUNGER Mr. Twitty is now solicitor of the Camilla City Court and may become a candidate for solicitor of the Albany Judicial Circuit.

Mr. Twitty Sr. is generally regarded as the best orator in the House and, through eight years as floor leader under Govs. Herman Talmadge and Ernest Vandiver, one of its most powerful members.

He picks three highlights of his 20-year career that stand above the rest:

—The "two-governor fight," when Mr. Twitty supported Herman Talmadge, son of Gov.-Elect Eugene Talmadge who had just died, against Lt. Gov.-Elect M. E. Thompson, whom the courts later declared the legal governor.

Study Group Backs Away From Plan For State Elections Commissioner

ATLANTA (AP)—The Georgia Election Laws Study Commission backed away Wednesday from a controversial proposal it made last year that the secretary of state be named state commissioner of elections.

Both Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer and Secretary George Stewart of the State Democratic Committee had vigorously opposed the original proposal, though maintaining that they held Secretary of State Ben Fortson in the highest esteem.

Geer recently said he didn't believe the legislature would approve a bill making any one man "the high priest of Georgia elections."

The new elections code bill was introduced in January but remained in committee throughout the 40-day session. Election law revision will be one of the matters Gov. Carl E. Sanders is laying before a special session starting May 4.

Under an alternate bill approved by the commission Wednesday, there would be a three-member board to supervise elections. Fortson would be chairman. The Senate and the House each would elect a member from without their ranks.

The commission also agreed that the board should have jurisdiction in party primaries. Only the Democrats hold them now.

"If there have been abuses, that's where they have been," Rep. Bill Williams of Hall County said.

Fortson gave this outline of the board's duties:

"The board will interpret and set up uniform rules and regulations on elections.

"If it became known to the board that a primary or election is not being carried out in the proper manner, the board could step in and try to see that a proper election is held."

Fortson emphasized that party officials still would run their primaries. The new board would step in if there were disputes on matters of law.

Columbus Enq., 4/2/64, p. 5

Cos, Politics

Democratic Qualifying Is Opened by County

Col. Enq., 4-3-64, p. 1.

By BILL LEVY

Qualifying opened Thursday for 20 county posts to appear on the ballot in the Sept. 9 Democratic primary.

The Muscogee Democratic Executive Committee raised qualifying fees for four offices to help pay the cost of a runoff, and set the qualifying deadline for May 2—the closing date for entering state races.

The committee hiked the entrance fee for candidates for state representative from $250 to $450, after pointing out that state committee rules prohibit a county committee from collecting fees from candidates for the State Senate.

At the close of an hour-long meeting in County Commission Chambers, Chairman C. Cody White announced that he would not seek re-election this year.

He has served on the committee for 20 years, the last eight as chairman.

On a recommendation by White, the committee elected W. B. Brescia vice chairman and Robert Dismukes Jr. secretary.

Primary candidates may qualify before any of the committee's three officers — White, Brescia or Dismukes — between now and noon, Saturday, May 2.

Fees for post on the September ballot were set as follows:

County Commission, for seats held by incumbents P. B. Massey, Dixon Wadsworth and Roy M. Waller, $600; sheriff, for post held by Jack T. Rutledge, $900; coroner, for post held by Dr. C. F. Davis, $250; House of Representatives, for seats

(Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Democratic Qualifying Opened

(Continued from Page 1)

held by Reps. A. Mac Pickard, Harry Dicus and T. Milton Jones, $450; ordinary, for seat held by Henry Hunter, $800; tax commissioner for seat held by Mrs. Lena W. Walker, $950; clerk of Superior Court, for seat held by John Bloodworth, $900.

Judge of City Court for seat held by Oscar D. Smith Jr., $1,000; solicitor of City Court, for seat held by W. B. Skipworth Jr., $875; judge of Municipal Court, for post held by T. Bradford Bagley, $850; clerk of Municipal Court, for post held by Claude B. Layfield, $550; marshal of Municipal Court, $550; solicitor general of the Chattahoochee Judicial Circuit, for post held by John H. Land, $350; judges of Superior Court, Chatthoochee Judicial Circuit, for posts held by J. R. Thompson and J. Alvan Davis, $600.

The committee set a $10 qualifying fee for candidates for county surveyor and chairman of the county Democratic committee.

White said the fees generally represent about 10 per cent of the salary a winning candidate would receive during a single term in office.

In addition to the fees for House races, the committee increased the assessments for solicitor general from $250 to $350, Superior Court judges from $300 to $600, and county commissioners from $500 to $600. Committee members noted that the salaries of county commissioners recently had been raised from $200 to $300 a month, and the salary of the chairman had been increased from $300 to $400 monthly.

Under the provisions of rules adopted by the State Democratic Executive Committee in Atlanta Tuesday, candidates for State Senate must pay a state qualifying fee of $500, but may not be charged another fee by the county committee.

Those who seek the posts of solicitor general and Superior Court judge, however, must pay both state and county assessments.

White told the committee Thursday that he has filed a letter with George Stewart, secretary of the state committee, asking that the state party consider the possibility of setting the fall runoff three weeks away from the primary.

The state organization Tuesday fixed all runoffs for Sept. 16, a week after the first primary.

White said state law requires that voting machines be sealed 15 days following an election, and in order to get the machines opened sooner, he said, the committe must file a special request with a Superior Court judge. The law prohibits him from filing the request less than five days after an election, he said.

White said it would be virtually impossible for him to obtain a proper court order in time to hold a runoff a week following the first election.

He also said Thursday that the city Democratic committee has agreed to hold the city's primary in conjunction with the county-state election.

The city committee is expected to meet within several days to adopt qualifying rules for City Commission and mayoralty races.

In a discussion of primary rules, White said the state committee has ruled that candidate must receive a majority of the popular vote in order to be certified as the party's nominee on the November general election ballot.

Ga. Politics

Tel.: JAckson 1-1459 ATLANTA (3), GEORGIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 1964 PRICE FIVE CENTS "IT IS NEWS"

Atl. Daily World

CIVIL RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS LASH GTEA FOR INVITING SEN. TALMADGE

Sen. Johnson Won't Appear At Meeting

By JOHN H. McCRAY
(World's Associate City Editor)

Georgia's colored State Senator won't introduce Georgia's Junior U. S. Senator to Georgia's colored teachers tonight, and behind are overtones on both politics and the race question.

Sen. Leroy R. Johnson of Fulton county is scheduled in the printed programs to introduce Sen. Herman Talmadge tonight, the final program of the 40th annual convention of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association. However, Sen. Johnson announced yesterday that he will be speaking at Kittrell College in North Carolina at about the same time he is scheduled to introduce Sen. Talmadge.

A Johnson office aide said the Kittrell engagement has been scheduled "for some time." The same source said Mr. Johnson had accepted an invitation to appear on tonight's program. There was no indication, however, that the Fulton senator was aware of the Kittrell schedule at the time, or of the role assigned for the GTEA program. His Kittrell appearance is sponsored by the campus and Henderson NAACP branches. His announced subject is: "Freedom Now! No Substitute for Human Dignity and First Class Citizenship."

Thursday, anti-Talmadge drums thumped about Atlanta. Some teachers were indignant that he'd been invited and scheduled to deliver the main address tonight. Many said they would miss the meeting. Several local civic organizations issued protests, some to newsmen; some protested to GTEA officials.

One GTEA source, requesting anonymity, said teacher officials hoped to enlist the Junior Senator's support for federal legislation having to do with further help to teachers and public education.

A Negro political leader recalled that Negro voters rejected bids to support Talmadge's bid for the U. S. Senate, and had opposed both him and his father, the late Eugene Talmadge. Both were at one time Georgia governors.

The state has an estimated 225,000 Negro voters — considerably more than when Talmadge sought election to the U. S. Senate. The number is expected to rise steadily and, to represent a solid core of votes within a few months.

While there was speculation that the Talmadge appearance could be related to "making peace" with these voters, there remain his solid alignment against civil rights legislation pending in Congress, legislation Negro voters favor.

THE CONVERSATION IS ABOUT THE ELECTION—GTEA executive secretary Dr. H. E. Tate, president James Reese, J. S. Wilkerson, and Edward Bouie converse following first ballot election on time and place for the run-off between James Hawes and Dr. Bettie Smith. (See story, "James Hawes Elected."—(Perry's Photo)

Ga. Politics

Invitation No Endorsement, Dr. Tate Answers Critics

By STANLEY S. SCOTT
(World's News Staff)

Leaders of local civil rights organizations levelled heated criticism at officials of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association Thursday in their selection of anti-civil rights Georgia Sen. Herman Talmadge as a speaker at their convention tonight.

One spokesman told the Atlanta Daily World that Sen. Talmadge, who has traditionally voted against civil rights legislation and is presently - aligned with a Southern bloc filibustering pending civil rights legislation, "will definitely be picketed during his appearance" at the Municipal Auditorium tonight.

It was also learned that Georgia's lone Negro Senator, Leroy Johnson, was originally scheduled to introduce Sen. Talmadge to the statewide Negro convention, but later advised convention officials that he would be out of the city on a speaking engagement.

ATLANTA SUMMIT

Rev. Samuel W. Williams, co-chairman of the Atlanta Summit Leadership Conference, an organization boasting sponsorship by nine leading civil rights groups, blasted the Talmadge invitation as "quite untimely."

"In light of the senator's present involvement in the filibuster, and his views against first class citizenship and his stand against basic civil rights, I don't see how he got the invitation in the first place," Rev. Willams said. "How did it happen in the twentieth century?"

Leon Cox, Georgia field secretary for the National Association for the Advanceemnt of Colored People, sent a telegram to Dr. Horace E. Tate, executive secretary of the GTEA, protesting Talmadge's appearance.

In the telegram, Cox said "It seems hardly logical" to invite Talmadge to "appear on a program whose theme is "Education For Responsible Freedom."

"Sen. Talmadge is an outspoken foe of civil rights legislation designed to bestow first class citizenship on Negroes of this country," Cox charged.

DEFENDS POSITION

Dr. Horace E. Tate, executive secretary of the organization, defended his organization's invitation to Sen. Talmadge Thursday, saying "If we get to the point of allowing ourselves to listen only to those with our point of view, we are doomed to an intellectual death

"Some of those opposed to Talmadge's appearance are the very one's who have eaten ham with him in his Lovejoy, Ga., home and asked special favors. Most of the opposition to Talmadge speaking is coming from outside groups and individuals."

"The invitation extended to Sen. Talmadge," Tate said, "in no way means this association endorses his stand, beliefs, or philosophy on civil rights."

Asked by a white newsman why Sen. Talmadge was invited, Tate insisted that the "invitation was extended to him just as we would extend an invitation to anyone else."

Dr. Tate declined to answer when asked who had actually invited the Georgia junior senator.

State Constitution Revision Would Keep Rural Strength

By O. P. HANES

Ga. Statewide

Columbus Ledger 4-24-67

ATLANTA (AP) — The proposed new state constitution drafted by an honorary study commission would retain features of the 1945 and earlier constitutions making the rural-dominated House all-powerful in its control over legislation.

In fact, the proposal of the Constitution Revision Commission would keep in effect the county unit system of apportioning the 205 House seats. But it could be changed by the General Assembly.

The U.S. Supreme Court two years ago outlawed the unit system in the deciding of primary elections, holding that the popular vote must govern the outcome.

Could Band Together

But if the legislature in its May special session adopts the proposal of the study commission and the people ratify it in the November general election, lawmakers from the small counties could still band together and defeat any bill of the city factions.

The new section starts off somewhat like that now in effect when it says the House shall consist of one representative from each county. Then there is this language:

"There shall be 46 additional representatives to be apportioned among the several counties in such manner as the General Assembly may provide but until such time as the General Assembly shall provide otherwise, such additional representatives shall be apportioned among the several counties as follows:

Makeup Would Continue

"To the eight counties having the largest population, two additional representatives each; and to the 30 counties having the next largest population, one additional representative each."

If that wins approval, the 3-2-1 House makeup would continue in effect unless the House itself should vote a reshuffling of membership and gain Senate approval.

The provision authorizing the General Assembly to redistribute those 46 additional representatives in any way it sees fit apparently was worked out as a guard against federal court intervention in apportionment.

Many have been warning that the courts may order the House reapportioned to give cities more voting members. If that happened the legislature could give the half dozen most populous counties nearly all of the 46 surplus legislators.

★ ★ ★

Smith Calls 40 Legislators For Preview

ATLANTA (UPI) — House Speaker George T. Smith said Thursday he has summoned 40 House members for a three-day preview of a proposed new constitution for Georgia to be taken up at a special session of the General Assembly May 4.

Smith said he hoped the preview, to begin Monday, would save at least one week's time in the special session.

Those lawmakers called for the special preview are members of the judicial, special judicial and House rules committees. Smith has assigned these three groups the task of forming a committee to review the poposed constitution at the special session and before it is presented to the House floor for action.

Committee sessions during the legislative meeting will be in the form of public hearings that could take up to three weeks. The legislative session itself, he said, will take at least five weeks.

The preview sessions, Smith said, will give lawmakers a chance to get an explanation of the proposed constitution "so we will not have to explain the changes when we start the public hearings the following week."

Ga. Politics

Ga. Daily Bld., 4-25-64

Ward Elections Against Best Interest

Ga. Statewide

It was only a few years ago that the Negro community soundly repudiated the repulsive idea of electing city aldermen on a ward basis rather than on the city-at-large system.

Recent reports have it that a move is afoot to attempt to bridle the electorate with the ward election plan again.

We reiterate our opposition to such a political maneuver. We further hope that backers of the ward vote plan will be dissuaded from the self-defeating proposition.

One tired and worn argument is—"the system of ward elections would assure the election of possibly two Negroes to the Board of Aldermen."

We are of the opinion that the time for Negro representation on the aldermanic board is long overdue, but, we feel, the overriding issue is "What chance would the Negro have with representation from only two aldermen of color?"

Under the present system of electing aldermen, the minority vote is looked upon with increasing favor by all of the elected aldermen. If this system of electing aldermen is halted, we feel that incalcuable harm would come to the best interests of the City of Atlanta.

The city has a substantial stake in the election process, and the entire vote—both Negro and white—goes hand and glove with the progress made when elected officials look to the entire city for support.

We hope that those espousing ward elections will again be repudiated.

Ga. Statewide

Committee Proposes 45 Day Vote Plan

Atl. Daily. Const.
4-23-64

A new provision adopted by the Election Laws Study Committee would allow a 45 day period to general election for a person to register in order to become a qualified voter for that election or the September primary.

The emergency session of the Georgia General Assembly, slated May 4, will receive the study committee approved suggestion, which according to Secretary of State Ben Forson, gives non-registratered citizens more time to do so.

Citizens are now required to register no later than six months before the general or primary election in order to be qualified to participate in either.

Ga. Statewide

Atl. Const. 4-26-64

Cobb GOP Starts Move For Primary

Cobb County Republicans made their opening move Saturday toward the first Republican primary ever held there—a fund-raising barbecue that drew a "tremendous" response, according to the first vice chairman of county Republicans, Ben Jordan.

Mr. Jordan said the all-day barbecue in Mabelton "gave out of food about eight or ten times." He estimated the GOP drew in about $100 on the barbecue and collected about $200 in contributions.

The group conducted a voter-registration at the same time and an estimated 100 persons registered.

Mr. Jordan said "the most amazing thing" about the day was the number of people who told him, "I have switched parties."

He spoke of the "real change in the people" who were drawn to the GOP by the "image the party has created of constitutional and conservative government."

Ga. Politics

Atl. Const.
4-26-64 Ga. Pol. 1964

Scott, Ellis Seek New Senate Terms

State Senators Milford A. Scott of Augusta and S. Tom Ellis of McDonough have qualified to succeed themselves.

Sen. Scott has no opposition yet, but Sen. Ellis will be opposed by W. Cam Mitchell of Hampton, former president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Earlier in the week, Harry L. Wingate Jr. of Pelham, a staff member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, qualified for the congressional post being vacated by Rep. J. L. Pilcher, who is resigning to accept a federal appointment.

Mr. Wingate had previously announced he would be a candidate.

IN ANOTHER race, Logan Lewis of Cairo has qualified to oppose Sen. Glenn Pelham, also of Cairo.

Toombs Circuit Sol. Gen. Kenneth E. Goolsby of Thomson has paid the entrance fee to succeed himself.

All of the candidates qualified with George D. Stewart, secretary of the State Democratic Party.

The deadline for qualifying for the Democratic Primary September 9 is next Saturday.

Ga. Statewide

Mrs. Pauley Named To Ga. Advisory Rights Committee

Ethel. Pauley. Dell.

4-28-64

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Dr. John A. Hannah, Chairman of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, has announced the appointment of Mrs. William C. Pauley of Atlanta, as a member of the Georgia State Advisory Committee to the Commission. The announcement followed an April 8. meeting of the Commission in Washington.

Mrs. Pauley, Director of the Georgia Council on Human Relations, is a graduate of Agnes Scott College in Decatur. She serves as a Board member of the Atlanta Urban League, the Georgia American Civil Liberties Union and previously was President of the Georgia League of Women Voters. A long-time resident of the state, Mrs. Pauley was also a board member of HOPE (Help Our Public Education).

Sylvan H. Meyer, editor of the Gainesville Daily Times, is the Chairman of the Georgia Committee. The Georgia group is one of 51 Advisory Committees established in each of the States and the District of Columbia, composed of citizens of standing who serve without compensation. The Committee provides the U. S. Commission with information concerning civil rights issues in the state.

been active in the Masonic orders and is a past Illustrious Potentate of Yaarab Temple of the Shrine. He also is a member of the board of stewards of the St. Mark Methodist church.

Until two years ago, when he ran for a seat in the State Senate, Mr. Brewer had held no political office. He is a native of Atlanta.

See Statement

Legislators Back Re-Drawn District

Atl. Const, 4-28-71

By TED SIMMONS

The Fulton County legislative delegation unofficially approved a revision of the county's senatorial district lines Monday and indicated it will seek to push the plan through the Legislature at the special session which begins Monday.

Sen. Charlie Brown, delegation chairman, requested written descriptions of the new districts so they may be incorporated into a bill.

No official vote was taken on the revision by the five members present since a quorum was lacking, but Brown said absent members had expressed satisfaction with the plan.

Approval was granted over the protests of Sen. Jim Wesberry, who said the plan was "a step in the wrong direction" because of its disparity in population between the largest and smallest districts.

Wesberry said the revised plan, which is based on 1960 census figures, has a disparity of roughly 14 per cent, as opposed to the present 12 per cent.

Wesberry also questioned the timing of the redistricting, which comes in the middle of an election year. He said action should be withheld until the next regular session of the General Assembly in January.

Population figures for the tenative revised districts as compared to present population figures are:

District 34 (Sen. Brown) 84,973 now and 82,195 in the proposed revision; District 35 (Sen. Frank Coggin) 81,530 and 82,888; District 36 (Sen. Joe Salome) 84,256 and 79,023; District 37 (Sen. Wesberry) 75,776 and 78,540; District 38 (Sen. Leroy Johnson) 78,817 and 78,953; District 39 (Sen. Obie Brewer) 74,479 and 79,713; District 40 (Sen. Dan MacIntyre) 76,315 and 74,834.

Ga. Politics

Everyone's Duty to Register And Vote, Sanders Tells 3,000

By TED SIMMONS
Constitution Staff Writer

MONROE, Ga. — Gov. Carl Sanders appealed Wednesday to every individual in the state, "no matter who he may be," to register and vote.

He omitted from his speech a section of his prepared text which replied to criticism of restricted registration.

The governor made his get out and vote appeal before some 3,000 celebrants of Walton County's Governors Day.

Sanders told the crowd gathered at American Legion Field here that the time has come for every citizen "to stand up and be counted" in government.

CHALLENGES CHARGES

In his prepared text Sanders made an obvious reference to charges that Negroes are prevented from registering in some parts of Georgia.

"This is simply not so, and I hereby challenge those citizens who have not yet let their presence be felt in our government to register and find out for themselves," the text said.

In his speech Sanders made no reference to "registration . . . on a restrictive basis," but directed his appeal for all citizens to push for bigger vote registration.

Sanders also departed from his prepared text to describe Georgia as a state which is "looked on as a progressive state . . . no longer looked on as just a leader in the South" but in the nation as well.

He said Georgia is growing on all fronts "because our people are united." There is no longer division in the state between north and south or east and west, or between the cities and the rural areas.

EDUCATION SUPPORT

An example of this new unity was the "overwhelming" support his education program received from the Legislature during its last session, Sanders said.

The governor also described the state's agriculture as being "on the move."

"In 1962, for example, the gross farm income in our state totaled $831,022,000 while the latest preliminary estimates on farm income for 1963 amount to about $899 million, or in other words, a very healthy seven per cent increase in a year's time," Sanders said.

"What makes this continuing increase even more remarkable is the fact that there are now actually fewer farmers taking in more income," he said.

Sanders was honored with ceremonies that attracted citizens from all over the county, and which were climaxed by an outdoor barbecue chicken dinner.

SKY DIVING

The festivities included a spectacular sky diving exhibition by three members of the Georgia Sky Divers' Club, which created some excitement in the crowd when all three divers were blown considerably off target by high winds.

The female member of the team, Miss Pat Hollins, landed in a tree, a considerable distance from American Legion field, but was uninjured.

The ceremony also included music and marching by the Monroe Girls' Corps, the Loganville Glee Club, and the Morgan County High School Band.

In a brief address preceding that of Gov. Sanders, Dr. Harry Brown, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau told the crowd that agriculture is now "more important than it has ever been before," because of ever increasing population.

Gov. Sanders responded by giving his assurance "that there will be a strong agricultural program in Georgia as long as I am governor."

Ga. Politics

Pilcher Qualifies For Georgia House, McClelland Seat

James B. Pilcher, Atlanta Attorney, qualified this week as a candidate for the Georgia House of Representatives. Mr. Pilcher will oppose Ralph McClelland.

Upon qualifying, Mr. Pilcher said that he is seeking this office to provide active, construtive leadership for Fulton County in the General Assembly of Georgia — leadership that is aware of the needs of the people and responsive to the problems that daily confront our society.

Mr. Pilcher is a past President of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, past President of the Young Democratic Club of Fulton County and is currently serving as President of the Young Democrats of Georgia. He was State Chairman of the Young Georgians for Sanders organization in the last Governor's race.

Mr. Pilcher also stated that the abolition of the County Unit System in Georgia Politics puts the political spotlight on Fulton County. We now must have able political leaders commensurate to the outstanding business, industrial and professional leaders that have made us a dynamic, growing community.

"I intend to wage a strong county-wide, summer-long campaign for this office," Mr. Pilcher said.

Atl. Daily, 5-11-64

Ga. Statesman

Columbus Ledger

The New Constitution

A new state constitution shouldn't be needed as often as Georgia needs one.

Only 19 years have passed since the present constitution was drafted. In those 19 years, it has been amended a record number of times, and that is quite a few indeed, because previous constitutions also required hundreds of amendments.

The General Assembly is now convened to approve a constitution that will eliminate the need of so many amendments, and it is to be hoped, to approve a constitution that will serve the state at least until the end of the century.

In November, 1962, The Enquirer suggested that the newly-elected governor, Carl Sanders, could find few worthier projects for his administration than the adoption of a streamlined constitution that would give home rule to cities and counties and stem the flood of meaningless amendments that most voters do not even read before delivering their verdict.

Sanders was already having thoughts along that line, and in his opening address to the 1963 Assembly, he asked that a constitution revision committee be appointed.

The committee's work is now in the hands of the legislators.

Our suggestions on what the constitution should contain are few and simple.

First and foremost, it should provide for strong and broad governmental authority to city and county governments. That is the meaning of "home rule." Mayor Harold Hughes of Columbus, when asked how much home rule he wanted, replied: "All we can get."

Local decisions which do not involve state financing or departments should be left to city and county governments. The legislators should not be the arbitrers of purely local matters. An amendment to the state constitution should not be necessary when a city or county wishes to set up a hospital authority or float a bond issue.

Secondly, the new constitution should recognize that city governments need more access to state funds and facilities. This is particularly true of road funds.

Thirdly, the Assembly should put its own house in order by clearly fixing terms of office, rules for apportionment, and election of senators by districts.

After considering the matter carefully, we believe that both senators and representatives should have four-year terms, and be elected in a staggered schedule, with half the seats open every other year.

Our observation has been that two-year terms more often discourage opposition for incumbents than encourage it. A four - year term provides a more appropriate period in which to judge a legislator's performance.

Nearly all other state and local officials have four-year or longer terms. There is no reason that legislators should be the exception. A man who runs a hard race for the legislature deserves a fair period of service.

Ga. Pol.

Geer-Sanders Clash Looms on Elections

By SAM HOPKINS

The likelihood of a bitter fight over the proposed new election laws came more into focus Wednesday as Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer and Sanders administration leaders clashed repeatedly over some sections.

Geer objected most strenuously to the authority that would be delegated to a three-member State Election Board headed by the secretary of state which could initiate proceedings to take over a county election if vote frauds or other irregularities were suspected.

Disagreeing almost constantly with Geer Wednesday were Senate Floor Leader Milton Carlton of Swainsboro and Sen. Julian Webb of Donalsonville, the assistant floor leader.

The discussion of the code came during a meeting of the Senate Rules Committee, of which Geer is chairman.

'UNBRIDLED POWER'

Geer declared that the Election Board would have "unbridled power" and that its actions could result in "an inquisition" or "character assassination" if it moved to take over a local election.

He further stated that one section, which would authorize the election board to report vote frauds and other irregularities to the solicitor general "for further investigation and prosecution," would "make a grand jury" of the board.

"It presupposes," Geer added, "that a grand jury is not competent to handle a local situation" and that a state board "far removed is needed to make people have character."

Sen. Carlton said he did not think the board would be clothed with too much power and that "When you give authority to any governmental board you have to assume reasonable control."

HONEST ELECTIONS

Carlton added that "the whole theme of this bill is to try to have honesty in elections. Unless you have someone to supervise you're not going to move forward with honesty in elections."

Lt. Gov. Geer commented, "I'm looking at the political implications."

In connection with a section requiring that the attorney general or one of his assistants be notified of and be present at any proceeding growing out of action by the election board, Geer declared that counties wouldn't want an attorney general who might take sides in a political issue "down there meddling in their affairs."

Geer said he was not referring to Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

As a section was read aloud that would allow the Election Board to set up the qualifications for voter registration, the lieutenant governor declared:

"They aren't about to do that!"

He said he was "unalterably opposed" to the proposal, that the qualifications should be set by statute by the General Assembly.

Geer also said he felt it would be "ill-advised" to let the Election board prepare questions that would be asked prospective voters and that he favored retaining the 30 questions now required.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Paul Rodgers told Geer the 30 questions are considered too difficult to answer.

Geer also opposed the proposed 45-day deadline for voter registration in the code. "I think 90 days would be better," he said.

"As a practical matter," the lieutenant governor added, "this question of early or late registration is a lot of hogwash" because "very few people would register to vote" close to an election.

However, Rodgers contended it would "stimulate more to register" with a later registration deadline. The current deadline is six months prior to the November general election.

MORE INTEREST

Sen. Carlton also felt the 45-day deadline would cause more voter registration because of the increased interest in races after campaigns start in midsummer.

On another matter, Geer strongly opposed a code provision that would prevent a person from voting in more than one primary. Sen. Carlton favored it.

"I've got a lot of Republican friends who vote for me in the Democratic primary," Geer said.

He added that such counties as Muscogee, Richmond and Chatham have gone Republican since President Eisenhower and that "what we're doing here is running off most of my friends in these counties."

Sen. Carlton contended that with voters allowed to participate in two-party primaries "The Republicans could come into our primaries and control the result," elect the weakest Democrat "and then clobber us in the general election."

Geer commented, "If we had a real competitive, grass roots Republican Party in the state it would be different."

The Senate Rules Committee did not take any vote on any of the election code sections Wednesday. It will go through the entire code first, then start back again and vote.

Senate leaders hope the committee will finish its work and the Senate itself will pass the code by the end of next week.

5-7-69 Const.

Ga. Politics

121 Small Counties Hold Caucus Today

ATLANTA (AP)—Representatives of 121 small counties have called a legislative caucus for today for the avowed purpose of determining how a proposed new constitution will affect their areas.

Those invited to the session, which will be held in a committee room after the House adjourns for the day, are limited to the counties having only one representative.

The 8 counties with the most population have 3 House members and the next 30 have 2. The other 121 have 1 each.

A reliable source told the Associated Press that Rep. Hines L. Brantley was the leader in the move for small counties to band together.

A notice of the meeting was put on 121 desks. It said, "The purpose of the meeting is to determine how the new constitution will affect the smaller counties of Georgia."

In addition to Brantley, the notice was signed by Reps. Bobby W. Johnson, John Scarborough, Harry Mixon, Robert C. Pafford, Joe L. Dennard, Ralph Underwood, Howard Rainey, Gerald Leonard, Harry L. Reeves and James E. Warren.

Some of those lawmakers are advocating that membership of the House be reduced from 205 to 159 — one for each county. Such a reapportionment would make rural control of the House even stronger than at present.

Col. Enq.
5-7-64

Ga, Politics

State's GOP Isn't Split, Say Party Leaders Here

By ACHSAH POSEY

Atlanta area Republican leaders said Wednesday there is no split in their party, but urged newly chosen state chairman Joe Tribble to assure the public that the Republican Party in Georgia will continue to be "broadly based."

Donald L. Whittemore Jr., chairman of the Fulton County executive committee and S. Jarvin Levison, Fifth District chairchairman, publicly regretted that "Sen. Tribble inferred the Republican Party could get along in Georgia without the Negro vote if Sen. (Barry) Goldwater is the party nominee."

Whittemore said Tribble's remarks, "seem to me to be in direct contradiction to those made by Sen. Goldwater in his keynote address last Saturday at the GOP state convention."

OBJECT OF DISCUSSION
GOP's Joe Tribble

CITES GOLDWATER

"In Georgia, Negroes by the thousands have supported the Republican Party and will continue to do so unless Sen. Tribble and others try to read them out of the party," he said at a press conference.

"If the principles of Sen. Goldwater are Mr. Tribble's criteria for party leadership, he should pay closer attention to Sen. Goldwater's remarks and keep the GOP open to all who subscribe to its principles."

"The principles of the Republican Party appeal to people in all walks of life, regardless of race, color or creed. Any person who believes in the dignity of the individual, the free enterprise system and a strong, dynamic foreign policy is welcome in the ranks of the Republican Party," Whittemore declared.

Levison said, "I plan to do every single thing I can in Fulton County to assist Sen. Tribble in his efforts to put the state of Georgia in the Republican column in November of this year," adding "as far as I'm concerned, Sen. Tribble is our state chairman and all Republicans in Georgia should look to him for leadership."

State Sen. Dan MacIntyre and Aldermen Rodney Cook and Richard Freeman charged the new state leadership Tuesday with "tactics of deceit and misrepresentation" and said they do not condone the tactics "nor do we accept the new leadership."

Levison declared Wednesday, "I accept his leadership, but certainly reserve the right to disagree with him or any other individual on a specific question when I feel it is necessary to do so."

OUT OF CONTEXT

Both men said they had not talked with Tribble since he made the statements Sunday, but added they were sure "he was either misquoted or his comments were taken out of context."

Levison warned, "If the statements attributed to Sen. Tribble accurately state his views, then I think the coming months might well provide an opportunity for Republicans in Georgia to test which approach offers the greatest opportunity for success."

When asked how big contributors from Fulton might react, Whittemore said he feels "they will want to see some evidence that the party appeal will be broadly based."

Asked whether State Rep. Arthur Funk would be welcomed to the Republican Party, Levison said, "You'll have to ask the people in Chatham."

Levison said of rumors that former Gov. Marvin Griffin might join the Georgia GOP, "I would oppose his ever becoming active in Republican affairs. He's welcome to vote for our candidates."

EXPECTS NEGRO VOTES

State Young Republican chairman Allen Jones told reporters, "The statement that Sen. Tribble made concerning the Negro votes was not what some of our press has interpreted it, but was a statement saying that we expect a substantial part of the Negro vote."

"We will give, as we have always done, the Negro representation in this party, but it will be based on his participation through work in the party and not as a gift of feigned appeasement. We appeal to the Negro on an honest basis of giving them better job opportunities and better education for their children. This is far superior to what the Democrats offer; that is, a chance to sit in a white restaurant by force but no opportunity."

Asked whether he thought Negroes have a right to eat in such restaurants, Jones said: "That's not the issue. I don't believe you'll find local Republicans running on 'I'll get you into a white restaurant,'" and he refused to comment on his views on public accommodations.

THEY WOULDN'T HELP

He does not feel Sen. Tribble's remarks were unfortunate, Jones said. "I feel his statement was taken out of context."

Jones said Negroes were "thrown out" of the Chatham delegation because they refused to help Tribble in his "three tough campaigns" for the Senate.

"Any Negro willing to work with the party will get the same recognition as anyone else," Jones said, adding that he thinks "the great majority of Negroes could work for Sen. Goldwater."

One long - time Republican worker, Mrs. John Pendergrast, disagreed with him on that in a short exchange after the television cameras were turned off.

Cai Statesville

Atl. Const. 5-8-64 Ga. Pol.

Proposal for a Single Primary Fails to Set Off Any Dispute

One of the proposed changes in the new election laws code expected to cause a lot of controversy didn't even raise an eyebrow in the Senate Rules Committee Thursday.

The proposal would set one date in September for all county and state primaries. It is designed to eliminate the early primaries now held in many counties.

When it was read in the committee Thursday the members passed on to another section without discussion. However, the committee, headed by Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer, has not started voting on sections of the code.

WHAT OF ILLITERACY?

On another matter, Sen. Hugh Gillis of Soperton expressed concern that the proposed elections code will eliminate many people from the voters' lists who cannot read or write.

One section of the code states that the only voters who can get assistance at the polls are the physically disabled. The present law provides that illiterates also may be helped.

The members of the committee appeared to be in general agreement that one section should be amended to eliminate the need of candidates for county commissioner running for one particular commission post as in other elections.

Geer said he agrees with the majority vote except in such a case as the county commissioners. He advocated that the high men in the races win the posts.

Geer, Sen. Julian Webb and others also disagreed with a section which gives the state executive committee of a political party the authority to take over the jurisdiction of a local primary if it feels the regulations are not being properly enforced.

UP TO PARTIES

They felt that this should not be spelled out in the law, but that it should be left up to the political parties to make their own rules and regulations.

Geer, in answer to a newspaper story that he and leaders o Gov. Carl Sanders' administration had "clashed" the previous day over some sections of the proposed code, denied that this was so.

He said there is "no conflict" over the code between him and Floor Leader Milton Carlton, Sen. Webb, the assistant floor leader, or Gov. Sanders.

Atl. Const. 5-8-64

Is Geer Against Honest-Election Bill?

Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer is taking a curiously hesitant approach to the honest-elections bill.

The proposed state election board is designed to shield long-suffering counties from any more vote frauds. Mr. Geer seems to think this would constitute "meddling in their affairs." Citizens of such counties would welcome some official meddling into fradulent affairs.

Where Mr. Geer astounds us, however, is in saying "this question of early or late registration is a lot of hogwash."

Let him try to tell that to every Georgian who wants to vote in next September's primary—but who finds it is already too late for him to register if he failed to, even though this is only May.

Such an early registration deadline, we suggest, is what constitutes hogwash. Why should any qualified citizen who wants to vote be required to register six months ahead of voting time, before the campaigns have even started? Six weeks makes more sense. That's what the sensible honest-elections bill proposes. We can't for the life of us see why the lieutenant governor opposes that. The unregistered people who have been short-shuffled out of a chance to vote this year deserve a new deal. The honest-elections law would give it to them, in time for them to vote this year, if Mr. Geer doesn't stand in the way.

Ga. Politics

In Vote Decisions Col. Eng. 5-12-67

Geer Blasts Proposed Code Limiting General Assembly

ATLANTA (AP)—A provision in the proposed new election laws code that wtuld take away from the entire General Assembly the right to decide contested elections came under the fire of Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer Monday.

The provision worked out by a study committee would turn such contests for state office over to a 13-member legislative committee selected through a complicated procedure.

"I don't think the General Assembly would ever agree to a thing like this," Geer told the Senate Rules Committee in its second week of preliminary consideration of the 174-page bill to revise state election laws.

"This would give to 13 people the final decision on a matter that addresses itself to all of the people of Georgia. I don't believe it would be constitutional and it would be short-circuiting the powers of the General Assembly."

Several other committee members agreed with Geer and there were indications that the proposal would be killed when the group starts voting on various sections later in the week.

Elections embraced by the provisions are for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, state school superintendent, comptroller general, treasurer, commissioner of agriculture and commissioner of labor.

The committee became embroiled in a long discussion about whether voters unlawfully casting ballots should be compelled to disclose who got their votes.

Sen. Milton A. Carlton of Swainsboro, administration floor leader, said he thought such a proposal was unconstitutional. Apparently it will be stricken.

Geer and Carlton said they hoped committee action could be completed this week so the bill can reach the Senate floor for amendments and debate starting May 18.

Ga. Pol.

'Legislative Honeymoon' Ends As Attitude Toward Governor Changes

By BILL LEVY
Enquirer Staff Writer

"Carl Sanders is governor, but he ain't king," muttered a disgruntled legislator near the end of last week's committee controversy over a revised constitution.

The remark was typical of the comments that came from many of the lawmakers as they prepared to feud with the Sanders administration over home rule, gas tax funds for cities and a change in the terms of state senators.

Sanders, the dapper Augustan who carries a Madison Avenue image that appeals to metropolitan Atlanta, appeared to be near the end of a "legislative honeymoon."

The legislators had favored him during the January regular session with the adoption of his education program and the approval of a congressional redistricting plan.

Special Session

Now, they were back for a special session to consider his proposal to rewrite certain phases of the state's 1945 constitution and to take up a new elections code.

But now, the attitude apparently had changed, or so it seemed from some of the vocal infighting that went on inside the House Committee on Constitutional Revision.

As Rep. J. W. Sewell of Sumter County put it: "Carl Sanders just isn't as popular now as he was during the regular session."

Also, there was speculation that Sanders is looking ahead for a run for the U. S. Senate, possibly for the seat now held by the popular opponent of the civil rights bill, Sen. Richard B. Russell.

Hosts Kennedy

With this prospect ahead, Sanders last week played host to U. S. Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, a move that brought mild criticism from conservative-thinking legislators from the rural counties.

Behind this background, a special House committee has begun considering a Sanders-favored proposal for constitutional revision.

The committee hardly had begun its work, when a series of proposed changes was offered. Before the end of the first week, the committee had voted to keep the terms of state senators at two years (rather than go along with an increase to four), rejected a proposal to give cities a share of gas tax monies and held a heated debate before giving constitutional recognition to the State Highway Board.

With this much fanfare going on inside committee, it was almost anybody's guess how long it would take a new constitution to pass once it reached the floor of the House and Senate.

Hudgins Comments

"I'm thinking about a session that will last anywhere from six to eight weeks," said Rep. Floyd Hudgins of Cusseta.

Rep. Jesse Watts of Talbotton said it may go "to the Fourth of July," and Rep. Crawford Ware of Hogansville said some lawmakers were looking forward to 13 weeks in the state capitol.

With so much verbal conflict in the air, there was speculation that a new move would be made this session to take away some of the power the governor wields over the House of Representatives.

Some lawmakers resent the fact that the House, as a matter of course, goes along with the governor's choice of a House speaker. These legislators feel that if the House voted for a speaker by secret ballot, rather than by roll-call vote, the choice would be different.

Seniority System

These same legislators also would like to see the House consider a seniority system for selecting committee chairmen, since many of the veteran lawmakers are passed over by the governor for these choice positions of power.

While some legislators were concerned over more "legislative independence," Gov. Sanders appeared to be concerned about his "image," particularly as it relates to the metropolitan Atlanta area.

Not only does the special session give the legislature a chance to debate constitutional revision at length, but it also gives the governor an opportunity to hold televised news conferences and make other TV appearances attendant with a legislative session. Just about all of these telecasts are confined to the Atlanta region.

Members of the Sanders administration, meanwhile, seem to be concerned about the governor's image elsewhere in the state.

Asks for Newspapers

Last week, House Speaker George T. Smith asked that copies of a Columbus newspaper be left at his desk daily after the paper had carried a story the previous day saying "defiant legislators were preparing to lock horns with Gov. Carl Sanders" over such controversial issues as home rule and gas tax funds for cities.

Some lawmakers, such as Rep. W. J. Richardson Jr. of Savannah, seemed miffed at the governor's attempts to impose his will on the legislators on key issues.

"Carl Sanders is governor, but he ain't king," said Richardson following the committee argument over gas tax funds for cities.

Sanders had just agreed with county elements to cut cities out of the $9.5 million in gas tax revenues each year, and Richardson, being an urban representative, was expressing his concern.

Cite Pressure

While many lawmakers concede that the state benefits from strong leadership in its executive branch, some argue that they could represent the interests of their constituents better if they didn't have so much pressure from the top.

As Rep. Milton Jones pointed out in an address in Columbus just before the session opened, "Carl Sanders can't vote in Muscogee, but the people who live here can."

Jones, along with others from the Valley region, insists that the fight for more legislative independence is far from over and predicts that a lot more will be heard about it in long summer weeks ahead.

Ga. Pol.

Col. Eng.
5-14-64

In Unit Ruling

Executive Politicos Would Rule Primaries If Fraud Suspected

ATLANTA (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee voted Wednesday to authorize state executive committees of political parties to take over operation of local primaries when suspicion of fraud or irregularities existed.

The State Democratic Committee only would be involved at the present time as Repub licans hold no primaries in Georgia.

Tht committee, under a section of the proposed new elections code, would not be requried to give local party committees a hearing before stripping them of control. There would not have to be information under oath that fraud existed or impended.

Section Is Substitute

The section is a watered down substitute for an original proposal by an honorary study committee that a three-member state board be set up to regulate both primary and general elections. Control of this board of primaries was taken out of the bill several days ago.

While the Senate committee neared the end of its job of sending an elections revision bill to the Senate floor, a special House committee working on a proposed new state constitution wrangled throughout the day.

The House committee continued wrecking a draft of a proposed constitution submitted by the Constitution Revision Commission, an honorary group of 28 which worked for more than a year and held numerous public hearings.

Axes Term Amendment

The committee knocked out, without debate or much discussion, a recommendation by the commission that terms of Supreme Court justices and Court of Appeals judges be eight instead of six years. Rep. Mitchel P. House of Bibb moved to keep the terms at six years and won a show of hands decision so overwhelmingly that there was no announcement of the tally.

The legislators also turned thumbs down on a proposal by the commission and the Georgia Bar Association that the Supreme Court be empowered to issue advisory opinions "on questions of solemn and manifest public importance."

Theory Given

The theory was that the court, when asked by the governor or General Assembly, could rule on the validity of legislation before its enactment into law.

Rep. Frank S. Twitty contended such a setup would be a departure from the concept of three separate branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial.

Rep. Willis J. Richardson of Chatham led the fight to knock out the proposal and won a 23-6 victory.

Controversy started almost as soon as the committee convened. The first scrap was over a paragraph enumerating the constitutional courts. Under fire was a clause saying that the judicial power of the state "shall be vested exclusively in a unified judicial system." It then listed the Supreme Court and others.

Deletes Unified Clause

Rep. Denmark Groover succeeded in deleting the clause about a unified system.

"I don't want the Georgia Supreme Court to have the powers that the U.S. Supreme Court has," Groover said. "Don't create a court that could come into your county or mine and take over justice."

And so it went through a long day. The language of virtually every paragraph worked out by the commission brought objections and revisions.

Interested spectators were several members of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals.

Ga Pol.

Funds Rankle

Ct. Eng
5-14-69

Cities May Oppose New Constitution

ATLANTA (AP)—The Georgia Municipal Association said Wednesday that it will oppose adoption of a new state constitution unless the automatic allocation of gasoline taxes to the State Highway Department is eliminated.

The board of directors of the organization representing cities and towns took the action at a special called meeting and a spokesman said the vote was unanimous.

It signaled more trouble for Gov. Carl E. Sanders and his efforts to get a new constitution adopted by a special legislative session currently under way and by the people next November.

Makes Statement

"Earmarking of tax money for any particular purpose such as this serves to withdraw from the people control of the use of their money," the association said.

"It withdraws from the General Assembly the right directly to control the manner in which tax funds are spent and vests this power instead in the highway department, an agency neither elected by the people nor directly responsible to them."

Allocation of all gasoline tax moneys for highway construction and maintenance has gone on since the people in the 1958 general election adopted an amendment to the 1945 constitution.

Predict Failure

Veteran state legislators predicted failure for the GMA's drive to eliminate the earmarking from the proposed new constitution. But many conceded that if the cities band together to fight at the general election any new basic law proposed by the legislature, the Sanders administration will have a tough time getting it ratified.

Elimination of the automatic allocation also would eliminate grants of gasoline tax rebates to counties which run about $9.3 million a year.

Sanders' forces on the Constitution Revision Commission inserted a new section which would have split the rebates between counties and cities.

Give Notice

Small county legislators gave notice that they would fight to have the money go only to counties. The board of the County Commissioners Association conferred with Sanders last week and he backed down on the original plan for both to share.

Sanders later, in an apparent attempt to appease the cities, said he will include in the appropriation bill next January "several million dollars for cities." He would have to get the money from tax sources other than gasoline.

So Pol.

Sanders Raps Political Usage of Racial Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Carl Sanders of Geogia said Wednesday night he believes the politician who uses the race issue to get elected is on his way out in the South.

Referring to such a politician as a "demagogue," Sanders added:

"I find that most people today are looking for a leadership that will stand for progress. . .and not indivuduals who're trying to pit one group of people against another, or one section of the state against another."

Sanders appeared on a CBS news special report entitled "After 10 years—The Court and The Schools." Appearing with him in a discussion taped in Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's office were the Attorney General and Roy E. Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Discuss Calmly

Wilkins said it was "certainly true" in Georgia that citizens are discussing racial issues calmly.

"When they were talking about school desegregation, they had television coverage of the whole state and gave everybody an opportunity to come before the cameras and speak their piece," the Negro leader said.

But, Wilkins added, in an obvious reference to Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, "We have a governor now in the South who's been doing some carpetbagging in the North recently, and he's had access to a dozen or so Northern universities. . .

"But I think if we're going to discuss this issue, we ought to be free to discuss it everywhere, and I think that the integrationists ought to be free to discuss the issue in the universities of this governor's home state. . ."

Believes Progress Made

Kennedy said he believed progress had been made in the South as well as the North "toward the education of all of our citizens."

He said he hoped there would be no more "Little Rocks" with federal troops used to quell racial trouble.

Ga. Rol.

Col. Eng
5-14-64

Atl. Const., 5-15-64

Telfair Candidates Petition for Redress

By JACK NELSON

Eight candidates for office in Telfair County petitioned the Democratic Party of Georgia Thursday to force the setting of qualifying dates for the county primary.

Travis Stewart, executive director of the party, said a subcommittee of the State Executive Committee probably will meet next week on the Telfair matter. He said he was sure the issue would be "resolved to everybody's satisfaction."

Stewart acknowledged that the Telfair Democratic Executive Committee had failed to comply with party rules when it did not set qualifying dates prior to May 2.

According to the rules, a county committee, if it met prior to March 31, could set any date it desired, consistent with other party rules, for a primary for county offices. However, party chairman J. B. Fuqua had said that if no meeting was held prior to March 31, the qualifying deadline would be the same as for the state primary, May 2, and county candidates would be listed on the state ballot in the Sept. 9 primary.

The eight candidates who petitioned the party Thursday came to Atlanta May 2 and filed letters with party secretary George Stewart asking that they be qualified. Since May 2 was the deadline for qualifying, this raised the question of whether the incumbents, including the three long-time political bosses (Sheriff John B. Walker, Roads Commissioner Walter Dyal and Tax Commissioner Henry Williams) had missed their chance to qualify for reelection.

However, the eight candidates who signed Thursday's petition did not call on the state party to declare themselves the only qualified candidates. They petitioned the party to call the state subcommittee into session immediately to insure:

"1. That the people of Telfair County be given an opportunity to vote . . . in a free, honest election with their votes properly counted and,

"2. That the time, manner, qualification of candidates and qualifying fees for the forthcoming party election for Telfair County offices be promulgated and established forthwith."

The petition was signed by candidates for the following offices:

Roads commissioner, Dr. Duncan B. McRae; sheriff, L. T. (Pete) Yawn and M. B. Livingston; tax commissioner, Mallette M. Smith; clerk of Superior Court, Bethel Harbin and Joe Selph; ordinary, J. C. Anderson, and county school superintendent, E. M. Rountree.

Sa. Pol.

Atlanta Const., 5-15-64

Voting Law Gets New 'Teeth'; 39 Violations Made Felonies

By SAM HOPKINS

The Senate Rules Committee "put more teeth" in the proposed new election laws code Thursday by increasing the penalty for 39 separate election violations from a misdemeanor to a felony.

Sen. Julian Webb of Donalsonville, the administration's assistant floor leader in the Senate, said Gov. Carl Sanders was in agreement with the changes.

The stiffer penalities were inserted "to put more teeth into the election laws and serve as a deterrent to some of the practices which are dishonest," Webb added.

"We feel," Senate Floor Leader Milton Carlton declared, "that deliberate election fraud is as bad as stealing money from the bank."

He felt the felony provisions will help "to insure fair and honest elections."

Meanwhile, the Rules Committee almost completed its work on the election code, which is expected to come up before the full Senate Monday morning for debate. A meeting is scheduled Friday morning to iron out final details.

One matter that may cause some controversy is the effective date of the code.

Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer has said several times in committee meetings that he feels it should not become effective until next year.

However, some legislators have said privately they feel it should become effective immediately so the code would cover the September primary and November general election this year.

They argue that if the code does not go into effect until January it will not be effective in many cases for two or four years because of the numerous

Continued on Page 16, Column 1

Ga. Pol.

Fulton Delay Seen On Senate Districts

Atl. Const., 5-16-65

Fulton delegation plans to straighten out the senatorial district maze which has two precincts voting for three senators and 18 others voting for two senatorial candidates may have to await the 1965 General Assembly.

Fulton County Attorney Harold Sheats said that the delegation was advised Friday morning that this special session of the Legislature is not broad enough to pass upon the proposed district changes which require a constitutional amendment.

Sheats said that "about 35,000 people are going to be mighty disappointed at election time." He said further that election time might be a general snarl for those precincts affected by redistricting two years ago.

Eighteen Atlanta precincts have district lines running through them and voters in these precincts will vote according to which district they live in. Two county districts, College Park and Utoy Springs, are divided by district lines.

Sheats said that Fulton County Planner Stan Kidwell, Atlanta Clerk Jim Little, and Fulton Registrar Leon G. Hay, have devoted a great deal of time in a 60-day crash program to work out acceptable changes while preserving the population balance among Fulton's seven senatorial districts.

Some 35,000 people were shifted in the proposed change, Sheats said. The changes would have done away with precinct division, making the placement of voting machines and the task of poll workers simple during upcoming elections, he said.

Ga. Pol.

Atl. Const., 5-19-66

Legislators Pushing 159-Member Plan

By ACHSAH POSEY

Rural legislators tried Monday to work out a way to maintain their present hold on the House by assuring the U.S. Supreme Court that they wanted one house based on geography, but some members had already decided it is too late.

Rep. Goerge Brooks of Oglethorpe, chairman of the group from the 121 one-representative counties, said, "They're either going to let us do what we're doing now, or make us do it by population."

"Whatever we put in the Constitution, I don't think it will have one bit of effect on the court," Rep. Maddox Hale of Dade added, and others expressed similar sentiments privately.

Rep. James Floyd of Chatooga proposed a 159-member House, one from each county, and a 100-member Senate based on population. He echoed the view of many small county legislators that a House based entirely on "geography," that is, county lines, would be acceptable to the Supreme Court, where a House with some nod to population but not a very logical one, would be unacceptable.

Floyd did not go into his reasons for increasing the size of the Senate, which is on a population basis now, but such an increase generally seeks to hold down opposition by giving the urban House members displaced by such a plan some place to go, although the seats added in the Senate would not be from exactly the same areas.

Willis Conger of Decatur County proposed a 159-member Senate, one from each county, and a 162-member House, based on population, but tripling the members from each current Senatorial district.

ALL REVENUE BILLS

He sought to put the House back on population, as the larger lower House, because it must originate all revenue bills. His proposal for the county-oriented Senate was printed and placed on the desk of House members Monday, but his House changes were not.

House Floor Leader Arthur Bolton of Spalding and Rep. Denmark Groover of Bibb, traditionally an anti-administration man, have prepared a joint proposal that would specify that it was the intent of the legislature and the people that the House "shall be based on geography and shall consist of not less than one representative from each county," with 46 additional representatives "to be apportioned among the several counties in such manner as the General Assembly may provide."

SAME MANNER

For the present, they would keep these apportioned in the same manner as now, in effect making no changes, but trying to convince the court of the will of the people to have one house based on geography.

Rep. Arthur Funk of Chatham, the newest Republican in the legislature as of the state Republican convention earlier this month, urged the rural legislators not to raise the total number of members of the General Assembly, saynig it would make them "more vulnerable" before the courts.

Ga. Pol.

Aldermen Threaten Fight Over Charter

Atl. Const., 5-19-64

By MARION GAINES

Several Atlanta aldermen threatened Monday to campaign against the proposed new state constitution if the document does not contain provisions for giving Georgia municipalities a healthy share of state funds.

Specifically, the aldermanic board adopted a resolution by Alderman Cecil Turner endorsing the Georgia Municipal Association's stand against including in the new constitution a section allocating some $100 million in gasoline taxes to the State Highway department.

On a related topic, the board approved Alderman John A. White's resolution asking Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. to appoint a blue ribbon citizens committee to study Atlanta's taxing power and hunt additional sources of revenue.

Cecil Turner

John A. White

The committee will report back to the aldermen by Nov. 6 so that recommendations can be made to the local legislative delegations for the 1965 General Assembly session.

In discussing White's proposal, Alderman Milton Farris declared "The time has come for cities to let it be known they're entitled to more support from the state."

He said the cities should serve notice "that we're not going to support any document that won't take the yoke off our neck" and either permit cities to get more state aid or allow them taxing powers now preempted by the state.

Later, on Turner's resolution, Farris said he didn't think "one particular area," such as gasoline taxes, should be singled out.

But Alderman Rodney Cook, supporting Turner's proposal, declared it was "high time the governor and the legislature realize that the county unit system is dead."

White, chairman of the aldermanic finance committee, said the cities had been "pussyfooting around too long" with the state and should now "stand up and be counted."

White said, he, for one, would campaign against the new constitution unless it provides relief for Georgia municipalities.

Alderman Richard Freeman said he hopes the citizens committee to hunt new revenue sources will seriously consider "making the school board autonomous" in all matters.

"I'm getting tired of being blamed for their tax increases," said Freeman.

"I sure concur in that," said White.

The aldermen received letters from the presidents of the Atlanta Real Estate Board and the Building Owners and Managers of Atlanta, Inc., asking that tax sources other than real estate be sought.

The building owners suggested consideration of a sales tax "administered by the state with a fair share of this tax rebated to the respective cities and counties where it is collected."

~~Atl~~ Georgia Pol.

Politics and People

Atl. Const. 2-19-'64

Course in Politics Thrives at Capitol

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

The Sanders administration pulled out all the stops Monday to persuade lawmakers to go along with the new constitution.

One administration source looked at the small huddles in the Capitol corridors and called them "political short courses."

Reg Murphy

Immediate cause of the caucuses was to persuade the legislators not to install a provision saying the speaker of the House should be elected by secret ballot.

This furor, underway since last February, is a simple-looking struggle that is so involved it goes to the taproot of politics.

Involved is a great deal more than just the reelection of House Speaker George T. Smith.

Comment and Analysis

There is in it the question of an administration's chances of obtaining its program.

Traditionally, Georgia House speakers have been elected by voice vote. The individuals always have been selected by the

Continued on Page 11, Column 5

Politics and People

Capitol Short Courses Brush Up the Politicos

Continued from Page 1

governor, and his choice ratified by the Legislature.

For the traditionalists, too, there is the pattern of the federal House. Neither Clarence Cannon or Sam Rayburn nor John McCormick was picked by the House. They were picked by the president.

On the other side, the lawmakers in Georgia argue they can't be "independent" unless they can pick the speaker by secret ballot. They contend governors tend to dictate to them through the speaker.

They wouldn't ever argue that they should vote on laws in a secret ballot (oh, a few might perhaps, but they would be laughed down). But they want to pick their leader that way.

That's what the short courses this weekend were all about.

Gov. Carl Sanders' office was like a beehive. Legislators darted in both the front and back doors to talk with him about the issue. Sanders wanted the move killed.

One floor up, the rural legislators sat down and pledged themselves to vote for a secret ballot.

Out in the corridors, other stave off the imminent move.

Speaker Smith's office had a groove worn in the carpeting where legislators had trooped lawmakers were talking with department heads called in to

Ga Pol.

Governor's Prestige Threatened

Atl. Const., 5-19-64

Charter Tackled; Land Pay Okayed

By REG MURPHY
Constitution Political Editor

The Georgia House squabbled at length Monday on a new constitution, but an approaching fight over the manner of selecting its speaker that threatens the prestige of the Sanders administration stole the show.

The House, which began formal consideration of the new constitution at 12:35 p.m. after many months of study, adopted virtually all of a new bill of rights.

More than 90 minutes of argument went into a fight over

Legislators discuss reapportionment of Assembly, elections code. Pages 10, 3.

when to pay property holders for land taken for highways and streets under powers of eminent domain.

Then it decided to adopt an amendment by Rep. Arthur Bolton of Spalding to keep paying owners a court-determined amount for the land without tying up all the state's highway funds until the jury decides on a price.

Another argument finally brought adjournment when lawmakers studied how to write a section that would enable counties and cities to tax the Georgia Railroad and Banking Co. of Augusta for its property holdings in Georgia.

Bolton, the administration floor leader, said he will ask the Legislature to write back into the constitution a section saying the 113-year-old tax exemption is null and void, despite a court decision saying the exemption can't be broken.

Reps. Jim Hull and Bill Fleming of Richmond also offered an amendment which would say if the holdings are used for anything but a railroad they can be taxed. This would include buildings on the right-of-way.

Continued on Page 11, Column 1

Row Over Election Of Speaker Blazes

Continued from Page 1

The technicalities of the argument finally brought a respite until Tuesday morning while lawyers considered the complexities.

The looming fight, however, was over another section which the Legislature should reach Tuesday. It is whether the House speaker should be elected by secret ballot or the current voice vote.

Rep. George Brooks of Oglethorpe circulated an amendment which has the backing of a rural bloc providing for secret election of speakers.

Brooks' amendment would not become effective until 1967, when a new administration takes office, but Gov. Carl Sanders and his leadership are dead-set against it.

Their argument: Unless the governor has a voice in selecting the speaker, and the speaker then selects committee chairmen, the Legislature will be rudderless and any governor's program will founder.

The tense struggle should come to a vote sometime Tuesday, shortly after another vote on how many members the House itself will have in the future.

Foreshadowing of the fight came Monday when legislators kept saying they were supporting the administration on this or that subject, but would have to break on the question of a secret ballot.

Consideration of the new constitution got underway with Speaker Smith reading the ground rules for debate which is expected to last at least through this week and possibly into next week.

Rep. Jake Cullens of Bartow said the Legislature is "faced with an unequaled responsibility to our people" and added there were more ground rules "than the number of ground rules I've ever heard of in a Negro baseball game."

Cullens said the new constitution is being pushed too rapidly. "There are some things in this proposed constitution I won't go home with," he added.

Ga. Pol.

Atl Const, 5-19-67

Honesty in Some Elections, Or in All?

As the election code goes to the Senate floor, it is apparent that some tightening up will be needed.

Several changes, approved by the Senate Rules Committee, have dismayed some of the members of the special committee that prepared the proposed new code.

The chief issue is honesty in primary elections.

Originally it was proposed that a state election board be empowered to step in and stop fraud in elections, including primaries.

But the bill now coming to the floor strikes primaries from this provision. Party executive committees will be able to take over local primaries. But investigation of fraud will be left at the local level.

Georgia has experienced quite a number of fraudulent elections, many of which have been primaries. The state's inordinate number of counties, some of which have only a few hundred or a few thousand voters, lends itself to manipulated elections at the local level.

And of all the people in Georgia, local officials who are involved—or who are politically close to those involved—are the least likely to crusade against local election frauds.

In many of these counties, the primary is the only election that matters, since Republicans do not yet submit slates in most of them.

The practical politics of this situation are such that honesty in the general election won't mean a great deal unless and until there is honesty also in the primaries.

Ga. Pol.

Secret Vote For Speaker Is Defeated

Col. Eng.
3-20-67

ATLANTA (AP)—The Sanders administration won a smashing victory in the two-weeks old special legislative session Tuesday when the House rejected 142-44 a move by insurgent rural lawmakers to provide election of the House speaker by secret ballot.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders had thrown the strength of the administration against the proposal for 48 hours as a matter of prestige, despite protests of those sponsoring the move that it would be effective in 1967 and not applied to the governor or Speaker George T. Smith.

The House vote kept intact the traditional system under which a newly elected governor names the man he wishes to be speaker and the House elects him as a matter of course. There have been no contests for many years.

More than three hours of debate preceded the showdown and corridors outside the chamber were crowded with administration department heads and gubernatorial aides when the tally was announced. Proponents of the secret ballot charged in debate that these same officials had been busy since Sunday getting legislators to change their minds about the issue.

(Continued on Page 9, Col. 7)

Secret Vote Measure Beaten

(Continued from Page 1)

Before getting embroiled in this question, the House disposed of legislative apportionment rather handily by voting to leave it about the same as it is now. A major fight rural legislators had planned, to get a 159-member House, failed to materialize.

